Kappa Spirit— Key To the Future

From February through April seventeen province meetings will be held. Following time-tested recipes for successful mini-conventions, these province meetings offer you a unique opportunity to actively participate in the shaping of Kappa's future. Province meetings are mixed well with a bit of leadership training; a measure of reports; a sprinkling of seminars and speakers; a dash of discussions; a refreshing review of ritual including liberal amounts of singing. For full flavor, salt freely with future forecasting; stir in an election; and wrap all with true friendship. Warmed with the finer feelings of the heart shared by all, and spurred to new heights in the pursuit of excellence in all endeavors, you will surely be imbued with Kappa spirit. The key ingredient is you—plan now to attend the province meeting closest to you. Write your province officer for details.

Epsilon Tau Chapter Is Closed

It is with deep regret that the Fraternity Council has accepted the surrender of the charter of Epsilon Tau Chapter, Mississippi State University, as of September, 1984.

It is the hope of the Fraternity Council that the situation at Mississippi State University will change in the years ahead and make possible the reinstatement of the chapter at some future date.

Scholarship To Be Awarded

The Philadelphia Alumnae Panhellenic will award a $250 scholarship to a fraternity woman doing graduate work at a college or university in the five county (Phila., Delaware, Montgomery, Chester, or Bucks) Philadelphia area during the 1985-86 school year. Those interested should request an application from Mrs. Andrew E. Stephenson, 136 Hunting Hills Lane, Media, PA 19063.

Chapter Consultant Appointed for Washington and Jefferson

Lisa Mendenhall, EM-Clemson, has begun working with Zeta Lambda Chapter as of January 1985. She graduated in December with a B.A. majoring in psychology and minoring in communications. A member of Blue Key, Mortar Board, Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities, Sigma Tau Epsilon (liberal arts & sciences honorary), Psi Chi (psychology honorary), National Dean's List, Outstanding Young Women of America, and first place in Trustee's Medal Speech Competition, Lisa will bring much experience to her new position. She has served Kappa as membership chairman, second vice president and recording secretary for her chapter. She volunteered for the Clemson Area Crisis Center and had articles published in The Tiger (student newspaper) and Clemson World (alumni magazine). She was a member of the Clemson Speech and Debate Team. Her summer employment includes working in women's fashion retailing and sales, work for the USA Title Insurance Company, and serving as an intern in the editorial department for the Saturday Evening Post magazine.

Kappas Capture the Spirit of Giving

By Eloise Moore Netherton
BZ-Texas
Director of Philanthropy

How exciting to recognize the gifts received by the Fraternity's philanthropic funds and the top magazine agency sales in the past year. Kappas demonstrated once again their deep concern for one another and their continued commitment to the scholarship programs of the Fraternity.

Undergraduate chapters and alumnae groups raised philanthropy money in a variety of ways — flower fairs, swing-a-thons, paper sales, style shows, greens sales, Kappa kitchens — and while doing so engendered good public relations for Kappa and had lots of fun working together.

Jane Rafter Gordon of the Sonoma County, CA Alumnae Club suggested that if each Kappa gave a dollar or two it would be a marvelous boost to Kappa philanthropies. The Sonoma County Club is starting a fund drive for Rose McGill and invites you all to join them.

While Kappa groups often contribute both dollars and service to community philanthropies, they recognize their responsibility to support their Fraternity philanthropies and are encouraged to give at least half of their fund-raising dollars to the Rose McGill, Students' Aid, and Educational Endowment Funds. Community philanthropies frequently enjoy wide local support, but it is primarily Kappas who support Kappa philanthropies.

Consider, also, the fact that several of our scholarship programs are open to all women, both members and non-members, studying on a campus where there is (or has been) a Kappa chapter. Encourage your friends and family members to apply for a Kappa scholarship. They may be as pleasantly surprised as Kathryn Dittman, a non-member, whose mother wrote the following letter to Dr. Miriam Locke, Graduate Fellowship Chairman.

Portland, OR Alumnae sold gift wrap as their fund raising activity adding gift boxes, colored print tissue, wine bags, and colored, grograin, and satin ribbon to the line. Proceeds last year provided two scholarships to Oregon schools as well as one Fraternity scholarship. An additional $2,000 was given to the Rehabilitation Institute of Oregon!

ET-Baylor sponsored a Swing-A-Thon with the SAE Fraternity. Sitting on the swing painted in Kappa and SAE colors are Kevin Riker and Lori Farley. Funds raised by the swingers totalled $480 which was donated to the local Firefighters' Association for new equipment. In return the Firefighters gave the Kappas tickets so they could take 100 children from the Boys' Club to the circus—they even got to ride the elephants! This philanthropy was a double treat!

Dear Ms. Locke,

It is with much pride and gratitude that I write to thank Kappa for selecting my daughter, Kathryn Dittman (Independent, Texas A&M University) as a recipient of a 1984-85 Graduate Fellowship.

I clipped the Fellowship information from my copy of "The Key" last year, sent it to her and encouraged her to apply. As an Independent, she felt she had little chance. I assured her she would be considered on her merit and need, and not on her status as a non-Greek. To my delight, Kappa backed me up!! Coincidentally, I was awarded a Graduate Fellowship in 1950-51 when I was an active member of Gamma Tau Chapter, North Dakota State University.

I'm even more proud of my key and what it stands for today than I was the morning I received it at my 1947 initiation and I shall continue to support and promote Kappa to the best of my ability.

Loyally,
Margaret Rulon Powell

I hope that ALL of you are proud of your Fraternity and will continue to support and promote Kappa philanthropies to the best of your abilities.

Chapter Honors Distinguished Member

This past October, Epsilon Upsilon Chapter honored one of their distinguished alumnae by planting two Ginkgo trees in her honor on the Baylor University campus. Dr. Cornelia Smith was cited for her dedication to the Kappas at Baylor. She and her late husband Dr. Charles A. Smith, served as Athenian sponsors for seven years. This group petitioned to become members of Kappa Kappa Gamma and was installed in September 1977. Cornelia was never a member of the Athenians, but rather a member of the Calliopean Society which later became Athenian which then became Kappa.

Dr. Cornelia Smith was chairman of the biology department and director of Strecker Museum at Baylor University. She graduated from Baylor in 1918, received her masters from the University of Chicago in 1923, and received her doctorate in biology from Johns Hopkins University in 1928. She is still very active and is presently compiling a book to include all of Robert Browning's proverbs. Upon her husband's death, she donated their library of works by many literary masters to Baylor. Several scholarships have also been established by the Smiths. The chapter salutes Dr. Smith for a multi-faceted life, full of accomplishments which led her to be listed in Notable Women of Texas. She is respected at Baylor for all her accomplishments, but above all of this, she is a lovely Kappa woman!

Fundraisers Feature . . . Food

Delta chapter held their second annual pancake breakfast in October during Indiana University's Homecoming weekend. They felt that their success came not only in raising almost $500 but also in that many alumni and campus leaders were attracted to the event. The Kappa Pickers entertained. The chapter donated the proceeds to the American Lupus Society (Lupus is a disease of the auto immune system in which 90% of its victims are women between 19 and 25 years of age.).

The Kappas at Ohio Wesleyan served a different menu, but the results were the same—funds raised for a charity and lots of good will for those who participated. Rho chapter kicked off rush with an ice cream social. They sold Friendly's cookies 'n' cream ice cream for $1 a cone and raised close to $100 for Turning Point, a home for battered women.

and Football . . .

Gamma Phi chapter turned their fall philanthropic efforts into a multi-purpose function. Feeling that good relations with other Greeks are important, they joined with the Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Alpha Theta sororities to sponsor the "Big Man on Campus (BMO) Bowl"—an event which had appeal for all! The best-liked men on campus were selected by the three groups to play in a football game. The girls came to see the guys, and the guys came to see the girls! T-shirts were sold to raise money for the players' uniforms, the girls being able to buy a red or a blue shirt depending on the team she wanted to support. The logo on the front of the shirts was a football with "Catch It!". Tickets for the game sold at $5 each and covered a sandwich, drink, and entry to the game. After the game was played and the reviews came in, it was determined that it was such a big success it should become an annual event! Everyone really "caught the spirit"!

Football was also a feature of the Louisiana State charity marathon, held each year during football season and including a 24-hour football play and polesitting for six days, plus 35 other special events. As Renée Bahlinger, ΔI-Louisiana State, wrote, "Can you imagine living in a tent in the middle of campus for a week? Have you ever played flag football against a fraternity at 4:00 am? Do you know what it is like to sit on a pole 20 feet off the ground at 2:00 a.m.? If you were a Delta Iota, you would know!" The Kappas there have always been top contenders in this effort to raise funds for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Renée continued, "... Our own ability to care—sponsoring a dystrophic child is very rewarding. These characteristics attracted Delta Iota member Ellen Babers to Kappa in the first place. And Ellen was right at home this fall as overall chairman of the charity marathon." Ellen organized a week of events which grossed over $36,000, with thanks to such avid participating groups as the Delta Iota Kappas.

Three Gamma Phi (Southern Methodist) Kappas wear the red and blue "Catch It" T-shirts for the BMO Bowl.

Zeta Eta Kappas release balloons at the University of California, Irvine.

Dale Pakula and Teri Thompson, Ohio Wesleyan, serve ice cream at the ice cream social fundraiser.

Other chapters played other games, but in the same spirit: The Zeta Kappa Kappas won first in both the Zeta Beta Tau Obstacle Course and the Delta Zeta volleyball tournament at Bowling Green State. Both events were philanthropically oriented. The fundraiser which the Kappas organized, the Kappalon or Zeta Kappa's answer to the Olympics, attracted 24 sororities and fraternities as participants. The five-game event raised over $1,000 for the Bowling Green Family and Child Abuse Center.

At the University of California, Irvine, Zeta Eta chapter let loose approximately 600 balloons at the Wayzgoose Faire. These balloons represented their work in raising over $300 for the National Association of Anorexia Nervosa and Associated Disorders.

The benefits which charities in the Chapel Hill, North Carolina area enjoy from Epsilon Gamma chapter are those which are too valuable to be measured, for they come in the form of their own personal service. Last October the Kappas and Chi Psi fraternity at North Carolina gathered on the lawn of the Chi Psi chapter house to entertain several children with either mental or physical handicaps. They spent two hours together getting to know each other and playing games—two hours capped with such big enthusiastic smiles from the children that proved the success of the day. Epsilon Gamma chapter is also volunteering at Chapel Hill's Planned Parenthood Clinic and at a nearby hospital and mental hospital. We remember that the longest word in the dictionary is supposedly "smiles"—There is a mile between the first and last letters. We can also add that it is the measure of philanthropic service success where Kappas are involved. Their smiles say it all!

Actively Speaking . . .

There is no logical grouping for Kappas and their campus and community activities, for each is involved in such a variety of experiences. For instance, Julie Lancaster, EM-Clemson, has been Epsilon Mu social chairman and scholarship chairman, on the Dean's List, public relations committee for Student Government, a Dorm Council representative, an Outstanding Woman of America, in the Zoology Club, and in various intramural sports. Julie also volunteers 10 hours a week at the Pickens County Department of Social Services. Another Epsilon Mu Kappa, Michele Mewborn, has been chapter membership chairman and is currently assistant social chairman. Michele is also in the Data Processing Management Association and is known for the little things she always does for others.

Lisa Bassett, BII-Washington, has been elected to the University's Panhellenic Executive Board, for which she is junior Panhellenic adviser and head dorm counselor during rush 1985. Lisa organized the first Panhellenic inter-sorority social function and was involved in the all-Greek Phonathon at the University. She is also Beta Pi Panhellenic delegate. Lisa was admitted to the University's Nursing School and ranked number one in the nation as a sophomore.

Other Kappas involved in Panhellenic are Mary Van Ellis and Leslye Sims, Θ-Missouri. Leslye was president of Pledge Panhellenic and Mary Van is Panhellenic treasurer. She also is active in the Alumni Association Student Board, was in charge of the Greek Run for Greek Week, on numerous committees for Greek Week and Homecoming Week, is a Sunday School teacher and participated in Kids on the Block for Easter Seals, and was Pledge Panhellenic social chairman. Mary Van serves Theta chapter as philanthropy chairman.

Maureen McNulty, EZ-California State, Northridge, has extended her active involvement into studies at the University of Bradford, The United Kingdom, since she was selected as one of 20 California students for the 1984-85 International Program. Maureen is also on the Dean's List.

Julie Thompson, EM-Clemson, has been named one of the Outstanding Young Women of America and is a member of Central Spirit and treasurer of Smith Dorm Council. She is also her chapter's recipient of the Loyalty Key in 1983 and was chapter marshal for two terms, as well as being on several chapter committees.

Four Delta Alpha Kappas are very active at Pennsylvania State: Lisa Toback is a member of the Penn State Blue Band; Jane Gilbert is in the Concert Choir and Chamber Choir; Maryellen Kiernan is overall rush chairman for Panhellenic for 1984 formal fall rush; and Janet Osterman is head of the Business Student Advisers and chairman of the Business Roundtable (an organization for the presidents of all the business organizations on campus).

At the University of California, Irvine, Zeta Eta Kappas are busy in different ways: Natalie Fischer works in a preschool; Vickie Kuvelis is a Campus Representative; and Wanda Small is the head librarian at U.C. Irvine.

The University of Georgia campus enjoys the talents of several Delta Upsilon Kappas: Diane Field and Merryman Cassels are on the university yearbook staff; Mary Renner was chosen for the UGA dance company; and Maripat Findley is working for UGA's newspaper and is also an officer in the photography club.

Epsilon Gamma chapter reports that many of its actives are seen on the North Carolina campus busy with various activities: Lucia Halpern, past president of the Carolina Student Union, now serves on the Union Board of Directors and as the co-chairman of a Campus YMCA committee which organizes dinner discussions at professors' homes. Lucia also won a Truman Scholarship which will cover two years of graduate school and made it past the first cuts for the Rhodes Scholarship. Amy Tanville, chapter treasurer, is president of the Order of the Bell Tower and chairs a Union committee, as does Rah Bickley. Crista Herbert is the UNC Sports Club president, and Kelly Turk has been accepted to the UNC-Toronto exchange. Kelly is also engineering fundraisers to send the 30 Chapel Hill students to the University of Toronto.

Kerri Klinker, Diane Tsao, and Kella Wootton,
ΓΔ-Purdue

Julie Eflin, ΓΔ-Purdue

Terri Trowbridge and Aimee Felder, ZK-Bowling Green State, are now members of the BGSU Orientation Board, planning a program for almost 3000 incoming freshmen. Another Zeta Kappa active, Arleen Meier, was elected president of the Student National Education Association, an organization for students pursuing a career in education. Arleen is also serving on the Ohio Educational Association as the student representative for the legislative commission.

Many Kappas extend their time and talents to the performing areas: Kerri Klinker, Diane Tsao, and Kella Wootton, ΓΔ-Purdue, are members of the Purdue Music Organization in the Purduettes group. Julie Eflin, also a Gamma Delta active, is in the song and dance group of America Music Review.

The colors scarlet and gray mean a great many things to Ohio State students, but for two members of Beta Nu chapter, the words mean just a little bit more. Ginger Matthews and Amy Scott are in the OSU "Scarlet and Gray Show," a dancing and singing ensemble that travels throughout Ohio and the nation promoting everything that has to do with Ohio State. Of the more than 100 who try out annually, 22 are selected.

Performing experiences for two Epsilon Kappas at Illinois Wesleyan took them to the front page—Beth Brohne and Sara Thomas made their debut on the front page of the Washington Times while performing in the play "Working" at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. "Working" was selected to perform in this year's American College Theater Festival from among hundreds of other colleges. Annie Miller and Holly Greenberger, T-Northwestern, danced their way to Northwestern fame in "West Side Story" with the help of fellow Upsilon Kappa Marti Tyor as production assistant.

And many Kappas perform well in the areas of sporting activities: At Georgia, three Delta Upsilon Kappas, Francis Turner, Anne Whiddon, and Melanie Mercer, are on the varsity tennis team. And Jane Rodrigue, ΔT-Georgia is on the cross country team. Lynn Smatsky and Cathy Schutte, ΔA-Pennsylvania State, are in Naiads (Penn State's synchronized swimming team) and public relations director for the Penn State ice hockey team, respectively. Also, Lynn is in NU-PEP, Nutrition Peer Education Program. At Bowling Green State, Cindy Leopold and Jill Baucom, Zeta Kappa actives, have received fourth and fifth places at a karate tournament sponsored by the American Karate System.

The Beta Kappa Kappas are on top in sports at Idaho with their championship in intramural flag football after nine wins and no losses (only three touchdowns were scored against them all season!). Also, Pam Waller, BK-Idaho, has been pacing the varsity women's tennis team for three years and made it to the national quarterfinals in AIAW Division II in both singles and doubles. In her junior year, Pam posted a 17-3 record in the Mountain West Athletic Conference. In addition to her tennis abilities, Pam was awarded the scholarship key for Fall 1984. Bobbi Purdy and Christine Boil, also Beta Kappa Kappas, are speedsters on the Idaho track team. Bobbi runs the 100m, 200m, 100m hurdles, and long jump. Christine runs the 400m and 800m. Two more Kappas at Idaho, Jenifer Curry and Lisa Hudson, have been chosen for the football squad cheerleading team. Tara Lange and Lisa Smith, ΓΔ-Purdue, are cheerleaders for Purdue this year.

Two Kappa cheerleaders have received extra special recognition for their skills—Julie Billington, BX-Kentucky, and Laura Hartman, EA-Texas Christian, have been chosen for the Caress All-Star Cheerleaders, a squad of 10 women recognized by the body-bar company as the nation's top cheerleaders. Each received a $1,000 scholarship. Julie was selected as captain, and as such, is touring the country, talking about the sophistication of cheerleading and the training and exercise which goes with it. She has worked for five summers as a cheerleading instructor and has enjoyed eight years of cheerleading experience. Through her involvement she has learned and promotes the value of physical fitness and the balance of academic and campus service life with that of cheerleading. Laura is also the chapter Fraternity education chairman at Epsilon Alpha and was a cheerleader and cheerleading instructor for three years in high school. She then coached the T.C.U. junior varsity cheerleading team. Having two Kappas on this team of 10 is quite an accomplishment. Congratulations!

... as they are recognized for scholastic achievement, campus and community service and outstanding leadership. One of the better known national organizations which selects members based on all of the above is Mortar Board, which lists many Kappas among its ranks.

Joanne Tracy, Θ-Missouri, and Maritte Pasley, ΓΦ-Southern Methodist, are presidents of their respective Mortar Board chapters. Joanne has also been chosen for Kappa Epsilon Alpha (freshman), Sigma Rho Sigma (sophomore), and Phi Eta Sigma (junior) scholastic honoraries. She has been communications director of the Arts and Sciences school, in the Finance Student Organization, a University Scholar, and has received a Finance scholarship, as well as a Kappa scholarship. Joanne served Theta chapter as marshal, scholarship representative and first vice president. Maritte's activities have included SMU Student Foundation, Student Senate handbook committee, Mamselles, and such Mortar Board events as the SMU Telefund, Art Awareness Week, and a day with children from the Methodist Home in Waco (Texas). She is also Gamma Phi chapter treasurer.

More outstanding Kappas in Mortar Board are Elizabeth Masters, ΒΟ-Tulane, and Susan DeFonso and Elaine Taveritte, ΕΦ-Florida. Liz has been on the Dean's List, in Alpha Lambda Delta (freshman honorary), Tulane Scholars and Honors Program (which recognizes high academic achievement), Daisy Chain (junior honorary), and Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Currently Associated Student Body vice president, Liz has also been Junior Class president, Panhellenic social chairman, in C.A.C.T.U.S. (a student volunteer organization), and on the 1984 Homecoming Court. She is also Beta Omicron second vice president and has been scholarship chairman and "Outstanding Pledge."

Susan DeFonso also lists among her honors and activities Phi Theta Kappa (junior honorary), Florida Blue Key Leadership Institute staff, Homecoming 1983 staff, 1984 Rush Counselor, Advertising Society, and chapter Fraternity education chairman.

A multitude of honors and service have led to several Kappas being named "outstanding." Susan Gouinlock, ΕΕ-Emory, carries the title

"Outstanding Greek Woman at Emory." She was chairman of Emory's Greek Week and Homecoming Week for two consecutive years and is presently vice president of the Order of Omega and president of Rho Lambda, both Greek honoraries. At the same time, she serves as Epsilon Epsilon chapter president. Susan was also Panhellenic Special Events chairman for two years and has been selected for Mortar Board, D.V.S. (senior honor society), Alpha Epsilon Upsilon (sophomore honorary), and Political Science Honors Program. She played for the Emory Women's soccer club, the Georgia women's soccer club, and was on the All-Star team every year in Emory's intramural sports program. Her other awards include the Atlanta Alumnae Panhellenic Association Merit Award, Cooper Award for outstanding performance in Emory intramural athletic program, and Epsilon Epsilon chapter outstanding sophomore award.

A Gamma Delta Kappa at Purdue, Lyn Lawson, was selected the Indianapolis Panhellenic Outstanding Kappa, which places her as the Number One Kappa in Indiana. Lyn has been in Golden Gavel (Greek women's leadership honorary), Purdue Student Nurses Association (treasurer), Student Concert committee (vice president), and Gamma Delta chapter president and recording secretary.

Nina Myrick, ΕΚ-South Carolina, was chosen one of four Sorority Women of the Year for U.S.C. She, also, is a Kappa chapter president. Her other activities include Order of Omega (Greek honorary), Student Alumni Association, Public Relations Student Society of America, Homecoming Commission, Panhellenic Chapter Excellence Award Development Committee, and Banquet and Promotions chairman on the Greek Week committee.

The "Greek Woman of the Year" at Texas Tech is Delta Psi Kappa Becky Smith, who had a 4.0 accumulative grade point average throughout all four years of college. She was a member of the Honors Council on the Academic Planning committee, in Phi Eta Sigma and Phi Kappa Phi scholastic honoraries, Mortar Board, Pi Sigma Alpha (political science honorary), Rho Lambda and Order of Omega (Greek honoraries), and in the Portuguese Brazilian Club. Other honors awarded Becky were the Margret Talkington Award of Excellence and the Outstanding Greek G.P.A. award, a university three-year scholarship,

CAMPUS-COMPOSITE-CAMPUS-COMPOSITE

to Come to Kappas

Outstanding Speaker, and Dean's List and President's List. And in keeping with those others so recognized, Becky also served as chapter president of Delta Psi.

... And the list goes on—Janet Johnston, EM-Clemson, has been named to the Dean's List and Sigma Theta Tau national nursing honor society, as well as being president of the Student Nurses Association, on the State Student Nurses Association publicity committee, Senior Class secretary, and on the Dean's Advisory Committee for Nursing. She has also served on the Student Alumni Council for four years, Student Government Research and Development Committee, and Special Events Committee. For Epsilon Mu, she has been public relations chairman, assistant scholarship chairman, and a Kappa Picker.

Laura Mobilia, EM-Clemson and a transfer to Epsilon Phi chapter (Florida), has been honored with membership in Beta Alpha Psi (accounting honorary), the School of Accounting Council, and Florida Blue Key Leadership Banquet. Laura is also auditor in the Student Government Finance Office and Epsilon Phi public relations chairman.

Also on the honors list from the University of Florida is Suzanne Beekman, EΦ-Florida. She has been selected for Order of Omega and is currently vice president, Florida Blue Key Leadership Institute for which she is Homecoming assistant director-Kickoff party, and secretary for Panhellenic Council. She is also presently Epsilon Phi membership chairman and was Panhellenic delegate last year.

Ginny Berg, ΔT-Georgia, includes in her list of honors Blue Key and Kappa Delta Epsilon (education honorary). In addition to maintaining a 4.0 G.P.A. last spring, she remains active in intramural tennis and refereeing volleyball games.

Carol Bender, ΓP-Allegheny, was honored as a Doane Distinguished Scholar this year (top ten in the Junior Class scholastically). She is also an Alden Scholar, a resident adviser, and Gamma Rho membership chairman.

At Pennsylvania State, Delta Alpha Kappas Christine Eckley and Shelly Pagac are Liberal Arts student advisers. Christine is also treasurer of Alpha Epsilon Rho national broadcasting society. And at the University of California, Berkeley, Jill Meyer and Theresa Kennedy, Pi chapter Kappas, are in Beta Alpha Psi (accounting honorary) and are internship officer and assistant activities chairman, respectively. The list at Drake includes these Gamma Theta Kappas: Robin McEwan, Delta Sigma Pi (business); Kristi Thomason and Melody Easter, Sigma Alpha Iota (music); Amy Tonkin, Sigma Tau Delta (English); Denise Kneeland, Sigma Iota Epsilon (management); and Karen Nauret with the "Order of Athena" Greek scholarship award.

Many Kappas have added to their honors that of being named a queen. Linda Birkenberger, BK-Idaho (affiliate), was crowned Homecoming Queen for this year. She also is involved in varsity swimming, as a resident hall adviser, coordinator for Houston Hall United Way fundraiser, a swimming instructor, on the Dean's List, in intramural football and softball, and a founding member of Zeta Kappa chapter at Bowling Green State. Cindy Carvey, Δ-Indiana, was named to the 1984 Homecoming Queen's Court for the university's "Cheers to 100 Years" Homecoming, which signified Indiana's 100th football season. She is also currently one of 17 members of Indiana University's Student Foundation Steering Committee and is in charge of the Delta chapter Kappa Pickers. Cindy's other responsibilities have included being a Panhellenic director and chapter alumnae-transfer relations chairman. Golden Key honor society also lists her name.

Other Kappas on Homecoming Courts are Carolyn Moore, BO-Tulane, and Donna Rose, ΓE-U.C.L.A. Both also have many other honors: Carolyn is in Phi Alpha Theta (history honorary), on Newcomb Senate as corresponding secretary and currently vice president, on Newcomb Assets as secretary and on the Student Admissions Committee. Carolyn serves Beta Omicron as social chairman. Donna is in Mortar Board, on the Dean's List, Order of Omega vice president, and currently works for CBS News as a sports and news writer with plans for a career in broadcast journalism.

Epsilon Psi (California, Santa Barbara) Kappas display the Carolyn Bildsoe Memorial Spirit Award.

Recognition of achievement is also predominant within Kappa chapters. Often the establishment of a special award carries more meaning with it than could ever be expressed through a report. The Carolyn Bildsoe Spirit Award is a newly created award of Epsilon Psi chapter (University of California at Santa Barbara). Initiated by the scholarship committee and funded through donations by family and friends, the award was established in memory of Carolyn Bildsoe, EΨ-California, Santa Barbara. The engraving on the award reads, "For the girl who gives the most of herself in support and enthusiasm for her Kappa sisters." The criteria for recipients include being an active member for one year, involvement in all aspects of the chapter, as well as good attendance at meetings and special effort shown for her sisters. There are no nominations, only private ballots. This memorial award is presented annually at the Winter quarter scholarship banquet as a morale booster.

A different type of Kappa award was presented last fall to a very special lady at Beta Omicron (Tulane). The local alumnae and Beta Omicron chapter met to celebrate Founders Day and to present to Agnes Guthrie Favrot, BO-Tulane, an "Honorary Life Membership." The New Orleans (Louisiana) Alumnae Association bylaws provide that any member of the alumnae association could be bestowed with an honorary life membership upon a unanimous vote of the general membership, which occurred in September 1984. Such an honor seemed most befitting their "Aunt Aggie," whose contributions and loyalty to Beta Omicron chapter are unending. After rush was over, she always had the actives and pledges to her home for dinner. In addition she opened her home each Christmas for an alumnae association Christmas coffee, and each spring she had all the seniors in the chapter for dinner. These are just a few of the instances for which she has hosted the Kappas.

Aunt Aggie's loyalty and service to Kappa goes beyond her life in New Orleans, for she has attended and participated in numerous national conventions, worked on national committees, held a national office and received the highest honor a Kappa can attain—the Loyalty Award. She and her family have also given many awards over the years. She was not able to be present at the Founders Day celebration; however, her two granddaughters were there to accept the award on her behalf. Barbara Hammond Cain, BO-Tulane, made the presentation as alumnae association president, referring to Aunt Aggie as "part of our heritage." Beta Omicron's new room will be dedicated to Agnes Guthrie Favrot—a Kappa lady to whom Beta Omicron and Kappas everywhere say, "Thanks, Aunt Aggie, for everything!"

The "Inside" Story

It was a celebration of a different kind at Arizona State last spring, for as the university was celebrating its 100th birthday, Epsilon Delta chapter marked its 25th birthday. The birthday party had all the trimmings with a cake, laughter, song and beautiful presents. The Phoenix, Scottsdale and Tempe-Mesa alumnae associations presented the chapter with a punch bowl set; and the Mothers' Club gave them an engraved silver platter and birthday cake. However, as Carolyn Pendergast, EΔ-Arizona State, wrote, "It was the people who really made the party." Alphonsine Clapp Howard, Σ-Nebraska, who piloted the efforts for Epsilon Delta's colonization, was an honored guest. Joining her with special honors was June Guoyne Fowler, X-Minnesota, also a founder.

Twenty-five years at Epsilon Delta has been filled with many accomplishments. They presently hold the highest overall grade point average, highest active chapter GPA and highest pledge class GPA. Last spring, their average topped the overall female undergraduate GPA of the entire university. Also, because of their philanthropic service, Good Samaritan Hospital, ASU Disabled Students, Desert Valley Rehabilitation Center and various nursing homes have benefited from their visits, holiday treats and donations. Two Epsilon Deltas have been president of the Associated Students of ASU; several have been the ASU Woman of the Year; and many are involved in all the campus organizations. Happy Birthday, Epsilon Delta!

Epsilon Delta celebrates a 25th birthday with (back row) June Fowler, X-Minnesota; Alphonsine Howard, Σ-Nebraska; Jill Goldbach and Lisa McGuire, EΔ-Arizona State; June Arnold Egan, ΔΠ-Tulsa, Phoenix Alumnae Association president; and (front row) Sherral Modi, Robyn Olson and Natalie Young, all Epsilon Delta Kappas.

Katharine Gillican Chamberlain, BO-Tulane, better known as "Gilly," is one of Beta Omicron's links to the past, the "old days." One of the first names a Beta Omicron pledge learns is that of Gilly's great-grandmother, Lucile Vardell Gillican, one of the founders of Beta Omicron in 1904. The next of a presently continuing tradition was Gilly's grandmother, Margaret Gillican Chamberlain, who pledged Beta Omicron in 1930. Beta Omicron chapter looks upon her as a symbol of strength and good character, "all that we strive for." Each year, as Beta Omicron receives new pledges, Mrs. Chamberlain speaks to them, telling the new something of the old. She is a link between the two, giving pledges and actives alike a symbol, a presence, a knowledge of Beta Omicron's history. In 1981, Gilly pledged, and today she is an active part of the tradition begun by her great-grandmother and carried on by her grandmother. Gilly currently serves as chapter house chairman.

This mother and daughter duo, Marie Stern Johnson, BΔ-Michigan and Pammy Johnson, BH^A-Stanford, enjoy vacation time together on the ski slopes.

Inside-Out

Kappas also take their Kappa spirit outside the chapter for all to see. At Carnegie-Mellon, it is a tradition to paint the fence when your group has something that it wants to make public to the entire campus. This fence is visible on the way to almost all academic buildings on campus. The rules of the tradition require "guarding" the fence in the evening hours and painting only after midnight. Kappa has set its own tradition of painting the fence after rush and after initiation to show the campus its pride in the new pledges and new initiates. It is a surprise for the pledges and initiates to see their names on the fence—This carries the Kappa spirit to all!

The alumnae association in Davis, California, has started what will become an annual event for Epsilon Omicron chapter. To encourage the Kappas and their dates to take buses to the spring formal dinner dance the alumnae decided to add a touch of class by sponsoring hors d'oeuvres and non-alcoholic beverages. They obtained all the items as donations from local merchants. Each couple received a white paper bag tied with blue ribbon and two plastic wine glasses. The bags contained grapes, cheese, crackers and almonds. Each couple also received two trial size bottles of the new non-alcoholic wine. After the dance, the chaperones served coffee and after dinner mints to everyone in attendance. Everyone had a safe and good time; the local merchants were most receptive to appeals for donations of food, and the social adviser was hired by one of the companies she approached for a donation! Success can be measured!

The concern for alcohol abuse was addressed also at Epsilon Epsilon chapter at Emory when the Fraternity education committee sponsored an alcohol and drug awareness workshop. The guest speaker was Dr. Harold Smith from the Ridgeview Institute, who specializes in alcohol and drug related problems among teenagers and young adults. He reviewed the physical and emotional effects of drug and alcohol use, including information regarding locations of help centers in the Atlanta area. Following the program, Karen Wohlleben, EE-Emory, explained Kappa's policy concerning alcohol.

The fence on the Carnegie-Mellon campus painted by Delta Xi!

It was awareness of a different kind that sparked the Kappas at Clemson to have a "Kappa Costume" pre-Halloween party. Epsilon Mu chapter invited every fraternity and sorority on campus with Kappa in their names, and the response was hundreds from seven groups. This was Kappa's attempt to increase Panhellenic awareness, and according to them, "It worked!"

The group's name is also important to the spring carnival at Carnegie-Mellon, where all campus organizations who choose to do so enter the booth competition by completing a booth including a game that fits the theme of the carnival as well as integrating their own name, symbols, and what the group stands for. With the theme of the 1984 carnival being "Time Machine," the Delta Xi Kappas chose the conestoga wagon to show their individuality and that they are pioneers, hard-working and adventurous. Their choice and group effort brought them the trophy for first place, making them first for four times in the past five years of booth competition.

It was a float, not a booth, that brought the first place award, including $500 for their efforts, to Gamma Rho chapter at Allegheny's Homecoming. Teamed with Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity, they incorporated the theme of past Presidential elections utilizing the Dewey-Truman election of 1948. They also claim that the Kappa and Phi Psi throngs which accompanied the float on its journey up to the football field were uncontestedly the largest and most spirited of all groups in attendance. For Gamma Rho, winning first is not a singular event, for they also have the gold plaque for their win in a Fraternity/Sorority Greek Sing in October.

Out and About—

Lydia Hutchison, ΔI-Louisiana State, worked at an Appalachia Service Project in the mountains of Kentucky last summer. Living in an old school bus, she worked to repair homes for the needy, with the help of many volunteers. This year-round project is sponsored by the United Methodist Church. Funds are donated by the volunteers who work all year to raise the money to travel to Kentucky to work for a week. The Clay County Center, which is one of 10 centers in the region, consisted of three staff members and 60 to 70 volunteers. As a staff member, Lydia was in charge of assigning groups who would help families and buying and delivering the supplies needed for such repairs as roofing, sheet-rocking, puttying, tarring and weather boarding. She says that the project is much more than just home repair—it helps individuals get to know themselves better and gives groups an incredible chance to learn about abilities they never knew they had. This was a beginning for Lydia—She plans to spend many more summers in the mountains of Kentucky.

Lydia Hutchison, ΔI-Louisiana State

Kappas elsewhere participated in different summer activities. Katrine Snyder, ZH-California, Irvine, learned to play the saxophone, while her chapter sister Lori Klett received her pilot's license. Other Zeta Eta Kappas were busy, too: Julie Forslund worked as a student researcher in a laser lab studying the effects of laser irradiation of microtubules; Jennifer Moore was a youth delegate to the National Republican Convention; Tamara Powell was the head of the Health and Beauty Department at a store; Diane Poirier danced in the Olympic Dance Corps for the opening and closing Olympics ceremonies; and Kerry Kawahara sang in the Honor Choir for the Olympic opening ceremony.

Two more involved in conventions were Kelley Hecky and Linda Martins, ZK-Bowling Green State, who were runners for the Associated Press at the Democratic National Convention.

Several Kappas from North Carolina's Epsilon Gamma chapter were able to travel: Lynn Young traveled throughout Europe and went to visit Amy Fonville who was working for a bank in London. Lucia Halpren also worked in London, as did Sarah Hester. Elizabeth Freeman went to China, and Susan Adler stayed in Russia for several weeks. Back in the United States, Julie Peters was working for the Olympics in Los Angeles, and Eileen Collier was with a travel agency. Travel does seem to be a favorite with many Kappas, as can be seen in the accompanying pictures.

Mary Hopkins, Susan Threshie, Christy Palmer, Kim Rich, ΓΦ-Southern Methodist, and Genie Barnard, BO-Tulane, spent six weeks last summer at Salzburg College in Austria. The S.M.U. summer school program included weekend trips to points of interest and many lectures on Austrian culture, as well as daily classes. With Ellen Benson, ΓΦ-Southern Methodist, Mary, Christy, Kim and Susan were just five of the 45 S.M.U. students there. They felt their Kappa sisterhood added a touch of home in a far away place!

Oxford—summer of 1984—Cynthia Carvey, Δ-Indiana; Jennifer Boomer, ΓM-Oregon State; and Laura Jacobs, ΕΩ-Dickinson, studied and lived together at Oxford in England for five weeks with a summer program last summer. They are seen here in the quadrangle of their college, Corpus Christi College.

Katherine Booth, EN-Vanderbilt; Talbot Hopkins, BO-Tulane; Laura Beth Warren, EN-Vanderbilt; Kathleen McEnerny, ZΓ-Centre College; Gina Massan, EN-Vanderbilt; and Laura Harbolt, ZΓ-Centre College, met while on the British Studies at Oxford Program in Oxford, England, a year ago. They studied for six weeks at St. Johns College. Sisterhood indeed goes a long way, especially when you are out and about!

KAPPA: A HISTORY OF WOMANLY PURPOSE

By Gini Anding LaCharité
ΓΚ-William & Mary
Fraternity Historian

Kappa's interest in careers for women is as old as the Fraternity itself. Three of our founders held M.A. degrees, four entered the teaching profession, one was a school principal, and one served for many years on her community's Board of Education.¹ An editorial in the 1887 Key sums up the remarkable accomplishments of the early Kappas, who in the 1870s and 1880s were part of the struggle for women to be allowed in institutions of higher learning, attain dignity as an individual, and strive for personal fulfillment: "We have to go only a few years back to find women. . . utterly destitute of all book-learning, and quite satisfied that excellence in spinning and cooking and caring for their husbands' and children's bodies was the highest aim in life. . . Only in the very latest years have we come to the college women, an entirely new genus, as yet an experiment, with her utility as yet unproven, educated in the same way as men, and bearing as a consequence the same responsibilities."

1870-1920: The New Genus Experiment

Kappa's first 50 years and the woman's struggle for higher education and vocational acceptance are historical twins. The six Fraternity founders were convinced that they were founding the first Greek letter society for women, an idea which seems to have occurred to them just after a leading suffragette visited the Monmouth campus. As women, our founders wanted "something new" for women. And, indeed, early issues of The Key attest to the Fraternity's commitment to "building higher standards of womanhood" through articles on such topics as: "Need of Practical Training for Girls" (1887), "Women in Journalism, Medicine, Ministry" (1880), "After College—What?" (1890), "Women Scientists in America" (1894), "Women Abroad in Universities" (1894), "College Women Do Marry" (1899). By the turn of the century, the Fraternity had published two directories of its members, and each catalog included listings of degrees earned and chosen profession.

Between 1870 and 1900, Kappas entered every vocation open to women: acting, suffrage work, teaching. The 1890 Key pleaded with the membership to send information on prominent alumnae and printed a "Personals" column which named Kappas engaged in missionary work, law, music, art, post graduate work, photography. Kappa's first artist of renown is Elizabeth Gowdy, Alpha, initiated 1877; she was the founder and president of the Aquarellist Society. Other distinguished early Kappas include:

Mary Bradford, Epsilon, initiated 1875: the first Kappa medical doctor;

Florence Bascom, Eta, class 1894: Ph.D. in Petrology (a brand-new field for men, much less for women);

Anna Christ Fall, Phi chapter founder (1883): the first Kappa lawyer;

Jessie Cassidy, Psi chapter founder (1883); author of a book on the legal status of women;

Mila Tupper, Psi, class 1889: pastor;

Gertrude Small, Phi, class 1889: Sunday editor of the Chicago Tribune;

Merle Taylor, Xi, class 1893: professor of instrumental music.

The accomplishments of early Kappas are mirrored in those whom they selected to serve as Fraternity Grand Presidents. Six of our first seven Grand Presidents were women of professional commitment and distinction:

Tade Hartsuff, Mu (1881-1884): the first woman admitted to law school in western Pennsylvania (most law schools did not admit women until 1910);

Charlotte Barrell, Phi (1884-1888): the only woman delegate to the International Institute of Agriculture in Rome (1922 and 1924);

Lucy Wight, Beta Beta (1890-1892): the first Dean of Women at Stanford University;

Emily Bright, Phi (1892-1894): national recognition for service in family welfare work;

Katherine Sharp, Upsilon (1894-1896): earned four graduate degrees; founder and director of the Illinois School of Library Science;

Bertha Richmond, Phi (1896-1900): staff member of the Harvard University Library.

When the Fraternity entered the new century, the membership was convinced that educational and vocational equality were desirable goals for women, especially for Kappas. As The Key stated: "It is possible to have an intellect above sex-limitations. . . let (college girls) not tacitly accept allowances for. . . insufficient work and useless lives because they are women." In keeping with the strides made for women by 1900, our first 20-century Fraternity President, Jean Nelson Penfield, Iota (1900-1902), was both a lawyer and a teacher of parliamentary law.

In 1902, Kappa's first step into philanthropy was the establishment of a student aid fund, while as early as 1913 the Fraternity was showing considerable interest in creating a bureau of vocational information. Alumnae were urged to become "a force" in the professional training of actives, as the 1913 Key launched our first series of articles on famous and interesting Kappas: Mabel Smith, Phi, writer and dean; Eleanor Guernsey, Mu, artist; Sarah Hobson, Phi, medicine. In 1914, Mary Kingsbury Simkhovitch, Phi, wrote the Fraternity's first article on a specific career aimed at Kappas: "Settlement Work as an Opportunity." Mary was the director of the Greenwich (N.Y.) Settlement House and also served as editor of The Key, 1888-1890.

1915 was a momentous career year for Kappas. In The Key, the series, "Occupations," began and dealt with such professions as writing, vocational guidance, social service, teaching, nursing, dietician. A Fraternity Information Bureau was launched via a Question-and-Answer section in every Key, and Kappas seeking job advice were encouraged to write for help. A typical question asked was: "What is the salary of a proofreader?" The Key's well-informed answer was straight-forward: "$10.00 per week." 1915 also saw the debut of Kappa's first feature on authors: "Kappas in Books and Magazines"; 70 years later, our pride in Kappa authors continues and "Kappas in Print" is the longest running special feature in The Key.

By the end of World War I, Kappa had come of age and her members had fully entered the intellectual arena. Education for women was no longer an issue; in fact, with the passage of the suffrage act in 1920, women were encouraged to get an education. No longer was the typical college curriculum for women limited to the liberal arts, general science, "domestic science," and fine arts. Articles on outstanding Kappas became standard features in The Key, and the words occupation and career were typical of every Kappa's vocabulary. The innovative 1917 Key initiated our first feature on Kappas in a particular profession, Deans of Women, and focused on seven women whose leadership in the field of higher education was responsible in large part for the general move in Kappa thinking from vocational training to vocational guidance. These seven illustrious Kappas were:

Virginia Gildersleeve, Beta Epsilon, Dean of Women at Barnard College;

Evelyn Wight Allan, Beta Beta, Dean of Women at Stanford University.

Katherine Sprague Alvord, Beta Delta, Dean of Women at DePauw University;

Jessie Beyers, Xi, Dean of Women at Adrian College;

Elizabeth Freeman Fox, Beta Epsilon, Dean of Women at the University of Oregon;

Mary Sweeny, Beta Chi, Dean of Women at the University of Kentucky;

Helen McClintock, Gamma Rho, Dean of Women at Geneva College.

1920-1945: Vocational Equality and Volunteerism

The period from the end of one world war to the end of another saw more career opportunities open for women. When Province Meetings resumed in 1923, Gamma Province reported that the meeting had included "talks" on library work, nursing, Girl Scout work, home-making, and kindergarten work. The Fraternity response to member interest in leading a productive life was the establishment in 1923 of a Vocational Guidance Department, and The Key began to publish articles on non-traditional vocations for women: play-writing, commercial art, personnel management. In 1924, The Key introduced a special feature which remains popular 60 years later: "Kappa in Sports." The names of all Kappas listed in Who's Who were published several times, beginning in 1927. In 1930, the first column on Kappa artists appeared, the 1932 Convention inaugurated a Celebrities Dinner, and, in 1934, the Vocational Guidance Bureau came into existence. The 1936 Convention staged an exhibition of Kappa artists, while The Key proudly announced that KKG had more members listed in Who's Who than any other Greek group! Despite a long interest in volunteerism, it was not until 1937 that the Fraternity officially recognized community service and volunteer work as careers.

By the outbreak of World War II, the Fraternity was beginning to respond to member interest in more practical approaches to the career field, and the 1939 Key began a series of articles on how to turn hobbies into profitable careers.

In 1940, Kappa published our first career directory: Vocational Guide. The aim of the resource was to make "available dependable educational and vocational information." Vocational programming was undertaken to provide contacts between alumnae in various fields of work and interested actives in order to help actives formulate their "educational and vocational objectives." Provinces were urged to organize "vocational conferences," at which alumnae would present their work, training needed, opportunities for entrance, advancement, remuneration, and importance; the presentation was to be followed by a question-answer period. The Vocational Guide was organized geographically by provinces and further subdivided into cities; it represents Kappa's earliest formal venture into career networking on an international scale. Among the vocations included are: advertising, radio, accounting, farming, architecture, health technician, business owner, newspaper, fashions, "air hostessing." Kappa career contacts are listed from around the world: Argentina, West Indies, Peru, Burma, China, Syria, England, Uruguay, Philippines, India, and several Canadian provinces.

During World War II, 600 Kappas were involved in all women's branches of the armed services. On the home front, actives and alumnae worked together as volunteers in the Red Cross, USO, hospital work, war bond drives, civil defense. By 1945, Kappas had indeed entered the job market in full force, and both volunteerism and a spirit of internationalism had become integral parts of the Kappa way of life.

1945-1985: Kappas Are News

The 1940s stand as a period of Fraternity pride in the activities and success stories of its members. In 1946, the Alumnae Achievement Awards were established to honor members in medicine, sports, volunteerism, law, education, art, social service, business, literature. The Key dropped its items on vital statistics ("Personals") and adopted in their place, "Personalities." Features on prominent Kappas included:

Sarah Blanding, Beta Chi: first woman president of Vassar College;

Jane Shaffer, Gamma Iota: photographer;

Betty Willson Soule, Beta Beta: Vermont U.S. Senator;

Marcia Simonton Drennan, Beta Nu: first woman to write a TV spot news script.

Kappas were making news and were newsworthy.

The 1950s were marked by the Korean War which created new job openings for women. All professions were considered "open." The Fraternity created a new position to deal more adequately with its career-oriented members: a career editor for The Key. Through a two-year series on "Kappa Careers in the Making," Kappas were informed on masculine attitudes towards career women, the employer's point of view, working wives, and the need to upgrade training for women so that they could enter fields not previously sought by women, such as engineering. Articles by Kappas stressed law, fashion, food management, fabric design, book publishing, civil service, merchandising. In 1957 when the first satellite was launched, The Key pleaded with women to study science, and, in 1958, The Key asked Kappa alumnae to encourage actives to prepare for careers. Every alumnae source was tapped, resulting in a variety of Key articles urging its members to go into a career, including one in 1959 by the stage and screen star, Gena Rowlands, Eta, entitled: "Rush Party Starts Career!"

The focus of the 1960s was on alumnae achievements and the decade began with a whole issue of The Key devoted to careers: administration, technical services, trend toward scientific research, the relaxing of barriers in professional fields. Most of the articles, however, were by Kappa husbands and fathers and concentrated on nine main career fields: business, science, public affairs, health, professions, education, creative arts, communication, and volunteerism. "Career Corner" began as a regular Key feature and included special recognition of Kappa alumnae honors. In 1967, Kappa artists became an annual separate feature.

While the 1960s spotlighted alumnae, the 1970s turned to the campus and undergraduates. Career expectations were "normal" goals, and preparation became the byword in an economic era which accepted, if not demanded, women in careers. The focus on undergraduate preparation for careers emerged in the 1980s with the creation of the Fraternity career program, CHOICES. Through CHOICES, Kappas trade information and job contacts, as well as receive career information on resumé writing, job interviewing, how to write a cover letter. Tips and timely information on careers now appear regularly in every issue of The Key, and career education has become an established part of regular chapter programming.

In 1983, The Key published for the first time a list of graduating Kappas and asked alumnae to assist in their employment:

"Why NOT Hire a Kappa?" Page 31 of this magazine contains the second listing of graduates. In 1984, the CHOICES manual was published in time to be featured at Convention and a KKG Professional Directory based on the CHOICES data bank was issued. 1984 also saw the first Key article to draw upon Kappa professionals listed in the CHOICES file; using the data bank as a resource of verifiable information and the latest expert counsel, Lois Catherman Heenehan, Beta Sigma, was able to write a knowledgeable and significant article on an issue of social concern: justice and the victims of crime.

Because of its commitment to career programming in the 1970s, the Fraternity is able in the 1980s to continue to lead its members to a fuller understanding of the responsibilities of educated women in today's society. A college woman is no longer "an entirely new genus" and her "utility" has certainly been proven! How wonderful to know that Kappa has played such a major role in the success of that 19th-century experiment to permit women to strive to attain "intellectual, moral, and social excellence." Our heritage is a testimony to the nobility of the spirit of womanhood which characterizes the Fraternity since its beginnings. May we as educated women continue to face the challenges around us in order to bring about a better future in a better world for all.²

NOTES

¹Louise Bennett, Jeanette Boyd, and Anna Willets earned M.A. degrees; these three, plus Minnie Stewart, entered the teaching profession; Minnie Stewart served as "principal of schools" in Eustis, Florida; Anna Willets was a member of the Board of Education in Monmouth, Illinois for many years.

²The pages of The Key since 1881 form a uniquely rich source of information for study and understanding of the woman's movement; virtually every issue contains a signpost in either historical, sociological, or psychological terms. It is not too farfetched to suggest here that the rise of women's Greek groups advanced the cause of educational and vocational equality for women ("in union there is strength"). The 1887 public position of the Fraternity remains the 1985 attitude: "We are not here advocating 'women's rights,' although we firmly believe in them, and trust that all Kappas do; nor are we favoring a masculine stride. . . , indifference or distaste of marriage, nothing of the kind. Only, let college girls be individuals. . . ." Indeed, the words of the 1891 Key still speak for us today: "Happy the woman who upon graduation is free to follow her own inclinations and pursue some congenial work or profession!"

KAPPA'S HISTORICAL PURSUIT

When did KKG adopt Minerva and the owl as Fraternity symbols? No KKG Convention nor any other official body such as the Grand Chapter or Grand Council ever voted specifically on Minerva and the owl as Fraternity symbols! Minerva and her owl were used by the St. Lawrence University Browning Society which became Beta Beta Chapter in 1881. Beta Beta took these two symbols to the 1884 Convention on a "cut" used for the campus yearbook. Apparently, the Convention delegates were so fascinated by these symbols that they accepted them as appropriate for KKG.

The owl appears next on the back of an 1889 Catalog published by Phi Chapter and again in 1890 it was used by Beta Nu. Only with the vote in 1912 on the Fraternity coat-of-arms which includes Minerva and the owl do they become official Fraternity symbols, but their widespread use by Kappas dates back to the 1884 Convention.

Minerva is the patron goddess of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and the owl is an official symbol of Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity. Since Chi Omega was not founded until 1895, KKG can claim with historical accuracy to be the first Greek letter woman's group to adopt the owl as our bird.

Perfect for framing, decorating a pillow, giving as an award or for a favorite sister, this Kappa Memory Sampler is easy to complete in counted cross-stitch. Kit includes instructions, 14-ct. Alumnae News

Edited by Lois Catherman Heenehan
BΣ-Adelphi

Missy Pardoe, ΓΠ-Alabama, tests gross motor skills as kindergarten children try to stand on one leg or toss a bean bag, while Lee Tipton, ΓK-William & Mary, checks another child for language learning abilities. Board members of the Houston Ronald McDonald House are Linda Bowman Gillman, ΓΦ-SMU; Muffin Moffatt Clark, ΔI-LSU; Florence Ann Wells McGee, BΣ-Texas.

Key-Links Open Doors for Houston Kappas

Discover a need and then find a way to fill it: that is probably the moving force in business and in volunteer efforts. Members of the Houston Alumnae Association felt a need for closer personal connections with the recipients of their philanthropic donations and Key-Links was organized as a means to fill this need.

One part of the Key-Links program is participation in kindergarten screening for potential learning problems. Volunteers in Public Schools (VIPS) is a project of the Houston Independent School District which provides training in how to detect potential learning problems. Volunteers then report to an inner city elementary school to test kindergarten children for eye-hand coordination and gross motor and language learning skills. Each year 12-15 Kappas take part, many of them returning yearly because they enjoy the program.

Key-Links chairman, Emily Peterson Mumford, ΔB-Duke, says that in a city as large as Houston it is difficult to keep up with everyone and she finds herself amazed at how much Kappas are doing! A group of singing Kappas tours retirement homes during the fall and spring in a music therapy program. They sing, encourage sing-a-longs and visit with the senior citizens. Observers find it hard to tell who enjoys the program more, the singers or the listeners, especially as one elderly lady advised the group, "Take my advice. Live every day to the fullest."

Another organization to which Key-Links volunteers give service is "Reach to Recovery", a group working with mastectomy patients. Continuing across the broad spectrum of agencies offering the opportunity for volunteer work, Houston Kappas are also involved with the local Ronald McDonald House. Three members serve on the board and others have served as volunteers and chairman of volunteers. Part of the national network of "homes away from home" for parents of seriously ill children who are hospitalized, the Houston house is a 21-bedroom/bath facility. Only four paid employees run the home, with parents doing their own housekeeping and volunteers doing the rest. The Houston Alumnae Association donated funds to construct and furnish one bedroom and a recent black-tie dinner and auction for a thousand people on the field of the Astrodome raised an additional $280,000. Dynamic chairman of a huge, city-wide group of volunteers for the Ronald McDonald House is Muffin Moffatt Clark, ΓΦ-SMU.

Singing, talking, playing finger games, or hopping on one foot, Houston Kappas know how to open doors in their community through the Key-Links program.

Ed. note: Thanks to Emily Mumford for organizing and gathering these materials over a period of 10 months and to Nancy Ferguson Haywood, BΣ-Texas, for applying her hobby, photography, to capturing the spirit of Kappa philanthropy.

Singing and playing for appreciative senior citizens are Jerry Lancaster Wall, Betty Lou LaMaster Crittenden, Sally Wall McCollum, all BΣ-Texas; Linda Larkin Morrison, ΓΦ-SMU; Mary Petersen Atwell, ΔB-Duke.

Coincidence and Commitment

One of the basic concepts of Kappa Kappa Gamma is commitment—to each other, and to the ideals and standards of the Fraternity.

It would seem to be a contradiction in terms to use these words together in a Kappa connection. But sometimes coincidence brings about unusual combinations and commitment occurs. For example, there is Mary Ellen Walsh, EΩ-Dickinson, chapter president, and there is Mary Kathryn Hammock, ΔK-Miami, M.D., Director of the Brain Research Center, Washington, D.C. Therein lies a tale of coincidence and commitment in Kappa.

For the past six years students have returned to school in September and have found the Kappas of Epsilon Omega Chapter preparing their annual plant sale. Students decorating their rooms and faculty and administration brightening their offices look forward to buying plants from the Kappas. However, the chapter members do admit that it is not their own green thumbs, but a local firm, Ashecombe's Farm and Greenhouse, which supplies the greenery. Based on each year's previous sales, the order still always proves to be too small and Ashecombe's is happy to supply additional plants on short notice.

Despite previous success, the Kappas do not neglect creative publicity. Signs read, "Plants do not live by photosynthesis alone." or "Is your roommate a bore? Have someone to talk to." With fewer than 2,000 students on campus, this year's record-breaking sales brought a profit of over $600, and this is only one of the chapter's fund raising activities.

In the same year that Epsilon Omega Chapter was installed on the Dickinson campus, a group of concerned parents of children with afflictions of the nervous system joined together in Washington, D.C. to form the Brain Research Association at the Brain Research Center, Children's Hospital National Medical Center. Dedicated to supporting research into pediatric brain disorders, and recognizing the importance of their mission, that group of concerned parents soon evolved into the National Brain Research Association, broader in scope and membership, which now supports research in several children's hospitals.

In 1981 the Brain Research Center for infants and children officially opened at Children's Hospital National Medical Center. The first of its kind in the United States, the center represents a broad-based research effort to explore the neurological diseases of childhood and coordinate the efforts of scientists and clinicians at leading institutions around the country.

Kathryn Hammock, Director of the Brain Research Center, did her undergraduate work at Miami, received her M.D. from Northwestern, served her residency at Harvard Medical School and internship at New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center, further residency in neurosurgery at George Washington Medical Center, and a special fellowship in microneurosurgery at the University of Pittsburgh. Count the Kappa campuses listed there! She is now an attending neurosurgeon at Children's Hospital National Medical Center, holds the academic rank of assistant professor of neurological surgery at George Washington, and has published numerous papers in her field.

Enter the long arm of coincidence.

Susan Walsh, Administrator of the Brain Research Association is the mother of Mary Ellen Walsh and through her the Kappa connection came into focus. Chapter members enthusiastically adopted the Brain Research Association as their philanthropy and four members travelled to Washington to present Dr. Hammock with their donation.

A tour of the facilities and Dr. Hammock's discussion of the center's work served to reinforce the enthusiasm of the Epsilon Omegas. Since 1952, when Kappa Kappa Gamma chose rehabilitation services as its philanthropy, Kappas everywhere have continued to find new sources for involvement and commitment to helping others.

Shirl Rendlen

Shirley Raible Rendlen, ΔK-Miami, has had an unusual life right from the start. She was delivered at home by her stepgrandfather, a country doctor in Hannibal, MO. Her father was a World War I ace and her mother was "striking looking . . . good cheekbones!", an inheritance that Shirl would later put to good use. A normal small town upbringing, marriage and four children were more in line with everywoman's life, but later years brought a big change. She became a model at age 55.

Always interested in the arts, Shirl was co-founder of the Ice House Theatre, the Hannibal Foundation, and was founder of the Hannibal Arts Council. First president of the Hannibal Tourism Committee, she was appointed to the Missouri Arts Council in 1973. Additional involvements were with the Mid-America Arts Alliance, a five-state consortium; the Missouri Citizens for the Arts and the latter's Education Fund.

The end of her more than 30 years of marriage in divorce led Shirl to "finally pursue childhood fantasies". Striking white hair and a youthful, lively look combined to make Shirl a "model grannie". She has appeared on the back of Ralston Purina's Chex cereal boxes, and strangers sometimes take a close look and exclaim, "I had breakfast with you!" Shirl may be seen in several national magazines as part of a promotion for Sears Portrait Studios and is herself the subject of a feature article in the October issue of the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) News Bulletin (circulation 16 million). Shirl has other commercials in her credits and often appears on "American Alive", a local cable TV program. She also hosts and produces a talk show "Arts Around Town", which features local artists.

Names in the News . . .

Donna Jean Darby

Shirl says modeling is hard work and advises those who are considering a career in modeling to "have some backup income before you start." She is pictured with her real-life granddaughter, Lindsey.

Donna Jean Roebel Darby, ΔΓ-Michigan State, is a life long resident of Fort Wayne, IN who has made unrivaled contributions to the quality of life in the city. She has taught on the junior and senior high school and college levels and has served as an elected official of the East Allen County School Board. At present, she is executive director of Leadership Fort Wayne, a training course to develop effective future leadership for the city.

In an effort to increase tourism, she started Historic River Cruises and is chairman of its board. These cruises are narrated tours which originate on the river at the old fort and progress along the three rivers which intersect nearby. The history of Fort Wayne is highlighted as interesting spots along the way are pointed out. Donna Jean's involvement with this project included fund raising for the two large float boats owned by Historic River Cruises.

Another of her original contributions to the community has been the creation of Contacts, Inc., a public relations type business for which she serves as president. Contacts conducts tours of Fort Wayne for prospective new residents, handles relocation of executives to the area and gives local tours for convention groups.

Having been a working member of almost every club and organization in the city, Donna Jean is currently vice president of United Way of Indiana. She has benefited the Kappa alumnae association repeatedly during the years with her time and services. Fort Wayne Kappas will miss her when she and her husband and two daughters move to Maryland this summer, but are proud to say she has been one of them.

Donna Aronson

Donna Noble Aronson, BT-Syracuse, APR, has formed Noble Communications, a consulting firm specializing in public relations, marketing and communications. Prior to forming her own company, Donna was corporate communications administrator for AVX Corporation, Great Neck, NY. She is now retained by AVX to carry out a multifaceted corporate communications and investor relations program.

A member of the National Investor Relations Institute and the National Association of Female Executives, Donna is listed in the 1984 edition of Who's Who in the East.

Raye Virginia Allen, BZ-Texas, who has made significant contributions to Future Homemakers of America, received a National Honorary Membership, the highest honor awarded to an individual by the organization.

Raye joined Future Homemakers of America in 1945, the year of its founding. She served as Texas' first state president and has remained involved in the organization's development. Currently, she is a member of the national board of directors and serves as treasurer of the foundation's board of trustees.

In addition, Raye founded one of the first arts councils in the country and served as chairman of the board of trustees of the American Folklife Center in the Library of Congress, as well as serving on the coordinating committee for Ellis Island, NY.

Janet Evans

Janet Evans, BΨ-Toronto, is an ordained minister serving the United Church of Canada. The youngest member of her graduating class at Emmanuel Theological College to be ordained, she serves a rural charge approximately 70 miles east of Kingston, Ontario and lives in a huge old manse in the country. As a student minister she served internships in Saskatchewan, eastern Ontario and suburban Toronto.

An active sportswoman and an accomplished musician, Janet served as second vice president of her chapter and was the recipient of a graduate fellowship award from Kappa.

Sandra Planz Fortini, ΔX-San Jose State, is the creator of Safâv Linens, one-of-a-kind items which are individually hand painted and signed by the artist. Napkins, placemats, hot pads, bridge sets, table runners and cloths are among the items now appearing in fine department stores and specialty shops across the country, including Gump's in San Francisco and a display at Tiffany.

Designs may be ordered to match china patterns, wallpaper, upholstery or other items chosen by the customer. The paint used is permanent, machine washable and safe for stain-removal treatment, making the linens practical as well as beautiful.

Sandy maintains a busy schedule as artist, wife of a neurosurgeon, mother of three musical daughters and chapter council adviser for EO-University of California at Davis.

Tina Neutzel, I-DePauw, has been named assistant to the president of Stemmler, Weiland & Associates, a St. Louis based advertising and public relations firm. She will coordinate media and production and will also participate in creative and contact activities.

Prior to coming to SWA, Tina was assistant to the first vice-president of Drexel Burnham Lambert in St. Louis. She has also been a production intern on "Midday A.M." at KSDK-TV and a public relations intern with the St. Louis Baseball Cardinals during the 1982 season, National League Playoffs and the 1982 World Series.

Owl's Eye Glimpses . . .

Patricia Maness Kriz, BM-Colorado, was appointed by the California State Board of Education to the State Commission on School Governance and Management. Kim Perrone McLaughlin, BO-Tulane, was honored by Upjohn Company for outstanding sales for three consecutive years. Also president of the Nashville Alumnae Association, Kim attended a recognition ceremony and was treated to three days at the company lodge in Kalamazoo, MI. A newlywed, she was accompanied by her husband for a mini honeymoon.

Jacqueline Love Carey, T-Northwestern, was made a member of the Oklahoma Hall of Fame and honored for her dynamic civic and cultural leadership. Her citation noted 11 past and current offices in a wide variety of organizations.

Barbara Mueller Davidson, X-Minnesota, has been appointed to the new post of manager of technical marketing services for Link Telecommunications, Inc. (LTI), a supplier of advanced local area network communications products and services. She assumes primary responsibility for technical marketing services based in LTI's Washington DC office and will be responsible for the overall systems engineering support and technical marketing support of LINKNET, LTI's family of local area networking products.

Nancy McHugh

Nancy Green McHugh, BZ-Iowa, received the 1984 Community Sustainer Salute from the Cedar Rapids Junior League. They referred to her as a "brainstormer with a common sense-three step formula for volunteer effectiveness." First she spots a need. Next she comes up with a creative means of servicing the need and finally she develops an organized plan to realize the dream.

A member of the Friends of the Library Board and of the Library Board of Trustees, Nancy may not be single-handedly building the new library, but she is credited with being the driving force behind the successful solutions to its needs. She has also held many offices in the Kappa alumnae group.

Beverly Lynch

Beverly P. Lynch, TT-North Dakota State, university librarian, University of Illinois at Chicago, has been chosen as president-elect of the American Library Association (ALA). The president of the ALA is the elected leader of the world's oldest and largest library organization, with a current membership of nearly 40,000. Dr. Lynch will serve as vice-president for 1984-85 and assume the presidency in June 1985 at the close of the ALA's annual conference in Chicago.

Throughout her career, as librarian, researcher, writer, teacher, ALA staff and committee member and library administrator, Beverly has worked to enhance the excellence of librarianship. She has helped write standards for college, community college and university libraries; has developed policies relating to library employment, management, professional ethics and access to collections; and has worked to improve salaries and to stimulate professional growth and development.

Jack, Paula and Olin Branstetter

Paula Stivers Branstetter, ΔΣ-Oklahoma State, and her son, Jack, and husband, Olin, flew over the North Magnetic Pole in their single engine Piper Cherokee 180 airplane. Everyone wanted to handle the controls as they circled the pole and some unique gymnastics were invented as three adults maneuvered to change seats. Months of planning went into the trip, but even so, strong headwinds caused unusually heavy fuel consumption and brought some anxious moments. However, they met the challenges of the flight and gloried in the beauty of scenery, animals and people that they met en route.

Paula and Olin have been pilots with instrument ratings for about six years. Jack has been licensed for four years. Olin is an independent oil producer with his own company, BranOil, and is also president and operator for Hodco, Inc. with wells on leases northwest of Ponca City, OK. The Branstetters have three other sons.

Career Changes and Challenges

Jackie Nicholes

Jackie Anderson Nicholes, ΔH-Utah, wanted to operate a greenhouse. Instead, she is president and general manager of Quality Press, Inc.—a successful businesswoman who was one of 51 persons to receive a Small Business Person of the Year Award from President Reagan at a ceremony in the White House Rose Garden in June 1984.

It was a major challenge that Jackie faced when she assumed the responsibility of running the printing company after her husband's sudden death in 1979. She had worked for Quality Press as a bookkeeper but knew nothing about running the press . . . didn't even know what questions to ask to learn about it.

With all the employees gathered around the coke machine a few days after her husband's funeral, Jackie asked for their help in obtaining her education in printing. No employee left for nine months following, but the first year was rough and Jackie was depressed and overwhelmed by what she didn't know. Gradually she learned . . . by learning the lingo of printing and by asking why? what if . . .? is there another way? In the years since she has run the business, sales volume has increased from $1 to $1.5 million a year with the same equipment and people and has moved to a larger facility.

All of the Nicholes' children work in the business in different departments . . . two boys and two girls. Jackie's oldest daughter, Kris, also a Kappa, is a sales representative and graphic artist. However, the rule at home is "No Quality Press talk after 5 p.m. or on weekends."

Jackie has also been a loyal Kappa, serving as rush adviser and president of the Salt Lake City Alumnae.

With a B.S. in Child Development, she wrote . . . "I had always dreamed of doing something in the business world but never 'got it together' to accomplish anything. When my husband died I wanted to try this but was unprepared and nearly terrified of the responsibilities. I hope that our success serves as an inspiration to all and shows that many of us are more capable than we realize and, given a chance, we can succeed. I am not on a bandwagon for ERA or any women's movement in general, although I do support many of the causes for women. My goal was always to establish myself as a productive and efficient business person."

Jean Trimblein Wolfgram-Hull, ΔΓ-Michigan State, made her career change by choice. Formerly the owner and manager of the Two Sisters, a successful restaurant in Palo Alto, CA (see The Key, Winter 1981, p. 15), Jean sold the restaurant and opened a consulting business as a professional resource for small businesses. This is a natural move, since Jean had been teaching a course in small business management at Foothills College and also teaches a continuing education course at San Jose State entitled "How to Start and Operate a Small Business". This course covers Starting and Running a Profitable Business, Keeping Business Records, Legal and Regulatory Requirements, and Organizing for Effective Operation.

The consulting business itself has been successful. Two students who took Jean's course at Foothills College have been written about in local newspapers and their business successes have been described. Jean tells the story of a restaurant owner she helped as an example of her approach. The business was several thousand dollars in the red each month! The owner turned over all paper work, staff and inventory to Jean to set in order.

She appointed an energetic new manager who trimmed the staff through their mutual assessment. Jean taught inventory and stores control, gave each employee specific responsibilities for operations/ordering, redid some entrees and pricing on the menu, met daily with employees concerning changes, inventory control, sales promotion . . . and within three weeks the business was operating in the black!

Most clients are concerned about their margin of profitability and how to expand their market. Jean analyzes their profit and loss statements, observes actual operations, makes recommendations and suggests actions which will place them in profitable routes. She often recommends other professional help . . . accountants, lawyers, insurance people, secretarial services, graphics/advertising personnel, etc.

Giving advice based on training and experience or making it on your own despite problems and errors, Kappas have what it takes to meet career challenges and reach their goals.

Sacramento Valley

More than 100 members and guests attended the summer barbecue party of the Sacramento Valley Alumnae Association. Linda Ayers Biko, ΓE-Pittsburgh, and husband, Chef Bob, hosted the event while Shirley Olson Worthington, ΓM-Oregon, and husband Jack; Liz Rogers Glad, ΓE-UCLA, and husband Jay were among those who enjoyed the party. Shirley is alumnae president and Liz was barbecue chairman.

Brevard County

The annual couples' party of the Brevard County, FL Club kicked off 1984-85 activities with a backyard barbecue. Warren Seiffe and Edwin Hughes were among the chefs, while Jo Ann Yapp Seiffe, ΓA-Kansas State, and Ann Nolen Hughes, ΔB-Duke, were ready to prepare salad.

Sacramento Valley

A long time member of the group and president for three different terms, Grace Burgett Dean, ΓT-Whitman, was honored by the Sacramento Valley Alumnae Association with an annual award given in her name to the outstanding senior member of EO-University of California at Davis. The award was presented to Mary Lou Schmitt at a spring potluck dinner with the chapter.

Cleveland

Summer brought members of the Cleveland Alumnae Association outdoors for a "Great Gatsby Croquet Party". About 50 attended, dressed in twenties styles. One couple even arrived in a 1927 automobile, which later provided the setting for their picture. In between the preliminary and championship croquet matches everyone enjoyed an old fashioned fried chicken picnic dinner on the lawn.

Among those enjoying the event were Sherry Monday Ulrich, Δ-Akron; alumnae president Debby Heaberlin Smith, BO-Tulane; Denise Hearey O'Brien, M-Butler; Nancy Garrett Gerseny, ΓP-Allegheny; Nancy Silver Sneed, Θ-Missouri; Linda Meredith Makee, ΓΩ-Denison; Vicki Cotopolis Wright, BN-Ohio State; Clarissa Walker Chandler, also BO; Anne Gardner Tripp, also ΓP; Lynn Baird Breuer, ΓA-Middlebury; Binney Brown Foutes, PΔ-Ohio Wesleyan; Paula Bodwell Kennedy, also PΔ; Betty Schwarz Schwab, BPΔ-Cincinnati; Cindy Mull King, also ΓP; Heather Holden Mitchell, BA-Michigan.

A 60-year Kappa, Grace was also honored by the board of the Sacramento Valley Alumnae Panhellenic for her interest and involvement with that group. A perpetual scholarship was awarded in her name and was given this year to Andrea Sangey, an honor student at Rio Vista High School.

celebrates success in sales . . .

Spokane

The first paper caper of the Spokane Alumnae Association was a great success. A midday tea and open house allowed over 90 customers to browse through Christmas and all-occasion wrapping paper and package decorations. Cutting and packaging was done by 20 alumnae members and included an overnight excursion to the chapter house at BK-Idaho where the dining room was temporarily converted to a processing facility!

Sales exceeded $1100 and proceeds will be used to support the YWCA Handicapped Swim Program in Spokane, and for Kappa undergraduate scholarships. Among the eager buyers were Mary Lou Griffith Gardiner, Θ-Missouri, Iota Province Director of Alumnae, and her friend, Lynn Flaherty.

celebrates a special visitor . . .

Pittsburgh

Members of the ΓE-Pittsburgh, ΔE-Carnegie Mellon and the Pittsburgh Alumnae Association enjoyed a brunch at the ΓE chapter house. The alumnae hosted the event which featured then Fraternity President Sally Moore Nitschke, BN-Ohio State, who talked about Kappas and projecting positive images.

Tucson

Anna Kelly, ΔK-Miami, and Miriam Doyle Matz, ΓZ-Arizona, lit the candles on the lovely buffet table for the Tucson Alumnae Association's first meeting in the fall. Featured were desserts from the association's new cookbook, Six of One, Half Dozen of Another.

Proceeds of wrapping paper sales by the alumnae provided funds to help purchase a 1933 Wheelock baby grand piano which was presented to the chapter at an open house celebration for their new campus home. Having received an honorable mention for the Shryock Award at convention in June, Toledo alumnae are continuing to prove themselves deserving of the honor.

Dayton

Welcome visitors to the Dayton Alumnae Association's Founders' Day celebration were guests from the Fraternity's Heritage Museum. Catherine Schroeder Graf, BN-Ohio State, former director of the museum; Barna Hurt Graves, FN-Arkansas, chairman of the museum board of trustees; and Suzanne Crimm Milligan, Δ-Indiana, chairman of the Museum Guild; modeled reproduction gowns of the Victorian period along with Dayton alumnae members Mary Ann Benecke Cunnigan, BN-Ohio State, and Mindy Graham, ΔΔ-Miami.

Kay narrated the slide show about the museum and Barna told of its inception and of some of the board's goals. Pictured are Kay, Mary Ann, Barna, Mindy and Sue in their elegant gowns.

Detroit-North Woodward

Several special Kappas were given recognition by the Detroit-North Woodward Alumnae Association at their Founders' Day celebration this year. Loraine Eby, BI-Swarthmore, received her 75-year pin from alumnae president Barbara Harshman Roller, ΔT-Georgia, right, as Mr. Eby and Mary Ives Hurd Henner, X-Minnesota looked on.

A new recognition of long-time Kappas was instituted this year, stemming from a recommendation from the alumnae committee at conven-

Founders' Day was a double celebration for members of the Oak Park-River Forest Alumnae Association (IL) as they marked the 40th anniversary of their group. tion. A certificate recognizing 65 years of membership was given to Dorothy Reynolds Withrow, K-Hillsdale.

And a most unusual certificate was presented to Margaret Patterson Eilber, ΔΓ-Michigan State. Margaret pledged and was initiated into Themian, the local sorority which became ΔΓ chapter in 1929. However, those were difficult times financially and Margaret's parents decided to let her younger sister in the chapter be the one to be initiated into Kappa. Margaret graduated in 1930, married and raised her children and it was not until 1956 that she was initiated into Kappa. Although she has been an active member of the alumnae group for 54 years, she has technically been initiated for only 28 years. The alumnae honored her at Founders' Day with a fleur-de-lis pin and a special letter from Wilma Winberg Johnson, ΔN-Massachusetts, Director of Alumnae. Pictured with Margaret, left, is Dorothy Smith Rouse, ΔΓ-Michigan State.

London Alumnae Club

Mary Fender Hoerneman, ΔΔ-McGill, president of the London Alumnae Club, recently wrote:

"In the Summer '84 issue of The Key we London alums were shocked to read the story of Kris, a young Kappa who became seriously ill while attending the London School of Economics. Our feelings stem from not even knowing she was in the city. Had we had contact, we surely could have provided moral support to both Kris and her family. We say collectively, 'If we had only known . . .'."

"So all of you coming to London to study for a semester, a year, or whatever, please let us know. We might be able to help should anyone become seriously ill or just plain homesick. The name and address of the alumnae club president is always in The Key, so let us know when you're coming and how to contact you. Help us feel in the mainstream of Kappa on this side of the Atlantic!"

Dakota State, Founders' Day hostess; Lynn Coffee Loggie, ΒΞ-Texas, Jo Newport Brodeur, ΓΗ-Washington State, Alpha Province Director of Alumnae; Mary Fender Hoerneman, ΔΔ-Miami U, alumnae president; Irene Kruegel Van der Meulen, also ΓΗ; Lesley Roberts Grundy, ΓΦ-SMU. Back row — Mary Robert, Δ-Akron; Patricia Bean Harrison, ΕΑ-Texas Christian; Jane Weirick Ross, ΔΦ-Bucknell; Monica MacArthur Osborne, ΓΞ-UCLA; Marianne Payne Canter, ΒΡ-Cincinnati; Deborah Wilkins Bowsher, ΓΤ-British Columbia; Sally Holt Smit, Π-California; Betsy Brown Smith, also ΒΞ; Virginia Latting Bayless, ΔΠ-Tulsa; Joan Malik Ball, Τ-Northwestern; Diane Peek Ofner, ΔΨ-Texas Tech; Virginia Maley Blight, ΔΑ-Penn State; Pat Laramy Maley, also ΔΑ.

London area alumnae enjoyed a Founders' Day celebration exactly one month ahead of time in order to welcome Jo Newport Brodeur, ΓΗ-Washington State, Alpha Province Director of Alumnae, who was visiting England with her husband. Jo brought with her news of general convention and the Heritage Museum slide program to share with the group.

Two other special guests attended. Patricia Laramy Maley, ΔΑ-Penn State, a 50-year Kappa, was visiting her daughter, Virginia Maley Blight, also ΔΑ. From Gouda, The Netherlands, came Irene Kruegel Van der Meulen, who had been at Washington State University with Jo Brodeur. Irene later wrote to the London Kappas of how singing the Kappa Blessing at the table brought back memories of chapter days 42 years earlier. Members of the London Alumnae Club considered it a real boost to share Founder's Day with such special guests.

DOWN KAPPA'S MEMORY LANE

By Gini Anding La Charité
ΓΚ-William & Mary

25 YEARS AGO. . . The era of the jet plane had arrived, but Convention plans for San Diego included train costs; for that Convention, the unheard of registration fee of $30.00 included a boat trip around San Diego Bay and a trip to Mexico. A plain gold key cost $5.50, while a diamond badge was a monumental $105.00. Special Key articles included features on Pi as Kappa's oldest chapter on the West Coast, Epsilon Gamma's move into their first permanent home, and the warm companionship experienced by Iota on a no-car campus.

50 YEARS AGO. . . The installation of Delta Iota marked the first time that the Fireside Service was used. Major chapter concerns of the country were rush, pledge, social, use of alcoholic liquors, smoking, behavior with men, culture, house. House chairmen were warned "to watch the furnaces and check their condition with care." Each chapter and alumnae group were required to send to The Key a summary report on activities; if none was received, the name of the group was listed with the glaring notation: "No Letter." Delta Eta reported plans for a successful "rushing campaign," Lambda's big news was the introduction of "noon meals" at the house, while the Oklahoma City alumnae expressed intimidation over beginning a philanthropy project for the very first time. The Washington, D.C. alumnae regretted that they could not hold their annual Christmas luncheon because everyone was "too busy to attend."

75 YEARS AGO. . . Chapters were concerned with the problem of week-night dates; Omega wrote a plea to date only on weekends. Beta Nu entertained with a "spread." Delta announced the purchase of a chapter house. The Minneapolis alumnae held card and sewing parties, with the 25¢ fee per member going into the Chi housing fund. One important notice reminded all members that postage to Germany was now 2¢ (the Fraternity

Grand Treasurer was residing in Hannover). Three lamented follies of college girls were: 1) "extravagance in expenditure and dress," 2) carelessness of health ("eating foolish things between meals,"), 3) desire for "perpetual stimulation and change."

100 YEARS AGO. . . There were no alumnae clubs or associations, the Fraternity did not have a catalog of all members, there were no manuals and no chapter reports. The Grand President was Charlotte Barrell (Ware). The Key appealed for some system of contact and correspondence between chapters and graduates. A new regular feature in The Key was a list of readings recommended for Kappas on biography, history, religion, and travel; most of the books listed included a description to guide Kappa readers: "peculiar charm," "nicely gotten-up," "unassuming," "not unsympathetic," "sincere," "artistically finished," "a book for a bibliophile."

The Complete Cook by Pat Fleming Jester, ΔO Iowa State, HP Books, Tucson, AZ 1984, ISBN 0-89586235-2

On the heels of her immensely successful bestseller Microwave Cookbook, The Complete Guide, Pat Jester brings us The Complete Cook. For the new bride who needs that one basic cookbook (in the tradition of Fanny Farmer and Betty Crocker), this fills the bill.

Meant to last a lifetime, this is an inspiring collection of time-honored recipes, presented in an easy-to-use format incorporating the latest in cooking know-how. Learn a basic recipe, then create your own variations. Simple instructions and kitchen-tested techniques guarantee success. Grandma would be envious of the many time-saving tips for creating her classic dishes.

Recipes were created to provide good nutrition with less sugar, salt and fat. Tips throughout the book will help you develop a feeling of compatible herbs, seasonings and flavors. "Select-A-Size" recipes allow one to prepare just the amount needed without costly leftovers.

More than 530 full color photos help teach, and are especially helpful for the beginner cook, while accomplished cooks can build on basic recipes to create their own masterpieces.

My Dearest Anna, Letters of the Richmond Family 1836-1898, by Mary Rathbone Acker, BM-Colorado, Adams Press, Chicago, 1981.

This work is based on sixty years of family letters written to or by the author's great-great grandmother, Anna Whitwell Richmond and her family. Left in a paper sack, perhaps with the hopes of selling the stamps eventually, the find provoked the author into three years of transcribing and documenting.

She made many trips to the East Coast, from her home in Washington State, to locate old homesteads for modern photographs and descriptions. The story of these early families gives budding genealogists a format for presentation of their own family histories.

Mrs. Acker attended the University of Colorado and graduated from Vassar College. She has taught school, raised three children, and became a paralegal. In 1983 Mary and her husband moved to the Pacific Northwest to enjoy the mountains and the ocean.

The book may be ordered for $9.95 and $1.00 postage from Mrs. Peter H. Acker, P.O. Box 158, Carlsborg, WA 98324.

The Fashion Coloring Book, by Sharon Lee Tate, ΓΞ-UCLA, and Mona Shafer Edwards, Harper and Row, New York, 1984, ISBN 0-06-046612-X

Fashion is change and change is confusing to many people. The commercial fashion industry is vast and complicated, and many women feel justifiably bewildered when they try to apply contemporary fashion information to their lifestyle and appearance goals. A person who tries to interpret all the available fashion messages for her own self-image faces "an awesome task," say the authors of this recent publication.

An enjoyable one-of-a-kind, no-nonsense guide, The Fashion Coloring Book offers a broad, inclusive introduction to fashion. This book demonstrates the principles of all aspects of dressing—from the skirted suit to the swimsuit—rather than focusing only on the effects of color or on what clothes are appropriate for climbing the corporate ladder. This book will never go out of style, and will help the consumer avoid costly mistakes and learn how to make the most of the time and money she invests in shopping for a wardrobe.

Geared to the average American woman, The Fashion Coloring Book begins by advising readers to evaluate their figures as they are today (not after the loss of the perennial ten pounds). Once you take realistic stock of your pluses and minuses you will understand what you need to accentuate and what you need to camouflage.

Sharon Lee Tate is a professional women's wear designer and Assistant Dean at Los Angeles Trade-Technical College. She lectures at schools across America. Mona Shafer Edwards is a freelance illustrator. She has done courtroom sketching for NBC News, children's book illustration. She graduated from the Art Center of the College of Design in Los Angeles.

To order send $5.95 plus $1.00 for postage to: The Compleat Children's Lunch Box, WDS Publishing, 4400 North Shartel, Oklahoma City, OK 73118.

Knock Wood by Candice Bergen, BA-Pennsylvania, Simon & Shuster, New York, 1984

Growing up as "Charlie's sister" and the daughter of famed ventriloquist Edgar Bergen, Candice Bergen recalls her life in a shrewd, funny, loving and somewhat appalling manner. Her father's alter ego, in the form of a wise-guy dummy, Charlie McCarthy, was a confusing sibling to say the least. Two themes persisted in young Candy's life—she tried very hard to please her father, and at times felt that stardom was thrust upon her before she was ready.

Her stunning beauty came from her mother, Frances, and she inherited some of her father's stiffness as well. This is a book about growing up. While she carefully protects former companions from confessions, the story of her acting career, and her recent marriage present warm recollections of a special woman.

Amy Avocet, The Back Bay Ballerina by Joan Pizza, ΔT-USC, Illustrated by Clyde Geronimi, Back Bay Books, Inc. Newport Beach, CA, 1984.

In their second in a series of three books called "Tales of the Back Bay", Pizzo and Geronimi have again combined to produce a totally enchanting children's book. AMY AVOCET is a lyrical and whimsical story of a wading bird who one day finds some shoes and dances away upsetting all her friends in the Back Bay. Where she goes and how she returns becomes the theme of this special story. Book III will feature Pelican Bill.

Born and raised in Los Angeles, Ca., Joan Pizzo began writing children's books six years ago. She has taught English, Science, Physical Education/Dance in elementary and high school in Southern California and Montreal, Canada. Besides being a naturalist, writer, and an educator, she is active in the arts and the environment. She was recently recognized at an Awards Dinner recognizing Orange County Authors, hosted by University of California at Irvine.

Clyde Geronimi was one of Walt Disney's first animators. He received Academy Awards for his work on animated short subjects. He worked on films such as SNOW WHITE, BAMBI, PETER PAN and later directed SLEEPING BEAUTY. He recently won the International Animated Film Society's "Annie Award" for outstanding contributions to the field of film animation.

Beginnings, A Book for Widows, Betty Jane Wylie (Betty Jane McKentry, ΓΣ-Manitoba), Ballantine Books, New York 1982. ISBN 0-345-31617-7

This book was originally reviewed in the Winter 1978 issue of the KEY. It has been reprinted and is now available in paperback. The author received an Alumnae Achievement Award in 1972. She is the author of several plays and has made numerous appearances on the live stage.

Widowhood tends to be ignored in our death-denying society. But in fact there are 10½ million widowed women in the U.S. today. And just under a third of them lose their husbands before they themselves reach the age of 40.

Betty Jane Wylie doesn't pretend that life goes on as before for the widow. But neither does she ignore the fact that life does go on. Straightforward and practical, she shares how she managed to survive the crisis of her husband's death and manage alone with her children. In a conversational and sympathetic tone, she offers direct advice on how to cope when life seems so bleak. Beginning with the assurance that "Life suddenly becomes an uncharted adventure," she covers everything from mourning to preparing for your own death.

She offers advice on such concerns as cooking, deciding whether to move, explaining to children, budgeting, companionship, finding a new job, and money. In addition, she lists 25 positive things to do when loneliness strikes. She describes her own feelings and behavior following her husband's death so as to reassure the widow that her responses are normal. She manages to convince the grieving widow that no matter how difficult survival is, it's wonderful to be alive.

"A. Quincy Jones: The Oneness of Architecture", Drawings and Sketches/Selected Projects 1945-1979, Process: Architecture, Nakajima Publishing Co., Ltd., Tokyo, October 1983. Member of the Editorial Team—Elaine Sewell (Mrs. A. Quincy Jones), ΓM-Oregon State

"Architecture is an inherent correctness of scale, structure, proportion, oneness of space between building and site, and simplicity of expression combined with seriousness of thought that enables architecture to withstand the reactions of today and the test of tomorrow."

This definition is the source of the title of the publication, "The Oneness of Architecture". The words were found among the writings of A. Quincy Jones but there is no indication of authorship. If he did not write this definition, he might have.

If there is something here for the student in architecture it is that it is a marvelous profession and those who are serious and dedicated will find a way to influence through architecture the way people live and work and play and worship.

A. Quincy Jones' place in architecture is assured by the humanism and beauty of his buildings, their environmental responsiveness and the enduring significance of the reforms he set in motion. He was also an architect for whom drawing was a way of participating in a place, a form of visual notation. He believed in drawing as a communication of knowledge and emotion rather than as a precious commodity.

Among his works are the United States Embassy in Singapore, the Congregational Church of Northridge, CA, the Annenberg School of Communications at USC and the Mandeville Center for the Arts, University of California, San Diego.

Falseface by Marilyn Augburn Sharp, I-DePauw, St. Martin's Press, New York, 1984. Price $15.95. ISBN 0 312-28014-9.

From the moment that the CIA's top agent, Richard Owen, master of disguises, languages and inventiveness, sets down among the splendors of Uxmal to unravel the intrigue surrounding a band of terrorists, Marilyn Sharp in Falseface surpasses the originality and pulsing momentum of even her previous two novels, Sunflower and Masterstroke.

With the chilling authenticity of her inside knowledge of government, Marilyn pulls out all the stops—the latest in weaponry; the cleverest ways to decipher codes; the most carefully guarded secrets of a powerful spy system—to affect the rescue of Owen under enemy fire. He is plunged into action that leads from the steamy Yucatan jungle to the inner sanctums of the White House and into a puzzle filled with hints of conspiracy, suspense and international intrigue.

This is Marilyn Sharp's most ingenious thriller yet. "Paced at bullet speed, filled with wit and originality at every turn, Falseface is, simply, lots of fun to read." (Booklist)

HIRE A KAPPA

1985 Guide to Graduates

By Carole Jolliffe Berutti
BN-Ohio State
CHOICES Coordinator

Here it is for the second year—the Hire a Kappa listing of seniors seeking employment—the TOP GRADUATES IN THE NATION! You will find each of these outstanding young women listed by her chapter address (or in care of chapter president) where she can be contacted. Where possible, we have included the chapter phone number (and perhaps a contact name). Following each graduate's name is her major area of study, career aspiration, and desired geographic location (most are flexible). Although not all chapters responded to the listing, we heard from 86 chapters totaling nearly 1200 eager seniors listed here!

Look over this impressive list of young women and their areas of expertise. Even if you are not in a hiring position yourself, perhaps your husband, friend, or employer would be interested.

We have received very positive feedback on this project to date. The graduating seniors are most grateful for any help in job hunting, and the alumnae have been most supportive in encouraging participation and extending interviews where possible. AND several job offers have materialized through the Guide!

It is imperative that we receive feedback on this project in order to continue to evaluate its success for future use. Please fill out the form at the end of the listings.

These Kappas have voluntarily sent in their names for employment consideration. Please do not disappoint them! Show them that Kappa does not end with graduation. It keeps on offering advantages of sisterhood throughout our lives. And remember. . . if you are about to hire. . . why not HIRE A KAPPA!?

Marea Maurer Erf Campbell, X-Minnesota, has been a calligrapher since 1927, and is an artist working in water color, oil, pen and ink. Her degrees are from Oberlin College, Cleveland School of Art, and a B.S. in Education from University of Minnesota. Over the years, she has established her own style, specializing in greeting cards, note paper designs, and local drawings, one of which is the Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church and special orders. At present, she says she feels like a Monk of 2,000 years ago, doing a commissioned poem of 11 stanzas, four lines to a stanza. She is one of the founders of Table Rock Art Guild, Kimberling City, Missouri, and shows with the Art Guild in Kimberling City, Missouri School of the Ozarks, and in Point Lookout, Missouri.

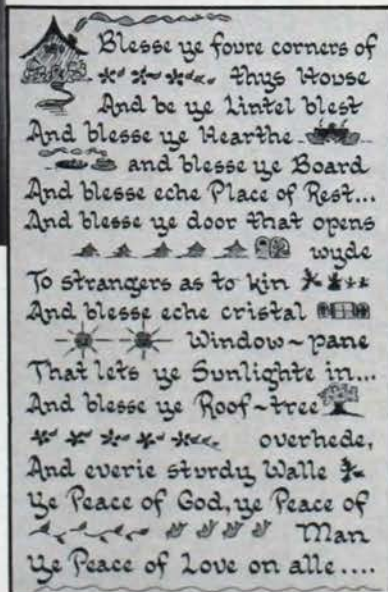

Her husband is Walter Henry Campbell, U. of Minnesota, ΔKE. Their children are a Kappa daughter, Nancy Lynn Campbell Stone-X, and a son, Stuart Campbell. Their home is Reeds Spring, Missouri, where they have lived since leaving Minnesota in 1972. Marea's home is in a wooded area, which has deer, raccoons, and all kinds of beautiful birds, which appear in her art. She makes no secret of being 79 years young.

SPOTLIGHT ON KAPPA ARTISTS

By Florence Hutchinson Lonsford
 ΓΔ-Purdue, Art Editor

Florence painted in Japan and China in October and November; showed an etching, water color and oil portrait in Indiana's State Fair and won first prize in Culinary Arts for rhubarb marmalade; is entertainment chairman at Salmagundi Art Club and a prize winner; was re-elected to Executive Board of New York Art Teachers' Association; and selected for a poetry anthology series by Foundations Press, Notre Dame, Indiana, the latest being "A Memorial Anthology to Samuel Johnson."

Mildred Huie Wilcox and her mother Mildred Huie with their life-size people dolls.

Mildred Huie Wilcox, ΔT-U. of Georgia, with her mother, Mildred Huie are partners in a doll business, which has developed from producing display products for stores to life-sized human sculptures. Men dolls are marketed under the trade name, "A Man for all Seasons," with later female versions called "Ladies in Waiting." It all began when Mildred Huie thought a fake man in the front seat of her car, when she travelled alone, would be protection. There are now children in the line, but all have personality, realistic clothing, and are fast becoming an expanding business. Mildred Wilcox is, with her husband, the owner of Left Bank Gallery, St. Simon's Island, Georgia. Her mother, Mildred Huie, is a sculptor, artist and art teacher in St. Simon's.

Justine Carmack Buck

Portrait of Mrs. John Murphy, Houston, Texas, with Bill and Kate, by Justine Carmack Buck.

Lizann Gribben Gibson, M-Butler, now living in North Kingstown, Rhode Island, has a thriving business in soft sculpture dolls, which she started in Atlanta, Georgia, helping Girl Scouts make dolls. Until that time, she did needlework and stitchery, and has no formal art training. Her progress includes learning about fabrics, how to best stuff them for good tension, painting eyes with gesso and acrylics, developing original patterns for designs, finding out how to wash them in a washing machine, how to do different hair styles and make ears, and completing the dolls in perfect packages. She has also found she must be a book-keeper, and a good one.

Each of her "babies" is different, and she names them from the Atlanta Bluebook, furnishes a birth certificate, and adoption ceremony if requested. She can complete a baby in five hours from start to finish, which takes 20 different steps in all. Her mini business has become part of her family life with her daughter Ann, 15, and her son Jim, 14, assisting by wrapping hair, and stuffing. Her husband is James, EN, Butler, who does not complain about needles and pins in the family car. She has two employees, who do sewing.

Lizann tries to limit orders to 12 a month, but says with birthdays and other emergencies she has to speed up the processing of orders, some of which she receives through the Teddy Bareskins store, run by a friend from Adrian College, Michigan. Lizann was vice-president of her alumnae group in California, in Atlanta, and now in Rhode Island. She writes a newsletter, plans and hosts meetings, and works diligently for better schools in her community and is active in Junior League.

About 400 dolls have been sold to date for prices of $55 for a 24-inch doll, bald with ears, $50 for an 18-inch one with hair, and a 15-inch "Premie" with ears and no hair for $32.50.

Justine Carmack Buck, BN-Ohio State, M.A. U. of Pennsylvania, was first reviewed in 1970, when she was doing murals for department stores, including Lord & Taylor in New York and Atlanta, and Lazarus in Ohio. Since then, she has become an outstanding full-time portrait artist. In early 1984, she was completely engaged, with seven portraits in progress. She turned to portrait work by doing children three or four times a week in pastels at a local hospital. Finding herself proficient, she enrolled in the Art Students League in New York, taking classes with Joseph Hirsch and John Howard Sanden, and began oil painting with full figures. She feels the real turning point for her was a Christmas Boutique in Houston and some advertising she placed in Town and Country magazine.

She has won the Tri-State award in portraiture (1978); Westchester Hudson River National (1979); Louisiana International (1979); and now has little time for shows. Her style is vibrant in color, somewhat impressionistic, but still realistic. She gets to know her subjects at home among their family and possessions. She next works in her studio, returning for a final sitting, which she feels expresses the essence of the particular person. These paintings hang in countless homes in New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Ohio, New Jersey, Texas, and far away places like Tokyo and Australia. Prices vary from $1,500 for head and shoulder views to $3,000 for full, standing figures.

Her husband is Byron Buck, ΦΚΨ, Ohio State, and their three daughters are Christina, 35; Cecily, 33; and Kathleen, 29. Justine's studio and home are at 128 Woodland, Ridgewood, New Jersey, 07450.

Susan Richardson Wells, ΔI-Louisiana State, is a designer of children's smocked clothing. She and her husband, Frank, ΒΘΠ, Tulane, are from New Orleans. When he left dental school, they moved to Sylva, North Carolina, where they could camp and go canoeing. In the mountains, she started her smocking business, as a mail order firm called "The Joy of Elegance." As a member of Southern Highlands Craft Guild, she displayed work in their shows and in Ashville and Gatlinburg, Tennessee. Her business has grown from custom baby dresses, rompers, adult blouses, adult nightgowns, and smocked Christmas ornaments to popular smocking kits, which include all supplies, plus fabric pre-pleated ready to smock. In 1982, she moved to Wilmington, North Carolina, where her "Joy of Elegance" is located at 221 Devonshire Lane, Wilmington, N.C., 28403.

She presently shows at the October Riverfest exhibitions, the April Azalea Festival, and the November Wilmington Craft Guild, where she wins ribbons and prizes for crafts and displays. She teaches smocking, and works with the adult choir of Myrtle Grove Presbyterian Church. The Wells have four children, Frank, Jr., Corey, Hayley and Todd.

Nancy Turnbull Behm

Nancy Turnbull Behm, A^Δ-Monmouth, who began painting mostly for pleasure, is the recipient of prizes, beginning with first prize in 1965 at the Pittsburgh Arts and Crafts Center Amateur show, and this September a Distinguished Award for a water color, "Amish Blues," in the 1984 Lawrence County Art Show in the Hoyt Institute of Fine Arts in New Castle, Pennsylvania.

Her representational water colors are of all subjects. She studied one semester at the Art Institute of Chicago, and in Saturday sessions at Art Institute, Davenport, Iowa. Selected to be the opening artist at Westminster College Art Gallery, she showed water colors the month of September, and has exhibited in the Unitarian Church's "In Praise of the Arts" shows in Youngstown in 1983 and 1984. Nancy is a Recreational Therapist at the New Wilmington Medical Clinic. More of her works are in the Overlook Medical Clinic.

She and her husband, Robert, ΑΩ-Monmouth, have four children: Jeff, 34; Cathy, 32; John, 29; and Jay, 27.

Polly Green Kemp, ΒΖ-University of Iowa, has achieved much notice throughout the Midwest for naive paintings on masonite. She has exhibited her work in Washington, D.C., New York, Ohio, South Carolina, Illinois, Texas, California, Arkansas and Iowa, but national recognition came when The National Observer published one of her paintings in 1976, with an accompanying story she wrote. In 1981, The Smithsonian magazine used a painting; and in 1982, she did a cover for Iowan magazine. Honors followed rapidly. She won the Iowa Arts Council Iowa Artists Post Card competition in 1980, when 14 other cards were selected. Iowa University commissioned her to do the painting for Joffrey II Dancers' residency in 1983, and Coe College of Cedar Rapids commissioned a recruiting poster in 1984. She has also been Artist-in-residence at the Iowa State Fair (1980); and won ribbons at the All-Iowa Fair in Cedar Rapids in 1975, 1976, and 1977, and at the A.I.A. State show in Iowa City in 1979. Her latest one-man show was at the Arkansas Territorial Restoration Artists Gallery, where she showed during July 1984.

She has a painting on her easel at all times, and keeps a sketchbook of ideas. She has a philosophy about paintings, feeling a painting should not make people feel sad or uncomfortable, and she tries to paint the world as she sees or imagines it, looking its best. She is a native of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and a resident of Tipton, Iowa, since her marriage to attorney Edward Kemp, college of law, Iowa University. With her husband's retirement, they now live in Heber Springs. The Kemps have seven children, and Polly did not begin to paint her naive scenes until six of them had left home.

Mary Jen Bear, administrator of Peppertree Studios, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Jane Thode Walsh, BZ-University of Iowa, is a printmaker, specializing in silkscreen monoprints and serigraphs in abstract designs. She continues to paint at Southwestern Community College in West Burlington, Iowa. In 1981, the University of Iowa Art Museum purchased one of her prints for their collection, and Western University, Macomb, Illinois bought another. She has exhibited widely, most recently in shows in Dubuque, Clinton, Iowa City, Waterloo, Iowa, and at Wichita, Kansas. She has held many art related offices, and for ten years has served on the Art Guild of Burlington's Board; and it presently Chairman for Friends Development Council at the University of Iowa Art Museum in Iowa City, and President of Burlington's Kappa Club.

Her husband, Charles, is a $\Delta T\Delta$, from Duke University, and they have three daughters and one son, or as she expresses it, three bankers and one teacher.

Mary Jen Kubicek Bear, ΔO -Iowa State, and her husband, Dick, Drake University, have gone into a highly successful framing and gallery business in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Dick left real estate in Des Moines, when their first venture, "The Frame," opened on Mount Vernon Road, S.E. Their second store in the downtown mall, "Peppertree Studios," is now four years old, at 213 First Avenue, S.E. Mary Jen runs it, orders art work, helps customers choose mats and frames, hires, trains and schedules employees, and keeps the books. Dick prefers to stay at "The Frame," which no longer has a small gallery attached. Mary Jen is a vivacious person who enjoys everything she does from helping business firms select work for offices, to meeting the many people who come into the shop from all over the world. She feels too many know too little about art, and enjoys satisfying their eagerness to learn. At present, there are six businesses located in Coventry Gardens, five of which are handled by women. Called the Art Group, she is vice-president of the corporation. She tries to keep her work week to 48 hours, but has many times put in a 60-hour week. Her college major is Elementary Education and Child Development, and she taught elementary school when she left college. She speaks at various organizations regarding art in the home, art as an investment, and how mat combinations relate to focal points in prints. The gallery sells original paintings, serigraphs, etchings and wildlife. P. Buckley Moss is one of the popular artists, and Polly Kemp (reviewed in this issue) has had three shows at Peppertree. The Bears have two children, Erik, 14, and Rhet, 12.

Jane Bothwell Waddill, BZ-Texas, has painted numerous portraits for both public and private collections and has been featured in "Spotlight on Kappa Artists" in The Key, spring 1970 and winter 1979. Her devotion and dedication to her family and to Kappa activities also plays an important part in Jane's life. She has served the Houston Alumnae Association in many capacities including president for two years. She was Theta PDA from 1963-67 and also served as president of alumnae Panhellenic. Currently Jane is a member of the executive board of the Houston Alumnae, an honorary board member of Houston Alumnae Panhellenic, a member of the Epsilon Rho House Board (Texas A & M), and a member of the Fraternity's Housing Committee.

Jane has most recently combined her talents and Kappa devotion by painting a special oil portrait of Della Lawrence Burt and giving it to Epsilon Rho Chapter. To "Capture the Spirit of Kappa" as symbolized by Della Burt, Jane based her portrait on a photograph in The History of Kappa Kappa Gamma, 1975-77, Volume II. Since the photograph is small and lacking in detail, Jane needed a model for the portrayal. She searched for the right face among her Kappa sisters in Houston and found Cynthia Yancey Partlow, ΔI-Louisiana State, whose features and hairstyle resembled those of Della Burt. Her eyes and facial expression have the inner glow that Jane perceived in the photograph of Della Burt. The academic robe as worn by Kappa officers at conventions, was chosen for the costume because of its timelessness.

Just as a new member of Kappa needs a feel of the wide scope of the Fraternity and her heritage, so too does a new Kappa chapter. Although Epsilon Rho chapter at Texas A & M was installed only eight years ago, Kappa roots are deep in its locale, Bryan-College Station, Texas. In 1922, the Fraternity's first headquarters was established in the Bryan, Texas home of Della Lawrence Burt, BZ-Texas, following her election as the first executive secretary of Kappa Kappa Gamma. During her brief life, Della Burt epitomized devotion to the ideals and goals of Kappa.

Della Lawrence (Burt) graduated "in absentia" from the University of Texas in 1918; she was already involved in World War I work and was in Washington, D.C. In the fall of 1918 she attended Council Session as the deputy for the editor of The Key. At the 1920 Convention, Della was elected grand secretary; she became the Fraternity's first executive secretary at the 1922 Convention. The following year, she married Howard Burt. Although Della resigned her Fraternity office in 1929, she continued her service to Kappa as a deputy to the Fraternity's second executive secretary, Clara O. Pierce. Della was the marshal for the 1936, 1938, and 1940 Conventions. She died in September 1941.

Della Lawrence Burt, BZ-Texas, is remembered as "radiant in life, a rare, joyous person and one of the most fortunate, for she was given . . . the power to communicate to others her love, friendliness and zest for living." (From History of Kappa Kappa Gamma, 1975-77, Vol. II.) This new portrait hangs currently in the Epsilon Rho Chapter house.

MANY THANKS TO HERITAGE MUSEUM CONTRIBUTORS

By Barna Hurt Graves
FN-Arkansas
Chairman Board of Trustees

We take this opportunity to recognize and thank the following for generous gifts and support to the Heritage Museum. During the period, July, 1983 to November, 1984, over $35,000 was contributed by 704 special Kappas and friends of the Museum. Many alumnae groups have had fundraising projects to benefit the Museum. These projects have generated $7465 from 41 alumnae organizations. Four of our active chapters have sent donations totaling $600. Gifts sent in honor of a special person or as a memorial have provided $7976.

These funds help protect your priceless Kappa memorabilia, thus preserving Kappa's rich heritage. Your support helps maintain and restore the beautiful Victorian home which houses our Heritage Museum and Fraternity Headquarters. As Museum awareness grows, our home is being used as an educational facility and resource in presenting exhibits and informative programs on women's roles in history. Your money helps fund these programs and provides materials to enhance our Museum.

Kappas can be proud they were the first in the fraternity world to establish a Museum for all to enjoy. Your commitment to the future of the Museum is greatly appreciated.

Kappa Blooms!

At the 1980 Convention Kappas learned that a new fleur-de-lis bulb had been bred and would soon be available for purchase. The flower was featured on the cover of the Summer, 1981 issue of The Key. Many requests for the bulb have been received, but as yet they are not released for sale. The news from the nursery is that we should expect some sale bulbs within the next year or two. The Key will keep you informed.

Lynn Rosellini

Journalist's Successful Career Reflects Persistence

It's a long road from white gloves and orange crates to spending three days interviewing the President of the United States! Lynn Rosellini, BII-University of Washington, left Seattle with two other Kappas in 1968, and moved to New York City. This journalism major had wanted to work for The New York Times since she was 16 years old, and set out to attain her goal.

"Can you believe I actually was carrying a pair of white gloves and had another pair packed in my suitcase when I arrived in New York back then?" Lynn asked The Key. Inspired, Lynn and Kappa sisters, Bambi Burnett Weil and Pat Hiddleston Emery, came to seek their careers in New York City after graduation.

Since Lynn's father was governor of Washington from 1957 to 1965, her family, including two sisters and two brothers, lived in Olympia, the capital. She enrolled at the University of Washington, conveniently nearby in Seattle. Due in part to her sister Janey Rosellini Campbell, also BII, Lynn pledged Kappa and moved into the house for four years.

"Coming out of the Kappa house and from nice middle-class families, it was a real shock to move to New York!" Lynn explained. "Bambi, Pat and I had very little money, and we took a fourth-floor walk-up apartment on Second Avenue. We had no money for furniture, so we got some orange crates (they used to be wooden!) and painted them orange to use as tables. On the wall, we put up our great big poster of Seattle. We only had two beds, but that worked out all right, because I was a reporter on the night shift from 7:00 p.m. to 2:00 a.m. When I came home to go to sleep, one of the girls would be getting up to go to work!"

Her first summer in New York, Lynn spent as an intern with Newsweek magazine. In the fall, she began a full-time job as a reporter for Newsday, a daily New York newspaper. "I had a job no mother would approve," surmised Lynn. "I was assigned to cover the Long Island Police beat—accidents, robberies and obituaries. Once I was with the police when they pulled a body out of the woods!"

By Carol Chaney Williamson
ΓΨ-Maryland
Features Editor

In 1973, she was transferred to Newsday's Washington, D.C. bureau. The summer of 1974, she spent covering the "Watergate Hearings." Lynn was one of the few to be admitted to observe the strictly-controlled Supreme Court case concerning the release of Nixon's tapes. She was on the lawn of the White House the day Nixon took off in his helicopter, leaving for the last time. Lynn told The Key, "It was a stirring moment for me. I really felt a part of it, since I had been through the whole summer covering it."

Lynn changed jobs in 1975, and was assigned to report for the Washington Star sports section. Since there were only a few women sports writers in the country at that time, she describes it as "the greatest year I ever spent!" She was hired to do investigative material and personal profiles. Her favorite interview was of Mohammed Ali, the colorful boxer. She also spent a week on the road with the Washington Bullets (professional basketball team) and went to Carlisle, Pennsylvania, for the Washington Redskins (professional football team) training camp. Lynn said, "In order to interview a player, you had to catch him after practice. Coach George Allen was pretty stiff about everything."

After a year of sports reporting, Lynn was switched to features, where she interviewed Anita Bryant and then-first-lady Roselynn Carter. Mrs. Carter was a favorite of hers, because she was so warm, open and friendly.

Lynn may be one of the few women who interviewed her mother-in-law before she met her husband! Graham Wisner's mother entertained Kathryn Graham, a prominent Washingtonian, and invited Lynn to the dinner where she happened to meet her future husband.

In 1980, Lynn attained her teenage goal of being a reporter for The New York Times. During her three years at its Washington bureau, Lynn interviewed figures world famous. She spent three days interviewing Ronald Reagan. Not being one to tiptoe around, Lynn asked the President outright, "Do you dye your hair?" They were on an eight-seater airplane at the time. "Here," he said, "Go ahead. Feel it. Does it look dyed to you?" She had to admit that it did not. At the same time, he also had her check to be sure he hadn't had a facelift (also negative!)

"Everyone thinks that Henry Kissinger is so charming. I spent a day tagging along after him. He emerged as a really self-centered, arrogant man—with a vicious tongue," Lynn reported. More than once, her honest writing would inflame those who had been portrayed with less-than-perfect personalities!

Among other memorable interviews, Lynn recalls one with then-Governor of California Jerry Brown. He asked her to hide in his car so that his mother would not think they were "an item!"

In 1983, Lynn surprised her peers by resigning her position with The New York Times. She explains, "After 15 years of reporting, I'd reached a point where I wasn't growing anymore. It seemed now or never." She has been doing free-lance writing for The New York Times Magazine, and especially the travel section. Now she is writing her first fiction novel, one which draws upon her experiences in the newspaper business.

Her advice to other Kappas is: "If you really want to do something, you can do it! It's not so much a matter of talent, but persistence. If you want something, you must be prepared to do the dirty work, pay your dues and go through some ugly stuff. Sometimes girls who are pursuing their goals get homesick, give up and go back home." Lynn Rosellini is one Kappa who followed her own advice and toed her mark!

This is one of eight mahogany dining room chairs sent to the Heritage Museum last summer by Elizabeth Alexander Price, BE-Texas. They are beautifully carved with a grape leaf pattern and are quite sturdy. They will be added to the dining room as soon as the cleaning, and reupholstering is accomplished. The cost of this refurbishing is approximately $150 per chair. The Heritage Museum is seeking donors, alumnae groups and individuals, to "adopt a chair" and cover this expense.

This imposing sideboard was commissioned by President and Mrs. Rutherford B. Hayes in 1880 for their private dining room in the White House. (Lucy Webb Hayes became an honorary member of Rho Chapter at Ohio Wesleyan in December, 1880. A Kappa key is pinned on the gown worn by her effigy in the Smithsonian. She was the first college graduate to preside as First Lady of the land. A sideboard of this period and quality is desired for our Victorian dining room. The above sideboard is on display at the Hayes Museum, Spiegel Grove, Findlay, Ohio.

The Heritage Museum acquired this handsome 1980s mahogany dining room table last summer. Before the accession was approved, the piece of furniture was submitted to a carefully prescribed series of procedures. The table was discovered by Frances Winter Utley, VII-Alabama, member of Museum Board and Guild Master Plan Committee. This committee traveled to Cincinnati to look at the table as an initial screening process. After the table had been found worthy pictures of it were sent to the Heritage Museum Board Accession Committee. That committee must vote unanimously before an object can be accepted. Accession policy also requires qualified appraisals for articles whose value exceeds $100, so that only items of high quality will find a home in our Kappa Museum.

The purchase of the table was made possible by memorial contributions, the bulk of which consisted of the Mary Brown Mills Memorial Fund, and generous donations from Fran Utley and the Columbus Ohio Alumnae Association.

The John Beall Memorial Fund has been earmarked as the basis for the acquisition of an elegant chandelier for the Heritage Museum dining room. John, the late husband of Polly Tomlin Beall, IX-George Washington, was well known for his loyal support of Polly's many Kappa involvements. This sketch illustrates the kind of lighting fixture we are looking for. It should be an authentic Victorian chandelier, one that would have been gaslit originally, but converted to electricity for present day usage.

all-nighter or a special entree for a picnic date, On Campus Cookbook is the source. Utilizing hot pot, dorm size refrig, toaster oven, or blender, Mollie has recipes everyone can use (great for use at vacation sites, in recreational vehicles or boats, dorm rooms—or at home in your own kitchen . . . even men can use it!) The quick and easy recipes have been adapted to fit college lifestyle. Mollie has anticipated problems like shopping, storage, cleanup and even offers substitutions for ingredients too expensive or difficult to find. How about escaping the dining hall with Zucchini Marinara or feeding the late night munchies Chocolate/Peanut Butter No-Bakes? Mollie currently has her own cable TV dorm-room cooking show. During the summer she runs Très Bonne, a catering business in her hometown of Pittsburgh.
