The obligations of privilege

A few months ago, Kappa Kappa Gamma celebrated the 84th anniversary of its founding. The story is familiar to all of us, of those six school girls at Monmouth College who entered the chapel of Old Main that October day long ago, first wearing their golden keys. Many changes have taken place since then and looking back, it seems to us that life was paced much more slowly in 1870 than it is today. We may wonder why, with all the pressures of modern living, the domestic and world wide turmoil, the materialistic and realistic approach of our generation, the fraternity system, based as it is on intangible idealism, has survived.

I think there are several very good reasons. The values in Kappa are enduring; the creed, timeless. Honesty, fair play, loyalty to self and to others, acceptance of one's share of responsibility are just as vital to life in 1954 as they were in 1870. The college girl of today is a vastly more self-sufficient, independent young woman than some of those first Kappas of that earlier generation. But, with all the changing codes and surface values, she is intelligent enough to realize that it is good to know what one believes in and to live by a creed. It is a privilege to be a fraternity member! It is also a privilege to be an American citizen today, to be a college student and to have health and intelligence and freedom of thought and action. But like all privileges, these are not to be taken lightly and they carry with them the unwritten obligation to justify their possession! So long as human beings seek a higher path, congenial friends to share it with them and are conscientious about following it, the fraternity system will continue to grow. We fill a need, as great today as it was in 1870. We share an intangible idealism, based upon the tangible bond of friendship!

Enthusiasm is a necessary requisite of our continuing growth; not an unreasoning or immature enthusiasm, but a keen and ardent interest in what our Fraternity has accomplished and is striving toward today. In order to have the right kind of enthusiasm, you must know Kappa well, her past and present, you must believe wholeheartedly and understand her future goals and you must be willing and eager to give of your time and interest to assist in accomplishing these goals.

It is the sincere wish of your council that the new year of 1955 will bring you greater rewards, deeper friendships and a lasting conviction that you are privileged to be a Kappa and that with that privilege, goes an obligation and responsibility to yourself, your school and your community.

COVER: THE KEY journeys to Albuquerque, New Mexico, home of the University of New Mexico, to visit Gamma Beta chapter, winner of the scholarship cup at convention this summer. The cover shows an unique campus tradition—the lighting of buildings, or pathways, with candles in paper sacks to indicate a fiesta is in progress. The slow-burning candles are imbedded in sand to keep them upright, to weight the sack against blowing away, and diffuse the light. The custom grew out of an old Spanish custom of placing “las luzes luminarias” on housetops at Christmas time to guide the wisemen and shepherds. They have come to be synonymous with gayety and all UNM graduates treasure the memory of their huge, pueblo-style buildings outlined in lights at Homecoming and the spring Fiesta.

This is your magazine

There have been many questions about THE KEY and its make-up. At the convention last June many people questioned the changes that have come about in THE KEY over the years. As the world progresses, over the years change is inevitable, in local and national situations and in university and campus circles. So it is with your Fraternity. To answer these questions of change in YOUR magazine, it is necessary to know the background of the development of the magazine as a part of the Fraternity.

Time has marched on since 1888 when THE KEY was issued as the first publication of a woman's fraternal group. But let us take a look at the picture as recently as 1924 when the life subscription was made a part of the initiation fee, guaranteeing all initiates thereafter that they would receive this magazine as long as they should live. At that time there were 55 alumnae associations, 16 alumnae clubs, 51 active chapters and a total circulation of 4500. In 1954 there are 180 alumnae associations, 131 clubs, 83 active chapters and a subscription list for each issue of 42,000, with a continuing annual increase of approximately 1800. However, the cost of producing the magazine has risen even more sharply than this amazing growth in Fraternity membership. The net result has been a growing disproportion between the subscription list increase and revenue from THE KEY endowment.

THE KEY is the communication medium of the Fraternity. Its reading public consists not exclusively of Fraternity members. Many readers do not realize that THE KEY is read widely by a large group who are not Kappas and reposes on the book shelves of deans of women and college libraries. It is not only an historical record of Kappa but also its envoy into many far corners and countries. The Fraternity is proud of her members and wants the world to know of their accomplishments.

Years ago, with the small membership, it was possible for the magazine to give considerable space to personals of all types. With the great increase in active chapters, alumnae groups and total membership, it is no longer possible to afford this coverage. How to meet the many facets of the magazine and remain within a workable budget has posed a very considerable problem for the editorial board and especially for its chairman who acts as editor. To meet these requirements in as balanced a coverage as possible, the decision was reached to continue the past year's basic pattern of active chapter news, to feature alumnae groups by provinces and to devote a section to newsworthy personals in six issues of the present biennium. It is sincerely hoped that all Kappa readers, both active and alumnae, will welcome this opportunity to cooperate with the editorial staff in reporting matters of personal and Fraternity interest. Your editor wants pictures to illustrate these interesting items; she wants to know what chapters are doing, what alumnae groups are planning, what books Kappas are writing. She wants to tell the world how proud the Fraternity is of these achievements, individual and group. It is only with this cooperation of the entire membership that the THE KEY can be truly representative and the magazine you wish it to be.

GETTING TO KNOW YOU . . .
KAPPAS OF KAPPA PROVINCE

A warm heart have these Kappas

by CLAIRE DREW WALKER
Kappa province director of alumnae

In one beautiful dining room, with 152 Kappas present, there was represented 4,458 years of Kappa Kappa Gamma membership.

Yes, by actual count, 4,458 years of Kappa—gathered to pay tribute to those four who founded our Fraternity in 1870 at Monmouth College. It was the first celebration of Founders' Day by the Southern California area council, with nine associations sending representatives. The date was October 9 in the Terrace room at the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena.

With Helen Snyder Andres, past Fraternity president, as key speaker, and Claire Drew Walker, Kappa province director of alumnae as mistress of ceremonies, the associations represented included Santa Monica, San Diego, Westwood, Los Angeles, Glendale, San Fernando Valley, Arcadia, Pasadena, and Santa Barbara.

The 84th birthday of Kappa was marked with the presentation of 50 year pins to four from the Los Angeles association and two from the San Fernando Valley group. Still another event to mark the occasion, was the presentation of the charter to the newest province alumnae association, Arcadia, with June Wente McCormick, H-Wisconsin, first president, receiving it from the Kappa province director of alumnae.

In San Francisco, four nights later on October 13, at the Huntington Hotel, the alumnae gathered for another birthday party. Especially honored were San Francisco's own past presidents. Speaker of the evening was Claire Drew Walker. Phyllis Lund Belieu, B H-Stanford, and her husband played two-piano music while two 50 year Kappas received pins from director of philanthropies, Ruth Armstrong Harris, Π^4 -California.

Throughout Kappa province, similar occasions were held in honor of Kappa's 84th birthday; teas, luncheons, banquets, as Kappas from many places gathered. Kappa province, covering California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii, now has 36 alumnae associations and clubs, vitally eager to keep alive Kappa and its ideals.

A review of the province groups, reveals a great, bountiful Kappa heart "giving" in countless hours of service, and allocating dollars earned in ways and means projects to philanthropies and rehabilitation projects. Let's take a brief look:

Oldest association in continuous existence under one name in Kappa province is Los Angeles, organized as a club May 23, 1904, and chartered as an association August 14, 1914. Already this year, an approximate 50% increase in membership is reported by Hazel Round Wagner, Δ Z-Colorado College, president.

"A sincere desire to know all Kappas in Los Angeles and have them join in the fun and worthwhile activities," plus work on the Kappazaar project by the entire Southern area council to aid the Child Guidance clinic and auxiliary, is responsible for the increase in membership to 136.

Hazel Wagner has contributed much to the meetings of Southern California Kappa groups this Fall, with generous showings of colored films taken at Jasper Park convention.

Los Angeles organized a special division on October 17, 1953, its Junior group, of 36 members. The first meeting was held in the home of Lucy Guild Toberman, Γ Ξ -UCLA, former area rush chairman and former national chairman. Now in its second year, it is composed of the "working crowd" and the "24-hour crowd," or young mothers, according to Shirley Litrell Myers, Δ T-USC, president. They aided the area council Kappazaar with a junk jewelry booth which netted $100 for the Child Guidance clinic. They also made hand puppets, used in play therapy at the clinic—princesses, queens, with jewels, crowns and velvet touches; handsome princes, too. "But the witches were favorites," said Shirley, "very sinister!"

A look into projects of the San Francisco Bay association, originally organized as Pi association in 1898 and reorganized March 6, 1919, also reveals a very generous heart. Their special philanthropy is the May T. Morrison Rehabilitation center, where they actually work with the patients under direction of the center, and also contribute sums in excess of $800 raised from a house tour. Fritz-Beth Bowman Whitehead, B H-Stanford, is full of praise for the Kappas who work under their philanthropy chairman, Catherine Budd Gates, Δ H-Utah. In years past the famous San Francisco fashion show was the source of income for the group but the past year they financed their projects with an equally successful house tour.

Members also gave $100 to the Rose McGill fund, and $50 each to Pi, and Delta Chi chapters; and supported a Mothers' Milk Bank.

San Francisco's membership numbers 159, with 29 life members. The past year they have had several divisions, too, including an evening group, the Lake Merced group, and a breakfast club with regular meetings in addition to the general meeting held once a month. These are proving highly successful.

San Diego, founded in May, 1927 as an alumnae association, draws from the county and suburban area, and has 45 members. This year, amid telecasts and radio interviews, they purchased and presented a resuscitator for the newly finished Children's Hospital of San Diego. The cost, $535, rather depleted their treasury according to their president, Natalie Harpst Gustafson, Γ Ξ-UCLA, but they all felt so good about the project that they have renewed energy to tackle more ways and means efforts.

Funds were raised with rummage sales, and a completely dressed doll with wardrobe, a traveling bridge party also. In addition, San Diego aided the Kappazaar project which raised money for the Los Angeles Child Guidance clinic.

San Diego held its Founders' Day banquet October 13 at the San Diego club, and honored two 50-year Kappas, Mabel Tracy Strout, M-Butler, and Louise Malloy Watson, B Ξ-Texas, recently moved to the area, and already feeling the warmth of Kappa friendships.

Although 125 miles from Los Angeles, San Diego is always represented at area council meetings, and hosted one meeting at La Jolla in the spring. The group near the large Naval station at San Diego always has a hearty welcome for Kappa Navy wives and mothers.

Phoenix, Arizona, founded December 28, 1927, now has 65 members in a fast-growing city of 300,000. A fabulous winter climate permits at least three meetings a year on starlight terraces, according to Earlene Barnard Refsnes, Γ Z-Arizona, president. Because of the resort climate, Phoenix often entertains Kappas from other parts of the nation.

Principal philanthropy this past year was the gift of a wheel chair to the Visiting Nurses' association, "one gift to benefit many!" They also filled Christmas stockings for the children at the Valley of the Sun School for mentally handicapped children. Money was raised with a rummage sale, and a white elephant sale.

During the last war, Phoenix alumnae worked with the Panhellenic in creating one of the chain of Kappa Service Women's Centers at the USO.

Hawaii alumnae association, chartered March 17, 1924 in beautiful Honolulu, attracts travelers the world round. It has an active group of 38 members. They work hard, and contribute to the occupational therapy department in Maluhia home, the Honolulu city and county convalescent home, and also provide birthday cakes for the patients.

They always observe Founders' Day, and a first-hand report of their beautiful luncheon on October 9 was given at the San Francisco celebration, by Catherine South Cheney, Θ-Missouri, who flew in from Hawaii just in time to attend the banquet. She is a former president of the Hawaii alumnae.

Hawaii Kappas have a wonderful hospitality for Kappas who travel from the mainland, and despite distance, have always shared keen interest in the Kappa philanthro-pies and ideals. During World War II, Los Angeles and Hawaii sponsored two of the successful Kappa service center units. President is Janice Damler Johnson, H-Wisconsin.

The Honolulu Panhellenic group is a large one, and the Kappas have been active in their program. An annual tea is held for all high school Senior girls preparing to attend mainland universities to give them general information about the schools, and to explain sororities and rushing to those who may be interested. No sorority contact is made but a display of all sorority pins is set up.

Still another group actively engaged in heart-warming philanthropies, is Long Beach, organized May 21, 1926, now with 44 active members. Located in a rapidly growing city of 250,000, internationally known for its Miss Universe pageant, and tideland oil wealth, Long Beach Kappas divide their time between local and national Kappa interests.

Money is raised by a rummage sale in November, book review in January, and brunch-bridge in May. They will contribute part of the proceeds to the Long Beach Exceptional Children's foundation for the mentally handicapped, and 25% to Kappa national philanthropies. In addition, they will join again in the Kappazaar sponsored by Southern area council.

Long Beach celebrated Founders' Day with Whittier and South Orange associations as last year. This year they plan a Christmas basket for a needy family; and in June will welcome graduates to their alumnae group at a swimming party. Gladys Tuttle Campbell, Γ Ξ-UCLA, is their enthusiastic president this year.

Palo Alto alumnae, chartered October 20, 1924, are located in the community that is motivated by Stanford university. Although there is no longer a Kappa chapter there, keen interest is maintained by the alumnae, and membership this year is 103.

As its local philanthropy the Palo Alto Kappas provide the "birthday shelf" for the 400 children in Santa Clara county foster homes. Last year they contributed more than half the individually wrapped presents to fill the "birthday shelf." Other organizations remember these children at Christmas, but Kappa takes care of birthdays all year 'round.

The Junior group of Palo Alto joined in the birthday shelf project and also aids the Children's Health Society, and with a dessert bridge raised $75 for a scholarship for a retarded child in the nursery school.

Money for philanthropies was raised last year on a talk, Entertaining and Liking It, given by Mrs. Robert Stanton, Carmel, who is party editor of House Beautiful magazine and a noted hostess.

Pasadena alumnae, organized in March, 1939, draws its membership from the beautiful residential city of Pasadena, and adjoining San Marino. Now closer to Los Angeles because of the fast-moving freeways, it has 181 active members. They have given from their hearts to the Pasadena Braille club, and contributed $300 to the club's building fund. In addition, they gave $200 to Delta Tau chapter, and $200 to Gamma Xi chapter, and their members work as advisers on boards at the chapters.

A feature of their year's work, was to make tool aprons for the blind craft workers at the Braille club, and in addition, they gave many hours of service to them.

Loyal to Kappa, hard-working, they enter wholeheartedly into Kappa projects. Money-raising has been through a fashion show, dessert benefit, sponsoring the Pasadena playhouse for a performance, and a marathon bridge series.

Their president, Dorothy Fernberger Martin, B N-Ohio State, a former president of Santa Monica association, was chairman of the Southern area council Founders' Day luncheon. Pasadena also is the sponsoring alumnae group for the new Arcadia association in Kappa province.

Pasadena Juniors, chartered in 1947 as a club, meet once a month. They are active in their own philanthropy, the Curtis School for Handicapped Children. They give food, clothing, and nursery equipment. Also provide Thanksgiving and Christmas gifts for all the children. The Kappazaar also was their interest. Their membership of 32, is guided by Patricia Zeiser Brennan, Γ Ξ-UCLA, as president.

In the capital of California, Sacramento, approximately 125 miles from San Francisco, still another generous-spirited group of Kappas carries on each year. They chartered as a group May 25, 1935 to serve the Sacramento valley area. With approximately 50 members, they meet once a month. Funds are raised through a yearly rummage sale, and they also sell "hometown prints" stationery.

Their philanthropy is the Children's Home, and the Kappas give toys for birthdays, Christmas and other special occasions. Also this year, they are donating to the building fund of their local hospital.

They sew at meetings, hemming diapers for the Red Cross. All meetings are in the evening "so the younger generation doesn't have the expense of babysitters." They have beautiful yearbooks, with silk screen printed covers hand-done by their president this year, Camille King Reische, B M-Colorado.

Tucson, Arizona, founded January 11, 1923, does one of the best province jobs in coöperation with an active chapter. Located in Tucson, home of the University of Arizona and Gamma Zeta chapter, the alumnae work actively to provide rushing assistance and financial help. They even sent an extra active delegate to convention from Gamma Zeta. In addition, they support the rehabilitation program at the Crippled Children's clinic, and gave $125 toward it. They have about 45 members who share in undertakings.

San Fernando Valley, chartered February 9, 1942, has 30 members in its association. Located in one of the most rapidly growing areas of Southern California known for its fine residential ranch-type living, the Valley is very loyally Kappa. They give to a home for boys, raising money with a rummage sale, and also with a husbands and wives party at Christmas and in the spring.

They assist with rushing at University of Southern California, and also provide advisers to the chapter.

Merrie Booth Davis, Γ M-Oregon State, a member, made beautiful earrings and nosegay pins to sell at the Kappazaar, raising substantial funds for the Child Guidance clinic. Audre Lovesy Singletary, Δ H-Utah, former San Jose member, is president, and was program chairman of the Founders' Day luncheon held by the area council associations.

Glendale association, organized March 3, 1938, has 31 members, and draws from Eagle Rock, Glendale, La Canada, Montrose and Burbank. Their president, Jean Gamble Lawson, B II-Washington, is also president this year of the Southern California area council.

This group is active in the Glendale Panhellenic program of entertaining foreign exchange students. They raise extra funds with a yearly rummage sale, to finance a delegate to convention, and carry on their local philanthropies. They also took an active part in the Kappazaar, for the Los Angeles Child Guidance clinic.

Santa Monica association, founded as a club February 2, 1944, became an association April 11, 1949. With 30 active members, this year-round resort town with beautiful shoreline and palisades overlooking the Pacific Ocean, is one of the leading cities in the United States for the aircraft industry. It is the home of Douglas Aircraft.

Santa Monica Kappas had charge of the handcraft booth at the Kappazaar. They assist UCLA and SC Kappas with rushing parties. Their fun event this year, which also raised money, was held at Pacific Palisades beach club. Husbands took charge, and the theme was, "Come as you were as a freshman in college." Financially, it was a great success.

In Marin County the alumnae finance and staff the Bookmobile at Marin General Hospital. With the mobile library are Elizabeth McLean Grandis, B T-Syracuse, Elizabeth Milne Layton, Γ M-Oregon State, and Virginia Nelson Cumming, B M-Colorado.

Across from San Francisco, is the very active East Bay Kappa association. Chartered, February 2, 1948, it has 80 active members with two affiliates and 20 associates, making a total of 102. It includes the wide-spread area of Albany, Berkeley, El Cerrito, Lafayette, Oakland, Orinda, Piedmont, and Walnut Creek. The University of California, located at Berkeley, and home of Pi chapter, is the hub of the association. The group will hold four of its eight meetings this year at the Pi chapter house.

President Marian Griggs Lemke, B K-Idaho, reports that their Founders' Day was held with Pi chapter this year, with Alysone Hales de Laveaga, B Ω -Oregon, past province director of chapters, as speaker.

The East Bay group provides the advisory board for Pi. Headed by Patricia Heidt Ritchie, Γ M-Oregon State, there are eight members.

After careful deliberation, the group has chosen as their local rehabilitation project, the Family and Children's Service of Berkeley. "We can help out in a family crisis that might otherwise mean calamity to the family involved," members report.

Their theme this year was taken from convention, "Getting to Know You." For money-raising, they will hold a theatre benefit in April, the Golden Hind Players of Berkeley in their performance of T. S. Elliott's Murder in the Cathedral. Chairman is Vaun Purcelle Scheu, H-Wisconsin.

A recently formed bridge-dessert group already is a big success, with many members enjoying it.

Santa Barbara, founded as a club November 2, 1946, but made an association February 2, 1948, won the cup for "best small association" at the 1952 convention. With a membership of 40, it maintains a balance of local and national Kappa interests. Last year, gifts were given to the Children's Home society, and La Vista club for the Blind. A $100 scholarship to a senior girl at the Santa Barbara College, University of California, is an annual custom. The city, located on the ocean one of the beauty spots of California, is a haven for retired people.

This group also has made its quota in magazine sales each year for the Rose McGill fund benefit, and also gave to the Students' Aid, and gave $100 to Kappa Undergraduate scholarships. Founders' Day this year was a tea, at the home of Marguerite Bone Wilcox, B II-Washington.

Province director of alumnae this year is from Santa Barbara's alumnae group, Claire Drew Forbes Walker, B II-Washington, a past president of the group, and former Fraternity chairman, and twice the director of the historical pageant at conventions.

Bakersfield, located half way between Los Angeles and San Francisco in the orange and grapefruit district, was chartered August 5, 1947, as a club. Last year it had 18 active members. Four meetings a year are held, in October, December, February, and April. A June party is given to which husbands are invited.

Their project has been to aid the Peter Pan School for mentally retarded children. Last Christmas they gave a party at the school for the children, their families, and teachers.

Hawaii Kappas getting ready for a sale of handicrafts made by the patients of Maluhia Home. Lois LeBosquet Gray, K-Hillsdale; Gladys Sargent Chose, I H-Washington State; Leone Rockhold Nutter, I M-Oregon State; admire the work of a patient.

They also are active in the local Panhellenic.

Bakersfield shines in magazine sales each year, and received first award for per capita subscriptions. Members come from Arvin, Coalinga, Delano, McFarland, Porterville, Shafter, and Taft, more than a 100 mile radius. The area is rich in oil lands and farming.

Nearest large alumnae association to the north is Fresno. Founded as a club March 3, 1947, and as an association April 1, 1952, their big interest was installation of Delta Omega chapter at Fresno State College, November 4-7.

Margaret Schaaf Rees, Δ H-Utah, installation marshal, is also alumnae president. National council members, and many Kappa province Kappas participated in the installation.

Fresno is in the heart of the fig growing and wine section of the state. More recently cotton crops have been added to the fertile valley sod. Located in the eastern part of the state not far from San Francisco, its residents are similar to the large city populous.

Marin County alumnae, organized May 25, 1946, and chartered as an association February 4, 1948 have 30 active members. A suburban residential area of great scenic beauty, it lies north of San Francisco across the Golden Gate bridge. It meets once a month. Two or three times a year, wonderful parties are held with husbands, at the home of Harriet Bellamy Brown, B H-Stanford.

Their heart-warming project is the Sunny Hills Presbyterian orphanage. A booth at the annual Grape Festival, with gifts of raffia-wrapped articles made during an entire year by members raised their fund. The second year, they staffed the juice bar, so they could have time for other projects.

For two years, they worked toward a book cart or mobile library, for the Marin General hospital completed in 1952. Two large benefit bridge luncheons raised funds for the cart. Many books and magazines were donated. Patients are grateful for the cart, taken through the hospital once each day by Kappas.

Eileen McBride Cassidy, B M-Colorado, was first chairman; Virginia Nelson Cumming, B M-Colorado, is chairman now, assisted by Peggy Matthews Randolph, Γ M-Oregon State.

Ruth Armstrong Harris, Π^A-California, newly elected council member who is director of philanthropies, belongs to San Marin alumnae.

San Mateo association, chartered May 27, 1947, located down the Peninsula from San Francisco, has 48 members. The Stanford Convalescent home has captured the hearts of these Kappas, and each year they raise funds for it through a rummage sale.

They generously aided the Delta Chi chapter, with gifts of money, and also with favors for rushing parties, and have been stalwarts in helping the new chapter get started.

Province director of actives Helen Leonard Frank, Γ M-Oregon, comes from San Mateo alumnae, and a previous province director of alumnae also, Edgarita Webster Wood, B Π-Washington.

Westwood association, with 65 members, including 54 active, and 11 associates was founded on May 22, 1945. A large, beautiful suburb of Los Angeles at the base of a low ridge of mountains, its main center of attraction and activity is the University of California at Los Angeles. Beverly Hills, Bel-Air, and Brentwood Kappas belong.

Very active in the Kappazaar benefit for the Child Guidance clinic, members learned from their charter member, Blanch Twogood Stockman, Δ Z-Colorado College, the craft of making crocheted handbags of crepe paper. Mr. Stockman wound strips on his electric drill in his workshop. Blanche crocheted the twisted lengths along with metallic thread, into handsome drawstring bags. She donated proceeds of $50 to the Kappazaar, then taught members to make 42 more for the benefit.

A knitting committee, under Virginia Trimble Perry, Σ-Nebraska, made jeweled scarfs, baby jackets, toddlers' suits, caps, booties for the Kappazaar. Elizabeth Park Herrera, Γ Ξ-UCLA, also skilled at knitting, assisted.

Opening meeting this year featured colored slides by Hazel Rand Wagner, Δ Z-Colorado College, Los Angeles alumnae association president, and report by Helen Avery Berghell, B Θ-Oklahoma, Westwood president on convention at Jasper.

Westwood, with UCLA Gamma Xi chapter, will hostess the Kappa province convention in April, 1955.

Southern Orange County, founded as a club October 28, 1947, as an association April 18, 1951, has 41 members. A shining light in the Kappa heart-warming philanthropies, they support the crippled children of Orange county. They raised money for a bicycle, saw, movie screen, sewing, and gave $85 for camperships.

Their rummage sale, held at Santa Ana, is looked forward to by all the people for miles around. The Mexicans especially, say "Kappa," having no idea what it means. The members also raffle a cake at each meeting, at 10¢ per chance, and the winner brings the next cake.

Located in one of the choice beach sites of Southern California coast, with a bay which houses 5,000 craft, this is a permanent vacation spot. October 13, Founders' Day, was celebrated with a banquet.

Money for philanthropies also is raised by white elephant sales at luncheon meetings the second Thursday of each month. The group wins magazine awards each year.

Santa Rosa club, organized March 12, 1949 as the Redwoods club, on February 14, 1954 changed its name to Santa Rosa. It

PROVINCE

LARGE ASSOCIATIONS	Date chartered	Number of members
Columbus, Ohio	March 16, 1901 (organized 1898)	120
Columbus is the state capital, the home of Ohio State University, Beta Nu chapter, and Kappa Kappa Gamma national headquarters.
Cleveland, Ohio	November 16, 1901	145
Cleveland is the largest city in the state and the sixth largest in the country. Located on the shores of Lake Erie, it is claimed to be "the best location in the nation."
Cincinnati, Ohio	September 1, 1914	200
Situated on the Ohio river, the University of Cincinnati, and Beta Rho chapter are here. Ivory soap is one of the many well-known products made here.
Toledo, Ohio	March 23, 1920	71
Toledo, the home of the Willys jeep, is the glass capital of the world.
Akron, Ohio	March 18, 1921	200
Rubber and tires are synonymous with the name of Akron. Lambda chapter, the oldest chapter in continuous existence in the province, is at the University of Akron.
Dayton, Ohio	July 17, 1929	80
Dayton boasts the Wright Air Field and the Frigidaire Division of General Motors. National Cash Registers are made here, also.
Cleveland West Shore, Ohio	October 1, 1938	68
Residential sections and suburban areas on the west side of greater Cleveland make up the membership of this association.
SMALL ASSOCIATIONS
Newark-Granville, Ohio	February 20, 1930	39
Denison University and Gamma Omega chapter are at Granville, a bit of New England transplanted to Ohio.
Canton, Ohio	June 20, 1934	30
Canton, home of President McKinley, is an industrial city noted for its steel products, and is in the eastern portion of the state. It is the home of the Hoover vacuum sweeper.
CLUBS
Mansfield, Ohio	March 28, 1936 (as an association) May 8, 1941 (change to club)	16
Westinghouse products are manufactured here.
Delaware, Ohio	June 13, 1944	11
The home of Ohio Wesleyan University and Rho chapter and the site of the Little Brown Jug, harness racing tops.
Youngstown, Ohio	June 14, 1948	16
Youngstown is a noted steel community.
Lima, Ohio	May 23, 1952	15
The city is noted for many nationally known products such as power shovels, diesel locomotives, and neon signs.
Miami Valley, Ohio	October 14, 1952	16
This club serves Oxford, Hamilton, and Middletown, Ohio. Miami University houses Delta Lambda chapter, the youngest in the state.
Mariemont, Ohio	March 20, 1953	14
This newest group in the province may represent a trend in Kappa alumnae organization. An independent village, it is situated in suburban Cincinnati.

The Ohio story

by MARGARET EASTON SENEY
Gamma province director of alumnae

Although Gamma province is the smallest of the provinces, geographically speaking, it is strong in numbers. Consisting of just the state of Ohio, there are six active chapters and 15 alumnae groups within its borders. Alumnae paid membership numbers over 1,000, and only the state of California tops that record. Since Gamma was one of the three original provinces, it is logical that alumnae activity began at an early date. When Kappa history records alumnae interest in forming associations, and attending conventions, the name of Columbus, Ohio, is found among the cities mentioned. Thus at the turn of the century the first organized alumnae activity began and it has continued in steady progress for more than 50 years. Today the province boasts some of the most outstanding alumnae groups in the land. Evidence of this is our recent record with the Almira McNaboe award to large associations. In 1950, Akron, Ohio received honorable mention for this award; in 1952 Cleveland received the trophy; and at Jasper Park convention it was presented to Toledo.

The seven large associations have developed varied membership techniques to better serve their sizable membership. Akron has twelve age group divisions within their association which meet monthly. Cleveland uses interest groups—bridge, book review, volunteer and service, to provide the smaller, friendlier contact for the Kappas. Both Columbus and Cincinnati find that neighborhood section meetings, planned for three months of the year, attract many. Cincinnati has added a "Newcomers Group" this year for the Kappas who have moved into the city. Cleveland West Shore had neighborhood bridge parties early in the season to enable the newcomer to meet the Kappa who lives around the corner. Throughout the year, then, neighbors bring neighbors to meet the rest of the membership. Several associations have arranged programs of Kappa talent, featuring hobbies, music, travel, and interesting occupations. These introduce all members to the abilities of their Kappa sisters. And with many groups, special social meetings like the annual Kappa-Theta alumnae bridge party in Youngstown; or the entertainment of actives and pledges; or the "Open House" for Columbus Kappas and their escorts at the home of Senator and Mrs. John Bricker (Harriet Day, B N-Ohio State), add a warm, friendly touch to the year's events. Two cities, Cleveland and Cincinnati, issue a bi-monthly mimeographed "newssheet" to keep their membership informed of all plans and projects.

The clubs and small associations do not concern themselves with the techniques of developing closer friendships, since their size precludes this need. Their more intimate group is able to offer the newcomer and the recent graduate the warm arm of Kappa friendship immediately. Formed primarily for this purpose, they find that their common interest widens. Youngstown and Lima con-

Editor's Note:

Gamma province consists solely of the State of Ohio. This undoubtedly was occasioned by the presence in Ohio of more colleges than in any other state. It and Pennsylvania are the only two states in which every type of college is represented. The first Greek letter fraternity west of the Alleghenies was established at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio which was the founding school for Beta Theta Pi (1839), Phi Delta Theta (1848), Sigma Chi (1855) and Phi Kappa Tau (1906). Now this charming college town serves as national headquarters for Beta, Phi Delta, and Phi Kappa Tau fraternities as well as Alpha Omicron Pi. In Columbus are the national headquarters of Kappa Kappa Gamma and Delta Gamma whereas in other cities of the state are the headquarters for Chi Omega, Theta Sigma Upsilon, Theta Upsilon, Alpha Sigma Phi and Phi Kappa. All this is representative of the great cultural and educational heritage of Ohio, the state which has so appropriately been described as "the farthest West of the East and the farthest North of the South."

Betty O'Rourke Hepler, P^Δ-Ohio Wesleyan, president of the Toledo association, and Margaret Easton Seney, P^Δ-Ohio Wesleyan, admire the Almira McNaboe award which was presented to Toledo for outstanding achievement, at Jasper Park, Alberta, Canada.

centrate on doing a thorough job with alumnae recommendations, and the group assists with this project. Mariemont, the newest member in our family, tried a summer rush party this year, for the girls in their community who were entering out-of-town colleges. The "breakfast and swim party," held at the home of Peggy Neilson Harkness, B P^Δ-Cincinnati, was so successful and influential that the club plans to make it an annual event. Several of the small groups find that simple, summer rush parties are fun for everyone concerned. In Canton, the Kappas have been working to interest Panhellenic groups to join together to entertain the girls going away to school.

Each group located where there is an active chapter is, of course, concerned with the activities and adviser program of the local chapter. For Delaware, Miami Valley, and Newark-Granville this is a tremendous task. Because there are fewer alumnae to assist with the duties, many Kappas double in positions. The devotion and loyalty of these women who serve year after year to keep our chapters strong is wonderful. Yet they find time to do a little extra, too. Newark-Granville and Delaware both sold enough vanilla to receive a 50 cup coffee maker, which they turned over to the chapter. The Delaware club has the Kappa magazine agency as its contribution to Rose McGill. They are one of four groups in the province to exceed their $5.00 per member quota. This year they plan to send an extra delegate to province convention with the bonus they received. Mansfield, is another small group, which has found support of the magazine agency an easy way to lend a hand.

The smaller groups do not need to plan special "get acquainted" meetings, but they do find, as do the larger groups, that working together on a ways and means project, or a service program in the community helps the Kappa organization to better fulfill its purpose. Last year some groups had unusual success with the money-making ventures they held. The chart below lists these projects and the profits they realized for the group.

The projects of the Cleveland West Shore and Akron groups were new ideas in each locality. The Holiday House tour featured visits to eight homes in the Akron area which were decorated in various Christmas themes. Tickets, sold at a dollar a piece, entitled the holder to visit the homes on either of the two days they were open for display. Kappa alumnae served as hostesses at the homes and served light refreshments. The success was so outstanding that the group will repeat the project again this December, with Margaret Zink Brewster, Δ -Akron, and Charlotte Wardale McMillion, Δ Ξ -Carnegie Tech, serving as chairman and co-chairman for a second time. Cleveland West Shore joined with other sorority alumnae and philanthropic groups to participate in a novel local fair and street dance last August. The Fair was held at the parking area of a suburban shopping center. The Kappas operated a booth which featured "Weight Guessing" by a well-known Cleveland television star. Kappa husbands made wonderful "barkers" and convinced the group

Canton's Smorgasbord recipe sale is an easy and pleasant way to raise funds. Each member prepared a favorite dish and brought six copies of the recipe written on file cards which were sold at 25¢ each. Some of the mouthwatering items: creamy corn pudding, baked chicken creole, deep dish beef casserole, frosty fruit salad, bourbon balls, butterscotch brownies are about to be sampled. to enter the Fair again this coming summer. Good projects are often repeated, and Toledo will hold their third annual Saks Show in March with Dorothy Merki Yager, B Δ -Michigan, as chairman.

Of course, the projects themselves are fun, but the most interesting part of any project is the contribution and aid made possible from the profits. In Gamma province the record of the alumnae has improved constantly. In 1953-54 donations to Kappa philanthropies doubled over those of the previous year. The contributions to local Rehabilitation Services projects were also impressive. The total gifts in both of these areas was $5,987.00, a truly fine record for Ohio Kappa alumnae.

The enthusiasm with which the province alumnae accepted the new Rehabilitation Services project has been most remarkable. Eleven of the 15 groups have found some way to help in their own communities with this service idea. The projects range from some simpler activities such as a gift of money by the Canton group to the School for Retarded Children; or the "used" jewelry shower by the Newark-Granville alumnae for the women at the Marysville Reformatory; or the time given by the Miami Valley club, which has as one evening's program the job of stuffing envelopes for the local Easter Seal campaign; and the simple sewing done by Cleveland West Shore for the Cuyhoga County Nursing Home, to projects that demand many volunteer hours of aid. One of the most ambitious in this line is the Cleveland one. These Kappas have chosen the Canteen at the Highland View Hospital as their job. Although all of the volunteers who serve at the Canteen are not Kappas, the Canteen was set up and is managed by a trio of Kappas who serve as the executive committee. Janet Neff Ong, I -DePauw, recruits the volunteers; Jule Nelson Diggs, $\Gamma \Delta$ -Purdue, is in charge of purchasing; and Beth Holt Holler, $B \Delta$ -Illinois, is treasurer. Each of them has given more than 1000 volunteer hours to this fine service.

Mariemont, our newest club, made a Christmas project of their aid. They purchased material and made draperies for the Clairmont County Old Folks Home, and on the night they delivered them, they sang and entertained the residents even serving ice cream and cookies. In Youngstown they find that personal help to a polio victim who is trying to support her two children, is a satisfying way to be a part of the program.

Several cities have made their contributions through generous gifts to local agencies. Akron used the proceeds of the Holiday House tour to furnish the kitchen in the Rehabilitation Center of the Seiberling Memorial Health building. Toledo alumnae provided a $500 Kappa graduate fellowship for a woman to do advanced study in the field of physical medicine. They also gave $500, for a second time, to the scholarship aid fund at the University of Toledo, which makes funds available to handicapped students.

Three alumnae groups have found the project most suited to the interests of their members at local juvenile centers. Dayton Kappas collect and re-dress discarded dolls; and contribute clothing and household goods through the Bureau of Aid to Dependent Children in their city. While Cincinnati does similar distributing at the Juvenile Detention Home. After the new home opened in November, Kappas, under the direction of Marjorie Evans Merten, $B P \Delta$ -Cincinnati, began doing volunteer work with crafts, music, and recreation. Almost the same type of program is followed by the Columbus alumnae, who provide supplies, equipment, and volunteer aid to the Franklin County Juvenile Center. Myrna Smith Dupler, $B N$ -Ohio State, is their chairman.

We are all proud of the service which the Kappa alumnae have given in their communities. Even though some of the projects are very simple the fact that so many have taken part is thrilling. We are all happy to know that Marnie Maire the national chairman of Rehabilitation Services, has said, "Gamma province has led the way."

Service in the community can often be done in an unexpected way. This fall for the

The Key Visits

Typical of the unusual architecture that makes the University of New Mexico campus one of the most beautiful in the country is the library, with its long portal, flagstone terraces, and gently curved tower walls. Though most of the campus is in lawn, studded with evergreens, the library terraces are planted with cactus, yucca (the state flower) and other desert plants. The steps are a traditional meeting place for undergraduates.

The story of the University of New Mexico

Pueblo on the Mesa” is the designation often given the University of New Mexico.

The name derives from the unique style of Spanish-Indian architecture which was early adopted for the campus buildings, and from the fact that the University was for many years the only structure on the high ground above the Rio Grande at Albuquerque.

Early-day graduates recall that the trek from town to campus was miles long, winding uphill over old river terraces, and that the sweep of landscape in all directions was broad and uninhabited. They also recall that the barrenness gave full sweep to the desert winds, and that shoveling (literally) sand out of dormitories and classrooms was a part of routine.

Many of the first buildings on the campus were actually built of adobe, the sun-dried mud bricks which have been used in the Southwest since the Spaniards discovered the country in the 16th century. Nowadays they are built of concrete, but the soft lines characteristic of the old mud structures are preserved, and the earth-color plaster blends with the desert landscape in a satisfying esthetic fashion. The backdrop of the Sandia mountains adds a spectacular note.

The University was founded by act of the Territorial legislature in 1889, and opened its doors to students in 1892. At first the “college” department was strictly a normal school, and the first graduating class, of six students, in 1894 took degrees in pedagogy. A “prep” department provided the greater part of the enrollment. It was, at the time, the only high school in the state.

When William George Tight became president in 1901, things really began to hum.

President Tight recognized the possibilities of the architecture used by the Indians of the region—which had undergone several centuries of modification by Spanish influence—and set the pattern for the campus as it is today.

He drafted students as laborers and gardeners, started the campus groves, and encouraged the first fraternity on campus, Alpha Alpha Alpha, to build its meeting place as a replica of a kiva, the circular, partially subterranean council chamber of the Santo Domingo Pueblo Indians. Long dubbed with the Spanish term, estufa, the building still stands at the center of the campus and is used weekly by the Π K A chapter which succeeded the local Tri-Alpha. A large body of Greek tradition surrounds the structure.

Like other new schools, particularly those Oldest building on the University of New Mexico campus, Hodgkin Hall now houses the College of Education offices, and the modern languages phonetics library. A senior bench, memorial of one of the early classes, is in the foreground.

The President Says:

Gamma Beta of Kappa Kappa Gamma came to the University of New Mexico fairly early in the history of the institution. Through the years this chapter has been a continuing influence in the establishment of patterns and traditions of the social and intellectual life of the campus.

The standards of scholarship which this group have always maintained have given a great deal of satisfaction to the administration, and the achievements of its alumnae have reflected prestige on the entire University. We are proud to note that the strength of the chapter and the qualities of leadership which it instills have grown with the University, and we congratulate Gamma Beta on its outstanding position among its sister chapters.

TOM L. POPEJOY, President

that are tax-supported, the University of New Mexico suffered ups and downs during its early years, but by 1927 it was on a firm foundation, fully accredited, and boasting several colleges and an adequate plant.

At that time, Dr. James Fulton Zimmerman became president, and since that time the University's growth has been steady, planned, and enormous.

This fall finds 4,690 students enrolled and every one of the 51 buildings bulging.

There are colleges of arts and sciences, business administration, education, engineering, fine arts, law, and pharmacy; a general college leading to a two-year certificate, a school of Inter-American Affairs, and a graduate school. Six departments give the Ph.D.

Particularly strong are the departments of anthropology, fine arts, Spanish, and history, and the College of Engineering. The Institute of Meteoritics, an international association, is housed on the campus, and a Bureau of Business Research serves the State.

The department of drama and its University theatre are renowned throughout the country, and the journalism department practically staffs the state's newspapers.

The University press not only publishes several series of scholarly publications for the University departments and professional associations but issues a list of Southwesternia. It is rated one of the top college presses in the country.

Life on the campus is characterized by informality and friendliness. Though "student spirit" suffered the same breakdown experienced on other campuses during the years immediately following World War II, it is now in the ascendancy again, and "cooperation" is the watchword of the associated students and faculty alike.

Throughout its history, sororities and fraternities have been a strong contributing force to the social and academic life of the University of New Mexico.

First Panhellenic group to come to the campus was ΦM , in 1911. $K K \Gamma$ followed in 1917, and $\Lambda X \Omega$ in 1918. $\Delta \Delta \Pi$ was chartered in 1920, and $X \Omega$ in 1925. For many years these five "monopolized" the campus.

In recent years, the ΦM charter was withdrawn and chapters of $\Delta \Delta \Delta$, $\Pi B \Phi$ and $K A \Theta$ have been established.

The inter-fraternity council comprises $\Pi K A$ (1915), ΣX (1916), $K \Sigma$ (1924), $\Lambda E \Pi$, $\Delta \Sigma \Phi$, $K A$, $\Lambda X A$, $\Phi \Delta \Theta$, $\Phi K T$, $\Sigma A E$, $\Sigma \Phi E$ and $T K E$.

The Dean of Women Says:

It is a pleasure to extend greetings to Kappa Kappa Gamma and to the Gamma Beta chapter at the University of New Mexico.

The University administration believes that sororities like all residential units provide an important part of student life. They offer laboratory experiences in relationships, constructive leadership and citizenship in addition to the classroom instruction.

Kappas have always been and are outstanding leaders on the campus, in the city and state.

The University can depend upon their loyal support and enthusiasm. We are very proud of Gamma Beta and offer our sincere congratulations on their strong, reliable leadership.

Buenos dias, señoras y señoritas . . . welcome to the Land of Enchantment and to the Gamma Beta chapter at the University of New Mexico . . . winner of the scholarship cup for large campuses.

Gamma Beta had its beginning way back in 1915. Phi Mu was the only sorority on the University campus, so during the summer seven town girls decided to form a new group. That fall they invited five more girls to join with them and form a club to be known as Alpha Gamma. Of this original group six members are still active in the Albuquerque alumnae association . . . these are Myrl Hope Sisk, Louise Bell Wigely, Rebecca Horner Gass, Irene Boldt Curnow, Evelyn Trotter Bostick and Kay Conway White. A successful year added ten more to their number . . . and many hours of discussion on Pi Phi, Theta or Kappa . . . with Kappa first choice . . . but New Mexico was so remote . . . finally a friend of Kay White's in the Kappa chapter at Syracuse, New York persuaded her chapter to endorse the Alpha Gamma petition. From then on the emphasis on scholarship was stressed . . . finally, the local group fulfilled all the Kappa requirements and Gamma Beta chapter was installed on April 5, 1918 by the grand president, Lydia Voris Kolbe. The Sigma Chis, gone off to World War I, rented the new Kappas their house . . . from then to 1935 Gamma Beta moved several times. In that year our chapter house was completed. Designed in typical Pueblo style, it houses 26 girls.

Good scholarship has always been a tradition in Gamma Beta . . . in the past 25 years Kappa has had the top Panhellenic average for 18 of these years . . . our all time high was made in 1953 when the chapter average was 2.053 based on a 3.0 scale . . . for the past four semesters our average has been over 1.96. Gamma Beta puts scholarship on an individual basis and has each girl set her own "Goal." Early in each semester, the scholarship committee has a "Goals" dinner . . . at which the girls who failed to make their grade goals wear funny hats or costumes and serve the lucky ones who achieved their goals . . . new goals are then set and everyone is eager to do her best with the help of the scholarship committee. Keys are given to the actives and trophies to the pledges with the highest grades and with the most improvement. This year an award will be given to the pledge-pledge mother team with the best average. The alumnae association has a scholarship breakfast for the chapter at which time the awards are made. The scholarship chairman has a big job . . . she has individual conferences with each pledge and with each active who is having "grade trouble" and arranges for assistance where it is needed. The scholarship committee also sponsors the chapter cultural program which includes dinners and talks with professors, and alumnae or other things of scholarship interest.

Informality, fun and friendship . . . are highlighted all year. . . . The advisory board cooks a "kick-off" dinner for the chapter to start the year . . . an annual Kappa-Pi Phi picnic . . . a surprise party on Monday night for another sorority (the Tri Delts were the victims of the Kappa Walk-In with refreshments this term) . . . exchange dinners with other groups . . . a gala Triad in the fall and spring with the Thetas and Pi Phis . . . a tag football game with the Phi Delts . . . a Christmas party for underprivileged children with the Kappa Sigs . . . at Christmas we sing carols at the hospitals . . . in the spring a special banquet for the fathers . . . (if no father is available . . . a professor is substituted) . . . a mother-daughter luncheon . . . pledge sponsored Friday afternoon coke sessions . . . to end the year a Senior breakfast . . . last year a surprise booklet for each senior was made up with the coöperation of the mothers—pictures from babyhood on—the theme of This is your Life. All this plus the usual formals, informals, homecoming and campus events keep Gamma Beta busy.

Gamma Beta always has their share of campus honors, too . . . this year's Mortar Boards are Margaret Ange, Marythelma Bryant, Elaine Bush and Betty Folsom; Patsy Blair is president of Spurs, and has Barbara Barnard, Mary Botts, Claudette Duplentis, Joan Heaton and Carol Rainey to help her . . . two cheerleaders, Cleta Honeyman and Carole Graham keep the chapter yelling for the Lobos . . . Judy Hubbard was Homecoming queen. . . . Phi Kappa Phi tapped Margaret Ange, who has almost a 3.0 average. . . . Graduate counselors learn and serve

by MARJORIE MATSON CONVERSE
Graduate counselor chairman

Through the years our graduate counselor system has proved to be a highly successful phase of our scholarship program. Serving a two-fold purpose, it brings scholastic opportunity to some of our finest girls, and at the same time gives valuable help to our chapters. Established chapters as well as new ones may request a graduate counselor to guide and help them. The counselors are girls who have held responsible offices in their chapters and are well-versed in Fraternity matters.

This fall two fine graduate counselors have gone to campuses in the West and Northwest. Mary Lou Maurhoff, $\Delta \Xi$ -Carnegie Tech, has gone to work with the new Delta Omega chapter at Fresno State College, Fresno, California. While at Carnegie, Mary Lou majored in social studies-education, became a member of Mortar Board, Cwens, and $\Pi \Delta E$, as well as serving as chapter president, a member of the Women's Dormitory council, Student council and copy editor of the Tech yearbook. She is working toward her MA in education, majoring in counseling. She writes of her job "I feel so much a part of this group that it is really unbelievable. They are a fine group of girls—cute and hard working also. In between rushing I have been attempting to go to school and play house mother to seven freshman girls, they are so cute, I just love them! Don't you think I should get the TV show What's My Line? Who would guess I am a house mother?"

Of our older chapter which asked for counselors this year, only Beta Omega at the University of Oregon was fortunate enough to receive one. To this campus has gone Felicia Henderson, former president of $\Delta \Pi$ -Tulsa. With her wealth of Fraternity experience she has a long list of extra-curricular activities and honors including $\Phi \Gamma K$, $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$, Mortar Board and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Perhaps some of the expressions of our past counselors and chapters who have had counselors, best exemplify the value of the program.

In the words of an officer whose chapter participated in this program, "We want to express our appreciation to the Fraternity for the opportunity of having a counselor this year. In a chapter as old and good as ours, we had let some of our traditions hinder us. We were so proud of our smugness!! Our counselor brought us many new ideas and better ways of doing things. She modernized and streamlined us!"

A former graduate counselor recently wrote, "I am so grateful for my graduate counselor experience. I didn't realize at the time the full implications of my year's counseling. Not only did I obtain my masters degree, which enabled me to obtain an excellent job, but I gained equally as much in my relationship with the girls in the chapter. It was a tremendous experience in learning how to work with and understand people that I never could have received in another way. The company where I am employed was as interested in my experience as a counselor as they were in my academic achievements."

From similar comments and through tangible evidence within our chapters, we realize the graduate counselor program is successful for both chapters and counselors. We urge others to take advantage of the opportunities offered in this program.

ATTENTION CHAPTERS: If you are interested in taking advantage of this program, or ATTENTION KAPPAS: If you have been an officer in your chapter and would like to further your education at another university while helping another chapter, write the chairman of graduate counselors.

Fraternity is proud

23 awarded scholarships

by BETTY EVANS

Chairman undergraduate and emergency scholarships

Each year Kappa is proud to announce the winners of the Undergraduate and Emergency Scholarships, established for outstanding members of the Fraternity who need financial aid to continue their college work. Not only are these girls good students but each has contributed greatly to her college or university. Phi Beta Kappa and Mortar Board are well represented among the 23 girls who have been chosen for the 1954-55 awards. And their talents are not limited to the academic field: here are chapter officers who have given much of their time to the Fraternity; here are campus leaders whose achievements have brought reflected glory to Kappa. Two girls have received Beta Eta awards, which are made possible by the income from money deposited with the Fraternity by Beta Eta chapter when fraternities went off the Stanford University campus. This year the Fort Wayne alumnae association has given a $250 Undergraduate Scholarship, the recipient being the vice-president of our newest chapter, Delta Psi, at Texas Technological College.

What a professor wrote about one of the 1954-55 winners can well be applied to all 23: "Because of her unspoiled charm, her pleasant personality, and her ability as a student, the fact that she is a Kappa predisposes a casual observer to a very high esteem of the whole sorority. The Kappas can justifiably point to her with pride and can take considerable satisfaction I think in recognizing her with a national scholarship." The Fraternity can indeed point with pride to these undergraduate members who even now are achieving new successes in their college classrooms and are working in Kappa toward the fulfillment of Fraternity ideals.

Korean women share foreign student awards

by BEATRICE WOODMAN
Foreign fellowships chairman

Nil Muldur

Three awards of $1200 each were granted at convention to three Korean women for study in the United States in the field of rehabilitation. The details of these awards are still in process. Further announcement will be made later of the recipients and where they will study.

Continuing the good neighbor policy a foreign student studying at the University of Texas will receive some additional aid from Kappa from the foreign student scholarship. Also a recipient of this fund is a Turkish girl, Nil Muldur, a Kappa from Gamma Omega chapter at Denison University who is being allowed $275 to continue her education in sociology in this country.

Sally Jane Roberts, P^Δ-Ohio Wesleyan, spent the past summer in France studying at the University of Grenoble on a foreign study grant. She lived with a French family where only French was spoken. Before returning home she had the additional experience of visiting in Switzerland, England and Holland. She hopes to enter Foreign Service in the secretariat.

Applications from Kappas for Foreign Study awards are now being received by the chairman of foreign fellowships. Any wishing information concerning them should contact the chairman as quickly as possible to give the committee ample time to study the applications.

Seven awarded fellowships

by MIRIAM LOCKE
Fellowships chairman

Kappa Kappa Gamma continues her traditional support of higher academic training through granting seven graduate fellowships for 1954-55. Graduate fellowships are available to any woman student under 30 who will receive an undergraduate degree before July 1 of a current year from an institution having an active chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Application forms may be secured from an active chapter, deans of women, Fraternity Headquarters, or the chairman of fellowships. Completed applications must be submitted to the fellowships chairman by March 1 to be eligible for consideration for the fellowships awarded in June for the following school year. Candidates are judged on a competitive basis by an awards committee independently rating the applications, which are finally approved by the director of philanthropies.

Alumnæ associations are encouraged to participate in the fellowship program. Information as to procedure may be secured from the chairman of fellowships. Through the generosity of the Toledo, Ohio, alumnæ association a seventh award for 1954-55 was possible.

Awards were granted this year to three Kappas, three Independents, and one Chi Omega, in the fields of medicine, journalism, music, and religious education. The fellowship winners are young women with splendid, impressive and varied achievements in scholarship and in activities.

Cynthia Baker: Kappa Kappa Gamma, Indiana University, to study for her master's degree in journalism at Stanford University. Her interest is primarily in school publications. Cynthia held offices in chapter and campus organizations, $\Lambda \Lambda \Delta$, $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$, Mortar Board, YWCA and many others. She holds a resident assistantship in a dormitory at Stanford.

Beverly Robinson: Independent, University of Iowa, to study medicine at the University of Iowa. $\Phi \beta \kappa$, $\Lambda \Lambda \Delta$, Mortar Board, medical honorary for women, active in student government and student advisory committees.

Patricia Sessions: Independent, University of Oklahoma, to study philosophy and religion at Yale School of Divinity. President of Mortar Board, active in journalism, student government, and faculty-student committees, voted outstanding woman student of 1953-54.

Sara Bangert: Chi Omega, University of Tulsa, to study for her master's degree in journalism at the University of Missouri. She was active in her social fraternity, president of Mortar Board, editor of yearbook, received numerous awards in recognition of outstanding work in journalism.

Ernestine Gohrband: Kappa Kappa Gamma, University of Idaho, to do graduate work in music education at the University of Texas, was a member of Mortar Board, and most outstanding in all campus music activities.

Beverly Jewell, Independent, University of Michigan, to study medicine at University of Michigan, for a second year. Has been active in medical societies and in the women's league, and in musical organizations. Beverly has received the Toledo association award.

Ruth Phelps: Kappa Kappa Gamma, Boston University, College of Music, continuing in music education at Boston University. She has held leading offices in Phi chapter, president of pledge class, membership chairman, active in student council and musical organizations.

Achievement awards presented

In Chicago

Judge Beatrice Fain Tucker, I-DePauw, winner of an alumnae achievement award, deserted her judicial duties in Cook County, to receive her award for excellence in the field of law, at a dinner at the T-Northwestern chapter house on October 12. At the head table were Nancy Cordiner, chapter president; Judge Tucker; Mrs. Sharp, house director; Frances Fatout Alexander, I-DePauw, director of chapters; Mary Ann Egan, chapter pledge training chairman; Claire Billow, active; Clarice Anderson Riley, T-Northwestern, house board president; Laura McLearn, active.

In New York

Edith Reese Crabtree, B T-Wooster, Fraternity president, presented an achievement award to Emily Eaton Hepburn, B B-St. Lawrence, philanthropist, and an education award to Lucy Allen Smart, B N-Ohio State, dean of Kew-Forest School and lecturer, at a Founders Day reception held by the New York alumnae association at the home of Ruth Chaney Hammond, K-Hillsdale. Mrs. Smart, a former editor of The Key, spoke briefly on the satisfactions of teaching.

third year in a row, the Toledo Kappas have made up a full solicitation team for the Greater Toledo Community Chest drive. The idea originated a few years ago when the Kappas served as a team to raise money for the building fund for the Florence Crittenton Home. Because the group had done recreational work at the Home, they were interested in helping get the money for the expansion program. The team was so successful, and the Kappas had so much fun doing it, that the decision was made to continue the idea during the Community Chest campaigns. This October Alice Taylor Snow, B II-Montana, and Mary Lou Firestone

Gregory, Δ-Akron, captained 26 Kappas on the team which was a part of the division headed by Mary Jo Mitchell Balch, Γ X-George Washington, and Betty O'Rourke Hepler, PΔ-Ohio Wesleyan. At the command of the entire section was Dorothy Merki Yager, B Δ-Michigan. The idea has caught on with other Panhellenic groups and is considered an asset by the chest office.

This brief glimpse of some of the highlights of the province alumnae groups shows that Kappa friendship and belief in fraternity have produced convincing action and noble contributions to fifteen Ohio cities, and to Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Going places in scholarship

by MARY DUDLEY

Fraternity scholarship chairman

A customer once inquired of a clerk in a store if they had compasses for sale. "Yes," she replied, "we have compasses for making circles but not for going places." Whether we are talking about a trip or scholarship, we should certainly rather be "going places."

In getting ready for a train trip, what steps should we take in preparation? Should we not give attention to the route, the desired destination, and to what we hope to do and to see? The time tables, the connections, and the train accommodations should be checked. No one would think of taking a trip without checking over her wardrobe and her luggage! These are a form of insurance for a happier, more harmonious trip. Where do we want to go—or what do we want to achieve in scholarship? After such decision it is easier to plan how and when to do the necessary things.

It is necessary to check the "time tables"—or time budgets—of our scholarship journey to see that enough time is allowed for the "stops"—for study, of course. It is necessary to check the connections. Are we hitting the right pace or making the right "connections" with true learning in our courses? We must look at our "luggage"—our study habits or techniques. Let us make sure that we are not carrying any "excess baggage" of too much loafing in the Union or too many Bridge games when we should be studying; or the "excess baggage" of class-cutting or of quiet hours which are not quiet.

Even if one starts alone on a trip, there are other passengers whose companionship makes the way pleasant and whose presence makes consideration for them paramount. This can be compared to living and working with Kappa sisters whose welfare and progress depend upon others. Who would think of leaving all the packing for someone else to do? So in our scholarship trip each should give conscientious effort to her own studies and thoughtful observance to quiet hours.

Just as in our vacation trip there is no substitute for the work of planning, preparing, and carrying it out, so there is no substitute for study in our scholarship journey. Just as our vacation trip should be filled with enjoyment, so should our scholarship trip be full of the joy of achieving. There should be fun occasions for all to enjoy together.

In traveling with commercial tour companies there are always rules for the trip, established to bring about a more harmonious and pleasant trip. These rules must be observed or the outcome may be spoiled for one's self and others. This is also true of our scholarship journey.

What of the journey's end? Your chairman will chart the course and carry the extra responsibilities of many details of the scholarship trip. Each member must do her share—her best in effort and in carrying out the rules of the tour; each must start right and continue in the right spirit. Each must use her individual compass for "going places" if her own and Kappa's scholarship journey is to have a happy ending.

Graduate Program in Student Personnel

The Ohio State University department of psychology in conjunction with the office of the dean of women announces a two year program leading to a Master's Degree and preparing for positions as deans and counselors of women, directors of residence, Panhellenic counselors, and directors of social programs.

Graduate residents receive board, room, and a stipend of $30.00 a month. Fees are remitted. For details address: Dr. Kathryn Hopwood, Associate Dean of Women, Ohio State University, Columbus 10, Ohio.

Π K A NATIONAL DREAM GIRL IS NANCY BOZIEVICH, Δ T-Georgia. At Memphis in September, two Kappas were finalists at the Pi Kappa Alpha convention for the national dream girl of Π K A. One of them won the title, and the prize—a trip to PARIS. If Nancy Bozievich is unable to go, her Kappa alternate, Peggy Snider, Γ I-Washington U. is ready and willing. At the dedication of the new headquarters of Pi Kappa Alpha's national offices are May Lyon Bennett, B II-Washington, chairman of Δ P-Mississippi advisory board, Jean Hess Wells, Δ T-Georgia, president Memphis association, Nancy and Peggy. W. C. Teague, husband of Georgia Cole Teague, B K-Idaho, gave the welcome from the Interfraternity Council and Sigma Chi at the dedication.

Claims to Beauty

Song Bird of the South

Diane Holland, B O-Newcomb affiliate, Δ E-Rollins, Song Bird of the South is this music major, member of New Orleans Opera Guild, WSBM Metropolitan Auditions of the Air, and the Tulane-Newcomb Opera workshop. Singing major roles in all operas produced at Tulane, Diane's repertoire includes La Traviata, Riders to the Sea, The Mikado, and La Vie Parisienne. She dances too, and appeared in Debussy's L'Enfant Prodigue, wearing ballet shoes, in a production which could have been named for herself. As a daughter of a captain in the naval medical corps, Diane has lived in many far-off places, China, Japan, Hawaii, and the Philippines. Her Kappa sisters are expecting her to sing her way to fame with the radio and TV promise she has so ably demonstrated during her college years.

Named the outstanding senior woman at Montana State and given the American Association of University Women's award, Judy McCullough, B Φ-Montana, is also alternate for a Fulbright foreign-study award.

Hail the Champs

Proud of the Basketball Trophy just won are these members of Γ II-Alabama. Not to be outdone by these victors another group of Kappas cinched the top place in bowling on the campus.

Baton Twirler International

Eunice Mellott, B T-Syracuse, baton twirler international, holds New York State championship, National Letter-carriers' Championship, and is titled Queen of Eastern States Twirlers. On tour she has performed throughout the U.S., and been invited by the London Daily Mirror to make appearances in England next summer. She would be sponsored by the newspaper in return for giving instructions in her art. She is a TV star on the programs of Kate Smith, Ted Mack, and Paul Whiteman. Majoring in TV and Education, she has a full-tuition scholarship at Syracuse, three Kappa aunts, and a baby sister, newly arrived at B T.

Janice Button, Ψ-Cornell, will spend next year in Germany studying physics at the University of Gottingen. At Cornell, she edited the Cornell Engineer, was president of WSGA, and honor student.

Joan French, Γ K-William & Mary, was awarded a graduate fellowship for research in psychology at North Carolina University in 1955.

Kappas in Quantity

Kappa claimed the largest number from any single fraternity group, 14 delegates, at the Intercollegiate Associate Women Students convention held on the University of Arizona campus last April. Two hundred AWS officers from 55 schools west of the Mississippi River attended the four-day western regional convention planned by Arizona's AWS president, Anne Sporer, Γ Z-Arizona. Front row: Winifred Meyer, Ω-Kansas; Joanne Williams, B II-Washington; Ann Sporer, Γ Z-Arizona; Peggy Cox, Γ Z-Arizona; Sallie Heindel, Ω-Kansas; Mary Barrett, Δ T-USC. Middle row: Patsy Reeves, Δ Z-Colorado College; Suzanne Williams, Δ Z-Colorado College; Jane Carroll, Δ Z-Colorado College; Lorraine Hughes, Γ H-Washington State; Pat Galligan, Γ H-Washington State. Top row: Betty May Kirkwood, Γ O-Wyoming; Ann Algae, Ω-Kansas; Jan Gradinger, Ω-Kansas. Not pictured Jane Cunningham, B M-Colorado.

Kappas make a big splash

Amateur Athletic Union's outdoor swimming meet, at Indianapolis, Indiana, in August, was dominated by Kappa entrants.

Carolyn Green, Δ K-U. of Miami, won the 1500-meter free-style event, setting a new American and A.A.U. record. She won the 400 meter free-style, with another new record, and on the last day of the meet, set another new championship mark for the 800-meter free-style. Swimming with the Fort Lauderdale swimming association, she helped the team to the 800-meter relay race, breaking the established American marks.

Carolyn started swimming in the spring of 1949 while living in New Jersey. A family move to Fort Lauderdale the same year fostered the talent. Her first two years as a swimmer brought about 30 Florida championships. Her first national championship came in 1950 when the Senior Women's Outdoor Nationals were held in High Point, North Carolina. At that meet she won the 800-meter free-style and placed in other events. The next year she was tops in the 1500 and 800. In 1951 at the Pan American Games in Argentina she was second in the 400-meter free-style and on the winning free-style relay. The 1952 Olympics saw Carolyn place fourth in the 400-meter.

Judy Roberts, Δ-Indiana, swimming for the Indianapolis Athletic club, and defending champion in the 100-meter free-style, came in third. Judy, too, was a member of the 1952 Olympic team and a member of the 1953 All American Swimming team. She won the indoor and outdoor nationals in 1953, 100-yard and 100-meter free-style in new National and American records. The past summer she was invited to Honolulu as a guest of the Hawaiian Swim association to participate in the Keo Nakama meet. Judy says there are so many Kappa swimmers that "at the Nationals or any big meet where we can all get together, the Kappas always seem to have a good time. But that is the way it is everywhere, isn't it?"

Jody Alderson Braskamp, B Δ-Illinois, an aquatic star of long standing, and a veteran of the 1952 Olympics at the age of 17, won the 100-meter free-style event. Jody placed fifth at Helsinki, with only three-tenths of a second separating the first five place winners. At the famous Keo Nakama meet in Hawaii, she shaved two-tenths of a second off the 29.8 meet record for 50-meters, set in 1952. For 100-yards free-style, she last month smashed by one-tenth of a second the world mark of 58.2 set by Denmark's Greta Anderson way back in 1949. Jody swam for the Community Builder's Club of Chicago. Jody's brand new husband is the son of the chaplain of the House of Representatives and will be based in Florida for six months flight training.

Another Kappa mermaid member of the 1952 Olympic team, Mary Freeman Kelly, Γ X-George Washington, is now enrolled at the University of Philadelphia as a senior. One of her new sisters-in-law, Elizabeth Kelly, is president of Beta Alpha chapter and another is Grace Kelly the actress. Last summer Mary coached a group of youngsters in swimming and this fall is coaching her own team of 10 girls at the central YWCA in Philadelphia.

Alumnae news around the globe

THE PROUD FAMILY of Jane Moore Mock, H^Δ-California, came to Los Angeles to witness the presentation of the Community Chest's Gold Key award for service at a gathering of nearly 1000 at ceremonies in the Paladium auditorium. It was the 13th gold key awarded to the woman who first must qualify with at least 10 years of service in the Welfare Federation and Community Chest. Jane Mock is coordinator of rushing for chapters in the Southern California area and heads the Child Guidance Auxiliary of Los Angeles. She was presented with an "orchid" as Kappa of the Year at the Founders' Day banquet following her community honor. Left to right her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Moore of San Francisco, daughter Molly, Π^Δ-California, son, Joseph, and husband, John.

Whatever happened to . . .

In Ohio?

Doris Mandel Brewer, Γ Ω-Denison, past president of the District Golfers' Association has joined Martha Chamberlain Wilson, Β Ν-Ohio State, in the hat making business formerly conducted by Doris' mother, in Columbus.

A big task has Virginia Lawyer Gorry, Β Ν-Ohio State, as chairman of the 111 Twigs of the Children's Hospital of Columbus. The groups raised $77,000 last year for aid to the Hospital.

President of the Columbus Little Symphony club is the hobby of Beth Palmer O'Brien, Ρ Δ-Ohio Wesleyan.

Nancy Davis, Β Ν-Ohio State, is fashion promotion director for the F. & R. Lazarus and Company, leading department store in Columbus. Nancy's work includes coordinating accessories for window displays, style shows etc.

Suzanne Kittle Kanengeiser, Β Ν-Ohio State, is vice-president of the Columbus Junior League, and June Knowlton Klages, Β Ν-Ohio State, is the current treasurer. Also on the board are Betty Sanor Cameron, Β Ν-Ohio State, education chairman, and Mary Kay Scott Condit, Γ Ω-Denison, orientation chairman.

Eleanor Allen Walter, Β Ν-Ohio State, is a regional publicity director of the Red Cross.

Helen Wildermuth, Ρ Δ-Ohio Wesleyan, is on the executive council of the Girl Scouts headquartered in Cleveland.

Jane McCormick, Δ Α-Penn State, is Panhellenic counselor in the dean of women's office at Ohio State University.

And in California?

After 14 months in Spain, Betty Clough Worthington, Γ Ξ-UCLA, and her husband have returned to San Diego. Mr. Worthington was awarded a Ford Foundation fellowship to study at the Universities of Seville and Madrid. They were accompanied by their three children, Lynn, 17, Barry, 13, and Deane, 7.

Three Kappas, Charlotte Shuman and Katherine Shuman, both Δ Ξ-Carnegie Tech, and Martha Hunt Gould, Θ-Missouri, are active participants in the Community Playhouse and Children's Theatre in Long Beach, California. Charlotte and Katherine design scene settings for both theatre groups. Martha was recently re-elected president of the Children's Theatre and was sent as their representative to the Michigan meeting of all children's theatre groups.

Michael Chamberlain, whose wife is Martha Phillips Chamberlain, Δ Ζ-Colorado College, was notified by Queen Elizabeth's ambassador in Washington, Sir Roger Makin, that Her Majesty "has graciously been pleased to bestow as part of the Birthday Honors list, membership in the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire" for valiant and successful efforts in cementing American-British friendship and good will.

Mr. Chamberlain is president of the San Diego chapter of the English Speaking Union. The British Consul-General for Southern California and Arizona presented the medal of membership to Mr. Chamberlain at ceremonies held September 10.

Marion Hoole Garthwaite, Π Δ-California, appears on television as the narrator of children's stories on the Bay Area's new educational television station KQED. Mrs. Garthwaite, a member of the Palo Alto alumnae association, is also the author of two children's books, Tomas and the Red Headed Angel and Shaken Days. Last summer she taught Children's Literature and Story Telling at the College of the Pacific at Stockton, California.

Capacity enrollments were registered this summer at Anaheim, California where Helen Smith Thompson, Γ Θ-Drake, conducted a reading clinic for children with reading problems and a reading workshop for teachers.

His Imperial Highness, Crown Prince Akihito of Japan, the Japanese Grand Chamberlain Takanodu Mitani and the 12 members of the Imperial suite enroute home from the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth were entertained at luncheon at the home of Helen Renz Weltner, Ω -Kansas, and her husband, Cresnap B. Weltner, in Palo Alto, California. The luncheon at the Weltner's was the only private party the prince attended on his west coast tour. It afforded him the opportunity to meet the student body presidents of the Bay Area universities. Pictured at the side of the pool in which chrysanthemum and gardenia blossoms floated are His Imperial Highness and Mrs. Weltner.

The verses by Mrs. David G. Anthony that you or your children may read in Child Life, Jack and Jill, Highlights for Children or Saturday Evening Post are written by Jane Dettinger Anthony, $\Delta\Delta$ -Monmouth, a member of the San Diego alumnæ association.

Donny Hitchcock Montgomery, Γ Ξ -UCLA, served as president of the Faculty Wives Club at Long Beach State College this last year.

Eleanor Hoffman Wehrle, Γ Ξ -UCLA, was one of the sponsors and workers for the new swimming pool for the Girls Club of the Salvation Army in Los Angeles.

Margaret Wright Becker, Σ -Nebraska, is chairman of the ticket sale for the Junior Philharmonic Committee of Los Angeles, an organization formed to assist and further the plans of the Southern California Symphony Association.

Nina Kanaga Ireland, Ω -Kansas, is secretary of the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles Child Guidance Clinic. This group was recently formed to enable the Clinic to treat more children, expand its training, consultative and diagnostic facilities and develop research.

Jean Webb Vaughan, B E -Stanford, and Peggy Hawkins Gunderson, $\Pi\Delta$ -California, are president and first vice-president respectively of the Los Angeles Junior League.

Santa Monica Kappas are proud of their Lucile Caswell Davids, Γ M -Oregon State, girl scouting leader for 15 years who has held nearly every office; and also Ruth Fielder Jacobs, Ψ -Cornell, leader of the first Wing Scout troops, only one in Los Angeles area devoted to teaching girls the theory of flight and all phases of air industry.

Claire Drew Forbes Walker, B Π -Washington, of Santa Barbara, is national president of Γ A X , advertising honorary, and district chairman of service for Zonta, women's international service classification group.

San Francisco Bay claims Nina Kanaga Taggart, Ω -Kansas, as its oldest living member. Mrs. Taggart was initiated in 1888 and is still active in alumnæ association activities.

Cynthia McLellan Bias, $\Pi\Delta$ -California, for some time associated with one of San Francisco's leading interior decorators, is now contemplating opening her own decorating shop.

Phyllis Lund Beaulieu, Δ H -Utah, a professional pianist, has won acclaim in San Francisco both for her teaching and professional performances. Both Mrs. Beaulieu and her husband have been featured on TV in dual piano recitals.

Interested in the preservation of old homes is Irma Lutz Ebnother, Ω -Kansas. She has made a collection of rare colored slides of famous historic American homes of the 17th and 18th century which she shows in connection with her many lectures in the San Francisco area. Currently she is writing a booklet for a collector's group.

CAREERS AND KUDOS

Swarthmore raises memorial

The Beta Iota alumnae association held a memorial service for Martha Ripperdon White Blessing, B X-Kentucky, in the Friends Meeting House in Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, last summer. The association raised $300 as a memorial and has given it to the Swarthmore monthly meetings of Friends in Mrs. Blessing's name.

A Mehitabel for fashion careerist

Bradford Bachrach

Mary Szur Barker

Filmland gives an Oscar, radio and television a Michael, but for fashion careerists there is a Mehitabel which this year was awarded to Mary Szur Barker, Γ Δ-Purdue. Mehitabel, a golden statuette representing a young girl sitting on the top rung of the ladder of success, is presented each year to the alumna of the Tobe-Colburn School for Fashion careers who has achieved the most outstanding success.

Mrs. Barker was presented with the statuette at a luncheon held last spring in the Empire Room of the Waldorf-Astoria in New York in recognition of her success as dress buyer for both mail order and retail divisions of Sears Roebuck.

Married to Chris Barker of Chain Store Age, Mrs. Barker lives in Jamaica Estates, Long Island. They have a seven-year-old son.

Who can top this age?

Flora Correll Sawyer, E-Illinois Wesleyan, holder of the Kappa 50-year pin, celebrated her 90th birthday September 5 at an open house given by her son and daughter-in-law in Springfield, Illinois.

Mrs. Sawyer has been a resident of Springfield for 54 years and has been active in civic and church affairs. She has four sons, two daughters, 22 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Ann Griffis named "Miss Air Power"

Ann Griffis, Σ-Nebraska, has been named "Miss Air Power" for 1954. Ann reigned over the Air Force association convention and reunion held in Omaha, Nebraska, in August.

Ann Griffis

She is the daughter of Brigadier General and Mrs. Lloyd E. Griffis. Her father is Command Surgeon for Strategic Air Command at Offutt Air Force Base, Nebraska.

The retiring "Miss Air Power" is Olivia Twining, daughter of General Nathan F. Twining, Chief of Staff of the United States Air Force.

Patty Berg still champion

Patty Berg, X-Minnesota, was crowned the "world" champion of women professionals as she finished three strokes ahead of Louise Suggs to win the Tam O'Shanter tournament at Chicago last summer. Winning the big-money tournament of the golfing world put Patty in the number one position among women professionals. Patty finished six under par with a 298 to win the five-thousand-dollar title.

Medical researcher

Anne C. Rust, Δ-Indiana, has joined the research staff of Eli Lilly and Company, Indianapolis, as an assistant biochemist. Anne received her Bachelor of Science degree in medical technology last spring. She is working on the isolation and characterization of enzymes, especially those responsible for cholesterol metabolism.

FACTS

The

Hearthstone

The Hearthstone from Lake Osceola

Find Your Question and Answer?

Q. What is the Hearthstone?

- A. It is an alumnæ club house where Kappas may enjoy friends of common interests and a gracious home together.

Q. Where is the Hearthstone located?

- A. In Winter Park, four miles from Orlando, in Central Florida. The property, located in one of the most beautiful residential sections of the city has a street frontage of 120 feet, and a lake frontage of 100 feet, on Lake Osceola. There are orange, lemon, grapefruit and tropical trees on the grounds.

Q. What are some of the attractions offered?

- A. Nearby Rollins College offers many cultural advantages, such as an adult education program and the annual Bach Festival. The Florida Symphony Orchestra is considered one of the best ten orchestras in the United States. Conducted boat trips through the chain of lakes, sun-bathing and swimming are pleasant attractions. The Winter Park country club and golf course is located just across the street from the Hearthstone. There are many points of interest within easy driving distance.

Q. Who may be guests at the Hearthstone?

- A. All Kappas are welcome from the day of initiation. Husbands, mothers or other adult relatives may accompany a Kappa and share accomodations.

Q. How much does it cost to stay at the Hearthstone?

- A. The Boyd Hearthstone is a non-profit operation. The rates established cover the operating cost, insurance on building, equipment replacements and maintenance. The rates depend on the time of year and the length of stay. They include excellent meals, maid service and parking space for cars. For specific details write the manager.

Q. How long does the clubhouse remain open?

- A. Special rates are offered for extended stays. Year round occupancy is encouraged and desired. At present it is open from October to April 15—longer if there are sufficient reservations. Write to the manager for particulars and rates.

Q. How do I make reservations?

- A. For reservations or additional information, write to the manager of the Hearthstone, Mrs. George Losey, 800 Interlachen, Winter Park, Florida. Phone number for the Hearthstone: 3-2091.

Q. When shall I make my reservation?

- A. Send it in to-day!

Kappas of Kappa Province

has 11 active members in Santa Rosa, with 18 more living in other nearby communities, Sonoma, Napa, Mendocino and Lake counties.

Known as "the city designed for living," Santa Rosa was Luther Burbank's chosen spot, ideal in climate, with rich soil for gardens. Hub of the Redwood empire, it is known for scenic beauty.

Among their accomplishments: they started the local Panhellenic group, sponsored a mother-daughter tea. They make doll kits for children in the County hospital wards, ill with TB, rheumatic fever, cerebral palsy (kit includes doll, box, materials, ribbons, rick-rack, needles, thread, scissors, etc.). They also make jig saw puzzles for boys in hospitals, and do them at meetings.

They raised funds with rummage, and gave two-thirds to Rose McGill, and one-third to Delta Chi chapter. For fun events, they entertain their husbands at Christmas, hold a family barbecue in the summer and observe Founders' Day each October 13. Meetings are once a month, in the evenings.

San Jose association, this year contributes the president of the Northern area council of California, Marilyn Zeller Linn, Δ X-San Jose. The association, chartered March 15, 1949, functioned as a club from February 28, 1947. It is located in the vineyard section of the state.

Very enthusiastic, and with a firm belief in Kappa ideals, Marilyn is leading her group with clear vision. Goal for the year, is a $500 gift for the Delta Chi chapter house corporation. They plan to raise the sum with a rummage sale, auction, dinner dance, and bridge luncheon.

Founders' Day was observed with the actives at Delta Chi. An auction in March, of handiwork, and an humorous parade of spring bonnets are features of the year's program. Their local philanthropy is the Visiting Nurse's association. They have 73 members devoted to Delta Chi, serving on the house board, acting as advisers.

Carmel club, chartered May 31, 1947, at this famous art colony and site of equally famous Pebble Beach and Cypress Point golf clubs where the annual Bing Crosby golf tournament is held, holds four meetings a year. Its members come from Fort Ord, Hollister, Monterey, Pacific Grove, Salinas, Monterey Peninsula, and number 28, although it is a fluctuating membership due to the military installations.

Their interest is the Council for Retarded Children. Founders' Day is always an event with the group, and this year's leader was Josephine Hill Adams, Γ M-Oregon State.

Northern San Diego County club was chartered March 12, 1948, and includes Encinitas, Vista, Fallbrook, Escondido, Ocean-side, Carlsbad, and Del Mar (all ocean front communities bordering the Pacific). Formed to facilitate recommendations for girls going to college from the area, it now has 20 members. Ruth Shepard Brown, Y-Northwestern, is president.

Pomona Valley club, with 14 members, was chartered March 26, 1947, to facilitate recommendations from this area. It covers Claremont, Covina, Glendora, LaVerne, Ontario, Pomona, San Dimas and Upland. Scattered membership prevents many meetings, but five are held during a year.

They participated in the Southern area council's Kappazaar, however, and plan to again. Margaret Bolding is president, Patricia Fulton Yetter, Σ-Nebraska, secretary.

Riverside-San Bernardino, locale of the renowned Mission Inn, includes Redlands, Elsinore and Fontana, now has 16 paid members. Janet Morgan Vaughan, B Δ-Michigan, is secretary-treasurer, and Margaret Watts Laivelle, X-Minnesota, is president.

They contribute to the Casa Colina Crippled Children, each year, and provided the cookie bar at the Kappazaar. They were organized February 9, 1942, to stimulate recommendations from the area.

San Luis Obispo, about 123 miles north of Santa Barbara, center of a fertile agricultural and fruit growing area has a club which was founded November 29, 1947, with eight members. They hold about four meetings a year, and are organized principally to assist with recommendations.

However, the area is growing rapidly, and it is anticipated that when more Kappas move there, they will have a very much larger Kappa program. At present, it is a little far for them to attend either Northern or Southern California area council meetings. Nancy Lee Nichols Harris, B M-Colorado, is president.

Sierra Foothills, also a club chartered April 21, 1948, has 16 members. This is the peach country. It includes Marysville north to Chico, Grass Valley, Colfax, Oroville, and Yuba City.

The group is active with recommendations, having two chairmen due to the widely scattered area, Leone Ferguson Rhodes, Γ Z-Arizona, Rt. 1, Yuba City, and Martha Letto Martin, Θ-Missouri, 114 Citrus avenue, Chico. They hold four meetings a year—and work on magazine subscriptions to aid the Rose McGill fund.

Margaret Keach Williamson, I-DePauw, is president; Mary Jane Kennedy Norgren, Δ H-Utah, the secretary.

South Bay Area, the scenically famous stretch of ocean and residential vistas from Long Beach to Santa Monica, with 20 members, was chartered January 21, 1947. A rotating "basket" raises funds, and the Salvation Army is the special local philanthropy. Helen Waddell Rea, B H-Stanford, is president.

Southern Alameda County, with 15 members, was chartered February 8, 1954, under Mary Quinn Schetter, K-Hillsdale, director of alumnae for Kappa province at that time. President is Ruth Thompson Perry, Γ Θ-Drake.

Organized to help with recommendations from the area, they hold one meeting a month, and attend Northern area council meetings. Child psychology is one of their interests, as they are mostly young mothers.

Stockton Area, chartered March 29, 1948, is located midway between Fresno and Sacramento. They have aided their local rehabilitation center, with a $20 donation, despite the small membership of ten last year. They raised the money with a dessert bridge.

Shifting population has made them change officers this year, but it is their hope that membership soon may be more stabilized.

Whittier and North Orange, chartered March 19, 1947, with 30 members, located close to Los Angeles, has a very fine Junior College in its town. They contribute to the El Monte Lexington avenue home for spastic children ($125), and make physical therapy animals for the children. They also aid with parent education in connection with spastic children, and were very active in the Kappazaar for the Child Guidance Clinic of Los Angeles.

A gift of $100 to Delta Chi chapter was given this past year. A rummage sale, and portrait raffle raised funds for their projects.

Arcadia, newest alumnae association, was chartered August 31, 1954. Starting out with 40 members, this group gives promise of enthusiastic interest in Kappa projects both locally and nationally.

It fills the need for an association in the rapidly growing areas of Arcadia, Sierra Madre, Temple City, Monrovia, El Monte, Duarte, and Rosemead.

An unique feature of the California Kappa alumnae, is the division into Northern and Southern area councils. Founded in 1949, the Southern area council came into being at the inspiration of the late Marion Howell Tompkins, Δ A-Penn State, Pasadena president and former Kappa province director of chapters.

The Northern area council followed the next November, with Edgarita Webster Wood, then province director of alumnae (or province vice-president as the office then was known) calling the first meeting.

In the fifth year now, the area council meetings are a wonderful way to exchange ideas. Following convention at Jasper Park, both Southern and Northern areas held meetings with their province director of alumnae, inviting Kappa groups which were unable to send delegates. These proved a real stimulus to the year's program in each group represented.

Southern area council also held the joint Founders' Day observance, for the first time, and is deep in plans once again for a Kappazaar, to benefit the Child Guidance Clinic of Los Angeles. Yes—a warm heart is Kappa, and throughout Kappa province, there is a constantly growing feeling that "Kappa IS for a lifetime," with alumnae responsible for carrying on ideals first learned in college days.
