Letters to the Editor:

Dear Diane,

The article in The Key, Fall, 1979, "Anorexia Nervosa" by Hilde Bruch, M.D. has been a turning point in our daughter's life. I read it quite casually at the time, last fall, but several key symptoms remained with me. Our daughter, it turned out, had these same symptoms and with the invaluable help of NAAS (The National Anorexia Aid Society Inc.) located in Columbus, the medical help we were able to enlist and of course, with our daughter's will to become well and free of this life threatening illness, we count ourselves among the blessed!

Thanks to the enlightened doctors who treat anorexia and with the support of the NAAS — your article has touched more lives than you may know.

With deep appreciation,

Ginger Stephan, BN - Ohio State

I just received my Key and enjoyed reading it as I always do. I was especially interested in the article on "Choices" about the career programs of members of Kappa.

However, I have wondered if there has ever been any kind of survey done on how many Kappas are in aviation? I got my license in 1976 and have found two other Kappas here with theirs. It would be interesting to see how many of the sisters are in this field. We have doctors, lawyers, merchants, and chiefs. Do we have any pilots?

Recently, to celebrate the 50th year of women in aviation, the AA's (Women's pilot organization) put out an interesting year book which I am sure has been put into the Smithsonian's Museum of aviation. How many Kappas are listed there? Amelia Erhardt started the group with 98 other women pilots. At this writing there may be 5,000 members internationally.

This was just a passing observation — thought you might be interested in following up.

Dear Mrs. Graf,

After reading your interesting article about Kappa song books in The Key, I wondered if you would be interested in one more? The one I have, a hard cover blue on blue, "Songs of K.K.G." "Fifth Edition, published at Cincinnati, OH, 1921, under the direction of Carolyn L. McGowan, custodian with Beta Rho Chapter and Cincinnati Alumnae. I will be happy to send it to you.

Helen Garrison Picton, BPΔ

Dear Kay Graf,

Your article, "Historically Speaking," in the summer edition of The Key has given me the greatest pleasure! I am the one who produced the 1960 Songs of Kappa Kappa Gamma, and I appreciate the fact that you seem to understand what I was trying to do with that book. Of course, I realize the flaws in it, but, as you know, there had been no published Kappa songs since Catherine Christie's excellent, but small, volume in 1945. A more complete book had not been published since 1932. I think this was why the chapters started out "on their own" for songs and contributes to the lack of unity in general singing today.

Bonnie D. Adams, BM - Colorado

On October 6, 1942, 776 women assembled at Smith College Northampton, Mass., to begin training in an astonishing new program — women officers in the Navy. The former members of the pioneer midshipman class might look back at their lives and see how being a naval officer changed their lives.

Two members of that group, Lt. Dean Frazier Johnson and (j.g.) Carol McConell Wells, are focusing attention on their former classmates. Dr. Johnson is a sociologist and Mrs. Wells is an archivist. They hope to obtain the addresses of as many members of the first midshipman class as possible, and from these addresses schedule interviews or obtain replies to questionnaires. All information will be kept confidential and the anonymity of participants will be preserved. Data on careers, family life, income, health, citizenship, and other activities will be obtained. Out of this research may come answers to the question, "Does military service have a beneficial or detrimental effect on the lives of women?"

Anyone who was in the first class of women officer candidates who knew a former WAVES officer, is urged to write or call: Lt. Dean F. Johnson or Ms. Carol M. Wells, PO Box 3577, Northwestern State University, Natchitoches, Louisiana 71457. Telephone (318) 357-5901. Researchers are available for interviews by telephone or video tape.

Dear Director of Philanthropies,

On the back of our mother's Kappa key is engraved Dora Thornton 11-27-05. It is exciting for us to realize that she has been a Kappa for 75 years especially since we know how much it has always meant to her. She was twice president of BE — Texas and a founder of the Ft. Worth Alumna Association.

She always said that she didn't pressure family members to pledge Kappa, but the fact remains that many of us followed her example. First, her younger sister Pauline Thornton Waring, BE, about 1907; then her niece, Katherine Thornton Willett, BE, about 1919; then her daughter, Elizabeth Boswell Bronson, BE, 1935; then her other daughter, Pauline Boswell Fosdick, 1941; then a granddaughter, Elizabeth Bronson Wiggins, FB - New Mexico, 1965, chapter treasurer and vice president, and then another granddaughter, Deborah Fosdick, H - Wisconsin, 1968, house president. Her only other granddaughter attended Austin College where there was no Kappa chapter, so Mother's record is 100%.

If Mother were able to make such decisions, we feel that she would be delighted to give ten dollars for every year she has been a Kappa and that she would want it to go to Kappa's work in rehabilitation. Her check for $750 is enclosed.

Polly Boswell Fosdick

CHALLENGE — To Help the Disabled Become Independent

By: Marjorie Moree Keith,

GA - Kansas State, Director of Philanthropies

Cover: The United Nations has declared 1981 as the International Year of the Disabled Person and because of Kappas commitment to the field of Rehabilitation the cover pictures were selected. Helping others to help themselves is the goal of rehabilitation projects to be featured throughout the world. Dr. Tim Nugent, director of the Division of Rehabilitation Education at the University of Illinois, has loaned his slides to The Key. Row 1 — top row, left to right: A blind student studying test materials by talking book or tape built in to a regular library table which he shares with sighted able bodied people and sighted wheelchair people; Jill Smith, a young lady born without arms or legs dispatching a vehicle via radio; A long ramp added to a very old and difficult church to make it independently and safely accessible; A young lady in a wheelchair functioning independently in a kitchen appropriately designed; Don Grazier unable to use arms or legs handling a telephone with 50 lines and taking notes while writing with his mouth; Social recreation (able bodied men and women and wheelchair men and women participating in volleyball game in a local park); The Assembly Hall (used for sporting events, 3-ring circus, opera, drama, concerts, convocations with 8 ramps to the upper concourse and the lower concourse accessible by ground level approach); A mother in a wheelchair talking with her daughter who is sitting on her lap; A severely disabled student in a wheelchair on Graduation Day, in cap and gown; A blind person traveling independently on a public sidewalk keeping up with the general population; A young lady in a wheelchair on a dock with able bodied friends at a lake; A severely visually impaired student reading a text on a special closed circuit television apparatus that magnifies the print 33 times, allowing for the individual's independence; Football Stadium (interior showing hundreds of individuals in wheelchairs sitting 25 rows up where they can see the football plays and the band formations, fully integrated with other spectators); A father in a wheelchair visiting with an able bodied friend while his children enjoy the out-of-doors and the lake; Same bus (wheelchair individual leaving after disembarking from bus). (Lift will level with any surface from a foot below street level to the level of the floor. Entire operation takes 4½ seconds); A blind student studying with the assistance of three special pieces of equipment — a talking calculator, a Braille writer and an Opticon which reads print without the assistance of a second party; Wheelchair track (finish of the women's 440 yard race at the National Games held on the indoor track at the University of Illinois).

Kappas can make a world of difference. The volunteer hours given, the funds raised for equipment, the quest for accessibility and acceptance of rehabilitation, plus the important scholarship grants to train the very best people to work for the future — these are major philanthropic projects of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

"Signs of the Time"

Incorporating the art of dance, mime, body movement, facial expression and music, Diane Jones and Cindy Tanaka, both EΞ - California at Northridge, illustrate to audiences of all ages how music can be seen as well as heard. Without uttering a sound, Cindy and Diane transform the lyrics of a song into visual pictures in the air. Each program is carefully geared to meet the needs and interests of a particular audience. Although the show may seem to be purely entertaining, it is not. There is an important lesson in human awareness to be learned by all. They have chosen songs to illustrate the beauty of American Sign Language, and to also emphasize the fact that Signs are an important means of communication used by many of the 13 million hearing-impaired individuals in the United States today.

What started out to be a totally volunteer venture has led "Signs of the Time" to be recognized by many of Southern California's Performing Arts Companies. Included are Inter-group Cultural Awareness Program, Open House at the Hollywood Bowl, Los Angeles Children's Museum Festival and A Very Special Arts Festival to name a few. Cindy and Diane have created and produced a unique art form . . . beyond words!

Challenge is a word which makes us shift into gear — a summons to leave our armchairs and act. A challenge is also the opportunity to solve a problem. This year, 1981 declared the International Year of the Disabled Person by the United Nations, is a Kappa challenge through our Rehabilitation projects — an opportunity to offer real help and concern.

Look at your community or neighborhood to see how you can be of service to those who are disabled. At the Rehabilitative Services Center, University of Illinois, they are committed to helping the disabled to help themselves become independent and self-sufficient. Can we as alumnae members accept this challenge and give our assistance to those who are less fortunate?

Can we accept the challenge which Ruth Johnson Holden, ΔA - Penn State, our 1980 Achievement Award recipient, offered to us in providing the deaf with instruments to hear the great music of the symphonies? Or can we distribute and sign Organ Donor Cards for those who are desperately in need of a kidney? Imagine listening when you can't hear, or trying to read a book when you can't see?

Disability is not always the loss of a limb, one of our senses, or the ability to communicate. How can an elderly person carry groceries in both arms and maintain balance? Or think of the frustration of not being able to drive to church, just because you have reached the age when your license will not be renewed.

The opportunity which results from the challenge enables us to set our goals to include those who do not have the same privileges or capabilities through no fault of their own. Since we in Kappa have accepted the broad challenge of rehabilitation, this is our opportunity to show our communities and neighborhoods that we do care. Let us support those who need us, so that they too can become contributing members of our society.

It's Your CHOICE.....

The career program of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity, CHOICES, is ready, willing and able to serve the membership as an active network filled with career information. In response to a resolution of the 1976 General Convention, a program has been established to further the awareness of both actives and alumnae of available career choices as well as being a catalyst in the matching-up of Kappas in similar career fields and geographic locations.

The information from the Loyalty Fund cards has been entered into a data bank and several thousand members are currently coded for easy access. This information will assist both prospective employers and employees in their respective searches regarding career opportunities. Letters have already been answered that request the names of individuals with specific career objectives who reside in certain geographic areas. Local alumnae groups, active chapters and individuals may utilize the CHOICES career data bank to identify people in career areas. Once these Kappas are identified, they may become resource people when planning career programs locally or when searching for job placement in another locality.

In addition to the data bank, the CHOICES Career Committee has compiled alumnae and chapter career programs, bibliographies, self-analysis materials and other career-related items in a resource file. An explanation of available materials in the resource file as well as the costs are available by returning the coupon on the next page.

The career information is a significant portion of our entire career program and network. It will only work if each member responds with her current career — we're counting on YOU (just like the census) we really want to know what you are doing! We encourage you to let us know of pertinent changes in your career profile so our files will be timely. Every member receives the Loyalty Fund mailing every year — do return the card even if you are not making a contribution at the time.

I am scholarship chairman for Epsilon Omicron Chapter at U.C. Davis, and this year my committee has started a scholarship bulletin board. Also, since we have a "club" of seniors, I thought the "careers" information would be helpful. There has been definite interest expressed for this information and I would appreciate if you could send me a copy and any charge for the copying and mailing.

I just finished reading the career article in the Winter 1978 issue of The Key with the career report on communication. I am a journalism major at the University of Kansas and a member of Omega Chapter and I am very interested in any information on communication careers.

I will graduate next May with a degree in magazine journalism. At this point I am at a loss on where to start hunting for jobs. I really want to work on a magazine of some sort — public relations or city magazines — and am willing to move where opportunity calls as I hope to someday work in New York on a national magazine.

I am hoping you can send me some information on possible openings, or people whom I should contact about career placement in the journalism field. This is a highly competitive field and I think getting my foot in the door will be the hardest part. I thank you for your time and help. Kappa has helped me in so many ways and will always be a very special part of my life.

Shelly Coker

I cannot commend Kappa enough for their clear perception of the need for information on career development. Your enrichment of the lives of your alumnae as well as actives who will soon enter the job market is very admirable. Thank you so much for sending me this material.

Shirley Nason

I am an alumna of California State University at Northridge with a B.A. degree in Psychology. I have been employed as a claims examiner at an insurance company and most recently as an assistant buyer in a department store. I am making a career change into the field of Personnel Management. I have one more class to take before I complete the Personnel Management certificate program at U.C.L.A. Extension School.

I am finding it most difficult to enter the field of Personnel Management. I would appreciate it if you would send me the materials I have requested on the enclosed form. I think that the names and addresses of Kappas who have been written up in The Key or are in the career network under the occupations of Administration, Management, and Personnel would be very valuable to me. Thank you for your cooperation.

While reading the Summer 1980 edition of The Key, I came across the articles about the Kappa Career Directory. I am a new resident in the Chicago area, and am beginning to look for a position in the public relations, employee relations, advertising, or marketing fields. Could you please send me any information you have regarding opportunities in this field in the Chicago area? I'm a May 1980 graduate of Texas Christian in communications.

I am a recent graduate from the University of Denver where I obtained my Master of Arts degree in art history and museum training. I am presently seeking a career in an art museum or an art auction firm. My main field of interest is Far Eastern art, but I also have an excellent background in European art. I am writing to you because I understand that the National Headquarters now maintains a data bank for career resources. I would appreciate it if you could please send me the names and addresses of other Kappas who are presently employed in my field of interest so that I might contact them. Thank you very much for your assistance.

Let Kappa Be Your Connection!

Job Placement: Ten Turn-Offs

- 1 Poor personal appearance
- 2 Lack of interest and enthusiasm — a passive or indifferent attitude.
- 3 Over-emphasis on money — interest only in best dollar offer.
- 4 Condemnation of past employers.
- 5 Failure to look at interviewer when conversing.
- 6 Arrival late for the interview.
- 7 Failure to express appreciation for the interviewer's time.
- 8 Failure to ask questions about the job.
- 9 An overbearing attitude — being overly aggressive, conceited, authoritative.
- 10 An evident lack of career planning, purpose or goals.

Patterns in Progress

Over two hundred years ago the United States became a new and separate nation because its people felt a strong need to be free to conduct their lives according to their own inclinations. Simultaneously, the students of the young country felt a vital need for a forum in which to exchange ideas and Phi Beta Kappa was formed; dedicated to the concepts of friendship, morality and literature.

When women entered institutions of higher education in the mid 1800s, they felt the desire to prove themselves equally fit and capable of entering into literary exercises and debates. And so, fraternities for women began, with Kappa Kappa Gamma among the earliest.

Louise Bennett (Boyd) wrote in her reminiscences of the early days of Alpha Chapter "... the world seemed to be moving too slowly for us." In describing the goals of our founders she said, "Our aim was to draw into the society the choicest spirits among the girls, not only for literary work, but also for social development."

Now, 110 years and 113,000 members later, other Kappas are following the same patterns as they eagerly work to increase and improve the status of women in their emerging roles in society.

The field of education lends itself to these interests and one who is giving a great deal of time, thought and energy to such patterns in progress is Mary Higginbotham Beaven, ΔB - Duke. As Director of the Institute of Leadership Studies of Fairleigh Dickinson University, Teaneck, NJ, Mary supervises a unique and highly successful doctoral program. It is perhaps a clue to Mary's outlook that while she was once turned down for admission to a doctoral program because she was too old, so they said, she now supervises a program whose students are all 30 or older, with one current student enthusiastically involved in a difficult program at age 68!

Daughter of a Kappa, Patsy Flentye Higginbotham, Y - Northwestern, and with two Kappa aunts, Mary grew up north of Chicago. She interrupted her college work at Duke to be married, but later earned her BS, MA and PhD degrees at Northwestern. High school and college teaching was followed by a position as director of a doctoral program in arts and humanities at the University of Massachusetts, then work at Virginia Commonwealth University in the adolescent medical clinic and then her move to her current position.

The doctoral program at FDU began in 1971 and went through a period of change that resulted in the establishment of the institute in 1979. An informative booklet describes the program as being "... intended for professionals engaged in the improvement and deepening of human knowledge and practices. The student's professional employment, challenged by the times, is used as a focal point and laboratory for study, reinforcing the thesis that effective leadership is based on knowledge which is a mixture of theory and practice." In simplistic terms, the program seeks to erase the "ivory tower" aspect of education by combining "book learning" with practical experience. It is designed for mid-life and mid-career transitions where a person can no longer draw on his original training to answer the demands of current professional responsibilities.

For example, the 68 year old student mentioned before is a retired president of a company who received his master's degree in counseling and is now involved in studying pre-retirement counseling in his doctoral program. His own past experiences showed him the need for such a field of study and he plans to use both his studies and his own experience to help others to plan for and adjust to their retirement. Another student only began her undergraduate study at age 47. After finishing her master's she worked in her field for a while but discovered problems and issues she wanted to deal with so she is now enrolled at the institute to enlarge her knowledge and capabilities.

Along with studies in their particular fields of interest, students at the institute are encouraged to investigate the characteristics of leadership. Many of those who enroll have been in varying positions of leadership in their work but their discussions as a group encourage communication across differing age groups and managerial levels. It has been found that interests differ: males look toward the bottom line and demand efficiency while females are more inclined to be interested in people and their reactions. Frequently men and women don't interact very well until they become involved in small group discussions of basic issues and then are able to apply new insights to other situations.

In addition to her work as Director of the Institute of Leadership Studies, Mary Beaven is interested and involved in current trends and opportunities for women. She suggests several ways in which Kappa's career program might expand to better assist our members. For example, most universities have career counseling programs, usually with particular guidelines for older women. Programs can be one day seminars, one week or longer. Why not set up a program through the university, offer enrollment to interested alumnae and hold the meetings in the Kappa house on Saturdays or during a Jan-plan break or in the summer?

Many women have had years of involvement as volunteers, have obtained a great deal of valuable experience and acquired a large background of knowledge and expertise in their areas. While volunteerism has long been a mainstay in the operation of many organizations and institutions, and should continue to be, many volunteers are now feeling uncomfortable with the fact that their valuable efforts do not result in a paycheck. They tend to feel "unworthy" as compared to their wage-earning sisters. Mary suggests that seminars in managerial skills would enable these women to put their abilities to work in paid situations. Many women have skills they don't realize are marketable until someone points them in a direction in which they can apply their learned and innate abilities.

Stop to think for a moment. Kappa is a volunteer organization whose members are using marketable skills daily in their Kappa work. For example, a chapter adviser or a province officer handles many of the following in her position: supervision, organization, personnel, membership recruitment, finance, house management, public relations, education, social graces, inter-relationships, leadership training, planning and running programs, workshops and conventions. Doesn't that sound like someone who is capable of an executive or managerial position in the wage-earning world?

Another of Mary's ideas centers around an alumnae group planning the program for the year on a theme of work for women. With careful planning and detailed organization and follow-through, they might secure university sponsorship and, by including carefully selected readings and perhaps a few discussions led by a professional, the participants could earn course credits. As we discussed this idea, Mary asked why there couldn't be a different kind of Kappa chapter; one devised specifically for older women who had returned to pursue their education. She cited the fact that at the University of North Carolina 20 percent of the women enrolled were older, non-traditional students. Her suggestion was for a chapter not of Kappa alumnae but of new Kappas who just happen to be older women. Instead of traditional undergraduate chapter activities and programs, their chapter meetings might involve discussion of mutual problems regarding finances, studies or families, or might serve as a forum for a member to present her master's thesis for the education of the others or for their critical commentary. (Do we hear an echo of 1880?) As part of this thinking, Mary admitted that she had sent a blue sheet for a fictitious 49 year old rushee to friends who are advisers at two different Kappa chapters. The response was a surprised "You must be kidding!" But with twenty years remaining in this century, we may find that the Greek world will provide another type of fraternity experience in the future. After all, it was some years before alumnae membership was recognized as a classification of member in Kappa history. Why not "active alumnae"?

The possibilities are endless and Mary Beaven allows herself free rein in envisioning roles that women might fill in years to come. A slim, vital woman who has two sons, one in high school and another who works in New York, Mary puts in long hours in her office, participating in seminars, etc., but also finds time to enjoy singing, playing the piano, hiking and creative writing. When asked if she ever slept, she replied solemnly, "Oh, yes, every night!" The time which she gave to our talk, with no appearance of pressure, strengthened my impression of a capable woman whose interest in the characteristics of leadership stems from her own abilities, training and positive outlook on life and the opportunities it can provide for people, but especially for women of all ages and backgrounds.

In The History, Catherine Schroeder Graf, BN-Ohio State, wrote that college societies "... were the democratic expression of the new order — the young energetic nation and its enfranchised individuals. ... The entire fraternity system strives to adapt, within the framework of its founding purposes, to the modern times of each college generation. Fraternity members continue to reach out — to take part in campus and community projects and philanthropic endeavors — to give of themselves. The system does not exist by exclusion, but rather by inclusion. For us it means the inclusion of all that is good, beautiful and true—recycled again and again to the wider world in which we live."

It means Kappas of every age and in every possible situation recognizing the qualities of leadership that the fraternity builds and encourages and providing further opportunities for growth and fulfillment.

Progress Noted in Microwave Cooking

Across the United States, microwave cooking is synonymous with "Barbara Harris." Barbara Duncan Harris, IO — Wyoming, is the author of Let's Cook Microwave, her self-published book which has sold 250,000 copies. Known as the "Microwave Bible," it makes microwave cooking fun, easy and foolproof.

Barbara has also been microwave columnist for Bon Appetit Magazine, and she wrote the Culinary Arts Institute Microwave Cookbook. But writing is merely the tip of Barbara's iceberg. From her home in Portland, Oregon, she runs "Microwave Cooking Services," and travels extensively across America and Canada teaching clinics and seminars.

Elected five times to Who's Who in American Women. Barbara has been treasurer and vice-president of the International Microwave Power Institute's Cooking Appliance Section (IMPI/CAS). A graduate of the University of Wyoming with a B.S. in Home Economics, she is also active with the American Home Economics Association and Home Economists in Business (HEIB).

Mini feature by Carol Cheney Williamson, ΓΨ-Maryland

After teaching high school home economics and journalism in Lander, Wyoming, she became home economist for the American Sheep Producers Council in Denver, Colorado, where she tested and developed recipes using lamb. She also taught cooking schools throughout the United States. As Extension Home Economist for Oregon State University in Portland, she developed a program for low income people that was cited as one of the most successful in the country. She started microwave cooking classes several years ago based on the number of microwave phone calls at the extension office and her own desperate search for simple, no-nonsense information and recipes. The demand for her information created her more than full-time consulting firm in Portland, where many home economists and demonstrators have been trained or worked for her.

She has strong feelings about using the microwave in the easiest, most sensible way possible for everyday cooking. She is known for her practical approach, emphasizing "the basics" that make microwave cooking easy, even for "the gourmet." Barbara developed techniques applicable to all foods and recipes. Her contacts at classes and through correspondence have proven to her that the average cook is not a gourmet cook, and that most people cook to please their families in simple, fast, easy ways. She uses only foods that would be found in most kitchens and encourages the use of the microwave by the total family for the time-saving and convenience features it offers.

Editor's Note: If you would like a "Kappa-autographed" copy of Let's Cook Microwave, send a check for $6.00 to: Microwave Cooking Services, P.O. Box 2992, Portland, Oregon 97208. Please specify that you are a Kappa. Teaching guides and other microwave information are also available from this address.

In a future Key article, we want to feature cookbooks written by other Kappas or alumnae groups. If you have information for this article, please send to Features Editor CiCi Williamson, 13010 Queensbury Lane, Houston, Texas 77079.

We also hope to review books written by Kappa authors. If you have information for this article, please send to Book Editor Judy Colven, Box 33, Sun Valley, Idaho 83353.

ALUMNAE ACTIVITY . . .

Scottsdale

More than forty members of the Scottsdale (AZ) Alumnae Association gathered to honor Alphonsine Clapp Howard,  $\Sigma$  - Nebraska, on her 80th birthday and 60th anniversary as a member of Kappa. A charter member of the association and its first president, Alphonsine has served the Fraternity in many capacities; as local chairman of the colonization of Epsilon Delta — Arizona State, and as Kappa Province Director of Alumnae, and is still active on the scholarship committee. Enjoying the celebration (facing the camera) are Helen Jaffurs Chacheris,  $\Delta E$  - Carnegie Mellon, Thelma Sandstrom Dunbar,  $B\Omega$  - Oregon, Alphonsine, Ruth Galen Robb,  $B\Phi$  - Montana, Joan Lillevig Myers,  $\Gamma Z$  - Arizona and (left foreground) Joyce Miller Pauer,  $BK$  - Idaho.

Clearwater Bay

Members of the Clearwater Bay (FL) Alumnae Association work constantly to make life clearer and brighter for members of their community. Channel Markers, an organization which serves the visually handicapped, was the happy recipient of an optometric chair to be used for vision screening tests. As a result of optometric testing and reevaluation, many individuals have benefited from new prescriptions, telescopic or electronic aids. Local alumnae were particularly touched by the story of one nearly blind woman who was so happy to be able to use a needle again that she sewed a button on, cut it off and sewed it on again repeatedly. The purchase of the chair, for over \$3,000, added to other gifts from the Clearwater Bay Kappas and the story appeared in a local newspaper in a column appropriately headed "Good for You". Inspecting their gift are Helen Mull Harrison,  $BN$  - Ohio State; Jean Righter Hecht,  $P\Delta$  - Ohio Wesleyan, alumnae president; Kathryn Irwin Thornton,  $\Gamma\Omega$  - Denison; Helen Hoskinson Jones,  $BI$  - Swarthmore, and Dorothy Harrison Blackledge,  $\Delta$  - Indiana.

St. Petersburg

With forty paid members and an average attendance of fifteen, Kappas in the St. Petersburg (FL) Alumnae Club show that a small group can think big. They gave $300 to Kappa, divided equally among the scholarship fund, Rose McGil Epsilon Zeta-Florida State and Epsilon Phi-Florida U. In addition, $200 went to PARC an organization which provides training and services to more than a thousand retarded persons in the county.

Bert Muller, president of PARC, accepted the check from Carolyn McSpence,  $\Delta M$  - Connecticut, ways and means chairman; Edythe Dethlefs Ibold,  $BP\Delta$  - Cincinnati, one of PARC's founders; Helen Keepers Welch,  $\Delta A$  - Pennsylvania State, Marguerite Hartshorn LaMar,  $\Phi$  - Boston; and Mozelle Sawyer Bell,  $\Delta I$  - Michigan State, alumnae president. These energetic Kappas raised the funds through their third annual participation in a rummage sale at a local flea market.

Raleigh

It wasn't just a birthday party, it was a Kappa gathering when Myrtle Miller Upshaw celebrated her 96th birthday on October 1 at the home of her daughter, Nancy Upshaw Edgerton.

A group of Raleigh alumnae gathered to celebrate the presentation of a 50-year pin to Mrs. Upshaw by Raleigh alum president, Dorothea Lowendick. A graduate of Denison University in Ohio, Mrs. Upshaw's local sorority chapter became affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma after she had graduated and had moved to Raleigh. But she returned to her chapter house, was initiated into  $\Gamma\Omega$ , and became an active alumnae organizer in the area serving as Province Director of Alumnae from 1935 to 1940, for Lambda Province.

There were plenty of birthday cards and congratulatory notes on hand for the festivities. Mrs. Upshaw greeted friends who may have known her from the time she was a teacher and principal of Murphy Elementary, a school in downtown Raleigh. She had the distinction of calling the first PTA meeting in Raleigh back in 1909.

Daughter Nancy Edgerton, also a former PDA, is currently serving as an advisor to Delta Beta chapter at Duke University (her alma mater) and will serve as this year's Nominating Committee Chairman for the Lambda Province elections.

Kappa Belles

Kappas are active in many organizations and three who had not known each other before were delighted to meet and exchange ideas when members of the executive committee of the American National Cowbelles met in Scottsdale, AZ. The organization is the 17,000-member auxiliary of the National Cattlemen's Association, whose members work to promote the beef industry and for appropriate legislation. The occasion for their meeting was the National Beef Cook-Off, sponsored by the Cowbelles, judged by Julia Child, Muriel Ellis and the food editors of the Chicago Tribune and Redbook, and aired on "Good Morning, America". Kappa committee members are Mildred Riddle Hartigan, ΓΚ - William & Mary; Natalie Chalower McElroy, X - Minnesota, and Ann Drummond Wooley, ΔΣ - Oklahoma State.

Tan-Tar-A Friendships

Kappa Province delegates to the 1978 national convention at Tan-Tar-A, Lake of the Ozarks, enjoyed each other's company so much that they have held a reunion each summer since. Continuing and enlarging their friendship are Louise Danforth Muenstermann, ΓΙ - Washington Univ., Northern Orange County; Ann Loken Rhodes, ΒΙΙ - Washington, Southern Orange County; Lesley Pearsall Winn, ΒΩ - Oregon, Long Beach; Diane Gadberry Fielder, ΓΑ - Kansas State, San Diego; Nancy Sauer Miller, ΔΤ - U.S.C., La Jolla; Sandra Schmiesing Haggerty, ΔΞ - Carnegie-Mellon, Glendale-Burbank; Pat Sutherland Carver, also ΒΙΙ, South Bay; and Margaret Avery Brom, also ΔΞ, Los Angeles.

Tucson

An annual event for Tucson (AZ) Alumnae Association members and Gamma Zeta-Arizona chapter members is the pledge dessert. Because the chapter took 62 pledges this fall, the event was moved from an alumnae home to the newly remodelled chapter house. Spring pledges attended, along with the large new class, and 75 alumnae brought the number to a record crowd. Nancy Kaufmann Lynn, Tucson alumnae president and a ΓΖ, conducted the meeting (top) and the pledges stood to be recognized (bottom) as actives, pledges and alumnae admired each other and the house.

Baton Rouge

The Kappa house at Louisiana State was the scene of an exciting reunion of 18 Delta Iotas who attended LSU circa 1950; some of whom had not seen each other for 30 years. The Capitol House Hotel, where many a Greek dance had been held in past years, was the place where Delta Iotas from as far away as Virginia, Texas, Tennessee and Mississippi unpacked their bags but spent little time sleeping! Seeing the chapter house was a thrill for many, since sorority houses were not allowed on the campus until 1958. Meeting the house director, singing Kappa Grace, lunching with the actives and being escorted on a tour of the lovely house made a perfect day and everyone is looking forward five years to a bigger reunion when the chapter celebrates its fiftieth anniversary.

Names in the News . . .

Jayne Harper Plank, GX - George Washington, is serious about her role in politics but feels that too often women in politics take themselves too seriously. Mayor of Kensington (MD), Jayne says she once jokingly remarked that her husband played tennis; she played politics. The women in the audience did not find it funny. Town council member since 1967 and mayor since 1974, Jayne prefers to avoid the "feminist" label and says she runs not as a woman but as the most qualified candidate and feels that women who proceed this way are those who are most likely to get ahead and stay ahead. Jayne has served on the board of directors of the National League of Cities and in 1978 was the first woman president of the Maryland Municipal League. Asked to run for Congress, Jayne replied that she was not ready now but does aspire to higher office in the future. Former research analyst, crypt-linguist and teacher, now the owner of a real estate business in the Capitol area, wife and mother of five sons, Jayne is a people-oriented person who believes that personal contact with constituents, legislators and government administrators is essential.

Spring Asher & Wicke Chambers

Wicke Oliver Chambers, ΔY - Georgia, and her partner Spring Asher, a Kappa Alpha Theta from Cornell, are co-producers of "Super 2", an award-winning show for children on WSB-TV/2, Atlanta. Partners for 11 years in television, books and newspapers, they have won 4 Emmys, a national award from Action for Children's Television for outstanding children's programming and an Iris Award for the most outstanding children's program in the top 25 television markets.

Formerly acquaintances from working together at Atlanta's High Museum, they met while Christmas shopping, stopped to rest, talked a bit and were involved in writing (Wicke) and illustrating (Spring) "Atlanta: A Guide for Teens and Tots". Publishers weren't interested so they borrowed $1500 from their husbands, published the book themselves and paid back the loan in three months. A cookbook followed and now their newest is "The Money Making Job Book for Kids."

Changed from "Super 2" to "Time Out for Kids" with an eye toward syndication, their show features high-energy music, quick cuts, fast stories that grab a child quickly and then release him for another, always using the learning-can-be-fun approach. Guest appearances supplement the regular cast of three teen-agers and the show has been described as a fine example of a dedicated effort to expand the horizons of children's television.

With one husband and three children each (2 boys and 1 girl a piece) Wicke and Spring are experienced in knowing what children like and want. Their partnership began when the oldest of the 6 children was 8; he is now 19. Wicke says their business has grown as their children have grown up and out. "It has been a great arrangement for two women who want a family and a career."

Mary Branton

Mary Shaw Branton, Θ - Missouri, was elected president of the Jackson County Historical Society. She will direct four nationally recognized projects: The Research Library and Archives in Independence Square, offering service to history students; the John Wornall House-Museum in Kansas City; the 1859 Jail Museum in Independence; and the Jackson County Historical Society Journal. Active in many volunteer positions, Mary is presently serving on the governing boards of Columbia College and Children's Mercy Hospital. Past activities include Family and Children's Services, Crippled Children Nursery School and the Kansas City Junior League. Wife, and mother of two daughters, Mary recently retired as chairman of the board of the Plaza Bank and Trust Company.

Margaret LuVanne Doty Hatch, ΓΛ - Middlebury, has produced a film entitled "The Longest Stride", distributed by Mass Media Ministries of Baltimore, MD. After her husband's death in 1960, Margaret went to work as a volunteer with the legislative office of the women's International League for Peace and Freedom in Washington, DC. While distributing copies of Robert Heilbroner's book The Great Ascent to members of Congress, she became interested in a section of the book that discussed what it would mean to the average American family to live on \$100 a year, as  $\frac{1}{3}$  of the world does. Filmed near her own home in the lovely Hudson Valley of New York, the film uses special effects to show a group gathered at a neighborhood picnic and how their world would change if they lived in a Third World developing country . . . no house, town or government services; poor clothing, furniture and food. The young man who challenges his neighbors to work toward improving conditions for others ends by quoting Christopher Fry . . . "Thank God our time is now/When wrong comes up to face us everywhere,/Never to leave us till we take/The longest stride of soul men ever took . . .".

Mary Jane Kidd

Mary Jane Cole Kidd, ΒΞ - Texas, was honored by Soroptimist International of Glendale (CA) with the "Women Helping Women" Award. Past president of the Oakmont League, which nominated her, she received the first "Woman of the Year" Award from the Glendale Chamber of Commerce in 1972 and in 1973 was given the "Woman of Achievement" Award by the Glendale News-Press. Her services and interests are many, with health care as a prime interest, stemming from her positions as a staff medical secretary and medical record librarian. Also active with the YWCA and the Women's Committee of the Glendale Symphony Orchestra, she opened doors for women in government with her service as a member of the Los Angeles County Grand Jury, Glendale Zoning Board and Planning Commission.

Editor's note: It always tickles me to receive information about special Kappas submitted by their proud husbands. Ray Kidd, executive vice president of Western Association of Food Chains, Inc., wrote that "For a great many years a myriad of interesting Kappa mail has entered our home and, indeed, been highly welcome! On November 3, 1932, a great day for me, I married an incomparable gal. As I read through the note of January 1980 advising Mary Jane of her 50-year award certificate, I felt Kappa Kappa Gamma would be interested in her accomplishments — all in the field of serving her community, in helping people." Thank you, Ray.

Margaret Hatch

Orriette Coiner Sinclair, BK - Idaho, active in the political world for 40 years, was chosen as one of four national electors to represent Idaho at the Republican National Convention. She served as Republican National Committeewoman for Idaho from 1971 through 1980. Orrie's college interests in politics grew through her work in the Wilkie campaign and her later activity in local and county Republican organizations, where she held many offices in various regions, districts and Western State Conferences. In 1978 she received the outstanding Republican worker award from the State Central Committee. As co-chairman for the Bush for President Committee in Idaho, she continued to work hard for her party while still managing to have time for her husband, four children and four grandchildren.

Owl's Eye Glimpses . . .

Pasadena Alumnae Association members are becoming known for their unusual grandchildren. When some of the group visited the San Diego Zoo to meet Maya, the elephant adopted by Florence Gates Baldwin, BH<sup>Δ</sup> - Stanford, Ida Lloyd Crotty, ΓΞ - UCLA, became so enamored of a huge Kodiak bear that she adopted him, i.e. — brought "gourmet" food for him for one year.

Nancy Jones Cassill, BΠ - Washington, is assistant director of UW Alumni Association and Alumni House is now sometimes referred to as "Nancy's Castle". She is involved in developing programs such as the Alumni Lecture Series, Vacation College and Traveling Campus, as well as being responsible for the overall operation of the alumni office. With many years of experience in community improvement projects, Nancy has worked as a member of the Citizens Advisory Committee for the State Department of Social Services and in other civic groups.

Cecilia Hendricks Wahl, Δ - Indiana, was chosen as the ninth winner of the Gertrude Rich Award, an honor that recognizes women who are active in Indiana University alumni relations programs. She has worked as production manager of Purdue University's WBAA radio station, as a grade school teacher in the trust territory of the Pacific Islands, as secretary to the speech and theater department and as assistant to the secretary of the IU Board of Trustees. Active in the Monroe County Historical Society, the Audubon Society and Local Council of Women, Cecilia has served Delta Chapter as an adviser and as houseboard treasurer.

Adele Coryell Hall, Σ - Nebraska, is the first Kansas City United Way volunteer to be named to the United Way of America's Board of Governors. She joins 6 other women and 30 men on the board, which advises the 2,300 independent United Ways nationwide.

Kaki Thomas, ΓΩ - Denison, runs the Bandersnatch, a small student-run coffeeshop on the Denison campus. Formerly dark, uninviting and operating at a loss, it is now attractive and comfortable, while maintaining the traditional menu of bagels and soft drinks. After complaining about the lack of organization when she worked there as a student, Kaki was offered the position of manager and outlined problems ranging from traffic flow to lack of publicity, as well as providing remedies for each problem. University and student government association loans enabled her to carry out her five point program and turn the shop into a popular and financial success.

Molly Tee Leeper Stewart, ΓN - Arkansas, demonstrated Wok cooking for the Shreveport (LA) Alumnae Association. The meal was such a success that Molly was prevailed upon to help with the Christmas Brunch and to demonstrate crepe making for the group.

Jane Cahill Pfeiffer, ΓΨ - Maryland, was unable to attend convention last June to receive her second Alumnae Achievement Award. Fairfield County (CT) Alumnae Association was proud to present the award to Jane at their first fall meeting and were delighted with her interest and enthusiasm during the question and answer period. Jane is shown with Jackie Ballhatchet Downey, Y - Northwestern, alumnae president.

Sue Burkhardt Butler BN - Ohio State, was chosen to serve as president of the Rocky River (OH) Board of Education and Martha Young Miller, Θ - Missouri, is president of the Manhattan (KS) Board of Education.

Anne Wilson, BX - Kentucky, has served as secretary to four presidents of UK. Retired now, she served as president's secretary since 1959 under 4 very diverse personalities. Her other talents in organization and management came out in her position as Kappa's convention treasurer for many years.

Carol Shanesy

Elizabeth Gregory Bell, BX - Kentucky, was the first woman to receive the Liberty Bell Award, presented annually by the Berrien County (MI) Bar Association to an outstanding layman. Betty's "deep concern for children" was cited at the presentation of the award, including her work in mental health.

Hattie Parks Stone, BΞ - Texas, was honored at a party where the Bryan-College Station and Brenham alumnae presented her with her 75-year pin. At 92 she is still very active and recalls many happy memories of Kappa and her chapter. Her daughter, Mary Stone Rankin, also BΞ, and her granddaughter Ruth Rankin Reimann, EA-Texas Christian, have enjoyed wearing her key, engraved with 1905 as her initiation date, and carrying on the tradition of Kappa for 3 generations.

Carol Shanesy, ΓΩ - Denison, is a computer specialist, a senior systems engineer with IBM. At a special ceremony in June 1979, she was honored by the New York City Police Department for "outstanding assistance rendered the latent unit". The system she designed gave a computer the capability of searching the NYPD master fingerprint file of more than 1 million fingerprints and coming up with the single fingerprint to identify a criminal. Using this design, on May 10, 1979 the criminal known as the "Bronx rapist" was positively identified from a single print left at the scene of his last crime.

"As a direct result of the computer program designed by Ms. Shanesy, this individual was identified and arrested and a large contingent of police manpower was restored to the Bronx community.", the supervisor of the fingerprint unit reported to the commanding officer of the Support Services Bureau. "Ms. Shanesy's talent and dedication represent the essence of public service. As a direct result of her efforts, a most dangerous criminal has been removed from the community. Please extend the thanks of all the members of the Identification Section to Ms. Shanesy for a job well done."

Carol was also instrumental in setting up the New York City Police Department's CATCH computer, which is programmed with micro-filmed photographs of known criminals. When a victim or witness can describe his attacker the description is fed into the computer, which then pours forth the photographs in its bank which resemble the description.

Carol earned her M.A. in mathematics from Northwestern, where her mother and aunt were members of Upsilon Chapter. Offered a position by an IBM recruiter, she accepted and has been with the company since 1959.

Fraternity System Thrives

Surely the Greek system has experienced "the best of times, and the worst of times." Have there been flawless years? If so, they probably have occurred at different times on different campuses.

The 1960s and '70s represented the most recent period of stress for fraternities and sororities in general. Even so, Kappa Kappa Gamma installed nearly four times as many chapters as were closed during this time.

War years have proven difficult for some chapters, as members have left to join branches of the service and agencies such as the Red Cross and the USO or to marry and follow their husbands to whatever places they could.

The Fraternity underwent an internal conflict in 1898 when Beta Beta Chapter was requested by Kappa officials to surrender its charter because the number of women on the St. Lawrence campus was considered insufficient for maintenance of a healthy and stable chapter. (At that time there were no provisions for notification of concern, probation, trial, or defense of the group in question. The constitution provided for withdrawal of a chapter if the vote of the Grand Council had been unanimous and two-thirds of the chapters had voted affirmatively.) The girls of Beta Beta reacted with surprise and anger. They brought suit against members of the Grand Council and the editor of The Key in protest of the action that had been taken against them. The litigation, which was given wide publicity in Greek system journals and resulted in the amending of many a constitution in order that a fraternity's right to withdraw a charter should be legally guaranteed, extended from June, 1898, to March, 1900. The Fraternity vote was upheld, in spite of an injunction by the Canton, New York, courts. Beta Beta Chapter was replaced by a local sorority, Zeta Phi, in 1903. In 1914 this local petitioned Kappa for a charter. The petition was granted by vote of the Grand Council, the chapters, and the alumnae associations in 1915. A decision to initiate all alumnae of Zeta Phi into the chapter, now Beta Beta Deuteron, was made at the 1920 Convention. Thus, in time, all wounds were healed.

Most of the problems pertaining to the closing of chapters had, up to this time, been related to anti-fraternity legislation by university administrations or their sponsoring bodies. These were state governments and various denominations of churches, which were responsible for establishing many of our institutions of higher learning. Those chapters that had succumbed to such pressures before the turn of the century were Gamma at Smithson College in Logansport, Indiana; Pi at the University of California in Berkeley (reinstated as Pi Deuteron in 1897); and Alpha at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois. "Secret societies" also were absolutely forbidden on the University of Missouri campus between 1880 and 1884. Theta Chapter, secure in her position as the only national women's fraternity located there, refused to yield to the demands of the faculty and led an underground or sub rosa existence during that troubled time. A very precarious existence it was, with bids, acceptances (all complete with parental permission), and initiations taking place in the most furtive manner. But Theta Chapter survived this administrative opposition and has continued along an uninterrupted pathway since 1875.

Alpha Chapter's blissful infancy was arrested by a decree from the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church declaring that no Greek letter groups should be allowed in educational establishments under its jurisdiction. This edict represented only one facet of an all-member plea to refrain from joining any secret societies. An article, sent to your historian from the chairman of the History Department of Monmouth College records, with some minor editorial deletions, the traumatic events which occurred:

"On my desk now is a ragged and worn bound series of letters written to and from Monmouth College faculty and administrators from 1868 to 1878. Lacking typewriters, carbons, electronic copiers, each letter contained in the bound volume was written in long hand, luckily in very readable and often beautiful Spencerian script. I suspect the letters kept by the college were the originals or first drafts, for there are corrections, lines drawn through sentences, etc. Those sent from the college no doubt were perfect, the originals with corrections becoming the college correspondence files and today the stuff of a little history.

"The first letter of close to a hundred caught my eye for it mentioned my own sorority, Kappa Kappa Gamma. To place it and the rest I will write about in the proper context, I must recount a bit of Monmouth history. Shortly after the end of the Civil War fraternities for men were established on campus. In 1867 a group of 12 coeds formed a secret society called at first I. C. Sorosis Society, later Pi Beta Phi; and in 1870 six girls founded Kappa Kappa Gamma at Monmouth, a school then about two decades old.

"In 1874 the United Presbyterian Church, founder of Monmouth, decided that secret societies were wrong. Members were admonished not to join them and on the U.P. college campuses where fraternities existed the order of the general assembly was to ban them. From 1874 until 1877-78 little was done at Monmouth to end the sway of the secret organizations. They were popular with students. The young president, Dr. David Wallace, was a Beta, as was at least one of his sons. The Beta national magazine even was published at Monmouth. The students knew about the action against social organizations as early as September of 1874 because on the back of a small document entitled 'Programme of Exercises, 1874 and 1875,' are a list of do's and don'ts, expectations of the college from her students. There was the usual mention of attending public worship, forbiddance of the use of intoxicating drinks, as well as card playing. There must be 'no frequenting of drinking, gambling, or billiard saloons . . . the faculty judge balls and dances as improper places of resort for students,' etc., etc. And then there it was, number 7, and new!

"'7. It shall be unlawful for any student of this college, hereafter, to become a member of any secret college fraternity, or to connect with any chapter of such fraternity.' This was a recent addition to the college statutes by the senate at its June meeting.

"By late 1877 and early 1878, pressure on the administration and the faculty grew. In a letter of the time, one male student asked for information on the fraternity matter and was told that the faculty had decided to prohibit pledging in the future. Within one college generation fraternities would be extinct. Eventually members were forbidden to wear their distinctive pins or badges.

Photo of 1878 letter of Alpha Chapter which certifies the formal disbanding of the group

Elizabeth Gowdy Baker, A, who painted the beautiful aquarelle portrait of Tade Hartsuff Kuhns, was reprimanded by the Monmouth College in 1882 for wearing her badge while serving as an art instructor.

"The social groups had tried to reason with the faculty and wrote a letter: 'To the Hon. body, the Faculty of Monmouth College, greetings: After a carful (sic) consideration of the present conditions of affairs in college with regard to fraternities and what we consider to be the proper course for us to persue (sic) hereafter we, the members of the undersigned frats in joint session have decided upon the following as our course of action. We agree to initiate no more members until the senate meets in June next, when we will petition that body to repeal the law existing against frats. In case the law is not repealed we will then consider any proposition you as a fac. may see fit to offer. In consideration that there are no laws in college statutes against wearing badges, and as members of different frats are now known, we will wear our badges until June. Very Respectfully, BΘII, ΣX, KKI, I.C.'

"The faculty reaction to this defiance was prompt: 'Faculty cannot accept this — Must face up to the enforcement of the law.' This appeared in a brief faculty minute attached to the above student petition.

"While the letter is undated, one John B. Walker was dismissed from college for wearing his badge. His abject letter to the faculty exists: 'I hereby petition you to restore me to the rights and privileges of a student at Monmouth College. In making this application I express my sincere regrets for wearing my fraternity badge and I acknowledge that I ought not to have done so. I hereby pledge that I will not do so hereafter. Should you restore me to the rights of a student I ask you to permit me to have my picture taken with my badge. If the faculty consents to this I pledge myself to wear my badge only while I sit for my picture.'

"Parents were interested and concerned, too. Early in 1878 several fathers of I.C.'s threatened to withdraw their daughters from Monmouth and ominously mentioned a return of tuition. They questioned the right of the college to interfere in events outside the classroom, off campus. The faculty response said that the faculty had no hand in making the new law, that it was a senate enactment. 'But it is our duty to execute it and if we do not . . . the senate would put in our place those who would.'

"By the early months of 1878 one proud group after another bowed to circumstances. On March 20, 1878: 'The members of the Monmouth Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity in connection with Monmouth College hereby certify that our chapter has been legally and formally disbanded and the charter and all documents have been placed in the hands of Miss Alice Pillsbury to be held by her in trust and not to be surrendered by her for the purpose of serving said chapter as long as the law against fraternities at Monmouth College is in force.' Five Kappas signed it.

"I.C. followed suit as did each and every other fraternal group. They certified that they had turned over their charters and documents to some member or other. The college men seemed to have given up more quickly than the women. As late as 1880 Lessie Buck identified herself to the faculty as president of I.C. Society. It is known that for some few years thereafter sorority 'rush' was held during summer months and high school girls were pledged. Meetings were held in private homes. Both the I.C. Society and Kappa Kappa Gamma had grown, had expanded with new chapters, had become national, even holding conventions in other states.

"There is a letter in the collection that was addressed 'To Whom It May Concern' (obviously the Monmouth faculty). It was written by Tade Hartsuff, later the legendary Tade Hartsuff Kuhns of early Kappa years and one of the Fraternity's great leaders. She wrote from New Castle, Pennsylvania, on January 26, 1884, and in her note informed those concerned that at the sixth biennial convention of Kappa Kappa Gamma held in Madison, Wisconsin, 'there had been considerable discussion and with the understanding that the alumnae and founders of our Alpha should control and operate such a chapter, moved, seconded, and carried that these alumnae members retain their charter and that Alpha as such be recognized as a chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma.' Tade Hartsuff signed as president.

"Right next to the Hartsuff letter is a very short and succinct note: 'To the faculty of Monmouth College: This is to certify that the Kappa Kappa Gamma Chapter here is an alumnae chapter.' It is not dated. It was signed by Kappa founder Minnie Stewart Nelson (later Field). My guess is that Mrs. Nelson may have attended the Madison convention and gained heart for her group from it.

"A few months after the Hartsuff letter, the Monmouth Alpha members had given up and asked that the initial charter be withdrawn. The year was 1884. The seventh biennial convention with love and sympathy agreed. It was a pro-forma withdrawal of the so-called charter for as nearly as can be ascertained no charter ever existed. There seems to be agreement that some sort of a document was drawn up. No doubt lawyer and Judge Stewart, father of Minnie, helped to give it a legalistic high tone sound and he apparently promised to take it to Springfield on his next trip for registration with the then proper authorities. No such document exists, perhaps never existed. It is possible that Judge Stewart felt that it was unseemly for a document, a charter, written by teenagers, girls at that, to interfere with the busy activities of a state government.

"Late in 1877 Dr. David Wallace, young first president of Monmouth, was a burned-out man. When he arrived to start the new wilderness college in 1856 the bulk of his salary was paid by a local church where he served as a full time pastor as well as a full time college president and teacher. He kept Monmouth open during the Civil War, wrestled always with finance, or the lack of it. So, worn and weary, he told his faculty that he soon must retire, and this he did.

"His retirement years were spent in Wooster, Ohio, and there his young daughter, known as Lizzie, entered college. Three years ago in doing some research on the period of Dr. David Wallace at the time of the 125th birthday of my college I ran across an old diploma, granted over 100 years ago, to L. L. Wallace. Investigation revealed that for some reason Lizzie returned to Monmouth and graduated here. That framed diploma now is in the Alpha Chapter room.

"The fact was, Lizzie pledged Kappa at age 15 and during the very time her father was trying to stamp out social groups at Monmouth. I also found in the college archives a letter from Wallace, written a year after he had left Monmouth for Ohio. He was anxious to know how his successor was doing and then said to his correspondent, 'Lizzie wishes to join a society here (Wooster) and I wish she would not after all that trouble about the society at Monmouth.'

"For some time this sentence mystified me until I finally concluded what the 'society trouble' at Monmouth was all about. Lizzie had pledged Kappa before she was old enough to enter college. She no doubt attended meetings held sub rosa in private homes. One assumes a headstrong child clashing with her harried father over the matter and (continued on page 36)

Greek Weeks Include Service Projects — At Louisiana State, all Greeks on campus participate in service projects and social gatherings during Greek Week. Seen here are Renee Beauclair (left) and Mimi Minis, two of the Delta Iota Kappas who were involved in Greek Week activities by cleaning up around the lakes. Photo by Bill Feig, State-Times and Morning Advocate of Baton Rouge (LA).

Parks Perked up in Illinois — Instead of raising money to give to a charity, Beta Lambda (Illinois) Kappas decided to have a philanthropy project in which they could see immediate results. They wanted to do something environmental in nature and decided to spruce up some neighboring parks. The Champaign Park District was very cooperative and lined up two parks which needed to have trash picked up and leaves raked. The biggest problem encountered was the abundance of broken glass. "We're hoping that the few cut fingers we experienced in cleaning up will prevent some youngster from doing more serious damage," they wrote. The surrounding community is grateful to Beta Lambda, and the Kappas took great pride in seeing what they could do with a few hours of diligent effort.

Kappas Paint a Pretty

Philanthropy Picture

Delta Iota (Louisiana State) Kappas painted the inside of a Half-Way House for girls last September as a philanthropy project. Betsy Curet, a Kappa alumna, is presently head of the house. Pictured here to the left are chapter president Dede Romeneda, ΔI - Louisiana State, holding the bucket of paint as she organizes everyone into different rooms. Marian Fagan, standing, and Diane Shumacher, sitting, ΔI - Louisiana State, both diligently paint a room to perfection. Everyone had a fantastic time painting and enjoyed giving part of themselves. Photos by Bill Feig, State-Times and Morning Advocate of Baton Rouge (LA).

Philanthropy flowers at Delta Gamma chapter — Last spring the Kappas at Michigan State made 38 May Day flower arrangements for the Ingahm County Extended Care Facility. The flowers were delivered on the first of May, and the patients were delighted and cheered to find the arrangements on their dining room tables!

Gamma Epsilon lends a hand — On March 1, Gamma Epsilon (Pittsburgh) Kappas lent a hand to the Hand in Hand festival, a carnival which benefits handicapped children. They spent that Saturday working to provide a happy day for the children and were the only sorority at Pitt to participate! ## —A Picture Worth a 1,000 Words — With all due respect to the fleur-de-lis, Epsilon Sigma (Virginia) seems to have adopted a new Kappa bloom — the daffodil. Taking advantage of the abundance of spring daffodils in the Charlottesville area, the Kappas there picked armfuls of flowers each morning for four weeks and took them to the University of Virginia Hospital, where they were sold to relatives and friends of patients there. Sales brought in about $40 a day for the hospital and brightened many dreary hospital rooms. Furthermore, Epsilon Sigmas discovered a beautiful way to start the day! Pictured left to right are Liz Gamble, Kemp Passano, and Kathy Lewis.

Daffodils become Kappa bloom in Virginia

Beta Nu hearts unlimited — Last summer the Ohio State Kappas presented a rush skit, "The Grinch Who Stole Kappa" for their philanthropy, Recreation Unlimited, which supports a summer camp for physically handicapped and mentally retarded. Last year, Columbus Kappas contributed enough money to send three campers to summer camp.

And a few words which create a picture of Kappas caring — "I cried because I wanted to stop dancing, until I met someone who could not dance" were the words on the winning Kappa sign at North Dakota State's dance marathon last spring. The students there, with the help of Gamma Tau chapter, helped make life a little less painful and a little more beautiful for those less fortunate than themselves. It was the combination of 30 hours, 73 couples, a lot of determination, the Old Fieldhouse gym, a great deal of Kappa, and much support which came together to join forces in the dance against muscular dystrophy. When the final awards were presented, Kappa was recognized often — In addition to winning the sign contest with a sign designed by Kim Lees, ΓT - North Dakota State, Kappas Linda Beard and Kate Ginsbach raised the two top individual pledge amounts and Christy Carlson, ΓT - North Dakota State, with her partner, won "Most Spirited Couple."

At Syracuse University, Beta Tau Kappas took second place in the annual drive for muscular dystrophy. With the help of Psi Upsilon Fraternity, the Beta Tau Kappas raised $2,000 and won many contests throughout the 48-hour dance marathon. Amy Reimann and Diane Wolf, BT - Syracuse, are credited with the spirit and organization which led the Kappas to the second place win.

Car Wash for Pride at Epsilon Xi — The funds raised in a four-hour car wash by Kappas at California State, Northridge, were donated to the "Pride House," a live-in drug rehabilitation center. The money was used to purchase new educational materials. Also, Epsilon Xi Kappas at Halloween dressed up for the Spastic Children's Foundation and helped to take the children through a haunted house. The pumpkins from their big and little sister pumpkin carving were donated to the Foundation. In November, they participated in the campus blood drive and helped co-sponsor "Life of the Party," an event open to the entire campus and benefitting the Porter-ville Children's Hospital.

Balloon Sales Support Gamma Iota Projects — In September, Kappas at Washington University sponsored a Balloon Sale to raise the funds to support their philanthropy projects for the year, which will aid the St. Louis Children's Hospital and Central Institute for the Deaf (both associated with the Washington University Medical Complex). The Kappas plan to provide toys and books for the Occupational/Physical Therapy departments, an after-school party for the five to ten-year-old children, and handmade Christmas stockings and stocking stuffers for each of the 150 children at the hospital. They are also involved in a "Homes for the Handicapped" tour and a Halloween party for underprivileged children. As of October 15, Gamma Iota Kappas had already contributed 90 hours of philanthropic work!

Derby Day Reinstated — Delta Mu (Connecticut) chapter found a place in the reinstated Sigma Chi Derby Day on their campus. Maura McGeary, ΔM-Connecticut, seen to the left, won the queen contest, and Kappa was second overall in women's events, and third in spirit. The spirit prize was for the most money collected, and proceeds from the Day went to the March of Dimes, providing 3% of their annual budget.

Balloons and Bicycles — Gamma Theta (Drake) chapter combined a bike-a-thon and balloon derby to raise money for the Convalescent Home for Children in Des Moines (Iowa). The balloons were released with attached postcards naming the donors at Drake's Homecoming game halftime. Preceding that game the bike-a-thon was underway. Of the 550 cards returned, the one coming the greatest distance arrived from Quebec, Canada!

Kappa Psi 500 for Philanthropy — Epsilon Nu Kappas at Vanderbilt prepare to defend their title in the Kappa Psi 500 tricycle race which is the campus-wide highlight of the annual philanthropic event sponsored by Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity. # GETTING THINGS DONE THE KAPPA WAY

*By: Jan Harenberg, ΓB - New Mexico
Chairman of Chapter Programs*

Have you ever felt overwhelmed by all that you need to accomplish each day? Maybe you feel there are just not enough hours in the day to get everything done you want done. Whether you are a college student trying to coordinate studies with Kappa activities, a mother faced with getting her family and herself to the right places at the right times, or a working woman trying to manage her career with her home life, time management can be a frustrating problem.

What to do? Certainly, there are many approaches to effective time management. Still, nearly all of them combine the use of evaluations, goals, and priorities. And so it is with Total Programming, a time management tool currently being used by our Kappa chapters across the continent. Developed nearly a decade ago, Total Programming is based on the fundamentals of MBO, or Management by Objectives. It is a process whereby chapter members identify common goals, define each individual member's major areas of responsibility in terms of the results expected of her and use these measures as guides for operating the chapter and assessing the contributions of each of its members. The entire procedure is essentially made up of seven separate parts.

CHAPTER EVALUATION

The Total Programming process begins with chapter evaluation or an appraisal of what has gone on the previous year. The evaluation measures the success of the chapter program and provides information and background for writing new programs for the future. It also allows every chapter member to participate in the future planning of the chapter. Chapter evaluation takes place before elections and is administered by the Program Committee under the direction of the second vice-president. The methods used for chapter evaluation vary from chapter to chapter but generally involve the collection of questions from chapter committees. The questions are based on the previous year's programming and are often put in the form of a questionnaire to be answered by each individual member. Sometimes a chapter will also use the questions to stimulate small group discussion.

OFFICER TRAINING

Certainly it would be difficult to participate in Total Programming without proper training. Consequently, the next step in our chapter management process is to prepare the newly elected chapter officers for the responsibilities of their offices. This may well be the key to a chapter's success with Total Programming. The core of the training period is the "triplet meeting," a time when the outgoing officer, incoming officer, and adviser meet to review the duties of the office, the officer's notebook and resources, and the suggestions of the outgoing officer. Additional training comes at a one-day workshop where leadership skills and programming techniques are taught. Chapter council duties and methods of operation are also explored.

COMMITTEES

The committee system is designed to give every member of the chapter an opportunity to be actively involved in decision making. Because of her participation in the making of the committee's decisions, the committee member has more understanding as to why the decision was reached as it was and is thus more supportive of the decision. Committees also provide an atmosphere in which a member may develop and strengthen leadership skills. This is especially true when a chapter officer effectively delegates her responsibilities to her committee members.

CHAPTER GOAL

As stated in the Total Programming manual used by our chapters, "the chapter goal serves as the basic direction for chapter efforts during one year. It is set by the chapter as a whole and is implemented by individual committee programs." It is important to remember that the chapter goal should be based on the results of the chapter evaluation. Also the goal should be as specific as possible. This helps prevent the chapter from being overburdened with too many areas of concentration. Lastly, the goal should be measurable. Methods of determining the chapter goal again depend on the chapter but most often a chapter will meet in a retreat-type setting or will congregate in small groups. Once the goal has been selected, many chapters use a slogan, logo, or symbol which may serve to advertise the chapter goal to the chapter.

COMMITTEE PROGRAMS

The committee program should include a statement of the chapter goal, plans on HOW the committee will help the chapter reach its goal, and a proposed calendar incorporating these plans. Again these plans need to be so specific as to be "calendarable" and easily evaluated. A breakdown of the delegation of duties to committee members as well as notes as to what other committees should be involved in the implementation of a project may also be included in the committee program. It should be stressed that the committee program is to be written through the efforts of the entire committee—not just the committee chairman. One may question this time consuming step of planning at the committee level. Yet it is exactly this planning which will save time and achieve better results in the long run.

TOTAL PROGRAM

Upon the completion of the committee programs, it becomes the duty of the second vice-president and Program Committee to put together the total chapter program. The committee programs are collected and coordinated in order to combine events and promote committee interaction wherever possible. The chapter's master calendar should also be included in the total program.

Editor's Note: In keeping with the goals of The Key staff and Council this biennium, the active chapter section—CAMPUS HIGHLIGHTS—will include a feature article on chapter programming in each issue. Before we develop each area in the chapter program, however, we are starting with the process itself—with Total Programming. Look for Fraternity Education and Membership in the next issue!

MASTER CALENDAR

The master calendar is the final step of the Total Programming process. It is considered to be a coordination tool whereby the Program Committee and second vice-president can plan the chapter's upcoming events for an entire year. Every effort is made to combine activities for higher quality programs and better use of time. If it appears a particular month is going to be crowded, the Program Committee may look to combine events with similar ones of another month or possibly postpone or cancel the event. After the calendar has been approved by the chapter, monthly calendars are made for each chapter member.

The advantages of Total Programming are clear, both for the chapter and the individual. The chapter gains because the Total Programming process will improve the overall effectiveness with which the chapter is managed as well as facilitate the coordination of committees within the chapter. A well integrated Total Programming system also helps the chapter to determine areas of poor performance and then do something about them. Finally, increased participation on the part of chapter members in the decision making processes leads to member support and high morale.

And what of the individual member? Undoubtedly she benefits as she learns what she is expected to accomplish. With this clarification generally comes improved performance and increased satisfaction with her membership in Kappa. Yet, more importantly perhaps, is the preparation this young Kappa receives for her life as a caring, productive member of society. No matter what she decides to do after her college years, her Kappa experience with Total Programming will make a difference in the way she chooses to approach her life's activities. She may lead her volunteer organization just a little bit better or run her own business more efficiently all as a result of her experience with Kappa's programming techniques. Certainly, it is this increased understanding of how to work with others that makes the process of Total Programming worthwhile.

Each spring, Panhellenic and Interfraternity Council at the University of Montana sponsor Greek Week to promote the Greek system and strengthen ties within. A blood drive, slide shows, an all-Greek picnic, street dances, a talent show, and other activities together establish good relations within the community, on campus, and between the different houses. Pictured here are (from left) Darlene Craven, Julie Parks, Luann Brubaker, Liz Johnson, and Lesa Rice, BΦ - Montana, performing for Greek Week at the Finnets.

Tammy Caffray (left) and Judy Vance, AΔ - Monmouth, are the 1980 and 1979 Homecoming queens, respectively. Tammy is also chapter corresponding secretary and president of Blue Key Honor Fraternity.

At Butler University, for the fourth year in a row, a Mu Kappa was chosen Butler's Homecoming Queen. Melan Waugh, M - Butler, was crowned at halftime festivities. She is also vice president of the Public Relations Student Society, Student Assembly publicity chairman, in Rho Lambda, Mortar Board, and Sigma Delta Chi (journalism), and chapter rush chairman and junior Panhellenic representative.

Kappas at Carnegie-Mellon participated in their university's spring carnival with a booth built as a miniature replica of New York's famous F.A.O. Schwarz toy store. The theme of the carnival was "New York." Delta Xi chapter earned much for its efforts, as the booth and its game attracted many players.

The Key is Participation

"Roarin' Fun in Century I" was the theme of the Delta Tau (Southern California) Homecoming float. As it was a float representing each decade since the university was founded, the Kappas (with the Kappa Alpha Thetas, Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity and the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity) had the decade of the 1920s. Pictured here on the first place, sweepstakes-winning float is Lisa Breuer, ΔT - Southern California.

proving not to be the docile submissive daughter of a minister as was expected during the Victorian period.

"Anyway, hale and hearty, Lizzie Wallace Taggart, Alpha Kappa and member of the Monmouth Class of 1880, returned to campus at the time of the reinstatement of the Alpha Deuteron Chapter back in 1934. If you look at the photograph of the returning Kappas posing before the building named for Lizzie's father, Wallace Hall, there she is, very much in the middle of things. She was a very early Alpha Chapter member in spite of the opposition of the United Presbyterian Church, the college senate, the faculty, and the wishes of her college president father."

— Mary Bartling Crow, ΔΔ

The deuteron (Δ) used in Dr. Crow's chapter identification means, of course, that the chapter has been reinstated. In Alpha's case, this widely celebrated event took place on Founders Day, October 13, 1934. Kappa Alpha Sigma, a local sorority established around 1900 with the ultimate goal of acceptance into the Fraternity, was permitted to petition that year with the approval of the active chapters. Dr. Crow has investigated the meaning of the Greek letters in the name of the local. She learned that the Kappa was in honor of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Alpha signified the first chapter; and Sigma represented the sigma in the pledge pin.

Other chapters, in addition to those discussed in this article, which share the distinction of resurrection from their apparent demise are Rho, Psi, Beta Eta, and Beta Rho — all "deuteroned." The Greek system continues to thrive throughout some of the best, some of the worst, but mostly throughout solid and constructive times.

This article can be removed from The Key and placed in your Kappa Notebook, chapter section.

The following is a list of those members for whom Fraternity Headquarters has no current address. Please check the names and if you know the whereabouts of one or more please fill in and return the form on page 45. If the member should be deceased please give date and place of death. Additional pages of paper may be used for lists of names. The listing is alphabetical according to maiden name (married name in parentheses) in the chapter of initiation. The date listed is the year of initiation. A total of almost 10,000 names comprise our "Lost List". You will find five provinces in this issue, the next five provinces will be listed in the spring issue, and the fall issue will complete the last seven provinces.

Pi Celebrates Its Centennial

By Didi Moore Boring, ΠΔ

Centennial Chairman, Didi Moore Boring with her father, J.A. Moore, Jr., banquet speaker and chairman of Board of Regents University of California.

Active co-chairman of Pi Centennial, Erin Biggs, and Carol McKnight.

Scrapbooks and old photos displayed in chapter room.

From the first notification of the upcoming birthday, to the last tearful goodbyes on May 22, 1980, Pi Deuteron Chapter at the University of California, Berkeley, actives and alumnae worked to create a special celebration of Pi's first 100 years.

From November 1979 when Pi Board was first informed the House Board began work immediately. Didi Moore Boring was appointed chairman, and a chapter committee was co-chaired by seniors Erin Biggs and Carol McKnight. Early on it was decided to have an open house during the day (May 22, 1980), and a banquet that evening. “This Chapter In Time” was chosen as the theme for the day, and a logo was developed.

The challenge was to reach as many as possible of Pi's over 1,000 initiates and to offer them a way to become a part of the celebration if they wanted to. First notification was through the chapter newsletter The Pi Piper; official announcements went out in March asking alumnae to reserve the day. Many who could not attend the festivities, contributed to the University through the Emma Moffett McLaughlin Scholarship Fund in honor of a Pi Kappa who had been an outstanding leader in community and University affairs. Additionally, a gold charm depicting the logo was offered; each sold for $50 and proceeds went to the Chapter House Fund.

The day of May 22nd saw many reunion luncheons before the open house at the chapter. People came from all over California, as well as from Oregon and New York! The House was beautifully decorated with help from the Mothers' Club; actives gave tours of the campus, and tea was served. In the chapter room, scrapbooks and early photos were displayed by decades. A wealth of historical photos of the classes of '02 and '03 and of the first chapter houses was provided by Jean McLaughlin Doolittle.

The banquet was held at the Marriott Inn in Berkeley with about 180 attending. Guests were surprised by visits from the Cal StrawHat Band and Oshi, the silent Cal mascot, who really got the evening off to an enthusiastic beginning. Seating was assigned by initiation classes. After the mistress of ceremonies, (Helen) Sally Walker Lyding, gave a humorous history of the chapter, she asked everyone to rise. As she called off the name of each decade beginning with the 80's, those who had been initiated in that decade sat down. Left standing at the conclusion were the oldest initiates, all who had been Kappas over 50 years. The oldest there was Elva Christie Hughes, initiated in 1910, two of whose three Pi daughters were also present that night. The collegians gave the early initiates a great round of applause.

Representing the Fraternity, Marjorie Cross Bird, BM-Colorado, then director of field representatives, presented a $1,000 scholarship to the University of California in honor of Pi Deuteron Chapter. A special scholarship committee under (Alice Marian) Midge Oliver Zischke had earlier determined the two winners on the basis of need, high scholarship, and chapter and community contribution: Amie Mosher, a Kappa, and Monica Whitlock, a Tri Delta. The banquet speaker was Joseph A. Moore, Jr., then vice-chairman (now chairman) of the Board of Regents of the University of California, and father of Centennial Chairman, (Marilyn) Didi Moore Boring. The evening came to a close as we heard of the collegiate activities from chapter president Stacy Black, and were treated to a performance by singers Marilyn Hoffman and Ann Forbush. All joined in the singing of Kappa songs, led by the actives and the closing ceremony.

Pi is indeed fortunate to have the spirited, dedicated group of alumnae and actives presently involved in the chapter. The Centennial offered an opportunity to enlarge the group of friends, refresh some perhaps dimming memories, and to participate again in creating a new memory, one which will last until the next big occasion, the 150th, in 2030. Will you be here?

ZΓ Chapter Installed at Centre

On a colorful, crisp fall day, Zeta Gamma chapter was installed at Centre College in Danville, Kentucky. Centre College, founded in 1819, is a highly competitive, independent liberal arts college. The 75 acre campus is located in a rural community about 35 miles from Lexington. Traditionally an all male school until the 1960's, it now has six national male fraternities but until this year the women have had no organizations. Kappa together with Kappa Alpha Theta and Delta Delta Delta installed chapters on October 4, 1980, at Centre College. They even held a joint campus reception on Sunday, October 5th where all guests and new initiates of the three groups could join in the festivities.

The installing officers were Fraternity President Sally Moore Nitschke, BN-Ohio State, and Director of Membership Juliana (J.J.) Fraser Wales, BN-Ohio State, with Nu Province Director of Chapters Cynthia McMillan Lanford, ΓΠ-Alabama, and Barbara Woolley, ΔΣ-Oklahoma State, graduate counselor assisting. (Betty Jane Parks Gary, ΔP-Mississippi, Nu Province Director of Alumnae was unable to attend because of illness in the family.) Gini Anding LaCharite, ΓK-Wm. & Mary, and Anne Hall Atchison, BX-Kentucky were co chairman of the installation.

Kappas arrived from various points around the state of Kentucky and Tennessee, and representing Fraternity Headquarters in Columbus, Ohio, were Dinnie Texter Callahan, BM-Colorado; Jane Coombs, ΔΑ-Miami; and Diane Miller Selby, BN-Ohio State. Beta Chi Chapter members served as big sisters for the new chapter.

The traditional ceremonies were held on Friday evening and the installation was accomplished by noon of Helping to clean up were Carol Levin, Kitty Armstrong and Betsy Ferguson all Beta Chis.

Saturday followed by a box lunch for all participants in the dorm of Centre College. That evening the installation banquet was held in the Trustees' House of Shakertown in Pleasant Hill, Kentucky. This restored community added a most delightful flavor to the entire weekend as the simple pleasures of friendship bloomed everywhere. The "Evening Fare" included Shaker mashed potato soup, Cajun chicken, wild rice casserole, cushaw squash, southern green beans, pear and blue cheese salad, village hot breads, dessert and beverage — all served family style complete with candlelight in several small dining rooms. When dinner was completed a short walk down the old dirt pathway to the Shaker Meeting House was enjoyed by all. Once again candlelight prevailed as the evening's program centered on the theme "We Make You Kindly Welcome".

J.J. Wales served as toastmistress, read greetings, and made appropriate introductions. Sherry Carpenter, president of Beta Chi Chapter, gave the official welcome to Zeta Gamma and Madelyn Hopson, president of Zeta Gamma, responded. Greetings from the college were offered by Dr. Edgar C. Rickert, Jr., Provost and Dean of Centre College. Sally Nitschke spoke for the Fraternity in greeting our 106th active chapter.

Gifts were presented to the new chapter, but perhaps most special of all was the presentation of badges to each new initiate. The chapter was initiated with the big sister badges belonging to the Beta Chi members. These badges were worn throughout the day and at the conclusion of the evening program the new badges were exchanged for the big sister badges and many shiny new pins were glowing in the candlelight. A lovely reception was held for parents and guests in the West Family House.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Q.: Debates on motions at our club meetings often drag on for a long time without getting anywhere. What can be done to expedite matters?

A.: In order to cut off debate and to force the vote on a motion, a member should rise, seek recognition by the chair and then say: "I call for the Previous Question" or something to that effect like: "I move to take the vote on the pending motion(s) without further debate." After this motion has been seconded, the chair will immediately proceed to take the vote on this motion by saying: "The previous question is moved on the motion(s) to . . ." (the chair names the motion(s) on which the vote is to be taken without further debate). All in favor of ordering the previous question please rise . . . All opposed please rise . . ."

This motion is undebatable and cannot be amended. Since it deprives the membership of the right to debate it requires a 2/3 vote. Because of that the chair should request a standing vote. As soon as this motion is adopted the chair will take the vote on the motion that was pending when the previous question was ordered.

The chair should ignore anyone who does not properly seek the floor but interrupts debate by calling "Question," "Question."

Q.: Several times in the past, in order to shorten the business part of our meetings, the chairman dispensed with the reading of the minutes. Is this procedure permissible? How will the membership know whether the minutes were correct?

A.: It is permissible, but not desirable, to dispense with the minutes. The minutes of meetings are the permanent and legal record of an organization and therefore will have to be approved and corrected, if a correction is necessary. Minutes not approved at a meeting at which they were in order, should be read and approved at the next business meeting and prior to the minutes which are in order for that meeting. Another method is for the chairman or assembly to appoint a committee with power to make any corrections and to approve the minutes. Publication of the minutes and distribution to the membership would also take care of the problem.

Rho Celebrates

years of Sisterhood

By Holly Hattemer PΔ - Ohio Wesleyan

On Saturday, October 18, 1980, the Rho Deuteron Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity at Ohio Wesleyan University celebrated its centennial birthday in the form of a luncheon at the Delaware Holiday Inn. Many Rho Kappas were present representing several Ohio alumnae groups.

Lee McDonald Cassier, PΔ - Ohio Wesleyan, Gamma Province director of alumnae, welcomed all sisters and ceremoniously opened the program with the Kappa Blessing.

After lunch we received a special treat from the Kappa Chorus Girls, who performed their entertainment from second set parties of rush, which was a dynamic arrangement of that classical Broadway show, A Chorus Line, written and choreographed by Cathy Messing and Robyne Langsdorf.

The keynote speaker was Julianna (J.J.) Fraser Wales, BN-Ohio State, director of membership. Representing the Fraternity, she presented a gift of $1000 to Nancy Wenzlau, wife of Dr. Thomas Wenzlau, President of Ohio Wesleyan University. The money will be placed in a scholarship fund for future use.

Margaret (Skip) Leland Russell, PΔ-Ohio Wesleyan, secretary and treasurer of the House Board, presented a gift of $100 to the chapter to be used for a birthday party in celebration of their centennial.

The luncheon address presented by Wendy Weinheimer, chapter president, was a fascinating summary of Rho's history.

"The generally accepted date for Rho's establishment is November 25, 1880. However, there is evidence that the chapter considered itself organized before that. In the minutes of Epsilon, then Grand Chapter, it is noted that on April 23, 1880, that chapter voted to give permission for the establishment of chapters at Oakland, California, and at Ohio Wesleyan University in Delaware, Ohio.

"Also earlier is the acceptance of an invitation to honorary membership in Rho Chapter from Lucy Webb Hayes, wife of United States President, Rutherford B. Hayes. On the piano in the living room of our lodge stands a beautiful antique doll; it is a replica of Lucy Hayes dressed like her counterpart in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C., in a wine velvet dress ornamented by a tiny Kappa key. The doll was donated by two past Presidents of Rho Chapter, Elizabeth Monaghan Volk and her daughter, Deborah Volk Cook.

"The history book of Kappa Alpha Theta also dates the advent of Kappa Kappa Gamma to Ohio Wesleyan to at least the fall of 1880. It states: all went well until the fall of 1880, when it was a rude awakening when one winter day the exciting news was announced that Kappa Kappa Gamma had established a chapter at Ohio Wesleyan, and the

Rho Chapter House

Kappa key appeared on sweaters of fifteen of the most promising girls.

"During the 1880's, Kappa and Theta were the only national women's fraternities on campus. However, because we tended to monopolize the social life, other students threatened not to return to campus if the women's fraternities continued to exist. Consequently, the faculty voted women's secret organizations illegal and Kappa and Theta were forced to surrender their chapters.

"During its brief existence, Rho had initiated twenty-eight members, and these girls continued a subrosa operation, having an initiation even after the graduation of 1884. The Kappa convention for that year voted to withdraw Rho's chapter and records were turned in.

"Then, in 1896, a group of eight girls decided to form an organization of their own rather than risk being separated by joining one of the two existing local sororities. One of these girls was Sally Humphreys, and her mother told her about a group she had belonged to back in 1867, Rho Sigma. Intrigued by the stories, the girls re-established Rho Sigma, which flourished until 1914 when all social fraternities were voted out by the girls themselves.

"Eight years later in 1922, the alumnae of three former groups returned and re-established local fraternities. Lucille Leonard LeSourd, a member of Rho Sigma, was one of the women who worked the hardest to persuade the faculty to recognize these groups. Due largely to her efforts, the faculty consented to permit national fraternities for women to return to campus. Mrs. LeSourd was one of thirty-four Rho Sigma alumnae who were later initiated into Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity.

"Within three years from 1923-1926, nineteen of twenty-one Panhellenic Congress fraternities were installed at Ohio Wesleyan.

Daughters of the presidents were members

Happy

"Of the 16 sororities at the University of Minnesota, Kappa Kappa Gamma is the oldest: 100 years. Chi Chapter was founded April 21, 1880, by eight women. Daughters of three University presidents, William Watts Folwell, Cyrus Northrop, and Marion L. Burton, were members.

So is golfer Patty Berg. This year the Kappas have 91 members; 17 live in the chapter house at 329 10th Avenue southeast; 19 live in the annex next door; 12 live in the dorms; and 43 commute. Since 1880 there have been approximately 1,650 active memberships in Chi.

Other claims? Alice Adams coined the name of the University's yearbook, the "Gopher." The Kappas gave the Pillsbury Gate, entrance to the campus on 14th Avenue, to the University. The first woman to receive Phi Beta Kappa at the University was Effie Amers-Rochford. The chapter house was built in 1916 and was designed by the head of the University's architecture department." (Taken from Minnesota, University of Minnesota Alumni Association magazine, November 1980, pg.17.)

On Monday evening, October 13, 1980, Chi Chapter celebrated its 100th birthday. An open house was held the previous day for Kappas as well as University Officials, IFC and Panhellenic friends. The memorabilia was displayed throughout the house including old photographs and sentences inscribed on blue construction paper fleur-de-lis telling the history of the chapter. (i.e., "No daughter of a University of Minnesota President has ever pledged anything other than Kappa!")

The banquet featured a large, four-tiered birthday cake with candles, and, naturally, everyone sang "Happy Birthday to Chi". Over 200 were in attendance for the delightful dinner and program led by mistress of ceremonies, Marcia Sailors. The Pickers performed and Molly Morony Cox, ΔO — Iowa State, presented a style show using all her own collection of gowns. The first gown modeled was an 1880 wedding dress of Molly's great grandmother, and all were very special gowns from someone in the family. She used all 27 Chi pledges as models.

Representing the Fraternity, Marjorie Moree Keith, ΓA — Kansas State, director of philanthropies, presented a check for $1,000 to honor Chi's centennial. Diane McGrath, wife of the president of the University of Minnesota accepted the check and gave some complimentary remarks about Chi Chapter and Kappa.

Fifty-year pins were awarded to: Mary Harloa, Isabol Thibalt, Alice Bradford, Mary Berg, Elenor Esterly, Susan Okre, Ruth Paulson, Valborg Raun, and Elizabeth Sewareid.

A grand conclusion for the evening was a slide show on the entire 100 years of the chapter. Old pictures had been taken from scrapbooks, and appropriate music backed the show, as everyone seemed to find someone, or even themselves, in one of the slides; an emotion packed personal feeling for the Fraternity was evoked. As a finale, chapter president Julie Erickson presented Marge Keith with 18 antique Keys (badges) which the late Cleora Wheeler had retrieved from Kappa families and preserved in the Chi Chapter archives. These badges will become part of the Kappa Heritage Museum display at Fraternity Headquarters.

"At the 1924 Kappa convention, permission was granted for Rho to present a formal petition. The petition was submitted January 10, 1925, and notification that the charter had been granted came on February 16. Initiation was delayed until May 1, and Rho Duteron Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma became the thirteenth Panhellenic group installed at Ohio Wesleyan.

"In its early years the home of Salle Reed Semans, the mother of two chapter members, was Rho's headquarters. The fireplace in our present chapter room was donated by alumnae and is dedicated in loving memory to Sallie Semans — a loyal Kappa.

"By 1927 it was necessary to rent rooms in town for meetings and rush parties. In 1949 the house on 126 W. Winter Street was purchased with a loan from the fraternity.

"Rho Duteron's history is indeed a story of persistence, perseverance, and dedication. The only reason we are celebrating our one hundredth birthday is because of our efforts and those before us. Rho Duteron chapter is not strong because it is old, it is old because it is strong."

For those who have no idea what the Art Editor looks like, here she is, receiving a Certificate of Participation at the National Portrait Seminar in New York City, Barbizon Plaza Hotel, from John Howard Sanden, portrait painter and Seminar Chairman. The week-long study conference for portrait painters attracted 447 painters from 42 states, The Hague, Netherlands, Germany, South America and Mexico, who met June 23 to 27 to exchange techniques, participate in workshops, watch demonstrations, and discuss the unique challenge of the craft.

Carey Boone Nelson. ☉ - Missouri, has had a record-breaking year since last reviewed. The Franklin Mineral Museum, Franklin, New Jersey, sponsored a national competition to find an appropriate symbol for the museum, dedicated to the history of mining and minerals, and known as the fluorescent mineral capital of the world. Carey's idea won, and on Sunday, May 25, 1980, her life size statue of a zinc miner, six feet, two-inches, was unveiled. The Franklin ore body is the richest in zinc content and contains 22 minerals not found anywhere else. The museum laboratory constantly adds new specimens and is an important educational institution.

From October 4 to November 2, 1979, Carey's sculpture bust of Mildred McAfee Horton was exhibited at U. S. Customs House, New York with American Artists Professional League's Grand National Show. Her one-woman exhibit, "People and Places," ran from September 24 to October 5 at County Federal Savings and Loan Bank, Madison at 59th Street, N. Y., and from November 7 to 22nd, she showed at Lever House with the Burr Artists group. Salmagundi Club gave her a solo-award exhibition in December and early January of 1980.

Carey's sculpture is permanently displayed worldwide in Durbon Art Museum, South Africa; Victory Library Museum, Melbourne, Australia, Missouri State Capital; Hall of Fame, Colgate University; Wagner College; The Pentagon; National American Indian Museum; and Madison Square Garden Hall of Fame.

She was recently elected a Life Fellow to the Royal Society of Arts in England, and her biographies are listed in "Who's Who in the East," "Who's Who in American Art," and the Smithsonian Museum, Washington, D. C.

Carey is presently President of Catharine Lorillard Wolfe Art Club, and on the Board of Trustees of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences, and on the art jury at Salmagundi Club. She is a Kappa achievement award winner in 1976, and her sculpture of the Marquis de Lafayette, commissioned for the Bicentennial, was noted in the Congressional Record. Two sculptures, "Young Pan" and "Indian Maiden" were shown with Burr Artists at Hammerquist Gallery, New York, through October.

Carey has just signed a contract with Museum Pieces, Inc. for five smaller sculptures for reproduction and mass sales in museums. She gave her O.K. after seeing preliminary molds produced. This same company does Rodins, Malvina Hoffmans and Anna Hyatt Huntingtons sculptures for museums.

Patricia Newton White, PΔ - U. of California at Berkeley, has a B.A. with painting major, and an M.A. in photography from Humboldt State University, Arcata, California. She describes herself as "Basically a painter, who became fascinated with photographic processes and working with light-sensitive materials." She uses a camera, a light table, and arrangements of transparent and translucent materials, which is more related to still life in procedure. The resulting photographic

Delta Xi's new stained glass window, pictures, was designed and constructed by Rusty Gray, a graduate student in metallurgy and materials science at Carnegie-Mellon University in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. This window faces the inside of the house, where it catches the sunlight brilliantly. It is situated next to the front door. The project took 75 hours to complete and was done over the summer of '80.

Her exhibitions and inclusion in travelling shows have taken her photography to the University of Santa Clara, Carmel, Eureka, and Focus Gallery in San Francisco (all in California); Bellevue Art Museum, Washington; Edinboro, Pennsylvania; University of Iowa and a solo exhibition of paintings at Heller Gallery, University of California at Berkeley.

Published work is reproduced by University of Santa Clara in "Contemporary Hand Colored Photographs"; "Complete Book of Photographers," McMillan & Company, Los Angeles; "Photographers of the Humboldt Bay Region — 1850-1978" by Peter Palmquist; and "Work on Paper — Invitational, U.S.A."

In March 1980, Patty was at Swan Lake, New York, for the annual meeting of the Society for Photographic Education, in which her membership has taken her to Asilomar, California, in 1978-79, and Ft. Worth, Texas, in 1979. She has three gallery representations: Neill Gallery, New York City; Foster White, Seattle, Washington; and the Art Center, Eureka, California.

Patty teaches photography at College of the Redwoods in Eureka, California. She and her husband, Robert, who has a PhD in political science from Indiana University, live in Trinidad, which she calls "small, rural, isolated community six hours North of San Francisco." Here she is an artist-photographer producing the work she sends from the Pacific to the Atlantic coasts, and to photography shows everywhere. Patty's mother Marjorie Sundvahl Newton is a Gamma Delta from Purdue.

As the key goes to press, Patty writes "I have just been invited to have a solo exhibition of my work at the International Museum of Photography at the George Eastman House, Rochester, N. Y. isn't that great?"

Patricia Newton White, IIA-California Berkeley, is shown with a hand-colored silver print which she executed.

Barbara Ricau MacArthur, ΔP - Mississippi, is the artist who captured "Best of Show" trophy, professional division, at the Dixon Arts and Crafts competition May 3, 1980, in California. She took an art minor at U. of Mississippi, and went to John McCrady Art School in New Orleans. She travelled for 18 months in Europe, and flew one year for Delta Airlines and four and a half years for TWA as a stewardess and supervisor, working out of New York City. There she had a one-man show in 1976 and a three-man show in 1973, and studied with Edga Whitney. Her paintings are landscapes, portraits, still life and figures done in acrylic, oil, water color, pencil and inks. She prefers rural landscapes, architectural studies and children's portraits. Her approach is realistic, although some figurative and nostalgic subjects appeal to her now and then.

Barbara did not begin serious painting until 1965 in New Orleans at John McCrady School. Her one-man show at Aveni Gallery, New York, in 1974 inspired her. Her first-place awards at Dixon Art Fair in 1977, 1978 and 1980 are proof of her talent. This spring's judge, Bob McCabe, a Sacramento architect, artist and sculptor, announced two more first-place ribbons for Barbara's two other entries, entitled "Watson's Barn," and a figurative portrait of two children, "Big Sister, Little Brother." Her honors are all the more impressive as the prints are toned, then painted with oil paints. The work falls between painting and photography. Her highly personal color interpretations of forms have resulted in a purchase award from "New Photographics," Central Washington State University, Ellensburg, Washington (1980); the Joseph S. Woolford Graduate Fellowship, from Rotary Club of America (1979); Best of Show Award, Humboldt Cultural Center, Eureka, California; and Purchase Award from Reese Bullen Gallery, Arcata, California.

The Alternative Museum, 17 White Street, New York City, included her work in a show called "Beyond Photography — 1980" in April and May of 1980. When this show closed, Neill Gallery, 136 Green Street in New York's Soho art district transferred her work to their gallery, which now represents her.

She is a member of permanent collections of Humboldt Arts Council, Eureka, California, and Central Washington State University, Ellensburg, Washington. Publications presenting her photography are "Portfolio of New Work," by Society for Photographic Education, Pacific Grove, California (1979) and "Between Two Media — Ten Years of Work in Painting and Photography," a cluster college program on artists at Humboldt State University.

Dixon Fair attracts large numbers of competitors in many categories of arts and crafts, photography, home arts, industrial design, floriculture, rodeo, music and 4-H events.

Her husband, Robert, spent four years in the Army Air Force, and is now a test deskman for Pacific Telephone. Their children are Collin, four, and Daniel, two. Barbara describes herself not as an artist, but as a homemaker and mother.

Laurie Lee England, BA - Michigan, an English major, has discovered a challenging new career in commercial design, and free-lances almost full-time for the Washington Post in Washington, D. C. She works in the promotion department, and is responsible for intriguing and highly-innovative art work to attract readers and buyers to invest in newspaper related promotions. She says that while she never was graduated from the Corcoran School of Art, she went to work and received much of her training on the job. Her first efforts out of college were in research and legal work, which did not suit her personality or satisfy her. Since she has always enjoyed working with her hands, she turned to art naturally, and to her great surprise found the commercial art world challenging conceptually and physically. She happily states, "So now I manage to combine the best of both worlds." She tries constantly to expand her horizons, going regularly to art galleries and exhibitions. In Washington, D. C., this is so time consuming, it is impossible to cover all the museums, galleries and small shows. But she tries! The visual world in which artists find themselves is expressed over and over in their own responses to what they experience and what they then produce. In addition to pen and ink graphics, Laurie is a commercial photographer, and continues her college sports activities.

Virginia Hybart Taylor McLure, BO - Sophie Newcomb, who calls herself "Gin," has a BA in fine arts with a painting major. She left New Orleans to study at the Art Students League and the School of Visual Arts in New York, where she works in her own loft studio at 131 W. 23rd Street. Most of her work is in oil on canvas, in a style expressionistic and figurative. For drawings she sometimes uses pastel and oil crayons. A professional artist whose paintings are dominated by motion and movement, expressionist and representational, she is currently doing city scenes of New York.

She exhibits at Bienville Gallery in New Orleans, Louisiana, and the Fine Arts Museum of the South, in Mobile, Alabama. She is a member of Artists Equity. Her husband, Thomas McLure is a Tulane SAE.

Patricia Van Schoiack Redlick, ΔE - Rollins, was doing lovely water colors in college, which were admired by her chapter sisters. Since then, she attended Washington University Art School in St. Louis, Missouri, and studied with John Pike, James Fitzgerald, Tony Van Hasselt, Millard Sheets, Robert E. Wood, Arthur Barber, Tom Jean Ebright Elin, BN - Ohio State, is an accomplished artist now working with textiles through church banners.

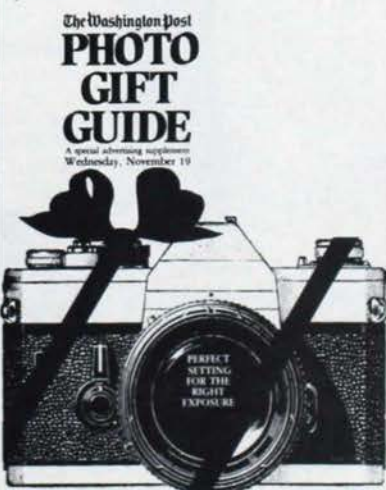

She says, "It is a painting in fabric and texture, and each stitch is a brush stroke. It is a labor of love — a gift of service — a hymn of praise — a prayer." An idea, sprung from inspiration, is transferred to a pencil sketch, blown-up to banner proportions, patterns made, fabrics located, embroidery stitches worked, and finally the banner is born complete with lining and skirt of fringe. The lavender shell design symbolizes from baptism to death on the cross, the Omega is hiding behind the Alpha, and the drops of water are aqua of sea, deep teal to purple of kingship and purple to red of blood.

Hill, and Don Stone. Some of these teachers took their students on foreign tours to Ireland, Italy, Colombia (South America), Tahiti, Yugoslavia, and through New England. Patricia paints rapidly on location and works at home to correct paintings and develop her sketches. All of her work shows a strong design concept, and her subject material includes representational landscapes, seascapes, still life and Victorian houses in which blue tends to be a dominant color.

Her one-man shows were held in 1976 and 1979 in California where she now lives in Portola Valley. She paints with and has won prizes from Peninsula Outdoor Painters, Color Circle, Santa Clara Valley Water Color Society and shows with Society of Western Artists, the Menlo Art League, Palo Alto Art Club, Palo Alto Cultural Center, and the Rosicrucian Museum in San Jose. She is an Associate member of American Water Color Society. In addition to painting, she designs needlepoint canvasses and collects wood carvings. She has travelled widely from the time she was a small girl, and has been drawing and painting from an early age. She possesses some rare wood carvings of African buffalo, a calf, and fish, which she acquired before such items were appreciated by world travellers. Pat has two married daughters, Duff Ellen Waagen and Tracy Lynn Sinclair. She signs her paintings with her maiden name "Van Schoiack."

Elizabeth Williams, FI - Washington University, is that rarity in the art world — a court room illustrator. A fine arts major in college, she came to New York for more study at the Parsons School of Design, where she was on the Dean's List. In New York she studied with Dave Passalacqua, a New York illustrator, and later in Los Angeles with Eva Roberts, a fashion illustrator. She prefers material that does not require dependence on photographs, which makes her work special. Her court-room illustrations for NBC news are mostly shown in Los Angeles. In addition she does book illustrations, an example of which is "How To Kick A Football Accurately."

Fashion illustration is a small field, and takes a long time to become established, but Elizabeth with her magic markers and pencils works for California Apparel News, various fashion designers, outside clients, newspapers, and does book illustrations. She has to date not shown in galleries.

She has been a model, lived in Paris and New York, and is constantly trying to improve her skills. She strives as an artist to keep her own identity, and feels that subject matter means very little. Her home base is Marina Del Rey, California.

Lady McCrady, BT - Syracuse, is the author-artist of five children's books and the illustrator of 12 children's books. She left Syracuse with a BFA, went to London University, studied in Greece, Italy and Paris, and has done intensive graduate work with Milton Glaser, one of New York's foremost illustrators. She uses all media as her work includes many types of commercial and fine art. Her editorial drawings appear in the New York Times, New York Daily News, national magazines, cable TV, and a column-strip called "Lady McCrady's New York 80's." "Redbook" and "Glamour" magazines have used her illustrations.

Lady can do about anything, and she does many things at the same time. Her paintings are large abstracts, which were sold by the Wadsworth Atheneum, in Hartford, Connecticut. Her paintings and drawings are now in collections in New York and New England. She has done graduate studies in creativity, and her books for Holiday House Books are delightfully innovative. Some of these titles are Cornish Cuckoos, Jack the Wise, Miss Kiss and the Nasty Beast, Mildred and the Mummy (about her mother and grandmother), and Dial Press book called The Night Light by Jane Feder, with illustration by Lady McCrady.

Children's books require drawings in duplicate for color separation and Lady now has two assistants to do some of this laborious detail work. She uses pastels, pencils and charcoal for her book illustrating. Lady has a lot of new books lined up for 1980 and 1981, one of which is to be an adult book. A series of three paperbacks are in the works, and 18 card illustrations will be reproduced for Main Line.

Lady's publisher likes to send her to lecture in the East and Midwest. She was born in Indianapolis, Indiana, where her father had an 18-piece jazz band, and where her maternal grandmother lived, where her grandmother on her father's side still lives, and where she has an aunt, uncle and cousins. Her parents were Indiana University and Butler, and Lady's sister went to I. U. She is now writing two manuscripts about her grandmother. In addition to writing, painting, illustrating, and lecturing, Lady has hobbies of jazz-dancing and making chirret rugs. She says that everything has come easily to her by way of breaking into the art world, but like many others who find recognition, she often works all night while the city sleeps. She feels her first real luck was doing a film in London with animated drawings, while she was enrolled in the school of art with Sir John Cass. She divides her time between New York and Hingham Harbor, Massachusetts. Her New York apartment is a top-floor, filled with light, and has an airy quality with a view of the Chrysler building, sky and stars. She has a lovely color sense preferring pink, rose, Oriental blues and greens. Lady has a cat named StarBoy, who appears in her books. She is a member of "Who's Who International Authors and Artists." Should anyone want a copy of one of her books, write to her at 17 Park Avenue, N. Y., N. Y. 10016, and she will order it for you and autograph it.
