Letters to the editor:

I received my Winter Issue 1977 in the mail yesterday, and have enclosed a copy of a page I really enjoyed reading. However, Alaska is America's Fortyninth
State and not the Fiftieth.

Loyally,
Karen Synnestvedt Valentine
Ketchikan, Alaska
BΠ—Washington

I thought this years spring issue of The Key was exceptionally beautiful.

It was colorful—with the owl, the key,
and the fleur-de-lis on the cover.

Thanks!
Liz Walters, BN—Ohio State

The Key cover is lovely—I just smiled and smiled when I saw it! Thank you so much. What a lovely way to end our Mu Centennial celebration.

I would love to have two copies of the magazine, if at all possible. Thank you again for a wonderful treat.

Loyally,
Bea Douglas Todd, M—Butler
Chrm. Mu Centennial

Until two years ago, there was a 10-year hiatus in my Key subscription (my fault entirely, for I moved several times and didn't notify Headquarters of my change of address.) Then I moved to the Bay Area, joined the Costa Costa Alumnae Association and registered my address. I sent in the address form from a friend's Key, and when my subscription arrived her name and mine had been interwoven, but the address given was mine so I did receive the magazine. However, she stopped getting hers. She notified someone of the foulup, and her issues began to arrive again. But I didn't get the last issue, so I fear the computer has re-entered my friend and dropped me!

I would greatly appreciate anything you can do to straighten this mess out. She is now receiving her copies of The Key and I would like to receive mine, particularly inasmuch as I will be attending convention this year.

Loyally,
Ruth Hopper Bailey,
ΓΩ—Denison

I would like to call your attention to an error in the Spring 1978 issue (vol. 95, No.
1) of The Key on page 35. The name
"Jeane Seeley Porter" under my picture and in the text is incorrect. My correct name is "Jeane McWorkman Seeley". (My maiden name was Jeane McWorkman and I am presently married to John C. Seeley.)
A Kappa friend here in town, Isabel Porter, sent the material in to you and either she or you must have inadvertently stuck a "Porter" at the end of my name.

I'd appreciate it if you'd print a correction, if possible, so my friends won't be worrying about my marriage. (I have already had one letter from a friend in New Jersey saying "What's all this about Jeane Seeley Porter??")

You put out a very good magazine, and many thanks. The cover of the latest issue is especially beautiful.

Sincerely,
Jeane M. Seeley, M—Butler

I just finished glancing through and reading some of the latest edition of The Key. I feel as though I were back going through rush again. Perhaps I would like to recapture those days as they were truly some of the greatest times of my life. What a wonderful experience Kappa was and is for me, and the letter from Sally Nitschke sounded so familiar—I felt as though I were back in that chapter room listening to every word and heeding her advice. What wonderful assets to Kappa and although we all too often fail to express our appreciation for the work you do, we know it is being done and believe me we do appreciate your fine efforts. The Key is truly an outstanding publication and to be sure you certainly inspired me enough to sit down and say thanks for your unselfish dedication.

Loyally as ever,

Field Secretaries to pursue Kappa career

Barb Laitner will shift gears from being a graduate counselor (studying biology) at the University of Florida to wear the key of a field secretary. She served as president of Beta Mu chapter at Colorado, and Eta Province meeting active marshall. She was also rush chairman and Dad's Weekend chairman. She was a member of the Panhellenic Extension Committee, Rho Lambda, and American Field Service all at Colorado. While in Gainesville she was on the rush task force committee and the Southeastern Panhellenic Conference committee.

At home in Waukesha, Wisconsin, Barb's mother is an assistant to the director of membership for the Fraternity and her sister Sherry is a Kappa at Purdue. Barb has already traveled widely including Brazil and Mexico and her summer employment includes working at Rocky Mountain Park Company in retailing and also a summer job in a children's shop.

Karen Lushbaugh is from Rocky River, Ohio and received her degree in dietetics from Purdue. She served Gamma Delta chapter as second vice president, on the rush committee and chairman of elections committee. Karen was honored by membership in Skull and Crescent (activities honorary) and participated in many campus activities including; Hall Council, Dorm Governing Board, Corridor chairman, J.V. cheering block, personnel director of Student Government Services, Jr. and executive council in Student Government Services, and on the Purdue Archery Team.

Karen has also traveled the United States and Canada and has worked summers as a waitress and a relief cook.

Kelly Riggs hails from San Antonio, Texas and is a member of Sigma chapter at Nebraska. Her major fields of study are Spanish and education with a BA and teaching certificate. She has spent two weeks in Mexico and three weeks in Spain for the Winterim through the University of Nebraska.

Kelly was second vice president for her chapter for two years and pledge class secretary, registrar and homecoming display chairman. She received the outstanding pledge award, the Karen Dotson Kirk Memorial Award (outstanding junior).

On campus she was on the Panhellenic public relations committee, Greek Yearbook staff, Panhellenic Judiciary Board, Student Alumni Board, Teacher's College Advisory Board, Angel Flight, Builders, Union Program Council Art Lending Library committee, Red Carpet Days, and Tutor of Nebraska Indian Children.

Lisa Schmidt, BΘ—Oklahoma, served as chapter president and Panhellenic representative. She was Mom's Day chairman and a committee chairman during rush for two years. She is on the Dean's Honor Roll, President's Honor Roll, and College of Arts and Sciences Honor Roll.

Her involvement in Panhellenic was extensive as a sophomore and junior and she was Panhellenic Area Rush chairman her junior year. She participated in the Panhellenic Plant Sale and the Panhellenic Women's Week.

She has a B.A. in law enforcement administration and calls Norman, Oklahoma her home. Lisa has been employed as a salesperson for the Red Cricket, Inc. and a bookkeeper for the Schmidt Bicycle and Lawn Mower Center.

IN SEARCH OF MINERVA

From The Record of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, February 1978, Volume 98, Number 1

Editor's note: Both Kappa and SAE share a symbol of their heritage—the goddess Minerva (Athena). Reflecting the true panhellenism of Greek groups, SAE willingly loaned Kappa the article and color photos used in their magazine so that we too could “go to Greece to Find the Roots of our Tradition.”

Bronze statue of Athena in full battle dress (350 B.C.), found in Piraeus.

East Pediment of the Parthenon, the temple of Athena dominating the Acropolis at Athens. The Parthenon was built in the 5th century B.C. under the direction of the sculptor Phidias.

Our Olympic Airways Flight 160 from Vienna turns into its glide path over the rugged Hellenic coast as we settle into Athens. Beneath us the deep blue Aegean reaches out toward the horizon. Ahead of us stretches the Greek metropolis, its outlines distorted by the undulating heat waves of a July day.

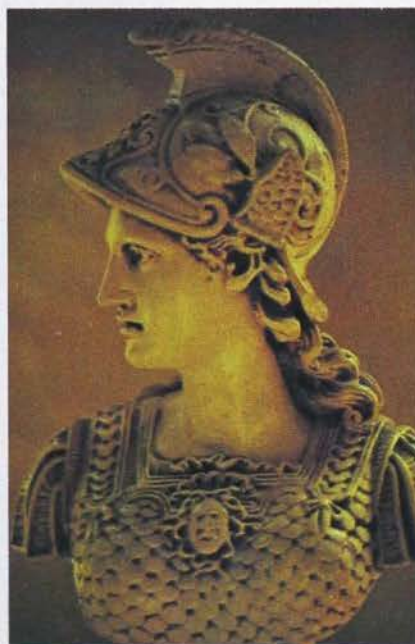

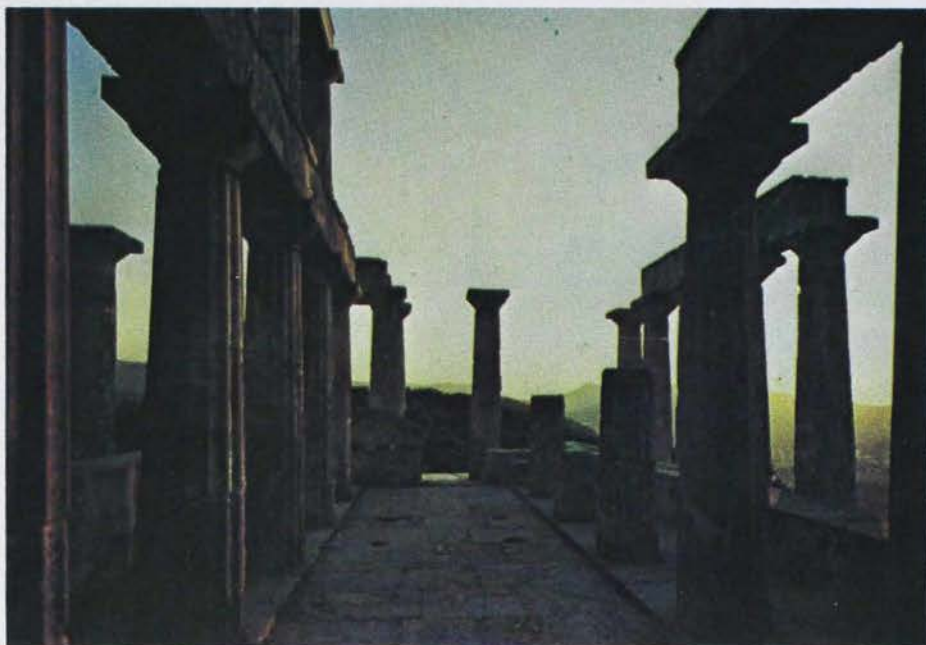

We have come to Greece for a number of reasons, none of them particularly compelling, unless fascination with the Greeks and their history is reason enough. We want to meet the modern Greeks, sample their food and drink, enjoy plays and concerts and beaches and sailing. But we are here to meet the ancient Greeks, too, in the museums and the uncounted sites of antiquity on the mainland and in the islands. Nowhere in the world does the modern world live in such amiable intimacy with the ancients. Nowhere have people more pride in their heritage.

It is our heritage, too.

And no sooner have we landed at Athens than we realize that, after all, we have a very special reason for coming to Greece. In the sparkling, sundrenched mountains and valleys of this land surrounded by Homer's "wine-dark" sea, all of us can find part of the roots of our own civilization. But in a more special way it is important to tens of thousands of SAEs (and Kappas!). We must come here to search for the well-spring of our Hellenic tradition. For here dwelt our patron goddess, Minerva, and no goddess was more honored in ancient times.

She is everywhere. We find her temples and shrines all over the land. We find her in hundreds of sculptures and reliefs that are among the most precious treasures of the museums. We find her especially on the Acropolis at Athens. And Athens was her city. Here, of course, she is called Athena.

In ancient times, to be sure, Hera (or Juno) was the queen of the gods on Mt. Olympus. But Athena (or Minerva) was by all odds the most important and most powerful female deity. The patron goddess of Athens, she was worshiped throughout Greece.

According to classical tradition she sprang from the brain of Zeus. She was born fully grown and fully clothed for war, shouting a battlecry that made the heavens ring. With Zeus she shares divine power over the thundercloud and lightning, and she wears the aegis with the head of Medusa, the Gorgon, on it. She is the goddess of war, a helmet on her head and clad in a long robe. She holds her lance and shield in one hand and a victory in the other. She rejoices in martial music and protects the warhorse and the warship. Her power was usually employed to defend and protect her followers. She was often in conflict with the traditional god of war, Ares (Mars) but her wisdom and self-control usually won out over his impetuosity. Hence she is seen often as the goddess of victory.

Yet Minerva's power extends to the pursuits of peace as much as to the art of war. She is the goddess of wisdom, of skill, of contemplation, of spinning and weaving, of horticulture and agriculture. She is credited with the invention of the wagon, the ship, goldsmithing, statuary, shoemaking, the plow and other domestic implements. She created the olive tree, and the olive has always been sacred to her. When one realizes how important to the Greeks the olive has been throughout history, the significance of its association with Minerva is real.

The story goes that the goddess struggled with Poseidon for the possession of Athens. The gods on Olympus had decreed that Athens should be awarded to the one who produced the gift of greatest usefulness to mankind. Poseidon brought forth a horse; Minerva brought forth the olive tree, and the prize rightfully went to her.

Not only is the olive tree sacred to her. So also is the owl (associated with wisdom), the crow, the cock, and the serpent.

She aided many a greek hero—she gave the winged horse Pegasus to Bellerophon; she gave Perseus her shield and helped him behead Medusa; she helped Jason build the great ship Argo, and she assisted Heracles in some of his labors.

Eternally a virgin goddess whose "heart is inaccessible to the fires of passion," she was courted by many, especially Hephaestus, but she loved wisdom and truth and Athens, not men.

That the founders chose well when they selected the goddess of wisdom as the centerpiece of their fraternal idealism is confirmed by what we see in Greece. For here one cannot escape her influence. The magnificent Parthenon, widely regarded as the most perfect structure ever built, is her temple, and in it was once a massive gold and ivory statue of her. We see other temples erected in her honor, places sacred to her memory, and everywhere, on the hills and in the valleys, groves of olive trees, some of them centuries old.

Here, just for a moment, under a brilliant blue sky, we can feel the spell of the goddess of wisdom. Here dwells our fraternal inspiration. Here, in the sandy soil of Greece, are our fraternal roots.

The goddess helps Herakles in one of his arduous labors. This relief is found in the museum at Olympia. The names of Heracles and Herakles are variants of Hercules—in Greek and Roman mythology the son of Zeus and Alcmene, a hero of extraordinary strength who won immortality by performing the 12 labors demanded by Hera (the wife of Zeus and identified by the Romans with Juno.)

Kappa goes 'down under' to stand at the bottom of the world!

By Pam Olson
BΘ —Oklahoma
Anchor person at
KWTB Channel 9
Oklahoma City

Pam (Vennerberg) Olson at the South Pole—90° south. Photo taken December 7, 1977.

I was the only television reporter selected by the National Sciences Foundation in Washington D.C. to accompany the scientists to the South Pole, Antarctica, in December, 1977, for 2 weeks. December is austral summer time "down under" in Antarctica and the best time of the year to visit there, weatherwise. The sun was shining continually and it never set, so I wore special snow and sun glasses, while I was there.

The South Pole region was vast, awesome, and beautiful. Less than 2 inches of snow falls there annually, but the winds can exceed 200 miles per hour at times. It is the world's largest and driest desert.

Parts of Antarctica resemble the Moon, with mountains, rocks, and even active volcanoes. Much of the plateau there is flat and snow-covered. A few areas of cold water are inhabited by killer whales and I took a photo of one, just a few feet away, with its huge dorsal fin protruding above the ice cold water. Fish caught there have no red blood in their bodies, but instead, have a white fluid that circulates in their veins.

The penguins were friendly and beautiful in their black and white satin "tuxedos." No other birds were sighted as the climate is too cold. I also took photos of seals and their pups "sun bathing" on the ice packs. The frozen waters of the Antarctic seas are very abundant in marine protein, the richest on earth. Shrimp—like krill are the staple diet of fish and penguins and will eventually be the diet for food hungry nations and humans everywhere.

I also explored ice caves, that were hundreds of feet underground. Penguins hatch their eggs and young on the cold rocks and snow and the young baby penguins stand or "roost" on their parents feet, to keep warm and to keep off the cold snow, while their parents stand around very erect and picturesque and stately.

I flew in a C-141 four engine military jet and departed from Point Magu, Naval Air Station, California, to Hickam Field, Hawaii, to Pago-Pago (Samoa Islands) to Christchurch, New Zealand. From New Zealand, I departed in a C-130 prop jet Hercules, equipped with skilanding gears, and we landed at McMurdo Base, our headquarters while we were in Antarctica. I also flew in bright red colored helicopters and visited other bases maintained by other nations down there. The helicopter pilots and the C-141, and C-130 pilots, were superb, dedicated, and very proficient military airmen.

Antarctica is vast. The area is as large as Mexico and the United States combined. 13 flags from 13 nations, fly in a row, outside the South Pole Station, 90 degrees South, and each time a visitor has a photo taken at the geographical South Pole, the flags can be moved to the exact spot for "picture taking" and I am very proud to have "Old Glory," the United States flag, waving over my shoulders in my photo.

You can see the geodesic dome in the background behind the flags, where scientists stay and live the entire year long at the geographic South Pole Station, conducting experiments in biological and geological areas. Research programs also going on here include meteorology, earth tide measurements, glaciology, and biomedicine. The mean annual temperature at the South Pole (9000 foot altitude) is minus 57°F. An oil and gas well was being core drilled while I was there.

The entire trip was well-planned by the National Sciences Foundation and the Navy. Round trip was 30,000 miles over water. I enjoyed every minute of the 2 week expedition and I would not hesitate to go again. I am very grateful to have been selected by the National Science Foundation for this once-in-a-life-time opportunity to visit Antarctica, the last Frontier.

I am a member of the unique "Society of the South Pole." My certificate is signed by C. H. Nordhill, Captain, U.S. Navy, Commander, Task Force 199, and is dated 9 December, 1977. It states in part "that Pam Olson has set foot at the Geographic South Pole, at the bottom of the world."

Kappa Loyalty Fund Report

Finding the way . . .

At the 1976 convention, an important resolution was passed that asked the Fraternity to develop a Loyalty Fund through which Kappas could voluntarily contribute to the general operation of the Fraternity. This resolution was indeed timely in these inflationary times. The world of corporate finance is a complicated one in face of today's tax laws and restrictions and no less so for the Fraternity. Years of far-sighted and prudent financial management and fund investments have provided a sound financial structure for the Fraternity. However, investment income can only be used for certain purposes such as scholarships, education, leadership training and chapter housing without being subject to tax, and the IRS has even challenged us on some of that this year. Non-taxable investment income can not be used for general operation. The day to day general operation of the Fraternity, the meat and potatoes, is dependent upon a dues and fees structure and here is where inflation has been felt the greatest. Take for example the fourth postal rate increase in a period of eight years. Increasing fees is the last thing we want and will not do as long as it is possible. The cost of a college education is staggering enough. Increased growth has helped make ends meet but does not and can not provide the quality, nor even some of the necessities, that our membership depends upon. We are dependent upon voluntary assistance.

The Loyalty Fund has made a difference. It has provided the increased scholarship money needed to provide graduate counselors for our new chapters; it has purchased audio-visual equipment for our Resource Department which serves our active and alumnae chapters; it has provided additional and more sophisticated office equipment which increases our membership services and allows for greater savings through in-house printing over jobbed-out printing; it has raised salaries of the dedicated staff at Headquarters to a more competitive job market level; it has provided improved leadership training; it has increased the excellence of The Key; the information request form on the Loyalty Fund mailing has provided the data for the career resource bank; and it has purchased a most necessary piece of equipment which will provide another savings in cost from rentals for Headquarters needs and shipment of materials for installations and convention—a pretty blue and blue Chevy van. Yes, the Loyalty Fund has made the difference in allowing us to continue the high quality of service to our membership.

In this first year of the Loyalty Fund over 4,000 alumnae of Kappa Kappa Gamma donated over $70,000 providing the extra margin of excellence for the quality operation of our Fraternity. On behalf of the Council, fraternity officers, and especially the undergraduates who ultimately benefit from your giving, we thank each of you!

In 108 years the basic purpose of Kappa remains unchanged—that within a close bond of friendship there will be a spirit of mutual love and helpfulness so that each member of the Fraternity can attain social, moral and intellectual excellence.

New Kappa van.

Where Kappas Live

During the past two years, Kappa has experienced the largest period of growth since the founding of the Fraternity. Over 6,000 have pledged Kappa (almost 1000 more than the previous two years). This growth is directly attributable to the increased interest in Greek membership on college campuses, larger rush enrollment, higher pledge quotas, campuses opening to Greeks for the first time or adding additional chapters. A total initiated membership of 106,428 has taken a school girl dream of 1870 and brought it to an international organization and a modern day, 1978, corporation. The map above shows the count of Kappas on the mailing list currently (June, 1978).

Dear Kappa Sisters,

I have looked high and low for the letter you sent out some time ago asking for Loyalty gifts. I know I have it as I kept it purposely, planning to send a check at a future date. Your reminder in the last issue of The Key prompts this reply.

I get so much enjoyment from The Key and am glad to thank the Editors and everyone connected with the magazine for all their efforts. It is truly a magazine to be proud of.

This is also a good opportunity to express my appreciation for the fabulous Kappa History which I am so happy to have in my library.

I am enclosing my small check to further your efforts. I will send it annually and may increase it in the future if I am able.

Dear Jean (Fraternity President Wells),

Since I don't know who is in charge of Kappa Loyalty Fund, I thought I'd give you some more mail to read on Kappa's Birthday and say "congratulations." I think the Loyalty Fund is one of the best things to come out of Kappa in 107 years!

Right now I'm plowing into a second year of Law School, with all its fun, frustrations and financing, so I can't express in cash anywhere near the enthusiasm I feel. Having been privileged this year to receive a graduate Fellowship, I know first-hand the fabulous things Kappa is doing with its budget. Knowing how much that $500 grant has helped me in financing my education, I am doubly enthusiastic about assuring that others—whether undergrad or alumna, whether through direct financing or the priceless gift of Kappa friendships—will be able to continue receiving the support and encouragement of a truly caring Fraternity. The checkbook may be slim for now, but the wish for an outstanding success is heartfelt.

By the way, congratulations, too, on installation at Baylor and colonization at the University of Florida (not to mention Cornell and Mississippi State). Continuing best wishes on a great term as president.

Loyally,
 Jan Cross, TP—Allegheny

Kappa becomes part of Gainesville Campus at University of Florida

director of personnel*

Kappa Kappa Gamma and Greek Week arrived on the University of Florida campus the same weekend. March 3, 4 and 5, 1978 will be a weekend long remembered for Epsilon Phi chapter was installed with the love and support of so many alumnae, actives and parents and then went on to win a second place trophy for Field Day and a first place trophy for their participation in the blood drive.

The activities started Friday evening with Fireside being held at Bellamy Forge in Gainesville. The unique feature was the round, free form fireplace which lent itself to a very warm, intimate service. Gail Burgess Zavelson—Delta Beta, planned a lovely reception following Fireside and gave the alumnae, coming from all across Florida, and the actives from Mu province chapters, an opportunity to become acquainted with the members of Epsilon Phi colony, a lovely way to start the weekend.

Registration was held throughout the weekend at the Holiday Inn across from the campus. Manning the registration desk were Felice Wood Pralle—Beta Theta and Nancy Warner Schweyer—Gamma Omega. Their warm and friendly greeting was a demonstration of the feelings of the Gainesville Alumnae Club toward their new chapter. This club was formed 30 years ago for the express purpose of placing a Kappa chapter on the campus, and their enthusiasm has not waned. Their happiness is clearly reflected in the faces of the new chapter members, who so dearly love their alums.

Trinity Methodist Church was the perfect setting for Initiation. Every detail was attended to by Jean Ebright Elin—Beta Nu and Dinnie Texter Callahan—Beta Mu, who had driven the van containing the equipment from Headquarters. The local chairman, Sue Von Grossman Broughton—Delta, with the help of Anne McLemore May—Gamma Nu, Mary Lou Grumbein Dennison—Beta Upsilon, Priscilla Ginn Pridgen—Delta Upsilon, and Dorothy Colvin Harvey—Gamma Epsilon, made certain that everything ran according to schedule.

The installing officers, Jean Hess Wells—Delta Upsilon, Fraternity president, and Caroline Cole Tolle—Delta Lambda, director of personnel and Installation Chairman, were assisted by the province officers Carolyn Jones Laurie—Rho, and Juli Warner Deeds—Beta Nu. Also taking part were Janet Dickerson Sanford—Gamma Kappa; Barbara Laitner—Beta Mu, graduate counselor for Jane Julian, ΕΜ—Clemson Graduate Counselor for ΕΚ—S. Carolina; Barb Laitner, ΒΜ—Colorado, ΕΦ Graduate Counselor; Paula Barclay, Δ—Indiana, field secretary; and Willa Jones, ΕΓ—N. Carolina, newly appointed Graduate Counselor for ΕΦ.

Caroline Cole Tolle, ΔΛ—Miami, director of personnel and her mother.

Epsilon Phi; Paula Barclay—Delta, field secretary and Jane Julian—Epsilon Mu, graduate counselor for Epsilon Kappa.

The Installation Banquet, held in the Holiday Inn was attended by nearly 200 people. Votive candles flickered on the tables and lent a festive air to the occasion. The arrangements were handled perfectly by Vicki Stembidge Gadd—Iota. For the first time parents were invited to attend the banquet and the turnout of parents, and grandparents was impressive and thrilling. The room was alive with joy and excitement.

Carol Engles Harmon—Delta Kappa, delighted everyone as the Toastmistress. The program began with a welcome from the president of the Gainesville Alumnae Club, Marsha Schupbach Lowe—Delta Omicron. Marsha also served as the local Installation Chairman and she orchestrated each event with her own special magic. A toast to the new chapter was given by Stacy Spencer, Epsilon Zeta president, with Lisa Miller, Epsilon Phi president, responding.

Tom Dougan, Assistant Dean for Student Affairs, welcomed the new chapter on behalf of the University with an original poem which included the name of each member of Epsilon Phi plus the national officers present. An unusual and creative presentation enjoyed by everyone! Caroline Tolle brought the greetings from fraternity officers, alumnae organizations and chapters from all across the country. She then presented, to the fraternity, a badge to be used as the President's badge. This lovely sapphire and ruby key belonged to Dorinda Green Morgan, initiated into Mu chapter (Butler) in 1891, and was presented by her niece Marian Greene—Mu, of Sarasota. It was especially meaningful as Mu chapter was celebrating their centennial that very evening.

Jean Wells delivered the banquet address and spoke to the audience about the founding of the Greek system, the ideals Kappa Kappa Gamma strives to maintain and the high standards we expect of our chapters. A warm and informative talk, a highlight of the evening.

Then came the gifts! Lisa Miller opened the many sent to the new chapter. Oh's and ah's filled the room as gift after gift was opened, each more exciting than the one before. Epsilon Phi was truly welcomed by this outpouring of kindness on the part of alumnae and actives. The evening ended all too soon for the many who had anticipated this event for so long.

Sunday afternoon a reception was held at the Gainesville Garden Center, a lovely setting on a sunny afternoon. Jane Nagy Koepke—Beta Rho, handled the arrangements and provided a beautiful ending to an exciting weekend.

What made the weekend so special? Well you would have to take into account the warm welcome by the Administration and the Greeks on the University of Florida campus. Then you would have to add the support of the actives and alumnae of Mu Province and the special feeling of pride of the big sister chapter, Epsilon Zeta. The outpouring of love from the families of our new initiates added a special element and the feeling of "At last!" from the Gainesville Kappas. But, most importantly it was the 34 charter members of Epsilon Phi chapter whose future looks bright and secure.

P.S. Twenty three new pledges were added to the chapter in spring rush!

Anne Trebbe, EΦ assistant membership chairman; Jean Hess Wells, ΔΥ—Georgia, Fraternity president; Judi Macon, EΦ 1st vice president; and Anna Prevost, EΦ 2nd vice president.

Left, Carolyn Jones Laurie, P<sup>A</sup>—Ohio Wesleyan, Mu PDA; and Juli Warner Deeds, BN—Ohio State, Mu PDC.

Barb Laitner, Paula Barclay, Dottie Harvey, ΓΕ—Pittsburgh, EΦ membership adviser; Nancy Voorhees Laitner, ΓΔ—Purdue, assistant to director of membership and mother of Barb Laitner, graduate counselor for EΦ.

Caroline Cole Tolle, ΔΛ—Miami, Fraternity director of personnel; Lisa Miller, EΦ president; Marsha Schupbach Lowe, ΔΟ—Iowa State, president of Gainesville Alumnae and installation chairman.

Warelands:

A sense of history came with the house

A house often takes on the personality of its owner. But the owners of "Warelands," an authentically preserved early 18th-century house set on 40 acres here (Norfolk, Mass.), say they have taken on the personality of their house.

"When we moved in five years ago, we didn't really know or care that much about early American history," recalls Margaret Liljestrand, who lives in the house with her husband James and their two small children. "But you can't look up at the ceiling at old oak beams without wondering about the people who put them there."

The historic atmosphere of the house, parts of which date back to 1733, has inspired the Liljestrands to study the life-style of early American settlers through courses offered in Sturbridge Village and, on occasion, to put them into practice.

Cooking at the fireplace

For instance, Mrs. Liljestrand recently cooked a dinner for 45 guests, using authentic early American recipes for roast sirloin of beef and accompanying dishes—each one cooked with authentic utensils over a fire in the huge living room fireplace.

At other times the Liljestrands have made their own candles and soap; sheared wool from their sheep and prepared it for spinning; dressed in colonial costumes for get-togethers, and used a sleigh for getting about their property in the snow.

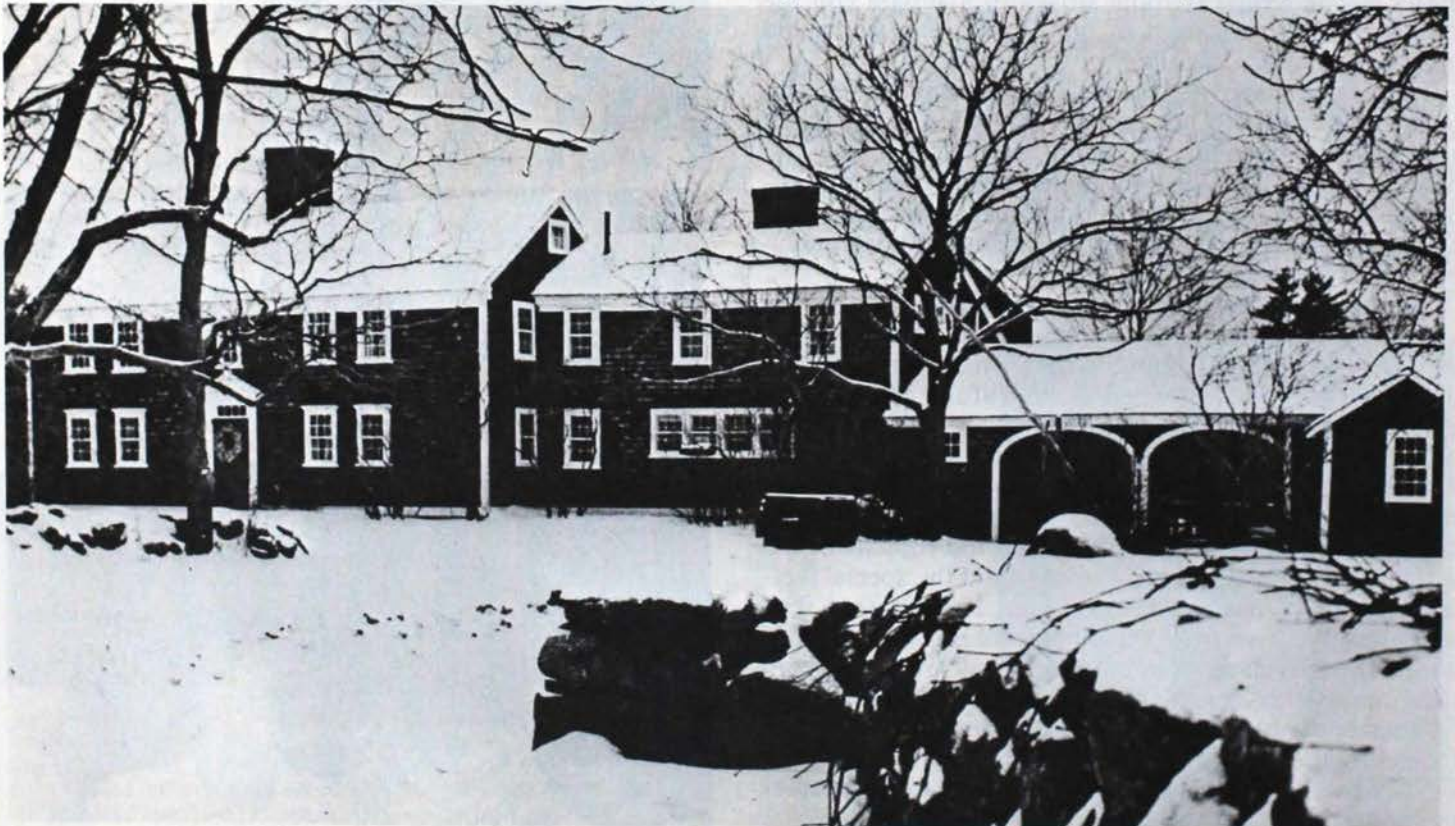

But their main concern has been to preserve the period house and its surrounding property. Their new membership in the National Registry of Historic Places will protect their house from alteration by future occupants.

Their land has been similarly protected by a recent decision from the local town council that will bar any commercial development of the property.

"We have added some of our own touches, but a house this old inevitably shows the layers of each generation that has lived here," Mrs. Liljestrand explained during our visit. In researching the history of the house, she

"Warelands," Margaret and James Liljestrand's 18th-century, cedar-shingled home.

Pine-paneled living room with brick fireplace and other early American objects.

The "Warelands" was bequeathed to Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity in 1938 to be used as a second Hearthstone unit. This property, damaged by storm, was later found to be unsuitable, and was also a tremendous tax burden on the Fraternity. The 1948 Convention voted to sell it and use the proceeds to establish the Charlotte Barrell Ware Scholarship Fund for graduate study in international relations, the welfare of women, and in agriculture for both foreign and North American students.

"So 'Warelands,' is more than the cherished home of the Liljestrands, more even than a national historic place. The legacy from the sale of Charlotte's gift is a living one from a woman who pioneered in personhood." (quoted from the Albuquerque Journal written by Dorris Fish Coyne, ΔB—Duke) determined that the first generation to occupy the house—it was owned by the Ware family from 1727 to 1915—lived in what now is the dining room and sitting room, plus two upstairs bedrooms. All of the walls in the original section are paneled in a rich dark-stained pine that the National Registry has noted as being of exceptional quality.

The next generation gave the house its current salt box design by extending the roof and adding onto the back of the house. This includes a spacious pine-paneled living room featuring a wide bay window with its original leaded diamond panes.

Then, in the early 20th century, the house took on the decided influence of Charlotte Ware, the first person to bottle certified sanitary milk in New England. She used the place for a dairy management school and bottling operation.

Floor was lowered

Mrs. Ware lowered the floor of the living room by a

Charlotte Barrell Ware, Φ—Boston, second grand president, wearing the blue gown she wore to preside at the 1888 Convention. These silver candlesticks given by her to the Fraternity are used in the closing service at each general convention and installation of new chapters.

Known as "The Bride of Warelands," Charlotte was herself a descendant of 18th century Plymouth Valley settlers. She was a ΦBK and graduated in 1885 from Boston University.

foot to accommodate her own height, adding a wing with a kitchen and dormitory rooms (currently used by the Liljestrand children), and built a bottling house.

Although the Liljestrands found the house and land "immaculate" when they moved in, they are currently involved in some restoration and are developing the land for their own purposes, mainly goat breeding and the growing of hay and apples.

The house and out-buildings are all cedar shingled and have recently been trimmed in the authentic shade of pale green commonly used in colonial times. Charlotte Ware's turkey shed has been turned into a goat shed, and the former bottling house converted into a rental cottage.

The Liljestrands, who developed an interest in rural living during duty in Africa with the Peace Corps, feel a commitment to using their land in a manner that is in keeping with its history.

Stone walls, swimming pool

This has meant learning how to repair stone walls, putting up split rail fences, putting all electric and telephone wires below ground, redeveloping the old herb and vegetable gardens, and renovating the old wells. (A modern touch crept in in 1976 when the couple installed an indoor swimming pool in an open-beamed cedar building with glass doors at one end and a cathedral window at the other!)

Mrs. Liljestrand often conducts tours of the house for interested parties and has given lectures in nearby schools on the history of the Ware family, who were important settlers in the Norfolk area.

Her research has been aided by excavations done on her property that have revealed relics dating back to 1661 when the land was first acquired by Robert Ware the Aged.

"I've had to become somewhat of a sleuth in my own home," she comments. "But it's all part of the total experience of living here."

More Women Are Working

According to the Associated Press release on the most recent U.S. Census Bureau statistics, 48% of United States women are in the labor force. Women accounted for 57% of the increase in the total civil labor force this past year.

During this same period (1977) the proportion of men in the work force dropped from 83% to 80%. Working wives rose from 40% to 46% and female householders maintaining a family with no husband rose from 5.7 million in 1970 to 7.9 million in 1977.

There are statistics on all facets of our lives but some seemed especially significant indicating a possible trend toward a very different lifestyle for women by the 21st century.

For example, in 1977 there were 6.4 million fewer children under 14 years of age than in 1970 because of the declining birthrate. The report went on to say young women are delaying child-bearing longer now than a few years ago. The largest rate of growth was among people 25 to 34 years of age, who increased 32%.

The median age of the population increased to 29.4 years in 1977, compared to 27.9 in 1970. That means there are as many people older than 29.4 years as there are younger than that age.

The number of marriages last year, 2,176,000, was nearly double the number of divorces, 1,097,000. However, the divorce rate was up when compared to the three marriages for each divorce in 1970.

The increased longevity of life for women together with the equalization not only of women's rights but also responsibilities indicates a need for sound preparation in career choices.

Confidential law clerk Is on-the-job training

Alicia Swiatlowski, BT—Syracuse

Alicia Swiatlowski, BT—Syracuse, is one of the ever-increasing number of women who have chosen the field of law as a career. She feels that although job opportunities may not be very plentiful, women have advanced in the law field with the help of affirmative action programs. This alone does not guarantee a good job, and she believes that it is necessary for each woman to excel in order to meet the competition which now exists among women for the best positions.

After graduating with honors from Syracuse University College of Law in 1977, Alicia was appointed confidential law clerk to State Supreme Court Justice Richard N. Donovan, who presides at motion and trial terms throughout Central New York. She feels this has been a lucky appointment for her; not only is her work most interesting and challenging, but the job also acts like an apprenticeship in that while she is assisting with legal research, she is gaining valuable on-the-job training to prepare for a future in private practice as well. In addition, she has the chance to meet with other attorneys and to discuss pending cases. Most of these jobs last for one or two years, after which those participating usually go into their own practices in New York (since that state requires that New York Supreme Court law clerks be admitted to practice there). Alicia's tentative plans are to move to private practice sometime next year.

Though she missed the article in the November, 1977 Money, she advises budding female lawyers to aim to be in the upper quarter of their classes. She advocates being certain that law is the goal you are after, never an alternative, and working hard to achieve that goal.

Practicing attorney did not attend law school!

Nancy Blakey Seidler, EΞ—Calif. Northridge, has a rare story in the field of law. Although she presently is a practicing attorney in Sacramento, California, she did not attend law school. She is one of the few people who took advantage of a program offered in that state and in several others whereby a student may study in an attorney's office for four years and be eligible to take the gruelling 3-day bar exam. Nancy's supervising attorney was Peter Van Gelder, now a partner with her in their law firm in Old Sacramento. Both feel that Nancy's experience during this period of study far excels the training received from books in law school. Mr. Van Gelder feels that even he benefitted from the challenge of training her, since he renewed subjects which he long since had put aside and forgotten.

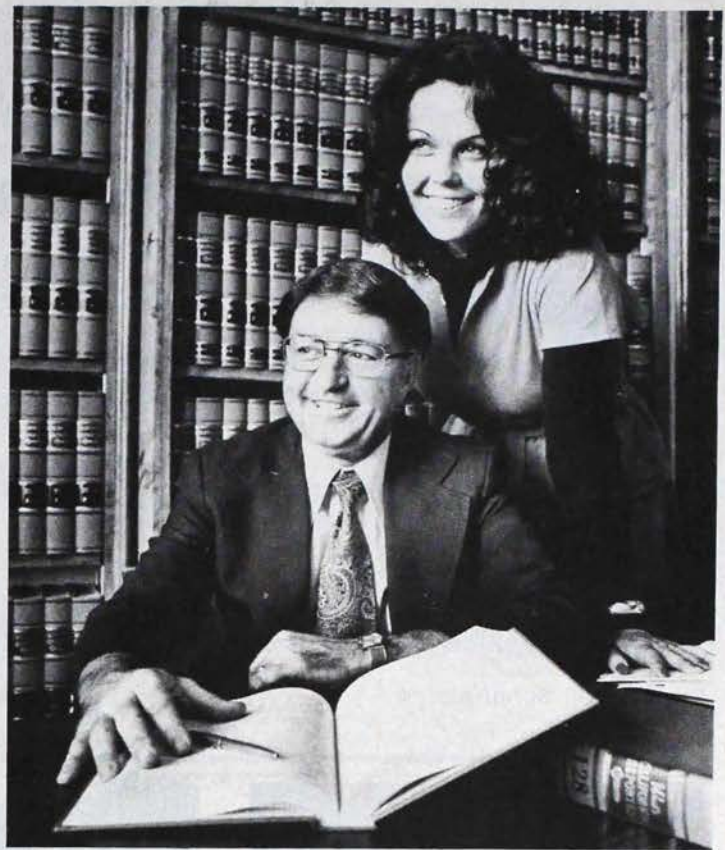

The program requires at least 18 hours a week in the office year-round, plus an examination each month. These tests are sent by the supervising attorney to the Committee of Bar Examiners. A "junior" bar exam is given at the end of the first year, which must be passed in order to qualify for the second year of the program.

The situation was particularly beneficial to Nancy and her family, because hours were flexible, and she could continue it when it was necessary for her to travel with her husband on business. Since they have a young son, it allowed her time to give to him which otherwise would not have been possible.

At first, it was difficult because there was no way in which to pace herself, Nancy recalls. In school you at least have other students to discuss things with, but in this setup you are on your own, and she and her husband both had many doubts until after she had passed the Junior bar exam. She feels that this program requires much more self-discipline than going to school; school was not difficult for her, and she studied when it was convenient. This period taught her to set a goal and develop the resources within herself to reach it. She recommended the program as a self-discipline exercise when she testified in support of the program before a committee which was in favor of discontinuing it. The bill did not pass to abolish it.

The supervising attorney must spend at least 5 hours a week with his student, and in return Nancy helped to prepare pleading, do research and virtually all else except to practice in court. She did attend court, however, as an observer, and also was allowed in chambers to hear discussions among attorneys and judges, all of which she contends was most valuable experience.

Although she is such a booster of this type of law training, Nancy states the program is little-used and may dwindle out. She says you do have to be a bit "spunky" to tackle such a training program, but feels the advantages far outweigh the disadvantages, and the challenges make it most worthwhile. Her work now as a practicing attorney is very similar to that which she did while in training, and she feels almost as if she had already practiced before obtaining her license. Her practice is general and varied, and here again her wide background is priceless. There are always new challenges, among which are some upcoming cases with corporations, to which she looks forward in great anticipation.

Kappa officers are Lawyers

Lorna Telfer, ΔΔ—McGill, is happy to announce that she has just this summer finished writing the Quebec Bar Exams and will begin working with Courtois, Clarkson, Parson, Tetrault a large Montreal law firm soon after convention. Lorna has served for the past three years as the Alpha Province Director of chapters and helped with the reinstatement of Psi Deuteron chapter.

Jean Schmidt, ΔΛ—Miami (Ohio), is currently an attorney working for the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission as a trial attorney. She lives and works in San Francisco where she is treasurer of the San Francisco Bay Area Alumnae Association. Jean has been a Kappa field secretary, member of the Fraternity Finance Committee and on the convention committee—for the past several conventions in charge of staging.

Achievement Awards Honor Six Kappa Alumnae for Law Careers

Emma Fall Schofield, Φ—
Boston

(Eliza) Jean Nelson Penfield,
I—DePauw

Emma Fall Schofield, Φ—Boston, was a lawyer, teacher and lecturer. She studied at the Sorbonne and Paris Law School and was associate justice of the First District Court of Eastern Middlesex, Malden, Massachusetts. She was the first woman in New England to sit on the bench. Her mother was another Boston Kappa, the first woman in Massachusetts to plead a case before a jury, and to argue a case before the Massachusetts Supreme Court. Emma Schofield was a trustee of Boston University, a member of numerous bar associations, and a member of the Massachusetts Electoral College in 1924.

Bertha Fain Tucker, I—DePauw

(Bertha) Fain Tucker, I—DePauw, had been elected judge of the Circuit Court of Cook County in 1953, the first woman elected to judgeship in Cook County since 1923. She built a reputation for fearlessness and fairness among the legal profession. Lawyers sang the praises of "the Lady Judge."

(Eliza) Jean Nelson Penfield, I—DePauw, had been a grand president of Kappa. She had an outstanding record as a platform speaker, parliamentarian, lawyer, and leader in the cause of voting rights for women. She had toured the west with the late Carrie Chapman Catt to work for ratification of the woman's suffrage amendment. With Mrs. Catt she helped to found the League of Women Voters.

Frances McGovern, Λ—Akron, attorney, legislator, was the first woman chairman of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio. As chairman, she was a member of the governor's cabinet. She was also a member of the Advisory Council on Economic Security to the U.S. Department of Labor. She was admitted to the Ohio Bar in 1949 and was in the Ohio House of Representatives from 1955-1960, and a delegate to the

and her husband. She was #1 and he was
#2 in their law school graduating class.

Democratic National Convention in 1960 (on the Platform Committee). During this period she concurrently practiced law in Akron, Ohio.

Margaret McIntosh Boice, ΓO—Wyoming, humanitarian and civic leader, who pioneered in establishing juvenile and domestic relations courts in the state of Wyoming, was given a citation by the State Labor Council for her work on the Child Labor Amendment. Politically, Mrs. Boice fought against legalized gambling in Wyoming, helped secure the state driver's license, and headed a movement to establish the School of Nursing at the university. She was awarded the Distinguished Alumnae Award in the field of humanities and an honorary degree of doctor of laws from the University of Wyoming.

Katherine Shaw Spaht, ΔP—Mississippi, was assistant professor at the Louisiana State University School of Law, Baton Rouge. She was Kappa's City Panhellenic delegate and a member of the Delta Iota Advisory Board. Katherine's mother and father are both lawyers, as is her father-in-law who is now a judge. She is listed in Who's Who Among American Women, Who's Who in Louisiana, and the Order of the Coif.

Here Comes The Judge!

Susan Harrell Black, P<sup>A</sup>—Ohio Wesleyan, is presently Circuit Court Judge, Fourth Judicial Circuit of Florida. She is a former Duval County Court Judge, Jacksonville Assistant General Counsel, Assistant State Attorney—Fourth Judicial Circuit, and Attorney for the U.S. Government (Army Corps of Engineers).

She attended Ohio Wesleyan University and Spring Hill College and graduated from Florida State University with honors. She graduated from the University of Florida Law School.

Judge Black's activities in connection with her legal career include: assignment to the Criminal Justice committee and chairman of the Education Committee of the Conference of Circuit Judges, American Bar Association, chairman of two committees of the Florida Bar, chairman of the Courts Subcommittee of the Governor's Metropolitan Criminal Justice Advisory Council, Governor's Commission on the Status of Women and the National Task Force on Higher Education and Criminal Justice.

According to some Jacksonville Kappas, "Sue is a real great gal. Down to earth and normal. Not at all 'frightening' to talk to the Judge!" She and her husband are restoring an older home and she recently hosted the Kappa alumnae meeting there and presented a program on what, when, and how to go about restoration!

"Heart Sisters" encourage each other to be lawyers

An early interest in the field of law has finally come into fruition for Jean Yingling Teteris, BN—Ohio State. Jean's college major was French and she was awarded a Fulbright Scholarship for a year's study in France. But this was relinquished in favor of marriage in the summer of 1961. Jean became a doctor's wife and mother of two children, and considered her education over during the period from 1961 through 1971; she lived the normal comfortable life of a suburban housewife. When her children were in school full-time, law school became both appealing and accessible to her.

Jean Yingling Teteris, BN—Ohio State

Entering Ohio State University Law School in September of 1972, Jean graduated in June of 1975, later to become associated with the law firm of Porter, Stanley, Platt and Arthur (now Porter, Wright, Morris and Arthur) in Columbus, Ohio, where she has practiced law full time since. This is a large law firm, with approximately 95 lawyers, with a business-oriented clientele. Being a member of the business department, Jean works primarily with problems of corporations or small businesses. There also is a large litigation department, and she also has been involved in some trial work.

Jean feels that business law offers many varied and intriguing questions, and she finds new challenges on her desk almost every day.

She states that business law has some drawbacks for a woman, mainly in the area of client acceptance, and that it will take some time until all businessmen will accept women as legal advisors as readily as they will accept men. She does say, however, that her fellow attorneys (90% of whom are men) do not seem to have any reluctance in accepting women as co-workers; the women share equally in the work and responsibility.

Jean advises any woman who likes to read and to think and who is considering a career in law to go ahead, whether at age 20 or 35. "Somehow, things that appear almost impossible to accomplish—because of time constraints or other responsibilities—often turn out to be much less difficult than anticipated." This she already has proven to be true.

Diane MacDonald Hockman, BN—Ohio State, recently has begun a legal career in the field of administrative agency law. Employed as an attorney-examiner for the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, Diane conducts public hearings concerning consumer complaints and other matters involving the regulation of public utilities. She also is in the process of developing a small private practice focusing on probate work and other tax related problems.

Diane received a Dental Hygiene Certificate in 1963, a B.A. in Anthropology in 1972, and a M.S. from the School of Allied Medical Professions in 1974, all from Ohio State University. She is a recent graduate of Capital University Law School, Columbus, Ohio, and was admitted to the Bar in the spring of this year.

Prior to launching a second career in law, which she describes as merely "shifting gears", Diane was an assistant professor in the College of Dentistry,

Division of Dental Hygiene, Ohio State University for thirteen years where she taught various clinical courses for dental hygiene students, coordinated the activities of the school's continuing education program and directed alumni affairs.

Claiming her Kappa affiliation to be at least partially responsible for changing professions midstream, Diane recalls that her initial interest in law grew out of the enthusiasm shown for the field by fellow lawyer Jean Teteris, her Beta Nu heart sister, also featured in this article.

Despite what appears to be a demanding schedule, Diane is quick to point out that her most enjoyable moments are spent pursuing what she considers to be worthwhile "non-academic" activities, such as active membership in Twig 53 of Children's Hospital, Sustaining Board IV of Buckeye Boys' Ranch, Women's Service Board of Hannah Neil Center for Children, Sustaining Board of the Jr. Division of the Symphony Club of Central Ohio and the Columbus Alumnae Association of KKG in which she has held various offices. She is married to a veterinarian and is the proud mother of three children: ages 11, 9, and 3.

Seattle Lawyer Enthusiastic

A new Kappa attorney eager to help others interested in this field is Jaclin Gotter Vicklund, ΔX—San Jose State, class of 1972. Following graduation she served for two years as a Registered Law Clerk, a program available only in a few states, in which study is allowed under the tutorship of a judge or attorney while working full-time as a legal assistant to the tutor. This training offers invaluable experience to the participant including calling court to order and supervising sequestered jurors.

In 1975 Jaclin entered Puget Sound School of Law in Tacoma, Washington, which did not recognize for credit her two years as a clerk. However, she did feel that she had a distinct advantage over other students with her courtroom experience and her knowledge of legal terminology. Since the school was 60 miles from her home, and since she took additional work at the University of Washington in Seattle along with some night classes at UPS, it was helpful for her to ride with a carpool with other same-year law students. They taped lectures and played them during the commute. To complete her accelerated program she studied in group sessions with these students.

While at UPS Jaclin's interest in Taxation surfaced. Graduating in 1977, she was employed as a Tax Intern for one of the largest public accounting firms internationally based, which group she will rejoin this fall as a Tax Associate. This job will include research and compliance work as well as tax planning for individuals and corporations. During the summer she is taking evening courses in accounting while preparing for the upcoming Bar Exam.

Jaclin notes that there is a lot of interest at present in legal specialization since job market trends seem to indicate that specialists are more in demand than general practice attorneys. However, the reverse is true of small-town practice. The legal field right now is saturated in Seattle, and more and more students are turning to related fields in order to use their law degrees.

Jaclin advises Kappas thinking of law school in the future to keep a positive perspective. She has found that in any one class, some students devote their entire lives to the law library while others are too busy with outside jobs to "absorb the academic workload." She feels that while it is important to earn high grades, it is equally important to stay in touch with the legal community. Various part-time jobs are available in most areas, and she states that it is "here that the real education begins and valuable employment contacts are made. Keeping a positive outlook will help anyone to endure the miseries (and rewards) of law school."

Jaclin says that in addition to herself, UPS has three other Kappas in law school: Lori Nelson, ΒΠ—Washington; Joyce Yeager, ΓΓ—Whitman; and Valerie Knecht Shultz, ΕΙ—Puget Sound.

Experience Best Teacher

By the time that Grace Switzer Reid, ΔH—Utah, graduated from the University of Santa Clara Law School in August, 1973, she had accumulated much valuable and varied experience in her chosen field. She finished 7th in her class of 214, and also was named Most Outstanding Graduate of that class.

During her second year in law school, Grace worked as research assistant for Jerome Zeifman, who had been General Counsel for the House Judiciary Committee before coming to Santa Clara. That summer, she worked for a law firm in Honolulu, Hawaii. Her third year found her as teaching assistant to Eric Wright, of the faculty. Part of her third year was spent externing for Justice William Clark, Jr., of the California Supreme Court; she received a semester's credit for this work in lieu of attending classes. This assignment involved legal re-

GOLF

Teresa Streck, ΔΠ—Tulsa, has actively participated in the Tulsa University golf program for the last four years. She was awarded the Star Award her freshman year, and she ranked second in the Kansas Invitational, third in the Arkansas Invitational, fourth in the Kentucky Invitational and 5th in the Tulsa Invitational. As a team, Tulsa has been second in the national championships for the past two years.

Brenda Goldsmith, EP—Texas A & M, has a long list of golf accomplishments to her name: 1975 winner of the Intercollegiate Tucker Invitational Golf Tournament, 1976 winner of the Women's Southern Amateur and of the Texas State Intercollegiate and of the Texas A & M Women's Invitational golf tournaments, 1977 low amateur in the Women's International and second low amateur in the U.S. Women's Open tournaments, and 1977 semi-finalist in the Women's Southern Amateur and in the U.S. Women's Amateur.

Actives Who Are Athletic Stars . . .

Campus Highlights

edited by

Anna Mitchell Hiatt Pflugh

BM—Colorado

TRACK

Pam Moore, BΔ—Michigan, holds four individual and three group school records in addition to taking third in the 220—Big ten. As a participant in AAU and ranked sixth nationwide in the 60-yard dash, Pam is heading for the Nationals (at the time of this printing).

Diane Dry, ΔΠ—Tulsa, was chosen to compete in the Budweiser College Superstars contests. Diane, with seven others, won for the state of Oklahoma. Contestants compete in track and field events, including obstacle courses.

SWIM

Suzy Giesecke, EP—Texas A & M, was one of the founding members of the campus synchronized swimming team which competed in the International Aquatics Festival in April. She is captain of the team.

Katy McCully, BΔ—Michigan, a junior on the women's varsity swimming team, holds virtually all the varsity freestyle records and individual medley records. She has won nine individual Big Ten crowns and has made it to the finals in five different events at the Nationals.

In the Small College Nationals, All American Kristi Esbensen, ΓK—William and Mary, placed 6th in the 50-meter breaststroke and 12th in the medley relay. She was also in the 100-meter breaststroke, placing 12th. In regular dual meets, Kristi placed first in the 100-meter breaststroke and second in the 50-meter breaststroke. She is also a member of Phi Eta Kappa freshman honorary.

TENNIS

Elise Richardson, EP—Texas A & M, ranks number three in singles and number one in doubles on the Texas A & M tennis team.

Bobbie O'Brien, ΔΠ—Tulsa, captain of Tulsa University's tennis team for the second year in a row, was named Most Valuable Player last year.

Margaret Altoff, EB—Colorado State, Greeley (Colorado) Panhellenic scholarship.

Mary Hart Ferguson, BP<sup>A</sup>—Cincinnati, recipient of the Undergraduate Scholarship, chapter first vice president.

. . . Who Are Scholarship Stars

At the College of William and Mary, two Kappas have been recognized with special scholarship awards. Mary Jean Kelly, ΓK—William and Mary, is a National Merit Special Scholarship recipient and not only was William and Mary's representative to the Student Conference on U.S. Affairs West Point but also was sent to the Rhodes Scholarship competition. Mary Jean is a Phi Beta Kappa, a member of Omicron Delta Kappa (leadership honorary), Phi Sigma Alpha (government), and Sigma Delta Pi (Spanish). Interested in international relations, Mary Jean plans a career within this sphere in the Department of State. She has successfully completed the written portion of the government's foreign service examination.

The hobby she most ardently pursues is dance. She has been a member of Orchesis (student dance group) since her freshman year and has been vice president for two years.

Brooke Tribble, ΓK—William and Mary, has been honored by winning the scholarship to attend the 1978 Institute of Comparative Political and Economic Systems in Washington D.C. and a scholarship presented by the English-speaking Union for summer study in the United Kingdom. Her other honors are many—Honor Council (elected) representative, freshman resident advisor, Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Alpha Theta (history), Mortar Board, President's Aide (chosen by the college president to meet with him monthly), and chapter recording secretary. Brooke was also selected Outstanding Sophomore in 1977 by her campus Mortar Board and was appointed student coordinator for Parents' Weekend 1977.

Beta Tau chapter at Syracuse University is proud to announce academic achievement in being presented a scholarship award for highest overall accumulative grade point average for Spring 1977 at the National Panhellenic Conference. Beta Tau also received an award for most improved overall accumulative average for Spring 1977.

Pamela Massey, EB—Colorado State, Phi Kappa Phi, Alpha Lambda Delta, Beta Alpha Psi and Beta Gamma Sigma (business honoraries), Hesperia (junior women's) and Spurs (sophomore women's) honoraries.

Laura Handley, EZ—Florida State, has studied abroad in London and is now a recreation major and chapter recording secretary.

The Number 3 is Her Key

Three is indeed a magical number for Dana Jordan, K—Hillsdale. Having completed high school in three years, Dana is now doing the same with her college education. She regrets leaving the happy times she has enjoyed in her college life, but finds this a feasible plan. Even with a heavier schedule, she has had a nearly perfect grade point average. And Dana has been selected for membership in several honorary fraternities (Epsilon Delta Alpha, Lambda Iota Tau, and Phi Alpha Theta, to name a few).

A member of the honors program, Dana was awarded the Belf-Messenger Scholarship for academic achievement and extra-curricular activities. Dana also worked five to 10 hours a week as assistant to the president's secretary. Her other experiences include being news editor of the Hillsdale Collegian and living in France for a summer.

Dana has really valued her time as chapter membership chairman, for she feels she has learned much from it, particularly in working with people and fulfilling the goal of improving upon past performances. With her activities experiences and studies in history and languages, Dana plans to have a career in private business dealing on the international level.

Sheila Walsh, BP<sup>A</sup>—Cincinnati, will be traveling to France as part of her Co-op program at the University of Cincinnati. She will live with a family in Paris and will receive university credit. As a child, Sheila lived in Europe, and she is excited to be going back.

Anne McLaughlin, BΔ—Michigan, recipient of the Power Exchange Scholarship to study in Cambridge, England—Anne is the first woman student to receive this two-year scholarship, which covers all academic fees and tuition as well as round-trip fare across the Atlantic, room and board, and some expense money.

Scholarship Pageant Sponsor

Epsilon Delta (Arizona State) Kappas were the stars behind the scenes as their four-month long philanthropy project came to a successful finish with the first Miss ASU Scholarship Pageant. They initiated, organized, and produced the local preliminary to the Miss America Scholarship Pageant held every year in Atlantic City. A franchise granted to the chapter made it official and affiliated it with the Miss America Scholarship Foundation, the largest scholarship fund in the world for women.

The entire chapter participated in the project, and local businesses and on-campus organizations were asked to sponsor contestants and provide donations and prizes. The overwhelming success of their work allowed the presentation of a $500 scholarship to the winner with smaller scholarships also presented to the three runners-up. A standing-room-only crowd added to the proof of their success.

Beth Wilson, M—Butler, 1978 recipient of Mu chapter's Beth Schofield Scholarship, chapter first vice president, Chimes, Kappa Delta Pi (education), and Mortar Board.

Washington Program

Nancy Trbovich, Lisa Sagola, and Suzanne Stephens, ΓK—William and Mary, participated in their university's spring Washington program, the purpose of which is to give students the opportunity to learn more about Washington and its vast resources in the areas of government, communication, fine arts, and science. The theme of this seminar was "The Process of Artistic Production." The participants attended rehearsals, discussed government funding of the arts, and attended performances at the Kennedy Center.

Amy Ross, EB—Colorado State, Fulbright-Hays Scholarship, Alpha Lambda Delta, Mortar Board, Phi Beta Kappa, Creative and Performing Arts Scholarship, President's Scholarship, Westfall Memorial Scholarship, nominee for Danforth Foundation graduate fellowship.

Who Are Performing Stars...

Kappa stars are prominent at the College Conservatory of Music at the University of Cincinnati. Jenny and Debby Donaldson, twins at Beta Rho Deuteron chapter, are very active in dance and theater productions there as well as in chapter activities. They have also traveled to New York to audition for a Broadway play, and next year they will postpone their studies at Cincinnati to join a professional dance company, the Appalachian Dance Theater. In this group the Donaldsons will perform original choreography in ballet and Graham modern dance, and they will tour the eastern United States.

Jill Hoel, BP<sup>Δ</sup>—Cincinnati

Also seen around the halls of the Conservatory is Jill Hoel, another Beta Rho Deuteron Kappa. She graduates this June, having prepared for the theater her whole life. Starting in grade school with piano, dance and voice lessons, she has studied with many world renowned trainers. At Cincinnati, she won major roles in many popular productions. Each summer, Jill has traveled to do summer stock. She has joined a professional theater company, Musical Theater Unlimited.

As busy as Jill and the Donaldson twins are, they have been selected for many honoraries, including Alpha Lambda Delta, and are on the Dean's List. Jenny and Jill also received the honors key for "pledge with the highest average."

Barbara Woody, EZ—Florida State, went to Florida State three years ago as a dance major, which helped to involve her in the F.S.U. Flying Circus. Since that time, she has performed throughout Florida with the circus. Currently a food nutrition major, she and her brother are working on a double-trap act.

Delta Pi (Tulsa) chapter was well represented in Varsity Night, the all-campus talent show presented to raise money for the Little Light House School for the Blind. Pictured here are some of the participants: (from left) Donna Kirberger, Diane Dry, Vicki Sitzman, and Sally Edel (back). Vicki also serves as social chairman for the Student Association and was selected to represent the University in New Orleans at NECAA, a national convention for entertainers.

Omega chapter (Kansas) Kappas and the Phi Gamma Deltas were one of four groups selected from 13 entries to participate in the annual Rock Chalk. And they not only participated—they also won "best script!" Their production "Two for the Show," was a story of three vaudeville actors reminiscing. A Rock Chalk production involves writing a script, songs and music, designing costumes and scenery, and the presentation itself for thousands of university students and parents.

Last spring, Epsilon Xi chapter decided to form the first Kappa Picker group on the West Coast. They made their debut at the Kappa Province meeting and continued their performances through the spring, winning the Omar (entertainment) award. At the Founders Day luncheon they performed a medley of songs containing the word "blue" in the title . . . And they have great plans for the future!

Three Gamma Kappa Kappas (William and Mary) participated in their university's Orchesis (modern dance) performance, which took place on three consecutive nights and marked the culmination of more than a semester of hard work. Mary Jean Kelly was in three dances in her third and final Orchesis production as a senior. (See page 28 for Mary Jean's activities.) Pam Black choreographed the Orchesis finale.

She has had modern dance training for 14 years and feels that dance has been an excellent outlet both athletically and creatively. Lisa Sagolla choreographed one of the program's "hits," according to her chapter. She has studied dance, mostly ballet, for 16 years and plans to continue. This summer she plans to attend a special dance festival and 10-week program at Duke University.

Gamma Kappa chapter's (William and Mary) singing group, which performs soft, folk-type songs in original arrangements, has been named "Fit Your Fancy." The group was featured during rush week and was part of the special entertainment for the campus Parents' Weekend last fall, as well as other campus-wide and chapter events.

Beta Xi Pickers Record

Beta Xi chapter at the University of Texas has announced that the Pickers group there has cut a record. Entitled "Kappa Picker's Greatest Hits," the album is a collection of the songs the Pickers sing to entertain their audiences at the University. The record was released in time for Theta Province meeting and the 75th anniversary of Beta Xi chapter. Pickers members at the time were Carol Cuenod, the one responsible for organizing the album's production, Ann Lovett, Kathy Johnson, Hilary Gillespie, Allison Kerr, Mary Hooper, Kay Butler, Gere Gleim, Kathy Letz, Anne Giles, and Jane Haughton.

Celebrities Entertained

Organized just five years ago, Gamma Alpha (Kansas State) Pickers have already added quite a list to the audiences for whom they have performed. On that list are two very well-known entertainers themselves—Bob Hope and Red Skelton. The Pickers met Bob Hope in a surprise welcome they prepared for his arrival at the airport when he came to Kansas State for a Parent's Day concert. A special song written by Cheryl Turnbull, ΓA—Kansas State, was dedicated to Mr. Hope. For Parent's Day this year, the Pickers greeted comedian Red Skelton at his motel with songs and a welcome card.

Special Days, Kappa Ways

Straight from their hearts came the love that Epsilon Nu chapter gave the Vanderbilt Children's Hospital with the $500 donation that resulted from their Valentine's Day flower sales. Every February Epsilon Nu sells carnations of several colors, with one's own personal note and a bow attached, to be delivered on Valentine's Day. The entire chapter helps staff the two booths set up on campus during the 10-day Kappa Karnation Sale and also helps with deliveries.

Rock Around the Clock

A year ago, the Epsilon Beta Kappas at Colorado State University literally went off their rockers! They rocked for 24 hours to raise $991.50 for the American Medical Center: Cancer Research Center. Their successful venture has led them to join the Center and have an annual fundraising project for its benefit. They have high hopes of helping mankind by trying to find the cure to an enormous disease. So, they say, watch out! They will be manning their battle stations and rocking around the clock again!

The Kappas at North Carolina are also known for rocking around the clock—but to a different tune. Epsilon Gamma once again sponsored a Dance-A-Thon to benefit multiple sclerosis and the UNC Undergraduate Library. Over $4,000 was pledged, and the community

Beta Delta (Michigan) Kappas tried to keep things relatively sane as they proceeded to give a super Easter party at Mott Children's Hospital. The children's creativity led to getting more than just the eggs decorated, however! And what fun they had with the balloons!

gave much support through donations of prizes and food as well. Of the 17 12-hour dancers who made it to the end, eight were Kappas and one, Nancy Lyon, ΕΓ—North Carolina, had the largest number of sponsors—over 200 with pledges of $500. Campus, community, and Greek support added to the Kappa thrill of success.

At Kansas University, the Omega chapter Kappas helped Phi Delta Theta fraternity's Easter Seal philanthropy. They sold the most tickets to the basketball tournament, the money from the sales benefitting Easter Seals. (The Kappas were also victorious by taking first place at the basketball tournament!)

Ten Alpha (Monmouth) chapter Kappas were able to provide Halloween entertainment for the children at Warren Achievement Center. There were two parties, each one and a half hours long, with the children divided according to handicaps and age. There were refreshments, games, songs and individual attention for a very happy Halloween for both givers and recipients.

From Inside and Outside

by Yuko Suganuma

A five months' stay in the States has made me able to look at various aspects of the American way of life and to compare them with those of Japan, where I am returning this summer.

What I like most about Monmouth College is that it is a small school so that almost everyone knows each other. Since my school in Japan is one of the biggest, I don't quite feel at home there seeing a few friends and many strangers.

One difference between the schools is that Japanese colleges do not have dormitories for the students to live in. So we commute to school every day, and we spend the free time between classes mostly in our own club rooms or in coffee shops where we can enjoy talking for hours over a cup of coffee. Also, we have only clubs and no fraternities. So, I thought it would be a nice experience for me to join one of the fraternities here. I knew being a sorority girl would let me go farther into American life, because I would be able to look at it both as an outsider and as an insider. To me, any sorority was all right as it gave me something extra to do besides studying. But through the activities in the last three months, I now realize that Kappa means more than that. I met girls of different interests who are getting unified with friendship by doing things together. The more I get involved in Kappa Kappa Gamma, the more I feel I am a link of the friendship. And another thing, being a Kappa makes me feel more at home here at Monmouth with sisters around, even though I am in a foreign country.

The Delta Phi 1977 pledges made this patchwork tapestry for their pledge project. Each of the 20 pledges made a patch of what Kappa meant to them and then sewed them together to present to the chapter as a wall hanging. Pictured here are (from left) Ann Rogers, Debbie Swift, Jane Katzan, back row; Kim Bullock, Sharon Holland, Asseyeh Farzaneh, middle; Patty Halloran, Jane Rose, and Liz Arthur, front.

Epsilon Lambda (Tennessee) chapter believes it had a rarity when it had three Kappa sisters in the chapter at the same time. ## Career Reports search, preparation of memos keeping the judge informed of issues raised in petitions for hearing before him, as well as starts of preliminary work on some of the opinions and dissents.

Grace passed the California bar and began working for Judge Francis C. Whelan, of the Federal District Court for the Central District of California, in Los Angeles. This was a one-year clerkship, keeping the judge informed of developments in cases assigned to him.

After the termination of this job in August, 1977, she went to Europe then returned to San Francisco with the law firm of Bronson, Bronson and McKinnon. While in Europe she met her husband, who is from South Africa, and they presently are living in San Francisco.

A second-year law student at Rutgers Law School, Newark, New Jersey, Nona Ostrove, ΓΡ—Allegheny, disagrees completely with the article in Money, which stated that opportunities for women in the law were lacking. She feels that the field is opening up for women, and presently is interviewing for summer jobs. She finds that she is being interviewed as a law student and not as a woman law student. She says women are being hired for all kinds of jobs from judicial clerkships to prosecutors, and that some of her friends already are being offered positions with some of the most prestigious firms in the area.

Nona's interest in the law began during her college years; in fact, it was through the interest and encouragement of several Kappa sisters that she began to take a serious look at the legal profession as a career. Two other classmates, also Kappas, also have gone on to law school, Janice Cross to Case Western Reserve Law School, and Karen Regan to Notre Dame Law School.

She notes that at Rutgers, discrimination against women is practically non-existent because there are too many women to discriminate against. Her class is 47% women, with the entering class this year numbering 51%. Three of the deans are women, and the number of women professors is increasing, though slowly. In the area of New Jersey, the legal field has opened up dramatically during the past few years; from the law school to the profession itself, women are finding long-closed doors beginning to open. In the law school, women are serving as editors of the Law Review, and Nona is president of the Rutgers chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, national legal fraternity.

Nona has enjoyed her years at Rutgers thoroughly. She finds the law an extremely challenging and stimulating field and looks forward to her career as a lawyer.

Although Ken Sue Shear Doerfel, ΒΘ—Oklahoma, always had wanted to become a lawyer, this did not happen for several years after graduation in 1975 from the University of Oklahoma. Just six weeks before graduation, she met and married her husband, who is a career Army officer. His encouragement and help made it possible for her to begin law school nine years later at Oklahoma City University. She found it difficult at first to establish a good study routine after having been out of college for so long. During her first year, she commuted 180 miles a day because her husband was then stationed at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. She later moved to Oklahoma City where, in addition to going to law school, she worked as a law clerk and managed twenty duplexes.

Following graduation in August, 1977, she took the February, 1978, bar exams for both Oklahoma and Virginia, since her husband now is stationed in this latter state.

Ken Sue's main interests are in oil and gas law and trial work. She feels that her experience quite likely will be unique because as an army wife she will be moving around every few years and practicing in various localities.

She believes that the reason Money listed law for women as one of the "worst" professions is that the field is desperately overcrowded; but she still thinks there is room for women lawyers, especially in one of the more "unusual" areas of the law.

Law teaches disciplined way of thought

Enid Green, ΓΥ—British Columbia, is one Kappa lawyer who does not practice law as such but uses it in her everyday business life as co-owner of a Chicago real estate firm, Palmer, France, Green and King, Ltd. She is also sole proprietor of a small advertising agency known as Mediads, and is a partner in two multi-family rental developments.

Arriving in Chicago in 1967, she found she was not eligible to use her law degree there because of a restriction against aliens being admitted to the Illinois bar. This ruling later was thrown out by the U.S. Supreme Court, and Enid was admitted to the bars of both Illinois and the Federal District.

For ten years, she has been with her company, working on matters concerning multi-family developments and urban consulting. She has worked with a number of state governments on legislation and to remove restraints on housing developments, having written a book on this subject, Housing and Housing Resources. Recently she has been involved in helping people to understand the daily Federal Register regulations and to speak up against these powerful rules, which she feels often are controlled by inexperienced people in the bureaucracy. She edits Deadline in two publications, stressing these points.

Among Enid's awards are included: Ford Foundation Research Officer, 1966-67, British Institute of International and Comparative Law, London, England, and Marquis'

Enid Green,
ΓΥ—U. of British Columbia

Who's Who in the Midwest (1978). She is a member of several housing-related groups, and has served as speaker and panelist at conventions in this field. She is a member of the Chicago Alumnae Club.

Enid has no regrets about having earned her law degree and not practicing as a lawyer. She says, "If nothing else, it teaches a disciplined way of thought and thoroughness in research."

Who Needs Insurance?

Gamma PDC Juliana (J. J.) Fraser Wales poses for a family portrait with husband Ross and young son Dodd.

Sally and Tom are a couple in their early forties residing in a comfortable suburb. They have two teen-age children. Both Sally and Tom work full time. Tom is in management with a local firm and Sally is a dietitian. Their combined income has allowed them to move into a new house two years ago and their daughter has just enrolled at a local college.

Sally and Tom's neighbors, Alice and Jerry, are in their late twenties with three young children. Jerry is an attorney with a prominent law firm in town and Alice is a homemaker. Jerry's income almost equals that of the combined income of his neighbors.

Two couples . . . both with children . . . both within the same income bracket. Now, here's a question for you . . . out of the four people mentioned, Sally, Tom, Alice and Jerry, who needs life insurance?

Your first reaction might be Tom and Jerry. And that's true . . . they do need a certain amount of coverage. But, today, more than ever before, Sally and Alice also need life insurance protection.

Let's consider Sally's situation first. Sally is one of almost 21 million working wives (one of 14 million working mothers) in the United States today who is contributing nearly 40% to the total family income. Because of Sally's paycheck, she and Tom have been able to take vacations with the kids every year, make the move to their new home and pay for their daughter's tuition and other college expenses. All in all, because of the combined income of Sally's and Tom's paychecks, their entire style of living has been raised.

Now, just imagine what would happen to Tom and their kids if Sally were to die. Without Sally, Tom would find the lifestyle he and the kids have grown accustomed to over the last few years greatly altered. After all, almost half the total family income would be missing. Tom would be solely responsible for keeping up the mortgage payments and college expenses.

Once you get accustomed to living on two incomes, it's difficult to maintain the same lifestyle on only one. But what about Alice and Jerry's situation?

Although Alice does not contribute a second paycheck to her family's income, she would still be well advised to carry life insurance.

According to a recently published figure, it would cost at least $13,000 a year to replace the many services a wife-mother provides in the home. Cooking, cleaning, laundry, household management, child care . . . the cost of paying someone to do all this could create a heavy financial responsibility for Jerry.

These families' situations are fairly typical of many in the U.S. today. The need for life insurance . . . for a form of future financial security . . . is definitely there.

This need for life insurance increases with single mothers. Records show a rising number of situations where a woman is shouldering the financial obligations for her entire family.

What kind of insurance to carry and how much depends on many factors. For example, the woman's age, her present income, the number and ages of her children, her assets, her retirement needs and estate taxes all come into consideration.

There is a lot of information around that can help you make decisions about your financial obligations and choices. But ultimately, decisions regarding financial responsibility are going to be personal ones. Each woman—whether employed or not—should begin by asking herself the questions, "For whom am I financially responsible?"

Next consider the type of insurance available to you. You don't need to become an authority on the subject, but it is to your advantage to understand that there are different categories of insurance that offer different kinds of protection.

This article will limit itself to a discussion of term insurance—the simplest and one of the most popular forms of life insurance. Term insurance pays if you die while your coverage is in force. You pay premiums only for as long as you feel you need the coverage.

There are some features to look for when considering a term life insurance plan. See if the plan is "renewable" . . . this means that the insurance can be continued at the end of the term no matter what the state of the person's health. Look to see if the plan is "convertible" term. This gives you the option of trading your policy in for a more expensive and complicated type of insurance variously called straight life, whole life or ordinary life at a later date.

Term insurance is usually the least expensive life insurance you can invest in. The cost of this protection depends only on your age.

One of the most economical ways to purchase term life insurance is through a group. Group term life insurance is often the lowest-priced protection available. Why? Because the insurance company's administrative costs are lower and often no medical exam is required for certain amounts of coverage.

No matter what type of protection you decide to buy, take the time and effort to make sure you get the most for your insurance dollar. This means you have to shop. Compare prices and benefit features.

And once you've established a life insurance program, re-evaluate it regularly. Yes, inflation affects insurance just like every other item or service on the market today. What may be adequate protection today, may be inadequate tomorrow.

Insurance is a highly individual matter. So become knowledgeable about your family's finances, needs and expectations, seek out advice if you need it and then make your decisions.

SOMETHING NEW FOR KAPPAS

When you talk about your membership in Kappa Kappa Gamma, many things come to mind . . . friendship . . . service . . . personal benefits. Now, Kappa Kappa Gamma is pleased to announce two new benefits especially designed for its members: the Kappa Kappa Gamma Group Term Life Insurance Plan and the Kappa Kappa Gamma Hospital Indemnity Plan.

Kappa recognizes the need for economical, competitive insurance plans for women. By offering you a term life insurance plan, one that guarantees every member who enrolls at least $10,000 in coverage, and a hospital indemnity plan, Kappa is giving you the opportunity to receive excellent coverage at surprisingly low cost.

The insurance program came as a result of the following resolution from the Alumnae Resolutions Committee at the 51st Biennial Convention in 1976: BE IT RESOLVED, That Council investigate the possibility of group insurance plans for members of the Fraternity who are interested.

A committee consisting of Executive Secretary Betty Cameron, Fraternity Treasurer Jane Koke and Finance Committee member Anne Wilson was appointed to report at the January 1977 Council meeting. Considerable study was undertaken including programs offered by other fraternity and sorority groups and university alumni associations as well as the services available from a professional administrator of group insurance programs.

It was concluded that there was an important market for the sale of types of group insurance to members of fraternal organizations. An administrator of the insurance program would handle the presentation to the members and would also take care of all claims against the policies sold, while Kappa would retain control of the type sales programs to be presented to our members.

The insurance program in no way profits the Fraternity. At the same time it should be noted neither will it be an expense.

Anne Harter, B T—Syracuse, former Centennial Chairman and Director of Philanthropies, has been appointed by Council as Insurance Program Chairman. She will serve as a liaison between the Council, the membership and the insurance administrator.

Kappa Kappa Gamma selected Sentry Life Insurance Company to underwrite the insurance plans. PBA Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Alexander & Alexander Inc., was chosen as the plan's administrator.

All eligible members of Kappa are invited to enroll in the plans. Your husband and dependent children may also be enrolled under the Kappa Insurance Plans.

The new plans will be offered to members in the near future. Information will be available at the 52nd Biennial Convention in June and mailings will reach members in the near future with those desiring coverage to enroll by mail.

Watch out for Kappa's golfers

By Carol Cheney Williamson
ΓΨ—Maryland

To sum up over eighty years of Kappa golfers would be to say, "You've come a long way, baby!" Kappas have made a tremendous contribution to the development of ladies' professional golf as we know it today.

Kappa's first known golfer was Johnnie Anna Carpenter, Mu—Butler, who was the City Champion of Indianapolis in 1896 and 1897.

Patty Berg, Chi—Minnesota, is the most famous lady golfer in the world. She is a founder and first President of the Ladies' Professional Golf Association, which was formed in 1948. At that time there were only three golf tournaments and just five lady professionals playing for a total yearly purse of $500.

Today two Kappas from Rollins College (Delta Epsilon) will compete for almost $3.5 million in at least 38 tournaments. Jane Blalock, who turned Pro in 1969, has already become the 6th all-time career money winner, with just short of a half-million dollars. The other Delta Epsilon golfer is Hollis Stacy, who holds the record for Best Score for 72 holes (a 271). This is only Hollis' fourth year as a Pro.

Numerous Kappas have played championship Amateur golf but never turned Professional. The most outstanding is Lucile Robinson Mann, Gamma Theta—Drake, whose name is inscribed on thirteen state championship trophies. Lucile was twice named to the U.S. Curtis Cup team which defeated Great Britain. Two times she captured the Women's Western Amateur title, and reached the peak of her success in 1941 when she won both the Western and the Women's Trans-Mississippi Tournament. The following two years the Trans was won by none other than Patty Berg, and Babe Zaharias. In 1975 Lucile became the first woman enshrined in The Des Moines Sunday Register's Iowa Sports Hall of Fame.

---

Between 1896 and 1978 Kappa Golfers have come a long way!

Patty Berg started out playing football with a neighborhood boys' team in Minneapolis named the "50th Street Tigers." Her career as a quarterback ended at fourteen by the advice of a male teammate.

"You're too short and too slow," said a twelve-year-old guard named Bud Wilkinson, who was to become an All-American at the University of Minnesota, an immortal college football coach at Oklahoma, and present Coach of the NFL St. Louis Cardinals. "You have no future in football," Bud said.

So Patty Berg went with her father and brother to the golf course. The girl who was too short and too slow for football took to the game of golf so quickly that she won, at age 20, the 1938 U.S. Women's Amateur Championship.

Because of her many Kappa friends, Patty became a wearer of the key at the University of Minnesota. Since her family lived in Minneapolis she did not live in the Kappa house. The man who has been her main teacher over the years is Lester Bolsted, golf coach at that university, whose wife is a Kappa.

After eight years of playing amateur golf Patty turned pro. In those days traveling to tournaments was done by train. The golfers stayed at downtown hotels and were driven out to the golf course. Since the total yearly purse was only $500 then, Patty gave exhibitions and conducted golf clinics to earn a living and stay in practice. In contrast to those days, Jane Blalock said, "In 1978 our expenses on the Tour are about $500 a week!"

In 1940 she signed to represent Wilson Sporting Goods, which makes Patty Berg Signature golf clubs. Wilson President Frank Peck said in February of this year, "Patty's line of golf clubs still outsells any we have."

In her career Patty has won 83 tournaments and was named Associated Press Woman of the Year three times. She was awarded three Vare trophies for Best Yearly Average and was the leading money winner in 1954, 55, and 57. Her best year was 1955 with #1 earnings, six tournament wins, a Vare trophy, and five major awards.

Patty Berg was chosen as an original member of the LPGA Hall of Fame. In total she has been named to nine halls of fame, the most recent the PGA (Men's) Hall of Fame.

Patty has written three books, the newest of which was published in December, 1977, by Contemporary Books, Inc. Its title is Inside Golf for Women.

Always active in public relations appearances for the LPGA, Patty also teaches golf in her Florida area, especially to youngsters. She is ardent in her role as chief ambassador of women's golf with many clinics, speeches, and promotions. According to a Wilson Sporting Goods survey, she does more of that sort of thing than any other player, male or female.

Patty keeps up with many of her chapter sisters, and in her travels, meets new Kappas. "Every place I go, Kappas come up to me and introduce themselves, and I always give them the Kappa handshake," she said impishly. "Being a Kappa is the greatest! They make you feel right at home in a strange place."

Patty was presented Kappa's Alumnae Achievement Award in 1956.

When asked about women's golf in 1978, Patty said, "The equipment is better than ever and we have developed superior grass turf and how best to care for it. Through vitamins, the gals have even grown up stronger. I think today's Tour has the most talented women, the longest hitters, the best looking golfers, and the brightest future it's ever had."

Jane Blalock is a part of today's ladies' golf scene. "I was a tomboy who played all sports, and the only one in my family who plays golf," Jane told me. She was the New Hampshire and New England Junior Champion in 1963. A native of Portsmouth, N.H., she chose Rollins College in Florida for the good golf weather. She lived in the Kappa house, and because of their mischievous pranks, she and her closest Kappa buddies were known as "The Rat Pack." Even though she played more tennis than golf in college, she won the Florida Intercollegiate Championship in 1965, as a sophomore. She was the New Hampshire State Amateur Champion four times (1965-68), and in 1968 held the New England Amateur title.

After graduating from Rollins in 1967 with a B.A. in history she taught school for a year before deciding on golf as a career. She then moved to Florida, and credits Pro Bob Toski with developing her game. In particular she learned to "develop a good mental approach, and practice, practice, PRACTICE!"

Jane turned Professional in 1969 and subsequently earned the Rookie-of-the-Year Award. In 1970 and 1971 she won the LPGA Most Improved Player Award. She has won eighteen tournament titles and finishes consistently in the top ten, in her career to date. She became the fourth woman ever to go over $100,000 in single season earnings in 1977.

Until recently only the LPGA Open Tournament was televised. In 1978 at least eight will beam from your TV set. The seventeen network cameras set up on the course do not bother Jane's game, in fact, she said, "It is exciting to have TV cameras around. The more exposure for women's golf, the better."

A typical week on the LPGA Tour begins on Monday traveling to the tournament. Tuesday is a day of practice. Wednesday is PRO-AM competition in which a number of the top 50 Pros play with six Amateurs, who usually come from the general geographic area of the tournament. Thursday through Sunday is the tournament competition. Jane thinks that Mission Hills Country Club in Palm Springs, California, is the most difficult course, and the U.S. Open Tournament—no matter where it is played. To mentally prepare herself for the course, Jane has developed a personal ten minutes of meditation before beginning play. After the tournament conclusion Sunday night Jane says she is "too keyed up to sleep." The next morning it is usually off to the next tournament!

Throughout the Tour Jane tries to keep up a normal lifestyle, and relaxes by reading, swimming, and going to the beach, which, when she is home in Florida, is right outside her door.

Her advice to young women who are interested in Pro golf as a career is:

"Definitely complete college. Give yourself time to mature and develop character. Get all the Amateur experience that you can. Too many young players get pushed too hard by their parents and burn out early. Golf requires more brainpower than other sports and I am only now (at 32 years) reaching my peak. In many other sports, I would already be 'over the hill'."

Jane and women's tennis great Billy Jean King, have formed a ladies' Pro Softball team in New Hampshire. It competes with other teams formed around the U.S. They hope it will be a successful venture. She is a representative of the Ram Golf Corporation which manufactures her Jane Blalock Signature golf clubs.

She is also an author. The Guts to Win, published by Simon & Schuster, the second book written by Jane Blalock, came out this year.

Jane first met Hollis Stacy when both were Amateur golfers. Hollis was only fourteen years old at the time. Through Jane's influence, Hollis pledged Kappa at Rollins College. They were not in the chapter together as Jane had already graduated.

Hollis Stacy is a Georgia girl from Savannah. She began playing golf at age eleven and went on to capture a record three straight U.S. Junior Girls titles in 1969, 70, and 71.

To be a professional golfer on the LPGA Tour it has been required since 1973 that you play in a Qualifying School. This past year, 93 ladies participated and only the 26 best ones were chosen. The requirements to try out are that you be a female 18 years or older, have a 3-or-better handicap, and, in addition, recognized Pros must submit letters attesting to your tournament ability.

In the July, 1974 School, Hollis Stacy qualified and became a Pro. She has not let anyone down, vaulting into the top ten players in only her fourth year on Tour.

After ten finishes in the Top 20 in 1975, and three runner-up performances in 1976, she jelled with three tournament wins and earnings near $90,000 in 1977.

Hollis Stacey

Hollis smashed Kathy Whitworth's 11-year-old record for Best 72-hole Score with a 17-under par 271. She was also named All-American Putter for 1977.

A flamboyant player bordering on recklessness at times makes Hollis a big gallery favorite. She is particularly adept at long irons and will sometimes use a one-iron to tee off.

Hollis' favorite hobby is "Indy 500" race cars in Springfield, Illinois, where she is a champion driver. She represents Wilson Sporting Goods.

In February 1978, both Jane Blalock and Hollis Stacy helped celebrate a very special occasion: a surprise 60th Birthday party for their Kappa sister, Patty Berg. The "Grand Dame" of women's golf was cheered by all current LPGA players and other tournament principals at the Orange Blossom Classic. The party was in a big tent on the lawn at St. Petersburg's Pasadena Golf Club.

Patty Berg

"This is the most wonderful evening of my life," said the former 50th Street Tiger. "And it's the greatest surprise!"

Two golfers toted out a three-tiered birthday cake. After Patty blew out the candles, she whispered, "My wish was for world peace."

Congratulatory letters and wires were read at her birthday party, including one from former President Gerald Ford, and another from President Jimmy Carter. The LPGA gave her a solid gold Tee necklace studded with diamonds. A gift from four of the Tour players was a diamond necklace spelling out the word "SUPER," which is what they think Patty is.

When asked what she would change if she had it to do all over again, Patty said, "Not a thing. Golf has been wonderful to me. I couldn't be that lucky twice."

Kappa Kappa Gamma is indeed lucky to have Patty Berg, Jane Blalock, and Hollis Stacy on her fairway. F—O—R—E! Watch out for the Kappas!

Northern Virginia

A varied program for a wide range of interests is provided by the Northern Virginia Alumnae Association. Their active year was crowned by a wine and buffet supper at the Botanical Gardens in Washington, D.C. Proceeds will benefit undergraduate scholarships and the Northern Virginia Association of Retarded Citizens. An additional donation to the Madison High String Quartet from Vienna, Va. will supplement their travel funds to a competition in Bermuda. Kappa alumnae and friends enjoyed the music as they strolled among palm trees and tropical flowers.

Additional interest in philanthropy saw six alumnae hostessing an Easter party at the Northern Virginia Training Center for the Mentally Retarded, where 18 boys enjoyed baskets filled with home-made goodies. Other local Kappas work several hours each week as volunteers in physical education, as classroom helpers and substitute teachers at the Fairhill Center School, a facility for the physically handicapped. The school would have no music program without the work of three of these devoted Kappas.

Interest groups provide a range of activities from theatre groups to cooking demonstrations, all led and organized by Kappas. The needlecraft group raffled off a hand-made log cabin design quilt for $400 last year and this year's Dresden plate design is expected to top that amount. Historic tours are a must in the capital area, as well as an interest in the arts, and Kappas were delighted to find Mary Garvin Taube, ΓΚ—William & Mary, serving as Director of the Fairfax County Council for the Arts when they scheduled a program there.

Young Kappas, a group within the association, sponsored and organized an alumnae-active patio party. They also presented a panel review of "New Career Perspectives" for a joint meeting with the Suburban Maryland-Washington, D.C. alumnae. Several members presented views focused on the changing multiple roles of women in the world of work—both inside and outside the home.

Kappa feeling is a strong part of the program and was especially effective on Founders Day when several alumnae acted as pledges for the last ceremony prior to initiation. An added touch were the white ceramic owl candlesticks loaned by Sharon Smith Steffel, ΓΧ—George Washington. One is a souvenir of the ceremony in which her grandmother, Orma Innis Smith, BΛ—Illinois, helped to re-instate Alpha (Monmouth) in 1934. The other was presented to Sharon as a pledge at Monmouth when the chapter celebrated its 25th anniversary.

There is not space to list all who conceived, planned and executed this successful year of programs. Their pride in their work and the enjoyment of the members is their reward. Imagination, dedication, Kappa spirit and a great deal of hard work by many devoted Kappas are the ingredients for this ambitious alumnae association.

Alumnae

Activity . . .

Winter Park

Members of the Winter Park Alumnae Association chose a philanthropy project which would help others, as well as helping one of their own. Sally Caldwell Haddock, P<sup>Δ</sup>—Ohio Wesleyan, has two children born with hemophilia and there are 50 hemophiliacs in the area, each of whom receives $26,000 in blood treatments each year. The alumnae sponsored a benefit performance of the play Table Manners at the Rollins College Annie Rossen Theatre and raised $1,000. Chapter members of ΔE—Rollins helped by ushering and serving at the wine and cheese reception. Shown at the performance are Gail DeForest Harris, ΔΓ—Michigan State, Louise Carter Borsoi, EZ—Florida State, president and vice-president of the alumnae association, with Dr. Clarence Brown III, director of the Central Florida Hemophiliac Association.

Chicago-North Suburban

Kappas at Υ—Northwestern received 36 new initiation robes made by the members of the Chicago-North Suburban Alumnae Association. Replacing those that had seen about 15 years of service, the actives happily received the new robes after having worn some that were basted, pinned and even stapled in recent years! The new robes will be worn proudly in the ceremonies which have been such an important part of our college lives. Shown cutting out a new robe are the mother-daughter team of Kristen Booth Struwe, Θ—Missouri, and Enid Everson Booth, ΓT—N. Dakota State.

Columbia

Proceeds from a quilt hand made by members of the Columbia Alumnae Association will help to send both actives and alumnae to national convention. Lots of love and labor went into the quilt and active Susie Kling, Θ—Missouri, who won it, will cherish it forever. Two of the many alumnae who helped make this special Kappa quilt are Helen Hamshaw Hatridge, Θ—Missouri, and Elizabeth Fyfer Cooper, Θ—Missouri.

Richardson

Chapter members at  $\Gamma\Phi$ —Southern Methodist, enjoyed a delicious break during second semester rush when alumnae of the Richardson Association brought in dinner for the actives. All smiles and ready to eat are Cynthia Booth Forster, alumnae-collegiate liason; Liz Lawson and Cathy Farlow, chapter rush chairmen, all  $\Gamma\Phi$ —S.M.U.

Arcadia

Students of the Foothills Development Center for Mentally Retarded Infants and Pre-School Children enthusiastically participate in the annual Easter Party provided by the Arcadia Alumnae Association. President-elect Vera Lewis Marine,  $\Delta Z$ —Colorado College is helping the children find Easter eggs. The alumnae group has provided teaching aids, equipment and funds and has had many rewarding experiences from their support of this worthwhile local philanthropy.

Northern New Jersey

Members of the Northern New Jersey Alumnae Association met at The Old Mill Pottery Shop, owned and operated by Pamela Watt McBride,  $\Gamma\Omega$ —Denison. Pam demonstrated the art of "throwing" a pot for Frances Eppeley Tobin,  $\Gamma\Psi$ —Maryland; Ginny Metz Kuhnert,  $\Gamma P$ —Allegheny; Barbara Irland Teramoto,  $\Delta\Phi$ —Bucknell and others, and her partner demonstrated weaving.

Atlanta

The 16th annual Fashions and Diamonds Luncheon of the Atlanta Alumnae Association raised \$1500 for Our Lady of Perpetual Help Free Cancer Home which serves incurable cancer patients and is the group's local philanthropy. Jewels from Claude S. Bennett, Inc. were modeled by Kappas and Lord & Taylor presented a spring style show. Chatting before the event are Susan Fassee Gutierrez,  $EZ$ —Florida State, show chairman; Anne Evans Edwards,  $EE$ —Emory, alumnae president, Jean Hess Wells,  $\Delta Y$ —Georgia, Fraternity President, and Sisters Albert and Aquinas from Our Lady of Perpetual Help Cancer Home.

San Diego

Four members of the San Diego Alumnae Association are running regularly in various local events such as the Mission Bay Half Marathon, the L'eggs 10,000 meter run and the Balboa Park Boogie (5,000 meters). Ready to go are Mary Jeanne Bahr Wolf,  $\Gamma\Psi$ —Maryland, Melinda Jeffries Lasater,  $H$ —Wisconsin, Suzanne Brenner Richardson,  $\Gamma X$ —U.C.L.A., and Diane Gadberry Fielder,  $\Gamma A$ —Kansas State.

Names in the News . . .

Helen Wagner Willey

The first female Episcopalian priest in Oklahoma is Jane Cleveland Bloodgood, H—Wisconsin, ordained at age 78. A self-proclaimed pioneer who seeks to open doors for others rather than fame for herself, Jane has attained her goal despite protests from those who feel that women's place is not in the pulpit. Always a woman of determination and conviction, as well as one who is constantly learning, Jane proves her statement that she has never liked to sit still for long, except to read. Her triumph over the obstacles in her path toward ordination also illustrates that "Nothing is so powerful as an idea whose time has come," the title of an article about this energetic woman in The Key, spring 1975. Jane's energy and concern for others has not flagged. Her post at Trinity Episcopal Church in Tulsa will require a great deal of her, but never more than she requires of herself. Her husband, Francis, was associate rector of the same church until his death in 1961.

Jane feels that people ask a great deal of her and says, "Perhaps that is what ordination will give me, the power to do things beyond what I think I can." Actually, that is what this pioneer has been doing for many years . . . more power to her.

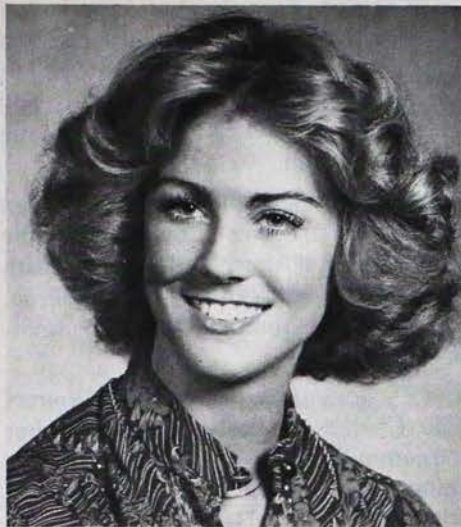

Being known as "Batwoman" is considered a compliment by Dr. Mary Purcell Wiedeman, BX—Kentucky. She is one of a very few researchers in the United States who has filmed the circulation patterns of live animals under a microscope, a technique known as vivo (in the living body) microscopy. She chose to film the blood vessels of bats (the basic structure is quite similar in all animals), thus earning her nickname, and at the same time opening up new vistas for her in "show biz." Some of her film footage has been used in the National Geographic special "The Incredible Machine," aired several times on t.v., as well as in Bionic Woman and the MGM movie The Demon Seed. Dr. Wiedeman is a fan of the Bionic Woman but says with a laugh, "It absolutely tickles me that after 20 years of quality research to aid my fellow man that my big exposure has come from the Bionic Woman."

Named Outstanding Faculty Woman of 1976 by the Temple University School of Medicine, Dr. Wiedeman is the author of one of the nation's most popular nursing textbooks. She is presently engaged in research on thrombosis, the cause of most heart attacks and strokes. She feels a large burden of responsibility falls on those who teach in medical schools to " . . . build strong self-discipline and major dedication into every one of our students." Her own lengthy list of awards, publications and honors shows that she practices what she teaches.

Helen Wagner Willey, A<sup>Δ</sup>—Monmouth, better known as Nancy Hughes on television's "As The World Turns," returned to her alma mater to participate in a celebration of the college's 125th anniversary. She spoke to large audiences, describing her experiences as a singer and performer on the Broadway stage, as well as her experiences as Nancy, a role she has played since the creation of the popular soap opera. Kappa alumnae who enjoyed talking with her are Elizabeth Diersten Lashly, Elizabeth Main Speer, Mary Jane McCracken Hubbard, Margaret Staat Watt, Mabel Martin McCoy, Helen, Onnalee Hawes Horner, Marjorie Stormont Work and Kathy Alexander, all A<sup>Δ</sup>—Monmouth. Mary Bartling Crow, another A<sup>Δ</sup> missed the picture because she was the busy lady in charge of the program and was off somewhere checking final details!

Jane Cleveland Bloodgood

Kay Lattin

Kay Lattin, BΠ—Washington, has been promoted to discotheque operations manager for Ramada Inns, Inc. Responsibilities in her new position include programming music for Ramada Inn discotheques, coordinating sound and light system installation and hiring disc jockeys. She will also retain her title as assistant to the director of entertainment and her offices at the Phoenix headquarters of the worldwide hotel system.

Sallie Bosch McNabb

Henrietta Duncan McArthur

Dr. Irene West Gaskins, BK—Idaho, is the founder and director of the Benchmark School. Formerly a classroom teacher, Irene recognized that some students' needs in reading were not being met in the regular school situation. She began working with small groups of children in her home, children who fell into two categories: dyslexic or learning disabled children and those with school adjustment problems. Begun in a church educational building and then housed in several rooms in an elementary school, Benchmark today is a contemporary building nestled on fifteen wooded acres in Media, a suburb of Philadelphia. Each pupil is viewed as a unique individual with special needs to be met if he is to develop a positive self

Marjorie Curtis Powell, Θ—Missouri, was elected president of the Dearborn, Michigan City Council by a wide margin. The third woman in city history to be elected to the council, she is the first woman to be elected president. Long active in community affairs, this was her first bid for elected office. PTA Council, AAUW and P.E.O. all claim her time and interest.

Sallie Bosch McNabb, BΩ—Oregon, was chosen as one of the "Unsung Heroes" of Bellevue, Washington, for her voluntary work in teaching reading in a local school. A firm believer in old-fashioned grammar, she gets a feeling of accomplishment from helping third graders learn to read. Spare time often finds her on the ski slopes with her husband and eight children.

Susan E. Grans, BΛ—Illinois, has been named one of the Top Ten Business Women of ABWA for 1977-78 by the American Business Women's Association. She is a senior communication designer for the Sundstrand Corporation and has complete responsibility for their communication programs. She researches, creates, writes and edits product brochures, marketing presentations, advertising and trade shows.

Henrietta Duncan McArthur, ΔΥ—Georgia, was named deputy assistant secretary of agriculture for rural development. Her former position was as assistant vice president of Citizens and Southern National Bank, Atlanta. (See Career Report, The Key, spring 1977). She is deputy to Assistant Secretary Alex P. Mercure, director of the operations of the Farmers Home Administration, Rural Development Service, Rural Electrification Administration and Rural Telephone Bank.

Irene West Gaskins

image. A supportive family attitude and a structured school environment are essential to their successful program at Benchmark.

Married to a frequently traveling product sales manager; the mother of two sons, one at Duke and one a ninth-grader; Irene still finds time to teach Sunday school, travel, camp and ski with her family and teach two courses a week in reading methods at the University of Pennsylvania.

Sharon L. Akers

Margaret Charters Ross

Ann Davis Thomas

Deborah D. Zanglin

Sharon L. Akers, BN—Ohio State, was elected an assistant trust officer in the Central National Bank of Cleveland. She has served as an administrative assistant in operations services and as a trust administrator previously. She is also a member of the Estate Planning Council of Cleveland.

Margaret Charters Ross, ΓΓ—Whitman, is the first woman in the history of Washington Water Power to be named to the board of directors. An instructor in business and business math and communications at Spokane Falls Community College, Margaret has a wide and varied background in business administration and education.

Ann Davis Thomas, BE—Texas, has been named Woman of the Year by WBT Radio, Charlotte, S.C. in recognition of her exceptional service to the community. She served as 1977 chairman of the Social Planning Council of the United Community Services and the Mecklenburg County Department of Social Services Board, as well as on the Auditorium-Coliseum-Civic Center Authority and other civic committees. In addition, she has been active on the arts council, girl scouts, and drug center.

Deborah D. Zanglin, BΔ—Michigan, has joined Booz-Allen Marketing Information Services (BAMIS), a new division of the company. She is Director of Field Operations for BAMIS' Telephone Research Center, which conducts nationwide surveys for the marketing research industry.

Kathy Haughey Loo, Ω—Kansas, presented Lynn Houston Wilhelm, BM—Colorado, with the Colorado Springs Assistance League's Silver Bell Award for community service. Kathy, the 1976 winner, was president of the alumnae association and the Junior League, and founder and president of the Cheyenne Mountain Zoo Auxiliary. She is currently Area Director-at-Large of the Association of Junior Leagues. Lynn was a co-winner in 1977; also president of Junior League and the school volunteer services in her district, board members of the Pikes Peak United Way and an adviser to ΔZ—Colorado College.

Kappa Province Ideas . . .

Scottsdale has drawn almost exclusively from their own members for this year's programs. That's serendipity.

San Diego sponsored a wine-tasting benefit at a local department store with prizes for six winners of a wine recipe contest furnished by Waterford Crystal Company.

Arcadia's unusual program entitled "The New You" featured exercises for all ages and health snacks for refreshment. Part of their philanthropy work is making teaching aids used by the Center for Mentally Retarded Children.

Westwood had a "sherry social" and lunch for enjoyment. For philanthropy, they make hand puppets for children at the UCLA hospital.

Would you like to see your province highlighted here? Tell your Province Director of Alumnae about your activities—fun, fund-raising, philanthropic. She'll be glad to pass them along. Let's hear from you and about you.

Are YOU Retired?

. . . We need your help

Many Kappas are enjoying retirement and we'd like to hear your feelings since we plan to do a special feature on planning for and enjoying retirement. Did you plan ahead? Did things work out successfully? Would you do something different if you were starting over? Do you have any special advice?

If there are a number of retired persons in your area, perhaps you'd like to pool your thoughts. Individually or as a group, please send your comments by October 15th, to Lois Whittaker, (Mrs. R. E.) 683 Vance Avenue, Wyckoff, N.J. 07481. Thanks for your help.

Fleur-de-lis to Kappa's "Golden Girls"

How many years of devotion, service, sisterhood and Kappa spirit are represented in each alumnae group by adding up the total years of membership of our 50 year Kappas? If we could combine them all into one mass, the accumulation of our love for these ladies and theirs for Kappa would surely be enough to cure the ills of the world. Does any group top the record noted below of 42 out of 50 group members being 50 year Kappas? Whatever the total of individuals or of years, Kappa alumnae groups are proud of their devoted members and find special ways to honor them. . . .

Sonoma County Club was proud to honor 78 year Kappa Elsa Lichtenberg Johnson,  $\Pi$ —Berkeley, (second from left) along with 50 year members Betty Cook Barnes,  $I$ —DePauw, Catherine Caldwell Mattingly,  $\Gamma M$ —Oregon State, and Alta Mae Harrison Wood,  $E$ —Illinois Wesleyan, at their Christmas meeting.

Laguna Hills Club believes that they have a larger percentage of 50 year Kappas than any other alumnae group since 42 of their 50 members wear the special fleur-de-lis pin signifying their long association with Kappa. The latest recipients are Helen Beery Borders,  $B\Delta$ —Michigan; Margaret Trueblood,  $\Delta$ —Indiana and Elizabeth Donald Webb,  $\Gamma M$ —Oregon State.

The Arcadia Alumnae Association "turned back the clock" while three 50 year members participated in a Fireside Service as pledges; part of the program honoring them. Their pledge chairman for the evening, Ruth Davis Strampe,  $\Delta H$ —Utah, president of the alumnae group, assured the members that Dorothy Peterson Simpson and Gladys Petersen, both  $B\Phi$ —Montana, and Doris Gibbs Ford,  $BH$ —Stanford, had given their time and talents to strengthen the bonds of fraternity friendship. Their loyalty having been an inspiration to others, they were welcomed into full membership! The Fireside Service was a new experience for many of the members present that evening. The 50 year Kappas related some of their experiences in college as Kappa members and then all attending shared college pictures and annuals . . . indeed a delightful "Nostalgia Night."

Charlotte Dixon Rosenlieb,  $\Gamma O$ —Wyoming, was one of the original colonizers of her local and was invited back to be initiated in 1927 when the group affiliated with Kappa. She received her 50 year pin from Kern Co. Alumnae president, Judy Webb Jacobs,  $\Delta X$ —San Jose State, as another 50 year Kappa, Marcella Schwinn,  $\Pi^A$ —Berkeley, looks on.

The editor thanks all the groups who sent in pictures and apologizes to those who, for lack of space, could not be printed. Sincere congratulations to all of your "Golden Girls."

"416 Years of Kappa Friendship" read the banner unfurled by the Princeton Alumnae Association to honor their 50 year members . . . the total years of membership represented by only 6 of their 11 golden girls. Each received a fleur-de-lis corsage and enjoyed the skit featuring highlights of their initiation year. An added celebration was the cake for Wilhelmina Eakin Harman, who shares her birthday with Kappa's founding. Shown are (front) Dorothy Kammerer Dumey,  $M$ —Butler, Wilhelmina Eakin Harman,  $\Gamma E$ —Pittsburgh, Dorothy Thomas Stothoff,  $\Gamma A$ —Middlebury, (rear) May Rinehart Jones,  $\Delta$ —Akron, Helen Johansen Hiltner,  $B\Delta$ —Illinois and Sarah Marshall Wertenbaker,  $BX$ —Kentucky.

Kappa Trekkers

Jean Gibson Tuthill, P<sup>Δ</sup>—Ohio Wesleyan, and Alma Mae Graves Kurtz, BM—Colorado, had never met before but became well acquainted under difficult conditions when they accompanied their husbands and eight others on a trek (that's mountain climbing) in Nepal. Their goal was Kala Phatar, at 18,267 feet, 500 feet above the base camp of Mt. Everest . . . a trek which took them two and one half weeks.

They found the people very friendly and gentle but living in very primitive conditions. They carry heavy loads of wood (a scarce item) and produce (wheat, rice, potatoes and fruit) on their heads, supported by a band across the forehead, over wide paths to the market. The stone houses are heated by the body warmth of animals kept on the lower level, while the family lives upstairs. Open fires for cooking cause smoky living conditions since there are no chimneys.

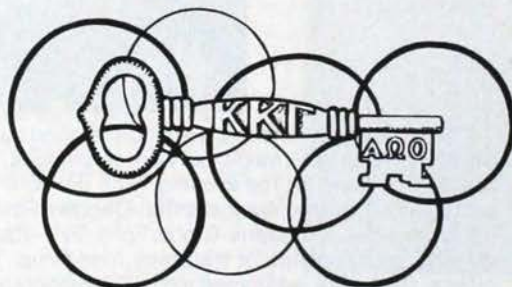

The group visited a monastery in the village of Tengboche, where a lama blessed items they gave to him by blowing on them. Buddhism is the principal religion and the people will not kill animals for food. The trekkers ate mostly dehydrated foods that they had brought with them. Jean says a convincing t.v. commercial could have been made using their youngest trekker, a boy of 18, who consumed unbelievable quantities of Captain Crunch cereal!

Jean Gibson Tuthill and Glenn, Alma Graves Kurtz

Despite the beautiful mountains near Denver, where Jean and Alma live, they found the peaks of Nepal truly awesome . . . eight of them are over 26,000 feet. (The one in the distance in the photo is a mere 14,000 feet.) They finally saw the peak of Everest from their vantage point at Kala Phatar and enjoyed bathing, washing hair and doing laundry in bright, clear weather but shockingly cold mountain streams. An arduous but exciting experience, the Kappa trekkers would recommend it only for the more adventuresome among us.

THE CIRCLE KEY GRANTS OF ROSE MCGILL

The Rose McGill Fund has established a limited program of financial aid, set up as the "Circle Key" grant to meet the continuing education needs of alumnae members.

This program is financed by voluntary contributions to the Rose McGill Fund by alumnae, alumnae groups, friends and the proceeds of the Magazine Agency.

The Circle Key Grant is an extension of Kappa's concern and circle of friendship for its members. It is hoped that the recipients of these grants will continue the circle of aid for other members by contributing to the program when circumstances enable them to do so.

Specifically, the Circle Key Grants are (1) for an alumna needing education assistance; (2) awarded on the basis of need, merit and individual goals; (3) granted any time of year, as long as funds are available; (4) for study at a college, university, career, vocational or technical school, for the purpose of aiding career qualifications; (5) for varying amounts, depending on need and educational cost, but not to exceed $500.00 for any one grant; (6) for alumnae in good standing, regardless of age. These grants are NOT intended to help a graduate BEGIN a study on a masters program.

Application forms are available from Mrs. Walter M. Keith, 405 W. Vermont St., Urbana, IL 61801, and should be returned to her. She will handle all correspondence, make tentative judgment on acceptance, the amount to be given, and then review the application with the Rose McGill chairman prior to the actual decision.

This program in Philanthropic aid is another step forward in Kappa's ever-widening vision of the future. Kappas in personal and financial distress have the love and loyalty of Kappa to give them encouragement and aid in their pursuit of a new life. It is hoped that this alumna scholarship program will create greater awareness of the shared experience of Rose McGill. Let the Circle Key Grants speak for all of us.

KEY ART IN GLASS

Individually handcrafted, numbered and copyrighted, these keys will become the heirlooms of tomorrow. They are exact scale replicas of the Kappa Key wrought into leaded glass or church window weight and style. The size is 8 3/4" long by 2 3/4" high and fit attractively into the average window pane, reflecting the light beautifully. They are great for that very special Kappa for her 50th year, initiation, or birthday, etc. Every chapter should have one sparkling in their window or framed in the chapter room!!!

Send $35.00 (plus $3.00 for packaging, postage, and insurance. Add 3% sales tax on Kansas orders) to Mrs. John S. Brown (Mary Douglass—Omega '48), 130 North Crestway, Wichita, Kansas 67208. State blue or gold glass.

Glass replicas of any sorority, fraternity, school, business logo or insignia also available. Price depends upon labor and material involved. Business logos in glass are something new and different for the "man who has everything." Write for information and prices.

Carmel Area Club sadly reports the death of two members, both 100-plus years old! Della Brooks Walker van Loben Sels, X—Minnesota, attended meetings until a few years before her death last winter, just a month after her 100th birthday. A seasoned traveler and an enthusiastic painter, she lived in Piedmont, CA. for more than 40 years. Georgianna Carden, Π<sup>Δ</sup>—Berkeley, was a teacher who became interested in the plight of the children of migrant workers. Even after her retirement at age 80, she often travelled 15 miles by bus to visit field workers near Salinas to see if they were being treated properly. Miss Carden attended alumnae meetings into her early nineties and died at the age of 104. Carmel area Kappas miss both of these devoted members.

New Scholarship to Honor Memory of Former President Ruth Kadel Seacrest

On February 25, 1978, Ruth Kadel Seacrest passed away. She was 81. It is with great respect and sincere sympathy to her family that The Key pays honor to her memory.

Ruth became the 25th president of Kappa Kappa Gamma on June 25, 1944 when she was named by the Council to fill that position. Because of World War II, conventions were banned and the Fraternity Council met with the Associate Council and chairmen at the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs, Colorado, to transact the business of the Fraternity. Under the provisions of the Fraternity constitution it was necessary for the Council to appoint persons to the offices of those whose term was ending. The post of president was one of these.

To quote from the October, 1944 issue of the The Key, she was "no novice in fraternity lore." She was president of her chapter, Sigma—Nebraska in 1922, during her junior year. As an alumna she served as chapter adviser, and president of the Lincoln, Nebraska Alumnae Association; was the first Kappa president of the newly formed Lincoln City Panhellenic; and was president of Zeta Province. In 1938 she was named Fraternity scholarship chairman. She went from that post to director of chapter programs, a position which she held from 1940 to 1944, when she was named president.

The Key stated, "Slender, gracious, animated, Ruth Seacrest brings all the essential qualities of leadership to her new task." It went on to point out that Kappa was not the only organization to benefit from her abilities. She was a member of Mortar Board at the University of Nebraska, and was the first honorary member of Kosmet, men's dramatic society. She was president of Lincoln Junior League and director of Region VII of the Association of Junior Leagues of America. Active in war work, she served as chairman of the Civil Defense Committee in Lincoln. She was listed in the first edition of Who's Who Among American Women.

Ruth was married to Joe Winger Seacrest, Dartmouth Phi Delta Theta, in June, 1922, at the end of her junior year in college, and they went to live in Denver. Both were Nebraska natives. They lived in Denver for five years before moving back to Lincoln, where Joe became publisher of the Nebraska State Journal. The couple had two sons, Joseph Rushton Seacrest and James Claggett Seacrest.

Ruth Kadel Seacrest, Fraternity President 1944-1948.

With the war over in 1945, the 75th General Convention was held in June, 1946, at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island in Michigan and Ruth was elected to serve a second term as president of the Fraternity.

A high point during the Seacrest presidency was the installation of six chapters: Delta Omicron at Iowa State College, Delta Pi at Tulsa University, Delta Rho at the University of Mississippi, Delta Sigma at Oklahoma A & M, Delta Tau at the University of Southern California, and Delta Upsilon at the University of Georgia (where our current Fraternity president Jean Hess Wells was a charter member). Also during her second term, the first Foreign Fellowship Program was developed, the first Alumnae Achievement Awards were presented, and the whole Fraternity finance system was studied.

Her son Joe Seacrest wrote that, "Ruth liked people and activity and the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority was people oriented and active in women's development. I am sure she received from Kappa equal to that which she contributed back to Kappa Kappa Gamma. Her health problems commenced around 1960 requiring frequent hospitalization over the last ten years. She had been in the Madonna Nursing Home for approximately twenty months. The week she died, she was asking her nurse about the need of the French children, which had been one of the World War II programs sponsored with assistance by Kappa Kappa Gamma."

Ruth Seacrest is survived by her husband, two sons, six grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren. A Seacrest memorial fund has been established with contributions from her many friends enabling the Fraternity to award scholarships to members of Sigma Chapter. The Lincoln Alumnae Association will act as the agent.

*"Her life lies like a shaft
Of light across the land
A beam across the sea."*

1978 Convention "One-Liners"

Many years ago it was common practice for The Key to introduce the convention delegates to the readers. Their biographies were most interesting and showed how really well traveled the young women were. The Key would like to mention just a few of the convention members in this issue to let the readers know what these dedicated Kappas do in their chosen fields of study or career. We hope you find it as interesting and inspiring as did the editor—remember these are the chapter and alumnae presidents, Fraternity officers, and visitors—they don't sit around the house idly!

Undergraduate Convention delegates and visitors

She says, "I am very interested in environment and might possibly like to be the first female "Ralph Nader consumer advocate!"

Carol Dryden, ΓΦ—Southern Methodist, wants to obtain a masters degree in clinical psychology, and Melanie Triplett, ΔP—Mississippi, plans to be a medical technologist. Anne Pollen, ΓI—Washington U., is majoring in biology; Sue Bunker, ΔA—Penn State, hopes to work in cancer research; and Beth Faber, ΓK—William & Mary, has chosen dentistry.

Home Economics and related fields

Family relations is the major for Denece Boyer, ΓH—Washington State; Betsy Webster, ΔΨ—Texas Tech; Karen Lewis, ΔM—Connecticut; and Rebecca Lyle, ΔΨ—Texas Tech. Karen Lushbaugh, ΓΔ—Purdue, hopes to be a dietitian. Interior design is the major of Katie Wehnes, ΔO—Iowa State, and Lee Ann Charles, EB—Colorado State. Janet Welsh, EI—Pudget Sound, is a textile and clothing major, and Kathryn Brout, P<sup>Δ</sup>—Ohio Wesleyan, is planning to major in retailing. Stacy Spencer, EZ—Florida State, wishes to be a commercial model; Ann Bever, Σ—Nebraska, is a fashion merchandising major; and Nancy Hotchkiss ΓM—Oregon, is a student in fashion design (with a summer job as a fire fighter in Oregon!)

Alumnae delegates, visitors, and officers

Because space does not permit us to list all the careers of alumnae present at convention, samples have been selected at random. Many didn't fill out the lines on the registration form asking "What is your line?" or "Tell us about your job or career," and others found the questions not applicable. But there were hundreds of responses and some that caused your editor to smile the most are in defense of the role of wife, mother and housewife (no other profession felt the need to defend itself!).

Barbara Bleser Hague, K—Hillsdale, said, "I am very proud of my career! Housewife and mother of four—it can be most difficult and rewarding." Kay Reid Tennison, EΔ—Arizona State, claims to be a home executive, while Martha Young Miller, Θ—Missouri, tells us her line is "Beauty Queen, (but during the off season I'm a community volunteer and homemaker and mother!)" Nancy Upshaw Egerton, ΔB—Duke, said she is a "Mother of the Bride" on June 3—need she say more? Elizabeth Alexander May, ΓN—Arkansas, is a "wife, mother, domestic engineer (of sorts!)" Bonnie Philip Holt, BΘ—Montana, says, "Besides the usual afflictions of charwoman's knees and dishpan hands I have a fairly good to excellent knowledge of house maintenance. However, I do enjoy the fringe benefit from the mundane chores to have time to devote to working with the girls in Beta Phi chapter." Carolyn Jones Laurie, P<sup>Δ</sup>—Ohio Wesleyan, expands on her role as "versatility". She says her career is to "Maintain a happy home, sew whenever time permits, play tennis constantly, serve on church, Young Life, Symphony, etc. boards, tend to the care and feeding of one husband, four children, a horse, three German Shepherds, two cats, and who knows what by the time you get this!!" Perhaps Donna Simenson Long BΛ—Illinois, sums up best when she wrote, "When I find the right job and career that offers flexible hours, immediate power, prestige and excellent salary, I will tell the whole world—until then I will keep doing the routine job of wife, mother and volunteer."

Some interesting careers noted were: Magi Avery Brom, ΓΞ—UCLA, is in charge of foreign mail-order department for a record store—Rare Records, Glendale, California; Lynda Westrum Stephenson, BΦ—Montana, is administrative assistant to an internationally known chemist; Hope Andruss, ΔΞ—Carnegie Mellon, is a political analyst with the C.I.A.; Barbara Rossiter Huhn, P<sup>Δ</sup>—Ohio Wesleyan, is a swimming coach; Pamela Tremayne Marcus, ΓI—Washington U., is a PhD candidate in sociology at Emory now doing research on labor force participation of women; later she will do research in population-related areas and possibly teach at university level; Shelley Carpenter Dawson, EΓ—N. Carolina, is a training consultant and organizational development specialist; and Jane Lindsay Koke, ΓΩ—Denison, is Chief Deputy, Register in Chancery for Wilmington, Delaware.

Small Businesses

Debbie Wamser Russell, ΓΞ—UCLA, owns (with Kappa partner) a needlepoint shop. Susan Chandler Wilder, ΔΛ—Miami, is also a partner in "Your Accents"—design and manufacture needlepoint and counted cross stitch kits. (Both these Kappas advertise in The Key). Anne Hall Atchison, BX—Kentucky, has a decoupage business and Margaret Hendryx Kalmus, ΔΨ—Texas Tech, is the manager of a retail store, Marglo's of Texas in Lubbock. Robin Gerner Sivertson, BΞ—Texas, is the manager of the Westwood Pro Shop (tennis), and Nancy Voorhees Laitner, ΓΔ—Purdue, works part-time in a specialty store called "The Happy Corner". Judith Metzger Sartin, Σ—Nebraska, does party planning for a catering firm including menu's and decorations. Susan Nelson Nibeck, ΓI—Washington U., started a food co-op program that has grown into marketing benefit business. She sells real estate and writes a weekly food column and is really excited about the trend of eliminating the "middle man" in food purchasing.

Bound Volume of History Available to Order

Bound volumes of The History of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity 1870-1976 are now available for $12.00 from Fraternity Headquarters, P.O. Box 2079, Columbus, Ohio 43216. ## New Kappa Calendar Offers 16 Months Planning

A brand new 16 month calendar is now available from Fraternity Headquarters, P.O. Box 2079, Columbus, Ohio 43216. The calendar is 8½" x 11" with plenty of space to write on for appointments. Full color photos from your favorite Key covers brighten the calendar, and a packet of stick-on labels remind you of alum meetings, rush, initiation, reports due, or even a birthday! If a year just isn't enough time to plan your future—try the Kappa 16 month calendar (begins with September 1978 and takes you through December 1979). Be on time and never miss a date—order now for $3.00 each (Quantity orders of 25 or more for $2.00 each). They make super pledge gifts, officer gifts, personal gifts, and even items for alumnae resale and profit. Send check with order and allow two to three weeks for delivery. Postage is included.

IRS Gives Food For Thought

The Internal Revenue Code lists over 20 categories of exempt organizations. By far the most common are those qualifying under Section 501(c)(3) of the Code as religious, charitable, or education organizations.

Other important categories, however, are civic and social welfare organizations, exempt under Section 501(c)(4) and recreational and social organizations, exempt under (c)(7).

Except for churches and organizations whose gross receipts are normally not more than $5,000 annually (other than private foundations), organizations cannot be treated as tax exempt under the law unless they make application with the Internal Revenue Service and receive a favorable ruling. The "Application for Recognition of Exemption," Form 1023 or 1024, required information on the purposes and proposed activities of the organizations, as well as certain documents and financial data.

Donations to certain exempt organizations, generally those qualifying under Section 501(c)(3), are deductible as charitable contributions on the Federal income tax return of the donor. Such organizations are listed in Publication 78, "Cumulative List of Organizations," which provides advance assurance of deductibility to prospective donors.

An organization exempt under a subsection of the Code other than (c)(3) may establish a charitable fund to which contributions are deductible. Such a fund must itself meet the requirements of Section 501(c)(3) and the related notice requirements of Section 508(a).

In the (c)(4) category, contributions to volunteer fire companies and similar organizations are deductible, but only if made exclusively for public purposes.

Contributions to social and recreation clubs and organizations, exempt under (c)(7) are not deductible.

In many instances, organizations apply for a group exemption letter, which covers numerous subordinate groups within a larger organizational grouping. To do this the central organization must submit certain information on behalf of the subordinates to be included in the group exemption letter.

In addition to the application procedure, most organizations wishing to maintain an exempt status are required by law to provide certain financial and other information to the IRS on Form 990, "Return of Organization Exempt From Income Tax."

Many organizations which are otherwise tax exempt may be liable for tax as a result of carrying on a trade or business which is substantially unrelated to their exempt purposes. Examples of income which could be taxable to an exempt organization include profit from a manufacturing operation, retail sales, and proceeds from regularly scheduled gaming operations.

The law also specifies activities which are excluded from the definition of unrelated trade or business. Briefly, these include activities in which substantially all the work is performed without compensation, activities carried on primarily for the convenience of its members, and the selling of merchandise which had been donated to the organization.

Exempt organizations are subject to IRS examination procedures to determine compliance with tax laws affecting their activities and financial operations.

Further information and assistance on exempt organizations matters is available from local IRS offices. The IRS also offers the free pamphlets, "How to Apply for Recognition of Exemption for an Organization," Publication 557, and "Tax on Unrelated Business Income of Exempt Organizations," Publication 598.

Questions and Answers on Exemption of Civic, Social and Recreational Organizations

Civic, social and recreational non-profit organizations have certain responsibilities relating to their tax-exempt status. The following questions, with answers, cover some of the major points.

Q: Our growing community organized its first volunteer fire company. What must we do to be sure it will be considered tax exempt?

A: The organization must file an "Application for Recognition of Exemption," Form 1024, with the District Director of the key district for your location. The IRS can tell you which district is your key district. It will issue a ruling or determination letter after it has reviewed your application.

Q: If a civic, social or recreational organization is tax exempt, does it have to file a tax return?

A: Yes. Most exempt organizations must annually file the information return, Form 990, "Return of Organization Exempt from Tax." An exception to this rule is churches. Organizations also must notify their key district when any material changes in their operation takes place.

Q: Are exempt organizations audited?

A: Yes. The IRS examines organizations with the most apparent need for review to determine compliance with the tax laws affecting their activities and financial operations. As with individual taxpayers, there are appeals procedures for resolving disputed issues.

Q: How can our organization get more information?

A: By checking with the IRS and requesting its free Publication 557, "How to Apply for Recognition of Exemption for an Organization."

Mu Chapter, Butler,

Three hundred members of Mu Chapter, Butler, from 14 states and 35 communities in Indiana took a chance on the weather and came to celebrate the centennial. Even though three inches of new snow had fallen in Indianapolis, the surroundings appeared bright and fresh on March 4th and 5th, and the house was bursting with cordial greetings as long-time friends arrived for the morning coffee and reunions. Many had not been there since the wing added in 1965-66 had doubled its original size. Even now the chapter room on the "lower level" is being used and the "penthouse" (former chapter room on third floor) is home for half dozen girls. Scrapbooks, picture composites from former years and more than 50 years of Mu Murmurs (annual chapter paper) were displayed in the study hall. Collegiate members conducted alumnae around the house as they exclaimed over the paneled rooms on old second and third, and the expanded accommodations.

A "chapter meeting" was repeated three times. This was complete from password to closing ritual and included excerpts from various ceremonies. A take-off of chapter business was given in fun by the actives. For many it was their first "Kappa experience" since college days.

Aglow with happy feelings, we moved on to a Centennial banquet luncheon at the Meridian Hills Country Club. The tables were decorated with arrangements of hand-crafted fleur-de-lis of blue metal (see cover Spring 1978 issue of The Key). At each place was a blue glass crested medallion favor and a program. A roster of those attending was distributed.

The invocation was given by Beth Swenson, a fifth-year pharmacy honor student who was named Outstanding Woman on campus 1977, and Diane Miller was toastmistress (active marshal for Delta province meeting at Mu in 1973.) She gave greetings received and introduced special guests. They were the then acting president of Butler University, Dr. Paul R. Stewart and Mrs. Stewart; Jane Lewis, dean of women; Betsy Molsberry Prior, BN—Ohio State, fraternity director of philanthropies; Sally Schnaiter Lugar,  $\Gamma\Delta$ —Purdue, Delta PDC; and Nancy Holland Hannin,  $\Delta$ —Indiana, president of Indianapolis Alumnae Association.

The program was divided into "Past, Present, and Future." Joan Herrin Hancock gave high points in Mu history. Caroline Godley O'Dell recognized various alumnae present. Karen Hungerford, chapter president 1976 and current field secretary, spoke of "Kappa Today." Zora Ivanoff, president 1977, and Bea Douglass Todd, chairman of the day, presented the University gift to Dr. Stewart. This is the University seal in cast magnesium of silver on royal blue mounted on a plaque of polished walnut. Lori Berkshire, 1978 president, told of "Mu Today."

Mrs. Prior, representing Fraternity Council, presented the Centennial Scholarship of $1,000 to be shared by Lori Berkshire, president, and Melody Beres, second vice president, for their senior year, 1978-79. Mrs. Prior also gave a "Look to Tomorrow," regarding Fraternity expansion. Martha Arnold Wilson, president of Mu Chapter Foundation, presented the annual Schofield Memorial Scholarship to Beth Wilson, first vice president.

The program concluded with the singing of "I Love You Truly" and the traditional circle. But the day was not yet over. Many groups spent the evening together informally. On Sunday Mu Chapter held an informal reception for University friends and families. Many Kappa visitors returned to the house for another get together.

Any birthday is a time for reflection, and a centennial is no exception! Kappa is the first women's fraternity at Butler to celebrate one hundred years of continuous existence. The mid-century came in the 1920s, a decade that was to see a change in Butler University and Mu Chapter. In 1928 Butler built a new campus and moved from the comfortable traditional neighborhood of Irvington to the new unchartered acres of Fairview. The Mu Chapter Foundation was incorporated and the red brick Tudor style house was built by 1930. However ties with the first fifty years were carried over to the new era. The badge of Jeanette Teeter (Ritter) became the chapter president's key in 1925. The highest ranking scholar wears the key of another founder, Louise Landers. The key of Cora Smith, 1879, is worn by the "True Blue" junior and the marshal wears the key of Frances Frazee Hamilton, 1882. To honor Jennie Armstrong Howe, 1886, the house board purchased a special key which is worn by the first vice president. Mrs. Hamilton was the first president of the House Association in 1921, and Mrs. Howe was the wife of Thomas Carr Howe, president of Butler from 1906 until 1920. Tade Hartsuff (Kuhns) was the seventh Mu initiate in 1879 and became the first president of Kappa Fraternity in 1881. She was a frequent visitor as her travels brought her to Indianapolis from time to time, and her hostess was Elizabeth Bogert Schofield.

And so Mu Chapter felt the influence of two Fraternity presidents, the first and the twenty-second. Beth Bogert Schofield was the first Mu chapter adviser, and the first Fraternity finance chairman. She was president of Mu Chapter Foundation for 25 years. In 1938 she became director of provinces and in 1940-1944 she was president of the Fraternity. She also served as Fraternity ritualist and attended 25 conventions.

This fraternity involvement was bound to "rub off" on the members, and Mu Chapter has always been well represented in Fraternity conventions and honors. There have been 13 province officers from the Mu ranks. For Delta province: the first in 1915, Beth Schofield, then Edith Hendren Maddock, Gem Craig Reasoner (Mu affiliate), Betty Miller Brown (Muir), Margaret Barker Richardson, Liz Search Stone, Caroline Godley O'Dell, Joan Herrin Hancock, and Jill Cox Campbell. These have served in other provinces: Lambda, Florence Moffett Milford (Hahn), Alice Phillips Scheleen; Epsilon, Cynthia Springer Harbold; and Eta, Alice Jones Gerhart.

One national convention was held in Indianapolis in 1892 with Kate Hadley, Mu, as marshal. Mu has hosted province meetings in 1924, 1947, 1959, 1973, and looks forward to 1987! (A long time span from the founding date of January 2, 1878!)

Perhaps Dr. Stewart's response when he accepted the University gift from Mu chapter sums up the centennial;

"A hundred years is a long time for an organization to remain vital and active—almost as long as the 123 years that Butler has been in existence. I don't know how the University got along without you for the first 23 years; but I do know how it has gotten along with you for the past 100—beautifully. On behalf of the University, I want to express deep appreciation for the many contributions you have made to life on the campus through the past century, and best wishes for your continued strength and vigor."

P.S. April 8, 1978, Kappa received first place in the campus Spring Sing for the fourth consecutive year!

Former Rehabilitation Scholar Returns to Say "Thank You!"

By Ann Scott Morningstar
BN—Ohio State

"You'll never guess who is with me. She wants to speak with you." It was the voice of a much revered Kappa—Gladys Houx Rusk, Θ—Missouri, a judge for scholarships in Kappa's Rehabilitation Program.

"Could it be Chung-Hi?"

"Yes," Gladys replied. "Howard and I just returned to New York. Imagine our surprise to find Chung-Hi taking part in a special seminar."

"Hello, sister," Chung-Hi joined in. "I came from Seoul (Korea) on my own!"

"That's wonderful but what a big expense for you!"

"I saved over a year to buy ticket myself. Kappa has done so much for me, and I wanted to attend the seminar." Pride was evident in her voice. "My round trip ticket cost $1570.00."

As Chung-Hi talked on about the wonderful seminar, I thought of a chill November day many years ago, when Chung-Hi first arrived in New York. As she descended the plane steps, wearing a short-sleeved one-piece dress, and no coat, I saw she had a tiny purse clutched in her little bare hand.

In November 1955, Dr. Chung Hi Oh arrived in the United States to take up a grant sponsored jointly by Kappa and the American Korean Foundation to study at the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation under Dr. Rusk. This plucky and resourceful Korean doctor and mother of two young boys endeared herself to many Kappas during her 18 months stay in this country. She was a guest of the 1956 Convention at Swampscott, Massachusetts, and visited Kappas and alumnae groups the breadth of the country on her way home at the conclusion of her studies. Dr. Oh returned to Korea as its only woman doctor in the field of physical rehabilitation. (Fall 1977, The Key, History Part II)

Kappa's Ruth Armstrong Harris, Π<sup>Δ</sup>—California, director of philanthropies 1954-58, had phoned me from San Francisco the day before. Ruth was crying.

"Chung-Hi is here after three seasick weeks on the ship. Since it is Sunday she arrived when there were no stores open. I could not get her a coat, and no time to call friends for help. Her plane connection was tight. I walked with her to the plane steps and luckily saw the stewardess, explained and asked her to get Chung-Hi a blanket at once. Still holding tight to my hand, Chung-Hi said "Mrs. Harris, I never have been in a plane. Please say the Lord's Prayer for me."

Thus into many Kappa lives and memories came a frail young woman, who under study programs directed by Dr. Howard A. Rusk was to become a rehabilitation doctor, a director and founder of programs in her home country, and widely sought for her experience and knowledge.

Nor is that all of her contribution.

Her two baby sons, left in her mother's care, follow in Chung-Hi's footsteps.

"Eldest son orthopedic surgeon, finished his two years' service with the army. Youngest son is a resident interne in cardiac medicine."

A week or so after this conversation, I received a note from Los Angeles where she had stopped over to see her brothers.

"Here photograph of my first grandchild, Yoo Kyung, taken at her first birthday celebration. This a traditional ceremony."

Fascinating to look at little Yoo Kyung's picture and wonderful to think what her life can be, with such a fine background.

Kappa Dollars Advance Education

Since the founding in 1870, Kappa Kappa Gamma has contributed almost two million dollars toward advancement of higher education for women in the United States, Canada and overseas. During the past two years the Kappa Kappa Gamma Students' Aid program provided $160,000 in scholarship aid to qualified women graduates and undergraduates, members and non members in various fields of study. Through the Kappa Kappa Gamma Rehabilitation Services, alumnae and undergraduate members have contributed over 100,000 hours of service and more than $200,000 in gifts and aid to local rehabilitation projects, including the Institute of Rehabilitative Medicine in New York City.

Changes made in Province Officer nominating procedure

In response to resolutions from the province meetings and because of expressed dissatisfaction with our present system, the Council has modified the structure of the nominating procedures for province officers within the framework of our Fraternity Bylaws, as follows:

1. Council shall appoint a province nominating chairman for each province. These appointments shall be made for a term of two years at the June Council session prior to Associate Council Seminar through the office of the Fraternity vice president.
2. A province nominating chairman may not serve two successive terms.
3. The province nominating chairmen shall serve under the direction of the Fraternity nominating chairman.
4. The province nominating chairman shall be the guest of the province with expenses paid from the PM budget.
5. Province officers may apply for Fraternity aid in financing the transportation costs of the nominating chairman to Province Meeting if those costs are deemed by Council to be beyond the means of province funding, the amount of aid to be decided by Council upon the advice of the Fraternity treasurer.

DUTIES

The duties of the province nominating chairman shall be:

1. To solicit, collect, and process recommendations on a regular and continual basis for province and Fraternity offices; to write to each chapter and alumnae group in her province, at least semi-annually, explaining the procedure, enclosing recommendation forms for their use, and calling their attention to the recommendation form for all member use which shall be published annually in the winter issue of THE KEY.
2. To follow up on all suggestions and recommendations in order to gather complete information and representative opinions regarding the qualifications and experience of those submitted.
3. To forward these recommendations as they are received to the Fraternity nominating chairman, retaining a copy of each recommendation. The Fraternity nominating chairman, in turn, shall forward province recommendations she receives to the appropriate province nominating chairman for her files.
4. To obtain the consent of those recommended and to send, one month prior to province meeting, to all delegates, to the province officers, to the member of Council assigned to serve as the adviser to the Nominating Committee, and to the Fraternity nominating chairman, an announcement identifying those who have been recommended, including a fair and complete profile of the qualifications and experience of each.

5. To preside over the Nominating Committee. She shall have no vote.

ADVANTAGES

1. This procedure makes the system more democratic by ensuring the independence of the nominating chairman.
2. It puts emphasis on the importance of the job. The chairman will serve as a continually functioning head of a vital educative and information gathering operation. This system provides an on-going procedure for identifying officer potential on both Fraternity and province levels.
3. These changes provide more consistent and parallel nominating procedures at all levels of the Fraternity.
4. This system gives the delegates prior knowledge of the identity and qualifications of those recommended for office.
5. This system will act as a grass roots funnel of information and a support system to the Fraternity nominating procedure.
6. It emphasizes membership responsibility in the officer selection process and affords any member of the Fraternity an opportunity to recognize good leadership on a continuing basis.
