One Kappa — The Origin of a Foundation

In the beginning there was Rose McGill

One Kappa aroused in a few sisters the desire to help. Her illness and financial distress impelled them to offer their concern, sympathy, and aid.

Twenty years after the Fraternity made its first contribution to student scholarship, the Kappa Kappa Gamma sisterhood addressed a more personal need. One woman's distress sparked a response that developed into a system which has provided countless thousands of hours and millions of dollars of support for hundreds of women during the years since 1922.

From personal need and individual giving to a far-flung and diverse program of emotional, physical, instructional, and financial aid, the story of Kappa Kappa Gamma's philanthropic efforts has taken root, grown, and spread for three-quarters of a century.

Philanthropy — a desire to help mankind, according to Mr. Webster. It would almost seem that the vocabulary of philanthropy grew in some magical way from the vocabulary of Kappa.

Mutual helpfulness — an integral part of our purpose. Our Fraternity Bylaws state, "The purpose of this Fraternity shall be to unite its members in a close bond of friendship, seeking to instill in them a spirit of mutual love and helpfulness, to the end that each member and the Fraternity-at-large may attain social, moral and intellectual excellence."

Scholarship — the methods, discipline and attainments in pursuit of intellectual excellence; the financial aid given to a student.

Rehabilitation — the restoration, not only of the handicapped or disabled, but the restoration to happy, productive living of anyone who has suffered a devastating blow. Adopting Rehabilitation in 1952 as the Fraternity's international philanthropy offered broad opportunities to chapters and associations for service and financial aid in whatever area they saw the need, either locally or around the world. Dr. Howard Rusk, founder of the Institute of Rehabilitation Medicine, now named the Rusk Institute, and husband of Gladys Houx Rusk, Missouri, declared, "To believe in rehabilitation is to believe in humanity." The recent expansion to include women's health issues as a phase or focus of rehabilitation confirms our need to care for ourselves in order to better care for others.

"The purpose of this Fraternity shall be to unite its members in a close bond of friendship, seeking to instill in them a spirit of mutual love and helpfulness..."

Heritage — the knowledge and attitudes passed from one generation to another. The philosophy of Kappa Kappa Gamma, based on ancient civilizations, is the legacy of societal wisdom — our traditions and our vision for the future.

See page 60.

Foundation — the basis on which a structure stands or is supported — our origins, our beliefs, our endowment.

The vocabulary of philanthropy includes such varied words and phrases as volunteer, sweat equity, flood relief, garage or bake sale, hands-on help, silent auction, holiday house-tour, walk-a-thon, traveling or chapter consultant, the Leadership Guide, and Kappa Kinetics.

The means by which Kappa philanthropy continues to exist and grow is YOU...the individual who gives of herself in time, effort, and dollars to whatever extent you are able. It is exciting, wonderful, and a time to be truly grateful when a devoted member provides a major donation or bequest in her will. However, each gift is cherished. An hour a week, a pound of pressure, $10 — it all adds up. Eight gifts of an hour make a full day of help. Several pounds of pressure apply the paint to brighten a room in a women's shelter or back legislation regarding crime on campus. Ten dollars from 10 members equals $100 for gifts for a Holiday Sharing family. Time, effort, and funds are the foundation for printing booklets and materials, conducting leadership workshops, bringing outstanding speakers and guests to biennial Convention. The desire to help (wo)mankind takes as many forms as there are minds to conceive new ideas. Mutual helpfulness can be a selfish concept — think of what you receive in return! Scholarship is mind expansion without drugs! Rehabilitation saves lives and sanity! Heritage preserves strengths for the future!

Foundation is an origin or beginning. In the beginning there was Rose McGill. Almost 100 years later we build, through the Kappa Kappa Gamma Foundation, on the spirit of unity that is the essence of Kappa.

Growing Kappas

Foundation scholarships help provide for the leaders of tomorrow

A garden is an investment in the future. You spend time, money, and effort up front, preparing for the best possible results. You worry about environmental concerns — the weather and the soil. You gather all your tools — a trowel, a cultivator, a watering can. You choose seeds of the highest quality. You plant the seeds, water and feed them — and then you wait.

The seeds would probably sprout on their own — grow and bear fruit. But if you have the desire, the resources, the assets, why not help the seeds along. And with more assets, more resources, think of how many gardens you could plant.

This is the philosophy behind scholarships provided by the Kappa Kappa Gamma Foundation. According to Foundation President Leslie McFarland McNamara, Allegheny, her job is one of nurturing leaders, and she admits she begins with the best material. "Our scholarships reward outstanding collegians and alumnae," she says. "The applications require a very high merit component, including campus service, grade point average, chapter contribution, and personal integrity."

"The young women awarded scholarships, by performance and personality, personify the values in which we all believe so strongly. But the money just doesn't fall from the skies," she adds.

In fact, weaving together the resources necessary to finance undergraduate and graduate study for 55 women this year wasn't easy. Often a patchwork of support is pieced together from a variety of sources — annual donations from individuals and alumnae associations, interest from endowed scholarships, and restricted funds. And with tuition these days often reaching the $20,000 range, the average $1,500 graduate grant may not seem like much, but often it provides the margin that allows outstanding Kappas to reach for their goals.

This is the case with Jill Langley, UC Berkeley. The graduate of Pi Deuteron is in her second year at Harvard Business School. Her graduate grant is funded by three different donors.

Jacqueline Grantz, Ohio Wesleyan, (at left) not only receives financial aid from the Foundation but as Rho Deuteron Chapter President also gets guidance from Chapter Council Adviser and Foundation Director of Development Marilyn Fouse Jennings, Ohio Wesleyan.

Casie Gilbert

Money for Jill's grant comes from the Boston Intercollegiate Alumnae Association, one of the first alumnae associations to establish an endowed scholarship; an annual gift from the San Mateo (Calif.) Alumnae Association; and a donation from Holly Hecht Duncan, Miami (Ohio).

"In order to finish my education, I need a considerable amount of financial assistance," says Jill, whose career plans include using her business skills to "help unemployed mothers get basic training."

A restricted fund provides support for Melanie McPhee, Wyoming. Melanie is pursuing a master's degree in public health at the University of Minnesota, and her education is aided through the Westby Memorial, a restricted scholarship for members who attended the University of Colorado or the University of Wyoming. The funds were provided by Dorothy Westby Pate, Colorado, and her brother from their small inheritance left by their mother, Harriet Westby — a much respected housemother at Gamma Omicron Chapter, Wyoming. "The Westby Memorial Scholarship is allowing me the time to focus on my course work and research," Melanie notes. "Helping others to help themselves is the cornerstone of my career goal."

The desire to use their educations for the benefit of others is in the hearts of Foundation scholarship recipients. Carole Stelzried Helkey, UCLA, sums this up. "I do not want to be a good counselor; I want to be an excellent counselor. I plan to do well studying for a master's in psychology at Lewis and Clark College. As a professional counselor, I want to bring a little sunshine to my corner of the world."

Without a doubt, these women have set lofty goals for themselves. "There is only one female CEO of a Fortune 500 corporation," states Mina Takayanagi, UC Irvine, who is attending Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania, "and I would like to accept the challenge of including many more women in corporate America, beginning with myself."

"Kappa Kappa Gamma has played a major role in my commitment to the feminine ideals," she adds. "I am proud to be a Kappa sister."

Funding for scholarship has been a Fraternity concern since 1902 when Fanny Ryson Hitchcock, Pennsylvania, came to Convention with a $100 check. (see page 60). In 1949, the Dallas Alumnae Association established a now-growing precedent, presenting the Fraternity with a $500 check to be used for a graduate fellowship to be known as the Dallas Association Fellowship Award. In the past 45 years, numerous alumnae associations have financed scholarships through the Foundation, including the Kansas City (Mo.) Alumnae Association which annually provides $12,000 to $14,000 to the Foundation — financing no fewer than seven scholarships, including the graduate work of Elena Brito Sifferlin, Kansas, enrolled in a master's of social welfare program at the University of Kansas. Increasingly, alumnae associations are realizing the value of funding future leaders, establishing endowed scholarship accounts in memory of valued association members.

Leslie McNamara is anxious for individual donors and alumnae associations to feel a personal connection to the Kappa whose education they help finance. Casie Gilbert, Baylor, an undergraduate at Epsilon Upsilon Chapter, is funded by the local Houston Alumnae Association and the LaPorte Adelphie Scholarship. The Cleveland (Ohio) Alumnae Association — lacking a local chapter — this year funded the education of Rho Deuteron Chapter's President Jacqueline Grantz, Ohio Wesleyan. Jackie works closely with her Chapter Counselor Adviser, Foundation Director of Development Marilyn Fouse Jennings, Ohio Wesleyan.

Chapters, too, are beginning to provide for their own future members through Project 2000. In 1990 the Foundation challenged chapters to raise at least $10,000 by the year 2000 to endow scholarships for chapter members. Many chapters have responded including Pi Deuteron, UC Berkeley, which by the end of the biennium had raised $39,035.12 (see page 44).

The Kappa Kappa Gamma Foundation of Canada — only three years old — awarded its first two scholarships last spring. Catherine Hajnal, McGill, received a $5,000 grant and is pursuing a Ph.D. in engineering at the University of Wisconsin. According to Canadian law, one of the scholarships had to benefit a non-member, and the Canadian Foundation was delighted to award assistance to Sylvie Landry who is seeking her Ph.D. in astronomy at the University of Toronto.

In 1870 when six young women entered the chapel at Monmouth College with golden keys in their hair, they proclaimed to the collegiate community their decision to support each other through their years in school — and beyond. Kappa Kappa Gamma renews this commitment annually, planting seeds today to grow the leaders of tomorrow.

From the Heritage Museum

During the 1992-1994 biennium, several major projects were completed at the Kappa Kappa Gamma Heritage Museum.

Walls were marbleized and doors grained in the entrance hall of the Victorian mansion in Columbus, Ohio, that serves as the museum and is the street entrance to Fraternity Headquarters. In addition, the recently restored watercolor of the Fraternity's first Grand President, Tade Hartsuff Kuhns, Butler, was hung in the entry. Restoration of the morning room was also completed. Traditionally, the lady of the house would have entertained her daytime callers in this room, and the Heritage Museum's interpretation of this space reflects this function. A focal point of the room is the sofa from Founder Louisa Stevenson Miller's girlhood home.

Watch for the "unveiling" of the morning room in the Spring issue of The Key.

They Ought to Be in Pictures

The Fraternity's founding is now on video.

The story of Kappa Kappa Gamma's beginnings is now ready for the silver screen — or at least every Kappa's VCR.

Footage from three silent movies, found in the Fraternity archives, has now been translated to video as part of the commemoration of the Fraternity's 125th anniversary. Titled "Reflections," the video pieces together films of Founder Louisa Stevenson Miller's 1931 play presented at the Founders Day celebration of the Kansas City (Mo.) Alumnae Association, greetings sent from Founder Louise Bennett Boyd to the 1930 Convention celebrating the Fraternity's 60th anniversary, and the 1938 dedication of Hearthstone — a former Fraternity guest facility — by Louise Bennett Boyd and the Fraternity President Rheva Ott Shryock, Pennsylvania.

The 1931 play, written and directed by the then 76-year-old Louisa Stevenson Miller, depicts the early days of the Fraternity. Kansas City alumnae, chosen because of their resemblance to the six Founders and costumed in clothing and jewelry actually worn by those young women, re-enacted the first business meetings of Kappa Kappa Gamma in the spring and fall of 1870, including inspection of the first badges leading up to the public presentation of the Fraternity October 13, 1870, in the chapel at Monmouth College. The play also portrays the first initiation in November, 1870.

The second part of the video shows a 78-year-old Louise Bennett Boyd and her husband, the Reverend Joseph N. Boyd — brother of Founder Hannah Jeannette Boyd — sending greetings to the 1930 biennial Convention at Mackinac Island, Mich. The elderly Founder was unable to attend Convention, but wanted to send a message to her sisters celebrating the Fraternity's 60th anniversary.

In the final segment, Louise again appears at the 1938 dedication of the Hearthstone, an estate in Winter Park, Fla., bought by the Fraternity the previous year as an alumna guest house. Louise and President Rheva Shryock are seen lighting the first fire in the fireplace with the famous candlesticks of Charlotte Barrell Ware, Boston.

In referring to the growth of the Fraternity, Louise said she felt "very much like a boy who planted an acorn and returned to find himself in possession of an oak tree."

The video was produced as part of the Founders Research Project — historical research undertaken to flesh out current knowledge about the Founders and "put a persona to the people," according to Heritage Museum Director David Hartman. The video may be purchased from Fraternity Headquarters. (See order form, page 72)

Kappa materials provide

Hazing is Hazardous to Your Health

Requests keep rolling in for this brochure, funded through the Kappa Kappa Gamma Foundation by a $5,000 grant from 1992 Alumnae Achievement Award recipient Constance Benjamin Clery, Massachusetts, and her husband.

This "no-nonsense" publication defines hazing in clear terms and explains the deadly consequences of this unacceptable behavior. The brochure has been sent to every chapter member and pledge, each alumnae association, and National Panhellenic and Interfraternity Council organizations. The demand from other Greek groups has been tremendous, demonstrating the need for and appreciation of useful information on the hazards of hazing.

t would make anyone's day to be referred to as a "role model." As a chapter adviser, it is an especially wonderful thing to hear from an outstanding chapter officer. But as much as I appreciate the compliment, I must say that whatever I may be now, it has taken me some time to get that way. In the meantime, I have done some things that I am not proud of.

No major crimes. No felonies or even misdemeanors. But some dumb things, some things that were hurtful to others, certainly some things that were not good for me, much less set a good example for others.

Looking back, I think I understand why I did those things or let them happen. I wish I had been able to think it through earlier. Maybe I could have done some things differently.

There are books, programs, advice columns, and talk shows by the hundreds which offer help. Style and quality vary greatly. Among the good ones are materials prepared and presented by Kappa.

This isn't a commercial for Kappa programs. But these programs and the Kappa women who have designed them have been of great help to me. KEEP SAFE, INSIGHT On Domestic Violence, and SEEK: Self-Esteem for Every Kappa focus on aspects of what I see as a single whole...a concept which is vital to all women, whether they are 18 or 80, a concept which I consider embodies the most important decision any woman can make:

BE IN CONTROL OF YOUR OWN LIFE.

KEEP SAFE:

"We have to come up with ways of protecting ourselves without wrecking our social lives; we have to begin to think differently about relationships and the way they develop."

KEEP SAFE educates us about personal safety at home, at school, in the workplace, and at leisure. Don't walk alone on campus at night or go to a guy's room in the dorm or fraternity house. Don't answer the door without checking who is on the other side. Be careful about riding in the elevator or going to your car if you work late. Be aware that alcohol will fog your thinking and reflexes.

INSIGHT On Domestic Violence:

"It took me many years...to believe that I deserve only love and support in all my relationships."

"I'm in the serious business of taking care of me today. I've come to like the work and the pay is phenomenal!"

INSIGHT On Domestic Violence deals with more than at-home, family problems. It looks at personal relationships. Abuse by a husband, boyfriend, or even a close female friend may be emotional or psychological, as well as physical. Criticism, threats, public humiliation, lies and cheating, distorting reality, ignoring feelings, financial deprivation, and isolation are among the manipulative techniques used by others to make us behave the way they want us to, not necessarily the way that is best for us.

Known Then...

insights on lifetime challenges

SEEK:

"Self-esteem is appreciating my own worth and importance and having the character to be accountable for myself and to act responsibly toward others."

"I'd gone through life believing in the strength and competence of others; never in my own. I discovered that my capacities were real."

SEEK presents situations and relationships which are harmful to or supportive of our self-esteem. It affirms that no one deserves to be mistreated or demeaned physically, mentally, or emotionally.

In leaving my first husband I said, "There is no one whose opinion of me matters a hoot." That wasn't quite right. What I meant was that there was no one whose opinion of me would any longer immobilize me or keep me from doing what I had learned was best for me. And later I got lucky. Now my life is reflected in my favorite refrigerator magnet: "Happiness is being married to your best friend." And a "best friend" encourages you to control all aspects of your life...direction, ambition, health, employment, finances, simple pleasures...all the things that women should realize are their business and their responsibility to control.

For the most part, the dumb things I did, the people I hurt, the things that hurt me, were the result of my not learning at any earlier age to take control of situations that I could and should have worked to control...or have left much sooner. Sometimes it's hard to see, or even harder to admit, that someone else is running your life. That someone isn't always a spouse, but may be a parent, sibling, boss, or friend. But there are definite signs to be observed when you are being manipulated — when you are acting as others think you should. Manipulative tactics may include:

Mood swings — when tears, anger, or excessive praise are used to channel actions in specific directions

Alcohol — ongoing drinking or bingeing resulting in their or your loss of control

History — childhood events and past relationships

Intimidation — physical threat or abuse or threat to leave

Self-absorption — demanding the ultimate say on issues of control...a subtle but very destructive means of manipulating

Sex — forced or coerced.

In reflecting on the things I did...or didn't do, the good and the bad, the women who helped me, those I may have helped, I intend to remember two things:

We all do things sometimes because someone else wants us to.

But anything important in our lives we must do because WE want to.

— Lois Catherman Heenehan, Adelphi

Focus Points for Healthy Relationships

NEVER think you will change the other person.

Observe how he/she treats other family members.

You may not learn what someone is really like until you "belong" to them.

Being kept off balance, "waiting for the other shoe to drop," is a means of control.

Kappa Kinetics

Kappa
Kinetics Kontinues!

Kappa Kinetics — the collegiate/alumna leadership conferences piloted last year in Columbus, Ohio and Los Angeles, will continue as an important part of Fraternity programming.

Funded by the Kappa Kappa Gamma Foundation, the goal of the workshops is to help members of all ages discover their vision and potential. Participants learn to define, refine, and practice their own styles of leadership.

Kappa Kinetics will be offered at four Province Meetings this spring — Alpha, Zeta, Mu, and Pi — to provide an opportunity for Kappas in various regions to experience this very successful, interesting, and beneficial program.

Caring for Those in Need

Kappas help Kappas through the Rose McGill Fund

" A frail wisp of sunny youth, courageous though racked with pain, smiling always even in the face of discouragement...alone except for her Fraternity affiliations, without income, and a victim of tuberculosis."

These were the words of Marion V. Ackley (Chenoweth), Michigan, first chairman of the Rose McGill Fund, describing the woman for whom the fund was founded and named.

At the 1922 Convention, the delegate from Beta Psi, Toronto, appealed to those attending for help in providing financial aid for Rose, whose determination to regain her health had inspired her chapter to help their plucky sister. Unable to continue substantial support, Beta Psi Chapter asked if the Fraternity had a fund which could offer aid. Since there was none, each group represented pledged $10. The resulting $600 defrayed much of Rose's hospital expenses and provided a few comforts until her death five years later.

From this sincere desire to help one individual grew the fund that has come to be known as the Fraternity's "sentimental favorite" in terms of financial aid to members. The Rose McGill Fund was established for the purpose of assisting deserving members with outright gifts in time of serious financial difficulty.

A wide range of needs have been met for Kappas of all ages. For some it has been a short-term situation; for others there have been many years of aid and support. For all there is complete confidentiality. Older Kappas living on fixed or limited incomes and suffering the frailties of age have received help. Young women left alone to raise a family through a husband's illness, death, or separation have received assistance. Some have needed funds for tuition and books as they return to college to better prepare themselves for a career as head of the family. Although their circumstances vary, all have experienced difficult and tragic situations which their Kappa sisters are eager to ease. In most instances, it is a Kappa sister who makes the initial contact with the Fraternity in search of help.

Hoping to brighten the holidays of a member of the Rose McGill "family," alumnae groups made special donations and "adopted" a member, providing gifts for the Rose McGill recipient and her family. Catching the interest of others, the project grew and the Holiday Sharing Program was established. Chapters and alumnae associations apply and are matched with Rose McGill members, receiving lists of needs, sizes, wishes, while still maintaining confidentiality. Those who open their gifts are no more delighted than those who carefully chose and wrapped the presents for special Kappas and their families...good friends who never meet.

Recognizing the changing needs of the times, additional assistance to members was established as the Circle Key Fund. This limited program of emergency aid awards grants for continuing education and vocational training. Alumnae of any age who are in acute financial stress while pursuing their education may apply for this financial assistance—and hopefully contribute to help another Kappa when their circumstances improve.

Since 1932 the Kappa Kappa Gamma Magazine Agency has provided substantial income for the Rose McGill Fund. Subscriptions placed through the agency at usual and special rates are processed by the magazine chairman and a portion of the profit is distributed to the fund. Alumnae and chapter members, their families and friends, support the process of Kappas helping Kappas through magazine subscriptions. And the origin of the aid is remembered in the Magazine Agency's toll free number 1-800-KKG-ROSE.

During the 1992-94 biennium, almost $225,000 in aid was provided. Rising costs and need indicate that the Rose McGill family will continue to draw on the financial strength and compassionate hearts of all Kappas. Marion Ackley ended her 1930 history of the Rose McGill Fund by saying, "Out of an impulsive, generous donation to one member of the Fraternity has grown a remarkable fund for truly fraternal service."

Through the Kappa Kappa Gamma Foundation members continue to care for those in need.

To Apply for Rose McGill Assistance and Circle Key Grants

Any Kappa in need of financial aid may be referred by her alumnae association, a Kappa friend, or she may request aid on her own behalf.

Letters requesting an application for assistance should be addressed to Rose McGill Chairman or Circle Key Grant Chairman, c/o Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity Headquarters, P.O. Box 38, Columbus, OH 43216, 614-228-6515, (fax) 614-228-7809.

Please Keep These Cards and Letters Coming

“ It is with great joy that I am able to ‘resign,’ so to speak, from Rose McGill assistance. I will never be able to adequately express my appreciation to Kappa Kappa Gamma through Rose McGill and the Holiday Sharing Program for helping me and my family through an extraordinarily difficult period in our lives. Your assistance helped me travel the long and costly road back to emotional health. Kappa has helped make possible a new me and a new life, not only for me, but also for those I love and whom my life touches. ”

“ I stayed in my job for years until my family was raised, but it was a necessary ‘niche,’ not one I particularly enjoyed. Now I’m going to pursue an advanced degree so that I can get more meaningful work. ”

“ Today I attended a memorial service for Sarah, the North Jersey Shore’s own Rose McGill recipient. We Kappas were the majority of mourners present. The fact that Rose McGill supplied a small but continuing, guaranteed fund was enough to maintain Sarah in her comfortable living situation far beyond the time expected owing to the depleted state of her finances. We were told today that Sarah would have been a bag lady without the checks from Rose McGill. It is significant to note that Rose McGill checks, although small, made a big difference. ”

“ Thirty-three years ago I left school for marriage and children. I’ve been divorced for 17 years and raised three children alone. Now I need to get ahead with my own career. ”

“ I have just received your letter, and I am SO HAPPY! You cannot imagine the relief I feel right now. Kappa is such an important aspect of my college career. I cannot even think of college without Kappa. The money takes a great deal of stress off my mind. I expect to soon have a clean bill of health and will not need further assistance. Again, I thank you for your consideration and gift on behalf of KKG. ”

... Patricia Glover Knupp

One of Patty's paintings hangs in the home of her friend and pledge sister Mary Morris Boyd, Kansas.

College, Kappa, husband, three children, polio. Except for the last item, this is a series of events that could describe many of us. But for Patricia Glover Knupp, Kansas, polio was included on the list, changing her life forever. As a long-term member of "the Rose McGill family," Patty graciously relinquishes the confidentiality of fund recipients to show how Kappa has given her a helping hand.

Patty Glover and Hal Knupp met as graduate students in petroleum geology. They married, lived in Kansas and Colorado, and developed a mutual interest in art. In the mid-1950s, shortly after the birth of their third daughter, the Knupps moved to Hawaii where Patty was stricken with polio during the last major epidemic of this dreaded disease. She was left paralyzed, except for her neck muscles and partial use of her left hand, and is in constant need of a ventilator to assist her breathing.

Re-established in Kansas, Patty was pleased when therapists at the March of Dimes rehabilitation center in Omaha, Neb., helped her renew her ability to paint. Her bed can be cranked up to a sitting position and her left elbow placed in a leather sling with a canvas band and sponge holding a brush or pencil strapped to her wrist. Both supports are fastened to a metal frame hanging from a board above her bed. An aide acts as a human easel, holding the sketch pad steady and moving it into position for Patty's limited range of movement.

Able to work only for very short periods, Patty sketches with patience and determination. Her delicate and lovely designs have appeared in galleries and are sold on postcards and note paper. Of course iris and owls are among the popular sketches.

Joy in life, interest in others, a cheerful disposition and great appreciation for Kappa are qualities always evident in Patty. But for all that she does for herself and others, Patty has "fallen through the cracks" of the medical and social services system, leaving her in severe financial straits. In need of round-the-clock nurse aides, Patty trains each new aide herself. But even at minimum wage, the cost for the aides is more than three-fourths of her annual expenses. Replacement of aging equipment is a frequent concern. Maintaining her small home enables Patty's family to stay with her when visiting and allows room for the computer provided by her pledge sisters.

Despite repeated attempts by a variety of people and agencies, Patty's situation does not fall within parameters which could supply financial aid...except for Kappa Kappa Gamma. The Hutchinson (Kan.) Alumnae Association provides funds for Patty from their annual flower sale. Her pledge class has given of themselves and their dollars while also maintaining a lively correspondence over the years. A joyful 50th reunion, with 18 of the 20-member pledge class attending, centered around visits to Patty in October. Her knowledge and memory of their college days and later lives delighted everyone. Patty, in turn, expresses her appreciation for the many Kappas who have personally, or through the Rose McGill Fund, made life a little easier for her.

"My wonderful Kappa sisters have demonstrated the true meaning of Kappa loyalty," Patty says. "They have cared enough to keep in touch and to share their good fortunes to help me pay expenses. Through the Rose McGill Fund and Holiday Sharing Program I have been shown the warmth of Kappa love."

Through the beautiful and indomitable spirit of Patty Knupp, all Kappas experience the true meaning of Kappa loyalty.

(Anyone wishing to help Patty may contact Mary Morris Boyd, Kansas, 8811 E. Bradford Circle, Wichita, KS 67206)

A bout with polio in the 1950s left Patty paralyzed. Qualifying for no other form of assistance, she is grateful for financial help from the Rose McGill Fund.

Omega Chapter's 1944 pledge class gathered at Patty's home to celebrate its 50th reunion.

Expecting to Succeed

... Shelby Dietrich Rector

Every medical student needs a microscope and Shelby Dietrich, Michigan, was not quite sure where she would find the money to purchase one. The future director of the World Hemophilia/AIDS Center had, in 1945, just graduated with honors from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor and finished an active year with Beta Delta Chapter. With excellent grades, an interest in chemistry, and active chapter experiences, the promise of a Kappa Kappa Gamma Graduate Fellowship completed the picture. Shelby received $1000 from the Fraternity — a sum she says "seemed like a fortune" — bought her microscope, and was ready to tackle medical school with her usual determination.

The idea that a female doctor was a rarity did not bother her. "I did not think I was unique. People asked me about it (being a woman), but the thought just never penetrated," says Shelby. "If you think you are a persecuted minority, you change your attitude or your perception. I expected to succeed, based on my ability. I did not expect to be discriminated against." She excelled in medical school and has succeeded as the wife of architect Irving Rector, mother of three daughters, and as a leading pediatrician with significant contributions to the study of hemophilia and AIDS.

Hematology, the study of blood, was scarcely recognized as a subspecialty when Shelby was in medical school. Hemophilia is a genetic blood-clotting disorder that affects about 20,000 Americans. There is no cure and people with the disorder require lifelong treatment. Their only symptom is an insufficient amount of clotting factors in their blood, causing them to bleed longer. Often the bleeding is internal, leading to arthritis or crippling of joints. Hemophilia is hereditary, carried by females but almost always affecting males. Modern treatment includes regular, self-infusion of clotting factors to prevent serious bleeding.

Shelby says she fell into the specialty because, "I could put small needles in small veins." In 1957, she began her illustrious career in a not-so-glamorous way as the director of a charity pediatric clinic in downtown Los Angeles. The clinic's only staff was one female doctor and one male intern.

Clotting factors had not yet been separated from the blood supply and in the 1950s patients required transfusions of whole blood or plasma — a treatment only partially effective since the body cannot hold the amount of fluid needed to provide enough clotting factor.

*Shelby received
$1,000 from the Fraternity...bought her microscope, and was ready to tackle
medical school.*

Reflecting on her first encounters with hemophilia patients, Shelby remembers, "I just waded right in. It was a terrifying arena. The patients were crippled and miserable with pain, and there were many deaths from bleeding. We used ice and primitive products and often there were long hospitalizations." As usual, Shelby expected to succeed, and usually did. She has worked with many chronically-disabled pediatric patients — those with cerebral palsy, muscular dystrophy, arthritis, osteogenesis imperfecta — always trying to improve the quality of their lives.

The treatment of acute emergencies for hemophiliacs expanded towards rehabilitation and the psychosocial aspects of the illness. Instinctively Shelby looked at people holistically and expanded her understanding of the needs of the children she treated. "Most very sick little children can become well in a few days," Shelby explained. "Children can run high fevers and be very ill one day during the work week and be up and running around by the weekend." Knowing that chronically ill children need to be treated for more than just their symptoms, Shelby became a champion for comprehensive care. The National Hemophilia Foundation describes the concept of comprehensive care as "treating the whole person, and the family, through continuous supervision of all the medical and psychosocial aspects, where every facet of the person is addressed including physical, emotional, psychological, educational, financial, and vocational factors."

Shelby became the first director of a hemophilia treatment "team" in 1964. In fact, she considers the introduction of the "team concept" in patient care to be her greatest contribution to her profession. Her team concept expanded nationwide when the National Hemophilia Foundation established a federal program in 1973 to maintain a network of hemophilia diagnostic and treatment centers where services would be provided by a multi-disciplinary team. Shelby served as the Director of the Hemophilia Center in Orthopaedic Hospital of Los Angles from 1970 to 1988 and then as the co-director of Huntington Hospital's Hemophilia Center in Pasadena, Calif., a position she still holds today. She has also served the World Federation of Hemophilia in various capacities, and still sits on its Medical Advisory Board.

Just as Shelby felt the medical teams were making progress in assisting hemophiliacs with leading normal lives, AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome resulting from the Human Immunodeficiency Virus) surfaced in the 1980s. This virus created "an absolute disaster for everyone involved," said Shelby. The nation's blood supply was contaminated with HIV in the late 1970s, which also contaminated the products manufactured from blood to treat hemophilia. More than 50 percent of the hemophilia population was infected with

Dr. Shelby Dietrich Rector, who leads a world-wide fight for improved care and treatment of hemophiliac AIDS patients, bought her first microscope for medical school with a financial grant from Kappa Kappa Gamma.

HIV prior to 1985, and an ever-increasing number of those infected are being diagnosed with AIDS, according to the National Hemophilia Foundation.

Most of the media coverage about AIDS surrounds its history and the search for a cure. However, Shelby's interest and natural talent in working with patients led to her involvement in the important clinical studies of the disease. Shelby is involved in epidemiology — understanding the course of the disease and meeting the needs of the patient. As director of the World Federation Hemophilia/AIDS center, Shelby tries to disseminate information. She explains, "I was aware early on of the need for information and education." Sighing, she adds, "We are really not very far along, since 1984." However, Shelby does feel that doctors are "somewhat more skillful" clinically in treating the illnesses contracted by AIDS patients, which allows them to live longer.

Arranging the staff and the funding necessary to care for people with two simultaneous chronic illnesses (hemophilia and AIDS) is another of Shelby's successes. In addition, she is seeking accessible care for all patients by developing managed-care for hemophiliacs in another current position as the National Medical Director of Hematology for Quantum Health Resources in Orange, Calif. "All of this advanced technology isn't any good if people can't afford to use it," Shelby says.

She calls this her "final career" and says she'll retire in 1997. "Retirement is a state of mind, not an age," said Shelby. She thought she would retire in the 1980s, but HIV/AIDS came and "turned my profession upside down." Then, she accepted a position in 1988 as the Co-Director of the Huntington Hospital Hemophilia Center where she conducts studies on AIDS patients. She felt that retiring would be "running away" when there was so much to be done. Besides, there were fewer demands from home after her children were grown.

When her three children were in the house, Shelby focused only on family and career. The old saying that "you can have it all" is not true, she believes. Shelby sacrificed leisure time, community involvement, and hobbies in order to focus on what she considered to be important.

Shelby's dedication to family and career was recognized by Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity in 1984 when she was nominated for an Alumnae Achievement Award. "Women volunteers are the spark plugs for community organizations. I hadn't done anything for the Fraternity, nor any volunteer work," Shelby says explaining her surprise at receiving the award. Grateful for the recognition as an award recipient, she remembers coming to the biennial Convention in Scottsdale, Ariz.

Yet, it is not receiving the award that stands out in her mind. At Convention she met Miriam "Doc" Locke, Alabama, who almost 40 years earlier had the pleasure of awarding the fellowship that purchased a microscope. "There she was in a wheelchair," said Shelby, "and I got to thank her. It was wonderful. I was so happy to be able to tell her thank you in person."

KKG Foundation Establishes

Recognizing Donors of Future Gifts

The Kappa Kappa Gamma Foundation Board of Trustees is pleased to announce the creation of The Omega Society honoring those who choose to significantly impact the future of Kappa Kappa Gamma through an estate gift, one that names the Foundation as a beneficiary in a will, or through any planned gift.

The name "Omega" was chosen because omega is the 24th and last letter of the Greek alphabet, and an estate gift is the last, ultimate gift one can give.

The 1994 Summer issue of The Key reported that the Foundation received a $1.25 million dollar bequest from the estate of Marian Burr Johnson, Ohio State. The Trustees are grateful for this generous gift that will endow Kappa scholarships and benefit the Chapter Consultant program this year. However, Foundation President Leslie McFarland McNamara, Allegheny, noted that the Trustees regret they were never able to thank Marian personally for her gift.

In addition to the Johnson gift, the Foundation received several other bequests during the 1992-94 biennium. Among these were estate gifts from Georgetta Evans, Kentucky ($2,000); Lou Barr Hale, Washington University ($6,000); Mary Johnson Hartman, Minnesota ($30,902); Elizabeth Ross, Kentucky ($10,000) and Ruth Schoenthaler, Northwestern ($5,000).

None of these estate gifts were expected, all were appreciated, but, again, the Trustees regret that they were unable to thank each donor in her lifetime. The Trustees have established The Omega Society, Kappa's new donor club, in hopes of assuring that they can personally thank as many donors as possible for their generosity and commitment to Kappa Kappa Gamma's future through an estate gift.

Membership in The Omega Society is open to any individual, whether a Kappa, a relative of a Kappa, or a friend. Anyone who notifies the Foundation office that they have made provision for the Fraternity through estate planning will become a member. No documents are required as proof, but may be sent if the Omega Society member wishes.

Charter membership in The Omega Society will be open throughout this biennium, ending June 30, 1996. The Foundation will announce the names of Charter Members at the 1996 Convention and in the biennial Celebration of Giving.

Benefits for members in The Omega Society include:

- Special recognition in Fraternity and Foundation publications
- Invitations to special events hosted by members of the Fraternity Council and the Foundation Trustees
- A subscription to "Foundation Focus," a new, informative donor newsletter
- Financial benefits that in each individual situation are best explained by an accountant, attorney, or financial planner.

Perhaps the most meaningful benefit of Omega Society membership is the personal satisfaction that comes from knowing one's gift assures a bright and financially strong future for the Fraternity. Omega Society members know that an organization they've cared for deeply will continue to be vital because of their estate gift to Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Through estate gifts, future generations of Kappas will benefit from scholarships, financial aid, educational programs, and preservation of our Fraternity heritage. As a result of these programs, more Kappas will reach their potential, enjoying life-long friendships, mutual support, opportunities for self-growth, respect for intellectual development, understanding of and allegiance to positive ethical principles, and an appreciation for Kappa membership.

Answering Your Questions About the Omega Society

Question

Do I need a will to become a member of The Omega Society?

Answer

There are a variety of ways to join The Omega Society and one of these is through a provision in your will. However, there are other reasons to have a will.

The New York Times reports that over 70 percent of Americans die without a will. If you are one of those without a will, the government will decide the distribution of your assets — and it may not be as you would have liked. Through estate planning and writing a will you can designate family members, friends, and valued organizations to receive your assets.

The Foundation urges everyone to seek professional advice in writing a will. A professional can best counsel you on how you can make an estate gift to Kappa Kappa Gamma that will qualify you to become a Charter Member in The Omega Society.

Question

I recently revised my will. Can I easily add a clause to make an estate gift to the Foundation?

Answer

Yes. Your attorney or estate planner can help you add a short codicil (addition) to your will for this purpose.

Question

Can I make an estate gift to Kappa Kappa Gamma while still providing for my children?

Answer

Yes. As mentioned before, you will want to consult your financial advisor about this, but there are ways your estate can provide income to your children throughout their lives and the Fraternity can benefit as well.

Question

May I express a preference for how my estate gift is used?

Answer

Yes. You may select a program area (scholarships, educational programs, museum, leadership programs, or Rose McGill financial assistance) or you may instruct the trustees to use your gift for "wherever the need is greatest."

Question

I am in my 40s and do not know how much of an estate gift I will be able to give Kappa. Is there a way to make an estate gift without deciding the actual amount now?

Answer

Yes. Ask the professional who drafts your will about the ways you can designate a percentage of your estate instead of a specific amount. In this way, your estate can continue to grow without needing to revise your will just to change the amount of your gift to the Foundation or any other charitable organization you wish to benefit from your estate.

Tulsa Alumnae Find Innovative Way to Honor Kappas Now and In the Future

In April 1993, the Tulsa (Okla.) Alumnae Association was looking for a special way to honor the memory of a beloved member, Franne Tyrrell Gathright, Texas, who served as President of the Association, Xi Province Director of Alumnae, and as Assistant to the Director of Alumnae for the Fraternity.

To honor Franne and her commitment to the Fraternity, the association endowed the Tulsa Alumnae Scholarship Fund to provide Alumnae Circle Key Continuing Education grants in Xi Province.

Tulsa alumnae gave great thought to naming this new scholarship. By establishing the fund in honor of the entire association, additional money could be attracted and added to the account. This single scholarship fund could be designated whenever a local Kappa is honored or when friends and loved ones give a memorial gift. In this way, the Tulsa Alumnae Scholarship Fund is timeless. Every generation can honor special Kappas, and alumnae can see the fund grow to benefit even more Kappa sisters in financial need.

Franne's family made significant donations to the new scholarship fund, and many Kappa friends also honored Franne with contributions. At the association's Founders Day celebration, attended by President Juliana (J.J.) Fraser Wales, Ohio State, another Tulsa Alumnae Association member, Marilyn Maloney Riggs, Kansas, announced her own gift to this scholarship fund. Marilyn's contribution activated the scholarship by raising the fund balance to more than $10,000 and, incidentally, qualifying her for membership in The Adelphe Society — the Kappa Kappa Gamma Foundation's major gift club. Marilyn's donation was made in honor of all the Tulsa members who have given time through the years to support the association.

Other Tulsa members and their families have taken note of this new fund. In addition, the association now contributes to the scholarship fund as well as other Foundation programs, area chapters, and local philanthropies.

The Tulsa Alumnae Association is grateful for the commitment of members like Franne Gathright and takes pride in supporting a scholarship fund that was established initially in her memory, but which will serve to honor Kappas in the future as well.

In this issue of The Key, we celebrate

Kappa . . . Timeless Tradition . . . Future Vision

as it relates to the Kappa Kappa Gamma Foundation

Kappas have always dared to dream future visions. In the 21st century, we know the means to fulfill these dreams will ultimately come from the success of the Foundation because quality, innovative programming for our members requires financial resources.

While both the Fraternity and the Foundation are making the most of our current assets, our dreams are much greater. There is more we would like to do in all areas, but especially in educational programming and leadership development for both collegians and alumnae.

During the 1992-94 biennium significant steps have been taken to prepare for the future. The Foundation has:

- restructured the Board of Trustees
- developed a long-range plan
- conducted a Fraternity-wide philanthropy survey
- witnessed the expansion of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Foundation of Canada as they awarded two $5,000 scholarships for the first time
- funded Chapter Consultants for each of our four new chapters in addition to our existing Chapter Consultants
- added a Director of Development to the Headquarters staff
- completed major historic restoration in the Heritage Museum area of Fraternity Headquarters
- welcomed four new members into the Adelphe Society, including one individual and three alumnae associations
- established three new endowed scholarships
- positioned the Foundation to benefit from strong investment growth in the future

This biennium will also be remembered as the time when the Foundation received the largest gift to date—$1,250,000, as announced in the 1994 Summer issue of The Key.

It has been said, "Vision without action is merely a dream. Action without vision just passes the time. Vision with action can change the world."

You can read in this issue the names of Kappas who have combined vision with action by making contributions to the Foundation during the 1992-94 biennium. They are changing the world for Kappa Kappa Gamma.

We invite all Kappa sisters to join in building the Foundation and through it, strengthen the Fraternity. With the Foundation as a solid economic base, Kappa Kappa Gamma's dream of providing increased financial assistance and additional leadership programs will become a reality.

Top Ten PROJECT 2000 Chapters*

In 1990, the Foundation challenged our chapters to help finance education in the next century by establishing Project 2000.

Under the program, chapters are encouraged to raise a minimum of $10,000 by the year 2000 to endow a scholarship in the chapter's name. The earned interest from the fund will be distributed annually as a scholarship to a chapter member.

Pi Deuterion, Berkeley, surpassed this goal, raising more than $39,000 and is annually awarding scholarships. Other chapters are also responding to the challenge—providing today for the Kappas of tomorrow.

Foundations

Getting underneath it all

Over a century ago, during the Victorian era, women were drafted into a fashion army to don frilly uniforms with bustles and hoops, and petticoats that weighed as much as 18 pounds. Beneath the swirls of cotton, silk, and organdy lurked gripping garments known as foundations. These supported the major obsession of the day: the hour-glass figure.

Breathtaking as the foundations (a.k.a. corsets and girdles) were, they had a mercifully liberating detail. Plumpish women could visit local corsetieres who added a bit of whalebone here, 15 or 20 rows of lace there, and --presto!--without resorting to any dieting at all, most could achieve the desired (if breathless) picture.

Considered fairly, can we really say we've advanced all that much since the heydey of Queen Victoria? Today, women answer fashion's siren call by dieting (an internalized type of corset) in order to look like Twiggy while steering clear of Miss Piggy.

But while corsetieres' shops today are buttoned up, other foundations remain integral to our social and emotional well-being.

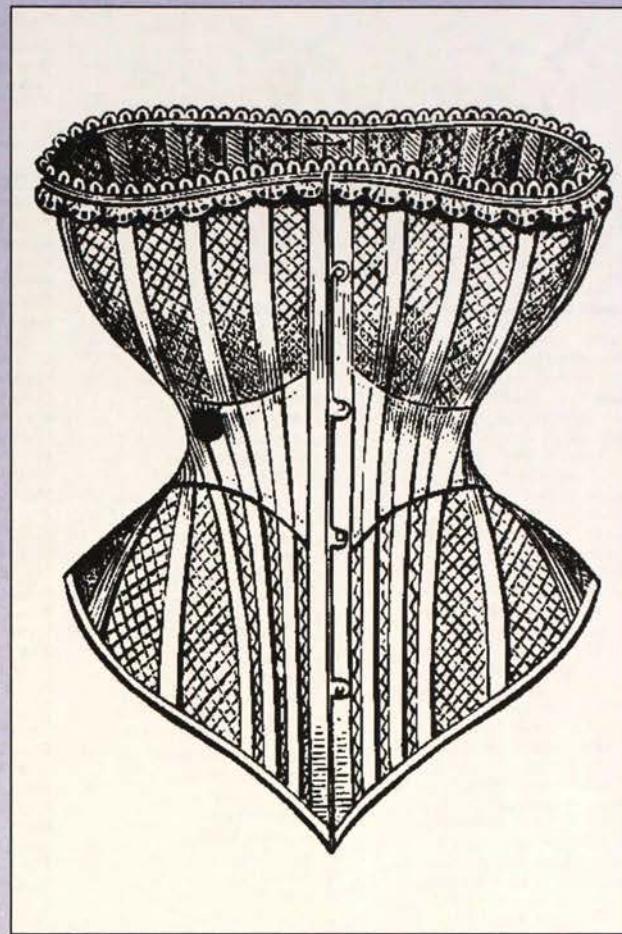

So here's where the Kappa Kappa Gamma Foundation comes in. Underneath its tax-deductible umbrella are scholarships tailored to meet the needs of worthy students, Circle Key grants, the Rose McGill Fund for Confidential Assistance, grants for Traveling Consultants and Chapter Consultants, educational materials, and Kappa Kinetic leadership training for collegians and alumnae. These philanthropic activities are opportunities for us all to grow in concert, and rejoice while giving and expressing love.

Of course, we're all busy and stressed, with families to take care of and the demands of our jobs. The top of the refrigerator needs dusting. The cat needs defleaing. Our garden's wilting while we're knocking off (or out) our 10th unpublished novel.

But compare these excellent excuses with the joys of giving, and we know it's time to tote that pen and write a check for the Rose McGill Fund. Rummage up a rummage sale for Kappa's aspiring scholars. Make an emergency of emergency funds.

Let's get behind (and beneath) the meaning of sisterhood and not lace ourselves in. There's a Kappa Kappa Gamma Foundation in your future -- it will support sisters in need...and it doesn't weigh 18 pounds!

Using Insurance to Ensure the Future

Have you been thinking of making a substantial gift to the Kappa Kappa Gamma Foundation? Do you want to ensure that future generations of young women enjoy the sisterhood that has been such an important part of your life? For a relatively low cost you can make a gift of life insurance, and right now you can enjoy all the benefits of membership in the Foundation's major gift club, The Adelphie Society. Contact your insurance agent or Director of Development Marilyn Jennings for more information (1-614-228-6515.)

Fraternity Headquarters Gets a Face-Lift

Workmen struggle with steel supports while Director of Membership Services Jane Ketcham Steiner, Miami (Ohio), and Director of Business and Operations Lila Isbell, Montana, oversee construction.

After years of planning, the office is remodeled to meet the needs of the 21st century.

To the casual observer, the quiet facade of the Victorian house at 530 E. Town Street in Columbus, Ohio, appears to be a beautifully maintained reminder of days gone by.

But inside the building, behind the restored front rooms of the Heritage Museum, exists a bustling office area full of computers, fax machines, copiers, a printing press, and the 32 hardworking employees of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity Headquarters. These are the people who answer calls from members, send initiation requests overnight to panicky chapters, order 50-year pins for those special alumnae, print support materials, locate lost members, and provide a critical link among sisters all over the world.

For the past 10 years, the need to remodel and update the office portion of Headquarters has been noted. Although the office space has been remodeled in the past, technological demands of the 1990s require additional wiring and planning. For a decade, funds have annually been placed in a reserve account for Headquarters renovation, and now there is adequate funding to launch this exciting new project.

With the help of architects and engineers, computer specialists, efficiency experts, and a corps of construction workers, the entire office operation is being overhauled. The project will last into the spring of 1995. Partitions will produce more efficient work areas; new lines will be installed for enhanced telephone systems, computer networks, and modems; and the entire electrical system will be improved to service all the machines required to keep the Fraternity running efficiently. Lighting will be upgraded, machines will be relocated, and a total redecoration will complete the project.

While all this activity is going on, office staff will work hard to maintain current levels of service. Chances are most members won't be aware of the hammering, painting, or sheetrock work going on as phone calls are answered, requests filled, and faxes received and returned.

Those who spend their working hours at Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity Headquarters are looking forward to the renovation, and those members who depend on the headquarters staff will likely notice even better service from the new, improved, efficient office operation.

An architect's drawing shows an improved facade for the entry to Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity Headquarters.

Kappa

Celebrate 125 years of Kappa Kappa Gamma leadership at the 1995 Province Meetings. Delegates will take part in the election of Province Officers and all members will participate in discussion of resolutions and recommendations to the Fraternity. Kappa Kinetics — the Fraternity's new leadership training program for alumnae and collegians — will be presented at four of the meetings: Alpha, Zeta, Mu, and Pi. At all meetings, Kappas will share ideas, learn new skills, and enjoy sisterhood.

Anyone wishing to attend should contact her Province Officers, listed in the Fall issue of The Key.

Nominations for Province Officers are solicited from every Kappa. Please send the form listed below to your Province Nominating Chairman.

Sustained Giving

The Fraternity has been funding scholarships for almost a century

The desire to fund academic study for women has been a core value of Kappa Kappa Gamma for 92 years since 1902 when delegates to Convention approved a fund for graduate study of oceanography. This was the Fraternity's first commitment to student financial aid.

The proposal was brought by the delegate from Beta Alpha, Pennsylvania. She had been sent to the convention with a check for $100 from Fanny Ryson Hitchcock, Pennsylvania — a pioneer woman scientist — to request that the money be used to endow a scholarship for study at Wood's Hole, Mass., home of a government biological laboratory for deep sea research. The Beta Alpha collegians and alumnae had for several years been raising $50 a year for the support of a table at the laboratory. It was noted that nearly all the Pennsylvania collegians were science majors. The Grand Council appointed three members to the newly created Scholarship Fund Committee to oversee the endowment, and asked Fanny Hitchcock to serve as chairman. She resigned two years later due to ill health.

But the money accumulated slowly. In 1906, the amount had only grown to $105.80, and at the 1908 Convention, delegates agreed that 50 cents from each initiation fee should be allotted to the scholarship fund, and the alumnae associations began to show an interest in sending contributions.

It seemed, however, to Scholarship Fund Committee Chairman Charlotte

Charlotte Powell Goddard, Butler, saw the need for the Fraternity to fund undergraduate education.

Powell Goddard, Butler, and Grand President Edith Stoner Robinson, Missouri, that it was more important for the Fraternity to fund undergraduate study rather than graduate specialization.

With the permission of Fanny Hitchcock, the Wood's Hole Scholarship endowment was changed to a fund that loaned needed money to deserving Kappas to continue their undergraduate education. The first loan of $250 was made in 1910 to a senior of Iota Chapter, DePauw, who was later graduated with Phi Beta Kappa honors.

In 1916, the dream of Chairman Charlotte Goddard was realized when Convention delegates voted to increase the scholarship fund to $10,000 and open the loan program to other worthy women, not just Fraternity members. Two years later, the allotment to the scholarship fund from each initiation fee was raised from 50 cents to one dollar.

With Regrets

The Council of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity regrets to report that Zeta Delta Chapter, Vermont, recently voted to surrender their charter of membership.

All initiated members of Zeta Delta Chapter remain members of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity and collegiate members are granted alumna status after leaving college.

At the Golden Jubilee Convention in 1920 the Students' Aid Fund was formally dedicated to the Founders of Kappa Kappa Gamma. With more than $14,000 raised at that time, the Fraternity publicized the availability of the loan program at each of the 48 campuses where Kappa Kappa Gamma was chartered. The universities responded with gratitude.

During the 1920s the Students' Aid Fund continued to grow. The allocation it received from initiation fees was ended, and in 1930 its name officially changed to the Founders' Memorial Fund for Students' Aid. Loans were primarily available to third- and fourth-year undergraduates and were capped at $500.

By 1974, more than $300,000 had been loaned to finance the education of Kappas and non-members. The Fraternity ended the loan program, making a commitment to provide direct grants for undergraduate and graduate study, and the established endowment became the basis for the Foundation's current Founders' Memorial Fund for Students' Aid.

On October 13, 1870, six young women entered the chapel at Monmouth College with golden keys in their hair, publicly announcing the founding of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity. On October 13, 1995, the Fraternity will mark its 125th anniversary.

The celebration begins this year, leading up to the Fraternity's birthday next fall. The "Celebrate 125" logo, designed by Linda Atkins Lange, Cincinnati, will appear on Fraternity publications until the birthday celebration, including The Key.

Watch for celebration plans for the Fraternity's "quartequicentennial," or arrange your own commemoration of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity's 125th anniversary.

NCAA Honors Centre College Graduate

Never give up.

That's the motto of Laura Boswell, Centre, and it has proved to be a good one.

The 22-year-old from Memphis, Tenn., was recently named Kentucky's 1994 NCAA Woman of the Year, the Lexington Herald-Leader recently reported.

"I was in total shock," said Laura, chosen from nominees from many Kentucky colleges and universities. "I was totally ecstatic."

The award is based on athletics, academics, and community leadership, all areas in which Laura excels.

At Centre, she participated in volleyball, track, and cheerleading, making all-conference teams in volleyball and track and serving as captain of the volleyball team. She also participated in community activities through Zeta Gamma Chapter and was sports editor of the school newspaper.

Laura graduated this year with a degree in English and a 3.5 GPA. She attributes her achievements to her strong will and family support. Her family always encouraged her but never pushed. "I come from a long line of athletes, but I was always driven on my own. I hate to lose," she adds with a laugh.

department, Laura says she has been able to integrate her two loves — writing and sports. She offers encouragement for female athletes. "Don't take no for an answer," she insists. "Don't let yourself be put in the back seat."

Shining the Spotlight On:

Natalie Chaloner McElroy, Minnesota, of Jamestown, N.D. The American National Cattlewomen in a Reno, Nev., meeting named Natalie one of two Outstanding Cattlewomen of the Year. Natalie served as president of this organization in 1984 and was on the North Dakota Beef

Commission for six years. Before her husband's death, the couple raised pure-bred Angus cattle and grew small grains on a family ranch now being run by their children.

"I have always been grateful for my membership in Kappa," says Natalie, "and for what it did for me when transferring from a small college in Illinois to a big university. It even helped me meet my husband to whom I was married for 51 years!"

Jean Eisenbeis Betschart, Pittsburgh, of Pittsburgh. The American Diabetes Association has announced that Jean, who holds degrees as a Registered Nurse and a master's in Nursing, was honored with its Outstanding Health Professional Educator in Diabetes Award at the organization's 54th annual meeting in New Orleans.

Jean has devoted her career to fostering excellence in diabetes education, especially for children, on both a national and international level. She was recently recognized for her ongoing work to establish communication with educators from around the globe sharing knowledge and enhancing worldwide understanding of the disease. As part of this effort, she has developed a videotape and workbook for children with diabetes that is being distributed internationally.

Alumnae from Kingwood, Texas, and a George Washington University collegian filled a Chevy Suburban with 150 sack suppers, and served the Texas A & M chapter during Rush. "A great day for AAI!" says former Theta Province Director of Alumnae Peggy Moots Cline, Texas.

Accent on Alumnae

Currently, Jean is the diabetes program coordinator for the Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh's Division of Endocrinology and adjunct graduate instructor of parent-child nursing at the University of Pittsburgh.

Jean is past president of the American Association of Diabetes Educators (AADE) and was the 1989 recipient of the AADE Advanced Studies Institute of Diabetes Educators Scholarship Award. She has written extensively for professional publications and been an editorial board member of two publications.

Maris Bernard, Cincinnati, of Cincinnati, Ohio. Maris, a member of the American Society of Interior Design (ASID), has won the Harbine Chatfield Design Award of the Ohio/Kentucky Chapter of the American Society of Interior Designers for the design of a 3,000-square-foot private residence on Hilton Head Island in South Carolina.

"Both of my clients are originally from Great Britain, so we attempted to combine aspects of the English Country style with the graciousness of the Charleston southern style in a contemporary architectural context," explains Maris. The colors used were primarily buttercup yellows, delphinium blues, and spruce green with accents of crimson and gold. "The completed look was to be a mélange of pattern and color, with the effect that the pieces had grown together over the years."

Maris currently owns her own interior design practice in Cincinnati, A. Maris & Associates. She has received numerous accolades for her work, including an award in 1990 for Access for the Disabled in a commercial office space. She is a past president of the Ohio/Kentucky Chapter of ASID.

Kappa Pi Phi Event Nets $20,000 For Children's Center

Western hospitality was featured at one of the 40 creatively decorated luncheon tables — this one with a Southwestern theme — at "Entertaining Southern Style" in Fort Worth, Texas. Dozens of volunteers from the Fort Worth Alumnae Association joined forces with Pi Beta Phi alumnae to present this first annual benefit luncheon which netted more than $20,000 for a children's medical center and a child study center. The response was so overwhelming that all luncheon tables sold out very early, and a high tea was added to accommodate guests later that afternoon.

Little Rock, Ark. "Kappas here are making a difference in the lives of others, many of whom we'll never meet, through our ability to raise funds for special causes," remarks Carolyn Pharis, Arkansas, Little Rock, president of the Arkansas Chapter of the National Society of Fund Raising Executives (NSFRE). Carolyn is associate director of a foundation affiliated with a large non-profit Catholic hospital where she handles gift and estate planning and grant writing.

Her predecessor, Charlotte Hudspeth Gadberry, Arkansas, now semi-retired, was a past president of NSFRE and was selected Fund Raising Executive of the Year in 1992.

Becky Johnson Kossover, Arkansas, is director of the annual fund for a non-profit radiation treatment center for cancer patients. These three Kappas work together on many community projects.

Famous throughout Arkansas for her fund-raising successes is Willie Long Oates, Arkansas, who is a former Volunteer of the Year for NSFRE.

Energetic Kappas Mix Fun with Fund Raising

Whether the alumnae association has 10 members or more than 1,000, Kappas find new ways to make fund raising fun, and all the money goes to the Kappa Kappa Gamma Foundation and local charities. Some large groups have long-standing projects which reap sizeable dollars, like the Kansas City Holiday Tour, Dallas's Home Tour, and Atlanta's Fashion and Diamonds luncheon. Other events are on a smaller scale.

"No matter the size of the alumnae association, each one works diligently to raise funds for various projects," said Director of Alumnae Marilyn Nichols Bullock, Kansas State. "The ideas for fund raising are numerous and innovative. The exchange of ideas with other alumnae associations is beneficial, like trying out a tested product. What works well for one group may be the answer for another, or it may be molded to fit another group's needs. No matter the idea, the project, or size of the alumnae association, it takes a great deal of energy from many devoted Kappas to bring about the success."

Accent on Alumnae

Alumnae Associations Share Fund-Raising Ideas

• Philadelphia alumnae host an annual Kentucky Derby Day fund raiser the first Saturday in May with prizes, mint juleps, and refreshments. Additionally, a candle sale grossed $4,000.

• Indianapolis alumnae increased fund-raising profits 15 percent over last year, enabling them to distribute $8,921.50. Of this $5,700 went to Kappa philanthropies, while $3,200 was used locally. These alumnae raise money throughout the year with six projects.

• Nashville's Liz Thompson Hamby, Vanderbilt, insists no prior singing experience is needed to join the December family caroling party which doubles as a moneymaker. Cider, hot chocolate, and hors d'oeuvres follow the Sunday evening stroll.

• Palo Alto, Calif., netted a whopping $932 from their Silent Tea, and donated $707 of the proceeds to the Rose McGill Fund.

• Gainesville, Fla., President Kelly Hogan Randall, Kansas, announced two fund raisers to benefit Hospice House's building project. Octoberfest was a beer sampling to learn about various international and local brews, always a popular party according to Kelly. Spring will bring a yard sale featuring household goods.

• Wichita Falls, Texas, sponsored "A

More than 100 Kappas and friends bid on the items donated by 50 businesses, raising $8,500 for the association's philanthropies.

Taste of New Orleans" to net money for the Rose McGill assistance program and the local Boys and Girls Club, which Helen Spencer Bellamy, Texas, declared a huge success.

Flowers Lead To Breast Cancer Treatment

When Ann, a young Dallas housewife, mother, and court-reporting student found a lump in her left breast, she knew it needed attention. Her first thought, though, was about money. She had no insurance due to previous health problems, and her husband was self-employed. So she waited.

At the same time, members of the Richardson-Plano (Texas) Alumnae Association were taking orders day and night for begonias, impatiens, geraniums, petunias, and other bedding plants. Working with a local grower, the Kappas sell the flowers, then deliver the flats at their annual Flower Fair in April. Proceeds are divided between Kappa scholarships and The Bridge Breast Center, a unique coalition of breast cancer survivors, medical personnel, and lay volunteers who provide free medical services for uninsured women.

Because of the support of organizations such as the Richardson-Plano association, Ann had an option, and her story a happy ending. She saw a public service announcement for The Bridge Center where she subsequently had a bilateral mastectomy and reconstructive surgery. Today she is recovering and very thankful for the assistance she has received. Since its first clinic in 1992, The Bridge has assisted almost 300 women who feared they had cancer.

Association President Karen Hall Orr, Kansas, presented a check for $2,586 from the 1994 Flower Fair. "We also used the fund raiser as an opportunity to distribute flyers on the Center to our customers and our 900 local alumna members and to publicize the availability of video tapes on breast self-examination," says PR Chairman Nanette Gilmore Chambers, Purdue.

Thirsty Golf Fans Fund Panhellenic Scholarships

Wanted: 2,000 people to work 700 hours in seven days for NO PAY, dispensing more than 50,000 pounds (that's right) of hot dogs, 500,000 cases of pop, not to mention beer, wine, coffee, sandwiches and candy.

Would you apply for this job? Well, Lynn McCormick Guyot, Butler, reports that Phoenix Panhellenic members have each year since 1976.

That was the year the Phoenix Alumnae Panhellenic Association first contracted to staff the concession stands at the annual Phoenix Open golf tournament each January. Members from the 22 sororities represented in the association, their families, and friends provide enough volunteer help to dispense refreshments and hostess the seven-day event. In return, the tournament-sponsoring Thunderbirds organization donates scholarship money to the Phoenix Panhellenic for collegians and alumnae.

"More than $200,000 has been raised for scholarships since 1976," reports Alpha Phi's Julie Trump, four-time chairman of the Phoenix Open Workers. "We are the largest money-making Panhellenic in the country." Michele Whitaker, Kansas, rotates into the mammoth job of chairman in 1996.

Despite the large number of volunteers required, working the concessions is a popular duty. Three-quarters of the slots for the January event are filled each August, with over half the previous year's volunteers returning. Twenty percent, in fact, have worked each of the 24 years of the tournament. The only "pay" the blue-and-white-clad volunteers receive is their admissions badge that allows them to follow the tournament any day they are not working.

Their real reward is in trading their hours for a college education for more Arizona women.

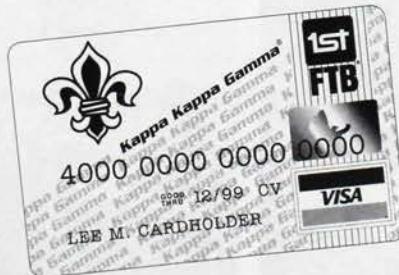

December finds Hinsdale, Ill., alumnae delivering the several hundred poinsettias they sold in November to fund scholarships.

This win vaulted her to the top of medal contenders in the three-day riding event in the '96 Olympics.

The castle, part of the Gingerbread Village, was inspired from a home near Frankfurt, Germany, which is now a hotel.

Kappas on Campus

by Jenny Struthers Hoover, Bowling Green

"I only hope future Kappas may have the same influences from the Fraternity that I have had — the privilege of knowing top-caliber women who can speak well, think well, give loving consideration to others, use their talents in an effective way, and generally raise the quality of the lives they touch..."

— Helen Snyder Andres (Steiner)
Fraternity President, 1935-1936

Kappa Kappa Gamma defines philanthropy as "caring and sharing." Philanthropy is one way to develop what the Founders called "the finer feelings of the heart."

Chapters participate in philanthropic projects, either through direct service to persons and organizations in the community or by raising money for needy causes. The opportunity to work together in a community effort builds a sense of unity and accomplishment within the chapter and gives each member the true feeling of sisterhood and voluntarism.

The purpose of chapter philanthropy programs is for collegiate members to develop a concern and sensitivity for others; to become aware of the needs of the campus and community in which they live; and, by creating a sense of awareness and concern, to make Kappa philanthropy meaningful.

Epsilon Rho, Texas A&M, Kappas planted trees during "Replant," the annual event designed to replace trees cut down for use in university bonfires.

Collegians Make a Difference in their Communities

Beta Beta Deuteron, St. Lawrence, participated in "Day of Darkness" in cooperation with a local association for the visually impaired. Participants were blind-folded at various stations where they attempted everyday tasks as if they were blind. The chapter received an award for highest participation.

Beta Xi, Texas, assisted other "Habitat for Humanity" helpers in an effort to build a house in Austin. The project began early in the morning as chapter members braved the heat to help the community.

Delta Alpha, Penn State, joined other university groups in raising more than $1 million for children with cancer through a 48-hour dance-a-thon. The donation, made to the Milton S. Hershey Medical Center, provides financial support and services to children and families battling cancer. Many members of the chapter serve on planning committees and as dancers for the contest known as "Thon," a 23-year-old university tradition.

Epsilon Alpha, TCU, raised $1,084 through its golf tournament philanthropy. The money was donated to the Kappa Kappa Gamma Foundation.

Epsilon Chi, Dartmouth, has increased participation in one of its community service activities. Chapter members teach young students basic computer skills.

Zeta Sigma, North Texas, raised $590 through the "Kappa Cup" charity soccer tournament to benefit the Big Brothers and Sisters program and the Kappa Kappa Gamma Foundation.

Kappas Make Friends in Mexico

Gamma Alpha, Kansas State, is proud of two chapter members who traveled with 20 other students to Juarez, Mexico, as part of a work/missionary trip. They helped local community members build a new church during the four-day spring break trip organized by Kansas State students.

Chapters Assist Special Athletes

Zeta Nu, UC San Diego, chapter members, in conjunction with the United Cerebral Palsy Association, displayed their volunteer spirit during the San Diego Multi-Sport Regional Games. "Zeta Nu takes pride in the role it has played in the growth of what began as a local swim meet for physically challenged athletes, which has turned into an international sports forum featuring world class and Olympic athletes," says Colleen Brenner, Zeta Nu Public Relations Chairman. Competitors performed in a variety of swimming and track and field events during the four-day competition. Chapter members volunteered in many areas including registration, awards, timing, decorations and spirit.

Delta Epsilon, Rollins, Kappas spent a Saturday afternoon in Orlando, Fla., serving as Special Olympics volunteers. Members cheered for the athletes, and provided support before and after the events. Along with helping each child build self-confidence, the Kappas enjoyed the hugs and smiles that went along with this special event.

Gamma Delta, Purdue, hosted its first-ever "Greek Sync" contest to raise money for the Special Olympics of Tippecanoe County in Indiana. More than 20 fraternity and sorority chapters participated. Each created and presented a five-minute lip-sync act that was judged on creativity and originality. The overall first place winner received a computer.

Iota, DePauw, hosted the Green Acres Ladies basketball team for the second year during a Special Olympics competition at the university. Chapter members provided the team with beds, pizza, and lots of cheering and support.

Haven't seen your chapter in The Key recently? Maybe you haven't sent anything in!

We try to feature every chapter at least once a year in Chapter News. Since the Winter 1993 issue, we have reported news from 90 chapters. We would like to achieve 100 percent coverage by Winter 1996. Please send news and photos of activities and projects of interest to Jenny Hoover, Fraternity Headquarters, P.O. Box 38, Columbus, OH 43216.

Zeta Nu, UC San Diego, members encourage swimmers during San Diego's Multi-Sport Regional Games for physically challenged athletes.

A member of Delta Epsilon, Rollins, helps a group of runners get "psyched-up" for the next event during the Special Olympics in Orlando, Fla.

Members of Iota, DePauw, hosted the Green Acres Ladies basketball team, for a Special Olympics event on campus.

Through the Keyhole

Editor's Note: We are delighted to be receiving so many letters, but regret that we are unable to print each one. Please keep writing The Key and know that we appreciate your input. Letters are edited for clarity and length.

Jennifer Chamber's article "Women and HIV/AIDS" in the Fall issue is one that should be read and published to the entire globe.

As a volunteer for our AIDS Coalition in Pinellas, Fla., I found myself nodding my head in approval to the statements and information about AIDS. I answered the questions you asked and prayed that everyone could read your article.

Is this possible? Let's get Kappas working toward educating our children and all women and men, single or married, about preventing death through HIV/AIDS awareness. As a volunteer I have watched three new friends die of AIDS. It is not necessary. Thank you for your article.

— Jean Lucey Coleman, Wyoming

The question has arisen at Kappa Kappa Gamma alumnae association meetings whether ALL of the women featured in articles in The Key are members of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Your articles give the impression that the subjects and writers are all Kappas, for their names are followed by the name of a school. However there is rarely information in the text to back up that presumption. Reference to the women without their Kappa Kappa Gamma chapter in addition to the school merely states that the person attended the school, not necessarily as a Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Doubt arises, perhaps, due to the division of the magazine into "Features" in the first half and Fraternity news in the back. This alone seems to separate one from the other, giving rise to uncertainty as to whether there is relevance between the women who are featured and Kappa Kappa Gamma.

— Juin Whipple Foresman, Illinois

Editor's Note: Because very few members know the Greek-letter names of all 124 chapters, the style of The Key is to identify Kappa Kappa Gammas only by school. No school identification is given to those women who are not members, but happen to be mentioned in the magazine. We are proud to note that all the authors and subjects of articles in The Key are members of Kappa Kappa Gamma. One of the exciting facets of the magazine is that the stories are written by Kappas, about Kappas, and for Kappas.

I send my sincere admiration of the editorial staff for the upgrading and updating of The Key magazine.

You have done a superb job in creating an excellent publication covering up-to-date issues, not only reviewing campus problems, but also revealing and evaluating our role in business ethics, national and state issues, and health situations. These issues are of paramount importance and they should and do appeal to all women.

I look forward to each issue. Again thank you for your expertise in renewing and regenerating interest in The Key magazine.

— Jane Falter Shelley, Oklahoma

I was very proud of the Fall issue of The Key for its courage in facing the issues of AIDS and alcoholism. I also enjoyed the articles on McCrady Axon, Laurie Brennan, and Allyson Mehta. Your magazine is very heartening in an age where hype is substituted for heart.

It's been 50 years since I lived in the chapter house, but the memories of those days are still fresh in my mind. It was a time of community and close friendships and has served me in later years as I've tried to put these qualities in to my daily life. It's wonderful to know that service is still emphasized and that the younger women are working to improve our world. Thank you for your great magazine that lets us know this.

— Annetta Findeinsen Merrill, UCLA

In looking at the Fall issue, my thoughts are, "Come on! Kappas are smarter than that." Don't try to tell us that the "work" of McCrady Axon is ART! If "Sublime 109 — Body and Soul" enabled her to win an NEA grant, the best that can be said is that it's not obscene. She might have talent (highly questionable), but pages 1 and 15 (yes, and even page 13) show no evidence of it.

On the other hand, the award-winning "To Be Old Before You Are Young" (1993 Winter issue) I plan to save and reread. Superbly written, it serves a worthwhile purpose. Bravo to Ann Red Barstow of Texas.

— Betty Anderson Goolsby, SMU

The Summer issue of The Key was magnificent. As a long-time reader (and I do read every word) I am impressed with the timeliness of the articles and the way it all "hangs together." Starting with honoring the past and challenging us to look to the future was thought provoking.

Lest you think I'm partial (well, just a little bit) please know that as Greek Coordinator for the University of Utah I receive and read about 14 fraternity publications a quarter, so there is a bit of an opportunity for comparison.

— Cherry Moslander Ridges, Utah

Though I remain a loyal Kappa, I continue to be dismayed at the lack of coverage with respect to the smaller chapters (i.e. Beta Phi). I know material was sent in to The Key, and nothing was ever published about our accomplishments. Yet we continue to be regaled with the glorious tales of achievement from the huge, urban schools, both in the collegiate and alumna departments. How about some kudos for those chapters all over the country that struggle to survive, let alone for recognition from the Fraternity?

— Darlene Craven, Montana

Editor's Note: The Key makes every effort to cover as many chapter and alumnae associations as possible within each year. We are looking for material that either shows an innovative use of educational programs or interesting alumna and chapter philanthropies, social events, and community service projects. The Key is also looking for information on outstanding members, timely or theme-related events, and alumna/collegiate interaction. Unique and creative activities make the best news. While individual and chapter honors/awards are special, we prefer only to list that information in the "Chapter Annual Honors Report" in each Fall issue. (The Public Relations Chairman receives this report in the January Chapter Mailing and should return it to Fraternity Headquarters no later than June 1.)

*Thank you for forwarding The Key of Kappa Kappa Gamma. I am pleased you were able to publish Susanne Kemper's article on this important topic, and I am quite delighted you were able to use references from my book.*

I browsed through the entire magazine and found it to be a wonderful meshing of Fraternity issues and more global concerns. Once again, thank you for the opportunity to reach so many individuals on the topic of eating disorders.

— Kathryn J. Zerbe, MD

*I want you to know that last night the Fall issue of The Key became part of our nightly program of reading with triple-legacy Sylvia, age 6, and her brother Paul, age 8.*

*Sylvia picked up The Key off the coffee table. She wanted to read about Allyson Mehta, gymnast, and Elizabeth Lizotte, Jeopardy contestant. Both children enjoyed the articles, and Paul's comment was, "All these girls are Kappas, Mom!"*

It's a pleasure to point out role models and to have the opportunity to talk with my children about college and working towards goals.

Just thought you might want to know your wide readership age.

— Anna Dolby Zaich, Montana

*I quickly read The Key each time it comes in the mail. It is an informative, well written and interesting magazine that discusses issues pertinent to today's society. However, I am continually disappointed to see archaic language in this progressive form of expression. For example the word "chair-* man" is peppered throughout the magazine. "Chairperson" is a much more appropriate form and more in line with the progressive movement of the magazine and the ideals of our Fraternity. Thank you for this opportunity to express my opinion.

— Joan Clark Morgan, Miami

IN RESPONSE

I am responding to the letter from Jean Swanson Guernsey, Iowa State, in the Fall issue. In her letter she states that the National Organization for Women (NOW) and Hillary Clinton are "against family values" and "in fact stand for greed and selfishness."

I am a member of NOW and can emphatically state that we are not against family values, in fact we work toward furthering the family in our own way. Others may have different views, and that is certainly their privilege. I would not judge them as selfish or greedy because their views and values are different.

As for Hillary Clinton, I do not always agree with her but would imagine that she must be doing her best to help others in the way she sees best. I do not believe that is selfish or greedy, either. I would hope that Kappa values would include tolerance for the ideas and views of others.

In fact, I was rather surprised that you would print letters such as this and the one from Albert Albrecht with such judgmental viewpoints. Surely, we can better epitomize Kappa values and teachings by more uplifting correspondence. It almost seems as though you are trying to engender strife and controversy. Are you?

— Jacqueline Kirk Newcomb, Kansas State

Editor's Note: The Key staff is very proud of the magazine, and the articles it contains. We also, though, realize that others might have chosen different subject matter or story ideas. Therefore, a department of the magazine, "Through the Key-hole," provides the opportunity for readers to respond — both favorably and unfavorably — to the quarterly work that we produce.

Part of the mission of The Key is to "provide a forum for an exchange of information and options." While the almost 190,000 Kappas agree on the values and principles of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity, they will all hold differing views on a variety of other subjects. There is strength in this diversity. We, too, hope that our membership can agree to disagree and be tolerant of all viewpoints. We will continue to provide space for all perspectives in The Key.

CORRECTIONS:

In the Fraternity Directory in the Fall issue, Chanda Borneman, Michigan State, was incorrectly identified as the Chapter Consultant to Beta Theta Chapter, Oklahoma.

Chanda is the Chapter Consultant to Delta Sigma Chapter, Oklahoma State. Her address is 1212 W. 4th St., Stillwater, OK. 74074. The Key regrets the error.

In the Fall issue, Southern Orange County (Calif.) Panhellenic Awards Chairman Debbie Graves was incorrectly identified as a Kappa Kappa Gamma. The Key regrets the error.

Through the Keyhole

To the approximately 500 Kappas who live and work overseas, The Key wants to know what you are doing. How do you happen to be where you are? What is life like there?

The Summer issue will focus on "Kappas Around the World," and we want to hear from you. Stories and color photographs may be submitted by March 1, 1995, to Joann Vaughan, Editor, The Key, P.O. Box 38, Columbus, OH 43216. We cannot possibly run every story but are looking for those of greatest interest to our readership of 120,000. Please no "Junior Year Abroad" or summer vacation stories.

Stories and pictures become property of The Key and cannot be returned. Stories may be edited for length and clarity.

Looking forward to hearing from you!
