Friendship Is

"Mutual regard cherished by kindred minds." It is a deep, quiet, enduring affection founded upon mutual respect and regard. Friendship is always mutual, for one may have friendly feelings toward another but while there is apathy or insincerity on one side, there can not be friendship between the two.

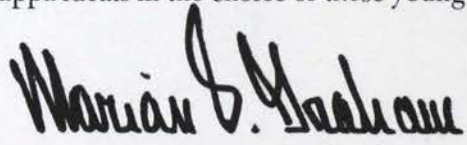

The purpose for which Kappa was founded ninety-nine years ago was friendship—that purpose has not changed. In college days Kappa serves as a family away from home and as the family is related to the community, so are the members related to the all encompassing campus, large or small. By sharing the ideals, the hopes, the fun, by choosing new friends, Kappas become richer from these experiences. "An individual by himself is only half, the other half is his friends."

This friendship continues through a lifetime, not just for the undergraduate years. Alumnæ find pleasure being together, sharing with the chapters in the education of young women, philanthropies and the selection of new members. There is the past, the present and the future when we think of "belonging."

There are many ways to find friends. A fraternal bond is easily equated to friendship and the bonds of sisterhood grow with the years. Friendship knows no age barrier. Because of these bonds it is natural and fitting that all Kappas are interested and share in the choice of new members.

It will soon be time to reaffirm our faith in the fraternity through membership selection. Our purpose is to perpetuate Kappa ideals in the choice of these young women.

Kappa is friendship . . .

Chapter Study Evaluation Chairman

On Priorities . . .

"One of the problems that I feel the Fraternity system is having to face, at least on our campus, is that of the time involved in such a system. It does take more than the few dedicated officers who are willing to devote so much of their time. It takes each person extra time to give themselves to the multitude of required functions, the house, jobs, etc. It even takes extra time to be considerate all the time."

On Standards . . .

"The girls in the group pointed out that in modifying some of their behavior, they did so more out of respect to their sisters than to the elusive KKG. In other words, most of the girls felt and agreed that Kappa has meaning through and because of the relationships established within it."

On Ritual . . .

"Ritual is a summary of what we all believe in and what unites us. It is a constant reminder of our tradition. We like it. It inspires us if it is done properly."

On Goals . . .

"The fellowship and fun of being together in a fraternity is not there. These college women need the therapeutic values of these moments of relaxation that are found in some form of activity, like singing together. I hope that we can help them learn to relax through careful program planning. This is one goal often overlooked."

Who is Speaking Up?

It is you, the undergraduate members of Kappa who with the interested alumnae are giving a hard, long look at every facet of chapter programs and giving suggestions for making our Fraternity meaningful and relevant to our second century.

This study was initiated by the Fraternity Council after the 1968 Convention to give every Kappa a chance to speak up and speak out on their concerns as they see them. Together they can constructively work out better techniques in chapter organizations and greater communications and understanding between all fraternity members.

The first step in the study was a chapter program evaluation sent to every chapter asking them to discuss questions covering a wide range of program areas. These questions were not meant to be an end in themselves, but a springboard for discussion. Each girl was asked to think big as well as to give specific ideas; complete openness was encouraged to tell it like it is.

Kappas all over have responded to questions like these:

Today there is an every-increasing limitation of time for fraternity activities. It is vital that chapter meetings should offer each member a quality experience. Do your chapter meetings offer a quality experience? Why or why not? Should chapter meetings serve another purpose than transacting chapter business?

Evaluate the general effectiveness of fraternity correspondence and publications. Do you read it? Do you feel the pressure of "busy work" in required report forms? Do you make use of the resource material available, both written and human?

Chapter Council should be the vital center of chapter organization. Is your council filling this need and is it used to its potential? Does it serve simply as a clearing house of information and does it function just on meeting nights?

Response to the evaluation was enthusiastic. Eighty chapters responded with constructive comprehensive evaluations. They found this a two-edged opportunity: First they looked at themselves in the light of broad basic questions; then they replied frankly and fully to agree or disagree.

Kappas enjoyed this opportunity to speak up. As one chapter expressed it: "It made us think more than a written exam would!" Another commented: "I know . . . that it gave individual members a chance to state some of their opinions which they would probably not have said otherwise."

Feedback to the chapters was the next step and in January each received a compilation of quotations from chapters all over the country. A variety of opinions were expressed making clear that chapters of different size, in different campus situations, in various

Sally Nitschke heads Chapter Study Evaluation

Following the General Convention in 1968, the Council appointed a special Chapter Study Evaluation Committee to study chapter organization and present for consideration at the 1970 convention recommendations for streamlining and updating Kappa's programs.

Sally Moore Nitschke, B N-Ohio State, was appointed chairman of the committee. Sally was chairman of Pledge Training and previously served as PDC for Gamma province. Her service in rushing has taken her all over the country in addition she acted as Beta Nu Rush Adviser for four years, was the Ohio State Rush chairman and Gamma Province Rush Helper. She is also on the House Board for Beta Nu.

Besides her Kappa activities she works with the Junior Theatre of the Arts, Worthington Historical Society, Camp Fire Girls and is serving a two year term as president of the Columbus, Ohio Junior League. She is a member of St. John's Episcopal Church and was selected as Chi Omega's "Woman of the Year" for 1968.

Key editor retires

In post-Convention session, the Council learned of the retirement—to take effect June, 1969—of Isabel Hatton Simmons, B N-Ohio State as KEY Editor

I know all Kappas share the Council's regret that "Issy" Simmons is retiring from THE KEY editorship," says President Louise Barbeck. "Her experience, skill and acumen have guided THE KEY into an enviable position in the publications world. I am happy, however, to announce that Issy has agreed to remain as Chairman of the Editorial Board through our Centennial year. In this capacity, she will continue to work closely with the Council and with our new Editor."

Before Issy Hatton (Simmons) graduated from Ohio State University where she had enrolled following graduation from the junior college course at Knox School, Cooperstown, New York, she was working for Kappa. One day she took a chapter report to Kappa's new Central Office in downtown Columbus, and there met Council members for the very first time. Clara O. Pierce assigned the new young recruit to assist Kappa's revered Mrs. Theodore (May C. Whiting) Westermann, Kappa's only two-time president. Mrs. Westermann, serving as Fraternity Historian, had accepted the gargantuan task of compiling, writing, and editing the history of the Fraternity's first 60 years.

From the History Issy went to the budding Kappa Catalog, where first as the Assistant Cataloguer, and then as Cataloguer, she helped lay groundwork for today's shining rows of the precious catalogue files in Fraternity Headquarter's spacious Filing Room. Then came the war, and marriage to Robert H. Simmons, of Chicago, stationed briefly in Columbus, with the United States Navy. Isabel went with her young lieutenant husband to his next station in Florida. About this time

Issy took on her first editing assignment—the Fleur-de-Lis newssheet for alumnae everywhere. After the war, and the return of the young couple to Columbus, Issy Simmons was chairman of two biennial conventions—1946 and 1948. Actually, she had begun to work on THE KEY, under Clara Pierce's direction, before she was named editor. It was in 1949 that her name went on THE KEY masthead and a labor of loyalty and love that stretched over 20 years began.

In 1949, when Isabel Hatton Simmons became KEY editor, challenges facing a magazine were considerably more complex than those the first editor faced. First, communications offered tremendous amounts of reading material, all competitive at one point or another, for readership. Then there was radio, now giving the printed word formidable rivalry. Yet to the new editor, there was a very real service which THE KEY—and only THE KEY—could offer. Kappas were hungry to know about the campuses, higher education in post-World War II's world, and about other Kappas and their families. Clearly, the new editor determined, more and more THE KEY must be a news magazine. Yet a news magazine, always, with a definite Kappa orientation. THE KEY must reflect in vital terms the post-World War Fraternity leadership on campus and in communities around the world. There must be a proper balance of editorials, articles, necessary informational material—but always, there must be news, news, news. News of Kappas on the campus. News of Kappa families reunited. News about Kappas in new careers, at home and overseas. Interpretative news about Kappa's wartime and post-war philanthropy. The never-ending search for news. THE KEY, sometimes in letters, articles, and sometimes in page proof, has gone with the editor wherever she has gone in 20 years. No matter what her personal plans, she met her KEY deadlines. KEY articles were written and edited in London, in France, on beaches in the Virgin Islands, Florida and the Costa Brava. At all times Issy kept in touch with members of her Editorial Board, giving them their assignments, sometimes suggesting articles from tips she had nosed out herself, conferring with the Fraternity president, the executive secretary-treasurer, and all the echelons of the organization.

Still another responsibility was membership in the Panhellenic Editors' Conference, with their annual meetings. She had a tour of duty as head of the group. And then there were the Biennial Conventions, which must be well covered in subsequent KEYS. The editorship of the daily convention newsheet The Hoot, was an extra assignment every two years. Editorial responsibility included arranging for and working with a printer at or near the convention site. How many convention social functions editor Issy passed up in order to read "Hoot" proof, do makeup, or confer with the printer! But the little convention newsheet was important for delegates and visitors because it was a lively and interesting record for all to take home.

Even among close friends, Isabel Hatton Simmons preserves a demeanor of smiling reticence. If you want to know what she is doing, you will need to ask, and ask again! Perhaps her roots which go deep in Ohio history, help to give her this quality of unpretentious friendliness. Kinsman Hall, the original medical research building on the Ohio State University campus, was named for Isabel's maternal grandfather Dr. Kinsman, a pioneer in medical research and education. Both Issy and Bob Simmons have the gift of easy hospitality, whether in their handsome Columbus residence, or in their recreation home in Naples, Florida. Kappas who were in the chapter with Issy remember the gracious welcome they always received from her parents, in Issy's childhood home on East Town Street, in Columbus.

Yet Isabel Simmons has not always chosen easy paths. More than once in Kappa matters she has stood firmly for the course of action which she believed best for all concerned. And as a member of the Women's Boards of the Columbus Childrens' Hospital, the Columbus Home for the Aged, and the Columbus Art Gallery (Bob Simmons is a trustee), she gives the same devoted service that Kappas have enjoyed through the years. Recently concluded were several years as a member of the board of Columbus School for Girls of which she is a graduate. She has taken an active part in Theta Sigma Phi, to which she was elected during undergraduate university days. A sustaining member of the Junior League of Columbus, she finds time to respond to the call for workers in "The Bargain Box," which helps support Junior League philanthropy. She is listed in Who's Who of American Women.

Issy and her husband share an extensive acquaintance with painting and sculpture, both traditional and contemporary. When Bob can leave the busy personnel agency which he founded to serve industry and business in the midwest, he and Issy travel, planning trips around their interest in the arts.

When we speak of a "career" what do we mean? Is not a career a manner of life—a course of conduct? Today the specifics of a bewildering variety of careers are outlined from career preparation to retirement, including expected earnings at each stage of development. Yet women such as Isabel Hatton Simmons have deliberately followed careers which they must shape along the way.

It will always be a matter of pride that Isabel Hatton Simmons made her career by giving a unique service to thousands of Kappas.—A. S. M.

Issy and husband Bob relax at home.

New editor appointed

With this issue of THE KEY your editor of the past 20 years closes the paste pot and writes "30" to a job which has meant much to her during the past years and which in turn she hopes has helped promote the Kappa image in a light which has shown the fine side of Fraternity.

With the next issue, Ann Meuser Ritter, ©-Missouri, will assume the full editorship of THE KEY. Serving as associate editor this past year, Ann prepared the convention section of the Fall, 1968 issue and has assumed the responsibility of collecting, organizing, and laying out this issue. In the intervening months between Fall and Summer, Ann has been learning Kappa background and experiencing the exciting days of her first child. Last September Julie Ann Ritter arrived at the home of the James R. Ritters in Columbia, Missouri where husband Jim is associate high school principal.

Ann, a 1965 Missouri Journalism School graduate, with a news editorial major, brings a fine professional background to her new work. While in college she became a member of K T A, journalism scholastic honorary, and served as president of © Σ Φ, journalism honorary and as vice-president of Γ A X, journalism advertising fraternity for women. She was selected for both Σ P Σ and K E A, sophomore and freshman women's honoraries. Vice-president of the Journalism Students association, Ann was also a member of the Student Union board and a finalist for Homecoming Queen her senior year. She was president of her pledge class and first vice-president of the active chapter her senior year.

Active in the Columbia, Missouri Alumnæ Association, she is serving on the Advisory Board to Theta Chapter at the present time.

Prior to accepting the Kappa assignment, Ann assisted with the Penney-Missouri Awards program in the School of Journalism at the University of Missouri. While in college she worked on the Journalism Alumni News and in the summer ran the gamut of assignments on her father's newspaper, the Monett Times, a small town daily.

For the retiring editor the past 20 years have been pleasant ones—sometimes frustrating, but always challenging. As the custodianship of the magazine is turned into the capable and youthful hands of her successor she wishes her the same satisfactions of creative activity, the sharing of friendship with and inspiration from devoted Fraternity leaders of Kappa and other National Panhellenic groups, as well as the friendship of the many Kappas of all ages whom she has grown to know as true "sisters." She knows THE KEY will continue to grow and reflect the changes of a changing organization in a changing world but ever mindful of the fact that it is the showcase of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Her thanks go to all who have helped her in her Kappa "assignment."—I.H.S.

May 1969

Dear Kappa,

Have you ever been asked for a birthday present? As a Kappa you can join in pride and appreciation of your Fraternity's 100th birthday in 1970. But we need the presents early--now, in our hands by Fall of 1969--in order to have definite funding for the Centennial Scholars on each of the 94 campuses where we have a Kappa chapter.

Thus far, of our 70,000 living members, just under 6,000 have made personal gifts to the Centennial Fund. We are so grateful to these Kappas for their generous and helpful support.

If you have not made your Centennial Fund gift do send your contribution now. How much? Could you afford one dollar for each year you have been a Kappa? Could you afford one dollar for each year a Kappa chapter has been at your alma mater? Could you afford more?

Your birthday gift to Kappa, in any amount, is needed and will be so welcome. It is not the generous contributions of a few, but the modest gifts of many which will enable Kappa's Centennial plans to become a reality.

With the form on the next page, please send your contribution. Please make your contribution now. Please make your contribution meaningfully. Please make your contribution lovingly for the once-in-a-lifetime birthday, Kappa's Centennial.

Loyally,

Anne Harter

Plan 1970 gifts now

It is now a firmly established fact that Kappa alumnae associations and clubs are enthusiastic and loyal supporters of the Centennial Fund.

Since 1965 through January 15, 1969 a total of 270 different alumnae groups have made at least one Centennial Fund gift in their name providing income for the Fund of just over $39,000.00.

Most groups have made a contribution each year since the Fund Drive began and have plans to continue doing so.

It is the hope of the Centennial Committee that every one of our 360 alumnae groups will understand the need and desirability of participating in the Centennial Fund campaign through this generous practice of annual gifts. It is further hoped that alumnae groups will, within the next few months, develop their plans for Centennial Fund giving in 1969-70 and notify the Centennial Chairman of their intent. This advance knowledge of income which may be expected from the associations and clubs is necessary in assisting in the formulation of the Centennial Scholarship planning.

Deep gratitude is due all groups which have given to the Fund to date. Recognition is paid in this issue to those groups which have made contributions in the two short months since the Spring issue of THE KEY went to press.

Centennial tea raises $1,200

by JEAN LINDEMER DAY
 San Francisco Centennial Chairman

Traditionally the San Francisco Bay Alumnae Association holds a Christmas Tea. However, this year to spur interest in the 100th Birthday of Kappa, it was decided to hold a Centennial Tea in November as a pre-birthday celebration. This would enable people to hear more about Kappa's birthday plans and to create interest in the Fund raising program. The weather is still gorgeous in San Francisco during November, the fall colors beautiful and the people in a pre-holiday mood for a party.

Joan Lindemer Day, B K-Idaho, San Francisco Centennial Chairman, was chairman of the Tea assisted by Kay Kreizenbeck Benz, B K-Idaho, Northern California Centennial Chairman. The Tea was held at the home of Marilyn Murphy Boswell, B A-Illinois, a new home to all Kappas in the beautiful Pacific Heights area with a panoramic view of the San Francisco Bay.

The Key to Success was the invitation, designed by Hazel Elizabeth Mitchell, Γ O-Wyoming, which had a three-fold purpose: To extend the tea invitation; to inform all Kappas again about the Centennial Fund, the drive and ways the money raised would be allocated; and to enclose a pledge card with a return envelope addressed to Mrs. Day. Very important: Each pledge card was filled out with the Kappa's name, her chapter, and her initiation date in order to make the reply as easy as possible for her. Five hundred invitations were mailed three weeks in advance (all hand addressed and stamped). Response was immediate. Kappas liked learning more about the Centennial Fund and San Francisco's role in reaching the $500,000 mark. Everyone was anxious to send in her gift for Kappa's Birthday!

The tea committee consisted of the two co-chairmen, a food chairman, an invitation chairman, publicity chairman, telephone committee, blouse committee, hostess chairman and decorations chairman. The Board members provided the tea food, which is traditional at the Christmas Tea. Newspaper publicity was good and the telephone committee phoned many Kappas to remind them about the tea. Former Kappa presidents and 50 year Kappas poured at the tea table. Floral and table decorations were in gorgeous fall hues done by talented Kappas and a booth was set up displaying blouses (five were sold at the tea). Pauline Grouse Barnett, B Z-Iowa, who has been a Kappa for 66 years, sold Panhellenic Cook Books and donated the revenue to the Fund.

The tea was a birthday celebration for Kappa, and no one was asked to donate money at the tea. However, Kappas responded to the invitation and several personally brought their donations to the tea.

The day was sunfilled, the view of the Bay beautiful, the Kappas sipping coffee, tea and sherry all had a marvelous time and to make it a perfect success $1,200 was raised by the Birthday Tea celebrating Kappa Kappa Gamma's 100th Year! Everyone enjoyed being able to give a gift to Kappa!

Centennial charms catch on

The Centennial charms are "charming" hundreds of Kappas who have already placed their orders for these lovely and significant mementos of Kappa's one hundred years.

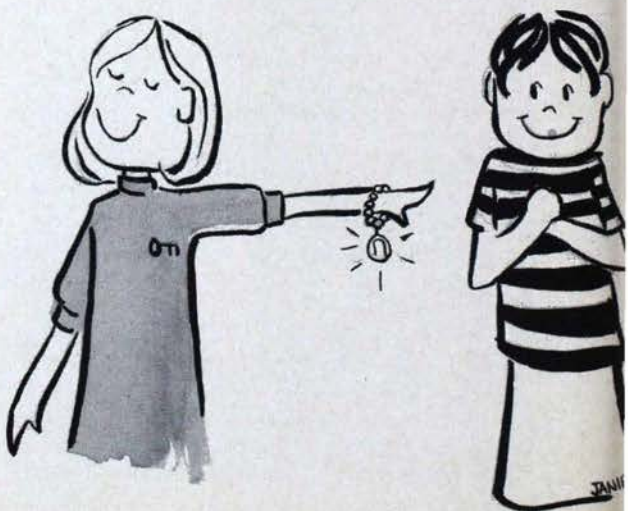

Introduced at the 1968 convention by the chairman of their sales, Kathryn Bourne Pearse, Γ Δ-Purdue, the charms made an instantaneous hit with the Kappas in attendance.

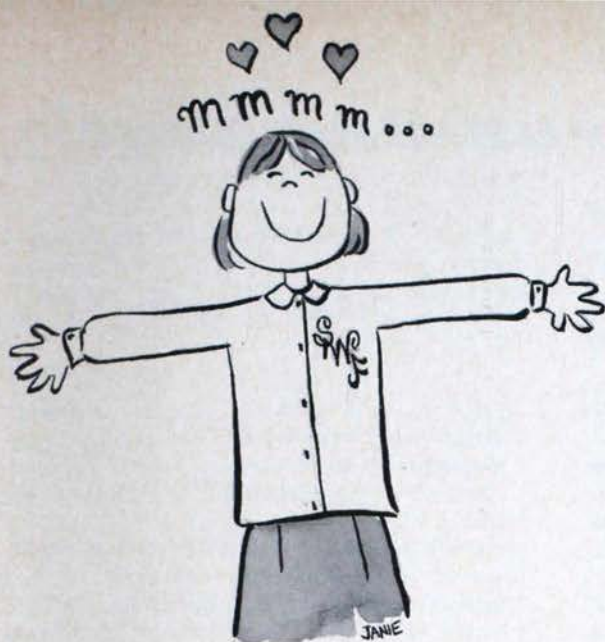

Available in sterling silver and 14 karat gold, the charms may be ordered directly from Mrs. Pearse. (See order form on page 70.) Delivery is excellent as shipments are made within the week. A profit is realized from each sale for the Centennial Fund and, as in the case of the blouse sales, credit is given to the area from which each order originates.

The Philadelphia Alumnae Association helped promote the sale of charms last Christmas by sending an attractive letter to every Kappa husband suggesting the charms as a gift for his favorite Kappa. This novel approach resulted in the sale of 31 charms. Other early promoters of the Centennial charm sales have been the Indianapolis Association with 26 charms sold and the Columbus, Ohio Association with 24 sales to their credit. These records were made within the first six months of the availability of the charms.

Perhaps the best description of the Centennial charms project is supplied by the chairman, Kay Pearse, who writes, "The charms provide the perfect solution to that ever present and often perplexing gift question. How thoughtful to remember a Kappa friend or relative with a Centennial charm. How meaningful to congratulate a new initiate of 1969 or 1970—our Centennial year—with a charm. How appropriate to recognize a retiring officer in this manner. Or how delightful to enhance your own collection with a present to yourself! And to top it all off their purchase provides an assist to the Centennial Fund. What more can one ask?"

Blouse sales boost Fund

The sale of monogrammed blouses as a Centennial Fund project was adopted by the Fraternity in 1963 long before any other Centennial plans were laid. Since that time over $14,000.00 has been realized by the Fund from sales as each item sold brings Kappa one dollar. Added to the line of blouses have been sweaters, shells and, most recently, jumpers which have helped increase interest in these fine quality and attractive garments.

In 1966 Emily Harding Moellering, B Δ-Michigan, was appointed Chairman of Centennial Blouse Sales and she now handles all orders. Later that year Mary Klauer Roland, also B Δ, was appointed to handle the promotion of the project. She is responsible for the promotional material regularly reaching the chapters and alumnae groups through mailings from Fraternity Headquarters. Sales of the blouses, sweaters, shells and jumpers are credited to the chapter or alumnae group specified by the buyer and help that area toward achieving its Centennial Fund goal. (See blouse order form on page 71.)

Chapters and alumnae groups are urged to contact Mrs. Roland* if they desire sample sets of blouses and sweaters for special promotional purposes. Scottsdale, Arizona and Richardson, Texas Associations have had great success in obtaining orders through parties conducted for that purpose.

Since the 1968 convention when Mary Roland's stunning blouse display created both new and renewed interest in the merchandise, actives and alumnae have caused a welcome upsurge in sales during the first six months of the Kappa 1968-69 year.

Those alumnae groups and active chapters already participating in the blouse project are well aware of the excellent value and wide appeal of the items offered. As the Chairman recently wrote, "Beyond the established need for wider participation in order to assist the Centennial Fund, those groups not taking advantage of seriously promoting this easy and satisfying project are really depriving their members of a very good thing! We hope that all chapters and all alumnae groups will join those already established as super salesmen of Kappa blouses. They'll be doing their Kappas and the Fund a good turn."

Some of those "super salesmen" reside in the following states which are leading to date in blouse sales records: Ohio (2232 sales), Illinois (1288 sales) and Michigan (951 sales).

The CCC's—unsung angels

by DORIS M. SEWARD

Δ-Indiana

Centennial Scholarships Chairman

Ninety-two Kappa Centennial scholars will walk the campuses in 1970-71 where there are Kappa chapters. Each will have been chosen in terms of her interest and capability in the field of rehabilitation training offered by a particular campus.

The selection process, custom styled for each campus, is being supervised, nurtured and promoted by a loyal local Kappa called the CCC—the Campus Centennial Contact. How did we enlist their assistance? Who are they?

In October of 1968, after the Fraternity convention in Columbus, each chapter council adviser was asked to select and appoint a CCC, "the individual who is to see that on your campus a number of persons apply for your Centennial Scholarship, that the selection process takes place carefully and appropriately, that the name is available by the time of Kappa's Centennial Convention in June, 1970."

Because the CCC was to serve until September of 1970, she was to be a Kappa alumna. Because she was to devise a system of selection suited to the specific campus, the suggestion was made that this alumna might "be on the college administrative staff or a member of the faculty who is well acquainted with the scholarship procedures on your campus. She should have some direct contact with the university and might be the wife of a professor or an administrator. She will need to be conscientious, dependable and willing to read her correspondence!"

What a fine response there has been! Peg Seney, the Centennial Scholarship Coordinator, had prompt replies from almost all of the campuses and by now all the CCC's are girding up for initiating the selection process this fall. Included among the CCC's are professors, faculty wives and active college community members.

Listed below are the Campus Centennial Contacts. Some have listed their connection with the campus they represent.

CHAPTER

Housing

A new addition for Theta

by ELEANOR HARTY BECKETT

©-Missouri
House Board President

Theta chapter, 94 years at the University of Missouri, moved into its new addition in time for rush week 1968. After years of planning and nine months of building, it was a reality. The project began in 1965 with the purchase of the original C. B. Rollins home next door.

After two years of indecision, the House Board consulted Architects Winkler, Thompson and Lloyd of Clayton, Missouri. Plans were drawn to link and repair the two houses. Because there were not enough bedrooms and baths, and an excess of living rooms, it was decided to have the purchased house wrecked, and plans were drawn for a new addition in harmony with the existing Georgian-style chapter house.

Construction began December 15, 1967. On a cold, snowy day in January 1968, actives and alumnae from all over the state held a groundbreaking ceremony, presided over by Norma Holleicke Lingafelter, Γ A-Kansas State, president of the Columbia Alumnae Association, and Sandie Barrie, then president of the active chapter. Mary Don Wood, Theta's president, Tracy Smith and Jane McGee, house chairman, as well as all the girls, were constantly helpful to the House Board and to the contractor.

All first floor rooms were renamed. From east to west across the front of the house are: The East Room which holds Theta's trophies and serves as a card room; the formal Georgian Room with its elegant antique living room furnishings; the foyer, transformed with terra-cotta-colored wainscot and cornice against white walls and matching colored Roman shades, was rejuvenated by refinishing parquet flooring which had been hidden under black and white tiles.

Behind the foyer is the Walnut Room, paneled to the ceiling, where the girls watch the color television set, a gift from the Missouri Mother's Club. Through double paneled doors off the foyer is the West Living Room which had been the dining room. The original dark walnut woodwork and fresh white walls are a charming background for this comfortable room. Mr. Robert Baker, AID, of Edward Keith, Inc., Kansas City, guided the new selections of carpet, fabrics and colors to coordinate with many existing furnishings, all keyed to the Spanish tile shade of carpeting in the East and Georgian rooms.

A wide doorway leads from the West Room to the gallery, decorated with white on green print draperies and two antique drop-leaf tables. New parquet floors and gleaming brass chandeliers make it a far cry from its former look as a kitchen. Coat racks and a men's room are off the gallery on one side, and a phone booth, coat rack and powder room on the other. Walnut panel double doors open onto three wide steps leading down into the new dining room, which extends the whole length of the new addition. It will seat 110 people with ease and three brass chandeliers and recessed ceiling beams light the room. The polished parquet floors reflect the new walnut dining room tables and matching Chippendale chairs.

Mrs. Kenneth McBeath, Theta's house director for 16 years, has a large living room which is air-conditioned and carpeted in soft green. The room is accented by a terra-cotta velvet lounge chair with ottoman and a matching ladies chair. Her love seat and draperies are done in French toile. By enlarging the house director's suite, there is now a guest bedroom on the first floor.

A new up-to-date kitchen is complete with stainless steel counters, a fast dishwasher and two wall ovens. It is easily reached from the large new parking lot in back.

Finishing the lower level had to be omitted, but someday there will be a chapter room as large as the dining room above it. Plans include a large room for archives and storage. The enlarged house has a capacity of 74 girls, an increase of 24 over the original house built in the late 1920's.

On the second floor of the addition are seven bedrooms with new furnishings in traditional cherry. Floors are all vinyl asbestos. The large bathroom is salt and pepper ceramic tile with soft blue tile floor and walls. Conveniently across the hall is the hair-drying, pressing room. A large formal closet and separate luggage closet are in the hallway. All windows are draped in natural linen. The third floor has two large rooms on the south, with three window dormers, and three bedrooms on the north. This floor is furnished as the second.

On the House Board with Eleanor Harty Beckett, who was president and house building chairman were these Theta alumnae: Elizabeth Reid Vandiver, treasurer and adviser, Frances Taylor Payne, who handled the property purchase and was an adviser, Helen Merriam Harris, who headed the decorating committee with Mary Polk Overstreet, Elizabeth Nye Miller, past alumnae president and general trouble shooter throughout the construction, Marjorie Marquardt Patton, Γ I-Washington U., alumnae treasurer and assistant with decorating, and Tracy Smith who passed along the hopes and needs of the actives.

Other Theta alumnae who helped were: Virginia Harmon Owens organized and helped plan the fund raising campaign; Betty Holmes Cochran and Lyn Van Osdol Edmonds located and corrected some thousand alumnae addresses; Sabra Tull Meyer did the art work and layout for the brochure; and Martha Stephens Toler, Elizabeth Nye Miller and Norma Holleick Lingafelter, Γ A-Kansas State, spent hours writing letters, printing, addressing and mailing them with pledge cards and brochures, and working closely with area alumnae chairmen throughout the state.

Beta Rho expands home

by SHIRLEY KLEESATTEL JENINGS

B P^A-Cincinnati
House Board President

Seventy years ago the Kappa house on the University of Cincinnati campus was built as a spacious home for the John Handley family. The house was eventually transferred into three apartments, one on each floor. In 1947, Kappa purchased the property and occupied two floors of it while continuing to rent the third floor apartment. Within a few years this floor was needed and four more bedrooms were added.

Again in 1957 additional space was required. The second remodeling converted the garage and basement into an activity room and auxiliary kitchen. In 1962 under the direction of Jane Fowler Marx, B N-Ohio State, the House Board began making tentative plans for expansion. A resolution was passed in 1964 to go ahead with the plans and a building campaign headed by Florence Danford Koenig, B P^A-Cincinnati, was begun in 1966. The new addition and remodeling was completed in 1968 under the chairmanship of Ruth Eyrich Glazer, B P^A-Cincinnati.

The original house is still an integral part of the building, but it has been renovated and remodeled so that it is scarcely recognizable today.

The architect, F. W. Pressler, was given the requirements which were to be confined to the original house and a 20 by 40 addition, and ground was broken in January, 1968.

The new addition is four stories of welcome space and it bears a striking resemblance to the Governor's Palace at Williamsburg which blends beautifully with McMicken Hall on campus in view of the Kappa house. The house begins about 25 feet from the sidewalk with a large 12 foot walled courtyard which is approached by 12 brick steps. The steps are guarded by antique wrought iron gates originally a part of an elevator in Paris. These magnificent gates were given as a memorial by the parents of Pamela Woods, class of 1970.

A center hall extends nearly the whole length of the building with a front stairway going up to the left. Upon entering, on the right is the Williamsburg dining room which can now accommodate nearly 50 persons. There are six beautiful mahogany refectory tables with 30 Chippendale dining room chairs.

To the left off the hall are two living rooms

that can be divided or opened as one room. The first is a formal blue and green room graced by the exquisite fleur-de-lis rug designed by Janet Gebhardt Nichols, B P^A-Cincinnati, and woven expressly for the new home in the fraternal colors. Mrs. Nichols planned the furnishings and decor to enhance the character of the building. Other members of the decorating committee included Florian Applegate Durbrow, Loraine Fielman Pancero and Jeanne Hausfield Kluener, all Beta Rhos.

Adjoining the formal living room is the informal living room. Couches, chairs and expandable tables make the room convertible from informal entertaining to extra dining space. Folding and sliding doors make it possible to close off the living and dining rooms from the center hall.

Continuing toward the back of the house, the apartment for the house director, Mrs. Evans, includes a living room, bedroom and bath. At the end of the hall is a large powder room. On the right is the new kitchen, complete with long needed institutional size stove, dishwasher, two disposal units, two sinks and a large butcher's block. At the rear of the house is an enclosed fireproof stairway extending from the basement to the top floor.

The second floor includes six triple bedrooms, two baths, an ironing room, Town Girl's room and large linen storage closets. The third floor has two triple and three double bedrooms, two baths and a combination ironing and "arty room" complete with a stainless steel sink. Lost space under the dormer windows was converted into luggage and clothing storage space.

New Ficks-Reed furniture brightened with orange cushions was purchased for the basement recreation room when the downstairs kitchen was eliminated. A small part of the old kitchen holds the soft drink machine and a refrigerator. A new coat room with shelves for books was added and the new 20 by 40 chapter room has storage space.

The house was habitable for the girls in October and a formal dedication and open house was held on November 10, 1968.

Shirley Kleesattel Jenings, House Board president and Lynn Hammond Reiber, House Board treasurer worked many hours with Mrs. Glazer, Mrs. Koenig and Mrs. Nichols (all Beta Rho's) to make the dream come true. Other board members who were active participants were Barbara Keller Carpenter, B P^A, Helen Jane Jones Wertz and Jane Fowler Marx, both B N-Ohio State and Anna Ball Carr, Γ Δ-Purdue. The bulk of the financing was done through a mortgage loan with assistance of a ten-year bond program and gifts from hundreds of alumni.

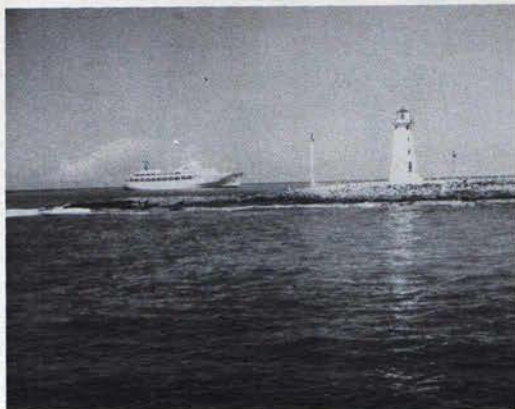

The two living rooms form one large room with the large sliding door open.

The Williamsburg dining room can seat nearly 50 people.

Bright colored furniture brightens the basement recreation room.

Kappa Caripanamex adventure

by JANE POLLARD GOULD

B M-Colorado

Many Kappas who have been on previous Kappa adventures are asking, "Whither to in 1970?" Here is what your Tour Committee is researching at this moment with a view toward designing a thrilling and delightful adventure.

The tour group will assemble in lovely old New Orleans in April 1970, and fly from there to Merida in Yucatan, Mexico where visits will be made to some of the outstanding archeological sites and perhaps the Island of Cozumel. From there the group will fly to Mexico City for a brief stay and continue by bus over 115 miles of scenic highways to San Jose Purua, the most beautiful health spa in the Western world. There one can bathe in radio-active waters, watch the tumbling Tuxpan River, view the Tarascan Mountains from flowered terraces or just sit in the gardens and watch the peacocks strut by.

Leaving San Jose Purua the journey continues through beautiful mountains to picturesque Taxco, the silver capital of Mexico where almost the whole city is considered by law a national monument. Leaving Taxco the tour will descend gradually to the seashore and Acapulco on the Pacific Ocean.

After a restful stay in Acapulco Bay the group will board a world cruise ship and sail down the Pacific to the Panama Canal. If a stop can be arranged at Balboa, there will be an opportunity to make a quick visit to Panama City. An exciting day will be spent traveling through the Canal, actually watching the lifting of the ship 85 feet above sea level in order to cross the great divide and then seeing it lowered again at Colon on the Atlantic Ocean end of the Canal.

It is hoped arrangements can be made for a transfer at Colon to a Caribbean liner which will continue the adventure with a cruise of the Caribbean Sea and some visits to the more exotic West Indies Islands. The voyage will terminate at Port Everglades (Miami).

The tour will be 21 to 25 days depending on 1970 steamship schedules not yet available. This adventure will be the usual high quality Kappa tour including good company, entertainment, meals at unusual places, tips, everything! It is for Kappas, their relatives and friends.

Fill out and mail this coupon and the complete itinerary will be sent to you as soon as it is available.

parts of the country reflect wide range of thought. Here is a most important fact: Understanding, appreciating, and considering the ideas of others will be important results of the study.

A forum for Speak Up and Speak Out emerged as an important part of Province Conventions this spring. Delegates and visitors had a chance to zero in on the major concerns. They spoke and listened to a free and full exchange of thought. This Kappa "town meeting" was aimed at total communication and participation.

She is a past president of the Rochester Kappa Alumnae Association and was honored in 1966 with the Community Service award presented by the Brockport Branch of American Association of University Women. Her other activities have included work with the Girl Scouts, Red Cross, church service, Eastern Star and she teaches stenciling in her home specializing in furniture and country tin painting.

Province Committees selected at Province Conventions will carry on the work of the study by reviewing and resolving the wide range of opinions and the wealth of ideas. These Kappas will serve as sounding boards and critics as suggestions take on more specific form. Throughout the study there will be continued communication with the Fraternity Council and Province Officers.

Reports and Recommendations to the Centennial Convention in 1970 will be the final responsibility of the Committee.

No organization is immune from the need to constantly review its procedures and philosophy. The future of Kappa demands our best thinking today. The job is a big one.

American Story by Bruce Gould and Beatrice Blackmar Gould. Illustrated. 330 pages. New York: Harper & Row. $6.95.

AMERICAN STORY

Bruce Gould and
Beatrice Blackmar Gould

Iowa born and bred, the Goulds add further credence to this reviewer's contention that Midwesterners inherit more than an apportioned share of creativity, and, more important, the tenacity and ambition for its fulfillment. Apparently possessing the same indomitable spirit that propelled some distant ancestor westward, this twain reversed the process, pushing eastward to seek fame, fortune and a homestead in New York, the 20th century writer's land of opportunity. Fortified with a homespun background, the couple shared this common denominator from the first penniless, questing days in New York through the 27 unbroken years they jointly edited the Ladies' Home Journal. This, then is Bruce and Beatrice Blackmar Gould's own American story.

It is a story of youth. Speaking separately in this part of the memoirs, the authors reflect on their childhood days, their parents, their individual hopes, abilities, the University of Iowa's campus boy meets girl encounter when Bruce Gould, a destined Kappa Sigma, first noticed "one of Kappa Kappa Gamma's outstanding" coeds, Beta Zeta's Beatrice Blackmar. It is a story of young love, a struggling marriage during the early New York days. Sesaly, their only daughter, was born; a home that was to become a refuge was bought; while the couple perfected their craft, steadily climbing the professional ladder from newspaper reporting, editing, short stories and articles that supported their first literary love, the art of playwriting. And it is a story of a marriage; a collaboration, as well, in editing, work that was to encompass their lives from July, 1935 to April, 1962.

At the Ladies' Home Journal, with the professionalism garnered from the years of literary internship, understanding from their own privately endowed verve, the Goulds raised the ailing lady from a sickbed to a magazine with the largest paid circulation in the world. How they did it, of course, consumes the major portion of their book. Filled with capsule comments on the great and near great, the Goulds in their professional capacity were in contact with the famous. . . Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt, George Gallup, Dorothy Thompson, Queen Elizabeth, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

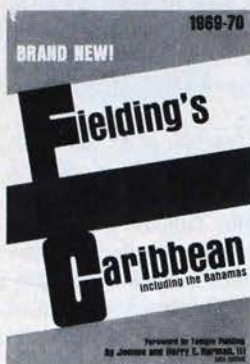

American Story affords a romantic glance at the behind-the-scene activities of a magazine of world renown and a look at a Horace Greeley sort of successful pair, the Goulds. Retired from the Ladies' Home Journal, the authors still live at Hopewell, New Jersey. Forwarding the book for the Fraternity Headquarters Library came two notes—a "Best to all Kappas" from Beatrice Blackmar Gould (Kappa Alumna Achievement award recipient), and from her husband, "Thanks to the Kappas for helping to train B.B. into such a wonderful wife."

Editor's note:

With this issue of THE KEY another longtime member of the Editorial Board retires. Book Review Editor, Jane Emig Ford, writes "30" with this, her 19th annual section of "Kappas Off the Press." It is with deep gratitude that the Editor says "thank you" to Jane on behalf of herself and THE KEY reading membership. And the gratitude to Jane on the part of Kappa authors must be great for the lucid and interesting exposure she has afforded them to their Kappa sisters.

Current books by Kappa authors are wanted for review purposes and for the Fraternity Headquarters Library. Please send or ask your publishers to send such publications to the Editor, Mrs. James R. Ritter, 1801 Parkade Blvd., Columbia, Missouri 65201.

Fielding's Guide to the Caribbean including the Bahamas—1969-70 edition by Jeanne and Harry E. Harman, III, Area Editors. Fielding Publications, Inc., in association with William Morrow & Company, Inc., New York. Published in Canada by George J. McLeod Limited, Toronto. 630 pages. $7.50.

For 20 years or more, international travelers have sworn by Fielding's Guides, religiously packing and perusing his gospel on countless continental safaris. Europe has been his sphere, although Temple Fielding's particular brand of expertise has long been sought in other areas of the globe. Lacking the personal time necessary for a perfectionist's Caribbean tour, a search was launched for a person or persons "equipped with integrity, an intimate knowledge of the region, an inherent love for travel, a prose style that crackles, and the experience and ability to inspect and to rank touristic facilities as impartial reporters." Now, armed with the impeccable writing credentials of the hand-picked, perfect traveling pair, Fielding and the Harmans venture southward in the newly published Fielding's Guide to the Caribbean including the Bahamas.

The globe-trotting Harmans, permanent residents of the Caribbean for the past two decades, have literally watched the first faltering steps of island tourism blossom into maturity. Generously interposing captivating little tidbits along the way, the Harmans alphabetically cover in depth every major group from Antigua to the Virgin Islands. They know from personal experience every trick of the Caribbean trade and say so. Legends fall with impunity for the Harmans have no ax to grind. The objective—protection for the tourist, accurately relaying to him current information about island travel, money and prices, language, people, customs, immigration, hotels, food, restaurants, night clubs, taxis, car rentals, tours, laundry, hairdressers, drinks, tobacco, sports, festivals, attitude toward tourists, things to see and buy, plus an impressive bonus, the description of a thousand and one tourists' traps that await the unwary. Eminently reliable, this knowledgeable, authoritative guide is an important book. This reviewer found it fascinating.

Biographically speaking, Beta Kappa's Jeanne Perkins Harman was born in Kansas, raised in New Caledonia, educated at the University of Idaho and Smith College where she graduated Magna Cum Laude acquiring a political science degree along with a $\Phi\beta\kappa$ key. Now listed in Who's Who of American Women and author of three travel books, Mrs. Harman is presently Regional Correspondent for The New York Times, Time, Inc., the McGraw Hill News Service. Her articles on food, fashion, travel and other subjects appear regularly in a host of top flight national magazines. Atlanta-born Harry E. Harman III graduated from the University of Georgia. A stint in the Navy led to extensive knowledge of the Caribbean where he eventually returned. The Harmans met in Haiti in 1949 and were married less than a month later in St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, where they have lived ever since.

With Love & Elbow Grease—A Guide to Antiquing, Decorating and Finishing Practically Anything by Elizabeth Lowry Browning. Simon and Schuster, New York. 116 pages. Drawings by the author. Photographs by Iley Browning. $4.95.

One of the very nicest things about Elizabeth Lowry Browning's engaging book is that it is truly for the beginner. This is not to say that the initiate could not benefit from its sage advice; but, just to establish, once and for all, that the absolute novice is served and introduced to the delights and satisfactions of a useful and creative activity.

New, antique addicts with a yen for a bucket of paint, an insatiable penchant for shopping auctions, collecting late Salvation Army or early attic, can follow the simple but expertly guided step by step procedures through the myriad intricacies of antiquing, decorating and finishing the products of their passion. To turn out such a do-it-yourself work of art, the author delves into surface preparation and painting of woods and metals; the selection and mixing of colors; transferring, placing, extending and adapting designs and motifs; freehand decorating; glazing and marbelizing as well as that final finishing touch which includes not only varnishing but interior lining and hard-

Rush helpers 1969-70

Twelve Kappas have been appointed, one in each Province, to aid with rush problems. They are not to be confused in any way with the reference system.

What is a rush helper?

Just that! A helper!—in an informative, not directive manner. She is a wealth of information on everything a chapter should know pertaining to their rush. She has the answer for problems, parties, procedures. She has no authority, but can quickly refer you to those who do. She is a supplement to the Graduate Counselor, Field Secretary and Province Director of Chapters. She is an experienced Kappa alumna with a special love for rush; a vital friend to all the chapters in her province. She has an enthusiastic interest in Kappa and a sincere desire to help with this most important job of membership selection. Make her an ex-officio member of your rush committee. She is only as useful as you make her. Call her, write her, wire her! That's why she's there—to HELP!

Kappas off the press

ware decisions. Supplemented with the author's own helpful illustrations, checklists of materials, methods and sources of supply, a bibliography and a glossary of terms, this book has the charming potential of changing every second-hand store into a treasure trove and of transforming anything with basic good lines into a thing of beauty, a joy to behold.

Deftly written in sprightly first person style, readers will find the author's conversation just as delightful as the book is practical. Now in its third printing and a fall selection for the Better Homes and Gardens Family Service Book Club, With Love & Elbow Grease is Mrs. Browning's first book although her non-fiction magazine articles have been appearing for the last eight years.

Born an "Army brat" in Denver, Colorado, Elizabeth Lowry Browning is a Beta Chi, as was her mother before her, at the University of Kentucky. Wife of geochemist, Iley Browning, Jr. and mother of four children, the Brownings live in Evansville, Indiana, where the author lectures on contemporary art at the Evansville Museum, exhibits her paintings, teaches furniture refinishing at one of the local stores and, somehow or other, is finding time to work on a new book—this one about living with children.

You Can't Say What You Think and Other Stories by Elizabeth Allen. E. P. Dutton & Co., Inc. in New York and published simultaneously in Canada by Clarke, Irwin & Co., Limited. 156 pages. $3.95. Age 12 and up.

Although the author of two teen-age novels, The In-Between and The Loser and of The Forest House, a recent book designed for younger readers, Elizabeth Allen has been and continues to be a faithful contributor of both verse and fiction to literary and popular magazines on the national scene. Now in compact form we find her first collection of short stories for the young adult in this newly published fourth book, You Can't Say What You Think and Other Stories. Of the eight stories selected several have already appeared in Seventeen, Ingenue and Good Housekeeping with the remaining ones making their debut for the first time in public print.

The showcase which Elizabeth Allen has chosen to display the teen-age critter in her stories is the mythical setting of Hoover High School, but the problems her heroes and heroines encounter at home and in this large suburban school in the Southwest are real ones that exist and probably are duplicated in every school and every hamlet or city the length and breadth of the land. A variety of subjects are discussed including the much touted "generation gap," so constantly in the news today. The title story clearly reveals this sad lack of communication between adult and teen-ager, for both youngsters involved are quick to agree on the impossibility of talking to their elders much less saying what they think. Teen-age marriage with its bars of responsibility versus the freedom of unmarried youth to question, to open doors, to find its own answers is explored in "A Girl Named Gretchen," while Tim in "The Way Things Are" resists the accepted present day morality in his determination to emerge undestroyed. Other stories stress the necessity of pushing on with the consistent hope of eventual victory, or the importance of being one's self, in striving to find one's own individual thrust rather than relying upon another's personality, however strong and successful he might be.

Although completely entertaining in their approach to the teen-age reader, these stories still present a challenging commentary of abiding interest to both generations, for Elizabeth Allen bridges the gap as her young adults reject their inherited standards in order to question, test and search for a set of values they can call their own.

Member of Beta Delta chapter at the University of Michigan, the author has lived in numerous cities and towns of varied sizes in almost all the regions in the United States. Now settled in Tulsa, Oklahoma, she and her husband, Dr. James B. Thompson, are parents of a married daughter and two teen-age sons.

Table for Two by Shirley Sarvis. Doubleday & Company, Inc., Garden City, New York. 175 pages. $4.95. Illustrated by Barbara O'Neil Ross.

Graduating from Kansas State University where she majored in Home Economics and Journalism, Shirley Sarvis's twin interests fortuitously or perhaps by design, happily meld in a harmonious combination of food and conversation. An unconventional cook, a warm and intimate writer this unique yet cozy atmosphere permeates all her cookbooks and, nevermore so, than in Table for Two with its "easy, elegant recipes and menus for dining à deux."

The author warns against the expectation of a bland collection of convenience recipes with their heavy reliance on TV dinners and canned mushroom sauces. Rather—this is a guide for exquisite, unorthodox cooking from scratch for that one special person. It's, moreover, an ingenious plotting book with each distinctive menu scheme planned by one but served to two. Whether setting the scene for Midnight Breakfasts, Little Roasts, Paired Picnics or Sausage, Skillet, Soups and Pie Suppers, among others, the recipes have been selected by ways or ideas of eating, for their dramatic verve and striking combinations as well as ease in preparation and simplicity in design.

The author assures us that each recipe and menu idea has been tested in minimal space with minimal utensils and tasted with at least one twosome guest—with splendid results. Where indicated, certain dishes can be enlarged and expanded to four, six or eight guests, but generally speaking, two is company and three's unexpected.

Born and raised in Kansas and member of Gamma Alpha chapter, Shirley Sarvis migrated to San Francisco where she joined the staff of Sunset magazine eventually becoming Assistant Food Editor. For the past six years, she has enjoyed an exciting free-lance writing career with articles appearing in national publications such as Woman's Day, The American Home, Gourmet, and recent assignments including sea voyages to Australia and the Orient. Author of A Taste of Portugal and Crab & Abalone—West Coast Ways with Fish & Shellfish, Miss Sarvis is also co-author of San Francisco Firehouse Favorites and of Cooking Scandinavian (with Barbara Scott O'Neil who, incidentally, as Barbara O'Neil Ross is the illustrator for Tables for Two.)

Crab & Abalone—West Coast Ways with Fish & Shellfish by Shirley Sarvis. The Bobbs-Merrill Company, Inc., New York. 155 pages. $5.00. Illustrated by Tony Calvello.

Associates in San Francisco Firehouse Favorites, Shirley Sarvis and artist, Tony Calvello, once again collaborate in this handsomely designed, well illustrated cookbook of and by the sea. Although apparently limited to strictly regional creatures of the deep, the recipes in Crab & Abalone—West Coast Ways with Fish & Shellfish have been chosen and tested for perfect use with similar non-West Coast seafoods. Just as one old-timer succinctly understated, "After all, fish is fish," now, the superb dishes of West Coast experience may be successfully sampled and enjoyed throughout the country.

To collect and select the best versions of the traditional and regional seafood recipes that most accurately reflect West Coast discriminating appetites, the author went directly to the sources nearest the sea to taste and test. Consequently, most of the briny delicacies come directly from the tables of fishermen and their wives, from fish vendors and from the memories of the justly famous home cooks. Along with current innovations in seafood cuisine, the specialties of a few restaurant chefs are also represented; although the latter are in the minority, for Miss Sarvis firmly believes that the finest home cookery is developed by home cooks just as the most famous restaurant menus originate in restaurants.

Although not mandatory, complementing wines are suggested as part and parcel of Western eating habits, for this cookbook's mission is to convey the whole way of Western seafood eating. Whether it be the dramatic oft simple recipes that typify the Westerner's willing exploration and acceptance of the exotic ethnic fare culled from its melting pot of nationalities or his experimental approach to the abundant fruits of his sea and countryside; the resultant exciting, yet uncomplicated sea fare has become the West's own story of and behind its fish, fishermen and fishing waters.

Gallant Lady—1861-1947 by Caroline Knickerbocker Walbridge. Illustrated. 158 pages. $2.95. Send orders to: Clyde E. Gilbert, Printer, 4330 Windsor Court, Topeka, Kansas 66604

Previously reviewed in The Key, the author's Ranchorama and Louie C. Walbridge—An Illustrated Story of Profile Ranch and the Owner, 1859-1939, preserves for future generations the memorabilia of a sheep rancher's life in Kansas, the memoirs of a father. Now, its companion piece, the biography of her mother, has just been completed.

Illustrated with photographs, photostats and letters, Gallant Lady 1861-1947 is, of course, similar to its counterpart. A female version of the same sphere one might confine to Profile Ranch. To segment 86 years of such busy activity, the author's arbitrary divisions were made by areas of residence, although her mother's interests and talents remained constant and more continuously maintained throughout her life wherever she lived. Musician, author, church worker, educator, mother; these interests nurtured from childhood days in Sandwich, Illinois were perfected to be woven through half a century of Kansas living whether it be at Profile Ranch, Manhattan or Topeka. It is interesting to note that long a devotee of education, Louise Castle Walbridge was, herself, a member of Eta chapter at the University of Wisconsin. She was to wear the same golden key for 69 years and to welcome into sisterhood, two daughters, Caroline and Anne, both members of Omega chapter.

In loving tribute to a devoted, gifted mother, the author has dedicated Gallant Lady to Louise Castle Walbridge's six children and to their children. For them it will always be a living memorial, a personal family history of indeed a gallant lady. As history is a continuing thing, it is to be hoped that oncoming members will pursue the family diary with the same enthusiasm and dedication.

Miss Walbridge is a graduate of the University of Kansas and a member of Omega chapter. She obtained her master's in Library Service at Kansas State Teachers College at Emporia and taught in Topeka, later serving as assistant librarian in Reno, Nevada, where she was a part of the American Library Association committee for the development of libraries in Nevada. A life member of the Kansas State Historical Society and the Kansas Authors Club, she also belongs to Δ K Γ, honorary teacher's organization.

What's Cooking in Bermuda by Betsy Ross. Published by Mrs. Douglas Hunter, "Sky High," Paget, Bermuda. Printed by The Island Press Ltd., Hamilton, Bermuda. 112 pages. $2.00.

A taste of the Islands may be found in this little cookbook which, interestingly enough, has proved just as popular with the local Bermudians as with the tourists for whom it was originally planned and prepared. A transplanted tourist herself, Elizabeth Ross graduated with a B.S. in Home Economics from the University of Manitoba where she became a member of Gamma Sigma chapter. After teaching, she holidayed in Bermuda where she fell in love with the country as well as her husband.

For a time the Douglas Hunter's owned and operated a small hotel, and it was during this period that the author, under the expert tutelage of the local chefs, perfected the art of Bermuda cookery. So proficient did she become that her weekly recipe column appeared in a Bermuda newspaper.

"A Bermuda Cook Book of traditional and modern recipes plus the interesting background and customs of Bermuda cookery," the author states in a nutshell, so cookbook collectors will find food romance in the tropics as well as its history. Of the 15 chapters prepared, the existing abundance of fresh seafoods, vegetables and fruits play a leading role in the typical recipes one might encounter at the gay, informal parties prevalent on the Island. Tropical holiday menus for weddings, Christmas, Easter and Guy Fawkes Day are included to relay some of the unusual, best known, best loved cuisine, while other chapters feature pickles, preserves, honey, pièce de résistance of leading restaurants and, of course, rum, the national brew of the Bermudian.

Not all, but almost all of the ingredients and necessary foodstuffs are easily obtainable in the States, thus a Bermuda cookery tour need not be postponed while awaiting travel reservations.

Those wishing to add Bermuda to their culinary agenda may obtain copies of this excellent, spiraled bound cookbook directly from Mrs. Douglas Hunter, "Sky High," Paget, Bermuda.

Maximo. Story by Betty Gene Wormser. Lettered & illustrated by Judith Hawn Urrutia. Kimberly Press. Printed in U.S.A. 50 pages. $3.00. May be ordered Maximo, P.O. Box 16233 Lapham Station, San Antonio, Texas 78216

This endearing little tale is all about Mexico, the Lopez family and, of course, that new hero on the literary scene, Maximo. Little Maximo is, of all things, a burro, not just any burro; he's the maximum, the last word in donkeys and his story is delightful. It tells of eight-year-old Miguel, four-year-old Rosita and of the shared love, loyalty and perseverance that enabled them with Maximo's help to perform a difficult task.

With the magical simplicity of its natural family setting, the author captures a mood that will appeal to grownups and, for children, it will simply seem to be true. An engaging novel twist is the occasional use of Spanish words throughout, each marked with an asterisk so that children can find the meaning and pronunciation at the bottom of the same page. A complete Spanish vocabulary of the words used in the book is listed on the last three pages of the book providing a glimpse into the language of Mexico as well as its life.

Hand lettered with multicolored pages, illustrator and author, together, have formulated the perfect combination of mental and visual imagery. Primitive in design, pleasing for childish eyes to behold, over fifty black and white drawings beautifully and simply convey some of the depth and detail of the Mexican scene. Judith Hawn Urrutia, the gifted artist who works in several media, was born in New York moving to Texas during childhood. Member of Beta Omicron chapter, she majored in design and received a Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree from Sophie Newcomb College of Tulane University in New Orleans. Mother of two daughters, she and her surgeon husband live in San Antonio, Texas.

The Beginning Kindergarten Teacher by Lorraine Salot and Jerome E. Leavitt. Burgess Publishing Company, Minneapolis, Minnesota. 120 pages. $3.25.

Teaching in general and teaching five year olds in particular is not everyone's cup of tea, but those who elect to teach at this extremely important level will find it to be a personally rewarding, soul-satisfying even delightful choice.

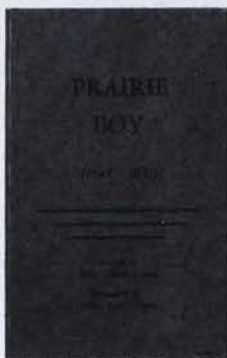

The kindergarten teacher is important. She holds in her hands the seeds of the future, for there is no other grade that includes so much subject matter or provides such a complex background of experiences necessary for successful future ventures into every field of learning. The Beginning Kindergarten Teacher is designed to help. It is a resource book. It provides basic information and practical suggestions for the novice, fresh ideas and additional learning materials for the seasoned and, in this reviewer's opinion, a good general background for young mothers with a slew of youngsters to lead or entertain. Not a book of theory; the subjects discussed cover a varied and complete kindergarten program as indicated in such chapter headings as: The Child And Kindergarten, Preparation For The First Day, The First Day Of Kindergarten, A Model Day, Providing A Rich Art Program, Providing A Rich Music Program, The Play Period, Game Time In Kindergarten.

Member of Delta Gamma chapter at Michigan State, Lorraine Salot is a Detroit kindergarten teacher in an inner city school near the scene of the 12th Street riots of 1967. Fond of ice figure skating and travel, Miss Salot has been twice around the world. "The children love to play the drum I brought back," she says of her safari in Africa. Co-author Jerome E. Leavitt is a Professor of Education at Portland State College.

Prairie Boy (1847-1851) by Ethel Allsop Lorton. Worman Printery Incorporated, Teutopolis, Illinois. 60 pages. $3.06. Illustrated by Linda Lorton Spier.

In this small volume dedicated to daughter Sara, who proofread, Linda, who sketched and Diana, who typed, Ethel Allsop Lorton has researched a small portion of family history as her contribution to the Illinois Sesquicentennial of 1968.

Prairie Boy (1847-1851) shares with us a few years in the life of the Allsop family and of Thomas, who as a boy of nine, helped settle a homestead in Effingham County, near the now present

Beecher City, Illinois. In the span of the four years covered, the pioneer family builds their home, clears the land, exists through the first hard winters, plants their crops, helps their neighbors, erects the first school, mourns and bury their dead. Although a biographical family chronicle with a bibliography and its own genealogy charts, the material is of general interest, for it depicts some of the details of the settling of the nation as it must have been for all rural pioneer families during that particular era in midwestern American history.

The black and white illustrations of Linda Lorton Spier, daughter of the author and member of Iota chapter at DePauw University, give a glimpse of prairie scenery, the old log cabin, some of the early farming tools and household accouterments used during the time of her great grandfather; and, as such, add much authentic old-fashioned charm to this 19th Century Americana. One cannot but agree when the author writes. "History is a patchwork quilt and some of the gayest blocks are homespun family notes."

Core Knowledge for Successful Speech (A Worktext in Oral Communication) by Jeanice Williams Noyes and Charles W. Dickson, Jr. Scott, Foresman & Company, Glenview, Illinois. 179 pages. $2.95.

Originating from material gathered jointly by Jeanice Noyes and Charles W. Dickson, Jr., and enlarged for an introductory speech class, the shared beliefs and talents of these two professors now graduate from mimeographed manual status into full-fledged published form.

Presently used in a course required for all freshmen entering Grand View College in Des Moines, Iowa, this compact worktext contains the fundamental principles of speech communication and the essential skills these professionals consider necessary for the beginning college-level student.

Core Knowledge for Successful Speech, with its handy outline format, is divided into five sections, each containing its own table of contents for easy reference. These divisions introduce the general study plan, cover the speech communication act, discuss the five essential speech communication habits the student must develop and master, provide excellent samples of complete informative and persuasive speech preparation and, finally, offer a select reading list along with a collection of perforated evaluation forms useful in the classroom. Flexible in design, just as adaptable to one term as a full year course, this material can be used as the basic text or as a primary or supplementary reference for courses in basic communication skills. Although planned with the beginning college student in mind, the worktext is also well suited for any group of men and women seeking improvement in speech skills.

One of the innovators in this creative enterprise is Professor Jeanice Williams Noyes, Who's Who of American Women and member of Gamma Theta chapter at Drake University where she received a B.E. degree. Later obtaining her M.A. at the State University of Iowa, Mrs. Noyes has served as a speech instructor for 33 years and is presently head of the Speech-Drama department at Grand View College, a post she has held for the past 23 years. Collaborator is Charles W. Dickson, Jr., Associate Professor of Speech and Director of the Theatre at Grand View.

Other Books by Kappa Authors not yet received for review.

The Violent Peace by Carl and Shelley Mydans. Atheneum. $12.50.

First-hand accounts gleaned from Time and Life files used to describe 25 small wars which have taken place since 1945. Illustrated with photographs. Shelley Smith Mydans is a member of Beta Eta chapter at Stanford University. She is the author of The Open City and of the more recent Thomas.

The B Book by Phyllis McGinley. Pictures by John E. Johnson. $2.95. For ages 4 to 7.

This is a new edition of an old favorite. Author of numerous children and adult prose and poetry books, Miss McGinley is Mrs. Charles Hayden in private life and a member of Delta Eta chapter at the University of Utah.

"Our frame of reference has become the world," writes Missy Van-Fossen McConnell, X-Minnesota. With her husband Chuck and four children, ranging from high school to pre-school, Missy is finding life in Johannesburg, South Africa an unforgettable experience.

"We studied at the library before we left (Chicago) and were completely educated. Johannesburg is a very cosmopolitan place . . . and we have found the move a very easy, happy one. I am putting my time to good use. I signed up at the University of the Witwatersrand almost the minute I got here and have been taking a graduate course in African Studies. I have been doing some writing again too, and just had a short fiction story published in the local ladies magazine. (She has also had work accepted for a serial story in an English magazine.) Have had two trips to Swaziland . . . in July we went to Botswana on a real safari. We lived with the Bushmen for five days." Here Missy felt were the real people, "solving a myriad of new problems every day by virtue of their wits and ingenuity."

Alumnae Activity . . .

Jane Patricia Campbell Flint, T Δ-Purdue, invites buyers to the Mistletoe Mart of Chagrin Valley, Ohio alumnae. All proceeds were sent to Kappa Philanthropies and the Centennial Fund.

The annual Dayton Bridge-Brunch netted over $300 for local and national philanthropies. At the table of prizes are Carol Hardey Shafer, and Pat Patrick Diefenderfer, both Δ Δ-Miami U. Bottom: Elaine George Stack, Θ-Missouri, Lois Baird Jeffrey, Δ Δ-Miami U., president of the Association, Vonnice Atwood Ward, Δ Δ-Miami U., and Alice Bowman Price, B P^A-Cincinnati.

Fresh pecans shipped in from Texas, packaged and sold by Kappas proved a valuable boost for the Centennial Fund. La Canada, California alumnae are: Jane Gibboney Parrish, Δ A-Penn State and Betty Weier Locher, M-Butler.

Perfect Setting

A ski lodge setting in which four active Kappas played chess and read magazines won first place and $150 for the Tucson alumnae. Each Christmas, Barrow's Furniture Store sponsors the window decorating contest, the winner is chosen by popular vote and formal judging.

New Albuquerque project

"Kappa Creations," a new Albuquerque Association project, in the form of a benefit bazaar netted about $1600 for Kappa's local and Fraternity philanthropies. Free coffee and cookies were served to all shoppers as they browsed and bought the hand crafted items.

Chairman Kathleen Dicker Church announced that over 100 alumnæ worked on the hand-crafted items during the five month workshop. Laura Fast Griswold, E-Illinois Wesleyan, conducted the workshops which included decoupage, tin crafts, decorating eggs and papier-maché.

Judy Harrison Inman, T B-New Mexico, and Laura Fast Griswold, E-Illinois Wesleyan, director of Albuquerque workshop for Bazaar.

Eleanor McKinnell Smith, Δ Σ-Oklahoma State, chairman of Wichita House Tour with workers Nancy Lichty Bontz, and Sara Lawrence Dunne, Ω-Kansas.

A wow in Wichita

The Wichita alumnæ have done so well on their annual Holiday House Tours that they have sold the maximum number of tickets that are available. The bake sale netted the group $680, including $250 for the new cook books, Keys to Kappa Kitchens. The book was published as a result of the dozens of requests for the recipes baked by Kappas. Most of the ticket customers wait for this sale to stock their freezer, in spite of numerous sales at this time.

The Centennial Fund and the Social Services for the Deaf are the main recipients of this Tour. The Rose McGill Fund and both Kansas Chapters also share in the benefits.

Evansville centennial project

The Centennial Fund project of the Evansville alumnæ was a charming doll house made by the members. All members worked enthusiastically on the sewing of curtains, rugs, and in the furnishing of the house. The outside decoration was done by Betsy Lowry Browning, B X-Kentucky, author of With Love and Elbow Grease. The net profits were $354 for the Centennial Fund.

Your neighbor may be a Kappa

Indianapolis Kappas believe in Kappa. So much so that the alumnae make a special effort to keep the not-so-active alumnae in touch with Fraternity news. This they do by their series of coffees in members homes. Each coffee includes a Kappa food specialty such as pumpkin cookies or Peach Kuchen. These gatherings promote interest and friendship in the alumnae association.

Kappas are also winning warm friends and ardent supporters in the community. A crop of volunteers ranging in age from grandmothers to newlyweds report to the Noble Center for Retarded Children to assist the teaching staff. According to David E. Shearer, director of the Center, "the volunteers are extremely helpful and allow us to work with an almost one-to-one relationship with the children. We are very fortunate in having them." Patricia Wade Owen, Γ-Northwestern, is chairman of the volunteers.

Noble Center Instructor Mrs. Ray C. Kestner is assisted by Carolyn Mustard Geupel, M-Butler, and Dorothy Davis Townsend, I-DePauw.

Adele Coryell Hall, Σ-Nebraska, is president of the Board for the Pre-school for the Visually Handicapped and also serves on the United Campaign Board.

Founders' Day . . .

Fairfield County

Ann Scott Morningstar, B N-Ohio State, brought Fairfield County Kappas up to date in her Founders' Day talk, "Kappa Kappa Gamma in Instant Tomorrow." Head of a New York public relations firm, Mrs. Morningstar produced the Kappa Centennial movie, "Keys to a Second Century." Fifty year pins were presented to Gladys Wolcott Burch, K-Hillsdale, and Hazel Fisher Kent, Γ Γ-Whitman.

Pennsylvania

Swarthmore, Philadelphia and Delaware alumnae met together to hear Anne Harter B T-Syracuse, Fraternity Centennial Fund chairman, speak at the Founders' Day luncheon. (above) Fifty year member, Faith Welling Merrill, B N-Ohio State, was present with her daughter Frances Merrill Warner, Δ B-Duke. (lower) Honor guests were Jane Lindsay Koke, Γ Ω-Denison, Province Director of Alumnae, Anne Harter, Sally Hawken Moore, Δ Γ-Michigan State, Delaware alumnae president and Patricia Loder Ayer, Σ-Nebraska.

Kansas City

Highlighting the banquet of the Kansas City alumnae was the talk by Fraternity President, Louise Little Barbeck, Γ Φ-Southern Methodist, who visited her daughter, Ann Barbeck Woods, E A-Texas Christian. Emily Fitch Connell, Virginia Kelley Cooke, Dorothy Clark Siemens, @ Missouri, and Myra McLaughlin, Ω-Kansas, received their 50 year pins.

The council baby

Meet Miss Laura Lee Harmon in the arms of her mother, Carol Engels Harmon, Δ K-U. of Miami, Director of Alumnae. For the first time in many years a Council member has added a second job to her all-consuming Kappa responsibilities. Carol wants to know how "one little angel can take more time and energy than a full-time job". But knowing Carol, the Council has no worries about her ability to carry-on with both jobs. Miss Laura Lee arrived December 6.

50 Years a Kappa

Gamma Gamma charter member

Charter member of Gamma Gamma chapter at Whitman College, Nita May Shidler received an award from the Tulare-Kings Counties alumnæ at the luncheon given in her honor. Active in community affairs, Mrs. Shidler was the third president of the Sequoia AAUW, president of the Visalia Parent-Teachers Council, and active in both the Women's Civic Club and the Garden Club. President Patricia Corley Cruickshank, II^A-California, pins Mrs. Shidler. (right)

Dayton alumna president, Lois Baird Jeffrey, Δ Λ -Miami U., presents 50 year award to Mable Pinnell St. John, M-Butler. Frederica Pinnell Funke, sister of Mrs. St. John, is also a Butler Kappa and 50 year member.

Merrah Shrum Pratt, Δ -Indiana, receives 50 year award from Isabelle Baer Famiglietti, X-Minnesota. The presentation took place during the luncheon given by the little Rhode Island Alumnæ Club.

The summer issue of The Key spotlights girls who have contributed to their chapter and their campus by participating in a variety of activities. One such girl is Janet Maxwell, Σ -Nebraska, who was named Activities Queen of the University of Nebraska for 1968-69. Janet, who received congratulatory roses from Nebraska Governor Norbert Tiemann, was chosen over seven other finalists for her long list of campus activities. A sophomore now, she has been active in the Red Cross as co-chairman, chairman, and worker on the state hospital committee. She was public relations chairman for the Nebraska Conference of Youth in 1967 and overall chairman of the same conference in 1968 and 1969. She is active in the Westminster Presbyterian Church as a member of the Christian education board and the choir. She is also a junior staff writer on The Daily Nebraskan and Associated Women Students workers president and court of appeals member. Her chapter offices include pledge class vice-president and assistant pledge trainer.

Actively speaking . . .

Donna Lanni, Γ I-Washington U., Homecoming Queen, ROTC queen. Petite Pershings.

Better pledge-alumnæ relations. . . . A new idea has been initiated into the pledge training program of Γ Z-Arizona. Under the new "Pledge Aunt" program each pledge is given an alumna aunt from the alumnæ association in Tucson. This program establishes a closer relationship between the chapter and the alumnæ and provides the pledges with an older person to turn to for advice, help, or companionship.

Top ten. . . . Sue Lombaer, Γ Z-Arizona, has been chosen one of America's Top Ten Homecoming Queens by the National Interfraternity Council. Besides being Homecoming Queen at Arizona last fall, Sue is also a member of Angel Flight and University Hostesses. She spent last year studying French at the University of Grenoble.

Who's Who. . . . Four members of Γ Z-Arizona have been selected for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. They are Diana Baum, Andi Arthur, Ann Jerman, and Cheryl Charles.

Activities plus. . . . Members of E E-Emory, have won many honors this year. Terry Connally served as chairman of the Emory Rush Committee; Marcia Boney is a member of WHO, Mortar Board equivalent; and Meredith Ferguson is treasurer of Georgia's all-state Student Nurse Organization. The Resident Women's Association was served by Fran Cobb, Sue Finnigan, Linda Gorenflo, Jo Jennings, Claudia Jordan, Martha Mashburn, and Margie Ann Nerenberg as hall representatives; Sue Finnigan, dormitory president; Margaret Jones, advisory board; Holly Miller, senatorial representative; and Jeanne Young, judiciary. Other student government officers were Holly Miller and Margaret Jones, Student Government Association representatives; Terry Sue Connally, College Council secretary; Claudia Jordan, freshman and sophomore class secretary; and Sue Finnigan, Peggy Gessler, and Lindy Hunt, Student Center Board members.

Susan Schaefer, B T-Syracuse, was one of Pan American's campus representatives chosen to fly during summer vacation. Her gold wings were won after four weeks' training at the International Stewardess College in Miami, Florida. Susan served aboard jet clipper flights to Hawaii, Tahiti, Tokyo, and Europe.

roundup of chapter news

Mary Frances Brown,
E K-South Carolina,
Board of Governors.

Ohio State honors. . . . Four members of B N-Ohio State, have contributed in a variety of ways to their campus. Judy Fenton was Greek Week Campus Queen for the General Motors Institute, and she is a member of the Coed Cadets Drill Team. Leslie Gigax is newly elected president of the Coed Cadets and a member of the Coed Cadets Drill Team. Joelyn van Haam Yoder is a member of the Traditions Board, Chimes, and Mirrors and chairman of the 1968 Parents' Day. Jan Post is national commander of Angel Flight for the United States.

Deborah Ann Gough,
E K-South Carolina, An-

Vandra Huber, Δ H-Utah, has been selected as one of 45 students to participate in the second annual Newspaper Fund Editing Internship Program. She will receive a \$500 scholarship after working eight weeks next summer as a copy editor on one of 45 cooperating papers. A three-week intensive indoctrination at the University of Nevada precedes the assignment to the newspaper. Vandra is in Spur, sophomore service honorary, and $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$, journalism honorary. She works on the staffs of the literary magazine and yearbook.

Holly Outwin, Γ I-Washington U., is on her way to a singing career which started in her junior high school glee club. She attended high school at the Julliard School of Music where she won a Julliard Honorary Scholarship and the Lincoln Center Student Award, and she came to Washington University after a summer of vocal instruction in Guernsey, England. She is now a member of the Washington University Madrigal Singers and $M \Phi E$ -music. Last year she won the Metropolitan National Council District Auditions and was a finalist in the Metropolitan Mid-West Regional Auditions. The past two summers she attended the New England Conservatory of Music in Ipswich, Mass.

Karen Hegener, X -Minnesota, was selected 1968 Aquatennial Queen of the Lakes over 38 queens from Minnesota. Entering the contest as Miss E-Day representing the University of Minnesota engineers, Karen suspended her studies for one year to make 500 appearances and travel 65,000 miles as goodwill ambassador for the 29th annual Aquatennial, Minneapolis and Minnesota.

Yvonne Frenkel, $\Gamma \Psi$ -Maryland, Miss Student Union.

Karen Anne Hansen, $\Gamma \Psi$ -Maryland, Miss University of Maryland, Miss Maryland in Miss America Pageant.

Six Psi "Sports". . . . Six members of Ψ -Cornell, are active in women's sports. Janice Cook, Karen Smith, and Sally Reese are members of the Cornell Women's Ski Team. Patricia Gallagher is Kappa representative and Charlotte Bruska is vice-president of the Women's Athletic Association. Barbara Plunkett is co-captain of the Cornell Women's Swimming Team.

More from Cornell. . . . Phyllis Corcoran is a participant in the Honors Program of the Textiles and Clothing Department of the College of Home Economics and is spending a special semester at the Fashion Institute of Technology in New York City. Toni Ladenburg is a Pan American stewardess based in Miami. Ruth Ann Johnson is studying in Florence, Italy, under the auspices of Syracuse University. Diana Petitti was chosen to be a member of the very selective College Scholar Program. She has been freed from the distribution requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences and from major requirements in order to choose an area of special concentration. Due to their outstanding ability, members of this program are admitted to any course they choose without having to have taken the prerequisite to the course. Diana is also teaching undergraduate seminars in psychology.

Ellen Press, Ψ -Cornell, Scheduling Coordination and Activities Review Board secretary, Student Government Finance Commission, Faculty committee for Scheduling Public Events, steering committee of the Cornell Summer Business Intern Program, resident adviser in women's dormitories, Panhellenic Council, Chicago Area chairman for the Cornell Undergraduate Secondary Schools committee.

Six members of $\Gamma \Delta$ -Purdue, hold important senior activity positions. They are (front row) Barbara Graff, Student Union Senior Board, Mortar Board; Lisa Montgomery, Panhellenic rush chairman, Mortar Board; Jean Taliaferro, Old Masters Central Committee, Mortar Board; (back row) Janet Scott, Pep Committee Senior Board; Kristin Nelson, Senior Board of Student Government; and Pam Breen, senior class treasurer.

Wendy Blum, Δ Z-Colo-rado College, Homecoming Queen.
