Volume 105 Number 1 Spring 1987

In Focus

We've just been through one of the happiest, warmest and most gratifying times of the year — the holiday season. Traditionally, this is a time where the spirit of giving is most apparent, when people reach out a little more often to help others.

As we embark on this new year, let's not forget this spirit of thankfulness and giving. In this issue of The Key, we examine the many ways that Kappas have been contributing to their communities and to the Fraternity. This is not only through the contribution of dollars but even more importantly, through the contribution of time thoughtfully donated.

Let's each make an effort to carry the warmth and generosity of the holidays throughout 1987 as we look for ways to give of ourselves. Whether it be through chapter or alumnae group projects, through time spent at local hospitals, museums, theatres, Girls' Clubs or Special Olympics, we can surely find our niche.

It's this spirit of giving that has made our organization so outstanding and so well-respected. I look forward to seeing the many ways that our members will again give of themselves to the benefit of others.

Loyally,

Marian K. Williams
Fraternity President

Philanthropy Is . . . The Heart of Kappa Kappa Gamma

by Wilma Winberg Johnson, ΔN-Massachusetts

With our giving, caring, sharing and loving Kappa sisterhood, our HEART always beats steadily and strongly, helping Kappa help others. Our HEART is "giving" and to continue those enduring beats, it needs YOUR philanthropy efforts so Kappa can continue to aid Kappas.

There are many chambers in our HEART . . . many philanthropic areas . . . our scholarship programs for undergraduates and graduates, Kappas and nonKappas, the new Student Loan program, support for Rose McGill members who need special monetary assistance, and Circle Key grants for alumnae needing further educational assistance . . . so many, and so worthwhile.

We are social in nature, but we are more. As a KAPPA GROUP we can:

1. Promote SISTERHOOD by remembering deceased members with memorial contributions; honor outstanding members in a similar manner; help members in time of need and make new members welcome.
2. Work together on service or fund-raising projects — all of which promote group COHESION.
3. Give to ROSE MCGILL FUND or STUDENTS' AID FUND if local or area members have benefitted in the past or might in the future. Contribute dollars or service hours to a community group which has special RELEVANCE to your group and to the Fraternity.
4. Let your community know of the Fraternity's philanthropy program and encourage qualified members within the community to apply for Kappa's various scholarships. Thus we give a positive PUBLIC RELATIONS image to our local community.
5. Provide many hours of philanthropic services often through alumnae groups and nearby chapters working together. AND
6. Maintain the excellent Fraternity scholarship program with your continued interest in giving from your local fund-raising event and subscriptions through the Fraternity's ROSE MCGILL MAGAZINE AGENCY for your magazine subscriptions.

The above is the Fraternity's 6 POINT PHILANTHROPY program in which every group, large or small, can participate to some degree providing the continued funds for scholarship and awards which allow KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA to remain in the forefront of Panhellenic philanthropic giving.

Along with the Fraternity philanthropies and within the broad scope of rehabilitation, there is the local or community focus of financial assistance or service to benefit programs important to the individual members. Kappa groups should research available rehabilitation projects and base decisions on their importance to women, need, members desires and the public relations aspects of the individual group contributions.

Three programs of particular concern to women which also offer special opportunities to benefit Kappas and all women are:

ANAD — Association for Anorexia Nervosa and Associated Disorders and other groups focusing on eating disorders: Many of our younger members suffer from devastating, life threatening, eating disorders, such as anorexia and bulimia. Financial support of research and educational programs is sorely needed. Province meetings and alumnae groups have given ANAD money for radio educational Public Service Announcements which not only helped support ANAD's programs, but also brought excellent publicity for the Fraternity. Contributions to Kappa for research helped finance the chapter bulimia survey which was conducted in 1985.

OSTEOPOROSIS — a serious health problem primarily facing the older woman, is in the forefront of health news today. Money is needed for research, treatment and education. Institutions such as the Medical College of Pennsylvania's Center for the Mature Woman in Philadelphia are worthy of your financial assistance. Education about this disease was highlighted at the 1986 General Convention. The Philadelphia Alumnae Association awarded a $3,000 graduate study grant for a person preparing for a career in health care for mature women.

THE NATIONAL CENTER FOR MISSING AND EXPLOITED CHILDREN: is a clearing house of expertise in areas of child protection legislation, criminal investigation, prevention programs and treatment of the serious problems of sexual exploitation and missing children since mid-1984. To date the center has given assistance to the recovery of over 4000 missing children. These services have been possible through "start up" funding from the Department of Justice and from very generous contributions from the private sector, including Kappa Kappa Gamma. Find out what your community is doing in this area and consider lending your group's support. What could concern women more than the safety of their children? HOW DO WE ACCOMPLISH THIS?

THE FOUNDERS' MEMORIAL FUND FOR STUDENTS' AID: This fund dates back to 1902 when the first scholarship grant was given to the Woods Hole Scholarship Fund. Kappa has continued to assist students and for the 1986-1987 academic year awarded 25 Graduate Fellowships, 42 Undergraduate Scholarships, and a total of 34 Rehabilitation Scholarships (11 Undergraduate and 23 Graduate).

In 1985-1986 Kappa received contributions from Kappa groups totaling almost $65,000 for the Rose McGill Fund; over $69,000 for Student Aid and over $400 for the Educational Endowment Fund. Over and above this, many of our individual alumnae have remembered Kappa philanthropies by giving over $5,000 to Rose McGill, $57,000 for Students Aid and $1,000 for the Education Endowment Fund. All of this adds up to over $189,000 contributed to the philanthropic funds during 1985-1986.

LET US INTRODUCE OUR PHILANTHROPY CHAIRMEN, each of whom has a special part in the whole area of Philanthropy.

DIRECTOR OF
REPRESENTATIVES

Gay Barry

GAY CHUBA BARRY: ΔΑ-Penn State, is an elected member of Council as Director of Field Representatives. She trains and directs the program of the Chapter and Traveling Consultants for the Fraternity. (See Gay's profile in Fall 1986 Key)

Gay says, "Kappas can be proud of the Chapter Consultant Scholarship Program; a Kappa 'first,' adopted in 1928 as the Co-Organizer Program. This is a full tuition scholarship which includes room and board for one year; certainly one of the most generous scholarships of which I am aware. In turn, the chapter consultant assists a chapter in all areas of the chapter organization and programming techniques. The challenges and rewards gleaned from this position are immeasurable. It has been my distinct privilege to supervise the work of these outstanding and dedicated young women for the past three years. Truly, philanthropy at its best."

CHAIRMAN OF
COMMITTEE

Cynthia Harbold

The Graduate Scholarship Committee began in 1934 and as the current chairman of this committee, CYNTHIA SPRINGER HARBOLD, M-Butler, is Chairman of the GRADUATE FELLOWSHIP COMMITTEE. In her professional life she is Assistant Executive Director of St. Joseph Medical Center in Fort Wayne, Indiana, where she is responsible for medical staff and medical center personnel functions. Cyndy was graduated from Butler University with a BS degree in psychology. She received her MS in organizational behavior from George Williams College and her MBA from University of Notre Dame. Her prior Kappa experiences include being the first president of the Naperville, Illinois Alumnae Club and the Province Director of Alumnae in Epsilon Province. She and her Kappa Sigma husband, Fred, have a daughter Sarah, a freshman this year at Miami University.

The members of this committee are Cyndy, Sheila Stanley, ΔΣ-Oklahoma State, Janice Quick, M-Butler, Sarah Ryder, Δ<sup>Δ</sup>-Monmouth, and Eunice "Scotty" Siverson Ψ<sup>Δ</sup>-Cornell. They select the fellowship recipients each year. Throughout the fall, women graduate students in all fields other than rehabilitation, submit their applications and supportive materials to the chairman. Immediately after the February 15th deadline, the committee evaluates the almost 100 completed applications to select the most promising candidates. The fellowship awards made the difference between continuing academic work and postponing degree completion. Often they go to older women wishing to strengthen or change their career areas. The fellowships provide needed assistance to secure advanced degrees that might not be otherwise affordable to women with families to support. Often years of costly education have depleted resources and without those advanced degrees, opportunities and contributions may not match potential. The Graduate Fellowships Committee carefully evaluates, then happily recommends the awards to these women who have so much to contribute.

CHAIRMAN OF UNDERGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS
Sue Fream & husband, David

SUZANNE PETERSON FREAM, BT-Syracuse, is serving the Fraternity as Chairman of UNDERGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS. Sue is currently a Special Education Teacher in a middle school in New Jersey, teaching the neurologically impaired (learning disabled). She serves as vice president (Trustee) of the Children's Psychiatric Center in Monmouth County as well. She graduated from Syracuse University with a B.F.A. in Art Education; then an M.S. in Special Education from Syracuse. Sue has been active in alumnae work — as a founder of the Daytona Beach, Florida Alumnae Club, and then, upon moving to New Jersey has been president of the New Jersey Shore Alumnae Club, and Beta Province Director of Chapters (1975-1979). She and her husband, Dave have three children — a daughter Tracie who is a senior at Ohio State; a son Chris who is a freshman at Denison University and Win who is a sophomore at Christian Brothers Prep School.

This Scholarship program began in 1936 and Sue has two judges Adeline Holmes Lubkert, ΔΘ-Goucher, and newly appointed Karen Pinkney, ΔΥ-Georgia, who serve on her committee. Sue feels the most interesting aspect of her job is the biographies of these undergraduate women who apply. She finds she has an annual "crop" of extremely accomplished, self-motivated young women making applications. Their campus activities and employment statistics reveal excellent organizational skills, as measured by their participation. Their scholastic achievement is uniformly impressive and their ambitions accurately reflect the changing scene in the employment field.

THE ROSE MCGILL FUND was established in 1922 to give confidential aid to deserving Kappas of all ages who suddenly and unexpectedly find themselves in financial need due to misfortune or illness. The fund was the inspiration of Beta Psi Chapter at the University of Toronto when one of its members, Rose McGill, became ill and found herself in dire financial need. This fund can be an important temporary resource until a financial crisis is resolved, or one of long term assistance. There are three different aspects of this Fund, each one having a chairman for implementation.

CHAIRMAN OF THE ROSE MCGILL FUND

Bill and Barbara Granat

BARBARA CRANSTON GRANAT, ΔΓ-Michigan State, is overall Chairman of the ROSE MCGILL FUND. She has had longstanding interest in Kappa alumnae work, serving as Beta Province Director of Alumnae, adviser to Zeta Iota chapter, and a board member of the Philadelphia Alumnae Association. Barbara says that "there can't be a more rewarding job than being Kappa's Rose McGill chairman. The generosity of the alumnae and actives with their donations and magazine subscriptions make it possible to offer assistance to our sisters. Currently 18 Kappas, ranging in age from 28 to 91, receive monthly financial help. Their need is great and their appreciation boundless. I feel very close to these special Kappas — the Rose McGill family." Barbara's assistant is Marilyn Falls, K-Hillsdale.

CIRCLE KEY GRANTS

Bev Essel &
husband, Bob

Working with another aspect of the Rose McGill Fund is BEV ESTABROOK ESSEL, ΔΔ-Miami University, Chairman of CIRCLE KEY GRANTS. These grants are for Kappa alumnae needing educational or vocational training assistance at any time as long as funds are available. The grants are awarded confidentially on the basis of need, merit, and individual goals for study at college, university, career, vocational, or technical school for the purpose of aiding career qualifications.

Presently Bev is head receptionist at Spring Hill Conference Center, Wayzata, Minnesota. A graduate of Miami University with an AB degree, she is a member of the Minneapolis/St. Paul Alumnae Association and has served as Omicron Province Director of Alumnae, the Minnesota State and the Twin Cities Area Reference Chairman. She was recently recognized by the Twin Cities Panhellenic Association as the "most outstanding KKG alum". Bev and her husband, Bob, a Sigma Chi, have two Phi Delta Theta sons, and a Alpha Chi Omega daughter as well as three grandchildren.

CHRISTMAS SHARING PROGRAM

ANN WALLACE WHITE, Δ-Indiana, is chairman of the CHRISTMAS SHARING PROGRAM. Ann graduated from Indiana University with a degree in Home Economics. She served as Indiana State Reference Chairman, Delta Province Director of Alumnae, philanthropy chairman of the Indianapolis Alumnae Association, and Province Meeting Chairman. Ann is also active in St. Margaret's Hospital Guild, the Decorators' Show Houses for the benefit of the county hospital, and serves on the Visiting Nurses Board of Directors and various school committees and boards. She, and husband, Doug who is Phi Gamma Delta from Indiana University have two sons: Bruce, a Pi Kappa Alpha, and Doug, a Phi Gamma Delta.

The ROSE MCGILL CHRISTMAS SHARING PROGRAM CHAIRMAN matches needs and wants of Rose McGill family members with alumnae groups who wish to share Christmas happiness and gifts with them. Deadline for application to participate in the program is May 31. Watch for a reminder in the Spring Mailing.

CHAIRMAN OF EMERGENCY ASSISTANCE GRANTS

The ROSE MCGILL FUND also comes to the aid of undergraduate Kappas needing scholarship aid on an emergency basis. Grants are confidential and may be awarded any time as long as monies are available. NANCY SEGERSTEN MEEKER, Σ-Nebraska, is chairman of EMERGENCY ASSISTANCE GRANTS (Undergraduate Emergency Scholarships). She has held almost every chairmanship in the alumnae work. She was president of the Arlington Heights, Illinois Alumnae Association, Epsilon Province Director of Alumnae and Alumnae Programs Chairman for the Fraternity, prior to working with the Emergency Scholarships. She and husband, Dave, have a son Steve, who is a freshman at Wake Forest University; another son John, who is a high school sophomore. This chairmanship entails issuance of Emergency Grants which are available for the use of Kappa upperclassmen who find themselves in emergency financial straits due to family financial problems. The main criterion for receipt of a grant is that the applicant continue to be a contributing member of her chapter. Nancy said, "It is totally rewarding to know we can help a Kappa sister in need and totally reassuring to see how our alumnae support our efforts with their donations to our Kappa Philanthropies." The Emergency Grant program assists 45 to 50 Kappas per school year until funds for that year are depleted. KAPPAS CARE!

ROSE MCGILL FUND
MAGAZINE AGENCY
STAFF

Ann Mahle and husband, Tom

One of the means of supplying funds for the various aspects of the ROSE MCGILL FUND is from the profits of the MAGAZINE AGENCY. This is under the capable administration of ANN GREEN MAHLE, ΔN-Massachusetts, who is a staff person working at Fraternity Headquarters. Ann is a History graduate and taught for eleven years. She and Tom have one son, four daughters and three grandchildren. Her goals are to increase subscriptions at the lowest possible price and cost, as well as to make ALL KAPPAS aware of the needs of other Kappas and the difference that buying or renewing through Rose McGill Magazine Agency can make.

This year is the beginning of a new endeavor: THE STUDENT LOAN FUND under the ROSE MCGILL FUND which will aid UNDERGRADUATE AND ALUMNAE STUDENTS NEEDING EDUCATIONAL LOANS. This program is for members only, and is available on a year round basis as long as funds are available. JANE LINDSAY KOKE, ΓΩ-Denison, is the Chairman of this new philanthropic program. Among Jane's many local and Kappa volunteer efforts, you will remember her as former Fraternity Treasurer, 1980-1984.

UNDERGRADUATE & ALUMNAE LOANS

Jane Koke

CHAPTER PHILANTHROPY ASSISTANT
Catherine Gelhaar & husband, James

There are two assistants to the DIRECTORY OF PHILANTHROPY, each of whom acts as a coordinator for the program:

CATHERINE BERNOTAS GELHAAR, E-Illinois Wesleyan, is CHAPTER PHILANTHROPY ASSISTANT, helping the chapters by promoting philanthropic projects, facilitating the exchange of ideas and recording the accomplishments of our chapters. CATHIE graduated with a degree in Elementary Education. However, presently she is a substitute teacher on the secondary level. She has served the Fraternity recently as both Epsilon Province Director of Alumnae and Chapters, and as the Chairman of Chapter Programs. She and husband Jim have a son, David who is a sophomore at the University of Iowa, and a daughter, Mary, who is a senior in high school.

Cathie's counterpart who works as the ALUMNAE PROGRAM ASSISTANT is BEV ESSEL, who also serves as the CIRCLE KEY CHAIRMAN. Bev encourages and educates the organized Kappa alumnae groups to understand the need for a continuing flow of funds to the Fraternity to Philanthropy programs to support the 6-point Kappa Philanthropy Program, and facilitates the exchange of ideas among the alumnae. It is obvious that KAPPAS DO CARE, and hopefully will continue to work for increasing our scholarship funding as well as providing for our special Rose McGill Funds. WE ARE KAPPAS HELPING KAPPAS.

HELEN Z. WALKER SCHOLARSHIP

The children of Helen Zick Walker, ΔZ-Colorado College, have set up a scholarship fund in her name as her 70th birthday gift.

This generous gift, a $5000 scholarship, was given because of the warm feelings that Helen and her family have for the Fraternity and due to their own experiences as they saw Kappa Scholarships help family and friends.

Certainly such a lasting tribute to a very loyal Kappa is an idea that others may wish to perpetuate.

Loyalty Fund Gifts Open New Doors

Through the generous donations of 12,230 members, Kappa's 1985-1986 Loyalty Fund Drive was an overwhelming success. Approximately $325,000 was given during the annual fund drive which enabled the Fraternity to provide many extra services and resources. A few examples include:

- Increasing membership growth through a carefully considered expansion program — to install chapters, one new colony, and charter 14 additional alumnae groups.
- Maintaining five traveling consultants in our 115 chapters and providing chapter consultants at designated chapters where no graduate programs are offered.
- Sharing the benefits of various national and regional conferences with the memberships.
- Publishing the history of Kappa Kappa Gamma Volume 3 1976-

1985 and continuing services of The Key to more than 100,000.

- Recognizing our 50...60...75-year members with certificates of appreciation for their loyalty and service.
- Enabling four long-range planning committees to study specific areas of the Fraternity and to make recommendations for the future.
- Providing additional resources to chapters' advisory and house boards and alumnae groups through increased visits by Fraternity representatives. And, offering updated publications in every area of programming.
- Preparing new print and A/V materials in the areas of specific needs — The Social Awareness Manual, The Fraternity brochure, The Ritual Song Tape, and videos on Leadership Training and Legal Liability.
- Introducing an educational slide show on bid matching and presenting it as a gift to all 26 NPC groups.

- Establishing the position of Coordinator for Chapter Development for five chapters and their boards where specific needs necessitate ongoing support.
- Continuing our Choices program to meet the career needs of our membership.
- Adding Alumnae Programming Chairmen and maintaining the additional five Province officers to divide the workload in certain geographic areas.

The Fraternity Council wishes to express its deepest appreciation to the donors for their continuing support which provides a quality experience for our members and keeps Kappa prosperous and progressive. Each of you has made a significant contribution to Kappa's excellence today and the tomorrows to come.

Your annual gift is a cumulative one.

Announcing . . . The Rose McGill Student Loan Fund

There is a new way for Kappas to help Kappas achieve their scholastic goals — and it is for alumnae as well as actives!

The Rose McGill Student Loan Fund has been established to assist those members of Kappa Kappa Gamma who are upperclasswomen or graduate students in need of emergency financial aid.

Loans will be granted throughout the year on a basis of financial need, scholastic achievement and contribution to the Fraternity; up to $1000 per year, ($2000 maximum). For repayment schedule, and more information, please write to: Jane L. Koke (Mrs. Robert F.), Chairman, Rose McGill Student Loan Fund, 607 Entwistle Court, Wilmington, DE 19808

Magazine Subscription Sales

Dear Philanthropy/Magazine
Chairman,

At the biennial convention this past summer two chapters were given recognition for magazine subscription sales. ΓΑ, Kansas State University was first and the runner-up was ΔΙ, Louisiana State University.

The following chapters have participated or received credit from an alumna, Mothers' Club or Advisory Board:

BB-St. Lawrence
ΔΦ-Bucknell
ZK-Bowling Green
ΒΔ-Univ. of Michigan
ΒΛ-Univ. of Illinois
ΔΙ-Louisiana University
ΓΤ-Whitman College
ΖΗ-Univ. of California-Irvine
ΕΤ-Univ. of North Carolina
ΒΧ-Univ. of Kentucky
ΨΔ-Cornell
Δ-Akron
Μ-Butler
Ε-Illinois Wesleyan
ΓΑ-Kansas State University
ΔΗ-Univ. of Utah
ΓΖ-Univ. of Arizona
ΔΒ-Duke
ΕΣ-Univ. of Virginia
ΖΔ-Univ. of Vermont

How about your chapter? Are you listed? Would you like to add yours?

Magazine subscriptions make a great gift or thank you for many occasions, and the donor and donee are remembered year round. All proceeds go to Kappas in need. Some benefit the Circle Key Grants which help alumnae in need of financial assistance in furthering their education. Aid is given to upperclassmen who face sudden financial emergency. Kappas in need of temporary or permanent financial help are also confidential recipients. We often hear the old adage, "Charity begins at home." Buying or selling a subscription is a concrete way for a Kappa sister to help another Kappa sister.

Price guides will be included in this mailing or sent as soon as I receive them. The enclosed supply order form may be mailed to me or you can call toll-free (1-800-KKG-ROSE). Orders can be charged to VISA or MASTER-CARD or paid by check. Payment must accompany all orders.

Our agency meets all special prices and often has even lower ones. Telephone me if you need more information. I hope your chapter has a very successful year, and I hope to hear from all of you.

Loyally,
Ann Mahle, ΔN-Mass.

An Angel from Korea

by Howard A. Rusk, M.D.

Shortly after his election in 1952, President Dwight D. Eisenhower asked me to go to the Republic of South Korea to study the health problems of that war-torn country. The trip was a shocker to me, because I had never seen people endure such suffering. Out of twenty million people, Korea had lost one million to the war. Two million more were rendered disabled. In any given town of 25,000 people I visited, there would probably be one doctor or perhaps one nurse to meet the health needs of the disabled population.

I came back to the United States determined to do all I could to improve the health conditions of that nation. This was to be my first of eight subsequent missions to Korea. On one such mission I met a young medical intern. Her name was Chung Hie Oh. I was struck by her warmth and caring, her unconditional dedication to her work she was attempting to do to assist those who were severely hurt. I decided then and there that she would be one of the first of the many thousands of medical personnel the World Rehabilitation Fund would train in physical rehabilitation medicine.

My wife Gladys, who accompanied me on many of these missions, shared my resolve that something must be done and done soon. As a devoted member of Kappa Kappa Gamma she turned to you for help. We were delighted that Kappa Kappa Gamma awarded a Fellowship grant to young Dr. Oh. Under the auspices of the WRF, she began what was to become a remarkable career in rehabilitation medicine. At the Rusk Institute in New York City where she trained, she was a brilliant student, and today, I am proud to say, she is recognized by her government to be "the foremost specialist in her field." Her work at the Korean University College of Medicine, where she serves as chairman of the Department of Rehabilitation Medicine, has become legendary in her own country. Thousands of people owe her their lives because Dr. Oh has given them the care, the ability and the inspiration to become useful and productive citizens. A compassionate and superb teacher, Dr. Oh has trained many specialists to treat disabled people and has given them the tools and the humanity so that the disabled people they treat live lives to the fullest of their capabilities.

Dr. Oh's hectic schedule at the University did not prevent her from visiting disabled people who reside in remote and rural communities — patients who are often too poor to travel to the Capitol in Seoul. For years she has used her weekends to move from community to community treating as many people as time will allow. "I use any media I can find to announce my visit," she says, and she continues, "I gather the disabled in a church or a community hall and treat everyone that comes."

With financial support from the World Rehabilitation Fund, she has followed up on her studies because she continues to strive for excellence in her work. Then, in 1980, I was delighted when she joined a group of my former students at the Rusk Institute of Rehabilitative Medicine to celebrate the World Rehabilitation Fund's 25th Anniversary. The money she spent to come to New York was her life time savings. "I would not have missed it for the world," she expressed to her colleagues when she was invited to say a few words expressing the sentiments of the occasion. "If you ask me what my motive was in devoting my life to rehabilitation medicine," she continued, "I would answer without hesitation, that it was because I was inspired by Dr. Rusk's work. I need not tell you I was deeply moved!"

In July 1986, Dr. Oh's visit to the Fund was not typical . . . clearly her handsome face was marked by the strain of years of ceaseless work.

"I come to you for help, Dr. Rusk," she began in whispered tones. "I am beginning to feel the limitations that my advancing years bring, and I am extremely fearful that my work in the rural areas of Korea will come to an end after I am gone . . . so much remains to be done . . . I am haunted by the vision of so many children who need my help, those who have no one to help them," she concluded.

I was dismayed by this revelation and assured her that I would not let her return to Korea without my promise that the Fund would do all it could to insure the establishment of a training program in Community Based Rehabilitation Services. Our goal was that this program would be initiated at the latest by the beginning of 1987. I remembered the Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity and its generosity when Gladys and I asked them to grant a fellowship to bring Dr. Oh to America for study. I resolved I would turn to them for help one more time.

Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity also remembered! Their response was heartwarming. On December 4th a most precious letter arrived on my desk. "Dear Dr. Rusk," it said, "It gives us great pleasure to inform you that Kappa Kappa Gamma's Council voted to again support the World Rehabilitation Fund, and Dr. Oh's work in particular, by giving her the financial support needed to launch the program which will train several rehabilitation specialists to carry on her work once she has retired. . . ."

My wife Gladys is no longer with us. But I know that if she were alive she would join me in grateful thanks to Wilma Johnson, Marian Williams and all the members of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity for their continued support of our work to assist the disabled people all over the world.

Dr. Rusk's unique contribution to help millions of disabled people as Founder of the Rusk Institute of Rehabilitation Medicine, New York University Medical Center and as Chairman of the World Rehabilitation Fund, is unparalleled in its dimension and scope. Because of his relentless pursuit in equalizing the status of disabled people everywhere, the rehabilitation of the physically handicapped, which he began after World War II, has spread world-wide. Because of his efforts, more than 4,000,000 crippled and maimed people in developing nations have been given a fighting chance — to become productive, self-supporting citizens.

High-Flying Kappas

PAMELA MITCHELL STEPHENS (ΔΕ-Rollins) is one of only three women in the United States piloting the Boeing 747 aircraft. She was the first woman test pilot for the Cessna Aircraft Company (see THE KEY, Summer 1983).

Pam is a pilot for Northwest Orient Airlines and calls the 747 jumbo jet "the whale". She is also the Airline Pilots Association's only female national spokesperson.

Three Kappas recently graduated from American Airlines flight attendant school in Dallas. In the same class were CAROL FOGARTY (ΓΝ-Arkansas), L. REGAN COUSENS (ΕΖ-Florida State), and TERRY MILLER (ΒΖ-Iowa).

Terry and Regan are now based at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport and Carol is at Chicago's O'Hare International Airport.

Also flying is Amy Yeager, ΒΕ-Texas.

CATHERINE COUNCELL MOLL (ΔΔ-Miami University) was featured in major magazines last fall where she appeared as a grandmother who wears Jockeys. Also appearing with her were granddaughters Catherine and Lindsay, ages six and four, children of her Kappa daughter CYNTHIA S. MOLL VITO (H-Wisconsin). Catherine is a personal banker at First Interstate Bank in Sheboygan, Wisconsin.

There she is — Miss Wyoming! In September, the lifelong dream of LACY REEVES (ΓΟ-Wyoming) came true as she represented her state at the Miss America Pageant. Using the scholarship money she received at the state pageant, Lacy plans to obtain a master's degree in counseling. Her bachelor's degree in social work has aided her work at the Cathedral Home in Laramie, where she works with troubled teenagers. As an undergraduate, Lacy was a chapter officer and active on the university dance team, Wildfire.

Not one to slow down, she is currently president of three organizations: Casper Retired Teacher's Association (which she founded in 1969), Daughters of Union Veterans, and Natrona County Historical Society. Kathleen's many years of dedication to her community were recognized by Beta Sigma Phi, which bestowed its Dianna Award for the first time in Wyoming, and was only the third award given nationally.

Criteria for nominations for this award are that the nominees be of national scope and currently active in their field. Many alumnae have earned outstanding local recognition, but this award requires more than local acclaim. Fields to consider among others are: arts and literature, civic and volunteer, business, science, professional and sports.

The Fraternity Council is presently seeking nominations from chapters, alumnae organizations, province officers and Fraternity chairmen. Please complete the following form and send it with a letter of support to: Eloise Netherton, 3933 Balcones Drive, Austin, TX 78731. All nominations must be received by May 30, 1987.

ΔA-Penn State, co-sponsored the 11th Annual Balloon Derby with Alpha Kappa Lambda Fraternity. They raised over $8,000 for the March of Dimes. Balloons were released from the Beaver Stadium before kick-off, to a crowd of 85,000 people!

ΓN-Arkansas, won first place in the Sigma Chi Derby Days. They received $500 to donate to the philanthropy of their choice. Who was the fortunate recipient? The Rose McGill fund!

Additionally, ΓN Kappas paired up with Delta Upsilon Fraternity to sponsor a Halloween party for underprivileged children.

Ψ<sup>Δ</sup>-Cornell, participates in a variety of philanthropies. They volunteer their time by visiting Ithacare, a community retirement home. Several chapter members assist with activities organized by the home or visit a particular resident. Additionally, they sponsor a Christmas celebration for underprivileged children in the community.

BA-Illinois, held an Easter party for 15 children from a battered wives' home in the Champaign-Urbana area. The children enjoyed an Italian dinner, Easter egg hunt and an egg coloring extravaganza.

Ψ<sup>Δ</sup> Kappas also organize a fund raising "Phone-a-thon" to benefit KKI philanthropy and the Big Sister/Little Sister program of Ithaca.

And, the Salvation Army receives a bundle at the end of each semester. As chapter members pack to go home, they sort through their belongings and leave what they do not use.

Unhoused Chapters

It is often assumed that every chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma is housed. This is far from true. In fact, 34 percent of our chapters are unhoused; which means they have a suite, dorm room, lodge, apartment or no facility at all. Additionally, if a chapter is fortunate to have a lodge, apartment or suite, no person resides in that facility and it can be used exclusively for Kappa business.

Let's take a look at the problems that confront members of our unhoused chapters. You may be surprised at their solutions!

COMMUNICATION is the number one concern. Many members feel left out of spontaneous events; they want to make sure they are included in all activities, news, and developments. New members experience this feeling even more intensely.

Members of unhoused chapters often believe that their communication problems would be solved if they simply had a chapter house or meeting place. Not true! Four walls don't alleviate communication problems.

The responsibility of effective communication falls to all members but most importantly to the officers and committee chairmen to start things off right. This is why a House Chairman is elected even in unhoused chapters. This person can be integral in coordinating an effective communication system within the chapter. Here are a few examples:

At Zeta Mu-Virginia Tech, they coordinate activities with the Fraternity

ZΛ-Washington and Jefferson Kappas frequent their duplex to study, watch soap operas, or practice for upcoming events!

Education Chairman such as:

- Each term the chapter selects someone to "volunteer her door." She is usually centrally located on campus and communicates news of activities by posting information on her door.

- Answering machines are the latest high-tech solution. Some chapters purchase answering machines and record the latest chapter news. The "Kappa Hotline" is a terrific way to receive and leave messages. For chapters without housing, this may be more difficult but some have worked through chapter members' phones or have purchased a separate phone line.

- Phone chains aren't always effective; however, chapters have found that committee communication is more effective. The chairman notifies a committee member of chapter news and she begins the dissemination of information within the committee.

Another important arena for communication is the chapter meeting. As members assemble each week, there is a tendency to pack as much information into one hour as possible. To make best use of the meeting time, it is essential to organize the agenda and to stick to it. Efficiency will be appreciated by everyone. Such organization can be accomplished by using committee meetings wisely and by firmly establishing a master calendar and distributing it to chapter members.

Other tips that could help you are:

- Announcement sheets are a great way to have all the facts at hand. Distinguish the "key" events from the optional ones.

- Brainstorming sessions are fine opportunities for chapters to review ideas. Zeta Mu-Virginia Tech designates a topic to discuss at one chapter meeting per month. All members were encouraged to attend this planning session.

UNITY is a product of effective communication. When officers work together, coordinate activities and utilize their committees, a sense of unity is more likely to develop.

As one active mentioned, "We may not have a house, but I think that we take advantage of the time we have together and make the most of it! I feel it's more quality time because you enjoy each other more when you can all get together."

The committees can work with the Fraternity Education and House committees to establish creative programs that encourage and reward participants. "Cozy's" are popular among unhoused and housed chapters alike. During a "cozy," members get together, pass a candle, a key or a gavel and say what is on their minds. Chapters will have a "cozy" to air concerns and to pass along compliments or to boost morale.

At E1-Puget Sound, the Kappas share half a dorm with the Pi Beta Phi's. It is better known as the "Monmouth Duo Dorm."

Although ZN-Virginia Tech does not have a chapter facility they get together often for dinner, movies and chapter activities.

The Recording and Corresponding Secretaries should work with the Personnel Committee by submitting chapter meeting attendance reports. Low attendance is a symptom of a problem. The Personnel Committee must address this symptom by analyzing the individual situations. Is the member notified of all activities? Does she seem unhappy with Kappa or with school? What is really going on?

Chapter retreats have been popular with many chapters. Schedule a convenient time when members can get away from campus for a night or for a weekend. Check with area alumnae for retreat suggestions. Plan communication games, discussions — and bring lots of food!

ARCHIVES can be one of the most difficult concerns for the unhoused chapter — especially for the chapter with no facility at all.

When a chapter is installed, the members receive many gifts as well as a variety of supplies from the Fraternity. "Finding a place to store archives and to keep track of them is a major concern," says Kay Tennison, EΔ-Arizona State. And of course, with no house or apartment, it's more difficult to keep track of gifts, too.

Chapters with a room, suite, lodge or apartment are able to store most of their archives. However, those without a facility may consider a mini-storage warehouse or an alumna's home. At any rate, an accurate inventory of the chapter's possessions must be maintained. A good time to review this inventory is during officer training. The registrar, marshal, fraternity education chairman and the president should all be educated on what the chapter possesses as well as where items are stored. More information can be shared if the outgoing and incoming officers meet and an adviser is present.

PROGRAMMING AND RESOURCES are a product of a chapter's creativity. As Kay Tennison relates, unhoused chapters should share creative ideas for "house" programs with one another and importantly with Kay, herself, so better resources can be compiled.

The Fraternity resources are written from information received by chapters, program team chairmen, house boards, and advisory boards. Information is sent to Kay Tennison (her address is in the Fraternity Directory at the end of this publication) and the more ideas she receives, the better resources she can produce.

Panhellenic meetings are a good resource area for sharing and collecting house program ideas. House Boards can provide ideas as they are a vital support system for unhoused chapters. For example, the House Board for ZH-Irvine gives a chapter dinner each quarter at a local church. They provide the meal at a nominal charge ($2-$5 depending on the menu), the charge coming from the chapter budget, approved in advance.

According to Debbie Miller, Chairman ΓΞ-UCLA, Fraternity Housing Chairman, "This is an example of real creativity. It is one of the few times the chapter can gather for dinner. It gives the House Board members a viable reason to remain active and to establish rapport with the chapter members. It's beneficial for both groups and offers examples of gracious living. Would you believe that one of the most enjoyable parts of the dinner is the singing of the Kappa Grace?"

House boards can coordinate creative activities with the house committee whether the chapter gets together for a cold picnic supper or for a study break. These gatherings provide support and encouragement.

House committees can strengthen good relationships with their House Board by thanking them for their efforts, recognizing them with a dinner or by including them in an orientation program.

Housed Chapters

How would you describe the ultimate Kappa house?

From the chapter you may hear, "A huge house with individual rooms for each member, 24 hour visitation, great food, a flexible House Director, MTV, and someone full time to answer the phone."

From the House Board, you would probably hear, "An endless cash flow, tight security, a spotless, popcorn-free lounge, a gracious House Director, and a working hot water heater."

From the House Director, you would more than likely hear, "A clean house, diligent housekeepers, great cooks, quiet hours after 8 or 9 p.m., lots of storage, cooperative chapter members, and no MTV."

As you know, ultimate perfection is impossible to attain. Especially since Kappa housing facilities vary tremendously across the U.S. and Canada. Each has its own of strengths and concerns.

Chapters need to focus on two more realistic goals — cooperation and responsibility.

It takes cooperation from the chapter, House Director, House and Advisory Boards, and in some instances, the university. It involves each members responsibility — whether that entails cleaning up after herself or making a visitor feel at ease.

How can we attain near-perfection? Take a look at the following areas and see how your chapter handles certain situations.

Gracious Living

Perhaps the phrase "Gracious Living" should be changed to "Ideal Living" since graciousness is often an ideal situation. Many associate the term gracious with white gloves checking for dust, when in reality it simply means cooperation and responsibility.

Gracious living is an attitude. It is something developed and supported by the chapter. With a variety of living habits (from gargling to waking up early, to going to sleep late) gracious living involves each member's cooperative effort. It is the essential attitude that keeps the house running smoothly.

How do you establish this attitude?

First, the entire chapter must decide what they feel is "gracious living." Brainstorming their own expectations and rules will establish a more effective, positive attitude.

Members need to discuss concerns openly and provide their own solution. Having the House Board or House Director solve it for the chapter will not be as effective.

Ask the chapter to brainstorm a variety of questions, such as:

- How can we handle noise and other disturbances?
- How do we communicate to our House Director? Is she informed? Do we communicate upcoming chapter activities?
- How responsible are we with cleaning up?

ΓΨ-Maryland's KKT house is an attractive home located in College Park.

- Are we keeping the house secure?
- What is our biggest concern with the telephone?
- What concerns us about the everyday operations of the house?
- How can we encourage positive relations with our House Board?
- What do we like best about our house?
- What do we wish we could change?

House responsibilities are a primary target to shoot for when establishing a cooperative attitude. These responsibilities are to be shared by the chapter as a whole — not exclusively pledges or in-house members. Gracious living evolves when house responsibilities are fulfilled. Here are a few tips to remember:

- Many chapters have the pledges fulfill their responsibilities with an active member. This way they fulfill a responsibility while benefitting from the experience of a Kappa friend.
- Make sure each person is aware of her responsibilities. Post a check list or description of things to accomplish.
- Make a map of the house with each girl's room and phone number.
- Instead of assigning duties to chapter members, let each member choose the duty or pick the time! Members are more likely to support what they have chosen, than what was assigned to them.
- Thank members for their cooperation. People feel good when they are recognized for working! Then announce next week's "line-up."

House Orientation

"I remember walking in to the Kappa house for the first time after rush was over. I felt so overwhelmed! I wasn't sure what to do, so I immediately ran to the restroom. After brushing my hair, straightening my skirt and putting on new lipstick, I thought, 'Oh geez . . . now what am I going to do?!' " commented one Kappa pledge.

We can all remember how we felt walking in to the Kappa house for the first time — there were no Kappas singing in the front lawn to greet us! Yet we also remember that someone who took us under their wing and showed us around.

Whether a chapter has a house, lodge, suite apartment or room, house orientation is a must. It is the time when new members are introduced to the chapter facility and returning members are refreshed on policies and procedures.

How Do You Present Orientation?

The most logical time for an orientation is at the beginning of each term when the chapter returns to school. Separate orientations can be organized for pledges and new members, for residents and for out-of-house members. This way you can target specific needs of each member.

The goal of house orientation is for all members to be aware of policies, procedures, and rules pertaining to the facility. There are several creative ways to accomplish this:

- Skits are a terrific way to pass information. Have the house committee act out situations that concern them such as noise, security, hostessing, etiquette, etc.

- Booklets can be coordinated with the help of the Fraternity Education committee. Many chapters compile an "Active Supplement" which is similar to the "Pledge Supplement". Each committee contributes an item such as a phone roster, calendar of events, background information on the Advisory and House Boards, and policies, standing rules and bylaws.

- The house committee can contribute house rules, meal sign-in procedure, guest etiquette, hostessing and house responsibilities, or a map of the house.

- Other creative ideas for house orientation are posters, songs — lots of visuals! Have the house committee split up the chapter or pledge class and take them on a tour of the house. Each committee member can have a script, or a list of things to cover. Better yet, include your House Board in guiding the tour! It is a terrific way to encourage a positive working relationship.

"House Buddies" are a popular way to introduce new members to the house. The house buddy is a member who lives in the house and will offer her room to an out-of-house member. She is also able to answer questions, explain procedures, or guide you on a tour of the facility.

At  $\Delta$ II, University of Tulsa, the house buddies are found from clues. At the end of the clue your house buddy graces you with a shower bucket, toothpaste, a tooth brush, a hand towel, soap etc. This is a great way to encourage out-of-house members to feel welcome.

Make a list of areas to cover in a house orientation. Your check list might include the following:

- Introduce the House Board
- Introduce the House Director
- Review Chapter house rules and policies as they apply to the following:
  - Financial responsibilities
  - Hostessing procedures
  - General guest etiquette
  - Quiet hours
  - House Director etiquette
  - Overnight guests and guest meals
  - Meal sign-in procedures
  - Introduce the house porters
  - Kitchen rules and equipment
  - Laundry room equipment
  - Storage facilities
  - Bedroom, suite and room maintenance
  - Bathroom procedures
  - Safety and security procedures
  - Parking lot

Live-In Rules

How do you decide who shall live in your Kappa facility?

Chapters are responsible for establishing their own live-in policy. Once this policy is developed, then all the house rules should be adopted by the chapter and placed in your chapter Standing Rules. The house committee reviews the live-in rules and procedures each year along with any recommendations from the Advisory Board and House Board, as appropriate. Because it is the chapter's responsibility to pay rent to the House Board whether or not the house is full, it is vital to have your chapter's live-in rules in working order.

"From the letters I have received, many chapters have more actives wanting to live in their facility than they can accommodate," says Kay Tension,  $\Delta\Delta$ -Arizona State, Chairman of Chapter House Programs. Every active member should have the opportunity to reside in the Kappa facility. Many chapters have established a point system in order to determine who shall live in the facility. Points are given to members in good standing.

They can be broken down by class:

• Senior	20
• Junior	15
• Sophomore	10
• Freshman	5

They can be broken down by initiated terms:

• Second Semester Senior	35
• First Semester Senior	30
• Second Semester Junior	25
• First Semester Junior	20
• Second Semester Sophomore	15
• First Semester Sophomore	10
• Second Semester Freshman	5

They can be stipulated by House Duties:

• Phone/Hostessing	5
• House Committee Duties	5

They can be broken down by miscellaneous points:

• Elected officer	5
• Committee Chairman	2

To solve a "tie breaker" if two members have equal points, draw straws. Remember, grade point averages should never be used as a tie-breaker, nor should they be used in determining points.

BΘ-Oklahoma, organizes a "House Boy Appreciation Dinner." The House Committee serves their houseboys a delightful dinner!

House Meetings

There is no better time to discuss matters that pertain to residents than during a monthly house meeting. This is the time for in-house members to express concerns, ideas, suggestions and praise regarding the functioning of the facility. It is the time when specific areas can be addressed without involving the entire chapter.

How Do You Conduct House Meetings?

Take note of a few creative twists to make your house meetings significant!

- Hold a brainstorming session to identify areas of concern. Divide into small groups, and have each group write down three solutions. The primary goal is to communicate concerns and solutions. Remember: "People will support what they have created."
- Hand out awards to members who have fulfilled their house duties. Ask for suggestions on areas that need improvement.
- Start a "wish list" for the House Board. List the things the chapter or in-house members would like to have. The House Board may not be able to completely fulfill your wishes, but it keeps communications lines open and informs them of your needs!
- Start a "Kappa Cravings" list for the House Director. Give her an idea of the foods you would like to have served. House Directors welcome suggestions . . . especially creative ones!
- Have treats available at the house meeting.
- Invite a speaker to address a topic (keep it brief . . . 15-20 minutes is usually a good time frame). Ask in-house members what topics they would like addressed. You may consider security, nutrition, cooking tips, etc.
- Keep meetings in a reasonable time frame . . . do not let them run past an hour. Make sure you are meeting at a convenient time so all can attend.
- Have a member of the house committee take notes on what was discussed. Check your progress and give recognition to areas that have improved!

House Directors

How Do You Interact With Your House Director?

There is something special about a woman who can serve as a House Director (i.e., administrator, budget manager, friend, mother, counselor, official house hostess, ambassador, and rush skit critic).

Positive relations with the House Director start with communication, cooperation, and thoughtfulness!

What are simple ways to encourage and maintain communication?

- Compile a "House Director Handbook". Fill it with a chapter roster, calendar of events, calendar of house duties, list of house duties, a "wish list" of favorite foods of the chapter . . . ask her what she would like information on!
  - Have the house chairman or members of the house committee meet with her once a week (preferably after Chapter Council). Have them review upcoming activities with her so she is current with all events. Explain special requests to her (i.e., ordering more food, creating a specialized menu, setting up additional tables and chairs, etc.).
  - Let the House Director attend part of Chapter Council. Give her the opportunity to express concerns, ask questions, and provide input when it involves house activities.
  - Invite her to your program nights! Let her attend programs you think may interest her!
  - Invite her to your philanthropic or other student activities! Ask her to join you for a campus play, concert, or movie.
  - Set up a schedule so that two members plan a special treat for the House Director each week. Involve committee members to take her out shopping, bring her flowers, or just talk!
  - Make her birthday and holidays special! Surprise her with a serenade . . . have each class write her a song! Organize a funny skit in her honor!
  - Coordinate a House Director Appreciation day each month . . . thank her for something she did above and beyond the call of duty!
  - "House Director Appreciation Week" is a favorite among chapters. Each class plans an event for her such as bringing her breakfast in bed, writing her a poem, taking her to lunch, etc.
  - Have the seniors make her a scrapbook of their four years in college!
  - Make a quilt for her . . . have each member paint, embroider, or sew a square for her and combine them!
  - Does she have grandchildren? Invite them to an Easter egg hunt, Christmas party, etc.
  - Organize a brunch, tea, dessert in her honor . . . invite other House Directors to join!
- There is nothing more heart-warming than a sincere thank you. Let your House Director know that she is appreciated and needed.

Panhellenically Speaking

It was in 1891 that Kappa Kappa Gamma invited all of the Greek-letter women's college fraternities to meet in Boston, the first meeting of the organization that has now become the National Panhellenic Conference. Our undergraduate members are active in College Panhellenics on every campus where Kappa has a chapter. Working together, members of women's fraternities make Panhellenic stand for something worthwhile in the life of that campus:

- by upholding good scholarship
- by setting high standards of ethical conduct
- by working in harmony and understanding with each other to further the ideals of fraternity.

Of equal importance are the Alumnae Panhellenics located in communities in the United States, Canada and some other countries. One hundred seventy Kappa Alumnae Associations and Clubs send delegates to Alumnae Panhellenics which are affiliated with NPC. Citations of Merit were awarded to these Alumnae Panhellenics for high achievement and consistent cooperation with their NPC Area Advisers:

Albuquerque, NM	Honolulu, HI
Atlanta, GA	Houston, TX
Birmingham, MI	Indianapolis, IN
Bloomington-Normal, IL	London, UK
Chicago NW Suburban, IL	Montgomery, AL
Clear Lake Area, TX	Muncie, IN
Clearwater, FL	Newport Harbor, CA
Dallas, TX	Philadelphia, PA
Denver, CO	Richardson, TX
Detroit, MI	Richmond, VA
East Bay, CA	Toledo, OH
Escandido, CA	Toronto, CAN
Greater Kansas City, MO	Tulsa, OK
	Wilmington, DE

The fraternity system prospers through the efforts of these and other Alumnae Panhellenics. Their activities are such that the attention of the non-fraternity world is focused on the accomplishments and contributions of fraternity members. In Tulsa, the Red Cross turned to Alumnae Panhellenic for volunteer assistance during heavy flooding, knowing they could count on response. In other communities staffing is provided for libraries, telethons, medical testing, food and clothing delivery to needy families, and a variety of other services. In 1985, three hundred fifty-four scholarships were awarded for a total of $150,571 and 150 English pounds. Working together, fraternity women are a force for good in their communities. We salute them.

Alumnae Urged To Return Data for Directory

All alumnae should have received a request for the essential information required to insure complete data in the new alumna directory tentatively scheduled for release in 1987. We sincerely hope that everyone has replied.

Publication of the directory will be handled by Harris Publishing Company of White Plains, New York. This company is the sole authorized agent for the production and marketing of the directory, and assumes all financial obligation, including the compilation, editing, billing, and distribution of the volume and will cover its costs through individual book sales to alumnae only. This plan will assure the publication of a professionally compiled volume.

During the next several months alumnae will be contacted by telephone for verification of the information to be printed in the directory. At that time, and at that time only, they will be asked if they wish to purchase a copy. The number of directories printed will be based on the number of advance orders received via the phone calls.

Alumnae who have not returned their questionnaires and are not reached by telephone by the Harris firm will be listed in the directory with the address, if current, provided by alumnae records. If you have not received your questionnaire or you do not wish to appear in the directory, please notify us in writing.

KAPPA HOSTS PANAHELLENIC FOUNDATION CONFERENCE

Fifty representatives of twenty-three National Panhellenic Conference groups met in Indianapolis in September, with Kappa Kappa Gamma as host and Fraternity vice president Eloise Nether-ton, BE-Texas, chairman of the meeting held at the Hyatt Regency Indianapolis.

The Panhellenic Foundation Conference exists to promote a greater awareness of common issues and concerns that face Panhellenic Foundations in today's world. The goal of the conference is to promote education, sharing and learning on a non-competitive basis.

Conference participants attended programs on tax law and accounting concerns pertinent to non-profit foundations; saw video tapes produced by member groups; and participated in panel discussions on "hot" topics concerning Panhellenic Foundations today.

The 1986 conference was the third such meeting held. Gamma Phi Beta hosted the first conference in Denver in 1984, Alpha Phi the second in Oakbrook, IL in 1985. Next year's conference will be hosted by Phi Mu and is sure to be another success as Panhellenic Foundations work together in a spirit of mutual cooperation and friendship.

The Subject of a Fraternity Room Was "Agitated"

by Gini La Charité, TK, William and Mary
Fraternity Historian

"We are scattered through the village in private houses" is a Kappa lament uttered over and over again during the first two decades of the Fraternity. Most colleges and universities did not even have dormitories for women, who, after all, were struggling for the right to higher education. Early chapters consisted of members who were either town girls living at home or members who boarded in the town. Alpha's first formal meeting, for example, was held on the croquet field behind Louise Stevenson's home, and from that time to the present Kappas have met in chapels, laundries, attics, recitation rooms, bedrooms, libraries, and corridors, as well as in the private homes of members and "patronesses" (advisers). Gamma Kappa-William and Mary is on record as having met one term in the town's old Debtor Prison, while Gamma Gamma-Whitman had to meet "al fresco," on deserted fields around town when an anti-fraternity administration decreed that no meetings of secret societies could be held on the campus! Even Province Meetings and Conventions, as well as grandiose banquets to mark special occasions, were held in private homes.

As the number of women students on the campus increased and the Greek system itself grew, "ladies' halls" (dormitories) began to spring up, and Kappas sought access to a college "hall" (large room or set of rooms) for meetings — privileges which men's fraternities had long enjoyed. When Iota-DePauw took over a whole section of a dormitory, their mothers despaired, for such an arrangement was "utterly impractical . . . for women," and, indeed, the noble experiment lasted only one semester. Still, chapters which met in private homes or in members' rooms or even in "halls" complained about leading a "migratory existence," forced to move from place to place due to increased chapter size and the accumulation of pillows, pennants, mementos, and "treasures": "The room each year is a different one." Archives were kept in trunks, chests, and tin boxes and all storage was "in town." Many early documents and records were lost because of the frequent "migrations."

The idea of a permanent meeting place concerned all chapters during the late 1880s and throughout the 1890s: The same refrain appeared in chapter reports in The Key: "another migration"; "we need a larger and more convenient dwelling"; we are "faced with frequent flitting." In addition, there were at times problems with preceptresses, those female instructors in charge of ladies' halls, the forerunners of house directors; they were highly reluctant to permit young women to leave the premises in the evening, much less for secret meetings! And, the use of campus rooms was increasingly viewed with alarm, for "the very walls have ears!"

Those chapters able to secure a "local habitation" reported glowingly, "each article brings some pleasant reminiscence to mind [of] our jolly good times," while others coped with the problems of having to raise the dues, anywhere from $1.00 to $6.00 per month, in order to pay the rent. One chapter discovered to its dismay that its newly-rented chapter room had no furnace for heat in the winter! "A home without housekeeping" rapidly became the Kappa dream, and the subject continued to be "agitated" at province gatherings, in chapter meetings, and in the pages of The Key, especially as the "lucky ones" managed to rent club houses and "wee cottages." Regardless of the facility, alumnae scoured garages and attics for furnishings, house committees were formed to paint tables and chairs, and parents and friends generously donated all sorts of objects ("bric-à-brac"), as well as money for curtains and rugs.

In 1889, Tade Hartsuff Kuhns, M-Butler, the first Grand President, stunned the Kappa world by asking members to "think of a fund that would enable us to build chapter-houses." Debate over housing, "a centre" for the "work of the organization" and "a place to keep Kappa property" sparked lively discussions. Articles in The Key ranged from enthusiastic descriptions of the "ideal chapter room" (usually in two shades of blue with a piano and a fireplace) and cozy meeting places ("piled high with books, sweaters, and skates . . . during winter . . . filled as full with books, tennis racquets, and golf-sticks in summer") to fervent disclaimers of the need for housing: "In a certain sense, externals are unimportant in Kappa Kappa Gamma . . . so we can live without chapter halls and chapter houses. We can meet in furnished or unfurnished rooms, in one place one week and another the next." Even Fraternity operations and administration were conducted from the homes of Grand Council members and their "deputies" (province officers).

As housing continued as a focal point of discussion at the end of Kappa's third decade, The Key in 1899 carried the breathless announcement that Beta Eta-Stanford had built its own chapter house! And to Beta Eta goes the honor of Kappa's first chapter to own and build its own facility. Other chapters quickly followed Beta Eta's lead and were trendsetters in the housing area: Eta-Wisconsin was the first woman's fraternity to build on campus (1901); Iota-DePauw, Beta Xi-Texas, Gamma Psi-Maryland, and Gamma Omega-Denison were the first to build on their campuses; Beta Upsilon-West Virginia was the first on its campus to rent a house, and Beta Nu-Ohio State was the first on its campus to buy a house. Delta Upsilon-Georgia has the distinction of the first on its campus to use the services of a professional decorator, while Gamma Epsilon-Pittsburgh was the first in the fraternity world to build a duplex jointly with another National Panhellenic Conference group, Kappa Alpha Theta. Beta Phi-Montana recently had its house listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Kappa Kappa Gamma became the first fraternity to negotiate a mortgage loan, the first to establish a central office (1922), and the first to establish permanent headquarters (1952), our present beautiful Victorian home at 530 East Town Street, Columbus, Ohio. However, as a mirror of the "migratory habits" of the active chapters, the Fraternity's first central office was in the home of Della Lawrence Burt, Beta Xi-Texas, who once reported that her dining room was totally given over to Fraternity files and business.

Today, some chapters enjoy large, stately homes, while others continue to experiment with a permanent meeting place. Just as members met 100 years ago, Kappa actives now meet in classrooms, alumnae homes, basements, lodges, apartments, and suites. Unlike the rules of long ago, chapter meeting places are not closed during class hours to ensure that the members attend class, and chapter houses no longer permit only one date night per week.

Regardless of the physical meeting place, Kappas have a tradition of learning to "make a 'home' anywhere." As an editorial in The Key in 1886 wisely stated: "Not every chapter can have a home . . . but every chapter should be a home." Indeed, it has been faithfully recorded in the annals of Kappa Kappa Gamma that "the true home spirit is in the fraternity itself."

"Shall Fraternity Organizations Be Put to Further Use?"

by Gini La Charité, TK, William and Mary
Fraternity Historian

Less than 100 years ago, women's Greek groups wrestled with the burning question: "Shall Fraternity Organizations Be Put to Further Use?" Founded as secret social societies at a time when women were just gaining a foothold in institutions of higher learning and only beginning to contemplate the possibility of careers, the issue of service to the outside world surfaced as each group faced an increasing number of alumnae members and a growing interest in interfraternity cooperation. Kappa and other Greek alumnae in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, and Chicago were involved with college or social settlements and felt strongly that women had to expand their horizons beyond the campus and the domestic scene. Many early Kappas were pioneers in settlement work and wrote long, stirring articles in The Key about the rewards of charitable service and the need for the Fraternity to adopt altruistic aims: "The true Kappa is a real missionary and . . . philanthropy of some sort is essential to the life of every good woman."

In 1893, Beta Alpha-Penn State endowed a table in botany at the Marine Laboratory at Woods Hole, Massachusetts, and the privileges of the table were available to both men and women. From this $50.00 gift by an active chapter came the Fraternity's first major philanthropy in 1902: the Woods Hole or Scholarship Fund Committee. However, the idea of funding a scholarship program goes back to 1889, when Tade Hartsuff Kuhns, M-Butler, a former Grand President, first expressed the hope that someday the Fraternity might be able to make loans to needy members enabling them to remain in school. In 1893, Chi-Minnesota wrote to The Key for opinions from other chapters about starting chapter-endowed scholarships; Delta-Indiana responded in 1894 with the bold suggestion that the Fraternity itself consider endowing scholarships for its members. It was only a matter of time before the twin interests in the "wonderful attractions of philanthropy" and endowed scholarships for members came together.

The Convention of 1910 voted to change the Woods Hole Scholarship Fund into the Students' Aid Fund, and the first loan was made to a member of Iota-DePauw. At the Convention of 1916, the delegates voted to include nonKappas as beneficiaries of Fraternity student loans. With World War I, Kappas entered their first international philanthropic project, "The Kappa Aunts of Bellevue"; under the inspired leadership of Dorothy Canfield Fisher, BN-Ohio State, alumnae and actives supported the families of a war-torn area of France, and even the Convention of 1918 was cancelled and funds designated for that meeting were given to the French War Relief Fund.

The Golden Jubilee Convention of 1920 took as its byword, "Onward," for the future was very bright indeed. The "Great War" had ended, women had won the right to vote, and Kappas had proven that their "ideals of honor and service [had] but found a wider field in community and world activities." The era of internationalism and philanthropic goodwill had dawned, and Kappa Kappa Gamma found that she was already committed to putting herself as a fraternity organization to much "further use."

A Life — Not a Statistic

by Lois Catherman Heenehan
BS-Adelphi

Statistics are a fact of life . . . and death. Numbers may not matter much. People do.

Statistics say that almost 5,000 Americans from age 15 to 24 committed suicide in 1983, the last year for which figures are available. It's a shock to think that so many promising young people take their own lives, and worse when it's someone close to you . . . someone in your class, a friend, a relative.

Suicide is the third leading cause of death among young Americans and it is now occurring in "clusters" . . . situations where several young people in a community commit suicide during a short period of time. Suspicion seems to be growing each year: teenage suicide may be contagious.

Cluster suicides are not a new phenomenon. Reports are found as early as 665 in England, when thousands threw themselves from cliffs rather than face the horrible "Black Death" . . . bubonic plague. In 1190 in York, more than 500 Jews committed suicide to avoid religious persecution. In 1928, 150 persons committed suicide by drowning in the Danube River over a period of two months. In Moscow, 70 children in one school district committed suicide from 1908-1910. Other situations have all the appearances of cluster suicides, although they were not labeled as such.

Cluster suicides are those which occur in fairly close proximity of time and space. Despite frequent reports of clusters in recent years, no one knows just how often they do occur. The following incidents are thought by some experts to be "just the tip of the iceberg":

- 3 suicides in one high school within 5 days in Omaha, Nebraska in February 1986.
- 5 in 1985 in Richardson, Texas.
- 6 in seven months in Plano, Texas in 1983.
- 2 in five weeks in Bucks County, Pennsylvania.
- 9 in seven weeks on an Indian reservation in Wyoming; 20 others believed to have been attempted.
- 2 best friends within eight days in Fairfax County, Virginia in the fall of 1985 (11 during the 1980-1981 school year).

- 6 in a Houston suburb during 2½ months in 1984.
- 5 in Wisconsin Rapids, Wisconsin in the winter of 1985; 10 others attempted.
- 4 in one month in 1984 in Westchester County, New York.

And that is incomplete.

Growing public concern has led to the development of suicide prevention programs and research into the possible causes of suicide clusters. Some of the most important research in the field is being done in the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) in Atlanta.

Dr. Lucy Davidson (Dyer), EE-Emory, is the project director of a two-year study underway in the Violence Epidemiology Branch of the CDC. A recipient of a Kappa graduate fellowship, Lucy has earned degrees in English, elementary education and medicine. Her teaching background includes work in language arts and in the social sciences. Married, and the mother of a young son, Lucy is a medical epidemiologist at the CDC, and a clinical assistant professor in psychiatry at Emory University School of Medicine. She is part of a task force doing primary research in adolescent suicides, with emphasis on cluster suicides and the "contagion" factor.

Among the aims of current studies are the discovery of:

- how often clusters occur and why.
- means of complete reporting and accurate classification of suicides.
- means of identifying those teens at highest risk.
- methods of documenting details of behavior and events leading to cluster suicides.
- development of intervention programs and evaluation of their effectiveness.

Despite the fact that research in this field is fairly new, some trends and patterns have begun to appear. Cluster suicides occur more frequently in the spring months . . . March, April and May. "Contagion" is never the only factor. Cluster suicides are not simple imitation, although they may show a "modeling" attitude. A teen may see himself as similar to someone who died . . . having the same problems and feelings. Suicidal teens seem to suffer a sort of tunnel vision. The lack of self-concept keeps them from seeing over stress. They can't see beyond the current crisis and therefore accept a permanent solution for a temporary problem. Although the first suicide victim in a cluster may be a troubled teenager, those who follow may show no signs of distress. "They are not typically sad, withdrawn kids," says Dr. Davidson. A different type of teenager appears to be at risk in cluster suicides. Developing means of identifying "susceptible individuals" is crucial in suicide prevention efforts.

In attempting to determine who is at risk, it is interesting to note the application of terms used in usual contagious situations to suicide risk. "Host susceptibility" includes genetic indications such as depression. "Infectious agents" may be direct or indirect. Direct (person-to-person) infection might be indicated in teen deaths following the suicide of someone in their social group. Indirect exposure might be through the media as they report the suicide of a famous person.

"Virulence" of an infectious agent may be greater when the first suicide in a possible cluster is a highly thought of role model . . . someone such as the class president. "Dose dependency" plays a role . . . the risk may increase as the number of suicides increases. Exposure through media attention can contribute.

As in determining the cause and developing a cure or prevention for any disease, procedures must be mapped out and followed according to carefully constructed patterns of research. A major problem in studying suicide clusters is that there is no systematic surveillance or reporting system for suicide clusters. Dr. Davidson reports that at present "the lack of a standard operational definition for the time and space parameters of a suicide cluster limits researchers in their ability to catalogue and compare situations." In addition, suicides are not always reported as such. This can occur out of concern for the feelings of the family or may be the result of misinterpretation of events. For example, single motor vehicle crashes may be the result of suicidal intent but may be listed as common accidents. Drug and alcohol overdoses, handling loaded guns, and playing in dangerous places, may each result in accidental death or suicide. The question is the individual's "intent". Just as an autopsy is performed to determine physical evidence of death, it has been suggested that a "psychological autopsy" be conducted to determine the details of behavior and events prior to and surrounding the individual's death. This is a very difficult task to undertake with the severely distraught family and friends of a suicide victim. Nevertheless, some seemingly unrelated facts can provide clues to the individual's state of mind and emotions.

Although researchers continue to seek guidelines for reporting suicides, determining risk factors, and identifying those most susceptible to imitative suicide attempts, the problem of teen suicides is too serious to leave untended while digging for basic causes. This multi-phased problem requires multi-directional attack, and suicide prevention programs are one method of approach.

In Westchester County, New York, the mother of a teen suicide victim sparked a campaign for a prevention program. A New York State pilot project has trained 5,000 educators, community representatives and mental health professionals in handling adolescent depression. Suicide hotlines are being manned by professionals and trained volunteers. Concerned parents and educators in several communities in Fairfield County, Connecticut are meeting to discuss the problem and create useful programs.

Bergen County, New Jersey, an area of "bedroom communities" across the river from New York City, has offered a suicide prevention program in more than 200 schools. In these days of acronyms, the Adolescent Suicide Awareness Program (ASAP) can also take on meaning as used in business and government . . . As Soon As Possible. And that is how the growing threat of teen suicides must be dealt with.

Sponsored by the South Bergen Mental Health Center, the Adolescent Suicide Awareness Program brings together local mental health experts, educators, counselors, parents and students in a series of small discussion groups. Ironically, some experts in the field think that prevention programs may act as a catalyst . . . planting ideas of suicide in the minds of depressed children. However, those involved in the New Jersey program feel that they may in some way measure their success by the number of young people who approach them after a program and ask about friends whose behavior has been a source of concern, or who admit to their own feelings of depression and ask for help. One young man involved in a suicide prevention program compared its effects to those of using seat belts in a car or to taking a course in cardiopulmonary resuscitation. The aim is to help save a life.

A major thrust in suicide prevention is to recognize warning signs and obtain qualified help. A number of recognized research and medical societies have compiled a list of clues pointing to persons at risk. Among them are:

1. Preparations for death, inappropriate to or unexpected in the context of the person's life. Examples include giving away possessions or making provisions for the care of pets.
2. Expressions of farewell or desire to die, or acknowledgement of impending death such as, "You'll be sorry when I'm gone," or "I can't face the future."

3. Expressions of hopelessness such as "It just doesn't matter anymore," or "What's the use?" and actions such as giving up plans or activities.
4. Expressions of great emotional or physical pain or distress such as "This is too much to take," or "I can't live like this anymore," may indicate such pain and the inability to find relief.
5. Efforts to procure or learn about means of death or rehearsal of fatal behavior.
6. Precautions to avoid rescue.
7. Plan for highly lethal means of suicide.
8. Previous suicide attempt.
9. Previous suicide threat.
10. Stressful events or significant losses. Teen suicides especially, often occur after a loss, such as the death of a loved one, a break with a girl-or boyfriend, parental divorce, or even the anticipation of difficult changes.

11. Serious depression or mental disorder. This does not mean a brief period of sadness, but a serious loss of pleasure and interest in usual activities, lasting at least two weeks. Sleep disturbances, difficulty in concentrating, loss of energy, loss of appetite, and marked change in weight may be some of the signs. Oddly enough, suicide may occur when a person appears to be recovering or regaining energy.

The primary need for any teenager is to have someone listen to her and take her seriously. This becomes an absolutely crucial need for the teen who is at high risk as a potential suicide. Having someone to talk with, who will listen and yet remain nonjudgmental, who shows concern but not excessive sympathy, and who shows caring, may help to defuse a crisis and allow more time for rational thought.

Several points are emphasized in dealing with someone who is contemplating suicide:

- Take heed of warning signs. Never believe "It can't happen here."
- Don't be afraid to violate a confidence. Never promise a suicidal person that you won't tell anyone of her intentions.
- Take action. Get help. As a teen, turn to a parent or to a professional, preferably one experienced in dealing with suicide prevention.

It can happen here. The adolescent suicide rate has tripled over the last 30 years. "Youth suicide clusters are a particularly grievous loss of life and potentially more preventable," says Dr. Davidson. With research of the type conducted at the Centers for Disease Control, with increased focus on prevention programs and increased awareness on the part of the public, the terrible toll among our young people can be lessened.

Watch for warning signs. Find someone who can help. Remember, we may not care about statistics. We do care about people.

Kappa House Boards — an Active Part of the Fraternity Picture

by Deborah Wamser Miller, ΓΞ-UCLA

Members of Kappa Kappa Gamma house boards are among the busiest volunteers in the Fraternity! More than 700 alumnae are currently serving as elected trustees of our House Corporations and Associations and have the large responsibility of caring for the land, buildings and personal property of our chapters.

Since chapter property comes in all sizes and shapes, the actual job of the boards ranges from providing storage facilities for the archives and initiation and rush equipment of our eight totally unboxed chapters<sup>1</sup> to making sure the wiring is sound and the furnaces functioning at our larger chapter houses. Working creatively to provide a gracious Kappa experience for an unboxed chapter or caring for a meeting room, apartment or suite can be just as time consuming as maintaining a house sleeping 50 or more.

As loving landlords, house board members watch over everything from silver trays to aging boilers. A new board member can quickly become an expert in fire safety, security systems, liability issues and employee relations, in addition to learning which plumbers provide 24-hour service and which painters are the most dependable!

Required by their bylaws and state laws for corporations to meet at least four times per year, all but a few boards have sufficient business to meet monthly during the school year. Whether their chapter rents or owns its property, has a house or a room, a lodge or a suite, there is always plenty to do! Even summer is often busy for board members serving the housed chapters, since most of the routine maintenance, redecorating and major remodeling is left to be done when the facility is empty.

Besides having fun as a group while providing for the chapter's housing needs, house board members also work closely with the chapter house chairman, president and treasurer, all of whom are ex officio members of the board and attend all meetings. The house adviser, chapter council adviser and finance adviser are likewise ex officio members. By having input from the chapter and advisory board, the lines of communication between the chapter and house board remain open, and a vitally important atmosphere of cooperation can be established.

Far from a dull or routine experience, serving on house boards might involve anything from stripping wallpaper, to helping choose carpets and draperies, to analyzing investments for house board funds. From supervising roofers to speaking to the chapter at a house orientation meeting — it's all part of the job to these active ladies!

Most boards have committee chairmen assigned to specific areas of responsibility (such as maintenance, decorating or inventories) and rotate these positions each year or two, so members are constantly learning and growing.

For information on serving as a member of a house board in your area, contact the chapter president of the chapter nearest you or the Fraternity housing chairman. You'll be glad you did!

House Board Seminars at Convention/Award Winners

Convention 1986 — enlightening, exciting, exhilarating, enjoyable, exhausting! More than 50 house board representatives and several active chapter house chairmen participated in the House Board seminar held during the 56th Biennial Convention in Philadelphia.

House board members attended from all seventeen provinces and represented 48 chapters of all sizes and living situations. The workshops for house board representatives focused on subjects ranging from general tips for running more effective meetings to very specific information on handling nonmember income and taxes. Workshops on Security, Fund Raising, Insurance, House Directors, Employee Relations and Recruiting rounded out the formal program.

Felt by many to be the most valuable aspect of the convention experience, "interact" time — when house board representatives talked among themselves about subjects of mutual concern — was liberally sprinkled throughout the program. It was during interacts that the ideas really flowed, and everyone shared problems and solutions with members of other boards.

Besides attending all the House Board sessions, representatives also attended all business meetings and general Convention events.

Earning special recognition at Convention were the house boards of Gamma Theta (Drake), winner of the Catherine Kelder Walz House Board award, and Gamma Pi (Alabama), Zeta Eta (California-Irvine), and Gamma Beta (New Mexico), receiving honorable mention. Also receiving certificates were Beta Pi (Washington) and Beta Delta (Michigan).

All of the award-winning boards share similar qualities which led to their selection as winners. They all focus on cooperation with the chapter, the advisory board and the house director, as well as with each other. All have good delegation on their boards, with each member responsible for a given area of operations. All have strong officers who rotate frequently, and all recognize that the work of their board is indeed "big business", and have effective financial planning. Each board holds annual meetings for the entire corporation, and each has a regularly set monthly meeting day. All of the boards welcome the ex officio members at their meetings, and all have good communication with the active chapter, as well as a cooperative attitude.

1. Chapters without housing or meeting facilities of any kind are: Beta Eta (Stanford), Delta Beta (Duke), Epsilon Kappa (South Carolina), Zeta Eta (California-Irvine), Zeta Theta (Trinity), Zeta Iota (Villanova), Zeta Nu (California-San Diego), Zeta Mu (Virginia Tech), Zeta Xi (Yale), Zeta Omicron (Richmond).

Delta Pi (Univ. of Tulsa) owns its own Kappa lodge which is connected to the university-owned dorm where 32 chapter members live. Though this situation is unique because of the connecting residence hall, many of our chapters have lodges or suites where meetings and initiation are held.

Eta House Board president, Joanne Lawson, and Epsilon Director of Chapters, Gail Owen (University of Wisconsin).

Kappa houses come in all shapes and sizes, from chapter rooms in Panhellenic dorms to gracious mansions. Beta Theta (University of Oklahoma) has a traditional brick house, complete with stately columns, "home" to 84 chapter members.

The Heritage Museum: Our House, Our Home

... so that a part of the past shall endure beyond the present.

Patricia Piller Shelton,  $\Omega$ -Kansas
Chairman, Board of Trustees

Take a minute and think about the last time you visited a museum and how much you enjoyed it. I invite you to visit a very special museum — The Heritage Museum of Kappa Kappa Gamma located in Columbus, Ohio. The voluntary support and enthusiasm of our members from all over the world has made this beautiful and nostalgic Museum possible.

As you approach the Museum, you will be attracted to the charming fleur-de-lis fence which surrounds the Renaissance Italian Villa Style house designed in 1852 by architect George W. Bellows, father of artist, George Wesley Bellows. Docents from the Museum Guild will greet you as you enter the original cherry wood doors and step into the Victorian era which serves as a "living museum" for all Kappas and the public. Pleasing to the eye is the stunning craftsmanship throughout this mansion occupied by Governor David Tod and his family from 1862-1864, during the Civil War.

A decade ago it would have been surprising if anyone had forecast the mania for antiques and art of the 19th century. But a set of circumstances has made it possible for the Heritage Museum to share with the public beautiful artifacts from this period which have been acquired, given or loaned by our chapters, members and friends.

Founded in 1870 as one of the early Greek women's fraternities, we became the first women's fraternity to establish a permanent headquarters. It was only fitting that a building of the period was selected. By the implementation of a 1978 Convention Resolution, Kappa's Heritage Museum was incorporated at which time we became the first women's Fraternity to establish a museum dedicated to the principle of acquisition and preservation of materials relating to Kappa.

The Heritage Museum is growing and planning for the future. As funds have become available through designated donations, the Museum's Board of Trustees has been able to make improvements to the dining room, purchase specific items for the Museum, and will update the slide show which is an historical documentation of the Museum for use by our chapters, alumnae associations and docents. One room will be designated for the exclusive display of Kappa memorabilia. The exhibits will be rotated frequently and will include all periods of Kappa history — 1870 to the present.

The Museum needs your financial support to make acquisitions as they become available, to maintain this Victorian mansion which is on the National Register for Historic Places and also serves the Fraternity as an efficient business office, to preserve our unique heritage, and to develop educational programs relating to women and their role in society.

Be part of our tomorrow. Your commitment and support to the future of the Heritage Museum is greatly appreciated.

Introducing Our New Museum Board Chairman

The Chairman of the Board of Trustees for the Kappa Kappa Gamma Heritage Museum was "discovered" after writing Omega chapter's centennial history entitled "A Priceless Pathway" in 1983. Patricia "Patsy" Piller Shelton,  $\Omega$ -Kansas, joined the Museum Board of Trustees in 1984 and became chairman in 1986.

This mother of four with four grandchildren lives in Shawnee Mission, Kansas, with her husband, John. She has six Kappa relatives in her immediate family — her daughter, Mary Shelton Fitzpatrick, BM-Colorado and her mother-in-law, Katherine Morley Shelton, also BM. And, there are three sisters and sister-in-law who are all Omega Kappas.

Working with Kappa has been the norm for Patsy since she was appointed Graduate Counselor during the colonization of Delta Omicron-Iowa State. Since then, Patsy served as the Province Director of Chapters for Zeta, as the Fraternity Housing Chairman, edited the 1976 House Board Manual, and as a liaison between the Fraternity Council, the Vanderbilt University Board of Regents, and the Epsilon Nu House Board during the construction of a lodge for the newly established chapter. She has served as a member of the Fraternity Finance Committee, and is currently an advisor for Omega chapter.

Volunteer service is a way of life for Patsy. She served the communities where she has lived in countless ways. She has been active for many years with both the Kansas City, Missouri and Wichita, Kansas Junior Leagues. She was President of the Wichita Junior League and on their headquarters building committee. Since transferring back to her home League, she has been actively involved as a sustaining member and is currently a member of the Headquarters Building Committee of the Junior League of Kansas City, Missouri and is Co-chairman of their Interior Design Committee.

The balance of the interior design know-how and nuts-and bolts building background plus a sensitivity for preserving the past makes Patsy a natural at her job with the Heritage Museum. One goal that Patsy sees during her term is to help Kappas recognize that this Museum, our Kappa Headquarters, our "home," belongs to all members. There are countless ways that each member, no matter how many miles away from Columbus, can be a part of our Museum. And, with such an outstanding Board of Trustees and administrative staff, it is a place that makes us all very proud.

ΔΥ-Georgia

Our Book Review Editor, Larry Hines, ΔΥ-Georgia, makes her debut in this issue. Larry lives in Raleigh, North Carolina, with her husband, Tom, vice president of Carley Capital Group, and her three children, Thomas Blair, junior, 12; Rob, 10; and Mary Craven, 5.

Larry received her A.B. in English at Georgia and then joined the Red Cross heading to Vietnam in July 1968. For the next year she was program director for her unit, flying in helicopters daily to take recreational programs and supplies to combat field troops. She also ran recreation centers for off-duty servicemen.

"I heard about this job while waiting for my interview with a Raleigh bank during my senior year," Larry recalls. "A Red Cross recruiter in the placement office told me about the program and I'd decided on the Red Cross before I went in for the bank interview."

When her year of service was up, Larry travelled until February 1970 when she began her work on her M.Ed. in Special Education at the University of North Carolina with a focus on early childhood mental retardation and learning disabilities. She pursued work in this field until her marriage to Tom in 1972 when she moved to Hilton Head, South Carolina.

In Raleigh, Larry is very active with the Junior League where she has participated in the Guardian ad Litem program since 1981. This special group provides one-on-one counseling and advocacy for abused and neglected children. The volunteers do the investigative work for the courts to help determine the best interests of the children. Larry works with an average of eight children per year.

Other interests for this busy Kappa include the Meals on Wheels program, the Peace College Board of Visitors, University of Georgia Alumni society (vice president), volunteering at the North Carolina Museum of Art and History and the Raleigh KKG Alumnae Association. Larry also volunteers for her children's school activities, at her church, is on the U.S. Olympic Festival 1987 committee, is a member of the Rex Hospital Guild. Larry is a major blood donor and encourages all who can to "Give the gift of life."

The Hines family are big N.C. State Wolfpack fans who enjoy a variety of spectator and individual sports. Travel, needlework and reading — especially Vietnam-era books — are her main hobbies. Larry cherishes the friends she has made through her Kappa chapter sisterhood and prioritizes them as one of her "main interests."

Plane and Fancy — A High-Flying Cookbook

By Kay Grafton Krinsky, ΓΠ-
Alabama. Markay Enterprises,
Arlington, VA 1986

Kay Krinsky has combined her B.S. in Home Economics, her M.A. in Education, her interest in travel and her job with a major airline to create a unique and attractive cookbook. Besides having a delightful collection of recipes, this "serious cookbook with a sense of humor" is filled with cartoons, whimsical illustrations, useful travel information, and aviation terms. Definitions, equivalent measures, culinary abbreviations, substitutions, and cooking temperatures for meats and fowl are much-appreciated additions to the text.

Every recipe, from old standbys to Kay's unusual specialties, has a travel or aviation theme name, which adds an amusing and creative touch. Browsing through Plane and Fancy is an entertaining experience, inspiring the reader to try new dishes — all the while planning a future pleasure or business trip incorporating the author's ideas.

Kay credits her husband, Richard, for his creative contributions to the book and for his patience and encouragement throughout the publication cycle.

She is making a special fundraising offer to Kappa chapters or alumnae groups who order twenty or more copies. For each book sold, $1.00 will be donated to the charity designated by the Kappa group handling the sales. Inquiries should be directed to Kay at Markay Enterprises, P.O. Box 15834, Arlington, VA 22215.

Owl at Night

By Ann Whitford Paul, Υ-Northwestern (H-Wisconsin affiliate) Illustrated by Catherine Stocks. G.P. Putnam's Sons, New York, 1985.

Ann Whitford Paul has written a delightful children's book, Owl at Night, which is beautifully illustrated by colorful, dreamlike paintings created by Catherine Stocks. As the family members, pets and nearby friendly animals in the story prepare for supper and bed, Owl in the nearby tree is preparing to begin his nocturnal adventures. Owl hunts, eats, flies and calls, "Whoo, whoo, whoo" while the rest of the world sleeps. When dawn breaks, Owl retreats to sleep while the rest of the world is rising. Parents will enjoy reading this entertaining story, and children will identify with the realistic paintings which depict the animals and family members. At the same time, young readers will discover the fascinating world of nocturnal creatures. This is a gentle, sleepytime book, just the right choice for the bedtime story.

Ann Paul lives in Los Angeles with her husband, a thoracic surgeon, and their four children. She enjoys jogging, cooking, quilting and playing the piano. Owl at Night is her first book, inspired by an owl who spends his daytimes napping in a tree outside her home.

Children With Diabetes

By Linda M. Siminerio and Jean Betschart, I'E-Pittsburgh; American Diabetes Association, Alexandria, VA, 1986.

Children With Diabetes is a thoughtfully-written manual, illustrated throughout with attractive black-and-white photographs which contribute to the understanding of the very readable text. The authors, both Diabetes Educators at the Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh, emphasize the diabetic child's role in self-care and acceptance of the disease. Realistic compromises which diabetic children and their families must make are discussed in a positive way. Specific sections deal with helpful travel tips, meal planning, exercise, special-emphasis camps, parties, dating and holidays — all areas of the diabetic child's life which require some careful insights and understanding. Each developmental stage of childhood from infancy through adolescence is analyzed from the diabetic's perspective, including the psychological and physical adjustments to the disease. Included are suggestions for educating and reassuring siblings of the diabetic child. In a more technical vein, concerns such as insulin therapy, blood-and-urine-sugar testing methods, and fingersticks are included and explained in layman's terms.

Jean Betschart received her B.S. and M.S. in Nursing Care of Children from the University of Pittsburgh. She is currently the President of the Pittsburgh-South Hills Alumnae. This informative book can surely be considered a special labor of love since Jean, herself, has been an insulin-dependent diabetic since adolescence. As the mother of three school-aged children, she has a unique understanding from both the parent's and child's viewpoint.

This book is useful not only in the home but in school libraries and physician's collections as well.

Spotlight on Artists

By Florence Hutchinson Lonsford
I'Δ-Purdue

Florence Lonsford, I'Δ-Purdue, has served in various roles on the staff of The Key since 1947 and has been our Art Editor since 1966. An artist, herself, she has paintings exhibited in ten states, has held shows in Deauville and Cannes, France as well as in the United States and has won prizes for her work worldwide. Among her credits, Florence was recipient of the Outstanding Educator Award through the Metropolitan Museum of Art by the New York Center of Arts and Humanities. This pays tribute to her 25 years of teaching fine art in the New York public schools.

Florence shows frequently at Salmagundi in New York City and recently had two paintings on a selected tour of Midwestern Colleges. In November, she showed at Cork Gallery, Lincoln Center, New York.

Florence's art is also held in the private collections at Exxon Suite, Rockefeller Plaza and at many noted churches throughout the country. She is also a published writer having appeared in Saturday Review, The New York Times, The Christian Science Monitor, Woman's Day and other prominent magazines.

Florence now owns an art and design business at 311 East 72nd Street in New York and is preparing for a one-woman show this Spring at Manhattan Savings Bank.

A loyal Kappa, Florence has served two terms as President of the New York Alumnae Association, has been on chapter advisory boards in her area for 40 years.

MARILYN OSBORN FEIGNER, I-DePauw (The Key, 1968) has moved with her family from Indiana to Hilton Head Island, South Carolina, where she has set up a personally-designed studio overlooking the island's beautiful marshes.

Marilyn, a fine arts major at DePauw with a B.A. from the Herron Art School and a Master's Degree from Ball State, has worked in oils and acrylics and now in a new media. In May of last year, she opened at Hilton Head Art Center an exhibit of wood assemblages and stunning water colors of local natural settings.

Marilyn has garnered many awards including Best of Show, First Prize and Purchase Prize in the Hoosier (Indiana) Salon, also Purchase Prizes in the 10th Annual Printmaking Exhibition at DePauw University.

She was elected to the Indiana Arts Commission in 1970 and served until 1978, when she chaired the IAC Visual Arts Panel from 1978-1979. She is a charter member of the Indiana Watercolor Society, a member of several South Carolina Art Associations and a member of the National Art Fraternity Delta Phi Delta.

When speaking of her painting, Marilyn sees her role "as that of an explorer, working in various media with different approaches."

MERRILY SEVERIN "SEV" ICKES, Δ-Indiana, resides in a lovely 100-year-old farmhouse in Mendocino, California. This setting provides a perfect backdrop for her "hometown" work which often originates from a number-one brush, a stylus and a magnifying glass. Her specialty is detail work and her largest work to date is a 24-by-48 inch depiction of Mendocino's Fourth of July Parade.

With this close detail work, Sev admits she struggles with perspective; but this artist who has no special art training, has been most successful at her craft. She uses acrylics in rural and urban American scenes incorporating ideas that depict the history of people, places and small-town activities. "Everything I create comes from nowhere. It always amazes me that I never seem to run out of ideas. . . I hope to be blessed with a long, long life, so I can get all this down on canvas."

Sev also enjoys time spent with her two children, Lindsey, 20 and Kelly, 19.

CAROL NARRANCE BOWMAN, K-Hillsdale, does endearing children's portraits and impressive landscapes in watercolor. She and her husband, Pete, own and operate the Montgomery Manor in Hudson, Michigan, a foster home for mentally retarded women. Both are graduates of Hillsdale, where they met.

Her art career began when she was teaching second and third grades, which was "so much fun" she recalls, and met Richard Beardsley, an instructor who painted in watercolor, who inspired her.

Carol's accomplishments in her field have not gone unnoticed. She won Best of Show at an exhibition in Adrian, Michigan, first place in a Northeastern Mississippi show, and was voted the Most Popular Artist in the Toledo Artists' Club Annual Gold Medal Show. She recently completed a one-woman show in Coldwater, Michigan and was an illustrator for a Ronald McDonald House (special home near a hospital for families of seriously ill children) coloring book to be distributed in Ohio.

As a rule, Carol works from photographs and makes compositions from these. In creating her art, she incorporates scenes from her travels. Her husband makes her projects a team effort by matting and framing her work.

The Bowmans have lived in Hudson, Michigan for 20 years. They have two daughters, Julie and Kelly, and three grandchildren. As for future plans, Carol says, "I plan to work harder and to study more."

JANE GILMOR, ΔO-Iowa State, Professor of Art at Mount Mercy College, Cedar Rapids, is the only Iowa artist to receive an Arts Midwest National Endowment for the Arts Visual Fellowship Award in 1985. A painter and sculptor, she holds a B.S. in textiles from Iowa State, M.A., M.A.T. and M.F.A. in painting from Iowa University with additional credits from the Chicago Art Institute.

Jane's honors are extensive. She has participated in competitive exhibitions since 1976; eight one-woman and group invitational shows since 1977. In the last year she has held two shows in New York at Bernice Steinbaum Gallery and participated in a group invitational at the 50 West Gallery. And, there are more showings too numerous to mention.

Also this year, Jane was the Artist in Residence in Corona, Italy and exhibited work at Monstra in Cortona.

Jane considers herself a watcher of society, and the critics are pleased with her artistic interpretations. She is a frequent guest lecturer at Midwestern universities and her work has been collected by the Los Angeles County Museum and the Renwick Gallery of the Smithsonian Institute.

Jane says, "I love to teach. I consider myself an artist and an educator equally." She disciplines herself for daily work and remarks, "You can't just sit and think about what you're going to do next. You have to do it!"

ART BRIEFS

CAREY BOONE NELSON, Θ-Missouri, is a Kappa Alumnae Achievement Award winner and is still "winning" with her art. She exhibited a sculpture in bronze bas-relief, multicolored patina, mounted on fiber glass epoxy at the Society of Illustrators Show in September 1986. She was honored as an Air Force artist and was flown in Vice President Bush's Air Force 2 to Washington for ceremonies. Carey is also active in the United States Coast Guard programs. She is presently designing a jewelry collection from her ideas.

LADY MCGRADY, BT-Syracuse, held an exhibition in early 1986 at Dot and Dash Gallery in New York. She is the recipient of numerous awards beginning in 1972 with the Hartford Arts Collection, Syracuse University Travel Grant, the New York University National Endowment for the Arts, and went to Japan as a guest of the Calpis Corporation. Her paintings are in collections in Paris, Brazil, Connecticut and New York.

SANDRA BEEBE, ΓΞ-UCLA, has shown her works widely in recent years, entering the Midwest Rocky Mountain Show, Salmagundi in New York, the American Watercolor Society's January 1986 Show and was on the cover of Gerald Brommer's new Watercolor Text. She has been invited to membership in several prominent art organizations and continues to receive much recognition for her outstanding watercolor works.

JOE ANNA ARNETT, ΕΨ-Baylor, took a circuitous route in getting to her current love and career, painting.

Joe Anna studied art at Baylor but worked after college at Young and Rubicon, "then the largest ad agency in the world," working her way to senior art director. But when she began taking art courses in the evenings, this casual hobby turned into a full-fledged career commitment. Joe Anna is now recognized for her striking still life paintings which may be viewed in Santa Fe, New Mexico at Joan Midyette's Shop of the Frightened Owl. She is married to James Asher, also an artist.

SARAH BURMAN WOODS, ΓO-Wyoming, now a Fort Collins wildlife artist, has recently won a national competition held by Wildlife Art News magazine. Sarah, who won first place from among a field of 239 entries, will receive a complete limited edition of 500 prints, publicity, advertising and a feature article in the magazine. Sarah also recently won fourth place in the Minnesota Deer Hunters' Artist of the Year National Competition. Sarah works in watercolor, gouache (opaque watercolors mixed with preparation of gum) and acrylics. Her use of expressive lighting and her attention to detail have given her wildlife and waterfowl paintings the qualities that have brought her such success.

CHOICES, the career program of Kappa Kappa Gamma, is pleased to present for the fourth consecutive year, the HIRE-A-KAPPA guide to graduating seniors available for employment in 1987.

The guide lists names and interests of these outstanding young Kappas with chapter address and phone number where each may be contacted.

Following each name is the college major listed alphabetically so that you can check credentials at a glance. The remaining columns give desired career and location. A resume request form has been provided within this guide for your convenience in requesting information from the graduates.

Congratulations!

It is with great pleasure that we announce that Kappa Kappa Gamma is a Second Place winner in the National Panhellenic Conference Eighth Annual Education and Student Life Awards Competition.

The article, which was judged on timeliness, clarity, conformity to stated purpose, ability to hold the reader's interest and writing style, was judged a winner out of twenty-two entries in its field. This special article is "Terrorism Touches Home," The Key Spring 1986, as discussed by Isabel (Issy) Hatton Simmons, BN-Ohio, with Diane Miller Selby, BN-Ohio, the former Editor of The Key.

Announcements

Wrong Name? Wrong Address? Here's Why . . .

The Fraternity Directory is printed from information compiled at Fraternity Headquarters (PO Box 2079, Columbus, OH 43216) gathered from reports sent in by the chapters and alumnae groups.

If an error is made when filling out a report, unfortunately, that error may appear in print. Headquarters personnel must depend on the accuracy of people filing reports.

If you notice a change is not reflected in this Directory, please advise your group's corresponding secretary so she may report it to Headquarters.

Alumnae: if you change your name or address, please notify Headquarters and your chapter immediately. We spend approximately $1000/issue of The Key on forwarding magazines and returned postage due to incorrect addresses.

Please help us, help you, by sending Headquarters accurate and timely information.

The Editor
