The value of activities

We hear a great deal today about our "overactive" campuses and busy college students. This is a trait particularly characteristic of the American campus and one which seems to be in line with the American tendency to be always busy and always on the go! The large number of extracurricular activities, made available to our students, is a valuable part of college. Education, in its broadest sense, should be more than the acquisition of academic facts and figures from the classroom. It should include, also, the development of the individual's talents and potentials, a training for leadership and most important of all, the ability to work cooperatively with others. The many organizations and activities present on our modern campuses offer these opportunities to our students. They encourage the cultivation of new interests, provide the means for one to learn what he can do and how to pace himself!

This is the important thing and the one where many college students fail to use proper discrimination. One must learn to choose the right things and not to attempt more than one can do well. Those outside interests which are stimulating, which enrich and broaden one's viewpoint, would seem to be the right ones. It is necessary to realize the limits of time and physical strength or else, in our efforts to do too much, we accomplish little. Like the old saying, we become "Jacks of many trades, masters of none"! Not all of us are constituted the same and what is easy for one, is difficult for another. Therefore, the choice of extracurricular activities should be a personal one, geared to the individual's ability and tastes.

Never before have schools offered so much to students! Wise is the student who takes advantage of these opportunities, yet limits himself to those things for which he has time, separate from his studies, to do well. For he will acquire not only an academic education, but the equally important knowledge of adjusting and working cooperatively with others. This is the ultimate aim of education, a trained mind and the ability to get along well with others. American colleges and universities offer both opportunities. The American student, partaking of both, should be the most capable citizen in the world today!

A college president speaks up

by FRANK ROSE

President Transylvania College, Lexington, Kentucky

It is imperative that we discern in our minds the difference between discrimination and selectivity, because there is a fundamental difference. When we discriminate against someone we deny him the opportunity that might be afforded him in our present society.

In our fraternity system we recognize that the origin of most of our fraternities and sororities was in the lives of men who have become more or less spiritual founders. Down through the years these organizations have chosen those individuals on the various college campuses whom they felt would find in that spiritual founder the same ideals, the same common and mutual interests, and the same purposes that they have found. And so it has become more or less a pattern that belonged to our society long before the fraternity system, that men who share common ideals and common interests bind themselves together in keeping with the ideals that are before us.

We recognize that many democratic changes have taken place in more recent years and that there has been an attempt to confuse this thing of selectivity with discrimination. We must be careful lest we lose the importance of the fellowship. It is not only true in the social; it is true in the spiritual. We recognize that there are various groups within the religious organizations or the church that see things in a certain way and find themselves in agreement, and they create a fellowship that becomes a tradition. Individuals bind themselves together because they have common interests. And so we must recognize this difference between selectivity and discrimination.

It is most important when fraternity men think of bringing someone into membership that they very carefully re-evaluate the meaning of their own particular fraternity and seek those individuals whom they feel will find in that fraternity what they themselves have found.

Second, it is most important that the fraternity members be assured that they can do something for the new individual, that he is going to be at home; that he is going to become a part of the group; that he is going to have a sense of belonging. All of us have known when this has not been altogether true and what appeared to be a good thing in the beginning sometimes has turned out to be a very bad thing.

The third thing that is important to recognize in selecting new members is that we are bringing an individual among us who is going to share with us more or less a sacred spirit or sacred trust and that we are placing a great responsibility upon him as he represents us in his life, in his relationships with other individuals, and thus he must be one in whom we can have great faith and great trust. I would not present a whole picture if I did not say there have been many instances where there have been those individuals who have been hurt. We recognize that. That happens in every aspect of our American way of life. I am not saying that we should ignore it, but I am saying that we must keep in mind the problem and seek on our various college campuses to increase the vision, the understanding, the democracy of our various fraternity chapters, so that they will come to recognize the importance of including those who they feel would have a sense of belonging to their group.—Release of Citizenship Committee of NPC, courtesy of Banta's Greek Exchange.

Scholarship aid program

finances 56

From a small beginning in 1929, Kappa's scholarship aid program had developed into a gift program of nearly a half a million dollars. The last biennium alone saw nearly $40,000 given in scholarships through the various separate funds, undergraduate and emergency scholarships including the Beta Eta awards; graduate counselor awards; fellowships; foreign fellowships including foreign study and foreign student scholarships.

The council at their annual session last June at Fraternity Headquarters allocated $20,000 and approved recipients of awards for the current year.

The story of Kappa's scholarship aid program is a fascinating one. Read of the splendid girls, Kappas, other NPC members and Independents, who are being helped this year in completing college work at undergraduate or graduate level. Learn too how such awards are made.

Fellowships include special awards

Through the generosity of two alumnae groups, 12 fellowships will be in force this year. Toledo, Ohio, by means of an outstanding style show, has donated $500 to be used by Lois Wunker Class, an Independent, graduate of Ohio State University, to train in speech therapy at Ohio State. The proceeds from Kansas City's holiday house tour will give $600 to Kathleen Philion, Independent, graduate of the University of Saskatchewan, on leave of absence from the School for the Deaf, Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada, a special rehabilitation services scholarship in the field of teaching of the deaf at the Lexington School for Teachers of the Deaf, New York, New York. Application blanks may be obtained from the rehabilitation services chairman.

In addition 10 regular $500 fellowships are being awarded, a long way from the one award made in 1934 when the fellowship program originated.

Fellowships are open to any young woman under 30 who has received her degree, or will obtain one prior to July 1 of the current school year from an institution where a Kappa chapter is located, or who intends to do graduate work at such a school. Application forms may be obtained from the Fraternity Headquarters, or the chairman of fellowships. Such applications must be submitted to the chairman of fellowships, Miriam Locke, before February 1. Awards are granted on a competitive basis, by a committee of three judges whose decisions are submitted independently to the chairman who tabulates the results. The final list of ratings is approved by the director of philanthropies.

Mary Sue Berry, K K Γ, Louisiana State University, will continue her studies in piano and voice at her alma mater.

Joan Freeborn, Independent, University of California, will study Medicine at the University of California at Berkeley with a later specialization in pediatrics.

Ann Elizabeth Moughon, X Ω, University of Tulsa, will do graduate study in romance philology and linguistics at the University of Texas.

Margaret Fealy Obear, K K Γ, George Washington University, will study medicine at the Medical School of George Washington University.

Joan Reynard, K K Γ, Purdue University, will specialize in foods and nutrition with a minor in biochemistry and agricultural economics at Purdue, preparatory for a position as a home economist in a foods research laboratory.

Lenore Sheridan, K K Γ, University of Montana, and a graduate from Northwestern University, will continue her medical studies at the Northwestern School of Medicine.

Gene Elaine Stimart, Independent, University of Illinois, will specialize in child development and family relations at Cornell University. She plans to be a counselor in a clinic, or a teacher.

Joyce Thomas, K K Γ, University of Georgia, formerly a traveling counselor for Kappa, will enter Vanderbilt University for a special course leading to a Master of Arts in Teaching, with specialization in English.

Nancy Voege, Independent, Washington University in St. Louis, will study at Washington University Medical School in preparation for a specialization in internal medicine.

Mildred Elizabeth Willingham, Independent, University of Alabama, will do graduate study in English at the University of Alabama in preparing for a career as a college teacher of English.

Kathleen Philion recipient of Kansas City's special rehabilitation services scholarship in the field of teaching of the deaf.

Lois Wunkler Class recipient of Toledo, Ohio's fellowship award in the field of speech therapy training.

Foreign scholarships aid Kappas and foreign students

Foreign scholarships are divided into foreign student and foreign study grants. This year foreign study awards went to three Kappas, two receiving $500 each for European study and a third $300 for summer work in Mexico. Three foreign students will get graduate work in this country this year with Kappa aid.

Any member of the Fraternity who can present a well outlined program of study at a foreign university or, in the case of summer study, a program of study either at a foreign university or under the supervision of faculty members from an American university or college, is eligible for Kappa foreign study scholarships. Such awards augment funds which a student may have available. Applications for such scholarships should be filed by January 1 with the chairman of foreign scholarships, Beatrice Woodman.

Foreign student scholarships are made to foreign students to study in the United States or Canada. Applications for such awards will be accepted through the Institute of International Education or through other nationally recognized source interested in placing foreign students.

Rebecca Taggart, M-Butler, received her A.B. from Butler and an M.A. from Indiana in English and Library Science. She was cataloger and geology librarian at Indiana University and for the past two years had been assistant circulation librarian at Purdue University. While at Butler, Rebecca was the recipient of an Indiana Library association scholarship, a Butler University scholarship and a Kappa undergraduate scholarship. She now holds a Fulbright grant for study in the library of the Norwegian Technical University at Trondheim. The Kappa award will supplement the Fulbright grant for study in the geological libraries in Oslo and the technical libraries of Sweden and Denmark following her present work. She is pursuing an investigation of scientific and technological literature of the Scandinavian countries.

Megan O'Connor, Y-Northwestern, graduated last June from the School of Speech at Northwestern. During her freshman year she served as president of Willard Hall, the freshman dormitory. She was active in the Wildcat council, a student public relations group working with new students, in AWS, Shi-Ai, junior honorary and Mortar Board. In 1950 Megan was a member of the Red Cross International Study Visitor of Europe group. Megan is now in Denmark a member of the Scandinavian Seminar for Cultural Studies under the auspices of the American-Scandinavian Council for Adult Education. Her work will also include work in Finland, Norway and Sweden. Social Sciences plus Scandinavian music and folklore are the choice of study. Her seminar credits will be applied to graduate study upon her return to the United States.

Julia Lee Morrow, Δ-Indiana, is serving Delta chapter as president this fall following summer work in Spanish at the City University of Mexico City.

A letter from Judy expresses her thanks for the fellowship and tells of the value she received in her chosen career, Spanish, by being able to live with the language. "Thanks to Kappa Kappa Gamma and to the Foreign Study scholarship, this summer has been the most marvelous experience of my lifetime. . . . To attend school, to see and do as much as possible, to make American and Mexican friends, to use my Spanish, and actually to live with a Mexican family was my dream; and Kappa has made it all come true!" She says, "I honestly believe I learned more about Spanish and about the Mexican people and their customs in that one short month than I had learned in five years of high school and college." Judy expects to teach high school Spanish. Her professors at Indiana felt that she should "live with the language" to acquire the speaking skill needed to round out her education.

Judy was one of 22 students, representing colleges and universities from the State of Indiana, who left for Mexico under the Indiana University Summer Study Project with Laurretta Conklin, H-Wisconsin, professor of Spanish at Earlham college, Richmond, Indiana, as chaperone and director.

Two foreign student awards of $500 each went to Joy Neale of Birmingham, England and Mrs. Coraxon Baldos of the Philippines. Miss Neale was a graduate student last year at Drake University working for her M.A. degree. This year she is acting as a assistant instructor in the department of sociology at Syracuse University while she is doing graduate work toward her Ph.D. on her Kappa grant. Miss Neale was vice-principal of a girls high school in England and was an active volunteer with the Girl Guides in England and worked part time with the Girl Scout organization in Des Moines, in adult leadership training sessions. During her past year at Drake she acted as assistant to the resident counselor of one of the freshman dormitories. She is a member of the Sociology club, Westminster fellowship and B Γ K, professional Christian Service organization. She served as program chairman for the Cosmopolitan Club on the Drake campus.

Mrs. Baldos is a native of the Philippines, where she has taught for six years in elementary schools, two years in high school, two years in the normal school in the Philippines (Philippines Normal College) and three years in the University of the East and Far Eastern University. She was also an editor of Education Newsletter, a magazine for teachers in the Philippines, published by the cultural section and USIS of the U.S. Embassy in Manila. A former holder of a Fulbright scholarship, Mrs. Baldos is now studying educational psychology at Indiana University preparatory to returning to the Philippines to teach. Mrs. Baldos is a widow with a nine year old son to support. Mr. Baldos was killed during the liberation of Manila.

At the 1954 convention money was allocated for scholarships for Korean women to come to the United States for study. The first of these awards will be used this winter by Dr. Chung Hi Oh, who is chief of the medical section of the Korean National Rehabilitation Center, Tongnae. This is a co-operative project providing rehabilitation services for approximately 300 disabled Koreans under the joint auspices of the Korean Ministry of Health and Social Affairs, United Nations Korea Reconstruction Agency and the American Korean Foundation. Dr. Oh attended Ehwa Girls' School in Seoul, and Kyeung Sung Teacher's College. She had her pre-medical work at Ehwa Women's University and studied at Seoul Women's Medical College. She has taught at Hamyeol Primary school, and in 1951 was appointed to the 3rd and 14th U. S. Army field Hospitals as a doctor. A year later she accepted the present appointment at Tongnae.

Dr. Oh expects to come to this country this winter on a $1200 grant from Kappa Kappa Gamma for advance study in the field of rehabilitation at the Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation of the New York University, Bellevue Medical Center, New York City, New York.

Education continues for 34 with undergraduate and emergency scholarships

Thirty-four undergraduate Kappas who need financial aid to continue their college work have been awarded scholarships by the Fraternity for this year. "Kappaships," rather than scholarships, might well be the name given to these awards, for the recipients are true campus leaders whose extra-curricular and scholastic honors have brought distinction to their chapters and whose selfless devotion to Kappa is an inspiration to the whole Fraternity.

Candidates must be outstanding not only in scholarship but in campus and chapter activities, partially or entirely self-supporting, and have an all-college average of "B" or better with no "F's". Only one girl from a chapter is eligible annually.

Supplementing the scholastic awards are Emergency scholarships which are made in varying amounts to help meet emergencies which arise during the college career. Applicants must have a good scholastic record and must participate in campus and chapter activities. The Beta Eta awards are another supplement to the Undergraduate scholarships. One or two awards are made annually to a partially self-supporting member who is active on campus in her chapter. Applications for any of the three scholarships which form the Undergraduate Scholarship fund should be made not later than March 1 with the chairman of undergraduate scholarships, Betty Evans.

Graduate counselors go to four campuses

The scholarship story ends with the announcement of four graduate counselors by chairman, Marjorie Matson Converse.

Janice Camenisch, A^A-Monmouth, from DeLand, Florida, is studying speech correction at the University of Arkansas. At Monmouth she majored in biology and was a biology laboratory assistant while completing her college course in three years. Scholarship chairman of the chapter, Jan was president of Crimson Masque and WAA and vice-president of National Collegiate Players. She was also a member of Pep club, T II, Mortar Board equivalent, SAM, Φ B K equivalent, secretary STD, English honorary, president BBB, biological honorary.

E-Illinois Wesleyan's Joan Copenhaver is helping Kappa's new chapter Epsilon Alpha at Texas Christian University. Her home is Bellflower, Illinois. While at Illinois Wesleyan Jo was vice-president, pledge trainer and treasurer. She found time also to act as president and treasurer of Women's Sport association, and president of Γ Υ, publications honorary. She worked on the staff of the yearbook Wesleyana and the newspaper, Argus, and co-chairman of the Sunday evening fellowship.

Ann Rixey, Γ K-William and Mary, and later president of her affiliated chapter Φ-Boston, is living with members of Beta Xi this fall at the University of Texas. Ann is a Navy daughter and her father at present is commanding officer at the Naval Base at Portsmouth, New Hampshire. She was a member of the Modern Dance club, Fine Arts club, Student faculty association committee and Panhellenic while an undergraduate.

Wendy Robbins, Υ-Northwestern, transferred to Colorado A & M last fall as a sophomore and this year, as a junior, she is working as an undergraduate counselor with the chapter which will be installed next spring as Epsilon Beta. She was the AWS sophomore representative, a member of the Ski and Livestock Clubs, an ROTC sponsor, and publications officer.

The four girls together with the two new field secretaries, Mimi Bean and Jean Siegfried, attended the Fall Training School held at Fraternity Headquarters August 30 through September 2. At this time the directors of philanthropies, membership and chapters, and the latter's assistant, along with the executive secretary and chairman of graduate counselors led classes in the various phases of the Fraternity. The chairman of chapter finance and the chairman of the editorial board also talked with the group.

Such topics as the Campus Today, The Role of the Fraternity in a College Education, Membership Selection, Pledge Training, Chapter Organization and Management; Alumnæ Part in the Fraternity, Philanthropies, Fraternity Headquarters, were part of the condensed program.

Meet the new chairman of rehabilitation services

Recently appointed to the chairmanship of Kappa's Rehabilitation Services is former Alpha province director of alumnae, Catherine Alt Schultz, Ψ-Cornell, of Williams-ville, New York. Kay's position as past president of the Buffalo association and her four years of province work ably fit her new appointment. In addition to her Kappa work Kay has found time to work with the League of Women Voters, the PTA, the Boy Scout Mothers committee, the women's committee of the Buffalo Philharmonic and as a Sunday School teacher. Kay and her architect husband, a Sigma Nu from MIT, have three children, Robert, a Williams sophomore and a Theta Delta Chi, Sandra, a high school junior and Jon in his first year of Junior high. Of her life, Kay says: "I love to play bridge, garden, play the piano and read, but the amount of time I have to indulge in these is so limited it seems disrespectful to call them hobbies. I guess I must be lumped into that ubiquitous group labeled homemaker. Any time I take for myself or outside activities is definitely done at the expense of 'gracious living' by my family. It represents the unbaked cake, the unpolished silver, and the undarned sock."

Delta Zeta Chapter
Colorado College
Colorado Springs, Colorado

A liberal arts college in the Rockies

by LORNA DORLAC DAIRY
Δ Z-Colorado College

Colorado college at Colorado Springs, Colorado, is welcoming to its campus this year a new president, Dr. Louis T. Benezet. Dr. Benezet was formerly president of Allegheny college in Meadville, Pennsylvania, home of Gamma Rho chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma. He comes with an extremely fine record as administrator and educator. The oldest college of continuous existence in Colorado and one of the first established west of the Mississippi River, Colorado college, was founded in 1874, two years before Colorado became a state. The college occupies the unique position of being the only strictly liberal arts college located in the broad expanses of the Rocky Mountain region.

Every effort has been made to keep the classes small in order to maintain the personal relationship between student and teacher. In accordance with this well established policy of stressing individual instruction and counseling, Colorado college will not allow the size of the student body to increase indiscriminate in future years beyond the size which the faculty and physical plant can handle adequately. The student body has averaged 1,000 for the past five years as compared to pre-war average of 800 students, approximately 60 percent are men and 40 percent women. One third of the student body comes from East of the Mississippi River, and there are representatives of 40 different states and several foreign countries enrolled at the present time. The college ranks 13th in a list of leading colleges over the nation whose graduates have made outstanding contributions in the scientific field.

The Colorado Springs Fine Arts Center is affiliated with Colorado college for the purpose of giving instruction in the field of creative art and history of art. Students attending the Art Center have exceptional opportunities to view the exhibitions held in the Fine Arts Center galleries.

One week before the opening of each school year freshmen and new transfer students arrive on the campus for a week of orientation and entertainment. Even town girls live in the women's dormitories during this week in order to help them become acquainted early in the year with dormitory residents. Following a tour of the campus, and introduction to faculty and administrative officers, the students are entertained at vesper services, receptions, teas, picnics, movies, open house parties and a western Chuck Wagon Dinner. By the time school officially opens a freshman feels as much a part of the college campus as do the upperclassmen.

Due to the classical tradition upon which the college was founded the only social organizations for students during the early days of the college were literary societies. The weekly meetings consisted mainly of presen-

The president says:

Much has been said about the effects of fraternity life upon scholarship. All the wisdom we can so far command indicates that some students do better as fraternity members, some worse, and some about the same; and that the general average with many individual exceptions is a little higher for fraternity and sorority members than for non-affiliates.

The more important side of this question is after all, the effect of scholarship upon fraternity life. The first purpose in coming to college is to gain as good an education as one can. With all its imperfections, the scholastic average is still the best single indication of success. Successful students are better able to live with themselves and with each other.

They get more out of college life and give more to it. They are in tune with the aims of the school, and they are friends with faculty. Not being worn by scholastic worry they are relatively free to make the most of their experiences of living together. Most important, they are in the best position to see consistency between college ideals and fraternity ideals.

Delta Zeta of Kappa Kappa Gamma can afford to feel good about itself for its scholastic record. We in the College join with them in that good feeling.

tation of literary reviews, musical programs, debates and criticisms. One of these societies, Hypatia, founded in 1903, was the forerunner of Delta Zeta chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Through the years the concept of the literary society changed and became increasingly more social in all aspects. Through the recommendations of external consultants, Dr. Henry Suzzallo and Chancellor Samuel P. Capen, on the reorganization of the college in 1930 and 1931, the unanimous approval of the faculty of the college and confirmation of the faculty action by the board of trustees, the change in the character of women's organizations took place. Kappa Kappa Gamma, Kappa Alpha Theta, Gamma Phi Beta and Delta Gamma all made their appearance during the year, 1932. Men's fraternal groups had long been established before this time. The action of admitting sororities to the college was based on the condition that "there be no immediate change in the dormitory system." In effect, this means that each sorority has a lodge for its meetings and many social affairs but not rooms nor meals for its members.

Lucile Pattison Esmiol, B M-Colorado, became interested in the group known as Hypatia, and presented their request for a charter from Kappa Kappa Gamma. It was largely through her efforts that the charter was granted and the chapter was installed in November, 1932. Alice Tillotson Barney, Fraternity president, and Helen Snyder Andres, field secretary, assisted Beta Mu chapter members and several Denver alumnae with the installation ceremonies. Hypatia alumnae and patronesses of the organization, were initiated along with the actives and 14 charter members into Delta Zeta chapter.

Outstanding among this group of initiates who are still active members of the alumnae chapter in Colorado Springs are the Bateman sisters, Misses Lillian and Mabel Bateman and Mrs. Ruth Bateman Lee. They have served as advisers to the active chapter and have been financial advisers for the house board, the

The dean of women says:

It is with real delight and genuine confidence that I send greetings to Kappa Kappa Gamma and to the Delta Zeta chapter.

Since 1932, the Kappas have demonstrated their value on this campus. Always, they can be depended upon to implement the ideals and standards upon which they are founded.

It is most gratifying each year to see the development of their pledges, the progress in leadership qualities of their actives, and the interest of the alumnae in the local chapter.

An example of outstanding leadership among senior women of Kappa Kappa Gamma this year was that five out of the eight senior women recognized at our annual A.W.S. Senior Recognition Dinner were Kappas. This selection was made by a committee representing the five sororities on campus and the Independent Women's Association. They used a point basis for leadership in activities on campus, academic record and citizenship.

Connie Postlethwaite Murray, one of the charter members, is now chairman of the advisory board, and chapter council adviser. In addition, Mrs. Murray is an alumni trustee of the college.

An alumna of Delta Zeta, Leonna Dorlac Lilljeberg, attended Louisiana State University as a graduate counselor while working on her master's degree from that university, and later served the fraternity as field secretary and chairman of fellowships.

Arleen Wilson Hughes, investment broker, served as a member of the Fraternity financial advisory committee. She handled the financing of the Kappa lodge that was dedicated in September, 1933, and it was due to her outstanding business acumen and her advice on financial matters that the mortgage on the building was paid off long before the maturity of the notes.

It would be sheer heresy to conclude any article on Colorado college without mentioning the beauty of the surroundings in which the college is located. Many of the outstanding scenic attractions in the state of Colorado are located in this area, including the Garden of the Gods, Seven Falls, Cave of the Winds and majestic Pikes Peak, rising 14,108 feet above sea level.

As "the Peak our mighty mascot towers above," so has Delta Zeta chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma at Colorado college striven to tower above their classmates in scholastic achievement and participation in college activities. At the last biennial convention, the chapter was presented with the scholarship award for chapters on campuses with six or less Panhellenic groups. The goal of the chapter has always been to maintain high individual scholarship among its members.

The scholastic program for the chapter this year was set up last spring and has proven very successful. Emphasis has been on early adjustment of the pledge class to college life, pointing out the advantages of getting off to a good start academically. A scholarship dinner was held at mid-semester and awards were made to the mother-daughter pair having the highest average, and to the girl in the chapter whose grades showed the greatest improvement, along with the usual awards for the highest active and pledge. At the end of the semester, the pledge having the highest average is always given a jeweled pin by the alumnae association. This year's president, Suzanne Williams, was elected to Phi Beta Kappa as a junior, along with Judith Clave, member of the class of '55. Doris Corley was elected to Delta Epsilon, national scientific fraternity, for scholastic achievements in the field of mathematics.

Recipients of Boettcher Foundation scholarships are four active members: Judith Reid, sophomore; Codie Fletcher and Margaret Mathias, juniors; and Jane Carrol, senior. These highly competitive scholarships, given annually to outstanding students in Colorado, pay full expenses for four years, including tuition, fees, board, room and books.

Judith Clave and Sue Pfeiffer of the class of '55 both received financial help from Kappa nationally. Judy was winner of an undergraduate scholarship and Sue was given an emergency grant.

Twice, the chapter has been awarded scholarship cups by the Denver City Panhellenic. This annual award is made to the sorority with the highest scholastic average on a Colorado campus. Permanent possession is dependent upon winning the cup during three consecutive years.

At the traditional Associated Women Students' dinner given each spring, eight outstanding senior women are named. At the affair last spring, five of the eight named were members of Delta Zeta: Judith Clave, Lewise

Austin, Patsy Reeves, Jo Ann Warner and Sue Pfeiffer.

Since Colorado college operates under the dormitory system, all of the members of Delta Zeta take an active part in the government of the halls in which they live. Of the eleven dormitory presidents, six of them are Kappas, including Martha Boettger, Janice Colley, Suzanne Williams, Sue Flenniken, Bonnie Jo Boothe and Barbara McCallister. All of the Associated Women Students' committees are headed by Kappas during the current year, and Sue Arnold and Codie Fletcher are serving as vice-presidents of this organization. Patsy Perkins, junior, is president of the Women's Athletic Association.

Close cooperation between the active chapter and the Colorado Springs alumnae association has always been evident. Members of the chapter have modeled each year during the annual style show sponsored by the alumnae. Proceeds from the show are divided between the house board and the alumnae philanthropic activities. During the past two years active members have served as hostesses with the alumnae for Holiday House tours. Money raised this way is donated to the Principals' Welfare Fund and is used for emergency needs of children in the public schools.

With the current trend toward a liberal arts education, Colorado college is destined to remain one of the leading colleges of its kind.

The great northwest— Kappa style

by JEAN KRONENBERG MEARS

Iota province director of alumnæ

Lota province—the land of the Great Northwest with its beautiful snow-capped mountains, tall evergreens of every description, rushing streams, gorgeous flower gardens and bountiful fruit trees—is the largest province in the country. It consists of the states of Oregon, Washington, Montana, and Idaho, and the province of British Columbia. This area is slightly larger than the whole Republic of Mexico. It boasts of eight active chapters and 28 organized alumnæ groups composed of 17 associations and 11 clubs, with a paid membership of 1,015 in June, 1955.

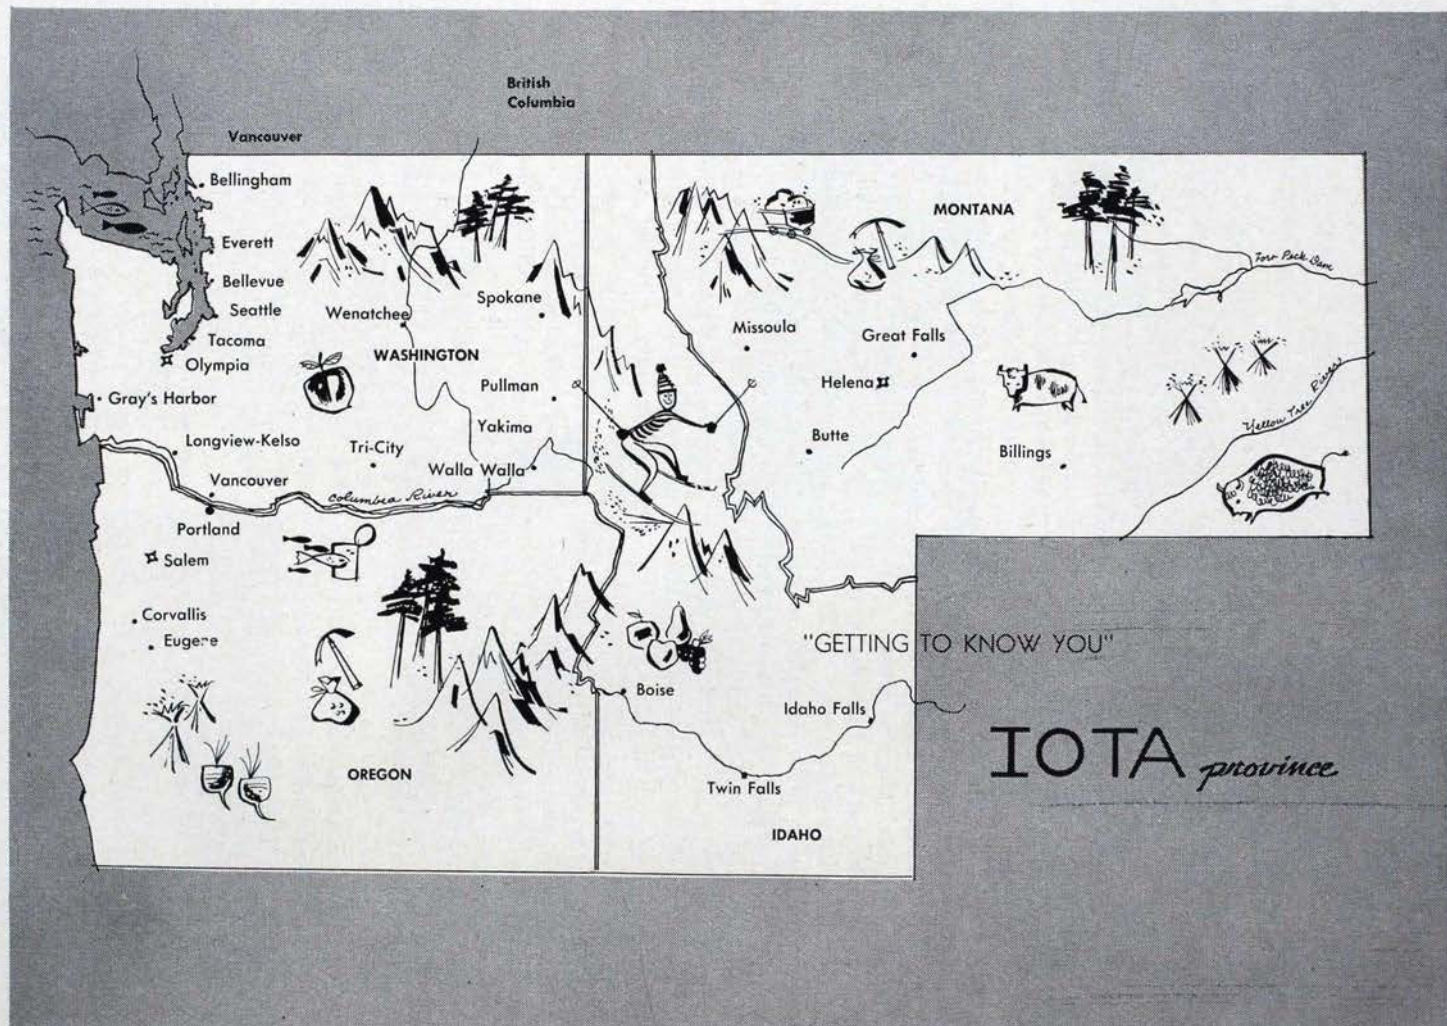

Oregon, the Beaver State, bounded on the west by the mighty Pacific Ocean and on the east by the productive wheat and pea fields, is a versatile state making its living from lumber and its products, processed fruits and fish, clothing, leather, iron and steel products. There are three associations and one club in Oregon. Start at the head of the fertile Willamette Valley with Portland, the city of Roses and the famed Rose Festival. This city has a unique geographical location of being an hour's drive from the world-famous ski area of Mt. Hood and Timberline Lodge and two hour's drive from the numerous resort areas of the Pacific Ocean.

The Portland alumnæ association, chartered May 3, 1919, is the second largest group in the province with 163 paid members. Eight evening meetings a year are held in various members' homes which always include a planned program followed by a social hour. Portland publishes a new directory each year including the names of 525 Kappas in the city plus addresses, telephone numbers, and school, the officers and standing chairmen, a theme for each meeting, and transportation chairman for each section of the city. The cost of this publication is usually completely covered by the sale of advertising.

One meeting this past year was held at the Portland Rehabilitation Center, the local philanthropy. This center, one of two west of the Mississippi giving both occupational and physical therapy is partially self-supporting but also aided by the United Fund and private organizations. Since November, 1953, two Kappas have assisted each Monday during the lunch hour making and serving coffee and doing dishes. In June, 1955, the Portland Kappas presented the center with $900.00 to be used for a physical therapist scholarship and a dictation and transcription machine.

The funds were made from the presentation of their lush "Fountain of Fashions." The president, Elenore Francis Kappel, Γ M-Oregon State, was general chairman for the show presenting both men and women's fashions coupled with a talent show. Professional models augmented local alumnæ as models. A hair stylist, a local men's shop and a jewelry firm as well as a nationally known swimming suit manufacturer all contributed to the fashion showing. Interspersed with the fashions was a well diversified program and singing and dancing coördinated by Donna Aaris, Β Ω-Oregon. After both the afternoon and evening performances guests were invited to tea tables laden with food donated by the members. The decor was pink and black throughout: pink hyacinths, 150 yards of draping material, a large fountain with water, a Greek colonnade, a pink blossom tree, and professional lighting. In the evening cocktails were served and purchased through the sale of script. This was not only a great financial success but made Portland Kappa conscious. It helped to increase their membership, interest, and enthusiasm. The Rose McGill and Fraternity scholarship funds benefited in the amount of $200.00 as a result of the big show.

Telephone bridge-canasta parties held in various homes on one day with door and bridge prizes donated by local merchants and food donated by the hostesses enriched the treasury by another $200.00. Through the efforts of the magazine chairman, Barbara Cummins Bullier, Γ M-Oregon State, the association received $25.00 for sales increased.

Fifty miles down the Willamette Valley is Salem. The capital of Oregon which has an association of 34 members was chartered May 27, 1940. There are about 20 more inactive members living in nearby communities. This group concentrates on friendship and fun, but for the past two years have made gifts to both the Oregon active chapters with money gained from a spring dinner meeting and white elephant sale. Their meetings include bridge and canasta, book reviews, bingo, and one big business meeting where recommendations are handled. Most of the group does outstanding social service work in specialized fields, such as gray ladies, YWCA projects, AAUW, PTA, and other community projects.

Further down the valley is Corvallis, the home of Gamma Mu chapter at Oregon State College, where a group of 12 women maintain a club which was chartered August 13, 1941. Naturally their interest centers around Gamma Mu. At the moment they are working hard on establishing a student loan fund in memory of Mrs. George Leakley, Gamma Mu's loyal house director for 16 years. For the past two years they have had their "Mother Away from Home" plan where each alumna is assigned a Gamma Mu pledge and she honors her throughout the year on special occasions. They always take an active part in the house particularly during such times as rushing and initiation.

Forty miles south of Corvallis, still down the Willamette Valley, is Eugene, the heart of the lumber industry, a very stimulating community, the home of the University of Oregon and Beta Omega chapter. This association was chartered January 15, 1922. It has a paid membership of 22 and a potential of 51. The success of this group and the closeness they feel to each other is due to the fact their meetings are friendly and informal. Their money-raising is concentrated in one big project—the annual coffee-book review held at the chapter house during spring vacation. Proceeds go to their local philanthropy, the Skipworth Juvenile Home. In June, 1955, a $105 check was sent to the home. This group has a strong alumnae adviser program. Also they maintain the Hazel Schwering Memorial fund, a revolving emergency loan fund which has made it possible for many Kappas, one after the other, to master financial crises and continue their schooling. This idea was dreamed of by Hazel Prutsman Schwering, Β Ω-Oregon, dean of women at Oregon before her death in 1944. The fund has been in existence since that time and amounts to $450.00 at the present time. The group also staffs a gift shop at the local hospital once a week. The proceeds go to charity. Eugene received honorable mention at the Jasper convention for small associations.

Washington, the Evergreen state, much like Oregon borders on the Pacific Ocean on the west and the rich wheat fields and cattle grazing areas on the east. In between there are the stately Olympics and the Cascades Range of mountains which include Mt. Baker and 14,000 foot Mt. Rainier. Also in the west there are three noted bodies of water, Puget Sound (the gateway to Alaska), Grays Harbor and Willapa Bay famous for oyster beds. Where there are mountains there are always fertile valleys; where there is water, fishing is important; and, where there are trees, lumber is the result. Besides the food processing and lumber, Washington has made quite a dent in the steel business. There are eight associations and seven clubs in this state.

Going north from Portland, one crosses the Columbia River and is in Vancouver, Washington, where there is a small club of 10 paid members which was chartered March 10, 1952. They have an unique program schedule. Each meeting one member is assigned to talk of her travels, hobbies, or avocation. This has not only proved a means for the members to become much better acquainted with each other but has proved to be most educational. They have no money-raising activities but do have a most worthwhile rehabilitation project. One of their members is a social worker and one the high school dean of women; so when a need for clothing, toys, books, etc. arises in the city, the members have first hand information of same and have answered many a call for assistance.

If one were to drive due north about 35 miles still on the Columbia, the Longview-Kelso area would be reached, the location of one of the big Weyerhaeuser lumber and pulp mills. Here is one of the older clubs in the province, chartered February 7, 1928 as an association and rechartered as a club in May, 1942. They claim 12 paid members. They only meet four times a year for fun but are most interested in doing their part in recommendations.

Farther north about 70 miles begins famed Puget Sound. Here is the site of Olympia, the state capital. Nearby is Fort Lewis whose Army wives are often members of the group. This club was originally chartered as an association on June 4, 1934 and rechartered as a club October 24, 1954. They have 14 paid members with 27 living in the community. The alumnae say their city is unusually active with civic projects; so this group is for friendship and fun. They do have an occasional program with speaker and do their part on recommendations, but their meetings are not just work sessions. However, because they do have Kappa ideals and an interest in helping others, they give annually a student aid scholarship to a graduating senior girl at Olympia High School in need of help for further education. The money may be used where it is necessary.

Due west of Olympia on the coast is Grays Harbor and the cities of Aberdeen and Hoquiam where a small group of six women chartered a club March 12, 1952. Since then these girls have found themselves very busy in their community, but they still are loyal Kappas meeting occasionally for bridge and fun and doing their part on recommendations when the need arises.

North of Olympia about 50 miles is Tacoma, a lumber metropolis. This group, chartered May 12, 1923, has 39 paid members with a potential of 80, representing 24 chapters. Their "group interest" lies a great deal in the fine exchange of Kappa friendships. As a result these small numbers each year put on a three day rummage sale which last year cleared $350. Some of the "choice articles" were auctioned off at a "presale" at the meeting before the actual sale. With part of the proceeds they give a $100 scholarship to a deserving, economically handicapped sophomore at the College of Puget Sound. A Kappa presents the award at a special college convocation and this past year the recipient came to an alumnae meeting. Also, they give a "campership" to a deserving young girl each summer. Their City Panhellenic has grown in size with the installation of national women's fraternities on the campus of the College of Puget Sound. This year Betty Carlson Shaub, Γ H-Washington State, was its president and chairmanned the first annual Tacoma Panhellenic dinner dance which was successful both in fun and profits.

Spokane alumnae enjoying a buffet supper are Neta Lohnes Frazier, Γ Γ -Whitman, Dorothy Perkins Taylor, B K-Idaho, Elizabeth Rofinot Sahlberg, B K-Idaho, Mary Terry Smith, Γ H-Washington State, Kathleen MacNulty Calkins, B K-Idaho, and Virginia Holmes Majer, A Δ -Monmouth.

Thirty-five miles north is Seattle, the largest city in the province, a city of views—Puget Sound, Seven Hills, one of many lakes within the city, two mountain ranges, the Olympics toward the Pacific or the Cascades bounded on the north by stately Mt. Baker and on the south by majestic 14,000 foot Mt. Rainier. Puget Sound is the gateway to the north, to Canada, Alaska and the Orient. No view of Seattle would be complete without mentioning the three colleges, Seattle Pacific College, Seattle University, and the University of Washington, home of Beta Pi chapter. This is the home of the annual Seafair celebration each summer which culminates in the Gold Cup races of unlimited hydroplanes.

This association was founded shortly after the chartering of Beta Pi chapter February 4, 1905 but not actually chartered until October 22, 1919. There are 187 paid members and 664 potential members, this number covering the surrounding communities.

The past year has been a special one in Seattle when the 50th anniversary of the chapter was celebrated. Challenged by the fact that of 791 students applying for scholarships at the University last year, funds were available for only 79, Kappas (actives and alumnae in Seattle) joined to raise a $10,000 foundation within the next five years in commemoration of Fifty Years at Washington. Funds will be given to the University for investment and Kappas will select the recipients of the grants earned from the investments. The goal of the Foundation, conceived by Florence Rogers Cassill, B II-Washington, is $4,000 the first year and $1,500 for the next four years. Key Stamp Books have been sent to every Beta Pi throughout the world and to all members of the Seattle association. When the tax-free gifts are received, acknowledgments are made in the form of gold and silver stamps for the book. The active chapter has voted to go without desserts two days a week and contribute the money to the Foundation. In addition, the past president, Frances Plaggmeir Sutton, I T-North Dakota, is organizing a break-down into neighborhood groups for informal meetings during the year and then have the large association meet only four times a year. Key Stamps are for sale at these parties. It was felt more interest could be developed for more people in these smaller groups.

Across Lake Washington over the "Floating Bridge" lies the relatively new city of Bellevue and one of our newer associations which was chartered June 24, 1953. This community represents the trend away from the cities and is made up chiefly of young families. The group has a membership of 34 with a potential of 60. This past year they had their first money-raising project, a holiday decorations tea where they raised $150.00. A talented Seattle Kappa, Florence Rogers Cassill, B II-Washington, spoke on holiday decorations. The earnings were invested in $25 memberships in the proposed Overlake Memorial Hospital in Bellevue. The group has given a total of $195 to date toward this much needed hospital.

Due north of Seattle 30 miles still on Puget Sound is another busy lumbering city, Everett, which has a club of 14 paid members. It was formed as an association June 6, 1926 and rechartered December 23, 1952 as a club. They meet only four times a year but this past year they started collecting clothing for needy school children. Also they have started collecting 25¢ from each person at the meetings for their philanthropic fund. They are going to wait till the fund grows a little before they decide what to do with it.

Just a short distance from the Canadian border lies another lumbering city, Belling- ham, which has an alumnae club chartered May 29, 1946. There are only six paid members but there are about 28 in nearby communities. This group is strictly for fun but they do have a large meeting in the summer where their recommendation work is done.

Traveling to the southeastern part of the state there lies the famed Inland Empire and Walla Walla, the home of Whitman college, the only private liberal arts college having a chapter in this province. This is the one chapter on the role no one forgets. Remember Gamma Gamma at Walla Walla? Walla Walla is a wealthy wheat, cattle, and pea country located in the beautiful Blue Mountains. This alumnae association was chartered October 5, 1918. It has 30 paid members and a potential of 70. Every graduating senior from Whitman remembers with much nostalgia, the Senior Breakfast held during Commencement Week and those luscious strawberries. Besides this, the alumnae are constantly doing things for the chapter. They put on a spring style show, a big social event for Walla Walla, in which they made over $300.00 last year. The money was donated to a Whitman College scholarship fund.

Going west and a little north of Walla Walla, one reaches the famous atomic energy center of Richland, Washington. Three close neighbor cities Richland, Pasco, and Kennewick combined forces and formed the Tri-City alumnae association June 20, 1953. They have 25 paid members with a potential of 32. When the group was first organized the members preferred to meet on a social basis with the exception of recommendations during the summer. However, as the year progressed they realized that without a direct purpose the group would "fold." On investigation the Richland school for elementary "exceptional" children needed handicraft supplies and wanted a terrarium. The needs were fulfilled and the Kappas constructed the terrarium themselves. They also took turns chauffeuring the schools' volunteer music teacher twice a week to and from the school. This past year they went further in their rehabilitation efforts. They sponsored Dorothy Seabee Cassill B II-Washington, from Seattle in one of her famous Do-It-Yourself Christmas decoration talks and raised enough money to give $75.00 to the Fred English Juvenile Detention home in Kennewick for recreational equipment. This new area will continue its tremendous growth and many sorority groups are organizing. The Kappas feel as if they have helped lay the ground work toward a strong Panhellenic organization in educating the community on the purpose of national Greek fraternities.

Further west and north on the Yakima River is the city of Yakima where an alumnae association was chartered October 19, 1939. They now have 38 paid members with a potential of 45. This group is primarily for fun. They seldom take on community projects. However, this past year they did enter the Cancer drive as a group and took a "Cancer Block." They raised approximately $100.00, more money than any other Block group. Each year they do give a $50.00 scholarship to a sophomore attending Yakima Junior College. This money is raised by an annual food, plant, and white elephant sale at the April meeting. Everyone looks forward to this time for the good fun that goes with the evening.

Approximately in the center of the state in the heart of the apple country is the Wenatchee Valley where a club was chartered July 4, 1934 and later reorganized, December 14, 1948. They have 24 paid members with a potential of 29, drawn from Wenatchee, Cashmere, Coulee Dam, Ephrata, Monitor and Palisades. This group meets four times a year—Founders' Day banquet, Christmas tea for both alumnae and actives in the area, rummage sale in the spring, and a luncheon held in honor of the girl to whom they award their tuition scholarship of $105.00 to the Wenatchee Junior College. This past year they helped organize the City Panhellenic of which Joy Shinkoskey Pinkerton, Γ H-Washington State, was chairman. This year the Panhellenic's main project was a tea-time style show held for all high school seniors planning on entering college in the fall. This was so successful it is to be an annual event.

Due east of Wenatchee and on the eastern border of Washington lies the big metropolis of Spokane on the Spokane River. This group, chartered April 9, 1923, has a paid membership of 73 with a possible 100. With around 60 at each meeting, this is one of the busiest groups in the province. In the first place their meetings are always buffet suppers where each member receives dinner for 50¢. It is arranged by a committee of 12 or 13 and the expenses are divided by the committee. Each member of the association serves only once a year on the committee and oftentimes this may be the only meeting some members attend. The 50¢ is put into the group's convention fund so they are always able to send a delegate to both national and province conventions.

An unique method of supporting Kappa national philanthropies—several years ago it was decided to send 25% of the dues paid for the year to Kappa philanthropies.

Money-raising projects—these are frequent. An annual fall rummage sale usually nets about $125. A telephone survey conducted for a local radio station enriched the treasury by $150. A potluck supper for husbands in the summer was so successful another was planned. Admission was $1.00 per person. Each couple brought two of either hot dish, salad or dessert. For entertainment charades were played at the picnic and bridge the second time. Another project was a guest desert and book review by Margaret Paddock Davenport, Γ Γ -Whitman. A third project was a "Gypsy Basket." The city was divided into sections and the list of participating members placed in the basket. The first person on the list took a gift such as dessert, casserole, apron, plant, etc. to the second name. On receiving the gift, payment for same is deposited in the basket, they asked for 50¢, and a gift is passed to the next person within a four day period. This continues until the basket is returned to the starter. With all this, the money does nothing but roll in for philanthropies. They have those, too.

For the past four years the main one has been the School for Retarded Children. Each year the amount of help has been different, averaging from $75 to $100. A group charter membership in the newly organized women's auxiliary for the Booth Memorial Hospital, the Salvation Army's hospital for unwed mothers, has been subscribed. This past year $250 was given to a local Kappa in need, plus $5 to the local Philharmonic Society, and $5 to help buy an electric typewriter for a crippled boy.

Due south of Spokane is Pullman, the home of Washington State College and the Gamma Eta chapter. This association, chartered December 8, 1930, has a paid membership of 18 and a potential of 22. This is a social group with a real purpose, that of working closely with the local active chapter Gamma Eta at Washington State College. They have a hard working advisory program. At least twice a year they entertain the chapter—a dessert for the new pledges in the fall and a senior breakfast in the spring. At Christmas time they replenish the toy cart which they maintain in the community hospital and when financially able, they furnish money for a campship at a handicapped children's camp.

East of both Oregon and Washington is the state of Idaho where there are one association and two clubs. Idaho, the Gem state, is famous for its potatoes. Have you ever eaten one of the Northern Pacific's Idaho baked potatoes? Also, the sugar beet industry has given the cane sugar people something to worry about. Then because the Bitterroot and Salmon River Mountains cover a good share of the state there is a lumbering industry.

Boise, the capital and cosmopolitan city lying in a river valley at the foot of 7,000 foot peaks, is the business center for surrounding communities. The association was chartered May 8, 1921. It has 52 paid members out of a potential of 75. As in many cities, there are many service organizations to which Kappas belong; so this year the group decided to concentrate their efforts on a varied program with no money-raising projects. One of the highlights was the chuck wagon supper for the husbands, a memorable evening at the home of Oella Schuyler Eckert, B K-Idaho. Other interesting programs at their meetings included a visit to the local crippled children's center, a book review, talks on flowers and travel and a musicale. However, they did give $25.00 to the Crippled Children's Center and a $32.00 Girl Scout Campership.

South and east is Twin Falls which is not very far from the famous Sun Valley. This club was chartered May 24, 1941. It has 15 paid members, and 24 in the vicinity. They meet once a month mostly for fun. Their main concern is rushing recommendations and rush parties. The rest of the year it's usually bridge with a Christmas party for their husbands.

Further east and south is the other club at Idaho Falls which was chartered August 30, 1951 and has 14 paid members. They meet four times a year for fun and business. They did give $5.00 to a local charity drive at Christmas. One of their members, Doris Moore Frink B K-Idaho, was president of the local Panhellenic which is active both socially and civically. It has sponsored parties for the benefit of Opportunity School and provides a college scholarship each year.

Montana—the treasure state in the Rocky Mountains where beautiful Glacier National Park is located on the main line of the Great Northern Railway. This is the great mining state with refined copper and other metals and petroleum products being their principal industries. Here Kappa has four associations and one club.

Missoula, the home of the University of Montana and Beta Phi chapter is surrounded by mountains, and often referred to as "The Hub of five great valleys." Truly western in atmosphere, buffalo roam in the national Bison Range 40 miles north and deer play nearby. The alumnae association, chartered in May, 1919, has a paid membership of 43 with a potential of 55. Fall and spring rummage sales prove a good source of income. But probably the most popular moneymaker was the basket social and western dance in October for members, husbands and friends. Each lady brought a decorated basket containing dinner for two and each man brought a pocket lined with money. Baskets were auctioned for as high as $20.00 apiece. Cider sold for 10¢ a glass and coffee was furnished by the alumnae association, a western dance band was composed of Kappa alumnae and relatives. Beta Phi chapter was given $200 and the Fraternity scholarship program also shared. They made three "Kappy" dogs and gave them to each hospital and Opportunity School for handicapped children and members gave time to the school.

To the east is Helena, the capital of Montana with an association chartered December 7, 1944, and a paid membership of 22 with a potential of 25. Helena's main project for the past three years has been sponsoring silver teas during legislature for the benefit of the Intermountain Deaconess Home for Children. This past year they made $136.70 which was given to the home for redecoration of the dining room. Also they collected clothing, toys, and furnishings throughout the year and at Thanksgiving gave the home a jam and jelly shower. They made over $40.00 on a bake sale and sent $25.00 of this to Beta Phi.

South and west of Helena is the mining town of Butte where the streets have such names as West Gold, West Granite, Mercury, etc. Until this year the group met only for fun and chit-chat but under the direction of Albertine Twitchell Hamill, B Φ-Montana, their membership increased 110% and they had several successful money-raising projects. They had a cake raffle, a Christmas auction, and made and sold cook books which contained member's choice recipes. The treasury was depleted at the beginning of the year, but they built it up and will decide on a philanthropy next year. The group was chartered January 27, 1938. It has 21 paid members, and 28 in the vicinity.

North and east of Helena is Great Falls where an association was chartered September 18, 1945 and reorganized as a club February 4, 1952. They have 15 paid members. They had no money-raising projects for philanthropies but gave much service—helped on the local March of Dimes campaign, worked on a crippled children's project at six meetings for a speech clinic, and distributed "Bunny cards" to all schools.

Farther east is Billings where an alumnae association was chartered May 15, 1939. They have 30 paid members with a potential of 53. They always have a fall and spring rummage sale and another money raising event such as a bakery goods raffle. With this money they help Beta Phi and send $50.00 to the Fraternity scholarship fund. They entertain during the Christmas holidays for the actives, pledges, and mothers.

And now to British Columbia and our one association located in Vancouver, that beautiful city on the west coast surrounded by snow-capped mountains. This group was chartered November 2, 1929. There are 64 paid members and a potential of 300 including all the surrounding communities. The University of British Columbia is located in Vancouver. One of the most important activities of the alumnae is helping the members of Gamma Upsilon entertain. The chapter has no house; so rushing would indeed be difficult without alumnae help. Soon the sororities will be allowed to take rooms in the dormitories as meeting places. Each chapter must furnish its rooms and pay a small rent. The alumnae also give a January tea honoring new initiates and a May banquet for the graduates.

Money-raising projects include the ever popular rummage sales and the annual Cabaret and Dance held with Gamma Phi Beta alumnae. Decorations, floor show and general atmosphere tie in with the theme of "A Night on the Town." Kappa's share realized $500 for the Kappa Bursary and $100 for the Dean of Women's fund at UBC. The rummage sale profits allowed a donation to the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society to buy needed equipment.

Historic New England is site of convention

by MARIAN HANDY ANDERSON
convention chairman

In 1956 Kappas will meet directly on the Atlantic Ocean in one of the most picturesque sections of the North Shore of Massachusetts. The New Ocean House at Swampscott, Massachusetts, is located close to Boston but removed from the city to give the informal, friendly atmosphere of a resort hotel. It is located in the center of many points of historical interest and recreational activities are available to suit all tastes.

Kappa convention sites are varied. The last convention met in one of the far western Canadian provinces where we were all inspired by the beautiful and majestic Rockies. Now we go to the other extreme and send out the call to come to convention on the friendly shores of Massachusetts.

The New Ocean House is situated right on the Atlantic Ocean, with its own private beach, extensive grounds, and beautiful gardens. It is a long-established, delightful hotel with all the modern facilities of resort hotels in New England. Kappas will remember the delightful convention of 1932 which was held here. The management today is the same as in 1932 which will assure a smooth-running convention as well as a wonderful vacation. An excellent 1000 yard golf course and tennis courts are available on the grounds. The beautiful beach is an ideal swimming spot. The flagstone terrace fronting the beach is a popular rendezvous.

The spacious foyer and lounge are delightful gathering spots as are the attractive library and sun parlor. Centrally located is the dining room which affords a pleasing view of the gardens in three directions.

Swampscott itself is a resort of beautiful summer residences. Its lovely avenues afford delightful drives.

For the historically-minded, the surrounding territory will be a paradise with such places as Salem, Marblehead, Gloucester, Ip-

Europe is calling

by JANE POLLARD GOULD

assistant transportation chairman

If you have been contemplating the tour of Europe with the Kappas (and who hasn't?) decide now that you can't let this unique opportunity pass you by. A few reservations are still available for this post-convention trip next July and August.

See the delightful country of England and Scotland. The pageantry, the pomp and splendor of the religious and civic ceremonies of Britain are like nothing else in the world.

Be in Salzburg during the festival.

Go to Germany where you will find majestic mountains, quiet valleys and the most picturesque rivers and lakes; and to Switzerland—the world's vacationland.

Visit the enchanting country of Italy where you will see the canals by gondola. Go to the opera in Rome and have this wonderful opportunity to investigate world famous cathedrals, museums and historical areas.

Enjoy the warm, sunny pleasures of the Riviera—and Paris—and the Follies! All of this, and much more is yours for the total and final price of $1533, tourist class.* This price includes every expense you will have on the tour, except those of a purely personal nature.

The tour will sail from Montreal at 10 A.M. on Tuesday, July 3 aboard the beautiful new Canadian Pacific Flagship, the S. S. Empress of Britain. Return passage will be on the S. S. Empress of Scotland, sailing Saturday, August 25 from Greenock, Scotland.

Write immediately to Mrs. Garnett McMillan, Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity Headquarters, 530 East Town Street, Columbus 16, Ohio, for the brochure and the application blank. Act now as reservations close within the month. Insure your place with the trip you've dreamed of having.

* First class available at additional cost.

CLEMENT KENNEDY, PRESIDENT

The
NEW OCEAN HOUSE
Swampscott Massachusetts

To the Members of Kappa Kappa Gamma:

We are pleased and complimented to have the New Ocean House selected for the 1956 convention of Kappa Kappa Gamma. We realize this is a meeting which will add greatly to our prestige.

It is particularly gratifying to be chosen for a second convention of your distinguished Fraternity. We still retain the most delightful recollections of your meeting in Swampscott in 1932. Many members of the staff at that time are still associated with us. We shall welcome your return!

Kappa Kappa Gamma was one of the first fraternities to meet at the New Ocean House. Since that date most of the important fraternities and sororities have convened at Swampscott. We shall always be intensely grateful to Kappa Kappa Gamma for the confidence placed in our management, particularly in those important years in the early development of our convention business.

Please let me assure every Kappa of our desire to make the 1956 convention a very happy and memorable occasion.

swich and Newburyport just short drives away. Then there are Lexington, Concord, Boston with all their many famous sights. Famous Plymouth is a little farther south. There are so many places it will be hard to choose. All the charm and beauty of this historical setting and fascination of the sea itself will be Kappas' for the week of convention, June 21-29, 1956. Special convention rates have been arranged for $12.50 per day, American plan. The registration fee of $20.00 covers tips and miscellaneous items.

Full information and instructions about convention will be sent to active chapter delegates, alumnae association and club delegates and officers. Others interested in receiving information should fill out the following blank and forward to the convention chairman, Mrs. John C. Anderson, Route 1, Marion Station, Maryland.

A new virus on college campuses

by MARY DUDLEY
scholarship chairman

A strange virus is invading college campuses. It fits the definition in Webster's dictionary which says, "Virus—anything which poisons the mind and soul."

This virus is scholastica parasitica, commonly known as the scholarship parasite. Webster defines a parasite as a "hanger-on"—as an organism which gets its sustenance from another at the latter's expense. Scholastica parasitica victimizes anyone who is in a receptive condition and the victim's mind is so "poisoned" that he is willing for others to work harder in order to offset his poor work. A danger of such infection is the possible contagion of others.

This "bug" is hard to detect for it appears in many guises. Some symptoms are: "I haven't time," or "I don't care," or "I cannot get this and there is no use to try," or "I don't want to coöperate." Sometimes it brings a companion, socia parasitica, the social parasite, to blind the victim to anything but gay social life. This is one of the hardest forms to cure.

Individual control is the most satisfactory method of combating this menace. If the individual is wholly conscious of what is going on, he can control the condition without the aid of others. If he is tempted to believe that everything else is more important than his own achievement and record, he needs help.

Immediate consultation should then be held by "experts" in charge, and antidotes should be prescribed and tried. Under careful observation and helpful care, the case can be remedied if the victim will submit to treatment. Unfortunately, there is no general formula applicable to all cases of scholastica parasitica and there are no push-button procedures or cures. Each case is individual and treatment must be patiently and faithfully applied until a cure is affected.

If the virus appears, it is recommended that group control (chapter spirit in disapproval) be applied. This is a quick and effective remedy. It should be accompanied by measured doses of help and encouragement, and by strict application of rules governing such cases.

It is hoped that no Kappa will become victimized by this virus and that it may not be able to find lodgment in any Kappa house!

Ten little Kappas

by MARY DUDLEY

Ten little Kappas were all doing fine
'Till one "just couldn't study"—then there were nine.
Nine Kappa scholars—how they did rate!
One cut classes, then there were eight.
Eight little Kappas in bed by eleven;
One watched TV late, then there were seven.
Seven Kappa scholars were in a dreadful fix
When one skipped study hall. Then there were six.
Six little Kappas, very much alive,
So one played bridge too long—then there were five.
Five Kappa scholars wished there were more
But one broke quiet hours; then there were four.
Four little Kappas, cheerful as can be!
One sneaked before a quiz, then there were three.
Three little Kappas knew not what to do,
Yet one procrastinated; then there were two.
Two little Kappas—(our rhyme is almost done)—
One grew discouraged, then there was one.
One good Kappa, loyal through and through!
Her example won another—then there were two.
Two Kappa scholars, eager for more,
Worked hard on their sisters; then there were four.
Four little Kappas worked early and late,
Got advisers and alums to help—then there were eight.
Eight splendid Kappas—

BUT

nothin rhymes with sixteen so we simply note that in three more jingles there would be SIXTY-FOUR GOOD KAPPA SCHOLARS which is a whole chapter full of good Kappas!

(with apologies to Ten Little Indians and the church bulletin in St. Louis, Missouri which suggested this parody.)

Akron's Rehabilitation Work

In a letter dated May 23, 1955 to Kappa's public relations chairman, Ann Scott Morningstar, Eugene J. Taylor, assistant to Howard Rusk, chairman, department of physical medicine and rehabilitation, New York University-Bellevue Medical Center, wrote of Akron Kappas' rehabilitation work.

"... Last Wednesday, May 18, Mrs. Julia Judson, the director of this project, started a 10-day workshop for occupational therapists, public health nurses, volunteers and others at the Rehabilitation Center of Summit County, Akron, Ohio. I happened to be in Akron to give a speech to another group that day, so was interested in this project and discovered that the local group of Kappa Kappa Gamma had underwritten the project. I think they made a contribution of $800 to the Rehabilitation Center which covered all of the expenses, publications and such. I then found that the very nice model kitchen in the Rehabilitation Center which is used for retraining handicapped housewives had been developed with $1,000, which again the local Kappas had provided and that, in addition, they had made a grant of $900 over a three-year period for gadgets and other equipment."

Growing pains are no longer felt

by CATHERINE KELDER WALZ
B Δ-Michigan

In 1941, the Beta Delta chapter house at the University of Michigan was remodeled to house 37 girls and it was believed that this addition would meet any future needs for a long time. However, within four years an annex was again necessary for housing extra members and transfers and in the past few years the increasing numbers of girls enrolling in the University made the house board realize that the house was not meeting the needs of the chapter as completely as it should. There were also pressures from the University for groups to house all of their own members. The quota system at Michigan permits a total of 60 members in the chapter, this number including the pledges taken in the fall.

Plans were studied for at least six months prior to discussing it with the alumnae of Beta Delta for a remodeling plan is not developed easily. But in February, 1954 Beta Delta association voted to approve the plans and to proceed with the addition. The University had already approved this with enthusiasm and the way was paved for many other groups on campus to work toward enlarging their capacities. Frances Sutton Schmitz, B Δ-Michigan and the Fraternity consulting architect, drew the plans and fine plans they are. Demolishing of the back porch started in February and in September the Beta Deltas came back to a completely finished house, ready for rushing.

On the first floor, a new TV lounge provides much needed extra social space for the large numbers using the house. This is paneled in light Japanese plywood and furnished with honey toned Conant Ball furniture so much liked by young moderns. Coral, deep turquoise and black are the colors used in this much-loved room. A slate floor, large closets for firewood, for records, and extra chairs, indirect lighting and a handsome original painting by Chet LaMore of the University faculty are some of the outstanding points. The lounge opens onto a sandstone terrace where picnic suppers are easily served. Suntans can be acquired there in spring, when Michigan weather provides the sunshine. Since the dining room opens into the lounge, it serves as overflow serving space for banquets. The dining room is newly decorated with a smart new wall paper and sheer curtains of greenish-gold hue.

Below the lounge is a large new chapter room which can seat 70 girls. Blue asphalt tile floor, grey walk, raised platform for presiding officer and three large storage closets for archives and initiation equipment make this room a valuable addition. Hooks strategically placed make it possible to put up and take down initiation equipment in a matter of a few minutes, a boon to the busy chapter of today.

On the second and third floors there are additional bedrooms and a small dormitory for six girls. Michigan finds it a comfortable plan to use triples to provide dormitory space for the third girl instead of having to fill the rooms with three beds. Well planned closets in all the rooms are further augmented by large closets that line the corridors leading to the new wing. These hold the coats and heavy clothing that so crowd the college closet. The tile baths built in 1941 were adequate for 45 girls so, since this was the new number to be housed, no costly baths had to be built.

Each house board that goes through a building project for its active chapter has an exciting and educational experience and Beta Delta's board is no exception to this statement. Each member made her special contribution to the decisions and the purchases. The harmony and understanding that prevailed at all times was worthy of Kappa tradition. In getting ready for the chapter to return—always a hectic time but twice as harrowing in time of building—the board members did everything from hanging drapes, sorting equipment, placing furniture to weeding in the front yard. Members of the Beta Delta board are Irene Field Whittingham, president, Gurtha Williams McMullan, Barbara Forster Flemming, Virginia Spain Tower, Jane Helmelt Cole and Catherine Kelder Walz.

The fireplace end of the living room is an inviting spot for cold winter evenings.

When the spring weather permits the new sandstone terrace is never empty. Suntans are acquired during the warm days and occasional informal picnic suppers are a welcome pleasure on spring and fall evenings.

"GETTING TO KNOW YOU"

Eta
Province

It's Eta Province in the Rockies

by MARIAN SCHROEDER GRAHAM
Eta province director of alumnæ

Eta province, in the Intermountain area of these United States, has 408,743 square miles within its Kappa boundaries and is comprised of the states of Wyoming, Utah, Colorado and New Mexico. Five active chapters are located within its bounds, Gamma Omicron at Laramie, Wyoming; Delta Eta at Salt Lake City, Utah; Beta Mu at Boulder, Colorado; Delta Zeta at Colorado Springs, Colorado and Gamma Beta at Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Next spring will see the installation of a sixth group, Epsilon Beta at Colorado A & M, Fort Collins, Colorado. Seventeen girls have been pledged to this colonization project. The Fraternity has bought a house for the group and Jean Johns Vordenborg, B P^A-Cincinnati, a member of the faculty, is serving as house director. Much interest has been shown by alumnæ throughout the state who have sent money to Fraternity Headquarters to purchase gifts for the new house.

Eight clubs and eight associations, each doing a praiseworthy job for Kappa are found in these four states. The groups range in size from Rock Springs, Wyoming with six members to Denver, Colorado with 246 active members. Two of the associations have junior groups within them, Denver and Albuquerque. The oldest group is Denver, chartered in 1899. There are almost 800 active, paid members in the province.

In 1954 at the biennial convention in Jasper, the province placed with honorable mention in all three divisions for the McNaboe awards—Albuquerque for the large associations, Cheyenne for the small associations and Rock Springs for clubs. Denver tied with Houston for most magazines sold per capita for large associations and Laramie won an award for small associations. Albuquerque tied for the second place for the best advisory board.

That you may know the Kappas and their organizations within Eta, meet them in the states in which they live!

WYOMING—the land of mountains and valleys and Yellowstone National Park.

Casper club—chartered September 24, 1945; active membership 30.

The "Oil Capital of the Rockies" is situated in central Wyoming, near 8,000 foot Casper Mountain. This thriving city of 32,600 population supports a junior college and is a haven for tourists, hunters and fishermen. Oil and livestock are the principal industries.

The club program provides entertainment from outsiders and from group-participation projects. Two annual events of their nine meetings are the dinner for husbands and a spring luncheon for new officers. Each year a needy family is helped on special holidays with food, clothing and toys.

Last year contributions were made to two rehabilitation services, the Multiple Sclerosis Society and the Crippled Children's Society's new project at the Hot Springs at Thermopolis. An annual gift is always made to a Kappa philanthropy also. The club helps sponsor a Panhellenic dance and the annual Panhellenic tea for college-bound girls. At the Founders' Day banquet last year, a representative of each local alumnæ group and the mothers of active girls were included as guests.

Frequent transfers of personnel by the oil industry cause a fluctuating membership but the group has a close-knit bond in Kappa.

Cheyenne association—chartered July 30, 1934; active membership 50.

We are thirteen new province officers

In Alpha province, Marion B. Tombaugh, K-Hillsdale, is the new director of alumnae. Marion has been scholarship adviser for Phi chapter at Boston University for the last five years and served as president and secretary of the Business Girls' group of the Boston Intercollegiate association. She is now an adviser to that group who are now officially chartered as the Commonwealth club. Marion has a master's degree from Prince School of Retailing, Simmons College, Boston and at present teaches merchandising in Boston high school and conducts adult and executive training courses in various Boston stores. In spite of her busy life Marion finds time to work with the Junior Red Cross teenagers and is a member of Women's City Club of Boston, DAR, and the Society of Mayflower Descendents.

The new Beta director of chapters, Ruth Hoehle Lane, Phi-Boston, now a Philadelphia resident was born and brought up in Boston. After a busy life as an undergraduate, both in the chapter and on campus, Ruth continued her education by receiving her master's degree from Radcliffe. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and graduated with honors in history. She taught history for several years before her marriage to William Spurrier Lane, a graduate of Haverford College. He is a teacher at William Penn Charter School, an Old Quaker boys' school carrying its charter from a grant to it by William Penn. Two daughters, Elisabeth, 13 and Barbara, 11, make up the family. Ruth works with PTA, is a weekly volunteer at Lankenau Hospital Service League, is a member of Emergency Aid of Philadelphia but calls the Kappa association her pet group. She has held many offices in the association. Last year and again this year she is serving as co-chairman of the Kappa sponsored booth at the Emergency Aid Bazaar. Of her hobbies she says: "I love to knit and do needlepoint when I can find the time. I'm an avid reader and one of those queer people who likes to write letters. With two enthusiastic campers in our two girls and Bill having the summers free, we have enjoyed our favorite pastime—travel! Two trips west and a couple of European junkets have found us filling several scrapbooks and accumulating hundreds of colored slides!"

Kathryn Wolf Luce, Gamma-Denison, says "Kappa alumnae work has been my main outside activity and I'm really looking forward to this new challenge" of Beta province director of alumnae. Marriage transplanted Kay from Dayton, Ohio to Westchester County and specifically Tarrytown, New York. She was a charter member of the Westchester County association and prior to that a member of the New York City association. She has held many offices in the association and as their president in 1950 attended the Murray Bay convention. She still serves as a director of the association. In spite of her busy Kappa life, Kay finds time to work on various charity drives and in civic and school activities. She is a member of the Women's Auxiliary of the new community hospital and does volunteer work there in addition to being a member of the Sleepy Hollow Garden club and a deaconess of Presbyterian church. In addition she is chairman of one of the groups in the Women's Guild and a pianist for the Sunday School. Husband Dudley Luce, is a Denison Phi Gam. He is president of J. G. White and Co., an investment banking firm and also president of the board of trustees of Hackley School and director of seven corporations.

Their one child Dudley, Jr. is a Psi U at Amherst. In this busy life Kay still finds time for her hobbies, the piano, gardening, reading and watching the Brooklyn Dodgers on TV.

A native Ohioan is Marilyn McDonald Erickson, Δ-Indiana, of Dayton, Gamma's recently appointed director of alumnae who replaced Rebecca Rhue Dooley, I-DePauw, who had to resign the office to which she was elected at province convention. Marilyn attended Monticello Junior College for Women and transferred to Indiana as a junior. At Monti she was president of the student body and awarded an American Youth Foundation Camper scholarship to Camp Miniwanca in Shelby, Michigan, which stresses Christian leadership. Her Theta Chi husband, John, was a fellow student at Indiana. He is employed at the Frigidaire division of GMC and is an active JayCee. They have two daughters, Susan 5 and Nancy 4. During the five and one-half years she has been a member of the Dayton association Marilyn has been an officer of the group, including the office of president. In the community she is on the board of directors of the YWCA, chairman of the teen age committee of the YW, belongs to the Dayton Junior Woman's club, is active in community drives and PTA. Her main interest outside Kappa at the moment is planning for the new home they are building in which they hope to spend Christmas. She says "We're a 'sports fan family'. Had a wonderful vacation in Europe last summer—our itinerary closely resembled that of the 1956 post-convention tour—a truly marvelous trip."

Gamma province's new director of chapters is Nancy Saylor Creel, Δ Δ-Miami U. She graduated cum laude with a Bachelor of Science in education. A member of Mortar Board and president of Women's League (women's governing association), Nancy found time to serve as pledge captain and was named outstanding pledge in the chapter. After graduation Nancy was a member of the Fort Wayne, Indiana alumnae before moving to Oxford, Ohio where her husband, Carl, is an instructor of Mathematics at the University. He is a member of DU and holds his master's from Miami. She has been rushing adviser, and chapter council adviser to Delta Lambda chapter and an officer of the Miami Valley club. Nancy is an active member of the PEO, the executive committee of Miami University alumni association, adviser to Mortar Board and in her church. She also taught kindergarten and nursery school for six years after graduation, the last two of which were spent as an instructor in nursery school education at Western College for Women in Oxford. Now she is applying her knowledge to very young Mr. Thomas Saylor Creel who was born June 15. When time allows, Nancy indulges in her hobbies of sewing, braiding rugs and golf.

Harriet Frenchy Browne, T-Northwestern, of Grosse Pointe, Michigan, spent her first two college years at Vassar. Harriet is the new Delta province director of alumnae. She says "After college I lived near no organized group until my husband went into the Navy during the war. While travelling around, I established contacts with the Champaign-Urbana, the Newark-Granville, and the Columbus associations. The friendships meant a great deal to me and I was delighted when we settled in Grosse Pointe Farms and I could join the Detroit association." She has just finished two years as president of the group. She is on the scholarship committee of the Wayne University Faculty Wives club where her husband is an industrial psychologist. He holds his B.A. and M.A. from Northwestern and his Ph.D. from Ohio State. In addition to his college work he does consultation work also. One daughter is Barbara Alice age 14. Harriet also belongs to the Junior group of Goodwill Industries and the Vassar Club. She has been a Girl Scout troop leader and finds time for church work. Of her hobbies she says "I love to play bridge and garden. Took several adult education courses including typing and upholstering last year and I plan to continue this winter."

The new Zeta province director of chapters, Mary Ives Hosto, Γ I-Washington U., was chapter president in her undergraduate days. Mary's mother, Grace Wells Ives, E-Illinois Wesleyan, will receive a 50 year pin this year. Mary has been active in alumnæ work as the St. Louis association president and an adviser to Gamma Iota for a number of years. In the community she has been active in many organizations and president of the Young Women's Christian Association, and the Volunteer Film association. She also has served on the executive board of the group work and recreation division of the Social Planning Council and the Community Chest. In her church she has taught Sunday school and been on the executive board of the Women's council. Mary's husband Leland is a Washington University School of Medicine graduate. With three sons in her family, Mary says "hobbies are still in the realm of wishful thinking and must wait until I find that leisure time that we have in this age of automation."

Jeannette Greever Rustemeyer, Ω -Kansas, was married immediately following graduation to Captain Joseph H. Rustemeyer, U. S. Army. She says "This was the beginning of 21 years of being a 'camp follower.'" Panama, Washington, D.C., Savannah, Boston, Governors Island, Newport, Fort Devens, Abilene, Texas, Palm Springs, Governors Island again before the war when Jeannette and their only daughter Jeanne returned to Kansas for two years while Rusty was overseas. After that a four year hitch in Wilmette preceded retirement and a return to Leavenworth. Through the years Jeannette has belonged to many Kappa alumnæ groups and says, "I was glad to be a Kappa and to find that the loyalty and ability of Kappas can always be counted on." Now she is a member and president of the Lawrence, Kansas alumnæ and active in church youth groups, serves on the board of directors for Small Memorial Home for Aged Women and as vice-president in the local AAUW. During the past summer Jeannette was dietician for Holiday Camps in Hackensack, Minnesota. Of all her volunteer work she says: "The work that I have enjoyed most was as alumnæ rush adviser to Omega chapter. It has given me the peaceful assurance that Kappa will carry on and become stronger and that the many favors and kindnesses that have been shown me in every place we have lived will be carried on and that we as Kappas will add to the joy of life."

Albuquerque, New Mexico and Gamma Beta chapter are proud of the new Eta province director of chapters, Margarete Virginia Shirley McCanna, Γ B-New Mexico. She was active in several offices during her undergraduate days and has continued that activity as an adviser since. She has been catalog and chapter council adviser and served on the house board. Before her marriage Virginia taught and was a girls' adviser for three years. In the association Virginia has been co-chairman of the association fashion show for two years and is on the executive board. Virginia takes part in all the activities of the Junior League of Albuquerque and between that and Kappa her leisure hours are few. An eight and a three year old keep those odd moments filled. A IKA husband, graduate of the University of New Mexico, is in the real estate and insurance business.

Louise Little Barbeck, Γ Φ -SMU, the new Theta province director of chapters, attended Gulf Park College, Gulfport, Mississippi her first two years. Her major in college was geography. She belonged to Gamma Eta, honorary geography society. Lou says "Geography was such a new major at SMU that I was the only candidate that year." In recent years she has been treasurer and president of the Dallas alumnæ association and was the Gamma Phi house board president at the time the SMU house was built. She also served as president of the SMU Panhellenic housing board. She has been a weekly worker at the Cerebral Palsy Clinic, Kappa alumnæ project. Her daughters Sally, 14 and Ann, 16, keep her life from becoming dull. Lou says "My hobbies include golf and trout fishing (when possible)." Lou has also helped at Kappa conventions as a member of the hospitality and social committee.

Nancy Lawton Weber, B II-Washington, of Seattle, is the new Iota director of chapters. At Washington she was chapter president and recipient of the Anne Campbell plaque given to the girl who most nearly exemplified the ideals of Kappas, and the silver plate given to the girl who has given the most to the chapter. She was a member of underclass honoraries and Mortar Board, Phi Sigma Iota, romance world famous Frontier Days. The big rodeo and other Frontier Days events each July are a major attraction to rodeo fans all over the country.

Interesting and varied programs are usually scheduled for monthly meetings plus an annual buffet supper and spring luncheon. The group enjoys working together on money raising projects which enable them to carry on club activities, and furnish donations to local and national philanthropies. Local activities include buying a movie-projector screen for the Handicapped Children's School, Christmas baskets and a donation to the Civic Auditorium fund.

An old-fashioned Christmas Sampler tea was a most outstanding and successful project. The historic home of Margaret McIntosh Boice, Γ O-Wyoming, was decorated with rare and unusual ornaments. Two tea tables carried out different themes, one a children's theme with cakes in the shape of Santa Claus and a lamb, the other with Christmas ornaments, special Christmas cookies and candies. Each guest received a recipe book containing a recipe for each item served. Eleanor Sevison Robinson, B Δ -Michigan, was the chairman of the event.

Cody club—Chartered May 16, 1953; active membership 11.

Cody is famous because of its illustrious namesake, Colonel William F. "Buffalo Bill," Cody. It is nestled in the mountains 50 miles from the East gate of Yellowstone National Park and is an interesting combination of a colorful western yet a cosmopolitan little town. Its population stands close to 5,000.

A 100% club, who through the untiring efforts of Berthe Dubois Bratton, Γ O-Wyoming, was organized at the suggestion of former province director of alumnae, Nan Kretschmer Boyer, to assist with rushing recommendations. Recommendations are a difficult job due to the great distances between towns and the Cody Kappas have filled a big gap in this unpopulated area.

Four meetings combine business, programs and sociability with a special Founders' Day observance. Mary Elaine Bever Housel, Γ O-Wyoming, is now the president of the group.

Laramie association—chartered September 28, 1927; active membership 35.

Laramie is a small college town of about 18,000 population with an altitude of 7,100 feet, where the summers are delightfully cool and the winters cold.

The membership busies itself as advisers and members of the house board of Gamma Omicron chapter. This year they served as hostesses with the active chapter to the Eta province convention.

To raise money, annual rummage sales are held. For two years a table setting tea was also sponsored. Merchandise furnished by Laramie merchants was arranged by members, each table presenting a different theme. Tickets were sold and because the event interested many outside people the event was very successful.

For the coming year the association proposed to start a fund to assist the Wyoming Speech Clinic to purchase the technical motion picture films important to the teaching and therapy program of the clinic. The cheapest of these films costs about $80. This fund will be a continuing contribution to rehabilitation.

Too, members have volunteered to give their time and money to visit the inmates of the Albany County Convalescent Hospital. A gift, suggested by the hospital manager, is presented with each visit.

Powder River club—chartered February 11, 1946; active membership 18.

The principal city of the Powder River group is Sheridan, a county seat near the northern border of the State. It is a live-stock center and deposits of coal are nearby. The site of the city was the camp of Crook's army at the time of the Custer Massacre.

"Let's go and have Kappa fun" is their motto. During the Christmas holidays an annual luncheon for the actives and their mothers is held. The following week the members celebrate with a party for their husbands at the country home of Emy Lou Lonabaugh Leitner, Γ O-Wyoming. This party is followed with dinner and dancing at a nearby club.

The ranch home of Mildred Sandall Scott, Σ -Nebraska, in Dayton, was the scene of the annual fund raising party. Proceeds were apportioned to the Kappa undergraduate scholarship fund and the local Northeast Junior College library.

Former province officer Kate Denman Long, Σ -Nebraska, is a member of the club.

Rock Springs club—chartered April 21, 1952; active members 6.

Rock Springs is best known for the coal mining industry which until two years ago was the principal industry. It is also the center of large cattle and sheep ranches and oil and prominent industries also. Houses were built as fancy dictated and streets follow zig zag patterns. Some 50 different nationalities live together successfully and harmoniously.

At the time the club was formed, there were eight Kappas in the town but today with only six members they have the smallest club in the province. Upon graduation few girls return home to work which does not increase the size of the group. However, two former members are due back this year so they hope to have enough for bridge.

Kappa fellowship and securing recommendations remain the chief reason for getting together at their four or five annual meetings.

UTAH—the land of uranium and the world shrine of the Mormon religion.

Ogden club—chartered November 9, 1945; active membership 12.

It is rather an unique fact that of the alumnæ known to reside in the State of Utah, only 24 are scattered in towns too far distant to participate in either Ogden or Salt Lake City alumnæ activity, so Kappa organization is concentrated in this State.

Many of the 65,000 people in the Ogden area comprise the Army, Navy and Air Force installations. The 12 permanent members of the Ogden club welcome the association with Kappas attached to such military projects. The city is in a productive agricultural, fruit-growing and mineral region and is a distributing center for the surrounding country. Ogden was founded in 1848 and laid out under the direction of Brigham Young.

The club, mainly a social group, is a nucleus for obtaining recommendations. Along with business meetings the club has several pot-luck dinners and luncheons with guest speakers. A bridge luncheon at the Ogden Golf and Country club under the direction of Marie Barker Nelson, Δ H-Utah, was a means of money-making last spring. Proceeds were donated to the Tuberculosis Sanitarium. Another luncheon shared with friends was followed by a musical program in which Jewel Johnson Cutler, Δ H-Utah, and two others performed the opera, The Telephone by Menotti.

Salt Lake City association—chartered April 1, 1930 as the Utah association changed to its present name September 26, 1944; active membership 105.

Salt Lake City is noted for its beautiful mountains to the east and its Great Salt Lake to the west. It is the capital city. The streets are broad and pleasantly shaded. Near the center of the city is the Temple Block, the official seat of the Mormon Church. Skiing during the winter months and swimming and sailing in the summer abound.

Proudly the association boasts three life members who were instrumental in bringing Delta Eta chapter to the University of Utah in 1932: Carrie Sappington Friendly, B H-Stanford, Maude Smith Gorham, Y-Northwestern, and Lillian Arnold Means, E-Illinois Wesleyan. The alumnae are currently spending their major efforts on a Christmas bazaar and bridge luncheon to raise money for the local Children's Service Society and funds to send a high school senior to the week-long Girls' State held each year in Logan. Kappa philanthropies will also benefit from the enterprise. Marilyn Barker Edwards, Δ H-Utah, the enthusiastic chairman, is busy keeping her committee and other alumnae busy making an impressive array of aprons, table cloths, doors wreaths, mantel pieces, yarn Santas, glass cases, ping-pong ball angels, "Peter Hunt" designed punch buckets and popcorn buckets, recipe holders, etc., etc.

Dessert and luncheon meetings have featured a talk on Jordan, beauty tips from Kappa Donna Lou Davis Ingebretsen, Δ H-Utah, bridge lessons and an impressive installation dinner at the chapter house.

COLORADO—the land of natural wonders, where the Continental Divide sends waters to the east and the west.

Boulder association—chartered April 9, 1937; active membership 33.

Boulder, located in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains, is the home of the University of Colorado and the stamping ground of Beta Mu chapter. In the past few years Boulder has been jolted from its role as a quiet, retiring town into a lively city, with the arrival of the National Bureau of Standards and the Dow Chemical Company.

Association membership ranges from the newly graduated to three charter members of Beta Mu chapter initiated in 1901, Theophania Huntington Crawford, Mary Ella Wood Taylor and Della Gardener Turman. The group works closely with the active chapter and celebrates Founders' Day at the house each year with a dessert and coffee. This gives a chance to meet the new pledges and renew old friendships. Alumnae and husbands also help chaperoning house dances. Another ambitious project was undertaken recently under the chairmanship of Betsy Bergman Hall, B M-Colorado, renovating and furnishing initiation robes.

Aid to the new Child Guidance Clinic has been still another project with Jane Valentine Barker, B M-Colorado, in charge. This project will probably prove to be a continuing one as the clinic progresses. A bake sale is also on the agenda as a money-maker.

Denver association—chartered May 12, 1899; 180 senior members and 65 junior members.

The "Queen City" of the West boasts the oldest and biggest association in the province. Denver is the capital of Colorado located just 15 miles from the base of the Rocky Mountains and a strategic railroad center. During the fall months it assumed world-wide significance as the "Little White House."

Denver Kappas are prominent in every civic and charitable organization in the city. The juniors and seniors function separately with their own officers and committee chairmen, but both groups join in common money-making projects and in philanthropic and rehabilitation services. Members serve Colorado General hospital in many ways. The Junior group sends Christmas gifts and toys to patients in the wards, while the Seniors send food baskets and used clothing for patients in the social welfare department. Both groups give many volunteer hours. Last year a bicycle jigsaw was donated to the hospital and this year an occupational therapy loom is planned. The joint projects of the groups in the form of two country fairs and a theatre project have also provided radios, rental movies and a TV set for the wards. Responsible for the liaison work between the hospital and the association are Bonnie Daynes Adams, Δ H-Utah, Margaret Stewart Hjelm and Margaret Givens Heffner, both B M-Colorado. The Junior group also provides diapers and baby clothes for destitute families in Denver through the city-wide Needlework Guild.

The Junior group has a varied program, including speakers, as well as a December party with husbands and a white elephant auction. They are proud of Ruth Wiermann, B M-Colorado, who last year served as one of the field secretaries. The Senior group claims two Fraternity officers as members, Helen Cornish Hutchinson, B Θ-Oklahoma and Eleanore Goodridge Campbell, B M-Colorado.

Beta Mu, Delta Zeta and the new chapter to be at Fort Collins all do and will share in the generosity of the Denver Kappas. Denver and Houston received equal awards at convention for the most magazine sales per capita for large associations. This task was performed by chairman, Doris Kirkham Brokaw, B Ξ-Texas.

Colorado Springs association—chartered January 3, 1933; active membership 58.

Pikes Peak and celebrated Manitou mineral springs are located on the outskirts of this well-known vacation resort. The most recent excitement centers around the establishment of the new Air Force Academy in the city.

A guest membership, good for one year's dues in the alumnæ association, is given graduating seniors from Delta Zeta chapter at Colorado College. For 18 years the annual spring fashion show has raised funds for philanthropies. Tickets are always sold out within a week of the announcement as the affair is an outstanding social event.

During the past two years a popular Holiday House tour has been conducted. The combined funds are used for donations to Fraternity philanthropies, Girl Scout camperships, a pearl key to the Delta Zeta pledge with the highest average and a sizeable gift to the Delta Zeta house fund. An unique use was the establishment of a fund called Colorado Principals' Association Welfare Fund. Initiated and maintained by the group, it is used for emergency needs of children in the public schools such as clothing, haircuts, doctor bills in cases where ordinary welfare funds cannot be secured. The fund is administered by a board of five, chaired by Robert L. Dairy, Kappa husband of Lorna Dorlac Dairy, Δ Z-Colorado College. Community service also includes a group who wraps surgical dressings at a local hospital weekly. For the past three Christmas seasons the money budgeted for a special Christmas dinner for alumnæ and actives bought individual gifts for handicapped children in the community. The school district provides tutors for these youngsters and the committee meets with the tutors to plan for the gifts which will be especially helpful for each child. In one case a parakeet keeps the child's mind from his own difficulties.

Pueblo association—chartered February 2, 1926. Disbanded 1932. Reestablished March 4, 1940; active membership 31.

Pueblo, the second largest city in Colorado, principally an industrial town and the home of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Corporation, last year won an award as an All-American city.

Afternoon and evening meetings alternate for the convenience of all members. Everyone helps with the biennial style show which raises money for Handicamps for crippled children in the mountains above Denver, pediatries ward at St. Mary's hospital, Girl Scout campship and work at the Curative Workshop for Crippled Children.

NEW MEXICO—the land of enchantment, reflecting the heritage of three cultures, the Indian, the Spanish and the Anglo.

Albuquerque association—chartered January 11, 1921; active membership 125.

The association, situated in the University City, situated 5000 feet above sea level is a famous winter and health resort. Gold, silver and copper are mined nearby. The association is an active, busy organization, divided into two groups which give members a preference of meeting dates—the younger or Beta group meets in the evening and the older or Alpha group in the afternoon. Each of these groups meets once a month and the general membership comes together at least six times a year. Virginia McCanna, Eta province director of chapters, hails from this association. Programs such as white elephant sales, plant auctions, "Kappie Dog" project, picnics, swim parties, etc., keep group attendance high.

The association maintains a loan fund for active members requiring assistance to complete a college education. A scholarship award and a poetry prize are presented each year to competing students at the University of New Mexico. Following the Fraternity project, the alumnae maintain a rehabilitation fund. This year a Bookmobile was presented to the newly completed County-Indian Hospital. Too, the Kappas sponsor a March of Dimes dance, all proceeds being donated to the Polio fund in honor of Marilyn Huff Angell, T B-New Mexico, stricken with bulbar polio two years ago.

This fall marks the silver anniversary of the traditional fall style show. A dual purpose is achieved by raising money for needy programs and keeping the interest of the group.

Each fall the alumnae sponsor the first rush party for Gamma Beta. A Fiesta tea is another Kappa tradition with decorations and refreshments in keeping with the Southwestern heritage. On bid day, the actives invite the alumnae for dessert to meet the new pledge class. Each May the association entertains the graduating Seniors at luncheon and presents a scholarship prize to the outstanding senior. At the 1954 convention Albuquerque tied for second for best advisory boards and honorable mention in McNaboe awards for large associations.

Carlsbad club—chartered March 17, 1947; active membership 12.

Carlsbad in the southeast corner of the state; is near the famous Carlsbad Caverns discovered in 1924 which are rich in archeological and zoological findings. An unique feature of the Caverns is that the temperature never varies from 56°F.

Good fellowship, sociability and obtaining rushing recommendations are the main features of this club. At its suggestion a hospital auxiliary organization for the New Community Hospital was formed and they are supporting the auxiliary wholeheartedly. Four meetings a year, all with a specific purpose, are held under the leadership of Annette Williams Smith, Γ B-New Mexico. And a yearly contribution is made to a Kappa philanthropy.

Hobbs club—chartered July 22, 1954; active membership 15.

This club is just out of the "infant" class but still the baby of Eta, with their charter just a little over a year old. The group hopes to grow, as surely as the city of Hobbs itself, which has added 12,000 people in the past four years and has been described as the fastest growing city of its size in the U.S.

Again the dual purpose of the group is to forward rush recommendations and to renew pleasant fraternity ties.

An installation meeting last spring was a festive occasion with four guests from Carlsbad. Hilda Hess Bourne, B Θ-Oklahoma, Carlsbad president, installed the first officers, and 50-year Kappa Lena Byrd Scofield, I-De-Pauw, reminisced about her Kappa experiences. A special meeting in August presented her a 50 year award.

The group is well represented in the city's Panhellenic as well as AAUW, civic and church organizations. They are the only national college fraternity with a sufficient membership to merit a local group.

Roswell club—chartered May 4, 1936 as an association. Disbanded May, 1938. Rechartered as a club May 3, 1936, fifteen active members.

Roswell, on the Rio Hondo river, has a brisk trade in agricultural products. It is a fraternity minded town and the Kappas have always had a prominent place—aided no doubt, by the fact that Frances Bear Wolfe, Γ B-New Mexico, is society editor of the local paper.

Interests vary but each member serves her community in some capacity—in the Eastern New Mexico Medical Center, hospital auxiliaries, in the Roswell Assistance League soon petitioning for Junior League, garden clubs, church and school groups.

Hummingbirds and Radishes, a clever cook book, has grown in popularity since Kappas have been selling them and receiving a share of the profits with the well-known Infant Welfare Society in Chicago. From the profits the Medical Center has a fine portable sterilizer from Kappa. Their other major philanthropy is the Irene Lighten Memorial Fund at the University of New Mexico.

The year starts with a buffet supper. In the spring a second money-raising project was undertaken in the form of a dessert card party. Alice Sims Welch, Θ -Missouri, was the chairman of the successful event. June calls for a patio pot luck supper for actives home from college. Fall always includes a Founders' Day dinner party which focuses its program on fraternity education. Another annual alumnae active get-together is a Christmas luncheon during the holidays. Business and pleasure seem to mix well.

Santa Fe club—chartered May 3, 1945; 15 active members.

Santa Fe, with its influx of people drawn by the cosmopolitan air exceedingly prevalent for a city of its relatively small size and the old world charm in a splendid climate, has Kappas from many areas. Located in the Rocky Mountains this Spanish-American town dates back to 1606. The manufacturing of Indian items is "big business."

Again this year, for the ninth time, the club proved that with a limited number of active members, the best money making project was a dessert bridge party, held at Valentine time. Tables are limited to adequately care for the guests. Individual table prizes were pots of early flowering bulbs which also served as decorations. Two door prizes were given and an electric coffee pot raffled. Proceeds were applied to the Fraternity undergraduate scholarships, a gift to the Gamma Beta house, to a local charity, the Maternal and Children's Health Center, and towards the Fraternity rehabilitation project. A check was sent to the Crippled Children's Foundation.

Kim Stanley— from New Mexico to Broadway

Currently starring in the William Inge comedy Bus Stop on Broadway is Kim Stanley, better known to Albuquerqueans as Patty Reid, 17 Z-Arizona, daughter of J. T. "Pop" Reid, long-time professor of education at the University of New Mexico.

Helen Merrill, Albuquerque Tribune

Dick Kleiner, NEA Broadway correspondent wrote of Kim Stanley's performance that it "proves again that she is one of the finest actresses currently in action." Time says in a review that she plays "superbly." In Bus Stop, Kim plays the role of the Kansas City night club singer who is snowed out with a group of long distance bus passengers in a small town restaurant.

In private life she is Mrs. Curt Conway devoted to her family and home but still studying voice and drama. Since Junior High days in Albuquerque, through high school and Rodey Theatre at the University of New Mexico, Patty Reid's main interest was dramatics.

Winning the Critics Outer Circle award, the accolade of the Playwrights Company, best actress of the year by Variety and Billboard, shows that Kim Stanley has proven her ability and versatility in her performance in four Broadway plays and 75 television shows.

language honorary, and graduated cum laude in Spanish. In alumnae work she has been president of the Junior alumnae, and president of the Beta Pi corporation board. Her husband, Bob, also a University of Washington graduate, does inside sales work for Columbia-Geneva division of U. S. Steel. Their hobbies include their "26 foot sailboat, Gusto. We cruise on her for two weeks each summer (the Canadian San Juan Islands, this year, fabulous). Bob is cruising chairman and I am secretary of our fleet, Blanchard Senior Knockabout. Also enjoy skiing and Bob instructs for a local ski school." Nancy cycled in Europe for three summers after graduation as a tour member and then assistant tour leader with Students International Travel association. She is still an organizer and sells trips to Europe, Mexico, etc. For four years she worked in the High School Student Relations office at the University of Washington, travelling around the state representing the university in talking with high school students.

In Mu province Jane Stratten Crump, B O-Newcomb, of New Orleans is the new director of chapters. She graduated with a teacher's degree and worked as a social worker for the state department of Public Welfare of Louisiana. She now is secretary and bookkeeper for her husband, Edmund Crump, who manages the Standard Wood Preserver Co. Jane has served in several advisory capacities to Beta Omicron and also been a member of the Beta Omicron house board. She still finds time to serve on the executive board of the Women's Auxiliary of Trinity Episcopal Church, act as chairman of the Altar Guild and as corresponding secretary of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Waldo Byrten Home for Boys. An ardent Democrat, Jane is active politically in the 13th Ward organization of the city.

Ruth Eilber Hawkins, K-Hillsdale, the new director of alumnae in Mu province, is a past president of the Atlanta association. She is one of the Atlanta alumnae who have commuted to Athens, Georgia since the installation of Delta Upsilon at the University of Georgia, as an adviser to the chapter. At the present time Ruth is serving her second term as president of Sheltering Arms Day Nurseries board. She has worked for several years with the Atlanta Symphony Young People's concerts, and was on the Denver area council Girl Scout board for three years while living there. Lewis Hawkins is a newspaper man. He was a war correspondent in ETO for three years with the Associated Press, bureau chief in Denver and now in Atlanta. He was a Delta at Hillsdale. Their 24 year old son John, a Delta Tau Delta from Colorado is married with a 2 year old daughter. Daughter Jane is a freshman at Sweetbriar this fall.

This CAMPUS HIGHLIGHTS section salutes the many Kappa scholars who have won special recognition in widely varied fields. This variety of interest and achievement is typified by Gamma Zeta's Margaret Reeve, shown above receiving the Merrill P. Freeman medal from Dr. Richard A. Harvill, president of the University of Arizona. Peggy, a journalism major, was 1954 Desert Queen at Arizona, and 1955 editor of the campus yearbook. Among her other achievements are membership in Mortar Board and listing in Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

Shirley Haskin, Γ I, a member of Phi Beta Kappa at Washington U., is winner of a Danforth scholarship.

Phi Beta honors went to Susan Allen, Γ K-William and Mary, a merit scholar, active on the yearbook and literary magazine.

Campus leaders

Maryem Fowlkes, B O-Newcomb, is serving as president of the Newcomb Student Body for '55-'56.

Jana Haley, Γ I-Washington U., has been elected president of Chimes, junior women's honorary. Jana is at Washington University on a four-year National Honor Scholarship.

At the college of William and Mary, Barbara Luhring, Γ K, works in the double role of WSCGA president and President's Aide.

One of the top events at Rollins College is the campus sing. One look at the smiling faces in this photo will tell you who won this year. Delta Epsilon Kappas couldn't be happier!

Mrs. Roy Jones is pictured receiving a gift from Delta Mu in commemoration of her 20 years service as chapter adviser. Eugenie Merriman, Delta Mu president, presented the award at a "mock" rush party held in honor of Mrs. Jones.

Campus celebrities

Carol Irwin, T T-British Columbia, was featured in a solo performance at the Vancouver Ice Carnival.

Gamma Nu's Sue Gail Dillman is the 1955 Sigma Nu Sweetheart at the University of Arkansas.

ALUMNAE NEWS AROUND THE GLOBE

Edited by HARRIET ROBNETT

Hooked rugs with a Christmas design, made by Marcia Ritter Wilson, Ω -Kansas, and displayed during Holiday House Tours of the Colorado Springs alumnae association, created a sensation among hobbyists.

As a result, Marcia was urged to start a class to teach the skill and has been conducting them weekly during the past year. Shown here with three of her students are Elizabeth Pipkin Chamberlain, Ω -Kansas, Mrs. E. Payson Gregory, Mrs. Oliver Knutson and Marcia.

Whatever happened to . . .

in Eta Province?

Mary Ellen Crowley Suyematsu, Σ-Nebraska, has passed the Wyoming bar examination and is practicing law in Cheyenne.

Jacqueline Martinez Ferrall, Γ O-Wyoming, is president of the Cheyenne Deanery of the National Council of Catholic Women. Mary Elizabeth Long Carpenter, Σ-Nebraska, who lives in Cheyenne, has completed her second term as State president of the National Council of Catholic Women.

Mary Lou Anselmi, Γ O-Wyoming, has a daily hour-long disc jockey program, "Mid-Evening Serenade," over KVRs, Rock Springs, Wyoming.

Carolyn Krueger, Γ O-Wyoming, of Rock Springs, Wyoming, has spent the past year teaching school in New Cumnock, Eyrshire County, Scotland.

Busy telling everyone of her trip to Europe as a member of the 375 voice Tabernacle Choir of Salt Lake is Virginia Isakson Peterson, Δ H-Utah.

Jane Ralston, Γ O-Wyoming, has resumed her teaching career as an English instructor at the University of Wyoming after a tour of duty as commanding officer of the WAC detachment at Walter Reed Medical Center.

In Carlsbad, New Mexico, the alumnae have been instrumental in forming the auxiliary for the Community Hospital. Elizabeth Sheperd Waite, Γ B-New Mexico, is serving as president. Hilda Merle Hess Bourne, B Θ-Oklahoma, and Mollie Culpepper Merchant, Γ B-New Mexico, are members of the board of trustees. Jane Reese Heinsch, Γ B-New Mexico, is co-chairman of the finance committee and Evelyn Harrison Cocke Merchant, Γ K-William and Mary, is chairman of the library committee.

Lynn Anselmi, June graduate of Γ O-Wyoming, is co-head of the Home Economics department in Powell, Wyoming's high school.

Constance Postlethwaite Murray, Δ Z-Colorado College, charter member, and chairman of the chapter advisory board, is an alumna trustee of Colorado College.

Casper, Wyoming's authoress, Peggy Simson Curry, Γ O-Wyoming, will have two new publications released soon, Red Wind of Wyoming, a collection of poetry on Wyoming and Journey Toward the Green, a western novel. She also contributes short stories and poetry to many fiction and poetry markets and finds time to be guest speaker at many functions throughout the Rocky Mountain area.

In Salt Lake City many Kappas are making their mark in community endeavors. Newly elected president of the Community Welfare Council is Marion Buller Lipman, Δ H-Utah, and Marian Cheney Baldwin, B Φ-Montana, served as chairman of the women's division for the Community Chest drive.

When Matilda Bowman Bechtel, I-DePauw, wrote her college roommate, Lena Byrd Schofield, also I-DePauw, that the alumnae in Goshen, Indiana had presented her with a 50 year pin Mrs. Schofield of Hobbs, New Mexico thought it was very nice. Little did she realize that a few weeks later that she also would be the recipient of such a pin by the Hobbs alumnae.

In the field of art many plaudits are going to talented Elaine Stevenson Michelsen, Δ H-Utah, for her work at Westminster College, Salt Lake.

Raye Carleson Price, Δ H-Utah, is lending her writing talents to the Salt Lake City Junior League as head of their radio-television group.

Madolin Wasson DesJardine, B M-Colorado, of Pueblo, is active in Colorado art circles.

Margaret Allen Seavy, B Δ-Michigan, is busy in the Pueblo League of Women Voters.

Pueblo alumnae presented a 50 year pin to Ethel Stewart Wolf, B M-Colorado, at their annual spring luncheon.

Jewel Johnson Cutler, Δ H-Utah, won deserved praise for her portrayal of Musetta in the University of Utah Summer Festival production of La Boheme. During the past year Jewel has sung leading soprano roles with the Utah Symphony, the Utah Opera Theater, and toured the state for the University in Menotti's Old Maid and the Thief.

The husband of Marilyn Ludwig Kipp, Δ H-Utah, has recently been elected president of the Salt Lake City Junior Chamber of Commerce.

... and in Iota Province?

Ann Reed Burns Boles, B Ω-Oregon, has served as president of the Portland League of Women Voters and is secretary of the Women's Architectural League.

Helen Caples Jones, B Ω-Oregon, is the designer of the new "Glamabrellas" by Crystal Ball. Helen is active in Portland civic affairs as a volunteer worker for the Portland Symphony, as on the board of Volunteers of America and chairman of the Mothers and Children's Home.

At a February luncheon celebrating the 50th anniversary of the founding of the AAUW in Portland, Oregon two Kappas visit with Oregon's attorney-general. Left to right are Elizabeth Chapman Donald, B H-Stanford, a 50 year Kappa, Marion Weiss Vester, B Ω-Oregon, president of Portland's AAUW and Mrs. Robert Thornton, wife of Oregon's attorney-general.

Dorothy Quinn Bursey, Γ Δ -Purdue, of Richland, Washington, an officer of the Mid-Columbia chapter of Muscular Dystrophy association, was active in the drive of the organization last fall. Pictured with her are representatives of the Tri-City firemen and Rotary club who assisted with the campaign.

Beatrice Lee Gerlinger, B Ω -Oregon, is currently serving on two statewide surveys; one for blind children and the other a three-fold survey for maladjusted, mentally retarded and gifted children.

Dorothy Smith Drinker, Γ T-North Dakota, is a committee chairman of the Portland Council of World Affairs.

Myrtle Clark Francis, B Ω -Oregon, has been president of the Portland council of Girl Scouts.

Josephine Albert Spaulding, B Ω -Oregon, was a guest soloist with Portland Symphony and has been heard in a nationwide network concert.

Former president of the Portland Visiting Nurses Association is Marian Peacock, B Π -Washington.

Marian Weiss Vester, B Ω -Oregon, has been president of the Portland chapter of AAUW for two years and also serves as president of the Campfire Council. She is a member of the dean's committee of Lewis and Clark College.

President of the Women's Auxiliary of Multnomah County Medical Society is Barbara Reed Ray, Γ M-Oregon State.

Activities at the Oregon Ceramic Studio and the Fruit and Flower Mission claim the interests of Phoebe Gage Hayslip, B Ω -Oregon.

In Salem, Oregon, Hallie Dudley Gale, B Ω -Oregon, conducts her own radio show. A great favorite with the children, she is known as "Aunt Hallie."

Recently retired as an active music teacher in Salem, Donna Edwards Eason, Δ Γ -Michigan State, is well known throughout the northwest for unusual and interesting theories of piano teaching which have been published.

Gayle Kreason, B Ω -Oregon, has served as president and national committeewoman of the Oregon department of the American Legion auxiliary. She lives in Salem.

Two Kappas, Adele Baird, T-Northwestern, and Josephine Phelan, Γ O-Wyoming, have been recent presidents of the Eugene Welfare League, leading women's civic service group.

Active in Eugene's musical organizations and performances are Doris Helen Patterson Calkins, Molly Small Hardin, Lora Teshner Ware, all B Ω -Oregon, and Carolyn Collier Cockrell, Θ -Missouri.

A trio of outstanding professional women in Eugene are Thelma Miller Wagner, B Ω -Oregon, an interior decorator, Dr. Margaret Tingle, B Ω -Oregon, a pediatrician and Kathryn Cook Bartels, Δ X-San Jose, a featured television personality.

Virginia Lou Foster, B Φ-Montana, has earned an unequalled reputation as a Missoula civic leader. She serves on the executive boards of Camp Fire Girls, Crippled Children's Association, League of Women Voters and Multiple Sclerosis Society. She is the only woman member of the city zoning and planning committee and is chairman of radio publicity for the Mayor's committee for the United Nations.

A founder of the Olympia Little Theatre and both actor and director in it, Helen Gray Christopher, Γ Γ-Whitman, recently directed My Name Is Legion, a play produced for the Thurston County Mental Health group in both Olympia and Tacoma.

Zan Sears Davis, Γ Γ-Whitman, is the assistant society editor of the Daily Olympian.

Olympia alumnae honored Anna Reinhart Stanford, B II-Washington, with a 50-year pin. Mrs. Stanford, an artist, has retired as head of the art department of Olympia High School.

Margaret Dupuy Simpson, B Α-Illinois, and her husband, a retired colonel, are enthusiastic promoters of a Washington state program to consider problems of the ageing population. They live in Tacoma.

Patricia Ott Hennings, Γ H-Washington, with her husband and his family are operating a large cattle ranch near Sprague. Patricia's father is Justice Richard B. Ott of the Washington State Supreme Court.

Helen Newman Baird, B Φ-Montana, is serving a second year as president of a Tacoma orthopedic group which recently saw a long-worked-for project materialize with the opening of a new hospital for children.

Tacoma alumnae awarded 50-year pins to Dorothy Griggs Buckmaster, Σ-Nebraska, who helped install the University of Washington chapter 50 years ago, Ada Wilson Wilson, B Α-Illinois, and Jessie Johnson Card, H-Wisconsin.

Rosamund Parsons Engle, B II-Washington, is a member of the board of trustees of the Garden Clubs of America. She lives in Seattle.

Orlene G. Harsch, Γ H-Washington State, was named Northwest representative to the College Colloquium held at Arden House this fall. She is counselor for boys and girls at Queen Anne high school in Seattle.

Helen Tremper Lane, B II-Washington, serves on the board of Washington State Garden Clubs and the Seattle Children's Orthopedic hospital.

Active in Washington Republican circles are Jackie Horan McDougall and Harriet Ayres Kane, both Γ H-Washington State. They are, respectively, president and secretary of the Republican Women of Chelan county.

One of Spokane's most loyal alumnae is Gertrude Skinner Nelson, B Φ-Montana. Though paralyzed from the waist down and confined to bed, Mrs. Nelson keeps an active interest in the organization by serving on the telephone committee each year.

In Pullman, Washington, Betty Roberts Moss, Γ H-Washington State, is president of the Woman's Club.

Lulu Holmes, Γ Γ-Whitman, is assistant dean of students at Washington State College.

Out Honolulu way is Emily Sampson, Γ H-Washington State, who works for both the Hawaii Visitors Bureau and Hawaii Calls program.

Ann Elsenshohn, Γ H-Washington State, is a home laundry and fabric consultant with Monsanto Chemical Co., with headquarters in Spokane.

CAREERS AND KUDOS

Olympia's child psychologist

Kappas may well be proud of the contribution made in the field of child psychology by Barbara Lee Ellis Long, Γ I-Washington U. Barbara, a clinical psychologist in private practice in Olympia, Washington for the past four years, is one of three named to the professional staff of the Thurston County Child Guidance Association which began operation in Olympia this fall.

Principally the association seeks to provide psychiatric counseling to parents of mentally and emotionally disturbed children and in some instances to the children themselves. As clinical psychologist, Barbara examines children to determine intelligence and diagnosis prior to treatment.

Barbara is particularly proud of the Washington State Psychological Association's success in obtaining a certification bill for which she helped to lobby.

"It passed the legislature in record time, which was amazing," she writes. "These bills usually sit in committee for years. We still don't know quite how we managed it but count ourselves very lucky. It will do much toward eliminating incompetents from the field."

Prior to coming to Olympia, Barbara did research work in clinical psychology at the Yale University Child Study Center. Before that she served with the Community Child Guidance Clinic in Portland.

Barbara's husband is a traffic engineer for the Washington State Department of Highways. They have two children, five-year-old Susie and one-year-old Roger.

Troy's woman of the year

"Woman of the year" is the title bestowed on Ida Poole Brown Patrick, Σ -Adelphi, by the Troy, New York Business and Professional Women's Club.

Mrs. Patrick has been active in health, welfare and educational activities in her community for more than 35 years. She has served two terms as president of the Rensselaer County Tuberculosis and Public Health Association. She has been active in the Christmas Seal Sale organization since 1919 and is chairman at the present time.

She is one of the founders of Troy Council of Social Agencies and is now a life member of the New York State Parent-Teacher Association.

For six years she has been a member of the Rensselaer County Nursing Service and in 1946 was appointed to the county board of health in which she has been acting president for the past four years.

American pen women officer

Sarah Pratt Brock, β I-Swarthmore, has been appointed national chairman of features, National League of American Pen Women. She serves also as first vice-president of the Seventh Annual Philadelphia Regional Writers' Conference of which she was former president. She is on the board of directors of Friends Journal, a Quaker publication, and Sunnycrest Farm for Boys. This home for negro boys, which will celebrate its 100th anniversary next year, is Beta Iota's rehabilitation project.

Junior Literary Guild author

Publication date for Young Bill Fargo, the fifth book of Neta Lohnes Frazier,* one of the charter members of Γ I-Whitman, has been set for March, 1956. The book for the teen age group has an historical background and will be Mrs. Frazier's third Junior Literary Guild Selection.

Her first two books, By-Line Dennie and My Love Is a Gypsy both had settings in the Spokane area where Mrs. Frazier now lives. In Little Rhodie and Somebody Special, Michigan, where Mrs. Frazier grew up, was used as the setting for both books which were written for the nine to twelve age group. Longmans Green & Company in New York is her publisher.

* In the April KEY Mrs. Frazier was incorrectly credited with the authorship of A Chance to Belong.

New Orleans' check for "Newcomb in Paris"

The New Orleans alumnae association established this fall an annual scholarship for the "Newcomb in Paris" program. This award will be made every year instead of giving sums of money to various charities as has been done in the past.

The Junior Year Abroad at the H. Sophie Newcomb Memorial College was started this year and the alumnae chapter is glad to be among the first to establish a scholarship in support of the program. The program is particularly appropriate for Newcomb as the college is situated in New Orleans which has a very strong French background. As the program progresses, other countries in Europe will be chosen where students may study.

The first award of $100.00 was presented to Dr. John Hubbard, Dean of Newcomb College, who has fostered the program. The recipient is Miss Margaret Gustafson of Port Sulfur, Louisiana, a French major going to study at the Sorbonne in Paris. Shown here presenting the check to Dean Hubbard are Katherine Ross Robertson, B O-Newcomb, and Gloria Hill Hopkins, B O-Newcomb.

The requirements for a student to participate in the Junior Year Abroad are a general "B" average, a proficiency in the language of the intended country, and a suitable major study, which includes just about every field. The scholarship is awarded to one who meets these requirements and who can not afford the passage over. The girl should be a junior but need not be a member of Kappa or any other organization.

This year 19 students are going to France and seven to England. The New Orleans alumnae association hopes to enlarge the amount of their gift each year and perhaps in the future to pay the transportation costs of more than one student, thus increasing the number of students who may participate.

Christmas tree projects

Left, San Mateo association members made gay and colorful hand puppets and stage which they presented to two schools for handicapped children—three sets went to the Sierra Morena school in San Bruno and two sets to the Self Help School for Retarded Children in San Mateo. Shown are Santa Claus, red and white reindeer.

Right, Shreveport alumnae Betty Leeper Ellis, T N-Arkansas, Nell Wood Brown, B O-Oklahoma, and Kathryn Songster Clark, T A-Kansas State, stop in their "Operation Kappy" for a picture of the stuffed animals which they presented to the Caddo Foundation for Exceptional Children.
