Justice for All

by Lois Catherman Heenehan, BΣ - Adelphi

"On February 5, I changed from a law-abiding citizen with a child-like belief in the justice system to a law-abiding citizen awakened to the reality of the world of crime, criminal rights and the injustice for the victim."

"It takes a lot of nerve to get up on the stand and testify against somebody who has a habit of shooting and stabbing people and then getting back on the street again, you know."

"It is almost impossible to walk into a courtroom and describe in detail the thing you most want to forget. It is also devastating to have to face your assailant. Although you are surrounded by people and deputies of the court, the fear is still overwhelming."

"I'm a senior citizen, but I never considered myself old. I was active, independent. Now I live in a nursing home and sit in a wheelchair. The day I was mugged was the day I began to die."

The statements above were made by four people who were victims of crime. They were shocked and disappointed to discover that the legal system, which should exist to protect both the accused and the community, had failed to protect them — the victims.

In January 1983, the President's Task Force on Victims of Crime presented its report and recommendations to President Reagan. Chairman of the Task Force was Lois Haight Herrington, ΔΧ - San Jose State, Assistant Attorney General for Justice Assistance, Research and Statistics, United State Department of Justice. (See The Key, spring 1984, page 47.) The opening statement of the report says, in part:

"Something insidious has happened in America: crime has made victims of us all . . . Every citizen of this country is more impoverished, less free, more fearful and less safe, because of the ever-present threat of the criminal."

Task force recommendations for government action begin with the statement:

"The United States is a nation of laws. If laws are to be obeyed, they must be respected; to be respected, they must be just. A system that fails to be equitable cannot survive. The system was designed to be the fairest in history, but it has lost the balance that has been the cornerstone of its wisdom."

Victims of crime relate experiences that are beyond comprehension. For example: a 50-year-old woman was beaten and raped. Hospital personnel informed her that her wounds were superficial and that rape itself is not considered an injury. The hospital later sent a bill for the examination that the police investigators insisted upon. Her name and address were published in the newspaper account and she received threatening phone calls from the attacker and his friends. He had free and unmonitored access to a phone while in jail.

The process of investigation and of bringing a case to trial may hold unexpected problems and horrors. Picture yourself as a victim of crime . . . you may be called from work or in the middle of the night to attend a line-up and identify an assailant. Investigators may appear at your place of work or talk with your neighbors, and soon people who know you begin to view you with scepticism or down-right distrust. Court appearances cause time away from work, possible loss of income, fees for babysitters and parking, missed vacations and medical appointments, etc. And then the case is postponed.

When it finally comes to trial, you must relive the attack in intimate detail when presenting testimony. Your character is open to question, although the jury might never learn that the defendant has two prior convictions for the same offense and has been to prison three times for other crimes. You cannot relax, or be embarrassed or unresponsive as you testify. You must not volunteer information. You dare not get tired. Finally, the verdict is in: guilty.

But that is not the end. You may still be short-changed. At the sentencing, the judge hears from the defendant, his lawyer, his mother, his minister, his friends. If you happen to hear of the sentencing date and make an appearance, you are regarded as being vengeful and are not allowed to make a statement to the judge. The defendant's every right is protected. His sentence places him in a public facility, possibly receiving education at public expense, and he will probably be released before his sentence runs its full course.

The victim's sentence? It may be life-long: crippling as the result of brutality, economic loss, leaving your home because you no longer feel safe there, psychological scars such as feelings of inadequacy, isolation in anguish. You may feel like the victim who asked how the defendant could plea bargain when there was no way she could bargain her way out of being attacked.

Responding to the injustices and indignities suffered by victims of crime, the President's Task Force made specific recommendations for federal and state action. Among the legislative reforms that were recommended were:

- ensuring that addresses of victims and witnesses are not made public or available to the defense.
- allowing hearsay evidence in preliminary hearings, so that victims need not testify in person.
- amending bail laws to, among other things, reverse any standard that favors release of convicted persons awaiting sentence or appealing their convictions.
- opening parole hearings to the public.
- making available to businesses and organizations the sexual assault, child molestation and pornography arrest records of prospective and present employees whose work would bring them in regular contact with children.
- requiring victim impact statements at sentencing, providing for the protection of victims and witnesses from intimidation, requiring restitution, developing and implementing guidelines for the fair treatment of victims and witnesses, and prohibiting a criminal from making any profit from the sale of the story of his crime.

Additional recommendations were made for the police, prosecutors, the judiciary, parole boards, hospitals, the clergy, the bar, schools, the mental health community and the private sector.

And what of the people in these fields? What are their feelings about their work in relation to the victims of crime? Through the resources of Kappa's CHOICES program, I received a list of members who work in the areas of law, law enforcement, social work, mental health, etc. A letter to a sampling of 30 Kappas around the country asked for their reactions and the response was, in general, that strides were being made in being more sympathetic and helpful to the victim, but a great deal more could be done.

Susan Harrell Black, P<sup>A</sup> - Ohio Wesleyan, is Florida's first woman federal judge and a recipient of Kappa's Alumnae Achievement Award in 1980. She telephoned and spoke at length about the problems faced by those in the judiciary, including the fact that it is sometimes hard to define who is the victim! It is obvious that if you are robbed and beaten by a stranger and are clearly the innocent party, you are a victim. But what about the neighborhood bully who starts a barroom brawl? Others use excessive force and he is hurt. Is he, technically speaking, a victim? And the husband who for many years has beaten and abused his wife and who suddenly finds himself on the pointed end of a carving knife when she can take no more . . . is he a victim? How are these individuals treated by the law and by social agencies? Granted, situations like these are not what we usually think of when considering the plight of a victim of crime, but those conditions must be considered by lawyers and judges.

Judge Susan Harrell Black, P<sup>A</sup> - Ohio Wesleyan

Director of Philanthropies Eloise Moore Netherton, B<sup>E</sup> - Texas, is director of an outpatient clinic of the Austin-Travis County Mental Health - Mental Retardation Center.

Stefani Cecil Cochran, ΔX - San Jose State, is a social worker in private practice.

Another area which varies according to circumstances is our system of parole. It is of value only in relation to cause and effect. If you believe that institutionalization can be a means to rehabilitation, then parole rewards that. If prison is for deterrence and to get the criminal off the streets, then parole is not a useful tool. In recent years, the United States has experienced a pendulum effect in the prison system in relation to parole. Rehabilitation has worked in some areas . . . mostly where the prison population and that of the enforcement officers and social workers was more homogeneous. People with shared backgrounds are more likely to have similar basic values and might be able to communicate and help each other, whereas the polyglot population of major cities is so varied that no common ground of understanding can be reached.

Florida has a "victim act" but Susan feels it is just a drop in the bucket. What's happening is healthy, but the need is there for further attention to the victim. He needs to feel a part of the process in order for his perception of justice to improve and, like the bereaved family attending a funeral, he needs to see the case concluded and the criminal brought to justice. Only then does he experience the necessary feeling of finality which enables him to start his healing process and get on with his life.

A social worker in private practice, Stefani Cecil Cochran, ΔX - San Jose State, deals with women who have been sexually assaulted. She states that . . . "every person has a psychological and spatial boundary around him/her. We are uncomfortable if others whom we don't trust penetrate this boundary . . . especially our bodies. There is a lowering in one's sense of identity and self-esteem because of the inability to protect this boundary. Resulting problems, especially for the rape victim, may include a lack of confidence, distrust of men, and flashbacks to the terror and pain experienced. To the extent that she has a high sense of self-esteem, doesn't need to face her attacker on the streets in the future and doesn't bear visible scars, the rape victim will suffer less and will cope with the crime more quickly."

Mary Lee Morrison, ΓΘ - Drake, also a social worker, has dealt primarily with battered wives. The relationships were long-standing and the pathology deeply ingrained. She feels that the police generally do not understand the dynamics of such a situation and need to be educated in this area. For wives to leave these relationships, they must have support and understanding and must also learn to cope on their own in ways never before encountered.

Fraternity Director of Philanthropy Eloise Moore Netherton, B<sup>E</sup> - Texas, is the director of an outpatient clinic of the Austin-Travis County Mental Health-Mental Retardation Center. She focuses on the sexual abuse of children as a major area where the perpetrator is still given a "slap on the wrist" and the victim is virtually ignored or stigmatized as being unclean and/or in some way being at least partially responsible for the crime.

"In fact," writes Eloise, "I think that all too often sexual abuse of children is not seen as a crime, but as a 'mistake' on the part of the abuser — a one-time slip that happened under unusual circumstances and is never likely to occur again. Our society seems to encourage this attitude: wives and kin cover up such acts, children are punished for 'encouraging' the abuse or reporting it, sentences are light and there is virtually no intensive follow-up psychiatric treatment for either the victims or the abusers. The message to the abused is, 'Forget it.' and to the abuser, 'Don't get caught doing it again.'"

The fact is that the sexual abuser is all too likely to do it over and over again. The one-time slip is very rare.

The victim is encouraged to repress his/her feelings. BUT, these children tend to have serious psychiatric difficulties . . . doing poorly in school, acting out behavior of a serious nature, aggression toward others, severe depression and frequent suicide attempts, poor interpersonal relationships, and they, in turn, have an extremely high likelihood of turning out, as adults, to be child abusers themselves."

Eloise goes on to say that, "It is my opinion that we need a MADD type campaign against such abuse. One of the largest stumbling blocks I see, though, is that our society still has a strong taboo against talking openly about sexual issues in a serious context. It's o.k. to look at PLAYBOY and to tell dirty jokes but not to talk about sexual abuse. You can admit you're an alcoholic and be admired for your bravery, but not so in a sexual offense. Even to admit you're the victim, or worse yet, the mother of the victim, will bring social censure. Our attitudes must change; our silence is tantamount to complicity!"

Speaking as a law enforcement officer is Carla Schultz Toomey, ΓΨ - Maryland. Now "retired" and the mother of two young children, Carla was a detective with the major crimes bureau of the Montgomery County (MD) Department of Police. The bureau is responsible for investigating homicides, major robberies and assaults, extortions, kidnappings, and all sex offenses. Carla's experiences were mostly in investigating sex offenses and she, too, feels that the strong sense of guilt experienced by rape victims is in part due to society's view of sex crimes. There is a great need for more public awareness and better education in this area.

Most investigators spend a great deal of time with a victim, Carla says. From the scene of the crime to the hospital, through numerous interviews, line-ups, meetings with the prosecutors and through the trial, police officers may have contact with the victim for six months or much more. She feels that most police officers today are well educated professionals who are highly trained and have a great deal of compassion and understanding in their concern for the victim. Hospitals and prosecutors' offices also make every effort to meet the special needs of the victim. Many prosecutors' offices provide a liaison person to help the victim by answering questions, providing transportation to court and arranging for child care, if necessary.

Chapter council advisor to ΖΙ - Villanova, Andrea Kitch, ΔΑ - Penn State, is an officer with the Tredyffrin (PA) Police Force. She feels that any contact with the police is an emotionally significant event for anyone because most contacts are in response to negative situations. She states that police response to a call traditionally follows three steps:

- gather immediate information/action.
- preserve the crime scene and gather evidence.
- render first aid.
- attempt to deal with the emotional needs of the victim.

Andrea feels that there should be an increase in ongoing training for police officers to make them aware of the emotional state and needs of victims, from prowler calls through burglary, physical assault and family problems. Police officers should also receive increased training in making use of outside support systems to meet the victim's emotional needs — aid groups such as Victim/Witness Council, Crisis Intervention, Rape Crisis Council, Senior Citizens Council and Drug and Alcohol Abuse Centers.

The report of the President's Task Force on Victims of Crime recommended many reforms. Some of those who contributed to this article feel that steps have been made in the right direction, but all agree that there is still a great deal to be done.

However, a letter from Lois Herrington in April brought heartening news . . .

"Since the President's Task Force issued its 68 recommendations for action in January 1983, the report has not been relegated to a shelf somewhere. The administration asked that the recommendations be swiftly implemented so that victims could obtain relief from an oppressive and insensitive criminal justice system.

To follow through with the recommendations, a federal victims unit within the Justice Department was established with three basic priorities. It serves as a national resource center offering information and referral services for victims and for those individuals and groups committed to helping victims. It is developing training packages for judges, law enforcement officials, prosecutors and other professionals to help them respond more compassionately to victims. Finally, it is helping to translate the Task Force recommendations into model legislation for use by the states.

The following is a brief run-down on a few initiatives. Last fall judges from every state in the nation gathered for a National Conference of the Judiciary on Victims of Crime. It was tremendously successful. As the judges themselves proclaimed in their recently published guidelines, 'victims of crime should not become victims of the criminal justice system.' Each then agreed to return home on a mission to inspire change within

Sigma Chapter Celebrates Centennial

By Susan Olson,  $\Sigma$
Centennial Publicity Chairman & Historian
Chapter 2nd Vice President

"A Century of Sisterhood" was the theme of Sigma chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma's Centennial Celebration. The celebration, which took place April 6-8, 1984, gave undergraduate and alumnae members the opportunity to celebrate 100 years of success at the University of Nebraska.

The centennial weekend began with an open house at the chapter house on Saturday morning. Tours of the house and UN-L campus were offered with active chapter members serving as tour guides.

Alumna Nancy Hoch, University of Nebraska Regent and United States Senate candidate, served as mistress of ceremonies at a luncheon held April 7 at the Cornhusker Hotel. Honored guests at the luncheon included Lucy VanHorne Sawyer ('04), Sigma's oldest living alum, Adele Coryell Hall ('50), recipient of the Alumnae Achievement Award, Wilma Winberg Johnson, Fraternity director of alumnae, and Virginia Bonville Thomas, Zeta Province director of alumnae. Also, Martin Massengale, Chancellor of the University of Nebraska - Lincoln, was in attendance to receive a $1,000 gift to the University of Nebraska in honor of Sigma's Centennial. The gift was presented by Wilma Johnson.

Sigma actives served as "decade hostesses" at the luncheon. Actives dressed in costumes representative of each decade in Sigma's history. The actives acted as special hostesses to the women initiated in their particular decade.

Active members sang a medley of Kappa songs which provided the background for a slideshow which depicted life of women at Sigma chapter from 1884 to 1984. Many alums joined in the singing, especially the traditional "Pat" song which was one of the most memorable.

The luncheon also featured the pinning of five 50-year Kappas and a presentation of a lovely stained glass window with the Centennial logo to the active chapter by the Lincoln, Omaha, and Fremont Alumnae Associations.

Active chapter awards and scholarships (in honor and memory of several alumnae) were also presented at the luncheon.

Actives, alumnae, and their escorts joined together in the festivities culminating Sigma's Centennial Celebration. A Saturday evening gala (which was also Sigma's spring formal) allowed actives and alumnae alike to enjoy each other's company at this special celebration.

A Sunday brunch at the chapter house gave everyone a final chance to reminisce about the past 100 years of Sigma chapter. A display at the chapter house featuring items from the chapter archives and special memorabilia from various alums also provided special reminders of the past 100 years.

Barb Miller Hoppe (BM - '67) was responsible for compiling a book of Sigma chapter history along with several other members.

Betsy Stillwell Strain ('68) and Michelle Sample ('82) organized the Centennial activities which saw nearly 600 participants from 22 states celebrating 100 years of sisterhood at Sigma chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma at the University of Nebraska.

Sisters - in more ways than one! Susie, Noelle, and Ann Martin.

Kappa Thanks YOU for Loyalty . . .

Loyalty Fund Contributions top $150,000

Loyalty implies faithfulness and we, the Council, thank each and every one of the 6,769 faithful Kappas who have so generously contributed $167,087 to the Loyalty Fund between May 1, 1983 and April 30, 1984.

Because of your support, the Fraternity has been able to . . .

- expand the alcohol awareness program to better serve our undergraduates.
- continue the excellence of the KEY magazine.
- share the benefits of province meetings, associate council seminar, and other conferences with all members.
- publish a new Kappa songbook for the 1984 Convention.
- provide five field secretaries to visit chapters and provide needed at hand resources.
- expand the use of the fraternity computer in the area of membership records.
- develop a program to educate our members in anorexia and other related eating disorders.
- continue quality programming in a time of rising costs.

Please remember that your annual gift to the Loyalty Fund is accumulative, with $100 designating a Loyalty Gift, $500 a Heritage Gift, $1000 a Founders Gift and $5000 a Keystone Gift. (i.e., a $20 gift for 5 years puts the contributor in the Loyalty category.)

Again, we thank the following for their loyal and continued support.

CAMPUS SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

ASTROLAW is the subject of a seminar at the University of California at Davis Law School. The project involves research at Davis, Hastings College of Law in San Francisco, and the University of Santa Clara Law School. Astrolaw, they believe, will be based on treaties among nations and mediation rather than litigation.

MARIETTA COLLEGE (Ohio), the only liberal arts college in the country to offer a bachelor of science degree in petroleum engineering, has been given limited partnerships in 14 oil and gas wells. The college plans to use the wells for "hands-on" experience in the field for students, an advantage not available at most universities offering petroleum engineering.

"MC SHUTTLE" is the name of a red school bus (with golden arches on the roof) that makes trips every 10 minutes at lunch time and from 5 pm to midnight from the University of Maryland campus to the nearest McDonalds.

KAPPA DELTA RHO members at the University of Oregon set up what they say is the first joggers' escort service for women. A woman jogger is met at her door by a male jogger and accompanied on her route at her own speed for whatever distance she wishes. (Chronicle of Higher Education)

AGRICULTURAL students at Purdue can't get a degree without at least three hours of computer science. (Wall Street Journal)

AT PACE UNIVERSITY in New York, historical TV newscasts — of the Army-McCarthy hearings, for example — are the texts for a course on TV's influence on history. (Chronicle)

KAPPA SIGMA installed a chapter at Gallaudet College, the world's only liberal arts college for the deaf. The chapter is the first college social fraternity to be chartered on the campus of an all handicapped college.

MORE THAN SEVEN out of ten Greeks at the University of Minnesota hold jobs while attending school. A survey by the Student Organization Development Center finds that 69 percent of sorority women and 75 percent of fraternity men are working at least part time. (Triangle Review)

THE FIRST HUMANITIES Center for undergraduates has been established at the University of Kentucky. A local horse-man donated $500,000 which the university will match. Scholarships of $2,000 will be given to juniors and the winners will receive $3,000 scholarships in the senior year. The fellows will take special seminars both years and write an undergraduate thesis.

GREEK LIVING GROUPS at Washington State University invested nearly $850,000 in capital improvements. Fifteen of WSU's 24 fraternities and eight of 14 sororities made major improvements to their houses.

Two $500 Fellowships To Be Awarded By New York City Panhellenic

New York City Panhellenic will award two $500 fellowships to fraternity women doing graduate work at a college or university in the New York City Metropolitan area during 1984-85. Those interested should request an application from Ms. Celeste M. Paprocki, 145 West 58th Street, New York, N.Y. 10019, and should return the completed form by August 1, 1984.

In the past years these fellowships have assisted women working for advanced degrees at such schools as New York University, School of Business; Columbia University, School of Physicians & Surgeons; Rutgers University, School of Law; John Jay College; Kean College of New Jersey and Adelphi University.

Kappa Career Calls . . .

If you like to travel, have held a major leadership position in your chapter or on campus, and would like to spend a year working for Kappa be sure to write for an application for the position of Traveling Consultant. All applicants must be Kappas and they must be available from August through June for training and travel. For more information write Director of Field Representatives, Mrs. John A. Barry (Gay, ΔA-Penn State), Rt. 1, Box 87 W, Newfoundland, PA 18445.

Deadline for applications is December 1st.

Kappas Attend NEPC

Building Your Career — Through Kappas

By Camille Lavington, BM-Colorado

Editor's Note: Camille Lavington is a guest author invited by the editor to share her thoughts on how personal presence can make a difference in careers. Camille is a former corporate executive with Fortune 500 companies of Norton Simon, Inc.; Burlington Industries; Federated Department Stores; and Caron International. She has 20 years experience in decision-making roles as president, vice president, marketing director, advertising director, publisher and fund-raiser. Camille is currently president of Lavington Ltd., a consulting firm advising business executives in communication skills and business strategies for higher productivity and power. She has given speeches and seminars recently to: Royal Police Academy, London; Jr. League of New York; Business School Alumni of Harvard, Columbia, and Stanford; John Jay College of Criminal Justice; Bloomingdale's Executive Branch Management, and Wall Street Employment Managers.

Educated at U. of Colorado, Am. U. in Paris, U.C.L.A., Tobe Coburn, U. of New York, Camille Lavington is featured in Business Week's Guide to Careers Feb/March 1984.

A bond exists between Kappas around the world. It is a sisterhood built on integrity and trust. The loyalty that we feel is based on sharing similar values and standards — no matter where or when we were in school. Its cohesiveness is established the day of initiation and continues into later years as alums. Today, we need each other more than ever as we face the task of providing for ourselves financially and emotionally. It is no longer a simple task to build a life away from home. Kappas need to join hands and help one another. The business world is a competitive arena, challenging everyone that enters to prove their worth. It rewards the winners and is unkind to the faint-in-heart. Kappas will fare better if consideration is given to the requirements for success:

- Know yourself and the gift that you bring to life.
- Find the right place to share your talents, where you will be respected and encouraged to grow.
- Adapt your personality to the environment to be accepted. Politics can be devastating if you don't understand the games being played for power.
- Share the limelight with others if you want to move up the ladder faster. Being a team player is essential.
- Manage your time and finances as if you own the firm and want to see the company make money. Being productive is the height of professionalism.

Now that you know what is required — what are you going to do to present yourself for optimum results? The role you play in marketing yourself can affect your salary and improve your opportunities.

- Build your contact base. Kappas live around the world and want to help you succeed, if you share your friendship. A cold call will not bring an immediate response unless you offer something in exchange, or bridge the association by mentioning a mutual friend and Kappa. Recently, a Kappa facing difficulties expected career counseling and custom-tailored introductions before ever meeting me in person and was offended when no emotional empathy was forthcoming. It turned off my generosity and networking process because of her negative attitude.
- Cheerful selling adds a positive dimension that achieves results. Everyone loves a winner and dislikes losers. Put on a smile, no matter how difficult life gets because everyone is facing something and has enough to bear without adding your problems to the list. Sympathy is not required from strangers, even Kappas. Understanding and sharing takes time even with your closest friends — so don't abuse your sisterhood by asking Kappas to rescue you when you are out of control. We care but remember that only you can determine the path of your life and feel the results of your decisions.

- Present yourself as a professional. You never get a second chance to make a first impression. Image counts. The first place to start with an attractive appearance is your hair. Short, off-the-face, natural styling indicates a serious interest in being appreciated for your brains. Long, flowing locks may be feminine but wrong for an office and no one will take you seriously if you look like a debutante — so put it up or have it trimmed. Also eliminate any jewelry that dangles, it suggest frivolity. Men don't adorn themselves and will think that you are capable of making important decisions if the center of power is focused on your eyes, not your ears! Make-up adds to your beauty and can be attractive if it is subtle and understated, but it gives another message if you are over painted and too obvious.
- Clothing varies regionally and from one business sector to another, but executives generally dress more conservatively, wearing outfits that separate them from their staffs as symbols of power. Sportswear separates are worn at the entry-level, suits at the middle to upper management and tailored dresses by top executive women. The construction costs at the manufacturing centers are dramatically affecting styling and retailers report major changes in buying patterns, away from suits into dresses. This change was beginning in Paris and London three years ago and is gradually sweeping across the United States. Shoes will continue to be classic pumps with comfortable heels in basic colors. Do not draw attention to your feet with open-toe or two-tone shoes. Men don't!
- Power presence is important in building a confident image in business and a résumé should indicate your skills and money-making talents. A well-rounded personality is not found in print but in a personal interview so leave off the outside activities that distract the decision-makers who want to hire you for business.

- Discrete individuals can be trusted more often than ones who tell everything, so decide in an interview to be brief and answer questions with care. No one is hired on the first interview so be patient and ask questions before telling too much. Sidestep illegal questions about family, religion, marital status, etc.
- Remember your manners — by thanking Kappas and friends who help you make contacts for career growth. Share your good fortune if you want to be a worthy Kappa. The circle grows when we help each other and it brings joy to us all.

Long-term benefits in business take patience and skill, with perseverance and self-confidence. The joy of being at the top is sharing your view with other Kappas who have helped you reach your goals. It's worth the effort.

CHOICES Publishes Professional Directory!!

CHOICES is pleased to present its first professional directory containing the names of over 8,000 Kappas currently in our career network. There are more names at present in the file, but only names available for the deadline could be included in this issue. We are very excited about this new use of the career program, and we apologize for any inaccuracies in the listings. Some of the names have been in the file since its inception several years ago; therefore career and/or employer may need updating. A form is included in the directory for indicating a change in status, to enter the directory, or to remove a name from the next annual issue, planned for Fall, 1985.

We hope that you will use this directory to contact other Kappas with similar interests. Our network is growing daily as more and more Kappas recognize the vast potential we have in women corresponding around the world, but the success of the program is dependent upon the number of participants. Keep CHOICES updated on your own career information. With the use of the directory, it will no longer be necessary to answer individual network requests.

Use the form below to order your directory, including a check for $4.50 to CHOICES. Order it TODAY and see what your Kappa sisters are doing — where else can you find so many friends in one place??!!

I want to order the new annual Kappa Kappa Gamma Professional Directory:

Name _____ Number of _____ at $4.50 each
Address _____ copies

The Newsletter Editor's Desk Book, by Marvin Arth and Helen Shinkle Ashmore, P<sup>Δ</sup> - Ohio Wesleyan, Parkway Press, Shawnee Mission, Kansas, Third Edition, 1984. (ISBN 0-938270-03-6)

The Desk Book is intended to help newsletters speak their private news plainly and well. The printed word is here to stay, and nowhere so clearly as in this all-American private journalism medium. Just about everyone publishes a newsletter. We get newsletters from our towns, churches, schools, colleges, banks, investment firms, art galleries, social clubs, bike clubs and flower societies.

Many newsletter editors are trained journalists whose skills match those of competent city newspaper editors. Other newsletter editors, namely those pressed into service by fellow club or association members, will freely and smilingly tell you they have no idea what they are doing. This book provides help for beginners and veteran editors as well.

Suggestions are offered for targeting an audience, as well as where to find stories and how to conduct an effective interview. The appearance of the publication gets attention as paper stock, typefaces, page make-up and column widths are explored. Production distribution, choice of printer are discussed, and finally a stylebook reviews journalistic style and basic English grammar.

Helen Ashmore has taught writing at the Universities of Kansas, Missouri, Hawaii, and Northern Colorado. A writer and book review columnist, she has been an editor for Hallmark Cards and for American Family Physician magazine. She has directed public relations programs and has done newsletters for public and private organizations.

The Deskbook ($11.50) may be ordered from Parkway Press, Box 8158, Shawnee Mission, KS 66208. (Editors Note: As former Fraternity Chairman of Chapter Public Relations, I heartily recommend this book for your Chapter Newsletter Editor.)

From time immemorial, younger women have been asking older women questions about the birth experience. Here is a book that brings together the reflections of a wide array of women — rich and poor, famous and not-so-famous, contemporary and historic, American and European and African and even Eskimo. Whether told in their own words or vividly recounted by Nancy Sorel, the stories in this book, some funny, some poignant, some tragic — explain in the human terms as no clinical description in the standard childbirth text can what the experience of having a baby is really like.

Ranging from Sophia Loren to Queen Victoria, from Margaret Mead to Elzire Dionne, the book shows how childbirth is a process which is unique in each instance, even while it is essentially the same for everyone. Some of the most revealing pieces document the reactions of men to fatherhood, men as diverse as Napoleon and W. C. Fields. Included are some outstanding scenes from literature, including Kitty in Anna Karenina and Catherine in A Farewell to Arms.

This book will be a treasured keepsake for anyone who has ever had a baby — or who would like to.

Nancy Caldwell Sorel is the author of Word People. She is a contributor to Esquire and writes the regular "First Encounters" feature in The Atlantic with her husband, artist Edward Sorel. Her sister is Virginia Caldwell Craig, ΓA - Kansas State University.

The Irrepressible Saint, by Harriet Council Mead, ΓK - William and Mary, Anna Publishing, Orlando, Florida, 1983. (ISBN 0-89305-053-9)

The Irrepressible Saint is Father C. Bertram Runnalls, once an Episcopal priest and canon in the Cathedral Church of St. Luke in Orlando, Florida. Author Harriet Mead calls him a "most fascinating man and an ardent advocate of the Anglican/Catholic tradition, as well as the healing ministry. She wrote the book as a memorial to Runnalls who died at the age of 95 in 1976.

During the seven years she worked on the book, the author uncovered the far reaching effect Father Runnalls had on people. Many considered his spiritual guidance the most important in their lives, and his influence for healing was enormous.

Harriet Mead considers herself a "late bloomer" in the writing field. She received her 50 year pin in 1982. Her key is now being given each year to the Kappa pledge at William and Mary with the highest scholastic average. Mrs. Mead retired from Library work in 1980 to finish her book and continue as a museum docent and with her work with the blind.

The Cathedral of the Church of Saint Luke published the book and all proceeds go to the healing and prayer ministry there. The book may be ordered from Mr. B. M. Mead Jr., 500 East Marks St., Orlando, FL 32802 ($6.95).

A Paradise Called Texas*, by Janice Jordan Shefelman, ΓΦ - Southern Methodist, Eakin Press, Austin, Texas, 1983 (ISBN 0-89015-375-2)

The author's first published children's novel blends fact and fiction, as she traces her ancestors' immigration from Germany to Texas in 1845.

Her character, Mina, a frisky ten year old, is a real child, actually a blend of two daughters of the author's great-grandfather. The first Mina died six months after the family arrived in Texas, so the father named his second daughter Mina to ease the pain.

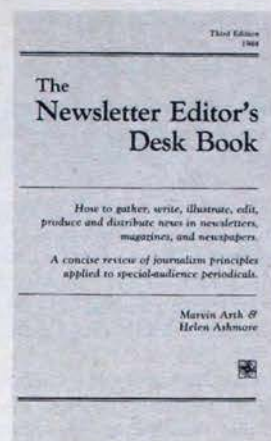

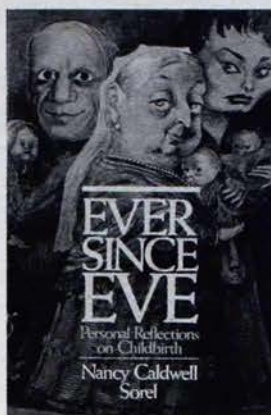

Janice Shefelman had heard the stories of her ancestors from her father and her brother. The writing of the book became a family effort, with her husband Tom, their sons Karl and Dan contributing the exceptionally fine illustrations.

The author is a librarian in the Lake Travis school district, and her contact with children and their literature have combined to help produce a very readable, warm adventure story.

Bluebonnet at the Alamo*, by Mary Brooke Casad, ΓΦ - Southern Methodist, Illustrated by Pat Binder, Eakin Press, Austin, Texas, 1984 (ISBN 0-89015-445-7)

In her second book in the Bluebonnet series, Mary Brooke Casad takes us to the Alamo. There Bluebonnet meets another armadillo, Digger Diller, who has lived with his family in a burrow under the Alamo since the great battle in 1836. Their prized possession is, of all things, Jim Bowie's knife. The story of the armadillos and the knife provide readers with another delightful adventure in the series of "Stories for Young Americans" (grades 4-7).

Our Hidden Heritage, Pennsylvania Women in History*, Edited by Janice H. McElroy, Ph.D., ΔΖ - Colorado College, American Association of University Women, Washington, D.C., 1983 (ISBN 0-961-14760-1)

The publication is the result of a project by the Pennsylvania division of the AAUW, as a salute to the Pennsylvania Tricentennial (1981). It required thousands of hours to complete, with two hundred and fifty nine entries narrowed down to the one hundred and sixty five selected. Sixteen categories of service are covered, from "Women at the Frontier," through "Women as Community Developers," to "Women as Artists." Familiar names include Betsy Ross, Molly Pitcher, Nellie Bly, Lucretia Mott, Pearl S. Buck, Lisbeth Scott, Grace Kelly, Margaret Mead and Rachel Carson. The project was designed to raise public awareness of the roles that women have played in the state's history and to provide documented reference materials for future research.

In the past, if women have been the faceless, forgotten figures of history, the goal of the project was to reconstruct for women the fabric of their past heritage and to show the threads of continuity weaving texture and substance through their lives. This book is a statewide collection of women's biographies. They reveal a fascinating record of what it has meant to be a woman through the three hundred years of struggle of Pennsylvania's history. The struggles that women have gone through to maintain their families, develop their communities, gain access to education, win their political rights and obtain admission into various fields of work are clearly documented in this collection.

This project was not designed to document the lives of all the "outstanding women" in Pennsylvania's history, but rather to provide a statewide view of the lives of selected women. Many women who were very special within the framework of their own, perhaps small, communities have been discovered and their stories shared.

Justice For All (from pg. 3)

their states. Victim training will now be a basic course at the National Judicial College in Reno, NV.

This winter, the first National Symposium on Sexual Assault drew 75 experts to exchange ideas on the most effective and innovative strategies for investigating and prosecuting violent sexual offenders, and for providing better treatment for their victims. The Symposium's report will be distributed this summer to state and local agencies to serve as a yardstick by which they can measure their own programs.

Partnerships have also been established with a number of national organizations dedicated to improving the treatment of crime victims. Among the programs offered are:

- The National Sheriffs' Association to bolster victim services in sheriff's offices around the country.
- The National Organization for Black Law Enforcement Executives to improve the services available to inner city crime victims.
- The Center for Women Policy Studies to develop model legislation to prevent rape victims from paying for medical examinations required to collect the evidence for prosecution.
- The Children's Hospital in Washington, D.C. for its National Conference on Sexual Victimization of Children.
- The National Organization for Victim Assistance for its comprehensive programs which include training prosecutors, developing legislation and networking victim services.
- The American Bar Association to pursue the issues concerning the confidentiality of victim counseling, the arrest and conviction records of child molesters, open parole hearings and victim input at sentencing.

To help an especially innocent and vulnerable victim, the Attorney General created a Task Force on Family Violence to analyze those untold crimes committed within the home. It will soon publish its report and recommendations for action.

Just recently, the Reagan Administration sent to Congress the Victims of Crime Assistance Act of 1984, which would provide federal support for state victim compensation and assistance programs. Its revenue would come from the federal criminal's fines . . . not innocent taxpayer's dollars.

If the House will follow the Senate's lead in passing the President's Comprehensive Crime Control Act, its provisions toughening bail, sentencing and parole laws would assure victims that their assailants will not be free to strike again and again.

This is not the first time the victim's plight has been recognized: rape crisis centers have been fighting to change attitudes for many years. It is, however, the first time an administration has offered its leadership and support to the victim movement. The President's concern has energized the activities of those dedicated individuals working at the state and local levels.

Across the nation, victims and their supporters are working for legislation reforms, riding directly to the scenes of crimes with police and offering emotional support to one another. Local homicide survivor groups, rape crisis centers, victim/witness programs and battered wives shelters are full of such courageous people.

The progress is indeed promising. With the continued efforts of the federal, state and local governments, the scales of the criminal justice system can regain their balance and treat victims with the respect and compassion they deserve."

Province Nominating Chairmen Appointed

Province Meetings will be held in the spring of 1985 and directors of alumnae and directors of chapters will be elected at that time. Every member, whether active or alumna, has an opportunity and responsibility in this process. The form below can be used to recommend the Kappa you feel best qualified to serve your province in this important position. Please send your recommendation(s) NOW to your Province Nominating Chairman, listed on this page. If desired, a separate letter giving additional information and your evaluation of the candidate may be attached to the recommendation form.

A Fleur-de-lis Fair Blooms in Austin

Winter's cold was forgotten as members of the Austin Alumnae Association planned and worked for their April Fleur-de-lis Fair.

An outgrowth of their successful Kappa Kitchen, the fair took the form of a French garden party. Tables covered with white eyelet and decorated with blue ribbons and bows were set around the garden of (Carol) Ann Turnbull Kidd, BΘ-Oklahoma. Large white wrought-iron bird cages holding doves hung from the trees, along with baskets of impatiens. Flower carts held fresh potted herbs, iris and caladium bulbs for sale.

French bread, mustards, jams and vinegars as well as croissants were for sale and a special French donut mix was brought in from New Orleans' Cafe Du Monde. Autographed copies of the microwave cookbook, Microscope Savoir Faire by Houston Kappa Carol Cheney Williamson, ΓΨ-Maryland and Ann Steiner, a Gamma Phi Beta, were also available.

But all the goodies were not "imported" or "store bought." Kappa cooks had been in training for months learning to bake French items under the tutelage of Kay McKay McHorse, ΔΣ-Oklahoma State. Chocolate champagne truffles, chocolate almond brandy truffles, sausage quiche and chicken crepes were among the specialties. Lessons were also given in making Kings cake, a braided yeast bread baked with a small doll or bean inside. Traditionally baked during Epiphany, the person who gets a cake with a gift in it is responsible for baking the kings cake for the following week.

Entertaining the hard-working bakers were a group of alums known as the Strawberry Pickers. They played and sang tunes such as "You Ain't Woman Enough to Take My Man," "I Left My Heart in San Francisco" and "Elvira" while Kappa bakers rolled dough to their rhythms!

General coordinator of the fair was Janet Hetherington Murdock, ΔΨ-Texas Tech. She had a great many enthusiastic and energetic helpers. Among the committee chairmen were Jo Ellen Larkin Finley, BΞ-Texas, flowers; Janice Johnston Williston, also ΔΨ, food; Jenefred Hederhorst Davies, BΘ-Oklahoma, display; and all the good news came through from Diane Wilder Howard, also BΞ, publicity.

Beautiful weather smiled on the fair and all the work was worthwhile when a profit of $3,000 was realized. $1647 went to the Austin Hospice, an organization which helps families with a member in the hospital. $647 adds to the Katherine Peers Woodridge Student Aid Fund for Beta Xi; $500 was given to the Rose McGill Fund and $500 to the Marian Schroeder Graham Memorial Scholarship.

Austin Kappas can well be proud of their beautiful bloomin' Fleur-de-lis Fair.

Cooling Off On Those Lazy, Hazy Summer Days . . .

Why not try some of these super recipes for non-alcoholic drinks. Kappa resources provide many suggestions for positive personnel programming of alcohol awareness. Write to Fraternity Headquarters or to the Director of Personnel Mrs. Russell McAllister, 2010 Gateway Dr., Jackson, MS 39211 for more information.

GORILLA

6 oz. Orange Juice Concentrate
2 Medium Bananas
3 Pineapple Rings
3 T. Presweetened Kool Aid Mix
2 T. Vanilla
Ice Cubes

Mix ingredients together in a blender. Serve.

WILDCAT

6 T. Instant Coffee
½ Cup Sugar
6 Cups Boiling Water
1 Cinnamon Stick
8 Whole Cloves
8 Whole Allspice
½ Cup Heavy Cream
3 T. Powdered Sugar
1 t. Vanilla

Blend all ingredients except cream. Pour cream on top. Garnish with clove, allspice, and cinnamon sticks.

DENISE'S CHRISTMAS COOLER

2½ oz. Non-alcoholic grape juice
2½ oz. 7-UP

Pour grape juice and 7-Up over ice in a tulip glass. Garnish with one each: red cherry, green cherry, and pineapple chunk.

VIRGIN MARY

6 oz. Tomato Juice
1 dash Tabasco Sauce
1 dash Salt
a dash Pepper
¼ Lime

Mix all ingredients except lime. Pour over ice. Squeeze lime and drop into glass. (Add a celery stick if desired.)

DEMURE DAIQUIRI

4 T Frozen Limeade Concentrate - thawed
1 Cup Crushed Ice
1 Drop Mint Extract
Maraschino Cherry

Blend limeade, ice, and mint extract in blender for a few seconds on high speed. Blend until fine "snow" is formed. Serve in a chilled cocktail glass with a short straw. Garnish with a cherry.

HOUDINI COCKTAIL

½ Pint Strawberry Ice Cream
1 Cup Milk
4 tsp. Bottled Grenadine Syrup
Whole Strawberries

Beat ice cream and milk until foamy thick in blender; pour into glasses. Pour grenadine from spoon down inside glass (forms bright crimson layer at the bottom). Garnish with strawberry. Serves 4.

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

ANSWERS

ACROSS

- SEVENTY. A 12 ounce beer has 120 calories.
- LARGE. A person's weight contributes to the absorption rate.
- HEAT. The thought that alcohol gives warmth to the body is a myth. It widens the blood vessels causing a loss of internal body temperature.
- HALF. This estimate is based upon current statistics.
- NOTHING. Coffee and showers do no good. The body oxidizes alcohol at a set rate, and a person can only wait until his liver burns up the alcohol.
- ALCOHOL. Judgment and the thought processes are impaired.
- SODA. Carbonated mixers speed the absorption rate of the alcohol in the body.
- WIDENING. One's body FEELS warmer, but it is actually losing heat.
- TEN. Estimates also are that only 10% of these are currently seeking help.
- EATING. Since 20% of the alcohol is absorbed in the stomach wall, food obviously protects the stomach and slows the absorption process.
- LIVER. This rate varies from person to person, but it cannot be speeded up.
- GIN. The use of alcoholic beverages goes back to Biblical times.
- VARY. Alcohol ingested in the morning will be absorbed more quickly than when it is consumed later in the day or at night.

DOWN

- PACING. A general rule of thumb when drinking is one drink/beer per hour.
- FASTER. Normally a woman cannot drink as much per hour as a man without becoming more intoxicated.
- FOOD. A four ounce glass of wine contains 100 calories.
- SMALL. Food, therefore, tends to slow absorption and effects of alcohol.
- PILL. Reasons are unknown currently, but women using oral contraceptives are known to metabolize alcohol at a slower rate.
- FASTER. Psychological situations, time of day, fatigue, body weight, pace of drinking, and amount of food in the stomach are some factors which influence the effects of alcohol on the body.
- THOUGHT. One's inhibitions which guard behavior are relaxed as a result.
- WINE. A twelve ounce beer also has the same alcohol content.
- DRUG. Combining alcohol with other drugs is a dangerous game.
- STOMACH. Eating while drinking protects the stomach in addition to slowing the absorption rate.
- BEER. Many people forget that a 12 ounce beer has the same alcohol content as one ounce of liquor.
- FOCUS. The relaxing effects of alcohol act on the entire body.
- DEPRESSANT. Some people view alcohol as a stimulant because it causes them to lose some of their inhibitions.

Theta chapter (Missouri) with their "Kids on the Block" puppets.

CAMPUS COMPOSITE

*From kids to rocking chairs,
The Kappa spirit's always there —*

Theta chapter at Missouri has found a way into the hearts of elementary school children through an Easter Seals project called "Kids on the Block." Kappas are the only organization in central Missouri which has taken on this project. With the help of very life-like puppets, these amateur puppeteers are teaching third graders about the disabled. The puppets act out little scenes that talk of their handicaps. These puppets have every type of disability from deafness to Cerebral Palsy. The puppeteers present the puppets and their disabilities and then open the floor to questions from the children. These Kappas are not only teaching and educating these young people but also they are learning and sharing a great deal themselves.

Another Kappa who is sharing her time and talents is Madeleine Guerin,  $\Delta I$  - Louisiana State, who attended the Muscular Dystrophy National Youth Leadership Conference in Arizona last fall, having been chosen the New Orleans Youth Organization representative. The 150 representatives from all over the U.S. who attended the conference were the first to view the new M.D. National Youth Film for 1984, in which the L.S.U.-M.D. football marathons were given coverage and the KKG-Tuffy's bicycle race was shown. Madeleine, who has worked with M.D. for three years as a summer camp counselor and junior staff member, said, "L.S.U. and Kappa looked great!" She also served as Delta Iota's M.D. chairman and representative on the L.S.U.-M.D. overall committee.

At Arizona State, the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity holds an annual sorority competition as a philanthropic event, and this year, Epsilon Delta Kappas won the Most Spirited Award and took first place in the banner contest for the fraternity's Toad Hop Competition. At Purdue University, Madeleine Guerin,  $\Delta I$  - Louisiana State, with the Muscular Dystrophy Association National Poster Child Christopher Rush. Anna Cox, Maria Couragen, and Cathie Dawson,  $\Gamma T$  - Whitman, with their Valentine's Day cupcakes.

ty, it was the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity who paired with the Gamma Delta Kappas to earn almost $2,000 for Cerebral Palsy in a human monopoly game. Earning donations for this philanthropy, members served as tokens on a life-like sized monopoly board and also participated throughout the day to coax donations and sponsors.

The Kappas at Whitman had a campus-wide fundraiser for philanthropy by organizing a Valentine's Day cupcake delivery service. Cupcakes were sold on a pre-order basis and delivered to the purchaser's Valentine on February 14. It was Lou Gehrig's disease which benefited from the Phi Delta Theta annual basketball tournament at the University of Kansas. The Omega Kappas participated in selling tickets and raised $3,200, outselling all other sororities on campus. And it was a spaghetti dinner which Epsilon Epsilon chapter at Emory University had to raise $400 for the Davison School for the hearing and speech impaired.

The Epsilon Beta Kappas at Colorado State might have been singing "That Ole Rocking Chair's Got Me," but it would have been music to the ears of the Cross Roads Battered Women's organization who benefited from the Kappa Rock-a-Thon last fall. This 24-hour rocking chair marathon took place on the front porch of the Kappa Fort and resulted in raising $2,150 for the battered women's group and enthusiastic participation by the Kappas under the direction of Monique Heinze,  $EB$  - Colorado State.

An older woman in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania was the beneficiary of Kappa love from Delta Phi chapter. Every day for several months, under the direction of philanthropy chairman Joane Pevonak,  $\Delta\Phi$  - Bucknell, a Kappa visited her. It was a great help to the lady who lived alone and was very sick, and it was a good experience for all of the Kappas.

Outstanding Kappas —

Milby Hartwell, BΞ - Texas, has been voted a University of Texas Outstanding Student. This 1983 president of Beta Xi chapter is in Omicron Delta Kappa (national honorary recognizing students who have made outstanding contributions in their respective fields of study), Mortar Board, "Orange Jackets" (prestigious academic society serving the university and Austin community), Texas Union Special Events committee (received Most Outstanding Committee Member Award), and University Accounting Association. Milby was elected "Hook 'em Haunt" for two years in a row for the women's spirit organization

Milby Hartwell, BΞ - Texas

"Spooks" which serves the campus and community. This position is in charge of the big-little sister program and organizing baseball buddies for the university's men's baseball team. She also received the award for most spirited pledge of Spooks. In her chapter, Milby was voted most outstanding Kappa for three years and received the "Braun Maynard Award" in recognition of willingly and wholeheartedly giving herself to Kappa as well as the university.

Lambda chapter is proud to honor Marianne Manko, Λ - Akron, as one of Akron's Outstanding Women. She is editor-in-chief of the 1983-84 Tel-Buch and was the Greek Section editor last year. On the Communications Board for the past two years in the Mass Communication School, Marianne is also in the Public Relations Student Society of America and on the Deans' Council. Chosen as one of the top ten communications students in the department, Marianne was also recognized at the 100th Founders Day celebration as the outstanding undergraduate representative. She is a qualified operator and production member for the university radio station, has been an announcer for the One-Minute Newsbreaks on PBS stations, and created a new student show called "The Zip Profile." Marianne was 1981 Homecoming chairman and has worked on the May Day committee for two years, with the Student Center Programming Board, and on the Executive Budget committee.

Sue Olson, Σ - Nebraska, is outstanding through her involvement with the Student Alumni Association, Advertising Club, University Program Council, and the National Agri-Marketing Association. She has also participated in the International Advertising Seminar, served as copy editor on the Greek yearbook and the magazine "Greek Today," is a student host to high school seniors, is the Journalism Senator for the Associated Students for the University of Nebraska, "Greek Week" publicity chairman, and chapter second vice president. Kim Philpot, another Sigma Kappa, is in Phi Eta Sigma and Alpha Lambda Delta (freshmen), serves on the Student Advisory Board for the College of Business Administration, is vice president of the Finance Club, chairman of the College of Business Administration Academic Services, and a contributing editor for "Probe Magazine." Melissa Wythers, also at Sigma chapter, is on the Arts and Sciences Advisory Board, the "Greek Week" public relations committee, in College Republicans, Wesley House Minstrels, P.E.O., Alpha Lambda Delta, and Phi Eta Sigma.

Allison Pounds and Kelly Bond, ΓN - Arkansas, have been chosen for Who's Who of American Colleges and Universities. Allison is a member of Angel Flight, Cardinal XXX (an exclusive honor society for freshmen), Omicron Delta Kappa (leadership), and chapter president. Kelly is also in Angel Flight as historian, chairman of an Arkansas Union Programs Council, president of Students Against (Muscular) Dystrophy, and chapter pledge chairman.

Another Kappa to be named to Who's Who is Jeanne Anne Bowers, EM - Clemson, who is in Phi Kappa Phi and Rho Phi Alpha, was voted Most Outstanding Senior in Travel and Tourism, maintained a 3.68 GPA, and was chapter rush chairman and assistant pledge chairman. Vivien Case is another outstanding Clemson Kappa, who is in Blue Key, on the Clemson Traffic Review Board, the 1984 Tigerama director, and chapter pledge chairman 1983. Mae Ellyn (Macie) Cox, also an Epsilon Mu Kappa, is a James F. Byrnes Scholar, as well as being active in the Finance Club and the Investments Club, on the Dean's List three times, and chapter treasurer.

Marilyn Pelias, BO - Tulane, has completed her undergraduate work in three years in preparation for her entrance into Tulane School of Medicine this fall with plans to specialize in reconstructive surgery. Having been named for Who's Who of American College Students, her achievements also include Beta Beta Beta (biology), Alpha Epsilon Theta (pre-med), Alpha Lambda Delta, Daisy Chain (juniors), and chapter committees such as scholarship, personnel, and nominating. She has a consistent Dean's List record and also works as a model and teaches a class in make-up application.

Really Stand Out!

Elizabeth Wulf
ΓΑ - Kansas State

Jami Strong
ΓΑ - Kansas State

Lisa Hutchins
ΓΑ - Kansas State

Maria Denny
ΓΤ - Whitman

Jenny Robinson
ΓΔ - Purdue

Honors continue to come to Gamma Alpha Kappas: Elizabeth Wulf has been elected to Chimes (junior honorary), which promotes scholarship, leadership, and service. She is also a KSU campus tour guide and on KSU Student Foundation, which promotes continued alumni support and explains new programs to support the university to be implemented by current students. Also elected to Chimes is Jamie Strong, who tutors third-graders in math and spelling, co-teaches a Sunday school class of pre-schoolers, and is chapter house chairman. Lisa Hutchins is in Phi Upsilon Omicron (home economics), Blue Key, the Restaurant Management Club, KSU Student Foundation, Kappa Pickers, and has been chapter pledge chairman. Also in Blue Key is Kathleen Daniels, a College of Engineering Ambassador, who is on the KSU finance committee, a College of Engineering senator, and chapter song leader.

Maria Denny, ΓΤ - Whitman, has served as co-chairman of Interim '84, an intensive, student-run program during semester break at Whitman, which includes guest speakers, workshops, seminars, and entertainment. In recognition of a "job well done," Maria was awarded an honorarium by the Congress of the Associated Students of Whitman College.

Jenny Robinson, ΓΔ - Purdue, served as Health Awareness Month co-ordinator for this past year. This involved organizing month-long events for students, faculty, and community concerning personal health and safety. Jenny has also been busy with the School of Nursing curriculum committee, as student representative for the Greater Lafayette Inter-Agency Council, Golden Gavel Leadership Honorary secretary, Sigma Theta Tau (nursing), on the National Dean's List, Distinguished Student, Lutheran Brotherhood Nursing Scholarship recipient, volunteer for screening programs for the School of Nursing, and chapter membership chairman.

At the University of Missouri, Nancy Patterson and Lisa Higham, both Theta chapter actives, are involved with Greek Week and Homecoming, respectively. Nancy was secretary for the Greek Week core committee last year and this year is in charge of the king/queen selection. She is also on the Student Foundation board and has been in charge of gubernatorial candidate Gene McNary's campaign on the Missouri campus. Lisa is co-chairman of the 1984 Homecoming luncheon, which will entertain and feed approximately 2,000 people. Her committee also organizes the all-campus Homecoming pride project which will be a blood drive.

At South Carolina, Epsilon Kappas Myra Watts and Ashley Griffin are Greek Week co-chairman and on the Homecoming commission, respectively.

Other Kappas stand out as tour guides for their universities. Melissa Aschenbach, Linda Martins, Aimee Felder, and Denise Erwin, ZK - Bowling Green, have been honored by being four of the 35 chosen from 150 interviewed to be tour guides and serve as information sources for prospective students and their parents who visit the campus. Laura Paulsen, EB - Colorado State, is involved in the Companions program though C.S.U. and is a student ambassador to her high school in Nebraska, as well as working with the admissions office to give tours to prospective students and their parents. The tour guide group at Arizona State is called Devils Advocates, and they not only give tours of the campus, but also travel to high schools across the nation to promote A.S.U. Chris Mastrangelo and Angie Greener, EΔ - Arizona State, are in Devils Advocates. Chris is in the university's ROTC program, Student Foundation, Homecoming chairman, and chapter president. Angie is in Student Foundation and Blue Key and is chapter pledge chairman.

And at Whitman College, the Kappas swept student body elections to lead the Associated Students of Whitman College (AWSC) this year: Carla Lucero is ASWC vice president; Gigi Diebel, comptroller; and Jenny Norman, secretary. All are Gamma Gamma actives.

At Kansas State, many Gamma Alpha Kappas lead their respective organizations. Kathy Kurtz, ΓΑ - Kansas State, has been elected to the Business Council, which has jurisdiction over allocation of money to college clubs and teacher evaluations, while presenting the College of Business at KSU Open House. She is also in the KSU Marketing Club, Alpha Kappa Psi (business), and chapter social chairman. Tracy Gibbs, is Business Council vice president and has been newsletter editor for the business college. This Gamma Alpha Kappa is also a student representative to select the outstanding KSU teacher, as well as being the business college telefund coordinator, and chapter assistant treasurer and assistant chairman.

More Gamma Alpha actives lead the Arts and Sciences Council. Erin Brummett is president of the 17-member council which serves as a liaison between administration, faculty, and students with the College of Arts and Sciences. Erin is also social chairman of KSU College Republicans and vice president of programs for KSU Women in Communications, Inc. (journalism), on the KSU Union Program Council's Issues and Ideas committee (which presents various programs dealing with current issues to students), and chapter public relations chairman. Beth Wingate and Maribeth Gottschalk are also on the Arts and Sciences Council. Beth is in Sigma Delta Pi (Spanish) and is chapter culture chairman. Maribeth is also on the Dean's Advisory Board, the KSU Campus Tour Coordinator, in the Public Relations Students Society of America, and chapter pledge chairman.

Elizabeth Upson, ΓΑ - Kansas State, is a member of the Ruling Elder at the First Presbyterian Church, a 15-member council which makes decisions concerning all activities of the church. She is also recording secretary of the Mission Committee. Sonja Smith, ΓΑ - Kansas State, is the elected secretary of the Institute of Industrial Engineers, which meets once a month with a guest speaker. Sonja also is in Phi Kappa Phi, on the Engineering Ambassadors Executive Board, and chapter assistant Fraternity education chairman.

The leadership experience of Joni Peterson, EB - Colorado State, has been evident in many cases. She was elected senator from the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences to the Associated Students of C.S.U., for which she serves on the library council, College Days committee, and the policy committee. Joni is also on the A.H.S.S. College Council, is treasurer for the Pre-law Association, vice chairman for the C.S.U. Democrats, in Hesperia (junior honorary), the C.S.U. political club, economics club, Student Programming Alumni Relations Connection, Rocky Mountain Greenpeace, and the Society of Women Political Scientists.

Joining her in also having a long list of leadership involvement is Epsilon Beta Gabrielle Fidler, who is president of the Financial Management Association (finance honorary), past vice president of Business College Council, and active in the Finance Club. Gabrielle is also in Mortar Board, Sigma Iota Epsilon, and is employed in the Department of Finance and Real Estate at C.S.U. as a tutor and researcher.

Jill Wurzer, ΓΑ - Kansas State, is vice president of the KSU Marketing Club. She manages the budget and funds and also works as treasurer of Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity and has been chapter treasurer.

At Purdue, Kappa leadership is evident in Panhellenic. Susan Dee, ΓΔ - Purdue, has been appointed 1984-85 president. She has represented Kappa and Purdue at the Big Ten Conference and has attended the Mid-American Panhellenic Conference whose program consists of leadership workshops. Susan also is involved in Legislator Sabbatical Senior Board and Society of Women Engineers. While a member of the Purdue Panhellenic Association Junior board, Liana Peterson, also a Gamma Delta Kappa, served as a student advisor to Junior Panhellenic. She now serves as a liaison for Junior Panhellenic, Senior Panhellenic, and the Dean of Students. She is also chapter song chairman. Peggy Tansek, ΓΔ - Purdue, served as the Panhellenic representative to Purdue Student Association during the 1983-84 academic year, having been selected from all sorority members. She is active in College Republican Junior Board, Occupational Outlook Junior Board, Society of Women Engineers, and as chapter second vice president and undergraduate chairman of 1983 province meeting.

At Iowa State, it is Delta Omicron Kappa Shelly Adams who was elected the Northern Area Regional vice president of the Mid-American Panhellenic Council Association for 1984-85. She will coordinate events for MAPCA members within a five-state region (Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota).

Tracey Weiss, ΕΦ - Florida, has been very active on her Panhellenic Council as elected administrative vice president, rush counselor, and layout editor of the sorority rush magazine. In addition, Tracey was elected a senator in student government 1982-83 and was also on the Affairs and Ethics Committee that year. She is in SAVANT (leadership and service honorary) and serves as its programs vice president, was in the Adopt-A-Grandparent program, Florida Blue Key, and chapter pledge chairman presently.

The recently elected vice president of the University of Utah Panhellenic Council is Elaine McKibben, ΔΗ - Utah who has served as Greek yearbook editor and was chapter social chairman, as well as having been chosen for Mortar Board and serving as a prosecutor for the Greek Judiciary Council.

Others involved as Panhellenic leaders are: Susan Cooke, ΕΚ - South Carolina, membership chairman; Terri Towbridge, ΖΚ - Bowling Green, Greek Unity Committee chairman; and Lisa Teague, ΕΚ - South Carolina, rush director. Another note is that Ann Cary, ΒΜ - Colorado, has received the award of Most Outstanding Panhellenic rush counselor at Colorado. Rush counselors at Bowling Green are called Rho Chis, and their job is to guide and make a rushee feel more comfortable going through rush. Zeta Kappa is proud to have had four Kappas chosen after only one year of colonization: Melissa Aschenbach, Connie Delvecchio, Christine Schetter, and Arleen Meier, ΖΚ - Bowling Green.

(Right) Vickey Gunther and Nancy Norsworthy, ΕΕ - Cal State, Northridge

The current Panhellenic president at California State, Northridge, is Epsilon Xi Kappa Jeri Kirschner, who is involved as a Freshman Orientation Leader, hostess for the School of the Arts, recruiter for the Student Tutorial Elementary Project, and Who's Who Among American College Students. Others from her chapter who are also Freshman Orientation Leaders are Laurie Neville (for three years), Susan McCain, Maureen McNulty, Amy Ptachick, and Terri O'Lear. Amy, Susan, and another Epsilon Xi Kappa Kellie Lowman are in the Textile and Clothing Club. Susan is also in the American Home Economics Association and has been on the Dean's List for the past three semesters. Amy is on the Dean's List and in Order of Omega. Terri serves as vice president for Order of Omega, was Greek Woman of the Year, and in Who's Who Among American College Students and Outstanding Young Women of America. Kim Dong is on the Dean's List with a 4.0 GPA, and Alesia Fricano is also on the Dean's List. Vickey Gunther is treasurer for the Order of Omega and in the pre-law club, while Brenda Kates is in the School of Education Club, and Nancy Norsworthy is in Order of Omega and on the Dean's List. All are Epsilon Xi Kappas.

It's a Year for Sports —

This year of the Olympics brings much attention to sports activities, and at Whitman College the Kappas have brought attention to sports through several of their members. Eloise Christensen, ΓΓ - Whitman is on the Whitman cross country ski team and competed in the national championships in Colorado in March. Betsy Jordan, ΓΓ - Whitman, is one of five women on Whitman's "A" team of downhill skiers, skiing the giant slalom and slalom. She competed in the regional championships in Oregon. Also, five Gamma Gamma Kappas are on the varsity women's swim team at Whitman: Robin Hoof, Jenny Norman, Melani Ronai, Kristen Nilsson, and Ginger Talbot. Last season Robin competed in NAIA Nationals swimming the 1650-meter freestyle and the 500-meter freestyle; Robin was named "All American"; and Melani received an outstanding improvement award in 1983.

The tennis courts at Whitman have been graced with Gamma Gamma Kappa Mary Adam's talents. She has been playing on the varsity women's tennis team, playing sixth singles and third doubles. Mary also plays the flute in Whitman's orchestra, has been chapter rush chairman, and has studied at the University of London. And Anne Skalley, ΓΓ - Whitman, who spent last spring at the Institute of European Studies in Paris, France, is playing on the varsity tennis team this spring.

Other Kappa tennis players are: Suzie Deeds, EB - Colorado State, who is playing number one singles this year on the Colorado State varsity tennis team and holds a Colorado tennis ranking, and Stephanie Rouch, ΕΓ - North Carolina, who plays number three in varsity tennis. At the University of Utah, Marcia Foote, ΔΗ - Utah, has made an excellent start with the women's tennis team, receiving accolades from the coach who feels she is one of the reasons the team should retain its High Country Athletic Conference championship and become a factor in national competition. Marcia has won the singles division in 1982, placed second in 1983 in the Junior Intermountain Tennis Tournament and was ranked among the nation's top 100 junior players while in high school. At the University of Texas, Beta Xi Kathleen Cummings is a top ranked player on the university's women's tennis team. A transfer from Colorado, Kathleen was a three-time All-American at Colorado and in 1982 reached the semi-finals of the national collegiate tournament. She ranked 48th in the world in 1981, the best among all amateur players. A four-time member of the U.S. Junior Federation Cup squad, she has also played pro tournaments for several years.

And there are those who have a different track record. Toni Constand, EB - Colorado State, has been in track since she was six years old and has attended AAU National meets all over the United States, mainly as a hurdler. Sharon Starika and Robyn Olson, ΕΔ - Arizona State, have competed in the Rusty Pelican Biathlon at Lake Pleasant, Arizona, which consists of 31 miles of biking and nine miles of running through rough terrain and desert. Sharon placed sixth in her age group and 10th of overall women, and Robyn was second in her age group, this being her first biathlon competition. Sharon also competed in the Arizona YMCA Half Marathon, placing third in her age group and 10th among all women in the 13-mile run.

Another runner is Gretchen Finholm, ΒΠ - Washington, who was one of 1500 runners in the Seattle marathon who completed the 26.2-mile course. She finished in just under four hours, placing eighth in her age group of women (19 and under).

There are more teams which claim Kappas have led them to success. Kristen Iboch, ΕΓ - North Carolina, is a returning letterer for her varsity volleyball team; and Rene Evans, Μ - Butler, was chosen to represent her teammates as part of the North Star All Conference volleyball team. Kim Erickson, Θ - Missouri, has a full scholarship for golf and as a freshman had qualified for 12 out of 12 collegiate tournaments, finishing the season ranked third on the varsity team. The team captain for the University of South Carolina Equestrian Club is Epsilon Kappa Helen Baldwin. She also gives riding lessons to other team members and is high point rider in the region in the Open Hunt Seat on flat and over fences and in Open Stock Seat, the region consisting of South Carolina, North Carolina, Georgia, and northern Florida. Helen competed in the National Championships in Pennsylvania in May.

Epsilon Beta at Colorado State has two who are members of the first crew team at the university, Andrea Parks and Jennifer James. Andrea is also chapter social chairman, and Jennifer was pledge class president. At the University of Washington, Beta Pi Kappas Julie Shaver and Molly Velling are on the freshmen Husky crew team.

Kappa chapters everywhere are "going for the gold" in intramurals. Theta chapter captured the 1983 Missouri intramurals crown, winning football, basketball, softball, and tennis, along with finishing very high in almost every team and individual sport. The Zeta Kappa volleyball team was awarded first place in the 1984 Delta Zeta volleyball tournament. At the University of Florida, Epsilon Phi chapter captured the sorority football title and went on to win the women's All-Campus Championship. Epsilon Phi team members were Gwen Gutowski, Jan Walker, Lisa Villasor, Monika Nevergold, Darlene Pollard, Elaine Taverit, Suzie Beekman, Wendy McCoy, Missy Floyd, Kim Hembree, Beth Holloway, Tracey Herman, Elaine Cohan, Elizabeth Salomon, Kathy Leddy, and Renee Insley. Terry Evola, EB - Colorado State, is very active in intramural basketball, co-ed intramural basketball, and is chapter assistant Panhellenic representative. Angie Snider, Ω - Kansas, has been named to the All Big Eight team for the second year in a row. She also was chosen for the five-person Kodak All-District V team, the first step in the selection of the Kodak All-American team. Angie was one of ten finalists for the Wade Trophy, which is given annually to the most outstanding woman in college basketball. (See the summer 1983 issue for more on Angie Snider.)

A large part of the total sports picture is that of the supporters of the teams and individuals who compete, and leading them are many Kappas. Seven members of the new 40-member University of Washington drill team are Beta Pi Kappas, headed by founder and co-captain Kathy Thompson. The team performs at men and women's basketball games, as well as in the Seattle Kingdome. Other Kappas on the precision drill team are Barbi Wilson, Denise Shipley, Karen McHugh, Brenda Jackson, Laura Lockard, and Liz Willis. Involved with a different ballgame at South Carolina, Bobbi Williams, an Epsilon Kappa active, is the captain of the USC "Batgirls," who keep up the equipment during baseball games and keep the umpires supplied and boost team spirit. Nancy Sprinkle, EB - Colorado State, is a member of the Golden Rams Organization on campus, which recruits football and basketball players, decorates their dorms before every home game, and works the press box at football games. Nancy is also chapter public relations chairman. At the University of Kansas, Allison Stroup and Cindi Englund, Ω - Kansas, have been selected to be members of the Kansas Relays Committee.

(Top) Beth Macy, Heidi Moorma, Lisa Ramler, (bottom) Kelley Hecky, Theresa Trowbridge, and Christina Caskey, ZK - Bowling Green

Two of the seven U.C.L.A. song girls are Gamma Xi Kappas, Colleen Hurty and Ciema Salem. Not only do the song girls cheer at Bruin football games, they also make guest appearances, have special trips and luncheons, and put in eight to ten hours a week and all summer practicing. Laura Richards, Θ - Missouri, is a junior varsity cheerleader, cheering for varsity women's basketball and softball and men's wrestling. Christy Piskulich, Tammy Gilmore, and Carrie McDaniel, Θ - Missouri, have been chosen by the University of Missouri Athletic department to serve as Tiger Hostesses. They assist in recruiting athletes and serve as liaisons between the alumni and the university's sports programs.

Donice Mann, Θ - Missouri, was chosen to perform a major role in the campus play "Mrs. Reardon Drinks a Little." She is one of five chosen from approximately 60 who auditioned. Another star who is a Theta Kappa is active in dance. She is Kim Richardson, Θ - Missouri, who has been chosen for a very elite dance company on the Missouri campus. These performers present 12-minute dance productions representing different themes throughout the school year. Susan Riddle, also a Theta Kappa, not only was selected as a University Singer, which is the major singing group that represents the University all over the state, but also was asked to sing the national anthem during the 1983-84 basketball season, which means she sang to a crowd of up to 10,000 people every week.

Active in the University Singers at Colorado State is Epsilon Beta Kappa Kim Gregory. She also is secretary of the student Music Educators National Conference chapter at Colorado State, directs a church choir in Loveland, Colorado, and has worked for the admissions and records office on campus for two years. Caroline Lusky and Hindy Garrison, EK - South Carolina, are members of the elite U.S.C. Opera. And the only female chosen to tour with the Purdue Varsity Glee Club throughout Florida is Amy Miniat ΓA - Purdue. As a soprano soloist from Purdue's Coed Choral Club, she has been given many opportunities to perform for the public.

Melanie Kalpakis, ΔI - Louisiana State, is living her dream of being a dancer. She is a charter member of the L.S.U. Ballet Ensemble, which performs in the Union Theatre and tours Louisiana. In addition to performing herself, she has taught ballet at an elementary school, participated in many workshops, and attended the annual American Dance Festival in Durham, North Carolina, as one of 300 dancers chosen from all over the world.

Some other Kappas are stars on a different stage — Amy Jo Reinhardt, ΓA - Kansas State, has been judged first runner-up to Miss Agriculture, who serves as the ambassador for the College of Agriculture. The winners had been judged on poise, personality, their knowledge of agriculture, public speaking ability, and their college activities. Amy Jo is a member of the Agriculture Economics Club and K.S.U. PEO, an Agriculture Ambassador, and chapter intramural chairman.

Two Zeta Kappa (Bowling Green) Kappas who were named for the Miss Ohio Pageant, a stepping stone to Miss America, are Tammy Salem and Aimee Felder. Tammy wears the Miss Sandusky Valley crown, and Aimee is Miss Toledo 1984. Aimee also won the top talent award.

Paula Franzen Θ - Missouri, is the reigning Education Queen and as such takes part in the Homecoming festivities and acts as a liaison between the Education Department and alumni and prospective students.

Elizabeth Peck, BΞ - Texas, served as the U.T. Sweetheart for 1983-84. She had been selected in a campus-wide election, being one of four finalists from 50 nominees. As Sweetheart, Elizabeth served as hostess for the university and participated on the Student Involvement Committee and in scholastic and athletic recruiting. When the Longhorn football team played in the Cotton Bowl on January 2, 1984, Elizabeth represented U.T. as Cotton Bowl queen. Beta Xi is certainly proud of her!

At Oregon State, Sheila Peterkort of Gamma Mu chapter has been selected the 1984-85 Miss O.S.U. Sheila also is in Phi Eta Sigma and Alpha Lambda Delta.

Nancy Ferrara and Kim Eason, EK - South Carolina, are currently Miss Aiken and Miss Azalea, respectively.

A Little Bit of This-a and A Little Bit of That-a . . .

"Work hard, study hard, and be teachable." Four Beta Pi Kappas planned on doing just that this summer by selling books through the Southwestern Company, earning not only college credits but also a nice profit. Each summer, the company, founded in 1868, provides a unique opportunity for 4,000 college students nationwide to gain business experience. After a week-long training period, they learn to set up their own business, operating door to door. The books they sell vary from cookbooks to exquisite volume libraries. Each sale brings a 40% commission. Holly Sherwood, Robin Keller, Maggie Hanson, and Julie Rogers, BII - Washington, will be working to earn an income and five college credits in marketing. This is Julie's second year, having grossed $9,900 in three months last year and having been ranked the number five salesperson in her division.

Loren Reed, EΔ - Arizona State, will be traveling also, but not as a salesperson. She goes to Osaka, Japan in August to attend the Kansai Gaidai University for foreign students, where she will take a variety of courses ranging from Japanese Corporate Structure to Nonverbal Communication. She has studied the Japanese language for one year and will be living with a Japanese family.

Zeta Kappa at Bowling Green has certainly arrived on the scene with proof of their work toward scholastic goals. This chapter won five outstanding scholarship awards at the spring Panhellenic Scholarship Desserts, the highest amount of awards given to one chapter. They were given awards for the best pledge class, highest pledge class GPA, highest active GPA, highest overall house GPA, and for the most people on the Dean's List.

Gamma Upsilon chapter at British Columbia has also been rewarded for outstanding achievements. The Kappas there won the Marjorie Leeming Award as best all-around sorority on campus. They won first place among all sororities in sports (6th on campus), first place for intramural volleyball, second place for scholarship among all sororities, and second place for all sororities in the annual songfest competition (which raised over $11,000 for Easter Seals disabled children).

"The courage of working for something you believe in, day in and day out, year after year, can be difficult but holds the greatest rewards. Find your ideal . . . and follow it," are the words of V. Sukomlin as they appeared on the printed program for Epsilon Phi's house dedication ceremony. Their hard work for something they believed in did hold a great reward, and they all celebrated together to dedicate the new Epsilon Phi house last March. There were over 275 guests, including all fraternity council, chairmen from all Greek groups on campus, university dignitaries, Epsilon Phi House Board, Florida alumnae associations, chapters in the province, and special guests who had contributed to the new house.

Zeta Eta Kappas at U.C. Irvine also worked toward a goal and came out on top. They won first place overall for Greek Week by taking two first places and one second place in Spirit and Song and Greek Olympics and in booth decorating, respectively. This year's Greek Week celebrated 10 years of Greeks at U.C. Irvine.

The long hours of hard work which Epsilon Beta chapter put into perfecting an award-winning Homecoming float literally went up in smoke. What had been a giant boot to depict the old mother in the shoe for the theme "a family homecoming" caught fire and burned just before the parade. However, they and the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, who had worked with them on the float, decided to make the best of an unfortunate situation. What was left of the float participated in the Homecoming parade sporting a giant banner that read "We're all fired up" and all the Kappas and Figis on the float cheering and singing.

A Kappa Sister's Concern for Another Leads to Life- time Challenge

Nancy L. Chapman
ΔZ - Colorado State

On the 23rd of February 1984, a very dear friend of mine died. Her name was Kris. She was 20 years old. I want to share a bit of this tragic story with you, my sisters, because Kappa brought Kris and me together in the first place eighteen months ago.

I met her during RUSH my senior year at the Colorado College. She was a sophomore going through for the first time. Upon being introduced to her, I was immediately intrigued by this lively young woman. What a fireball, I thought. Kris ultimately pledged that fall and I, being pledge chairman, felt fortunate to have her in my class. She certainly added a unique dimension with her outlook and that is something we at Delta Zeta pride ourselves in—originality. And that she was . . . an original.

During the year, we grew particularly close and came to discover many things about one another; things that made us laugh, cry, and think about what we were going to do with our lives. We both had such plans and as usual for those close in heart, those plans included one another—regardless of where we finally ended up!

I graduated in June of 1983, and we went our separate ways, but stayed as close as possible. We shared each other's trials and joys, and one of those joys was her acceptance that summer into a junior year abroad program at the London School of Economics and Political Science in London, England. Study there was a mutual dream of ours and I was ecstatic that she had made it happen for herself. Kris spent the balance of the summer planning for her adventure and she finally left on the 14th of September for what was to be an enlightening and challenging year for her. And it is at this point that the tale becomes one of sorrow.

Kris was in London approximately six weeks when she became so ill as to seek a doctor's care. He told her that her illness was mystifying, yet he felt she was ill enough to require hospitalization. She stayed hospitalized in London until Thanksgiving when she was flown to Salt Lake City, Utah, in a further attempt to diagnose her illness. Now, all of this was unknown to me for she failed to mention any of it in her letters, so when she called me on December 3rd saying her plans had changed and that she was in Salt Lake City, not London, with something called Wilson's Disease . . . I was obviously stunned and terribly concerned. I had never heard of Wilson's and suddenly it threatened someone I loved.

In the ensuing weeks, I became intimately involved in researching this disease and I not only discovered the facts about it (see following article), but I also learned what a little known killer it is. And it seemed to me that something that causes such pain as Wilson's, both in its surprise appearance and physical effects, should be better known.

I stayed in close touch with Kris and her family over those next four agonizing months, yet, as I said, the disease finally consumed "my" fireball. And sudden ly I was the one with the changing plans . . . to attend her funeral.

My future still includes Kris in a way, though it is sadly different from our original plans. She lives on in me in spirit and in my endeavors to help an organization called The Foundation for the Study of Wilson's Disease. The Foundation has become a positive outlet for some anger and frustration and it gives me hope that by educating others I may be able to use my feelings constructively. I am determined that Kris' death not be in vain. Many have been denied the pleasure of actually meeting my friend in this life and I am hoping to turn that into something positive. That is why I chose to share this with you.

I am not asking you to contribute large amounts of money to the Foundation, or even to become as involved as I have. All I am asking is that you acknowledge the existence, the needless existence, of a killer like Wilson's Disease. Help me to help others out there who may unknowingly have this disease. Only with our understanding and support of research and organizations like the Foundation can this be achieved. Yes, those who meet me will unwittingly be meeting Kris as well. It is just sad that they shall miss the real thing. . . .

The Tragedy of a Confusing, Rare Disease

About 7,000 Americans suffer from the disease. Yet, the symptoms are so confusing and so few doctors are familiar with them that only 1,000 cases have been correctly diagnosed.

And the tragedy of this disease is compounded by the fact that many of the estimated 6,000 undiagnosed individuals may not receive a penicillin-related drug in time to prevent death or severe and permanent harm — to the liver, for example, or the brain.

The hereditary condition is called Wilson's Disease. It is named after Dr. Samuel A.K. Wilson, an American-born neurologist working in Britain who first described several cases of the ailment in 1912. He distinguished the disease from multiple sclerosis, with which it had been often confused.

Wilson's Disease is a hereditary disorder that is passed on in an autosomal recessive pattern. In order for a case to occur, both parents must be carriers of the Wilson's Disease gene. One in every 90 people, or 2.5 million Americans, is such a carrier. However, they do not develop any manifestations of the disease.

For those who inherit Wilson's Disease, the first evidence usually does not appear until after age 5. For some, the earliest signs may not appear until age 50.

Because Wilson's is a genetic disease, a physician, after diagnosing a case, should examine and test all siblings because each has a one-in-four chance of being affected.

Without treatment, an individual with Wilson's Disease may live to develop such nervous-system disorders as indistinct speech, trembling hands, clumsiness, unsteady gait, difficulty in swallowing, seizures and death.

If you know anyone under 40 with:
* indistinct speech, trembling, drooling
* hepatitis, jaundice, swelling
* onset of severe emotional disturbances
* sudden deterioration of school work ask your doctor about Wilson's Disease.

Tour co-chairman Elizabeth Dickey Mills, ΓΦ - SMU, and Susan Ellis Cooper, EA - TCU, supervised the setting up of the Christmas Store.

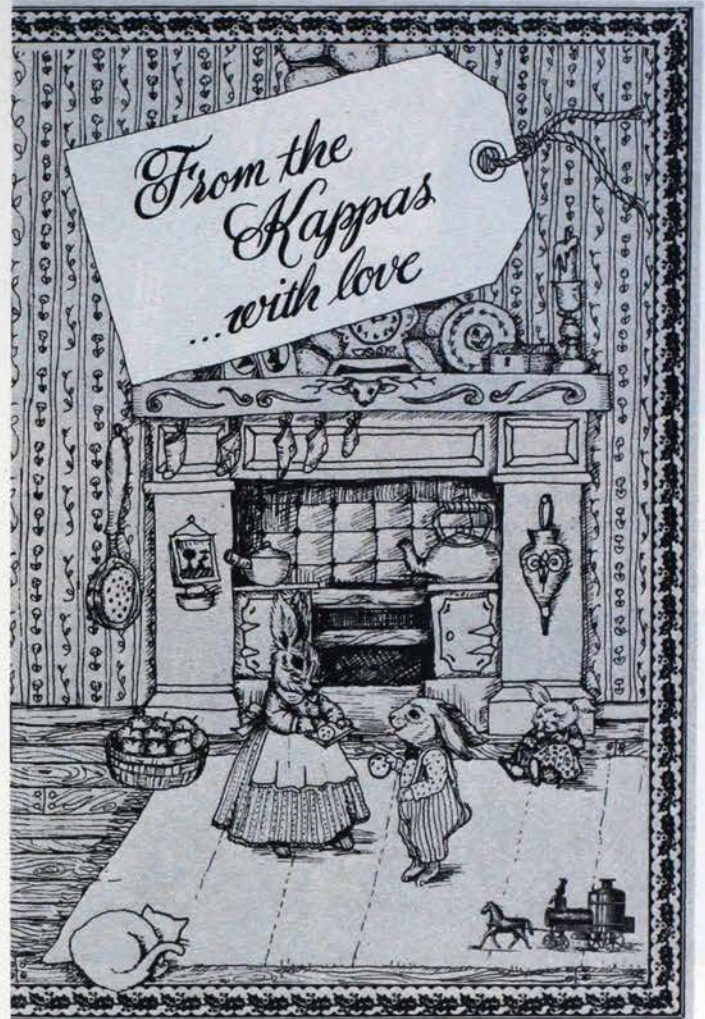

Elizabeth and Susan found that Theta Province Director of Alumnae, Catherine Terry Jennings, BΞ - Texas, was a good customer for flowers.

From Dallas with Love

Many changes were made in Dallas' 9th Biennial Christmas Tour of Homes. The leadership provided by co-chairmen Elizabeth Dickey Mills, ΓΦ - SMU, and Susan Ellis Cooper, EA - TCU, to their 60 various chairmen showed initiative and persistence. The 1983 Homes Tour had many firsts:

1. A two-day tour, rather than one, as in the past.
2. "From the Kappas with Love" - a 28-page publication of seasonal delights, including instructions for hand-made items and baked goods, printed in "handwriting" and illustrated with old-fashioned sketches.
3. A sold-out luncheon for 500 in cooperation with a neighborhood church. The Kappa Christmas Store was in that facility.
4. Door prizes featuring opportunities to win a mink jacket, a watercolor painting, needlepoint firescreen, a weekend in New Orleans and a session with a leading Dallas photographer.

5. Underwriting of many of the larger expenses such as postage and printing by local Dallas merchants and supporters.

More than 3500 people from the Dallas areas as well as from surrounding states viewed the four lovely homes. An elegant 60-page booklet described and pictured the homes, listed and pictured chairmen and decorators and told of Dallas Kappas' community involvement and the philanthropies to which they give, as well as providing a showcase for advertisers.

Dallas-Fort Worth Home and Garden photographers attended and will again feature the homes in the following December issue.

A profit of $56,000 made by the hard working alumnae was distributed among Dallas Services for Visually Impaired Children; Sequoia, an organization which provides family-style homes for retarded adults; Kappa scholarships and the Heritage Museum.

Alumnae President Karen Kepner Tobias, ΓΡ - Allegheny, and Rose McGill Chairman Judith Mazur Fisher, ΓΕ - Pittsburgh, are pictured wrapping packages for the young mother and two boys in their Christmas Sharing Program. The sale of Christmas greens provided funds for the event.

Atlanta

"Puttin' on the Ritz" might have been the subtitle of the 23rd annual "Fashions and Diamonds Luncheon" hosted by the Atlanta Alumnae Association. The grand ballroom of the newly opened Ritz-Carlton Hotel was filled with 550 alumnae and guests and over $9,000 was raised for the Shepherd Spinal Center.

With a usual occupancy rate of over 96%, the center plans to double its capacity with the new addition expected to open in July. The most modern facility of the 17 spinal care centers in the U.S., Shepherd Center has enjoyed Kappa support since the ground breaking ceremony in 1980.

Joni Johnson Broderson, ΔΩ - Fresno State; Barbara Badger Brown, ΔB - Duke; Robley Evans Shirey, ΔΡ - Mississippi, alumnae president; Carla Hall Simmons, K - Hillsdale, chairman, are justly proud of alumnae efforts on behalf of the center.

Bryan-College Station

Linda Fairburn Cress, BK - Idaho; Eileen Jacobson Kent, ΔΨ - Texas Tech; Billie Jean Blazek Casey, EY - Baylor; and Linda Winchell Grunkemeyer, EB - Colorado State, were among the members of the Bryan-College Station Alumnae Club who gathered to make owl pillows for local Texas girls who pledged Kappa.

Barrington

Fantastic spring fashions cheered the March meeting of the Barrington (IL) Alumnae Club. The Kappas hosted the area's Kappa Alpha Theta and Pi Beta Phi alumnae. Mary Ann Ward, KAΘ - President; Margo Ruffner, Kappa President; Diane Allen, fashion coordinator for a local clothing store, and Marlene Wenk, IIBΦ President, happily anticipated the coming of spring.

Jacksonville

The Show and Sell party of the Jacksonville Alumnae Association featured craft and food items made by members. Early Christmas shopping earned $350 for the group.

The Christmas Champagne Brunch, a 20-year tradition with the Jacksonville Kappas, also featured their cooking talents. This year 100 people attended and the event was written up in the Jacksonville Journal, complete with recipes for some of the specialties. Ready to serve the hungry members and guests are Ethelind Roberts Gunby, ΓΦ - S.M.U., a charter member of the group and one of the coordinators of the brunch; Carol Ann Masters, EZ - Florida State, alumnae president; Nancy Langley Wilson, ΔΨ - Texas Tech. (Photo credit: Florida Times-Union/Jacksonville Journal, Florida Publishing Company.)

Shreveport

Proceeds of $2650 came from the efforts of Shreveport Alumnae Association members through their second Kappa Kitchen. Last year's chairman Ginger Newell Colquitt, ΓΦ - S.M.U.; hostess Louise Lee Nelson, BO - Tulane; and 1984 chairman Lucy Humble Raster, ΔI - Louisiana State, are pictured setting up for the event. They are wearing aprons stencilled with fleur-de-lis made for the Kappa Kitchen. Matching tablecloths were also available.

Oklahoma City

The seventh annual Kappa Kitchen of the Oklahoma City Alumnae Association featured goodies baked by the members, Annalee dolls, handpainted baskets and pumpkins, wrapping paper, lithographs, and fresh mums. As an added attraction, a stained glass window made by co-chairman Karen Goldman Michalczyk, BΘ - Oklahoma, was raffled off. A donation of $1400 to the Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Oklahoma City came from the net profits of $2500.

Ready to greet guests are hostess and junior alumnae president Amy Lauder Edwards, BΞ - Texas; co-chairman Mike McKee Payne, ΔΣ - Oklahoma State; senior alumnae president Kay Pappan Musser, BΘ - Oklahoma; and co-chairman Karen Goldman Michalczyk, also BΘ.

Dallas Night Group

The 130 members of the Dallas Alumnae Association Night Group have been involved in a wide variety of activities. Contributing to the success of the 1983 Biennial Christmas Homes Tour are Carol Anne Nichols, ΔY - Georgia; Cynthia Heaberlin Beaird, BO - Tulane; and Sigrid Martin, EA - TCU, making wind chimes at a workshop meeting. Night group members also served as hostesses for the preview party. Throughout the year they have been planning for their 2nd annual Spring Hoe Down and hope that Kappas and friends attending will number about 1500.

Montreal Is Back In Business

The revitalized Montreal Alumnae Association celebrated Founders' Day with members of the active chapter at McGill joining them to enjoy a key-shaped chocolate cake. Fifty-year alumnae Janet Hamilton King, ΔΔ - McGill, and Ruth Davison Reid, BY - W. Virginia, are first in line, with McGill actives waiting their turn to share the goodies.

It has been at least 10 years since alumnae in Montreal have met as an association. Now 30 paid members have welcomed a visit from Fraternity Director of Membership Juliana Wales, BN - Ohio State, have published two newsletters, and conducted election and installation of officers. Alpha Province Director of Alumnae Jo Newport Brodeur, ΓH - Washington State, opened her home for the first two meetings of the group and is justly proud of these newly energized alumnae.

An Anniversary Donation

To mark the 50 years of existence of the Book Group of the Cleveland Alumnae Association, members donated $50 to the Rose McGill Fund. Lois Steward Murray, BP<sup>Δ</sup> - Cincinnati, alumnae president in 1932, suggested forming the group so that members of the large association could get to know others better in a smaller group. Each of the 15 members read a specific book for discussion each month.

Despite lean years, the membership is now at 25, with a waiting list, and functions with a monthly luncheon featuring a book review by one member. Kappas from 16 chapters look forward to monthly meetings and their rotating responsibilities as hostess, cook or reviewer. Current members include (front) Ann Gilliland Feller, ΔM - Connecticut; Jane Glass Savage, X - Minnesota; Nancy Silver Sneed, Θ - Missouri; Beth Holt Holler, BA - Illinois; Dona Basler Sutherland, ΓΩ - Denison; (center) Flo Martineau Long, P<sup>Δ</sup> - Ohio Wesleyan; Marty Campbell Peckinpugh, also P<sup>Δ</sup>; (top) Doris Rydin Gerbitz, BP<sup>Δ</sup> - Cincinnati; Dottie Howay Congleton, ΓT - Whitman; Jane Dugger Broderick, ΓK - William & Mary; Jackie Mills Olson, ΓΔ - Purdue.

Colorado Springs

The "Doors of Colorado Springs" poster project featured on page 55 of the Spring 1984 issue of The Key prompted many Kappas to write for more information and to order the posters. If you are interested in obtaining a poster please write to Barbara M. Philips, 2822 Valley Hi Avenue, Colorado Springs, CO 80910. Cost for poster is $12.50 plus postage cost of $2.00 and mailing tube cost of $2.25, for a total cost of $16.75 per poster.

Atlanta

Mothers and daughters gathered at the Christmas coffee in Atlanta. Favorite holiday cookies and special spirit were enjoyed by Barbara Law Leonard, ΔY - Georgia, (front); Diane Porter Liscum, EΓ - N. Carolina, (second row); Karen Fox Weyandt, EK - S. Carolina, (third row); Joni Johnson Broderick, ΔΩ - Fresno State; Kathleen Morrow McKinney, EE - Emory, (back) and a lovely group of legacies.

A Party in Paradise

A sunny warm day (in February!) brought 223 Kappas with families and friends to Turf Paradise for the Phoenix Alumnae Association's fund raiser, Kappa Day at the Races. Six months of planning and preparation made everyone a winner as Kappa earned $2,000 for the Upward Foundation Developmental Achievement Center.

An early intervention program for the treatment of handicapping conditions caused by birth defects, illness or childhood accidents, the Upward Foundation operates on the basis of new studies which indicate that the earlier the therapy is begun, the greater will be the level of development. Phoenix Kappas have supported this organization for many years and their donation is used to supplement the salary of a music therapist.

Beginning with the securing of a permit from the Solicitation Board of Phoenix, alumnae president June Arnold Egan, ΔΠ - Tulsa, and co-chairmen Shirley Gallamore Kaufman, ΕΔ - Arizona State and Marsha Stoops Vifquain, ΓΞ - UCLA, brought their committees to the gate. A date was reserved and a menu chosen at Turf Paradise, where 400 tickets were printed free of charge. At the final turn, tickets, a letter and a flyer were distributed to members at the September meeting and mailed to all who did not attend.

Entering the stretch, the event was listed in the community calendar, described in a press release to local newspapers, and touted on a local NBC news program. Presentations were made to the board and P.T.A. of the Upward Foundation Preschool and a telephone committee called Kappas as a final reminder. There was no paid advertising.

At the finish line it was all roses. A wide span of ages from new graduates to older Kappas all enjoyed the day. The park-like setting of tropical foliage and flowers was a lovely background view from the glass-sided dining room and balcony overlooking the track. "Belmont" beef tips and "Churchill Downs" chicken were part of the delicious menu and the $15 ticket price included the buffet, seating in the Upper Clubhouse, a program and the entry fee to all races.

Kappa came in "in the money" on the tote board and the program as races were listed and announced by the public address system. Kappas and friends had the opportunity to sponsor and name a race for $100. "Kappa Kappa Gamma Day at the Races", "Upward with Kappa", "Kappa for Kids", "Kaufman Mortgage for Arizona Preschool" and "Jim's Winning Kappas" were the personalized name choices, the last being that of alumnae president June Egan's husband, Jim. Sponsors were also photographed in the winners circle with the winning horse, jockey and owner.

Entering a race means setting expectations, and the Phoenix Kappas feel they won better than the triple crown with their four goals and the results. (1) Be financially rewarding. The $4500 receipts, less $2500 expenses, netted $2000 . . . more than they made on three fund raisers the previous year. (2) Require a minimal risk or investment up front. Only a $50 deposit was given upon signing the contract with Turf Paradise and the final number attending was submitted only two days before the event. (3) Attract all ages, singles and couples, men and women. Among those who enjoyed the day were Patty Bisbee Nye, ΓΖ - Arizona, chapter council adviser for ΕΔ - Arizona State, and husband Richard. Patty was the biggest individual ticket seller for the event and Richard is on the board of the Upward Foundation. (4) Require as little effort as possible since alumnae members are very active in volunteerism and other interests and many are working women. Whatever the effort involved, the results were well worth it.

Phoenix Kappas are already saying that the odds are definitely with them for a repeat performance next year.

Paper Kaper Funds St. Louis Philanthropies

Once upon a time four years ago, the St. Louis Alumnae Association, with great trepidation, ventured to invest the vast sum (to them) of $900 in a new fund raiser — gift wrap. They then pitched in and sold $6,700 worth of yarn and paper the first year. Their customers liked their purchases so well that the second year's sales reached $12,000. The third year they hit $15,000. The fourth and current year's sales reached $22,454 and consideration is being given to incorporating a "philanthropic arm" into the St. Louis Alumnae Association.

Prosperity from the Paper Kaper has demanded that St. Louis Kappas become knowledgeable philanthropists in order to disperse their sudden wealth wisely. The philanthropy committee is now one of the busiest, and members spend many hours studying the agencies recommended by dues-paying members of the association. The Paper Kaper has made it possible for St. Louis to double its contributions to Kappa Rehabilitation and Undergraduate Scholarships and to the Rose McGill Fund. Putting Kappa philanthropies under Paper Kaper proceeds has made monies from dues and other sources available for a great increase in financial support for the three active chapters in Missouri.

A by-product has been Kappa visibility in the St. Louis community. Non-Kappas know they exist and Kappa has a big increase in paid memberships and participation. The St. Louis Alumnae Association recommends a Paper Kaper to other alumnae groups with the slogan, "Try it . . . You'll like it !"

Youth Emergency Service (YES) was chosen as a local philanthropy recipient of the St. Louis Paper Kaper profits. Alumnae president Carol Wischmeyer Rucker, I - DePauw, presented a check for $1100 to Judy Pearson, Director of YES, holding a "therapeutic bear". The YES Crisis Center provides telephone hotlines as well as emergency housing and counseling for youth in crisis. At the end of the center's intake process, each troubled youth is presented with a pot-bellied bear, cherished by males as well as females. They provide an outlet for frustration, anger and love, and their fur is "soft enough to comfort and thick enough to absorb any falling tears."

Philanthropy committee members Judy Taussig Wolters, ΓI - Washington U; Carol Wischmeyer Rucker, I - DePauw; Sara Wilkey Leavitt, ΓΔ - Purdue visited Independence Center Community Store and happily backed up Jean McQuaid Gaschler, BA - Illinois, philanthropy chairman (right), as she presented a check for $3500 to Susan Niekamp Hecker, president of the executive board of the center, St. Louis Globe-Democrat Woman of the Year, primary force in the founding of Independence Center, and daughter of Kappa Martha Strickler Niekamp, ΓI - Washington U.

Independence Center is a non-profit service organization established to build a system of personal and community support services for psychiatrically disabled men and women; to give work, training and an opportunity to prepare for the demands of independent living in the community. A part of the center's therapeutic program is two community re-sale shops which give recovering members an opportunity for work experience and public contact.

In 1973 a Kappa tradition was unwittingly begun among members of the ΓI - Washington U. Advisory Board. Marian Reis Harper, ΓI, then chairman of the advisory board, owned an antique cradle. It had been found in a Missouri barn and restored by her father. She loaned it to a member of her advisory board for use as a first-floor bed for a new baby.

William Tyler Schwartz, born October 2, 1973, son of Elizabeth Farmer Schwartz, EA - TCU, was the first Kappa baby to use the cradle. After William had outgrown it, another adviser asked to use it for her new baby. Since 1973, 13 Gamma Iota Advisory Board babies have napped and played in this beautiful cradle.

The most recent occupant is Morgan Kasperek, daughter of Barbara Roe Kasperek, ΔO - Iowa State, current chairman of the advisory board. Morgan was photographed being admired by her mother and Marian Harper. Her brother David is holding a Danish counted cross-stitch pillow on which Marian has stitched the names and dates of birth of the advisory board babies who have been occupants of the cradle.

Marian has officially given the cradle to the Gamma Iota Advisory Board with the proviso that if the board ever has no further need of the cradle, it should be offered to the Kappa Heritage Museum or sold to benefit Kappa scholarships.

Long Live Kappa Kappa Gamma!

That was the closing on a letter from 75-year Kappa, May Rinehart Jones, A - Akron, about her long and cherished membership in Kappa.

May pledged at Lambda Chapter in 1909 at Buchtel College — now the University of Akron. After graduation she spent two winters in New York City and enjoyed the alumnae group there. Marriage to Mark Jones in 1916 took the couple to live in East Orange, NJ, as Mark was associated with Thomas A. Edison Industries, and May became a member of the Kappa group in the Oranges.

The purchase of a dairy farm near Princeton in 1931 brought May and Mark to the area that would remain their home. The Princeton College Club introduced May to some Kappas and in 1946 they formed the Princeton Alumnae Club. May was the third president and has remained active through the years. May is a special member to all the area Kappas — one who not only contributes to send a delegate to convention but who also contributes to the quality and spirit of their Kappa sisterhood.

Married 68 years, May and Mark have lived in their present home for 42 years. May writes, "Our association always started the year in September with a Kappa dinner meeting at our home. So Kappa has been in my life these many 75 years."

Isabel Harrison Coll-Pardo, I'X - George Washington, (right) Miami Alumnae Association President, gave a fleur-de-lis and a 50-year pin to Ruth Molyneaux Kennedy, also I'X, as 50-year members Mary Dysart, I'H - Washington State, and Mary Lair Alford, BX - Kentucky, smiled approvingly.

The Aurora Alumnae Club presented 50-year pins to Marion Foss Sorrell, I'B - New Mexico; Luella Cudlip Aley, I'K - William & Mary; and Coralee Whitsett Murray, Y - Northwestern.

Eleanor Culver Van Horne, Y - Northwestern, received her 50-year pin from Lancaster Alumnae Club President Marjorie Maxson Gerhardt, BM - Colorado

Fran Myers Catron, BΘ - Oklahoma, although now living in South Carolina, received her 50-year pin from the Park Ridge (IL) Alumnae Club, where she had been a faithful and contributing member.

Names in the News . . .

Zelma Long

Shirley Dunlap Bowser, BN - Ohio State, has been appointed to a nine year term as a member of the Board of Trustees of Ohio State. Shirley is corporate secretary of the family agri-business which owns and manages a 6,000 acres farm. She is active in numerous civic organizations, including being a charter member of the AAUW and serving on the local board of education and as a bank director.

Ginger Newell Colquitt, ΓΦ - SMU, was general chairman of the 8th Annual Red River Revel, a celebration of the arts for northern Louisiana. Sponsored by the Junior League of Shreveport, as well as by several banks and the city itself, the festival attracts thousands during its seven days on the Red River front, and features hundreds of artists, performers and craftsmen.

Beginning her Revel work in the festival's second year as head of the artists' committee, Ginger was chairman of children's music in 1979, in charge of music and the performing arts for the next three years and then publicity chairman before chairing the festival as a whole.

Ginger has also been very active in Kappa as chairman of both the Homes Tour and the Kappa Kitchen, as well as serving as alumnae secretary, vice-president and president. Mother of two daughters, Lee 12, and Claire 10, Ginger was delighted to have her dentist husband Tom join in Revel activities to lead a musical jam session. What about next year's Red River Revel? Ginger says, "I know I won't be able to stay away."

Zelma Reed Long, ΓM - Oregon State, vice president and winemaker at Simi Winery in Sonoma County, CA, entered the industry without serious goals, but simply followed the feeling that it might be fun to make wine. Her degree in general science from Oregon State was based on a major in chemistry and microbiology and a minor in nutrition and she had worked for a while as a professional dietician. Her interest in winemaking led her to enroll in the master's program in enology at the University of California - Davis. She was soon hired as a part-time lab technician by Robert Mondavi Winery for the 1970 harvest. Within two years she was made head enologist of the company, a position she held for eight years. Job demands prevented her from returning to the university and she gained further knowledge through practical experience and hard work.

Part artist and part scientist, Zelma has a talent for her work and she explores traditional and innovative winemaking techniques around the world to spark creative ideas which result in modifications to Simi's winemaking procedures and wine style. A member and past president of the Napa Valley Wine Technical Group, a director of the American Society of Enologists, and past president of the American Vineyard Foundation, Zelma is also the winemaking partner of Long Vineyards, a small and highly respected property in the Napa Valley which she co-owns with her former husband.

Featured on The Country Wine Cellar page of the November 1983 issue of Country Living magazine, Zelma explains that a variety of things affect the way wine is made, and to make a certain style of wine successfully, she needs to control all the variables. A highly visible and respected winemaker in a traditionally male-dominated field, Zelma is creating the latest chapter in the 103-year history of Simi Winery. From 1881 to 1970 it was a family-owned company. Three different owners preceded Moët-Hennessy, the French champagne and cognac house which acquired Simi in 1981. Since then Zelma has directed the winery's technical development and growth and has led Simi into the forefront of California's incredibly competitive market.

Christine Robie

Christine Anderson Robie, BA - Michigan, is president and founder of Community Coalition for Families, Inc., a major force in Sarasota, FL for protecting and treating abused children.

Beginning in 1981 as a member of a Junior League task force, Chris and others worked to formulate a plan to utilize the interest, support and expertise within the community to tackle the problems of child abuse and neglect. Within five months a program was in operation and Chris was president of the coalition. She describes Sarasota as . . . "a retirement/tourist oriented community with a great divergence of people. Furthermore, it is a rather independent town, and takes great pride in doing things well, and often uniquely." At the inception of the coalition, she quoted a saying that . . . "a society can be judged by the care it gives to its old people and its children," and she viewed Sarasota as doing well for its old people, but the children were another story.

Chris now says that she has been "truly astounded to see what can be accomplished within one's own community by a group of determined and caring people." Judges, law enforcement personnel, representatives from the private sector, medical people and others serve on the board of the coalition, with volunteers and professionals all donating their services.

The coalition was not formed to be another social service agency. Rather, it aims to act as a central unit to identify, support and coordinate existing services and resources; to facilitate communication between child-abuse and neglect-related agencies; and to increase public awareness of the existence of abuse and how to help prevent it. Building slowly and carefully, the coalition is no longer a Junior League program, but a viable community project.

A Child Protection Team was created, consisting of a pediatrician, a psychologist, a nurse, a law enforcement official, a social worker, an attorney, a Health and Rehabilitation Services (HRS) supervisor, a layman and an advisor. Ideally, it will document cases, discover gaps within the system and report the gaps to the coalition, which would then try to find ways to fill unmet needs. It is a matter of record that in one year more than 1,000 child abuse cases were reported in Sarasota County and estimates are that as many as 10 times that number went unreported. The Child Protection Team's efforts are directed toward reviewing a case and deciding what is needed and who can best provide it in a set time frame. Each case is heavily monitored and team involvement can run between one and four months.

Another outgrowth of the coalition is the Parent-Friend program in which volunteers are matched with families in need to serve as confidante, helpmate and stabilizing force. Another facet of helping parents is a Parents Anonymous group, which serves as a sort of release for potentially abusive parents. Through talking about their problems, they can acknowledge them and set out to solve them, thus breaking the cycle of child abuse and averting needless tragedy.

The coalition is truly an example of the great oak which grew from a little acorn. Chris was an English teacher for 10 years, married to fellow Michigan graduate Carl J. Robie after the 1968 Olympics. (Carl won medals in swimming . . . a silver in '64 and a gold in '68, completed law school at Dickinson, and has a legal practice in Sarasota.) Mother of C.J. 12, and Mary Ann 7, Chris became interested in child advocacy through her involvement in Junior League. She was introduced to the ideas of "system change" through the art of advocating and was sent to various workshops to gather skills in the area. She wrote part of a professionally designed needs assessment of children in the Florida west coast area and then developed a project for the league in child abuse. Chris found that once she was familiar with the needs of the system, it was hard to walk away. What has been done in Sarasota has made significant change in the way the supporters deal with abused and neglected children.

With little time for hobbies, Chris says she is a reluctant and inconsistent jogger, loves to sail, ski and cook and hopes to go to London soon for cooking courses at the Cordon Bleu school. Having taken paralegal training, she works with her husband in the area of probate, small claims litigation, bookkeeping ("ugh!") and management of real estate investments. Now in her fourth and final year as president of the coalition, she looks forward to focusing more specifically on project development, and adds that she still finds the work exciting and gratifying.

"I have certainly had to stretch to try to do my volunteer jobs, both personally and in the sense of time management, and it has been well worth the effort," says Chris. For stretching herself and for making the Community Coalition for Families a model for the state and the nation, children and parents everywhere can be grateful for the concern and caring of Chris Robie.

Andrea Eng

Dr. Nancy Reid Harvie, II<sup>A</sup> - California, Associate Professor of Microbiology and member of the Biophysics Research Division at the University of Michigan Medical School, has been selected to be the recipient of the Carski Foundation Distinguished Teaching Award for 1984. The purpose of the award is to "provide recognition to a mature individual for distinguished teaching of microbiology to undergraduate students and for encouraging them to subsequent achievement."

Nancy has held positions as Research Fellow in Biological Chemistry at Harvard University and as a Research Fellow in Biophysics at the University of Michigan. A faculty member at Michigan Medical School since 1964, her abilities as a teacher are widely appreciated by her students. Her enthusiasm for teaching, interest in their progress, atmosphere of lively inquiry and intellectual stimulation in the classroom and laboratory, are among the special qualities students enjoy in her courses. An accomplished pianist and gifted with a fine sense of humor, Nancy is regarded by students, faculty and friends as one who provides enrichment in the lives of those around her.

Andrea Eng, IY - British Columbia, is a commercial realtor with Macaulay Nicolls Maitland International in Vancouver, British Columbia. Working in a traditional man's world where women had previously been unsuccessful, Andrea sold over $10 million worth of commercial property in downtown Vancouver within the first three months.

In addition to brains and spunk, Andrea also has beauty. Miss Chinatown, Miss Vancouver, and Miss Canada in 1977-78, Andrea was the first Oriental to represent a western country in the 1978 Miss World Pageant.

Kathy Henderson

Kathy Graves Henderson, EH - Auburn, has been promoted to Mini Mag Editor at SEVENTEEN. Mini Mag is a monthly eight-page section within the magazine made up of short articles on topics of interest to teens.

As Mini Mag Editor, Kathy will oversee all articles appearing in the section. She will write and edit stories, select and purchase freelance articles, and work with SEVENTEEN's Art Department in choosing the visuals for Mini Mag.

Kathy previously held the position of associate editor of Mini Mag and was an assistant copy editor at SEVENTEEN. Before joining the magazine in March 1981, she was an associate editor at After Dark Magazine in New York.

Fran Pavley

Fran Jones Pavley, ΔΩ - Fresno, is the mayor of Agoura Hills, CA, a brand new city that came into being in January 1983. Although Fran had not been involved in politics previously, she does feel that she has been politically aware. A native of Sherman Oaks and an education major in college, she personally contacted 1,000 homes during her mayoral campaign. She feels that the personal touch plus her ability to communicate, and the patience and assertiveness acquired during 13 years of teaching were definite assets in her election.

A lover of the outdoors, Fran enjoys hiking, swimming and tennis with her husband Andy and children Jennifer 7, and David 5. Her concern for the environment extends to her position as mayor and she considers proper planning essential to the city's development. Preservation of Ladyface Mountain, a focal point for the community, shown behind her in the photo, is one facet of the general plan for which she wants to get community support.

Despite the time commitment involved in getting Agoura Hills off to a good start, Fran is working to complete her Master's Degree in Environmental Planning at California State-Northridge. Her thesis, appropriately, will be on the general plan of the city of Agoura Hills.

Ellen Weir Casey, ΔZ - Colorado College, is the proud mother of year-old Elizabeth, the first "test-tube" baby born in Colorado.

After four years and a cost of $20,000 for unsuccessful operations in the U.S. and Canada, Ellen gave up efforts to correct blocked Fallopian tubes and she and her husband joined the long list of couples waiting to adopt a baby. But she felt "driven" to give birth to her own baby and was delighted to learn about the in vitro program of the University of Texas Health Science Center in Houston. One unsuccessful attempt was followed by another try and nine easy months later came the joyous four hour delivery of Elizabeth.

Ellen is an enthusiastic spokeswoman for the in vitro process. She declares that the method of conception is in no way immoral and that people who believe that are simply ignorant of the procedure. "It's OUR baby!", she emphasizes. To affirm her belief, her story is featured in a recently published book, New Conceptions, by Lori B. Andrews, J.D.; a guide to the newest treatments for infertility. Ellen has also appeared with Lori and an in vitro physician on a Boston T.V. talk show to discuss the physical and legal aspects of having a "test tube" baby.

Ellen Casey and Elizabeth

Dr. F. Marguerite Hill, ΒΨ - Toronto, has been awarded an honorary L.L.D. degree by Queen's University, Toronto. Marshal and president of her chapter in undergraduate days, "Peggy" continued into an outstanding career in medicine. The first woman chief resident at Toronto General Hospital, she was one of the few Canadian women psychologists to serve overseas in World War II.

Physician-in-Chief at Women's College Hospital, Peggy has been honored by many professional organizations. She also received Kappa's Alumnae Achievement Award in 1970. Recently a Chair of Medicine at Women's College Hospital was endowed in her name in honor of her retirement. (See The Key, spring 1984.)

Marguerite Hill

Della Krause Theilen, ΨΔ - Cornell, was named Woman of the Year by the Lake Charles (LA) Quota Club. Presented annually to a woman who is not a member of the organization, the award recognizes outstanding achievement in volunteer and professional activities in the community.

"Dudie" is a director of Gulf National Bank, executive director of the Calcasieu Arts and Humanities Council and has been actively involved with Boys Village, Junior League, the ballet society, medical auxiliaries and other civic groups. She has been honored previously by the Junior League as Sustainer of the Year, Greater Lake Charles Chamber of Commerce Civic Service Award and the Louisiana State Arts Council.

Loraine Haacke

Lorraine Haacke, ΓΦ - SMU, has been named vice president of Bozell & Jacobs Public Relations, a division of Bozell & Jacobs, Inc., the ninth largest public relations firm in the U.S. The division provides comprehensive corporate, financial, industrial and product publicity, promotion and marketing communications services.

Before joining Bozell & Jacobs, Lorraine served as art critic, dance critic and feature writer with the Dallas Times Herald for 9½ years. She also has fashion writing experience and has been a contributing editor to numerous regional and national publications, including Time magazine.

Della Thielen

Karen Redic, ΔA - Penn State, is manager in corporate recruiting for AMF at their world headquarters in White Plains, NY. That is her Monday to Friday job. On the weekends she and her husband, Peter Houchin, Vice President of Financial Services for Pepsico International, drive 350 miles round trip to their 200 acre dairy farm in upstate New York.

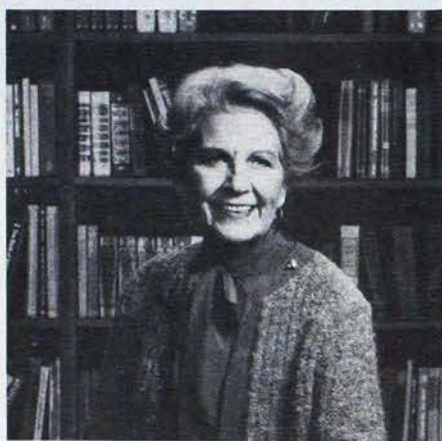

A real working farm, with 135 head of cattle that produce 3,000 pounds of milk daily, the venture is a serious income-producing property. A good manager/partner operates the farm, but Karen and Peter change from executive wardrobes to jeans and boots to re-wire the stable, put in new fencing, build a machine shed or help with the haying on weekends and vacations. Karen grew up in the suburban Pittsburgh area and Peter is a native of the south coast of England. Both have learned fast and like working hard to make the farm a success.

Karen says that she enjoys "having 20 balloons in the air at once" and is fortunate to have a super gal for her boss (a Sigma Kappa from Michigan State). Although both travel often in their work, Karen and Peter think their marriage thrives on separation and they enjoy the challenge of "leading two lives."

Karen Redic

Florence Allen

Florence Brotherton Allen, ΔB - Michigan, is a director in the sales system of Mary Kay Cosmetics. She drives a pink Cadillac Coupe de Ville, a symbol of achievement in the Mary Kay organization, and her attractive makeup and wrinkle-free skin (at "sixty-ish") are good advertisements for the products.

The company's sales system is arranged so that each person is an independent businesswoman and each individual's personal success helps everyone in the company. Positive thinking and motivation are strong points in the company's training and support of its saleswomen.

Flo was devastated and lost when her husband died 14 years ago, leaving her with three grown children and a University of Michigan degree in design but no real marketable skills. She feels that the attitudes found in the Mary Kay training programs have been useful in personal life for herself and others and quotes some of the sayings . . . "Death of fear is in doing what you fear to do." and "You can eat an elephant — one bite at a time."

Eva Atkinson Trombley, ΓK - William & Mary, is in the doctorate program at Columbia University and is an adjunct professor at several colleges in the New York City area. A fifty-year Kappa, Eva was co-owner and dean of the Tobecoburn School of Fashion Merchandising and Promotion in New York. For the 29 years she served on the school's faculty, she attended and lectured on couture showings in Europe. Before her retirement she was awarded membership in the Academy of Women Achievers for her accomplishments.

Active on the N.Y. Panhellenic Board of Governors and a past president of the group, Eva is also active in the William & Mary Alumni Association, The Fashion Group of the Advertising Women of New York, and is part of the "Holy War on Fifth Avenue" which opposes the sale of air rights for an office building above historic St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church, a national landmark.

Katherine Terwort

Katherine Ware Terwort, BX - Kentucky, is one of 10 Women of the Year selected by the Cincinnati Enquirer. Homemaker and part time real estate saleswoman, Katherine has founded and established a program called Adopt-a-Family.

For the past 5 years at Christmastime, Katherine has collected food, toys, household items, etc. from her own home and from friends and then delivered them to needy families in northern Kentucky. Two years ago she determined that these people needed help all year long. Her church adopted 5 families and the word spread to Homemakers, Girl Scouts and other service groups and individuals. Now covering two counties, Adopt-a-Family aids 75 families. Operating on a very flexible format, the program consumes a minimum of time and paperwork while maintaining anonymity for those in need and creating understanding and a feeling of worthwhile endeavor for those who help.

Hello Out There!

We continue to hear from Kappas abroad and it's great fun!

"There are Kappas in Australia, too!", was the opening of a delightful letter from Katherine Berlin Beery, P<sup>Δ</sup> - Ohio Wesleyan. Although she and her family are back now in Hinsdale, IL, she was inspired to write when she read of other Kappas abroad in the winter 1983 issue of The Key. (Does that suggest something to others of you out there?)

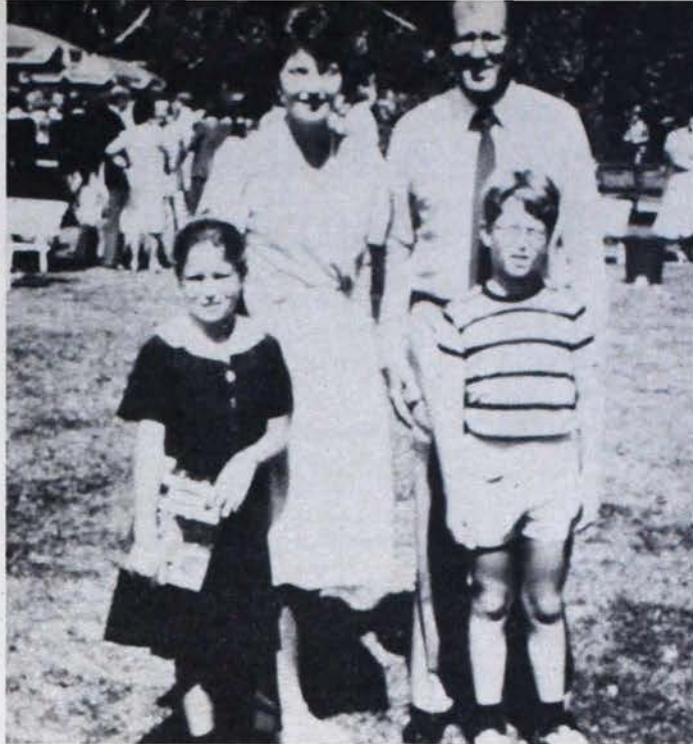

"When we found we were moving to Australia I wrote both the Kappas (Headquarters) and Ohio Wesleyan to change my address and casually inquired if there were any alumnae living in Australia. Both sent me a list of about 25, one of them being Betsy Kellogg Hone, a Kappa two years after me at Ohio Wesleyan. She is married to an Australian and lived about 4km. from where we had rented a house. I wrote to her immediately and she was delighted to find an 'old friend' who would be living so close. It was great fun getting reacquainted with her.

As I told this story at a bridge party of the American Society one day, I found another American expatriate who was a Kappa, and another and another until there were five of us in all: Betsy and myself from P<sup>Δ</sup>, Joyce Ikenberry Triick, Δ - Indiana; Donna Pritchard, ΓΔ - Purdue; Cheryl Acheson, ΔE - Rollins. We were an unofficial group in the northern suburbs of Sydney. There was definitely a bond between us! Kappa headquarters probably didn't even know most of us were there, as our mail was routed through our husbands' companies in the U.S. and sent to us by pouch. So there are not doubt more than the 413 Kappas overseas that you know about.

We had a wonderful time living abroad. Australia's remote location had its advantages and disadvantages. Even to come home directly, if necessary, took 24 hours. But on the other hand, if you had the time you could stop any place in the world on the way to the U.S. My husband and I and our children have circled the globe twice and have travelled extensively, not only in Australia and New Zealand, but also in Japan, Thailand, Hong Kong, Singapore, Kenya, Egypt and Europe."

Kitty noted that Sally, now 10, and John, 11, attended private schools — separate one for boys and for girls, wore uniforms, and rode a commuter train to and from school. Since the year runs at a different time (through our summer), the transfers to and from Australia caused the children to gain or lose six months, so they are now one year apart in school instead of the two that their birthdates would indicate.

She continued, "We have been back in our old house in Hinsdale for a year and are loving it. Life is so much easier here . . . I thought about that today when I went to the drive-up window of the bank and they gave me not only money, but also a dog biscuit! There were no drive-up facilities of any kind in Australia — bank, postal, or fast-food. We got used to that, however. One thing we never did get used to was Christmas in the summer. It just didn't seem right to be trimming the tree in your bathing suit and baking cookies when it was 100° outside!"

Kitty and David Beery with Sally and John

"One thing we really like here is the Chicago Tribune Sunday paper. The big paper there was Saturday's and none on Sunday. That left a big void in the day! All retail businesses, groceries and some gas stations closed at noon Saturday and did not reopen until Monday morning. It's wonderful to be able to run to the hardware store any time Saturday or Sunday to complete some household project!"

President of the Hinsdale Alumnae Association before leaving for Australia, Kitty's last letter ended with her about to prepare food for the Kappa benefit the next evening. Newspaper, drive-up facilities and Kappa . . . she's back in the groove!

Finding herself a new groove is Susie Agoston, BB - St. Lawrence, as she learns more about pastry-making in France. She studied at the School of "Perfectionment for Professionals" in Paris with Gaston Le Notre, one of France's top pastry chefs. She is pictured with products from her bread, pastries and small cakes classes. Using the latest in equipment and techniques, students from Japan, Europe, the U.S. and Australia learn the perfect process and result in creating classical French pastry.

Practical work in a bake shop and in specialty store catering added to Susie's knowledge. She has even learned the art of hand dipping chocolates . . . a far cry from her college major in geology! However, culinary arts have long been a special interest and she worked as a caterer for Tray Chic Catering in Boston after college.

Up at 5 a.m. six days a week, Susie loves her work and has polished her French, enjoyed a holiday in Italy and tours all the expositions and museums she possibly can. She's not sure when she will return to the U.S. but whenever it is, she hopes to open a classic French pastry shop or return to the catering business in Boston. Either way, she warns that the world of cuisine had better be ready . . . she plans to take it by storm!

Kappa Kappa Gamma HERITAGE MUSEUM

A Philadelphia (Top)Story

By Catherine Schroeder Graf
BN-Ohio State
Museum Director

Springtime mailings to the Heritage Museum contained welcome contributions from Kappa alumnae groups as they made their year-end allocations from fundraising projects. The Museum received $2800 from the Dallas Association, $900 from San Antonio, and $250 from the Arlington, Texas, Area. Denver, Tucson, and Fort Worth sent $200 each. Twenty-seven other groups contributed a total of $2640 throughout their club year. Columbus Ohio's November auction for the benefit of the Museum netted an additional $1000.

Four chapters sent donations: EY - Baylor, EZ - Florida State, Y - Northwestern, and EA - Texas Christian. Five hundred dollars of the $675 received was from Epsilon Upsilon.

These moneys have gone into the Museum's maintenance and operational expenses. Undesignated funds are received gratefully because they help provide for functional needs.

Several recent gifts from alumnae associations to the Heritage Museum have been earmarked for specific purposes. These are also important because they enable the Master Plan Committee to proceed with acquisitions which enhance the beauty and authenticity of the Heritage Museum. One of these is from the Columbus Alumnae Association, which contributed $500 for the improvement of the Victorian dining room. Another $500 has been sent by the Philadelphia Alumnae Association to be used to help redecorate the Museum's belvedere or provide an appropriate accession for it.

The Philadelphia donation honors Ruth Branning Molloy, BA - Pennsylvania, freelance author and photographer. Ruth is vitally interested in history and the preservation of historic places and things. She has been a loyal Kappa and member of the Philadelphia Alumnae Association for many years. Ruth served as editor for chapter histories in Volume I of the History of Kappa Kappa Gamma, 1870-1975, 1976, and as biographer for 32 Fraternity presidents in Volume II. She was a member of the Heritage Museum's first board of trustees and participated in a three-member panel discussion on Victorian life and times at Kappa's 1982 Convention.

Ruth's description of the evening in which she was honored by the Philadelphia Alumnae Association follows.

A belvedere is a cupola is a gazebo is, anyway, a lookout. There is such a structure on the top of 530 East Town Street, Columbus, Ohio. It is full of windows and not much floor space. When I went through the Heritage Museum on my last visit to Fraternity Headquarters, taking pictures right and left, up and down, I walked up to that little room at the top and fell in love with the idea of it. What could it be used for? Could a Kappa with a conundrum to solve, could a loner with a lyric to put in words, could a bluestocking with a ballad in mind find inspiration in such a retreat? (To put it briefly, in case you've forgotten, a bluestocking is a literary woman, and is a term used often in the days when 530 East Town Street and Kappa were new.)

How could this rather difficult space be furnished or decorated? I thought of a statue at the head of the stairs, or at least a little pedestal with a classic bust on it. I thought of a beautiful light in the ceiling that could be seen by anybody looking upward from the street, who, seeing it, would ask, "What is that light? What does it signify? This must be a building of unusual interest. I'll find out." I thought of a very special carpet, telling a story in pictures to do with Kappa's history. There could also be a little folding desk, an escritoire, that a letter-writer or poet with a sudden thought could turn to, knowing she'd find solitude there.

Part of the belvedere's charm is that the space is limited. It does not beg for a grand piano or chests on chests. I wrote a letter to my own group, the Philadelphia Alumnae Association, and mentioned my new love, this specific space. "Wouldn't it be wonderful if we . . . I wrote.

Two years went by and on April 18, 1984, I went to the annual meeting of the Philadelphia Alumnae, armed with a projector and slides and a speech, all typed out, and carefully put together, which I had been asked to deliver at this meeting. There was a big crowd at the meeting, and some of my oldest friends from my own chapter, the quiescent Beta Alpha, were there. Two of them had come some distance, a lovely surprise for me, but I reminded myself that they both had daughters in the area and it was nearly Easter, so why shouldn't they fit this meeting in especially when they were told I was speaking?

After the reports and installation of officers, a concomitant of annual meetings, our hostess, Mary Hutchinson Tucker, Upsilon-Northwestern, said that before the speaker was introduced, she had something to say, and she said it. She told me that this was my life! A feeling of warmth and affection came out from everyone sitting in that room and I felt it like a flame. They were all part of a surprise and they loved it and so did I.

After I had gasped at a poster of me at 16 (in 1926 when I was pledged) and been pinned with a recognition key, received a Kappa cap autographed by everybody, listened to my many letters and memories (which in some instances I had the unexpected grace not to deny although I swear they were not true), and put on a beautiful lei sent by Beta Alpha Sally Goepp Herrick who lives in Honolulu, the most delightful and exciting part of the evening arrived . . .

A four-foot high gazebo made of cardboard boxes and styrofoam, covered with glistening heavy white paper and with windows sketched on every side, was carried in to the room. I did the only thing I could possibly have done — I threw my arms around it! On the top was a flag pole and little flag and the flag was a check, a check for $500 for the Heritage Museum for the Town Street Topping! I can't think of anything else that could have given me so much joy!

I never did make my speech. And it wasn't till I was on my way home that I thought of it.

Summer Intern Works for Kappa

Deborah Marie Garrett, ΓΚ - William and Mary, is the Heritage Museum 1984 summer intern. She was graduated in May with a Bachelor of Arts degree in history. She has an English minor. Debbie's hometown is Buena Vista, Virginia. She worked the past two summers in the Stonewall Jackson House in nearby Lexington. This house museum experience, plus the museum education courses she took in college, have qualified Debbie quite well for the Heritage Museum internship.

The Key Welcomes Commercial Ads and Thanks Kim Koletar

"I love fleur-de-lis and when I saw this new pattern I just knew the Kappas would like it."

Kim Koletar, ΔΑ-Penn State, is a sales representative for Corning Glass and is responsible for the beautiful full-page colorful advertisement on the next page. She is a May 1983 graduate of Penn State with a BS in Business Administration and a major in marketing. She interviewed on campus and gained her first job with Corning Glass. Kim moved from her hometown of Pittsburgh to Santa Ana, California where she went to her first regional sales meeting to learn about the new products and new patterns available from Corning. To her delight the first new pattern shown her was the iris and she really got excited over the possibilities.

Kim checked with several of the local Kappas and was advised to contact the Fraternity president or editor of The Key which she did. After several months of negotiations back and forth the finished ad was ready for publication — the first full-color, full-page ad of a commercial nature for The Key. We welcome Corning and thank Kim most sincerely.

While on campus Kim served Delta Alpha Chapter as marshal, and senior class personnel rep, and was a member of the Penn State Marketing Club, American Marketing Association, College of Business Administration

Student Adviser, a teaching assistant for the marketing department and a University Scholars Honors Program participant. She was selected for Golden Key Honor Society and Phi Kappa Phi, National Business Honorary.

As a sales rep Kim calls on wholesale and retail accounts, and plans, presents and implements merchandising programs for Corning. She also sets up and works trade shows for the company. Kim says, "Corning has great products available and Cornerstone will be introduced into stores this month (July). This earthenstone or stoneware is more durable, resists chipping and cracking, is great for microwave use and is dishwasher safe. It also carries a two year warranty. The iris is so popular as a pattern in home decorating that the new stoneware should be well received."

For Kappas, from Corning— New Blue Iris CornerStone® dinnerware:

Set a beautiful table in Big Blue style with Corning's newest CornerStone® pattern — Blue Iris — perfect for every Kappa Kappa Gamma! Blue Iris features the Kappa flower on a soft bone ground, quietly banded in a delicate, soft green.

With CornerStone® dinnerware, you'll enjoy all the warmth, texture and beauty of stoneware without the fragility. CornerStone® offers you style, quality, versatility, dependability...

plus Corning's famous two-year warranty against breaking, chipping, cracking and staining.

What's more, CornerStone® dinnerware goes from freezer or refrigerator to conventional or convection oven to table, then into the dishwasher to clean with ease. And your beautiful blue Iris decoration still comes out looking lovely time after time. A 16-piece service for 4 includes 4 each: dinner plates, soup/cereal bowls, cups and saucers,
