"Each One of Us— Part of A Whole"

Times are still changing. We are being confronted with more exigent questions and answers are being demanded of us now. Scrutinization originates from all directions. As we stand firm in our heritage, we also must continue to evolve a greater awareness of women, their needs in respect to their goals, education both academically and socially, as well as requisites in terms of a group. Visual, concrete evidence must somehow be provided for those who question the why of our presence.

The rush system can be an instrument of change. From its initial planning to retreat to its actual execution, rush speaks of sharing and interaction among Kappa members. If successfully initiated, it elicits a flavor and spirit of unity. It can also reflect the consciousness of today's women who have come together for the purpose of mutual support and friendship in the path of growth towards the unknown future.

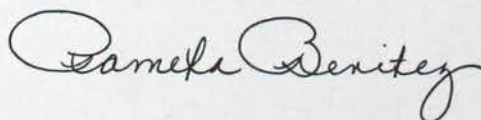

As new members are joined to the already existing structure, we find that each one is a unique individual with much to contribute to the whole. The unity obtained from the associations made commences with pledgship and continues throughout one's life as an alumna.

In order to achieve the perpetuation of Kappa, we must remember that membership selection is a shared responsibility of Kappa sisters throughout the country. Not only is it the time when we should review the purpose and reasons for the continued existence of Kappa Kappa Gamma but it is also a time for renewing contacts with Kappas everywhere. Recognizing the ever quickening pace of society, we may discover ourselves in a position where we will be forming a pledge class after only several days of contact. The pressure created by yielding to the demands of others brings to mind the need for absolute cooperation of all Kappas. If a system is established by the free decision of a society's members, then it is necessary that that system be supported for the combined benefit of the whole whether or not one accepts the theory it is of utmost importance that we seek out each other for help.

Undoubtedly, it may take a little more effort on all of our parts, however, if we constantly remind ourselves that we are building, altering, and maintaining the traditions of Kappa for those who will follow and if we accept our responsibilities in all phases of the fraternity life today, then Kappa will be tomorrow.

*"We are different lives—unique in every way.
But we are also one life
as the trees, and the sky, and the grass, and the sun are one."*

*We are not just Greeks.
We are Universal."*

COVER: Here are 5 famous Kappas when they were on campus. Meet our Kappa cover girls today on page 9.

I want to be a Kappa

By KAY SMITH LARSON

B II, Council Member and Fraternity Director of Membership; former Iota Province Director of Chapters, former pledge and rush adviser to Beta Pi Chapter; former president Bellevue, Washington, Alumnae Association.

We all agree that being a Kappa is both tangible and intangible . . . it is really more a feeling than a state of being. It is that special feeling that one has upon meeting another person and finding that she is a Kappa, whether it be on the campus, in one's home town, at a ski resort in Montana, or someplace half way around the world. Immediately you have that common bond that is shared today by 89,000 women in various walks of life. That common bond of friendship. You enjoy the feeling that comes from having shared the same experiences, even though they may have been on campuses of different sizes and in different parts of the U.S.A. or Canada.

How interesting it is in today's world of caring and concern for others when we stop and think that in the world of Kappa Kappa Gamma, this has been happening for 102 years! It is certainly nothing new to us, but how many Kappas ever stop to think that the joy of serving others, the responsibility, love for each other, and honesty are attributes begun, nurtured, and encouraged through their Kappa membership? Look around you on the campus and in your communities at the women in leadership positions as well as active participants in various endeavors, no doubt you will find many of them share with you the values of your membership. It is easy to see the tangible values such as close friendships, leadership opportunities, the development of one's individual potential, high standards, intellectual and cultural training; and the pursuit of excellence in everything that one tries, but let us also remember they share the intangible values, too, although they may not be as easily and quickly recognized.

Your Kappa membership offers you exposure to many different people that you might never seek out on your own; and through this experience, you can gain tolerance and a broader scope of understanding. Part of the enjoyment of membership in Kappa brings the realization that you are one member of a large group. Since the fraternity should function for the good of the majority, you find that you will not always agree with the majority, but since you have pledged your support to the group, you do your best to accept its decisions.

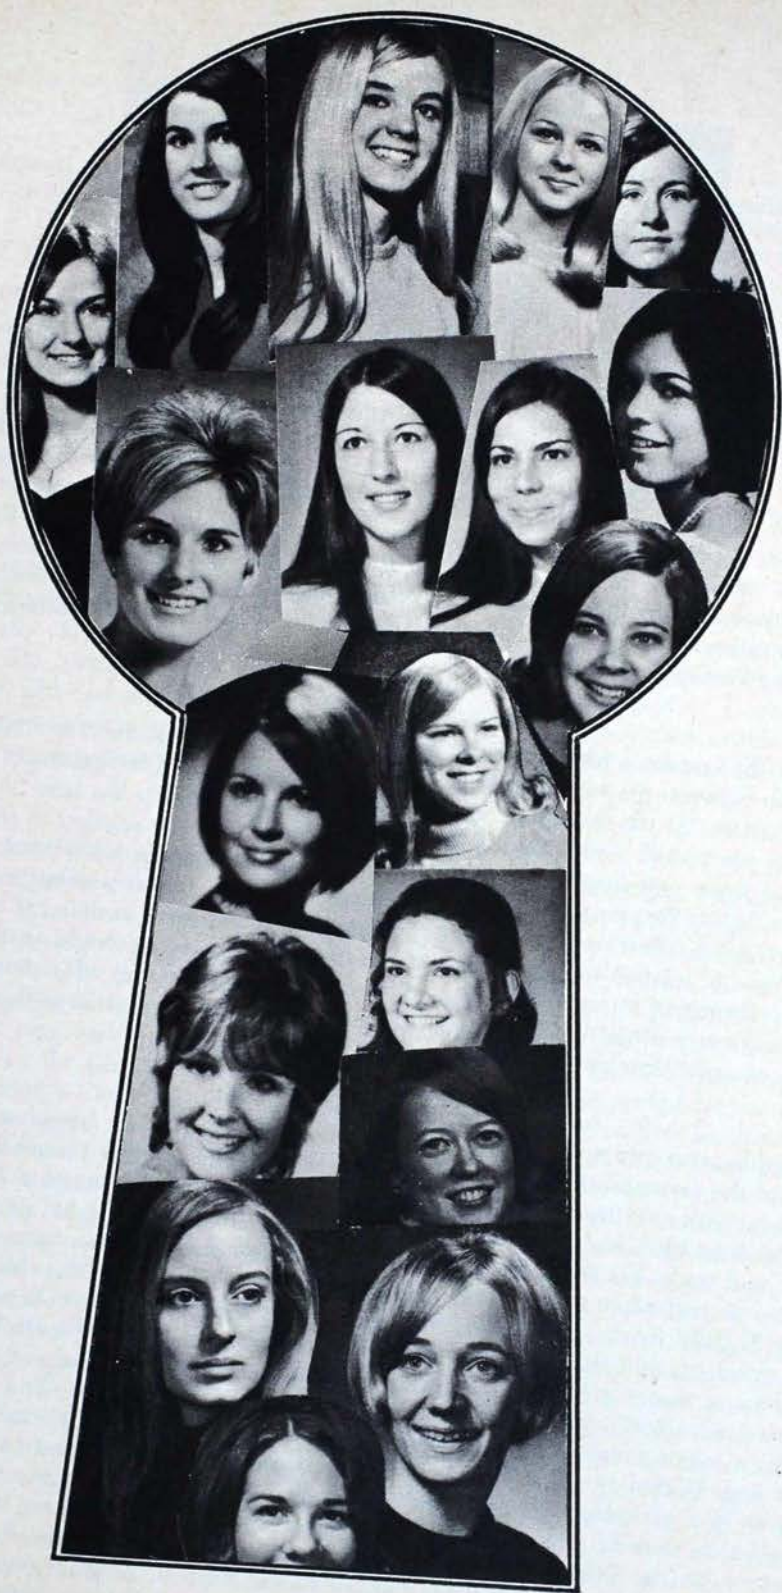

Kappa has never molded or limited its members! Instead, we hope that your membership in Kappa has helped you to strive and grow, whether it be in studying, in service activities, in creative endeavors, in community activities, or in leadership positions. Kappa means there is someone behind you to applaud your striving; to encourage you as you tread on new horizons; to catch you if you should stumble; to nudge you if you should become complacent; and to help you see that you are significant!

Have you stopped to realize that there are built-in opportunities within Kappa to help you in the development of your talents and abilities? Kappa creates for you an atmosphere of caring friends so that you can test your wings without fear of failure or ridicule. You may discover talents and abilities you were never aware of because you never before had a means of expression for them until you became a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. No doubt one of the most beautiful aspects of your Kappa membership is that people really care for one another. They may not say it, or even show it, but they do care! Whether you are an active living within your active chapter days, or an alum whose undergraduate days are behind you, when you are within a group of Kappas, you know that they care about each other as they share the common bonds of the same ideals and purposes.

As we look ahead to the future and to the membership selection which will be taking place within each chapter, we can all share the pride of knowing that our circle will continue to grow and strengthen as all Kappas share in the membership selection process.

OPEN THE DOOR TO THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF KAPPAS

O Canada

[These facts excerpted from Canada 1971, Annual Handbook prepared by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics (Bureau Fédéral de la Statistique) published under the authority of the Honourable Jean-Luc Pepin, Minister of Industry, Trade and Commerce]

Canada covers an area of 3,851,809 square miles (9,976,139 kilometers). It thus ranks second in the world, after the Soviet Union (8,649,539 square miles), and just before China (3,705,408 square miles), and the United States (3,615,211 square miles).

Canada is an independent nation in North America composed of two predominant linguistic and cultural groups: French and English. To these two major groups, and to the small native population of Indians and Eskimos, have been added over the last hundred years many thousands of immigrants representing the major European cultures. For the most part these immigrant groups have associated themselves with the English-speaking community, though maintaining many aspects of their mother cultures. The country has thus never been a homogeneous melting pot, but has rather had the aspect of a cultural mosaic in which the major pattern is traced in the colours of the French and English cultures.

Accommodation and Co-operation

Much of the country's history can be viewed as a continuing search for accommodation and co-operation between the two major cultural communities, and the integration of newcomers into the basic pattern. At the same time, as this internal accommodation has been working itself out, the country has passed through a dual process of self-definition in relation to the outside world. The first of these processes has been the evolution of the country from the status of a colony within the British Empire to the stature of independent nationhood within the Commonwealth. The second more subtle and often more difficult process has been in defining and defending its independence in relation to the power and prestige of its enormous neighbor, the United States. These two themes of internal bicultural accommodation and external self-definition underlie and affect nearly every other development in the Canadian past: patterns of settlement, institutional growth, economic development, foreign policy, cultural evolution.

French-English Rivalry

The exploration and settlement of North America by Europeans began seriously at the beginning of the seventeenth century. From the earliest beginnings the French and English established competitive settlements and trading centers. The first half-century of New France's existence, down to 1663, had been characterized by near-failure on all fronts: settlement, missionary activity, and trade. Yet it was this struggling period that provided later generations with a sense of the heroic past when the tiny colony struggled for survival against the elements, the Iroquois, and the English. By the 1740's French-English rivalry in Europe, North America, and elsewhere in the world brought the beginnings of the war that was to spell the end of New France. The final phase of that war began in 1754 and was concluded by the Treaty of Paris in 1763 when France's major North American possessions were ceded to the British. The British Conquest of Canada, a major event in the country's history, temporarily united North America under the British flag. Within two decades that unity was permanently destroyed by the success of the American War of Independence. Faced with growing unrest in the thirteen colonies, the British authorities in Canada gave up an early attempt to assimilate their new subjects and granted recognition, in the Quebec Act of 1774 to the major institutions of the French-speaking community: its civil laws, its seigneurial system, its Roman Catholic religious organization. The efforts of the revolting colonists to add Canada and Nova Scotia to their cause failed. But during and after the war thousands of Loyalists fled northward, settling in Nova Scotia, which was later to become New Brunswick, and to Canada both in the Eastern Townships and the western region of the colony north of Lake Ontario. The coming of the Loyalists required new constitutional arrangements. The Constitutional Act of 1771 divided the old Province of Quebec into two colonies, Upper and Lower Canada, and granted each its first representative assembly, an institution which had existed in Nova Scotia since 1758. It was within the context of this constitution that the colony began to grow economically and demographically.

Canada's Government Today

Canada is a federal state, established in 1867. In that year, the British Parliament, at the request of three separate colonies (Canada, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick) passed the British North American Act, which "federally united" the three "to form one Dominion under the name of Canada." By free and deliberate choice of the Fathers of the Confederation, Canada is a constitutional monarchy. The executive government "is vested in the Queen" of Canada (who is also Queen of Britain, Australia, New Zealand and Ceylon). In strict law, her powers are very great. In fact, they are exercised on the advice of a Cabinet responsible to the House of Commons which is elected by the people. For most purposes, the Queen is represented by the Governor-General (now always a Canadian), whom she appoints, on the advice of the Canadian Cabinet, for a period of, normally, five to seven years. The Cabinet consists of those Privy Counsellors whom the Prime Minister invites to its meetings. In practice, this means the heads of all departments, and usually a few ministers "without portfolio," that is, without departments. The Cabinet has no fixed term. It holds office until the Prime Minister dies or resigns. Parliament consists of the Queen, the Senate, and the House of Commons. The Senate has 102 members, appointed by the Cabinet: 24 from Ontario, 24 from Quebec, 24 from the Maritime Provinces (10 each from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, 4 from Prince Edward Island), 24 from the Western Provinces (6 each), and 6 from Newfoundland. The House of Commons, to which alone the Cabinet is responsible, has 264 members. They are elected by single-member constituencies, broadly speaking, in proportion to the population of each province; but no province can have fewer members in the Commons than in the Senate. The Supreme Court of Canada and the provincial courts form a single system, dealing with cases arising under both dominion and provincial laws. In each province the machinery of government is substantially the same as that of the central government, except that no province has an Upper House. Most of northern Canada west of Hudson Bay is not part of any province. It is organized in two Territories, the Yukon and the Northwest Territories, which come directly under the Government and Parliament of Canada but enjoy limited self-government.

The Kappas in Canada

Four Biennial Conventions have been held in Canada, with the Canadian members as hostesses: Bigwin Inn, Lake of Bays, Ontario, 1924; Seigniory Club, Montebello, Quebec, 1936; Seigniory Club, 1942; and Manoir Richelieu, Murray Bay, Quebec, 1950. U.S.A. Kappas who attended Canadian conventions recall with great pleasure the hospitality of the Canadian members, at Biennial Conventions, and also at the 9 Province Conventions—the latest being Alpha Province, at Montreal, in Fall, 1971.

* The Canadian chapters have a fine record of philanthropy, and of work in Panhellenic. In 1961 Delta Delta joined 700 fraternity men and women in the United Appeal Campaign of the Montreal Welfare Federation and it was a Kappa pledge who won the prize for collecting the largest amount for the Welfare Fund. The project was so successful that it was continued in ensuing years. McGill Panhellenic in 1965 chose Delta Delta to be featured in an article on "Rush Week at McGill" in The Montreal Gazette.

Gamma Upsilon Chapter as long ago as 1945 made up 20% of the University of British Columbia's total Red Cross enrollment, and also participated annually in raising Red Cross funds. A major philanthropy in the 1960's was continuing work with and for the Children's Foundation Home for Emotionally Disturbed Children. In 1969 Gamma Upsilon was hostess for Iota Province Convention.

When Gamma Sigma Chapter was installed, the initiation was conducted at Biennial Convention at Breezy Point Lodge, Minnesota.

Kappa Kappa Gamma history includes the distinguished war work of Beta Psi Chapter members in World War I. In 1967 the chapter cultural program was described in the Mid-Winter KEY, 1967, as a model for other chapters.

The Canadian Alumnae associations have outstanding community projects, in addition to participating in all the fraternity philanthropy.

As long ago as 1935 THE KEY featured the British Columbia Association's part in an "Intersorority alumnae club" which founded a scholarship. The year 1958 found the Association setting up a permanent self-supporting bursary, and in that same year they also purchased a wheel chair for the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society. Winnipeg Association in 1957 began project of maintaining a 2-bed ward at Children's Hospital, and in 1966, were again featured in THE KEY for their generous check to the Children's Hospital Board. Toronto Association in 1957 held a Gift Carnival for funds for the Adult Interfraternity Cerebral Palsy Clinic. Two years later the association was sponsoring a night at the ballet to aid West Indian students, the local cerebral palsy clinic and the fraternity's rehabilitation scholarship fund. As recently as 1970 the association sponsored a tour to the Orient to raise money for philanthropies and the house board. Montreal Association's philanthropy includes aid to the local Children's Rehabilitation Center, beginning in 1957, and also help to defray expenses of a therapist at the center.

Kappa Centennial in all parts of Canada was directed by these Centennial chairmen: for Alberta, Nancy Udell Hopf, Calgary; for British Columbia and Yukon, Athalie Frasier Solloway, Richmond; for Ontario, Shirley Reid Eaton, Etobicoke; for Quebec and Maritime Provinces, Peggy Drummond, Montreal; and for Saskatchewan and Manitoba, Donna Stewart McNamara, Winnipeg. Campus Centennial Contacts, who worked with the university administrations on placing the Centennial Rehabilitation Grant on each campus were: Adele Statten Ebbs, University of Toronto; Cynthia Griffin, McGill University; Donna Stewart McNamara, University of Manitoba; and Lynn Cawker, University of British Columbia.

Universities of Canada

The universities of Canada, numbering roughly 50, exhibit variety on almost every score. The largest, composed of many faculties and professional schools, enroll more than 15,000 students. There are seven in this class. Until recently there was a good deal of confusion between the words college and university when applied to institutions of post-secondary education and it was difficult to distinguish between them. With the rise of the community colleges, however, there is a trend toward the use of the word university to describe degree-granting institutions and to use the word college to designate part of a university, or institutions of post-secondary education offering courses below degree level.

Historically a high proportion of the universities of Canada were begun by the churches and there are some still under church auspices. A good many of the universities which began under church control have become secular institutions, particularly during the present century. Another large number particularly in western Canada were established by the provinces and are commonly referred to as "provincial universities" a term equivalent to the "state universities" of the United States. The third common type, as far as control is concerned, is represented by institutions which were created by neither church nor state, but rather by interested citizens. In 1969-70 there were 299,317 fulltime students in the universities of Canada, about 6% of them from countries outside of Canada, and about 10% of them pursuing graduate studies. A projection prepared for the Economic Council of Canada in 1969 suggested that there may be as many as 560,000 fulltime students in the universities by 1975 and 750,000 by 1980.

(From Post-Secondary Education in Canada, by Edward F. Sheffield, professor of higher education, University of Toronto, June, 1970.)

Akron President Likes Greeks

"A university accepts an individual who is at a particular stage of mental, physical and social development and then through an educational program of sorts, takes the person through a series of organized and deliberate phases of growth. Much of this is intellectual, some of it is physical, but even more of it is social. You are all well informed about the way in which the job is carried out to enhance the mind and to build the body, but I am not too sure that we ever give enough conscious attention to how an educational setting helps to develop a well rounded social being. Too often, this is a hit and miss proposition—except when an institution encourages the involvement of campus organizations, such as fraternities, in the process. Certainly, there can be occasional negative features to a fraternity system, but this is not the case at The University of Akron. I prefer to look upon fraternities as important segments of the educational process who lend helping hands in assisting educators to achieve what has been the primary object of education—since the time of Socrates and Plato—namely, the attainment of inner harmony, or to put it in more up to date language, the integration of the personality. Without such an integration, learning is no more than a collection of information. The accumulation of knowledge, in isolation from the other important aspects of personal development, loses much of its inherent value. Now, please don't jump to an erroneous conclusion that I believe that without fraternities, or sororities, the educational process is rather sterile. What I am saying is that the Greek system, when it functions within the framework of the institution of which it is a part, gives the setting a definite plus factor which often proves invaluable and I know that Kappa Kappa Gamma falls into this category."

Excerpted from Kappa Kappa Gamma Founders' Day Address, by Dr. D. J. Gazzetta, President, University of Akron.

New Alpha Province Officer Began Duties March 15

Mrs. C. Nicholas Pry (Betsy Barrett, PA-Ohio Wesleyan) is the new Alpha Province Director of Chapters. Betsy's latest work for the Fraternity was to serve as registrar for Beta Province Convention. She has been active in alumnae associations in Ann Arbor, Michigan, Columbus, Ohio, and Hartford, Connecticut. After graduation in 1964, Betsy taught in elementary school and did pilot programs for educational television. Says Betsy, pictured above with husband Nik, who is tax attorney and trust officer of the Valley Bank and Trust Company, Springfield, Massachusetts, and son Barry:

"My personal interests are keeping up with the three-year-old set and 'Sesame Street!'" The Prys are at home in Glastonbury, Connecticut.

History in the making . . .

"Not to know what happened before one was born is to remain a child," said Cicero, classical historian whose accurate recordings have been read by western hemisphere students for generations.

The leadership of Kappa Kappa Gamma, aware of responsibility to the future, in 1912 began to record the history of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity. Former Fraternity President Florence Burton Roth, Beta Delta, Michigan, recorded the official history from 1912 to 1925. Another former Fraternity President, May C. Whiting Westermann, Sigma, Nebraska, was asked to complete the history from 1925 to 1930. In 1932 THE HISTORY OF KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA, a remarkable documented volume now in the archives of every chapter, was published.

Since 1932, Fraternity Headquarters and each chapter archives have carefully recorded and preserved all available information. Ever present in Kappa thinking, however, is the responsibility of sharing current as well as past history for all the growing membership.

Centennial Convention in 1970 became a launching pad for the new and up-to-date (since 1930) Kappa History. Before decision can be reached as to format and production, the information from each chapter must be collected and collated. At the same time, plans must be considered for ultimately publishing the completed and updated HISTORY OF KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA.

"As with other major Kappa projects, the History will succeed through the skills and efforts of many members cooperating," says Anne Harter, B T-Syracuse, Fraternity Historian.

At Centennial Convention, no sooner had Anne Harter taken off the hat of Centennial Chairman, then Council asked her to don the toga of Historian. (Anne's "toga," worn for a KEY interview in her busy Washington office, is a mod Dali-esque topper worn over crisply tailored pants.)

Work on the History started with a launching-pad conference at Fraternity Headquarters: Isabel Hatton Simmons, B N, former chairman, Kappa editorial board and editor of THE KEY; Catherine Schroeder Graf, B N, chairman, publications; Ruth Branning Molloy, B A-Pennsylvania; Katharine Wade Pennell, B N, Fraternity executive secretary; Betty Sanor Cameron, B N, Fraternity administrative director; and Joan Brightman Thatcher, P^A, Headquarters catalogue department. Findings of the Committee were presented by Historian Anne Harter to the Fraternity Council for review and future decisions.

First segment of the work is to gather and compile information about each chapter. Ruth Branning Molloy has been assigned to coordinate this part of the work. An alumna of each chapter is being appointed, selected by the local advisory board of each chapter, to serve as the Chapter Historian.

"Our long range goal is to provide an accurate, up-to-date, and interesting NEW HISTORY OF KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA, available to chapters, associations and clubs, and to individual members, and also for reference rooms in university and college libraries," says Historian Harter.

Convention chit-chat

When President Lou Barbeck invited Richard G. Lugar to be the 1972 Convention Keynote Speaker, she knew of his prominence in public life, and she also acted on a "hot tip" from two Kappas: Sally (Mrs. Thomas) Lugar, president Indianapolis Alumnæ Association 1969-1971, who is the speaker's sister-in-law, and Jeanne (Mrs. Arthur D.) Bellish, now Indianapolis Association president.

CHUNG-HIE OH SAYS THANK YOU, KAPPAS

"I appreciate so much for your assistance to establish O.T. section, and I will do my best to fulfill the spirit of peace and coexistence which you shared for my crippled friends in Motherland," writes Dr. Chung-Hie Oh, from Woosuk University, Korea, to Margaret Easton Seney, the Fraternity Director of Philanthropies.

Dr. Oh refers to the $6000 special rehabilitation grant presented last fall to the World Rehabilitation Fund, earmarked for assistance to Dr. Oh's program in Korea. In forwarding photos of patients and therapists at work Dr. Oh goes on to say:

"They are working cheerfully and react very cooperative and eager to do something with their disabilities. This is just beginning, but will be the seed to spread all activities of Occupational Therapy in Korea in future. So far there are 17 patients with one occupational therapist. But I was already asked to train 2 more occupational therapists to place in National Industrial Rehabilitation Center which will be opened in July, 1972."

New Light on Rose McGill

Joyce Kerr Rankin, Beta Psi-Toronto, generously shared her memory of Rose McGill, the Beta Psi Kappa for whom the Fraternity's Rose McGill Fund was named.

Mrs. Rankin, a former president of both Toronto and Montreal Alumnae Associations, says:

"Early initiations of Beta Psi were at the spring houseparty or at someone's home, in the fall. In 1920 the spring houseparty was at my father's home. This was the houseparty at which Rose McGill was initiated. For 10 days the "house count" varied from ten to twenty. The last weekend we invited our dates. They lived at a summer hotel and came across for meals at our house. Rose was a very active participant in everything."

Mrs. Rankin concludes:

"It is 55 years since I was initiated and my many Kappa ties and my appreciation of what Kappa stands for continue to deepen every year. Now the chapter sends written invitations to the older girls for initiation dinners and go out of the way to make us feel we are really part of the chapter."

Key Alumnae Editor with Σ A E Spouse

She edits alumnae news!

THE KEY is fortunate in having the loyal service and professional expertise of Mrs. E. Taylor Richardson (Mary Beth Vawter, Theta-Missouri) in the important capacity of alumnae news editor. Although Mary Beth's name appeared for the first time on the masthead in the Winter Quarter issue, she has been "on the job" for several issues. Mary Beth wanted to be certain she could devote the time required to the Kappa work. Mary Beth is the editorial page copy editor of The Commercial Appeal, highly respected daily newspaper in Memphis, Tennessee. She writes headlines, does layouts and edits syndicated columns. A 1964 graduate of the University of Missouri, Mary Beth formerly worked for The National Geographic Society, handling assignments for The School Bulletin. Prior to that position, she was women's editor of The Southeast Missourian, in Cape Girardeau, Missouri. Mary Beth served a summer internship also on the copy desk of The Charlotte Observer, Charlotte, North Carolina. Husband Taylor Richardson is with Bard-Parker Company. He is also alumni advisor to the Sigma Alpha Epsilon chapter at Memphis State University.

Alumnae Pickers, too

Some industrious and talented members of the Midland (Texas) Alumnae Association practiced all summer long to surprise their group with an alumnae version of the "Kappa Pickers." The response was so great that word of their skill spread. Now they are deluged with requests to perform although they are reserving their talents for Fraternity related functions. Front row, from left: Janet Williams Pollard, B Θ-Oklahoma, Lisa Meadows Judd, B Ξ-Texas and Lucy McFarland Woodside, Γ Φ-Southern Methodist. Back row, from left: Carole Vineyard Warren and Harriet Daniels Herd, both B Ξ-Texas, and Jan Bryan Hover, Δ Σ-Oklahoma State. Alumnae Activity . . .

A First for the Blind

For the first time in its 11-year history Greater Pittsburgh Guild for the Blind is using volunteers—12 members of Pittsburgh-South Hills Association—to teach human guide technique, orientation to community buildings and local environment.

"The success of the training program has been due primarily to the high quality of personnel selected for training," says James A. Kimbrough, M.A., chairman, Orientation and Mobility, in lead article, March issue of The Guild Approach, Pittsburgh Guild newspaper. "The example they have set as volunteer assistants is certainly to be commended as it represents a foundation on which the Guild can further develop its high quality services."

Helen Tremper Lane, B II-Washington, entertained the Seattle and Lake Washington Alumnae Associations when they gathered at the Beta Pi chapter house to celebrate the chapter's founding 66 years ago. The 50 year Kappa presented a skit depicting the many roles in a Kappa's life. She reminisced about school days (in her early 1900s lace dress) and delighted her audience.

Home movies, Ohio style

The Columbus Alumnae Association celebrated Founders' Day on the Ohio State University campus with Beta Nu actives and pledges. Also attending were actives and pledges from Rho Chapter at Ohio Wesleyan University.

Rho members presented a rush movie they had filmed themselves. The alumnae were duly impressed, saying they found the film to be a new and interesting approach to rushing.

50 Years a Kappa . . .

How does a Kappa feel on the day she receives her 50 year pin? Perhaps Elisabeth Simmons McDonald, B H-Stanford, expresses sentiments of many who have received the fleur-de-lis pin. She says, "I certainly don't feel as though it was 50 years ago that I pledged Kappa at age 16. But it was Kappa that made me sign up for so many activities at Stanford, and I have been doing it ever since." Mrs. McDonald lives in Berkeley, where she participates in University of California, Red Cross and hospital volunteer activities. She and her husband recently gave a reception for UC-Berkeley foreign students and their host families participating in the Red Cross Home Hospitality program.

RUSH TODAY
FOR TOMORROW

Happiness is . . .

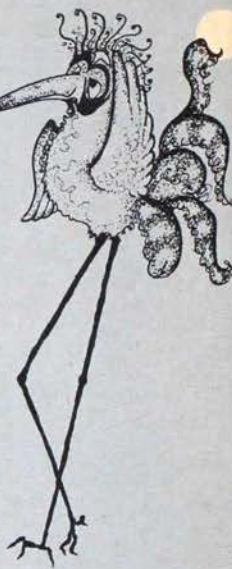

being an early bird

If SHE lives in your area complete the reference and send to the reference chairman of your association or club.

If SHE lives in your area in the United States or abroad (and there is not an association or club), complete the reference and send directly to the chapter.

If SHE lives in an area other than yours, write a letter of interest to the chapter.

If you are an ALUMNA . . .

Send those voluntary references. Use the coupon on the next page as a reference. Do it today! Reference forms may also be obtained from local reference chairmen, state reference chairmen or Fraternity Headquarters.

Membership selection is a responsibility and obligation shared by Kappas, both active and alumnae. All Kappas interested in the future of the Fraternity must work toward pledging qualified, congenial young women.

And who helps the Director of Membership?

Assistant to the Director of Membership for Alumnae Reference Chairmen

The job of the assistant to the Director of Membership for Alumnae Reference Chairmen is to provide general assistance and guidance in securing references. She will accumulate information and offer suggestions to help the chairmen in pursuit of their procedures concerning references. Her job also includes assisting with the formation of revisions of the directory for membership references which lists states, area and sources to call upon for possible reference information, and the areas for which the Alumnae Reference Chairmen are responsible.

Please note that the Assistant to the Director of Membership for Alumnae Reference Chairmen will be appointed after Biennial Convention, in June and her name and address will be made available to you.

Any changes in Alumnae Reference Chairmen after THE KEY is published are to be sent to the Fraternity Director of Membership. (See Fraternity Director for address.) These will be forwarded to the Province Director of Chapters and Director of Membership.

Assistant to the Director of Membership for State Reference Chairmen

The State Reference Chairmen form a network of resource people. The assistant to the Director of Membership for State Reference Chairmen has the pleasure and privilege of working with these dedicated Kappas. She is their link with the Director of Membership and Fraternity Headquarters.

By keeping the state chairmen informed of new reference procedures and other current events in the Fraternity, gathering statistics for annual reports, and keeping the chairmen positions filled, she tries to assist the Fraternity Director of Membership, Kay Smith Larson, B II.

The State Reference Chairmen, in turn, are the liaison between the active chapters and the alumnae in their state. Active chapters look to the State Chairmen as their source of information in areas where there are no organized alumnae groups.

Please note that the Assistant to the Director of Membership for State Reference Chairmen will be appointed after Biennial Convention, in June, and name and address will be made available to you.

Where to send the Membership Data Sheet:

- 1. If rushee lives where there is an alumnæ association, send the data sheet to the association's Reference Chairman. (Check listing starting on page 28)
- 2. If rushee and Kappa live in the same area with no associations, send data sheet directly to the chapter.
- 3. If rushee and Kappa do not live in the same area and there is an association in the rushee's area, send data sheet to the Reference Chairman in the area where the rushee resides.
- 4. If rushee and Kappa do not live in the same area and there is no association in the rushee's area, send data sheet to the State Chairman of rushee's state. (Check listing starting on page 28)
- 5. If rushee has lived in a particular town for less than one year, data sheet must come from her previous home area.

Happiness is being a rush helper

Sixteen Kappas have been appointed, one in each Province, to aid with rush problems. They are not to be confused in any way with the reference system. The person in charge of these helpers is the assistant to the Director of Membership for Rush Helpers, Ann Adams Riggs, Δ H-Utah.

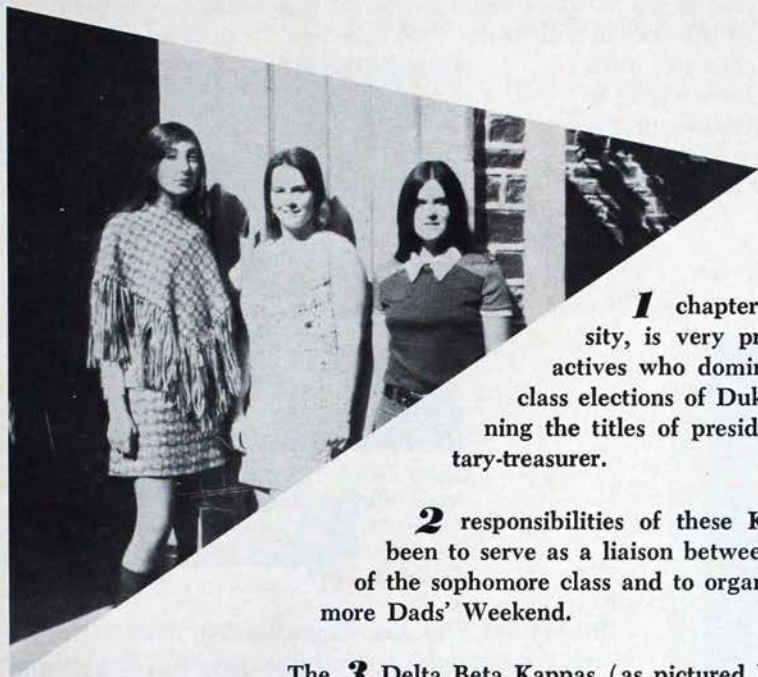

What is a rush helper?

Just that! A helper!—in an informative, not directive manner. She is a wealth of information on everything a chapter should know pertaining to their rush. She has the answer for problems, parties, procedures. She has no authority, but can quickly refer you to those who do. She is a supplement to the Graduate Counselor, Field Secretary and Province Director of Chapters. She is an experienced Kappa alumna with a special love for rush; a vital friend to all the chapters in her province. She has an enthusiastic interest in Kappa and a sincere desire to help with this most important job of membership selection. Make her an ex-officio member of your rush committee. She is only as useful as you make her. Call her, write her, wire her! That's why she's there—to HELP!

There are three sides to this picture . . .

1 chapter—Delta Beta, Duke University, is very proud of her three sophomore actives who dominated the 1971-72 sophomore class elections of Duke's Women's College by winning the titles of president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer.

2 responsibilities of these Kappas as class officers have been to serve as a liaison between the deans and the students of the sophomore class and to organize the special spring Sophomore Dads' Weekend.

The 3 Delta Beta Kappas (as pictured left to right) are Olga Kleinsasser, Rutledge Forney and Martha Dudley. Just as the sides of this picture meet to form a point aiming out of the area, so the girls have sought to expand their efforts to include the organization of a new sophomore symposium in which one representative from each undergraduate department will answer questions in her respective field concerning job opportunities and possible salary expectations for women with B.A. and B.S. degrees.

Graduates Excel—

When Linda Ornelas, Γ Z-Arizona, graduated a year ago, she was presented the Merrill P. Campbell Award given to the most outstanding sophomore woman, the presidency of Mortar Board and the title of Homecoming Queen on the Arizona campus.

After a summer with a fellowship at a Portland, Oregon, hospital, Linda is now studying at the University of Southern California Medical School, where she was one of 64 out of 3800 female applicants accepted.

Graduating with Linda was Sarah Hart, who had transferred from Lambda, Akron U. Sarah had served as president of the Associated Women Students and received the Robert L. Nugent Award as an outstanding senior woman.

Actively Speaking. . . .

... Round-up of chapter news

(Note from the editor: In answer to active chapter requests for information about other chapters' programs, herewith is a sketch of the program presented by the Cultural Committee of Delta Beta Chapter, Duke University, for its members, who do not live together as a single unit, but depend on their regular Thursday night meetings to get together as a group.)

The Delta Beta Cultural Committee featured a representative of the North Carolina Learning Institute, who explained the private organization's concern for educational reform and innovation. Kappas at Duke, with the Panhellenic Council, hope to set up an educational colloquium.

In response to the invitation of the Cultural Committee, the Duke University Vice-President in charge of business and finance, and an enthusiastic outdoorsman, spoke of his relations with the Sierra Club and the 1963 Mount Everest expedition.

Duke University President Terry Sanford was the featured guest at a chapter meeting held in conjunction with Delta Tau Delta Fraternity.

Other program plans of the committee include an informal meeting with the staff members of the Duke student newspaper, and faculty dinners to be prepared by Kappas in their dorms for different professors and their wives.

Northwestern Kappas Join Tag Day Drive

The "Philip Martin Renner Memorial Club" is an organization dedicated to work for the elimination of kidney diseases and donates all money received to the Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago for Kidney Research. And Kappa Kappa Gamma is dedicated to Rehabilitation through professional services, training, research and volunteer hours.

So, when the Kappas at Northwestern joined the Memorial Club's Tag Day in May 1971 to raise money for kidney research and treatment, the project just had to be a success—and it was!

Nine fraternities and sororities at Northwestern went in teams to shopping areas in five suburban communities to seek contributions. As a result, they collected $5300 for the kidney dialysis units used in the children's center at Michael Reese Hospital.

The enthusiasm of the participants has led to the planning of more drives similar to Tag Day. Max M. Serota, Tag Day Chairman, in his appreciation, wrote, "Because too often adults are quick to criticize college students and never take the time to understand our youth in their sincere desire to live in a world of peace with complete equality for all peoples and to eliminate poverty, we hope that this letter may in some way convey our thanks and give us the opportunity to honor the name of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority."

Marcia Resing, B N-Ohio State, Miss Columbus (third Kappa in a row to claim the honor).

Jill Eversole, B N-Ohio State, Miss Wool of Ohio, top five honors in Homecoming Queen Contest.

Sisters will be Sisters

How exciting to welcome a sister of a Kappa sister into the bonds of Kappa. And even more thrilling it becomes to welcome a second sister—But the excitement of having even a third sister is too great to put into words—especially when all this takes place at one chapter, and with two different families!

Gamma Delta chapter at Purdue is proud to have on its membership roster the four Haven sisters and the four Cargnino sisters. Margie Haven Daugherty, class of 1965, is now living in North Carolina with her husband. Jo Ann Haven Duff, class of 1967, is back home in Fort Wayne, Indiana, married and has two children. Chris Haven, class of 1971, is teaching high school English in Indianapolis. Bev Haven is a junior now at Purdue majoring in elementary education.

Carolyn Cargnino De Bedout, class of 1968, is in Colombia (South America) with her husband, where he is an assistant manager of a company there. Barb Cargnino, class of 1970, is at Indiana University working on a masters degree in library science. Marilyn Cargnino is a senior in library science, while her younger sister Sharon is a sophomore in library science at Purdue.

When facts speak for themselves in describing the truly strong bonds of Kappa sisterhood, there is little to add except maybe to borrow the phrase from the song that says "Sisters, sisters, there were never such devoted sisters!"

The Arctic is her community work

Thora McIlroy Mills, B Ψ, Toronto, a notable Kappa leader, does her volunteer community service in the Arctic.

"If I write about Eskimos and parkas and rubber boots it's because I'm in the middle of packing for a trip to the arctic—to Frobisher Bay on Baffin Island. How about a convention at Frobisher Bay, or at Inuvik in the western Arctic, or at Anchorage, Alaska, or at the University of Alaska near Fairbanks? Of course this is a bit of day-dreaming, because there are not accommodations for such a convention—yet! I promise you, however, if you do go to the Arctic, you'll want to write an article for THE KEY. . . .

"Kay Bredin Dignan, B Ψ, is going with me this time. We'll attend the dedication ceremony of the new igloo-shaped Anglican Cathedral, St. Jude's. I wonder what the Eskimo women will have produced for an altar cloth. At Holman Island in the western Arctic, the altar cloth is a seal-skin tapestry of the Lord's Supper, each figure and each minute feature a separate piece of seal-skin, sewn by hand.

"Kay's special interests are the Eskimo Girl Guides and Brownies; mine are the Eskimo Children's Shelter and Craft Co-op. But we became friends through Kappa many years ago, and travelled together to the Swampscott Convention, so on this trip our conversation will have some 'I Remember' stories too. I was a Province officer then, and Kay was, soon after. We both credit Kappa with giving us the training and confidence to take on a variety of volunteer jobs later—and enjoy them!!! Kappa conventions are unforgettable."

Thora's work with the Indians is dramatically evident in her own words in "Operation Wood Stove," in The Herald-Gazette, December 16, 1971:

Learning bread-making in the Indian cooking class of Deer Lake, Ontario

Thora McIlroy Mills, Beta Psi, and husband Ralph Mills leaving Toronto for Moose Factory, Canada, escorting back home a 4-weeks old Indian baby after operation in the Toronto Hospital for Sick Children.

"If I'm aware of anything in the after world, I'd like to know that all Indian families in the north will have a warm house and a stove with an oven, so the mothers can serve roast moose and oatmeal cookies and casseroles instead of the everlasting bannock and stew cooked on top of an oil drum or space heater.

"When I first went by charter plane to Sandy Lake (250 miles northwest of Lake Superior—54 degrees latitude if you have a map—still reached only by bush plane though it soon will have an air-strip), as I was saying, when first I went to Sandy it was not unusual for the rabbit to be dropped in the pot complete with fur, eyes and innards. That is rare today. A stove with an oven more rare! No wonder, because the cheapest carried by the Hudson's Bay Company is over $200. What Indian family on welfare can afford that?

"Ten years ago, $85 would buy a simple wood stove with an oven. It was in Eaton's catalogue, made by Western Foundry in Wingham, and Mrs. Alvin Frey, wife of the Mennonite missionary, introduced it to the people of Deer Lake. She invited half a dozen young mothers into her home and taught them to make bread and cake and pies.

The Seventeen Guide to Travel—How When Where by Mary Scott Welch, The Macmillan Company, 1970, 291 pp., $6.95, non-fiction.

Has Mary Welch overlooked any advice for the teenage traveler? It doesn't seem so. This is a travel book that you know has been there. In addition to much travel jaunting herself, since Mary was a Beta Kappa at the University of Illinois, she has interviewed many young adventurers as she has traveled overseas.

She includes generous quotes from their happenings as well as the more detailed experiences of Wendy Peters, who spent a summer working with Operation Crossroads Africa; Susan LoBello, who summered on a kibbutz in Israel; and Spenci Love, who did work as a volunteer in Northern Quebec under the auspices of the International Grenfell mission.

A chapter devoted to a step by step planning of a teenager in Elkhart, Indiana who participated in the Experiment in International Living by going to Sweden will help others plan their trips. In addition to the arranging of finances, meeting the medical requirements and getting the correct wardrobe into a sturdy bag, Mary Welch suggests going to the local library and looking at the foreign magazines and checking the travel shelves for books on their areas. She reminds the young traveler not to overlook the fiction and travel articles of such established authors as Mary McCarthy, Lawrence Durrell, E. M. Forster, Rebecca West and V. S. Prichett. "There's a formal word for getting into mental, or one might even say spiritual, condition for travel: orientation."

Some teenagers may be traveling with their families, others in a tour group, some with a few friends—and the second timers may want to travel independently. There are all sorts of travel arrangements considered from hotel to campsite. Also the various reasons for travel: pleasure, study, work. The mechanics of touring are outlined such as reservations and travel schedules. Then not to overlook even the last detail, the final chapter advises how to manage your homecoming so the inevitable letdown can be successfully met.

This excellent book is a must, not only for youth, but also for the parents who are left behind and may need the reassurance of knowing that with good planning, the four corners of the earth can be inviting, stimulating and not too far out.

Editor's note:

Current books by Kappa authors are wanted for review purposes and for the Fraternity Headquarters Library. Please send or ask your publishers to send such publications to the Book Review Editor, Mrs. William F. Cahill, 551 Westwood Drive, Dover, Delaware 19901.

How to Say Yes to Life: A Woman's Guide to Beating the Blahs by Catherine Lanham Miller, Essandess, 1971, 208 pp., $6.95, non-fiction.

"today is the first day of the rest of your life."

"Your age? What about it? We all know youthful women in their seventies and eighties; old tired women in their thirties. It's your outlook that counts, the way you think, your thrust for life. You can sit back and let the world overpower you. That's old. Or you can fight back. And, as many who have battled and won can tell you, fighting is more fun."

This book will tell you how to get started on a new you, both inside and out by whatever means is right for you. Maybe you will need to begin with yoga. Or maybe a face lift is needed. Or perhaps you just need the assurance that comes with standing straighter.

That insomnia you are suffering from—how about channeling it into creativity instead of making still one more resolution as you lie there, only to be broken when the sun comes up. "... in restructuring your living patterns, you may have begun to realize that it's time to get out of the house, out of yourself, and into other people's lives. So maybe it's time for a volunteer job" ... On the other hand: "There's a time in almost every woman's life when she needs a job that pays money" and for a variety of reasons.

Every page seems to have you in mind. Cathy Miller has talked to women and to their doctors, psychiatrists, lawyers and beauticians. She relates how they coped. But perhaps what gives this book its real impact is the fact that the author is not merely mouthing advice to others—she first made it work for herself. This Kappa from Delta Kappa, Indiana University decided that, despite the fact that her country life made a 9-5 job in the city impractical, she would do something exciting on her own. She had always wanted to write magazine articles but had never made it past the rejection stage despite the fact that she had worked successfully as an advertising copywriter when the family lived near Philadelphia.

Are you forty and beginning to worry about the empty nest? How about fifty and really washed up? Or are you only thirty and not getting ready to sidestep the blahs? No matter how many or few birthday candles you will have to puff on this year, Cathy Miller has something interesting for you to act on, since

When she really got busy—writing and calling on New York editors—she had 23 articles published in three and a half years. This book is an extension of an article she did for Harper's Bazaar, "At My Age." She began her fascinating new career at age fifty and is now fifty-four.

Cathy, her husband and teenage daughter live in Malvern, Pa. The Millers have two married sons. To keep in trim, Kathy plays tennis in the spare time she manages for herself each day.

We Make You Kindly Welcome by Elizabeth C. Kremer, Pleasant Hill Press, 1970, 76 pp., soft-bound, $3.68, non-fiction.

In 1866, the father of Elizabeth Cromwell Kremer has "a most bountiful meal taken with the Shakers." Some eighty years later, Elizabeth began presiding over a Summer Kitchen in the Old Stone Shop and is now Director of Foods for Shakertown. We Make You Kindly Welcome is a cookbook of some 150 recipes which have been popular with the guests. This softbound treasure has been rather slow to review as its mouthwatering recipes have a tendency to reduce one to a state of near starvation remedied only by a flurry of activity in the kitchen. There's hominy grits casserole, baked tiny pineapple, squash muffins and Shawnee Run Jam Cake to name a few. The recipes are not complicated, the results rewarding. Mrs. Kremer also includes a history of the Shaker community at Pleasant Hill and says: "When the Shaker property went to private hands, the tradition of excellence and courtesy remained; the world continued to come."

Elizabeth Kremer, a member of Beta Chi chapter, University of Kentucky, joins those Kappas receiving fifty year pins, having been initiated in 1921. Her cookbook may be ordered from: The Craft Shop, Shakertown at Pleasant Hill, Harrodsburg, Ky. 40330. The $3.68 includes postage and handling.

Victor by Clare K. Galbraith, Little, Brown, 1971, 48 pp., $3.50, non-fiction.

In this, her first book for children, Clare Galbraith writes with a tender hand as she tells the story of the young Mexican American, Victor.

Victor is experiencing an identity crisis caused by having to inhabit two different worlds each day.

He says: "Home is one life, en espanol. School is another, in English. I am taught one thing at home, but it doesn't help at school. What I learn at school I can't use at home."

On the other hand, his home is filled with love and the good smells of Mamacita's cooking. But Victor wished she would learn to speak English, for then surely she and Papa would go to parent's night like other parents. Then, too, when he would bring reports home from school his mother could read them.

Happily, Victor's problems are resolved and at the story's end his worlds are joined.

Clare Kearney Galbraith was initiated by Gamma Phi, Southern Methodist University, and affiliated with Beta Xi, University of Texas. In addition to being an elementary school teacher, she has worked as an art consultant and has studied for a graduate degree in marine biology.

They even earned money selling their baking to trappers! They used the big cast iron range Mrs. Frey had brought from Kitchener. They saw shelves and cupboards for the first time, and like women everywhere, having seen something new, they wanted cupboards and shelves too. They couldn't hammer nails into a tent wall, so their husbands built shacks and they bought the $85 stoves with ovens.

"Except for Mrs. Frey, no one ten years ago was holding classes for Indian mothers so there was no general demand in the north for stoves with ovens. When patterns and tooling wore out, Western Foundry stopped manufacturing this Cabin Stove. Unless a thousand stoves were ordered it would not be feasible to re-tool and I wasn't able to make a firm order for a thousand units. Northern Stores Manager of The Bay in Winnipeg could not find a substitute under $200. There was no alternative but to continue using the discarded oil drums or space heaters, and boil or fry everything. I tried to console myself by recalling that Dr. Moore, Director of Indian Health and Welfare had been serious when he wrote that in boiling rabbits whole, there was some advantage because there were vitamins in the eyes!

"But never say die! A month ago I visited the north again and found an ally for Operation Wood Stove. Dr. "Bill" Keith (brain surgeon, semi-retired, lending his skills to the Department of Indian and Northern Health Services) was at Sandy Lake nursing station. Dr. Keith knows a lot about stoves and cooking, in fact he knows a lot about a great many subjects not in the medical text-books. 'Health can't be separated from home-life,' he said. 'What's a home without a good stove?' He was shocked when I told him except for Deer Lake I'd seen only two stoves with ovens in all the Indian homes I'd visited over the years.

"Dr. Keith immediately became a working partner in Operation Wood Stove, and retained his enthusiasm after he got back to Toronto. But he wanted to know if I was as serious as he. How did I become interested in better stoves for Indians?

"Mrs. Frey's cooking class hooked me from a dietary stand-point, but now I am interested from a safety angle as well. In March 1970, I was at Wassagamack in northern Manitoba, and I slept in an Indian home. My head was two feet from an open 12" gash in the stove. I was glad that night when the fire died, even though it was 15 degrees below outside and by 5:00 a.m. almost as cold inside. The family piled on as many home-made quilts as they owned but some quilts had to go underneath them on the floor. They insisted on putting one under my sleeping bag for which I was embarrassed but grateful. I could see the flames and expected a spark to light on me or on the mother and babe beside me. Next day the school principal said she'd seen many stoves with holes—the thin metal of the cheap stoves can't withstand the eight month winters.

"That's why I contacted Western Foundry and The Bay to see if they could supply good stoves with ovens at a price the Indians could afford. Western Foundry had two Cabin stoves left and shipped them immediately to Wassagamack. The Indian families paid the shipping charge. Those stoves are still strong. Hundreds more are needed. New houses are going up on the reserves all over the north with space heaters installed. Why not stoves with ovens? Might it be because nobody thought it important? Indian people have been conditioned not to question authority. Besides, you can't ask for something you've never seen, and most northern Indian women haven't been outside to experience stoves with ovens. The children have, though, and when they go back to the reserve, mother is a back number! She doesn't do things like the white women in the cities. Indian women should be able to make birthday cakes for their children too! Please don't say that's an unnecessary luxury.

"Now I've discovered a man who can supply the stoves, Marsh Palmateer. From his small hardware store in Toronto he sold $100,000 worth of wood stoves last year. He had to import them from the States; he'd much rather buy them from Sackville, N.B. Shipping is no more costly from there than from Ontario, due to government subsidies. Dr. Keith was as excited as I when he saw a cast iron stove with six plates and an oven for $135."

Lydia Voris Kolbe

Lydia Voris Kolbe, Δ-Akron

Mrs. Lydia Voris Kolbe, Kappa Kappa Gamma Grand President 1916-1920, passed away February 9, 1972, in her home city of Akron, Ohio. She was 91 years of age. Her husband, the late Dr. Parke R. Kolbe, of Akron, was first president of Akron University.

Lydia Voris Kolbe was the daughter of Edwin Voris, and the granddaughter of pioneer Akron resident General Alvin C. Voris, a trustee of Buchtel College. Akron University grew out of Buchtel College. Lambda Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma, of which Lydia Voris Kolbe was a member, was first established on the campus in 1877, the first of the women's fraternities at Akron.

Lydia Voris Kolbe served as the Fraternity Grand Treasurer from 1908 to 1914. Kolbe Hall, arts and science building on the Akron University campus, was named for Dr. Parke R. Kolbe, the University's first president.

Pasadena association sets up Carla Sargent Fisk fund

Pasadena Alumnae Association sends word that they have established the Carla Sargent Fisk Memorial Fund, in honor of their distinguished member the late Mrs. Herbert Franklin Fisk (Carla Sargent, T-Northwestern) who passed away at the age of 99 in January.

Carla Sargent was Kappa Kappa Gamma Grand Secretary, 1896-1900, and also proposed the original design and the Greek words which eventually became the Kappa Kappa Gamma pledge pin. (See The History of Kappa Kappa Gamma, page 845.) A graduate of Northwestern, Mrs. Fisk also had an M.A. degree from Cornell University. As a teacher at Northwestern University Academy she met and married Dr. Fisk, principal of the Academy and professor of education at Northwestern. Carla Sargent Fisk was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, and a life member of the Save-The-Redwoods League.

Mrs. Charles D. Baillie (Helene Kuehn, Δ), Pasadena Association president, advises that gifts to the Carla Sargent Fisk Memorial Fund will be presented to the fraternity for scholarships.
