Speaking of Appreciation...

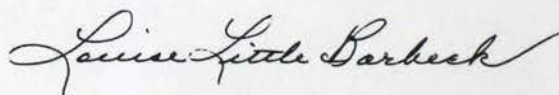

No one cares to be reminded to show proper appreciation. This is a personal desire to be expressed as conscience dictates. One of the tragedies of life is the realization that something dear to us is gone and we have not fully expressed our gratitude. Often in the "closeness" of situations we fail to grasp the joys we are fortunate to share. Only in retrospect can we fully comprehend the loss of that which enriched our lives.

Those of us who have experienced fraternity living have much to be thankful for. Alumnæ members readily express appreciation for the national aspect of an organization that has brought happiness and friendship in a chosen community. There has been time to reflect upon the advantages of lifetime membership with its introduction to contacts for invaluable service to college and community.

In certain periods of our lives it is common to reject all relating to the past in an effort to mold new patterns of untried and sometimes questionable value. Our undergraduate members are faced with conflicting philosophies concerning the role of today's society. The promoters of Utopia would reduce mankind to a common denominator, abolishing all forms or means of reward for accomplishment and endeavor. The social, voluntary group with its emphasis on the individual is a prime target for attack. This is a challenge young people must face and it is heartening to see the clear-thinking exhibited by this generation. Anything of value requires sacrifice, but the rewards can make such sacrifices worthwhile. As one undergraduate wrote, "I shudder to think of the mistakes I would have made if my chapter had not had standards and discipline to guide my actions."

As Kappa Kappa Gamma approaches its Centennial year, it is time for all members, young and old, to reflect on the meaning and purpose of the fraternity. Will we allow the pressure and demand of the few to alter the desires of the many? Will we, too late, express remorse and the wish to set back the clock for another opportunity to make known our approval of voluntary, friendship groups?

Do we care enough to show appreciation now when it is needed instead of regretfully wishing we had acted earlier? The answer must come in due time. The question is, do we have much time?

Convention is a HAPPENING

So long as there are girls like the Beta Province active who wrote the following after attending the 1966 Fraternity Convention, Kappa's future is assured

"I have one wish for my Kappa sisters and sisters-to-be—that they might all be able to experience the deep emotional journey of finding out what their sorority involves and what it stands for just as I found. Obviously it is impossible for every Kappa to attend a convention, but many will get the chance in their years as actives and alumnae, and I hope it will be just as beautiful and meaningful for them as it was for me. My suggestion then is: Don't change it! Perhaps it is expensive, but the banquets and decorations were worth their cost. Perhaps it is long, but the speeches were interesting and the voting made us all a part of our sorority. Perhaps it was complicated, but the huge number attending added to the meaning of sisterhood. Perhaps it was detailed, but all those facts and figures were appreciated by many of us who never knew them. Perhaps it was a bit uncomfortable, but we were there to learn and grow, not to sit watching television in air-conditioned rooms. Perhaps it was very formal, but a room full of white dresses, a formal dinner, and our sacred rituals were all part of a beautiful majesty. The 46th Kappa Convention is now a part of our heritage. Just as those before it, it has shown its proud past and helped light the way toward an even prouder future. As Dean Stevenson said in her address, the keynote is heritage—a heritage which carries us forward and challenges us to keep pace with a changing world; a heritage which can guide us to our highest goals—but the key is in our hands. The convention has helped me to see my heritage, understand its challenge, accept its key, and begin to unlock the massive door to the furthering of myself and my fraternity, Kappa Kappa Gamma."

Spring to Kappas was Province Convention-time

Last spring the 12 Kappa Provinces met as individual groups in 12 locations throughout the United States. The theme for each of these meetings "The Future is Now" was the same. The programs executed individually in each Province covered the same overall subject. The "sameness" and yet "individuality" of Kappa throughout the country is evident in the reports by the individual Province Director of Chapters who planned these meetings in conjunction with the Province Director of Alumnæ.

Question and answer time in workshop periods brought a closeness between actives, alumnæ and officers as individual problems disappeared with explanation.

Different Council officers attending each convention expressed in their own words the same ideas and thoughts which are foremost today in the minds of the fraternity world. Some conventions were lucky to hear administrators and faculty members speak of today's problems also.

And all the meetings allowed time for getting acquainted and sharing. Hostess chapters and alumnæ groups made every one welcome—and a good working and fun time was had throughout Kappaland.

Devotional

given at Eta Province Convention

by LASSIE SIMMS, Γ B-New Mexico

Let the words of our mouths and the meditations of our hearts be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, Our Strength and Our Redeemer.

Realizing that Futures do not exist in a realistic sense, rather that we must live each day in succession, turn your thoughts with me to the theme of this Convention, Our Future Is Now and to its actual meaning: Our daily life, good or bad, is the pattern after which those who look to us for examples will follow and carry our ideals to their edification or shame.

Critics bring the difficulty of living a good daily life to light as they say: Equate your professed high ideals and morality with your cocktail parties, holier than thou attitude, discrimination, and high living . . . characteristics of all secret fraternal life. According to our Kappa teachings, we should be able to answer in comparison without hesitation.

Jesus was the founder and leader of a brotherhood. He chose different types of men from different walks of life and pledged them to lifelong devotion to His cause. He met them in secret places, they shared certain spiritual truths and practiced noble virtues. In solemn secrecy Jesus revealed the deepest purpose of His heart. He outlined a philosophy for the good life and announced the ideals for a better society. Secret signs, symbols and solemn ritual characterized their brotherhood, as it does ours. BUT, despite the nobility of his purpose, despite the fact that he was the only perfect man to ever live, He was destined to suffer many things, be rejected by His generation, and suffer death in its most ignoble form . . . hanging from a cross. Many despise the idea of fraternal life in our age and would magnify our every fault and deviation from our beloved Kappa principles in an attempt to crush the noble basis of Greek letter societies, just as the attempt was made to crush Christianity at Calvary.

Principles do not stand the test of time unless there are adherents who faithfully execute them. This is our job and responsibility: we must live prudently within our means, appreciate the dignity of labor and be trustworthy in every relation; we must practice self-control, exalt morality, and reverence religion, remembering that "He who ruleth his spirit is better than he that taketh a city." Humility should be an ever present thread in our Kappa legacy. Even Jesus practiced this quality saying, "If any man hear my words and believe not, I judge him not, for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world."

Our loyalty to the fraternal cause must be grounded in the faith that fraternalism stands ultimately for better citizenship, for a more noble civilization, and for the higher ideals of life in its service to man and reverence to God.

As for our personal Kappa relationships with all humanity, the thought must be dominant that life and its true friendships are indestructible. Because of the spirit of man, death can not have the victory, for Death cannot kill what never dies, nor can spirits ever be divided that love and live in friendship.

A DAILY LIFE OF PERSONAL SACRIFICE AND DEVOTION TO PRINCIPLE WOULD OBLITERATE ANY WORRY OF THE FUTURE.

Be thou Faithful unto Death and thou shalt receive a crown of life. May our precious Kappa Key gain new lustre and envision a bright Future by our daily example.

LET US PRAY:

Almighty God, unto whom all hearts are open, all desires known, and from whom no secrets are hidden, cleanse the thoughts of our hearts, we beseech Thee, that with pure motives we may assume our solemn obligations. AMEN.

CAROL HARMON, DIRECTOR OF ALUMNÆ

“... If the active chapter could know all the reasons behind a request from the Advisory Board, there would be very few complaints to the request. If the Advisory Board could know all the reasons behind an action of the chapter, they would probably be the first to agree that it was a wise decision. But herein lies the trouble. How can an active chapter know and easily understand that Kappa advisers have been dealing with these same situations for many, many years, and experience has shown that a certain line of action is the wisest? How can an Advisory Board know, for instance, that based on actions on the campus for the past few months, the chapter feels it wisest to take its action? Neither can completely transfer its experience to the other. And isn't that a wonderful thing. For an active to have the wisdom of a 'middle-age' adviser, she'd have to be middle-aged—and that would be horrendous! And for an adviser to be completely current with every facet of a campus situation, she'd have to be there, living with every detail of the situation—and wouldn't that be the ruination of an alumna?

“But we do have the art of communication! It is an art, and it is time-consuming, but it is an essential element in society today. Communication. It is one of the most powerful forces on earth. A lack of it is the cause for most of our ills. It is communication which enables us—65,000 living members of Kappa Kappa Gamma to function and live in harmony within the bonds of our sisterhood. In a hypothetical situation of complete and continuing communication, disharmony could never exist as each would in all things completely understand the viewpoint of the other. If we understand why every action is taken, there is every likelihood that we will have no friction. We are not bound to agree with every action of another person, but if we understand the reasons therefor, we will not likely disavow him.

“Successful relationships depend on successful communication. Successful persons have learned how to communicate. They grasp the essentials of new situations. They create new solutions to new problems. They react instinctively to old problems. They are not prisoners of their own environment for they must often shape the new environment.

“The art of successful communication can make the active understand the alumna. It can make the alumna understand the active. It can even make the alumna understand the alumna.

“But it does not happen by itself. Communication must be caused. It needs two persons or two groups working together to achieve a common goal. It demands a willingness to be achieved. It requires hard work. Specifically, it requires talking to each other. Two alumnae talking together will never resolve the question of why did the active chapter do so and so, but one alumnae talking with one active, will. Two actives pondering about those ‘alums’ will never accomplish what one active talking with one alumna will. . . .”

RUTH LANE, DIRECTOR OF CHAPTERS

“... You know, life is like climbing a slippery hill. We climb—and we slip. Climb a little more and slip again. Of course, we all slip. But, the measure of man—the measure of YOU (as an individual, as a chapter, as an alumnae club or association) is not whether you slip, but what do you do when you slip. Do you pick yourself up and climb a little higher, or lie there and slip further back? In today's world of increasing demands and challenges there is little place for one who will not keep trying to climb higher. Kappa teaches us to strive continually towards higher levels. We encourage scholastic excellence—starting in our membership selection meetings. Attitude towards scholarship largely determines the altitude of scholastic achievement. Every woman in college today owes it to herself, to her family, to her chapter and fraternity, and to her college or university (which has admitted her from thousands of applicants) to strive to achieve her own potential so that she will equip herself to be a contributing and useful member of society. It is widely known that sorority averages generally are above both the all women's average, the all-university average and the men's averages. This is a good argument in favor of our system. Did you know that? Did you know that much of that success goes back to well directed leadership; to careful selection of scholarship assets rather than scholarship risks; to tutorial help by actives or alumnæ in their special fields? Our pledges and actives are the future of the Fraternity. Would we concentrate so much effort in keeping them up to Kappa standards if we did not believe in our future? . . ."

MARIAN GRAHAM, DIRECTOR OF MEMBERSHIP

" . . . As children we played a game called, 'Pum, Pum, Pullaway, come away or I will pull you away.' Child fashion it was a game of choice, determination and action. Each one wanting to play, made his choice as to the side on which he wanted to be a member. The two sides then lined up, facing each other. The game was to see how many from the opposite side, one could coerce, persuade, trick, threaten to change sides, calling all the while to the opposition, 'Pum, Pum, Pullaway, come away or I'll pull you away.'

"Again in my life, I'm involved in a game. This time not a child's game but one with high stakes, valued ones. My side, and your side, challenged by the forceful factions opposite who are trying to persuade, threatening that we as Kappas do not have the right of membership selection, that alumnæ may not recommend candidates, that we pledge members of the minority, to prove and show our good faith. Local autonomy, it is called.

"As representatives of the chapters, the alumnæ, the province and fraternity officers, we are in Province Conventions to meet these challenges by furthering our beliefs, strengthening our thinking with intelligent, committed ideals and purposes. Our tomorrow is today. If we believe today, we can and will have a tomorrow.

"What are the intelligent, committed ideals and purposes that justify our being? As stated in the preamble of our Constitution and By-Laws: 'We do hereby form ourselves into an association for the development of the nobler qualities of the mind and the finer feelings of the heart, and for the mutual helpfulness in the attainment of individual and social excellence.

"The loudest 'pull away' from the other side concerns our membership selection; particularly it would do away with our reference system. Kappa has always sought as members, young women in sympathy with her purposes. This ideal has proved itself over and over again. The need for strong personal ties and friendships is more important than ever in the light of problems of alienation related to increasing enrollments, the dominance of urban education sites and the commuting student. Kappa has found these young women in sympathy with her purposes through alumnæ who are a natural source of information concerning potential members.

"Without a reference system, which by the way is used in every walk of life where selection is involved, without a way of knowing the background, character, intellectual qualifications of a rushee, we might choose her because she has blue eyes or we might pull her name from a hat, or someone might allot her to Kappa. Only this week there appeared a new, unique solution, social affiliation. Let us not be fooled, the vitality of our fraternity is our selection of members. We believe we have the right of choice and will always reserve that right of making our selection. . . .

"Are we going to allow the ideas from the other side to infiltrate our own membership and cause dissension among us as Kappas? Not if we have understanding among us. We must try to forget the traditional tension that comes between generations in the interest of the fraternity. We will recognize the difference between social and civil rights by knowing that ours is an organization founded on friendship and not a battlefield for civil rights. We do not discriminate on grounds of race, color or national origin, but we are selective; selective in everything we do from our dress of the day to what we eat and who our friends are going to be and who will join us as sisters in Kappa. Civil rights are guaranteed to all, social rights come by invitation. . . ."

CLARA O. PIERCE,
EXECUTIVE SECRETARY-TREASURER

" . . . Today we often hear it said, 'I have the right.' You have always had the right to make decisions but you don't have the right to hurt other people. Since we do not live on an island alone, whatever we do concerns other people. For instance, scholarship now seems to be up to the individual. If you don't go to class, you are not only cheating yourself, but wasting your family's money. Do you have the right to throw away what really belongs to someone else?

"Perhaps it would be wise to take time to think what kind of a person you would like to be someday—the person you have not met. Too often when asked, 'Why did you do that', the answer is, 'I did not think.' . . .

"Patterns of life are being established during college days. Everyone is interested in herself primarily. Everyone likes to be admired—wants to make a good impression—wants to be liked. Decisions are hard to make when the choice is all yours. It pays to think how is this decision going to affect my future and the person I hope to be.

"Shall you drift with the tide or have the courage to choose? Will you have the tenacity to use the present hour to the best advantage? Remember your reputation is a treasure to be guarded and once lost is almost impossible to recapture.

"Kappa's future will be no greater than that of its members. Its present enviable reputation and strength has been built by women of courage and knowledge. . . ."

LOUISE BARBECK, VICE-PRESIDENT

"... The image of this country has been developed by hard work and sacrifice. This was the price of freedom. This gave men their dignity and the right to the pursuit of happiness according to the capability of the individual. Our forefathers knew that the only rewards worth reaping were those earned and merited. They did not know that the world owed them a living! They did not subscribe to Paternalism. They might have been amazed, or insulted, by an offer of free rent, free education, and a guaranteed income by a welfare state. They would have known that none of these things are free. They must be paid for and the burden will continue for many generations. Our founders would have known that the government can only give to the people what it first takes away from the people, and that the government produces no income. They might have encouraged an introspective look into the things that make a man walk with dignity and pride. They might even remind us that the government is to serve the people, not have the people subservient to the government.

"World events over the years have created the image of America, and the influence of these events has caused changes. So it is with individuals. We are the sum total of the influences that have touched our lives. Some are good, some bad, but all are effective. Our heritage, our environment and our early beginnings shape our destiny. A little something of every experience leaves a mark, an impression. . . ."

"We try to create an image for others to see us in. If we have faulty characteristics we endeavor to hide them so that others will not know they exist. Since we care what others think about us we often put on 'company manners' in order to camouflage our defects. We know that if we associate with moral delinquents we have a good chance of being placed in that category. On the other hand, if our associates are admirable, we will be thought of as having characteristics that merit the company of such people. An image, or reputation, can be damaged by thoughtless acts and poor selection of those with whom we wish to be associated. We take pride in our friends and have a desire for them to think highly of us. Often we find ourselves taxing our ability as we strive to justify the confidence others have in us. . . ."

FRANCES ALEXANDER, FRATERNITY PRESIDENT

"... Each individual member and each chapter is shaping our future every day.

"What kind of future is it? Does it truly mirror the trends and drives of a new age and is it, at the same time, expressive of the founding goals of Kappa Kappa Gamma? Some feel that this is not possible, that the one contradicts the other. They question whether membership in a fraternity allows the individual the total freedom to develop as a person, separate and apart from the chapter. Or is she molded into the Kappa type, expected to perform certain deeds, say certain facts and contribute to the group above all else. Somewhere between these two extremes lies the actual truth. Membership in a fraternity like Kappa does allow, in fact it encourages, the free development of the individual in the chapter. It is because of the chapter that each personality is able to be refined and perfected and finished. Against the backdrop of the chapter, the individual emerges unique and different. The shared ideals, the basic beliefs, serve only to emphasize and crystallize each individual. Some girls find this difficult to understand and blame their fraternity membership for an inability to formulate character when it can actually assist them if they will but use its creed and live up to its teachings. Life is a succession of decisions—making the right one is the problem. . . . The old cliches, the formerly accepted truisms, do not seem to help today. The world is different, you say, and you must make up your own mind, according to your own convictions, unhampered by codes of another age. And this is where the trouble begins, for there are some values that are ageless and to discard them is to court disaster. How comforting to have a magic divining rod, a sort of pocket-size nuclear testing kit, which will beep-beep when we are skirting trouble. You have such a device, if you

ALPHA PROVINCE

Approximately 35 visitors and delegates arrived for an Early Bird dinner and tour of the Cornell Kappa house.

Actives and alumnae mentioned that they wished all of their members could have heard the Keynote address of Anne Harter at the opening business session, Friday. That evening the Psi "Kappa Keynotes" sang a medley of rock and roll songs to an enthusiastic crowd. Following their performance the Beta Psi delegation of nine actives performed a rush skit based on the progress of Canada during the past 100 years, keeping in mind their centennial celebration.

Saturday's luncheon brought the first official "initiation" of Alpha Province Habiteers. The "ceremony" was performed by Catherine Schultz and Mary-Martha Shute. A hilarious song welcomed the new initiates and appropriate flowers were given them.

A brief recreation period Saturday afternoon allowed active delegates and visitors to enjoy a rock and roll band on the Psi house parking lot during an open house there. Envious alumnae cruised by as they set off to visit Sapsucker Woods, one of the most famous bird sanctuaries in New York State.

Alpha's twentieth biennial convention closed with the beautiful Candlelight Banquet. The Syracuse Alumnae Association with special assistance from Mary-Martha Shute and Jenny Poad Zechman, Υ -Cornell, provided lovely gold trees for each table and other gold and white decorations. Virginia White, proved to be an amusing toastmistress and all enjoyed the inspiring address of Fraternity President Alexander.

Following coffee and doughnuts at the Kappa house Sunday morning, actives and alumnae said goodbye and talked about meeting again at the next Alpha Province Convention.

BETA PROVINCE

Delta Alphas and the State College Alumnae Association members extended a warm welcome to the visitors at a reception held honoring Council members Thursday evening. Panhellenic group representatives, the Dean of Women, and Penn State Panhellenic officers were invited as guests.

The Johnstown Alumnae Club members hosted the Friday luncheon with Westchester County alumnae serving as dinner hostesses. Saturday noon the New Jersey Kappas were responsible for the decorations and favors. Special attention that noon was focused on the Skeleton Key members (those who had attended three or more Beta Province Conventions). Presiding at the luncheon was Carroll Dyrenforth Lowitz, Υ -Northwestern. The Order of the Betateers was presented to Beatrice Woodman, an adopted member of the Province, and Fraternity President Alexander was made an honorary member of the group.

Following the afternoon sessions Friday and Saturday, Delta Alpha escorts conducted walking or riding tours of their campus. Convention goers Friday night, discovered Delta Alpha talent in a rush skit.

The final banquet was enlivened with entertainment by the Kappa Pickers from Bucknell and the Kappa Keys of Penn State. Catherine Hanks of ΔA played background music during the dinner. A "Party after the Party" with a surprise birthday cake for the Candlelight Banquet toastmistress, former Beta Province Director of Alumnae, "Deanie" Miller, and for the assistant to the Fraternity Director of Chapters, Betty Volk, brought the evening to a close. A "Going Home" breakfast in the Delta Alpha suite climaxed the festivities.

GAMMA PROVINCE

Stan Hywet Hall, the baronial mansion formerly the home of the Sieberling tire family in Akron was the setting for all the meetings of the Convention. This estate given to the City of Akron for a center was a delightful headquarters. All those attending the meeting enjoyed a tour of the facilities. Meetings were held in what was the old carriage house and the final banquet in the bowling alley converted into banquet hall. All early arrivals were guests for dinner at the home of Margaret Zink Brewster, Δ -Akron, who was greatly responsible for the convention using the Stan Hywet facilities.

The group was fortunate Friday night to have the president of the University of Akron, Norman P. Auburn and his wife, and the Adviser of Women, Miss Sidney Crouch, as guests at dinner. Former Province Director of Alumnae Katherine Kaiser Moore was the chairman of the Gamma-teers luncheon Saturday noon honoring those who had attended three or more Gamma meetings.

Helen Farst Wallace, a former Gamma Province officer, wrote about the 90 years of Lambda which was read at the Candlelight Banquet. Another former Province officer served as a delightful toastmistress that night, Martha Flatt from Cincinnati.

The final event of the week-end was a brunch Sunday morning hosted by the Lambda actives at their chapter house.

DELTA PROVINCE

It was called to the attention of delegates and visitors that the forerunner of all Province Conventions, a sub-convention, was held at Hilldale in 1885. As a special attraction of the current meeting an Archives Display, for members only, showed interesting old Ritual Books, parchment scrolls, records and pictures of early Kappa days. A rush skit presented by Delta Gamma actives and an inspirational pledge skit given by Gamma Delta, plus lots of singing by both actives and alumnae, added to the Convention appreciation. The Dow Leadership Center on the Hillsdale campus gave unexcelled facilities for all functions—housing, meals, meetings, fun, comfort and convenience.

As an opening event Thursday evening, the Hillsdale Alumnae Association hosted a dinner for Province and Council officers at the home of Doris Mauck Friedrichs, K-Hillsdale. A get-acquainted hour and campus tour greeted visitors Friday morning. Lansing-East Lansing and Battle Creek alumnae provided beautiful flower arrangements for the Friday buffet luncheon and dinner and the Dearborn alumnae furnished the meal tickets for the meeting.

Friday night the Key Strummers of Kappa Chapter entertained with music. This was followed by Gamma Delta's beautiful and inspiring program.

Fort Wayne Association members were responsible for the decorations and favors at the Proviteers' luncheon Saturday. Delta Gamma Kappas entertained with an uproarious skit of Kappa influence on a rough frontier town.

The coffee break Friday afternoon was by courtesy of Gary, Indianapolis and Bloomington alumnae. Detroit served the coffee and cokes Saturday morning and North Woodward in the afternoon.

High points of the week-end included the keynote address of Carol Harmon, which set the tone of Convention; the enthusiasm aroused by the presentation of the aims and plans for the Centennial presented by the assistant chairman, Margaret Seney, and the Candlelight Banquet. This final event had Joanne Pincoe Bender, K-Hillsdale, as toastmistress. The banquet address by Ruth Lane increased each Kappa's appreciation of her Fraternity.

A chapter skit by K-Hillsdale at Delta

EPSILON PROVINCE

Perhaps the most outstanding feature was the presence of our beloved Secretary-Treasurer, Clara O. Pierce, at this her first Epsilon Province Convention. At the dedication ceremony of the Epsilon chapter house, which was written by Epsilon's own Mary Jeanette Munce, Clara's response was so gracious and tender in feeling that those in attendance were specially moved. It was a lovely ceremony, graced by the presence of Illinois Wesleyan President Bertholf and Dean of the School Walker and his wife. The chapter sang House of Kappa after which a lovely tea was served. The Peoria alumnae presented the house with a beautiful silver tray.

During the closing session a Canadian flag was presented to the Province by the retiring Province Director of Chapters. It is to remain in the care of the Province Director of Alumnae and to be used at all Province Conventions.

A rush skit Friday night by Epsilon actives proved hilarious. Dean of Women Anne Mierhofer was a Saturday luncheon guest. Her timely and pertinent remarks were enjoyed.

Each luncheon was named to correspond to the favors and decorations used—Friday, the "Fleur-de-Lis" and Saturday honoring the "Epsilon Owl Hooters" who had attended three or more province meetings. Eleven Kappas including Miss Pierce and Mrs. Graham became charter members of the group initiated by Director of Alumnae Eberspacher.

Members at the Candlelight Banquet, cleverly "MC'd" by Mary Jane Fink Rush, E-Illinois Wesleyan, were inspired by the banquet talk of Miss Pierce and deeply moved by the presentation and acceptance of the 50 year award to Ruth Felmley Meek, B A-Illinois. The pin was presented by Josephine Frawley Yantis, B M-Colorado, herself a 50 year plus member. The actual pinning was done by Barbara Wynn Meek, B A-Illinois, daughter-in-law, using the pin of Barbara's own mother, Laura Hirth Wynn, B A-Illinois.

It is felt that all came from the weekend with a warm glow, our faith in Kappa, her Council and all phases of fraternity life deeply imbedded in our everyday living.

ZETA PROVINCE

Because of a Charity Ball that was scheduled the same evening as the Candlelight Banquet, plans were changed to a noon luncheon banquet. It is felt that it worked out well and the actives were delighted to have the free evening to enjoy each other after the business of Convention was completed. Mary Dudley, former Fraternity chairman and Province officer was a delightful toastmistress and Martha Cox, speaking on "Consistency and Change" pointed out that we are constantly in the pursuit of excellence and that our moral and spiritual values should never change. Anita Hopkins Mercer, B Z-Iowa, was presented her 50 year award as a highlight of the festivities.

Miss Helen Reich, assistant director of student affairs at the University, was a delightful speaker at the Friday night dinner. After the business sessions of the evening were completed, all enjoyed skits put on by active members.

An outstanding feature of the Philanthropy program was the poem presented by Barbara Wecker, Γ Θ-Drake, in appreciation of her assistance from the Scholarship Fund.

"That Jam Smudge"

"One day, while glancing through THE KEY
I came across a girl very much like me!
Of course, she was a sister of Kappa Kappa Gam
Underneath her picture was a smudge of strawberry jam.

"A scholarship for service to sisters and to Drake
For loyalty to Kappa and the grades we all should make
Mom and Dad would surely like their daughter on their own
To earn some needed money—instead of talking on the phone.

"I wrote to Dr. Rockwood with references and all
And patiently waited and felt ten feet tall
When in the mail there came a letter to proclaim
That the scholarship list would include my name!
"I've been grateful to that jam smudge ever since that fateful day
And I'm giving it full credit for showing me the way

To an Undergraduate Scholarship for KKG
Thank you National, and for your issue of THE KEY."

ETA PROVINCE

Eta Province's 17th Biennial Convention was a most pleasant Kappa experience for all concerned. Only one event flawed the occasion—a gigantic storm which stranded some delegates in Colorado and Wyoming and cut the somewhat anticipated banner attendance.

The first noticeable difference in this convention was the selection of a Southwestern, rather than strictly Kappa, theme. Colors used in programs and folder were "sand" and orange and the design as a sunburst. Name tags were colorful "Ojos de Dios" (Eyes of God), made by the Santa Fe alumnae. Now common in New Mexican homes as decorator items, these were originally prayer sticks used by South American Indians to invoke the Diety. Ojos of varying shapes and sizes were used throughout the Convention for decoration.

Thursday night, when most of the alumnae guests arrived, the Albuquerque alumnae greeted them at a Mexican potluck dinner.

Mrs. Lane's Keynote speech and Mrs. Barbeck's fireside chat were combined into one program Friday night. A hootenany followed before the first day was drawn to a convivial close.

The Banquet favors were interesting. Kappa alumnae support the New Mexico Rehabilitation Center. The making of litter bags with road-runner stenciled designs is one of their projects for patients. Favors of a similar nature were purchased and given as favors. Nan Boyer was toastmistress. Two Gamma Beta founders, Katherine Conway White and Hazel Hawkins Elliott were introduced.

Finally, not really part of the Convention but inseparable in everyone's mind, was the dedication of the new Gamma Beta chapter house, Sunday afternoon. Most of the honored guests stayed over and local alumnae and their husbands filled the house to hear speeches by Mrs. Lane, members of the University staff, and the Dedication Ritual led by Louise Cox Marron. A tea followed as tours of the house were taken.

A tour of Old Town after the Saturday business meetings was a pleasant and educational sidelight to the oldest area of the city.

Friday evening convention delegates and visitors were entertained by a delightful skit by Delta Sigma chapter, featuring quick-change artists and clever songs and characterizations. Next Judy Jackson, Γ N-Arkansas active, and her chuckling, mischievous gentleman friend perched on her knee gave a hilarious demonstration of clever patter and amazingly smooth ventriloquism. After a workshop period the fast-moving "Song Swap Shop," emceed by Laurann Wells Rogers, Δ Σ -Colorado State, featured songs sung with Kappa zest. A solo by Joan Wilkerson, B Ξ -Texas, was enjoyed and the audience was delighted with the guitar and voice duet of Gwen Henry, Δ Ψ -Texas Tech, and her folk songs. The "Kappa Pickers", a talented, untiring dozen members of Gamma Phi, made the Friar Tuck room ring with musical gayety.

A city bus tour Saturday afternoon, after the final business session, included a visit to the Kappa Lodge where chapter and house board members together with the house director, Mrs. Stoner, welcomed the group.

The banquet Saturday evening was a truly memorable occasion with more than 250 Kappas seated. Special honor guests were 24 fifty-year or more members; one of whom was Lillian White Harris, B Θ-Oklahoma, who composed the official Kappa Blessing. Gladys Hensley Engle, B Θ-Oklahoma, was the gracious toastmistress.

Seldom, surely, does a Province Convention reach so high a peak of true Kappa spirit as this one did. The presence of Georgia Hayden Lloyd-Jones, an Eta-Wisconsin 1892 initiate and Grand President of Kappa from 1926 to 1930, filled the Great Hall with palpable Kappa love. Marian Graham presented Mrs. Jones with her 75 year fleur-de-lis. In accepting the pin, Mrs. Jones regal and lovable, stepped to the dais to give her thanks and to present to the Tulsa alumnæ and the Delta Pi chapter the unique key which was presented to her as she terminated her office as Grand President. She requested that the recipients cherish it and use it on special occasions. As Mrs. Jones left the platform, she was serenaded by the members of Delta Pi chapter.

Martha Cox talking on "What Is Kappa?" and with the singing of the Banquet Song and the Passing of the Light ceremony, the beautiful and deeply moving Twentieth Biennial Theta Province Convention came to a close.

IOTA PROVINCE

Iota Province was pleased to welcome her own Marian Graham, Director of Membership, and a member of B Φ-Montana, as Council representative to their 22nd Convention. It was also a thrilling experience after a period of 37 years to add a new active chapter to the Convention roster as the first delegate of EI at Puget Sound was seated.

All delegates and visitors were welcomed by Walla Walla alumnæ and Gamma Gamma actives at an early bird no host dinner and evening coffee after which they were surprised with a serenade by Gamma Gamma freshmen.

Friday's luncheon featured a welcome and brief address by Dr. Miriam Wagenschein, Dean of Women and associate professor of sociology at Whitman. Tri-City alumnæ decorated the tables with stylized paper flowers which served as favors.

While actives enjoyed a Hawaiian buffet at the dormitory Friday evening alumnæ were entertained at dinner in the country home of Mr. and Mrs. James Robison (Jane Meadowcraft, Γ Γ-Whitman). Both actives and alumnæ received small souvenir owls fashioned by the Province Director of Alumnæ, Margaret Bourassa.

Portland decorated the Saturday luncheon with travel posters and paper leis. For Council members and Province officers the active chapter had beautiful leis of fresh flowers from the islands obtained by the chapter's hospitality chairman Claudette Mulder, from her home state, Hawaii.

A large ice owl, exotic paper butterflies and flowers coupled with tall candlesticks set the stage for the Candlelight banquet. Each place was marked by an over-sized wicker key. Jessica Reed, Γ Γ pledge, gave a violin solo. She was accompanied by Pamela Rossing, an active. Near the end of the banquet, Spokane and Portland alumnæ announced the presentation of two $100 scholarships and Salem alumnæ one of $250. A highlight of the banquet was the original poetry and the owl introductions written and given by toastmistress Henrietta Baker Kennedy, ΓΓ-Whitman. Margaret Lucille Leyda Jesse, Σ-Nebraska, was introduced and recognized as a 50 year member. She taught at Whitman and made the first overtures to Kappa for a chapter at Whitman.

Gay, bright-eyed owl name tags were made and presented to all in attendance by the Yakima alumnæ.

KAPPA PROVINCE

The San Jose alumnæ were hostesses in the Kappa Hospitality room at the Hyatt House, site of an alumnæ "get-acquainted" hour before the Early Bird dinner and at a reception after the Candlelight Banquet.

Hostesses from the Sacramento Valley Association chose the theme of "April Showers" for the Friday luncheon. Colorful paper dahlias and rain hats carried out the idea. Mexican Fiesta was the theme chosen by the San Jose alumnæ for the Friday evening dinner. Gay tissue flower topiary trees, bright candles and miniature straw sombreros decorated the tables. Kappa Karousel was the theme chosen by the Delta Chi actives who decorated the Saturday luncheon. Pledges dressed as clowns served hot dogs, soda-pop and ice cream cones.

The Palo Alto association members were hostesses for the Candlelight banquet. Sydney Wood, a Delta Chi alumna, presented the flute song, Concertino, which won her a European trip for the People to People program.

Roll call by initiation year was conducted by toastmistress, Helen Snyder Andres. Mary Crouse Barnett, B Z-Iowa, 1903, of San Francisco was the oldest initiated Kappa at the dinner. Mrs. Cox gave an inspirational and beautiful banquet speech entitled "So Wake Up!".

LAMBDA PROVINCE

Traditional southern hospitality, as evidenced by the camellias in bloom, won out over the snow flurries greeting the visitors and delegates for the seventeenth biennial Lambda Province meeting. The seating of B X-Kentucky, which joined Lambda Province in September, 1966 and of E A, Kappa's 94th chapter at the University of Tennessee installed last February, underlined the growth of the Province. Likewise, Lexington, Louisville, Nashville and Knoxville were welcomed to Lambda by way of redistricting, and Sand Hills, North Carolina as a new group.

Gala dinner parties were formed for Friday night at the Colonial Williamsburg restaurants favored by the individual. Noteworthy, too, were two luncheons. Carol Harmon set the tone for the entire convention with her challenging keynote address, while the philanthropic skit presented on Saturday by the Richmond alumnae and two Kentucky actives, proved to be a real gem. Hampton Roads and Richmond, the two hostess groups for these affairs showed ingenuity in decor and favors.

Perhaps the finest feature of the outstanding workshop was the active participation of groups regardless of size, the questions posed for other groups to answer, the feeling that valuable information was accruing to each chapter or alumnae group, and the complete ease of communication between all delegates, visitors, and officers, reinforcing the friendliness of the entire convention.

Anne Harter's Centennial program was sparked by a blouse display with an award for the Kappa bringing the largest number to convention (won by Marguerite Daly Miller, I X-George Washington, of Roanoke with eight).

The active chapters of the province were surprised and pleased to be recipients of Key gavels in boxes with the chapter Greek letters carved into them. They were presented by John Beall, husband of the retiring Province Director of Chapters. Anne Harter made an excellent toast-mistress, and Virginia Blanchard's banquet talk was a fitting climax to a convention which opened on a high level and soared to the highest.

Miller Brucker, I Θ-Drake, and a buffet dinner at the home of Carol Gravely Atkins, B τ-West Virginia. The Friday night dinner, a fried chicken event, was held at the Florida State University Reservation, a lakeside retreat. Following joint workshops, entertainment was provided by the "Kappa Pickers" from the Auburn chapter and the "Kappa Krewe" from Epsilon Zeta.

Friday noon Mu Province Mutineers (those attending three or more province meetings) were honored guests. Miriam Locke, was Chief Mutineer, and Jean Ashdown Matthews the new initiate. Felt corsages, the gift of the Jacksonville alumnae, were favors.

The puppet show on the Rose McGill Fund was a delightful part of the Philanthropy workshop. Shirley Spring Foecking, I Θ-Drake, presented it with the aid of the Tampa alumnae. Carolyn Chain Shumake, Δ P chapter adviser, commented a Centennial Blouse Fashion Show as E Z actives modeled about two dozen blouses, shells and sweaters.

About 170 Kappas joined for the Candlelight Banquet. Epsilon Zeta actives entertained with a medley of songs which recently won them a first place in the campus sing. A "Countdown" by initiation date was held and the convention gave a standing ovation to Frances Hawley Taylor, H-Wisconsin, initiated in 1911. Following, the E Z actives held an open house at the chapter house. Sunday morning the chapter again was hostess for coffee and doughnuts before the warm farewells were said.

Centennial Fund forges ahead

When the State Chairmen were asked what they felt "our Centennial should accomplish" they came up with some interesting answers, quoted on this and following pages.

"I think the already announced goal of a scholarship on every campus where there is an active chapter would be a most worthwhile accomplishment. Hopefully this will bring to Kappa and the whole fraternity movement an added measure of respect from those who view the fraternity system as a liability instead of an asset."—CONNECTICUT

"Continue to bring attention to Kappa's public service and continue emphasizing femininity and feminine influence."—MAINE (EASTWOOD)

"Because of the lack of official university recognition of fraternities on Canadian campuses, I think the establishment of a scholarship on the campuses where there are Kappa chapters should do much toward bringing Kappa into the proper perspective and also underline Kappa's emphasis on scholarship."—QUEBEC

"We support wholeheartedly the 'Centennial Scholar' suggestion—meaningful especially to our state with one active chapter."—NORTH DAKOTA

"We would like to believe that all Kappas are cognizant of our heritage and contributions to collegiate and community life. For those whose interest has lagged, may the Centennial revive it. For those who are still active, may their enthusiasm be further vitalized. But most importantly, in an era when sororities are on the 'block', with their very survival in the balance, may we show the college world, in fact, the whole world, what Kappas have been, are doing and will continue to do. We know that Kappa Kappa Gamma is number one among Greek letter organizations. By 1970 everyone should know it!"—KANSAS

All systems GO!

An Interview with Centennial Chairman Anne Harter

by ANN SCOTT MORNINGSTAR

B N-Ohio State

“What is it like to be Centennial Chairman?”

Anne Harter paused, thought a moment. Then she smiled.

“When I accepted the appointment a year ago, I had no idea that this would be the most challenging Kappa job I have ever undertaken.”

Anne was seated at the conference table, in Kappa Headquarters. All systems were GO! In ten minutes she would give her first full-dress Centennial Report to the Council. We could hear Council members’ voices as they assembled nearby.

Involuntarily I glanced over at the Victorian armchair, originally the property of Louisa Stevenson Miller, who was initiated at Monmouth College April 1, 1870. My eyes went next to the handsome oil portrait of Emily Eaton (Mrs. A. Barton) Hepburn, B B^A-St. Lawrence, a notable financier and fund-raiser in Kappa history. Mrs. Hepburn, like Anne Harter, enjoyed pioneering jobs. In the Endowment Fund campaign of 1926-28, to raise $100,000, she was Chairman of Special Gifts. (Clara O. Pierce was Chairman of this successful Endowment Fund Campaign.) Mrs. Hepburn’s portrait was sent to Clara Pierce for Kappa Headquarters, after Panhellenic House, in New York, another project headed by Mrs. Hepburn, was relinquished.

“Yes,” said Anne, following my gaze, “we do have a great Kappa tradition of financing our own projects. That’s why Peg Seney (Assistant Centennial Chairman) and I have concentrated first and foremost, on plans for raising funds. When we started, the goal of $500,000 in our Keystone Arch seemed far away. Now, however, we see the goal coming closer, day by day.”

Anne’s brown eyes sparkled, and slender hands gestured emphatically, as she ticked off as follows:

“1. After the special Centennial insert in the Winter KEY, we began to get our first response. Letters, gifts and pledges arrived from all over.

“2. By May 31, 66% of the Alumnae Associations and Clubs had appointed Centennial chairmen, in response to my request.

“3. 2000 Advance Gift letters, which Peg sent out with help in processing from her Toledo Association, brought and are still bringing fine results. An attractive “reminder” has gone to those who might have missed the first letter.

“4. Province Convention delegates and visitors expressed enthusiasm, following our Centennial presentations.

“5. Nor do I overlook our first fund-raising project, sale of Kappa blouses. Under Blouse Chairman Emily Harding Moelering, B Δ-Michigan, sales are pyramiding.

“6. Then there is my special personal satisfaction—the wholehearted acceptances of the Regional Chairmen.”

Chairman Anne was jubilant also about having Dr. Doris Seward, Kentucky, accept as chairman of the Centennial Scholarships.

“Under Doris Seward’s leadership the 94 Kappa Centennial Scholars—one for each campus where we have a chapter—will be women the Fraternity will be proud to assist in obtaining more education in the broad field of rehabilitation.”

Kappa alumnae will be able to take part in special Centennial celebrations, now being planned, Chairman Anne further revealed. Monmouth College, site of Kappa’s founding, will be appropriately memorialized.

Into the Conference Room came Fraternity president Frances Fatout Alexander, I-De Pauw, with her customary gracious greeting. My interview over, I stayed to hear Chairman Anne’s formal report.

As I listened, I thought: here indeed are women well fitted to guide Kappa’s entrance into her Second Century. Council members

The plans for the centennial of Kappa Kappa Gamma were announced in the 1966 Winter issue of THE KEY. The major fund campaign will begin on Founder's Day, 1967. Generous response has already been realized through numerous advanced gifts. We acknowledge these early contributions with loving gratitude.

"I feel that this Centennial Fund drive as outlined in the 1966 Convention Resolution will give our Fraternity the greatest opportunity imaginable to publicize to the WORLD that Kappa Kappa Gamma is definitely aware of and making tremendous contributions towards meeting some of the needs of our times.—That our Fraternity is concerned not only with the betterment of its own membership (actives and alumnae) but also with our society as a whole."—MARYLAND

Alumnæ Association and Club Gifts to the Centennial Fund

Kappa alumnæ associations and clubs have always responded generously and loyally to the needs of the Fraternity. No exception has been found in their response to the plea for gifts to the Centennial Fund which was first emphasized in January 1967. Although it is hoped that each of the 362 alumnæ groups will make an annual gift to the Fund from now until 1970 it is with sincere appreciation that the first list of alumnæ group donors and their gifts is published.

showed their grasp of the plans, contributed suggestions, offered encouragement. Undoubtedly this support helped make all the night work, weekends and dedicated efforts of Anne and Peg even more meaningful. Despite their own professional and home responsibilities, Anne and Peg write their letters, answer countless questions, acknowledge offers of help and gifts of funds—with unflagging enthusiasm and meticulous regard for detail. I thought of Anne's words earlier.

"Why are Kappas responding so wonderfully?", she said. "I firmly believe it is because they are Kappas! Please don't think this is being either overly sentimental or too much of a simplification. I am quite aware that all Kappas receive fund appeals for worthy causes, and that they respond, even as you and I. However, for all of us there will be just one Kappa Kappa Gamma Centennial. And there is just one group of 20th Century women who are directly responsible for that Centennial! Loyalty, pride, and the conviction that in her Second Century, as in her first, Kappa Kappa Gamma will help guide the lives of thousands of girls on campus, and mature women in their communities—it is on this firm foundation that our Centennial is growing."

Miss Anne Harter
3880 Rodman St., NW
Washington, D.C. 20016

Dear Miss Harter,

Please accept this Founders' Gift of $200 for the Centennial Fund.

It was earned, as you suggested at Lambda Province Convention, by every member of our chapter, actives and pledges alike. We worked in shifts at the West Virginia University Publications Center (from 7-10 p.m. each week night and from 9 a.m. until the center closed on Saturdays) for two and one half weeks "stuffing" and addressing the approximately 40,000 West Virginia University Centennial supplements which were sent to each person who had ever attended West Virginia University.

Much was gained by our members during those 2½ weeks, and we are proud to be able to see the fruits of our labor aid both our University and our Fraternity.

Loyally,
Patricia E. Green
President, Beta Upsilon Chapter
P.S. And our scholarship was, if anything, improved by this experience!

You'll be hearing from them

Kappa's Jet Setters

Three recent actives have joined the Kappa Jet Set as Field Secretaries: Susan Brown, B T-West Virginia, Janna McCoy, T T-North Dakota, and Peggy Riechers, T M-Oregon State.

This past summer Susan has worked as a secretary for Congressman Arch Moore of West Virginia in Washington. She had two Kappa roommates in the Capital city. At WVU she was a member of Angel Flight; on the Student Legislature; program chairman for Intercollegiate Association of Women Students national convention held at WVU last year; cover girl for Mountaineer Illustrated, the football magazine; Aero-Space Ball Queen; first runner-up for Homecoming Queen; and played first flute with the University Orchestra. She was selected for Li-toon-awa, (sophomore); Chimes and Mortar Board; and held membership in M Φ E (music), Σ T Σ (tutoring). Susan held a Centennial Student Honors award, was on the Dean's List with a 3.8 overall average, and graduated with High Honors. Along with this she was Kappa song leader, membership chairman, 1966 Fraternity Convention delegate, and received an award as the Outstanding Chapter President in the Province and the Senior Activities award. She also sang with the Church Choir and did volunteer work for Headstart. Susan writes: "I enjoy knitting and struggling with a baritone yuke, but my main interests have revolved around my flute and piano playing."

Janna McCoy, majored in speech and drama as she studied to become a high school speech teacher and debate coach. She mentions that "Debate has always been a special hobby and during college I participated as president of the college debate squad and coached a high school debate team for two years." She was selected for Φ K Φ, Mortar Board, Φ Ω (Greek), K Δ Π (education) the Dean's List and was a Dormitory Counselor. She also belonged to Angel Flight, was Student Union board president, on the Homecoming Central committee and a member of the Sophomore honorary, Libra. She was Little International Queen, attendant to the Homecoming Queen and NDSU representative to the American Royal Queen contest. Janna has been a camp counselor where she taught swimming and canoeing. Janna served Kappa as pledge class president, first vice-president and president. Her junior year she received the Most Representative Kappa Junior award. Last year, while doing fifth year work in education she acted as a graduate counselor to E I at Puget Sound.

Peggy Riechers writes that she "was just a hop, skip and jump from Southern Oregon College," where she spent two quarters of her freshman year preparing for an American Heritage Association European Study tour spring and summer terms. In 1964 she transferred to Oregon State where, like her mother, Carolyn Wolcott Riechers, she became a Kappa.

Peggy, besides her Kappa jobs, says "My biggest outside activity was as a member of Sea Horses, the synchronized swimming club, as president and water show narrator of that club, and as an Aquabat, the club's honorary group." She also worked on a prom committee, for Junior Weekend, and for ASOSU. She worked with the Handicapped Children's swimming program at college. "Sports of all kinds are my greatest enjoyment", says Peggy, "especially snow skiing and swimming and sailing, now that the family has a small sailboat." She admonishes, "Chapters beware, I am also an avid 'jogger', developed as a requirement of a physiology course at school. I make a mad attempt at sewing, am a bug on photography, and love to bake; especially oatmeal cookies for my Navy brother." This summer Peggy has been teaching swimming and hopes to finish her training for a certificate in Physical Therapy at a later date.

First Associate Council Seminar convenes in Columbus

by RUTH HOEHLE LANE

Director of Chapters

Another milestone in Kappa history was realized when, on June 21, 1967 members of Council and 24 Province Officers gathered in Columbus for a three day training session for the Associate Council. The hospitality suite, manned in shifts by workers from Headquarters, gave the new Associate Council an opportunity to meet and get acquainted before sessions began the next morning.

The purpose of the seminar was to give the Associate Council members a clear understanding of their responsibilities, of their relationships to the Council and to each other and to their chapters, clubs and associations, and to brief them fully on the fraternity policies, thinking and specifics in their own fields. It provided the opportunity for the exchange of ideas and a chance to develop a warm, understanding relationship between us all. Thus, each province officer now shares with her fellow officers and with Council members the understanding and knowledge of Kappa standards, policies, procedures and specifics necessary to implement her job.

In joint sessions, with the PDCs and PDAs in attendance, Council members discussed fully the varied aspects of their responsibilities, each stressing the interdependence of one upon the other and the mutual cooperation that is the essence of our fraternity family.

The seminar, planned jointly by the Director of Alumnae and the Director of Chapters, also sponsored separate workshops on the specific of what to do, when to do it and helpful hints on how to do it for each group of officers. Question and answer periods were featured—and, hopefully, most questions received time for consideration, discussion and answers.

A popular and most informative part of the program was a tour of Kappa Headquarters where the Associate Council saw where, and heard exactly how, our huge Kappa business is transacted. It was a revelation to most to realize the tremendous scope of activity.

We were especially fortunate that Anne Harter, Centennial Chairman, was in Columbus in time to give a very complete presentation of Centennial planning and to bring us up to date on progress thus far. Ruth Chastang, our NPC delegate, most helpfully outlined the role of the College Panhellenic, the City Panhellenic and the National Panhellenic and answered many questions. Isabel Simmons, Editor of THE KEY, told the fascinating story of just how each issue of THE KEY is put together and explained why the deadlines are months ahead for each issue. Sally Nitschke, Chairman of Pledge Training, presented an excellent discussion of the pledge training programs and gave each PDC a helpful booklet compiled for their use.

The time and effort involved in the planning and in the actual execution of this seminar with the wonderful cooperation of all involved, seems minimal when we consider the benefits to be realized—by the Province Officers themselves and, through them, by the chapters, the advisers, the clubs and associations. We can look forward to greater mutual understanding (thus easing everyone's responsibilities) and to greater accomplishments (because of increased knowledge) and thus work towards that goal our preamble states so well: "for mutual helpfulness in the attainment of individual and social excellence." Our founders would whole-heartedly endorse this important step forward taken by the Fraternity.

How to go out of your way

by RUTH BRANNING MOLLOY

B A-Pennsylvania

Dorothy Schumaker Dybvig, B A-Pennsylvania, has for some time been calling me a catalyst ("any substance serving as the agent in catalysis"—so now you know). It is one of those popular words nowadays. It's nice to be a.

When I go away from home I like to search out Kappas along the route because it seems to me that there is little point in being a member of something unless you make the most of the membership. Sometimes the meeting is planned in advance, sometimes not.

A long time ago when I was an undergraduate identifying like mad with every other chapter member one senior returned from a European summer and reported to a couple of us a close call in Athens.

"I was musung," she said, "Alone, on the Acropolis, and all at once I looked up and saw Connie 100 feet away. Imagine."

What fun, I remember thinking, to be far from home and suddenly to see another American girl, another senior from the same college, another Kappa, Connie.

"What did she say when she saw you?"

"She didn't see me. I didn't feel like talking to Connie just then so I hid behind a pillar of the Parthenon."

It is the privilege of all of us to hide behind a pillar of the Parthenon once in a while, but we miss too much if we make a practice of it. Connie was very likable!

The people who could understandably hide behind pillars when Kappas from Beyond appear, are the staff members at Headquarters, only they never do. I made a sudden stop in Columbus one time, because I was in Ohio and suddenly decided I should not miss a visit to the house on Town Street. Everything was even lovelier than I had thought it would be and everybody was just as nice. I was shown through the house, was taken out to lunch, and best of all met Clara Pierce for the first time. She suggested that I go to Granville and see the pretty campus at Denison, which I did. The Kappa house was charming, and empty except for the house director and one active, with her date, who nevertheless talked to me most hospitably. A chapter couldn't have had a better representative. She came from Erie, Pennsylvania. Some day I must look her up on my way between home and somewhere else that Erie goes between.

Almost ten years ago I had a stroke of luck in London when I called the then alumnæ president Janet Blood (her name was in THE KEY) and was invited to the annual picnic to be held the very next day at Nora Waln's beautiful place in the country—men were invited too—more and more men are taking advantage of Kappa parties so there is a measure of opportunity! This gave both me and my husband an unexpected and delightful day, an insight into Nora's rare abilities and the appreciation she and the members of this group shared for each other.

When I knew early this year that we would be going to Montreal toward the end of April for the opening of Expo '67 I wrote to Ann

At Expo '67, Montreal . . . Meeting place. Three Kappas get together in front of the Canadian "People Tree." Left to right, Ann Longhurst, Δ Δ -McGill, Susan Clark, B A-Pennsylvania, and Margot McMurrich, Δ Δ . The two McGill girls are wearing Canadian official hostess uniforms. Margot wears also a walking cast. The People Tree is a "sunburst of silks" in Fall colors carrying the photographs of 500 Canadians, showing the diversity of the population.

Longhurst, listed in THE KEY as Delta Delta president, McGill University, and within a few days had a warm and friendly answer, telling me that she would be among the McGill Kappas working at Expo. At that time I was working on a story about Philadelphia and Montreal and called our Art Museum for information about Philadelphia art going to the International Exhibition. The public relations staff member who answered the phone asked, "Is this Mrs. Molloy of Kappa?" She was, pleasant surprise, Susan Clark, B A, whom I had met a few times at the House.

"Why don't you go with us to the Expo opening?" I suggested. "We'll take a thousand pictures and you can be our model."

Susan is not a quibbler. She began to make plans right away, was granted time off from work, and we spent three wonderful days together in Montreal. She was a delightfully co-operative model, and enjoyed everything, even traveling about with parent-type people. We, in turn, felt privileged to have a beautiful daughter-type girl with us. She spoke French, enjoyed talking to pavilion hostesses, asked friendly and intelligent questions, and made us realize what a fortunate result my chance phone call to the Art Museum had had.

The first thing Susan and I attended to on the Expo grounds was the search for Ann Longhurst. It took a long time and we felt triumphant when we finally found her—she's a sort of floating supervisor in the Canadian complex. We also discovered behind the information booth in this area, Margot McMurrich, another Delta Delta. She had broken her leg a few days earlier but nothing could keep her from her Expo job.

"Weren't they darling?" Susan said later, "Wasn't it fun meeting them?" Then she added rather fiercely, "Nobody can say anything against fraternities to me!"

Kappa catalysts converge . . . Expo '67 . . . Ruth Branning Molloy, Dorothy Schumaker Dybvig, Susan Clark, all B A-Pennsylvania, and Karen Dybvig, Ψ-Cornell.

It was at our second important stop, at the permanent building housing the International Fine Arts Exhibition, while we were proudly examining one of the Philadelphia sculptures Rodin's Burghers of Calais, that I heard my name called out and turned to stare stony-eyed at a very familiar face whose name I couldn't reach for endless seconds. Finally my old friend had to tell me who she was!

Dorothy Dybvig! The name-caller! (It takes one catalyst to recognize another one) She and her husband, their three sons, daughter-in-law, and daughter Karen, Psi, Cornell, had all met, by plan, in Montreal, to surprise Karen for her birthday.

No pictures were allowed inside, so we went out to pose in front of a pillar none of us would have considered hiding behind. What had come over me, I wondered, to have mislaid Dot's identity? It may be that pillars are placed conveniently for those of us who find it hard to be taken by surprise, and need a little time to prepare a suitable welcome.

By that time, of course, it may be too late and Connie gone forever.

ciation there and was Chapter Council Adviser at Emory and pledge adviser at the University of Georgia. She also was a member of the Advisory Council on Panhellenic housing at Emory. Last fall the Sanford family moved to Florida where Dennis is an investment banker in the Cape Kennedy area. They are "constantly fascinated by its 'space age' environment." She says

"Old interests of bridge, U. of Georgia football games, sewing and creative arts have moved over for golf, boating, fishing and beachcombing. I have become a member of the South Brevard Panhellenic Association and at the moment am looking for enough Kappas here to form a foursome for bridge, or possibly a Club. With Lindsey, 8, and Lee, 6, the PTA, Brownies, Little League, music and dancing lessons phase is fast approaching. I have an affinity for becoming involved in table decorations committees in any organization I join."

Let's go on another Kappa adventure

by JANE POLLARD GOULD
B M-Colorado

You are invited to explore the Orient with the Kappas, April 15 to May 14, 1968. The weather should be at its best and Japan magnificently adorned in cherry and plum blossoms.

Eleven days will be spent in Japan seeing Tokyo, the ancient classical city of Kyoto, the beautiful Fuji-Hakone-National Park area and the colorful Inland Sea. Five days will be spent in Hong Kong the free-port shopping center of the East and two in the fascinating city of Bangkok. Other visits will be made to Singapore, the delightful island of Formosa and the Philippines. On the way home a few days will be spent on the lovely Garden Isle of Kauai in Hawaii.

These are easily the world's most interesting and fascinating travel areas. You will marvel at the spectacular scenery, the exquisite gardens and landscaping, the classic art, the golden temples and the beautiful palaces and shrines. You will love the theater and the graceful Thai classical dances, and find most interesting the motor launch excursions on the "klongs" (canals) in Bangkok where you will see the native life of that city.

The details of this trip have been planned by Kappa with your pleasure in mind. It will be deluxe, carefree and fun. You will have no concerns only the joys of traveling with congenial company, excellent guides and an experienced tour conductor. Time has been allowed for independent exploring, relaxation and shopping.

The price $1975 round trip from the west coast, includes everything, all tips, all meals, all baggage handling, deluxe hotels, all transportation, entertainment and sightseeing. Many meals will be enjoyed in carefully selected, exclusive restaurants, gardens and inns. The hotels, the best in the Orient, were chosen for their location as well as their excellent accommodations. A good selection of entertainment will add to everyone's pleasure. This is not a "bargain" tour but it is a bargain considering all that it includes.

Send for the exciting brochure. Study it. Invite your husband, your family or a friend to join you if you wish, and send in your reservation. Planning for, and looking forward to such a magnificent experience is pleasure unbounded. Space is limited so early reservations are advised.

ABROAD

Patricia Pierce, B Φ-Montana, is taking a diploma course for teachers of the mentally handicapped in Sheffield, England. She will be there until September, 1968 and may be reached at 553 Crookesmoore Road, Sheffield 10, Yorkshire, England.

Merikay Waldvogel, AΔ-Monmouth, is studying French at the University of Besançon with a group sponsored by Knox College. Her address until June, 1968 is Cité Université, 73 Quai Veil-Picard, Besançon 25 (Doubs), France.

(Frances) Elaine Tyo, B T-Syracuse, is studying German under a Wayne State University program at Ludwig-Maximilians Universität, in Munich. Her address until next July is c/o Junior Year in Munich, Akademiestrasse 19, B Munich 13, Germany. . . .

Also in Germany is Hilary S. Gidney, T-Northwestern, who writes THE KEY: "After reading THE KEY, I couldn't resist dropping you a line as to my activities.

"After traveling in Europe last September, I settled down in Munich as a governess for the family of the American Consul General. For the next three months I was busy falling in love with Germany. Her people, especially the post war generation are as vital and interesting a nationality you could ever wish to encounter. Munich is known as the Paris of Bavaria and abounds in culture, beauty, and charm. I must say, during my sojourn I met not a single Kappa, oddly enough many Thetas. Thus I am advertising the merits of a city that are just waiting to be thoroughly enjoyed by all.

"After six months here at home (Ancaster, Ontario), I am on my way back to Munich to find a job, hopefully with Radio Free Europe or Radio Liberty and become fluent in the language. As a political science major, I find living in the heart of Europe constantly fascinating. I do though, get a bit homesick for the camaraderie of college life—so anyone who plans to be in the area has an open invitation to call. I'd love to show you the charm of a city that's won my heart.

"I can be reached either at #8 Opitz Strasse—bei Creel, 8 Munich 24, Germany or through the American Consulate. . . ."

In Europe studying the past summer were a number of actives. Included in this group were Patricia Sines, B T-West Virginia, who did graduate work at Aix-en-Provence, France at the Institute for American Universities. Her invitation for Kappas to "come by and visit or spend a couple of days" in her home was received by THE KEY too late to be extended in the Spring issue of the magazine. . . . Elaine Louise Bearer, Δ Ξ-Carnegie Tech, spent the summer at the Paris Conservatory studying music composition. Her address actually was in Fountainebleau. . . . In Russia for a couple of months was Judith Nenno, B M-Colorado, studying Russian at Leningrad University. . . . Laura Lee Scott, Γ A-Kansas State, studied Spanish in Madrid on a college summer study program.

Gretchen Sternberg, E Δ-Arizona State, sailed from New York in October for a trip around the world on a partial scholarship from Chapman College, aboard the S.S. Ryndam.

Gretchen Sternberg

Margaret Purdom Dawson, B X-Kentucky, was a counselor-chaperone for the Foreign Language League this past summer in Leysin, Switzerland and also in Versailles, France.

Mary Carolyn Halbert Yarbrough, AΔ-Monmouth, writes: "I am a Kappa alumna and will be living in Vicenza, Italy for three years after July, 1967. My husband is a Major, serving in the Army in Italy. We have two children Steven and Shari, age five and four.

"Previously, we have lived in El Paso and I enjoyed the Kappa group there. I would like to meet Kappas in Italy. My address is c/o Major Troy Yarbrough, 04071260, ACOFS G-4 USAS-ETAF, APO, New York 09168.

Marie "Dinny" Mickal, Δ B-Duke, a 1967 graduate writes: "I am teaching physics, chemistry, biology and general science at a private boys' school in Switzerland during the coming school year. My address is Institut Montana, Zugerberg, Zug, Switzerland.

Sally Sawyer Michaelsen, Δ Γ-Michigan State, affiliated BO, writes: "We moved to Lagos, Nigeria in May when my husband was appointed Director for Nigeria for Pan American Airways.

"During the present crisis literally all activity is curtailed, however, as soon as things return to normal, Nigeria promises to be a very interesting and rewarding tour. There is a very active International Women's Club engaged in a variety of assistance and development programs. I am presently organizing a group to study ancient Nigerian handcrafts, and the possibility of their revival, using the local materials still available. Many of our American girls are assisting at the Childrens' Blind School, and teaching interested groups.

"While travel to Nigeria is restricted at the present time, we sincerely believe the crisis will be settled favorably soon, and look forward to the many Americans, formerly resident, returning.

"I am taking advantage of the lull in social activity to settle our home at 14 Okotie Ebon St., Ikoy, Lagos.

"Any Kappas coming to Lagos would be most welcome, and can contact us easily by phoning the Pan American office." Her mailing address is Pan American Airways, P.O. Box 2311, Lagos, Nigeria.

Sara Mae Eckstein, B II-Washington, writes that her husband is "managing auditor of the Taiwan Residency of the United States Audit Agency." We have lived in Taipei for two years and will be remaining another two years. Last year when The Sand Pebbles was being filmed here we were able to meet Candice Bergen. (ed. note: Candice is a member of B A-Pennsylvania). I gave her my latest copy of THE KEY, for with her travelling she hadn't seen a recent copy.

"One can have a very active life here, and it is very international in flavor. I find this a most interesting time to be in the Orient. My main activities include: Music Therapist in a Chinese mental hospital; director of a children's choir; private music teacher; director and/or performer in community musicals; member and assistant director of a women's chorus; and for the second year I will be on the Board of the Taipei International Women's Club as social service chairman. This club has membership of 460 women representing over 20 nationalities.

"I do hope that any Kappas who come to Taiwan as tourists or to live or to study will please contact me. A friendly voice away from home means a great deal. Two addresses will reach me: U.S. Army Audit Agency, Taiwan Residency, APO San Francisco 96263, or Apt. 6A, #34, Lane 369, Tun Hwa South Road, Taipei, Taiwan.

Jeannie "piling" millet in a large wooden "mortar" in preparation for making flour. Taken in her back yard in Vélingara, the African girl seems amused with the process.

of Defense Schools in Yokohama, Japan, and returned to Tucson, Arizona.

In April Jeanie Elizabeth Britt wrote THE KEY from Vélingara, Casamance, Senegal. "Here I sit as a Peace Corps Volunteer in hottest Africa having just finished reading the Autumn, 1966 issue of THE KEY and wanting to tell you how much I enjoyed it even this many months behind time. I am sure that by now the Spring issue is out and that with a little luck and perseverance on the part of my parents and the International mailing system will eventually arrive in our little corner of Senegal, though I hope before another autumn rolls around. Though I find myself so far away from the home and the college and fraternity life I knew such a relatively short time ago and find it difficult to believe how completely different my life is now, I can but skim briefly through the pages of THE KEY and be at once transposed into the world of joyfulness and fraternity spirit that it portrays—a world which for me holds many wonderful memories and which I can appreciate even more, it seems, from farther away.

"My story is one of a recent alumna living abroad, having just graduated from Rollins College in Winter Park, Florida, in June of 1966; immediately afterwards (5 days to be exact) I received word of my acceptance into the Peace Corps Social-Welfare program for Senegal, West Africa.

Then from June until September I was plunged into that famous P.C. training program of concentrated work but which for me turned out to be also a very enlightening and interesting experience; after six weeks at Dartmouth College, we completed our training in Canada, passing two weeks living in the 'wilds' on Indian Reserves in the Northern Province and then six weeks living in Quebec City with French families and receiving further training at Laval University. Ten too short days at home saying goodbye to family and friends and arranging for two years of absence from the U.S. was followed by our final departure for Senegal on October 5th; we arrived in Dakar, the large and quite modern capital city, the next day.

"Thus began my service with the Peace Corps and official break with the coed life I had been whisked away from so quickly. We were at our posts by the end of the month and at work as if we had taken a job at the local bank; our job was to replace halves of teams of social assistants working in little villages throughout the country, the others having already left since the summer before, and they needed us right away. I began working with the old volunteer at that time (a good DG from St. Lawrence!), and the two of us have been here ever since, trying to keep up the operation of our 'Centre Social de Vélingara' as best as we can figure out. Our work has largely consisted of health and nutrition education of village mothers and general work in the field of community development; at any rate, our social center has allowed us to reach many levels of the community and experience just about any activity we desired. For example, we have organized and now have a volleyball team from the town, we teach a kind of 'home ec' class for the school girls at the local school, and have started English classes at night for anybody in the town who is so moved to come. In all, the work and the experience of being here in another culture and land, has already reaped many rewards and exciting memories that I believe I shall always cherish. In addition to the fact of feeling that I can at last do something useful for the country that has given me so much to be proud of, I am gaining a personal satisfaction and confidence in the things our life in the States works so hard to preserve and can say with even greater pride that I am a member of that culture. At the same time, I seem to be having a good time and feel compelled to share it with all of you.

"In May, I am taking vacation time and will travel with another volunteer up to the Canary Islands and then possibly to Casa Blanca. After that, I will return to Vélingara only for a short time as I have been reassigned to a much bigger town near Dakar. My work promises to be of a different kind and will probably bring some experiences of interest to THE KEY that I would be glad to write in to you about. For example, I may be working as one of the new editors of our P.C.V. publication here in Senegal, a magazine which keeps tab on all the volunteers in the country and even in other countries via The Peace Corps Volunteer (the official P.C. magazine)."

Jeanie gives her new address as Mlle. Jeanie E. Britt, Le Bureau du Corps Americain de la Pais, B.P. 2534, Dakar, Senegal, L'Afrique de l'Ouest. At Rollins she was "Miss Congeniality" at the 1965 "Miss Florida" pageant and did professional summer theatre work as well as participating in the Yale Festival of Undergraduate Drama. After her Peace Corps tour she hopes to continue her study toward a Master's degree in some phase of teaching.

Sally Young Porter, P^A-Ohio Wesleyan, writes: "We are presently based in Canberra, Australia where David is working at the Tidbinbella Tracking Station in connection with the 'Surveyor' moon shot space program."

Bonnie Kelley Saltman, Δ T-Michigan State, left for London in early September. She writes: "My husband has recently graduated from Wayne State University Law School and will be continuing his legal education in the area of International Law at the University of London. I am a French teacher and will be accompanying him in that capacity."

Margaret Thompson Fay, Γ A-Kansas State, writes from Frankfurt, Germany. "Although we have lived here in Germany for a year and a half now, I still get a little homesick when thinking of family, friends, Dairy Queen, and hamburgers! I haven't really ever been lonely though because our quarters have become, as my husband says, 'the Kappa Annex' for sisters I went to school with who are either studying or touring in Europe. And best of all, two of them are living here in Frankfurt.

"My husband's tour of duty in Europe has been a wonderful opportunity for both of us to meet people and to travel. Curt was a General's Aide, which gave us both much experience in Army protocol and meeting so many wonderful people. Since it is rather difficult to teach in dependent schools with no previous teaching experience, I am working for the Executive Officer of this post as a secretary.

"Although I work, as do my KKG sisters who live here in Frankfurt, it could be so nice to be able to find other Kappas—and there must be others in the area—and perhaps meet for coffee once a month. Would it be possible for you to send me a listing of addresses of Kappas who are studying or accompanying their husbands in the services or in business, so that perhaps, we could meet once in a while. (ed. note: A list has been forwarded from Fraternity Headquarters of those Kappas they know to be living in Frankfurt.)"

Margaret's address is c/o Lt. Curtis R. Fay, Jr., 6 Frankfurt/Main, Germany or her telephone number is Frankfurt Civilian 544255. An APO address is c/o Lt. Curtis R. Fay, Jr., Co. B, 3rd Battalion, 32nd Armor, APO 09039.

Highlight of the closing banquet of Theta Province Convention was the presentation of a 75 year pin to past National President Georgia Hayden Lloyd-Jones, H-Wisconsin. Long distinguished among Kappas, Mrs. Jones surprised the Tulsa Association and Delta Pi Chapter at the University of Tulsa by presenting them her diamond badge, a gift of the Fraternity when she retired in 1930 after six years of service at a national level. The Efficiency Cup, the first Fraternity rotating award, presented biennially to the chapter performing most efficiently in all departments was given by Mrs. Jones in 1926 in honor of another Fraternity President, May Whiting Westermann, Σ-Nebraska. One of the newest awards given at the Fraternity Convention honors Mrs. Jones. In tribute to Tulsa's "favorite" Kappa, the Association presented an antique silver samovar as a biennial rotating award for Chapter Scholarship Improvement. It was first awarded in 1966 to Γ Π-Alabama, a chapter which Mrs. Jones had installed when National President.

In receiving her 75 year award Mrs. Jones reminisced of her early life, "When I was four, that new phenomenon in education, the kindergarten, came to town"; her pledging, "Then, the University, the hectic rush with no holds barred, and the wise decision that has kept me happy, proud and not a little smug, all these 75 years"; and about Kappa, "Kappa has been very much a factor in my life. To a surprising extent it has influenced my friendships and experiences. It has brought me much satisfaction and all because of the lucky choice, three quarters of a century ago."

Kappa's Grand Ladies

1. Northern Orange County alumnae are indeed proud of their 50 year members, each from a different city. (This California association includes 12 cities) left to right: Juanita Reynolds Jordan, Γ A-Kansas State, married in the chapter house in 1917; Nelle Givens Wood, Σ-Nebraska, a charter member of the association, and 61 years a Kappa; Ruth Beebe Lennox, Δ Γ-Michigan State; Louise C. Bentley, Ψ-Cornell.

2. Cora Hosford Rathbun, B Ω-Oregon, receives her 50 year pin from Martha Brown Smith, M-Butler. Both are active in the Salem, Oregon Association.

3. Lillian White Harris, B Θ-Oklahoma, Nannie Taggart Baines, B Θ-Oklahoma, and Sara Godschalk Elam, B Z-Iowa, are all members of the Enid, Oklahoma Alumnae Association.

4. Five charter members of the Jacksonville, Florida Alumnae Association are shown on the 25th Anniversary of the founding. Seated, Marguerite Sneed Hughes, Θ-Missouri; Alice Loos Obenauer, B Z-Iowa; Dorothy Watkins O'Connell, B Θ-Oklahoma; Flora Niel Stinson, B O-Newcomb, and Dorothy Crise Green, Δ K-U. of Miami.

Other 50 year members

The St. Petersburg Alumnae Club presented two 50 year members with the golden fleur-de-lis pin at their annual luncheon at the Sheraton Hotel on Boca Ceiga Bay, where Audrey Humphries Lindquist, Δ N-Massachusetts, is the wife of the manager. Sarah Mildred Blount, B T-Syracuse, a former president of the Association, and Rozeltha Skinner Robertson, Σ-Nebraska, were awarded their pins by Helen Lathrop Smith and Julia Sullivan Dyke, both I-DePauw.

100 years young

A special happy birthday greeting is extended to Mabel MacKinney Smith, B Σ-Adelphi, on her 100th birthday, October 1. Mrs. Smith has recently moved from her long-time home in New York City to the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles. She is a former Beta Province officer, and served many years as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Boyd Hearthstone. Mrs. Smith will be remembered by many Kappas as she has attended many Fraternity Conventions.

The "now" alumnae . . .

Thoroughly modern mothers

Two "now" mothers are Catherine Leyda Elliot, Σ-Nebraska, and Marlene Smith Cavanaugh, Θ-Missouri. Mrs. Elliot was named Nebraska Mother of the Year, is wife of the president of the University of Nebraska Board of Regents. She is active in many civic affairs and the mother of four daughters.

Mrs. Cavanaugh, mother of three sons, was selected as Mrs. Missouri. She is an instructor-counselor at Central Missouri State College, has a master's degree in counseling and guidance and is currently working toward her doctorate in counseling psychology. Captain Cavanaugh is with the Minuteman Education program at Whiteman AFB.

That they might "see"

Dorothy Gettsinger Foldessy, Γ E-Pittsburgh, is working with the YWCA of Gary, Indiana, correlating a program of taping for partially sighted school children. These children use tapes as an aid to their education. Mrs. Foldessy selects the persons who will record the specific material, schedules the 19 readers and prepares the completed tapes.

More honors for alumnae

Louise Baird, P^Δ-Ohio Wesleyan, was selected Advertising Woman of the Year by the Advertising Club of the Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce. Miss Baird is Editor of Take-Off, NAA publication. She has been nationally recognized as a pioneer among women aviation writers.

A Freedom Foundation Award was given to Anne Schleicher Steinmann, B Ξ-Texas, one of 77 teachers throughout the United States to be honored. Miss Steinmann's fifth grade room in Houston was decorated in red, white, and blue; her teaching program always emphasized our American principles.

Margaret Lee Sonneday, Γ I-Washington U., was elected "Ecumenical Woman of the Year" by the Metropolitan Church Federation of St. Louis.

Elsie Irwin Sweeney, M-Butler, has received an honorary degree from Indiana University. She is a music patroness of the University.

Emma Moffat McLoughlin, Π^Δ-California added another honor to her long list of achievements when she was special guest of the Friends of the San Francisco Public Library during the observance of National Library Week. Mrs. McLoughlin is currently active on the Library Board of Directors.

Dorothy Long McGettigan, Δ A-Penn State, was honored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews (Northeastern region). Her letter of commendation cited her work with young people on a Teen-Op plan which includes all churches and community groups.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press featured St. Paul's "Ace in Christmas Cards", Cleora Clark Wheeler, X-Minnesota, in a write-up of this well-known Kappa. (See page 19 Mid-Winter KEY, 1967) The article detailed her accomplishments, and told of her Christmas card work. During the past two years she has been National Chairman of Inscriptions, Illumination and Heraldic Art for the National League of American Pen Women.

On the Campus

Jane Adams Spahr, Δ A-Penn State, is completing her second year of graduate work for her Bachelor of Divinity at San Francisco Theological Seminary. While studying to be a Presbyterian minister, Mrs. Spahr is serving as part-time assistant minister at the Redwoods Presbyterian Church.

Jean E. Tuerch, B P^Δ-Cincinnati, is assistant to the Dean of Students at the University of Cincinnati. Miss Tuerch was previously a field adviser with the Greater Cincinnati Girl Scout Council.

Elaine Yoder Zakarison, Γ H-Washington State, as the new Executive Director of the YWCA at Washington State University, directs the widely diversified program on this campus. She was formerly the Associate Director of the Pacific Northwest Region of Student YWCA.

"Books across the sea"

Bernice Williams Foley, B P^Δ-Cincinnati, director of the Martha Kinney Cooper Ohioana Library was welcomed in Taipei, and Tokyo with Ohioana books, gifts to the libraries of these countries from Ohio Governor James A. Rhodes, Ohio State University Press and the Ohioana Library. Mrs. Foley spoke in both cities, reported the impressive number of people in the English reading rooms of both libraries. She said the appreciation of the gift was "almost overwhelming". "Books Across the Sea" was the title of Mrs. Foley's talk on her return.

Delegate in New Delhi

Beth Coats Smith, Γ A-Kansas State, was one of 60 North American delegates who attended the meeting of the International Union of Family Organizations (IUFO), a consultative body of the U.N. Mrs. Smith is president-elect of the Nebraska State Medical Auxiliary and a member of the National Council on Family Relations. Mrs. Smith cited the objectives of the meeting as trying to develop a better understanding of the family and the adjustments being made in the Asian countries.

Fashion career

Tiia Kari Anker, Γ I-Washington U. has been included in Outstanding Young Women of America. She is a fashion consultant to George Green Associates in New York and has been a fashion editor and consultant to national organizations for five years.

A brush in her hand

For the past four years, Leslie Lee Priester, Δ E-Rollins, has designed all of the sets for the Mississippi Junior Miss Pageant. Her scrapbook of this years designs won an award in the national contest sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Miss Priester has been a field adviser for the Meridan Girl Scout Council and has recently joined the staff of the Middle Mississippi Girl Scout Council.

Headquarters bride

The first Fraternity Headquarters bride for many years was Mary Carolyn Shuford, Β II-Washington, who became the wife of Lieutenant Donald Johnson last May in Seattle, Washington. Here she is shown in the wedding dress which she made. Three of her attendants were Β II members. Mrs. Johnson was a former Field Secretary for Kappa. The couple is now living in Germany.

but used it, in your Kappa creed. It can serve you as a guidepost, a sort of measuring stick or divining rod if you learn how to apply it. It is foolproof today, just as it was 100 years ago.

"Perhaps you wonder why, when we started talking about the fraternity future, we are now talking about your individual future and the importance of your making the right decisions which will influence and shape that future. They are the same—'Your characters will be the criterion of Kappa'. And just as your future is being formed now, so is the Fraternity's. It should make us pause and reassess our thoughts and deeds now, today, realizing that we are building for our future at the same time. . . ."

RUTH CHASTANG,
NATIONAL PANHELLENIC DELEGATE

"... I cannot believe that human nature has changed so greatly that the college student no longer needs friendship. And, I feel no apology to anyone for supporting the premise that the role of the fraternity today is, as it has always been, that of a friendship group. In making that statement I do not preclude functions and programs other than social in our efforts; that we embrace many areas in our efforts to demonstrate friendship one has but to look to our chapter programs and alumnae activities. I do, however, protest when we are pressured to effect the correction of the ills of the world.

"I do not believe we are selfish, snobbish, nor undemocratic, because we cannot do everything for everybody as we continue to do so much for so many.

"I am thinking that if I could be granted a wish, or two, I would undoubtedly wish that we as members of Kappa Kappa Gamma will continue to embrace the philosophy that loyalty and friendship are most important in our scheme of things—loyalty to our members, active and alumnae alike, and loyalty to the fraternity we have chosen to join. I would wish that we would continue to protect our freedoms as we work for freedoms for others and that as we work toward that goal we accept the added responsibility that goes with each new found freedom. Lastly, I would wish that we will continue in our efforts toward excellence in all our undertakings, that we will never be satisfied with mediocrity or the lowest common denominator. . . ."

Magazine Agency has new head

Gwen at her desk processing orders for the Magazine Agency.

Gwendolyn Dorey Spaid, M-Butler, was appointed July 1 to assume the duties of Director of the Kappa Magazine Agency to succeed Helen Boyd Whiteman, A^Δ-Monmouth, who served so loyally and successfully for nearly 20 years.

Gwen and her husband, Orion, have two sons. Son Richard is married to Betty Solbrig, a Purdue Kappa and son Don is married to an Alpha Chi Omega from Butler. There are six grandchildren who are the joys of their grandparents.

Before her marriage, Gwen worked on the Indianapolis Star. After that ensued the usual activities of the family, Cubbing, Boy Scouts, PTA, with continued interest in Kappa Alumnae Associations in South Bend and Fort Wayne, Indiana; Rockford, Illinois, and Essex County, New Jersey. When the boys were almost grown, she became a Church secretary in West Orange, before moving to St. Louis where she immediately became active in the Association.

Gwen asks that "YOU remember why we send ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA MAGAZINE AGENCY. Our dollars used for subscriptions (at no added expense because all are accepted) help Kappas. All profits of the Agency go to the Rose McGill Fund—the Fund that helps Kappas in the time of emergency."

Learning the easy way . . . Six members of Kappa Kappa Gamma shared an unusual college semester at sea aboard the S.S. RYNDAM, the world's only floating campus, administered by Chapman College's Division of International Education in Orange, California.

The Kappas are Linda Leblanc, Δ I-Louisiana State; Marilee Mooney, Γ Γ -Whitman; Ann Casto and Kathy Igoe, Γ Z-Arizona; and Sondra Lutgen and Judy Peterson, Γ O-Wyoming.

Along with 430 other college students from throughout the U.S., these girls boarded ship in Los Angeles, February 7, for their 107-day study voyage to South America, Africa, and Europe. On this fully-accredited academic program, they attended classes six days a week while the ship was at sea.

Approximately 85 courses were offered on the RYNDAM, which was equipped with classrooms, laboratories, art studio, theater and library. In port, the students participated in field trips, lectures, seminars, and other activities related to their individual fields of study. The girls arrived in New York, May 25, after visiting cities in Venezuela, Trinidad, Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, Nigeria, Senegal, Morocco, Spain, Portugal, The Netherlands, Belgium, France, Denmark, England, and Ireland.

Summer of stardom

The "Kappa Pickers" of $\Gamma \Phi$ -Southern Methodist, have temporarily changed their name this past summer to "The Sisterhoods" as they entertained at the Six Flags Over Texas, (see cover picture) the \$15 million entertainment center located minutes away from downtown Dallas. Similar to Disneyland but on a smaller scale, Six Flags blends fact and legend in a wholesome family fun spot.

The S.M.U. Pickers auditioned last April and were selected to entertain at the Crazy Horse Saloon this past summer. The Dallas Morning News wrote in part:

"These are charmers, and talented, too. Wearing patchquilt shirts, plain skirts and blue sneakers, they make a hand-clapping entrance to 'Who Makes the World Go 'Round-Girls!' Then for 30 minutes, the coeds offer a melange of dancing, song and fun. With one girl at the piano, the rest pick up toy trombones, washboard, spoons and even toy ukeleles (invented by TV's Steve Allen.)"

Kathy Winniford, a member of the group, tells of the special summer and what it has meant to the girls from Gamma Phi.

"I want to share with you and other Kappas the story of our wonderful summer together. Although the group of 'Pickers' have entertained many places, including our Province Convention at Tulsa last year, this experience at Six Flags Over Texas has certainly been the most involved.

"The park is a colorful and fun place and our act, directed by Mr. Charles R. Meeker, is also fun. It is altogether different from our regular Picker music, and although we make no claim to talent, we enjoy music and singing a great deal. We do seven shows a night, and in spite of the glamour, it is tiring work.

"We have met many wonderful people and everyone is always delighted to know that we are all Kappas. We are proud of our act, but even more than that we are proud of each other and the way we have gotten along this summer. Being together in a tiny backstage room six hours a night gets pretty cramped, but in spite of our close and constant association, we have gotten along perfectly, without one misunderstanding.

"I don't mean to sound like I'm bragging, but we have grown so close that we have come to share our happy and sad times and have acquired an unique understanding of each other. We have also learned a lot more of what Kappa sisterhood can mean and are so proud of our Fraternity bonds. We just wish more of our sisters could have such an opportunity.

"We are all looking forward to school so we can see everyone again. Please forgive me if I have rattled on too much, but I just wanted you to know a little bit about our 'summer of stardom'."

Nancy Ruzicka, Γ Z-Arizona, Homecoming Queen, Angel Flight, University Hostess president.

Janie Criswell, B M-Colorado, Coloradan Queen (yearbook).

Ann, 1967 College Queen from West Virginia, was presented with a sterling Tiffany tray by the chairman of the board of the Corn Products Company at a Best Foods breakfast at the Waldorf Astoria, June 13. Ann, as winner, had the highest accumulative score in the various parts of the Homemaking event which included a Cook-Out, a Food Sense Quiz, and a food preparation skill test.
