Sharing and Caring —Opportunity Unlimited

A philanthropy program is generally thought of as providing opportunity and assistance to others. However, to Kappa Kappa Gamma it provides the opportunity to remain constant to her purpose. Stated in the By-laws there are two "Purposes." (1) "To give financial assistance to deserving and needy students in order to enable them to complete their education"; (2) "To assist members who are in financial need."

Kappa's outstanding program of scholarship aid, totaling nearly $760,000 in grants and loans since its inception in 1902, is widely known and respected in campus administrative and fraternal circles. Continued growth of this fine program presents the opportunity to further the name of Kappa Kappa Gamma in the educational world.

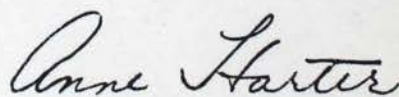

The unique Rose McGill Fund, dedicated to serving the needs of members in dire financial circumstances, presents the continuing opportunity of expressing fraternity ideals.

The Rehabilitation Services Program, in just over thirteen years, has seen hundreds of thousands of volunteer hours as well as dollars contributed in many communities to a wide variety of rehabilitation agencies. It has afforded opportunity for service to community and for the establishment of good will for the entire fraternity system.

Loyal and continued support of Kappa's philanthropies gives added meaning and direction to alumnae programs: each group being urged to determine those areas best suited to the needs and interests of its members . . . each group being encouraged to accept the responsibility of sharing with Fraternity Funds.

Perhaps most important, Kappa Philanthropies present to all members the opportunity to show care and concern for others. Kappas should care deeply that as the membership increases and grows older there will be greater necessity of providing material comfort to needy members as well as the expression of the Fraternity's abiding love and interest. Kappa's concern is great in the need for better educated women who are prepared to provide leadership in this complicated age. Kappas are proud to assist in rehabilitating the handicapped.

May all Kappas understand and appreciate these opportunities — and in their knowledge eagerly accept them.

by LOUISE LITTLE BARBECK
Fraternity Vice-President

If each generation must be free to make its own mistakes, of what value is history?

In A Man Called Peter, the story of the life of Peter Marshall, the doctrines and teachings of a fine minister were given to the world. From one of the Sermons, Mr. Marshall talked of young people and the various situations in which they find themselves. He recognized that, "There is a clash between the ideals in which they have been reared and the standards they find generally accepted today." This is a very real concern to students everywhere. It is confusing to some to find that the things they have been taught by loving parents to revere and emulate are now rationalized as being out-of-date or old-fashioned. There are twinges of conscience when accepted standards are violated in the name of modern rights and new-found freedom. More and more it is being recognized that new freedoms mean added responsibility for conduct. The philosophy that if we don't like a law, we feel no obligation to keep it is being given credence. There is public concern and interest for law and order and means to secure it.

Responsible people know that there is no freedom from the law; only freedom in it. While individuals should exercise all of the liberties granted to them under a democracy, there can be no security if individuals do not assume corresponding responsibilities for their personal actions. We should take inventory to see that we are not using our freedom to neglect the very liberties we have inherited, free to ignore the very things others made sacrifices to provide for us. C. Kingsley said, "There are two freedoms, the false one where one is free to do what he likes, and the true where he is free to do what he ought."

Young people find themselves in a troubled world. They are correctly concerned and confused with their rights as members of today's society. They have been encouraged to take part in civil rights' movements and the general rebellion that is becoming a part of some college campuses. They are attempting to understand the pros and cons of politics, the Great Society, and the effort to elevate all peoples, not only of this country, but all other nations.

"The close friends in the Fraternity give you strength to lean on. In the Fraternity you can always find someone who will listen, simply listen. There is a friend who expects only the highest and best from you and sets this goal clearly before you; there is someone to encourage you and the faith that someone will always stand beside you when your decision is made. What greater comfort and help at a time of decision could there be than the friendship found in fraternity?"

There is a rejection of sham and hypocrisy in established rules that have governed society. There is a cry for freedom of actions as a right of this generation. There is some attempt, often premature, to "live one's own life" without the guidance and wisdom of those who normally would instruct and whose opinions would be respected. It is encouraging that many young people are beginning to question the trend on their campuses and to realize that the social reforms they seek are not as glamorous as they seem. There is, and always will be, accepted ethics and standards for social conduct and natural punishments which cannot be avoided when these are violated. It was Winston Churchill who said, "If the present criticizes the past, there is not much hope for the future." If each generation must be free to make its own mistakes, of what value is history? If we cannot learn from the examples of those who have lived before, of what value is heritage?

"Custom, then, is the great guide of human life. It is that principle alone which renders our experience useful to us, and makes us expect for the future a similar train of events with those which have appeared in the past." (David Hume) It takes courage to stand up for what we think is right when others are letting emotions rule their feelings. Courage is the outstanding human quality, for it guarantees all of the others.

The real value of any ethical code of standards or morality is whether or not it produces happiness, contentment, or peace of mind. People generally act according to custom which has been proven as a basis for dignity and well-being. Free choice is a part of man's dignity, tempered with reason in the use of choice. To ignore the teachings of those who have lived before is sheer folly and can only produce a vacillating standard of trial and error. The traditions of which we are so proud should be carefully preserved for generations to come. There is security in knowledge of mutual facts that have been proven as worthy of acceptance. Whether we care to admit it or not, human beings seek security in order to find meaning to life. A man seeks financial security for his family to provide for their

"It (the Fraternity), offers a remnant of a past, collective, and social security. It is a mark of tradition."

(Beta Lambda-Illinois)

On joining the Fraternity . . . "At last I have achieved a goal which has been the ultimate for many years. I suppose we should be old enough by the time we reach college to self-discipline ourselves. But for myself, I always need a guidepost. I picked a guidepost and at the time was not entirely aware of what a strong and wonderful one I selected."

(Gamma Nu-Arkansas)

wants and to insure their existence if anything should happen to him. A mother seeks religious security for her children by teaching them in her faith. Society seeks security for the aged and infirm by providing funds to care for their needs. The world seeks security in a bond of United Nations, whose function is to attempt to work out the necessary steps to avoid war and conflict.

Personal security is found in many ways. Being gregarious by nature, man seeks friends to share his pleasures and comfort him in sorrow. Many consider friendship the truest measure of any wealth, and the person who is blessed with many friends is envied above all. Of what value are material things if they cannot be shared with those we love? Alone and unhappy is the poor miser who puts his monetary worth above human relations.

On our campuses today, with their ever-increasing enrollments, there is a need for the security of group living. The backing and encouragement of a small group of friends is found to promote the development of the individual. It has become a solid foundation with which to become identified.

All of the social problems of today cannot be attributed as the fault of the young. Too many considered as delinquent by their actions are not wholly to blame. There is a great concern for the underprivileged as the cause for this dilemma. One editorial defined the underprivileged in this way: if his family members care so little about him that they will not show their love for him through proper discipline, he is underprivileged; if his church offers him so little guidance that he believes it proper to drink and fight, he is underprivileged; if his school is so inadequate that he has learned nothing more enjoyable and rewarding than carousing, he is underprivileged; if his parents are totally consumed with enjoying their own affluence, he is underprivileged. Too many of our young people do not need additional privileges and freedom from responsibility, but they need the warm security in family life that is the real foundation for successful living.

We must examine our role as leaders and interested alumnae to ascertain whether our endeavors are meeting the challenges of today's campus. It is only in being aware, understanding, and sympathetic that we find the key to the role we must play. What do the young people of today have a "right" to expect?

They want to be individuals, and have

"The Fraternity's main purpose is to give a person something real and solid to hang onto while everything around it is changing."

(Gamma Pi-Alabama)

"American family ties are weakening as family members are involved in varied pursuits and the world of the college student is becoming a world of increasing loneliness and separation from families. Fraternity provides a basic need."

(Delta Rho-Mississippi)

the right to expect that they will be treated as such. They must be free to make choices in their lives in accordance with their best interests. We must encourage individual decisions in selection of things that affect them as persons. We must, however, remind them, as all people must be reminded, that decisions concerning a group must be applied to the best interest of the group. In the study of American Women, published by President Kennedy's appointed commission for this study, it states, "We believe that one of the greatest freedoms of the individual in a democratic society is the freedom to choose among different life patterns. Innumerable private solutions found by different individuals in search of the good life provide society with basic strength far beyond the possibilities of a dictated plan." This would indicate a belief by this commission in the individual selection of vocation, social organizations and any other means

"The place of the Fraternity on today's campus is to benefit more fully the individual as she grows and matures. This is accomplished to some extent by simple membership, but even more explicitly by allowing its members to learn by their own experience."

open to society. Concern with the welfare of others is an attribute and is developed in the pride of group accomplishment.

The students have a right to expect the national organization to preserve the heritage handed down by our founders almost one hundred years ago. It is the power by virtue of which local chapters exist, issuing charters and bringing the collective strength of all to any one of them.

"It seems to me that the fraternity system represents a conservative, traditional element on campus. This comes from member dedication to certain ideals and principles which their group affiliation is based upon."

(Pi Deuteron-California, Berkeley)

They have a right to expect a continuance of the philanthropic program which renders services to any and all chapters. Within our Fraternity since its founding we have seen over $900,000.00 given in scholarships to deserving Kappas and non-Kappas. This is a good thing of which to be a part and each member has cause to be proud of such an outstanding philanthropic program.

Our active members have a right to expect ideas, suggestions and mutual concerns of the chapters and the alumnæ to be brought before the general convention for solving in unity.

They have a right to expect a lifetime of enjoyment and service with friends of mutual aims and purposes. There are over 350 alumnæ clubs and associations to welcome active members upon their graduation from college. These friends were chosen because "When there is no longer a place for friendship among college students there will no longer be a need for the Greek system. Many students today are numbers which are being educated by the IBM professor."

(Delta Alpha-Penn State)

Our members have a right to expect the same courteous respect when they graduate that they are showing for the loyalty and service given so freely by thousands of alumnæ. Theirs is the privilege of a heritage that has been and is continuing to be enjoyed by all who were once active members in Kappa chapters. This debt we owe to them as their right to a full and promising fraternity experience.

"When out of school the resident college members will go their own ways, but the fraternity members will always be united by a strong and enduring bond of love and loyalty all of their days."

(Epsilon Gamma-North Carolina)

of similar interests and sameness of a philosophy of life. They have something "in common" upon which to build lasting friendships and to use as a springboard for service to their fraternity and their community.

Our members have a right to expect leadership and guidance in all phases of chapter life. They must be reassured that the Fraternity stands firm in its principles and is determined to preserve them for posterity. Young ladies on the campuses of today would scorn weakness and indecision. They have shown respect for their elected leaders and recognized that the strength of the Fraternity is composed of its alumnæ and active members working together. The college years are but small in number when membership is for a lifetime. It is the hand that reaches across the years that provides continuity and brings the whole fraternity picture into focus.

Our students are asking for a solid foundation on which to base these expectations. They are seeking for principles of lasting value on which to construct a worthwhile life. They are asking for the privilege of making personal decisions that concern them and their futures. As alumnæ we can only show and attempt to exemplify the gratitude and worth for the teachings and enjoyment we have known through our Fraternity experience. It was Galileo who said, "You cannot teach a man anything; you can only help him to find it within himself." This is all we can do. We have infinite faith that, given both sides of a proposition, our young people will make right and just decisions. As the honorable Joseph D. Hughes said, "It would be senseless for us to wave a flag in your face, for you would be smothered in its folds."

“Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm”

Emerson

by ANNE HARTER

Director of Philanthropies

The above wise quotation is continually being proved by Kappas in many phases of Fraternity work, but never is it more apparent than through the Fraternity's Philanthropy Program. And it is because of the enthusiastic endeavor and support of our alumnæ that great things do take place annually. The time and effort spent by alumnæ associations and clubs on money-raising projects—be it a fabulous house tour or a clever approach to a white elephant sale—make possible the annual contributions to Fraternity Funds necessary for the continuance of the program. We are familiar with the saying, “Only Kappas give to Kappa Funds,” yet there is truth in the saying no matter how trite.

More and more alumnæ groups are becoming aware of the possible contributions to be made in the way of educational assistance, local rehabilitation projects and to our own Kappa sisters in need. More and more they are realizing that an enthusiastic and knowledgeable approach to Kappa's philanthropies brings the reward of increased membership and sustained interest. There is growing awareness that today's complex and sometimes hectic pattern of living demands that a fraternity offer its alumnæ members a purpose beyond mere sociability. Dedication of effort toward Kappa's well-rounded philanthropy program provides this needed “reason for being.”

A case in point is the Clay-Platte, Missouri Alumnæ Club which has an annual membership of 15. This group is able to make a net profit of between $250-$350 on their Bridge Benefit held every other year. In conjunction with bridge playing, home-made baked or canned specialty items are placed on sale in the Kappa Kountry Kitchen display. As an added attraction a local store provides a fashion show at no cost to the group. One year local philanthropies receive assistance from this fund-raising event; the next year the Fraternity benefits. Last spring the Clay-Platte Club gave its third $200 Emergency Scholarship to the Fraternity since undertaking this project in 1960. Size, alone, is no indicator of accomplishment, if the desire is present.

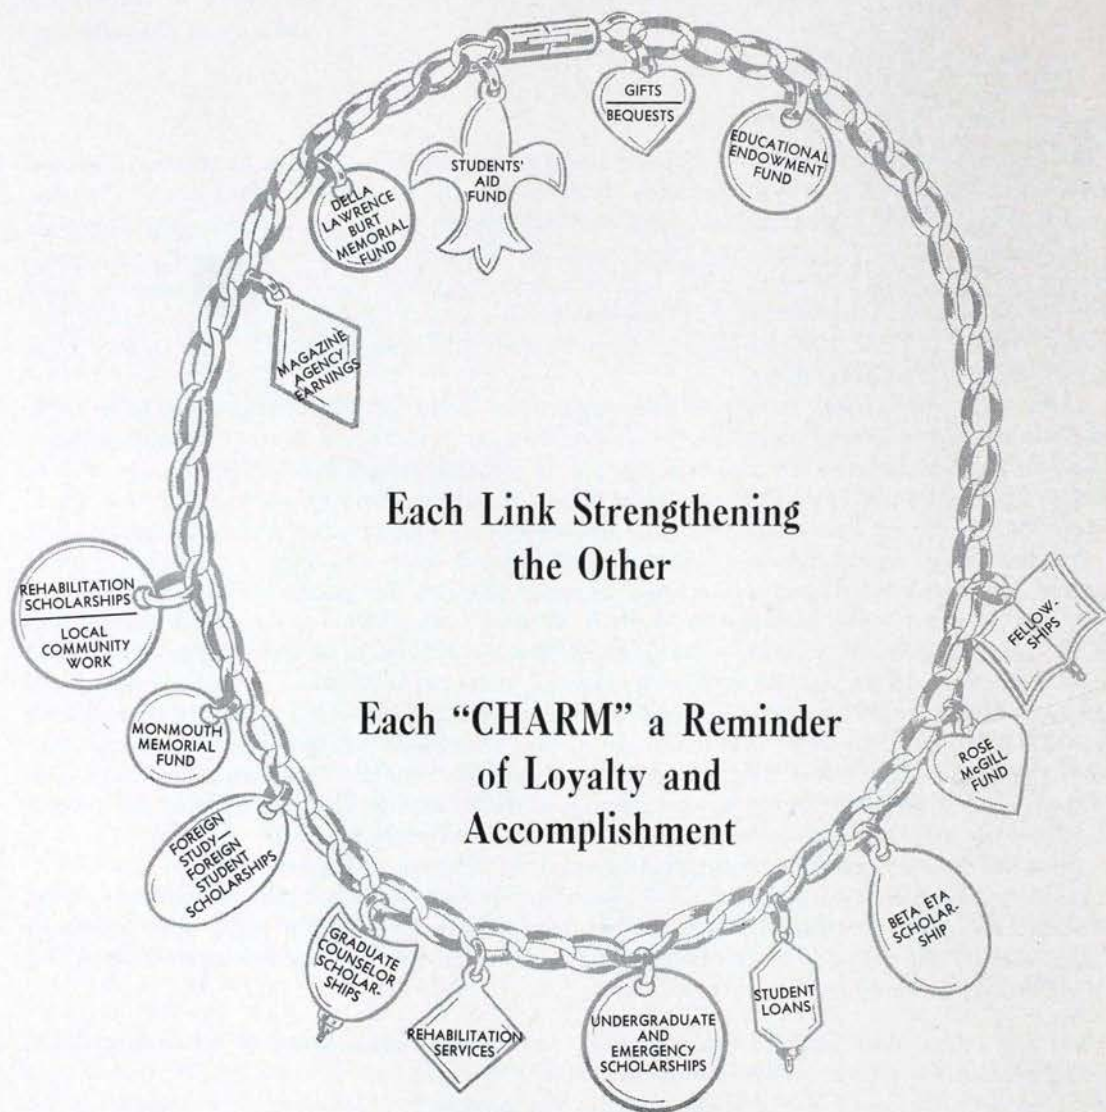

What are these achievements being made annually in the name of Kappa?

Great, indeed, may be considered the Scholarship Aid Program. Since the establishment of the Student Loan Fund in 1902, the program has developed in scope so that today six Scholarship Funds require the services of five Chairmen to administer them under the supervision of the Director of Philanthropies.

For the school year 1965-66 the following awards have been granted to 89 well qualified young women for an expenditure of about $33,000:

- 31 Undergraduate Scholarships
- 19 Emergency Scholarships
- 14 Fellowships
- 6 Foreign Student Scholarships
- 1 Foreign Study Scholarship
- 7 Graduate Counselor Scholarships
- 11 Rehabilitation Scholarships

KAPPA'S CHAIN OF SHARING

These scholarship recipients are studying at more than 50 different institutions of higher learning in the United States and Canada.

The Fraternity is proud of its contribution to the higher education of women. It is proud, too, of the high caliber of the scholarship recipients and their fine records of achievement.

Administrators and educators continue to express their appreciation for the outstanding efforts made by Kappa Kappa Gamma in scholarship aid. The Dean of Women at a large mid-western state university wrote to Fraternity President Alexander last year,

"Your program for furthering academic pursuits, fellowships and scholarships will make many students thankful that they can continue their educations. If more publicity could be given these pursuits perhaps the belligerent individuals would change their viewpoints regarding the worth of sorority memberships."

Another Dean, in recommending a Kappa for an Undergraduate Scholarship, said,

"May we take this opportunity of expressing our deep respect for a group which over the years has shown so much concern in assisting worthy young women with scholarships such as these."

This is high praise which we welcome. Yet what more fitting philanthropy could a women's college fraternity have than providing educational assistance to deserving women students?

Alumnæ enthusiasm for the scholarship program, always steady, is growing today. The once unusual full-award scholarship gift or "Name Award" given by an alumnæ group has now become a well established pattern of giving for more and more associations and clubs. During 1964-65, fifty Name Award Scholarship gifts were received from 31 associations, three clubs and three individual members. In addition, 36 scholarships have been awarded for 1965-66 in the name of Kappa Kappa Gamma and were made possible from the combined smaller gifts of the alumnæ groups.

Another Fraternity project to which we do not hesitate to apply the adjective "great" is that of Rehabilitation Services. Still practically a new undertaking, having been adopted in 1952 as a Fraternity project, this program of community service to local rehabilitation agencies, coupled with the program of Rehabilitation Scholarships, has developed in remarkable fashion. Assistance to agencies working toward the rehabilitation of the physically, mentally, emotionally and socially handicapped as well as the aged has caught the enthusiasm and deep interest of our organized alumnæ.

The Chairman of Rehabilitation Services reports that for 1964-65, 176 alumnæ groups took part in 209 community projects. Twenty-seven thousand and thirteen volunteer hours were given and $3,300 contributed to a wide variety of rehabilitation agencies in the form of gifts, equipment, and local scholarship aid.

Sisterly interest and compassion provide the impetus for loyal support of the Rose McGill Fund which continues to answer the needs of members of all ages, who, through no fault of their own, find themselves in severe financial circumstances. Memorial gifts and the profit from magazine sales add to the Endowment Fund for the Rose McGill Fund. Last year 20 of our Kappa sisters received assistance from the Fund at an expenditure of close to $11,000.

Enthusiasm—growing alumnæ enthusiasm—for Kappa's Philanthropy Program has made these remarkable accomplishments possible. Kappas do great things annually because of this well placed enthusiasm for projects and goals near and dear to their hearts. The rewards, both intangible and material, are immeasurable. Members can take pride that through concerted effort their Fraternity is able to do so much for so many.

B K-Idaho

President, Fox River Valley Club

Fox River Valley Alumnæ Club draws its active membership from three cities within eight miles of each other: Neenah, Menasha and Appleton, Wisconsin. We also have active members from Green Bay and Oshkosh. Distance and weather are factors in keeping our group to its average membership of 21. The fact that there is no active chapter in our immediate locale is another factor.

From the time our Club was chartered in 1947, Fox River Valley has always made large contributions, for its size, to the various scholarship funds, chiefly dividing it between the Undergraduate Scholarship and Foreign Study-Student Funds.

In the beginning we decorated Christmas stockings, candles, made doll clothes, held White Elephant auctions, etc. However, the communities have become more and more highly organized with hospital auxiliaries and service groups competing.

Most of our members belong to one or two of these organizations and too many demands were made on their time.

For several years, now, we have held very successful parties with our husbands. Members donate the food and it is held on a Saturday night. We charge $10.00 a couple and make it our big effort for the year. Though it is quite a lot for young couples, we found that they could save on baby-sitting charges that would have been necessary to work on the former projects. Contributions are also encouraged from the inactive members.

In 1963, it was suggested by Mrs. Wagner (then Director of Philanthropies) that we add $25 to our $175 donation and consolidate our giving into one full Emergency Scholarship of $200. This met with great enthusiasm and gives our group a real goal to achieve. We are proud that we are directly helping an outstanding Kappa.

Foreign study-foreign student scholarships

"There never ceases to be a day that I don't cherish thoughts of you and the greatest help you could have offered me—my education. You didn't only help me and make it possible for me to go to college in the United States for about four years, you continue to help me through life. Because of your help I am a different person now and enjoy a full, happy life. I also am able to help my family financially. There isn't an end to the help you have and still offer me."

The former holder of three Kappa Foreign Student Scholarships wrote the above on her annual Christmas card last year to the Chairman of this program. Her appreciation might well have been echoed by any number of young women from foreign countries whom Kappa Kappa Gamma has been privileged to assist in obtaining an education in the United States or Canada since the establishment of the Virginia Gildersleeve International Scholarships in 1938 as a means of promoting international understanding through education.

Foreign Student Scholarship applications must be filed by February 1. The applicant must be able to speak, understand and write the English language. She must have a well-outlined program of study as well as a strong desire to promote better understanding between the people of her country and this one. High scholastic ability is necessary as well as personal attitudes that indicate qualities of adaption to a new environment. It is also necessary that the applicant have sufficient funds to cover the cost of travel to this country, special fees, incidentals and any expenses in connection with illness since the maximum award is $500.

Grants are preferably made to those studying on the graduate level in fields which will be helpful to the greatest number of people such as education, social work, administrative fields, and science. Many former holders of these scholarships have returned to their native lands and made fine contributions to society.

The Chairman received inquiries last year from 51 students from 15 countries. Thirteen completed applications were evaluated and for 1965-66, six awards have been made to young women from China, Japan, India, the Philippines and Norway.

Foreign Study Scholarships, providing the opportunity of international study, are open to members of the Fraternity with preference given to graduate level work. The maximum award is $500 so it is necessary for an applicant to have additional sources of income to enable her to undertake such a program. A well thought out plan of study is necessary as well as a seriousness of purpose toward the future use of these studies. A good undergraduate record is a prerequisite along with a "B" average while contribution to campus and chapter are considerations in the selection of recipients.

Interested Kappas should write to the Chairman of Foreign Study-Foreign Student Scholarships for additional information. Completed applications must be filed by March 1.

Dorothy, who has been teaching, writes, "I want to teach, at the high school or college level, people who have not yet become too inhibited to allow full reign to genuine intellectual interest and who have yet developed enough mentally to be capable of learning to guide and control this interest. I want to demand the best from them. I want to teach them to use their minds. Especially, I would like to generate in them some of the enthusiasm for the French language."

Che-Ling (Catherine) Chung, Taipei, Taiwan, Free China, received her B.S. in mathematics at Oklahoma State University in June, 1965. Before coming to this country, she attended college in Taiwan for two years. Scholarships from the Methodist Church and Oklahoma State University have helped Catherine, plus her summer job and college part-time job. After receiving her Masters degree, Catherine will return to Taiwan to teach.

Amrit Kaur Gailon, Punjab, India, was given a summer school award to enable her to complete her thesis for her Ph.D. in Educational Psychology at the University of California at Berkeley. Her Master's degree in education from the same University was received in May, 1963, with scholarship assistance from P.E.O. It is the intent of Miss Gailon to return to Punjab, India to serve the Education Department of the state or to work in a research laboratory.

Bakhshish K. Saini, Moonak, India, is completing her graduate work in Education for a Ph.D. at the University of California at Berkeley. Mrs. Saini has been a teacher in India and will return to her work after receiving her degree. There have been many obstacles in the way and in every instance, Mrs. Saini has worked very long and hard to keep on course.

Maren Woie, Arendal, Norway, will return to Norway to work with either mentally retarded children or to teach in one of the Schools of Social Work, when she receives her Master's degree from the University of Wisconsin in the Spring of 1966. Miss Woie had interesting experiences during the war, when she had to leave her home area to keep from working for the Nazis. Never once did she give up her idea of becoming a teacher. Maren first heard about our program from her adviser who is a Kappa.

Hiroko Yamamoto, Tokyo, Japan, was awarded a Kappa Scholarship a few years ago, but was unable to accept. She will be attending the University of California at Berkeley, to take graduate work in Sociology. One of her recommendations states: "She is very anxious to benefit from the 'systematically organized teaching' in the United States. Her main interest has been the effects of the Japanese social system and structure on the Japanese personality, and she wishes to observe how significantly the ways and thinking of Japanese in American society have been modified by this exposure. She believes this will provide her with great insight into the Japanese personality and American society." Teaching in Japan is the hope for the future.

Ramonita Mesina, Manila, Philippines, will complete her work in English Literature by the Spring of 1966 to receive her Master's degree at the University of Oklahoma. Miss Mesina is an excellent student, who has been a teacher and plans to return to that profession.

Fellowships

"I am very happy and proud to accept a Kappa Kappa Gamma Fellowship of $500 to study Medicine. It seems a long time ago since I first read in my pledge manual about Kappa's interest in scholarships. My associations in Kappa have always been wonderful and I feel that my success in college was due in part to my membership. Thus I am looking forward to Medical School and to a new phase of Kappa. I hope that as an alumna I can help keep the fraternity system strong."

Although many Kappa Fellowships have been awarded to non-members of the Fraternity, one recent Fellowship winner, a Kappa, wrote the above in her letter of acceptance.

Kappa Kappa Gamma Fellowships for graduate study follow the premise that the Fraternity is a dedicated believer in the higher education of women. Having once established scholarships for undergraduate members, the next logical step in the ever-widening philanthropic program of material assistance to scholars was a program designed to aid young women wishing to pursue advanced studies. Kappa became a pioneer among fraternities in granting such awards to beginning graduate students in three fields—humanities, science, and art. Since the Fellowship program was first established in 1934 the program has grown in the number of awards given annually, variety of acceptable fields of study, and in eligibility of candidates.

Fellowships of $500 are open on a competitive basis to any young woman who has graduated from a campus where there is a Kappa chapter or who will pursue a course of study on such a campus. Preference is generally given to first year graduate students, except in the case of the study of medicine. Merit, academic performance, financial need and promise of future achievement are the bases for selection of recipients.

Competition for all scholarships is keen today and Kappa's program of graduate assistance is sought after. Information about the Fellowship Program is listed by many academic organizations in their lists of grants available for graduate study. From such listings Kappa has gained in stature and respect in academic circles.

The Chairman and her committee reviewed 28 completed applications for 1965-66 awards. Because of the generosity of several alumnae associations which gave full $500 scholarship gifts, thus helping to extend Fraternity Funds, 14 Fellowships were made available and awarded. The Fraternity is proud to announce the presentation of the first Fellowship in Honor of Edith Reese Crabtree, former Fraternity President. This grant will be given annually in the field of Medicine or the Humanities.

Rehabilitation scholarships

"The rehabilitation studies which Kappa sponsors are commendable. Rehabilitation is an area requiring much research and many people with specialized training. The opportunity which our Fraternity makes available to young women all over the country to study in unique settings, under distinguished figures in the field of rehabilitation, are truly wonderful.

"Having received such an opportunity and benefited so much, I hope that many others will be able to follow and benefit in the same manner. Then, through dedicated service in our respective fields, we can live up to the expectations of Kappa Kappa Gamma, and return a portion of all she has given us."

The above remarks concluded a letter from one of the current scholarship recipients and expresses well the gratitude of the young women whose studies have been aided by Kappa alumnae.

The Rehabilitation Scholarships are a part of Kappa's program of Rehabilitation Services. Graduate awards of $500 and undergraduate scholarships of up to $350 are made annually to both Kappas and non-Kappas who are seriously pursuing study in any of the fields of rehabilitation of the handicapped.

The Kansas City, Missouri Alumnae Association has given through the Fraternity its third $1000 award for graduate training in speech rehabilitation of the brain injured at the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation in New York City. A second $1000 award for summer study at the Institute was made possible this year by the Fraternity in a special grant in honor of Dr. Howard A. Rusk, the Director.

Two awards will again be available for this outstanding training in the summer of 1966 due to the generosity of the Kansas City, Missouri Alumnae Association and the Fairfield County, Connecticut Alumnae Association who are providing their award in honor of Sarah Harris Rowe, past Fraternity President.

A letter from the director of a speech institute, after learning one of his students had received a Kappa grant, points up both the need for such scholarship assistance and the service which Kappa is performing in the awarding of such scholarships. "In the United States over eight million persons are in need of speech and language correction. To meet this need 30,000 logopedists are needed. In the course of a career, a speech therapist will touch the lives of approximately 16,000 children and adults. The results of scholarship help to a fine candidate are inestimable in habilitated children who will take their rightful place in the communicative society through the skill and training of such scholarship students later on."

Special $1000 Award

The special $1000 summer study grant at the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation in New York City, honors Dr. Howard Rusk. This award was made possible by the balance of previous gifts from the Fairfield County, San Francisco, and Philadelphia alumnae plus numerous small contributions to the Fund. (Patricia) Diane Erbert, B O-Oklahoma, was selected for graduate training in the rehabilitation program of verbal impairment related to brain damage, which provided the students with clinical experience, a professional work situation, and advanced study under the direction of renowned speech pathologists.

Diane graduated from Oklahoma in June and is beginning her graduate work at the University of Indiana. While at Oklahoma, her activities included the Speech and Hearing honorary, scholastic honoraries, and many chapter responsibilities. She financed much of her education as a part-time secretary in the Speech Department yet earned six semesters on the Honor Roll.

Kansas City, Missouri $1000 Award

Another Kappa attended IPMR this past summer for advanced speech therapy study, using the third annual Kansas City award. She was Patricia Alverson, B O-Newcomb. On campus "Pat" was vice-president of her Kappa chapter, vice-president of Newcomb Student Government Council, editor of Newcomber, a member of the Homecoming Court, and an honor student. This year she has a graduate fellowship at Vanderbilt University.

Nancy graduated from Denison University with a high academic record. She was co-president of the Denison student body, a member of Mortar Board, Crossed Keys, and of the Student-Faculty executive council.

The second Dallas fellowship has gone to Jane Eddy Ruck, A^Δ-Monmouth, to continue in guidance and counseling therapy at the University of Wisconsin. Jane has had some teaching experience and has decided to direct her training toward counseling in a diagnostic agency. Her long interest in youth activities is evident in her present community activities and her former campus interests at Monmouth College, where she was president of her Chapter.

George Peabody College in Nashville, Tennessee to continue her preparation to teach the blind. Katherine is an elementary teacher at the Kentucky School for the Blind, and holds a B.A. from the University of Kentucky.

A gift from the Indianapolis Association to the University of Indiana permitted the committee to select a recipient for this special award. Lois Fort, a member of Phi Mu, is studying toward her master's degree in Social Work, and expects to return to the Methodist Hospital as a case worker, thus relating to rehabilitation in both a medical and social way.

Indianapolis, Indiana $325 Award

Mary Ellen Beck, Independent, is returning to the University of Michigan for her junior year as a physical therapy major. Mary Ellen is financing her own education and has still been able to hold a fine, scholastic average.

Rehabilitation Fund $300 Award

Karen Sura, Γ E-Pittsburgh, will complete her senior year in physical therapy with the aid of a scholarship from the general fund, at the D. T. Watson School of Physiatrics, Leetsdale, Pennsylvania. Karen has an exceptional record at the University of Pittsburgh where she served as vice-president and personnel chairman of her Chapter, an officer in her residence hall, and a member of many campus committees. Last year she held the Philadelphia Association award in Rehabilitation for study at the University of Pittsburgh.

Graduate counselor scholarships

"But just what is a graduate counselor and what is her job? She's a recipient of a Fraternity scholarship who does graduate study while living and working with an active chapter. She is an adviser, a part of the chapter, a friend, a link with the rest of the Fraternity; but most important, she is an advocate of the John Dewey philosophy of "learning by doing." She lets the chapter pilot its own ship and set its own course, but she is there when it hits rough waters or when it needs a little wind in its sails. If the chapter can function better without her at the end of the year than they could before and during her stay, then she will feel that she has accomplished her purpose."

Perhaps more than any of the Kappa scholarship programs the Graduate Counselor Scholarships exemplify unusual opportunity. This program is a two-way street with individual Kappas benefitting from scholarship aid at the graduate level plus having the opportunity of counseling and working directly with Kappa actives. The chapters having a graduate counselor benefit from the guidance and knowledge of a more mature Kappa of already proven chapter leadership ability.

Kappas chosen as graduate counselors are those who have held a responsible chapter office and know and understand the Fraternity. In addition they are interested in doing advanced study on a different campus because they are aware of the importance of additional academic work. Great care is taken that the counselor is matched not only to a particular chapter to which she can be of service, but to a school carrying a graduate program which she desires.

Counselors attend an intensive Training School at Fraternity Headquarters under the direction of Fraternity officers which prepares them for the responsibilities to be undertaken. Specifics of chapter organization are thoroughly covered along with Fraternity policies, current campus situations and trends, and the value of membership.

Chapters interested in having a graduate counselor and Kappas wishing to know more about the program should write to the Chairman of Graduate Counselor Scholarships. The scholarship itself covers tuition and fees, while the chapter underwrites the expense of the counselor's room and board. Both new chapters and well-established chapters may take advantage of the program. A counselor will help strengthen chapter organization; she will also bring the stimulation and challenge of new thoughts and ideas to broaden a chapter's outlook.

These are the seven Kappas who are serving as Graduate Counselors this year.

Beth Allen transferred from Lindenwood College in St. Charles, Missouri to Iowa State where she became a member of ΔO . She served as house chairman and was vice-president of the Food and Nutrition club on campus. She was elected to $O N$ and $\Phi T O$, the home economics honoraries. Since her graduation she has been director of the Test Kitchen for Jewel Tea Company in Barrington, Illinois.

Debera Sharpe was public relations and scholarship chairman of ΔT -Georgia, and active marshal of the Mu Province Convention last spring. She was voted the Outstanding Freshman Woman in the School of Journalism, was treasurer of $\Delta \Delta \Delta$, a member of DiGamma Kappa (professional broadcasting), of $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ (journalism) and of $Z \Phi H$ (speech-arts). She was a member of the University of Georgia Varsity Debate team for three years and served as treasurer and secretary of $T K \Delta \Delta \Sigma P$, debate honorary. In addition Debera was a member of the Reader's Theater group, a charter member of the Young Democrats, secretary-treasurer of the Junior Class and worked on the staff of the school paper, Red and Black. She was the Kappa candidate for the University of Georgia Loyalty award presented by the student government.

They are left to right (seated): Beth Allen, ΔO -Iowa State, to $B T$ -Syracuse; Caryl Fernandes, I -DePauw, to ΔN -Massachusetts; Dexter McCoy, $E A$ -Texas Christian, to $B X$ -Kentucky; (standing): Silvia Brown, ΔA -Penn State, to $E I$ colony-Puget Sound; Beth Willinger, K -Hillsdale, to ΔX -San Jose State; Debera Sharpe, ΔT -Georgia, to $E H$ -Auburn; Lynette Mehl, $B \Theta$ -Oklahoma, to ΔO -Iowa State.

Dexter McCoy, graduated with a major in International Affairs and a minor in Russian from Texas Christian. Among her many activities were: TCU Debate team, chairman Forums committee, emphasis committee Disciples Student Fellowship, Howdy Week committee, Honors program, Russian club, Angel Flight, Bryson club, International Friendship club, Student Congress executive committee, Select Series committee, $\Pi \Sigma \Delta$ (political science), $\Pi \chi \Delta$ (forensic). "Deky" was the TCU delegate to the Student Leadership Institute on the United Nations in 1964 and also an official page for the Arkansas delegation to the Republican Convention the same summer. She was a member of the Collegiate Council for the United Nations and the TCU delegate to the U. of Texas Model United Nations and the TCU member of the Regional XII Steering Committee for Student Activities. Last spring she held a paid position at the Student Center Activities Board, the director of the Activities Council.

Sylvia Brown was treasurer, first vice-president and president of $\Delta \Delta$ at Penn State. Most of her campus activities centered around the campus radio station, WDFM, of which she was Continuity Director. She is a member of $\Sigma \tau \Sigma$, English honorary.

She belonged to a number of clubs on campus and was a member of the Leadership Workshop and treasurer of Panhellenic. Two semesters she was on the Dean's List. Since her January, 1965 graduation she taught in the Toledo Public School System and during the past summer was a teacher for Project Head Start in Toledo.

Caryl Lou Fernandes, I-DePauw, was house manager and scholarship chairman of her chapter. She spent much of her extra time working as a AWS Dormitory Counselor for Freshmen and on the Publications Board of SEA.

Lynette Mehl, B Θ -Oklahoma, was first vice-president, membership chairman and librarian for her chapter. She is a member of Oikonomia, O N (home economics honorary) of which she was treasurer and publicity chairman of the local home economics honorary.

Extend the hand of friendship

Fifteen recipients of Kappa Fellowships and Graduate Rehabilitation Scholarships are studying on campuses this year to which they are newcomers. In addition six Foreign Students studying on Kappa Foreign Student Scholarships are at other universities throughout the country.

All these young women would appreciate the warmth of a friendly Kappa welcome from the local alumnæ group or chapter. Young Kappa graduate students would like to be invited to join the alumnæ; non-Kappas might enjoy an invitation to visit an alumnæ meeting or to have dinner with a chapter. Some might well provide the means for an interesting program. Foreign students can make delightful speakers and are happy to tell about their country and their impressions of this one. They welcome the opportunity to visit our homes—it can be lonely so far from one's native home.

Won't you look through the pages of this issue and see if there is someone on your campus who would welcome a friendly call and an invitation to a Kappa gathering? In addition to our Scholarship Aid, let's take time to extend the hand of friendship.

Undergraduate-Emergency scholarships

"Monday night at the Kappa house was extra special for me, because in telling the girls about the scholarship I was able to have them realize just how much Kappa means to me. I hope I can continue to deserve your faith. I do so much appreciate the help you are giving me since tuition has increased for next year. Thank you and your committee for making next year easier for me. I will need to continue part time work, as I have always done, but I enjoy working and meeting new people; and so many opportunities have come my way from these contacts."

"May I extend to you at this time a word of appreciation and gratitude; I am truly honored to have been chosen for this award, and am determined to uphold the standards which it implies both as a student and sister of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity. I hope that I can give to the Fraternity as much it has given to me: values, standards, friendships, and now financial assistance when it was so direly needed. Once again thank you."

The letter (right above) was received at Fraternity Headquarters last summer from a Kappa who had just learned she had been awarded an Undergraduate Scholarship. The letter on the left was from another young Kappa who wrote it along with her acceptance of an undergraduate grant.

Over half of the scholarships awarded annually by the Fraternity are to Kappa undergraduates. Their purpose is to give an assist to those actives experiencing some financial difficulties, thus enabling them to stay in college, complete their education and assume their chapter responsibilities without undue strain.

Undergraduate Scholarship recipients must maintain their required B average and are active, participating chapter members who are also contributing to campus life. Preference is given to juniors and seniors and there must be a stated need for the scholarship.

Emergency Scholarships are just what the name implies and may be applied for at any time during the school year up to April 1. They are designed to offset the unexpected emergencies which may arise at any time in an undergraduate's financial situation. Good grades are a requirement and, again, contribution to chapter and campus are important qualifications.

The Undergraduate Scholarship is for $250 and the Emergency Scholarship varies from small amounts to $200 for a full award. If necessary, scholarship recipients may receive supplemental assistance from a special fund created for this purpose.

How to apply for Kappa Scholarships

Listed below are the names of the Scholarship Chairmen—actives may write to them regarding the scholarship area in which they are interested. Alumnae may also write to them if they wish information regarding the giving of gifts or memorials:

FELLOWSHIPS—Miss Miriam Locke, Box 1484, University, Alabama 35486

FOREIGN STUDY—FOREIGN STUDENT SCHOLARSHIPS—Mrs. George M. Pearce, 15 Bayberry Hill, Avon, Connecticut 06001

GRADUATE COUNSELOR SCHOLARSHIPS—Mrs. Wiles E. Converse, 83 Stoneleigh Court, Rochester, New York 14618

REHABILITATION SERVICES—Mrs. George Seney, 3325 West Bancroft Street, Toledo, Ohio 43606

UNDERGRADUATE AND EMERGENCY SCHOLARSHIPS—Miss Susan Rockwood, 6305 Timothy Lane, Oxford, Ohio.

Applications for the next school year should be completed by March 1, 1966 except the Emergency Scholarships—these are accepted any time during the school year to April 1.

Group giving

A contribution equal to a full scholarship ($200 to $500) is given in the name of the donor or in honor of a person designated by the donor.

Small contributions add to a substantial total. For instance, if 350 alumnae groups gave $10 each, the total would be $3500. Small contributions for scholarships should not be designated to a certain scholarship so that they may be added together for a full one where the need is the greatest.

Memorial Gifts honoring someone who has been active in your Association or Club (usually $5.00 or $10.00) go into the Endowment Fund for Rose McGill recipients.

Magazine subscriptions taken through the Kappa Agency are credited as a contribution to your group and are used to increase the Endowment Fund for Rose McGill recipients.

Make all checks for scholarships payable either to the Students' Aid Fund or the Educational Endowment Fund of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity. Mail to the Fraternity Headquarters stating how the gift is to be used. Checks for Rose McGill Fund recipients should be made payable to the Rose McGill Fund; for the Endowment Fund to the Della Lawrence Burt Memorial Fund.

Individual giving

Many small gifts accumulate into large amounts. For instance, if every member made a $1.00 gift to Kappa philanthropies, the total would be more than $60,000. DON'T WAIT TO MAKE A LARGE GIFT * * * ADD KAPPA TO YOUR ANNUAL GIVING LIST.

Memorials. Give your flowers to the living. Let your flowers bring hope and encouragement to Kappas in need. The Endowment Fund for Rose McGill Fund recipients (The Della Lawrence Burt Fund) is being built by memorial money. How can a friend's memory be better perpetuated?

YOU CAN GIVE NOW AND REDUCE YOUR INCOME TAX

Gifts made to the Students' Aid Fund, the Educational Endowment Fund and Rose McGill Fund in cash or securities are deductible allowances.

By assigning securities to the Fraternity with an agreement that you will be paid the earnings thereon for life—the capital gains would be your yearly contribution and tax would be avoided.

IF YOU CAN'T GIVE NOW, INVEST IN KAPPA'S FUTURE BY:

Making one of Kappa's philanthropic funds a beneficiary of an insurance policy.

Providing for these philanthropies in your will. (Write to the Fraternity Headquarters for information and correct wording when preparing your will. Correct legal terminology is important.)

Rose McGill fund

"Thank you and all my Kappa sisters for the thoughtfulness and love extended to me in so many ways. My life would be desolate without their kindness."

"I hope I can to some extent deserve all the Rose McGill Fund is doing for me. You have no idea how much I appreciate the kindness and love of my Kappa sisters."

"Kappa is indeed a circle of loving hands and hearts and I am deeply grateful for all the help extended to me."

The quotes from three of the many letters received by the Fraternity from members of our Rose McGill Fund "Family," indicate the appreciation for the assistance of the contributors.

For over forty years the Rose McGill Fund has given confidential help to many deserving Kappas of all ages in times of financial distress. Some have required regular monthly aid to help supplement their meager incomes. Others have needed temporary or emergency aid to tide them over difficult times. In administering the affairs of the Fund we endeavor to use our best judgment as well as understanding and compassion. In the end, therefore, we are able to fulfill the purpose and ideals which prompted the Fraternity to establish this unique and benevolent service.

Thus the bond of our Kappa sisterhood reaches out to unite us all in mutual friendship, love and helpfulness. This makes our Rose McGill Fund truly "a circle of loving hands and hearts."

How to apply for Rose McGill fund aid

1. Write directly to the Chairman of the Rose McGill Fund, Mrs. Thomas Harris, 24 Bayview Avenue, Belvedere, Marin County, California.

2. Any member knowing a Kappa who needs aid may write to the Chairman.
3. A member requesting aid who is unable, due to illness, to write directly to the Chairman, may ask an alumna in the area to contact the Chairman in her behalf.
4. Requests for aid must include information concerning the member's: (a) circumstances, (b) the nature of her problem, (c) her chapter and (d) date of initiation.

How you can help

Every time a magazine is ordered through the Kappa Magazine Agency, the Rose McGill Fund Endowment grows. Send all your new subscriptions and renewals to your local magazine chairman or direct to the Director of the Magazine Agency, Mrs. Dean H. Whiteman, 309 North Bemiston Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri 63105.

How you have helped

Since earnings from the Magazine Agency are the main source for increasing the Rose McGill Fund Endowment, your sales of magazines have increased the Endowment by over $5,500 this past year.

A Convention point of view

by CURTIS BUEHLER
Convention Chairman

Because Kappa convention sites are selected many years in advance it is necessary for the Chairman to make an inspection trip to the chosen spot the year before Convention. In bygone years, I visited Bedford Springs, Hotel del Coronado, Grove Park Inn and Sun Valley to make plans for the forthcoming meetings. Nearly always there were some disadvantages from the Convention Committee's point of view—such as, not enough rooms to house all the Kappas, too small a convention hall, too few meeting rooms, too many posts in the dining room, etc., so my visit to Mount Washington at Bretton Woods, New Hampshire last June was a delightful surprise.

Located in the White Mountains of New England, with the highest mountain in the East as a backdrop, the famed resort hotel—Mount Washington—seemed an answer to a Kappa prayer. The huge hotel, nestled at the foot of the mountain is surrounded on two levels with gleaming white verandas offering temptation to relax and just look at the spectacular scenery before venturing further.

Inside, the lobby is wide, long and spacious with an adequate convention hall at one end and a large beautiful dining room at the other. The decor is restful and the comfortable chairs and couches are appealing. In addition, there are many attractive rooms available for large and small Kappa meetings. The bedrooms, in most instances, are large and newly decorated, and there will be room for all under one roof.

The staff is gracious, courteous and anxious to please, and the food is excellent. Since the hotel is only nine minutes from the Atlantic Ocean, delicious fresh seafood—always a delight to those who live inland—can be on the menu as often as the Kappas desire. A famous New England Clam Bake is on the schedule for next June as well as an Antique Tour of the old North Country, and a trip to the Top of Mount Washington on the cog train. There may be snow on the peak and at every turn a glorious view.

There are many sports at Mount Washington—golf on an 18-hole Donald Ross course, a driving range, a putting green, four tennis courts, two beautiful swimming pools, outdoors and indoors with heat controlled, shuffleboard, ping pong, volley ball and horseback riding. Believe it or not, this is all free except the horseback riding, for which a fee of $3.00 per hour is charged. There are 11,000 acres of bridle paths and fascinating trails to be explored by convention visitors.

The pleasant lounge is made for visiting.

The swimming pool seen from the hotel porch.

Tony Bruno and his excellent orchestra will provide a background of music for all occasions. The Hotel will put on a floor show with sparkling Broadway talent, if time can be found on the program. The management will also furnish nightly snacks for those who get hungry at bedtime—all 600 of us.

Do you wonder if I dreamed it? Come next June and see, for if I didn't, the Kappas will have never had it so good.

FUN with a flair

by VIRGINIA PARKER BLANCHARD

Convention committee

A fun filled time awaits all convention-goers next June at the Mount Washington Hotel in Bretton Woods, New Hampshire.

Among the many outstanding events of the Convention Week in Bretton Woods will be a Gala Kappa Show featuring Kappas who are registered at Convention and who have special talents.

A real treat in addition will be entertainment by those unique performers, the "Kappa Pickers" from Delta Chapter at Indiana. Surely you've heard about them! If you haven't, come and find out why they get rave notices. Also, the Mount Washington Hotel has talented performers on its usual program for guests. Among these is an exceptionally fine orchestra with an outstanding master of ceremonies, Mr. John S. Howard, hotel convention manager. This will be a gay time for all. Both actives and alumnae, don't forget to bring your guitar, violin, or whatever may be needed to put you in this star-studded cast.

Lots of singing always brings gaiety to a Kappa Convention. Following the Kappa Pageant, always an interesting feature of the Convention, there will be a Kappa Sing, accompanied by the Hotel orchestra. After both the Gala Kappa Show and the Sing, there will be time for song exchanges, so brush up on your Kappa songs.

There's more, too—a New England Clambake on the Terrace, a reception to meet your Council, the inspiring Candlelight Banquet.

The beautiful White Mountains provide a setting for many scenic trips. One afternoon will be free so that you may take your choice of four trips. A bus tour will go through Franconia Notch and return to the hotel over New Hampshire's newest scenic Kancamagus Highway, the only road that cuts through the White Mountains from west to east. Some busses will take the tour only, while others who wish to do so, will stop for a ride on the Aerial Tramway to see more spectacular views of the White Mountain Range. A tour of antique shops will be another scheduled trip. Arrangements will be made for those interested in ascending Mount Washington via the Cog Railroad. A clear day is a necessity for your enjoyment of this trip, for the summit is often in the clouds. Bring a warm coat, as the temperature can be 80 degrees at the hotel, but 35 degrees on the summit of the mountain—to say nothing of a brisk wind!

Time has been allotted on the program for enjoyment of the hotel's recreational facilities—indoor and outdoor swimming pools, tennis courts, putting green, 18 hole golf course, for which there is no charge, and horseback riding if enough are interested in the latter at $3.00 per hour.

The facilities of the hotel are such that there is ample space in the convention hall and in the meeting rooms so that visitors may attend any parts of the regular program they wish.

Music, Kappa entertainment, trips, leisure time for recreation of your own choice, a spacious hotel in a beautiful setting all will make this a convention not to miss. It will be the highlight of your Kappa experiences.

All transportation, other than by cars, is being arranged and coordinated through the Maritz Travel Company, as it has been for the past two conventions. Additional details will be available at a later date.

Six days— a lifetime friend

by DORIS SEWARD

Δ-Indiana

The sunny terrace, warm under the Texas sun, contrasted with the snowy scenes on several of the Christmas cards the older woman handed to her granddaughter.

"These are from people we may meet at Convention, dear. I've known them for years and really look forward to seeing them again."

"Oh Gram, I'm so excited about going. It's the nicest Christmas present ever—one I'll always remember, I know. Tell me about these friends—were you in school with them?"

"No, these are women I first met years ago at Kappa convention—and actually we never see one another except there, every two years. However, I sometimes feel I know them better than some of my friends here, and we have so much in common—our interests, our Kappa experience, our Fraternity activity. All of us are Convention Habiteers, now."

"Oh, Gram, what is that? Sounds like an addiction!"

"Well, in a way, it is—but a very nice one. Some of us try to go back to each convention, and after you have been to four conventions, at your fifth one you are made a Habiteer. You'll see us this year—with blue ribbons and a silver star for each subsequent convention. Some Habiteers even have a gold star—for their tenth convention. We're a special crew—full of reminiscences and special Kappa memories."

"Gram, this is just the information I need. As pledge trainer I'm to talk to the pledges about convention. Let me get a pencil and paper."

(This dialogue can be adapted to a presentation before Kappa Chapters concerned in promoting interest in Convention.)

"Bring my Kappa folder, too, dear. It's on the shelf at the right of my desk."

While the girl ran off on her errand, the woman reached over for the bright, colored cards. The name on each one recalled a friend whom she had first met through Kappa. "Why do we come back to convention," she mused. "Although we see each other for only six days every two years, we look forward to it during all that time—pick up where we left off—can talk over everything as easily as if we had seen each other every week."

The girl had now returned and, after handing over the folder, sat with pencil poised. As a preliminary, she asked, "Gram, if you are no longer an officer, what do you Habiteers talk about?"

"We have Kappa to talk about," the older woman answered, "its aims, purposes, ideals, accomplishments. And we talk about you. Our interest extends to daughters, granddaughters, whom we have never seen. But, of course, the main purpose of Convention is to take care of Fraternity business. I know there is something here in the folder I have kept about Convention. Yes, here it is. This article was written by a Grand President almost 20 years ago¹ and probably would fit in with your pledge training session. She makes four points about Convention—let me read:

"First, know that the Convention is the governing power of the Fraternity; it ratifies or rejects whatever our elected officers, our chapters, and our province conventions have formulated or tried out during the interval between its sessions; and its decisions are law. Therefore delegates should be well-informed on all subjects that are to come before Convention and realize the importance of their vote."

She then goes on to say this about the delegates:

"Then I should emphasize for all of us, what great expense is involved in bringing together at any one place, more than five hundred people from all over the United States and Canada. Only a large hotel can accommodate us and rates mount higher and higher. To justify the cost we must get all of the inspiration, all the joys of new friendships, all the work and play we can crowd into a few days we spend together."

In my experience delegates have taken their responsibility very seriously and have worked together earnestly and strenuously throughout convention."

"Oh, Gram, I think any General Convention would be the ultimate in the life of a Kappa. Certainly anyone honored by being a delegate would appreciate it. But there would be lots of fun, too." The girl smiled in anticipation.

The grandmother smiled, too, as she added, "The trip to and from the Convention is special fun, but listen to these sentences:

"And on our journey let us not look thoughtlessly from car windows, nor spend all of the time enjoying our travelling companions. Rather let us learn something more of the section of the country through which we travel, its history, its contribution to our great nation, and its part in our concern for the peoples of the world."

Certainly this year we will be in a part of our country rich in history and events important to the beginning of our country. And now here is a last paragraph. I'll let you borrow the article so you may copy it later if you wish.

"And lastly, the more we bring to the Convention of the life and aspiration of our own chapter or association, the more will we have to take back to our home group. Equally true is it, that the more we give of ourselves, the closer we will get to the hearts of our friends—Kappa friends—to be our friends 'our whole life through'."

The girl had listened quietly. She now said, "I know that is true, Gram. Convention is not only an important event in our own personal lives but also in the life of Kappa. I'm going to try to be well prepared in going and I'm going to read some history, too."

As the girl took the folder and wandered off, her grandmother had one last thought about the benefit of being a Habiteer. Each year she and her friends regained faith and assurance from the fine young women who would be carrying forth the everlasting values of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

A gift for Dr. Oh

When Dr. Chung-Hi Oh was studying on a Kappa Fellowship, one of the eminent people who mapped out her program was Professor Eugene Taylor, associate professor, New York University-Bellevue Medical Center, and also an associate of Dr. Howard Rusk. Ever since her return to Korea, Dr. Oh has hoped to acquire her own equipment, in order to serve patients in her own offices. The goal still seemed far off. Then, a few months ago Professor Taylor in a conversation with Dr. Bruce Gruynbaum, associate professor in Physical Medicine, New York University-Bellevue Medical Center, mentioned Chung-Hi's need. Said Dr. Gruynbaum: "I will give Chung-Hi all the equipment left to me by my late father." So that is how it happens that the American-Korean Foundation has shipped complete rehabilitation equipment to Korea, for Chung-Hi's new offices. With Chung-Hi we say a heartfelt thank-you to Dr. Gruynbaum for his generosity, and to Professor Taylor for remembering a valiant little doctor in faroff Korea.

After convention see Northern Europe and Amsterdam too!

by JANE POLLARD GOULD
Convention transportation chairman

Picture yourself on a thrilling holiday in unspoiled Norway, Denmark and Sweden, and Amsterdam, too, with congenial Kappas, their families and friends. These fascinating countries offer the very old and the very new in art and architecture, outstanding museums, unbelievably beautiful and unspoiled scenery, marvelous cuisine, and shops that offer magnificent and unusual merchandise attractively priced.

Following the biennial Convention in Bretton Woods, New Hampshire on June 29, 1966, Kappa travelers will fly from Boston to Amsterdam—the city of canals and bicycles and one of the really great centers of the world of art. Of all the cities in Europe, none remains more resolutely European than Amsterdam.

Eighty minutes by air from Amsterdam is Denmark's 900 year old capital, Copenhagen, irresistible and charming. In the center of the city, the famous Tivoli Gardens are a center for concerts, open-air theaters, variety shows, unusual pantomime, first rate ballet, amusements, sidewalk cafes, 23 restaurants and tremendous fireworks and 10 orchestras every night. Its happy, gay, atmosphere is a symbol of the city and perhaps of all of Denmark.

Denmark is called a little giant among nations. It is the link between Northern and Continental Europe—truly a Fairytale Land. It is that lovely world of little white houses with storks nestling on chimney tops, geese waddling up narrow cobblestone streets between tiny thatched roof cottages and copper spires of moated castles gleaming in the distance—Hans Christian Andersen country!

Stockholm, the 700 year old capital of Sweden, is universally known and loved as one of the most appealing and beautiful cities in the world. It is built on a dozen islands washed by the Baltic Sea and Lake Malaren. Its National Museum is one of Hamlet's Castle Kronborg at Elsinore, immortalized by Shakespeare.

Europe's most important galleries. Its theaters, opera houses, concert halls and City Hall are works of art.

The Folklore Tour of Sweden will give an intimate view of her historic past and customs. Boat rides on Sweden's glittering lakes and canals, including the famous Gota Canal, will be a delight to everyone. There will be visits to fine restaurants, open-air museums and parks and to moated castles and palaces as well as beautiful drives through quaint villages and the lovely countryside.

The most exciting country to be visited will be Norway with its rugged, vast and dramatic scenery. Roads and railways scale the mountains and glaciers, dip into the valleys, skirt the lakes and plunge through deep forests, but the most breathtaking, the most exciting trip will be by coastal steamer into the narrow fingers of the fjords, sometimes lined on both sides with sheer rock cliffs 2000 feet high. Visits to Norway's capital Oslo, the captivating town of Bergen and numerous picturesque villages, resort towns and ski areas will also be included in the tour.

Everything on Kappa's 25 day tour is planned for the pleasure, the comfort and the entertainment of its members. An experienced tour conductor and an official Kappa representative will accompany the group.

The price, $1350, includes all transportation, all tips, sightseeing and transfers and all meals many of which will be at world renowned restaurants and quaint out of the way places. The hotels used are first class and the best in Scandinavia. There will be no hidden expenses of any kind.

Further European travel, for those who want it, can be arranged. Though the trip is planned for round trip air travel, anyone may return by ship if she so wishes.

Canadian Post-Convention trip includes Quebec and Montreal

by MARIE BRYDEN MACNAUGHTAN
Convention transportation committee

We regret to say that the Saguenay River trips recently have been discontinued, therefore, the French Canadian Kappa Post-Convention trip will not include the boat trip as previously announced.

At the close of Convention on June 29, a five day Canadian Post-Convention tour is planned to leave Bretton Woods, by modern air-conditioned buses for the cities of Quebec and Montreal. The drive will be through scenic northern New Hampshire and the southern country of the Province of Quebec. In this area will be found the customs and language of Bourbon France.

There is no more interesting and unique part of North America than this French territory with its historic background, quaint villages, picturesque waterways and the Laurentian mountains.

Crossing the broad St. Lawrence River, into the City of Quebec, founded in 1608, the majestic and famed Chateau Frontenac Hotel is seen high on Cape Diamond. This will be the tour's hotel for a stop of two days and three nights. Sightseeing is planned to all the important and historic sites in the walled city. This includes the "Changing of the Guard" at the Citadel where troops have been garrisoned continuously since the days of the French regime.

Plenty of leisure time will be given to become acquainted with the shops which are intriguing with their china, silver, woolens and handicrafts. A ride in a caleche through the narrow streets is fascinating as is also a walk along the mile-long Duffrein Terrace watching the seagoing ships. For those who desire, a three and a half hour trip to the Shrine of Miracles at Sainte Anne de Beaupré can be planned.

On the morning of the fourth day the group will leave for Montreal, the largest city in Canada. After a ride along the northern shores of the St. Lawrence River, the tour will arrive in the early afternoon at their headquarters, the new Queen Elizabeth Hotel. That evening a sky-top buffet is arranged in the hotel's Panorama Room with its glorious view of the city.

A sightseeing trip the following morning to many interesting points will include a horse-drawn Tally-Ho ride up Mt. Royal where motor cars are not allowed. McGill University where Delta Delta Chapter, one of Kappa's four Canadian chapters is located, and the University of Montreal will be seen en route.

The tour will close in the afternoon of this day and plans can be made to leave Montreal for destinations west, south and east.

This is the third post convention tour your Fraternity has planned to French Canada and, as usual, the group will be Kappa escorted.

Come join the Kappas on this trip for a most enjoyable experience.

Dedicated to service and achievement

The institution now known as the University of Kentucky came into existence February 22, 1865, when the General Assembly chartered the Agricultural and Mechanical College and made it a part of the older Kentucky University, now Transylvania College. The legislative action was taken in order that Kentucky might take advantage of the Morrill Act, under which the state could acquire 330,000 acres of public lands. Thirteen years later, the Legislature repealed that part of the charter making the A. and M. College a part of Kentucky University, and established an independent Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky whose full support was to come from the state.

To provide a separate campus for the new institution, the city of Lexington donated its 52-acre fairground which, during the Civil War, had been utilized as a bivouac area for Union troops. Lexington and Fayette County contributed $60,000 for the construction of buildings, and President James K. Patterson used his personal savings to supplement the building fund.

In 1880 three new buildings—"Old Main," now the Administration Building; a men's dormitory, and a home for the president—began rising on the old fairground site. All are still in use. The dormitory, now known as White Hall, houses administrative offices, and the former president's home is headquarters for the dean of arts and sciences.

With establishment in 1889 of an agricultural experiment station, the A. and M. College experienced its first major expansion. The college of that year included agriculture, civil engineering, classical, scientific and normal departments. Two years later, a department of mechanical engineering was established, and courses in mining engineering were added in 1901.

The name of the still-small institution was changed in 1908 to State University, and a College of Law was established the same year. The department of agriculture became a College of Agriculture, the three departments of engineering became known as schools of engineering, and the classical, scientific and normal departments were consolidated into a single College of Arts and Sciences. In 1916 the school was given its present name, University of Kentucky, and a year later, with the beginning of the administration of Frank L. McVey, there began a transformation that was to lead to its current academic arrangement.

The three schools of engineering were merged in 1918 to form the present College of Engineering, a College of Education came into existence in 1923, and a College of Commerce two years later. The Graduate School, founded in 1912, was put under the direction of a full-time dean in 1924. The University's seventh college, pharmacy, came into being in 1947 when the long-established Louisville College of Pharmacy was merged with UK. In 1954 the Medical Center was authorized to include Colleges of Medicine, Nursing and Dentistry. They, along with the 500-bed University Hospital,

Through the generosity of the late Mrs. Pansy Yount, her home—Spindletop estate—now belongs to the University. It is used as a faculty-alumni country club.

The President says:

As president of the University of Kentucky I am pleased that our campus and Beta Chi Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma have been selected for special recognition in this issue of THE KEY. The University is proud to have this Chapter on our campus. During the 55 years it has been here its members have assumed roles of leadership in campus activities and many of its alumnae have brought recognition to the University and to Kappa Kappa Gamma through the contributions which they have made— notable among these are Sarah Gibson Blanding, President Emeritus of Vassar College; Nancy Duke Lewis (deceased), Dean of Pembroke College and Director of the National Merit Scholarship Program; and Mary E. Sweeney, noted Home Economist and former Executive Director of the American Home Economics Association. I mention these three, in particular, because the University honored them recently as three of the seven women receiving Distinguished Alumni Centennial Awards.

As we all know, the fraternity-sorority concept is being questioned at colleges and universities throughout the United States. Basically, the question is, can fraternities and sororities contribute meaningfully to the goals and objectives of higher education in this dynamic, rapidly changing society of our times? To me, it is clear that unless they materially and vitally add to an individual's total growth in accord with the university's purposes and aspirations, they will not survive because the college student of tomorrow will not be interested. On our campus these groups have been engaged in valuation and re-appraisal in order that they may increasingly, not only align themselves with the academic goals of the University, but assist their individual members in achieving total self-realization within the academic milieu.

As a fraternity man who felt his fraternity was an indivisible part of the total campus, I, personally, feel that fraternities and sororities can be an important aspect of the total University. If they continue to strive for academic attainment, if they seek ways and means to help the University achieve its purposes, and if they will help the individual member "find himself" in these days of larger and larger institutions, their prospects have never been brighter, and they will continue to be an integral and important part of the academic world. We have confidence that Kappa Kappa Gamma will play exactly this role at Kentucky.

comprise the Albert B. Chandler Medical Center, which was constructed at a cost of $27 million. A School of Architecture was established in 1964.

Since 1878, when the Agricultural and Mechanical College was separated from Kentucky University, the institution has had six Presidents—James K. Patterson, 1878-1910; Henry S. Barker, 1910-17; Frank L. McVey, 1917-40; Herman Lee Donovan, 1941-56; Frank G. Dickey, 1956-63, and John W. Oswald, 1963-.

Since its founding in 1865, the University has awarded degrees to about 42,000 students. From an enrollment of 190 in 1866, the student population climbed to 14,360 in the fall of 1964. Besides giving instruction to students from every county in Kentucky, from all 50 states and from over 40 foreign countries, the University contributes to the welfare of Kentucky and the nation through research, experimentation and public service.

The University is a small city in itself, having its own post office, bookstore, radio station, newspaper, printing plant, cafeterias, theaters, police force and hospital. The University community numbers about 18,000 faculty, staff members and students. There

The Dean of Women says:

Kappa Kappa Gamma is a welcome asset at the University of Kentucky. It joins with thirteen other sororities in promoting and nurturing high standards of scholastic endeavor. Its cultural programs are a special enhancement of the educational experience available to all students. Its social program adds memorable enjoyment to life at college. However its contribution in the area of personal standards is especially appreciated on the campus today. Sororities can set goals and seek ideals in a voluntary membership that an institution, particularly a public one, cannot often legally require of all students. Not all students on a campus accept or adhere to the highest standards of behavior, and many institutions give main emphasis to scholastic indices, without value judgments on behavior, belief, attitude or moral standards, as long as the variety of behavior remains within the boundaries of law and common decency. A sorority can and does expect far more of its members, both in selecting its members and in retaining its members. This means that students in sororities have additional responsibilities which they accept in membership. These responsibilities in general are commendable and the University appreciates and applauds the additional aspirations involved in sorority membership. Our campus communities are often better places because of the influence for good which sororities are pledged to have on their members and because of the additional beneficial experiences they add to college life.

The past of Beta Chi

by RIDGELY PARK

B X-Kentucky

In 1910 the enrollment at the University of Kentucky was reported to total 566 men and women. Among the female contingent there had existed for some time a local club, Chi Epsilon Chi. Its members had sought national affiliation and were granted a charter as Beta Chi Chapter by the 1910 Fraternity Convention of Kappa Kappa Gamma. The Chapter was formally installed in February of that year (the date variously reported as the 10th—page 425, History of Kappa Kappa Gamma, the 12th—page 426, ibid, or the 13th—viz Beta Chi Chapter minutes). Kappa represented the third national sorority on the campus, preceded only by Alpha Gamma Delta and Alpha Xi Delta.

Installation took place at the first chapter house, located on Limestone opposite Patterson Hall. Edith Stoner, the Grand President, was installing officer, assisted by members of Delta Chapter, Indiana University. Seven of the Chi Epsilon Chi girls became charter members: Mary McEachin Rodes (Leaphart), Sara McEachin Carter, Mattie Virginia Cary (McCauley), Aubyn Chinn (Watson), Sarah Rossetter Marshall (Wertenbaker), Mary Barrett Smith (Ratliff), and Alice Cary Williams. In the next several years, many Chi Epsilon Chi members returned to school and took enough work to be initiated.

Dues in 1910 were 50¢ a month and Kappa chapters throughout the country were each allowed to have 30 members, including pledges. Beta Chi initiated 28 girls that year to get off to a bang up start. Records show that the first few years of the chapter's life were filled with problems such as housing, frequent initiations, and multiple campus activities. That very first year the group, somewhat pressed by finances, moved to Patterson Hall where they maintained a room. By 1911, however, the Chapter was able to move back into its house as the financial difficulties had been ironed out and the exorbitant monthly rent of $15.00 had been reduced to $12.00. In the summer of 1913 the girls took steps to remedy the ailing treasury and the Phi Delta Thetas and Sigma Nus were invited to store their furniture in the Kappa house for a small fee—$12.00 to be exact.

Dues were gradually raised and by 1915 were $1.25 a month. Rushing had become increasingly interesting for by now Kappa Delta and Chi Omega were also established. Rushees were presented copies of rush rules for the first time that year as Panhellenic made an effort to correct the laxness with which regulations were being observed. Popular social events during this period were the monthly open house for all men's fraternities and the Wednesday afternoon "At Homes" for faculty and friends. The Chapter was as peripatetic as ever and held their meetings and parties at some four different addresses during these years, including President Barker's study.

Even before World War I, Beta Chi Chapter was doing charity and relief work. In 1916 it was customary for the girls to do a certain amount of settlement work each week, and at Christmas time they busily filled stockings to be sent to a mountain school. The girls also assumed the obligation of dressing and educating a young Kentucky mountain girl. Later a French war orphan was supported by the Chapter. By 1917 and America's entry into the war, chapter members were occupied with knitting socks and sweaters, purchasing Liberty Bonds, and contributing to the Belgian Relief Fund. By now the Chapter had established the practice of meeting in the homes of local members and this practice continued during the war. In 1918 the influenza epidemic struck and school was closed down from October to January. During the war, expansion of national sororities all over the country stopped and not until the twenties did colonization begin again at UK. Tri Delt, Delta Zeta, and ZTA all came to the campus during that decade. This was a particularly fruitful period for Beta Chi. For the first time the Chapter occupied a house in which the members could reside as well as meet. In 1920, graduating senior Fan Ratliff (Mathews) organized the Lexington alumnae and the group was granted recognition from the Fraternity. The year 1922 was a newsworthy one for the fact that undergraduate member Sarah Gibson Blanding was unanimously elected to play Santa Claus at the Christmas party. Another item from the minutes of 1925—December 16:

Schoolmates Park and Blanding are reunited at the Beta Chi reception last spring for Sarah Blanding when she was cited as one of the University's outstanding alumni. Mrs. Park and Miss Blanding are joined by incoming chapter president, Linda Lampe (left), and outgoing active president, Beth Roper.

"Mrs. Frank has requested that we do not Charleston at the tea dance." Memorable during the early part of this era had been the spirited rivalry of the inter-sorority basketball tournament. So fervently did Beta Chi members throw themselves into one game with the Chi Omegas that a melee developed and the annual tourney had to be abandoned. Kappas were emphasizing high scholarship and campus participation; a number of members were selected for both Mortar Board and the newly organized chapter of Φ B K and the first sorority woman to be elected president of the Women's Student Government Association of Kentucky's campus was a Kappa, Eugenia Harrington (Green).

With the 1930s and the nation's economic crisis, sorority expansion halted at U.K. But Beta Chi weathered the depression in stalwart fashion and managed to establish themselves in a new home at 179 East Maxwell. As closely as can be estimated in the 56 years since its founding Beta Chi Chapter has owned, occupied, or met in 26 different sites in Lexington. The fondly remembered "little white house" on Maxwell represented one of its longest tenancies. As always the Chapter aimed for a balance of assets, but many alumnæ will remember this era of the 1930's as a high point for the bridge of beauty queens Beta Chi had given to the campus from the 1920's through the 1940's.

The first half of the 1940's saw campus life drastically altered by the Second World War. With civilian men accounting for less than 10% of the University's enrollment, the fraternity houses were vacated. Kappa was much in the community spotlight with the contribution of its iron grill fence to the wartime scrap metal drive. Inevitably, Beta Chi sold its house on Maxwell . . . and rented the Delta Tau Delta fraternity house on Audubon Park. Since at that time this address was some distance from the main campus, and since gasoline rationing put a real limitation on the amount of student driving possible, transportation to and from school became a real challenge and the sight of a half dozen Kappas "thumbing" their way out Nicholasville Pike was not at all unusual. Wartime activities included a great deal of volunteer work with many of the chapter members serving as nurse's aides or assisting the Red Cross. With the war's end and the veterans' return to campus, the chapter purchased a house at 232 East Maxwell Street which was to serve as its headquarters for the next ten years.

The University reflected the nationwide pattern of growth and expansion during this period. The sorority quotas were raised progressively from 65 to the present total membership of 90 in an effort to accommodate the increased enrollment. New national sororities were welcomed to the campus during this period including Kappa Alpha Theta, Pi Beta Phi, and Delta Gamma. In the 1950's plans were developed for Beta Chi to build—at long last—a chapter house of its own. Though lots were purchased and blueprints drawn up, complications arose and a decision was made to dispose of the lots and buy the house at 238 East Maxwell from the next door neighbors, Alpha Gamma Delta, with the prospect of extensive remodeling. During the time alterations were taking place the Chapter occupied a residence on campus known as the Lydia Brown House. By the Fall of 1960 renovation was complete and the Chapter settled in its present home. Since then two more NPC groups have joined the campus, Alpha Chi Omega and Gamma Phi Beta, the latter now occupying "the house next door" which had been Beta Chi's for a decade.

This year finds the alumnæ, under the able guidance of President Nancybelle Moss Rose, working to strengthen their relationships with the active chapter. High honor was paid during the school year to Elizabeth Kimbrough Park when she was selected by a joint active-alumnæ committee to be honored on U.K. Alumni Day as a Beta Chi member who has made an outstanding contribution over the years.

Much has changed at the University. Gone with the Canary Cottage are the formal cotillions, the fraternity serenades, the Kentucky River camps, and the May Day parade. But for Kappa at U.K. tradition still keeps a healthy pace with progress as Beta Chi looks ahead to her silver anniversary.

Beauty and ability in alumnae

by VIRGINIA BOYD COX

B X-Kentucky

Four of the five University of Kentucky coeds to win the highest tribute to beauty in the commonwealth—Queen of the Mountain Laurel Festival—have been members of Beta Chi Chapter. Three of the first four women named recently to the University of Kentucky Alumni Hall of Fame were once Beta Chi actives. So, you see, in both beauty and brains categories, Beta Chi has been right there. Right on down through the history of the chapter, Beta Chi has had more than her share of crown wearers and mace bearers.

Our Mountain Laurel queens are Virginia Smith (Considine), 1940; Lyde Gooding, (Turley), 1948; Belle Booker Andrews (Wilson), 1956; June Moore (Parrish), 1962. Other Kappas who have represented the University of Kentucky in the Festival since it was instituted in 1931 are Mary King Montgomery (Kouns), 1933, and Mary Hawkins Dantzler (Skinner), 1934.

The Kentuckian (yearbook) each year selects a court of beauties. Kappas who have achieved that honor are too numerous to name.

We are very proud of our Alumni Hall of Fame women.

Sarah Gibson Blanding, president of B X in her senior year, was awarded the bachelor of arts degree from the University of Kentucky in 1923. Columbia University awarded her the master of arts degree in 1926. She was a student in the London School of Economics and served the University of Kentucky as assistant professor of physical education, assistant professor of political science and dean of women from 1926 to 1941. She then accepted the position of director and dean of the New York State College of Home Economics, Cornell University, in which capacity she served from 1941 to 1946. She was appointed president of Vassar College in 1946 and filled that position until her retirement in 1964. The University of Kentucky awarded her the honorary doctor of laws degree in 1946.

Nancy Duke Lewis, now deceased, was awarded the bachelor of arts degree in 1932 and the master of arts degree in 1933, both in mathematics, from the University of Kentucky. She worked her way up through the teaching field to become dean of Pembroke College of Brown University and director of the National Merit Scholarship Program. She was the first woman to receive a grant from the Carnegie Institute for the study of the administration of higher education. She was a member of Φ B K.

Mary Sweeny, the grand dame of Beta Chi, lives with her sister, Sunshine Sweeny, also a Kappa, on a farm at Pine Grove, Kentucky. "Miss Mary" is one of our chapter's founders and was presented her 50-year pin at the Chapter's golden anniversary celebration. She was graduated from Transylvania College in 1899 and received her master's degree from the University of Kentucky in 1906, and her master of arts degree from Columbia University in 1912. She is the founder of the University of Kentucky School of Home Economics and is internationally known in the field of dietetics. She was associated with the Merrill Palmer Institute in Detroit, as associate director until 1945. In 1946 and 1947 she was sent by the U. S. Department of State to India to do research on home and family life. Later she was sent by the United States government to China to do research on child welfare. Miss Sweeny has served as vice-president of the American Biochemical Society and president of the American Home Economics Association. She is the author of the scholarly work, "Growth and Development of the Young Child," among other publications.

Beta Chi has contributed two of its alumnae to the Fraternity Council. Mary Rodes Leaphart, now of Missoula, Montana, served as Grand Registrar in the early 20's and Elizabeth Kimbrough Park of Lexington was Fraternity Vice-President in 1940, after having served as chairman of Undergraduate Scholarships in 1936 and 1937.

Curtis Buehler, a successful insurance woman in Lexington, is current Convention chairman and Ridgley Park, has just retired as Undergraduate Scholarship chairman.

Fan Ratliff Mathews, past B X president, adviser, and Lexington Alumnae Association president, served also as Province President and edited an etiquette book once distributed by the Fraternity to all chapters.

Two Beta Chi alumnae have worked at Fraternity headquarters. Rebecca Van Meter and Dorothy Clements (Smith) and June Moore Parrish, new Alpha Province Director of Chapters, travelled as a Field Secretary.

As Beta Chi goes forward into its second half-century of existence, the alumnae shall strive to contribute more and more to the glorious tradition of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

The today of Beta Chi

Beta Chi Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma at the University of Kentucky, is now in its second successful year of it's newly initiated cultural program. This year's cultural program was launched by a film about the Indonesian culture given by two Indonesian exchange students now attending the University. Other programs have included a folk singing group and a film tour of Europe presented by the Osborne Tour. At another Beta Chi cultural program Dean Seward, Kappa alumna and our own Dean of Women, gave her speech on Sex on the College Campus which was so well received at the Fraternity Convention last summer. Other fraternities and sororities have joined the Chapter's lead and have started their own exchange cultural programs. The Tri Delts came to the Kappa house for a book review and the Sigma Chi's joined the Kappas for a political debate shortly before the presidential election.

Eugenia Herrington Green, B X alumna, enabled the actives and pledges to go on the "Blue Grass Tour," to the historic and cultural

At the Monmouth Duo

Beta Chi was presented to a very deserving unaffiliated woman at the "Stars in the Night" program honoring exceptional university women.

This year the Kappas in conjunction with the Kentucky Chapter of Pi Beta Phi gave their first Monmouth Scholarship. Based on scholarship, leadership, and need, the scholarship was given in lieu of having a homecoming display. The recipient of the scholarship was announced at the half time ceremonies of the Homecoming game.

Since this is the University of Kentucky's "Centennial Year," many outstanding UK alumnae were recognized. Among the most prominent was Beta Chi's own Sarah Blanding, retired president of Vassar College. At a tea honoring Miss Blanding actives and alumnae were inspired and delighted by Miss Blanding's warmth and charm.

On the campus Beta Chi's activities rank high, as was evident at the annual "Stars in the Night" program sponsored by the Associated Women Students organization at UK. President Linda Lampe was elected to the post of Senior Senator and Courtney Helm and Ann Breeding are treasurer and secretary of the AWS Senate. Academically, Kappas scored high when several Beta Chi's were tapped for membership in the scholarship-leadership honoraries, $\Lambda \Delta \Delta$, Cwens , Links , and Mortar Board . The new president of Links is Nancy Fitch, who was also honored by the Alpha Gamma Delta 's award for the "Outstanding Sophomore Woman of the Year." In addition, Beta Chi's Mortar Board tappee, Elaine Evans, was elected vice-president of the honorary. Elaine is the chapter second vice-president. Beta Chis are proud of their representation in professional honoraries, $\text{X} \Delta \Phi$, $\text{H} \Sigma \Phi$, $\text{K} \Delta \Pi$, and $\Sigma \Delta \Pi$.

Many are members and officers of Student Congress and a Kappa is also secretary of the Senior Class. Beta Chis are also active in interest groups such as $\text{T} \Sigma$ (dance honorary); Blue Marlins (ballet swimming); Y.W.C.A. ; and Young Republicans and Young Democrats .

Not only are Kappas interested in leadership roles, but are also especially concerned with the welfare of new students. Beta Chi's have been selected as Freshman Advisers , Freshman Guides , $\text{Freshman Camp Counselors}$, and Rush Counselors . There are Beta Chi members on the $\text{Women's Advisory Board}$ and $\text{Women's Residence Hall Council}$.

In the past Beta Chis have enthusiastically supported special events at the University of Kentucky such as the $\text{Little Kentucky Derby weekend}$, with many Kappa members on the steering and sub committees; $\text{Greek week steering committees}$; $\text{Freshman Leadership Conference}$; and participation in the $\text{Yell for Spirit Contest}$.

In the realm of beauty, Beta Chis have been honored by membership in Pershing Rifles ; Army ROTC sponsor ; Kappa Alpha Rose and Province Rose ; $\text{Little Kentucky Derby Queen}$; $\text{Miss Kentucky Engineer}$ and $\text{Sigma Chi Derby Queen}$. Beta Chis have also had in the past year $\text{Sweethearts of Phi Delta Theta}$, Sigma Chi , Lambda Chi Alpha , and Kappa Alpha Order . A Beta Chi has also been tapped to $\text{Scabbard and Blade}$. In addition, during the past two years, Beta Chi has received six trophies for intramural sports.

During the current school year, Linda Lampe was co-chairman of the $\text{Alumnae Honor Day program}$, with several of her sister Kappas serving on the committees. There are also Beta Chi members on the steering committee for the $\text{Southeastern Panhellenic Conference}$ for which U.K. will be the hostess school, and Kappas will be serving on $\text{President Oswald's Centennial Committee}$ in honor of the University's one hundredth year.

Enthusiasm is particularly great within the Chapter this year. In addition to the election of welcoming a grand new pledge class, the Chapter takes great pride in the honors received at the $\text{Mu Province convention in Athens, Georgia}$; the runner-up award for greatest scholarship improvement and runner-up for chapter excellence.

EI to be installed in February

The following account of the colonization for Epsilon Iota Chapter to be installed at the University of Puget Sound in February, 1966, as told in The Kappa Kolumns of Beta Pi Chapter, sponsoring chapter for the new group.

The charter members of Epsilon Iota Colony of Kappa Kappa Gamma come from home towns as far north as Alaska and as far south as California. Just as diversified are their high school achievements, which range from a four-point honor student to a calendar girl. The Kappas could not have found 24 better nuggets!

As usual, rush at the University of Puget Sound began with a traditional four hours of hectic tours. But the rushees did seem to enjoy our "relaxed and spontaneous" parties. If they only knew how spontaneous they really were—we all arrived a half hour before rush began!

The following two days of rush were labelled "fun parties"—and they were! Ingrid Lundgren Nelson, Γ M-Oregon State, Tacoma Association President, exemplified the enthusiasm of all the alumnæ with her "Roaring Twenties" skit. Another alumna, Mary Jane "Squeak" Headley Allen, B II-Washington, put her whole heart into Kappas as a Twenties co-ed flapper. In the same skit Jayne Seastrom, B II-Washington, as the modern college co-ed, almost had a scandalous mishap when her bathing suit popped during her last performance. The excitement that the alumnæ generated during this party was carried on throughout the remainder of rush.

Tuesday morning introduced a more serious atmosphere. Sally Rivenes Iasaken, B II-Washington, a young Tacoma alumna, presented a sketch of the outstanding accomplishments of the already existing Kappa chapters in the State of Washington. Her sincere and warm approach "snowed" not only the rushees, but also the actives and alumnæ.

The third party, put on by the Beta Pi actives, was "Alice in Wonderland." This was a first for this particular party, and each performance differed from the last. Key cookies, made by another of our great alumnæ, added to our "very merry unbirthday" party.

Our preference party was held at the beautiful home of Florence Mackey Baker, B II-Washington. This last day of rush found everyone sentimental and very attached to all the rushees. Of course, tears were shed by rushees and rushers alike.

The conversation during rush week was not only relaxed but also open, in that the actives were able to discuss colonization, the responsibilities as well as the rewarding experiences gained by founding a colony. Through the presence of Mrs. Barbeck, Fraternity Vice-President, and Mrs. Wagner, Fraternity Director of Membership, we, the active members of Beta Pi, saw Kappa in its national perspective; we saw the magnitude, power, and unity of Kappa Kappa Gamma. We were so proud of these two women with whom we felt at home after knowing them for only a few short days.

The girls from our chapter who had the opportunity to help colonize at U.P.S. gained so much from this experience. The president of the University, Dr. R. Franklin Thompson, treated us royally, and we will always remember our wonderful national officers, alumnæ, and the pioneering spirit of our terrific 24 colonizers.

are 77 major buildings on the 706-acre main campus at Lexington. Some 19,000 acres are held in experimental farm and forest acreage. There also are two-year community colleges at Covington, Ashland, Fort Knox, Cumberland, Henderson, Elizabethtown and Prestonsburg, Hopkinsville and Somerset.

Total fixed assets of the University are estimated at $101,314,800. Now under construction are new buildings for the College of Law and the College of Engineering. A $16 million dormitory complex is in the planning stage.

Almost a century ago the miracle of public higher education was mainly a dream. Among the eloquent spokesmen of that dream was John B. Bowman, first regent of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky University, who said in 1865:

"I want to build up a people's institution, a great free university, eventually open and accessible to the poorest boy in the land, who may come and receive an education practical and suitable for any business or profession in life. I want to cheapen this whole matter of education, so that, under the broad and expansive influences of our republican institutions, and our advancing civilization, it may run free, as our great rivers, and bless the coming millions.

"Hitherto, our colleges and universities have been accessible only to the few, such are the expenses attending them. We, therefore, want a university with all the colleges attached, giving education of the highest order to all classes. We want ample grounds and buildings and libraries, and apparatus and museums and endowments, and prize funds, and professors of great heads and hearts, men of faith and energy. Indeed we want everything which will make this institution eventually equal to any on this continent. Why should we not have them? I think we can."

Bowman's statement was made in the year Kentucky's state university came into being as a land-grant institution. Through the intervening years his dream has come ever closer to fulfillment and, as President Oswald declared in announcing plans for the centennial observance, "I am confident that the University of Kentucky will observe the close of its first 100 years with new dedication and resolve for greater achievement and service in its second century."

“Myth or Reality?”

by CATHERINE ALT SCHULTZ

Scholarship chairman

Chapter Scholarship . . . is this an entity, a measurable quality or is it a catch-all phrase, a mere composite of individual scores completely at the whim of curves, accident or personality?

What is the difference between a chapter consistently at the top of the campus ratings and the chapter farther down the scale? A survey of the individual scores making up a chapter average shows that every chapter has a few outstanding scholars heading the list and a few stragglers bringing up the rear. In between are solid ranks of good to average scholars. The campus position usually depends upon the relative number at the top or bottom of the list.

Therefore, any effort that is made to improve scholarship must be directed toward the individual. Individual goals must be set, realistic, but offering a challenge. The student who reaches or surpasses this self set goal is as entitled to honor as the rare girl who easily and always is at the top.

No two persons have the same natural ability nor identical motivation. Time spent in preparation or study can vary greatly between individuals to achieve the same degree of readiness. Courses vary in both degree of difficulty and the amount of time demanded. Interest and natural flair for certain subjects also differ in individual students. The wise chapter recognizes these differences and encourages development of each member to her own highest potential.

But if there is no such thing as “chapter scholarship” how is it then that certain chapters achieve top status year after year? How do these chapters differ from the one poorly oriented toward scholarship?

For one thing they develop a chapter program that appeals to the more intellectual girl going through membership selection. They start with fine material.

Then they create an attitude within the chapter or house that scholarship is the most important area of concern. This can be sensed by even the casual visitor. Conversations are interesting and often revolve around studies, interpretations and ideas. Faculty and distinguished members of the community are frequent guests at dinner and members relish the stimulating glimpse into new fields or the satisfying discussion of ideas and events. A library affords fine reference material as well as current literature and periodicals. Fine records are heard on the HiFi. Quiet hours are observed and special places set aside for those demanding uninterrupted quiet. Study tables are available and a graduated scale of attendance demanded of those whose personal motivation may not be as high as others.

So, hand in hand, the fine student and the fine chapter work together in mutual helpfulness. Each achieves a full realization of potential. Nothing less than this is acceptable to Kappa standards for we know that never before in history have Kappa members been participants in a more meaningful educational experience.

TRIPLE TRIUMPH . . . Kappas took home all three trophies awarded at the annual Mortar Board "Smarty Party" on the University of Oklahoma campus last spring. The members of B Θ were honored for the highest sorority grade average, the highest pledge class average, and the most improvement in scholarship. Glowing over the trophies are Jane England, chapter president; Catherine Callahan, Mortar Board president; Katharine McGraw, A Δ Δ president; and Sherri Pierce, chapter scholarship chairman. The winter issue of The Key congratulates B Θ and all other Kappa chapters whose primary goal is a continuous effort to improve their scholarship.

Kappas

ABROAD

Word has come of many Kappas who are either studying abroad or have recently returned from classes on foreign campuses. The Editor hopes this column may become a regular exchange of information and thoughts about the differences in the American and foreign campus. She asks that THE KEY be kept informed of the names and addresses of members "abroad" so that this column may serve also as an address book for the actives on foreign soil. If friendships are fostered with Kappas found during your study months write THE KEY.

Madrid, Spain is a popular spot for Kappas this year. Three members of B A-Illinois who may be reached at Avenida Reina Victoria, 29-4° E, c/o Senora Matilde Garcia Guerrero, Madrid 3, are Mary Jane Mugg, Marsha Jean Mugg, and Barbara Stanek. All are studying under the Estudios Hispánicos program until June. Sarah Elizabeth Marks, I-DePauw, is teaching English at the Briam Institute in Madrid. Her address is Pension Claris, Plaza de Las Cortes 4, Madrid 14.

In Paris D'Arcy Jane Bracamonte, I Z-Arizona, is taking her Junior Year at the Sorbonne studying French and History. Her address is c/o Mme. F/Latimer Nash, 12 rue de Rémusat, Paris 16^e.

Helen Tenney Herbig, X-Minnesota, is teaching at a private school in Rome. She may be reached at Via Albenga 56, Apt. 27.

Dorothy S. Darling, B Z-Iowa, is studying Chemistry at Freie Universitat Berlin, in Berlin until next August. Currently her address is c/o Helen Scherer Haus, 1 Berlin 37, Beerenstr 8, Germany until May 1. After that reach her c/o Familie H. Müller, 33 Braunschweig, Am Hasseleisch 38, Germany. She writes: "I wanted to add a note of thanks to you and to THE KEY for publishing names of Kappas Abroad. I have written a note to Sharon Carlson in Freiburg and although I may never be in Freiberg, I do know that the Fulbright students from all over Germany are being brought to Berlin during spring vacation. I hope to be able to meet her again and change roles and act as guide myself for a change!

"Kathy Anderson, B E-Texas, has been traveling with a Eurailpass since the middle of September. We plan to meet in Austria after Christmas for skiing and then to begin working on the red tape of making plans to go to Russia in March. As I doubt that she has seen THE KEY recently, I will suggest that she write you her address. She plans to work in Holland. Francee Green, B E-Texas, is presently in Spain. I unfortunately don't know where, but Kathy wrote that she may also meet us in Austria. I promise to send a picture if all works out as planned. I am fortunate in that I was in Germany previously and therefore have a good many German friends within traveling distance but it means so much to have new contacts, and I think I speak for all of us who are abroad in my thanks for your help."

Trisha Gage, I E-California at Los Angeles, is working for an architect and taking architectural courses at the University of Zurich, Switzerland. Joan Wallington Odd, B E-Montana, and her husband, Frank, are in Spain where they are studying this year. Frank was awarded a scholarship by the Spanish government and is a Ph.D. candidate.

Suzanne Hall, A N-Massachusetts, studied at the Ibero-American University in Mexico recently. Also from A N is Michele Holovak who studied at the University of Madrid as one of 12 girls selected for the "Classrooms Abroad" program. Jackie Mize, another A N also studied at the University of Guadalajara in Mexico.

Cheryl Johns, A A-Penn State, is studying at the University in Salamanca, Spain this year. Her Penn State classmates, Nancy Mason and Joanna Schroeder are in Strasbourg, France. . . . Harriet Youle, E-Missouri, attended a French history preparatory course at Biarritz through November. Now in Paris and the School for Foreign Students she is continuing her French major and living with a French family. . . .

Kris Hoegh and Ann Holley, E B-Colorado State, spent last summer as Student Ambassadors of People to People. Chris spent the summer working with a family and did some traveling in the Scandinavian countries. She was impressed with the people she met. "They lead such simple lives, but are so rich in personality and character. The children were wonderful. There was no communication problem with them." Ann did much the same type of thing in Germany. "The vivacity and good cheer of the hardy people, but people with deep feelings. I feel that I could have missed this insight had German people be so welcoming. They are a I not been an Ambassador; I'm grateful for the opportunity."

Susie Nye, E B-Colorado State, spent the summer with the National Student Educational Association on a planned program which took the students to England, Scotland, Scandinavia, Germany, Italy and Switzerland. Susie says "The most striking of all my impressions was that of peacefulness and contentment. There wasn't nearly as much tension and striving that is characteristic of the United States."

Sheila Ann Roffler, B Φ-Montana, is in New Zealand on a Fulbright scholarship. . . . Angela Etchepare, B Φ-Montana, attended Loyola University in Rome last year but is back at Montana this year. Alene Hollingsworth, B Φ-Montana, is in Austria at the University of Vienna, studying under the auspices of the Institute of European Studies. . . . Darrah Link and Mary Rognlien, both B Φ-Montana, lived with Finnish families last summer and served as governesses. . . .

Sherry Hunter and Mary Pat Szdra, both B Φ-Montana, attended summer school in Mexico. Sherry was at the Interamericana University in Saltillo and Mary Pat in Guadalajara attending the extension school of the University of San Francisco. . . . Marion and Tavie McKay, B Φ-Montana, are in Europe this year. Tavie is living with a family in Turku, Finland, while Marion is attending the University of Grenoble, France. . . . Patty Schell, Δ Γ-Michigan State, attended a seven week summer extension course offered by the University in Paris. . . .

Sally Sparks, E Z-Florida State, is with an exchange program and Diane Duncan, is doing practice nursing in Europe. . . . Susan Lampland, X-Minnesota, spent the summer in Yugoslavia with SPAN. . . . Mary Ellen McKinstry, B Π-Washington, is the first exchange student to the sister school in Strasbourg, France this year, as part of the University People-to-People program. . . .

B Π-Washington members in Europe this year are: Barbara Amick and Carol Cottrell in Vienna and Dinah Hawkins and Ingrid Hilen in Sweden. . . . Leslie Page has returned from a year at the University of Geneva where she lived with a Swiss family in what she says is "Europe's most international city." . . .

Rebecca Yarnall, Θ-Missouri, attended the Sorbonne last year. She writes: "In Paris I lived with a French family who had two small children. In return for my room I walked the oldest child in the Luxembourg gardens almost daily for two hours. The children of Paris, as in any big city, have no place to play except public gardens. . . .

Susan Arentz, Δ Z-Colorado College, studied last year in Uruguay on a Fulbright scholarship. She wrote of her work. "Life in Montevideo is a delight! I am in Economics, where the students are older, anywhere from 21 to 40 and the atmosphere generally pretty studious with lots of discussion and interest. Even more amenable are the recurring holidays announced by the 'all-powerful' student association which runs the University even to the extent of having control over the jobs of the professors. These holidays are called 'strikes' and we have had about four these past weeks. Their purpose is mischievously anti-American for they are held in order to demonstrate to the Governing Council of the country the student support of maintaining relations with Cuba, for as you may know, Uruguay and Mexico are the only countries who have still not followed the OAS decision. Anyway the topic is extremely current here." . . .

Patricia Ackman, Δ Γ-Georgia, who spent last year in Spain says, "Have you ever had a dream come true? Well, I have and when I thought of spending my junior year abroad, I was certain that this dream would never be realized. Now as I look back on the wonderful experience I have had, I can hardly believe that I thought it would be so impossible to live in Europe for a year. For all that is necessary to make this dream a reality is determination, planning, and willingness to put aside conformity and accept different customs.

"As I am a Spanish major, I chose to go to Spain; and now I can see that studying a language entails much more than merely speaking it, for it is a deep insight into the minds of the people and their customs and country.

"A year seemed like such a long time as I stepped off the plane by myself realizing the responsibility of being alone in a foreign country without speaking the language; but as time progressed, I realized that in a year one could only break the surface to gain all of the knowledge that is to be had.

"In a lighter vein, you cannot help but be impressed by the natural ability of the Spaniards to make you feel completely at home. Their friendliness and vivacity is a quality that is truly unique. Then, of course, there are those things which will always hold a special place in my heart, the bullfights, the small cobbled streets, the sunny beaches, week-ends in the mountains, playing of guitars in a little wine cellar, quiet afternoons spent at a sidewalk cafe.

"I can honestly say that this was the most wonderful year of my life. If any of you are thinking about a year abroad and have the opportunity to go, then think of it seriously and don't let this wonderful experience elude you."

Claudia Reeder, Susan McMillin and Barbara

Brown, all Ω-Kansas, studied abroad last year at Bordeaux, Madrid, and Paris, respectively. While in Bordeaux, Claudia earned the highest degree in language proficiency available to a foreign student. Besides this academic honor, Claudia won two trophies and several medals in fencing matches (The Paris-World Championship and France's Pre-Olympic Match). Claudia hopes to return to Europe next fall to the Interpreters' School in Geneva. Susan studied literature, art and political science in Madrid with the New York University Program. Barbara spent last fall at the Sorbonne in Paris and her second semester in Caen.

Jenni Catron

Jenni Catron, A⁺-Monmouth, is studying Spanish and French at the University of Madrid. During the summer she attended classes at the University and enjoyed weekend excursions to such interesting spots as historic Burgos, formerly the capital of Spain. After she completed her final examinations she toured Southern Spain and Portugal with five other girls including a Kappa.

Suzanne and her German "father."

Suzanne Williams, B Ξ-Texas, participated in the Experiment in International Living program last summer, representing the U.S. in Germany. Her trip consisted of two weeks aboard ship for orientation, five weeks living with a German family, two weeks of travel in Germany in a bi-national group and a final week for Americans only in Berlin. Suzanne feels that most of the Americans participating in the Experiment gained an understanding of the German nation and their customs and feelings. She feels she learned to appreciate the German people and their attitudes as the feeling of West German youth who have little hope of reunification because of the estrangement of the two sectors since their childhood.

Arts

Judith Woodall Hauman, B O-Newcomb, won $2,500 Grinnell Opera Scholarship Auditions in Detroit and competed in regional Metropolitan opera auditions in Buffalo. . . . Nancy Ekholm Burkert, H-Wisconsin is the illustrator of the new translation of The Nightingale (translated by Eva Le Gallienne). According to the Madison Capital Times, the eight full color and 16 two color drawings make it a "book of rare beauty" The Big Goose and the Little White Duck, Jean-Claude's Island and A Child's Calendar published this past fall are other books illustrated by Mrs. Burkert. (see below)

Dorothy Sebree Cassill, B II-Washington, conducted an exciting tour to the Orient last spring. Dorothy, a well-known Pacific Northwest lecturer whose varied interests provide many speaking subjects, is best known for her lecture demonstrations on the creation of beautiful holiday decorations which she designs. The people of the Orient, their customs, crafts and industries, their art and creativity of today and yesterday were emphasized in the unusual itinerary which specialized in the crafts and customs of the people of the Orient.

Bernice Gillette Conner, T E-Pittsburgh, is a Kappa of unusual ability. Recently the Miami Herald featured Mrs. Conner and her loom on the front page of the Sunday Women's section. Begun as a hobby, she started her weaving on an $11 antique loom, subsequently she has had a weaving studio in Pennsylvania which combined a school and custom weaving for New York decorators. When the Connors went to Puerto Rico as missionaries, Mrs. Conner taught weaving to the native women in a 500 loom school. According to the Herald, some of her students head the weaving department of a large crafts industry. When her husband was killed in Korea during a tour of duty as an Army chaplain in 1949, Mrs. Conner returned to Miami where she says her weaving is now a hobby. She teaches and lectures.

A grandmother of five, she has had several novels published, writes magazine articles and is Florida representative for a large loom manufacturer. "On the side" she is a full-time teacher at a Miami High School. . . .

Education

Ruth E. Coolidge, Γ Α-Middlebury, was honored by Jackson, Michigan citizens for her outstanding service as counselor and educator in Jackson High School. Miss Coolidge was presented with a silver coffee service at the dinner where 200 gathered to applaud her. . . . Jean Taylor Semmelman, Β Ν-Ohio State, guidance counselor at York Junior College (Pennsylvania) was granted her Masters of Education degree at Western Maryland College. (In order to attend classes, Mrs. Semmelman estimated she drove more than 10,000 miles in two and one-half years, at the same time continuing part-time work at the college and raising a family of four children. . . .

Marguerite Wykoff Zapoleon, Β Ρ^Δ-Cincinnati, Economic Consultant, formerly with the Department of Labor was on the faculty of the Adult Counselor Program in Washington. This was a first time program to develop specialized counseling techniques for adults seeking employment or retraining. It was offered by the AAUW Educational Foundation. A grant from the Department of Labor Office of Manpower, Automation, and Training financed the program. . . . Cynthia McLellan (Bias) Tyree, Π^Δ-California, a former professional decorator of note in the San Francisco area has turned her talents to an elderly farmhouse on an Oregon ranch. Purchased by the Tyrees, the house has been completely renovated from a "square box" to a gracious home of the mid-sixties. Olive Voswinkel McLellan, Β Η-Washington, is the mother of Mrs. Tyree, who also has a Kappa daughter, Adrian.

Susan Simpson Sanders, Γ Η-Washington State, is living in Tema, Ghana where her husband Robert has been appointed purchasing agent by Kaiser Engineers for the 196 million dollar aluminum plant now being erected in Tema. As they will be in Ghana for three years, she will be happy to know of any Kappas who may be in the area.

Elizabeth Main Speer, Α^Δ-Monmouth, is widely known for her travel letters, written under the pen name of "The Speer Scribe." Mrs. Speer retired last year as president of the Pennsylvania State chapter of the P.E.O. Sisterhood. She is a speaker for the Pittsburgh Council for International Visitors and is president of the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church of Wilkesburg where her husband is senior pastor.

Hazel Stewart Alberson, Α^Δ-Monmouth, emeritus associate professor of comparative literature at the University of Wisconsin is the new chairman of the Madison Civics Club. . . . Marion Duncan McCririck, Γ Σ-Manitoba is an associate with the firm of Boyd N. Jones and Associates, Realtors in New Canaan, Connecticut. . . . Dorothea McLauren Rainey, and Eleanor Riley Grant, both Η-Wisconsin, were featured in an article in the Wisconsin State Journal; upon their retirement from their well-known Madison restaurant, The "Soupcon." The restaurant, started as a small shop, just off the "square," and served only sandwiches, soup, relishes and homemade pies and cake. A few years ago they moved to a larger shop where they served between 275-350 each noon, five days a week.

The Editor regrets that several pages of Alumnae news had to be deleted from this issue because of space limitations. They will be included in the Mid-Winter KEY.

Awards and Honors

Dorothea von Berg, Β Ω-Oregon, of Fort Vancouver High School was cited for her outstanding service to education by the National Association of Women's Deans and Counselors at a meeting in Minneapolis. . . . Nancy Hanschman Dickerson, Η-Wisconsin, of the National Broadcasting Company news team was voted Woman of the Year in the annual All-American Awards Poll by Radio-TV Daily for her news reporting of President Kennedy's assassination.

Another Kudu for Kappa Alumnae Achievement Award holder Anna Maude Smith, Γ Α-Kansas State, was when she was chosen as one of three women to receive the Panhellenic Outstanding Alumna award in Oklahoma City. Miss Smith is active in the League of Women Voters; YWCA; Oklahoma City Symphony work and the Oklahoma Art League. She has been a member of the YWCA Executive Board and the board of trustees of Westminster Presbyterian Church. The restaurant which she came to manage in the city now bears her name, and she has served on the board of the National Restaurant Association.

"A scholarship in every school in Orange County, California," is the goal of alumnae there. To accomplish this, Kappas present an annual interior design show.
