Field Secretaries Now Called Traveling Consultants

Traveling for Kappa this year will be five dynamos who have been trained to help each and every chapter with their specific questions and needs. To better describe the job of these women a new title "Traveling Consultants" has been adopted. They are surely Kappa ambassadors.

Barbara Cole, FK - William and Mary, has been on her chapter's program committee and served as both first and second vice president. She is one of 32 students from across the country selected to attend an academic seminar. She served her campus as tour guide for the admissions office, and as an orientation leader. She was elected to the Honor Council.

Laurie Schmidt, BX - Kentucky (affiliated with H - Wisconsin) has served on the colonization team for ZE - Lawrence University, and was Eta chapter's acting president, first vice president, assistant public relations chairman and Epsilon Province registration chairman.
She was on the Dean's List and her campus commitments included the Student Center Board and Student Government committee.

Jenny Young, Δ - Indiana, has served this past year as a field secretary and will be continuing this year as a traveling consultant! She was president of her chapter and held a double major in Psychology and Economics. She enjoys music and plays both piano and guitar.
Jogging and photography are also tops on her list.

Pamela Anthrop, ΓΔ - Purdue, served her chapter as president, membership chairman and a member of the social committee. Her campus involvement was on a task force to review alcohol use in fraternities, sororities and co-op houses. Guidelines drawn have been adopted by the Board of Trustees of the university.

Katherine Goodyear, ΕΔ - Arizona State, has just completed a year as a graduate counselor for ΔP - Mississippi. She was first vice president of her chapter as well as Panhellenic delegate, on the nominating committee, bylaw revision committee and social and public relations committees. A member of SPURS, the education honorary, and Dean's List, she was also in Order of Omega, Jr. Panhellenic president, charter member of BACCHUS, and Panhellenic PR Chairman.

Zest for life is seen in 75 year Kappa — Margaret Brown Moore

Ninety-four-year old Margaret Brown Moore has worn a Kappa key for 75 years but her own key to a beautiful and enriching long life is even more impressive.

Her key unlocks a world of fascinating memories — memories of a life well-planned and vigorously executed, of multi-faceted accomplishments and world-wide adventures, of abundant love, joy and happiness.

A cardiac arrest two years ago has slowed Miss Moore down physically, but certainly not mentally. She now stays at home in Tucson, Arizona, where she is surrounded by her cherished memories and by four generations of an adopted family who puts her at its apex.

We were warmly welcomed on the porch by Madeline Paré, the family's matriarch, who has been Miss Moore's closest friend and companion for 50 years. She introduced us to a diminutive, rosy-cheeked, white-haired woman named "Auntie," which — we soon learned — is what everyone affectionately calls Miss Moore.

Dressed for the occasion in strands of pearls and a long, blue, flowing dress, Auntie was obviously delighted with a visit from seven Kappas and was immediately intrigued with the actives who were wearing as many as three keys.

"My sister was a Kappa, but I never wore her key or anyone else's," she said and shook her head in disbelief at this relatively new trend.

"Of course, many things have changed since 1907 when I was first a Kappa; probably the biggest and best change has been in the status of women," Auntie continued, giving recognition and praise to the Women's Movement.

"Why, when I went to college, I was an exception, for not many women did so then. Of course, even those of us who did pursue our education were mainly interested in the women's topics of the day: men and pleasure," she said.

Auntie explained that the four fraternities on her co-educational campus certainly enhanced the young women's pleasure and social life. "You see, it was social activity rather than social consciousness that mattered then," she added, explaining that her chapter (Beta Gamma, Wooster College, Ohio) wasn't involved in philanthropic enterprises.

But Auntie's most important advice to young women today is that "they do develop a social conscience and take measures to become effective in improving social conditions."

"My greatest desire for Kappa is that becoming a pledge should be more a social obligation than a social triumph — an opportunity to cooperate with others in making America a better member of the family of nations. The world is in dire need of forward-looking people and organizations," she emphasized further.

Perhaps her great concern for social awareness stems from the poverty and injustice she has seen in the world. Her first-hand observations began in an unorthodox fashion (especially for a woman in the 1920's) when she embarked on a two-year trip around the world, an experience that profoundly and permanently affected her life.

"With little prearrangement and even less money, I decided to visit the Orient," Auntie vividly recalled. After discovering that first and second class shipboard accommodations were beyond her means, she insisted upon going third class, which cost a mere $105.

"At first the company refused to sell me a ticket because it had never booked third class passage for a Caucasian woman," she chuckled. "When I insisted, the employees made me sign a waiver which absolved the company from responsibility for any inconvenience or injury I might experience."

And what an experience it was: ten days of horrible odors, large rats and roaches, and awful food! But she finally made it to Tokyo where she lived with a Japanese family for several months and "rejoiced in the pleasantries of Japanese life, especially the delicate tea ceremony."

In Japan Auntie met an American friend and together they traveled to Korea and then on to China. In Peking, she joined the faculty of a small school where she had "the pleasure of teaching David Copperfield" to the Chinese students and had "the unique experience of 'owning' the services of a rickshaw boy" who worked for her daily for a mere $15 a month.

China enchanted Auntie and to this day she retains a loving respect for the Chinese people. Some of her fondest memories go back to her walks in the Forbidden City, her excursions to the weekly market and to "Embroidery Street" where she purchased lovely and rare silk pieces, and her rides around Peking on horseback ("a precarious occupation!"). But, surely, her most vivid memory of all is her forced escape from the Chinese city of Nanking, and the people she had grown to love so well. (Continued pg. 2 & 3)

EDITOR'S NOTE: In last fall's issue of The Key, we ran an article about the adoption of the coat-of-arms, which featured early correspondence on the issue from Margaret Brown Moore, ΓB - Wooster, who had researched the necessary heraldry and had designed the coat-of-arms herself in 1910. Until we received a reply from Miss Moore last fall, we were unaware that she herself could still provide first-hand recollections of Kappa and her life. Here, now, is this remarkable woman's story that spans nearly a century, as told to freelance writer Nanci Knopf Hartwick, ΓZ - Arizona.

Margaret Moore received 75 year pin from Ann Johnson Butler, IZ - Arizona, Tucson Alumnae Association president.

"One afternoon, after a pleasant walk to an ancient temple, we returned to the college to sounds of battle," Auntie recalled. "At five the next morning we were told that the Consulate suggested we leave the country. My friend and I, however, decided to stay, and we held classes as usual till noon. At about that time we learned that a soldier had mercilessly shot an American friend of ours."

"We knew then that our confidence in our safety was a false hope. Soon hostile soldiers were on our campus, shouting, 'We want the foreigners. We shall kill them.'"

Indeed, seven foreigners were killed that day and 11 homes burned. Auntie and her friend were with a group of foreigners who waited anxiously for seemingly endless hours in an attic before their Chinese friends gave them a guard with a rifle for protection and helped them board an awaiting gunboat; on it they managed to escape — with only the clothes they were wearing — from the country after a 200 mile harrowing journey down the Yangtze River.

Their anxiety was over but their adventure was just beginning. After China, there was beautiful Saigon followed by historic Angkor Wat in Cambodia.

"We witnessed a spellbinding evening at the Angkor ruins where Khmer song and dance were performed under torchlights on the porch of the temple," Auntie reminisced. "It was before the days of tape recorders, so I carry the sound of their unique music in my mind — and I shall never forget it."

Soon Auntie was off to Burma, Siam and points west. "India was on our itinerary, too," she continued, "including Calcutta and Bombay, where we were somewhat aghast over cows roaming about the streets, often overturning the street vendors' carts of food."

"When we saw the sacred Ganges River, we were also alarmed at the unconsumed bones of the departed floating in the river where hordes of believers were bathing."

"For awhile in India, we were housed across from a cemetery, and we often heard funeral processions. Sometimes they were for the burial of a sacred monkey. By the way, live monkeys occasionally invaded our quarters, for we were but a short distance from a sacred monkey temple."

Auntie said that such experiences have made her more tolerant of others' beliefs and practices of worship. But not everyone is so tolerant, as she witnessed one night in India when she watched a "frightening demonstration of racial intolerance by hordes of anti-Christians on the rampage."

"Next we wanted to go to northern Persia," she said, "but we were told the only way was by camel! Luckily, we soon discovered we could rent a Hupmobile. Of course, there were no gas stations, so we had to carry all the gas we needed for the 1200-mile round trip on the running boards of the Hup."

"The road, having been built to transport war materials during World War I, was going to wrack and ruin; we had to come almost to a complete stop 19 times in the first 15 minutes! No one else was on the road except donkey caravans and camel trains. When we slept on the roadside near the camels, we could hear them snarl their displeasure all night."

The next leg of Auntie's trip, which was to Tehran, was by baggage plane — a very decrepit baggage plane that had to make an emergency landing on the desert floor and was quickly surrounded by curious nomads.

"We had the rare opportunity to see something of Persia there and immediately found ourselves regretting the sorry status of the women whom we occasionally saw on the streets in their black garb, veiled to the eyes," Auntie acknowledged.

From Persia it was on to Constantinople, Italy and France before returning to the U.S. Over the ensuing years, she made eight more trips to Europe, the last of which she took at age 87. "But I never went to Hawaii," she said with a gleam in her blue eyes. "Hawaii seemed too near heaven and I wasn't ready for heaven yet!"

It's hard to imagine Auntie ever being "ready" for heaven because she continues to possess the spark and mental vitality of a woman many years her junior. But spiritually this devout woman is indeed ready to meet her Maker as is readily apparent when reading a small book of poetry she has authored.

For example, in one poem she writes: "... quietly I must take that last step into silence and the unknown dark — alone. The last step? An awesome step? Beginning of a fearsome journey? What fallacy! It is the first step into abundant life, of work and pleasure, of love and worship, of fulfillment and surprise — a magnificent emprise!"

Throughout her life, this remarkable woman has tackled most pursuits with eager anticipation. Born in Ohio in 1888, Auntie has held many jobs and has pursued many interests. She worked as a teacher and also as a trainer in a department store, but her longest and most important career was with the YWCA.

She was an office executive with the organization and also spearheaded its program that gave assistance to and provided opportunities for foreign students from many countries. Known as a "foyer for foreign students," Auntie's YWCA program became the forerunner for Chicago's well-known International House, established by the Rockefeller Foundation.

During the Depression, Auntie and her father (her mother died in 1921) were hard-hit financially because they suffered a tremendous loss in the stockmarket crash of 1929. They then combined households with Madeline, her husband and children in Chicago. For over a year, Auntie was the only breadwinner, and she worked hard to support them all. During World War II, she took on a menial job in a Chrysler factory to help make ends meet and to support the war effort.

Later, after Auntie's father died, the two women departed the Midwest for a new start in Tucson, where they have lived since 1946 in a three-house family "compound" that they affectionately call "Lazy Acres."

A modest and cozy home decorated with religious paintings and hundreds of books, this is where the two women together raised Madeline's three children and one of her grandchildren. Two of Madeline's children as well as their children still live on the premises and are in and out of the main house constantly. Within minutes, any visitor can sense that this is Auntie's family; perhaps not by blood, but by pure love and devotion — it flows back and forth between the generations.

While Madeline worked as a teacher to support the family in Arizona, Auntie managed the household and did all the cooking. "She was the best cook in Tucson, but now I'm stuck with the task," said Madeline, "and Auntie won't tell me how to do it!"

Auntie may no longer be doing the cooking but she still has an active hand in the finances. According to 79-year old Madeline, who is sharp and dynamic herself, "Auntie still checks our bank books and does the income tax; I can't get away with anything!"

"As a teacher I only made between $2800 and $12,800 a year. Imagine going to Europe eight times on that salary! Of course, we couldn't have done it without Auntie's careful financial planning — she's always had a way with money. But you were honest, weren't you, Auntie?" Madeline queried with a hearty laugh.

"I'm sure sometimes people thought we overdid it, though," Madeline added, still grinning. "Why, I recall the time I was about to purchase some meat at the grocery store. Auntie said, 'We don't need any meat. We have to save our money. Don't you remember, tomorrow we're going to kill the kids.' The butcher looked at us aghast, not realizing we were talking about our goats!" Both women laughed with a twinkle in their eyes at this favorite tale from the past.

According to Madeline, Auntie has never lost her sense of humor. Nor has she ever lost her keen mind and her great appreciation for beautiful writing and correct speech.

"Auntie is also clever mechanically," her staunch supporter and delightful friend continued. "In fact, I can't tell you all Auntie has done, but I can tell you this: there's very little she hasn't done!"

Perhaps this marvelous woman did so much with her life just because it was expected, it seemed natural. "My father had great expectations for his family," Auntie said of her beloved patriarch. "Without a doubt, he was the most influential person in my life. It was he who insisted I go to college, and he himself took me on my first trip abroad. He was a good businessman. He had high personal standards. More importantly, he was deeply religious, and he dedicated his life to the reform of alcoholics."

"Ah, yes, Papa was like an angel," Madeline added. "To know him was to love him. I felt like his sixth daughter. He had five, you know; Auntie was the youngest. And he adored them all and their precious mother as well."

Perhaps it was from "Papa" that Auntie learned a guiding principle of her life: "Each day . . . I pray that I may see in every person whom I meet some good, some grace, a trace of something to admire. . . ." which she writes in another of her many discerning poems.

Surely anyone meeting this grand lady can quickly see great good, abundant grace, and much to admire. Margaret Brown Moore is indeed a role model for all Kappa women; her zest for life, her sensitivity, her devotion and dedication, her humor, her creativity, her love for family and friends and mankind itself are all as worthy of imitation today as they were a century ago.

Anyone wishing to contact Miss Moore herself may contact her at 6901 S. Sixth Ave., Tucson, Arizona 85706. We have a suspicion she'd be happy to hear from her Kappa sisters as, in one of her poems, she writes, "More years go by. Old, old I grow and yet my heart sings when the postman brings a letter from a friend far away and long ago."

(Here are some excerpts from Margaret's letters to Kay Graf)

"As historian of our National Kappa organization, you have stirred warm memories for me - among them, those of Charlotte Reese Copeland who devoted many years to our National Headquarters in Columbus, Ohio, and her beautiful sister, Edith Reese Crabtree, who notably served our National organization as president.

"Seventy years is a long time since the day when the coat-of-arms of Kappa Kappa Gamma was officially adopted. I am perhaps among the few who from personal experience remember that day. I am glad that in your article you mentioned the valuable help I had from Joanna Strange, and the preservation of the design in gold and silver and stationary, through the efforts of Cleora Wheeler.

"One item is not mentioned. As I remember, the original design was entrusted to me, (after the convention where it was adopted), for preservation in our Beta Gamma Chapter of the College of Wooster, Ohio. As we had no chapter house, custody of the painting was put into the hands of Mildred Clark who had a home in Wooster.

"Some years later the Clark residence was burned to the ground, and with it the original painting of the coat-of-arms. Doubtless you, as historian, may know if another copy is preserved in the archives. Thanks to Cleora Wheeler, the coat-of-arms is preserved by many chapters and individuals. I have seen it beautifully shown on the wall of the KKI chapter house here in Tucson.

. . . and another note . . .

"Sincere thanks, my newly found friend, for the interesting and valuable Kappa Notebook - and for the informative brochure on the innovative Kappa Museum. With your obvious initiative and enthusiasm it will doubtless be a valuable cultural asset to the community, as well as to Kappas.

"The Notebook, I am glad to learn, is a part of the indoctrination of new pledges. It is background information valuable for them. My greatest desire for Kappa is that becoming a pledge should be less a social triumph than a social obligation - an opportunity to cooperate with others socially involved in making America a better member of the family of nations.

"The world, I think, is in dire need of forward-looking people, and organizations. I am deeply concerned about the drug traffic, and about the proliferation of armament. One of my dear friends of college days was the head of the Manhattan Project - which produced the first atom bomb, and I don't doubt that the havoc it wrought contributed to his death, for he was a truly noble person, and his hope was that atomic energy would be devoted to peaceful uses.

"This is a time of hope, also, with the new technologies; I can't understand it all, but I do believe the young people of today will achieve wonders. The data banks and the varied possibilities of computers and such innovations amaze me but are signs of better days ahead."

MASTERSTROKE, by Marilyn Sharp ("Kay-Kay") Augburn, I - DePauw) Richard Marek Publishers, New York 1981.

"Sharp writes with a knowledge of politics and inventive skill in a thriller that follows her debut in the well-received SUNFLOWER. . . Sharp's plotting seethes with undercurrents and dodges none more alarming than the last."

-Publisher's Weekly

This novel, an Alternate Selection of the Literary Guild and the Doubleday Book Club, is set in Washington D. C., the island of Korcula in Yugoslavia, Moscow and other parts of the Soviet Union. MASTERSTROKE involves persons in the highest levels of the U. S. and Soviet governments and their efforts to create a joint Human Rights Conference, towards the goals of establishing lasting world peace. The goals of those planning the conference differ vastly and the Korcula Conference might not be a peaceful meeting after all; therein lies the mystery of MASTERSTROKE. As in SUNFLOWER, Sharp writes convincingly of unexpected political events with chilling consequences.

The U. S. Secretary of State, Arthur Compton, his beautiful daughter Nicole and his friend and assistant Peter Lucas (who is in love with Nicole) become entangled in a series of bizarre events involving the Korcula Conference; four Russian dissidents, set to be freed, are murdered instead; the Yugoslavian ambassador is killed in the presidential box at the Kennedy Center in Washington; a friend of Lucas' is blown up and his last words are: "Destroy the Korcula conference. It is not what it seems."

In pursuit of the meaning of his friend's warning, Peter Lucas learns of the existence of two tapes, one in Washington and one in Russia, which, if played simultaneously, would reveal the true meaning of the Korcula pact. As Lucas digs deeper and discovers more clues, he and Nicole are drawn into an international intrigue in which they are unsure as to who is betrayed and who is the betrayer.

Marilyn Sharp and her family divide their time between Muncie, Indiana and Washington D. C. Her husband is Representative Philip Sharp, Congressman for the 10th District of Indiana.

PASS THE PLATE, The Collection from Christ Church, by Barbara S. Stewart, ΔP - Mississippi, and Alice G.
 Underhill, ΠΒΦ - North Carolina, 1982.

This newly published cookbook highlights the historic and culinary heritage of North Carolina's Colonial Capital, New Bern. Twenty-five pen and ink sketches capture the beauty of some of New Bern's most famous restored landmarks including the Tryon Palace. These illustrations introduce menus and the eleven major recipe categories in the volume.

More than nine hundred kitchen tested recipes are included within the five hundred and twenty pages as well as historic vignettes which correspond with the art. The eye-catching four-color cover is made of washable, pliable stacon and the spiral binding allows the pages to lie flat when the book is in use. The variety of recipes included in this cookbook are appealing to both novice cooks and to gourmets and many pages contain cooking hints or other helpful information.

PASS THE PLATE has been nominated in one of the ten separate categories for the 1981 Tastemaker Award. This contest is sponsored by the French's Mustard Company and conducted by a private public relations firm. Food Editors across the United States and Canada judge the nominees.

Two most diligent committee workers for the book were a Kappa from University of North Carolina, Mary Stallings Parrish (Mrs. Ben W.) and another Pi Phi, Linda Allmond Emory (Mrs. Robert R., Jr.) from William and Mary College. Mary worked on the historical sketches as she is very interested in restoration and lives in a home which is listed in the National Register. Linda takes care of the finances as she is a Certified Public Accountant.

Books retail at $12.50 each plus $1.50 postage and handling. North Carolina residents must add 50 cents tax. Order from PASS THE PLATE, P.O. Box 836, New Bern, NC 28560. (Continued pg. 58)

Zeta Theta Chapter at Trinity College is Installed

By Marilyn Hintermeister Secord
BP^A - Cincinnati

Kappa is hope, Kappa is friendship, Kappa is sharing.

Kappa's strength lies in her members, and their vigor and enthusiasm displayed during the installation of KKG's newest chapter prove that the bonds of Kappa sisterhood are as strong as ever.

On May 1st and 2nd, 1982, 26 outstanding young women from Trinity College in Hartford, Connecticut, became actives of Kappa's 110th chapter, Zeta Theta. This glorious weekend celebration was the culmination of more than five months of planning and effort on the part of both Kappa actives and alumnae and the women of Alpha Zeta Chi, a local Trinity women's sorority, who had sought Kappa colonization.

Trinity College founded in 1823, is a liberal arts and science college with enrollment close to 2,000 students. Although women have been part of the campus since 1970, there had been no national women's sororities until Delta Delta Delta arrived in 1981.

In late 1981, Alpha Zeta Chi petitioned KKT for colonization. Chandlee Johnson, the vivacious president of Alpha Zeta Chi, felt that KKT embodied the ideals and purposes which the women of her group were looking for in a national fraternity. Chandlee, Wilmington Delaware, knew well the ideals and purposes of Kappa - her mother is one!

In early 1982 Kappa accepted Alpha Zeta Chi's petition and a whirlwind began. The Hartford Alumnae Association, with direction from Marjorie Matson Converse, ΓΔ - Purdue, extension chairman, enthusiastically took charge of colonization arrangements. Meredith Mawbey Takala, ΔN - Massachusetts, and Marjorie Mering Sherman, ΓΛ - Middlebury, were enlisted as co-chairmen for formal chapter installation.

On a sunny Valentine's Day, Zeta Theta Chapter was formally colonized and a reception followed at the Trinity president's house. The following two and a half months were hectic, exhilarating, and enlightening for the new pledges. Besides involvement in their studies and other activities, they focused on Kappa - becoming more immersed in the ideals and purpose. During this period, deeper friendships were forming, not only among the pledges but also with the members of their big sister chapter at Babson College, in Wellesley, Massachusetts.

By May 1st the young women were ready and eager to become active members. Vicki Mack, EB - Colorado State, and Charlotte Stiverson, $Z\Gamma$ - Centre College, were co-chairmen for the initiation. The beautiful initiation ceremony was presided over by Sally Moore Nitschke, BN - Ohio State, Fraternity president, and a luncheon followed which was provided by the Fairfield County Alumnae Association. After luncheon, a reception was held for parents, friends and alumnae at the Trinity president's home, and that evening the formal installation banquet was held in the charming Faculty Dining Room. Throughout the months of preparations one important bond was apparent among alumnae, actives, and pledges - the deep love of Kappa.

So Kappa is hope, Kappa is friendship, Kappa is sharing - and, most of all, Kappa is love.

Loyalty Fund Total Rises

With grateful appreciation the Council thanks 7,364 Kappas for contributions from April 1, 1981 through April 16, 1982 to the Loyalty Fund of approximately $150,000. This annual giving has made it possible to increase services to the alumnae, expand active chapters, continue publishing Fraternity manuals and The Key, and further the efforts of total programming for alumnae and actives.

Barbara Zemer Golan, Σ - Nebraska, is the employee at Fraternity headquarters who handles Loyalty Fund contributions. She is also an airplane pilot and recently fulfilled a life-dream to fly a hot air balloon. Like the Loyalty Fund, the flying experience was most exciting - up, Up, and AWAY - smooth sailing because of you!

Barbara looks happier now! A successful journey, yet not always as quiet and soaring as previously imagined - sometimes the noise of the gas jets is deafening! Barb's comments on the Loyalty Fund indicate the same excitement for each year's campaign as the previous high is reached and surpassed. THANK YOU!

ALUMNAE NEWS

Lansing Enjoys New Directions, Art and Scholarship

"You gotta have 'art!'" And art is precisely what the Lansing-East Lansing (MI) Alumnae Association has in abundance in the form of two nationally known artists — Carolyn Talbot Hoagland, ΔΛ - Miami, and Sally Howell Swiss, ΔΓ - Michigan State. Friends for years through Kappa and art circles, Carolyn and Sally combined their talents in a show at the Lansing Gallery. The alumnae group was invited to hold a meeting at the gallery during the show and they were happy to have the chance to honor their own while also using the opportunity to turn the occasion into a party and fundraiser. Preceding the opening, alumnae, husbands, friends, actives and local Panhellenic groups attended a gala preview party, the proceeds of which were earmarked for the scholarship fund of Delta Gamma Chapter, Michigan State.

Thanks to the popularity of the two artists, committee work and ticket selling was incredibly easy. The project invoked enthusiastic response and alumnae president Kay Mavroulis Jennings, X - Minnesota, had no difficulty enlisting Lynne Bishop Johnson, I - DePauw, to serve as treasurer and Pam Romano Dilley, H - Wisconsin, and Pat Shaver, ΔΓ - Michigan State, to take charge of decorations and food.

Party guests crowded the gallery to admire Carolyn's special talents with watercolors and seashells and see the spring flowers decorating the gallery reflected in the vibrant color and detail of Sally's floral paintings. Pen and ink drawings of campus scenes were reproduced by the alumnae into notepaper and packets for reminiscing and framing. A pair of young musicians provided soft music as a backdrop for conversation and wine. The comfortable atmosphere prompted one Kappa husband to buy a picture on the spot!

The event was both a beginning and an ending for both Kappas. It was a retirement . . . for Sally, from many years as a teacher in several midwest school systems, and for Carolyn from caring for four children, now grown. At the same time, it was a beginning for each — a new era of unrestricted time to devote to her own artistic interests. It was also a change of direction for Diane Ebelina Schwartz, ΔΦ - Bucknell, who provided some of the photography of the artists and their work. A new member of the group, Diane is the mother of two young children and has just recently returned to school to complete her education.

Having earned both her BA and MA degrees at Michigan State, Sally was employed full time as a teacher and had to squeeze her painting time into moments stolen during weekends and vacations. Nevertheless, her work resulted in innumerable awards in local and state exhibitions and in frequent commissions from business firms and organizations. Her favorite themes reflect the gardens and homes of friends as well as scenes from the university's famous Beal Botanical Gardens, and her paintings are part of many collections.

Carolyn, with a BA from Miami University, did graduate work at Boston Scott Carbee school of art and at Michigan State. Her story is a page from Tillie Olson's Silences; that of a creative individual whose children and family came first during their formative years at home. Now that she is free to devote more time to her art, Carolyn is learning new techniques and expanding her abilities as she attends professional workshops and classes nationwide. Some of her most successful work has been watercolors of shells and shorelines.

Both artists have also found time for community activities. Carolyn has given years of volunteer service to several arts councils and has been a member of the Michigan Council for the Arts since 1975, by appointment from the governor. Sally has served in almost every advisory board position for Delta Gamma Chapter and is currently president of the house board. Several of her paintings hang in the house, the most notable of which is "Garden of Blue". It was a gift in memory of Janet Goodell Lyons, a chapter member, and was presented in a special ceremony on Founders' Day at the time of the fiftieth anniversary of the chapter.

The preview party goes down in history as a real success — a celebration of two talented members of the alumnae association, a marvelous opportunity to supplement the chapter's scholarship fund, and a community service combined with a delightful social occasion. A special dividend for everyone involved was the realization that retirement, or the "empty nest" syndrome, need not signal the end of the world but instead can offer an exciting, challenging, wonderful new beginning.

Editor's note: Article prepared by Marilyn Mayer Culpepper, BΔ - Michigan. Photographs by Diane Ebelina Schwartz, ΔΦ - Bucknell, and Al Roth, father of ΔΓ alumna Mary Lou Roth.

Alumnae Activity . . .

Boston Intercollegiate

On behalf of the Boston Intercollegiate Alumnae Association, Joy Barron Babcock, Φ - Boston, ways and means and philanthropy chairman, and Ann Ritter Johnston, ΓN - Arkansas, alumnae president, gave a check for $126 to Kevin Lessard, Assistant Director of the Perkins School for the Blind which serves multihandicapped children from around the world. Kappa alumnae raised funds for the purchase of a Beamscope Lens — a television image magnifier which more than doubles the size of a TV picture — through participation in a consumer survey and through wrapping paper sales.

Panhellenic Programs

Williams County (OH) Alumnae Panhellenic brought a sampling of Greek life to the area in the form of a new NPC slide show "Going Greek in the Eighties", brochures, posters, and the in-person vitality of Fraternity President Sally Moore Nitschke, BN - Ohio State. Panhellenic members visited local high schools to present a view of Greek life and enjoyed an evening Panhellenic meeting. Smiling with Kappa and Panhellenic spirit are Connie Martin Tipton, ΔA - Miami; Betty Newcomer Fenton, K - Hillsdale; Sally Nitschke and Julie Stockwell Brown, also BN, and hostess for the evening meeting.

Fort Worth

Three generations of Fort Worth Kappas pictured on pledge night at the University of Texas are Nancy Haun Dozier, Karen Haun Barlow, both ΒΞ - Texas; Louisa Wilson Haun, ΒΘ - Oklahoma, and center front, Margaret Dozier, ΒΞ. Not pictured is Mrs. Haun's other Kappa daughter, Terry Haun Shaw, also ΒΞ.

Memphis

Martha Goedecke Rutherford, ΓI - Washington U, alumnae president, and Alexa Stanley Robinson, ΔΣ - Oklahoma State, executive board member, represented the Memphis Alumnae Association members as they presented a check for $100 to Diana Reid, Executive Director of United Cerebral Palsy of the Mid-South. Sales of Christmas greenery, crafts and cookbooks raised the money for the donation. Alumnae members also plan to help UCP with a fundraising telethon as well as with outings for cerebral palsied children.

Shipboard Sisters

The Semester-at-Sea program of the Institute of Shipboard Education sponsored by the University of Pittsburgh had six Kappas among its 560 passenger-students. The 3½ month trip abroad the S.S. Universe took the group of 535 college students and 25 adult passengers to Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong, the Philippines, Indonesia, India, Sri Lanka, Egypt, Greece and Spain. Alumna Mary Martine Baldwin, ΓH - Washington State, (right) and husband Van were on the trip along with Kappa actives Kim Karp, H - Wisconsin; Jenny Winship, ΔZ - Colorado College; Joy Hoedel, ΕΔ - Arizona State; Lori Garver, also ΔZ, Sally Weller, ΔT - USC.

Richardson

Members of the Richardson (TX) Alumnae Association took time out from their hectic holiday schedules to meet a community need. The Plano Target Store sponsors an annual Senior and Handicapped Citizens Day, at which time store doors are closed to the public. Kappas assisted the residents of the Park Place Nursing Home with their Christmas shopping by pushing wheel chairs, carrying packages, serving coffee and doughnuts and spreading lots of holiday cheer. Santa Claus paused to greet Lanette Cooke, a resident of the home, as she embarked upon her shopping escorted by Pat Bishop, a staff member of the home, Virginia Jones Miller, ΓΦ - SMU, alumnae president, and Brenda Dickerson Cerrato, ΓN - Arkansas, philanthropy chairman.

For their own shopping, members attended the annual Christmas Boutique, where Charlene Cherry Monahan, ΔK - Miami, was the lucky winner of a bell pull contributed to the raffle by Joan Hilburn Crawford, ΔI - LSU, chairman of the "Stitchers" special interest group.

Cleveland

Giving to Kappa and to others was a joy for all members of the Cleveland Alumnae Association. Founders' Day celebration was especially meaningful as active liaison chairman Sherry Monday Ulrich, Λ - Akron, presented new initiation robes to Janice Walker, Lambda Chapter president, as other delighted chapter members looked on. The robes were purchased with funds raised by the Annual Sale of flowers.

Giving is the spirit of Christmas and with the help of their own "Christmas Turkey", auctioneer Nancy Hunter Sherwin, ΓO - Wyoming, Cleveland alumnae members raised over $700 at their pre-Christmas hobby auction of hand-made items ranging from baby quilts to wreaths. The proceeds will go to Hanna Pavilion of University Hospitals of Cleveland, a rehabilitative psychiatric hospital. The holiday spirit continued as members shared a cookie exchange while their children visited with Santa.

Cheyenne

Possible future legacies were the mystery guests when the Cheyenne Alumnae Association ignored the winter doldrums to have a surprise shower for three expectant members and one new mother. Disposable diapers and the fun of posing for The Key brought laughs from Mary Murphy Whalen, Murlie Colosky Hanson and Eileen Sanchez Jensen, all ΓO - Wyoming, and new mother Chris Sanderson-Sheehan, ΔN - Massachusetts.

A somewhat more serious but equally warm feeling was engendered when the group presented a 50 year pin to Mary Liz Long Carpenter, Σ - Nebraska, who had recently been honored as 1981 Person of the Year by the Greater Cheyenne Chamber of Commerce. Mary Liz was cited for her "untiring dedication to the betterment of Cheyenne, her deep love for its people and her efforts to preserve its history and traditions." Instrumental in founding the Cheyenne Frontier Days Old West Museum at Frontier Park, she has served as its vice president as well as on the boards of the Community Chest, United Fund, Junior Women's Club and, an active and beloved Kappa, as a past president of the alumnae association. A further list of her activities would include involvement in theatre, hospital, political and church organizations. Wife, mother of four and grandmother of eight, Mary Liz continues to inspire her community and Kappa.

Fashioning Keys to Success

*Story and photos by Patricia Stead
Sullivan, FB - New Mexico*

The 20th Annual Fashions and Diamonds Luncheon and Style Show of the Atlanta Alumnae Association was sold out weeks in advance, and raised over $7,000 for the Shepherd Spinal Center of Atlanta.

The center, which has grown from a 20 bed unit in West Paces Ferry Hospital to a 60,000 square foot building opened in April 1982, has been the dream of Harold and Alana Shepherd ever since their son James was injured in a freak accident. A 10 foot wave crashed over him while he was body surfing in Rio de Janeiro and left him paralyzed.

James was transferred to the Craig Rehabilitation Center in Denver, Colorado, at the urging of Clark Harrison, a leading citizen of Atlanta who is also a paraplegic. After only 4½ months, James walked out of Craig with the help of a leg brace and a crutch. His rehabilitation inspired his grateful parents to formulate plans for a spinal center in Atlanta.

The Shepherd Center is patterned after the Craig Center in its team approach to therapy. Therapists work with doctors, nurses and counselors to help the patient attain his highest functional potential as rapidly as possible — usually within 90 days. The patients also work together for their own rehabilitation through physical and occupational therapy. Mat exercises develop the lower extremities to enable the patient to transfer himself from one place to another. Occupational therapy helps the upper extremities relearn the chores of daily life, such as dressing and brushing teeth. In addition to the physical program, the patient and family attend lectures on personal care. Psychiatrists help patients cope with the inevitable bouts of depression.

The Shepherd Spinal Center has had 700 admissions since 1975 and has seen 3000 persons as outpatients for diagnostic or follow-up evaluations. The new 40 bed building (80 upon completion) will have its own x-ray area, lab, pharmacy, full therapy area, library, auditorium, ICU beds, a heliopad for emergency admissions and a comprehensive full time outpatient clinic. The patients' rooms are not only specifically designed and fitted to their special needs, but are also spacious and attractive. The center also has a "junker" auto equipped with hand controls that is used to teach driving before the patient's own car is specially equipped.

Mr. Jim Moon, guest speaker at the luncheon, and his daughter Kim, emphasized the extraordinary quality and efficiency of care given to Shepherd patients when he told of the automobile accident in which his daughter's spinal cord was severed and she was paralyzed from the arm pits down. Wondering what sort of life Kim could have, Mr. Moon saw a picture of the ground breaking ceremony for the Shepherd Spinal Center in the newspaper. It happened the same day as Kim's accident. At the center, Kim was visited by two quadriplegics who said they had much to be thankful for.

"I'm just grateful to be alive," Kim responded. With her will to win, she learned to drive a hand-control car, hasn't missed a day of work in over a year, is independent, self-sufficient and recently married.

The proceeds of the luncheon, fashion and jewelry show are enough to completely furnish one of the patient's rooms at the center, with some left over for additional equipment. Alumnae President Linda Stevenson Clements, BZ - Iowa; show chairman Liz Ann Gribben Gibson, M - Butler; and public relations chairman Robley Evans Shirey, ΔP - Mississippi, were among Atlanta Kappas who worked so hard for success of the venture. Fashions by Saks Fifth Avenue and jewelry by Mary Jourdan DeWalt, FB - New Mexico, and Nancy McNeill Dodgson, FE - Pittsburgh, try on jewelry they will model.

Claude S. Bennett Jewelers for sale, with 10% going to the center, was fun. But the fact that this seemingly social event could aid, in a tangible way, an institution which we pray we will never need, felt very good.

On one patient's door in the Shepherd Spinal Center there will be a small brass plaque on which is engraved Kappa Kappa Gamma. Truly, there are "doors barred with gold but open to golden keys."

Hard-hatted hard workers Robley Evans Shirey, ΔP - Mississippi, public relations chairman; Liz Ann Gribben Gibson, M - Butler, show chairman; and Linda Stevenson Clements, BZ - Iowa, alumnae president, inspect the uncompleted foyer of the Shepherd Spinal Center with founder Alana Shepherd (right).

Kappas Dine Out . . .

It's a known fact that although they are good cooks, Kappas enjoy dining out. Fort Lauderdale Alumnae Association members combined a delicious luncheon with a fund-raising project by attending a cooking demonstration by Chef Alain Petibon, one of Florida's best-known chefs, at his restaurant "Petibon". Proceeds went to The Stranahan House, a local historic restoration project. The cats licking their whiskers are Susie Jones Luenig, ΓΦ - SMU; Chief Petibon; Suzie Young Allen and Betty Friedman O'Connor, both Y - Northwestern.

Across the country in Los Altos, CA, Jean Trimblein (Wolgram) Hull, ΔΓ - Michigan State, (see The Key, winter 1981), recently married to Larry Hull, opened her restaurant Two Sisters to the seniors of BH^Δ - Stanford, for their senior luncheon. Since sorority housing is not allowed on campus, the chapter has become innovative in its search for special meetings places. Jean was glad to serve as hostess and, table-hopping during the luncheon, was impressed with the variety of positions the girls would be accepting after graduation, as well as the high levels of salaries and the serious objectives of the seniors. The well fed members of BH^Δ are Debbie Blumberg, Lynn Stehenson, Vicki Coleman, Christina Jacobsen, Catherine Marchling.

Names in the News . . .

Southern Methodist University President L. Donald Shields, SMU alumna Lindalyn Bennett Adams and Alumni Association President Lawrence Herkimer are all smiles following Shields' presentation to Lindalyn of one of three 1982 Distinguished Alumni Awards.

Lindalyn Bennett Adams, ΓΦ - SMU, was honored by her alma mater as a Distinguished Alumni in recognition of her "distinguished contributions to the community of mankind which have brought distinction to Southern Methodist University." If it had been possible, the award should have been presented on July 4th, Lindalyn's birthday! Humanitarian, civic leader and historic preservationist, Lindalyn began her service as a member of the Junior Historical Society and has since headed every major historical body in the city, county and state.

Spearheading the development of Dallas' Old City Park, a nationally renowned museum of cultural history (see The Key, fall 1976), Lindalyn has been instrumental in the acquisition and renovation of old homes in the city's Swiss Avenue Historic District. She was given the 1980 Ruth Lester Award for Outstanding and Meritorious Service in Historical Preservation for her "tireless effort and lifetime of devotion" in preserving historic sites.

Also concerned with current interests, Lindalyn has chaired many civic organizations, including the Dallas County Medical Society Auxiliary, Dallas Civic Opera Women's Board and the Dallas Symphony Orchestra League. She has also presided over the largest fundraising events in Dallas: the 1976 Crystal Charity Ball, the 1969 Junior League Ball and the 1980 Neiman Marcus Fortnight. In addition, she chaired the 1976 national convention of the American Medical Association Women's Activities. In 1981-82 alone, she is serving on the boards of no less than 15 organizations, ranging from the Texas Association for Prevention of Blindness to the Children's Medical Center to the Dallas County Historical Commission.

Recipient of the 1978 Linz Award for civic service, the oldest and most coveted civic award in Dallas (see The Key, summer 1979), and chosen by the Dallas Alumnae Association as their Distinguished Alumna in 1978, wife of Dr. Reuben Adams, Chairman of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology of Baylor University Medical Center, mother of three grown sons, Lindalyn has been called a model of volunteerism at its finest.

Virginia Griffin

Virginia Kiessling Griffin, BP^Δ - Cincinnati, was honored as a 1981 Woman of the Year by The Cincinnati Enquirer. A governing principle of her life has been that every human being has an overriding responsibility to every other human being; not in the way of providing benevolent charity, but by dedicating one's self to those affairs which increase the growth and happiness of others. Virginia has followed her own precepts by serving as a member of the Cincinnati Board of Education for 14 years, two of them as president and two as vice president, with 70-hour work weeks as the norm.

Active in the League of Women Voters, Women's Auxiliary to the Academy of Medicine, Cincinnati Technical College, Community Chest agencies and other civic groups, Virginia is the wife of a surgeon, mother of four grown children and also the owner and director of Griffin Gallery of Fine Arts.

Susan Elizabeth Koch, ΓΙ - Washington U., is working in one area of social services that has not had a funding cut. Beth, as she is known to friends, prosecutes child support and welfare fraud cases as an assistant district attorney in Nashville, TN. Beth and her co-worker have about 8000 clients; mothers suing for paternal support of their children. Beth says that many of these women no longer have to collect government aid because the father's payment is bigger than the welfare check, and that helps to shrink the government's payroll. However, some women don't realize until they receive legal counseling that the father can be ordered by the courts to support his offspring.

Beth also works closely with state and local officials on legislation affecting her field. One of her successful lobbying efforts was to have child support deducted automatically from a paycheck, a method used for social security. Beth's keen interest in the law is shared with husband Bill who serves as legal counselor to the governor.

Virginia Johansen, BO - Tulane, might be referred to as an "accidental" millionaire. During her first year in college, Ginnie looked for a web belt with grosgrain ribbon trim. Unable to find one, she bought the components in a fabric shop and designed her own belt. Three years later, Ginnie Johansen Designs, Inc. grossed $3 million for its artistic and efficient 23 year old founder and president.

No one really becomes a millionaire by accident. Ginnie's original belt was attractive, marketable and appeared at the right time to fill a gap in the accessory field. Ginnie's father Gary, a Dallas management consultant, provided a little coaching at the start, but admits he was not impressed with the idea. A brief sales trip to Waco, Austin and San Antonio brought Ginnie back to Dallas with $1500 in orders and elicited further help from dad in the form of a contact with a local belt manufacturer and business headquarters set up at home. Plunging into business with the enthusiasm that is so much a part of her, Ginnie embarked upon a crash course in management, product line research, delegating authority and the successful use of the talents of other people. She says that "patience, persistence and dedication pulled her through . . . plus a seven day work week.

The company has expanded and varied its line to include silk neckwear, sashes and, most recently, antique reproduction lapel pins. Articles in People, April 21, 1980; Success, September 1981; and a "cover girl" feature in Entrepreneur, February 1982, have reported Ginnie's success. While she still manages to put in a full work week, Ginnie has learned to allow time for herself; time to enjoy water skiing, tennis and church work.

Rather than an "accidental millionaire", it would be more appropriate to talk in terms of Ginnie's sharp sense of color and color combinations, a sense she has used in her accessory line and one which has given texture and dimension with which to color her life successful.

Will Eta Long Oates, ΓN - Arkansas . . . is she recognized by that name or would you know her as Willie Oates, the effervescent lady with the tremendous collection of wild hats? And do you know the real Willie Oates? . . . the energetic woman who has devoted untold hours to every imaginable civic organization. The state of Arkansas knows that Willie Oates and honored her as the first recipient of the Arkansas Distinguished Citizen Award. Sponsored by the Governor's Office of Voluntary Citizen Participation and KARK-TV, Channel 4, the award was presented by "Today" show weatherman Willard Scott, who commented on the impossibility of reciting all the positions Willie has held or organizations she has served. Her "firsts" alone comprise a long list which includes: first woman chairman of the advisory board of Salvation Army of Little Rock, first president of Central Arkansas Radiation Therapy Unit, first woman appointed to a grand jury in Pulaski County and the county's first woman to serve as a member of the state legislature in more than 30 years, one of 100 women selected by the Arkansas Press Women as an Arkansas Woman of Achievement and one of 52 women in the country to be appointed by the President to the Defense Advisory Committee on Women in the Service.

Three times president of the Little Rock Alumnae Association, first chairman of the Gamma Nu Advisory Board, and a term as Xi Province Director of Alumnae are part of her Kappa involvement and who could forget her hat skit, "How to Make the Most Out of Being a Woman!" Willie has traveled 35 states with her array of hat boxes in celebration of being a woman.

Without trying to condense three pages of activities, positions and awards, we can perhaps best encompass Willie's love of people, of service and of life by noting her four years as a cheerleader at Arkansas; years that continue as she attends Homecoming each year since graduation and joins other former cheerleaders on the stadium field, urging the fans into louder cheers. Yeah, Willie!

Bonnie Butt, ΔK - Miami, was selected as 1981 Teacher of the Year by the European Congress of American Parents, Teachers and Students Association. A second grade teacher at Aviano Air Base near Venice, Italy, Bonnie was cited for her contributions and continuous participation in school functions. Her dynamic work with the PTSA, her service as the cultural arts contest coordinator, nominations chairman, open house coordinator, spring carnival representative, and primary school representative were praised, in the citation.

Marilyn Noblitt

Helen L. Newman, ΔΣ - Oklahoma State, has been appointed director of operations for Gulfstream American Corporation's Washington D.C. corporate office. She has served as legislative aide, staff and administrative assistant to Carl Albert, former speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives. Prior to her association with Gulfstream American, she was director of and a consultant for several Washington-area firms in the field of government relations. In her current position, Helen is responsible for congressional and executive branch liaison matters dealing with the corporation's Savannah and Bethany aircraft manufacturing and marketing.

Amanda Mathews Rankin, ΔK - Miami, was a delegate volunteer to Heifer Project International in Little Rock (AR). Founded in 1945, the organization provides food-producing animals and training in their care to needy families overseas and in the United States. The project continues to supply livestock and training to hungry communities throughout the world in an ever-increasing and self-perpetuating program

Marilyn Barnes Noblitt, ΓO - Wyoming, was named recipient of the Outstanding Performance Award for Kelly Services, Inc., at their national managers' conference. The award is presented annually in recognition of branch performance which consistently exceeds the company's objectives in sales, service and staff development. Kelly is one of the world's largest temporary help companies, with over 500 branches in the U.S., Canada, Puerto Rico, England and France.

Marilyn has been Kelly Services branch manager in Cheyenne, WY, since 1977 and is active in several professional organizations as well as the Kappa alumnae association. Daughter Jackie is an active in ΓO and three other children and husband Jack round out a busy family life.

Carol Brandenburg Reetz, X - Minnesota, co-director of WNET-Thirteen's TVLab, has been named executive producer of the national anthology series "Matters of Life and Death." Initiated by the Program Fund of the Corporation for Public Broadcasting in 1980, the series is intended to provide independent producers with an opportunity to explore issues of some urgency to contemporary American society through diverse forms of documentary, drama and animation.

In addition to supervising the packaging and promotion of programs in the premier season, Carol will be responsible for supervising the production of fifteen new programs just selected for the second season. She will also continue as director of the artists-in-residence program, and as executive producer of the Thirteen series Video/Film Review and various specials.

Jan Allen, BN - Ohio State, is television news director of the CBS affiliate WJIM-TV in Lansing, MI. As an administrator in a previously male-dominated position, Jan quickly established herself by refining the station's news format and developing its anchors, reporters and cameramen. As a result, WJIM-TV captured the number one position in the Lansing market. In the process, with her tact and forthrightness, Jan earned the respect and admiration of her staff, as well as that of the station management.

Jan worked as an anchor, reporter and producer at WJIM-TV before assuming administrative responsibilities there, and as anchor, reporter, photographer, producer and co-host at WWTW Cadillac, MI. She has also served as radio/television specialist with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

Jan earned the Environmental Quality Award from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, and in doing so became the only media person in Michigan to receive an award for excellence in interpreting and reporting environmental issues affecting its residents.

Current Methods Simplify Kappa Chapter Finance

By Jane Coombs
ΔΔ - Miami University
Supervisor of Chapter Finance

Chapter life is sustained through the many facets of the chapter finance program — officer training, finance committee, Fraternity and chapter policies, chapter budget and committee budget control, bookkeeping with three audits per year by headquarters, and the new computer program.

The training of a treasurer is of key importance to a chapter. Her main responsibilities are preparation of the budget for the fiscal year, presentation of that budget, committee budget control forms, letters to parents, chapter bookkeeping including billings and collections and chapter expenses, and the organization of the duties of the finance committee. Throughout the country, chapter treasurers are, in effect, running sizable businesses.

The finance committee consists of the treasurer, finance adviser, assistant treasurer, president, social committee representative, and any additional members according to the chapter's needs. Responsibilities vary from chapter to chapter, but generally they include assisting the chapter treasurer with her duties, as listed above.

Education and enforcement of Fraternity and chapter policies are the foundation of an effective and efficient operation of the chapter finance program. The treasury department not only bills and collects money for the chapter, but it also collects for Fraternity Headquarters, the house department, and the House Corporation.

—All Fraternity monies (pledge fees, initiation fees, per capita fees) are collected and sent to Headquarters by appropriate due dates.

—All house monies (room rent, regular board, transient board, house fees) are collected and disbursed to the house department.

—The House Corporation receives its money from both the treasury and the house department.

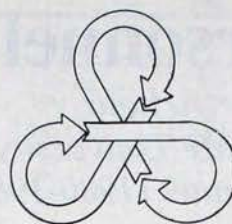

Another fund, called the activity fund, is usually operated by the assistant treasurer. The account is designated for all offsets. Individual purchases such as T-shirts, formal favors, and pictures are main items.

—One way to handle the account is through the collection of a set amount from each member to be credited to her account.

—The other way is through pay-by-order.

A chapter delinquent bill policy is written in the chapter bylaws, stating immediate steps to be taken when a member does not fulfill her financial obligations. (Fraternity Headquarters will send a sample delinquent policy to a chapter upon request.)

The complete cycle of the committee budget control form is vital to the success of a chapter finance program. The cycle is as follows — In the beginning of the school year, the treasurer passes out the committee budget control forms with the yearly budget for each office. Each officer or an appointed committee member is to keep an up-to-date expense record on the committee budget control form. When a member requests reimbursement for a chapter expense from the treasurer, she must first have the receipt/voucher signed by the committee responsible for the expense so that the committee may record the expense on her committee budget control form, which is then turned in to the treasurer. At officer training, for each office which has a budget, the incoming and outgoing officers go over their individual committee budget control form. They review the budget for the remainder of the year and project the budget for the following year on a committee budget control form and submit it to the treasurer.

After officer training, the treasurer prepares the next fiscal year's budget from the officers' estimates. At year end, the committee budget control form on which the actual yearly expenses have been recorded is turned in to the treasurer. In the fall, the treasurer, along with the finance committee, revises the budget from prior year records, current knowledge of upcoming events which would affect the annual budget, and the 6-30 annual report. All treasurers and finance advisers should understand that the chapter budget can be properly estimated and finalized without the 6-30 annual report. The chapter budget is then voted on by the chapter and submitted to Headquarters. New committee budget control forms are completed from the annual chapter budget and distributed accordingly to the officers.

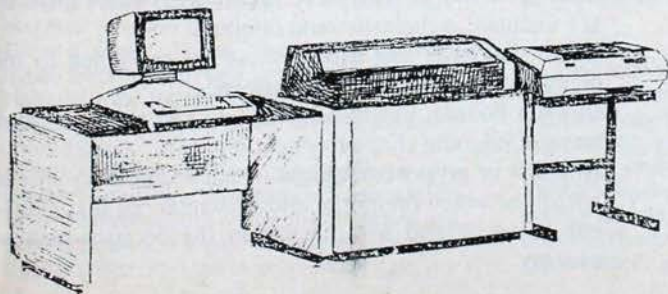

One of the chapter finance services performed at Fraternity Headquarters is the auditing of the treasury and house departments' books three times per year. For audit I and II an evaluation is completed and returned to the chapter along with the three or four months of materials which were submitted for audit. Audit III and year-end audit are performed at the end of the fiscal year, for the period July 1st through June 30th. When completed, the annual report is prepared and returned to the chapter along with the year-end materials which were submitted for audit.

The purchase of the computer has brought to Kappa a new exciting era in chapter finance. A considerable improvement is now being made in forms, procedures, and reports. The computer system utilizes the concept of batch control forms, which are monthly summaries of source documents, such as member statements and check copies. Improvements include a more accurate listing of accounts receivable, reports of actual receipts and disbursements versus budgeted amounts not previously prepared for audit I and II on the pre-computer system, and anticipation of a quicker turn around time on the year-end audits. Currently, 19 chapters are on the computer and 30 more chapters represented by their treasurers and/or finance advisers at convention this June will begin the program after participating in the training at the convention chapter finance workshop headed by Larry Focht and myself, Jane Coombs. Additional chapters will join the program in 1983.

The finance committee, headed by the chapter treasurer, must coordinate and oversee all the financial responsibilities of all chapter committees at the same time, working closely with Headquarters. When money is deposited into the Kappa chapter account and the cash flow is at its height, the tide comes in — as all committees are seen to be working at their fullest capacity — Total programming in its glory — the masterful art of producing the most effective results through the most efficient use of resources. It can be simple!

Positive Personnel

By Rebecca Stone Arbour

ΔI - Louisiana State University

Director of Personnel (1980-1982)

"PERSONNEL" — a dreaded word, conjuring up a stiff "standards jury," handing out punishment at random? NO!!

The role of the personnel committee is a positive one! A strong committee, with good chapter representation that is functioning in all areas of their responsibility, is an indication of a strong and healthy chapter. This committee exists to assure harmonious chapter relationships. . .to build morale. . .to foster chapter spirit. . .to contribute to the well being of the chapter. . .and help each member strive toward individual excellence.

How does Personnel accomplish these things?

BY HAVING AN ELECTED COMMITTEE!

. . .The first vice president serves as chairman.

. . .Others serving are — the pledge chairman

— the president

— the personnel adviser

— an elected member-at-large

— elected representatives from each class:

This is optional but strongly recommended for large chapters. Having these representatives insures a voice from all segments of a chapter.

BY FOLLOWING THE 6-POINT PERSONNEL PROGRAM!

1. Big/Little Sister - Mother/Daughter Program

This is the responsibility of the personnel committee though they work closely with the pledge committee.

. . .The first vice president and the pledge chairman pair up the big/little sisters - mother/daughters after both pledges and actives have had the opportunity to signify their choices.

. . .A member of the personnel committee should have this program as her delegated responsibility. She should plan activities to be put on the master calendar - many of which can be coordinated with other events. Example: A fun dinner planned by the public relations committee can also become a big/little sis - mother/daughters activity.

. . .An orientation for the big sisters - mothers is a must! Being a big sis - mother is a large responsibility and she must know exactly what is expected of her. Ways should also be devised to evaluate how the pairs are working.

2. Pledge Conferences

This is another responsibility of the personnel committee which involves working closely with the pledge committee. Three pledge conferences are held during pledgship:

. . .The first, immediately after pledging — This conference is a large group one where the role of the personnel committee is explained and information on basic Kappa standards is discussed.

. . .The second, halfway through the pledge program — This conference is a one-on-one, where personnel committee members have the pledges evaluate the pledge program, the big/little sister - mother/daughter relationship, scholarship progress, and general feelings about their membership up to that point.

. . .The third, close to Initiation, and it may even be a part of Inspiration Week. This conference is held with small groups of pledges at one time. It is inspirational in tone and a time to review the privileges and responsibilities that initiation will bring.

3. Inspiration Week

This period of time, held right before Initiation, need not be a full week of planned activities. The purpose can be accomplished in several days, if a chapter wishes.

. . .It is a time for quality activities as opposed to quantity.

. . .It is not a time for pledges to prove they are worthy of membership.

. . .It is a time to prepare for the significance of Initiation.

. . .It is not a time to embarrass any pledge. . .or active.

. . .It is a time to mix fun and pleasure with an atmosphere of seriousness and commitment.

. . .It is a time to make each pledge feel like a very special person.

. . .It will be a very happy memory!

4. Spirit and Morale

One of the most important responsibilities of the personnel committee is that of keeping a finger on the pulse of the chapter morale.

To this end:

. . .Many chapters form "sunshine" or "spirit" committees.

These should not be separate from the personnel committee. Other chapter members may serve on these committees, but the chairman must be a member of the personnel committee, so that personnel can communicate needs and oversee activities.

. . .Many fun activities, functions and awards are planned for the year to uplift spirits and to reduce tensions. Remember, some of these can be big/little sister - mother/daughter activities, too!

. . .If tensions develop, for whatever reason, a fireside or cozy should be held to discuss the problem. Feelings are aired and tensions are reduced. This kind of activity is good, from time to time, even if there are no problems. A chapter that talks together is a happier chapter!

5. Education of Standards

This area of personnel responsibility should have a #1 priority rating! To enable a chapter to operate within its structure of bylaws and policies, all chapter members must be aware of the "rules" and the expectations of the Fraternity.

. . .Standards workshops should be held at least once a year, where standards are communicated and expectations are defined. The three broad areas to be covered are financial, scholastic, and conduct.

. . .Basic standards and expectations are explained to the pledges at the first pledge conference.

. . .Bulletin boards, personnel booklets and skits are good ways of ongoing chapter education.

. . .Any new or proposed changes in existing policies should always be voted on by the entire chapter, so that everyone is aware and has a voice in the decision-making process.

6. Maintenance of Standards

Once the membership is educated on Kappa policies and standards, any violation MUST be handled by the personnel committee.

- .. Too often, the personnel committee is looked upon as the "watch-guard" committee. Members should realize that the personnel committee acts because the individual involved has created the violation and has caused the committee to take action. The fault lies with the individual and not with personnel.
- .. there should be no "automatic" actions taken by the personnel committee. Each case is considered individually.

OTHER WAYS FOR PERSONNEL TO ACCOMPLISH THEIR TASK:

- .. Adopt a "logo" so that all of the things that personnel does are identified with that committee.
- .. Open the first 15 minutes of each personnel committee meeting to any chapter member who would like to come, if only to observe.
- .. Any personnel action taken should be applied fairly, swiftly and consistently!
- .. Be confidential.
- .. Be positive!

THE KAPPA WAY

Editor's Note: This issue sees the conclusion of the series on chapter programming, which has been a feature of the Campus Highlights section during the 1980-82 biennium. As you can see, space limitations allowed only brief descriptions of each aspect of the total chapter program, but hopefully the readers of The Key have been able to see the total picture — the need for coordination in programming toward a central chapter goal and the rewards from the efforts of planning at the beginning of the year. . . and the opportunities for more creativity. My thanks go to the chapter program chairmen and the Council officers who have supplied these articles for your enjoyment and benefit.

Personnel is a challenging, yet rewarding area of chapter life. By having a representative committee and by following the 6-point program, all will be well. . . trust me!

Kappas ACCENTUATE THE POSITIVE at Gamma Kappa chapter (William and Mary) as they "celebrate sisterhood" in a multi-faceted way. On February 13th, the chapter gathered with Fraternity President Sally Moore Nitschke, BN - Ohio State, to initiate 22 new members into their chapter. After initiation there was a rededication of Gamma Kappa's house. The chapter had their house renovated last year for the first time since it was built in the 1920's. The dedication ceremony was a perfect way to celebrate their beautiful "new" home.

That evening everyone gathered for a very special "Celebration of Sisterhood" banquet, for which members spoke on the pledge, active, and alumna phases of Kappa life and the chapter's singing group provided entertainment. Also, our Fraternity President presented a talk on the meaning of Kappa sisterhood through the years and awarded the chapter's outstanding alumna award. It was truly a time of positive feelings — of sharing the special bonds which keep Kappas forever strong.

Barbara Harding Hager, I'K - William and Mary, is seen holding the silver award which honored her as Gamma Kappa's Outstanding Alumna for her time, service and dedication to the chapter.

Maeve Howett, EE - Emory, winner of the Bobby Jones Scholarship (for graduate studies at St. Andrew's, Fife, Scotland, in British literature), Mortar Board vice president, College Council vice president, Who's Who in American College Students, Emory Hunger Awareness president, Senior Society (Emory honor society), and Resident Adviser.

Barbara Buzzell, TK - William and Mary, philanthropy chairman for Panhellenic while serving as junior Panhellenic representative for her chapter and currently chapter rush chairman. Under her supervision, Panhellenic raised enough money to send several children from the adolescent ward at Eastern State Mental Hospital to Camp Easter Seals for a week this summer.

Liz Wecker, Δ - Akron, currently Panhellenic public relations chairman, past chapter marshal and pledge class secretary. She has also served on chapter personnel, ritual, and public relations committees.

Leesa Novelli, EΨ - California at Santa Barbara, Panhellenic secretary, Dean's List, Order of Omega (Greek honor society), UCSB tour guide, Volunteer Adopt-a-Grandparent Program, Associated Students Committee on Leisure Services, internship with the Santa Barbara public defender, and an internship with the Santa Barbara court services.

Mary Isaacson, ΓH - Washington State, 1982 Greek Woman of the Year, WSU Crimson rally squad (two years), 1980 and 1981 chapter member of the year, chapter president, chapter house manager, chapter Homecoming chairman, 1979 chapter pledge of the year, and yearbook staff.

Robin Mills, ΔΔ - Miami U., a third year editor of the yearbook, currently assistant editor of Miami's yearbook, a member of CAC's Concert Board (a group which promotes large scale musical concerts), synchronized swim team, chapter public relations chairman and social chairman, and honored by alumnae with the Susan W. Rockwood award given to a junior for alumnae relations and achievements in any field in which the individual participates.

Actively Speaking . . .

Jean Ohman, EΨ - California at Santa Barbara, one of five students selected for Associated Students Judicial Council and will be serving an internship in Washington, D.C. this summer under the Capital Hill program, served as pledge class president, member of chapter personnel committee, rush counselor, chapter scholarship chairman and marshal, and actively involved in Kappa's colonization at UC Irvine.

Karen Targgart, BN - Ohio State, accepted to Ohio State University Medical School with a high academic record and after spending the last two summers working extensively in OSU research laboratories, raises and works with chinchillas using them for many of her research projects, and is an accomplished equestrian, enjoying English horseback riding and jumping for pleasure and competition.

Elizabeth Wyruchowski, IT - Whitman, is seen discussing pending legislation with State Sen. Alan Bluechel, R-Kirkland, for whom she interns. Her studies include French, Russian and political economy, and her interests are community organization and international development.

Lynn Byrnes, $\Delta\Delta$ - Miami U., was awarded her chapter's Real McCoy award, given by the junior class to a senior who works behind the scenes in Kappa and is concerned for the welfare of the chapter. She is sales director of the campus newspaper, The Miami Student, and has interned with the Cleveland Plaindealer.

Sarah Beeson, $\Delta\Delta$ - Miami U., was voted outstanding junior in her chapter by senior actives. She was pledge chairman and has co-chaired fourth period party during rush, is a member of SPURS (junior service honorary) and of Kappa Delta Pi (education honorary).

Kristin Jensen, $\Delta\Delta$ - Miami U., recipient of her chapter's Outstanding Junior award in 1980, was honored this year with the Outstanding Senior award. She has been chapter pledge chairman and first vice president. She is also involved in the Center for Community Involvement's Adopt-a-Grandparent program, was on the 1981 Little Sibs Weekend committee, was tapped as one of the first members of Order of Omega (Greek honorary) and Mortar Board, was honored by Kappa Delta Pi (education honorary) and by Phi Upsilon Omicron (home economics honorary).

Wendy Semans, $\Delta\Delta$ - Miami U., received her chapter's Peggy Keleher award, given to a junior for chapter enthusiasm and spirit. She has been second vice president, on the chapter programming committee, assistant producer of the Miss Miami Pageant and second period party co-chairman for rush 1981, is a member of the AERho (communications honorary), and belongs to the sailing club and the committee for Massive Voter Registration.

At the University of South Carolina, Epsilon Kappa Adriene Thomas has been elected secretary of the student government for 1982-83, which also makes her chairman of both the student organization licensing commission (which allocates funds to licensed campus organizations, such as the student newspaper) and the codifications committee (which deals with the bylaws and constitutions of the student government). She has also been active in Panhellenic as secretary and presently as rush counselor director, chapter scholarship chairman, a member of the S.C. state legislature, College Republicans, and Pi Delta Phi (French honorary).

Selected co-chairman for Greek Week at South Carolina is another Epsilon Kappa, Janet Edens. She is responsible for selecting committee heads for the various events, such as sorority/fraternity spirit and olympic-type games, and for generally "overseeing" the week with her IFC co-chairman. Janet has been Junior Panhellenic delegate, serving as secretary/treasurer of Junior Panhellenic, and has been Panhellenic delegate and written for the Greek newsletter, as well as for the student newspaper.

Denise Dreiseszun, $E\Delta$ - Arizona State, serves as student body president for the sixth largest university in the nation, a job which includes management of a \$750,000 budget, direction of a 45-member professional and student staff, and supervision of student services and programs for 40,000 students. She is also chairman of the Arizona Students Association executive committee and a registered lobbyist with the Arizona legislature. She had been Special Events Board Director for Associated Students, and as such initiated Alcohol Awareness Week and Alcohol Awareness Conference, for which ASU received statewide and national recognition. She chartered and served as first president for BACCHUS (Boost Alcohol Consciousness on Campuses for the Health of University Students), a national student organization. Her other accomplishments are many: named one of the top 11 college women in America in 1981 by Glamour Magazine, National Conference of Christians and Jews Fellowman Award for Arizona, 1980 Homecoming Queen, Who's Who Among Colleges and Universities, Outstanding Young Women of America, International Youth in Achievement, Young Community Leaders of America, Mayor's Youth Commission, Panhellenic philanthropy chairman, Omicron Delta Kappa (leadership), Beta Gamma Sigma (business), Blue Key (scholastic), Alpha Lambda Delta (scholastic), chapter marshal, scholarship chairman, public relations chairman, and many, many other campus and community boards and committees.

Epsilon Kappa (South Carolina) Kappas made their television debut last December as they participated in the South Carolina Educational Television Fall Telethon. (SCETV raises money twice a year to buy programs for public educational television.) In fact, the 20 Kappas enjoyed answering the telephones and taking pledges so much they did it again in March for the Spring Telethon. Seen here "on the job" are Epsilon Kappa Kappas (from left) front row - Janet Balogh, Nina Myrick, Cathy Roche, Myra Fraley, Christi Edge, and Caroline Smoak; second row - Denise Garmen, Anne Bull, Anna Faulkes, Betsy Caukin, Susan Maxim, Cathie Keaner, Robin Fisher, and Lisa Lopez; third row - Vicky Grooms, Suzanne Fisher, Wanda Whitfield, Janet Edens, Cheryl Fetzner, and Ann Aughtry.

Vivian Phillips, $E\Psi$ - California at Santa Barbara, has been on the Dean's List for four years, chapter house chairman and philanthropy chairman, Alpha Lambda Delta (scholastic), Friendship Senior Day Care Center for three years, Audiologic Associates, project leader for Communities Affairs Board, Special Education, Voluntary Referred Services, Speech and Hearing Department Tutor, and voluntary audiologist.

Penny Rhoades, Σ - Nebraska, is a member of the Scarlet and Cream Singers (the University Swing Choir), University Singers, Greek Week committee, Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Eta Sigma, Sigma Alpha Iota (music honorary), Mu Epsilon Nu (teachers college honorary), and was chosen third runner-up in the Miss Lincoln Pageant.

Kappas on the Air — for the past year, the voice of Mary Anne Barlow, Δ - Indiana, has been heard on radio station WTTS, where she has done news writing, editing, reporting, on-the-air broadcasting, and public affairs programming. In Missouri, Suzan Akyol and Jann Carl, Θ - Missouri, are actively involved in broadcast programs aired on Channel 8 in Columbia. Jann hosts a weekly half hour magazine program and Suzan anchors the 10 o'clock news Monday through Friday. Suzan was one of six national winners of the annual Radio and Television News Directors Foundation scholarship, the first Missouri University student ever to win, and has won the Edward R. Murrow Scholarship, selected by the broadcast faculty at the University.

Music in the Air at Butler — Barb Bates, Cindy Bowden, and Jenni Piercefield, M - Butler, are members of the Butler University Ballet, one of the few university companies which tour. And Carolyn and Laura Wesley, M - Butler, are in the 50-member Butler University Symphony.

Kappa is well represented in the Kansas State Singers by having three Gamma Alpha Kappas among the six women in the group, which represents the campus in various performances across the country. Lisa Southworth (left) is Kappa songleader and University Sing director, was Miss Hutchinson 1979-80 and in the top ten finalists for the 1980 Miss Kansas pageant, and is in her third year with Singers. Cindy Shaft (center) is a member of Kappa Pickers and University Sing, participated in Greek Follies, was a Lambda Chi chariot race rider, and has been with the Singers two years. Marsha Adams (right) has been chapter assistant pledge chairman and marshal, a Kappa Picker, in University Sing, and in intramurals, as well as being a K-State cheerleader last year.

Theta chapter Kappas captured first place in the overall competition and in the stage design for University of Missouri's Greek Week 1981. They teamed with Alpha Tau Omega to produce "The Adventures of Jacques Clousseau and the Time Machine," which took the audience through 17th century medieval and World War II France.

At the University of Nebraska, Sigma chapter Kappas worked with Acacia Fraternity to put on a melodrama, which included various acts and the "Perils of Penelope Palmbranch." Their performance helped raise $1600 for the Shriner's Burn Center in Houston (Texas) and Lincoln's (Nebraska) St. Elizabeth Burn-Trauma Unit.

Michell Sauer, M - Butler, has many starring roles to her name: Cinderella, in "Cinderella," Vera Charles in "Mame," a singer-dancer in a western show at an amusement park near Cleveland, Ohio, and other roles in "Getting Out," "Dracula," "Bye Bye Birdie," "Hello Dolly," "Guys and Dolls," and "Peter Pan."

Sue Verducci (left), E Ψ - California at Santa Barbara, is seen with actor Michael Douglas (right) at a reception following a performance of Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing," in which she starred as Hero. Sue plans to pursue acting as a career, and she follows Douglas's auspicious lead, as he also appeared in the play when a student at UCSB and went on to achieve acclaim in the popular "Streets of San Francisco" television series. Also present were Rona Sande, head of the drama department, and Larry Hoffman with the Los Angeles Provisional Theater, a long-time friend of Douglas'. (Photo courtesy of the Santa Barbara News-Press.)

Libby Trotter, EM - Clemson, was chosen third runner-up during Homecoming activities at Clemson. The student body selected the Queen and her court from 10 finalists.

Shelly Nordbrock, Σ - Nebraska, was chosen Homecoming queen finalist, is a counselor for Nebraska Human Resources Foundation, tutors in the International Student Program, serves on the Greek Week publicity committee, and has been chapter rush chairman and pledge chairman.

Libby Rumpf, X - Minnesota, was chosen 1981 Homecoming queen at the University of Minnesota, the first Greek woman in about five years to hold this title.

With her honor she also became a life member of the alumni association and won an expense-paid trip to Tampa, Florida. She is involved in volunteer work with disabled children at the Mayo Clinic, is active in most sports and plays intramural soccer, is a clothes designer, was involved in getting a yearbook back on campus, and is chapter registrar.

Amy Schwentker, ΓΔ - Purdue, was crowned Purdue's 1981 Homecoming queen, is a member of the 1980-81 Purdue crew team, and is chapter marshal.

Pam Fritz, ΓΚ - William and Mary, was selected 1981 junior Homecoming princess, has been active in the Dorm Council as president and social chairman, began her second year as a Resident Assistant, and is her chapter's senior Panhellenic representative.

Maid to be Queen

Debbie Boner, ΓΟ - Wyoming, was her university's 1981 Homecoming queen and also represented Wyoming at the Fiesta Bowl in San Diego in December.

Jann Carl, Θ - Missouri, is the present Maid of Cotton, a title which demands much work. For the next few months she will be touring the world on behalf of the industry, having made her first official appearance at the Cotton Bowl game in Dallas. She is spotlighted at gala receptions featured on national television and radio programs as well as appearing in fashion shows from Europe to the Orient. She had to select an $8,000 all-cotton wardrobe for her touring. She had won the title based on poise, personability, beauty, and being articulate. As a broadcast journalism major, Jann was well prepared for interviews, and the judges were especially impressed with her extemporaneous talk on how today's college campuses promote more individuality than conformity. Her development as an individual has included such honors as being Junior Panhellenic president, Missouri female tiger mascot, Omicron Delta Kappa vice president, 1981 Homecoming queen finalist, and a member of the Alumni Association student board.

Suzanne Stewart, ΔΡ - Mississippi, was a Maid of the Court of the Natchez Pilgrimage.

Basketball at Butler — Jayne Good, Beth Piepenbrink, and René Evans, M - Butler, are members of the Butler University women's basketball team, which finished the season as one of the top eight teams in the nation. They won both state and the Midwest Regional Division Five game, the first time an Indiana team won the latter. For the fifth consecutive year, the team captured the Indianapolis Inner City Tournament by defeating four other Indianapolis universities. They ended their season with a 23-3 win-loss record!

On the Butler faculty — Anne Sullivan, M - Butler, is not only a full-time student but also a full-time faculty member, for she has taught gymnastics to community children for Butler University. Many of her 150 students are deaf.

Zeta Beta is the first to be first — Last fall, Zeta Beta chapter received the first intramural trophies ever awarded at Lafayette College for field hockey. After placing first in basketball and second in swimming during the winter, they were looking for a clean sweep after soccer and track.

Amy Stifel and Holly Vaughn, ΔΦ - Bucknell, are leading point scorers for Bucknell women's swim team, a winning squad in Division II. Holly, who swims the butterfly and individual medley, and Amy, who swims the breaststroke and freestyle have qualified for the women's East Coast Conference meet in Virginia.

Janice Nelson and Sheryl Hudson, EI - Puget Sound, glow during another successful season of Kappa powder-puff football.

Linda Fillingham, ΔΦ - Bucknell, has been on the varsity cheerleading squad for three years, this year serving as co-captain. She is also chapter second vice president.

The Magic Number is Five! Epsilon Kappa (South Carolina) sisterhood often runs deeper than ordinary sorority ties. Actually, you could say that sisterhood runs in the family, as Epsilon Kappa has five sets of actual sisters currently in the chapter. Left to right (older sisters in back row, named first): Cheryl and Wendy Fetzer, Jennifer and Jill Jensen, Lee and Margaret Green, Jamie and Amy Kneale, and Robin and Suzanne Fisher.

At Theta chapter in Missouri, Caroline Decker is the fifth member of her family to be a Theta Kappa. Her aunt Kathy Yeagain Diggs, grandmother Mary Yeagain O'Reilly, great-aunt Winnie Williams Sparks, and great-great-aunt Helen Williams Squires, all spent four years each there. All of Caroline's family came to Columbia last fall to celebrate Founders Day, and there was much reminiscing about past days at Theta chapter.

Fleur-de-lis Fireside Rug

The "Stitchers" of San Antonio are making a needlepoint rug. Proceeds from this raffle project will aid both local and national philanthropies with a certain percentage of earnings for the Kappa Heritage Museum. Six golden fleur-de-lis on a shield of Kappa blues, with white background, garland of green and blue leaves and a border encloses the 4' x 6' rug. The rug represents over 1,000 hours of work - 13 chapters and 12 provinces - even a descendant of a Kappa founder has helped. For information on how you can be involved write:

Kappa Kappa Gamma HERITAGE MUSEUM

Update

By Catherine
Schroeder
Graf
BN - Ohio State
Museum Director

Gifts to the Heritage Museum arrive in many shapes and sizes. Contributions of great value often are sent in standard envelopes. An important anniversary was commemorated by Sara Walker Jones, who transferred stock to the Museum in honor of her chapter's 100th anniversary. Phi Chapter was established at Boston University May 10, 1882, providing distinguished Fraternity leadership and service for 89 years until its closing in 1971. Richard J. and Anne Elizabeth Alexander price, BE - Texas, also have donated stock to the Museum.

Photographs, programs, letters and notes of interest, historic insignia and jewelry are sent in small packages. Large pieces of furniture, such as the chest of drawers from Ann Katherine Carr Carter, BN - Ohio State, are delivered by truck or van.

Interesting items also come in reels. Betty Miller Brown Muir, M - Butler, has loaned her unique collection of convention films to the Museum to be copied for its archives. Betty was Delta Province vice president 1947-1951.

A variety of composition and construction is represented in the assortment of inherited treasures presented to the Museum recently by Isabel Hatton Simmons, BN - Ohio State. ("Issy" was 1949-1969 editor of The Key.) These include oil portraits and water colors by family members; antique frames; cut crystal; molded glassware from the estate of Clara O. Pierce, executive secretary-treasurer of the Fraternity 1929-1969; porcelain hand-painted by Issy's mother; silverplated hollowware; Victorian furniture; and a hand-decorated trunk that may have held the worldly possessions of an early immigrant to America.

Whatever their form or the means by which they are transported all gifts to the Heritage Museum are greatly appreciated. Unfortunately we haven't the space to show each of them, but a selection of recent acquisitions is pictured on these pages.

China dishes hand painted by friends and relatives of Isabel Hatton Simmons, BN - Ohio State. Family pictures in background.

Self portrait by Isabel Simmons's aunt, Celenda Hatton. Miss Hatton resided in the Museum's small parlour, which she rented from the Columbus Women's Club during its ownership of the building. She died there in 1936.

Silver candelabra, cake plate, and tea service presented to the Museum by Isabel Simmons.

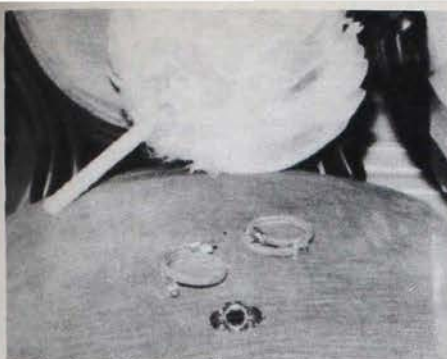

Water color, four figures in a boat, by Belle Kinsman Hatton, Isabel Simmons' mother.

Victorian side chair and brass and marble plant stand from the estate of Marcia Pembroke Steffan, BN - Ohio State. These pieces were given to the Museum by her son, Andrew Steffan.

Early 19th Century mahogany chest, the gift of Ann Katherine Carr Carter, BN - Ohio State. The silver 1870 coffee urn on the top is from Frances Winter Utley, IPI - Alabama. The Chippendale vegetable dish, trays, and gravy boat were purchased from Marcia Steffan's estate and given to the Museum by Margaret Jacob Dombey, BN - Ohio State.

Jewelry from Mary A. "Gray" Graham Roberts, Y - Northwestern. Egret feather fan carried on wedding day in 1879 by the grandmother of Beverly Estabrook Essel, ΔΔ - Miami.

Hand painted hatpin holder and hatpins sent to the Museum by Dolores DeLathouwer in the name of her daughter Lynn, EH - Auburn.

Beaded neckbands from Bev Essel's grandmother's estate.

Tinsel paintings in antique frames given to the Museum by Betty Margileth Diefenbach, M - Butler, the artist. Betty has specialized in this art form (reverse painting on glass) which was very popular in Victorian times.

Circa 1825 hand dyed, hand woven coverlet presented by descendants of the original owner, William Engle: Gladys Hensley Engle, Frances Engle Wilson, and Pamela Wilson Massey, all BΘ - Oklahoma.

Early 20th Century Ladies' Home Journal magazines and books printed in the 19th Century from Jane McGavran Shelton, BN - Ohio State.

Resource Items Added

Two resource items have been recently added to the Choices Price List in the section under Chapter Career Packets:

- "The Grass Is Always Greener. . .", a 12 min. slide/tape program focusing on the early stages of career investigation (excellent for use with pledge classes), $3.00 for postage & handling.

- Career by Choice Not Chance!, program outline for a chapter careers week, including detailed suggestions for implementation, 8 pgs., $.90.

HOME NETWORKS

Women who must work at home due to small children are forming their own networks for communication! Typists, secretaries, editors, writers, and others who can perform their jobs while at home are joining together to share information, support, and work referrals. Some community housewives even circulate their own newsletters among the network members. Does this opportunity for at-home work sound interesting to you? Why not begin by having a coffee of interested neighbors and friends who share your same professional talents. Then publicize your combined expertise to community businesses. Voila! Your own Home Network!

REENTRY STUDENTS

More and more adults are returning to college for additional career training as evidenced by the following excerpts:

"An older student is no rarity at Ohio State University. More than one-fourth of the student body is 25 years old or older. At nights and on weekends the percentage is even higher." (Columbus Dispatch, Mar. 14, 1982)

"The ranks of such students are growing fast. In just the eight years from 1972 to 1980, the total number of college students who are over age 24 increased by 54 percent to almost four million. The number of WOMEN students who are over 24 zoomed by a whopping 118 percent to almost 2.2 million students." (Better Homes and Gardens, January, 1982)

Contemplating reentering college to upgrade your credentials? - You are not alone!

DRESSING FOR THE INTERVIEW

Your clothes should enhance you, not detract or steal attention from your face, the focal point for the interviewer.

Suit - Best choice for interview; should be conservative; can be mixed and matched for different looks.

Dress - Should be tailored; patterns OK if small and quiet; no lace, plaids, or splashy patterns.

Pants - Not for interview; can be construed as too casual and unprofessional.

Skirt and blouse - Should be combined with jacket for a more finished, professional appearance.

Shoes - Closed toe for interview; no patterned or colored hose; polished - scuffed shoes can ruin the effect of a total outfit.

Hat - Not for interview - too distracting.

Jewelry - Should compliment the total look, not attract attention.

A few days before the interview, check your outfit for loose buttons, threads, holes, or spots. Polish those scuffed shoes!

Remember . . . If the interviewer sees your clothes before seeing you, they are overdone. If the interviewer remembers your clothes rather than you, you've lost the job!

Loretta McCarthy Leads at American Express

by Carol Cheney Williamson, ΓΨ - Maryland
Features Editor

Eleven billion dollars ($11,000,000,000) is the huge sum which passes through three divisions managed by this Kappa business executive. Loretta May McCarthy, ΓΖ - Arizona, is Vice President of Industry Marketing and Retail Development, U.S., for the American Express Card. She manages the domestic retail business of 150,000 stores, 45,000 restaurants, and performing arts which honor the American Express Card.

Loretta feels she owes a great deal of her career success to the Kappa Scholarship Program, which made it possible for her to earn a Master's degree in business administration (MBA) in 1971 at the University of Colorado. She was the only woman in the group to earn that degree then.

Kappa Kappa Gamma has played an influential role in Loretta's personal development. Her three sisters are all Kappas from Beta Phi (Montana) who eventually transferred to Arizona colleges. Colleen McCarthy Flood, two years older than Loretta, initiated her into Gamma Zeta Chapter at the University of Arizona. Her other Kappa sisters are Kathleen McCarthy Carroll and Geraldine McCarthy Meenan. They share a Sigma Chi brother, and their parents reside in Scottsdale, Arizona.

Loretta served as president of her chapter. She says, "Serving as an officer in our sorority gives us a chance to express leadership at a fairly young point in life. Working with people is an extremely valuable personnel skill which can be used in the business world. Volunteer jobs in alumnae associations also afford this chance. You can begin evaluating why you are what you are."

After graduation from the University of Arizona, Loretta was chosen to be a Kappa Field Secretary. "I thoroughly enjoyed visiting 32 chapters during the year," she remembers. "The Greek system was being questioned from without during that time, but the chapters took themselves very seriously. It was in every way a good experience for me. I had autonomy and could develop my point of view, decision making and counseling ability."

While working toward her MBA, Loretta was the Graduate Counselor for Beta Mu Chapter at the University of Colorado. On campus she was interviewed and subsequently hired by the Dayton-Hudson Corporation in the field of retailing. "I made the decision to start my career in retailing for three reasons: Retailing is a field which gives you an opportunity to run your own business fairly early in the game; it is noted for being upwardly mobile, rapidly changing, and good people get ahead fast; and, finally retailing was an environment where women had probably made the greatest progress to date."

In the eight years she was with Dayton-Hudson in Minneapolis, Loretta was trained in eight different jobs, including fashion buying, division merchandise manager, and managing groups of buyers. Since she is a career-oriented person, Loretta made the choice not to combine her job with husband and family. She concentrated on developing her management ability.

"Businesswomen should develop the skill to study the managerial styles of everyone around them. Strong managerial ability doesn't happen by accident. The best managers I have known work at it, study it, experiment and adjust as the environment changes," Loretta said in a speech to the Women in Management Conference held at Cornell University in December, 1981.

"My own managerial style is very much a product of (1) my environment as it has changed over time, (2) an understanding of my skills as they have developed, and (3) the times (that is, the particular years that I have been in business)."

"Women occupying middle and upper management, and indeed, corporate boardrooms, are a new phenomenon. We are still the new kids on the block. Not only do we have to go through the practical rigors of business life, we also experience it more intensely because it's been tough for men adjusting to the concept of women as business peers. And if that weren't enough, women are different from men particularly in the way society has raised and conditioned us."

"Whether it is cultural or genetic, women seem to have arrived in the business world with well-developed skills in the areas of sensitivity to people. Those skills, when appropriately rolled into an overall managerial style, become an invaluable tool for a woman in business. I'm firmly convinced that for anyone to have the insight to manage another person, and even more, a staff of people, she must have a fairly clear understanding of her own skills. That includes not only technical skills, but also conceptual skills, and especially important, human skills."

"Although I'd love to convince you that my move to American Express was part of my grand scheme to move into the financial services world, I must admit to you that it was a fluke! It was literally a case of getting a phone call out of the blue from an executive search company. American Express was looking for someone with a retail background and with well-developed managerial skills. It sounded like a great opportunity, as well as a significant risk. I'm a risk taker, so here I am."

Loretta moved from Minneapolis to the upper eastside of Manhattan. She lives 30 to 40 minutes by subway or bus from her office in the Wall Street area of New York City. She says, "There is no place like New York for cultural opportunities. I love to go to the theatre and the ballet, and of course, I charge my tickets on my American Express Card — a good excuse!"

American Express hired Loretta to develop a retail strategy to broaden the variety of establishments who honor their credit card. She has a staff of people working for her, and she has responsibilities in many areas. As well as actively training people to call on new accounts, Loretta must work in marketing, advertising, sales, and trade relations within the industry. She develops new services to help businesses with their management, and conducts seminars. Her department also publishes a newsletter to all restaurants which are members of American Express. She worked with the Ogilvie & Mather Advertising Agency, which developed the well-known phrase now identified with the American Express Card, "Don't leave home without it!"

Loretta feels that American Express should be commended for giving women good job opportunities. She believes that the sheer numbers of women in the workforce are helping to overcome the phenomenon of dehumanization in business. Women are helping business to develop greater sensitivity to consumers' wants and needs.

Even though women are making great strides in the business world, many of them still have no credit of their own. Women make the majority of credit card purchases in department stores nationwide, yet most have no credit histories. It's almost as if they are "invisible" in the credit world. Many have simply not applied for credit, relying instead on credit carried and reported in their husbands' names.

Recent changes in the law make it easier for married women to build a credit record. Loretta agrees that "You can't begin too soon to establish your own credit identity, whatever your marital status." As a single woman starting a career, your need for credit may seem minimal at first, but it will grow as your responsibilities grow. As a married woman, you may suddenly find yourself on your own — ready access to credit may be essential.

Under the Federal Fair Credit Reporting Act & Equal Credit Opportunity Act, you have the right to:

1. Obtain credit in your own name if you meet creditors' criteria;
2. Use someone other than your husband as co-signer if one is needed;
3. Refuse to answer questions about your plans for having or raising children;
4. Keep your own accounts after marriage, divorce, or widowhood as long as you meet creditors' criteria;
5. Know the specific reason your application for credit is rejected;
6. Present information to creditors showing that your husband's credit rating, if it is bad, does not necessarily mean that you are unwilling to pay;
7. Have public assistance, alimony, pension and child support considered as any other income;
8. Have records at credit bureaus in your own name for accounts you share with your husband;
9. Know what information credit bureaus have in your credit file;
10. Demand that any incorrect information in your file be changed;
11. Have your side of the story placed in credit bureau files if unfavorable information cannot be eliminated.

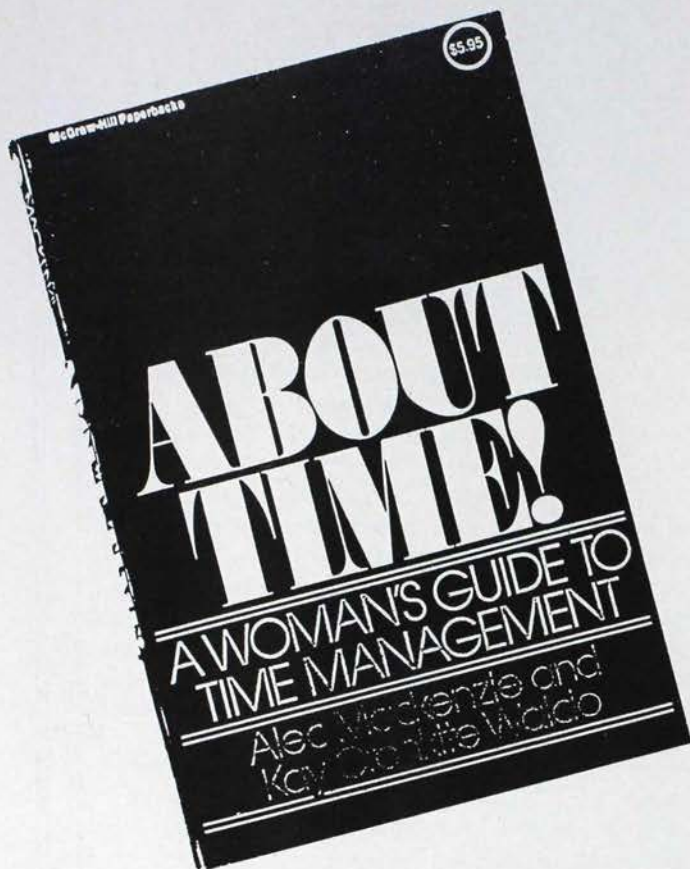

It is not difficult to start a credit history. If you have never used credit before, you can open a savings or checking account in your name, acquire credit or charge cards in your name, or establish a credit line at your bank.

If you are married, you can advise stores or other creditors you want shared accounts reported in your name as well as your husband's — such as Mary Jones and John Jones. You should check the credit bureau to make sure you're on file, and that shared accounts in your husband's file are listed in your file, too. When applying for credit, inform the lender of all accounts you share with your husband, even if the credit cards show only his name.

If you are no longer married, you can still apply for credit on the basis of accounts you used to share with your husband.

Women are assuming positions of greater responsibility and decision-making that increasingly call for on-the-job travel. According to a study commissioned by the Air Transport Commission, U.S. women take more than 28 million business trips a year. This is another reason to have credit or charge cards available.

For more information about women's credit and travel, Loretta recommends two booklets written by American Express: "The Business Woman's Travel Guide," and "Woman's Credit Rights." These are available from the American Express Company, 125 Broad Street, New York, NY 10004.

ABOUT TIME! A Woman's Guide to Time Management. Written by Alec Mackenzie and Kay Cronkite Waldo, Ω - Kansas, Published by McGraw-Hill Paperbacks, 1981.

This book on time management is tailored to the needs of today's woman. There are hundreds of time-saving strategies provided within the pages to help you effectively reach realistic personal and professional goals, with a minimum of hassle.

Whether you're working at a job, at home, or as a volunteer, this book stresses the conditioning, perceptions, expectations, and needs that make your time management problems different from men's.

Here are no-fail techniques for work and home that tell you how to: discover your top ten timewasters — defeat the paperwork monster — say no — get rid of the superwoman syndrome — double your decisiveness — unclutter your environment — enlist help at home — tame the telephone — delegate — and otherwise set attainable performance goals and reach them.

Alec Mackenzie is the author of the bestseller, The Time Trap and Kay Cronkite Waldo is a Kansas City, Missouri Council Member and manages her own consulting firm (she received the Kappa Alumnae Achievement Award in June). Both have conducted time-management seminars throughout the country.

THE COMPLETE RÉSUMÉ GUIDE, by Marian Faux, ΓΔ - Purdue. Monarch Press, New York 1980.

This book has two purposes — the first is a guide as to how to use a résumé to sell oneself — what does and does not belong in a résumé. Secondly it is a sourcebook and permanent record for personal use. Several chapters contain forms to keep on oneself to identify career objectives. There is a large section on sample résumés — a valuable source to anyone embarking on a career.

There is an emphasis in this publication on creativity — the idea that a résumé can take many forms, and the fact that one's personal style can be reflected in his approach to job search. The proper format and content are illustrated, with an emphasis on a proper presentation.

Marian Faux is a free lance writer, and author of several books: (Executive Etiquette will be reviewed in the next issue of The Key). She is currently working on a book on childless women, and one on freelancing. She lives in Manhattan, New York City.

CHRISTMAS PANTOMIME, by Agnes Billane, ΓΩ - Denison, Vantage Press, New York 1981.

CHRISTMAS PANTOMIME is a collection of short verse plays written by the author, over the years, for her family. Now, with everyone grown and gone from home, she is sharing her delightful creations.

The verses stand alone — but the addition of pantomime and drama bring to life a myriad of characters — smugglers, highwaymen and gypsies. All the plays are related to the Christmas Story and are meant to be performed at home during the holiday season. They can easily be adapted to any classroom.

The author and her husband now live in Northern California in a hilltop house with a view of the sea.

SELL YOURSELF, The Career Handbook for Canadian University Students and Prospective Students, by Theresa Goulet, ΓΥ - British Columbia. Atgood Publications Lts, Calgary, Alberta, 1982.

For any student who has ever wanted information about careers, but did not know where to look: SELL YOURSELF offers information gathered from extensive research and a nationwide survey of employers of Canadian University graduates. It is a useful tool, however, for graduates from any nation.

Included are descriptions of 137 different careers suitable for university graduates and how to prepare for them now, how to find out about job vacancies, tips on résumé writing, and how to make yourself "promotable" once you've landed a job.

The author conducted extensive research, involving contacting over 400 employers and 300 organizations involved in career planning. The information supplied is of a very practical and useful nature.

Copies can be ordered for $9.95 each (prepaid) from Atgood Publications Ltd., 401 Varsity Estates Bay N. W. Alberta, Canada, T3B 2W7.

Mary Edna Travis Branch, BA - Michigan, is regional consumer relations manager for The Sperry and Hutchinson Company, Inc., (S & H green stamps) in the southeast. She has been honored as 1980 North Carolina Marketing and Distributive Education Leader of the Year. In 1982 the Young Homemakers of Virginia awarded her honorary membership in recognition of her contribution to education for enriched family living and to the program of the organization. She is a member of numerous civic and professional organizations, has lectured widely and appears frequently on radio and television. In recognition of her outstanding community service, Mary Edna received the Southeastern Regional Citizenship Award from S & H.

Mary Edna has a married son and daughter, Susan Branch Ellis, ΔY - Georgia, and five grandchildren and is proud of her family. However, she had many teasing phone calls from friends some years ago, chiding her for depriving them of the opportunity to visit her in the White House as the nation's first lady. It seems that Mary Edna dated one Gerald Ford while in college and they are shown here in the yard of the Kappa house . . . Gerry Ford, Mary Edna Travis (Branch), an unidentified Kappa and date, Kitty Byers (Weitzel) and Katy Williams (Smith), all BA - Michigan.

Marjorie Waters Longley, BB^A - St. Lawrence, has been named director of public affairs for the New York Times Company. She will work with community leaders and company executives in the 28 cities and towns where the company has affiliated operations "to assure that the Times Company and its affiliates continue to enhance their roles as good participating citizens."

Marjorie has been director of circulation sales, concentrating on the development of home-delivery sales of The Times in New York City, its suburbs and Boston and Washington. Formerly a sports and feature writer for The Lockport Union Sun and Journal and a researcher with Reuben Donnelly, she is co-author of America's Taste, published by Simon & Schuster.

Marlene Holwadel, ΔK - Miami, was recognized as one of Ten Outstanding Women of the Year by the Cincinnati Enquirer. Discovering that city parks were in bad shape, she and a friend began digging and planting when the city and the parks department each denied responsibility. A local philanthropist saw them working and wrote a check for the materials they needed. From that small start, the Park Board Volunteers has grown to a group of 150 members and innovative programs such as Adopt-A-Plot have attracted people to plant and maintain small plots in public grounds. Volunteer groups from other major cities have visited to learn how Cincinnati's parks have been improved.

Susan Coburn Schmidt, ΓΩ - Denison, and Laurel White Howell, ΔΓ - Michigan State, share Kappa sisterhood, the same birthday and experience as instructors in aerobic dancing. Susan is area coordinator for Jackie Sorenson Aerobic Dancing in Cincinnati and Laurel is an instructor trainer. This was an especially exciting year for them professionally because of a nationwide series of danceathons put on by aerobic dancing to raise money for the Special Olympics. It was a giant effort and a huge success with close to $4 million raised nationally.

Laurel (right) made a special presentation to Susan from Special Olympics to thank her for acting as chairwoman of the Cincinnati danceathon which raised $12,000.

Loula Harris

Marilyn Erickson

Jean Alice Small

Loula Ujffly Harris, BΞ - Texas, continues to serve her community tirelessly, involved in numerous civic organizations despite her 82 years of age. She has served on the library commission for the Austin Public Library for 44 years and continues to do so as a branch services consultant. In honor of her dedication, she was awarded a citation by the Austin City Council proclaiming April 10, 1980, as Mrs. August Watkins Harris Day. She gives of herself once a week to the Next-to-New Shop, a church operated store, and sells cookbooks at the Austin Heritage Society's "1886 Socializing Parlor" restaurant twice a month. She is still actively involved in the Austin Women's Club, the Women's Architectural League, and was recently honored for her long-standing membership in the Texas Historical Society, as well as being a past member of the American History Club, the Settlement Club and the AAUW.

Her interest in Kappa has been equally outstanding. Loula has served as president of the Austin Alumnae Association, president of the BΞ House Board Association, received her 50 year pin in 1969 and was chosen as Austin's Outstanding Kappa in 1972. She continues her involvement in Kappa, attending meetings and cooking for the Kappa Kitchen fund raising project. Austin alumnae love and admire this fine lady who is such a good example of Kappa ideals and wish every alumnae group could be fortunate enough to have a Loula Harris in their midst.

Marilyn McDonald Erickson, Δ - Indiana, retired from her position as vice president for development of The Children's Medical Center of Dayton after ten years in which the center developed into one of the finest children's hospitals in Ohio. Dayton Magazine says that the hospital is a "Living, vital monument to the skills of Mrs. Erickson at raising funds," and the Ohio House of Representatives presented a commendation for her work.

Appointed by the governor to serve a five-year term on the Ohio Arts Council, Marilyn served two terms as secretary. Selected in 1980 as one of Dayton's Top Ten Women, she was also the first woman selected by Dayton Big Brother/Big Sister organization to receive their Annual Three Hundred & Four Award in 1980 and the only woman to date to serve as president of both the National Association for Hospital Development and the Dayton Philharmonic Orchestra Association.

With three daughters and their families in Dayton, Memphis and Santa Barbara, Marilyn plans to enjoy visiting with them, see the sights in places she has visited only as a busy working woman and spend time at her hobbies of tennis, bicycling, bridge, theatre arts and music. After taking some time to "just smell the flowers", she'll be back helping the many organizations in which she still takes a very active part. (Marilyn is also a former Gamma Province director of alumnae for Kappa.)

Jean Alice Shaver Small, I - DePauw, is the editor and publisher of The Daily Journal, Kankakee, IL, and president of the Small Newspaper Group, which includes four papers in Illinois, one each in Indiana, Minnesota and Iowa, and two in California. She has been named for the third time as a Pulitzer Prize juror; one of four from Illinois selected by Columbia University to submit nominations for the 1982 Pulitzer Prizes, considered the most prestigious awards in journalism.

A member of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, Jean Alice has also been active in local civic groups such as the hospital auxiliary, mental health board, symphony and historical societies, as well as taking an active role in several Chicago and state organizations. Her two sons and daughter are also in the publishing and journalism field.

Jane Good Fenn, Δ - Indiana, is Indiana State President of P.E.O., part owner and business manager of Rollins Home for Retarded Children in Cicero, IN, and has served as administrator there for five years. Active in church, hospital and YWCA volunteer work, she also served as campaign headquarters manager for Congressman Elwood Hillis for three campaigns.

Margaret Chaney Brown, $\Gamma\Lambda$ - Kansas, (right), received her 50 year pin from Josephine Skinner Hogarty, also $\Gamma\Lambda$ - the same person who pinned on Margaret's pledge pin and badge.

Our Beautiful Kappas

Franz Kafka said, "Youth is happy because it has the ability to see beauty. Anyone who keeps the ability to see beauty never grows old."

Those who have been members of Kappa Kappa Gamma for fifty years have grown in beauty, in our eyes, and life has been more beautiful for us because of them.

50 YEARS

Ruth Robertson Young, $\Gamma\Sigma$ - Manitoba, and Delta Dietz Cross, $\Gamma\Omega$ - Denison, received special Christmas presents when the Miami Alumnae Association honored them at the annual Christmas party.

Salem (OR) Alumnae Association honored Donna Edwards Eason, $\Delta\Gamma$ - Michigan State; Maxine Myers Claggett, $B\Omega$ - Oregon; Peggy Irene Goodfellow Drager, ΓM - Oregon State; Mary Emmett Fitzgerald Koza, $\Gamma\Xi$ - UCLA; Dorothy May Freeman Stickney, K - Hillsdale, with their fifty year pins.

Caroline King Tatum, Alice Rupard Candler, Elizabeth Garrard Kline, Margaret Taber Moore, all $\Gamma\Phi$ - SMU; May Irwin Badt, $B\Xi$ - Texas; Anna Henderson Wallace, Mary Louise Amis Baccus and (not pictured) Helen Farrington Joynes, all $\Gamma\Phi$ - SMU, received their 50 year pins at the Founders' Day Silver Tea of the Dallas Alumnae Association.
