Stepping into the Future

Sophocles, the great Greek dramatist said "One must wait until the evening to see how splendid the day has been." In the evening of my life I can look back and see how splendid the day has been. With over 60 years of membership in Kappa Kappa Gamma, I can know how splendid her first 100 years have been. The principles and ideals established by her founders have been exemplified by the wonderful company of women who have held high her standard through the years. There has been in these women a nobility common to all, a high sincerity of purpose.

As we close the books on the first century and look forward to the second, there are volumes of recorded minutes and Kappa KEYS which tell the story of Kappa Kappa Gamma's first uncertain steps, of the dreams of her mature years and the story of her cultural growth. In these records one can discover the diverse temperaments, opinions and tastes of her members and read of their brave forays into what was always considered a man's world.

Our young people today are more mature, more intelligent, more courageous than any young people the world has ever known. They have a message and they are determined to be heard. And I believe they should be heard. Change is necessary and healthy, change in political thought, change in government, change in education, change in fraternity aims and ambitions. We can never go back, we can't stand still, we must advance.

Change, growth and development do not mean discarding all that has gone before; it does not mean breaking with tradition. Rather growth and change means reevaluating new demands in this brave new world in which we live.

So, let us ask ourselves, "what should constitute a fraternity of the future," a fraternity existing in no ordinary times and the highway ahead no ordinary highway? I believe that our fraternity, having remained true to her principles and having embarked on such a thrilling program of rehabilitation of the handicapped, has once again justified her existence.

If each of you goes forward with the resolve that at all turns on your highway into the future you will do your best in scholarship, in character-building, in service and in faith, Kappa Kappa Gamma will be on the road to immortality. As we have received, we will gladly and generously give of ourselves and our substance. Then and only then can we deserve immortality.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

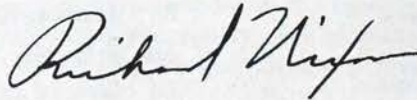

June 10, 1970

The centennial anniversary of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority is a fitting opportunity to review with pride the fine traditions and outstanding record of achievement of its members.

Your countless service activities and philanthropic programs attest to your continuing awareness of the responsibility of the American woman to put her beliefs and convictions into practice for the benefit of our society.

It is also an appropriate time to look to the future, encouraged by your past success, and to reaffirm the spirit of fellowship, integrity and humanity which have so soundly contributed to your personal fulfillment, as well as to the health and vitality of communities across our country.

You have my warm congratulations on this milestone, and my best wishes in the decades ahead.

Centennial Convention . . . a week to remember

The occasion of Kappa Kappa Gamma's one hundredth year of existence was celebrated in an unprecedented Centennial Convention week held June 24-July 1 at the French Lick-Sheraton Hotel in French Lick, Indiana.

The Forty-Eighth Biennial meeting was attended by a record number of over 1,000 Kappas from the United States and Canada who shared in the celebration of Kappa's first century. The convention theme, "Keys to a Second Century," was carried throughout the week's programs and special events.

In President Barbeck's words on the purpose of convention, "This is our moment of total reflection. The progress of the past century is proof of the value of our Fraternity and lends enthusiasm, with quiet dignity, to our efforts for the future. The decisions made in this eventful week will determine the stature, the growth, the purposes, and the destiny of Kappa Kappa Gamma."

The following pages are a summary of the Centennial Convention week. While there were many thousands of Kappas unable to attend the Centennial Convention, it is hoped that some of the enthusiasm and Kappa friendship generated that week will be felt through this report.

Issues and answers

A capsule summary of several of the most important issues discussed at the convention

Resource Department

The development of a Resource Department in Fraternity Headquarters for use by chapters and alumnae groups was assured by action taken at the Centennial Convention. Slides, tapes, pictures, skits, copies of speeches and talks, and other pertinent printed material will be collected and catalogued for loan upon request.

Lists of available material in the department will be circulated at appropriate intervals. It is hoped that the implementation of such a Resource Department will go far in promoting Fraternity Appreciation and encouraging on-going interest in Fraternity affairs.

Statement of Position

"As citizens, we are subject to local, state and federal laws. Members who violate such laws are subject to dismissal."

This statement was approved at convention and means: Inasmuch as violations of any local, state and federal laws by an individual could have repercussions on a group with which she is affiliated, it is deemed advisable for the Fraternity to be placed in a position to permit it to determine through proper channels the extent of the violation.

The officers of the Fraternity realize that situations may arise where guilt might be assumed without a person being actually guilty. This position of the Fraternity is taken to safeguard its members and the entire organization.

Social service projects

Undergraduate Kappas have become active in volunteer community service projects. They serve as individuals in whatever field of service they feel qualified, as tutors, companions for the aged, hospital assistants, recreational leaders. They serve as a group wherever there is a need.

The wonderful fact is that these young women feel a responsibility to assist those less fortunate than themselves. In most instances, it is not an organized activity. It is voluntary. It is for those who feel the compulsion to serve humanity in whatever way they can. Kappa's role is to encourage such participation; to offer suggestions, opportunities and encouragement; and to demonstrate pride in our young women who are ministering to the needs of the disadvantaged in our society.

Leadership techniques

The Fraternity is seeking to provide more programs in the area of leadership development to prepare undergraduates for a quality Kappa experience as well as to train them to become better leaders of their future community.

Some programs have already been started such as the Associate Council Seminar to train PDC's and PDA's; and obtaining the services of a leadership technique expert at Centennial Convention to lecture and demonstrate techniques of leadership. Province Conventions are now termed Province Meetings and have already become more flexible by being discussion and leadership technique centered.

It is hoped that leadership development will be further accomplished by the use of professionals to train Province officers, advisers and chapter officers, as well as the development of Kappa education seminars, Province-wide rush workshops, communication workshops, and community service opportunities. In these ways, leadership development will play a more comprehensive role in gaining more quality chapters.

Fraternity ritual

Following a number of individual conferences on the Fraternity ritual and an active workshop discussion on its history, purposes and current relevance, the Convention resolved:

"That a Ritual Study Committee be appointed by the Council to work during the biennium on possible revision, bearing in mind the purpose of Fraternity ritual, and to report to the next general convention."

Throughout Kappa history additions, substitutions and clarifications have been made to the ritual without affecting the fundamental philosophy or strong ties with the early Fraternity. All have been accomplished through convention action following Council or committee recommendation. Such procedure ensures uniform acceptance and use by the entire Fraternity. The Study Committee is the first step.

By-Laws revisions

Major revisions of the Fraternity By-laws were adopted by the membership to adjust to the continuous changes in the operation of the organization.

Council was expanded to nine members with the addition of a Director of Personnel, Director of Field Representatives, and a Treasurer. The office of Executive Secretary-Treasurer was changed to Executive Secretary, to be appointed by the Council. While the Executive Secretary will be an ex-officio member of the Council, the duties and supervision of all business and financial matters at Fraternity Headquarters will remain the same. The elected treasurer on the Council will serve as liaison between the Council and the Headquarters regarding finance.

By-laws governing qualifications and procedures for election to membership were clarified as to the privileges and responsibilities of the chapters. The chapters have the responsibility to select members of their choice and to obtain reference data from alumnae and other sources within the established Fraternity procedures. The Director of Membership must be consulted concerning any exceptions to these procedures.

Recognizing the continuous need to seek and develop leadership within the organization, the new by-laws provide for the appointment of a Nominating Committee Chairman following each general convention.

Article XV, Membership Addenda, was moved from the By-laws and included in the Standing Rules.

To provide for greater flexibility in programming, the term "Province Convention" was changed to "Province Meeting." This change will afford a choice by Province officers in the formality of the meetings and the format to be used for business.

Statement of support

"That in the spirit of looking forward to the second century of Kappa Kappa Gamma and because this Fraternity recognizes the fact that attacks will continue against the fraternity system, the Resolutions Committee requests that Council and/or appropriate committees appointed by Council continue to review and explore methods of combating these attacks."

Reference system reviewed

A pertinent and relevant interest at this convention was references. In 1968, the Council appointed a Reference Study Committee to implement the reference system and report to the Centennial Convention. The recommendations of the Reference Study Committee were presented and accepted by the voting delegates.

In brief, the proposals of the committee were:

1. To completely revamp the reverse side of the data form to provide meaningful choices which serve to select differentials in traits, thereby providing a profile helpful to the active chapter.

2. That a bulletin be instituted to provide the membership with positive, enlightening information, validity resting on the thesis that the Fraternity expects responsible expression on the part of its members in order to create a climate involving thought, judgment and the ability to discern.

3. That because actives and alumnae are custodians of the integrity and character of the Fraternity, joint effort among all members is prerequisite to protect it. Due regard being given for the diversity of tastes and opinions of all persons provides a greater likelihood of responsible participation in membership selection. The chapters will secure information,

Report from the President

A condensation of the biennial report on Fraternity affairs from President Barbeck

These past two years have been busy, exciting, challenging, demanding, and heart-breaking. This administration, in its early months of operation, was met with the retirement and eventual passing of our beloved Executive Secretary-Treasurer, Clara O. Pierce. Her leadership has been an example to all who have believed in sisterhood and loyalty. She had that particular talent of inspiring others to reach levels they never suspected they might be capable of attaining. Many of the plans for this Convention were of her making. While we cannot honor her in person, we will honor her in memory as we recall the past, of which she was a part, and plan for the future, for which she also had dreams.

Included in this report is the resume of the work of other members of the Council. Time does not permit as extensive review as desired, and only the highlights can be recounted.

The Director of Chapters is responsible for the everyday communications and works with the chairmen of scholarship, pledge training, cultural, music, and chapter programming. It was proudly reported that 26 chapters were first in scholarship during the biennium and 69 were in the top three.

Pledge training continues to be of concern and improved methods of appeal to today's student are continually sought. Chapters who are experiencing problems within their membership are usually the first to recognize a weakness in this important area of training. One of the aims of the Council, province officers, and advisers, is the promotion and upgrading of programs in pledge training to meet the needs of today's students.

Practically all chapters enjoy some form of cultural program. The chairman feels this is vital, offering the opportunity to exhibit a change from the stereotyped picture of sororities on campuses. The trend toward service projects is enthusiastically received and our Director of Philanthropies is exploring this service and requesting ideas from active members.

Meet your new Council, (seated) Jean Hess Wells, Δ T-Georgia, Vice-President; Louise Little Barbeck, Γ Φ-Southern Methodist, President; Jane Lindsay Koke, Γ Ω-Denison, Treasurer; (standing) Margaret Easton Seney, PΔ-Ohio Wesleyan, Director of Philanthropies; Ruth Hoehle Lane, Φ-Boston, Director of Alumnae; Martha Galleher Cox, PΔ-Ohio Wesleyan, Director of Chapters; Kay Smith Larson, B II-Washington, Director of Membership; Marian Schroeder Graham, B Φ-Montana, Director of Personnel; Marjorie Matson Converse, Γ Δ-Purdue, Director of Field Representatives.

The Fraternity Vice-President reports a variety of opinions on university and college policies relative to the "new morality." Stress on individualism was paramount. The Vice-President has been interested in the establishment of a Resource Department to be located at Headquarters. This would provide the chapters and alumnae groups with tapes, films, skits, talks and other such documented material as might be useful and readily available.

The report of the Director of Membership notes a total of 30,209 references were provided to the chapters, not including those submitted during open rush. Of this total, 5,011 were pledged. While numbers of members pledged decreased, more chapters made quota than in the previous biennium. This would indicate a lowering of quota to meet a lessening number of girls entering rush in some schools.

The Director of Philanthropies reports that Kappa's scholarships have been continued on a firm basis aside from the drive for Centennial funds. We are grateful to the philanthropy chairman and her fine assistants for their devoted attention to a program held in high esteem within the Fraternity. Total expenditures for the biennium in the field of philanthropy were $95,829.50 of which $72,302.50 went to students.

This biennium has seen the addition of our new chapter at Clemson. We are proud to welcome this new group from an old and well-established university. The chairman of extension reports that since April of 1968 there have been 134 inquiries from 36 states and the District of Columbia, representing 88 separate institutions. For those who feel the fraternity system is on the wane, these statistics give proof that it is otherwise.

The Panhellenic Delegate urges an intensified program of education to combat the influences upon undergraduate members. Trends do not become problems when danger signs are recognized and dealt with before our members become deeply involved. Understanding and cooperation between actives and alumnae can be used as a positive force to protect the individual's rights.

As we note the preceding reports of the Fraternity officers, we see a strong, though troubled picture. It is heartening in these days of turmoil and change that the principles of the type of group living offered by fraternities has continued to be valued and sought. As we meet together in this Convention to consider our future role, we would be wise to study our goals and our progress. While changing times demand reevaluation, it would be prudent to maintain a firm hold on the basic tenets that have been the strength of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Few organizations have the opportunity for dialogue and exchange of ideas as do fraternities. Ours can be the example of cooperation within all age groups, realizing the importance of shared ideas and participation. Respect for the role alumnae and actives play in the overall picture has been the basis for past success.

What are the values that have been cherished for generations of Kappas and held in trust for future members? A code of relaxed moral permissiveness is being pushed upon the undergraduate with promises of greater freedom and enjoyment. The end result is questionable at best and strips the Fraternity of one of its basic purposes: the attainment of social, moral, and intellectual excellence.

The standards of Kappa Kappa Gamma have not been established or set by any group at any time. They have evolved over 100 years as the image by which the members wished to become known and identified. This image is a point of pride and has prompted young college women to seek identification.

What we have at this Convention is the opportunity to exhibit the kind of reason and maturity expected of the personnel who belong to Kappa Kappa Gamma. Our active representatives are outstanding, and, as leaders of their chapters, bring with them a message from their groups. They will be heard and their opinions will be counted in all decision-making.

But most important, these representatives must return next fall to their chapters with the message that Kappa is a shared experience between actives and alumnae. Opportunity is here now for them to be able to report that age is of no consequence within the Fra-

An outside view of Kappa

*Excerpts from a speech given by Dr. Frederick D. Kershner, Jr., prominent fraternity
historian, at convention opening session*

While I speak to all who are in this audience, I freely admit that I aim at that portion of you who are potential leaders, who are constructively dissatisfied, who are angered at being pushed into darkness-shrouded directions by totalitarian personalities of left or right, who are increasingly anxious about the future, and who are tired of being pleased, protected and pitied as if you were pet dogs. For whether or not fraternities have become today a warm nest of escape from the problems of the larger society, as our enemies assert, they clearly cannot be such in Kappa's second century.

Greek problems are no longer separable from community, national, and even international problems. And so I do not seek to entertain, but to restore faith, and to illuminate the bases for cooperation between young and old, male and female, layman and academic professional. As individuals all we can do is dodge these great problems; as social subgroups we can wrestle with them and be honorably defeated; but we can hope to conquer them, even approximately, only by the cooperation of all persons of good will.

The early Kappas were incredibly motivated to excel. They had very concrete ideas about how to go ahead of all competitors, and they were almost brutally frank in discussing it. Not only did Kappa lead in the founding of alumnae organizations and centralized government, but beyond any question she seized sorority leadership in women's rights activity, in Greek journalism and in social reform involvement.

Let us summarize briefly the character of this Kappa Kappa Gamma of the great days of her drive to success, elements in this dynamic fraternity for women. Four things seem to me outstanding.

First, was ritual. Not ritual for its own

Dr. Frederick D. Kershner, Jr., is an authority on the history and social significance of Greek letter societies, serves as director of counseling for "Operation Greek" and is chairman of the History Department at Columbia Teacher's College, New York.

sake, but ritual taken seriously as the commonly shared Kappa symbolic commitment to religious faith, moral behavior, activist commitment, pride in being best rather than most prestigious, maturity in social approach and in personal warmth of sisterly relations.

Second was program, which Kappas took with utter seriousness, in an era of no houses, no dances and no parties. Not a sorority's social reputation, but its record of actual accomplishment was what counted.

Third was scholarship. Since grading was then mostly of the pass/fail variety, scholarship meant honors, prize-winning essays, debate-winners, valedictorians—a scholarship of deeds. Grades, per se, meant little.

Fourth was the vital area of democracy, expressed as a search for personal worth in rush, and as aggressive expansionism in chapter growth.

"Why Greek" was the subject of a convention workshop led by (left to right), Dr. Frederick D. Kershner, Jr., director of counseling, "Operation Greek"; Kappa NPC delegate Ruth Bullock Chastang; Vice-President Phyllis Brinton Pryor; former Kappa field secretary and now graduate counselor Loretta McCarthy; and Miss Caryl Lenahan, "Operation Greek" executive director.

We ought to look at Kappa's future by asking a rather rhetorical question: Could the United States get along without Kappa Kappa Gamma or fraternities of any kind? Of course it could. But would it get along just as well? I think not. The loss of a Greek system would be a long step toward standardizing and homogenizing the college experience.

Fraternities still constitute one of the most interesting options for the student who wants to break out of the academic lockstep so rapidly shaping up, who wants a different college experience without being a psychological—or actual—dropout. At its best, the fraternity is a refuge for those who want to think for themselves without becoming anti-social. In the past, Kappa's challenging problems were a massive discrimination against women, which aimed at eliminating them from college education altogether, and making college education relevant to the constructive reform of general American society.

Tomorrow's challenging problems, which we see today stretching out before us, are not greatly different. Instead of the direct assault upon women's rights, there is an indirect approach, honeyed words of temptation to use campus freedom to commit suicide, so far as exerting creative woman's leadership is concerned. The issue of a social reform role for sororities has hardly changed at all, although the cast is new, and the rhetoric is updated.

Campus crisis at the national level of social reform is back again for Kappas to face—or evade—once again. Instead of progressive social construction, however, it is radical revolutionary social destruction, which is urged upon us. Hate, violence and fear are to replace love, compromise and trust in your fellow citizens.

There is a need in all fraternities today for a new ideological heart, a core of belief, with the power to thrill, convince, and plant the dream of making a real difference in the quality of American life, through fraternity. The answer to that search for relevance and dynamism lies right under our noses. Democracy needs fraternity, as never before in history.

Political scientists are concerned over the shift away from a balance of liberty, equality, and fraternity to selfish, jealous, egotistical liberty alone. They say we need to restore fraternity, by which they mean a sense of community with other American citizens, a willingness to sacrifice for others, an acceptance of obligations as well as privileges, the spirit of fraternity is a clement which keeps society from splitting up into individualistic anarchy.

Nowhere can this balance be more effectively and easily learned than through college fraternities, if we know what we are doing. Now while we cannot educate all Americans to balanced democracy with fraternity, we can educate the elite leadership, that part which we pledge and initiate. Authorities say that there must be an effective democratic elite, if the system is to survive, and that we lack one now.

Changes are certainly needed, if there is to be a new Kappa drive to success. For these changes, Kappa is lucky in having such an outstanding past record from which to borrow inspiration and strategies for action. Notice that I say borrow, not copy slavishly. For the future is different, and Kappa's plan of action must be different, too. The effort will strain your brains and your imaginations, but the results will be a source of pride forever. Consider all your present issues, not defensively, but in terms of how to make them positive advantages in a drive to lead not merely all other fraternities, but the whole campus youth population.

Why was the past so great? It was made great by effort and intense enthusiasm, by pride and love, by relating sorority program to environmental needs, by practicing individual freedom with social responsibility. Why is the future so hopeful, so full of opportunity? Because our modern campus is so lazy, so confused, so pessimistic, so devoid of pride and self-confidence, so love-less; in a word, so lacking in fraternity. And this is our opportunity. That is why I say that the future is so hopeful, and that is why I am convinced that the greatness of Kappa's past is as nothing to the greatness of the future which you actives and alumnae can fashion out of contemporary crisis. That's the view of an outsider, this outsider.

I want to close by quoting from an editorial in the Golden Key, almost 90 years ago. (Ed. note: The editorial can be found in the March 1886 issue written on the subject, "Conservatism.") It is certainly relevant to 1970, and it says what I want to say better than my own words could do:

"Are we ready for conservatism now? Are we ready to quit growing, and begin to polish, to quit building and begin to decorate? I think not. As a matter of fact, Kappa Kappa Gamma has a broader future than any other fraternity in America. For we are in the vanguard of a live idea—the new woman movement; and so long as every year finds more women who earnestly desire and strive for thorough culture, more women who carefully and rationally pursue the objects of an honorable ambition—just so long will there be more and more materials for Kappas. The Monmouth girls, our founders, saw which way the second great procession of the age [women's rights] was tending, and they fell into an efficient place in the line with a promptness which did them credit.

"Age is honorable, but if there was not any [future life] beyond for it, it would be decidedly dreary, and there is not any [future life] beyond for fraternities. Much as we respect and admire the conservative fraternities, when we try to think what would be suitable for them to do, the only thing that ever occurs to us is: 'Buy an elegant monument and go and be a hic jacet [here lies buried]. We are not ready for that yet.'

Well, Kappa's of the second century, are you?

Bracketed material is Dr. Kershner's interpretation.

What is the destination?

The following is a digest of a speech by Dallas newspaper publisher, Felix R. McKnight, who took a hard look at attitudes of the 1970's at Presidents' Banquet

There is something in the air of the modern world; a defiance of authority, a contagious irresponsibility, a kind of moral delinquency no longer restrained by religious or ethical faith, a rejection of traditional rules of personal and institutional conduct that is now common.

I want to speak to the incredible pattern that has developed on the university campuses. It is one thing to listen to the legitimacy of youthful dissent from outmoded academic procedure. It is another to know death, injury, arson, destruction, disruption, chaos and organized anarchy on the campus.

Normally in this nation, vandals are apprehended, jailed, prosecuted and convicted under due process of law for the desecration of church, cathedral, synagogue or private property. But let the militant storm a university, lock out the president, hold hostages, destroy records and property and actually shut down institutions, and it becomes a "negotiable" crime. Amnesty is always high on the list of demands.

Some faculty members, and administrators,

behind an increasingly tarnished shield of academic freedom, make gun-at-the-head concessions to get a university back into operation for the 90 plus per cent who went there in quest of higher learning.

Lest you think I am an angry man, a total square who just doesn't "understand" the student move for change, let me make these observations. I am for change—and a lot of it—but I am not for cold patch repair jobs made under duress.

A university should always be a place where orderly evolution is possible. But it certainly need not be a playground for adolescent revolutionists whose ideas of higher education consist of disruption and riding roughshod over the majority.

I fear not the student with the inquisitive, challenging mind that seeks change. I fear the distractor with the firebomb—the splintered revolutionists who seek violent change in government and the free system; the activists who prey upon the student with anarchy and vileness.

I grieve with the students when tragedy blackens a campus. I loathe the thought of bayonet and rifle to keep the peace. And I loathe the rock, the bottle, the firebomb and the obscenities as the instruments of protest. Too often the valid aims of youth, black and white, have been lost in the clouds of smoke from burning cities and torn campuses. They must be recaptured—and very quickly—in the sane atmosphere of discussion, study, and understanding. We must learn to walk together in reason through the peaks and the valleys of our national life if we are to survive.

The essential job of any educational institution is to teach students. Turning them loose, closing college doors, cancelling commencements, urging students to march on Washington, etc.—no matter how well meant—is not fulfilling that mission.

I realize that my student fan club—if existent—will further dwindle when I take this dim view of closing universities for political purposes. What higher education desperately needs at this point in history is the opportunity to return to a stable climate of learning and reason where young men and women may develop themselves to that level of understanding necessary for intelligent, and thoughtful, participation in our society.

Maybe it will be you, the members of this Kappa group and others like you who will perfect the social mechanisms by which all men may follow their ambitions without the threat of force, so that the earth will not need police to enforce the laws, nor armies to prevent man from trespassing against man.

Robert Young stars in Centennial program

Mr. Robert Young gave his famous talent, charm and prestige to Kappa's Centennial as the guest star of the program, "Promise for a Second Century" on Centennial night at Convention. By Council decree the film version of "Promise," featuring Robert Young, will reach all chapters in time for Centennial Founders' Day celebrations.

"Words are inadequate to convey my feelings to you at this moment," said Mr. Young when President Barbeck, surrounded by Council and Centennial officers, presented him with the special Centennial Citation in the grand on-stage finale of the evening.

Wearing the silver-grey dinner jacket in which millions of television viewers saw him receive the coveted "Emmy" Award for his portrayal of "Marcus Welby, M.D.," on ABC-TV, Mr. Young dramatically narrated highlights of Kappa's first 100 years. The star was enthusiastically and ably supported by the all-Kappa cast including former KEY editor Rosalie Geer Parker, B Σ-Adelphi, as co-narrator; 1970 Alumnæ Achievement Award winner Mareta M. West, B Θ-Oklahoma; the dance team of Purdue actives, Priscilla Murphy, Sandy Shimer, Becky McCan and Debby Maynard; and the Kappa Pickers of Delta chapter. On film Dr. Howard A. Rusk, founder and director of the renowned Institute of Rehabilitation Medicine, New York City, welcomed Centennial Chairman Anne Harter to the Institute's speech therapy department. Representing the 94 scholars who will study on Centennial Rehabilitation grants in the year ahead, Miss Cynthia Henry and Miss Patricia Wright came on stage to tell their plans.

Skillfully directed by Broadway's Glen Nielson, who also worked in advance on script and production in New York with public relations chairman Ann Scott Morningstar, "Promise for a Second Century" is a blend of nostalgia and impact climaxing in confidence that Kappa's continuing contribution on campus and in communities around the world already projects into the century ahead. All camera work, both in New York and at Convention, was in the able hands of Herman Kitchen and his Unit One Film Productions, Inc.

Curtain-raiser of the Centennial night show was a newscast opening with a special convention message from Richard M. Nixon,

Centennial film forthcoming

Watch for film "Promise for a Second Century" to be sent to every chapter for use in Centennial Founders' Day programs and throughout the centennial year. Film is part of the centennial campus package program.

President of the United States; then greetings from Ambassador John S. D. Eisenhower; and recorded voice messages from other famous men including Representative Carl Albert, Member of the Congress of the United States, U.S. Commissioner of Indian Affairs Louis A. Bruce, and United Nations executive Karl-Erik Hansson.

At the Centennial Dinner which preceded "Promise for a Second Century," Mr. Young and Mrs. Young, who is a member of Kappa Delta; Dr. Rusk and Gladys Houx Rusk, @-Missouri; and Milton Weiss, public relations counsel for Robert Young, were among the honored guests.

Responsible for additional production details on "Promise" were Joan Brightman Thatcher, P^A-Ohio Wesleyan, of Fraternity Headquarters, who researched the archives, and Patricia McNeill Henshaw, B Y-West Virginia, who was stage production assistant.

Robert Young was escorted to the stage for the production, "Promise for a Second Century," by Sandy Shimer and Becky McCan, Γ Δ-Purdue.

The Kappa Pickers of Delta chapter, Indiana added harmony and enthusiasm to the program. Front, Diane Matt and Janie Pauley; back, Kathy Worster, Jan Helm, Colleen Badell, Ann Grigsby, Marty Youngquist, Nancy Webb and Leslie Oliver.

Centennial Citation for Robert Young

The Members of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity assembled in Centennial Convention at French Lick, Indiana, June twenty-seventh, nineteen hundred and seventy, present this Special Centennial Citation to

MR. ROBERT YOUNG

FOR sensitive awareness of the dignity of each human being he encounters
FOR appreciation of womanhood as evidenced in his family relationships as a son, as a husband, and as the father of four daughters
FOR excellence in the roles he chooses to portray, and through them, the contribution he is making to the quality of life in our century.

President Barbeck presented Robert Young a Centennial Citation from the Fraternity. Council and Centennial committee members are also on stage.

It all happened for Kappa's Centennial

Centennial Gift to Dr. Rusk

In a special presentation during the Centennial Day program, President Barbeck presented a check from the Fraternity to Dr. Howard A. Rusk, founder and director of the Institute of Rehabilitation Medicine in New York City, for use at the Institute.

It was Dr. Rusk who prompted the beginning of Kappa's Rehabilitation program when he spoke at the 1952 Kappa convention. Dr. Rusk is married to the former Gladys Houx, a member of Θ-Missouri.

There are still a few gold Centennial charms available for sale according to charms chairman, Katheryn Bourne Pearse, Γ Δ-Purdue.

Anyone interested may write to Mrs. K. B. Pearse at her new address, Earl's Court, 3B, Talcott Ridge, Farmington, Connecticut 06032.

Fund peaks at Convention

Centennial chairman, Anne Harter, made the long-awaited announcement on the last day of Convention that the Centennial Fund had reached the $500,000 goal.

The substantial gift which pushed the Fund over the top was donated by Agnes Guthrie Favrot, B O-Newcomb.

A toast to the Centennial

A special tribute in verse was written for the Centennial Convention by Elinor Kiess Rose, K-Hillsdale, 1968 Alumnæ Achievement Award recipient. It was read by President Barbeck at the Centennial dinner during Convention.

KEEP US TRUE

To light this candle is a pointed act of faith:
It wavers, gathers strength and leaps,
Then steadies down to glow.
Within the mystic circle of its flame
We sense the bond that reaches back
A century ago.

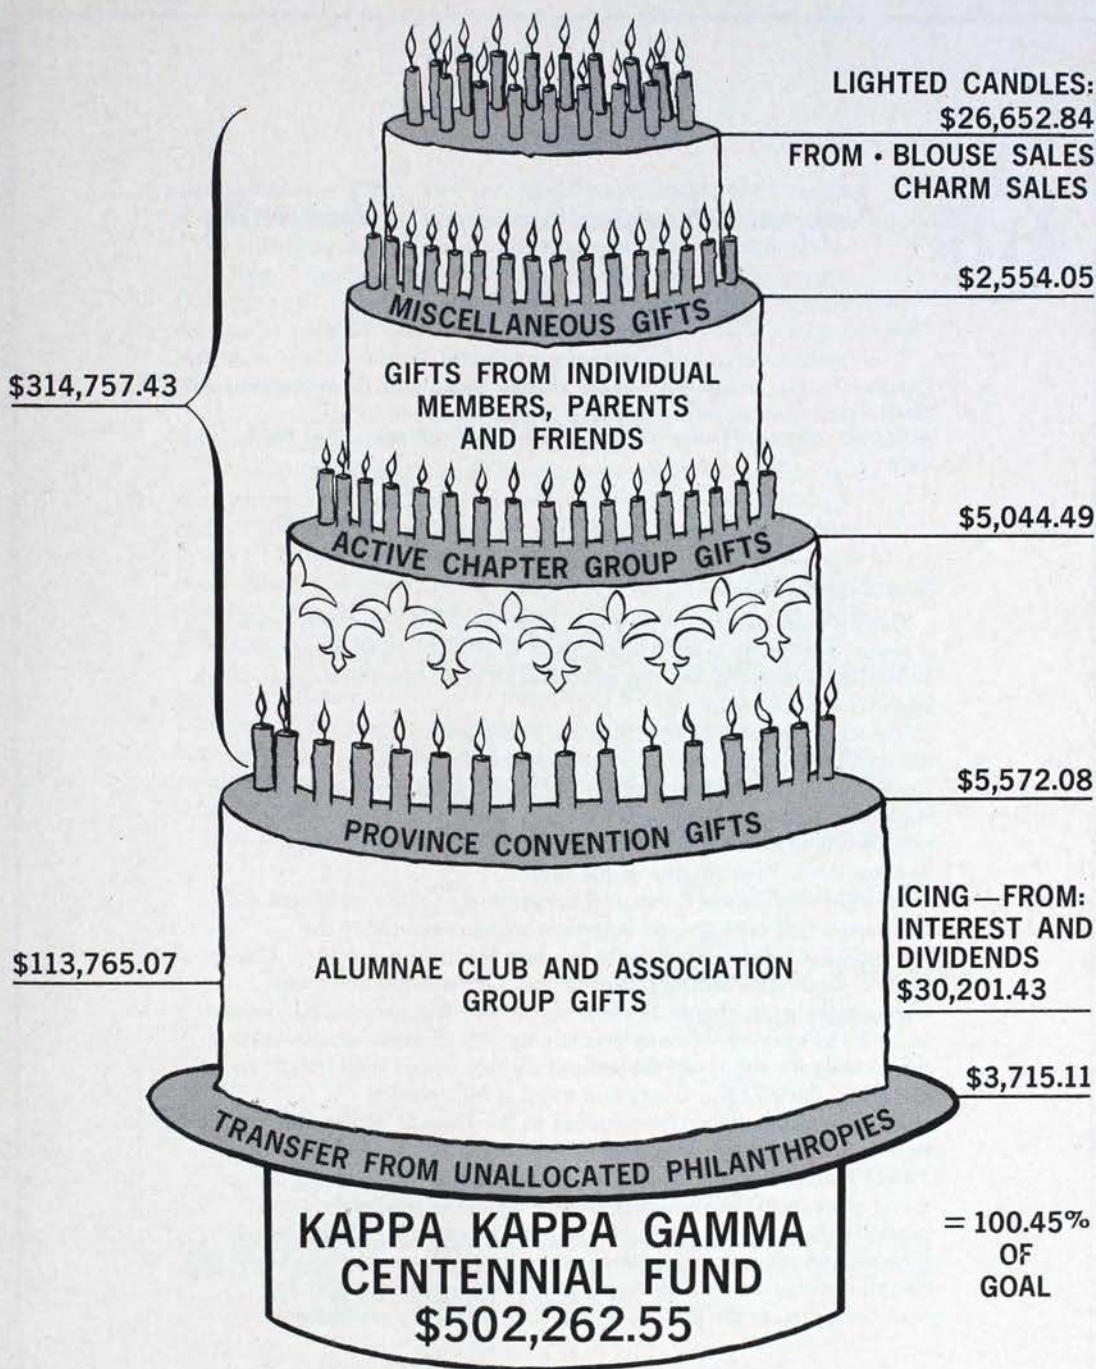

The past and present meet with mutual aim
As memories shimmer through the bars of time,
Each different, yet the same:
The tense tumultuous days of rush,
The joyous shout when bids are out
And you are in,
The symbols of the ritual, the pulsing hush
As keys unlock the doors to beauty and to self.

Alumnæ seems a distant, strange, unlikely word
Till suddenly you're one,
And find when job transfers occur you never planned
That Kappa's instant friendship reaches out
To hold your sometimes lonely hand.

Your sisters cherish you
But more than that, each one combines
To cherish others.
How quietly this candle shines
On good deeds in a dissonant world.

And now
May faith and hope and love, these three
Guide and guard eternally
The golden key of KKG.

CENTENNIAL COMMITTEE

ASSISTANT CHAIRMAN—Mrs. George Seney • 3325 W. Bancroft • Toledo, Ohio 43606

Fall 1970

Dear Kappas,

Having communicated with you so often during the past four years it seems appropriate to say a final "thank you" now that the Centennial Fund drive is successfully completed and all the candles on Kappa's 100th Birthday cake are glowing.

The Centennial Committee joins me in expressing appreciation to the nearly 600 Kappas who were actively involved in the promotion of the Fund and the fulfillment of the Centennial goals. Sixty regional Fund chairmen, more than 350 local chairmen along with innumerable projects chairmen in active chapters and alumnae groups provided impetus toward the success of the drive.

Ninety-four Campus Centennial Contacts, the CCC's, promoted the Centennial Scholarships and helped to select recipients of the rehabilitation scholarships. Emily Harding Moellering and Mary Klauer Roland, Centennial blouse chairmen and Katheryn Bourne Pearse, Centennial charms chairman, operated successful projects which assisted in the Fund's growth. Here in Washington, this chairman could not have begun to do the appointed job without the help of two loyal friends and assistants, Doris Lafflin Gregg and Patricia Miller Priest.

Appreciation is sincerely expressed to the Council of the Fraternity in the 1966-68 and 1968-70 administrations under Presidents Frances Fatout Alexander and Louise Little Barbeck for their confidence and moral support; to the Fraternity finance committee during the same period for the same reasons; to the staff at Fraternity Headquarters for pleasant and efficient cooperation in the many tasks accomplished including two all-member mailings to more than 70,000 members within less than two years; to the Editors of THE KEY, Isabel Hatton Simmons and Ann Meuser Ritter, for Centennial Fund promotion and news; to Jane Edwards whose cartoons brightened the pages of THE KEY.

No chairman could have been blessed with a finer committee including Margaret Easton Seney, assistant Centennial chairman; Doris Seward, Centennial scholarship chairman; Martha Galleher Cox, director of philanthropies; Agnes Park Fausnaugh, rehabilitation services chairman; and Ann Scott Morningstar, public relations chairman. These ladies know how much I think of them!

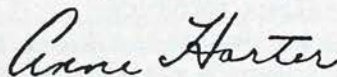

At convention I closed my report on Alumnæ Day with these words which I would like to share with all of you.

"Most of all, my thanks go to Kappas the world over who have made our Centennial Fund Drive a success and our Centennial plans a reality. The fact that you cared enough to participate is a testament to our Fraternity and its quality of membership. A membership which firmly believes in the worth of Kappa over the past century, and is optimistic that the Fraternity is entering its second century strong in numbers, will be well-prepared to face the challenge of the future.

"Let us not think that the Centennial is a culmination of past successes and achievements. Rather let us understand that the past 100 years have prepared the way for greater service to our fellow man, have intensified contributions toward the higher education of women and, perhaps most important, have developed more perfect friendships with each other and those Kappas who will follow.

"Again, thank you for making this possible. Happy Birthday Kappas."

Loyally—and gratefully

Centennial Chairman

P.S. Because of the lengthy convention and historical material in this issue, the names of the Centennial Fund donors who contributed since last January will appear in the Winter issue.

Centennial Scholars

As a part of the celebration of Kappa Kappa Gamma's 100 years of service to young women, special Centennial Grants for graduate and undergraduate work in the field of rehabilitation are being awarded for the 1970-71 school year. The grants are made possible through the contributions given to the $500,000 Centennial Fund.

Grants of $3,000 for graduate study and $1,000 for undergraduate study are being awarded on the 94 campuses where a Kappa chapter is located. Awards have been made to those women showing the greatest promise, capability, motivation and opportunity for improving the quality of life for her fellow man.

A few interesting facts about the recipients include: over half are between 20 and 25 and single; 23 are Kappas; half are studying speech therapy and social work; nearly four-fifths are doing graduate work.

The selection process on each campus was coordinated by a local Kappa alumna who served during the past year as the Centennial Campus Contact or CCC.

Kappa Kappa Gamma proudly presents the Centennial Scholars for 1970 including their school, home town, graduate or undergraduate award, field of study and the CCC.

Monmouth College receives rare oil painting from Fraternity

One of the few landscapes by John Singer Sargent, R.A. (1856-1925) was given to Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, by Kappa Kappa Gamma to mark the founding of the first chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma at Monmouth College 100 years ago.

President Barbeck presented Sargent's "A Winding Road and Cypress Trees, San Vigilio" in ceremonies last April in the Monmouth College Library, where the painting is hanging. (See back cover for reproduction of the painting.) Dr. Duncan Wimpers, president of Monmouth College, accepted the gift before an audience of students, parents, faculty and trustees of the College.

The painting, an oil on canvas 28 by 37 inches, was in the artist's estate. Sargent executed it in 1913 while staying at the inn in San Vigilio, Italy. Kappa Kappa Gamma purchased "San Vigilio" from the Kennedy Galleries, New York City, whose president, Rudolf G. Wunderlich, calls it representative of Sargent's creative ability at his best. While the artist was known for his famous portraits, his few landscapes were done to satisfy his own artistic desire to paint.

Monmouth College is the sixth owner of "Road to San Vigilio". First catalogued in 1925 as part of Sargent's estate, the painting was owned by three collectors in London, including the Right Honorable Viscount Rothermere, before purchase by a private collector on Long Island, New York, from whom The Self-portrait of John Singer Sargent which hangs in the Uffizi Gallery.

Kennedy Galleries purchased it. It was through the kind offices of Stanley Wood Greene, well-known artist and portrait painter, that the Sargent painting was made known to Kappas seeking a topflight work of art by an American painter of the 19th century.

The painting is stamped on the back with the artist's monogram, "J. S. S." Kappa Kappa Gamma selected a baroque gold frame with gold plaque inscribed as follows:

"The Centennial Gift from Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity in 1970 to Monmouth College, where Kappa Kappa Gamma was founded in 1870."

Historical Museum lives Kappa's Past

by EDIE MAE HAMILTON HERREL
B N-Ohio State

It all started last fall when the Council asked me if I would take charge of displaying some of our Kappa treasures at the Convention.

A simple museum of old musty relics was not enough for me. All the work in just displaying some of our treasures could not be justified in my mind unless it could create a meaningful experience and response from those who saw them.

I first called for advice from Lee Ridgley, administrative director; Ann Scott Morningstar, public relations chairman; and Sally Nitschke, chapter programming chairman.

I then gathered together the greatest group of creative minds I could find: Diane and Dave Selby to create the audio and visual displays; Pat Springer for the art work; Jane Wentz for costumes, manikins, antiques and room settings; Joan Thatcher for research and artifacts; and Kay Graf for cataloging, writing descriptions and legends for easels and guide book.

Each of the museum's eight scenes were designed to fit the style of the eras of Kappa history. Unity was achieved through a free flow design from one display to another and coordinated with blue and blue throughout. The museum was designed to take the viewer down the path of Kappa's 100 years of history, passing the major Kappa happenings along the way. Diverse media, materials, shapes and artistic styles were used to avoid monotony and create an exciting experience with each display. A multi-media sound and light presentation on a covered bridge was shown at the exit. This brief two minute capsule history of Kappa's first century gave a quick overall impression of what Kappa has meant to many.

(If anyone is interested, there are available slides of the museum and slides of the bridge presentation. For information write: Headquarters, c/o Mrs. Joseph Thatcher.)

The construction of the Historical Museum at convention was the main responsibility of these Kappas who served as docents during the convention week, left to right, Edie Mae Hamilton Herrell, Jane Weathers Wentz, Diane Miller Selby, and Catherine Schroeder Graf, all B N-Ohio State.

Editor's note:

Photographs of the museum are shown throughout the historical section of this issue.

Kappas attending the convention could spend hours browsing through the numerous historical relics which were displayed in the museum.

From This Day Forward

Resume of Candlelight Banquet speech by Doris Seward, Δ-Indiana

Choosing her theme, "From This Day Forward," from the wedding ceremony, Dean Doris Seward said that a wedding is not only the association of two people. Allegiance and association are part of all that we belong to and "can be related to many things . . . and to principles," she said.

Dr. Seward, whose gracious and understanding manner, and her complete fairness have won the love and respect of both alumnae and undergraduates gave the fitting climax for the Candlelight Banquet. "We either add or detract to the labels we wear, and this can be carried over into Kappa Kappa Gamma. The future lies not only in the past, but what we contribute to it. We either contribute shine or tarnish," she said.

Speaking to the alumnae, Dean Seward focused on many of the problems facing the un-

Dean Seward to New Position

A lovely, familiar face and well-known Kappa convention speaker, Dr. Doris M. Seward, Δ-Indiana, has made the headlines recently.

Dean Seward joined the Penn State University staff in July as executive assistant to the President and professor of human development. She had been with the University of Kentucky since 1957 where she was dean of student affairs.

In her new role, Dean Seward will be principal assistant to Dr. John W. Oswald, former University of Kentucky president who assumed the Penn State presidency July 1.

Dean Seward has been chairman of Kappa's Centennial Rehabilitation Grants program.

dergraduates. She discussed reason without authority and authority without reason. Reason without authority is trying to explain to the young who may not operate on the same principles.

To the undergraduates she gave the charge of continuing on high principles. She noted that "evaluation of wisdom comes from experience."

Dean Seward looks to the future of the fraternity with hope. Her confidence in the young women is great and she knows that together, from this day, Kappa can go forward.

Alumnæ Day at Convention

Director Luce reports

Several interesting facts were revealed by Director of Alumnæ Kathryn Wolf Luce during the Alumnæ Day program.

- Today there are a reported 17,674 dues-paying members in 361 alumnæ associations and clubs.

- During the 1968-70 biennium, the alumnæ groups contributed $120,115 to Fraternity Funds, $107,587 to local community projects and over $42,000 in gifts to active chapters.

- Active chapters are the object of a great deal of alumnæ affection and interest, and it is impossible to count the number of hours the advisory boards, house boards and many other alumnæ devote to them.

- Three new associations were represented for the first time at general convention: Roanoke, Virginia (formerly a club); Midland, Texas (formerly a club); Raleigh, North Carolina.

McNaboe (Associations under 50): (seated) Louise Ott Webb, Γ H-Washington State (Pullman); Vera Lewis Marine, Δ Z-Colorado College (Arcadia); (standing) Jeanne Cooney Gallagher, Δ -Indiana (Arlington Heights); Margaret Cox Crimmel, I-DePauw (Clearwater Bay); Janet Newton Ludwig, Γ O-Wyoming (Laramie).

Distinguished Kappas recognized

Alumnae Achievement Awardees

One of the highest honors the Fraternity bestows upon her members is the Alumnae Achievement Award for those who have achieved recognition in their chosen professions or business careers.

Five outstanding Kappas were selected for the Centennial year Achievement Awards and three were able to attend convention to receive their awards from Kathryn Wolf Luce, Director of Alumnae.

Margaret Dickson Falley, T-Northwestern, is a professional genealogist, recognized by the American Society of Genealogists as the leading American authority on genealogical research in Ireland.

She was elected a Fellow of the American Society of Genealogists in 1952 and was an annual lecturer at the American Institute of Genealogy, National Archives, Washington, D.C. from 1955-1960. Besides teaching genealogy and lecturing before numerous historical, genealogical and hereditary societies she has published many articles on the subject.

Mrs. Falley has four daughters and ten grandchildren. She has made many contributions to her community, Evanston, Illinois, and to Northwestern University. She has served as finance chairman of the House Association and Corporation for Upsilon chapter and was marshal of the 1930 General Convention.

Mary Elizabeth Hendricks, Δ-Indiana, started her career with Eli Lilly and Company, Indianapolis, in 1942 as secretary to the manager of the public relations department. She progressed through several positions in that department and in 1969 was promoted to manager of public relations services.

She is a past president of the Indianapolis chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, national professional fraternity for women in journalism and a member of Beta Gamma Sigma, commerce scholarship honor society.

Her Kappa activities include past president of the Martinsville, Indiana Alumnae Club and member of the Indianapolis Alumnae Association.

Mareta N. West, B Θ-Oklahoma, whose picture was on the cover of the Fall 1969 issue of THE KEY is the first woman astrogeologist, hired by the United States Geological Survey.

Alumnae Achievement award winners who attended convention were, left to right, Margaret Falley, Director of Alumnae Luce (who presented awards), Mary Elizabeth Hendricks and Mareta West.

Barbara Feldon, Achievement winner

Ashley and Crippen

Marguerite Hill, Achievement winner

She had been a petroleum geologist in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma before entering the new field of astrogeology.

She mapped the moon landing site of the Apollo 11 flight which put the historic first man on the moon in July, 1969. Six prospective sites were submitted but hers was chosen. As the only woman member of the Apollo 11 Geology Experiment team she was at the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston before, during, and after the mission.

A native of Flagstaff, Arizona, Mrs. West is a third-term president of the Kappa Alumnae Club there.

Barbara Hall Feldon, Δ Ξ -Carnegie-Mellon, is a television and motion picture actress best known as Agent 99 in the television series, "Get Smart."

She began her climb to fame as Barbara Hall of Pittsburgh, and after college she went to New York where she acted in stock community theatres. She became an overnight champion winner on "The $64,000 Question," then turned to modeling and became a highly sought after photographic fashion model in New York.

Her "tiger girl" commercials caught the attention of producers and after her first season on "Get Smart" she was chosen by Dick Van Dyke to make her motion picture debut in "Fitzwilly."

Dr. F. Marguerite Hill, B Ψ -Toronto, one of Canada's most eminent women physicians, is physician-in-chief of Women's College Hospital in Toronto, and a professor on the faculty of medicine at the University of Toronto.

She is the first woman ever appointed to the board of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, serving in that position since 1968. As a member of the Metropolitan Social Planning Council, she is concerned with problems of youth, with particular reference to drugs.

Dr. Hill is a member of several other community and professional organizations.

Original founder's key presented to Fraternity

A special surprise presentation was made at the Alumnae Day awards program.

Betsy Molsberry Prior, Kappa PDA, presented the Fraternity with the only known existing key belonging to one of the original founders, Anna Willits Pattee.

The key had been in the possession of Anna's granddaughter, Frances Pattee Putnam, A Δ -Monmouth, and through her generosity it was given to the Fraternity.

In presenting the key, Mrs. Prior reminded the convention that it was Anna's mother who suggested the key as the Fraternity badge—"a golden key with which to lock up your secrets."

Anna Willits Pattee's original key, as it appeared in the Historical Museum at Convention.

Loyalty winner revealed with surprise and applause.

Loyalty award winner Fran Alexander congratulated by President Barbeck.

Alumnae Loyalty Award

Frances Fatout Alexander, I-DePauw, became the eighth recipient of the Fraternity's highest honor, the Loyalty Award. Presented biennially, this award is given for loyalty, devotion and service to the Fraternity. It was first given in 1956 by Helen Cornish Hutchinson, then Director of Alumnae, in honor of Helena Flinn Ege, former Fraternity President.

Besides serving two terms as Fraternity President, Fran has been Vice-President, Director of Chapters, Panhellenic Delegate and Mu PDC. She is presently Chairman of the Fraternity Research Committee and first alternate to NPC.

Peter Nero performs

World famous pianist, Peter Nero, charmed Kappas of all ages when he appeared for an evening of entertainment during the Centennial Convention.

He presented a fast-moving concert of piano arrangements from popular to classical with his own improvisations of humor and tranquility.

President Barbeck chatted with him momentarily before the show opened (below).

Dr. Ludlum

Dr. Thomas Spencer Ludlum, head of the speech department, Capital University, Columbus, Ohio, led several sessions on leadership training techniques for actives and alumnae.

His great interest is in improving communication, with three types of thinking involved, analytical, creative and critical. He pointed out, "While the mass media has changed our entire educational processes, there is less and less emphasis on the public speech. No matter how good the speaker, listeners must be equally good."

Issues and Answers

Dr. Virginia Rogers, B A-Illinois, associate dean of students at the University of Indiana (right), led a panel of young people in the discussion of current issues and problems in today's world.

Ritual

A review and discussion of the Ritual, 100 years ago, today and tomorrow was given by Fraternity Ritualist, Mary Turner Whitney, B P⁴-Cincinnati. Stopping for a moment in the Historical Museum at convention, she reads part of the early Fraternity history recorded in Delta Chapter's famous Redbook.

Panhellenic programs

The effectiveness of an active Panhellenic program was discussed during convention workshops conducted by (left to right) Jane Tallmadge Ridders, H-Wisconsin, City Panhellenic affairs; Frances Fatout Alexander, I-DePauw, Fraternity Research chairman and first alternate to NPC; Ruth Bullock Chastang, B N-Ohio State, NPC delegate; and Pauline Tomlin Beall, T X-George Washington, Active Chapter Panhellenic affairs.

Reference Study Committee

The betterment of the Fraternity's reference system was thoroughly studied during the past two years by the Reference Study Committee appointed in 1968, with Harriet French, B T-West Virginia, as chairman.

The results of this extensive study were reported at the Centennial Convention by Susan Rockwood, B P^A-Cincinnati, chairman since 1969.

Three proposals were presented before the convention and after lengthy discussion, all three were adopted by a vote of the convention. They are:

Proposal I—To completely revamp the reverse side of the green sheet to provide meaningful choices which serve to select differentials in traits, thereby providing a profile helpful to the active chapter.

Proposal II—To institute a bulletin to be sent to chapters, PDA's, PDC's, Council, etc. providing documented items relative to current campus problems. Council approved the issuance of a bulletin entitled "KUP"—Concerned University People. (Issues of No. 1 and No. 2 already have been published.)

Proposal III—To allow a chapter to vote by secret ballot on a rushee. Based on full consensus of the chapter's decision, the active chapter president accepts the responsibility to provide her signature to validate the green sheet. This is done only after all other channels of obtaining a reference have been exhausted.

Speak Up, Speak Out

The results of a thorough two-year study were revealed in a report from the chairman of chapter programming, Sally Moore Nitschke, B N-Ohio State.

Called "Speak Up, Speak Out," the study included an in-depth questioning of undergraduate members on their feelings about the Fraternity programs and desires for the future. The results of these questions were then fed back to the chapters to show them the wide-scope view of the Fraternity and the attitudes and views represented within it.

In concluding her report, she said, "What we must do, each one of us at this Centennial Convention is to reaffirm our belief in Kappa, determine our goals, and move from one accomplishment to another convinced that the Kappa experience is worth the doing."

Chapter Programs

New Council officers elected

Vice-President

JEAN HESS WELLS, Δ Υ-Georgia, joins the Council as vice-president having served the past three years as assistant to the president in charge of personnel. Jean's Kappa work has continued since her college days when she was a charter member of Delta Upsilon.

She has been president of the Atlanta and Memphis Alumnae Associations, Mu Province Director of Chapters, assistant to the Director of Membership and has held various advisory positions for Delta Upsilon, Delta Rho and Epsilon Epsilon.

Jean and her husband, Bob, live in Atlanta where he is an orthopedic surgeon. They have two children, Jere, 16 and Cathlean, 9. As a family they have enjoyed traveling and camping through the United States, Canada, Europe, Japan and the Caribbean Islands.

Her current civic interests center in the Atlanta Memorial Arts Center and she is a board member of the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra, Women's Association of the Symphony, and the Member's Guild of the High Museum of Art.

Active church workers, Jean's husband is president of the congregation and she is membership services coordinator of the Northwest Unitarian Church.

The Wells family, Jean, Bob, Cathlean and Jere.

Treasurer

JANE LINDSAY KOKE, Γ Ω-Denison, brings a good accounting background to the newly created office of treasurer. She was an accounting major at Duke where she affiliated with Delta Beta chapter after pledging Kappa at Denison.

She worked as a public accountant for seven years in New York City and her husband, Bob, is a CPA and president of Eastdil Corporation in Wilmington, Delaware, a corporate financing firm.

Jane has been president of the Kappa alumnae in Wilmington and the junior group in New York City. For the past three years she has been Beta Province Director of Alumnae.

Other than Kappa, Jane says she is "most active in the affairs of our church, Christ Church, Episcopal." She is in charge of all church social functions and chairman of one of the winter bazaar committees.

In the spring, the Wilmington Flower Market fair keeps her busy and during campaign months, she is active in the Republican party.

Collecting cookbooks and clipping recipes is one of her favorite pastimes, and she enjoys doing Danish embroidery and crewel. Swimming and traveling are the family favorites and she and her husband have two daughters, Barbara, 13 and Carolyn, 10.

The Koke family, Bob, Barbara (standing), Carolyn and Jane.

Director of Field Representatives

MARJORIE MATSON CONVERSE, Γ Δ -Purdue, was elected to fill the newly created Council office of Director of Field Representatives. In this capacity she will work closely with the field secretaries and graduate counselors, evaluating their reports and recommending action to the Council.

Marj, as she is best known, brings experience to this new job as she has served Kappa as a graduate counselor, was a two-year field secretary and most recently, chairman of the Graduate Counselor Scholarship program. She was president of her chapter at Purdue.

Active in the community affairs of her home town of Rochester, New York, Marj was chosen as "Club Woman of the Year" for 1968-1969. She is past president of the Rochester City Panhellenic, Newcomers Club, Women's Association of Rochester Yacht Club and the Woman's Club of Rochester (a 370-member organization).

Marj's husband, Wiles, is a staff engineer at Bausch and Lomb Company and teaches at the Rochester Institute of Technology. They have two children, Cindy, 14 and Mark 10. The family enjoys sailing on Lake Ontario.

The Converse family, Marj, Mark, Cindy and Wiles (behind).

Director of Philanthropies

MARGARET EASTON SENEY, P^4 -Ohio Wesleyan, lives in Toledo, Ohio where she has recently retired after serving 12 years as Director of the Health, Physical Education and Recreation Department of the Toledo YWCA and coach of the girls' swimming team.

Swimming has been a major interest in Peg's life and last April she was director for the first national YWCA Swimming Championships held in Toledo. She represents the National Board of the YWCA of the United States Olympic Women's Swimming team and is currently secretary of that committee.

In her Kappa work, Peg has been president of the Toledo Alumnae Association and the Toledo City Panhellenic. She was Gamma Province Director of Alumnae (1950-1955), Rehabilitation Services Chairman (1956-1966), and most recently, assistant to the Centennial Chairman.

Peg's husband, George, is in the automobile business and they have three children: George Jr. is completing his doctoral in history at Ohio State; James is married and the father of Peg's two grandchildren, Meg and Joshua; and Margo is a Kappa and married to James Morrow, a French instructor at Hillsdale College.

Peg and George Seney.

Director of Membership

KAY SMITH LARSON, B II-Washington, was completing her third year as Iota Province Director of Chapters when she was elected the new Director of Membership at general convention.

Born and raised in the Pacific Northwest, Kay was her chapter's vice-president and assistant scholarship chairman. She has been pledge and rush adviser to Beta Pi chapter and was president of the Bellevue, Washington Alumnæ Association.

Kay has been an elementary school teacher and is beginning a three-year term as a board member of the University of Washington Alumnæ Club. She has been chairman of the Ryther Four and Twenty Clubs which support the Ryther Child Center in Seattle for disturbed children.

Her husband, Durmont, is an assistant vice president in commercial loans with Pacific National Bank of Seattle, and they have an eight year old son, Jeff. The family enjoys winter skiing in the mountains and Kay's other interests include knitting and craft work.

The Larsons, Jeff, Durmont and Kay.

New Title for Kay Pennell

To avoid confusion concerning the duties of new offices established by By-Laws changes at general convention, the following explanation is necessary.

The office of Executive Secretary-Treasurer held by Katharine Wade Pennell was deleted as a member of the Council. The new office of Executive Secretary, still held by Mrs. Pennell, was created as an ex-officio member of the Council, without vote.

Her duties will continue generally as in the past as supervisor of all business and financial matters at Fraternity Headquarters. The principal business of the Fraternity and all official records and archives shall be directed to the Fraternity Headquarters, as in the past.

The new Council position of Treasurer, held by Jane Lindsay Koke, was created as a liaison between the Council and the financial administration at Headquarters, and to assist in the execution of recommendations of the Finance Committee and the Council.

Anne Harter appointed

President Louise Barbeck announced at the close of convention that Anne Harter, B T-Syracuse, has been appointed to fill the important Fraternity office of Historian.

Anne has just completed a four-year job as Centennial Chairman and under her direction the Centennial Fund successfully exceeded the $500,000 goal. Anne was Director of Philanthropies from 1964-66 and was formerly Lambda Province Director of Alumnæ.

In announcing the new appointment, President Barbeck said, "We have not had a historian for the Fraternity in many years. We have one now. She is interested, she is looking forward to this position, and we are thrilled to death to have her."

Kappa's new field secretaries for 1970-71

JULIANA (J. J.) FRASER was president of her chapter, Beta Nu, at Ohio State University. She graduated last spring with a B.S. degree in education, majoring in social studies.

During her college years she served her chapter as second vice-president, pledge class president, Panhellenic Council member, rush committee member and on the Gamma Province chapter study and evaluation committee.

Campus activities included dormitory house council, freshman senator and Mirrors honorary. An enthusiastic swimmer, J. J. has participated in competitive swimming for seven years and now coaches swimming teams. Other interests include golf and sewing.

MARJORIE A. GOHN received her B.A. degree in personnel relations at Penn State University in June, where she was president of her chapter, Delta Alpha. During commencement exercises, Marjorie received the Eric A. Walker Award for her "hard work beyond the classroom" in enhancing the University's reputation.

Marjorie was membership chairman of her chapter and served on several committees. Active in a wide range of campus organizations, she took most pride in her work as co-chairman of the University's Orientation Program for incoming freshmen.

Her honoraries include, Cwens, Chimes, Mortar Board, Phi Beta Kappa and others. In her leisure time, she enjoys swimming, singing and traveling.

NANCY LILLY is a native of Portland, Oregon and attended school at the University of Oregon where she was a member of Beta Omega chapter. She majored in elementary education with emphasis on art and physical education.

Nancy was her chapter's first vice-president and served on various committees. She says her interests are "subject to quick change" ranging from politics and student government to service projects.

Active in Campus Crusade for Christ, she attended conferences at their headquarters in Arrowhead Springs, California. She has been on the Dean's List and was chosen the Senior that Most Typifies Kappa.

Field Secretaries for 1970-71 are, left to right, Juliana Fraser, B N-Ohio State; Marjorie Gohn, Δ A-Penn State; Nancy Lilly, B Ω-Oregon.

KEYS TO A SECOND CENTURY

The history of Kappa Kappa Gamma 1870-1970

I. The Era of Development 1870-1881

The story of the founding of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity is one that has been repeated innumerable times throughout its 100 year history. Since none of the original records of those early days still exist, the story has been pieced together by those who actually participated in those founding events of the 1870's.

Where it all began

In the beginning there were four young girls attending a co-educational school barely 13 years in existence, Monmouth College in Monmouth, Illinois, a Scotch Presbyterian school. Sometime during the 1869-1870 school year, probably in the early spring, these four young classmates talked secretly of forming their own fraternity.

Already the young men had chapters of Greek national fraternities and the girls enjoyed local literary societies. Determined to form something different with a Greek letter name, Louise Bennett, Minnie Stewart, Jennie Boyd and Anna Willits laid the foundation for Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity, an action which they never dreamed would have such historical importance 100 years later.

One of the founders, Louise Bennett, related her recollection of the founding several years later in a letter to the Historian: "Some time during 1869-1870, Minnie Stewart, Jennie Boyd and myself met for a 'pow wow' in the A. B. L. Hall and concluded we would have something new; the world seemed to be moving too slowly for us. . . . We determined that nothing short of a Greek letter fraternity (we did not even speak of it as a sorority in those days) would satisfy us. We three then admitted to our solemn councils Miss Anna E. Willits. Our aim was to draw into the society the choicest spirits among the girls, not only for literary work, but also for social development.

"Of course we thought always, that we had the very brightest and best of all who came

(our egotism seems very amusing at this day, but you know just how students feel). We four decided on our form of organization, the motto and our pin. . . . Had we ever dreamed of more than a local habitation for Kappa Kappa Gamma, I suspect we would have been more careful of the records and other matters pertaining to the early days of the society."

Two friends were asked to join the group, Louisa Stevenson and Susan Walker. Finally on October 13, 1870, the members of Alpha Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma were ready to make their first public appearance as they marched into chapel wearing their golden keys. The date of this first public appearance has been declared the Founders' Day of the Fraternity.

Alpha Chapter reached a membership of 24 girls by 1874 when the college placed a ban against fraternities. The chapter was forced into a sub rosa existence which continued until the 1884 Convention declared the chapter deceased. It was not until 50 years later in 1934 that Alpha Chapter was reestablished at Monmouth College.

Expansion in the first decade

Although the early existence of Alpha Chapter was brief, the fledgling group led in the formation of 12 other chapters before 1880. After several months of existence, Alpha started a chapter at St. Mary's Seminary in Knoxville, Illinois. Chartered in 1871 and called Beta Chapter, its existence was short-lived as the only two members, Mary and Alice Winter, graduated in 1874.

A similar situation occurred with the third chapter, Gamma Chapter, started in 1872 at Smithson College, Logansport, Indiana by Minnie Kendall, an early member of Alpha. An opposition to secret societies brought this chapter to an early demise in 1875.

The first chapter to endure the early anti-fraternity opposition in the colleges was Delta Chapter founded in 1872 at Indiana University. Much credit for the durable foundation of the Fraternity can be given to Delta as they provided the earliest records still in existence, their Red Book which contains the early minutes of the chapter.

The establishment of early chapters was often accomplished through correspondence among the girls as travel was limited for young women. The ease with which chapters were chartered in the first decade is evidenced by the rapid development of these chapters: in 1873, Epsilon at Illinois Wesleyan; in 1874, Zeta at Rockford Seminary (Zeta lasted only a short time and had four members); in 1875, Eta at Wisconsin, Iota at Indiana Asbury, now called DePauw, and Theta at Missouri; in 1876, the second Gamma, called Beta Gamma at Wooster College (inactive in 1914); in 1877, Lambda at Buchtel College, now the University of Akron; in 1878, Mu at Butler; and in 1879, Nu at Franklin College (inactive in 1884).

The first conventions

With the sub rosa existence of Alpha, Delta became the Grand Chapter, probably at the 1876 Convention held at Greencastle, Indiana, the first recorded for the Fraternity. This convention is numbered as the second because it was once believed that an earlier convention was held at Monmouth in 1871. Research has proved this a myth and all conventions have been incorrectly numbered from the beginning.

Anna Buskirk Hill of Delta presided at this first convention where the Constitution and By-Laws were practically made over, and Delta's ritual and initiatory ceremony were adopted.

The next biennial meeting was held in 1878 when Epsilon became the Grand Chapter, an honor which she held until 1881. Chapters established during this three-year period were: in 1880, Omicron at Simpson Centenary College (inactive in 1890), Chi at Minnesota, Pi at California, Berkeley (inactive in 1885 and reestablished in 1897), Rho at Ohio Wesleyan (inactive in 1884 and reestablished in 1925); in 1881, Tau at Lasell Seminary (inactive in 1882), Kappa at Hillsdale, and the second Beta called Beta Beta at St. Lawrence (inactive in 1903 and reestablished in 1915).

The convention of 1880 was to have been at Madison, Wisconsin, but it was never held. The hostess chapter, Eta, had postponed the convention one week; however, notice failed to reach all the delegates in time.

These early conventions dealt mainly with establishing the Constitution and By-laws of the Fraternity. Literary exercises occupied a major portion of the convention programs and numerous topics of the day were developed freely by recitations, debates, essays and readings by chapter members.

II. The Expansion of Kappa 1881-1894

Firsts in the 1880's

The years of the second decade held many firsts for the Fraternity. The convention of 1881 in Bloomington, Illinois brought about numerous revisions in the organization, one of the most important being the change to a Grand Council form of government rather than a Grand Chapter. A Council of officers was established as the executive body which included the Grand President, Grand Secretary, Grand Treasurer and Grand Marshal. This Council system is still used today.

Serving as the first Grand President was Tade Hartsuff, the active delegate from Mu

Chapter. In 1886 she married John B. Kuhns. The long-range plans started at this convention were the result of her efficiency in organization. Chapters were divided into four provinces at that time, and three types of membership were recognized, active, honorary and silent (or associate). The next year the grade of alumnæ membership was added as more young Kappas left the active and associate status. Fraternity records were made official by the addition of a Grand Scriptor and the purchase of two record books.

One of the first topics discussed at the 1881 Convention was the founding of a Fraternity publication. That convention voted "that the Fraternity issue a quarterly magazine adapted to distribution among friends of the Fraternity as well as members." The planning was by Minnetta Taylor, I-DePauw, the first editor, assisted by Laura Kelley, I-DePauw, and Lou Landers, M-Butler, who were the editorial staff. During May of 1882, the first issue of The Golden Key was published.

Mrs. Kuhns reminisced about the beginning of the first women's fraternity magazine when she later recalled, "I was made chairman of the committee that convention appointed to launch this first venture of a woman's fraternity into the field of journalism. For the editorship none other was thought of nor suggested than Minnetta Taylor of DePauw University. She was known among us all for her brilliant attainment in literature, and under her guidance, we felt that our undertaking could not be otherwise than successful.

"As we had little or no capital, a very necessary equipment when you go into the publishing business, we selected an Indianapolis job printer whom we knew would do the work cheaply for us.

"Those eager, expectant days were finally rewarded by an actual copy in hand—Volume 1, Number 1. The cover was a chocolate brown in color and its ugliness was only compensated for by the quiet repose in the center of the page of the dear emblem of our order, a key all done in gold. Two gold lines led around the page at a respectful distance from the edge and just beyond, on the other side lay 'The first efforts of an infant hand.'" vention, Eta Chapter invited the Fraternity to meet in Madison in 1882 in order to finish the business started at Bloomington, and to bring the national gatherings back to the even years since the Constitution provided they should be biennial.

An important step was taken to construct a catalog of the names of all members of the Fraternity.

At the 1884 Convention in Canton, New York, Charlotte Barrell, Φ-Boston, was elected at the beginning of her senior year to succeed Tade Hartsuff as Grand President. Beta Beta Chapter was assigned to make the first collection of chapter songs and the first Kappa songbook was published.

An important change in the Constitution provided that no chapter would be established in an educational institution known as a "seminary." The new trend was to establish chapters in co-educational colleges and universities.

First province conventions held

The first sub-conventions (now called province conventions) were held in 1885. However, it was not until 1923 that province conventions were held consistently on the alternating years of national conventions. Topics of discussion at these first conventions were literary works of the chapters, qualifications for membership and methods of building and strengthening the chapters.

The editorship of THE KEY was assumed by Phi Chapter in 1886 and six different editors managed the magazine until 1894. Charlotte Barrell was elected to another term as president at the 1886 Convention. She was married to Robert A. Ware in 1895. Her lifelong work in the dairy industry later brought her world acclaim.

In 1888 Kate Cross, X-Minnesota, was elected Grand President, having served on the preceding Council as Grand Marshal. During her two years in office, a catalog of members and a new songbook were published, and the first Kappa Historian was appointed. In 1891 she married Francis G. Shenehon.

At the close of her term of office, President Cross remarked, "We are essentially an undergraduate Fraternity. Girls in college together cannot be women of the world. We are no more such women than college boys are citizens of the world. Yet, without neglecting the girlish delight in unity, you may feel, deeply as in later womanhood, its meaning. That feeling and knowing helps us to be all that we look forward to, and are not yet."

"For six years I have known our Fraternity in intimate relation. In that time it has seemed to me to take on such unification, such strength, that I look, not hopefllly but confidently, to the roses and firesides, the dreams and realities, that promise no end and no departing."

Kappa starts Panhellenic movement

The 1890 Convention made an important contribution to the fraternity world when it passed a resolution "that Kappa Kappa Gamma extend an invitation to the different women's fraternities in the United States to attend a Panhellenic Convention in Boston the coming winter."

This was the beginning of the present-day National Panhellenic Conference and Kappa's Grand President, Lucy Evelyn Wight, B B^A-St. Lawrence, (elected at the 1890 Convention) was the first president of the new group. She married a young journalist, Mansfield Allan, while later teaching in her home state of New York.

Accomplishments during her administration included the adoption of the fleur-de-lis as the Fraternity flower, the sapphire as the Fraternity jewel, and dark and light blue as the Fraternity colors. It was voted that council sessions should be held the interim year between conventions and the purchase of chapter houses was first discussed.

In 1892, Emily Bright, Φ -Boston, became Grand President, having completed two terms as Grand Secretary. She was married while in office in 1893 to Addison C. Burnham. As one of the founders of a higher order called the Second Degree, Mrs. Burnham was its first initiate. The purpose of the Second Degree was to provide an incentive for deeper study into Fraternity matters, but this was discontinued in 1896 because examinations and initiation could only be conducted at conventions and council sessions. Only the six founders and 33 others wore the fleur-de-lis insignia of the Second Degree.

Another first at this convention was the seating of an alumna delegate, Gertrude E. Small, Φ -Boston, and representing the Chicago Alumnæ Association. Other alumnæ delegates were seated at later conventions, but they were not allowed to vote.

The 11-year period between 1882 and 1893 saw the establishment of 16 new chapters: in 1882, Upsilon at Northwestern, Beta Zeta at Iowa, Phi at Boston, Xi at Adrian (inactive in 1944); in 1883, Beta Tau at Syracuse, Psi at Cornell (inactive in 1969), Omega at Kansas; in 1884, Sigma at Nebraska; in 1885, Beta Rho at Cincinnati (inactive a few months later and reestablished in 1914); in 1888, Gamma Rho at Allegheny, Beta Nu at Ohio State; in 1890, Beta Alpha at Pennsylvania, Beta Delta at Michigan; in 1891, Beta Epsilon at Barnard (inactive in 1917); in 1892, Beta Eta at Stanford (inactive in 1944); in 1893, Beta Iota at Swarthmore (inactive in 1934).

III. The Period of Conservatism 1894-1900

The close of the 19th century

The six-year period before the close of the 19th century was characterized by extreme conservatism in the establishment of new chapters. Only one chapter was chartered, Beta Lambda at Illinois in 1899. Pi Chapter was reestablished at the University of California in 1897.

Katharine Sharp, Y-Northwestern, was elected Grand President at the 1894 Convention. The affairs of the Fraternity up to that year had been entirely in the hands of the active members, or girls very recently out of college. Katharine Sharp was an alumna nine years out of college and a woman in her thirtieth year. This was a distinct departure from precedent.

Although there were no new chapters during her administration, Miss Sharp later aided Beta Lambda in their petition to form a chapter, and she guided them in their early years.

Editor becomes Council member

The editorship of THE KEY was changed to Psi Chapter in 1894 and for the first time the editor, Mary Josephine Hull, became a member of the Council. The design of the first pledge pin was credited to Katharine Sharp. In 1930 her chapter, Upsilon at Northwestern, presented the Fraternity her pledge pin and badge. The latter is now worn by each President of the Fraternity while in office.

The trends of the time were described in Katharine Sharp's valedictory of 1896 which was the first ever given by a Grand President. She emphasized that the Fraternity should "practice great conservatism in regard to the granting of charters, limiting them to colleges of the highest standing; withdraw charters from such chapters as are weakening to the Fraternity, on account of a lowering of the standard of the college, or lack of proper material to maintain the chapter."

Honorary membership abolished

When the Fraternity was young, the purpose of honorary members provided moral and material support to the chapters. However, as more Kappas entered into alumnæ membership, the need for honorary members no longer existed. Therefore, the practice of initiating honorary members was abolished at the 1896 Convention and the formation of associate chapters was encouraged. At the close of that convention, Bertha Richmond, Φ -Boston, was elected Grand President. She served two terms carrying forth the same conservatism established in the previous administration. In 1902 she married Samuel A. Chevalier.

It is interesting to note in her valedictory of 1898, she expressed concern over the inability of new officers to rapidly learn the prescribed duties of their office, and she recommended that some constitutional provision be made whereby the personnel of the Grand Council would be more stable. She urged the formation of alumnæ associations and recommended the new catalog (the second to be published) be used as a guide to favorable locations for the same.

The importance of chapter records was emphasized at this time, and in her final valedictory of 1900, Miss Richmond noted, "Much of the routine work could be done more easily by chapters and by officers of the Grand Council, if proper blanks were printed . . . forms for applications for charters, for delegates credentials, for archive reports, etc."

She also reported that "a songbook has been published which paid for itself. THE KEY has earned nearly $1,000 in the time it has been with Psi, and a catalog has been published which stands as a model of what a Fraternity catalog should be."

IV. The Return to Expansion 1900-1920

Kappa enters the 20th century

The formative years of Kappa Kappa Gamma had seen difficult times. In some instances, charters were removed from campuses where there had been anti-fraternity legislation. When the convention convened in 1900, the Fraternity elected Jean Nelson Penfield, I-DePauw, an excellent orator and lawyer parliamentarian. During her two years, five new alumnæ associations were added and a special Alumnæ Day was planned for the 1902 Convention.

In Mrs. Penfield's words concerning the Fraternity, she said, "We wish to emphasize the fact that the Fraternity is peculiarly an undergraduate body; on the undergraduate falls the expense of the Fraternity; on the undergraduate is laid the responsibility of maintaining the standing of the Fraternity; with the undergraduate should rest the privilege of making the laws of the Fraternity. These facts we emphasize, but at the same time we desire to urge the benefit of close and intimate relationship with the alumnæ, from whom the undergraduate has inherited, and whose judgment, advice and companionship should ever be counted not only valuable but most welcome."

Two chapters were established during her administration, Beta Mu at Colorado in 1901 and Beta Xi at Texas in 1902.

First Kappa scholarships

In President Penfield's valedictory of 1902, she mentioned the establishment of a permanent sinking fund to be used in emergencies. Mrs. Penfield proposed, "This emergency fund is to be established by the setting aside of 50 per cent of the surplus every two years until the sum of two thousand dollars is reached. When this amount is obtained, we hope the beautiful idea of Kappa scholarships will be considered in relation to the income from the emergency fund, together with the biennial surplus."

The first mention of aid to students is found in this same valedictory. Steps were taken toward the endowment of a scholarship at Wood's Hole Marine Laboratory in Massachusetts, and from this developed the present Students' Aid Fund.

Mrs. Penfield's administration is noted for the first venture of any chapter into chapter house ownership. Beta Eta-Stanford moved into a house, which they had built, in January, 1900, and Eta-Wisconsin followed in 1901.

Desire for continuity

Members of each newly elected Council realized the need for some continuation of officers as the Fraternity grew and with it grew the responsibilities of the officers. A young Kappa alumnae of Sigma Chapter at the University of Nebraska named May Whiting had served as Grand Secretary for two years when she was elected Grand President at the close of the 1902 Convention. Shortly after taking office she was married to Theodore Westermann.

Mrs. Westermann was the only president to be reelected to that office in later years when she served the Fraternity as the first National President from 1922 to 1926. Her later position as Historian led to the writing of the Kappa history started by Florence Burton Roth and entitled, The History of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity 1870-1930, published in 1932.

A concern about the continuity of officers was noted in President Westermann's valedictory of 1904, "The lack of interruption in the development of policy and in the carrying on of work since then (1900) have convinced us that changes in the Grand Council should, for the sake of the fraternity-at-large, be gradual rather than periodic."

Various chapters had been responsible for the publication of THE KEY and from 1900 through 1904, Beta Nu Chapter served with Lucy Allen Smart as editor. The Convention of 1904 voted that the editor be elected by convention upon the recommendation of the Grand Council. The first person to serve in this capacity was Adele Lathrop, Σ-Nebraska. After her were Elizabeth Voris Lawry, Δ-Akron (1905-1906); Elizabeth Gray Potter, Π^A-California (1906-1910); and Elizabeth Rhodes Jackson, Ψ-Cornell (1910-1914).

Alumnæ growth continues

As a result of the rapid development of alumnae associations, the 1904 Convention voted to appoint an alumnae officer. The first to serve in this new office was the retiring Grand Treasurer, Virginia Sinclair, E-Illinois Wesleyan. Her work was so well done that 21 alumnae delegates attended the next convention.

One new chapter was installed during Mrs. Westermann's term, Beta Omicron at Sophie Newcomb, the women's division of Tulane University, in 1904.

Elmie Warner Δ-Akron, was chosen the Grand President at the 1904 Convention, just eight years after she had represented her chapter at the National Convention in Evanston, Illinois. She had served two terms as Grand Registrar and was married in 1905 to Herbert S. Mallory, Ph.D., Yale.

Her valedictory set forth the aims of her administration and furnished strong evidence of the constructive work she had done. Concerning the matter of national policy, Mrs. Mallory said, "For a number of years there has been growing in the Fraternity a realization of the necessity for the adoption of a general national policy. The adoption of a national policy will not only strengthen the Fraternity but will be felt far beyond the limits of Fraternity circles."

Among the suggestions she listed for a general policy were, "The Fraternity should urge the placing of womanhood first; college, second; and Fraternity, third. Kappa Kappa Gamma's national policy is to stand always and everywhere for what is square, clean and helpful."

On the question of national extension, she pointed out, "The conservatism of our 30 chapters is to be commended, but at the same time it is for us to recognize the danger of confounding conservatism with self-satisfaction. No organization can be so strong that it may not be strengthened by the assimilation of the right kind of new material. The most promising opening for chapters of Kappa Kappa Gamma seem to be in the extreme west and in the south."

Two more chapters were added in 1905, Beta Pi at Washington and Beta Sigma at Adelphi College (inactive in 1953).

The importance of alumnae growth was emphasized in 1906 as Mrs. Mallory related in her valedictory, "From the beginning it has been the policy of the present administration to bring the alumnae into closer touch with the national Fraternity. I do not agree with those of the alumnae who feel that Fraternity life should and does end with graduation. It remains with the alumnae to breathe into this body of Kappa Kappa Gamma the breath of a more wonderful life."

Elected as the new alumnae officer, Mrs. Mallory worked from 1906 to 1908 with the newly formed alumnae board to organize the work among alumnae. Already they had been given the privilege of the floor at national conventions, but had no vote.

A president from Oregon

Mary Griffith, BA-Pennsylvania, became Grand President in 1906. The next year she was married to a young mining engineer, William Canby. Together they moved from the east and established roots in a small mountain-top community in western Oregon where Mr. Canby had charge of a mining development.

Mrs. Canby spoke of her administration as a "continuation of that of the preceding one, and much crystallizing of work then begun has resulted." During her term of office, the editor of THE KEY was discontinued as a member of the Council. For the first time scholarship reports were received by a definite committee.

No big achievement marked her administration, but many small details resulted in internal improvement. Chapters were required to send in reports to become part of the history of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity.

The question of the best method of rushing

was of concern to the Fraternity. Mrs. Canby emphasized in her 1906 valedictory that, "Our great reform must begin with a reorganization of the rushing system. Rush as it now exists must be abolished, not because if we do not remedy it, the university authorities doubtless will take active steps to do so, but because the system is wrong, and no fraternity must stand for wrong principles or customs. To some of us, the greatest hope of quick reform lies in the late pledge day, by which a student would have her freshman year free from fraternity obligations."

Mrs. Canby installed one new chapter during her administration, Beta Upsilon at West Virginia in 1906.

The first decade of the 1900's closed with the administration of Edith Stoner, @-Missouri, whose previous Council offices included Grand Registrar and Grand Secretary. In her second year of office, she took a year's leave of absence from teaching to devote her entire time to Fraternity work. She served the National Panhellenic Conference as secretary and this Panhellenic experience influenced her work as Grand President.

In her valedictory of 1910 she clearly outlined the three main matters of interest to her administration, "The advancement of scholarship in our own Fraternity; the improvement of social conditions in the colleges by the adoption and observance of chapter-house rules; and the attainment of high ideals in scholarship and social conditions in other fraternities, through closer and more helpful relations in the Panhellenic Associations."

Scholarship reports were used more extensively by the committee set up in the preceding administration and silver scholarship cups were offered in many chapters to encourage high scholarship.

A change was made in the name and purpose of the Wood's Hole Scholarship Fund which had provided an annual graduate biology scholarship. Not much interest was displayed in the fund until 1908. The addition of fifty cents from each initiation fee brought the fund into prominence as numerous requests were made for the money. Later the Council decided that the fund should become an undergraduate Students' Aid Fund which has provided loans to needy students through the years, both Kappas and non-members.

The Fraternity coat-of-arms was designed by Margaret Brown Moore, B Γ-Wooster, in collaboration with a renowned heraldic designer, and approved during Edith Stoner's administration. Two new chapters were installed: Beta Phi at Montana in 1909, and Beta Chi at Kentucky in 1910.

First Canadian chapter established

Another young newly-wed became the Fraternity's Grand President in 1910, Florence Burton Roth, B Δ-Michigan. She had been elected Grand Secretary in 1908, just one month before her wedding to Dr. Augustus H. Roth who was specializing in surgery in Erie, Pennsylvania.

In 1910 she presided over the National Panhellenic Conference. At the conclusion of her term as Kappa's Grand President, she accepted the office of Historian and worked until 1925 collecting material for the writing of the Fraternity history which was later completed by May Westermann.

The first Canadian chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma was installed during Mrs. Roth's term, Beta Psi at Toronto in 1911.

Mrs. Roth spoke of her term of office by saying that "no startling events have characterized the term just closing, but we feel assured that there has been growth and progress and improvement, an uplifting of standards and an approach toward ideals."

It had been the work of recent administrations to revise the Constitution and Standing

Rules to keep up with the growth and development of the Fraternity.

Customarily, early Council members visited each chapter during their term of office and Mrs. Roth reported in her valedictory of 1912, "A further policy of this administration has been to establish a closer, more personal, more confidential relation between the chapters themselves and the national officers. Chapter visiting has afforded the best possible opportunity for developing such a spirit."

New chapters increase

The four years from 1912 to 1916 saw a rapid growth in the number of chapters established. Serving two terms as president during those years was Eva Powell, Π^{Δ} -California. In 1914 she spoke of the increase in extension since 1900 and explained, "We have been coming to see that if Kappa Kappa Gamma is to realize her ideal of sisterhood in the light of the present day ideals, she will gladly give what she has to give to all who are worthy. Our new period should be one of extension, but of discriminating extension."

The years of Miss Powell's service saw three chapters established: Beta Omega at Oregon in 1913; Beta Theta at Oklahoma in 1914; and Beta Kappa at Idaho in 1916. Two chapters were reestablished: Beta Rho at Cincinnati in 1914 and Beta Beta at St. Lawrence in 1915.

The alumnae work had assumed such importance that by the 1914 Convention the alumnae officer was made a regular member of the Council and called the Grand Vice-President. The first to serve was Sarah Bacon Harris, Y-Northwestern. The convention also officially adopted the Sigma in the Delta as the official pledge pin of the Fraternity.

An important change in the Fraternity government took place in 1914 as the province system of government was developed and province presidents were appointed. Looking back over two years of the new system, Miss Powell said in 1916, "We feel that the change made at the last convention has been good. The Grand President has been able to keep all the interests of the chapters before her in a way never before possible." These province presidents were the forerunners of the present-day Province Directors of Chapters.

The Hoot is born

A long-time tradition was started at the 1916 Convention. The first convention newspaper, The Hoot, appeared, the brainchild of Katherine Tobin Mullin, B Σ -Adelphi, who served as editor of THE KEY from 1914 through 1922.

The 1916 Convention was the last before the United States' entry into World War I. The Students' Aid Fund was given a boost by a gift of $5,000 in memory of Juliette Hollenbach, B Σ -Adelphi, former Council officer. It was hoped that the Fund might reach $10,000 by the 50th anniversary celebration in 1920. The convention recommended that each active chapter undertake some local social service work and a new songbook appeared at this convention.

Service during the war years

At the close of the 1916 Convention, a new president was installed who served until 1920, Lydia Voris Kolbe, Λ -Akron. Mrs. Kolbe had been Grand Treasurer for six years. Both the active chapters and alumnae groups were busy with war work as thousands of Kappas volunteered for the Red Cross, Y.W.C.A. and other war activities.

Perhaps the single war effort best remembered was the project initiated by Dorothy Canfield Fisher, B N-Ohio State, who was living in France with her husband and two children. She appealed to the Fraternity for clothes and money for the needy children in Bellevue-Meudon, suburb of Paris. Mrs. Fisher reported the response was "far beyond anything that had been dreamed" and the generous support of Kappas everywhere continued to the war torn area until 1921. Nearly 50,000 francs were sent for the project including $2,000 which was to have been used for the cancelled 1918 Convention.

This war-time Council is credited with the creation of the Province Vice-Presidents to assist the Grand Vice-President in alumnæ work. These were the forerunners of the present-day Province Directors of Alumnæ.

In her closing valedictory remarks of 1918, Mrs. Kolbe reviewed the preceding two years by saying, "The years 1917 and 1918 will be in Kappa history the 'never-to-be-forgotten years,' for never before have all her members, both active and alumnæ, so completely submerged themselves and their individual groups in any one great cause, nor have they been so inspired by any one great ideal as they have been by the great humanitarian work of winning the war and by the great uplifting principle that there must be lasting world peace."

Kappa celebrates 50 years

The Golden Jubilee Convention of 1920 marked 50 years of existence for Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity. President Kolbe reviewed the growth of the Fraternity in her closing remarks of 1920, "Our hearts swell with pride and gratification when we view this structure which took 50 years to build. We are proud of the scholarship record, the observance of law and order, the amenability to suggestions and discipline, the loyalty displayed, the fidelity to ideals.

"May the structure of the next 50 years be as strong and beautiful. This can only be accomplished by a strict adherence to those policies which have been tested and found invaluable; by an open-mindedness to new ideas and situations; by loyalty to each other which excludes jealousy and rancor and by living according to the ideals of our Fraternity."

The trend of expansion during, and especially after the war years, resulted in the installation of seven new chapters: in 1916, Gamma Alpha at Kansas State; in 1918, Gamma Beta at New Mexico and Gamma Gamma at Whitman College; in 1919, Gamma Delta at Purdue and Gamma Epsilon at Pittsburgh; in 1920, Gamma Zeta at Arizona and Gamma Eta at Washington State.

V. Expansion from a Firm Foundation 1920-1930

Into the roaring twenties

With 50 years of dedicated work and organization by scores of talented Kappa women, the Fraternity was firmly based as a leader in the fraternity world by 1920. To maintain that position, Kappa has always kept an eye to the future and the years of "those roaring twenties" were no exception.

At the close of the Golden Jubilee Convention, a young enthusiastic girl from Upsilon at Northwestern, Sarah Harris, was elected Grand President. She had served on the Council six years as the first Grand Vice-President, since the new office was created in 1914, and she instigated a new department of alumnæ notes in THE KEY. She was married while in office to Richard Y. Rowe.

Central office is established

One of the most significant contributions of Mrs. Rowe's two-year administration was the recommendation that the Fraternity establish a Central Office with one paid officer who could give her full time to the work. This became a reality in 1922 when the office of Executive Secretary was created to include the work previously done by the Grand Secretary, Grand Treasurer, Custodian of the Badge, Business Manager of THE KEY and Director of Catalog.

The first Executive Secretary was Della Lawrence, B Ξ-Texas, who had served as Grand Secretary from 1920-22. The Central Office was established in a room in her home in Bryan, Texas. After her marriage to Howard Burt in 1923, they moved to St. Louis, Missouri in 1925 and the Central Office moved with them.

Family demands finally made it necessary for Mrs. Burt to resign in 1928. Her assistant and former Endowment Fund Chairman, Clara O. Pierce, B N-Ohio State, became the new Executive Secretary and in January of 1929, the Central Office was moved to Columbus, Ohio where offices were set up in a downtown office building.

To meet the monetary demands of establishing a new Central Office, it was suggested by Grand President Rowe that an Endowment Fund be established. The money in the Fund would be used to finance an executive office, meet national emergencies and provide building loans to chapters. The Sinking Fund established in 1902 was made the nucleus of the new Endowment Fund.

Another important fund was launched at the 1922 Convention when Beta Psi appealed to the convention for financial help for one of their members, Rose McGill. Today, the Rose McGill Fund still administers to the needs of Kappa's members in time of particular distress.

Two new chapters were added in 1921, Gamma Theta at Drake and Gamma Iota at Washington University.

Although Mrs. Rowe was not able to preside over the 1922 Convention because of the arrival of her first child, Richard Yates Rowe, Jr., she expressed these hopes for the future in her valedictory remarks of 1922, "To maintain our place in the fraternity and college world, to meet the need in the colleges in this new world, we must realize fully that we must merge our chapter interests in the interests of the colleges and universities where we exist. This means that in the future which lies before us, Kappa Kappa Gamma will fulfill her splendid destiny only in so far as she, through her membership, serves the colleges where she has chapters and, more than that, the communities touched by those chapters and so the world. Because of the nature of our organization, our opportunity and obligation to serve is great."

A Grand President returns to office

The only president in Kappa history to serve two different terms was May Whiting Westermann, Σ-Nebraska, who was elected National President at the 1922 Convention, just 20 years after her selection as Grand President in 1902.

During Mrs. Westermann's four years in office, the Fraternity made significant strides in organization. In 1924 she felt that the most far-reaching development had been the formation of province government. She said,

May Whiting Westermann
 Σ-Nebraska

"This has been a natural development, no forced growth, resulting in most cases from interest on the part of the chapters in the province in some phase of extension."

The 1924 Convention provided for the standardization of the badge and the initiation fee became a standardized amount. A life subscription to THE KEY was included in this initiation fee. Recognizing the need for a uniform system for active chapter finances, the Uniform System of Budgetary Financial Control was adopted in 1924.

Perhaps the most important action taken by this convention was the realization of the need for a definite extension policy. The Extension Committee of the 1924 Convention expressed the desire for a study of the university world, noting the rise and decline of such institutions, in order that the Fraternity might be wisely guided in its future expansion. Marie Mount, Δ-Indiana, presented the results of her extension survey in 1928 which indicated what Kappa had done in expansion in relation to the other women's fraternities; and emphasized the need for a definite and aggressive policy of extension.

Five new chapters were installed during Mrs. Westermann's term of office: in 1923, Gamma Kappa at William and Mary and Gamma Lambda at Middlebury (inactive in 1969); in 1924, Gamma Mu at Oregon State; in 1925, Gamma Nu at Arkansas and Gamma Xi at California at Los Angeles. Rho at Ohio Wesleyan was reestablished in 1925.

The Endowment Fund campaign was officially started in 1924 with a $100,000 goal which was finally reached through the efforts of Chairman Clara O. Pierce. The Ritual was put into more permanent form and issued to the chapters in a bound notebook and the Constitution, By-Laws and Standing Rules of the Fraternity were completely revised.

The first Canadian to serve on the Council was elected in 1922 and served four years as Registrar, Mary Hall Deeves, B Ψ-Toronto. During the years 1922-1926, THE KEY was under the able editorship of Rosalie Geer Parker, B Σ-Adelphi. In 1926, she turned the position over to Emily Peirce Sheafe, B Π-Washington, who continued the editorship until 1930.

Chapter awards emerge

The first rotating Kappa award for active chapter excellence, the still-coveted Efficiency Cup, was first presented in 1926. It was given by the National Director of Provinces and future National President, Georgia Hayden Lloyd-Jones, H-Wisconsin, in honor of the outgoing president, May Westermann.

Mrs. Westermann closed the 1924 Convention with these words, "We, in (this) convention assembled, are the Fraternity, but in the last analysis the Fraternity is the sum of the individual members, actives and alumnæ, who make up the chapters. So much louder is the voice of criticism than the voice of praise that our only protection lies in being, individual and as groups, above criticism. We ourselves forge the keenest weapons which our enemies use against us."

The final four years of the 1920's saw an increase in Kappa chapters by nine under the presidency of Georgia Hayden Lloyd-Jones, H-Wisconsin, including: in 1927, Gamma Omicron at Wyoming and Gamma Pi at Alabama; in 1928, Gamma Sigma at Manitoba; in 1929, Gamma Tau at North Dakota State, Gamma Upsilon at British Columbia, Gamma Phi at Southern Methodist, Gamma Chi at George Washington, Gamma Psi at Maryland and Gamma Omega at Denison.

One feature of her administration was the establishment of a committee to survey chapter standards. In Mrs. Lloyd-Jones' words, "We did this in recognition of the fact that college women of today neither think nor act as did college women of former decades. We recognized also the futility of trying to impose standards upon one another. We have therefore appointed this as a research committee to collate the best ideas of our chapters on conduct and modern college ethics that Kappas may understand each other and weak chapters may profit by the fine ideals of the strong."

An outgrowth of the well-established Students' Aid Fund was started in 1928 in the form of Co-organizer Scholarships, the forerunner of the Graduate Counselor Scholarships of today. At the suggestion of Della Lawrence Burt, Executive Secretary, it was decided that this two-fold scholarship could aid new chapters in organization and policies under the direction of a Kappa graduate student as she pursued her education.

The early beginnings of several other important developments can be found in the President's reports of this period. Mrs. Lloyd-Jones spoke of the need for a traveling inspector plan which would relieve Council members from the great amount of traveling they did in visiting each chapter. She also encouraged the beginning of some type of philanthropic work as she said, "We are strong only as we give." The idea of a Memorial Fund was started to purchase books for the Monmouth College Library in memory of the Founders.

VI. The Move Toward Centralization 1930-1940

The depression years

The years of the 1930's saw the United States thrown into depression, panic and despair. By the end of the decade, the world was once again engaged in war, with the United States soon to enter in 1941.

Kappa Kappa Gamma continued to grow and perform a service during these years, and the large Fraternity organization that had started with six young girls 60 years before was moving ahead with strong leadership.

The work of the 1930 Convention provided the basis for several new policies. Funds were appropriated for a full-time traveling secretary and Helen V. Snyder, B II-Washington, was the first Kappa Field Secretary.

The responsibility of organizing each general convention was removed from a hostess chapter. A Fraternity standing committee was formed with Fraternity funds allocated to finance the conventions. The Fraternity became an incorporated organization and the letters, K K Γ, were patented.

A new era in the editing of THE KEY started in 1930, when Helen C. Bower, B Δ-Michigan, became editor and continued through the depression and war years until 1946.

Alice Tillotson Barney, X-Minnesota, was elected Grand President in early 1931 when Florence Tomlinson Myers, Γ Θ-Drake, found it necessary to resign after the 1930 Convention. Mrs. Barney was reelected in 1932, but in October of that year she died of a heart attack. The Fraternity later endowed a bed at the University of Minnesota hospital in her memory.

She called her administration a "publishing administration" as these new publications appeared, the first Pledge Hand Book and Instructions for Pledge Training. The long-awaited history of the Fraternity appeared in 1932 and a new songbook was circulated.

In the depression years of the thirties, the Fraternity was kept financially stable under the guidance of the new Executive Secretary, Clara O. Pierce. Mrs. Barney praised her when she remarked, "As you all know this has been a trying year for every business and organization. I feel very strongly that a great deal of appreciation and gratitude should be given the Executive Secretary for so successfully guiding our finances. That we are able to carry on and run our affairs successfully is due to her wisdom and ability."

The Fraternity grew with eight new chapters established between 1930 and 1933 and all but two were installed by Grand President Barney. In 1930 was Delta Alpha at Penn State, Delta Beta at Duke, Delta Gamma at Michigan State, Delta Delta at McGill; in 1932, Delta Epsilon at Rollins, Delta Zeta at Colorado College, Delta Eta at Utah; and in 1933, Delta Theta at Goucher (inactive in 1942).

In her report of 1932, Mrs. Barney spoke of the condition of the times, "The year has been a strenuous one and I hope there will never be another exactly like it. I am truly thankful that we have come out of it so well and only hope that the next year will be better for us and the country at large.

After Mrs. Barney's sudden death, the Fraternity Vice-President, Eleanor V. V. Bennett, ΠΔ-California, was appointed to fill the remainder of the term. She was reelected at the 1934 Convention, but illness prevented her from serving her entire term and in 1935 she resigned. The first Kappa Field Secretary, Helen Snyder Andres, was appointed to fill the presidency.

Magazine Agency begins

Marie Bryden Macnaughtan, Θ-Missouri, was the last Grand Registrar to serve the Fraternity as that office was abolished at the 1934 Convention. She turned her efforts to the newly-formed Kappa Magazine Agency which still provides substantial income for the Rose McGill Fund Endowment.

During the early and middle thirties, the trend toward the development of Fraternity committees was evident. The work of the Fraternity was becoming so varied that specialists were needed. The 11 Fraternity committees of 1930 increased to 27 by 1940.

Founders' Day 1934 was a momentous occasion as original Alpha Chapter was reestablished at Monmouth College. It was here that the lighting of tapers from Charlotte Barrell Ware's candlesticks by two founders, Louise Bennett Boyd and Louisa Stevenson Miller, became a Fraternity tradition. The "Passing of the Light" is still a part of each convention and installation banquet.

By 1934, the Students' Aid Fund had grown to a point that the convention voted to establish three $500 fellowships for graduate study in art, humanities and science. Today these fellowships are offered in all fields of graduate study.

At the 1936 Convention, more of the Fund's income was diverted to establish undergraduate scholarships, a program inspired by President Andres who was concerned over the loss of valuable members to the chapters because of financial reasons.

A new Council office was created in 1934, the Director of Standards, as the result of several years of development by a Standards Committee. The special work assigned to this office was to direct a definite national standards program and to supervise Fraternity education.

A new Kappa philanthropy project emerged in 1936 as a result of the work of the Philanthropy Survey Committee. Kappa "Kampships" were provided by alumnae associations who participated in the project to send underprivileged children to camp.

Another new project started in 1937 provided exchange scholarships with foreign countries. The first Kappa to study abroad on this scholarship was Carolyn Collier, @-Missouri, in 1937, and the first foreign student to study in the United States that year was Elizabeth Noelle of Germany. This program grew into the present Foreign Student-Foreign Study Scholarship program.

At the 1936 Convention two new chapter awards were presented for the first time: the Standards Award given in honor of Charlotte Barrell Ware, and one for excellence in Scholarship given in honor of Minnie Royse Walker.

Progress was made in the Fraternity in the early thirties, and Helen Andres closed her term in 1936 with these words, "I feel that we have gone forward in our Kappa thinking. The challenge made to fraternities in the past years has been answered in improved cultural interests, broader campus service, more constructive thinking by all Fraternity members. We have not been afraid to go ahead, and in so doing have kept our fine place in the women's fraternities of the country."

During her short term of office, Mrs. Andres presided over the installation of one new chapter, Delta Iota at Louisiana State University in 1935.

Fraternity laws are revised

Perhaps the most outstanding parliamentary of the Fraternity, Rheva Ott Shryock, B A-Pennsylvania, was elected President in 1936 and served until the close of the decade. Today she still serves the Fraternity as Parliamentarian. For her work in this field, she was chosen as one of the Fraternity's Achievement Award recipients in 1962.

It was during her administration that the Constitution and By-Laws were revised extensively, and several new manuals were written. These included a Province Presidents' Manual prepared by Mrs. Shryock, the first Province Vice-Presidents' Manual, the first House Directors' Manual, and the printed newspaper, The Fleur-de-Lis, which emerged to take the place of mimeographed letters from Council to alumnae groups.

With these new manuals for a guide, the province officers became more important as the contact officers between the Council and the chapters and alumnae groups. The chapters were divided into 12 provinces, and officers correlated activities in their provinces. A training school for province officers was initiated prior to general conventions to better prepare these officers for their responsibilities.

A significant event during Mrs. Shryock's administration was the opening of Kappa's Hearthstone on Founders' Day, 1938. For several years the Fraternity had been exploring the possibility of establishing some type of club house for Kappas whose college days were behind them. Property in Winter Park, Florida was purchased and remodeled for long-term or overnight Kappa guests. The home was named for Founder Louise Bennett Boyd. The great dream did not prove realistic, however, and had to be abandoned in 1962. Property for a second Hearthstone was deeded to the Fraternity by Charlotte Barrell Ware and her husband in 1938. The money realized from the eventual sale of this property became the nucleus of the Charlotte Barrell Ware Scholarship.

Council adds membership officer

Because of concern over rushing methods, a Director of Membership and Panhellenic was added to the Council in 1938. The first to serve in this new office was Edith Reese Crabtree, B Γ-Wooster.

The 1938 Convention saw the beginning of a new Bequest Program which provided members the opportunity to perpetuate their interests in the Fraternity and the building of its programs. However, the war years were soon to take the attention of the world.

The last chapter of the 1930's to be established was Delta Kappa at the University of Miami in 1938.

In giving her valedictory of 1940 after serving as the last president to hold the title of Grand President, Mrs. Shryock spoke of the role of the Fraternity in the university system, "We have learned that self-reliance, initiative, consideration for others and a sense of responsibility are all attributes that can be developed within the circle of the Fraternity. The responsibilities each assumes in the chapter will be a training for life."

VII. The War Years and After 1940-1950

Kappa enters war period

The world was at war once more. Short-lived was the peace that had come from the first World War 20 years before.

The mood of the country became serious and purposeful. And so did the mood of the Fraternity. Already the influence of the war was felt at the 1940 Convention when Elizabeth Bogert Schofield, M-Butler, became president. At this convention, Kappa authorized her first involvement in war work, before the country itself had become openly involved.

The president of the London Alumnæ Association, Nora Waln, B I-Swarthmore, was to have been a guest speaker at the 1940 Convention. Because of the war situation, she couldn't come and at the spontaneous suggestion of KEY editor, Helen Bower, the convention voted to send the budgeted travel amount of $200 to Nora Waln. This was the beginning of the Nora Waln Fund for Refugee Children which continued through the war years to aid families in the bombed areas of London. After the war, the income to the Fund was diverted to providing layettes for the children of Norway and by the end of the hostilities, 5,000 layettes had been sent.

The work of the Fraternity continued steadily through these precarious years. The Co-organizer Scholarship program which heretofore had been limited to new chapters, was expanded to include assistance to established chapters. Its title was changed to the Graduate Counselor Scholarship program.

The 1940-42 Council showed several changes in titles as the offices of Director of Chapter Organization, Director of Chapter Programs and Director of Alumnæ were added; and the Director of Standards and Director of Provinces were dropped. For the first time, two field secretaries were appointed to visit chapters instead of one.

President Schofield spoke of the importance of the Fraternity in her 1942 valedictory, "The current problems faced today should be a challenge to help promote our Fraternity ideals in every walk of life. In the post-war readjustments women will have a larger part in shaping the course of human existence. In the anguished and shattered world of today we must remember and live by lasting ideals so as to be better able to 'care for those who live tomorrow.'"

Service Women's Centers sponsored

An important wartime project of the Fraternity was initiated at the 1942 Convention, Kappa's Service Women's Centers. Before the war, an Army and Navy Alumnæ Association had been formed at the suggestion of Virginia Tucker Jones Heiss, Γ K-William and Mary.

Under her guidance, the alumnæ associations sponsored 14 recreational centers for all women in the armed forces. The first established in Des Moines, Iowa was followed by others in Baltimore, Columbus (Ohio), Dayton, Denver, El Paso, Honolulu, Los Angeles, New York, Oakland, Phoenix, Portland, St. Louis and Seattle.

With the cooperation of hotel managers who offered space and Elizabeth Arden who equipped and stocked powder bars in these centers, some 225,000 women in the Service enjoyed these centers which were staffed by 1,200 Kappa volunteers.

Mrs. Schofield praised the alumnæ for their work in her report of 1944, "We have been gratified to see the added stimulus given to alumnæ by their very own war time projects. Other opportunities for service by the Fraternity and its members will be presented as we move from war to peace again."

Four new chapters were installed during Mrs. Schofield's tenure: in 1940, Delta Lambda at Miami University; in 1942, Delta Mu at Connecticut and Delta Nu at Massachusetts; in 1944, Delta Xi at Carnegie Tech, now Carnegie-Mellon.

The 1944 Convention was cancelled and instead a meeting of officers and chairmen was held at Colorado Springs. Ruth Kadel Seacrest, Σ-Nebraska, was appointed President by the Council under the provisions of the Fraternity Constitution.

Kappa's war work continued and at the 75th anniversary convention in 1946, interest was turned to a post-war effort in the same area of France where Kappa's World War I assistance was undertaken. Dorothy Canfield Fisher appealed once more for help for the French children of Bas Meudon. Beatrice Woodman, Φ-Boston, was chairman of this project which provided for the sponsorship of schools and needy children, the sending of food and clothing, and donations to CARE. For her devoted efforts, the French Government bestowed their gold medal of honor upon Miss Woodman.

The Foreign Fellowship program started in 1937 was developed after the war and in 1946 the Foreign Student and Study Scholarships were named for Dean Virginia Gildersleeve, B E-Barnard, long-time Dean of her alma mater and the only woman delegate from the United States to the historic first United Nations Conference in 1945. A $1,500 gift was presented in her name for the promotion of international education.

Alumnæ honored at conventions

The first Alumnæ Achievement Awards recognizing Kappas who had excelled in their professional or business life were given at the 1946 Convention. This idea was promoted by Ann Scott Morningstar, B N-Ohio State, who has served the Fraternity as Public Relations Chairman since 1946.

The editorship of THE KEY changed hands in 1946 after 16 years under the management of Helen Bower. One issue that year was edited by Martha Combs Kennedy, Θ-Missouri. In order to avoid a single break in the continuous publication of the magazine since 1882, it was necessary for the busy Executive Secretary, Clara O. Pierce, to edit the magazine until 1949.

That year, the editor holding the longest term of office to date became the new editor, Isabel Hatton Simmons, B N-Ohio State. She had worked in the Central Office, read proof on The History of Kappa Kappa Gamma, and had been chairman of two biennial conventions, 1946 and 1948. Through 20 years of service she guided the magazine to its ranking today as one of the finest fraternity magazines in publication. She retired as the KEY editor in June, 1969.

Chapter expansion had been slow during the war years, but quickly resumed afterwards. Eight new chapters were installed in a three-year period: in 1946, Delta Omicron at Iowa State and Delta Pi at Tulsa; in 1947, Delta Rho at Mississippi, Delta Sigma at Oklahoma State and Delta Tau at Southern California; in 1948, Delta Upsilon at Georgia, Delta Phi at Bucknell, and Delta Chi at San Jose State.

Chapter house building resumed on many campuses, but the problem of financing these houses faced the Fraternity. Costs were high and for the first time, the Fraternity borrowed money for the completion of houses.

The whole Fraternity financial system was studied and changes were made in the management of Fraternity funds. Due to the concern of the Executive Secretary, a blanket fire insurance policy for houses financed by the Fraternity was provided.

The emergence of the "atomic age"

The 1946 Convention again selected Ruth Seacrest to guide the Fraternity through the readjustment problems following World War II. It was the dawning of the "atomic age."

She spoke optimistically of the work of the Fraternity during her administration in 1948, "During the past four years I have seen satisfying and even thrilling evidences of progress made in the advancement of the Fraternity's avowed program. Every project has gone forward. Each phase of Fraternity usefulness has been increased. And at the same time, every effort has been made to keep constantly before us the spiritual and noble ideals upon which Kappa was founded."

During the last two years of the decade, Helena Flinn Ege, Γ E-Pittsburgh, presided over the Council. She had led the alumnæ department to the greatest increase in chartered groups.

Kappa again became the presiding officer of the National Panhellenic Conference in 1949 when the Fraternity's delegate, Edith

Helena Flinn Ege
 Γ E-Pittsburgh
 President
 1948-1952

Reese Crabtree, assumed the chairmanship. In 1951 she presided over the 33rd National Panhellenic meeting at Williamsburg, Virginia.

Mrs. Ege considered the major project of her first two years in office as financing adequate homes for the chapters. In closing the decade she reported, "It has been the underlying purpose of your president this past two years, to hold us to consciousness of those basics upon which your Fraternity is founded, and by voice and by word, to call Kappas to think on these things. If, as this administration closes, chapters or alumnæ anywhere have felt this sense of renewal with their fraternity faith and loyalties, and have taken fresh hold of the ideals for which we stand, realizing the true possibilities of fraternity, then we would deem these efforts to have born rewarding fruit."

VIII. New Horizons in Philanthropy 1950-1960

The era of Kappa's philanthropies

The ninth decade in the history of Kappa Kappa Gamma may well be remembered by some as the decade of rapid growth in the area of national philanthropies. With the World War over, the Fraternity endeavored to aid the individual, both Kappas and non-Kappas, in her growth and development.

Reelected for two more years at the 1950 Convention, President Ege guided the Fraternity into the beginning of a new and unique Rehabilitation Service program as Kappa's national philanthropy.

As early as 1950 a special research grant was offered to a woman doctor from one of the occupied countries to receive training in rehabilitation methods in America before returning to help her own country's children. The first $2,000 fellowship named for Harriet Ford Griswold, B H-Stanford, herself a polio victim, was granted to Dr. Yaeko Kawai of Japan.

The 1952 Convention officially launched the Kappa Rehabilitation Services and the results of an extensive survey into this area were reported. Such a program was adaptable to small clubs and large associations alike and its flexibility made it possible to serve the needs of any community. Assistance could be offered in the form of money, gifts, scholarship funds and volunteer service.

The new service project was carried even further when in 1956 the first Rehabilitation Services Scholarship was awarded. These scholarships aided young women, non-members and Kappas, wishing to pursue professional careers in rehabilitation.

Because the Fraternity realized the extreme importance of this worthwhile philanthropy, the 100th year anniversary of the founding of Kappa Kappa Gamma is being celebrated this year by the awarding of $500,000 in fellowships and scholarships to young women who are studying in the field of rehabilitation on campuses where there are Kappa chapters.

Numerous other grants sponsored by Kappas and their gifts were given throughout the fifties as the new Fraternity project gained impetus with support from alumnæ and actives alike. In 1954 a new office was added to the Council to head these special services, the Director of Philanthropies.

New home for headquarters

An important development in the physical life of the Fraternity occurred in 1951 when an historic house in Columbus, Ohio, built in

Edith Reese Crabtree

B Γ-Wooster

1852, was purchased for the Fraternity's Headquarters. For some time the central office had felt the need for more space, and the lovely Victorian home with a fleur-de-lis iron fence provided enough room for the entire central office records, supplies, convention equipment and meeting room plus accommodations for out-of-town officers.

The remodeling of the structure in the authentic Victorian style of the era of Kappa's founding was lauded in President Ege's report of 1952, "Its acquiring and rehabilitation has been one of the high points of the year, but it has taken many more hours of labor for the Executive Secretary, who has done all supervision, than had been anticipated. She has done a tremendous job."

As Mrs. Ege left her four-year term of office she said, "As the book is closed on this administration, your president leaves this urgent plea with Kappas: Remain constantly alert to this era of continuing challenge. And as the years roll rapidly toward Kappa's own century mark, may we know the fullness of having achieved her destiny."

Having just completed her term as Chairman of the National Panhellenic Conference, Edith Reese Crabtree, B Γ-Wooster, was chosen president at the 1952 Convention. She had been active in Fraternity work for 20 years and her chief interest had always been in the development of leadership in young women.

The main consideration of her first administration was "to focus our attention on the real meaning of our fraternity purpose," as she reported in 1954. "In exploring ways of making the meaning of fraternity a more potent force in the lives of our actives it became apparent that one requisite was better understanding of Kappa history, organization, policies and procedures. So programs of Fraternity appreciation were substituted for what had been named Fraternity education. To gauge the usefulness of these programs, an annual test of the chapters covering the material presented, was instituted."

Once again in the history of the Fraternity, it was necessary to revise the Constitution, By-Laws, and Standing Rules, with the new changes approved at the 1954 Convention.

This convention also honored Clara O. Pierce on the anniversary of her 25 years of devoted service as Executive Secretary. The Gracious Living award for active chapters was first presented at this convention in honor of Miss Pierce by Helen C. Bower and Marion Ackley Chenoweth, both B Δ-Michigan, and Elizabeth Kimbrough Park, B X-Kentucky.

Other important awards started at the 1956 Convention included the Helena Flinn Ege candelabra presented by the Pittsburgh Alumnae Association to the chapter excelling in Pledge Training. At this time the Alumnae Loyalty award was given by Helen Cornish Hutchinson, B Θ-Oklahoma, in honor of former President Ege. The first alumna to receive this award was Marie Bryden Macnaughtan, Θ-Missouri, for her devoted Fraternity service through the years.

President Crabtree ended her four-year term as president in 1956 with an encouraging vote of confidence in the young people of the day, "My greatest joy, as I stand before you today, is in the quality and the quantity of our young leadership, in our undergraduate chapters, in our alumnae associations, and in our young national leadership groups that is the lifeblood of any organization. We have never been afraid to trust you."

External criticism increases

The last four years of the 1950's saw the Fraternity excel under the leadership of President Eleanore Goodridge Campbell, B M-Colorado. Since its inception, the fraternity system has been tested by criticism and opposition, and in her report of 1958 President Campbell said that the war against the fraternity system "has been waged with unabated ferocity." Paradoxically, while some campuses saw the system endangered to the point of collapse, others were eagerly seeking the establishment of national fraternities.

With a realistic attitude, the Fraternity set about alerting and educating the membership of the ever-changing conditions. To undertake this task, a new chairman of Fraternity Research was appointed with the sole task of keeping the Council abreast of the fast moving trends in education and on the campus and to keep in touch with fraternity leaders across the country. The first Research chairman was immediate past president Edith Crabtree.

An outstanding issue of THE KEY appeared in 1957 celebrating the 75th anniversary of continuous publication of the magazine. It was an invaluable source of historical information. Several other important publications appeared around this time including Chapter keystones, What Every Kappa Should Know, and Practices and Procedures.

For the first time in 1958, the expenses for one adviser delegate from each chapter to the biennial convention were paid by the Fraternity. The response in attendance was almost 100 per cent. The format of the 1958 Convention was changed to combine a Leadership School for active and alumnae delegates and advisers, the latter attending for the first time.

Mrs. Campbell praised alumnae work at the close of her term in 1960 and pointed out that although several NPC sororities had more active chapters than Kappa, none approached Kappa in the number of alumnae organizations. She explained, "There is just one explanation—Kappa interest and loyalty. Our chapters are giving us good members who continue their enthusiasm for their Fraternity after leaving school. The growth of our alumnae is amazing."

The long-time tradition of guarded conservatism in the area extension had been carried through the many years, but during the decade of the fifties, seven new chapters were added to the roll: in 1953, Delta Psi at Texas Tech; in 1954, Delta Omega at Fresno State; in 1955, Epsilon Alpha at Texas Christian; in 1956, Epsilon Beta at Colorado State; in 1958, Epsilon Gamma at North Carolina; and in 1959, Epsilon Delta at Arizona State and Epsilon Epsilon at Emory.

IX. Looking to the Second Century 1960-1970

The "Age of Aquarius"

The decade of the 1960's, barely a few months in the past, are still so close to the present they can barely be termed history. Perhaps a keynote of the decade will be remembered as rapid change in the world and in the Fraternity. On college campuses, established traditions were constantly being challenged and in turn, reevaluated by administrators, faculties and parents.

The 1960 Convention began a four-year term as president for Mary Turner Whitney, B P²-Cincinnati. She realized the significance of the new problem of the sixties when she reported, "Our chapters are part of this changing campus scene. If fraternities are to contribute to the educational and personal growth of their members and to support the educational objectives of today; if Kappa membership is to be of greatest value to our actives in the confusion and impersonal atmosphere of these crowded campuses, we must be aware of their needs and gear our programs to meet them."

Attempting to meet the challenge, a new emphasis on cultural life in the college communities was initiated by the Chapter Programs Study chairman, Catherine Alt Schultz, Ψ-Cornell. The cultural program caught hold quickly and in 1964 the president reported that it is "now well accepted and approaching the status of tradition in chapters where it has been stressed."

In order to lighten the chapter organizational load, a committee within the Council was formed to study ways to simplify chapters officers' duties and committee work without sacrificing valuable leadership training or organizational techniques.

Pledge training methods were reexamined when a special chairman, Sally Moore Nitschke, B N-Ohio State, was appointed to consider ways to upgrade the program. A new pledge handbook was published in 1962, A Key to Kappa Knowledge.

Plans for the centennial year

Looking toward the 1970 Centennial year of the Fraternity, the 1964 Convention passed a resolution formally appointing a Centennial Committee composed of past presidents to study all plans and projects submitted. This committee was originally started in 1962.

After years of earnest endeavor to provide a home for older members, it became necessary to close the Boyd Hearthstone in Winter Park, Florida in 1962. The property was sold and many of the valuable antique furnishings were sent to Headquarters.

Mrs. Whitney saw the installation of three new chapters while president: in 1961, Epsilon Zeta at Florida State; and in 1963 Epsilon Eta at Auburn and Epsilon Theta at Little Rock.

She closed her term of office with this look to the future, "The future holds great promise for fraternities if they can continue as responsible, contributing campus factors while maintaining the essential elements of private associations. During the last years of her first century, it is our hope that the Fraternity, ever changing but always the same in essentials, will continue to grow in wisdom as in age."

In 1964 the reins of the Fraternity's administration were turned over to Frances Fatout Alexander, I-DePauw, who directed the Fraternity's progress through 1968.

As external attacks upon the Fraternity system continued to mount, Mrs. Alexander in 1966 reported, "We are quite aware of the serious threats and dangers to the system which, unfortunately, involves Kappa Kappa Gamma sometimes, even though it is unjustified. These threats have caused deep and prayerful consideration by your Council these past two years as they work to discharge their constitutionally prescribed duties and still adjust to the rapid changes and demands being made upon us."

The 1966 Convention heard the sad report of the disastrous fire at Fraternity Headquarters in February, 1965. Through countless hours of work by the Headquarters staff and willing Columbus alumnae, 1968 Convention delegates viewed the complete restoration of the lovely Victorian mansion at 530 East Town Street, Columbus, Ohio.

Centennial scholarship approved

Expanding the plans for the Centennial year celebration, the Centennial Committee in 1966 recommended that a special scholarship recipient to be known as the Centennial Scholar be selected on each campus where there is a Kappa chapter and announced in June, 1970. A Centennial chairman was appointed, Anne Harter, B T-Syracuse, and an assistant, Margaret Easton Seney, P^A-Ohio Wesleyan. A goal of $500,000 was set for the Centennial Scholarship Fund for study in the field of rehabilitation.

The Centennial Fund was launched in the Winter, 1966 issue of THE KEY and gifts from donors started arriving immediately. Since that time the Fund has grown until it now has exceeded 100 per cent of its goal in time for the 100th celebration of Kappa's founding, October 13, 1970.

Countless alumnae projects increased the Fund as well as Centennial blouse and charm sales, and gifts from actives and Kappa parents.

In President Alexander's second term of office, a new program was established, the Associate Council Seminar, under the supervision of the Director of Chapters and the Director of Alumnae. Held in Columbus in June, 1967, it brought the 24 Province officers together for an intensive training session with the Council. A second seminar was held in June, 1969 which was termed equally as successful as the first.

Reference committee formed

The increasing challenge to the Fraternity's reference system was referred to a newly-formed committee in 1968. The Reference Study Committee was first headed by Dr. Harriet French, B Y-West Virginia, and later by Dr. Susan Rockwood, B P^A-Cincinnati. The committee, composed of three actives and three alumnae, received suggestions and studied all possible means of expediting changes in the present system.

As Mrs. Alexander closed the 1968 Convention, she spoke seriously of the future of the Fraternity in the new era of social revolution through which the country is passing. She said, "We are approaching our Centennial year and this seems a good time to reexamine our structure and evaluate all our programs. To do so validly, we should go back to our Founders' purposes. We are not intended to be an organization for social, religious or political reform or promotion. We are a group of friends dedicated to furthering individual, academic and social excellence, to building deep friendships and to helping each other.

"My deepest wish for you younger members on the threshold of fraternity life is that you correctly evaluate this membership you have and this organization to which you belong and that you work for and with its members to protect and preserve a lasting good."

Three new chapters were installed during President Alexander's administration: in 1966, Epsilon Iota at Puget Sound; and in 1967, Epsilon Kappa at South Carolina and Epsilon Lambda at Tennessee.

"Keys to a second century"

Closing the final two years of Kappa's 100 year existence was Louise Little Barbeck, Γ Φ-Southern Methodist, as president.

Kappas everywhere and the fraternity world were deeply saddened in the fall of 1969 by the death of Kappa's beloved Clara O. Pierce, Executive Secretary-Treasurer of the Fraternity for 40 years prior to her retirement January 1, 1969. The Clara O. Pierce Memorial Fellowship was established to be given annually for graduate study. A new portrait shown for the first time at the Cen-ennial Convention now hangs in Fraternity Headquarters to honor her memory.

The first chapter of the decade of the 1970's was installed at Clemson University, Clemson, South Carolina in March of this year. Called the Centennial Chapter, Epsilon Mu became the 93rd active chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Desiring to present a fitting Centennial gift to Monmouth College in honor of Kappa's founders, the Fraternity purchased a painting by the noted artist, John Singer Sargent. Presentation ceremonies took place in April and are reported in more detail in this issue.

President Barbeck and her Council directed the planning of Kappa's Centennial Convention held June 24-July 1 at the French Lick-Sheraton Hotel, French Lick, Indiana. Theme was "Keys to a Second Century."

In celebration of Kappa's 100th birthday, the Centennial Convention program was filled with special events as reported in this issue. However, the most meaningful celebration must be in the hearts and minds of thousands of Kappas everywhere who reflect on the values of "fraternity."

As President Barbeck related through her convention message, "This is our moment of total reflection. Despite the turmoil of the world in which we live, those special qualities found in members of Kappa Kappa Gamma will persevere. Faith in the inherent good of scholastic achievement, service to others, lasting friendship, and finer qualities of the mind will continue to guide those who accept the challenge for the next century.

"The foundations for Kappa Kappa Gamma were laid long ago. We do not know the future? Of course we do! It is in the hearts of members who are courageous and unafraid."

ternity and that the continued strength is the prime interest of each member.

As we enjoy the programs geared toward celebration of this century for Kappa, we will honor those who have contributed to our history and progress. How can we know our plans for the future if we are not cognizant of what has been prologue? The deeds of Charlotte Barrell Ware, May C. Whiting Westermann, Tade Hartsuff Kuhns and many others, will be remembered as builders of the Fraternity we now enjoy. These are the principle authors of what we know today as Kappa, and perhaps we see so far only because we stand on the shoulders of giants.

Tomorrow is strange to contemplate. Of the past, we know much. Of the future, nothing. Kappa Kappa Gamma is not ours today except to hold in trust for those to come. If we turn our back on our opportunity to keep our Fraternity strong, we deny this heritage to future generations.

Our Fraternity will survive because such dedication as we see at this Convention is contagious and exciting. It has been the compelling force of generations of alumnae members, and a hope for those charged with its safekeeping. To our alumnae members who have been a bulwark of strength, we offer our gratitude. To our undergraduates, as Evelyn Wight Allen said in 1950, there is a message that comes from the heart of every Kappa: "We believe in you, we trust you, and God bless you!"

the alumnae will be responsible for said information, because retention of the reference system is paramount to maintain the strength, character and uniqueness of the Fraternity. In cases where no information is available, from alumnae, and the membership adviser does not wish to assume responsibility, or where a reference source in good conscience is unable to supply a signature, the chapter may use the appeals procedure. If unsuccessful, the chapter voting as agreed, the president of the chapter may accept the responsibility of validating the data form.

Based on these considerations, it is evident that the active members have the right to select and/or not select their associates. Procedural changes were interpreted in the By-laws revision.

Biennial conventions

1st	1871	All conventions have been incorrectly numbered from one long thought to have been held in Monmouth, Illinois, but now generally conceded to be a myth.
2nd	October 14-16, 1876	Iota chapter hostess at home of Ida Anderson in Greencastle, Indiana.
3rd	October 15-16, 1878	Epsilon Chapter hostess at Munsellian Hall, Illinois Wesleyan University, in Bloomington, Illinois.
4th	1880	This convention has been numbered although it was never held. The last Wednesday in August had been set at the previous convention for the assembling of the one in 1880, with Eta Chapter as hostess in Madison, Wisconsin. The hostess chapter postponed the date one week but notice failed to reach all delegates, five of whom, at least, came at the appointed time only to find the hostess chapter scattered.
5th	September 29-30, 1881	Delta Chapter hostess at home of Fannie Allen in Bloomington, Indiana.
6th	August 30-September 1, 1882	Eta Chapter hostess at Unitarian Church, Madison, Wisconsin.
7th	August 27-29, 1884	Beta Beta Chapter hostess at Memorial Hall, St. Lawrence University, Canton, New York.
8th	August 25-27, 1886	Lambda Chapter hostess at Delta Tau Delta Hall, Akron, Ohio.
9th	August 22-24, 1888	Chi Chapter hostess at Students' Christian Association Building, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minnesota.
