

57TH BIENNIAL CONVENTION

Key

Volume 105, No. 3
Fall 1988

A step ahead . . .

It is with a feeling of great responsibility and my most sincere appreciation for your confidence in electing me Fraternity President that I begin this biennium of Kappa Kappa Gamma. It is a privilege to represent each of you at a period in our history when we are building on the excellence of our heritage, while moving ahead into the next decade and 21st century!

We closed the previous biennium with the proclamation, "We're Kappa Proud!" I hope that you will share this pride in your Fraternity as you read this issue of The Key about the many accomplishments of our chapters and alumnae. "In the honors of one we can all be proud!"

A resolution presented by Kelly Robertson, EP-Texas A & M, president and chapter delegate, was adopted by the Convention and has set the direction for your Fraternity council and the Fraternity.

Resolved, that the membership of Kappa Kappa Gamma accept the challenges presented to us by the Fraternity President, Marian Klingbeil Williams, that all Kappas act as "Trendsetters," taking the first step in all areas to offer opportunities for friendship, personal growth, development and career networking service to others.

Thus, we are already looking ahead to Province Meetings next spring with a theme of "Trendsetters — A Step Ahead." I ask each of you to be a trendsetter and take this step ahead in your community, whether it be your hometown or on your college campus. I encourage you to make your own investment in Kappa as she is today and to insure her future. Please take a moment now to identify areas where you can contribute at your own particular level.

Collegians can be positive role models, who strive for academic excellence, exhibit high moral and ethical behavior, are caring and thoughtful of their sisters and friends, participate in philanthropy projects which benefit others, and are responsible for their own behavior and actions. They can assume leadership responsibilities as officers and committee members which will help them to develop lifeskills. They can begin now to look for ways to insure their chapter's excellence in everything they do. They can promote Greek life and represent it well wherever they go.

Since Kappa's membership is for a lifetime, alumnae have unlimited opportunities to be trendsetters. Their investment can take various forms, such as time given in writing references; encouraging a college-bound woman to go through rush; being a positive role model; reading The Key; serving as an adviser, house board member or alumnae officer; participating in alumna activities or keeping in touch with Kappa friends.

Their investment can be through continuation of their generous gifts to the Loyalty Fund, the annual giving opportunity which sustains the many services currently provided for all members. All Kappas are now being given an opportunity to make tax deductible contributions to the Adelphe Campaign. This capital campaign will establish an endowment fund to insure Kappa's future for those fine women who will come after us. Contributions can be made in various ways, cash, a pledge, in kind gift or planned giving. Endowments will be established for scholarships, the development of leadership and lifetime skills and support to our Heritage Museum.

So, my friends, I ask you to each become actively involved in any way which fits your time, energy and financial level. In becoming a trendsetter, as the Fraternity takes that step ahead, you will insure Kappa's strength today and in the future. In the words of Oliver Wendell Holmes, "The greatest thing in this world is not so much where we stand as in what direction we are going."

Kay Smith Larson, BII-Washington, Fraternity President

Proud to be you

by Anna Mitchell Hie

"We're Kappa Proud" — what a fitting theme for the 57th Biennial Convention, a convention that just felt good all over — from the first arrival through the last departure.

Fraternity council and convention committee members, who had been planning this convention for the past two years, began coming to the Boca Raton Hotel and Club as early as June 16 to prepare for the arrival of the majority of convention-goers on June 21. Everyone quickly settled into the beauty of this convention site with its old-time charm coupled with modern-day living and meeting conveniences. In her welcome to Boca Raton at the orientation session, Rebecca Roper Matkov, ΔB-Duke, founding editor of Preservation Today magazine and co-author of Florida's Historic Restaurants, presented an historical perspective of the Boca Raton Hotel and Club and its surrounding attractions. Her picture of the site as presented through her description in the Fall 1987 issue of The Key really came to life for those actually in the glory of its ambiance. Her welcome added to the reception which had been afforded all arrivals at the Ft. Lauderdale airport by the gracious area alumnae. Kappas come every two years from far and wide to make new friends, renew longtime friendships, feel pride in past accomplishments, become further educated about Kappa and challenges to the Fraternity, conduct Fraternity business and elect officers for the biennium.

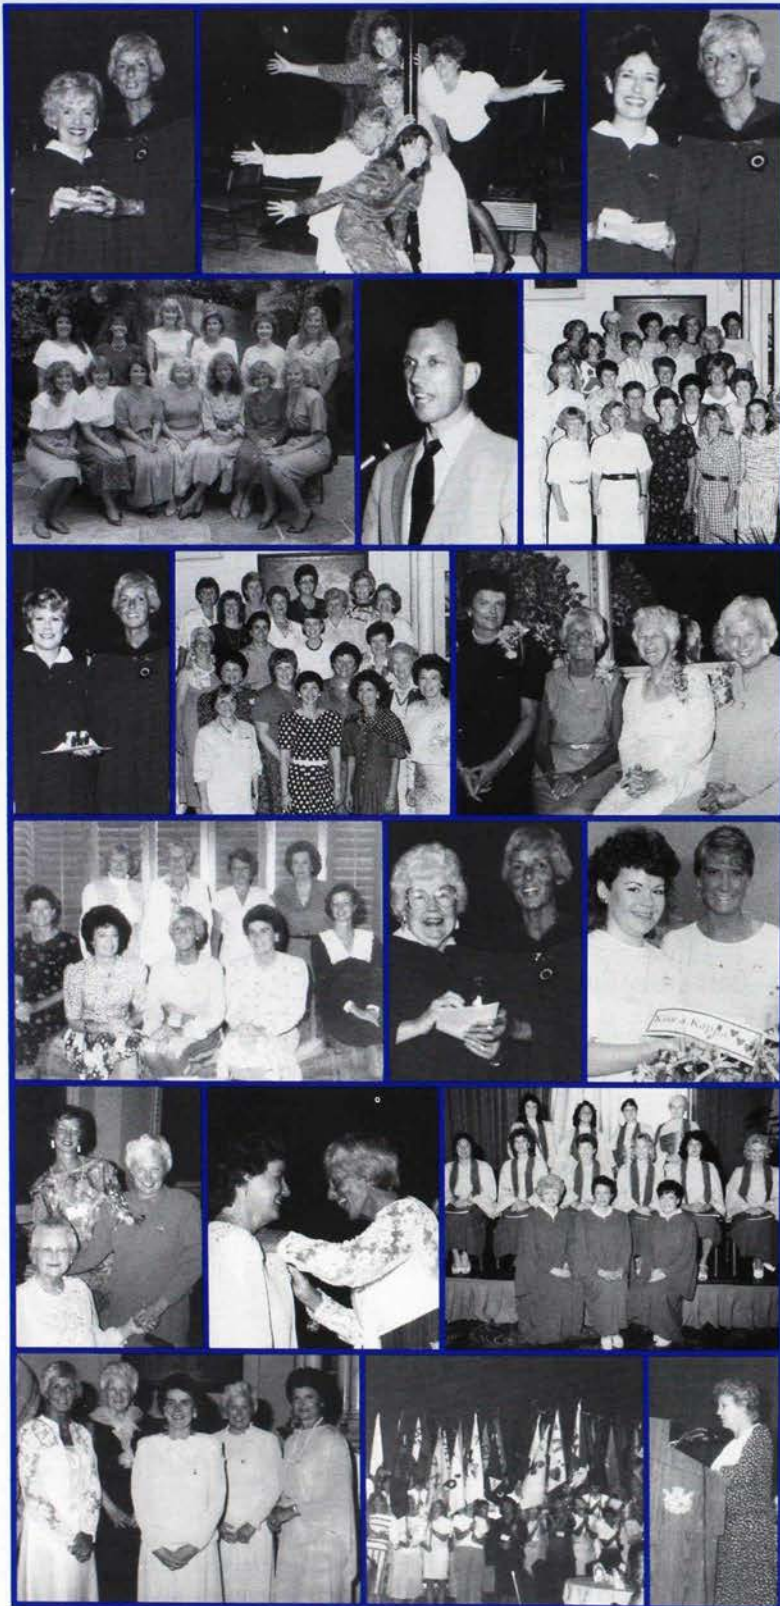

By the time the sound of the gavel officially opening convention was heard, close to 800 Kappas had arrived and had already immersed themselves in the camaraderie, ceremony and concerns of convention. At the opening session, four new chapters were seated, and one new alumnae association and six new clubs were welcomed.

Kappa pride surfaced with the parade of chapter flags at dinner the first night. It continued to swell as President Marian Klingbeil Williams, Θ-Missouri, delivered the opening address and distributed the printed biennial report. Flanked by the flags of each of the 117 chapters, she challenged Kappas everywhere to preserve human dignity, self-worth and respect — so vital in our lives.

Departing from the usual report of statistics and progress information, she emphasized that we should "be all we say we are" and tell the Kappa story accurately and effectively. She pointed out the need for individual responsibility in the attempt to rise above issues confronting all of society: "You may not have control over the actions of others, but you can control your own." Those present were indeed ready to accept the challenge and absorb all that convention had to offer when she concluded that, "It's not what we get out of Kappa Kappa Gamma that makes us Kappa proud, it's what we become because of the influence she has been in our lives."

The charge to preserve the ideals of our founders, which have withstood the tests of time, was further emphasized through the report of the long range planning committee. This included studies during the past biennium on the structure of the convention committee, the philanthropy focus, the structure of the Heritage Museum Board of Trustees, council tenure, initiation of college alumnae and the convention vote.

It was with these challenges that the convention body began a series of workshops, which offered programming and me in KKG

ideas and training skills, geared to both active chapter and alumna life. There were also specialty workshops involving legal situations, preserving safety and security of Kappa facilities, AIDS and Panhellenic. Ritual workshops presented complete model initiations. "Speak-up" conversations with the director of chapters encouraged discussion of special concerns, and "interacts" with the winners of both chapter and alumna awards allowed the sharing of what makes up an award-winning group.

Individual achievement is recognized by the Alumnae Achievement Awards, which continue to be an eagerly awaited highlight at every convention. The award winners appeared in a panel and also led workshops in such topics as "International Trade," "Making the Most of Your Talents," "Suicide Among College Students: Implications for Prevention," and "Leading Three Lives at Once." Each Achievement Award recipient credited her Kappa experiences for some part of her success and challenged each Kappa to set goals and go forward to achieve anything she wants.

During the alumnae award presentations came the announcement of the 1988 Loyalty Award winner — a person whose name is synonymous with the service and dedication for which the award is made — Jean Hess Wells, ΔY-Georgia. Her 1976-80 terms as Fraternity President are just one part of her life of Kappa service. Currently Fraternity ritualist, she continues her support of the basic beliefs of Kappa and loyalty to her ideals, which makes her the true image of what the Loyalty Award represents.

Loyalty, service, dedication — that's what it's all about — that's what gains us the pride which was so evident at this 57th Biennial Convention. But with the pride comes the caution that "Pride goeth before the fall," according to Phyllis Brinton Pryor, BM-Colorado, in her candlelight banquet speech. As National Panhellenic Conference delegate, she is well aware of the challenges to be faced in the next decade, which she so carefully clarified. With the privilege of being "Kappa Proud" goes the responsibility to continue and to strengthen those qualities and ideals upon which that pride is based. She summed it up by saying, "Ten little two letter words say it all — If it is to be, it is up to me!"

This is the challenge that each took home. And along with that challenge went all the printed programs, the three issues of The Hoot, lots of film to be developed, boutique and Kappa Kollection purchases, addresses of new friends, notes and notes of ideas and solutions, many memories, and a certain frustration . . . a frustration of how to convey to those Kappas back home all the convention feelings . . . feelings of security that Kappa is forever and everywhere, which is so clearly evident when over 800 women gather in a meeting and repeat the same ritual and attest to the common bonds . . . feelings of security that Kappa is in good hands with a newly elected, committed Fraternity council . . . feelings of support in the ideas gleaned from workshops, from talks, from getting better acquainted with others in the same province . . . feelings of challenge from the words of Marian Williams, Phyllis Pryor and others and with the introduction of the Adelphe Campaign . . . feelings of pride — pride in being you and me in KKG!!

by Patricia Piller Shelton, Ω-Kansas,
Chairman, Heritage Museum Board of Trustees

Exquisite white dresses and treasured convention memorabilia dating back to the 1880's were featured in the Heritage Museum display at the 1988 Kappa convention. Rare convention programs, nametags, menus, favors and photographs captured the spirit of yesteryear and the tradition of Kappa pride of today. Former Museum acting director, Nancy Sanor Pennell, BN-Ohio State, designed the meaningful exhibit.

Greeting Museum visitors during convention were Jean Elbright Elin, BN-Ohio State, headquarters staff members and volunteers from nearby Florida alumnae groups. The Heritage Museum slide presentation, available to interested chapters and alumnae, was shown continuously. Chances were offered to all to participate in a raffle for a hand-made white quilt, an afghan and quilted pillows. The proceeds will benefit the Museum acquisition and restoration fund.

Also assisting in the Museum display area was the recipient of the 1988 Heritage Museum-Catherine Schroeder Graf internship, Christine Pfeiffer, EZ-Florida State, BA in art history. The intern program, offered each summer to Kappa students majoring in museum studies, art or women's history, is a hands-on experience at the Heritage Museum in Columbus, OH. Application forms are sent to all chapters in January each year.

The 'first' constitution of Kappa Kappa Gamma

by Gini Anding La Charité, GK-William and Mary, Fraternity Historian

So much of the early years of Kappa Kappa Gamma remains veiled in mystery. All records of Alpha Chapter-Monmouth have been lost to posterity, and even the first historians of the Fraternity dispaired over the obstacles involved in establishing accurately the history of the first 12 years. Efforts to reconstruct the first years of Kappa Kappa Gamma began as early as 1882 when the Convention featured as "literary entertainment" the "history" and the presenter was Minnie Stewart Nelson, A-Monmouth, one of the founders. Not even she was able to "procure the necessary information." Despite the difficulties, early historians preserved, and they undertook with painstaking care the task of restoring records, including correspondence with the founders and living members of Alpha and other early chapters. When the files were shipped to a new historian in 1907, an express car fire destroyed one of the two boxes and lost was most of the correspondence and all the "letter books" of the Grand Council officers. Fortunately, Delta Chapter-Indiana, established by Alpha in 1872 and Kappa's oldest living chapter, was meticulous in its record-keeping. The Delta Red Book, on display at Fraternity Headquarters, is the oldest known document of the early years of Kappa Kappa Gamma, and it is our most treasured historical resource.

When the Monmouth College administration banned fraternities, Alpha Chapter passed the responsibility of Grand Chapter to Delta Chapter and Delta served in this capacity from 1875 to 1878. Undoubtedly, early historians worked with Delta Chapter in their efforts to establish the early history of the Fraternity. In the Delta archives are several fascinating documents, all witnessed as being "duplicates of the Original Records in the hands of the Fraternity historian" and dated January 14, 1904, when Minnie Royse-Walker, I-DePauw, was the historian and just after she had written the oldest extant history of the Fraternity: Kappa's Record, 1903. In the copy of the "Records of Grand Secretary of Kappa Kappa Gamma, Law of the Fraternity" is the "Constitution of 1870," as well as one for 1875 and another as approved by the 1876 Convention.

In honoring Founders' Day, Kappas everywhere recall those early members of Alpha Chapter-Monmouth and how remarkable indeed was their vision of a Greek-letter society for women. However, we rarely recognize that their dream included the very basic tenets of administration, and some of their ideas remain standard practice today. Below is the first publication of our earliest known constitution, attributed to Alpha Chapter.

While the historian believes that this is not the first constitution drawn up by Alpha Chapter, she does believe that it is the earliest Kappa Constitution in existence and that it was drawn up by Alpha around 1872 when Alpha was Grand Chapter. In the very beginning, Alpha Chapter was strictly Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity; not until extension began in 1871 did the Monmouth group become Alpha Chapter. In the files is a copy of the Constitution and Bylaws for the Monmouth literary society, Amateur des Belles Lettres, which was founded in 1857 and to which four of the founders belonged when they founded Kappa Kappa Gamma; on the committee of six named to revise the bylaws of this literary society in 1874 were three members of Alpha Chapter; the resemblances between the Constitution and Bylaws of Amateur des Belles Lettres and the so-called 1870 Constitution of KKG are striking in wording and ordering.

Preamble:

We, believing that a closer union in the bonds of friendship would be for our mutual benefit, do hereby unite ourselves into a fraternity to be called K.K.G., and do hereby pledge ourselves to be governed by the following constitution and By-Laws:

Article I. Name and Object.

Sec. 1. Name shall be — — —

Sec. 2. Object of this fraternity shall be the strengthening of friendship and the advancement of its members socially and in literary attainments.

Sec. 3. Motto shall be — — —

Article II. Officers.

Sec. 1. Officers of Fraternity shall consist of President, Scribe, and Treasurer.

Article III. Duties of Officers.

Sec. 1. The duty of President shall be to preside at all meetings; to announce meetings; call or adjourn meetings; to impose fines or taxes; to criticize performances; to initiate new members; to install new corps of officers; to call for excuses for absences; and to deliver a valedictory on retiring from office. President shall always have a vote.

Sec. 2. The duty of Scribe shall be to call the roll; to carry on correspondence with other chapters; read minutes of previous meetings; call on performers; and, in the absence of President, to preside.

Sec. 3. The duties of Treasurer shall be to take charge of all money belonging to the Fraternity; to procure badges and to give a written report of all money passed through her hands during her term of office; and in other respects her duties shall be similar to those of Treasurer in any other corporation.

Article IV.

Sec. 1. Officers shall be elected at the close of every term. Election shall be by acclamation.

Article V. Installation of Officers.

Sec. 1. Officers on being installed shall answer to the following oath: Do you promise on the honor of ladies to adhere to the Constitution and to faithfully perform the duties incumbent upon you in your respective offices?

Article VI. Amendments.

Sec. 1. Any chapter proposing an amendment to this Constitution shall pass it unanimously in their own chapter and forward it to the Alpha Chapter. If the Alpha Chapter pass it unanimously they shall forward it to the other chapters; if they pass it, it shall be appended to the Constitution.

By-Laws.

Article I. Time of Meeting.

Sec. 1. This shall be at the option of each chapter, but shall be at least once in two weeks.

Article II. Quorum.

Sec. 1. A quorum shall consist of three members.

Article III. Candidates.

Sec. 1. Any lady may become a candidate for membership who shall be of good moral character, and of above average talent; and who, at the time of proposal, either is or has been in attendance at some College or Seminary.

Article IV. Voting.

Sec. 1. Names proposed for membership shall be voted on by ballot.

Article V. Initiation.

Sec. 1. Members-elect at the next regular meeting may be initiated by following oath, placing right hand on the Bible: Do you solemnly swear to adhere to the Constitution; not to divulge any secrets of the Fraternity, and to exert your influence for its welfare?

Sec. 2. Any person or persons at a distance may be initiated by signing and returning the oath of initiation.

Article VI. Dismissals.

Sec. 1. Any person desiring an honorable dismissal from K.K.G. shall state her reasons before her chapter, and upon their unanimous acceptance, the President shall grant her a Dismissal.

Sec. 2. Any person who by violation of the Constitution or by conducting herself so as to injure the good name of the Fraternity, shall render herself obnoxious to her chapter, may be expelled by a majority vote.

Article VII. Forfeits.

Sec. 1. Any person dismissed honorably or otherwise shall forfeit her pin to the Fraternity.

Sec. 2. No member shall lend her pin to anyone outside the Fraternity. In violation of this she shall be subject to a fine of five dollars.

Article VIII. Voting Term.

Sec. 1. The voting term shall be — — —, and shall be used at all elections and voting by acclamation.

The Career Program of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity

Have a hand in the future of CHOICES

CHOICES Networking — putting Kappas in touch throughout the world to exchange career information and possibly even contacts. The HIRE-A-KAPPA Guide to Graduating Seniors is increasing in popularity. An alumna who has used the HIRE-A-KAPPA Guide very successfully wrote, "I must say that the HIRE-A-KAPPA Guide has been a tremendous help to me in my recruiting efforts in business, but also very rewarding personally as I meet and have the opportunity to help some younger Kappas 'find their way.'"

Kappa actives and alumnae who have used the Kappa Kappa Gamma Professional Directory to make career contacts are very enthusiastic about the help they have received. One alumna re-entering the work force wrote, "Thank you so much for the 1986 Professional Directory. I'm putting it to good use and it is paying off network-wise — getting some good leads, learning, getting confidence back and meeting some very nifty ladies. Thank goodness for Kappa."

The career data bank at Fraternity Headquarters lists over 10,000 names of Kappas willing to help. DO WE HAVE YOUR NAME? The more careers on file, the better our members can be served. In addition to offering career contacts, members may be helpful in recommending a neighborhood, a childcare facility, a doctor, or even a special place for lunch.

The 1988 Kappa Kappa Gamma Professional Directory is now available from Fraternity Headquarters. In 1989, a supplement will be printed updating names in the data bank and also address or career changes. Please keep the career listing current by sending in the form below.

Today more and more women are entering and re-entering the job market. There is a need to share experience and advice. Reach out with a Kappa hand of friendship and sisterly love.

PLEASE RETURN TO CHOICES, Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity Headquarters, P.O. Box 2079, Columbus, OH 43216-2079.

Your Province Meeting ... plan to be there!!

by Vera Lewis Marine, ΔZ-Colorado College,
Director of Alumnae

Attending a province meeting is the next best thing to attending a biennial convention. There is the same excitement, invigoration and sisterhood — compressed into an action-filled 48 hours.

For those of you who seek renewal or just a reminder of what Kappa means there are information-packed workshops on such topics as active/alumnae interaction, leadership skills, personnel management, Fraternity education, ritual and more. You regain the spirit of Kappa and what it really means, not only to you and your sisters but also to society.

There are important Kappa events as well. A closing banquet evokes laughter and affection and often tearful emotion. The awards to chapters and alumnae groups and to outstanding alumnae, bring cheers and tears. Your province officers — the women who befriend and guide the chapters and alumnae groups for the next two years and whose diligence, diplomacy and loyalty mean so much to the future of Kappa — are elected and installed.

Workshops provide brainstorming time for active/alumnae interaction, leadership skills, Fraternity education, ritual, and much more.

There is plenty of opportunity for socializing, too — a chance to renew old acquaintances and make new ones, to appreciate the many appealing attributes we Kappas share as Kappas. It is reassuring to recognize again the reasons why we became Kappas in the first place and to know that these friendships can be ours for a lifetime. And unlike the biennial convention, the sisters who attend province meeting are relatively nearby. We can see them again, soon.

Special friends meet for special closing banquets.

At many province meetings time is set aside for a tour of the area or a visit to the local chapter house. These tours are not only interesting but rewarding!

And finally, there is the chance — the well-earned chance — to get away for the weekend and simply enjoy being with women whose interests, outlooks and even personalities are probably much like your own. For the alumnae, this means no meals to cook, no dishes to wash, no carpets to vacuum or weeds to pull. For the collegiates, no papers to write, no tests to prepare for, no laundry to do or groceries to buy. Just a chance for all to be pampered, to relax, to have honest-to-goodness fun and to come away feeling "Kappa Proud" in the process.

We Kappas have always been recognized as trendsetters — on the campus, in the community, and in our careers. That is a role we aspired to when we became Kappas and of which we can be rightfully proud. A province meeting helps reinforce us in that role. That, too, is why a province meeting is a microcosm of a biennial convention. It is a memorable event for Kappas who attended convention but even more so for Kappas who did not. It is an event not to be missed. Start planning now . . . and be there in 1989!!

Epsilon Nu calls all in Nu Province to attend the 1989 Province Meeting.

Province meetings bring actives and alumnae together, sharing fun-filled days.

IHO in honor of IMO in memory of

The Adelphe Campaign

By Sally Moore Nitschke, BN-Ohio State,
Chairman, Leadership and Program Development

Helping others . . . Kappa's rich tradition

Rehabilitation Services was designated in 1952 as the focus of Kappa's philanthropic service. The area of rehabilitation is a broad one encompassing work with the mentally retarded, the physically handicapped, the social deprived, the emotionally disturbed, the learning disabled and the aged. In 1988-89, 22 graduate scholarships of $1,000 and 10 undergraduate scholarships of $750 will be awarded to both members and non-members for study in some facet of the rehabilitation effort.

Representative of the well-qualified and most deserving women who have been recipients of Kappa's financial aid is Elizabeth Call, ΓΞ-California, Los Angeles, who was awarded a graduate scholarship for both 1986-87 and 1987-

88. Libby, who now calls Denver her home, is attending the University of Denver Graduate School and will receive her doctorate in clinical psychology in 1990. In addition to her academic courses, Libby works as a counselor in the Victim Assistance/Death Notification Program of the Denver Police Department. This involves notifying and supporting survivors of any unattended death or deaths in which criminal conduct may be involved. Libby adds, "I am able to develop my skills in working with those who are grieving and frequently in a state of crisis. At the same time, I am happy to be providing a valuable service to my community, one that I hope will one day be provided nationwide."

The Adelphe Campaign is a family affair

The rising cost of a college education and the decreasing financial assistance available from other sources make additional scholarships and student aid absolutely vital to members of Kappa today. These scholarships take on added importance in that they offer aid to middle-income students who may not be eligible for other educational grants.

It is with great gratitude that Kappa announces receipt of an Adelphe Scholarship gift from The Tellepsen Foundation of Houston, TX. For these loyal Kappas, the Fraternity has long been a family affair. Karen Tellepsen Robin- son, BΞ-Texas, serves as chairman of Region VIII of The Adelphe Campaign and is shown in this photograph with her mother, June Learned Tellepsen, BΞ-Texas, and her daughter Ellen Kirkpatrick, EA-TCU, at the Adelphe dinner during the 1988 convention in Boca Raton.

The Foundation gift given in honor and in memory of the many Kappas represented in the family will establish an endowed scholarship invested so that the annual return will be used to fund an Adelphe Scholarship each year.

To remember . . .

The Dallas Alumnae Association dedicates an endowed scholarship funded by the 1987 Christmas Homes Tour proceeds to the memory of Janet Jones Burford, BΞ-Texas, immediate past president of the Senior Alumnae and Theta Province director of chapters, 1987-1988. This endowment will fund scholarships for upperclassmen who are Texas Kappas with strong scholastic and campus commitment. The first recipient of the scholarship is Whitney Busse, ΓΦ-SMU.

Cynthia McMillan Lanford will edit The Key

Cynthia McMillan Lanford, $\Gamma\Pi$ -Alabama, has been appointed editor of The Key for the 1988-90 biennium. With a BA in English and journalism, Cynthia will bring a rich professional style to the publication.

For many, Cynthia is a familiar Kappa friend. She has most recently served the Fraternity as director of membership, 1984-88. Prior to that she served as chairman of chapter programs, Nu Province director of chapters, Gamma Pi advisory board, Alabama state reference chairman, and president of the Tuscaloosa Alumnae Association. She also served her chapter as public relations chairman, membership chairman and president. An active volunteer in her community, Cynthia has been involved in the Junior League, Foster Children's Club, Voluntary Action Center Board, Mental Health Board, West Alabama Health Planning Council and PTA. Cynthia and husband Bill live in Tuscaloosa, AL, and have three children, Celeste, Ann Elise and Harrison.

Cynthia McMillan Lanford, $\Gamma\Pi$ -Alabama, editor of The Key for the 1988-90 biennium.

Fairfield County announces available NPC scholarship

The Fairfield County Connecticut Panhellenic Association announces its tenth annual scholarship in the amount of $900. The scholarship is available to sorority members whose home residence is in Fairfield County, CT.

The applicant must be an active member of a National Panhellenic Conference sorority in her sophomore or junior year. Selection is based on academic excellence and service to sorority, school and community.

Requests for information and applications should be sent to:

Ms. Grace F. Dole
Panhellenic Secretary
503 West Lyon Farm Dr.
Greenwich, CT 06831.

Completed applications and accompanying recommendations must be returned by April 1, 1989. The scholarship recipient announcements will be made prior to June 1, 1989.

Gamma Rho celebrates 100 years

Gamma Rho Chapter celebrated its one hundredth birthday at Allegheny College, Meadville, PA. On April 16, 1988, over 200 pledges, actives and alumnae joined together to honor their chapter's accomplishment. Gamma Rho is the 21st chapter to reach this mark and has initiated 1,467 into Kappa's ranks.

'Have a heart' raises over $2000 for philanthropies

The philanthropy fundraiser, "Have a Heart" sale of wooden hearts, raised over $2,000 for Kappa philanthropies during the 1988 convention. Mary Rathbone, ΔT -Southern California, was the winner of a raffle for a $1,000 scholarship which she requested be named in memory of Madeleine Mueller Christian, ΔT -Southern California. The first recipient of the new MADELEINE MUELLER CHRISTIAN SCHOLARSHIP is Leslie Fisch, ΔN -Massachusetts, who will enter Columbia University working toward a M.S. in audiology. $500 was also given to the Emergency Assistance Scholarship Fund and $500 to the Circle Key Alumnae Grant Fund for dispersal during the 1988-89 year.
