To Kappas Everywhere at Christmas

"You are the keepers of the ancient flame; you are the flame!

The Editor Reflects...

Upon Christmas

Which this year, as never before to so many people in the world's history, calls for all our faith in that message of "peace on earth, goodwill to men" with which the angels heralded the first Christmas.

"The first Noël the angels did say" is the beginning of a lovely old English carol. But the land of Noël, or most of it, has fallen to the conqueror; and many a church in England which once echoed to the sound of Christmas carols now lies in ruin and rubble.

There will be starry, moonlit nights— Christmas-card nights—this December, as there have always been. But the stars and the Christmas angels will look down on a Mars-red earth.

There will be men and women of goodwill to keep the spirit of Christmas this December, as there have always been since Christmas first was. For always there are the children, whose festival Christmas is.

This Christmas hundreds and thousands of children all over the world are refugees. Many of them are English, some on our continent, some in England itself, sent from their homes in bomb-shattered London and other centers. Resources of the communities which shelter these last are being taxed to the utmost. "The need is beyond imagining," reports Nora Waln, in a cable printed in this issue of The Key.

Added to the $1,000 raised and pledged at convention for the Kappa Kappa Gamma-Nora Waln Fund for Refugee Children, contributions since received have made it possible for $1,200 to be sent to Nora Waln in England. When further word comes from her, The Key will report in detail how the money was used. It is being well used, depend upon that; and there is need for more.

It is for all children, even more than for ourselves, that we must keep the faith and give as much aid as we can. With shame and bewilderment and sadness in our hearts we who are older must feel apologetic toward all children for the sorry chaos of destruction and ruthless brutality which mocks the very spirit of Christmas, if children must be refugees.

Somewhere along the line, even if we do not know where, and did not mean it so, we have failed.

Somewhere along the line, even if we may not know where, and can only have faith that it will be so, they may not fail as we have.

Long centuries ago a Babe was born in a manger. In His name and spirit we must have faith, and we must help, that peace on earth and goodwill to men will one day surely come.

Since that day is not yet, let us remember all the refugee children this Christmas. Let us, as Kappas, help one of our own members, Nora Waln, to do what she can for them.

Copies of Mrs. Ware's photograph, taken in Kappa's 70th year, may be obtained in size 7 x 9 inches, grey finish, at $1.75 each, by ordering from Mrs. Vincent V. R. Booth, 22 Boulder road, Wellesley Farms, Massachusetts, proceeds to be given to the Hearthstone fund.

Upon the Delight

With which we have read a big stack of letters from "before 1900" Kappas, in reply to the announcement that the 1940 convention had voted each of them a complimentary life subscription to THE KEY

The announcement was worded to the effect that if for any reason any one of these Kappas did not wish to get The Key (we can't imagine any who wouldn't want it, of course!), a card to central office would take her name off the list. There was no obligation to make an acknowledgment.

But, as one letter put it, "It would seem that the least I could do would be to write expressing my appreciation." That is why letters, notes and cards have poured in from coast to coast.

We love the spirit of them all. Many gaily note that this gesture by the fraternity is one of the compensations for growing older. Some have included bits of news of interest about our "silver greys." All indicate how much Kappa has meant, and continues to mean, in their lives.

THE KEY has decided to share excerpts from some of the letters with all KEY readers. Look for them elsewhere in this KEY.

Meanwhile, we welcome this notable group to The Key's mailing list. We hope these new readers will enjoy catching up on news of Kappa and the Kappas. We hope they will even want to contribute articles or items to The Key. We want them to know that it's their magazine, as it is the magazine for every Kappa.

Upon a View

We had never taken before, a dietician's-eye-view of convention. We got it when we heard Kathryn Hecock (Mrs. Donald S.), Kappa's consulting dietician, give a report of convention to her own alumnæ association.

"The meals at Sun Valley were delightful," she said. "They were planned for women. There were not two heavy meals a day, but always a lighter luncheon featuring fruit or salad."

The holiday season is now approaching, with its customary temptations to poundage. Turkey and dressing and gravy, and rich puddings to add to that

"middle-aged spread."

The season is definitely post-convention. But as we eat our way through Christmas into the New Year, we will remember with appreciation the fraternity's efforts to keep us in shape last summer.

Upon an Appraisal

Of fraternities by a non-fraternity man, Phil Stong, who wrote it in his recent book, If School Keeps, a review of his own education.

"The whole business of fraternities is such a variable that any one who talks of 'fraternities' in the plural aggregate is silly. There is no question about their value if the tradition is high and comparatively sound. . . . I do not mention sororities. Most girls cannot be disciplined."

Stong had to be facetious in those last two sentences because he was smart enough to realize that he didn't know anything about sororities or women's fraternities—or so much about women, either.

He wouldn't know, for example, that Kappa Kappa Gamma has no desire for members who need to be disciplined, whether they can be or not.

The value of fraternities, men's or women's, does not rest upon a foundation of discipline, unless it be the discipline imposed from within by the individual's conscious striving to adhere to high standards of personal and group conduct.

NORA WALN

JUST TOO late to be published in the October Key this cable from Nora Waln was received by Rheva Ott Shryock, who has become chairman of the Kappa Kappa Gamma-Nora Waln Fund for Refugee Children.

As grand president, before the 1940 convention, Mrs. Shryock had been in correspondence with Nora Waln in reference to the possibility of having her at convention. After convention Mrs. Shryock took charge of the actual money raised at Sun Valley, because her home is near Philadelphia and in case the fund was to be administered by the Friends, it was thought advisable for it to be held near their headquarters.

Having $864 at hand, when Nora Waln's message came, Mrs. Shryock immediately cabled $700 of the amount to her. A brief cable "Money arrived safely" was received from England early in October.

Since then the council has authorized Mrs. Shryock to forward the money $500 at a time as that amount is accumulated, and November 19 an additional $500 was sent, making $1,200 in all.

The fund has had little publicity, yet response has been heartfelt.

When Helen Rush Kurtz (Mrs. John J.), B Δ-Michigan, came to Ann Arbor last October from her home in Clearfield, Pennsylvania, for her chapter's 50th anniversary, she brought a gift of $5 for the fund from Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Dole, of Clearfield, in memory of their daughter Jane, B Δ, who died two years ago.

"Greetings to the Kappas," began the note which went with the gift. "We would like to make in memory of our daughter Jane, class of 1937, a donation toward the Kappa fund for English aid. Nora Waln is a friend, she being a Clearfield girl."

Typical of alumnæ interest in the fund is the note from Josephine Phillips Cline (Mrs. A. B.), I-DePauw, "in years gone by."

"After reading in The Key about the Kappa Kappa Gamma-Nora Waln Fund for Refugee Children I feel that I want to add my bit to that fund and so I am enclosing $5 for that purpose," wrote Mrs. Cline. "Have enjoyed reading Nora Waln's books and am glad to help to make the fund for refugee children in Nora's name some larger.

Pledges to the fund made at convention, which brought the first week's amount to $1,000, have been paid. Other gifts have been received which have brought the fund a little over $1,200, a fine record.

But Kappas should not let the fund stop growing. The need for it does not stop. On the contrary, it grows with every moonlit night and every other clear night that brings air raiders over England, as that November night brought destruction to the city of Coventry while bombs continued to rain on London.

Think what that means, you Kappas, who are safe from the terror that stalks the English skies by night! Think what it means to have winter come under such conditions! For the winter Nora Waln said would soon be upon them has come, when food is naturally more scarce and warm clothing is needed! What would you do in winter if your homes were bombed? Your children left without clothing and shelter?

What you CAN do is to remember that Kappa, through this fund, has a means of getting relief and aid direct to those boys and girls of Britain, those children upon whom the future, perhaps even more than you know, your future, depends.

If, as we have been told, and as the government of the United States itself believes, Britain is our first line of defense, help for Britain is help for America.

We as Kappas cannot send destroyers to Britain. No one of us can send a bat-

But we can send something better than a destroyer. Each of us can send the means of saving, not destroying, life; something to help feed a child who is hungry, to clothe a child who is cold, to shelter a child who is homeless.

Have you sent $1, $5, $10, $100 to the Kappa Kappa Gamma-Nora Waln Fund for Refugee Children? Even if you have sent something, can you send something more? Can your chapter give a benefit dance for the fund? Can your alumnæ group give a benefit bridge?

Send what you can to Mrs. R. H. Shryock, 317 Cherry Bend, Merion, Pennsylvania.

Send it now. Give it as a Christmas present to help these children.

. . . Pennies from Heaven

Dorothy Canfield Fisher, B N and B E, national chairman of the Children's Crusade for Children, reported last July from her home in Arlington, Vermont, that more than 13,500,000 pennies had been contributed by American school children to help hungry and homeless children of war-stricken nations.

"The period of collection in the schools was a short one, only 10 days ending April 30," said Mrs. Fisher.

"One of the most heartening features of the movement was the participation of literally tens of thousands of one-room and two-room country schools. Over 180,000 of these grassroots schools were reached directly with our educational material, the first time, we be-lieve, this has ever been accomplished in a philanthropic movement.

"We estimate now that these generously-given penny contributions of the children will finally total somewhat short of $140,000. They came out of the tiny allowances of the children themselves, who were carefully told not to get the contributions from their parents, because the purpose of the movement was to make vivid to them the difference in their status and that of many foreign children.

Great as the material good is which the total contributions represent, this is only half the story. The other half is the aroused awareness among the younger generation of the value of American institutions, of thankful-ness for living under a great and peaceful federation."

Letters from the children and the entire record of the Children's Crusade will be placed in the Library of Congress.

A jury of award apportioned the money among relief-dispensing agencies to provide food, clothing and medicine for as many afflicted children as could be reached.

All These Years ... at Bellevue-Meudon

... A Message from Dorothy Canfield Fisher

T IS A striking coincidence that in this present European war another fa-1 mous Kappa "literary lady," Nora Waln, should be virtually at the front in the "Battle of Britain," as Dorothy Canfield Fisher was in France in the last World War.

As the Kappas of 25 years ago contributed to a fund sent to Mrs. Fisher, so are we now giving to the Kappa Kappa Gamma-Nora Waln Fund for Refugee Children.

THE KEY is proud to add to this continuity of service the following message from Dorothy Canfield Fisher in Arlington, Vermont. Mrs. Fisher noted "with the greatest thankfulness," the article in the October KEY reporting the establishment of the Nora Waln fund.

"Nothing could be better or more suitable, as an expression of our feelings in these days," wrote Mrs. Fisher of the new fund, in reply to a request from the editor for a review of the aid Kappas gave through Mrs. Fisher in the last war, at Bellevue-Meudon, a suburb of

"I wonder if the Kappas have ever really taken in the amount of good which their help did at Bellevue-Meudon," she added. "I have written about it two or three times but naturally the generations in a college fraternity succeed each other so rapidly that perhaps the younger girls will be interested to know about it.

"It began as an unexpectedly generous response to a letter which I sent back from France when I was working there during the last war. I had hoped for some bundles of old clothing and perhaps some food to be distributed among the very poor.

"But the Kappas rose in their might, organized so beautifully an effort to send money, that the enterprise went beyond what any one of us would have dared hope. Finally the last sum was so generously large that the thrifty French people who were running the charitable effort decided to have it as endowment.

'The interest on that all these years has provided a nurse to take care of the sick school children in the Bellevue-Meudon schools. I don't know what the conditions were of late years in France, but at the time when the Kappa work began this was the only visiting nurse attached to schools in France, who looked up the case of every absence to see whether it was due to lack of clothing or food or ill health. A committee of volunteers, just such conscientious, hard-working good citizens as could be found in any American town to back up such a charity, worked with the nurse. The municipality gave the organization a room in the Town Hall.

"Every time I went back to France I went to see it, always thrilling to see over the door in a French municipal building, 'Kappa Kappa Gamma.' In side were the supplies of clothing, condensed milk and malted milk and medicine. Every Sunday a devoted French doctor came out to the Kappa room for a clinic among the Kappa children. Our nurse followed up his directions, and some of the volunteer committee were always there to help.

"I've told this story before, but it's such a beautiful one that even at risk of repetition, I'd like to have you print it. I suppose that even now in the terrific upheaval of France, the Kappa room and the Kappa nurse and the Kappa organization are still going on with their beneficent work, every act of it an enlargement of international good feeling.

"If something of the same kind can now be done for Nora Waln in England, I think our fraternity can well be proud of itself."

TIFE IN AN English village about 35 miles from London in war-time is described in the following paragraphs from a letter written by Gwyneth Wrentmore Ressich (Mrs. Victor C.), B II-Washington, to her mother, Mrs. Clarence G. Wrentmore, of Detroit.

Elizabeth Wrentmore Graham-Watson (Mrs. A. F.), also B II, likewise lives about the same distance from London, but some 15 miles from her sister.

Both Kappas have been busy helping to care for children evacuated from London. There is need for used clothing and bedding for these boys and girls.

Mrs. Ressich's letter was written late in September and received by her mother in mid-October.

"We've had an exciting night," she wrote. "A new kind of bomb fell about four fields away, a parachute magnetic mine, an enormous thing meant to float down gently, and lie dogo until approached by a tank or lorry or soldiers with rifles, the iron to set it off.

"This one fell in a field, and alas for Hitler's plans, near an iron water trough, which set it off and shook B—to the core.

"We had a few windows broken, the front door blown open, and the glass in the greenhouse broken, as well as the dust of the ages blown out of the floor cracks, creating the most awful filthy mess in the house.

"However, we are all terrifically pleased, as the only damage in the village was broken crockery and glass—no one hurt. And if it had landed in a town or in London, it would have meant many dead.

"We have been picking up souvenirs, bits of aluminum casing as bright as silver, some of them lying as far apart as the F—'s house and Blackchapel, which had its 15th Century windows blown in. We also got bits of the parachute which brought it down, the most lovely green silk, as strong as steel! I'll put some in this letter, and you can give them to your friends' children. Here all the children collect war souvenirs most energetically, and every one wants a bit of each different kind of bomb or plane.

(Instead of the bit of green silk from the parachute, the letter as received by Mrs. Wrentmore contained a typed slip which stated: "The despatch of war souvenirs is prohibited and those enclosed in this letter have been withheld.")

"We've been shaken about a good deal during the last week, and I've discovered that I'm scared pink when anything comes very close. My knees knock together like castanets, and I want to lose my lunch, which is most wasteful of me. It lasts about five minutes each time, then I become tranquil again. But while I shake, I shake with wholehearted and real honest-to-God fear. It's very amusing, because I don't think I've ever been afraid before. Diana (her daughter) doesn't shake, but she absolutely jibbers with fury.

"I understand now why so many men who were in the last war still have dreadful nightmares. People still think it's something shameful to be afraid, and of course they are the ones who suffer. I'm rather proud of it, like having a sore finger that one can exhibit to a sympathetic or at least curious friend.

Or an operation. You know.

"Mrs. Lethe was killed the other day in London. She was in a hotel that got

Princesses ... In Exile

By HILDA TURNER, Seigniory Club Publicity Director

Hour YEARS ago in June the Seigniory club was all agog because of the hundreds of beautiful Kappas who were coming to convention at the Log chateau. Remember?

Last June I went down to the little log station at Montebello village to meet some equally important guests, Her Royal Highness Crown Princess Juliana of the Netherlands and her two little daughters, who came to the Seigniory club directly after leaving the ship which brought them to Canada after the invasion of their country. They have since gone on to Ottawa to visit with Canada's new Governor General, the Earl of Athlone and H. R. H. the Princess Alice, who are in residence at Rideau Hall in Ottawa.

The Montebello school children were given the afternoon off to see the arrival of the distinguished visitors. The girls from the convent school were there in their neat black uniform dresses with the stiffly-starched high white collars.

The special train drew in and we had a glimpse of two eager baby faces at a window. They were two-and-a-half-year-old Princess Beatrix, whom her mother calls "Trix," and dark-eyed Honorable Renee Roell, two-year-old daughter of the Baroness Roell, lady-in-waiting to the Princess, who accompanied her to Canada. The baby Princess, Irene, was carried about in her own small gas-proof box which served as a combination carriage, crib and cradle, well padded and lined with pillows.

Three more healthy, happy-faced children would be hard to find and they won completely the hearts of the little French Canadians. Indeed, one small "habitant" was so enthusiastic she spontaneously left her mother's side and heartily hugged the little Princess Beatrix.

We soon found that the Princess considered herself just another refugee, feeling that she should share at least part of the privations of her countrymen who have been driven from Holland. Every special service to which royalty entitled her was taboo by her personal order. She insisted upon doing things as other guests did them, buying her own newspapers and telephoning for her own appointment at the hairdresser's.

When she learned that a 10-room suite had been reserved for her at the club, she immediately asked the price. Cyril Chapman (you all remember "Chappie," who manages the Log chateau?) had anticipated almost every question but that one, and pointed out the advantages of a sitting room for the Princess and a private dining room for her party, which also included Admiral de vos van Steenwyck and Baroness van Steenwyck, and the children's nurse, as well as three Dutch guards. But the Princess put her foot down.

Her request, she said, had been for four rooms only—two doubles and two singles—and four rooms it was going to be. No sitting room, no dining room. In the room she picked she slept with her two babies, Beatrix in a second bed and Irene in her own gas-proof box.

From the time they arrived, the royal party ate in the Log chateau dining room (how well I remember your beautiful candle-lit banquet there four years ago) with the other guests. The only sign of distinction was a slightly longer table due to the size of the party and a center piece of flowers. Occasionally, if the weather was warm enough, their table was set up on the outside terrace. Fresh fruit, quantities of cheese and the crusty French bread made locally seemed favorite foods. The two small girls, seated in high chairs, usually breakfasted with the mothers. Like any other children of their age they were made to eat cereal, fruit juices, mashed vegetables.

Princess Juliana played tennis frequently on the club courts, doubles usually with Mrs. Cyril Chapman as her partner. Baroness Roell played with Mrs. Harold Furst, whose husband is acting secretary of the club. She swam in the big glass-enclosed pool and sunbathed for hours on the lawns surrounding the pool; on sunny afternoons the Princess with her ladies sat on the terrace overlooking the Ottawa river. Sewing and chatting, they watched the children play nearby.

One day when I had permission to take photographs of the Princess and the little girls at the children's playground near the tennis courts we were trying to get snaps of the two active little tots in the sand pile near the wading pool. Suddenly, the Princess called from the tennis court. "Observe the baby," she said. For the first time the baby had pulled herself to her feet holding on to the wooden rails encircling her play-pen.

One afternoon the whole party motored about the club's property, passing the game sanctuary which stretches for a half mile on either side of the road which leads to Lake Commandant, 15 miles north of the club. Deer, birds, and other wild life are frequently observed by anyone motoring by. They saw the club's own fish hatchery where every year thousands of baby fish are raised from the egg stage and transferred to the waters of the property; they saw "Barbara," a foundling fawn which had been rescued by one of the club rangers and, now safe in a grassy enclosure near the hatchery, comes running to greet visitors looking for milk and the odd tid-bit. A little farther along the road the Princess and her party stopped at Pine cabin, the guides' base camp in the heart of the club's forest country. Served by the red-shirted guides and rangers, they had afternoon tea by the waterfall near the cabin. Another day they took a short motor trip about the cabin community which stretches among the hills surrounding the 18-hole golf course and admired the magnificent view of the winding Ottawa river and valley from a vantage point on a mountain top.

The photographs of the Princess do not do justice to her glowing complexion, bright blue eyes and golden-colored hair. She favored cotton sports clothes during the day time at the club, printed dinner or afternoon dresses in the evening. Strolling about the lawns after dinner when the weather was chill, she wore a beautiful silver fox cape.

Members and guests of the club who came to know Her Royal Highness Princess Juliana as a person of simple, kindly manner, whose children had played with hers, listened, visibly moved, on the day she broadcast from the Log chateau to millions of listeners in Canada and the United States. There was scarcely a dry eye among the groups gathered about the fire-places in the lounge as her voice broke now and then telling of an afflicted country, the danger to her family from the Gestapo and of her anxiety for those she loved. She confirmed that Queen Wilhelmina, her mother; Prince Bernhard, her husband; her two daughters and herself were on the black list of the Nazis. She told proudly that her husband, now an ocean apart from her, was with the last defending forces in Holland. Her mother remained in London to rule her vast empire from there.

Just before the broadcast, which she gave from a private sitting room in the Log chateau, she went outside and sat alone in the sunshine for a few minutes.

She disdained "pity," but asked her listeners for their strengthening love for herself and her baby princesses.

"I am their mother and therefore I rather think they are very sweet children," she said of the little girls who at that moment played just outside in the serenity of trees, mountains and water.

a direct hit. No one knows why she went to London for the night, leaving the safety of the country. She is the only one I know who has been killed. This fact is truly a fairly eloquent commentary on the ineffectiveness of a complete year of German offensive.

"We continue to watch the antiaircraft barrage in London. We can see it from the garden, lighting up the sky with what looks like sheet lightning and fireworks."

From Peking to the Burma Road

By ELIZABETH JORZICK, B A-Illinois

Japanese is moving at snail's pace compared with European blitz-krieg, at the time of this writing. The small volcanic island empire of Japan had hoped quickly to extend control over vast China when the first shots of the "China Incident" were fired near the Marco Polo bridge in July, 1937, outside the western gates of Peking.

True, that ancient capital of China has been peacefully occupied by Japanese soldiers, and camel trains pad across the marble bridge as they have for centuries. But the veneer of Japanese success is thin. It is unsafe to go but a few miles beyond the walls of Peking where Japanese "order" ends and the guerrilla activities of Chinese farmer-soldiers begin. The same holds true of the Japanese-occupied cities along the Yangtze river and the south coast between Shanghai and Hongkong.

The Chinese command, during these three past years, has allowed the Japanese to penetrate immense China along a 1,500-mile battlefront, engaging them here and there, keeping a million Japs more or less at bay. The railroad from Peking to Shanghai, important troop and supply link between north and central China, is protected from the frequent attacks of Chinese guerrillas by an electrified barbed wire barricade. Japanese station guards line up and bow stiffly from the waist as the train passes by day, but by night they take cover while the train speeds through the darkness, trusting to luck against attack.

At press conferences, both in Japanese-occupied Peking and in Chungking, capital of Free China, I got the impression of military stalemate.

That the Sino-Japanese war is harder on Japan that on China is indicated by the war-weariness evident in Japan and the lack of war fatigue apparent in China. Tokyo streets are brim-full of departing Nipponese troops; women serve as bus conductors, tiny girls act as bell hops and carry heavy luggage.

All over Japan railroad stations ring with "Bonzai," to cheer pink-cheeked boys fresh from rice fields on to battle-fields in China. In the pretty Japanese countryside, brightly-colored silk pennants billow from tall bamboo poles beside tiny paper screen houses, announcing that each little farm has sent a son or sons to the army; while in the field, women with babies tied to their backs bend over the soil.

No cotton, wool or leather goods can be had. The population shivers with cold in winter. Automobiles stand in garages. To inure the naturally dour and stoic Japanese against any moral weakness, the government has ordered social dancing stopped, allows no one under 60 to play golf. To keep up morale, no maimed Japanese soldier is ever seen in Japan—they are kept out of sight in Manchuria. Only very whole "wounded" soldiers swagger about, honored and distinguished by wearing white kimono over khaki. Ordinary life in Japan is as colorless and cheerless as those white kimonos.

Life in Free China, on the other hand, appears untouched by the war. The chair coolies who carry you up and down the endless stone steps of Chungking are slap-happy. Processions with vivid, writhing paper dragons set against a background of bombed buildings draw a crowd of laughing Chinese. When the air-raid sirens shriek, these crowds have to be forced into shelters which honeycomb the cliffs of Chungking. With the all-clear they come out, back-slapping each other and in fine fettle.

Even the foreign residents have caught the Chungking spirit. The British ambassador, showing us his home superbly situated on the heights, praised the beauty of night raids. My last evening in the war capital, several hundred prominent Chinese feasted gaily, knowing the air-raid signal might interrupt any moment, as the moon was coming full. Our own Ambassador Johnson, in his little house on the south bank, seemed as optimistic as he had last winter in Peking. Sympathetic with my interest in seeing the Japanese bombers in action, he thought we might "get one" that night.

Man power in China has not been tapped, whereas it seems to be definitely sapped in Japan. In any Chinese town, including Chungking and Kunming, the chief cities of Free China, the streets are filled with sleek young men in long blue robes going majestically about their business quite indifferent to the war.

The vitality of Free China is due partly to China's leaders, the Generalissimo Madame Chiang (pronounced jong) Kai-shek, and partly to the natural resilience of the Chinese people. The combined talents of the Soongs and the political and military genius of Chiang have unified, strengthened and given high national aspiration to the Chinese.

The "Gissimo" and "Madame" are great persons, even at tea where I met them. Madame Chiang has Chinese charm and beauty and great dignity, also a mind that works like a steel trap in many divergent activities. In every department of the government or the war Madame has influence second only perhaps to that of her husband. With all her ability in masculine domains, she is delightfully feminine. From the antiopium drive she quickly changed the subject to advise me to take lots of cold cream on my coming trip into the interior, to cover my hair well and to wear heavy slacks as it would be a dusty journey. She recalled that in her early school days in Georgia she simply could not see why 1/4 was not greater than 1/2.

When the Generalissimo of all the Chinese armies entered the room as we munched tea dumplings, Madame said quite simply, "Come in, darling."

The man who walked across to the tea table to shake hands was graceful, but brisk, and extremely frail. His eyes are unforgettable and hypnotic-a messianic fire is there. His essential greatness permeated the room. Close friend to the Generalissimo and vice-minister of propaganda, "Holly" Tong (University of Missouri) sat on a hassock beside his chief and interpreted our chat.

ELIZABETH JORZICK, B A-Illinois, photographed last January in a rickshaw in front of the administration building of the Peking provisional government. After taking her master's at Columbia, Elizabeth joined the New York World's fair staff, became assistant promotion director and was program coordina-tion director when she sailed for the Orient-in October, 1939. Elizabeth is now spending the winter with her sister, Dorothe Jorzick Gerard (Mrs. Reed), I-DePauw, of 41 Fifth avenue, New York City.

The Generalissimo smiled throughout our conversation; when I left it seemed we had been speaking in the same language, except for his repeated "hao, hao" (pronounced ha-ha, "yes" or "good"), as Dr. Tong translated into Chinese.

It is impossible to imagine any capitulation on the part of China to Japan so long as such a man and such a woman are her leaders.

In Chungking optimism was high regarding China's success in driving out the Japanese. Many foreigners said 1941 will see the war won for China and the capital moved back to Nanking. Chinese in government circles, on the other hand, never commit themselves on the time element. Time in China is not important. When you ask a Chinese if his country will win, the answer is "of course," but if you inquire how soon, he only smiles.

Chinese leaders feel that 450 million Chinese, encouraged to resist the aggressor in all sorts of small ways, will offset the power of Japan's superior military equipment. But these millions must be made conscious of the Jap as an enemy. So the Chinese look upon bombings as excellent propaganda to arouse the sluggish mob, propaganda against the Japanese which is costing the Japanese a very pretty penny. In the center of Chungking bombed areas stand untouched, constant reminders of the enemy; in Kunming, great murals are crudely slapped on the ancient city walls and gates, representing the impudent little flat-faced Jap bayoneting a Chinese child.

In Nanking, former Chinese capital now Japanese-occupied, a Japanese hotel manager, in traditional brown kimono, surprised us by condemning the war: "We may win battles, but we can never really defeat the Chinese. They make life difficult for us in a million small ways. They always seem to find a way out."

The Chinese people are naturally democratic, and if they can be strongly united, an Herculean task which Chiang Kai-shek has gone far in performing, they will become one of the great democratic nations of the world.

One thing always amazed me and added to my ever-growing admiration of Chinese character, the total absence of any expression of bitterness against the Japanese. The Chinese realize that the development of interior China was speeded up by the Japanese invasion. "Newsreel" Wong, famous news photographer and rare personality, used to remark often on our trip through southwest China, "Well, we have the lee-ter

Japs to thank for this road."

City-bred Chinese have but recently ventured into the hinterland. A charming and intelligent Chinese woman, daughter of an ambassador who had served in 27 capitals, said to me at a British garden party in Kunming, "None of us ever used to think it even possible to go into west China. It scarcely existed for us. Now we live here and like it!"

The saga of the westward march of Chinese industry and culture, motion pictures now being made in Chungking, factories producing modernistic furniture, electric light bulbs, shoes, and ammunition, bottling soft drinks; the saga of the student band marching 1,000 miles from north to southwest to reestablish their university in Free China, all this, and highways, too.

Driving over the winding motor road, which now connects cities recently months apart when traveling by sedan chair, I got sight of a magnificent country. Soils range in color from purple and burnt orange to pink and mauve, rice terraces in a variety of patterns step gracefully up mountain sides, cypress and banana trees add their touch, great unnamed waterfalls plunge from mountains of bizarre shapes, and coal bursts out of the ground. Vast undeveloped resources are in this land.

An American photographer, his Filipino sound expert and "Newsreel" Wong as general adviser, had invited me to accompany them on a trek (by truck) into southwest China. With the blessing of the Chinese government and dozens of official letters of permission, we drove from Chungking to Kweiyang, once the center of the Generalissimo's anti-opium drive and now a thriving town. The pleasant hostel there was filled with Chinese military, a very different breed from the Japanese military, and its courtyard was filled with newly-planted tung oil trees one day to be used in American varnishes.

The first night out from Chungking we were stopped in a dark village of mud huts by an excited group of Chinese soldiers who shouted that we were not to proceed. Bandits ahead! Wong decided that the discomforts of a night in that village were more to be feared than the chance of meeting bandits, so we drove on and spent the night in a temple courtyard surrounded by sleeping Chinese travelers, ammunition truck drivers and dusty figures of Buddha.

During that five-day drive to Kunming, we ate our meals in Chinese "sidewalk cafes" in whatever village we found ourselves at mealtime. The food was always delicious and the variety endless. The Chinese rank with the French in the art of cooking. Sometimes flies were bad, but small boys always stood by with fans. Chopsticks, rice bowls, spoons, tea cups, all were immersed in boiling water brought to the table for the purpose, an old Chinese custom.

Already the China travel service, which shifted its efforts inland with the Japanese invasion, is operating several clean and comfortable hostels along this route and more are being opened. Southwest China, as yet undiscovered by the tourist, may one day become a great tourist paradise, for its scenic beauty rivals that of Java and the climate is more temperate.

To get to Kunming, capital of rich and strategically important Yunnan province, China's backdoor, the road hairpinturns over mountain ranges which rise in great waves toward Tibet. Kunming lies beside a tremendous lake on a plateau 6,000 feet high, is the terminus of the French railway from Indo-China in the southeast and of the Burma road from the southwest. Its streets are paved with huge flagstones; cars move in second gear; a fast rickshaw ride is dangerous. Shops remained closed until late afternoon as a large part of the population were said to take to the open country daily in fear of air-raids from which they had no shelters. Yet the streets were crowded with people, carts, rickshaws and brilliant wedding and funeral processions.

From Kunming we traveled out on the Burma road with the Chinese road commissioner and the American-trained Chinese engineer in charge. Along the perpendicular rock walls of the road, hundreds of coolies clung like flies and chanted as they swung picks at the canyon sides to widen the road for increased traffic. Parallel with this road, a railroad bed was being carved out of the rock by more coolies, both men and women.

The tycoon of Yunnan is a delightful Chinese gentleman who, we discovered over thin green tea, attended the same college as I. Shortly after he negotiated the road with the British in Burma, the Chinese government had nearly half a million coolies at work and surprised the British by finishing the long Chinese end of the roadbed before the British finished the short Burmese sector. Except for surveying instruments and dynamite, every clod of earth and scrap of stone was moved in tiny wicker baskets by coolies with bamboo carrying poles.

This Burma road is hand-made. The dynamite was hand-mixed gunpowder put in bamboo tubes. We watched them doing it. The road is quite rough in spots, and landslides come down, but it is built on solid rock and will endure.

"Surveyed by centuries of sweating coolies," as Ambassador Johnson put it, the Burma road follows in a general way the old elephant trail over which tribute was carried by lumbering pachyderms from Burmese princes to the Chinese emperors in Peking and the trade of China was "picked" (carrying pole) by wiry coolies, chanting and trotting. The Burma road is the modern version of this ancient trail. The old and the new intertwine as they sweep in graceful curves over the hills and into craggy heights, a dramatic expression of the Chinese ability "to find a way out."

To be sure, everywhere we went in southeastern Asia, Indo-China, Thailand (Siam), Malaya, Netherland Indies, Philippines, we found fear of Japan. But to have been infected with the spirit of quiet national self-confidence and good cheer so prevalent in fighting Free China is to believe in China's ability to play the immovable solid to Japan's irresistible force, anytime!

Delta Lambda... Is 74th Chapter

HARMED with town, college, campus and the girls of the new chapter, 139 Kappas from 25 chapters and every province but Eta and Iota registered at Oxford, Ohio, November 8-10 for the installation of Kappa Kappa Gamma's 74th chapter, Delta Lambda, at Miami university.

Fraternity officials who conducted the installation ceremonies, Saturday morning, November 9, in the Memorial Presbyterian church, were Elizabeth Bogert Schofield (Mrs. Everett M.), president; Elizabeth Kimbrough Park (Mrs. James), vice-president; Edith Reese Crabtree (Mrs. Granville), director of membership and Panhellenic; Clara O.

Pierce, executive secretary; Martha Combs Kennedy (Mrs. Paul), publicity chairman; Nora Wilson Tomkinson (Mrs. Leroy), Gamma province president; Ruth Bullock Chastang (Mrs. Charles), Gamma province vice-president, and Gem Craig Reasoner (Mrs. Mark H.), Delta province president. Helen C. Bower, editor of The Key, spoke on Kappa's "Family Album" at the installation banquet Saturday evening in one of the university's fine new dormitories for women, North hall, with Mrs. Tomkinson as toastmistress.

Sixteen girls became charter members of the chapter, and two others were initiated. The pledge service was conducted Saturday afternoon for 24 girls. Members of Beta Rho Deuteron-Cincinnati were present as the installing chapter.

Through the courtesy of university officials, the delightful guest house opposite the campus was set aside as registration headquarters, under the direction of the central office staff which also assisted with the installation service.

The history of Delta Lambda goes back to an interest in the university which began four years ago.

In the spring of 1939. Gamma province convention voted favorably on further extension in Ohio at Miami, and in November, 1939, three general officers, members of Beta Rho Deuteron and alumnæ living in the vicinity met in Miami to discuss the establishment of a chapter there. Following the meeting, Frances Kimbrough, B X-Kentucky, Miami faculty member, and Ethel Russell Wickenden (Mrs. A. C.), Γ Ω-Denison, wife of a professor at Miami, were instructed to proceed toward organization of a group.

Since that time the group has been inspected by four neighboring Ohio chapters, and the 1940 convention at Sun Valley last July voted to install the new chapter.

Alumnæ living in Oxford, Hamilton and other communities nearby are planning to organize an alumnæ club to further their own Kappa interest and to aid the new chapter. A prospective member of this alumnæ group is Alice McDaniel Alexander (Mrs. John), of Eaton, Ohio, an 1881 initiate of Rho-Ohio Wesleyan, who was dean of the Kappa alumnæ at the installation.

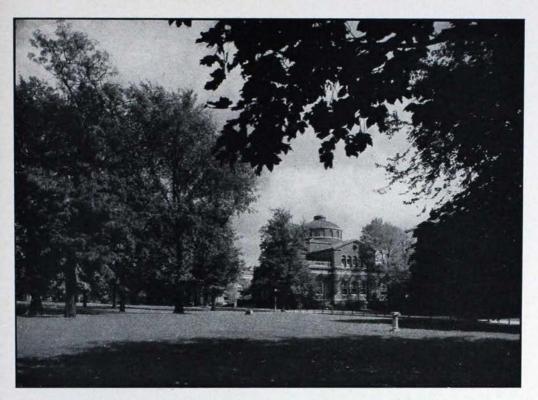

In Miami university's spacious North hall, one of the fine new dormitories on the campus, Kappas concluded the installation of Delta Lambda chapter with the installation banquet, Saturday evening, November 9, 1940. The speakers' table is discernible across the far left.

Delta Lambda's debut as a Kappa chapter brought together several alumnæ groups of special note. Four Beta Gammas from the now-inactive Wooster chapter had a little reunion of their (Continued on page 370)

Mary Sheldon Long (Mrs. C. F.), B N, center, had a special interest in Delta Lambda's installation. Her niece, Harriet Sheldon Hall, left, is president of the new chapter, and another niece, Ruth Beaumont Hall, right, is a Delta Lambda pledge. Mrs. Long's mother-in-law was graduated from Western college at Oxford in 1868; her husband was a student at Miami university, where he became a member of Beta Theta Pi's Alpha chapter; and her sister-in-law attended Oxford college.

. . . "Mother of Fraternities"

THE ORDINANCE of 1787 provided for institutions of higher learning in the Northwest Territory, which it created. Under the provisions of the ordinance Miami university was chartered in 1809, the second state university founded west of the Allegheny Mountains.

The university reached college stature in 1824, and under the presidency of Dr. Robert Hamilton Bishop soon attained a reputation for sound learning. Between 1824 and the outbreak of the Civil war it was one of the largest and most progressive universities in the nation and drew to its class rooms the best intellects of the middle west and south.

Its graduates assumed important places in the intellectual and political life of the nation. Benjamin Harrison became president of the United States, Whitelaw Reid and Robert C. Schenck, ambassadors to the Court of St. James's. Governors of states, generals in the Union army, diplomats and great preachers such as David Swing, are numbered among its distinguished alumni.

In  $1839 B \odot II$  was founded at Miami and soon after  $\Phi \Delta \odot$  and  $\Sigma X$  followed. These three great fraternities, known as the Miami Triad, flourished from the start and gave to the university the name "Mother of Fraternities."

When the Civil war broke out the student body was almost depleted by enlistments in both the Union and Confederate armies. For this reason and for financial reasons the university closed in 1873.

In 1885, with state aid, it reopened and since has advanced consistently in facilities and service. The school of education was established in 1902, the school of business in 1926, and the school of fine arts in 1929.

About 20 years ago enrollment passed the 1,000 mark, 10 years ago the 2,000 mark and has now reached beyond the 3,000 mark. Of the 3,300 students enrolled this year about 2,000 are men. Women were admitted in the 1890s and with them came the first sororities. Delta Zeta, one of the larger national groups, was founded here.

There are at present, excluding Kappa Kappa Gamma, 11 sororities on the campus. They are A O II, B  $\Phi$  A, X  $\Omega$ ,  $\Delta$   $\Delta$   $\Delta$ ,  $\Delta$   $\Gamma$ ,  $\Delta$   $\Sigma$  E,  $\Delta$  Z,  $\Phi$   $\Lambda$   $\Sigma$  (local),  $\Sigma$  K,  $\Theta$  Y and Z T A.

The fraternities are B  $\odot$  II,  $\Delta$  X,  $\Delta$  K E,  $\Delta$  T  $\Delta$ ,  $\Delta$  Y,  $\Phi$   $\Delta$   $\odot$ ,  $\Phi$  K T,  $\Sigma$  A E,  $\Sigma$  X,  $\Sigma$  N and Z B T.

Miami maintains one of the greatest and largest residence hall systems in the country. All but a few students live in these residence halls and in fraternity houses. Dining rooms are connected with residence halls and an extensive food service system is managed from a central building.

There are seven residence halls for men, eight for women. In addition, the university manages a large number of cottages for women.

A large number of national honorary fraternities, including  $\Phi$  B K, have chapters on the campus.

There are no sorority houses maintained, but sororities have suites in two new residence halls for women recently completed.

Just completed are additions and new buildings which cost well over $2,000,000. These include two new wings to the university hospital, two residence halls for women, and a residence hall for men. In course of erection is a 128-foot bell tower given by the B @ II fraternity memorializing the centenary of the founding of the fraternity on the Miami campus in 1839.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Departing Kappas had a passing glimpse of the Betas, Sunday afternoon, November 10, laying the cornerstone for the tower which will house the Beta carillon.

... The Miami Triad

By George Banta, Jr., Former President of the General Council of  $\Phi$   $\Delta$   $\Theta$

NE OF THE interesting features of the fraternity system is the Miami Triad, three fraternities which were founded within a relatively short period at Miami university, Oxford, Ohio. They are B @ II, 1839;

Φ Δ Θ, 1848, and Σ X, 1855.

Miami is the second oldest collegiate institution west of the Alleghenies, having been established by the government with a grant of six square miles of land between the Great and Little Miami rivers. The grant was made in 1794, and when Ohio was admitted to the Union in 1803 the legislature appointed commissioners to locate the land. This was done in Butler county.

The university was incorporated in 1809 and given authority to dispose of the land. In 1810 the legislature directed that a village be laid out in the area to be known as Oxford, and that the necessary building or buildings be erected there to carry on the educational program.

A grammar school was established in the first of the buildings in 1818 and the university itself opened its doors November 1, 1824. It started with a faculty of three. The second year there were 111 students from five states. Reverend R. H. Bishop, D.D., a Presbyterian minister, was president.

Miami proved to be a fertile field for the fraternity system. It was not long after its founding that the first seed was planted. Alpha Delta Phi was founded at Hamilton college, New York, in 1832, the idea coming from the second chapter of  $\Sigma$   $\Phi$ , which was established at Hamilton in 1831. Aside from  $\Phi$  B K, the first fraternities were the socalled Union Triad: K A, 1825;  $\Sigma$   $\Phi$ , 1827; and  $\Delta$   $\Phi$ , 1827, founded at Union college, New York. Alpha Delta Phi placed its second chapter at Miami in 1835, the eighth of any fraternity to be established in the third state at the fourth college. So Miami can truthfully be called a pioneer so far as the Greek-letter system is concerned.

The Alpha Delts first operated on a sub rosa basis at Miami, but soon made their existence known by having one of their meetings announced at morning prayers. In a few days their badges appeared, and it was inevitable that they would have opposition which manifested itself in many different ways. One of the results was the founding of B  $\Theta$  II in 1839, the first Greek-letter society to originate west of the Allegheny mountains.

Beta Theta Pi, therefore, became the first of the Miami Triad and the first of a group which became more liberal in its expansion policies than the fraternities which had been started in the east. Its founders were John Reilly Knox, of the class of 1839, and S. T. Marshall, of the class of 1840. Six other students joined them and their first meeting was in "the old wing" or the original building of the university. The Betas prospered and expanded outside the parent institution. At Miami they continued to be the Alpha Delts' only rival.

Then came the "great snow rebellion" in January, 1848. There seems to have been bad blood between the president of the university, Dr. E. D. MacMaster, and the students, which came to a boiling point on the nights of January 12 and 13. Barricades of snow, sticks of wood and furniture were rolled up against the doors of the chapel and recitation rooms, the affair resulting in the expulsion of 15 students. This caused the suspension of the Alpha Delt and Beta chapters.

Later in the year, a group of students headed by Robert Morrison and John M. Wilson, of the class of 1849, began discussing the idea of a new fraternity, as the university at the time was without one. The actual founding of  $\Phi$   $\Delta$   $\Theta$  took place in Wilson's room in the old North dormitory, December 26, 1848, and the original minutes still exist. The building itself has been remodeled, but a tablet in the outside wall marks the place of the founding. Benjamin Harrison, afterward President of the United States, was an early member of this chapter.

The Alpha Delts and Betas soon returned to Miami and a newcomer, Δ K E, chartered its Kappa chapter March 8, 1852. Trouble in the Deke chapter resulted in the resignation of some of its members. In 1855 six of these and one associate founded Σ X. T. C. Bell, '57; J. P. Caldwell, '57; D. W. Cooper, '57; I. M. Jordan, '57; B. P. Runkle, '57 and F. H. Scobey, '58, were the six. Whitelaw Reid, famous journalist and diplomat, was the leader of the Deke chapter at the time of the defection.

Sigma Chi, third of the Miami Triad, was first known as  $\Sigma \Phi$ , as its founders did not know of the existence of the original society of that name. It was changed a year later. The actual date of founding was June 28, 1855, and the place a room above a drug store in the business section of Oxford. The building still stands and is appropriately marked with a bronze tablet.

The Miami Triad tradition has continued down through the years and is recognized on many campuses by annual social affairs in which the chapters of the three fraternities join. Their members are proud of their Miami background and founding and make much of it.

One of the three,  $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ , has established its general headquarters in Oxford. Plans are being made to erect a new headquarters building there to be ready in time for its centennial celebration in 1948. Beta Theta Pi appropriately celebrated its centennial there in 1939 and presented the university with a set of chimes.

The chapter houses of  $\Phi \Delta \Theta$  and  $\Sigma X$  at Miami are memorials to the founders and were built by the general fraternities.

"Etta Kett Has Rhythm" . . . In Verses by Jan

APPA KAPPA GAMMA is wearing another feather in her hat. Fan Ratliff, B X-Kentucky, is the author of Etta Kett Has Rhythm, just off the press, and an ingenious little book of jingles on good manners for the college girl, or any one, in fact.

Fan is a modest person when it comes to telling about herself, so we do the next best thing by relaying her comments. Many of you will remember Fan as a former president of Mu province, the comic columnist on The Hoot at Yellowstone and stunt chairman at Seigniory club. B. B. Smith and company, of Lexington, Kentucky, reap the benefits of her advertising, which is her real business.

Each of our former field secretaries in her travels saw the need for some kind of booklet on etiquette. After conferring with council members it was decided Fan's ability and originality would put it over.

Fan secured permission to use the name "Etta Kett," wrote the book entirely, laid it out and had it printed in Lexington, so she supervised each dot and comma.

Result, well, read it for yourself. The fraternity is proud of a member like Fan.

GATORD COLLEGE—Freshman Girls' Dormitory

50 Golden Years ... for Beta Delta

By ELINOR SEVISON, Β Δ

I sis! pack your week-end kit and pedal straight for Ann Arand pedal straight for Ann Ar-bor" was the gay greeting sent to all the alumnæ of Beta Delta chapter, urging them to return to the scene of their college days for one memorable weekend and participate in the celebration of the 50th anniversary of their chapter.

Golden October weather combined with golden memories to make Friday. October 18, the first day of the reunion, a happy one for all those who answered the call of the golden anniversary. Excitement and anticipation reigned at 1204 Hill street in the hearts of all Beta Deltas, from the "First Ladies," the two founders in attendance, Miss Mildred Hinsdale and Mrs. Lucy Clark Terry, to the latest additions to the chapter, the 18 pledges of 1940 who had taken their places on the chapter roll only a week before.

From the moment of the arrival and registration of the first out-of-town Beta Delta Friday afternoon, actives began to make new friends and alumnæ renew old ones as the reunion got well under way. The chapter was proud to welcome among the early comers Mrs. Elizabeth Bogert Schofield, M-Butler. president of Kappa Kappa Gamma, Mrs. Gem Craig Reasoner, Y-Northwestern, Delta province president, from Indianapolis, and Miss Esther Schlundt, O-Missouri, Delta province vice-president, of West Lafavette, Indiana.

A buffet supper opened the evening's entertainment, followed by a "gettogether" in the living room for the alumnæ. Whether ex-room-mates, classmates or new acquaintances, they all found much in common which was worth discussing while the actives pounded backstage scenery and got into costume for their "Kappa Kavalcade."

This skit was a presentation of the chapter history since those first nine girls, inspired by the ideals of Kappa Kappa Gamma, were initiated into its mystic rites October 2, 1890. As the history was unfolded in a monologue, pictures revealing the spirit of the decades were brought to light in a gold picture frame made of crepe paper and cellophane bows surrounding one of the doorways. The girls in the picture then stepped forth into a fashion show, so that the alumnæ might see the individual costumes.

Beginning with the 50-year evo-lution of a favorite Michigan song. "I Want To Go Back To Michigan," the pictures included the founders, the bloomer girls of 1900, a scene from the present chapter house when it was opened in 1913, a rushing scene from the '20s when "Rosebud Jukes" was invited by means of the song, "How'd You Like To Be a K K G?" to join the sisterhood, and finally the evolution of the sweater and skirt during the '30s. The program ended with the present day, as the 1940 pledge class sang an original

Following the program, the "old girls" and the new continued their talk far, far into the night," and the chapter house echoed with voices of many who had lived there in the past as well as in the present. Accommodations were made for all at the house, the Michigan League or the homes of the Ann Arbor alumnæ.

Saturday found October's golden weather a thing of yesterday with Ann Arbor's famous rainy weather making its appearance. Rain or no, all the Beta Deltas were again reunited at the house for a buffet luncheon, after which the more hardy souls made their way to the homecoming football game to watch their alma mater down Illinois, 28 to 0.

High point of the afternoon was the HALF-CENTURY FOR BETA DELTA. Two chapter founders and three fraternity officials talked of then and now at Ann Arbor, when B Δ-Michigan observed its golden anniversary, October 18-20, 1940. From the left are Lucy Clark Terry (Mrs. Fred H.), B Δ 1; Mildred Hinsdale, B Δ 3; Elizabeth Bogert Schofield (Mrs. Everett M.), M-Butler, president of Kappa Kappa Gamma; Gem Craig Reasoner (Mrs. Mark H.), Υ-Northwestern, Delta province president, and Esther Schlundt, Θ-Missouri, Delta province vice-president.

tea given by Ann Arbor alumnæ at the home of Miss Mildred Hinsdale, when the returning alumnæ had the opportunity to mingle with old friends among Ann Arbor townspeople. Mrs. Catherine Kelder Walz and Mrs. Burnette Bradley Staebler received with Miss Hinsdale. At the tea table were Mrs. Beach S. Conger, Mrs. Ruth Smith, Mrs. James B. Edmonson, Dr. Margaret Bell and Mrs. John Sundwall. Among those who whom the alumnæ greeted once again were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Jordan, Mr. Edwin Goddard, Mr. Wilbur R. Humphreys and Mr. Shirley Smith.

"Thar's gold in them y'ars, Kappas" was the theme of the banquet Saturday evening at the Michigan League. Mrs. Amanda McKinney McColl, of Highland Park, general chairman of the celebration, read greetings from members of the fraternity council and from Beta Delta alumnæ who were unable to attend. Musical arrangements for the program included group singing and harp solos by Dorothy Trump, of the active chapter.

"Mining Engineer" for the evening was Helen Bower, B  $\Delta$ , and editor of The Key, who acted as toastmistress. She introduced the honor guests, who included the two charter members present, Miss Hinsdale and "Aunt Lucy" Clark Terry; Mrs. Schofield, Mrs. Reasoner, Miss Schlundt and two Beta Deltas: Mrs. Catherine Kelder Walz, the fraternity's chairman of chapter housing, and Mrs. Florence Burton Roth, chairman of the board of trustees of the Louise Bennett Boyd Hearthstone and past grand president of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Continuing the program theme, Miss Hinsdale spoke on "The Prospector," telling of the early days of the chapter. Mary Eleanor MacCready, active chapter president, then spoke on "The New Vein," linking the foundation of the past with the hopes of the future. Mrs.

Wanted ... a Deaf-Blind Baby

IN THE fraternity's new Vocational Guide, which was distributed at convention, the name of Alice Harper Damon, B Δ-Michigan, is listed under "Social-Education."

Miss Damon was a charter member of Beta Delta, second on its roll. She was unable to attend the 50th anniversary of the chapter's founding. But the letter she sent speaks so eloquently, so poignantly, of her interests that THE KEY believes it should be printed, to let other Kappas know what one of their number is doing in the service of mankind, "unto one of the least of these."

"When a 'spiffy old girl' finds herself tied hand and foot, while her sisters, nieces and grand-nieces are dancing around a 50th birthday cake, it's not much fun," wrote Miss Damon, from her home in Concord, Massachusetts; "but surely the Fates have never smiled upon the idea of my taking any active part in Beta Delta's doings.

"I was there at that first beautiful ceremony with Emily Bright, and I have looked in upon you twice, but that is all. In spite of my silence and apparent indifference, I have seen—and 'swelled with pride' as I have heard of the individual and collective honors which have come to you. I hoped to be flying to Ann Arbor today, but duties can't be shunted easily.

"My own contributions to society are of the sort which make little show but are quite necessary. Those of you who may chance to wander out through the vast lonely spaces of our glorious country, or in the crowded sections of our great cities, please keep your eyes open to satisfy this, my latest urge.

"I am searching the land for one of those waifs that wring one's heart, but for whom so much can be done, if only one can begin early.

"I am looking for a deaf-blind baby. They are rare—thank Heaven!—but there are more than you realize. They don't come to light early enough for their own good and the comfort of the loved ones who have kept them 'hidden.' We want to help the parents to help the babies, at the toddling age of curiosity and normal mischief.

"So-PLEASE-watch for one and let us know. It is so much easier then to teach them to comprehend and to develop normally; and so infinitely easier to give them speech, good speech if the brain is normal.

"Duty calls! I must turn to the Alban Kings and my own lessons as tutor of an 'everyday' deaf child. She lost her hearing before she was four and is totally deaf; but she is carrying second year Latin, algebra, geometry, English and beginning French-all through lip reading-the college preparatory course of a fine private school 1,200 miles from home.

"Blessings upon you all and upon your aspirations."

Miss Damon's address is 433 Main street west, Concord, Massachusetts, if any Kappa knows of such a deaf-blind baby as she wishes to find.

Retires As "Y.W." Secretary

NOTHER Beta Delta, one who was present for the anniversary, is 1 Erie Layton Gates (Mrs. Dana L.), who has just taken an apartment in Ann Arbor and has become a member of the Beta Delta association board, following her retirement last summer as metropolitan general secretary of the Detroit Young Women's Christian association.

All three Detroit newspapers made Mrs. Gates the subject of editorials upon her retirement. The following, from the Detroit Free Press for August 16, 1940, is typical of the sentiments which expressed the esteem with which Mrs. Gates' work was regarded.

SHE WILL BE MISSED

After 15 years as executive head of the professional staff of the Detroit Young Women's Christian association, Mrs. Erie Layton Gates is retiring to private life. The decade and a half of service she gave to the "Y.W." saw it develop from a membership of 3,200 to more than 15,000, who enjoy today unsurpassed facilities for physical and spiritual development. The tributes paid to Mrs. Gates on her retirement reveal wide recognition of her long and devoted interest in the well being of young women in this area.

Marion Ackley Chenoweth, past national vice-president and first chairman of the Rose McGill fund, discussed "National Nuggets," listing Beta Delta's contributions to the roll of general fraternity officers. Final speaker of the evening was Mrs. Roth, who spoke on "The Lore of the Lode," telling of the true inspiration that may be gained from Kappa ideals and associations.

The "Decade Breakfast" for those at the reunion who represented classes of the first 10 years of the chapter was given Sunday morning by Miss Hinsdale and Mrs. Erie Layton Gates at Miss Hinsdale's house. Those at the breakfast included Mrs. Florence Noland Davidson, of Portland, Oregon; Miss Harriet Lake, of Independence, Iowa; Mrs. Dorothea Rouse Earl, of Altadena, California; Mrs. Alice May Boutell Mendenhall, of Washington, D.C.; Miss Isabel A. Ballou, of Bay City, Michigan; Mrs. Joseph Torrence, of Birmingham, Michigan; Mrs. C. J. Boyer, of Detroit; Mrs. Philip Bourland, of Calumet, Michigan, and Mrs. Lucy Clark Terry, of Tecumseh, Michigan.

Dinner at the house Sunday noon concluded the activities of the weekend. The reunion was over and Beta Deltas made their ways homeward.

It was a celebration of 50 years of golden memories, of golden links in the chain of Kappa membership in Beta Delta chapter, but it was also a firm foundation on which to build the next 50 years, a better understanding between alumnæ and active chapter and a renewal of the warmth and strength of friendship for which Kappa stands.

Kappa's 1940 Fellowship Winners

Henrietta Herzberger, B M-Colorado Marguerite Hill, B  $\Psi$ -Toronto

Nona Fumerton,  $\Sigma$  K Shirley Fitch. A  $\Phi$

By Lora Harvey George (Mrs. Robert), В П-Washington Fellowships Chairman

T THE scholarship dinner at Sun Valley, Kappa's sixth annual graduate fellowship awards of $500 each were given to Shirley Fitch, a member of Alpha Phi from Denison university in her fourth year of medicine at the University of Western Ontario; Nona Fumerton, a Sigma Kappa law student at the University of Washington, and Henrietta Herzberger, a Kappa from the University of Colorado. In addition to these three annual awards. an additional one of $300 was awarded to Marguerite Hill, a Kappa from the University of Toronto, who will do graduate work in psychology.

Among Shirley Fitch's qualifications, in addition to many extracurricular activities,  $\Phi$  B K in her junior year, and "special honors" at graduation for work in embryology, was the fact that since her sophomore year she has earned her board and room by serving first as student instructor in zoology, then at state mental hospitals during summer vacations, and now as student intern at the Ontario hospital. This is an honor usually granted only to final-year students. But the fact that she has maintained the standing of third highest in her class has no doubt had a great deal to do with this appointment.

This fellowship will make it possible for her to try the examinations for the National Board of Medical Examiners and for the degree of Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons. Both of these are expensive to take and prepare for, but they would enable her to apply for internship in a superior hospital, into which a woman in medicine seldom can get without such special qualifications as this F.R.C.S. degree.

At the University of Washington Nona Fumerton was the first woman ever to receive the president's medal, the highest scholarship award in the university, because of a straight "A" record which was also maintained throughout her first year of law. Her record as a leader on the campus was quite as noteworthy as her scholastic record. Her quiet, balanced judgment made her outstanding in A.W.S. activities where she was treasurer; Y.W.C.A. council, debate, Japanese-American relations, T K A, \(\Sigma\) E \(\Sigma\), W-Key, Totem Club; in her own sorority, and in the Mortar Board group of which she was vice-president. The fellowship will enable her to complete her law course where she is the top-ranking student in her class, a distinction no other woman has enjoyed at that school.

Many will remember reading in THE KEY about Henrietta Herzberger's twoweek trip to the New York fair in 1939, awarded her because her essay "Must We Continue to Grant Free Speech to Those Who Use It in Order to Destroy It?" was second best in the Panhellenic contest. Her qualifications included numerous activities and honors leading to Δ Φ A, Φ B K and Mortar Board. While she served as president of the Y.W.C.A. in her senior year, that organization conducted some interesting research in student working conditions and cooperative enterprises. In 1940-41 she will have an opportunity to continue her interest in research and observation in other fields, as she has been granted one of the government non-remunerative internships by the National Institute of Public Affairs, where she will specialize in the administrative phases of government work, either in personnel or general administration connected with utilities.

Marguerite Hill, a 1940 graduate in psychology, will continue with her work in schizophrenia at the University of Toronto, where she has won the Dunlap memorial prize for highest place in her class the last two years. In her extracurricular activities, dramatics, athletics, women's self-government, chapter presidency, as well as in her scholastic work, she has demonstrated her leadership, industry, initiative and ability to organize. During summer holidays she has been councilor at a girls' camp and last summer had the distinction, while still an undergraduate, of being chosen to replace a graduate intern for four months on the staff of the Ontario Mental hospital, to which work she quickly adjusted herself and discharged her duties with marked proficiency.

Every Kappa wishes these girls good fortune, indeed, in these next steps toward their chosen careers. Kappa Kappa Gamma is proud that in this way it can contribute towards the fulfillment of their careers.

જું જું જું

Della Lawrence Burt, convention marshal, is having conscience trouble again, because so many Kappas have written to tell her what a good job she did in choosing the convention souvenirs, the handsome gold compacts. Della says she doesn't deserve to be praised, because the girls at central office chose the design and the compacts were the gift of the fraternity's official jewelers, Burr, Patterson and Auld company and Edwards, Haldeman and company. So now you know to whom you should be at least thinking your thanks every time you dab powder on your nose.

Brigadier General Charles L. Scott, appointed to command the Second division of the United States Army's new mechanized corps, is the husband of Helen Patterson Scott, X-Minnesota.

Roy D. Hickman, new president of II K A, is the husband of Dorothy Dunkerly Hickman, P. B-Arizona.

Fashion Show ... with Red Flannels

By VIRGINIA McKNIGHT ERWIN (MRS. ROBERT O.), Γ B-New Mexico

AGAIN the Albuquerque alumnæ association, coöperating to the last girl on our annual fashion show, has made enough money to displace and do away with all the benefit bridges, rummage sales and other money-making schemes that usually drag along throughout the year. It's wonderful to have it all off in one large affair, and after the fashion show in September, to settle down to an enjoyable year of quarterly luncheons and monthly bridge games and teas just for the alumnæ.

Six or seven years ago, the active chapter originated an annual fashion show, given at a silver tea in the chapter house. The idea and the show outgrew the chapter house. Eventually it included the alumnæ and was given at the Albuquerque Country club. Tickets were 50 cents.

Then the price of admission went up, and in 1939 it became a luncheon and fashion show at the Hilton hotel, complete with commentator, ramp and chamber music. All this and $1.25, too. Twenty-five cent tickets were sold for a dress bought at cost from one of the merchants showing clothes; this swelled the total, and we cleared $150.

This fall, with the air of Esther Trotter, sister of Evelyn Harper, our alumnæ president, we again expanded and moved the scene of our show to the Alvarado hotel. We accommodated 500 guests, utilizing all possible floor space, and then some! Two ramps, two commentators, two orchestras, two shows going on simultaneously-in fact, we outdid ourselves! Everything went off smoothly, or reasonably so, and we cleared $250. We again made use of the dress sale, which really brings in a good many more quarters than you would imagine. An Austrian hair stylist did the coiffures; a beautician did the make-ups, and an expert manicurist provided the contrasting and blending newest shades of nail polish to finish off the grooming of the models. A florist sent attractive floral arrangements for the girls' evening coiffures.

There were 25 models, including alumnæ, a few actives and pledges, a Kappa mother-in-law and several tiny Kappa daughters of primary school age. Esther Trotter, director of the show, is a professional stylist from Boston, who showed her capability and ingenuity in the finished performance given.

Besides the usual "Back to School," "Afternoon," "Dinner," and "Evening" dress groups, we showed ski outfits, complete with Trudelle Downer's "peeling off" her jacket and ski pants and modeling a bright suit of red flannels. Also the popular Indian shades of warpaint red, cactus-apple red, and buckskin beige were shown by a San Ildefonso Indian girl in her native costume.

Then the climax was a wedding party with Patty MacPherson,  $\Gamma$  B, a Kappa professional model, who spent last winter in New York modeling for various firms and photographers, as the bride.

Of course, we plan to have our fashion show again next fall, and if it keeps growing and improving we may be wiring Billy Rose to come to New Mexico to stage the production.

Tribute to Marguerite Hill

By Dr. Mary L. Northway, В Ψ-Toronto, Psychology Department, University of Toronto

ARGUERITE HILL, who was president of Beta Psi last year, is now a research fellow in the department of psychology at the University of Toronto. She has brought double honors to the chapter. She was awarded the Reuben Leonard Wells open fellowship by the university, the first time it has been won by a psychology student, and she obtained a special Kappa fellowship, the first one to come to Beta Psi.

"Peggy's" proposed research is considered particularly important by psychologists here. She intends coördinating two separate lines of research which are both important.

A considerable amount of investigation on schizophrenic patients in our hospitals has already been done to discover what characteristics they showed as children. At the same time separate studies have observed characteristics of poorly-adjusted children at the school age level. Peggy proposes uniting these two lines of study to ascertain common traits of the poorly-adjusted child and the hospital patient.

Through this it may be possible to guide the child in such a way that these traits will be replaced by more adequate forms of adjustment, and children at the school age given opportunity and training necessary for good mental health.

Peggy was Beta Psi's delegate to the 1938 convention at The Homestead, Hot Springs, Virginia.

"Thank You"... Say "Before 1900s"

FROM SCORES of messages thanking the fraternity for its convention action in providing complimentary life subscriptions to all Kappas initiated before the turn of the century, here are typical sentences and paragraphs to introduce some of these KEY readers and to prove how love for Kappa lasts all down the years.

The Elegant Eighties

"I am a member of the first chapter that was organized at Ohio Wesleyan university. I have my beautiful pin, the key, with the chapter head pins attached. I will be very happy to receive and read my magazine as it comes to me."

ALICE McDaniel Alexander (Mrs. John), P 1881

- "I still endeavor to keep somewhat in touch with Kappa affairs. I was a charter member of Beta Beta at St. Lawrence in 1881 and for 40 years have been connected with Sigma alumnæ here at Nebraska university—my husband having been on the faculty here throughout this period and chancellor of the university from '27 to '38—now chancellor emeritus. So you see, I am naturally proud to still keep in touch with fraternity matters."

  Nellie Folsom Burnett (Mrs. E. A.)
- "Many thanks for the complimentary subscription to The Key. Gratefully and loyally," VIOA J. AUGIR, charter member and first on roll of K-Hillsdale, 1881
- "Such a thoughtful gift and am sure all will appreciate it. In October it will be 57 years that I have worn the key—my daughter, 30 years—my grand-daughter, three years. The latter was at Sun Valley this summer."

  MARY GARVIN McNish (Mrs. James H.), B B 1883
- "I feel much honored to be one of the 'before 1900' Kappas to be given a life subscription to our official magazine, The Key. While so many years have passed since then, some of my happiest memories are of the dear Kappa sisters and our meeting together.... Thanking Kappas,"

  IDA COFFEY SANDERS (Mrs. W. E.), I 1883
- "I was initiated into Omega chapter, Kansas State university, September 16, 1884. I was a subscriber to The Key for a number of years and I am sure I will enjoy the numbers coming to me in the future."

  MINNIE WAKEFIELD STEVENSON (Mrs. D. M.)
- "Your lovely letter came today. I am so thrilled at the thought of receiving The Key. It is so wonderful of you to send it to me. That is some compensation for being an old 'Gramma,' isn't it?

"I surely will prize it highly. It is so lovely of you to do this. I was initiated November 1884, and look back on the wonderful times we had then."

Edith Leighton Hall (Mrs. Samuel), F-Nebraska

- "I think it a lovely gift to Kappas at our age to receive The Key. This was my 50th anniversary at Syracuse this year. I have two sisters Kappas and one daughter and two sisters-in-law. So we are a loyal family of Kappas and I will look forward to receiving The Key."

  VIOLET TELFER CHRISTY (Mrs. George P.), B T
- "I will gladly accept the complimentary subscription which you offered me, and I do indeed feel most honored. So many years have rolled on since my school days that I know little or nothing of the Lambda chapter in which I was initiated in 1886."

  ROBERTA BELL VAUGHN (Mrs. J. W.)
- "I know I shall enjoy keeping in touch with this part of the modern world. Always I've thought of people who are given life memberships or other privileges, as being terribly old, which of course I am not. My initiation into the ranks of Kappa was in the autumn of 1887, so what is a matter of some 50-odd years among friends?"

  WINDNA ALICE HUGHES, B I-Wooster

"The Meaning of Fraternity"

I want to thank the convention and those responsible for this resolution, and believe that in the case of those who have been separated from other Kappas this will prove to be a great pleasure and tend to revive interest. To be a Kappa has been one of the great privileges of my own life."

CLARA MINER SPENCER (Mrs. Clement W.), F P-Allegheny

"It is a very generous gift, I'm sure. We should keep in touch with the fraternity's progress, for it meant a lot to us in the years gone by." ALICE B. SMITH, B T-Wooster

"I am very proud to have held membership in the Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity and any recognition from them is a source of great pleasure to me. I shall be looking for the first issue."

> LILLIAN E. DIMMITT, E-Illinois Wesleyan, Dean of Women, Morningside College, Sioux City, Iowa

- "My fraternity was the pleasant part of my college life. I consider all Kappas superwomen." SARAH ELLEN BREED, 4-Boston
- "It will be a real satisfaction to keep in closer touch with the organization. My key is still my dearest possession." Louise Taylor White (Mrs. James H.), T-Northwestern
- "I believe this action of the last biennial convention to keep old Kappas informed is a splendid idea. Through these past 40 years they have had cares and responsibilities and not able to keep in touch with Kappa; but many have not lost their appreciation of what Kappa may mean in the lives of its members. For many years I was a national finance secretary of the Y.W.C.A. and had the opportunity to visit Kappa chapters in all parts of the U.S.A., so know what it may mean to a professional woman traveling about all the while."

  ADA STARKWEATHER, Λ-Akron
- "I shall of course be very happy indeed to receive THE KEY and appreciate the honor done me.'

MARY KINGSBURY SIMKHOVITCH (Mrs. V. G.), Φ-Boston Greenwich House, New York, New York Editor of The Key, 1888-1890

- "How wonderfully nice for this last convention to vote to send THE KEY to us of the 'gay Nineties'! We have not forgotten the pleasant associations of the past, still through THE KEY those memories will be kept fresher. So many thanks for my anticipated enjoyment. Louise Harris Holland (Mrs. Robert Lee), O-Missouri
- "In our busy lives we do grow careless of our affiliations, especially if we are not connected with an alumnæ club, and THE KEY will do more than anything to revive our interest."

FAY SPROATT MURRAY (Mrs. Arthur L.), Δ-Indiana

"It is a very pleasant piece of news indeed to hear that we older members are to receive THE KEY as a gift from our long-beloved fraternity.

"I have followed the course of my own chapter, Theta, with much interest and satisfaction through the years; and of course, far off, I have followed the general policy of the fraternity at large. It will be good indeed to have this closer knowledge that will come through the years with THE KEY.

"One of the most loyal and interested members in our town was one of the five founders of Theta chapter back in 1875. Her grand-daughter was a member of Theta also—and thus the good work goes on."

JESSIE A. BLAIR

"Your letter, announcing that you are giving life subscriptions to the old graduates has brought me new evidence of Kappa's loyalty to old friends. . . . Once a Kappa, always a Kappa' is a fine sentiment and I am proud of it. KATHARINE BRADLEY Ross, B Δ-Michigan

"Silver Threads Among the Gold"

"I am delighted to hear that THE KEY is to come to me, in complimentary guise. In these days of youth movements of all sorts, it is SOMETHING to be given recognition on the sole basis of AGE. Did Sun Valley, perhaps, disclose beauty in snow-topped domes? Many thanks."

GEORGIANA CARDEN, II-California

"I shall be very happy indeed to have THE KEY, as having been initiated before 1900. Though I am not young, I am such a very well person that I fear it will not be a paying investment for the fraternity. I wish I could do enough for the fraternity to make my membership of more value."

LUCY WILLCOX WALLACE (Mrs. Joseph D.), charter member of B A-Illinois

"As an alumna of 'way back when,' I am not different from hundreds of others in feeling deep appreciation of the convention's voting a Key subscription for life for us oldsters. "I am sure this action will prove a boomerang to the fraternity-a pleasant and profitable one-in renewing zeal in Kappas who have long been out of touch-as well as stimulating the interest of those who have kept informed.

"It is unthinkable that anyone will notify you that she does not care to receive THE KEY," Susie Kelly Fay (Mrs. A. F.), I-DePauw

"I shall look forward to reading it from cover to cover, as I always do when I see a copy, and consider it one of the compensations of being a pre-1900 initiate.

"As my Beta Iota chapter (for which I, as an active, used to write the 'letter to THE KEY') no longer exists at Swarthmore college, it is not so easy to keep in touch with Kappa affairs, and so—I am already anticipating the regular arrival of The Key."

HALLIE HAINES HODGE (Mrs. Charles G.)

"Oh, yes, I have moved— More than once, through the years; And yes, I have married— Raised children, my dears. And I'd felt pretty spry, Till I learned that THE KEY
Would be sent me for life—
As a compliment—FREE!

Of course—I shall love it.

But it brings home the truth
That 'before 1900'
Just doesn't spell 'youth.'"

ELLEN JANNEY BROWN (Mrs. Thomas L.), X-Minnesota

Since Receiving the October 1940 Key

"... I am writing to express gratitude for the kindly thought and pride in the publication. Having been a newspaper woman myself, perhaps I have an appreciation of its makeup which may not be possible to all its readers. The warm glow of kinship which comes to one who glances over the columns of THE KEY makes one realize how close is the tie that binds all Kappa hearts in love."

CLEMENTINE ROLAND KENNICOTT (Mrs. R. E.) T-Northwestern

"I wish to thank the Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity for making it possible for me to receive THE KEY, which came to me today. I have found so much of interest in it and I know I shall enjoy it to the fullest extent.

"There are seven Kappas in our family. I started the ball rolling, then my two daughters, three nieces and a cousin followed me into the fraternity. . . . Again expressing my thanks and appreciation to the fraternity for their lovely and enduring gift, I remain. . . ."

HETTIE ADAMS PRITCHARD (Mrs. Caleb A.), I-DePauw

"When I received in the midsummer the letter from your office informing me that my name was being placed on your mailing list for THE KEY, along with other veteran Kappas, I put it aside for later acknowledgment, thinking that I could express less mechanical thanks after I received my first copy. It came yesterday. . . . "I have looked through the magazine with the greatest interest. My reaction to some of the sketches is nostalgic. Lucy Evelyn Wight and Emily Hudson Bright were both national officers when Beta Delta chapter was installed. It was never my pleasure to meet either of them, but I can never forget how helpful they were in showing us the way."

MILDRED HINSDALE, charter member B &-Michigan

Design ... For a Living

By HAZEL PRUTSMAN SCHWERING, B Ω-Oregon, Vocational Chairman

TERY SOON the many Kappas across the United States will be forgetting courses of study and careers and will be home for the holidays. This season of gayety and gift-giving is also a time for festive decoration. Store windows beckon us; homes brightly lighted are on display. The gifts may well be a new table, new lamps or other articles to make the home more attractive. The decorations and the many magazines devoted to the "house beautiful" make many of us conscious of our surroundings.

Most women who thumb through the pages of these magazines have had a secret longing to "do" rooms, houses, clubs, hotels and even sorority houses.

But how does one become a professional designer?

To learn the answer, I interviewed Brownell Frasier, B  $\Omega$ -Oregon, associate professor of design at the University of Oregon. Miss Frasier has studied in Boston, where she did professional work. She also studied sculpture with Archipenko and painting with Maurice Sterne. Her years of practical experience in the business world and the teaching field make her well qualified to give advise for those interested in this field.

She recently had the honor of planning the furnishings for the "browsing" room of the University of Oregon library. The room is a masterpiece of simplicity with bleached Oregon wood, Chinese rugs, simply-designed hangings, and wood carvings over the tiled fire places. The richness of color, the well-designed furniture and the well-chosen fabrics make a room which is harmonious and beautiful, resulting in an impression of dignified splendor.

One can well imagine such a room took a great amount of time, thought and ability. In such work Miss Frasier made use of her whole college education. She used her knowledge of chemistry in getting the proper bleach for a certain color of wood she wanted. She also made good use of her mathematics and structural design background in architecture. She used her thorough knowledge of rugs, fabrics, tile and wood carving. History, too, played a part in accurately reproducing the Chinese periods.

So if you want to be an interior designer, listen to the advice of Miss Frasier. She says that the old story of interior designers was that of the rich society women who had some flair for color, and good taste. They set the style by making selections of fabrics, curtains and furniture for a particular period. However, they knew little about structural design. In reality, they were

"assemblers" of materials.

Today the trend is toward a sound training in various fields: several years study of architecture, a wide cultural background with professional work in architecture and allied arts. She points out that Elsie De Wolfe was probably the first woman designer of note, but even before she became famous, the Adams brothers in the 18th century were the fore-runners of the modern decorator. They were the first to design their building, to plan the furniture, rugs, wood-carving and all accessories to fit into the structural design.

Designers also need to know their history. Certainly social and economic life influenced the periods of Louis XV and Louis XVI. It is often very important to know something about the women the various leaders of a country married. These wives has ideas of decoration, and intermarriages often account for the Spanish, French, German and English influences which have come to us. The history of the various periods, then, is very necessary to the designer.

It is also well to know languages and to possess a thorough knowledge of English literature. As pointed out elsewhere, chemistry and mathematics are of invaluable help to the professional designer. If at all possible, it is wise to have mechanical drawing and manual training. Shorthand and typing are additional aids, particularly if one needs to make money while getting experience in a designer's office. Thus equipped, one becomes familiar with the technical business terms.

Seldom do college people step forth as full-fledged designers without some experience. One may get that experience by (1) working in the various departments of large stores (jewelry, glass, china, textile, rug, furniture), (2) assisting in an architect's office (a few architects have their own designer), (3) helping in a museum, or (4) working in an art gallery.

For women who do not want a career in law, medicine or related professions, interior design is a good field. It is open to people with a natural flair for design and good, native ability. The salary is comparable to the secretary's and teacher's, and is better in some localities than these professions.

So here's to the professional designer who works out "a design for living."

HAZEL PRUTSMAN SCHWERING

Kappa's new vocational guidance chairman, Hazel Prutsman Schwering (Mrs. C. L.), B  $\Omega$ -Oregon, was born in the village of Earl Park, Indiana, near George Ade's famous farm at Brook. She was named Hazel Marie by a French grandmother, whose name was Moté. Her father's name, Prutsman, was Pennsylvania Dutch.

After her grade and high school education in Milford, Illinois, she had two years at the MacMurray College for Women in Jacksonville, Illinois, transferring to the University of Chicago, where she took her Ph.B. Her advanced work was at Harvard, Minnesota and Columbia summer schools, with an M.A. in education from the University of Oregon. After teaching in schools at Milford, Ironwood, Michigan, and Minneapolis, she went to Oregon in 1927 as assistant dean of women. She was also active in a secretarial capacity for the Social Science Research council, for which she helped manage a meeting at Hanover in the summer of 1927.

In June, 1929, she was married to Dr. Charles Leslie Schwering, B θ II, Oregon. In 1930 Mrs. Schwering became head of the dean's office at the University of Oregon.

Mrs. Schwering is a member of the National Deans association, past president of the western section; the League of Women Voters; Oregon Federation of Women's clubs, A.A.U.W., Mortar Board, II A \theta and Pro America.

Gold Medal ... Awarded Kappa Chemist

HEN THE American Chemical Society had its 100th meeting in Detroit last September, the Francis P. Garvan gold medal, awarded "to honor an American woman for distinguished service in chemistry," was presented to Dr. Mary E. Pennington, B A-Pennsylvania, of New York.

Dr. Pennington, who pioneered in the refrigeration and preservation of fresh foods, thinks the time will come when a homemaker can prepare an entire dinner from frozen foods assembled in one package. Clipper air services are already using such packaged dinners.

"We are just beginning to realize that spinach picked yesterday nearby and hauled into the city to sit on the sidewalks and in markets is practically stripped of vitamin C in a few hours, while that which comes in from California or the Rio Grande in refrigerator cars to be kept in coolers almost matches the growing plant in vitamin C content," Dr. Pennington was quoted in a newspaper interview.

Before and during the World war Dr. Pennington was chief of the Food Research laboratory, a part of the Bureau of Chemistry of the United States Department of Agriculture. The laboratory coöperated with the Hoover food administration in minimizing waste from spoilage by conserving and distributing perishables.

The war years helped to promote food refrigeration. Staples were sent abroad and fresh vegetables were eaten in this country. The public began to lose its doubts about "cold storage" food. The research laboratory worked out the essential features of refrigerator car construction, in use to this day.

Dr. Pennington now has her own office, from which she works as consultant in the handling of perishables and investigator of difficulties in their distribution. She has planned and supervised fruit packing and storage houses in Oregon and worked out a way to salvage eggs from a burned cold storage warehouse in New York city, with a variety of other "trouble-shooting" tasks in addition.

Opportunity still exists for properly trained persons in this field, she believes.

"To direct the handling of perishable foods, a knowledge of chemistry, bacteriology, general biology and thermodynamics, together with common sense, is required," she was quoted as saying. "Thermodynamics is included because refrigeration involves the taking out of heat, and insulation to keep it out.

Dr. Mary E. Pennington B A-Pennsylvania

"Chemistry and fungology are most important; but one must also be acquainted with botany, zoology and physiology of plants and animals. Graduate courses are necessary. No one program of study has been organized which meets all needs, although the work in food technology at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology is the nearest to it."

When the Towne Scientific school of the University of Pennsylvania was not officially open to women, she was permitted to enter. She became research fellow in chemical botany at the University of Pennsylvania and later university fellow at Yale, working in physiological chemistry. Once more in Philadelphia, she established a laboratory to aid physicians, and was invited to reorganize the city's bacteriological laboratory. Care of perishable foods during marketing was one of the problems encountered, and presently Dr. Pennington devoted more and more time to studies in this field, until she became head of the government laboratory.

Springfield Honored Past Grand Officers

By a Kappa coincidence the Spring-field, Illinois, alumnæ association includes in its membership two past grand treasurers of the fraternity: Kittie Parsons Hanna (Mrs. J. C.), charter member of Beta Gamma-Wooster, grand treasurer from 1882 to 1884, the fraternity's second grand treasurer, serving during the late Tade Hartsuff Kuhns' second term as grand president; and Virginia Sinclair Catron (Mrs. B. L.), E-Illinois Wesleyan, grand treasurer from 1902 to 1904, during May C. Whiting Westermann's first term as grand president.

These two past grand officers were honor guests at the Springfield alumnæ association Founders' day banquet, October 8, at the Illini country club, with 16 Kappas present. The table was decorated with light and dark blue candles.

The birthday cake, ablaze with candles for Kappa's 70th anniversary, was cut by Mrs. Hanna as first president of the Springfield alumnæ association.

Jean Bryant Johnson (Mrs. Stewart), association president, called for speeches from Kappas who had held office in the general fraternity. Messages were given from five of the 16 present.

THE KEY is indebted for this feature

ELIZABETH VORIS LAWRY Λ-Akron, a. B H-Stanford

the last half of her college career at Stanford university.

While still an undergraduate, she performed her first official Kappa work as deputy to Elmie Warner Mallory, then grand president. The year following her graduation she was appointed editor of The Key when Adele Lathrop was forced to resign because of ill health.

Her next office was that of grand treasurer for one term, and then for many years she retired from active Kappa life while raising a family of four boys and spending what time and energy she could spare outside of her home on organizations more or less directly concerned with child welfare.

At the convention at Mills college, she once more made a brief appearance on the Kappa horizon as assistant editor of The Hoot, only to retire again from national activity until the recent Sun Valley convention, when as guest columnist of The Hoot she contributed her daily "I Can Remember When."

In the interim between the Mills college and Sun Valley conventions, she served as a unit president, a council president and a district chairman of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers; was president for two terms

KAPPA'S BEQUEST PROGRAM, of which Mrs. Lawry, former council member, is the new chairman, was inaugurated at the 1936 convention. It offers to all Kappas a practical way of perpetuating their interest in training tomorrow's leaders by increasing the scope of the fraternity's fine services in the educational field: undergraduate scholarship grants to girls in need of financial assistance, fellowship awards to help Kappas and non-Kappas begin their graduate work, and loans to women students on campuses where Kappa has chapters. It also directs attention to the fraternity's social service through Rose McGill fund gifts to members of all ages in temporary emergencies and through the Hearthstone fund's plan to provide a home for Kappas retired on limited incomes, as Boyd Hearthstone at Winter Park has already made possible.

No other organization is better equipped to be of service to college women, in or out of school. That is why "Kappa Can Grow Greater—If You Will."

Honoring Mrs. Wendell L. Willkie, K A Θ, as a Greek-letter woman, 300 fraternity women from the metropolitan New York area greeted Mrs. Willkie at a luncheon at Beekman Tower hotel, October 26. From left to right at the speakers' table were Margaret Fishback, Γ Φ B, poet and advertising woman, who presented a corsage of pansies, the Theta flower, to the honor guest; Mrs. Willkie; Mrs. LeRoy E. Kimball, K A Θ, who presided at the luncheon; Dr. Mary Crawford, Ψ-Cornell, medical director of the Federal Reserve bank, New York city, luncheon speaker, and Miss Marguerite D. Winant, past president of Δ Γ. Kappa's "Dr. Mollie" discussed the achievements of fraternity women and the place of the fraternity in the life of its alumnæ. Musical selections were given by Miss Roxine Beard, Z T A. Kappa members of the committee sponsoring the luncheon were Dr. Crawford, Emily Eaton Hebburn (Mrs. A Barton). ### Quintuple Jies to Kappa

During a "Religion and Life" conference on the Illinois Wesleyan campus at Bloomington last winter, Dr. Worth Marion Tippy, of Forest Hills, New York, attended as secretary emeritus of the commission on the church and social service of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ of America.

Aware that Dr. Tippy was a Kappa husband, the girls of Epsilon chapter invited him to be their guest at dinner.

They found out that he is not only a Kappa husband, but a Kappa brother, brotherin-law, father and grandfather, which approaches a record in Kappa relativity.

Dr. Tippy's Kappa wife is Zella Birda Ward Tippy, I-DePauw. His sister-in-law is Fleta Ward Weatherford (Mrs. Clyde), I, of Dayton, Washington. A second sister-in-law was the late Lulu Belle Ward Spencer (Mrs. E. B. T.), I, who taught Greek at Grinnell college, Grinnell, Iowa, after her graduation from DePauw in 1890. The guest suite at the Iota chapter house was given by Mrs. Tippy in memory of Mrs. Spencer.

Dr. Tippy's sister is Jessie Tippy Sharp (Mrs. Jay D.), B \( \)-Michigan, of Cleveland. To speak of Dr. and Mrs. Tippy's daughter, Marian Ward Tippy Walker (Mrs. Ray M.), I, of Laurel, Mississippi, is to branch out on another limb of this Kappa family tree, for her mother-in-law is Minnie Royse Walker (Mrs. Guy M.), I, of Scarsdale, New York.

A noted churchman, Dr. Tippy has had pastorates at Indiana and Cornell universities, Lake Erie and Mt. Holyoke colleges. He has lectured extensively and is the author of several books, including The Socialized Church, The Church a Community Force, The Methodist Church and Its Work (with P. B. Kern) and The Church in the Great War. He is a member of the National Conference of Social Work, the International Conference of Social Work, the American Academy of Political and Social Sciences, American Association of Social Workers, American Prison association,  $\Delta$  K E and the Cosmos club, Washington, D.C.

Cashing In

Maybe it was intended to be flattering. But we don't care to see Kappa Kappa Gamma's initials advertised as a monogram for bare knee socks.

"The Caduceus of Kappa Sigma," September 1940, "How It Began," the story of the origin of a Kappa Sigma song, "Come Gather All Ye Merry Men," rated the fraternity's most popular. The words were written by Edward Roy Meredith, of the Swarthmore chapter: "During 1906 he (Meredith) was superintendent of maintenance for the Reading Railroad and, between repairing washouts and clearing wrecks, he conceived the idea of writing the words for a new song for Pi Chapter. This was to be one of his many ways to show his appreciation of the fraternity. A friend and brother, Jay Baldridge, told Ted he thought he could find the right person to write the music and later introduced him to Miss Mildred H. Bentley, a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma then attending Swarthmore. Miss Bentley now is Mrs. K. M. Wilson, wife of the professor of gynecology and obstetrics at the University of Rochester; she is a graduate of the School of Nursing of Johns Hopkins University and the mother of three sons.

"After many tries 'mostly with two fingers,' as Mrs. Wilson afterwards expressed it, they finally hit upon a combination of notes that seemed 'passable.' Thus the song was born."

"Alpha Gamma Delta Quarterly," November, 1940, from a sketch of Dean Hazel P. Schwering, of the University of Oregon, in a series on deans of women. In addition to much of the information about Kappa's vocational guidance chairman, the sketch concludes: "Mrs. Schwering's main hobby is a collection of miniatures. They include figurines in wood, pewter, glass, and china, and are so tiny that she dusts them with a brush salvaged from a bottle of fingernail enamel. Until her duties became so extensive, either golf or horseback riding was an important part of each holiday's program. Her secretary informs us that Dean Schwering 'doodles' while telephoning-which cer-tainly makes her one of us-for don't we all?"

Army and Navy Association-Chartered 1939

This will be a merry Christmas indeed for the Kappas whose husbands were promoted, and the others, whose promotions are three years nearer because of the new law. Here's hoping they'll always be peacetime soldiers and sailors!

Katherine Johnson Fulton (Mrs. Alan L.), F E-Pittsburgh, Army, Ft. Clark, Texas, writes, "My husband was sworn in as a major. I was greatly thrilled to be able to pin the gold leaves on his shoulders. We had not expected that he would get the promotion for several years to come.'

Thoughtful Kappas are still sending congratulations on the organization of an Army-Navy alumnæ association. Jessie May Kite Hackett (Mrs. Charles J.), r N-Arkansas, Army, Ft. McKinley, Maine, exclaims," It is indeed a pleasure to become active again in something connected with my old love, Kappa Kappa Gamma and my new love, the Army!" And Gladys Grove Adams (Mrs. Raymond V.), Γ A-Kansas State, Navy, Manhattan, Kansas, sends this welcoming message, "The alumnæ association here is always glad to meet Army Kappas at Riley, or on R.O.T.C., and the chapter is glad to have Army girls as actives.

We have been asked to find some Kappas near Chattanooga, Tennessee, and Corpus Christi, Texas. Any volunteers?

We went to Aberdeen with the cadets in May, and called up a name from the files, Helen Gawthrop Niles (Mrs. Wallace E.), B I-Swarthmore, with whom we had a delightful day antiquing. In the afternoon we went to see Lois Arnold Snowden (Mrs. Ernest), I Z-Arizona, Navy, who had taken a cottage on the beach nearby. At Monmouth Beach, during August, two mermaids turned out to be Katherine and Gardena Matejka, Γ K-William and Mary, Army daughters. Gardena has an interesting position in the library of the Metropolitan museum in New York.

Barbara Blood Broshous (Mrs. C. R.), B M-Colorado, Army, West Point, waited until October 7, 1940, to have her son so that he could be born on the day of the Panhellenic meeting. The Panhellenic club was so impressed that the hostesses sent the centerpiece of autumn flowers to mother and child.

Captain and Mrs. Charles R. Urban (Betsy Hope), Γ K-William and Mary, Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, have a son, to celebrate their eighth anniversary with them. (Note: The Editor of The Key has given us permission to print vital statistics in our letter, so send us lots of pink and blue announcements.)

On our roll of honor this year are Jose-phine Kepler Holzapfel (Mrs. W. J.), O-Missouri, Army, Kelly Field, Texas, treasurer of the San Antonio alumnæ association, Priscilla Austin Kirkpatrick (Mrs. Frank), B X-Kentucky, Army, Champaign, Illinois, finance advisor to B I, and Mary Jim Lane Chickering (Mrs. E. S.), I N-Arkansas, Army, Kelly Field, Texas, chairman of pledge training. Mary Jim was also chairman of chapter exhibits at Sun Valley.

Freshman week started September 12. Three Kappas were on the orientation committee for the freshmen.

The freshman reception October 4 started the dances on our campus for the year. This dance was a big success.

It is a custom at St. Lawrence for each sorority to serenade the fraternities after their pledging. October 13 the fraternities' rushing was over, and we serenaded the new pledges that afternoon.

St. Lawrence university is entering the college year under a new regime with Millard H. Jencks, St. Lawrence '05, as acting president. St. Lawrence alumnæ association of Kappa Kappa Gamma therefore expects the pleasure of welcoming into membership Ruth Kimball Jencks (Mrs. Millard H.). Two other prospective members are Emily Long Fisher (Mrs. James M.), whose home since marriage is a beautiful country place in the nearby town of Madrid, and Carolyn Robbins Sisson (Mrs. Francis TenEyck, Jr.), who since her marriage has come to live in Potsdam, only a few miles away.

It is hoped that Nettie Spears Jameson (Mrs. Max A.), Adeline Drake Hutchins (Mrs. Herbert B.) and Esther Radcliffe Raw-

The association celebrated Founders' day by a meeting at the home of Katherine Spears Church (Mrs. Katherine S.). Barbara Wakefield, who was a delegate at Sun Valley, gave a report of the convention.

Two weeks of intense rushing replaced the more prolonged rush-periods of former years at Cornell this fall. Chapter open houses were from three to six in the afternoon the first two days of school for all women interested in joining a sorority.

First period rushing began September 26 with dancing and the singing of Kappa and college songs as our only forms of entertainment.

For second period, the Kappas gave a Gay '90's party, the highlight of which was a melodrama, "The Fatal Necklace," starring Betty McCabe, Loris Jeffries, Harriette Jones, Mary Foster and Beth Erb. Also on the program was Psi's barber shop quartette: Betty Beach, Midge Millison, Jean Frasier and Betty Chase.

For the third period, "Kappa Casino" opened with Betty McCabe as our mistress of ceremonies and Dorothy Davis as hostess. Entertainment included a scarf dance by Madge Palmer, Betty McCabe's version of Dorothy Parker's "The Waltz," and "Information Please" in which each of the rushees was questioned over our public address system.

Formal pledging occurred October 7, with Psi claiming 15 pledges.

Elizabeth McCabe was elected junior representative on the board of managers of Mary Elizabeth Beach and Winogene Wilber have been elected vice-presidents of Comstock hall, our new dormitory for women, and have become ipso facto members of the Women's Self-Government association.

Barbara Styles and Elizabeth Chase have been appointed to the student council of the home economics college.

Four of our new pledges have been selected for membership in the Women's Glee club. They are Phyllis Chamberlain, Ruth Cosline, Barbara Potters and Jean Quick. Marian Elizabeth Keller has been awarded the fraternity badge for receiving the highest scholastic average for the pledge class of

This association began the year with supper at the Kappa house after the pledge service at 5 o'clock. This gave the alumnæ an opportunity to meet the pledges and greet the actives after the summer vacation. At the meeting later in the evening, a pledge was assigned to each alumna as her protégé for the four years of college, to receive small special attentions. This plan helps the older women to feel at home at the Kappa house, because each one knows a few of the girls well, and serves to keep them informed of activities of the chapter.

Elizabeth Gass, active delegate to the general convention, gave an enthusiastic report of the week at Sun Valley.

Plans for the year's program were discussed. A rummage sale will be conducted November 7 and 8 to raise money for our philanthropies; and a tea during the first week of December will be given for pledges, actives, alumnæ and town mothers.

Beta Psi—Chartered 1911 University of Toronto, Toronto, Canada

We have started the year off with a bang: a new chapter house! To introduce it to our friends and relatives we are planning an open house.

Our entire chapter is feverishly engaged in war work, collecting old coat-hangers, silver paper, even old toothpaste tubes. Moreover, we are organized as a Red Cross group, knitting helmets and mitts for the airforce.

There is compulsory military training for the boys almost every afternoon this year, and as a result there are to be no rugby games: but as part of the fall season the Kappas are having a subscription dance at the Royal York hotel in aid of the Red Cross.

Toronto—Chartered 1926

Red Cross work is the order of the day for the Toronto alumnæ association, and at our meetings anyone who is not busy with socks or heavy mufflers must knit washcloths! To refill our sadly depleted wool fund, we gave a large bridge September 28, at the home of Dorothy Bryce Johnston (Mrs. Kenneth), at which $140 was raised.

We are pleased to be able to have all our regular meetings this year at the new active chapter house. The first one was October 8 when, after Beta Psi's new home had been sufficiently admired, Joan Stephens gave us a most inspiring report of Kappa convention. At this meeting we elected a new president, Margaret Dunham Vanderploeg (Mrs. J. S.), to take the place of Elizabeth Anderson Rutherford, who is going east to join her husband, Major William Rutherford, of the Third Canadian division.

Our Christmas activities are not being overlooked in the urgency of war work. Marguerite Davis (Mrs. Alfred) has us busy already with the toys and outfits which we plan to provide for at least 25 needy children.

We are proud of the magnificent work being done by Agnes Neill, who went overseas as matron of the nurses attached to the 15th General Hospital unit. Agnes is now in England, where she is the matron of one of the Canadian hospitals.

Elizabeth Rutherford (Mrs. William) has been working all summer at the Connaught laboratories in the University of Toronto, where she has been helping to prepare the Red Cross blood bank by the new frozen blood method.

Roberta Reade Scudamore (Mrs. Hubert), with her small son, Robert Allan, returned from England this summer to remain in Toronto for the duration of the war.

RUTH N. STEWART

Connecticut—Chartered 1934

The time, the place and the girls provided the highlights at our autumn gathering October 14. A turkey dinner and birthday cake reminded us that Kappa had reached the advanced age of three score and ten, though nothing senile was evident in any of the 20 gathered about the festive board, one of whom, Ruth Seed, Z, we welcomed for the first time. She has recently become a member of the secretarial staff of the Hartford Young Women's Christian association.

Olive Dailey Pierson (Mrs. Wallace R.),  $\Delta$ , provided the place in her newly-finished and furnished barn studio, with appointments ample for a much larger group.

The girls who had attended Sun Valley convention, Janet K. Beroth, I, our delegate, and Hazel Hall Kassor (Mrs. Otto E.), B T, vice-president of Alpha province, lent pleasure and profit to the evening by their vivid and enthusiastic reports. Janet brought much to us of facts and figures, of changes and for-ward look; but I think we were most im-pressed by her portrayal of the very high character and womanly dignity of the entire convention group. They both felt that the greatest values of convention were intangible and must be experienced.

Rushing began October 20, and we had a hunt breakfast, a Chinese and a school room luncheon, a casino night.

We are all much involved in the war effort, because besides knitting and sewing for the Red Cross, we are putting in four extra hours per week: two hours for first aid and home nursing, and two hours for keeping physically fit. This has been inau-gurated by the university and is compulsory for all the students. In addition Kappas are busy taking motor mechanics courses and helping serve wherever they can.

We are hoping again to get our ski house at St. Adele in the Laurentians which proved so popular last year. At the moment we are awaiting a reply from our landlord.

Personals

Phoebe Fitz and Fay Thomson spent the summer out west helping the missionaries at the Peace river. Coming home they visited all the Kappas along the way. Susan O'Reilly and Katharine Aitkins did voluntary work at girls' camps.

The first meeting of the season was at the house of Joan Patch, the president, September 27. Plans for the alumnæ rushing party occupied our attention. It was a casino party with floor show, or skits, to be more precise if less aspiring. Our old stand-by "Julius Caesar," who helped to rush so many Deltas Deltas, was routed from his grave again and members revived their old rushing enthusiasm in frantically trying to remember their lines for October 22, the date of our rushing party.

Beta Alpha is fortunate in having Carolina Morrison,  $\Delta$  Z chapter, staying at the house this year. She is taking graduate work at the university of Pennsylvania.

Dorothy Kunzig, M, has transferred from Butler university to the University of Pennsylvania.

Dorcas Dunklee, of Delta Zeta chapter, has transferred to Bryn Mawr college, and we are glad to welcome her frequent visits to Beta Alpha.

Philadelphia—Established 1900

The Philadelphia alumnæ association program for the season of 1940-41 promises events that are going to be too good to miss.

The first so far, was the Founders' day dinner October 11. The guest speakers were Mrs. Richard Shryock, past grand president, and Mrs. Bernard Goodwin, television announcer, N.B.C. studios. Mrs. Shryock spoke about Kappa philanthropies and Mrs. Goodwin told us many of her interesting experiences with television.

In December we will have our Christmas supper party at the Kappa house.

February brings forth again our successful annual bridge, tea and fashion show at the Barclay, for a Kappa charity.

Again this is a convention year-Beta province convention at Philadelphia, April 25 and 26, 1941, with Beta Alpha chapter and Philadelphia alumnæ association as hostesses.

Our annual picnic supper will be in May at a place to be announced later. Installation of new alumnæ officers will take place at this Neighborhood meetings are planned in between these larger affairs, and our first one was in October at the home of Frances Seil, our president. After a corn roast and hamburger supper, we were entertained with movies of Sun Valley and Jasper national park.

Personals

Sue Dorothy Keeney spent 17 days in Florida, but was much disappointed to find the Hearthstone closed.

Miriam McGee and "Pum" McCarthy went to convention, then to Portland, Jasper park, Banff, Lake Louise and Winnipeg. Kappas in Portland and Winnipeg entertained royally. Janet Janieson spent six weeks in Nova Betty Folwell went to Nova Scotia by boat and came home by car.

October 15 we had our annual formal rush party at the home of Mrs. James McNary in Plandome, Long Island. The theme of the party was "Alice in Kappaland." Several chapter members were dressed as characters from Alice in Wonderland, and the motif was further carried out in decorations and refreshments.

Three new members were initiated September 30 and October 1. The initiates are Jean Braun, Peggy Lowe and Eleanor Roeder. Fireside was at the home of Betty Ann White, Garden City.

Personals

Virginia Wood has been elected senior member of executive board of student government. Virginia is also president of Lantern senior honor society, and has been chosen chairman of senior week. Elinor Wagner has been elected chairman of honor board, and is also a member of Betty Ann White is treasurer of the senior class and president of the chemistry club. She is an active member of the school orchestra.

freshman honors.

Kappas on the dean's list were Elinor Wagner, Betty Ann White and Elsie O'Reilly.

New York-Established 1896

At this time of year we automatically pick up an added amount of pep and vigor and really want to start doing things in a big way. The round of activity began with our Founders' day dinner, when our president and convention delegate, Mrs. Frederick Liebolt, related her story of Sun Valley and convention. We who consider ourselves among the less fortunate for not having been present on this pleasant journey were rewarded by moving pictures and short talks by our national and province officers. As an added attraction, we had the pleasure of hearing Marion Selee,  $\Phi$ , sing a few songs.

Our November meeting was a benefit bridge.

In December we are inviting all Panhellenic sororities, as well as our male and female friends, to join us while we listen to an outstanding speaker talk on the world situation with special reference to the United

January offers a real Kappa evening devoted to the fraternity and news of the coming Beta province convention.

February holds much in store for all of us, our New Jersey, Westchester and Long Island associations as well, because we shall take a trip to Dorothy Gray's salon and learn how we may make ourselves more attractive than ever, and drink one of her famous health cocktails.

In view of the present crisis abroad, we plan to do our bit in our free moments throughout the year helping the Red Cross.

Westchester-Chartered 1934

At the first meeting of the year, October 18, Mrs. Paul West, delegate to the convention, reviewed in detailed description the activities at Sun Valley. This was followed by color motion pictures of the western session.

We are trying to raise money for the Hearthstone and Kappa philanthropies by taking our old bundles to the thrift shop in White Plains. By January 1 we hope to have a presentable sum,

Because our group in Westchester is a large and scattered one, we are divided into sections. Four times a year there is a big meeting of the entire group. In between, each section has its own meeting at a dessert bridge or small get-together of that kind.

ROSELLA G. IRELAND

Essex—Chartered 1929

In contrast to alumnæ associations primarily associated with active chapters, Essex continues to have its interesting cosmopolitan atmosphere. Our members now represent about 30 chapters, and live in half a dozen neighboring towns.

We are taking care of our Kappa phi-lanthropies in this year of appeals for war sufferers by taxing ourselves a quarter at each meeting. We are guests at these luncheons, except the one at which, with four others, we share work, expense and rivalry with other committees.

Our programs are talks or discussions on subjects of general interest.

We sadly miss witty Ruth Kimball Jencks, B B, who is now first lady of St. Lawrence university, while her husband, Millard H. Jencks, A T  $\Omega$ , is acting president.

Our officers, elected in May, are: president, Marcia Perry Ruddick (Mrs. Gerard Bliss), Mrs. Gerard Bliss), B I; vice-president, Doris Brown Swann (Mrs. Cecil G. H.), Γ Ξ; treasurer, Kathryn Darrow Eldon (Mrs. David), Γ Ω; and recording secretary, Elizabeth Main Speers (Mrs. James R.), B A.

Personals

New members are Frances Miller Cushing (Mrs. Samuel),  $\Phi$ , of Montclair; Edith Colvin Dalton (Mrs. Glen D.), P, of Mont-clair; Marion Fowles Gemmill (Mrs. Huber), B A, of Short Hills; Suzanne Sommers, Δ B, of Maplewood; and Carolyn Sterrett Hartke (Mrs. George W., Jr.), of Montclair.

Virginia Connors Seery (Mrs. William),

 $\Gamma \Delta$ , stopped in for a few minutes to show us her adopted daughter, Genevieve Grace, called Gay, four months old,—a lovely baby. The Seerys have moved to Darien, Connecticut.

Our vice-president, Doris Brown Swann, with her three-year-old son, and her sister, Donaldine Brown Davidson, with her two little boys, are both here as war exiles from England. Mrs. Davidson arrived July 15 and her baby arrived on July 29. They are staying with their mother in Short Hills. Mr. Swann is a reserve officer in London and Mr. Davidson is in the north of England. ELSIE KRAEMER HOLMES

Essex Business Group

For the first meeting of the season, October 17, Ida Allis, of Bloomfield, opened her home. Heretofore, the hostess of the evening has taken entire charge, but in the future joint hostesses will be appointed so that each girl may have a turn in participating more actively in entertaining the group at least once each season.

The members unanimously decided to work for and contribute to British war relief. Some interesting programs have been planned for the year, including a talk by a Montclair City engineer, talks by an interior decorator and a stylist, the former a member of our group; the annual theater party, a travel lecture, a joint meeting with the afternoon group and the final supper party in June. Following the meeting the members had an opportunity to share accounts of summer experiences. Marion Wolcott was enthusiastic about her motor trip to the southwest which included sightseeing at Bryce and Zion parks, the Grand Canyon, Carlsbad caverns and the ascent of Pike's Peak. Judy Morton took the much-publicized Captain Swift's cruise along the Maine coast in a windjammer. She learned what it is to hoist a sail, help in the galley and then to anchor in a different harbor each night and go into a nearby town for an evening of fun ashore. Elizabeth MacBain had a leave of absence last year from her teaching activities and traveled in Mexico and Guatemala and this year Alice Guest, who is in the same profession, is taking six months off to study at the University of California at Berkeley. Natalie McElroy flew for the first time and went home to Minneapolis for a visit. Helen Carrigan "antiqued" through Maine while her sister, Catherine, spent her entire vacation in Middlebury, Vermont, and while there, attended an interesting meeting at Marge Wright Upson's home at Bread Loaf and heard Mrs. McNaboe give a detailed and enjoyable account of the convention at Sun Valley.

Ruth Evans had all plans made for a church wedding in her home town, Kingston, Pennsylvania, but four days before it was to take place was rushed to the hospital for an appendectomy. Not to be thwarted, on the appointed day, she gathered her bridal party and relatives at her bedside and the ceremony was performed in the hospital. After the wedding everyone went to Ruth's home for a reception-that is, everyone but the bride. She is back at her work in Newark now and is "at home" in New York city with her new husband, Allen Dungan.

MARJORIE LOVETT DUFF

Northern New Jersey-Chartered 1935

The Northern New Jersey alumnæ were delightfully entertained twice last June. Mrs. Charles Brooks invited us and our husbands to a steak fry at her home in Monroe, New York, June 16; and June 23 the Misses Alice and Mary Walker provided an excellent setting for a picnic at their summer home at Walkill lake, New Jersey.

The first meeting this year was a Founders' day luncheon and organization meeting at the home of Mrs. Frederick A. DeHaven in Ridgewood, October 15. Plans were discussed to increase our active membership by per-sonal visits to Kappas in this area.

The November meeting was devoted to convention reports and the showing of the convention pictures.

Dorothy Kirk Bennett (Mrs. Gail), our president-elect and convention delegate, has moved to Chicago. Dorothy was one of our most enthusiastic members. We are sorry to lose her.

MARY REED BROME

Gamma Epsilon—Chartered 1919 University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

We were all pleasantly surprised to find our new chapter room completed when we returned to school this fall. It was a present from the alumnæ association and was furnished by the Mothers' club.

Mrs. Hugh Riley, Jr., province president, paid us a visit October 9-11. We appreciated her many valuable suggestions. Caroline Nesbitt was in charge of our "back to school" house dance.

The Founders' day banquet at the college club, October 11, was a great success.

In the near future we are planning a banquet for our fathers.

Personals

We are glad to have as new members Betty Boggs, Anne Delp, Betty Haldeman, Jean Davis, Kitty Lou Haughton, Ruth Roughton, Ruth Sample and Betty Springer.

The Kappas have four senior mentors this year who act as guides to freshman women. They are Ruth Beachler, Beth Hughes, Gene Pyle and Betty Springer. Gene Pyle was co-chairman of the Pitt

News style show October 14. There were five Kappas who modeled: Nancy Sunstrom, Toni Nesbitt, Suzanne Rigby, Mary Lee Bock and Kitty Lou Haughton.

JEANNE GRIB

Pittsburgh—Established 1919

Enthusiastic groups of Kappa alumnæ met during September at enjoyable and successful neighborhood parties. So delighted were they at seeing again their old friends and meeting new members informally that they decided to repeat these pleasant get-togethers in the middle of the year.

An innovation which we believe will add to the interest of many of our members is the substitution of two informal evening meetings for the usual Saturday luncheons.

At our founders' day meeting in October our association inaugurated what we hope will prove a yearly event—a formal banquet at the College club. After dinner our province president, Margaret Tschan Riley (Mrs. H. R.), spoke to us of active-alumnæ relations, and several members of our own group reviewed happy days at convention. LILLIAS H. ALSTON

Delta Alpha—Chartered 1930 Pennsylvania State College, State College, Pennsylvania

We certainly were glad to welcome so many of our alumnæ who returned for Homecoming day. After the football game, tea was served at the house to all our town and visiting alumnæ by members of the active chapter. A few of those we caught in the rush were Sarah Jane Anderson, Marcella Anderson, Lucy Pascoe, Mary Clinger, Henrietta Cutter, Betty Reyburn, Helen Kinsloe, Polly Sweigart and Rita Sheen.

This year for our part in the annual Panhellenic stunt night, we presented a fashion show in which all members took part wearing their newest "back-to-college" clothes.

We have had the first of our fraternity open houses of which there will be about six. We are expecting quite a few freshmen to come, since this is such a delightfully informal way in which to become acquainted with them. Organized rushing on our campus does not start until second semester.

Personal

Gloria Knepper (pledge) was crowned Collegian queen and took part in the nationwide radio broadcast of our pep rally alumni week-end.

HELEN CRAMER

State College—Chartered 1930

State college alumnæ began another year with a meeting and social gathering at the home of Sue Kern Musser (Mrs. H. Clay). We planned to continue making "hankies" for the actives as favors for their rushing banquet.

Delta Alpha extended an invitation to all alumnæ to join the active chapter at an open house October 12, following the Penn State-West Virginia football game, to celebrate the 10th anniversary of our founding.

The following alumnæ were present:
Marian Howell, Velma Egolf Lehmberg
(Mrs. William), Ruth Niebel Henszey (Mrs. William), Helen Nokes, Dorothy Bollinger, Ann Plumb McStay (Mrs. John), Elizabeth Breneman Walsh (Mrs. Mason), Helen Kins-loe, Dorothy Lentz Erb (Mrs. Horace), Kathryn Hertzler Espenshade (Mrs. Gilbert), Elsie Kohler Moore (Mrs. Bruce), Sue Kern Musser (Mrs. H. Clay), Margaret Knoll, Margaret Tschan Riley (Mrs. Hugh Ridgley), Isabel Wieland Gauss (Mrs. John), Blanche Wieland, Theresa Dower Jones (Mrs. Lloyd), and Mary Jennison.

The Kappa house has been painted inside and outside, making it look ever so much more attractive.

Personals

Lucy Erdman Brown (Mrs. Robert) was here during Freshman week.

Marjorie Lyons English (Mrs. James) stopped in State College to say "hello" to a few Kappa friends.

Mary Clinger came through State College recently, too. She is doing part time work in her father's office.

Lambda—Chartered 1877 University of Akron, Akron, Ohio

Our social calendar has been full this fall. October 5 our pledges took advantage of the Indian summer to entertain their dates on a hayride. We celebrated Founders' day with a banquet October 14. We were happy to have Mrs. John H. Moore, chairman of the Na-tional Panhellenic congress, as our guest speaker.

We invited all of our alumnæ to an open house after the Homecoming game October 12, and certainly enjoyed renewing old friendships and making new ones. We were proud to have won first prize for having the bestdecorated sorority house for Homecoming. Our reward is a theater party for the entire

November 2 we gave our annual "Hobo Hop" and came dressed in our oldest clothes.

Lambda chapter is now the proud possessor of two new cups: one for winning the intramural badminton contest; and the other for winning the intramural tennis contest.

Personals

Marilyn Dyson has been chosen cheerleader for this year. There are two girls and four boys on the cheer-leading squad.

Betty Cooper has been elected general representative for upper college on the student council.

Jane DeCora, Anne Tschantz and Doris Miklashek were the members of winning tennis and badminton teams.

Antonio Blacketter has been chosen assistant manager of our new student building. Kay Jobe has been chosen as sophomore member of the dance committee.

Akron, Ohio-Established 1901

This year, as always, the Akron association concluded its program with a reunion celebrating the birthday of Lambda chapter. June 10 the chapter was 63 years old, and 100 Kappas attended the luncheon at Fairlawn Country club. Of course, the main topic was the discussion of plans for convention.

Although only four of our group were able to attend convention, we have all en-joyed hearing about it and seeing the beautiful colored pictures that Alice Ellsworth brought back.

In August we had the annual picnic at the summer cottage of Helen Iredell on Turkeyfoot lake.

The individual groups are busy now with various projects for Christmas.

We all deeply regret the death of Carita McEbright, who was for several years the active chapter's faculty adviser and a loyal Kappa.

We are happy to welcome into the association the seven Kappas who graduated from Akron university in June.

Personal

Two out of the three hostesses for Akron university's Homecoming October 12 were Kappas. They were Mary Gene Noyes and Helen Voige.

Rho Deuteron—Chartered 1880, R. 1925

Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio

The pledging of 18 freshmen and four upperclassmen climaxed two weeks of concentrated rushing for Rho chapter. Joan Battelle led us in securing this pledge class. A slightly different rushing plan was followed this year, in that the first week of school was designated as all-university week, during which no one was allowed to wear a fraternity pin, and the rushing program occupied the next two weeks.

Also greeting us upon our return to school this fall was the news that we had placed first in scholarship on the campus last semester for the third successive time. This will give us permanent possession of the scholarship cup.

Personals

Nina Sawyer has been elected to  $\Theta$  A  $\Phi$ , national dramatics honorary.

Eleanor Sawtell (pledge) is president of the Swimmers' club.

Jane Murphy is a member of the university budget committee.

We have two social chairmen: Martha McCray, for one of the upperclass dormitories, and Kay Enger, assistant social chairman for the Women's Student Government association.

Doris Adelberger (pledge) is secretary-treasurer of the freshman dormitory.

FRANCES FEARHEILEY

Beta Nu—Chartered 1888 Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio

Beta Nu had a summer rushing party September 6 at Hazel Zeller (Mrs. Hugh) Nesbitt's cabin in the hills near Granville, Ohio. The theme was a Kappa Kappa Gamma dude ranch where everyone played bingo, bridge, badminton, danced the Virginia reel and enjoyed a western coke bar.

During the summer the new dormitory for women was named Canfield hall, honoring the family of Dorothy Canfield Fisher, a B N Kappa.

After the Pittsburgh and Purdue football games, the Kappas had open house for friends and alumnæ. These were such good fun that we have planned them for each home game. Beta Nu, October 2, had formal pledging of 26 girls.

October 9 we had an exchange dinner with the Sigma Chis with loads of fun, food and songs.

The Kappa formal was given November 2, in the hall of mirrors at the Deshler-Wallick hotel. At midnight the new pledges were introduced formally.

Personals

Jane Fay is directing Homecoming decorations.

Kay Huntington was elected neophyte advisor for initiation November 15 and 16.

Ruth Baumann is replacing Jean Dawson as Key correspondent, since Jean's marriage.

RUTH BAUMANN

Columbus, Ohio-Established 1901

Founders' day banquet is always for us the official opening of the year. This occasion was celebrated October 15 at the Seneca hotel, and we had the pleasure of meeting the new Beta Nu pledges. Alumnæ awards for the active chapter were made to June Knowlton for the highest scholastic record, Barbara Allen for the highest freshman scholastic record, June Clawson for the active who had made the most improvement in her grades, and Patty Taylor as the most outstanding girl in the chapter on the basis of scholastic record, campus activities, and chapter work.

Foremost in our minds at present is a money-raising project for the year. We were so successful three years ago in selling tickets for a Bermuda cruise that we were able to coast for two years on the proceeds. That, we believe, really is news.

Beta Rho Deuteron—Chartered 1885, R. 1914

University of Cincinnati, Cincinnati, Ohio

September 18, following a successful rushing season, Beta Rho pledged 20 girls who have chosen as their officers: president, Nancy Sullivan and secretary, Betty Jenike.

The Kappas were also active in aiding Panhellenic's search for an improved rushing system on our campus this fall.

Founders' day was celebrated by a gala dinner at the Hamilton County country club, where the new pledges were presented to the alumnæ by a style show in which the girls wore gowns of other eras.

The actives also made preparations to help with the installation ceremonies of the new chapter at Miami in Oxford, Ohio, November

Gamma Omega—Chartered 1929 Denison University, Granville, Ohio

Another rush season was completed successfully with pledging September 29.

In observance of Founders' day, the Gamma Omega girls went to church as a group.

Denison's Homecoming this year is out-standing, for the university's new president is to be inaugurated. Our chapter is having an alumnæ luncheon. Mary Kay Scott and Ann Lewis are among those nominated for Homecoming queen.

We had our first open house October 11, in honor of our new pledges.

BARBARA RUSCHLI

Canton-Chartered 1934

Fall activities for Canton Kappas began with a swimming party and buffet supper in the gardens of Mrs. George Lee Miller. A jolly time was enjoyed by 15 rushees, six Kappas from Akron including our province president, Mrs. Leroy Tomkinson, and Canton and Massillon Kappas.

A Panhellenic tea and style show was given for all Canton girls going away to school. In addition to the rushees, six members from each of the alumnæ associations attended as representatives of their respective sororities. This was a new venture for Canton and it proved successful, helping to create a better Panhellenic spirit.

Plans for the year were discussed at the September meeting at the home of our new president, Eloise Lewis. Two charitable projects are scheduled for fall meetings, sewing for Needlework Guild and the making of scrapbooks to be given to the Fairmount Chil-dren's home at Christmas time.

The Cleveland alumnæ association graciously invited us to their Founders' day tea, and the invitation was accepted by the Canton president and secretary. They returned enthusiastic over a most enjoyable time with the Cleveland Kappas and the two special guests, Mrs. A. H. Roth and Helen Bower.

Personals

We are happy to welcome Edith Scholey Hartman (Mrs. Clarence A.), Ω, and Jane

KAY KAISER MOORE

Cleveland—Established 1901

A garden party for actives and rushees with Dorothy Hunter Ulf (Mrs. Marshall), A, as hostess really began our season's activities early in September. On the first regular meeting date a large and enthusiastic gathering was entertained at the home of Mary Towle Cozier (Mrs. Kenneth), 2, Red Cross knitting was much in evidence. Of course the convention reports, given by Beth Holt Holler (Mrs. L. S.), B A, our president and official delegate, and Mary Barkley, T P, were the highlights of the evening. Both talks were interesting and inspirational.

With the book review group, the bridge club and sewing groups all beginning their meetings, Cleveland Kappa alumnæ are well launched on another year.

Good fortune has been with us so far. We were honored to have a past grand president, Mrs. A. H. Roth, and Helen C. Bower as our guests of honor for the Founders' day tea. The West Shore association joined us for this event. After Mrs. Roth's talk about the Hearthstone we are all determined to make a special effort to turn in a great many magazine subscriptions; and it was grand to be "so Kappa" with Helen for a whole after-

ZALA ELDER WALCOTT

Dayton—Chartered 1929

Now that rushing is over we can uncross our fingers, sigh happily over all the fine new pledges and settle down to the business of winter. Nevertheless, we like to think that a little of the success of this year's pledging comes from our summer rushing party at Tibbals'. The Tibbals' cottage is perfect for parties, being located in Chautauqua, Ohio, where we all enjoyed swimming, tennis, bowling, throwing darts, dinner and then bingo. Our thoughts have turned toward the long hard months ahead for England. Therefore, we have worked with interest at the "Bundles for Britain" project.

October 22 was set aside for our Founders' day dinner. The main event of the evening was a report on the convention by our delegate, Frances Tibbals. The next best thing to actually being at the convention in Sun Valley was hearing all about it from Frances.

BETTY BECK

Mansfield, Ohio—Chartered 1936

The fall meeting of the Mansfield alumnæ association went off with a bang October 5, a luncheon at Wickliffe Manor. Not only was the attendance up to our full membership enrollment, but there were two Kappas over our quota!

The high point of the afternoon was the arrival of a huge birthday cake celebrating the 70th birthday of Kappa and the birthday of our retiring president, Martha Seward

Dietrichson (Mrs. Paul).

During the business meeting it was voted to contribute to the Kappa birthday fund and to push the sale of magazine subscriptions. After much discussion of rushing and prospects, the meeting was adjourned.

Personals

Moving seems to be in the air for Mansfield Kappas. Martha Dietrichson has taken up residence in a new home; Anne Gotshall Hand (Mrs. Avery) is getting settled in a newly-finished house and the work is nearly completed on a home for Helen Carpenter Hattery (Mrs. John).

Pauline Miller Newcomb (Mrs. Charles) was elected president of the newly-organized Child Conservation club of Mansfield.

Mansfield Kappas are pleased to welcome Barbara Ann Foulds Neldon (Mrs. C. Perry),  $P^{\Delta}$ , to the association.

Toledo-Established 1920

September 4 our association joined with 14 other women's fraternity alumnæ groups in entertaining at luncheon 52 prospective freshman women who were entering college this fall in various parts of the country. This affair at the Inverness country club was a new departure to substitute for individual rushing parties and was well attended. Marcella Rardin Mewborn (Mrs. William), PA, our rushing chairman, was on the entertainment committee and Margaret Easton Seney (Mrs. George, III), P<sup>Δ</sup>, collaborated on the songs sung in the skit which formed the afternoon's entertainment.

Our contribution is recreational and has included taking the girls on picnics and to the movies on the average of once a week and doing various errands for the home.

During the summer our fortnightly bridge club luncheons have been given as in the winter, at country clubs or restaurants with card rooms. These meetings are planned with a minimum of individual labor and just for recreation, and all Kappas are welcome.

A money-making project of last spring was the selling of tickets to performances of the Repertoire Little Theater, with which Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cole (Jane Helmel, B A), are associated.

Jean Kleckner compiled an enlightening and amusing scrapbook for us, and shortly after formal pledging standards conducted a round table discussion for the purpose of developing more fully the suggestions presented at convention.

We are enthusiastic over our splendid pledge class of 23 girls. They have already shown their Kappa spirit by serving as hostesses at a Kappa tea for all other sorority pledges on campus. They are also helping us with the open houses after every home foot-

Embroidered mittens and candlelight! That summarizes the two meetings of the Indianapolis alumnæ association, so far this year. The first meeting, September 23, was at the home of Beth Ann Williston Barr (Mrs. Joseph W.), where the lawn was the scene of a picnic supper for 100 old members, and 20 new. During the evening a penny-box for the Nora Waln fund circulated, and gathered in $21.93. After supper the groups divided for their favorite games. The prizes were cleverly-designed cotton dusting gloves, embroidered by the committee in gay yarn patterns. So the Kappas got mittens.

October 14 we feted our Kappa birthday and the fraternity's new president in a blaze of candlelight, song and oratory. In the reception room of the Marott hotel was arranged an exhibit of the articles submitted to the arts and crafts exhibit by Helen Hartinger, Dorothy Segur, and Eleanor Albershardt (Mrs. William G.). Also on display were the Sun Valley scrapbook, the association scrapbook and publicity book, the headdresses from the Sun Valley hobbies dinner and souvenirs of convention.

The Marott string ensemble played during the dinner. The tables were lighted solely by myriads of candles wreathed in greenery. The speakers' table was in the shape of a T, and included the new president, Elizabeth Bogert Schofield, in a pompadour silk formal with orchids; her mother, Mrs. Stephen T. Bogert, and her aunt, Mrs. J. O. Shultz, of Los Angeles, wearing Kappa corsages. Seated also at the main table were the officers of the Indianapolis alumnæ association: Mrs. Harry E. Elliott, Mrs. Herschel E. Davis, Mrs. Paul Rhoadarmer, Mrs. Donald E. Compton, Mrs. Harold H. Wright, Mrs. James F. Nicolai, Mrs. Fred T. Hill, Mrs. Harry G. Jones, Mrs. Robert D. Gruen, Mrs. Louis R. Lowe, Mrs. G. B. Taylor, Mrs. Joe Rand Beckett, Mrs. Mayburn F. Landgraf, Mrs. Joseph C. Matthews, Mrs. James A. Hogshire, Jr., Mrs. Jack Gulling and Mrs. David V. Burns. The Kappa trio, Johanne Gulling (Mrs. Jack), Mary Ann Elliott (Mrs. Harry E.) and Mildred Costin (Mrs. James) sang a group of Kappa songs, accompanied by Dorothy Sunderland (Mrs. Harry L.). Among them was a new song by Catherine Allison Christie (Mrs. George), for use at formal banquets and initiations.

The ubiquitous "Moon Over Sun Valley" was sung by Johanne Gulling, to point up the atmosphere for the after-dinner speeches, which largely concerned convention. Our Hearthstone chairman, Sue Davis Taylor (Mrs. G. B.), now a member of the national board of Hearthstone, spoke on "Hearthstone Pennies," and pointed out the good that 70 birthday pennies from each Kappa would do toward the fund. She mentioned the proposed annex for the wives of army and navy men who may be on active duty, and the approbation the plan had received. The Delta province president, Gem Reasoner (Mrs. Mark) gave an enthusiastic report on the convention proceedings, telling of the adoption of the new constitution, and the dis-carding of the "grandiose" wordings of for-mer years in the titles of the officers. The alumnæ president, Mary Ann Elliott, gave a chatty report of each day's doings at Sun Valley, with many amusing sidelights, in-cluding the story of the sprinkling-can headdress of our august president, which really sprinkled as she inclined her head (and won her a prize). Next a wire was read from our ever-dependable writer-upper, Dorothy Reynolds Collins (Mrs. Johnny B.).

After the reports of convention were given, the meeting was opened to Testimonials By Those Who Knew Her When, in honor of Mrs. Schofield. Those in accord with the sentiments of the speakers were even invited to say "Amen!" From seats in various parts of the room rose friends of her earlier days. Lucille Carr Marshall (Mrs. T. J.) spoke of "Beth, the Kappa pledge," and the ceremony on the old Butler campus, under the ancient elms. Ruth Hendrickson Shull (Mrs. Homer) told of "Beth, the Kappa Sister," recalling college days (and even a pre-school Christmas play, in which Beth was a white cheesecloth angel). Irma Ulrich Jones (Mrs. Harry G.) dealt with "Beth, Kappa's Inspiration," and the wondering adulation of the Mu chapter girls, in their house promoted by Beth's unflagging energy. "Beth, the Kappa Official" was Helen Hartinger's theme, and she out-Kayed the Kayser by rolling off a string of klicking adjectives, most kleverly ending with the toast to "Beth, that kapable, kompetent Kappa of Glamour." "Beth, the President," was beautifully eulogized by the alumnæ president, Mary Ann Elliott. Responding, the new president rose, and said, simply, "I am sincerely Sigma in Delta. I thank you." Thus ended Kappa's 70th birthday, in Indianapolis.

With Mrs. Leona Spielman Kay as president of the Adrian association, we have made plans for a rather extensive program of monthly meetings this year. A committee headed by Grace Schulz was appointed to plan a yearbook which lists hostesses and programs for each meeting. It includes also the association directory.

The September meeting was at the home of Mrs. Kay. Reports and movies of the convention at Sun Valley were given by the delegates, Mildred Armstrong, Mary Lake and the hostess.

At the November meeting we had as our guest the new president of Adrian college, Dr. Samuel Harrison. He explained the selfhelp plan which he has instituted at the college, whereby students who so desire may obtain work through the college. This covers a certain percentage of their tuition. The success of this plan is shown in the increase in size of the student body in the first year.

The inauguration of Dr. Harrison took place October 18, 1940 with an extensive program. Adrian college Homecoming was October 19, giving the association a chance to entertain many alumnæ of Xi chapter. MARY R. LAKE

At convention last July were five Beta Deltas: Florence Burton Roth, former grand president; Helen Bower, editor of THE KEY; Myrtle White Godwin, Catherine Kelder Walz, national housing chairman, and Mary Eleanor MacCready, chapter president.

Our formal rushing season ended most successfully in the pledging of 18 girls October 12. A great deal of our success was due to our rushing chairman, Anne Winters. We were delighted to find when we returned in the fall that the entire second floor had been done over. The walls were painted and new furniture and rugs had been added. The new annex which we bought last spring has been redecorated. Having the annex next door to us has made the relationship between the pledges and actives even closer.

The 50th anniversary of Beta Delta was celebrated October 18-19.

In September we gave a membership tea at the chapter house. We were particularly glad to see again the alumnæ who live in towns near Lafayette and belong to our asso-

Our October meeting in honor of Founders' day was at the home of Florence Grimes,  $\Gamma$   $\Delta$ . At the beginning of the meeting we were served dessert. The ice cream was decorated with the dates 1870-1940 in blue. At the end of the business session our president, Ann Mavity Beck (Mrs. D. C.), Γ Δ, read to us from the first chapter of the Kappa history about the founding of the fraternity. Then Fern Nordstrum Hunter (Mrs. F. P.),  $\Gamma$   $\Delta$ , our delegate, gave us an interesting account of convention. She and Katherine Dorner Adkins (Mrs. Norman),  $\Gamma \Delta$ , were enthusiastic about it and made us all wish we could have attended. We hope to profit by the many ideas they brought us.

The Lafayette association is working to make a success of our new Panhellenic association, and we are proud of ourselves for having a larger membership than any other fraternity alumnæ group. Of course, all the Kappas are delighted that Elizabeth Bogert Schofield (Mrs. Everett), M, was the speaker at the Panhellenic achievement dinner No-

This year's activities are under the leadership of Julia Reynolds Dreisbach (Mrs. Robert H.), president; Sara Bracken Voorhees (Mrs. Herbert), vice-president; Jane Rhue Somers (Mrs. Gerald), secretary, and Helen Straw-myer Pence (Mrs. Gerald), treasurer. We celebrated Kappa's 70th anniversary and Founders' day by a combined meeting of the alumnæ and the active members at the chapter house. Jean Riorden read a paper on Founders' day, and the actives presented a short program. Our alumnæ entertained us with a buffet dinner to close the afternoon.

Our last official meeting of last season was a dinner at Mrs. James Tranter's home in East Lansing, at which we entertained the juniors and seniors of the active chapter.

A fine turn-out was gratifying at our first meeting this fall, at the home of Mrs. C. R. Crozier, Park Lane, East Lansing. Our new president, Mrs. Walter Graff, introduced Magrieta Gunn, our alumnæ delegate to Sun Valley the past summer, and she made us all green with envy and at the same time burst with pride with her glowing accounts of the place itself, the super entertainment, the de luxe service, and especially the delightful Kappa women she met. She brought back many fine suggestions and new ideas for us to concentrate on these next few months.

Mrs. Granger Stickle, alumnæ rushing chairman, gave a brief talk on rushing plans, and Mrs. James Porter asked coöperation for rummage sale, October 19.

Founders' day was celebrated in true Kappa tradition, with a splendid program at the house on M.A.C. avenue. About 60 were present to enjoy the program arranged by the active group and a buffet supper.

Grand Rapids—Chartered 1936

Kappa alumnæ in Grand Rapids closed a banner year with Marie McCabe, B Z, as president, and opened again in September with whirlwind activity under the leadership of Marjorie Fehr Chatten (Mrs. Alfred), E. We cannot start our new season without mentioning the evening in Marie's home, when Kappa Kappa Gamma was hostess to Panhellenic for a dessert-coffee and book review; and the luncheon and tour of her own gardens given us by our member, Clara Limbert, A, also one of the pillars of the Kent Garden club. Novel money-raising activity was the passing from door to door of the sweet basket containing pastry or dessert, for which each member contributed as she refilled it and gave it to the next. Our program for this year is in printed form, and we look forward to each meeting with great interest.

A cross-section of membership activities shows considerable variety. Mary McNeil Temple (Mrs. Fred), B T, and her husband, have recently moved into their new house, as have Dorothy Leonard and Richard Willey.

Our aim this year is to increase interest in the association so that we may become a stronger and more active alumnæ group. A reconstruction program was adopted with cochairmen appointed for five individual groups. These groups will meet on the average of once a month for whatever purpose they choose: financial, social or philanthropic. In addition, monthly dinner meetings for the entire club will be given at the chapter house. Programs for these meetings will be drawn from talent within our organization.

Among our new members for this year are Jane Johnson (Mrs. Willis), from the Army-Navy association; Katherine Garretson Myer, of the London, England, association; Carroll Costigan, Duke university; Joan Jarrett and Virginia Claudon, William and Mary; and Donna Walker, University of Illinois.

She was interested in the organization's work as a whole, but was particularly interested in the camp project. She was equally interested in Kappa and we feel a keen loss in her passing.

Everyone returned for Homecoming which this year was October 18-19. The annual spread for actives and alumnæ was served at

In spite of six inches of rain in two days, 22 Kappas drove 17 miles to a picnic for their June meeting, Amy Allen, H, opened her home at Lac La Belle.

They met again several times during the summer for rushing. Carol Wagner Johnson (Mrs. J. Cabell), I, had a small informal tea and Janet H. Davidson (Mrs. Arthur), H, entertained at a picnic. The large rushing tea was given by Jessie Corse Kachel (Mrs. Wil-liam), H. Thirty-seven members present made it a successful tea in spite of a Theta picnic the same day.

Our first fall meeting was October 10 at the home of Gertrude Smith Slocum (Mrs. A. L.), H, in honor of Founders' day. Forty-eight Kappas were there, the largest group ever to turn out. Alberta Nicodemus Schultz (Mrs. O. Delwin), A, gave a thorough and entertaining report of convention and showed the official movies. The program for the year was presented and the outstanding feature will be the number of meetings planned. We will have eight meetings for 1940-41 instead of six, which we feel is a big step forward. Our slogan will be "More Kappas and more meetings." Our October meeting was a good start. The January meeting promises to be interesting, because we are going to make a tour of the Goodwill Industries. We also have several members who are working for the Red Cross and the Community fund drive.

Milwaukee Kappas are also proud of Lucille Robinson Mann (Mrs. Russell), Γ θ, who won the amateur state golf champion-ship for the third time. We were sorry to say goodbye when she left for Omaha, Ne-braska.

Chi chapter is proud to announce the initiation of Carol Johnson and the pledging of 27 girls.

An open house was given October 12 in honor of the pledges. The pledges are hard at work on the house Homecoming decorations. The theme this year is "Howdy Hawkeye!" We hope to win a prize.

We celebrated Founders' day October 14 with a formal dinner at the Esler tearooms. The actives presented a skit. Our delegates told us about the convention at Sun Valley. Chi is third in the academic sororities in scholarship.

Minnesota-Established 1892

Our spring meeting was April 23 at the University club in St. Paul, with Little Chi as hostesses. Each place had a birthday candle in celebration of the 60th birthday of Chi chapter.

August 9 we had a picnic at the Lafayette club, and after luncheon spent the afternoon in a discussion of rushing. As has been our custom for the last few years, the alumnæ took charge of the rushing parties, leaving the actives free for rushing alone. This year the parties were especially well planned, and we are glad to have contributed to such a successful rushing season.

Our Founders' day banquet was October

14. One of the highlights of the program was a convention report by Mrs. Oscar F. Woodrich. Mrs. Donald McCarthy was the Founders' day speaker.

Plans for the winter program and a new directory are keeping us busy now.

North Shore-Established 1910

Our opening luncheon was at the Kappa house, and Helen Ryerson Hadley (Mrs. E. M., Jr.), our president, gave a most enthusiastic report of the convention at Sun Valley. The convention also provided our program for Founders' day, because after our luncheon at the Georgian hotel, we all enjoyed the official movies taken at Sun Valley. We had a grand crowd to celebrate Kappa's 70th birthday.

About half of our meetings are at the Kappa house, which is centrally located in Evanston, and the others are at members' homes in the various North Shore towns. The luncheons are under the general supervision of a menu chairman, Betty Fletcher Howell (Mrs. Richard), and we are endeavoring to have unusual dishes and sell the recipes for the benefit of the Hearthstone fund.

We opened our year's activities with four sectional membership teas. Ruth Cleveland (Mrs. Chester W.), B A, opened her home to the north-side girls. Adelaide Hartong (Mrs. George), B Z, entertained those of the west suburbs. Virginia McVey (Mrs. Lawrence R.), A, the south-side girls, and Jane Parker (Mrs. Henry), E, entertained the business girls' group at an outdoor steak fry.

girls' group at an outdoor steak fry.

The first regular meeting was September 27 at the Women's University club, with 50 present. Agnes Russell Bonner (Mrs. Gordon),  $\Gamma$   $\Omega$ , our president, cleverly arranged a "Sun Valley" luncheon. Table decorations were symbolic of the dinner parties given at convention, with loads of pine cones, favors, and at each place a copy of the words of the song, "Moon Over Sun Valley." We also had the words of our new Kappa alumnæ song, which was introduced at convention, and written by Una Howell Cook (Mrs. Geo. E.), T, a member of our association. Mrs. Cook has achieved special honor in receiving first prize in a state competition for two original musical compositions. Nena McIntyre Cook (Mrs. Donald M.), B Δ, chairman of rushing, reported that more than 240 personal calls had been made by her committee.

Our beautiful Almira J. McNaboe trophy, received at convention for outstanding alumnæ association coöperation, was on display at each sectional tea and at our first association meeting. We are indeed proud of it.

We observed Founders' day at a luncheon at the Chicago Woman's club. Cecile Arnold (Mrs. Edmund C.), K, was chairman of the committee in charge. Lucretia Thomason (Mrs. A. F.), Γ Δ, made the programs, placecards and decorations, carrying out the theme of "Sigma in Delta." Others on the committee were Winifred McNabb (Mrs. Duane), K, and Louise Sutton (Mrs. David U.), B Υ. Agnes Bonner was toastmistress. Toasts in rhyme were given by Norine Maupin (Mrs. Rex A.), Γ A, vice-president, and Troy Hawkinson, Γ Ω, who represented the business girls' group. The artists were Mary Lou Murrell (Mrs. Harvey W.), B Z, pianist, and Maren Hattstaedt (Mrs. John R.), K, soprano. One of the highlights of the luncheon was the Kappa birthday cake with 70 candles. All of those present autographed a luncheon program which was sent to our beloved founder, Mrs. Boyd, with greetings from our association.

Beta Lambda—Chartered 1899 University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana, Illinois

Beta Lambda announces with pleasure the pledging of 11 girls. Already the pledge class is exhibiting the kind of coöperation which precludes true Kappahood.

We had the pleasure, early in October, of entertaining Mrs. Schofield for a few days. As a program during Mrs. Schofield's visit a reserve officer of the army discussed with us the Selective Military Training act.

The chapter learned that it had been selected from among the competing sororities, as one of the three to present stunts at Homecoming.

Beta Lambda celebrated Kappa's birthday twice. Sunday, October 13, we traveled to Bloomington, where the Epsilon Kappas entertained us at an out-door party. October 14 the active and alumnæ of Beta Lambda celebrated Kappa's birthday. The huge cake glowed with 70 candles, and we all thought of how well it will look with 100!

Winnipeg, Manitoba—Chartered 1928

Our 1940-41 season opened September 4 with a supper meeting. This year it has been decided to have two monthly meetings every first and third Wednesday, the latter for the purpose of knitting and sewing for the Red Cross. Two girls are in charge of each meeting, providing refreshments and being re-sponsible for tidying up at the end of the evening.

At our meeting of September 25 Jane Patterson, alumnæ rushing adviser, gave us a full and enthusiastic account on the new freshmen with a pep talk to "get out and rush and get to know the girls."

A huge crowd turned out for the first October meeting. The wool and sewing was given out for Red Cross work. Madeline Plews was elected secretary to replace Dorothy Creelman, who has gone to the coast for a few months.

Founders' day was celebrated by an alumnæ, active and pledge tea at the home of Maida and Muriel MacKenzie.

Our alumnæ group had a picnic at Detroit Lakes, Minnesota, last summer, with vacationing Kappas in that area as our guests. During the afternoon we had reports on the convention from our delegates, which made all of us wish we had been able to attend.

At our September meeting we got off to a flying start on all business problems. The first was to assist the active chapter during rushing. We did and were all happy to have the pledge quota filled.

Next was the financial problem for the year. We decided to sell tickets for two round-trip airplane rides to Minneapolis. Everything indicates that it will be the most successful project of its type we have tried. We observed Founders' day with a banquet which was also attended by the active and pledge groups. As part of the program we honored Mmes. N. C. Young, R. E. Weible, George Black, John D. Wooledge, H. H. Wooledge, S. L. Chesley, R. T. Barnard, Fargo, North Dakota, and Mrs. Charles October 14 was the first meeting of the alumnæ association during the present school year. Lucile Foster Woodruff (Mrs. Reginald) was hostess in her home to 45 members of the association. She was assisted by Frances Westervelt Flansburg (Mrs. Leonard), chairman, and a committee of hostesses.

The evening's program featured convention reports by Virginia Selleck Flansburg (Mrs. Charles), president of the association; Ruth Kadel Seacrest (Mrs. Joseph), director of chapter programs, and Helen Ryons Branch, province president. We were de-lighted to have an opportunity to examine Virginia Flansburg's convention scrapbook.

We were particularly interested to learn from the report of the house board that so many improvements in furnishings and decorations were made at Sigma's chapter house during the summer.

The ways and means committee presented several suggestions for methods of improving our financial status which were enthusiastically accepted by the association.

Manhattan, Kansas-Established 1921

The beginning of another school year has come, and with such enthusiasm as our alumnæ association has already shown this promises to be a successful year for us. Gladys Grove Adams (Mrs. R. V.), ΓA, was hostess to the members at our first meeting of the year. Paula McDaniel Carlson (Mrs. Leland V.),  $\Gamma$  A, was elected secretary to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Anne Louise Sloo Harkey (Mrs. C. E.),  $\Omega$ , who is moving to Topeka, Kansas.

Betty Margaret Adams,  $\Gamma$  A, daughter of our president, Mrs. R. V. Adams, was married October 11 to Milo Sloo, who is a brother of Mrs. Harkey. She is retiring alumnæ chapter membership adviser.

A buffet supper was given at the home of Katherine Reid Wareham (Mrs. Blake), r A, October 6. The husbands were invited.

Hazel Marie Scott, T A, had an interesting vacation in New York city during which time she visited the fair, sightseeing in Washington, D.C.; and had a nice visit with Helen and Margie Fitch, Kappas from Minnesota. She also was in Detroit, Illinois, and at Ithaca, New York.

A picnic supper at the cabin of Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Colt, Jr. (Kate Hutchings,  $\Gamma$  A), with a slumber party and breakfast at the chapter house was one of the rush functions during the summer. Several of these rushees are now residing at the Kappa house!

We are fortunate to have Paula Carlson as one of our new members. She will serve as local Girl Scout director for the coming year. She began her training for leadership in 1935, when she attended a national training course at Camp Daisy Hindman, at Dover, Kansas. This was followed by a course at Camp Alderbrook, Swartout, California, in 1936. In 1937 a more professional type of training was studied by Mrs. Carlson in the national Girl Scout leaders' training school at Pleasantville, New York. Executive positions held by Mrs. Carlson in Scout work include those of field captain for the Pasadena, California, council for two years and local director of the Riverside, California, council for one year. Mrs. Carlson is formerly of Topeka. She was granted a degree in home economics by Kansas State college in 1937. She is the mother of a daughter, Loretta Lee, born November 24, 1939. She is to be alumnæ pledge adviser to the active chapter.

Our first rummage sale was October 25-26 in the Community house. By the untiring effort of the alumnæ last year in trying to raise money for the group it was possible for this association to send a delegate to the convention at Sun Valley. The delegate to convention had one of the most thrilling experiences of her Kappa life during the convention. The pleasure of meeting new friends and loyal Kappa sisters is something which will long remain a happy memory. The inspiration of meeting the loyal members who have been attending conventions for years should be a challenge to all who were there to do their utmost for Kappa.

Unreported events of last season were a luncheon April 6 at the home of Matilda Royster Hamilton (Mrs. Hugh G.) and the annual picnic May 18 at the home of Dorothy Stoner Reese (Mrs. W. G.). We are also helping a son of the family we adopted for Christmas last year to continue his schooling, by providing money for his carfare. Tuesday has been chosen as Kappa Red Cross day, and we are enjoying working at local headquarters together.

A luncheon commemorating Founders' day was given October 15 by the Salina alumnæ association at the Salina country club. The group met weekly at the local Red Cross sewing rooms, completing 15 layettes, representing 40 hours work per per-son. Our new assignment of sewing began October 4.

Dinner at the Hotel Broadview, Founders' day, was indeed a gala affair. Red and yellow chrysanthemums and red and yellow maple leaves made a pathway for dainty dolls grouped on the table, dressed to represent the style changes from Founders' day to the present.

Each Kappa placed a lighted candle at her place as she entered, and we gave our toast to Founders' day. Our youngest alumnæ refreshed memories with the story of Kappa Kappa Gamma, and of course there were songs.

We finished with a gifted member's reading our palms, so that we would know some of the good things in store for our association the coming year.

Gamma Theta—Chartered 1921 Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa

Following a successful rush week Gamma Theta pledged 20 girls, the largest pledge class the chapter has known in four years. Much of the credit for our success goes to Mrs. Helen Branch, associate council member from Zeta province, who spent four days with us at the house during rush week.

Besides giving us valuable suggestions for good rushing policies, Mrs. Branch had personal conferences with all chapter officers to give them advice and information pertaining to their official duties.

Frances Barker, Gamma Theta president, and Virginia Watts represented us at convention at Sun Valley. Both of them returned with glowing accounts of their trip and information and suggestions for improvement of the chapter.

This year we are making a special scholastic drive with the aim of winning the sorority cup offered each year to the house obtaining the highest grade average.

We had a slumber party at the house October 4 for the entire chapter, in order that our new pledges might become better acquainted with the actives. The next morning we began collecting decorations for Drake's annual sorority open house, October 5. Our recreation rooms were decorated to give the atmosphere of a western ranch house.

Gamma Iota—Chartered 1921 Washington University, St. Louis, Missouri

After an enthusiastic summer of rushing and an intensive week and a half of fall rushing under the able direction of Jean Mac-Gregor, the Gamma Iotas began a banner year with their full quota of 18 pledges. Because of a new quota system adopted by Panhellenic in the fall of 1939, rushing was somewhat different, but we are proud of the fact that we were among the three sororities on campus which came out with their full quota.

At our house party at Wildwood Lodge we had the traditional poems and skits by the pledges. The formal pledge dance the following weekend was a huge success. Another social event of October was the dinner given for the active chapter by the alumnæ, at which we were entertained by a report and colored movies of the convention at Sun Valley, Idaho.

To introduce our pledges to the fraternities we gave a tea dance for which everyone dressed formally.

October 12 we joined with the alumnæ associations of Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo and the active chapters of Boulder and Colorado Springs to celebrate Founders' day at the Shirley-Savoy hotel in Denver. It was an inspiring evening, and brought us all to-

Gamma Beta—Chartered 1918 University of New Mexico, Albuquerque

Gamma Beta opened the season's social activities early this year with a "Mutt and Pedigree Dog Show." Mary Dunn Jamison was in charge. One hundred fifty pups were displayed proudly by their owners and prizes were given in 10 different classes on the basis of personality, beauty, or cleverness. Grand prize went to the most sympathetic dog, and the entire $455 made was turned over to the Red Cross for war relief.

Twenty-two new girls were formally pledged September 30.

Rush week this year was thoroughly successful, thanks to Florence and Frances Bradbury, who besides taking complete charge, instituted a new "college party." Actives and pledges wore light blue sweaters and dark blue skirts and entertained the guests with college songs and a skit dealing with college life

The chapter has been giving a series of teas and buffet dinners to get acquainted with girls who arrived on the campus too late for formal rush week. This has proved to be a pleasant means of bringing new house and town girls closer together.

Again we are competing in the Lobo subscription contest in selling subscriptions for the school newspaper. We are all joining in whole-heartedly, for if Gamma Beta wins again it will make the seventh successive year. Prizes for the contest will be furniture and various knick-knacks for the houses.

Founders' day the girls wore blue-andblue outfits to school and attended the annual formal banquet that night. Charter members of the chapter gave speeches and told anecdotes of its founding at the banquet, and the pledges presented a skit entitled "Kappa Kindergarten" in which they imitated the actives. Credit goes to Myrl Hope Sisk for a most enjoyable celebration.

We are participating in intramural sports under the guidance of Jerre Gibbs. We have entered in swimming and in dodge-ball.

Albuquerque—Established 1921

Five hundred guests in two large rooms at the Alvarado hotel, complete with raised ramps on which the models promenaded, orchestras, announcers and a delicious luncheon, gave a perfect setting for the alumnæ association's fall benefit fashion show September 14. It was an occasion looked forward to and thoroughly appreciated by most of the women of Albuquerque. This successful show was directed by Evelyn Harper (Mrs. Jack), our president this year, and her sister, Esther Trotter, buyer for a large eastern store, aided by all members of the association.

Founders' day was celebrated October 14 the largest banquet which the local chapter has ever had. Betty Fee Pettit (Mrs. R. Fred), as toastmistress and program director, made it memorable to us all. An outstanding event of the evening was the intro-duction of two members of Gamma Beta's first active chapter with their daughters, who were pledged this fall: Myrl Hope Sisk (Mrs. Arthur) and her daughter, Hope, and Katherine Conway White (Mrs. William J.) and her daughter, Alice Mary. The evening ended on a gay note of hilarity with the pledge stunt.

Our group meetings are being continued this year with three joint luncheon meetings throughout the year. This plan proved most successful with our large alumnæ group last vear.

Imagine! We had so much business to take care of at our first fall meeting that no one had time to knit or play bridge. We planned an excellent program for the coming year. All spare minutes will be spent in knit-ting sweaters for the Red Cross to give to English refugee children. We plan to contribute to the national fund for the undergraduate scholarships, buy a gift for Gamma Omicron, donate to the local Girl Scout and Girl Reserve kampship fund, and save our pennies for the Hearthstone fund. The proceeds of our December charity tea will go to local philanthropy. Spring will bring our annual book review tea.

Mrs. Fred D. Boice concluded the summer rushing season by entertaining the rushees at

At the climax of rush week which included a Kappa hotel formal opening tea, a Gay '90s tea, a southern breakfast and a formal banquet carried out in the traditional theme of the garden of blue, Delta Zeta announced the pledging of 23 girls.

Colorado Springs—Chartered 1933

At their first meeting of the new school year, the alumnæ of Colorado Springs made plans for a constructive program to be followed throughout the year. Under the leadership of its new president, Virginia Stevenson. the group discussed ways and means to participate more actively in educational and charitable projects. One tentative plan is to invite underprivileged children to the Kappa house for a Christmas party. We will continue this year to have our monthly supper meetings at either the chapter house or at the home of an alumna.

Denver—Established 1900

The Denver alumnæ association started what should be a good year with a membership tea in place of the usual first meeting. Though the enrollment is a little smaller this year, we are pleased that so many of the new graduates have joined. Rushing at Colorado college and Colorado university is always the first major activity of the fall season. Many alumnæ assisted or sponsored the parties preceding pledging and closed the week with the usual open house after pledge ceremonies were over.

Founders' day was celebrated with a banquet at a Denver hotel. Dorothy Westby Moore (Mrs. John) was toastmistress, and Eleanore Goodridge Campbell (Mrs. Joseph) was chairman. Greetings were given by the president, Genevieve Hough Dixon (Mrs. Lester). The province president, Ruthanna Eames McCoy (Mrs. Abram), was introduced. The main speech, one of the most inspiring yet heard, was given by Grace McKeehan, professor of English literature at Colorado university. Notable also was the presence of several mother-daughter combinations, alumnæ with daughters in the active chapters.

Kappa was represented well at the Denver Panhellenic association luncheon meeting October 12 at the Brown Palace hotel.

The October meeting was given over to the Needlework Guild collection of garments and money with which to purchase more garments. Our association has always supported this activity to the utmost.

Our alumnæ chapter is composed of about 30 members who meet once a month. We alternate our meetings between a luncheon one month and a buffet supper the next.

The first luncheon and meeting was September 20 at the chapter house. The new officers again acted as hostesses and there were 60 members present. Instead of a program, several of the girls who had attended convention gave reports, which were both constructive and amusing, on various phases of the convention.

October 14 we had our Founders' day banquet at the Starlight gardens, atop the Hotel Utah. Sixty members made reservations and the banquet was a great success.

Oklahoma City-Established 1916

Our summer rush season opened in June with a luncheon at the Oklahoma City country club. Barbara Hoyt Liebman (Mrs. J. G.) and Ella McWhorter Knox (Mrs. George) defied formality and gave a hilarious skit on salesmanship after the luncheon. In August the alumnæ gave a swim and buffet supper at Twin Hills country club for about 15 rushees. These two parties, augmented throughout the summer by almost 30 smaller parties, helped bring the rush season to a most successful climax.

It was a real treat for the alumnæ to join the active chapter to celebrate Founders' day with a banquet and program at the chapter house in Norman. Several of the actives who had been to Sun Valley, and Billye Reynolds, chapter president, gave us a most entertaining informal discussion of the highlights of the convention.

The officers of the alumnæ welcomed old and new members of the association at a dessert supper at the home of Virginia Kramer Kulp (Mrs. Albert G.), in September. This was our first meeting this fall.

Gamma Nu is more than proud to tell its Kappa sisters about our successful rush week. We issued 14 bids and got 14 pledges! We are still excited and thrilled about

With 70 blue-and-blue candles and a large golden key lighting the dining room, we celebrated the 70th anniversary of the founding of Kappa Kappa Gamma in the chapter house, October 13. Honor guest was Mrs. Jay W. Fullbright, θ, who was initiated into Gamma Nu has as its biggest news the opening of the new Kappa house this fall. It was finished just in time for a most successful rush week when the chapter sent out 14 bids and 14 girls appeared to grace the pledge class.

Just how many trips we made to the house when it was under construction we cannot say, but there were many, and the interest shown by all alumnæ is most gratifying.

October 13 we had the Founders' day banquet at the new house. Mrs. Jay Fulbright, mother of J. William Fulbright, president of the University of Arkansas, was the guest speaker, using as her subject, "My Fifty Years as a Kappa." Carolyn Wagley reported on convention and Alletah Glasier (Mrs. John S.) read an original poem, such as she composes each year for the occasion.

We welcome Mrs. George Rodman to our group. Her husband is in the English department at the university.

Jeannette Scudder, new dean of women, we are proud to claim as a Kappa and as a new member of our association. Her pleasing personality has endeared her to all sorority women on the campus.

As a reward for her untiring efforts in behalf of Gamma Nu, Jimmie Porter was presented with a gift of luggage at the banquet, October 13.

During rush week actives and alumnæ were grateful for the visits of Grace Mc-Farlin (Mrs. Tom), province president, and Mrs. Edwin Chickering, known to us as Mary Jim Lane Chickering. It was Grace McFarlin's first visit to the Arkansas chapter, and a pleasant time she made it for the Kappas.

Jane Warfield, graduate of the University of Nebraska chapter, was a visitor in Fayetteville during October and attended Founders' day banquet as a welcome guest.

These have been a success, since upon recent occasions, almost every active member was present, and quite a few Dallas alumnæ came too.

For the second meeting of the year Eulavelle Sweetland Guiberson (Mrs. Nathan G.), B H, entertained the active chapter and alumnæ guests with a buffet dinner at her home.

October 13, the weekend of the Texas-Oklahoma football game here in Dallas, Kappas from Beta Xi, Beta Theta and Gamma Phi chapters celebrated Founders' day together with a breakfast which we gave for the visiting members at the Melrose hotel. With two enjoyable summer rush parties behind us, we all looked forward to our Founders' day luncheon at the home of Mrs. Gregg, and an interesting group of meetings this year.

Our first get-together during the summer was a morning coke party for rushees at the home of Romaine Howell. As each guest arrived, a paste-board key bearing her name was pinned on her dress and this lent an informal air to the party. A group of actives entertained with new and old Kappa songs.

Our formal rush party was a swimming

Our first alumnæ meeting was September 19. Plans were made for a pledge party November 12, when convention movies were shown. Marian Schroeder Graham (Mrs. Lester) told many interesting tales about convention. The second meeting, October 8, was at the chapter house. An inspiring talk was given on convention by Hulda Miller Fields (Mrs. Ralph), province vice-president, which made us proud of the many worth-while things Kappa is doing throughout the country.

Founders' day the alumnæ were guests of the active chapter at a buffet supper. The new chapter room was shown and other improvements which were made in the house during the summer. An incident of interest to our alumnæ is the fact that Virginia Sedman Ronhovde, B Φ, was in Oslo, Norway, with her husband and two children during the German invasion. They escaped through Sweden into Siberia and then home to America, but with many harrowing experiences.

We had a rummage sale April 19 and 20 and with the enthusiastic and energetic cooperation of all members it was financially successful. In fact it met with such success that we had another this fall.

At our August meeting 20 members were present. This seemed quite a large number to a group which a year and four months previous was organized with a membership of

The annual Butte-Helena Kappa "get-together" was at Boulder Hot Springs May 21 with 27 Kappas in attendance for dinner. The Shaw sisters, Lillian and Connie, were persuaded to do their specialty of "Baby Sister Blues," while Barbara Keith at the piano was most generous in answering requests for old favorites.

The first fall alumnæ meeting was at the home of our new president, Colette Doherty. Plans were made for our rushing party, a formal dinner at the Country club September

We are particularly glad to have Patty Geagan and Adele MacArthur in our group this year. It makes us feel closer to the active chapter to have the recent graduates. Pat O'Neill, Anne Scarborough and Annette Strong will not be with us this year, as their husbands have been transferred.

Those of us who were in Missoula this summer were thrilled to see the Kappa house surrounded by scaffolding and workmen, and are now waiting impatiently for the first chance to see the new chapter room and other improvements which are Mrs. Keith's dreams come true.

Beta Kappa literally staged a reunion at Kappa convention this summer with an attendance of 50 from this chapter. We will all tell you that a Kappa convention is an exciting place to be, especially when you can bring home the fraternity efficiency cup to grace your trophy case for the next two years.

In college again, and with rush week over, the Kappas are decidedly pleased about their 17 new pledges. With all this in our favor, we are looking forward to another happy and suc-

Gamma Gamma—Chartered 1918 Whitman College, Walla Walla, Washington

With 15 pledges, Gamma Gamma chapter has started the new year with triumph. Informal pledging took place the afternoon of September 22 at the home of Betty Lyman. The actives, pledges and a few alumnæ returned to her home for Sunday night supper. Several talented pledges contributed to the evening's merriment by singing, and the whole group sang Kappa songs. Formal pledging took place the afternoon of September 29. The student body of Whitman college had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Bill Henry, internationally known commentator on the European situation and columnist on The Los Angeles Times. Gamma Gamma was fortunnate enough to enjoy his company when he had luncheon with his nieces, Lucy and Mary Stanton, and the rest of the chapter.

The actives honored the pledges with a picnic October 6 at the cabin of Helen Cole-

Gamma Gamma is doing her bit in war work. The local Red Cross has given us needles and blue yarn, and many of the girls are making either shawls or sweaters. Dr. and Mrs. May, Indo-European refugees, were the guest speakers for a pledgeactive meeting, and discussed the European situation.

Whitman Kappas were awarded the 1939-40 intramural championship cup for the most active group in women's sports, and they also captured the basketball skin for the second consecutive year.

This year the Founders' day banquet and the Sun Valley convention report were turned into one occasion. Kappa alumnæ were the guests of the evening. Miss Lulu Holmes, dean of women, who attended the convention, was the main speaker.

After dinner Jean Driver told of her ex-periences at Sun Valley and passed her scrap book around. To climax the entertainment of the evening, colored movies of the convention were flashed on the screen. The 14 new pledges turned out 100 per cent for the annual pledge banquet, October 23. Helen Snyder Andres, past grand president, was guest speaker. Also that month, Patty Berg, golf champion and a Kappa at Minnesota university, was entertained at dinner.

The glory and honor of patriotism was the theme of the annual pledge dance November 19. We are proud that the pledges and members of this chapter realize that college stu-dents are attending classes during a time of crisis, national and international.

This thought was further emphasized and resulted in something tangible when the girls gave a silver tea and turned over the donations to the Pullman Red Cross in October. Townspeople, professors and their wives attended the benefit tea. Kappa Kappa Gamma was first to lead the State College of Washington campus in this particular expression of social obligation.

Personals

Betty Kimzey was elected honorary cadet colonel of the R.O.T.C. sponsors' corps. The two new sponsors in the house are Jean Driver, Company B, Engineers; and Jean Buckland, Company E, Infantry.

Olympia alumnæ voted to contribute $25 toward the Nora Waln fund for refugee children. Mrs. Waln, who in private life is Mrs. G. E. Osland-Hill, is the author of several outstanding books. We are indeed proud to claim her as a Kappa Kappa Gamma and happy to assist this fund.

We sent Jean McGee, our president, to the national convention at Sun Valley. Her report inspired the chapter with many new ideas for the coming year. Edna Stanford, art teacher at the high school, is in charge of our scrap book. Members are busy with plans for a fall rummage sale.

Helen Christopher is directing Little Theatre work this year. Several members worked on the Civic Music association of Olympia, which went over with an increase in membership.

October 13 Kappa's 70th birthday, found 45 of our 70 members enjoying a breakfast together in the Davenport hotel, where probably, since Sun Valley brought some of you into our western country, you have yourselves enjoyed breakfast and an acquaintanceship with Spokane. How much closer together a convention truly truly brings us! The guest speaker, Lulu Holmes, \( \Gamma \), \( \Gamma \), dean of women at Washington State college, gave an absorbingly interesting talk well illustrated by new and apt stories about the need for us as alumnæ to keep our ideas and information flexible in regard to Kappa and fraternity matters as a whole, as from our ranks come the women who carry on the work of Kappa. Our new president, Mary Verdery Doolittle, presided.

October 16 we had a "no hostess" dinner in honor of Patty Berg, X, who was here playing an exhibition match of golf and who endeared herself to us last year on a like

We have planned a varied and interesting program for this year which should appeal to nearly everyone in the group. Experts in their line from our own ranks are to educate and entertain us as to "Christmas Lighting," by Mary Ann Dysart, F H, of the Washington Water Power company; a book review by Margaret Davenport (Mrs. Harry T.), F F, and "Metal Craft" by Janet Campbell, B II.

Mary Dwight is back in town from New York, where she has just published her Word Songs, a volume of poems exquisitely illus-

For luncheon at the home of Marjorie Sheldon (Mrs. Edmund), the first meeting of the year had an enthusiastic response from members happy to be together again. Three new members were welcomed: Patrica Morch (Mrs. James Carey),  $\Gamma$  H, Dexter Bowman Mead (Mrs. W. J.),  $\Gamma$   $\Theta$ , and Julia Bair,  $\Gamma$  H.

We are anticipating our annual dinner for all active and visiting Kappas, and happy plans are formulating for the usual Christmas breakfast.

Following a lively discussion of ideas and outlines for our projects, winter and spring entertainments, Genevieve Thompson Quinn (Mrs. John T.), our representative to convention, gave an exceedingly interesting and comprehensive convention report. She was definitely impressed with the future plans for Hearthstone. Her first convention will leave always, and conveyed to us, the impression of complete harmony and fine spirit of all scenes, and the unswerving devotion of all officers and chairmen.

A most successful year started for Gamma Mu chapter after a commendable rushing season was brought to a close October 2 when we pledged 22 girls.

Kappa's 70th birthday was celebrated with a Founders' day banquet for actives, pledges and alumnæ members given in the chapter house, October 13. The decorations were blue-and-blue in keeping with the day. Our province president, Esther Moore Payne (Mrs. E. M.), gave us an inspiring talk helping us to realize more deeply the meaning of Kappa.

Janice Johnson, Katheryn Seberg and Geraldine Gilmore, who represented our chapter at convention this summer, have been informing us about the business meetings, Sun Valley itself, and the good times they had dur-

Portland-Established 1919

Portland Kappas opened the season by celebrating Founders' day at a buffet supper October 14, at the home of Myrtle Francis (Mrs. Clarence E.). Graduates and new arrivals in Portland, who were our honor guests, were presented with gardenias. An interesting report on the Sun Valley convention was given, which made more of us wish we could have gone. A discussion followed regarding plans for our rummage sale October 21-22 under the supervision of Darthie Packard (Mrs. F. B.). We are running the sale two days this year for the first time. Meier and

Frank's annual table-setting contest is scheduled for October 21-24, and we are again competing with other sorority groups in Portland for a covered prize land for a coveted prize.

We loved the letters from many of the Kappas who visited us on Portland day, after convention. We hope they all will remember the drive up the Columbia river highway and will come back to visit us again sometime. It was a pleasure to meet them, and we enjoyed every minute of it.

Frances Webb let us have her home for pledging when we welcomed future Kappas.

Active and alumnæ members in Vancouver formed a Red Cross chapter at the beginning of the summer and have since been doing a great deal of work towards aiding the organization.

In an effort to cope with the world situation and to assist our national government, we have decided to give up plans for our annual formal and with the money in our house fund we will buy a war bond.

Plans are now being made for pledge training and initiation. We are all looking forward with enthusiasm to the time when the pledges will formally become part of Gamma Upsilon chapter.

October 11 we gave our 11th annual cabaret. For a while we were afraid that war activities would interfere, but 300 people gathered in the flag-bedecked ballroom which was presided over by two large blinking owls. They sat around blue-covered tables, each with a round-eyed owl as the guest of honour and for a few hours forgot the war and enjoyed themselves thoroughly for the benefit of the underprivileged children we help each year. The "Kappa Cabaret" was again a success and our president, Dorothy Pearson, and Dorothy McDonald, who together convened the cabaret, knew that all efforts had brought even more proceeds than last year.

This year we are introducing an alumnæ award to the active who showed the greatest development as an all-round Kappa in her sophomore year. This is to be an annual award, with the presentation of a cup and a guard pin to the one chosen, at a joint meeting Founders' day. This year Founders' day came in the middle of our Thanksgiving weekend so the meeting was the next Sunday. There was a pageant styled after the convention one with costumes and music dating back to the founding of Delta Phi in 1929. Pat Carey is the active chosen for this year's award, and we are proud of her.

We have settled well into our fall routine. Now that the cabaret is over, we will be able to devote our energies to our work at the Seymour school and our Red Cross work.

Pi Deuteron—Chartered 1880, R. 1897 University of California, Berkeley, California

With a splendid class of 19 pledges, one of whom, Virginia Caswell, was elected freshman queen, we have started a most interesting year. Weekly the whole chapter turns out, white-shirted, for the football games. We indulged in some football ourselves when the seniors, who accepted the sophomores' challenge to a game in a neighboring field, were well-battered, but won.

Another class event was an impromptu Sunday picnic when juniors and seniors stuffed into station wagons drove long miles over our dried California foothills to find a spot to eat. They found it in a dusty streambed, but the sandwiches were so good after the waiting that everyone agreed that the day was a success.

With the Berkeley chapters of K A  $\Theta$  and  $\Gamma$   $\Phi$  B, we participated in the annual flower show. The house was open for the day, and due to the skillful arrangements of the alumnæ we had hundreds of enthusiastic guests.

Founders' day we joined Beta Eta chapter at breakfast. The Panhellenic convention in Berkeley that weekend drew our attendance for three instructive days. Betty Lou Hahn represented the chapter in the Panhellenic fashion show.

Our president, Jean Campbell, returned from convention to tell the story vividly at the first pledge-active meeting. Since the pledges distinguished themselves at first midterms, it seems that they are determined to attend the next convention themselves.

September 19 Pi house association sponsored a flower arrangement exhibit which included the Kappa, Theta and Gamma Phi houses. It was managed by Alice Thomas (Mrs. F. F.), who deserves a great deal of credit for a most enjoyable afternoon. The Kappa house was decorated by Helen Starbruck, with Myrtle Haas (Mrs. A.) assisting. Ten per cent of the proceeds are to go to the Red Cross.

October 12 our Founders' day breakfast, honoring the 19 new pledges, was given at the Berkeley Women's City club. One hundred and twenty attended and our new president, Wilda Hershiser Rosendahl (Mrs. Van W.) gave the pledges a fine welcome. Interesting reports were given and colored movies shown of the convention at Sun Valley. The two reels included scenes of the sports enjoyed, interesting personalities, and dinner on the terrace.

Personals

Our former president, Beatrice Ludlow Flick (Mrs. John), has been made president of the San Francisco League of Women Voters.

News come from Virginia McCormac Bunting (Mrs. Edwin), who continues working at Paramount studios in London while her husband is stationed with the anti-aircraft gunners. Her home in Hempstead, which is 6 miles from London, is constantly menaced. At one time, time bombs were at either end of the street, and until they were removed she anxiously awaited news at her office. Her garden is full of shrapnel and the subways are often shut off. On her bus rides in from Golders Green to London every house window has been shattered. Air-raid warnings prevent much sleep, and her courage at remaining in the thick of things is greatly to be admired.

We've heard that Elizabeth Witter Debost (Mrs. Henri) and her family are back again at their farm in Trouhaut, near Dijon, France. They had evacuated to the south of France a few hours before the Germans came. Although Trouhaut is an occupied region, they seem to be managing quite well. M. Debost has been demobilized, but until he had, their letters could be received by each other between the occupied and unoccupied areas only after they had been sent to America via the Red Cross and thence back to France. As far as we know now, letters addressed as follows will reach her: c/o J. d'Albay, Houdaille, Cusset-Allier, France.

The San Francisco Bay association invited us to participate in a post-convention luncheon at Treasure Island for the delegates returning by way of San Francisco; also to join their Founders' day breakfast in Berkeley. #### Tucson, Arizona-Chartered 1923

Our alumnæ group met October 5 at the home of Mrs. Tom Van Atta. The summer vacation seemed to have brought new enthusiasm into the group and everyone was anxious to enter into Kappa alumnæ affairs once again.

A report was given by Mrs. V. G. Presson, our delegate to the convention at Sun Valley. Mrs. Presson brought back a number of suggestions to help us in our work and a description of this Idaho playground that made us all envious of her trip. She spoke of the exceptional organization which took care of each girl individually and made it possible for her to meet many of the other girls and enjoy the sports with them. The constructive new ideas which were offered at the meetings are going to be used in every way possible by our chapter.

The report gave our first meeting a most interesting note and our only regret was that more of us had not been able to meet and enjoy the Kappas who attended this successful convention.

Our next meeting was at the new home of Mrs. Sam Seeney. The alumnæ group entertained the 22 new pledges that evening. MAXINE CHRISTY KIMBALL

Phoenix—Chartered 1927

In May, the Phoenix alumnæ association entertained rushees and their mothers at a formal tea at the home of Retta Barnard Brinkerhoff (Mrs. D. E.). During the summer, the same group of girls was entertained at a luncheon and swimming party at the home of Virginia McCall Kolberg (Mrs. E. P.). Our third rush party was a luncheon at the Hotel Westward Ho in September, prior to the girls' departure for the various schools.

The Founders' day banquet was October 14 at the Arizona club. The table appointments combined small American flags, red and white roses and the blue and blue of Kappa. Josephine Baptist Craig (Mrs. Carlos) was toastmistress. The theme was "Seventy Years of Kappa Kappa Gamma." Virginia McCall Kolberg (Mrs. E. P.) talked on the founding of Kappa. Eleanor Arthur Davis (Mrs. W. W.) talked on the Hearthstone and Rose McGill funds. Betty Ann Beck, alumnæ delegate to convention, charmed us with news of her delightful trip to Sun Valley and contrasted this convention with those of earlier days. MILDRED MILLER

After an especially successful rushing season, Gamma Xi pledged 26 girls. We are proud of our new pledges, and each one is taking an active part in campus activities and soror-

Though we are concentrating on scholarship, our social calendar is quite taken up. The Kappas and Phi Gamma Deltas gave the first campus dance of the semester, and as it was so successful we hope to repeat it next year. We celebrated Founders' day with a tea at the chapter house for the alumnæ and our mothers, honoring the founders of the chapter.

Our annual faculty dinner was given October 16, and the evening was pleasantly spent singing, having impromptu speeches, and in general, informally.

After the formal initiation of Billie Mae Thomas, Nancy Garlinghouse, Helen Ledger and Beverly Joyce Newman, November 9, the chapter feted the new members with a banquet and dance.

Thank you, Kappa editors, for the October KEY. We thought it was exceptional. Thank you for giving us Dr. Stearns' splendid address. Thank you, Joyce Minor Ellis (Mrs. E. The Glendale Kappas seem to have traveled everywhere except to convention. Mr. and Mrs. Bertram (Eva Haller), F H, and their three children toured through the Indian country of New Mexico and Arizona. Alice Reimers Reinbrecht (Mrs. Adolph), our president, with her husband and two daughters spent two weeks camping in the high Sierras. Alice says next time she wants a good hotel. Florence Powell Gallagher (Mrs. G. A.), X, and her husband spent the summer in Honolulu visiting their son. Marvel Merillat Miller (Mrs. Carl P.), B A, flew to New York to join her husband and travel through the eastern States. Ann Stephenson Tanner (Mrs. Harry L.), B Φ, and her two children vacationed in Idaho with Ann's family. Mrs. R. I. Jones, of Albuquerque, Mrs. M. A. Anderson, of Dallas, and Mrs. G. B. The summer seems to have made us lazy. We are not going to work so hard this year. Our meetings will be a luncheon and social gathering the first Monday of each month. A day at the Farmers' market will be our only money-raising project.

We are looking forward to a visit with Mrs. John L. Sullivan later this fall. PHYLLIS H. HIGGS

Twenty enthusiastic members of our group started the new year with dinner at the home of our president, Winifred Kaseberg Breuner (Mrs. Robert), October 8. Dr. Maude Hester Tillotson, our representative to the convention, gave a most constructive report on all the business accomplished and also told us of the fun one can have attending a meeting of that size. Last fall's rummage sale provided part of the money for this trip, so we feel it well worth repeating this year under the supervision of Blanche Bicknell Lewis (Mrs. John L.). Definite Founders' day plans were not made, but several of the girls insisted on meeting downtown to talk Kappa and have dinner.

Two new members have joined us: Florence Griffen Plant (Mrs. Powell), B Q, and Martha Chickering, II△.

A new Panhellenic organization was formed here in the spring and we are represented by Zola Green Jeffers (Mrs. L. M.), and Mildred McKeel McDuffy (Mrs. Herbert S.). Their first tea was this fall, and you may be sure Kappa was well represented. ELIZABETH SHIELDS SMITH

Hawaiian—Chartered 1924

With the opening of schools and the departure of students for the mainland, the Kappas in Honolulu have swung into the usual fall activities. Founders' day was celebrated October 11 at the home of Becky Larson (Mrs. Victor), on Wilhelmina Rise. The business of the meeting could not be properly attended to until everyone had trooped into the nursery to admire tiny Helen, age four months, kicking her heels in the crib. The association has welcomed two other Kappa daughters this summer besides Helen; Caitilin Herrick, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Colin Herrick, and Dora Jacroux, the third member of the household at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Jacroux. We are also happy to have with us the sister of Sally Herrick, Patty Goep, B A, who is finishing her college course at the University of Hawaii.

The highlight of the summer gatherings was the picnic at the home of Ruth Thomas (Mrs. Rolla K. Thomas) at Mokapu. We particularly appreciated this outing, because it is the last time that the Kappas will be able to gather at Mrs. Thomas' lovely beach cottage. The government has taken over the land at Mokapu for the tremendous building program of defense. Barracks are already under construction and a huge air base is next on the program. We are conscious of our part in the nation's affairs these days with the navy practically in our front yard and sailors on every street corner. The Red Cross is active here, as in other communities, and it was decided at the last meeting that the Hawaiian association should take part in these activities as a group.

The boat schedule has been changed to meet possible emergencies in the Orient, so as the last boat for two weeks is leaving today this letter must get on board now. The association is always happy to wel-come visitors to the islands; we were sorry that a group from convention could not make

Beta Upsilon-Chartered 1906

West Virginia University, Morgantown, West Virginia

Hardly had we unpacked our bags for another year than we were all standing at the front door shaking hands with rushees. Durin the summer we had all managed to make blue-and-blue evening dresses and the last night of rushing (just before rushees left to sign their preference slips!) we wore them. The campus is still talking. They are of light blue pique fashioned with a low slim waist, a sweeping skirt, an off-the-shoulder neckline trimmed in dark blue, and bolero jackets edged in the dark blue. The next day, Beta Upsilon pledged 10 girls.

Elissa Landi, former stage and screen star, and poetess and lecturer, spoke at the university convocation October 2. Her appearance on the campus was due to the efforts of the convocation committee, of which Betty Lou Freismuth is a member. Preceding the lecture, Betty Lou attended the banquet given in Miss Landi's honor, and at a reception for her given by the president of the university. Sara Beneke, Mary Lou Bullard and Connie Bailey were aides.

The next day, Miss Landi was guest at the chapter house for luncheon. She spoke briefly to us, and seemed especially interested in Mary Lou, the "All-American Coed" who turned down a movie career when she was in Hollywood this summer.

Kappa members to Panhellenic, Jane Lee and Mary Buchanan, finally accomplished a chapter objective. They were responsible for Panhellenic's raising the sorority quota to 50. The enrollment in the university has increased steadily while the sororities were limited.

In celebration of Founders' day, the Morgantown alumnæ chapter entertained the actives at the chapter house. A history of the fraternity and of the local chapter was presented and plans for a Homecoming luncheon were completed.

Personals

Four Kappas, Sarah Beneke, Mary Lou Bullard, Nancy Pugh and Elizabeth Romine, were nominated by fraternities on the campus to compete with 30 girls, 10 of whom are to be picked as the prettiest for the annual Press club show.

Further honors were bestowed upon Mary Lou Bullard when she was chosen to reign as queen of the Apple festival in Martins-burg, West Virginia, November 8-10. At the Mountain State Forest festival in Elkins, Betty Copenhaver and Elizabeth Romine were princesses in the court of Queen Sylvia XI. Betty is one of five girls in the university law school this year.

Susan Bachmann, a transfer from Delta Beta chapter at Duke university, was formally affiliated with B T October 7.

Betty Lou Freismuth and Catherine Baer were accepted to take flight training under the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

Elizabeth Romine was awarded the scholarship bracelet presented each semester by Louise Keener, alumna scholarship adviser, to the girl who has shown the most improve-

Anne Stewart, Nancy Pugh, Caroline Jones, Jeanne White, Nancy Jo Ballangee and Gretchen Snoderly were initiated into the Dolphin club, swimming honorary.

Initiated into Orchesis, national dance honorary, were Gretchen Snoderly, Ann Beatty, Eugenia Wright, Evelyn Dangerfield, Mary Jane Dobbie, Jane Lee and Virginia Lee Fleming.

EXTRA!! Four Kappas were appointed R.O.T.C. sponsors: Mary Lou Bullard, Betty Copenhaver, Connie Bailey and Betty Poole.

Nellie Morgan has been chosen as one of the sponsors to represent the university at the Washington and Lee game in Charleston, November 2. This is one of our serious football clashes, and the rivalry between the two schools has been strong for 20 years.

Beta Upsilon's 34th initiation banquet was March 16 in the chapter house. It was such a pleasure to have it in our new home, as that was another dream fulfilled! Ruth Mc-Cue Greer (Mrs. Joseph), from the Fairmont alumnæ association, was toastmistress. Lucy Hoblitzell came from Parkersburg to entertain us with an interesting talk.

Agnes Cady Chitwood (Mrs. Oliver P.), our delegate to the convention, was elected president of the group to succeed Theresa Downer Jones (Mrs. Lloyd M.). Mrs. Jones has moved to State College, Pennsylvania, where her husband, Dr. Lloyd M. Jones, recently accepted a professorship.

October 15, in observance of Founders' week, the alumnæ group met at the chapter house with the actives, and the program was centered about the history of Beta Upsilon chapter.

The Charleston alumnæ association had two rushing parties during the summer: a tea in June, at the home of Jean Ann Pippen, and a picnic in August at the country place of Mrs. W. E. Wright, Katherine Amos Wright's mother-in-law. Both were well attended, and annually serve as a bond between the alumnæ association and the active members who are home for the summer.

Our first fall meeting was October 11 at the home of our president, Lucy Frances Field Wildman (Mrs. Irvin). We discussed our program for the coming year, and plans for raising money to support two of our projects: our regular Girl Scout kampships for two girls and financial aid to a Charleston girl attending the state university.

Bid Sunday was certainly a happy day for Gamma Kappa chapter. Any doubts that we might have had that our rushing was not entirely successful, were dispelled. Our first party was a "Garden of Blue," decorated with light and dark blue flowers. A picket fence opened by a golden key, and a wishing well completed the garden scene. Little watering pots were given for favors.

For the preferential party the living rooms were papered with blue crepe paper with silver stars, for our "Blue Heaven." Our guests sat on white clouds and little angels floated from the ceiling.

And the result? Twenty-four pledges. MARY LOUISE MORTON

The Richmond alumnæ association started its fall activities with a tea at the Country club for the local girls planning to enter the Founders' day was celebrated with a banquet at the Hotel John Marshall. We had as our guests two Kappas from Williamsburg: Marguerite Wynne-Roberts, dean of women at the college, and Edna Klinge, president of the active chapter. Edna gave us a report of their successful rushing season and fine pledge class. She also told us the highlights of convention at Sun Valley this summer.

The program committee has made plans for a series of interesting meetings, including a book review, bridge party, trip to Williams-burg, tea for the Gamma Kappas and other activities to make this a busy year. We are happy to welcome to Richmond a Kappa from Alabama, Virginia Richards, now a freshman at the Medical College of Virginia.

At our first formal meeting this year, Gamma Chi chapter installed a new president, Ruth Crouch. Ruth succeeds Eleanor Sherburne, who had to resign to become president of the Panhellenic council. Other new officers are: vice-president, Elaine Berry; recording secretary, Ethyl Marie John; marshal, Barbara Schmitt and corresponding secretary, Beulah Brewer.

Four new cups are crowded on to the trophy shelf this year: interfraternity sing cup, won last May; university sweetheart trophy, won by Connie Wadden; the bridge tournament cup, won by Anne Peterson and Mary Ida Le Brou; the women's double tennis cup, won by Virginia Stephens and Mary Ida Le Brou; the pledge class scholarship cup, and the goat show cup, all won last year.

To the rushee guests at our Kappa Konga party, September 28, we dedicated the Latin maxim, "She came; she saw; she kongad," splashed on the walls of the Havana night club. Latin-American atmosphere was created with a balcony hung with gourds, night club tables lit with candles and Latin music, swung by their maraqua-shaking hostesses. October 24 we initiated Mary Ida Le Brou man presiding.

College Park association got off to a fine start of another successful year October 9 at the home of Katharine Appleman Longridge, our new president, with Mae Cotter-

We congratulated ourselves anew on our choice of convention delegate in Katharine, who told us enthusiastically of her activities at Sun Valley. Those of us who were unable to attend convention this past summer are all the more determined not to miss the next one after listening to her fine report and perusing her clever scrapbook of all the Kappa doings at one of America's loveliest resorts.

Maryland's Homecoming day October 12 provided us with a grand opportunity to see many old and new faces, catch up on all the latest news of weddings, babies and careers and glow with pardonable pride at viewing the artistic Gamma Psi house decorations which brought the actives one of the two much-coveted loving cups as a prize.

While only a few of our members were able to attend Founders' day banquet October 14 at the Brooke Farm tea house, we are sure that November 13 will see a fine group when Mrs. Upshaw, province vice-president, is to be with us for a sociable evening of getting better acquainted with each other.

We plan a big Christmas party at the chapter house with contributions of food, clothing and toys for needy families.

Delaware—Chartered 1940

Since about 40 stray Kappas from all corners of the United States are now making Delaware their home, there seemed to be sufficient enthusiasm aroused among the members to form an alumnæ association. For several years we had been having occasional, informal "get-togethers," one of the most delightful a tea with Mrs. Richard Shryock, grand president, as guest of honor, who en-couraged us to become organized as soon as it seemed advisable. Finally, after a supper meeting last May at the home of Margaret McCullough Clymer (Mrs. William F.), B A, we decided to sign the petition for a charter and take the necessary steps for organization.

Officers elected for the coming year were Mrs. Clymer, president; Margaret White Martin (Mrs. Frank E.), Ψ; vice-president; Helen Vincent Sedwick (Mrs. H. F.), Γ B, secretary; Virginia Lee Culver, B T, treasurer; and Nina Vest Douglas (Mrs. Carleton E.), T, and Virginia Niemann Carley (Mrs. Bartlett F.), I E, as board members.

During the summer months our activities were at a standstill, but we had a tea October 28. Mrs. Reba Hodge, president of the Beta Iota alumnæ association of Swarthmore, was with us to tell us about convention, and to assist in getting our group started. We are looking forward to a pleasant future together in the name of Kappa.

Barbara Cosler, our delegate to the convention, reported at the first formal meeting on the events at Sun Valley and showed us pictures taken there.

All the sororities entertained at a Pan-

The supper was followed by a short informal meeting at which Chris Eller told us about the founding of Kappa Kappa Gamma, after which everyone joined in singing Kappa songs.

We are proud to announce the initiation Sheena Webster and Barbara Ellithorp. In order to introduce the different sororitwo informal open houses in the chapter rooms for the freshmen and transfers of this year.

October 24 the pledges and active members met together once more at a pledgeactive meeting, following a supper in the

Our first fall meeting, at the home of our president, Emily C. Schilpp,  $\Delta$   $\theta$ , October 9, was highlighted by talks on the Sun Valley convention and on Kappa history, national and local. Ruth Diggs,  $\Gamma$   $\Psi$ , association dele-

For the observance of Founders' day, Mrs. Carlton A. Douglas, T, who helped to organize the Baltimore alumnæ association in 1926, came down from her home in Newark, Delaware, to tell us about the founding of women's fraternities, the founding and early history of Kappa, and the establishment of our own association. It was indeed a privilege and a pleasure to listen to the reminiscences of one of our oldest and best-loved members, one whom we seldom see now, but whose spirit is always with us.

The success of this meeting can best be gauged by a remark of one of our new members, "I didn't know an alumnæ meeting could be such fun!" During the first week of the 1940 school year, the members of Gamma Pi were hostesses to a greater number of rushees than ever before. We are proud to include 20 new pledges in our chapter.

Havard Ewing, Florence Gaskin, Betty Kramer and Lola Ann Sale were initiated into Gamma Pi, October 2.

In order that our pledges might become acquainted with the members of the fraternities, and to promote interfraternity feeling, we have been "swapping pledges." This has become a custom and is highly endorsed by all fraternities on the campus.

Our Founders' day was observed by a short but impressive service. The program presented the history of the fraternity, including those people who played an important rôle in the life of the fraternity; a history of Gamma Pi chapter; and a brief account of the Kappa of today as she was exemplified by the 1940 convention, and the Kappa of tomorrow, who will always strive to uphold the standards set by our fraternity.

A year ago we started talking about our responsibility for the annual spring luncheon of Panhellenic, and we are still talking about it! July 17 Elizabeth Ballard Dupuis, PA, of Miami, Florida, Mu province vice-president, spent the day in Birmingham. Nearly every Kappa who was in town attended a dinner at Highland Terrace gardens in her honor. Afterward we adjourned for dessert and coffee in the home of Ruth Elliott, T II, where we spent a memorable evening hearing about Sun Valley.

A rush party at Helen Jordan Cowin's, September 4, completed our summer schedule. More than 50 alumnæ, actives, and

This year, for the first time since we organized, we made an effort to continue our meetings through the summer months. It was rather a difficult proposition, since our membership scatters to the four winds with the coming of hot weather, but we managed to have a fair representation present each time and devoted our discussions mainly to rushing and to getting a line on prospective rushees. In this we were aided immeasurably by local actives home on vacation. From one of the latter we had also a first-hand account of the convention at Sun Valley, Peaches Schoo-ley having been a chapter delegate.

We decided to have one really nice rush function and August 29 we entertained a dozen girls at luncheon at the swank Bath club on one of our gulf beaches. A revolving centerpiece featured the luncheon table, where places were marked with blue keys, and each guest received a gardenia corsage tied with ribbons of blue and blue.
