Campus Sights and Sounds

U.S. BICENTENNIAL and summer Olympics in Canada have popular campus attention in 1976, but decided trends for educational institutions are in focus for the 1976-77 school year: the return of the no-need (merit only) scholarship, increased unionization of faculties, and an average of eight to ten per cent increase in tuitions.

THE AGE of one-third of all college students is over 25 while three million of these in the U.S. are over 35. Fastest growing in numbers are those over 60. The University of Texas is offering special orientation programs for students over 25 who are returning to college.

HATS, be they mortar boards or military, thrown into the air to celebrate the moment degrees are conferred has long been a tradition at many schools. This year at Colorado as each school stood to receive degrees journalism graduates waved newspapers, music graduates got a fanfare from the band, and medical grads let loose a torrent of frisbees which was likened to an "explosion of white corpuscles."

CAREER-ORIENTED education continues to be a matter for debate-where education ends and job training should or does begin. Those in favor of increasing classroom time devoted to career preparation say it is high time for educators to become realistic while the opposition contends that the idea smacks of vocationalism and does not produce educated individuals. Michigan State placement officials urge career counseling as early as elementary school and "on through college if employment options for college graduates are to increase."

CONSUMER EDUCATION is an area in a growing area of academic emphasis on a number of campuses.

REMEDIAL ENGLISH-composition, grammar, spelling, punctuation, and the like-continues to be the top priority educational topic of the day. The problem, recognized and identified, is being met with a variety of remedial courses across the country. The fact that the depth of the problem extends down into elementary school educational gaps makes many wonder how much correction can be accomplished in a two-term remedial course.

MORTAR-BOARD in its first year of female/male membership reports that of 170 delegates to its June conference 19 were men. On most campuses the tapping of men to the formerly allfemale honorary was "no big deal" and in one case 20 of 35 chosen were men. The national headquarters of Mortar Board reports that a few men had refused election to the organization, one writing that he thought he was a liberated thinker until tapped by Mortar Board when he discovered that he was a male chauvinist after all!

UNIVERSITY PUBLICATIONS-posters, brochures, yearbook, etc.-are now being produced by a student operated graphics studio at Kent State, providing internship experience for graphics students while saving the University funds formerly paid to outside businesses. The studio also takes assignments from non-profit organizations.

BIBLE COLLEGES are among those recording a noticeable enrollment gain, a gain noteworthy even in a year of general enrollment increases. According to statistics offered for early 1976 major public universities are up 2.3 per cent, major private institutions up .5 per cent, multi-purpose institutions up 4.7 per cent, and the schools closely tied to fundamentalist religion gaining an average of 7 per cent.

AID VIA TELEPHONE is offered to any and all with a problem-for prayer, suicide prevention, nursing the baby, and so on! The newest phone-a-flurry rampant across the continent is the Rumor Checkpoint number which can be used on many campuses (and communities) to clear the latest fantasy from true facts.

Chartered in 1819 by the general assembly under the sponsorship of Thomas Jefferson, the University of Virginia still bears the imprint of its founder. Jefferson designed the buildings and campus, gathered the faculty and shaped the organization. The university was the most liberal institution of learning of its time, with curriculum totally elective, no religious tests of practices, faculty all equals, and students under the honour system. Many of the ideas of administration and curriculum that dominate American universities in the 20th century were anticipated by Jefferson.

The university opened to instruction in 1825, in the beautiful and traditional setting of Charlottesville (current population of over 40,000) and with grounds occupying more than 1500 acres of historical interest in the Blue Ridge Mountain country. The Rotunda and its attached colonades of student rooms interspersed with Federal style two storied "pavillions" housing administrative officials front on the "lawn" and form the central focus of the campus. Small public gardens behind the residences, separated by serpentine brick walls and an outer row of student rooms on the "range" complete the setting.

Student population of the university is over 14,000 with teacher population of 1500. Prior to 1970 women students were admitted only at the graduate and professional level. By 1974, 41% of the student population was women. For 1975 school year, 10,000 applications were screened for an approximate 2500 acceptances. Academic divisions are the College of Arts and Sciences with undergraduate schools in Architecture, Commerce, Education, Engineering and Nursing. Bachelor degrees are offered in 58 fields, masters in 79 and doctoral in 65 fields in addition to Law and Medicine.

National Panhellenic Conference groups already on campus include ZTA, $\Delta\Delta\Delta$, $\Pi B\Phi$, and $KA\Theta$. Kappa Kappa Gamma happily establishes Epsilon Sigma Chapter at the University of Virginia with a sense of historic celebration in this year of the American Bicentennial.

The state of the union report by Marian Schroeder Graham BΦ-Montana, Fraternity President, mentioned the wave of nostalgia that has swept the nation and given impetus to Greek letter social system at most colleges and universities.

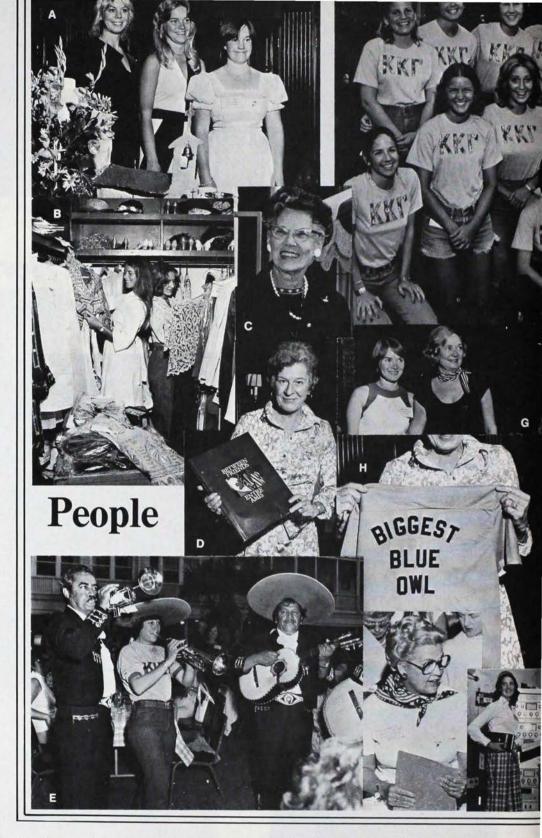

Two-year figures as of June, 1975 showed an increase of 95,016 (3.5%) for a total initiated membership of 1,658,-834 in National Panhellenic Conference groups. This represents a spread in number of chapters from $\Theta \Phi A$ eleven to ΔZ 180. Only AΔΠ with 416 alumnae chapters and KA with 390 alumnae chapters. exceeds Kappa alumnae groups. Fourteen of the 26 NPC groups, however, have more chapters, pay more per capita than does Kappa. Having lost one chapter this year, today we have 95 chapters and at least two coming next year. Our total initiated membership is 100,600. This year there are 6891 active members.

Where the '60s were a time in which we saw the rights of freedom of association challenged, the '70s have produced its challenge to the single sex organization. On both counts, the fraternity system prevailed and emerged intact. Campus life styles are constantly changing, however, there are some reassuring constants. The economy of the country and an evolving work ethic find many of our actives holding part-time jobs to supplement funds for their education and social activities. More cooperative college and exchange programs, travel as part of or an adjunct to college education and time out to work, finds our members extending their educational period.

More opportunities and options are available to women in their choice of career. A survey taken by a leading university indicates one woman in six now plans to enter one of the more masculine careers: law, business, medicine, engineering. Ten years ago, it was one in sixteen. This has to be because of more possibilities for jobs.

Twenty-two percent of the college students own a passport, eight percent plan to visit Europe within the next year, sixty-eight percent have a typewriter, fifty-six percent a bicycle and thirty-two percent an electronic calculator. Of the women ninety-two percent have a hair dryer, while forty-seven percent of the men own one.

A renewed interest in the more social aspects of college and university life lead too often to overscheduled, overcalendared programs. There is a return to better dress codes but social graciousness and manners are lagging. There seems to be a general lack of consideration and courtesy shown each other, yet these collegians want to be useful and they aspire to give all a chance to make a constructive difference in each other's lives.

College students are better informed and more inclined than ever to turn to the judicial system for redress of grievances. Religious organizations are coming back onto campus. All these factors lead to a different life style and affect the direction of the chapter programs.

While not a required program in our chapters, philanthropy continues to be an extremely popular activity for many of our chapters and the size of their undertakings is astonishing.

There has been a marked improvement in active-alumnae relations, marked increase in the number of chapters producing newsletters and these of much better quality, more professional and attractive, content more interesting, economy by using campus facilities to print, and increased circulation.

Advisers continue to add continuity to chapter life with 150 new advisers this year, many with no previous experience.

The field secretaries serve as educators, teachers and motivators for our chapters and are invaluable in ascertaining chapter needs and campus trends.

Through the lower standards of society, the effect is felt to a degree within our membership. With nine million alcoholics in this country, too many of them of college age, we must encourage greater awareness and understanding of alcohol abuse and social drinking. We should be helping our membership develop responsible attitudes and mature decisions.

Freshmen on campus this year are a bit more conservative than those of the past years yet a bit more permissive about sex, more likely to plan study in fields leading directly to careers, regarding themselves as altruists, yet almost half feel they can do little to change society. Many of these freshmen look to fraternity life to provide small living groups of friends within that large impersonal university. They are seeking additional options to programs planned primarily around the interest and activity of men, in a setting where numbers and options and scale of campus life defies personal relationships, they find cooperation and friendship, rather than competition, to be the key.

THE KEY/FALL 1976

Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity Headquarters Building now displays the flags of The United States of America and Canada. In honor of the Bicentennial the flags have been permanently installed and lighted for night as well as day viewing. Kappa's home at 530 E. Convention Urges Career Counseling Conventions are held for the purpose of electing officers, hearing reports, and transacting the business of the Fraternity. Elsewhere in this issue of The Key can be found accounts of the officers elected, awards presented, brief capsules of reports, and truly a visual presentation of those present at the 51st biennial convention of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Here are the resolutions presented and adopted by the convention. The Alumnae Resolutions Committee brought three issues before the convention. Nancy Broyhill Dudley, Γ K —Wm. & Mary, chairman, reported the following:

"Resolved, That Council investigate the possibility of group insurance plans for members of the Fraternity who are interested."

(Initiated from the Philadelphia Alumnae Association it is designed primarily to meet the needs of those members who cannot qualify for any other group insurance programs, typically because of recently being widowed or divorced and not covered by any employment of their own. The committee broadened the wording to apply to all types of insurance and to all members, whether they qualify for other plans or not. This resolution only asks Council to investigate the program. It does not commit Kappa to a program. Jane Koke, Fraternity treasurer, has been appointed chairman of this committee.)

A recommendation not a resolution:

"Because of growing concern over evidence that many students are graduating from college without readily marketable skills and that many students are not availing themselves of career counseling programs that may be provided by their college or university; and, further, be-

"Pride" Is Not A

By James Marine,

President Bowes Advertising Agency

I am here to talk about pride, and I want to apologize to all you fine ladies for using what seems to be in our lexicon today a dirty word. You are not supposed to feel pride today. Of course, you never were supposed to feel pride. Back in the Old Testament it said, "Pride goeth before destruction," not, incidentally, before a fall, but "before destruction," which is worse than a fall. Samuel Pepys used to pray to God that he would not be afflicted with pride. Mark Twain said, "There are a lot of things that can get you into trouble, but pride is the only one that will keep you there."

And today you are not only not supposed to feel pride, but if you do feel it, you are not supposed to admit it. Quite to the contrary, you are supposed to feel guilty. You are supposed to feel guilty maybe about America or about the energy we consume or the food we eat or the money we spend or the way our ancestors treated the blacks, Chinese or anybody else. As a matter of fact, there is really only one thing you are not supposed to feel guilty about any more. There used to be a saying that people were too proud to ask for charity. Now you are not supposed to be too proud to ask for charity; you are not even supposed to feel guilty about asking for charity.

Things have changed, of course. Nowadays men—and I don't mean the kind that go to Washington out of a job, but I mean corporate presidents and industry representatives, who apparently don't have too much pride to ask for charity at all, are all over. They don't call it charity; they call it being realistic, being pragmatic. That is what is involved now in asking for charity.

But if you think of the definition of pride, it really isn't such a dirty word after all. There are two definitions in the dictionary: one which says that pride is having a high value of one's worth. It also says that pride is having pleasure or satisfaction in one's achievement or one's capability, as the old saying, "Proud of a job well done."

Now pride, in other words, if it is a high value on your worth, if it is pleasure and satisfaction in achievement, it says that you can rise above circumstances, that you don't have to be bound by circumstances. It says that you can out-perform other people, maybe in one particular respect, maybe in lots of respects, but pride says that you can do those two things, rise above circumstances, out-perform others—or at least try like the devil to do those things.

So pride really is the same thing as self-respect and self-confidence and a sense of responsibility. It is everything implied in a motto that my father used to drum into me when I was a little fellow. He used to say, "Anything worth doing is worth doing well." That seems to be another motto that died along with pride today. But any job worth doing is worth doing well, and it is sort of the symbol of pride.

Pride is really a good word. It is not a dirty word at all. Pride, you know, is really what got this country started, because it takes pride to be willing to fight for freedom. You can't have a high evaluation of your own worth and still think somebody else ought to be responsible for you. If you have a high evaluation of your own worth, you decide you will be responsible for you.

Now, that is what those few rebels back in 1775 decided. You know we had a country then of about three and a half million people, really only about ten percent of whom were enthusiastic about revolting. There was another ten percent who were enthusiastic about not revolting. And there was eighty percent who were neutrals. But those ten percent who were very eager to overthrow England had a great deal of pride. They believed and you've seen this television commercial, I guess, in the last two or three months—"Mother, I'd rather do it myself." Well, that is what they told Mother England: "I'd rather do it myself," and that takes a lot of pride.

I don't think if they had not had that idea—that they could do it better themselves—that we would ever have had a revolution. We would still be a part of the British Empire, and that might not be bad. I don't know. But it takes a high opinion of yourself to think that you can lick Britain, and especially when you only have three and a half million and they have several millions and a fine professional army. It took an awful lot on their part to decide not only that it was worth fighting for, but that there was a chance that they could win.

Those of you who have been to Valley Forge may have felt the ordeal that those people went through. That was one of the greatest demonstrations of mass pride you'll ever see in history, as those poor starving, almost clothesless soldiers somehow held together, and the only thing that held them together was pride.

There is great pride in the Declaration of Independence, which was written by Thomas Jefferson, and then all the other delegates got together and said "yes" or "no" to what he had written. Most of them said "yes", and it sets forth their objectives, their aims and the rights they have to say they are going to separate themselves from Great Britain. And in the very last line, perhaps one of the most beautifully written declarations of pride in our history, it says: "To those goals we mutually pledge our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor." And that is a very proud statement. It is the same kind of pride that has made America the leader of the world after only two hundred years of existence.

We sometimes get accused of being a little bit arrogant with our leadership—and sometimes we are, just watch some of our tourists overseas. But we have a lot to be proud of, and it is pride that got us there.

We have six percent of the world's population in America. The critics within America damn us for consuming thirty percent of the world's energy. They forget to mention, however, that we produce fifty percent of the world's manufactured goods with that six percent of the world's population.

We have one percent of the world's farm population. With that one percent of the world's farm population we feed our six percent very comfortably, and we export twenty percent more of the world's total farm products, which is done with one percent of the population.

It goes without saying that America has the highest standard of living in the world. Those who have been abroad have seen the kinds of things most people in other countries look upon as luxuries—in some cases unattainable—and we take all of them for granted in this country.

No country in the history of the world has ever been more generous than America, more willing to help other people in trouble than America, more unwilling to enslave people than America. That is not an American me saying that, that is a Canadian saying that about us. And I think that generosity, that willingness to help, that tremendous standard of living, that tremendous level of productivity—which supports in some cases almost half of the rest of the world—is a product of more than anything else; the conviction that we can rise above circumstances; the conviction that we can out-perform other people; the conviction that we are going to have some self-respect and self-confidence—all of those things which make up pride.

A Kappa is also a product of pride, and I see a lot of pride in this Fraternity. I don't have to tell you about high standards of character, conduct, performance—standards which first were promulgated through pride, and second—and more importantly—are now adhered to through pride, but for one hundred and six years Kappa has built upon a base of pride so that its membership stands out from other people because of that base. I have seen cases of Kappa holding the line against what some people call the new morality, against a general trend that happily right now seems to be slowing down a great deal—a general trend toward demoralization. I see pride in the high esteem in which other people hold Kappa, and I see pride in Kappa in the general recognition that Kappas are leaders.

You have to have pride to be leaders. Bruce Barton, who was a U.S. Senator, said: "Nothing has ever been achieved except by those who dared to think they could rise above circumstances." That's a pretty strong statement. Lord Byron said it much more strongly and more bluntly, "The vile are only vain; the great are proud."

Now, of course, you can get too proud, and that's where I think another one of the wonderful distinctions of women come into play. Women, I have discovered, in my own experience of having now five in the house, are great humblers, and when I get a little too proud there is bound to be somebody there that can humble me. You can be proud and humble at the same time. They are not incompatible. Rousseau said, "Great men never make bad use of their superiority because the more they have of it the more they know about their own deficiencies." The proud can afford to be modest—maybe because they have a lot of security in their pride. It is those who don't have anything to be proud of who think they have to be immodest.

We have secretaries in the office who are not ashamed of being secretaries. They are good secretaries and that is their demonstration of pride, and they get very high salaries, because it is hard to find proud good secretaries.

It's a funny thing, but you never think in terms of not getting drunk as a demonstration of pride. But when you get drunk you put your control under somebody else's influence, and proud people don't want to do that. I don't mean that proud people don't ever get drunk, but they know that that certainly is not a demonstration of pride.

It takes pride to be a successful business man, not simply to make an honest profit but to make it on your own. Pride is being honest, because proud people know they can get what they want without lying or cheating or stealing. Pride is being polite and thoughtful, because pride means wanting to do what is right for other people as well as for yourself. Pride is being conscientious; it is giving every task something extra, something to make it a little better. Sometimes pride is just showing up for work, or all these meetings.

A proud person refuses to do something that is questionable, simply because "everybody else does it." I think maybe pride comes down finally to a question and answer, one you've heard and used many times. You need to decide whether or not to do something, and someone asks you, "Who will know?" and you answer, "I will." That is pride.

Pride obviously takes a lot of hard work and discipline, which may be why so many people in this country would maybe forego being proud . . . you know, why should you go to all that trouble?

Perhaps there are three reasons for being proud. First, if you demean your own worth and belittle your own abilities, pretty soon you won't have any worth or any abilities. Finally you get to the point where you can't do things and there is only one thing left: contempt. Contempt first of other people and finally contempt of yourself. And heaven help anybody whose only possession is contempt for themselves.

The second reason that you should have pride is that if you don't respect your own worth how are you going to respect anybody else's? If you don't respect other people's worth, you can't respect their rights, and you certainly can't love them.

Finally, I think pride is the only thing that is going to keep America free. We have today a happy trend, if you happen to be on the receiving end, of everybody looking for some way to absolve themselves of responsibility. You cannot have pride and run to somebody for help. You must start with yourself.

The Holy Grail in America has become "security". Not freedom, not initiative, not self-reliance. Security. Security at somebody else's expense and under somebody else's control. Edward Gibbon in The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire wrote, "In the end, more than they wanted freedom the Romans wanted security; and they lost it all, freedom and security."

Do you know why they did? Because they lost their pride. Too many people do think that pride is a dirty four-letter word, but pride is a lovely five-letter word; the key to achievement in anything. It is the key to the only kind of security worth having, security with freedom, the kind of freedom to which those proud men two hundred years ago pledged their lives and their fortunes and their sacred honor.

A newly elected Council has been installed for the biennium with Jean Hess Wells as president of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Jean has served the fraternity in many many capacities with her latest being director of chapters for the past four years.

Jean was a charter member of Delta Upsilon at the University of Georgia and served that chapter as recording secretary. Since college she has been membership, pledge, scholarship, and chapter council adviser to Delta Upsilon, Delta Rho, and Epsilon Epsilon chapters at various times. She had the honor of serving on the colonization and installation committees for EE, EH, EK, EM, and EN chapters (Emory, Auburn, S. Carolina, Clemson, and Vanderbilt).

Her fraternity service includes Mu PDC, assistant to the president, assistant to director of membership, Mu province rush helper, president of both Atlanta and Memphis Alumnae, fraternity vice president, and director of chapters.

Jean and her husband Bob have two children. Their son Jere is a senior at the University of Georgia majoring in English Literature with plans for graduate school and to teach. He organized and was captain of the Lacrosse team that just won the Southeastern championship. Their daughter Cathlean is a sophomore in high school.

Bob (ΣAE) is in private practice as an orthopedic surgeon who serves in his "spare time" as team physician for the Atlanta Flames (pro-hockey team), and the Atlanta Braves (pro-baseball team). He is also on the Board of Counselors for the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons, secretary, Board of Directors American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons; Board of Directors Piedmont Hospital; Board of Directors Blue Cross/Blue Shield. He still gives two weeks of volunteer service every year in Haiti providing orthopedic care to crippled children and adults working with several mission groups, principally the Albert Schweitzer Hospital. When it works out time wise, Jean likes to accompany him.

Jean has also served her community well. She is currently serving on the Executive Committee and Board of Trustees for the High Museum of Art, retiring as Secretary; former president of the Members Guild of the High Museum of Art; active in the decorative arts program; and manager of the Antiques Show; retiring from two terms on the Board of Sponsors of the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra; vice president of the board and vice chairman of the building committee of her church (building under construction).

Marj says, "I have four children of whom I'm unbearably proud. For so long I was greatly involved in volunteerism, then I was suddenly thrust into the "working world" which made me stretch in other directions. T'was good for me. Now I feel I have a happy blend of both—a part time job and work with Kappa, the most rewarding organizational work of all."

Marj has been president of Republican women, board member YMCA, past president P.E.O. and helped start a children's library.

Jane Lindsay Koke, $\Gamma\Omega$ —Denison, has graciously consented to continue as fraternity treasurer serving her fourth term of office. Initiated at $\Gamma\Omega$, Jane later affiliated with ΔB —Duke, where she was treasurer and a member of ΦBK .

vention this summer and Carolyn, 16, is still in high school. Bob is a commuter to Wall Street where he is president of the Eastdil Corporation. We have a small sailboat and we also like to body surf."

A special hobby of Jane's is needlepoint and Danish embroidery—in fact she did a kneeling cushion for her church. Most of Jane's activities are related to the church and work in various capacities for Wilmington Flower market. Jane has the unique title of chief deputy Sheriff of New Castle County, Delaware and has held this job since 1975.

She has been Beta PDA since March 1973 and prior to that time served the Philadelphia Alumnae Association as president, vice president, public relations chairman and Blue Print Editor. Gay claims Kappa consumes most of her volunteer time but, "I love every minute of it. My other major responsibility at this time is the designing and construction of our new home."

sylvania. They are interested in music, preserving the environment and local government. Gay is currently on the Board of Directors for the Newfoundland Library and has been a director of the Ft. Kappa Scholarships Announced

Philanthropy helps with "Hands, Hearts & Heads"

By Betsy Molsberry Prior BN-Ohio State Director of Philanthropies

In my letter to the chapters and alumnae groups, the word "Philanthropy" is defined: "Love of mankind, especially as manifested in deed of PRACTICAL beneficense." What could be more practical than scholarships for those who truly want and need to continue their education?

Forty-two years ago, Kappa Kappa Gamma began to offer scholarships: first came the Fellowships. Forty years ago, we added Undergraduate Scholarships. Thirty-four years ago, we found a great need for Emergency Scholarships and those were added to the growing list. Twenty-five years ago, we decided to add Rehabilitation to our Philanthropy Scholarships. Finally-just a year ago, we have

Serving as Graduate Counselors this year are six Kappas who will assist each chapter in all Fraternity matters in return for a graduate scholarship of tuition and fees paid by the Fraternity and room and board furnished by the chapter. Each Graduate Counselor is a Kappa who has held a responsible position in her own chapter, has been accepted to graduate school, and has a desire to continue her contribution to Kappa beyond undergraduate chapter life.

Caren Cook, B⊖—University of Oklahoma, received a B.A. in psychology and will be attending the University of California at Davis and assisting EO chapter. Caren served her chapter as pledge chairman and president, and is interested in outside sports and painting and all kinds of crafts. Discovering "What the World Needs Now" entailed much work for the Epsilon Kappas at Illinois Wesleyan. Jerry Lewis' theme song in the fight against muscular dystrophy was an inspiration, however, as the chapter joined forces with the Acacia Fraternity to stage the first annual Acacia-Kappa Kappa Gamma "Dance For Those Who Can't" last spring. All proceeds went to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Acacias and Kappas maintained shifts throughout the 24-hour period to keep up the spirits of the dancers and to Jean Cooper, E-Illinois Wesleyan, dance marathon chairman.

Still another Kappa chapter was "on the run" last spring in the race against muscular dystrophy. Having entered the Gamma Phi Beta track meet on the Oregon State campus, Gamma Mu Kappas finished with a clean sweep. The entire team placed first and each individual came home with a placing ribbon. Their pride in good performance was equalled by their joy in being able to help in the run for muscular dystrophy, the recipient of funds raised by this track meet, through donation "bets."

Many miles away but close in heart and aim, the Kappas at Auburn University also won a first place for fund-raising efforts. During the annual Greek Week activities, Epsilon Eta Chapter joined Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity to sponsor chances on a seven-day trip for two to Acapulco. Their ambitious project led to overwhelming ticket sales and a resulting contribution of $1400 to the All Campus Fund Drive. Added to their happiness about their first place trophy is a special excitement about being able to send the winners of the trip to Acapulco on their 25th wedding anniversary.

provide backrubs or foot massages—anything to keep the dancers moving! Competition dances, ranging from the jitterbug to the hustle, were held often and judged by cochairpersons Jean Cooper, E—Illinois Wesleyan, and Acacia Phil Wilson. Prizes donated by local merchants were awarded to the winners. Goldfish swallowing, raffle drawings, and a visit from Illinois Poster Child Mary Shippen were among the events staged to keep enthusiasm high.

The process by which money was raised was two-fold.

The process by which money was raised was two-fold. Couples were given three weeks preceding the marathon to secure pledges for each hour danced, and cash donations were placed in individual canisters for each couple during the event. Dancers competed for the grand prize of a color television set in addition to numerous other prizes. Even though these gifts were an incentive for the dancers, most agreed that the real reason they were willing to dance for 24 hours was their belief in the fight against muscular dystrophy.

Donations were collected for the two weeks following the marathon by the couples, then handed in to the chapters at a "Let's Celebrate" party. The grand total of $5,500 was presented to John Mazzotti, field representative for Region 8 of Muscular Dystrophy offices. What the world needs now is more dance marathons for MD!

About the same time, another dance marathon was in full swing at the University of Montana—this one to benefit epilepsy. With Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity, the Beta Phi Kappas raised the largest amount of money for the marathon through such activities as a car wash and a bake sale. Susan Bunting, $B\Phi$ —Montana, and SAE Jud Teague were the winning couple, and each received a \$250 scholarship for this fall's use.

Outstanding

In the spring of this year, three Mu Chapter Kappas were selected for recognition at Butler University's annual "Outstanding Students Banquet." They are Elaine Campbell, Jeanne Hambidge, and Karen Hungerford. Jeanne gained added recognition by being chosen one of the top ten women at Butler. She was president of the Association of Women Students 1975-76, a Beth Schofield Scholar 1976, and a member of Mortar Board, Chimes, Spurs, and Phi Kappa Phi. Karen's previous honors have been as a member of Mortar Board, Chimes, Spurs, Kappa Delta Pi (education honorary), and Glamour Magazine's Top Ten Coeds. Karen was Mu Chapter president, and Jeanne served as second vice-president. Both received special honors also at the annual Matrix Table.

Jeanne Hambidge, M-Butler.

Single Honors Reflect Multiple Activities

Torchbearer

Jean Marie Calloway, EA—Tennessee, is one of the nine seniors to receive the University of Tennessee's highest honors by being named a Torchbearer. Based on scholastic achievement, activities, character, and service to the university, the honor recognizes the students as representatives of the motto: "One that beareth a torch shadoweth oneself to give light to others."

In addition to her Torchbearer honor, Jean also received a Chancellor citation for "extraordinary campus leadership and service" and was tapped as a member of Omicron Delta Kappa (leadership honorary), which included women for the first time this year.

Jean's other campus activities include being treasurer of the Coordination Council for Women, cochairman of the University Center governing board, student counselor to University President Edward Boling, and president of the undergraduate alumni council. She has also been associated with Panhellenic's Judicial Board, Vol Corps, Carnicus, rush counseling, orientation, Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Kappa Phi, and Mortar Board. Jean indeed exemplifies extraordinary leadership and service.

Jean Marie Calloway, EA-Tennessee.

Ideal Greek Woman

The Kappas of Epsilon Chapter (Illinois Wesleyan) were thrilled to hear the announcement at the end of Greek Week last spring that Marianne Wolf, E—Illinois Wesleyan, was chosen Ideal Greek Woman. Marianne was the 1975-76 Panhellenic co-rush chairman, chairman on the executive Homecoming Committee for two years, assistant chairman for the university's Mom's Day, and Junior Panhellenic president.

Diving Champ

Susy Honnen, ΔZ—Colorado College, is one of four teenagers named to the AAU age group diving team that competed in a series of European meets this summer. Susy, former two-time state high school champion, won first place in the 3 meter springboard and second place in the 10 meter platform event.

A member of the Colorado College varsity diving team, Susy's coach has been Captain Micki King, 1972 Olympic gold medalist and currently men's diving mentor at the Air Force Academy. This team is not only the youngest ever to represent the U.S. in the series, but also the first age group contingent to compete behind the Iron Curtain. According to the Denver Post Susy received the Metropolitan YWCA Sportswoman-of-Colorado Award for her diving achievements.

Marianne Wolf, E-Illinois Wesleyan.

It's Music to Our Years

Continuing in the tradition that was originated by Delta Chapter in the 1959-60 school year, and that has since spread nationwide, this year's Delta Chapter Kappa Pickers have been singing for in-chapter events and for campus and fraternity gatherings all year long. Constantly adding new arrangements to their repetoire, the Pickers are even considering the addition of two new instruments. Since the 1959 beginning of Pickers groups with Delta Chapter at Indiana, this chapter's Pickers groups have been on USO tours, have performed in the "All-American College Show" in Hollywood, and have even cut three records.

Delta Chapter's musical talents are also seen through their involvement in the Indiana University Sing, an I.U. Student Foundation-sponsored activity that has been on the Bloomington campus for 47 years. Fraternities and sororities pair up for the competition, and each group presents a musical skit involving singing, choreography, instruments, and elaborate costuming and scenery. Barb Stock, Δ —Indiana, was chosen one of the four emcees for the I.U. Sing this year.

The All-Sing competition on the University of Tennessee campus this year found the Epsilon Lambda Kappas winning a second place in the large group division. These Kappas carried their performing arts skills even further as they joined the Sigma Nu Fraternity for the first time this spring to do a skit for the university's Carnicus competition. Carnicus is a production put on annually by the Greeks for the entertainment of the students on campus.

Lynne McGee, BE-Texas.

Those "well-rounded" Texas Kappas-

Beta Xi Kappas rounded up all their enthusiasm for this spring's university "Round-Up," and they came out on top in many categories. The "Most Humorous Float" award was presented to the Kappas and Beta Theta Pi Fraternity, who had teamed up to build a huge boat float entitled "Austin Tea Party." Earlier in the week the Kappas joined the Acacias in selling smoked sausage at the Round-Up Carnival. And Kappa athletic ability and dexterity was unmatched as they took first place in the chug and peddle contest.

A highlight of the week was the crowning of Lynne McGee, BΞ—Texas, as University Sweetheart, a special honor voted on by the 42,000-member student body. Lynne is also in Orange Jackets (women's service honorary), Alpha Lambda Delta, Dean's List, Texas Possee (freshman-sophomore spirit and service organization), Texas Union Recreation Committee—and she maintains a 3.8 grade point average!

TO Marianne Spurrier, H—Wisconsin, one of six photographers to receive a $1,000 educational scholarship from the Eastman Kodak Company. The awards were presented at the most recent national 4-H Club Congress in Chicago after 50 finalists had been chosen from among 300,000 competitors. Marianne is an agricultural journalism major, on the Dean's Honor List and a member of the Agricultural Communicators of Tomorrow Club.

TO Allison Opel, $\Gamma\Phi$ —Southern Methodist, presently active as president of the university's Dolphin Club, the women's synchronized swimming organizationn. Gamma Phi Chapter (Southern Methodist) has made a name for itself in many sporting activities in addition to swimming—And they are most excited about their second place overall win in women's intramurals, which included chapter firsts in jogging, archery, and track.

TO tennis champs from Oklahoma and Auburn Universities. Pictured above is Judy Barger, B⊖—Oklahoma, the #1 player on the university women's tennis team, Oklahoma intercollegiate state tennis champion both for #1 singles and doubles. Judy was also Oklahoma high-school champion in #1 singles for four consecutive years. At Auburn University, Epsilon Eta Kappas Carol Dixon and Becky Rawls both won first places in their respective divisions at the state tennis playoffs.

TO University of Colorado Kappas on the ski team Bizzy Repetti (left) and Laurie Logan. They are avid competitors for the national title in women's giant slalom and practice racing every day after classes. Weekend competition leads them to races throughout the West. Also, Bizzy maintains a 4.0 grade point average in business school, and Laurie intends to major in recreational therapy with emphasis on athletic training, specifically coaching the university's women's ski team.

HATS OFF!

TO Gail Dunphy, ΓΥ-Maryland, who has achieved fame in studio design. Her talents have been seen in painted display designs for auto dealerships, an import shop, and a restaurant—with one of her designs chosen for the cover of a pamphlet produced by her department at the university. Gail has also written several feature articles for the school newspaper and has served as art director and editor of a dormitory complex newsletter.

TO Wendy Gajewski, Y-Northwestern, who as a singer, actress, and pianist has performed all over the country and has worked with such wellknown stars as Caesar Romero, John Davidson, and David Fry. Active in theater productions at Northwestern, Wendy was a principle soloist and in the choral ensemble in the 1975 and 1976 Waa-Mu shows. She spent last summer working at the newly opened Marriot Great America Theme Park in the Great America Stage Show in Illinois.

FOR Gamma Phi Chapter at Southern Methodist who concluded a week of fun and hard work with the first place spirit trophy at the close of Sigma Chi Derby Day. Karen Fry was Gamma Phi's chairman for Kappa Participation which included a Picker serenade, cookies, signs, a special bulletin board, and a "This is Your Life" skit based on information for Sigma Chi parents and an ad in the campus newspaper.

Derby's On!

FOR Epsilon Kappas pictured to the left who took second place in the sorority relay games for Illinois Wesleyan's Sigma Chi Derby Days, 1976. The highlight was the Kappa artists finishing in the top three places in the poster contest to maintain the chapter's record reputation in this category for past four years. Also a part of the week-long celebration was the participation of the Greeks in the Sigma Chi philanthropy "trampathon" for Wallace Village Center for children.

Kappas Combine Travel and Study

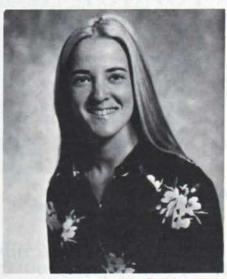

A 75th anniversary for a Kappa chapter is a special time and is made even more memorable with a celebration and the presence of a founding member. Beta Mu Chapter (University of Colorado) had just these ingredients last April as the chapter gathered with Beta Mu alumnae and alumnae from Boulder and Through Illinois Wesleyan's Short Term Travel program, six Epsilon Kappas were able to spend the month of January in Europe studying the business aspects of European society. Sarah Plumb, Lyn Tomlinson, Nancy Stoerzbach, Marianne Wolf, Joni Arens, and Catherine Rust, E—Illinois Wesleyan, travelled to five western European countries in their studies.

A Gamma Delta (Purdue) Kappa has received a high honor in being selected to attend Miami University's (Oxford, Ohio) European Center in Luxembourg this year. Anne Berman, ΓΔ – Purdue, will live in

Gamma Sigma Is Inactive

Fraternity President Marian Graham announced at convention that with great sorrow the active members of Gamma Sigma Chapter, University of Manitoba, Winnipeg, Canada, had requested of the Council that they be allowed to surrender the charter of their chapter to the Fraternity.

The active members believed the campus attitude towards fraternity life not conducive to the chapter continuing. In 1974, there were seven women's fraternities on the campus. The following year two left the campus and this year only fifteen girls went through rush and of this number, only ten pledged. As the Kappas leave the campus, there are four groups left with from three to eighteen members.

It is with great reluctance that the Council voted to accept the charter of Gamma Sigma Chapter which came into being in 1928.

Coming Attractions

Many new officers have been appointed—meet them in the Winter issue of The Key along with a special spotlight on Kappa Artists and Kappas in Print. Philanthropy will be a featured article, and a brand new section on careers will make its debut with a first installment on Kappas in medical careers.

The Key staff has enlarged and wishes you to know that beginning with the Winter issue Lois Catherman Whittaker, $B\Sigma$ —Adelphi, will be the new Alumnae News Editor; Mary Beth Vawter Richardson, Θ —Missouri, the new Career Editor; and Anna Mitchell Hiett Pflugh, BM—Colorado, the continuing Active Chapter News Editor.

would triple that income!

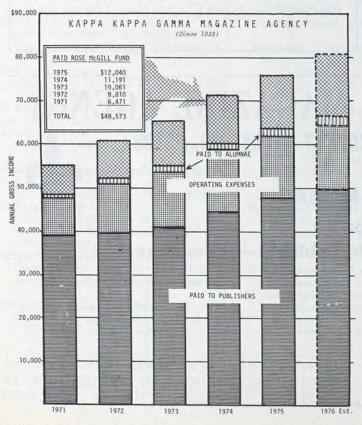

Six years ago, at the 100th Anniversary Convention, a group suggested that in some way we should POP open this possibility. From this suggestion came the "P" ercentage "O" f"P" articipation (POP) Award (see chart A which shows the production expenses and gains for 5 years-(1975-76 figures not available until auditors report). The Award is a gold charm or pendant given to the chairman whose Club or Association produces the percentage of money sales (See Chart B). The first year less than a dozen received the award. Each year more have qualified until at Convention 1976, 24 charms were given. Some have won every year and so the charm is given to some interested alumna who has helped in some particular way. Hobbs, N.M. with 14 members hopes that in time every member will proudly wear the charm which shows an open magazine supporting a full-blown rose.

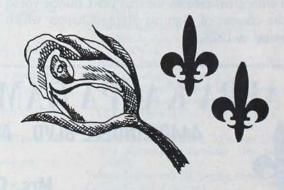

There are other benefits! Through production and increased sales over the previous year, Associations and Clubs can win money awards. (Chart A) Also a bonus check is sent each chairman figured at the rate of 7% on the net amount sent above the per capita of $5.00 per paid member. Hopefully this bonus will pay all expenses incurred by the chairman for postage and promotion. (See chart A)

Alumnae News

Montgomery, $\Gamma\Phi$ — Southern Methodist, president of the Dallas County Heritage Society; and Frances Dowd Moore, $B\Xi$ — Texas, chairman of the Dallas Alumnae Association's Tour of Homes

Dallas Tour Benefits Historic Park

Another outstanding benefit has been staged by the Dallas Alumnae Association, which reports profits of $21,000 from its latest biennial Tour of Homes.

Alumnae have donated $3,000 of the proceeds to a Dallas Bicentennial project, restoration of Old City Park. Sponsored by the Dallas County Heritage Society, Old City Park contains 15 authentic buildings which trace the development of Dallas from its boisterous pioneer days in the 1840s, through its rapid growth as a railroad crossroads, to its emergence just after the turn of the century as a city of national importance. Alumnae think their donation is especially appropriate because, in the 10 year history of the Heritage Society, a Kappa has been president every year but one.

Other tour proceeds distributed this year include $4,050 to Theta Province chapters, $500 for an emergency scholarship, and $1,000 to the Rose McGill Fund. Also, Children's Medical Center in Dallas will benefit from a coloring book for day surgery patients being published by alumnae. Additional beneficiaries of tour proceeds will be announced in 1977.

The "Blue Owl Boutique" held at the 1976 convention was a huge success. According to Barbara Terry Henderson, △-Indiana, chairman of the event, gross sales amounted to $8,655.95. There were 59 alumnae groups participating with over 40 Kappas from the LaJolla, San Diego and North San Diego County groups working as volunteers to staff the boutique. Top volume groups were: Indianapolis-official Kappa jewelry from the Pollack Co.; Portlandwooden ornaments; Kansas Citypainted glass ornaments and blue wooden curtain rings framing needlepoint fleur-de-lis; Lackawanaleaded glass owls, and other symbols.

Northern Virginia-originally designed Kappa motif silk scarves; Pi Province-ceramic cookie presses; and San Jose-stationery and notepads.

There were cookbooks galore with an especially clever one by Wichita with a zuccini collection. Needlepoint kits were a favorite as were numerous handmade items. Special Kappa T-shirts sold by the Los Angeles Association were also very popular and worn at convention by all ages . . . and all sizes. Items ranged in price from 25¢ to $50 with 5% of gross sales going back to the convention treasury to defray costs of the boutique. Just to compare results the first boutique held in 1974 made $4,200.

cause of the significant potential resource among alumnae members to provide help in this area, the committee on Alumnae Resolutions recommends that the Council study the adoption of a program whereby alumnae groups could be encouraged to undertake career information programs of benefit to actives and pledges, and whereby alumnae advisers would be encouraged to insure an awareness among actives and pledges of available career counseling."

(Gay Barry, director of alumnae, has been appointed chairman of this study committee on career counseling and been asked to report to the Council at their January meeting.)

"Resolved, That Council establish a Loyalty Fund to receive voluntary contributions to the Fraternity to promote the programs of the Fraternity, and that a committee be appointed to explore ways of promoting this fund as soon as possible."

(Eloise Pingry, former director of philanthropies, has been appointed chairman of this study committee.)

Suzanne Crimm Milligan, delegate of the Columbus, Ohio Alumnae Association, presented the following resolution as chairman of the Resolutions and Recommendations Committee.

"Whereas, The delegate to the National Panhellenic Conference is involved in major areas of Fraternity operations; and

"Whereas, Her attendance at Council meetings is an established fact;

"Resolved, That a Bylaw amendment be proposed to the 1978 convention adding the office of National Panhellenic Conference Delegate to the Council of Trustees."

(Phyllis Pryor, National Panhellenic Conference Delegate, has been appointed chairman of this study committee.)

Beating the blahs

Several Philadelphia alumnae are working with an enrichment program for women known as project "IDENTITY," a series of workshops—conducted by experts—on such topics as time management, loneliness, assertiveness, finances and fashion.

Heading the project is Catherine Lanham Miller, Δ -Indiana (left), author of "How to Say Ses to Life: A Woman's Guide to Beating the Blahs." Two of her volunteer assistants are Clare Van Dyk Burtch, BT-Syracuse, and Patricia Handley Turney, Λ -Akron.

Promising Pilot

With co-writer Spring Asher, Wicke Oliver Chambers, $\Delta \Upsilon$ — Georgia, has produced books, magazine articles, and a popular newspaper column. Now the two Atlanta wives and mothers have turned television producers, making a pilot film called "City Kid" which they hope to expand into a series for national TV.

Motivated by a conviction that children's programming must be improved, they've studied the field and enlisted advice from producers of the acclaimed "Electric Company" series. Their pilot is receiving excellent reviews.

Curtain time

Omaha alumnae had a Bicentennial sewing bee and made cafe curtains for Sigma Chapter at the University of Nebraska. First and second floor bedrooms were ready for rush week, but the "Cinderellas" on third floor had to wait for a later shipment.

"The number to call in Denver is . . . "

To help keep evening and weekend programming on Denver's P. B. S. station, Kappa alumnae joined with Pi Beta Phi alumnae to conduct a "Kappa-Pi Phi Pledge Night." The alumnae staffed telephones at station KRMA and recorded pledges of donations called in by viewers.

1909 initiate

Fun and profits

Columbus alumnae met with Beta Nu actives at the Ohio State University chapter house for an auction of handmade items, plants and baked goods. Alumnae co-chairmen Dorothy Ann McGinnis Kreinbihl and her daughter, Anne Kreinbihl, both BN, say much credit for the evening's success goes to lively auctioneer Doris ("always and still called 'Pearley'") Mandel Brewer, $\Gamma\Omega-Denison$, who helped boost the evening's fun and profits.

Omega reunion

Eleven members of the 1936 pledge class of Omega Chapter at Kansas University met recently in Wichita! Reunion planners were Sis Morris Sweeney, Virginia Lee Steeves Meyer and Betty Kester Holmer. Others attending were Marge Spearing Downey, Helen Geis Westlund, Virginia Shelden Wilhelm, Betty Gene Sayles Fleming, Betty Ann Yankey Rogers, Peggy Lynch Boerstler, Dorie Johnson Hewins and Maurine Gray Springer.

Archie's other wife

"The real Mrs. Carroll O'Connor is nothing like Edith Bunker, the dingbatty, kitchen-bound housewife of All in the Family," said an article in the Los Angeles Times entitled "Archie's Other Woman." In fact, the story said Nancy Fields O'Connor (ΒΦ-Montana) is a gifted actress and painter who manages a busy household with skill, whether the family is living here or abroad. Recently Nancy and her husband were named 1976 co-chairmen of the U.S. campaign for the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF). She is the daughter of Hulda Miller Fields, BΦ-Monformer province officer and former director of membership.

Calling all curlers

Curling? It's a fascinating winter team sport shared by over 5,000 American women, many of them Kappas. To find who the Kappa curlers in their area might be, Maxine Binet Gilboy, H − Wisconsin, and Annabelle Perry Lueck, B⊖ − Oklahoma, organized a "Kappa Kurl-Off" at Kettle Moraine Curling Club in Delafield, Wis., and sent invitations to 27 area clubs. Response was so great they plan to make the Kurloff an annual event.

Curling is an ice sport in which contending parties "deliver" special stones from one mark to another. Sportsmanship is all-important, so games begin and end with a handclasp from each participant, and a wish of "Good Curling" is a must. It's great fun and offers rewards of good exercise and fellowship. Eighty clubs may be found in 19 states. Maxine has been women's editor of North American Curling News, and if you wish to know the club nearest you, write Mrs. J. E. Gilboy, 100 Beggs Isle, Oconomowoc, WI, 53066.

Still Picking

Former Kappa Pickers of Delta Chapter at Indiana University have organized as Alumnae Pickers.

The latter was one of the original Delta Pickers who began performing in 1959 "as a joke" and later became so proficient they recorded three albums, and made two U.S.O. tours.

Judy's book is Mmmmmmmm good

You've heard her speak at Convention or read about her in THE KEY (Summer, 1976). Here—in response to several inquiries—is additional information about the cookbook edited by Fraternity Achievement Award winner Judy Ford Stokes, EE—Emory.

"Atlanta Cooks for Company" is the name of Judy's book, and it is published by the Junior Associates of the Atlanta Music Club, of which Judy is a member. Featured in the Ladies Home Journal and cited by the Chicago Tribune as one of 10 outstanding regional cookbooks in the nation, the book also has received attention from The Washington Post and other major newspapers recently.

When Democratic Presidential Nominee Jimmy Carter was governor of Georgia, he hosted a reception for Judy and other Music Club members in the governor's mansion to recognize the book, which happens to include a favorite Carter recipe, "Plains Special" Cheese Ring.

Great for Kappa gift-giving, "Atlanta Cooks for Company" is available in major book stores or by writing Mrs. Frank Law, 721 Cumberland Circle N.E., Atlanta, Ga. 30306. ($5.00 per copy, plus 50 cents for handling—Checks payable to Cookbook-Atlanta Music Club). Alumnae who own book stores or gift shops may obtain wholesale order information from Mrs. Law.

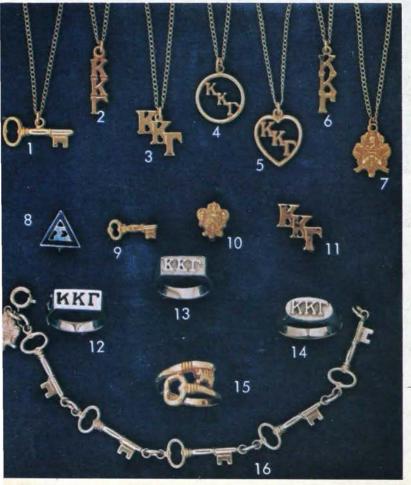

All proceeds from Judy's book benefit scholarship funds or philanthropic projects. Fill out card and mail (with label attached) to Fraternity Headquarters, P.O. Box 2079, Columbus, Ohio 43216. Also notify your chapter.
