THE EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

THE year in review presents a very important march of time in Kappa's history.

JANUARY—Plans were underway for the Georgia installation as well as the coming general convention.

FEBRUARY—Southern hospitality really was in evidence at the installation, which was managed by the Atlanta alumnae. In spite of the rain the charm of Athens was still evident. Ruth Seacrest, president, Helena Ege, director of alumnae and the executive secretary officiated. Following on the heels of this event, the president and executive secretary returned to Columbus to meet with the convention committee, Isabel Simmons and Marie Macnaughtan. Marty Cox, director of chapters and Elizabeth Park, convention hostess, joined us for part of the session.

MARCH—Miriam Pheteplace Schick, a member of the constitution committee flew from Rochester to Columbus to help assemble the material for the convention letter on the proposed changes to be considered. Kappa lost one of her most beloved leaders, May C. Whiting Westermann. Twice grand president, historian, ritualist, and the holder of many other offices, she will be missed from fraternity gatherings.

APRIL—This month found the president, parliamentarian and executive secretary in New York working on the convention program. After clocking the meetings at Sun Valley, it turned out that they did not miss the time but by a few minutes.

MAY—The battle of transportation requisitions started. Mr. Sudhoff of the Burlington Railroad, should be made an honorary member for attempting this task over and over again—a marvelous feat.

JUNE—Sun Valley and all its glory was kind to the Kappas. Even the sun which had not shown its face as much as customary the week before shown on us and we are grateful to the weather and the management of Sun Valley, as well as the convention committee for making this occasion a memorable one for all who attended.

JULY—July found the council in session trying to make plans to carry out the wishes of convention. Marjory Cross, who accepted the position of field secretary for this year joined us for instructions and last minute words of advice. The executive secretary returned to Columbus by way of Berkeley for a conference on furnishings for the new Pi house. Another stop in Dallas where plans for the decorations of the new house at Mississippi and redecoration for Arkansas were discussed with the decorating adviser.

AUGUST—The central office struggled with the Constitution and its many changes made by convention so that the book could be in the hands of the chapters and associations as soon as possible. An architect was selected for the new house at Ames. Stillwater was moved into a rented house pending the building of its new one.

SEPTEMBER—According to the wishes of convention, construction on the new wing to the Hearthstone was begun. The contract for the addition to the house at Southern California was signed.

OCTOBER—Bucknell was installed in accordance with convention vote. The write-up of this charming town and school was published in the December issue of THE KEY.

NOVEMBER—Mississippi really moved into their new home, which is the first one to be completed of the present housing program. Mrs. Pauline Lane, mother of the fraternity vice-president, Mary Jim Lane Chickering, is their housemother. A trip through Oklahoma and Arkansas solved some of the problems of the Stillwater house and gave a chance to see the new decorations at both Norman and Fayetteville, as well as the lodge at Tulsa.

DECEMBER—The month of clearing up the year's business. Betty Jane Scrivner came to the central office to meet Marty Cox and the executive secretary in regard to graduate counselor duties. December 23 still found the office at work at eight o'clock in the evening, rushing out the installation notices for the San Jose installation to be held in January. Then time out for Santa Claus.

"Your First

Hundred Meals

What will it be tonight?

"See my new casserole" says Wife Mary to Husband Barrett.

B a waits the d for M tossed sal

IF PLANNING can make "your first hundred meals" of your first year as a housekeeper easier, Mary Scott Welch, B A-Illinois, and her husband Barrett should be voted a medal for Mary's new cookbook entitled Your First Hundred Meals. It is a volume, published by Charles Scribner's Sons, quite different from standard cookbooks. There isn't a recipe as such in the book, but instead you find marketing lists and complete scheduling for the preparation of 100 of America's most popular meals. Foolproof instructions have been worked out and timed, pots and pans listed, even pointers on how to light the gas flame on a range. Guides on buying and storing foods and what to have on your pantry shelf are all included in this wonder book.

Mary Welch took graduate work in radio writing at Northwestern and studied photography at the Art Institute of Chicago after receiving her degree at Illinois along with a Phi Beta Kappa key. While in school she did promotional work and started her career in the advertising department of a Chicago department store. After that, a period with Esquire followed in their promotion department. During the war she was an ensign in the WAVES where she wrote publicity releases and magazine articles to acquaint the public with Navy food and clothing activities. Following this marriage combined with her career. For a time Mrs. Welch was West coast representative for Coronet and Esquire magazines. Next she did promotion and publicity for radio stations. Upon her husband's discharge from the Army they started their own business, Welch Reports, a point of sale survey organization set up to conduct market research in drug and grocery stores, reporting on merchandising activities for manufacturers of low unit cost products.

All during this period Mary wrote free lance fact writing and had articles appearing in Esquire, Coronet, Harper's Bazaar, Mademoiselle, Parents, This Month. About a year ago she became an associate editor of Pageant magazine.

HARTFORD'S FIRST CITY MANAGER CHOSEN

Wilma Strawn Sharpe, B P<sup>Δ</sup>-Cincinnati, is the wife of Carleton F. Sharpe, Hartford, Connecticut's first city manager. They are pictured on the preceding page with their three children, Suzanne, age 14, and Richard and Carolyn (twins) age 9. Mr. Sharpe's sister Maxine Sharpe Chubb, is also a Kappa and a member of B T-Syracuse.

After obtaining a master's degree from the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, Mr. Sharpe became research assistant in the Cincinnati, Ohio, Bureau of Governmental Research. He was named, one year later, executive assistant to Cincinnati's city manager. In September, 1934, he became city manager of St. Petersburg, Florida, but resigned in 1936 to become assistant director of the United States Conference of Mayors in Washington. After achieving remarkable success in several other positions he returned to St. Petersburg as city manager, then past the 100,000 population mark, and in December, 1947 was chosen Hartford's first city manager. Already, he has been responsible for many improvements in Hartford's government. Mr. Sharpe has written numerous articles for American City Magazine on phases of city manager government.

DAVID H. KEPPEL APPOINTED WELFARE DIRECTOR

David H. Keppel, husband of Ruth Paige Keppel, B T-Syracuse, has been recently appointed welfare director of the City of Hartford by City Manager Carleton Sharpe. To accept this post he resigned as deputy commissioner of the Maine State Department of Health and Welfare where he had been since 1944. Prior to that, Mr. Keppel had been executive secretary of the Family Service Society of Bangor, Maine. From 1938 to 1942 he was a case worker for the Youth Service Society of Buffalo, New York. A native Syracusan, he was a graduate of Syracuse University and a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon. He received his master's degree from the New York School of Social Work.

Before the arrival of Judith Mary, age seven, and Paige Elizabeth, age two and a half, Mr. Keppel was a women's radio commentator in Buffalo. Her hobby at the moment is trying to get her husband to repair and refinish furniture to fill the nine room house they have recently purchased in Hartford.

KAPPA HELPS GUIDE REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE

WILFREDA HEALD LYTLE, B M-Colorado

Wilfreda Heald Lytle, B M-Colorado, was elected in November, 1948, vice-chairman of the Republican committee for Brandywine Hundred which is the largest hundred in Delaware, being composed of numerous suburban developments.

First going into politics in 1946 at the suggestion of a group of friends Mrs. Lytle opposed the Republican organization in her election. In April, 1948, the state and county chairmen of the party urged Mrs. Lytle and her group to contest the election of the Republican committees in all 15 districts of the Brandywine Hundred. They took over control from the machine by an overwhelming majority although the old machine candidate won in the August primaries.

Included among Mrs. Lytle's many activities are the AAUW, the Prisoner's Aid Board, the Junior Board of the Memorial Hospital and the State Association of Public Welfare.

Newport Harbor, California's Mayor Is Kappa Husband

Dick Drake, University of Iowa, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, is mayor of the town of Newport Harbor, California. His wife, Rowena Evans Drake, B Z-Iowa, writes the following story of life in this resort town.

NEWPORT HARBOR is a spangled world of blue and gold, peopled all summer by 35,000 yachtsmen, swimmers, sport-fishermen, their wives, children and retainers. More than 4,000 pleasure craft call this port home, and fill the waters with white sails as they laze up and down the bay, or stream out through the jetty for ocean sailing.

There are five distinct communities which make up this sprawling city, two of them, Corona del Mar and Newport Heights lying in the hills above the harbor, and the other three Newport, Balboa and Balboa Island, together with several lesser islands, resting only inches above the high-tide line.

When Labor day arrives, slightly less than half the population departs for Pasadena, Los Angeles, Beverly Hills, San Bernardino and all the warm interior, the children among them picking and screaming at every step. Those of us who are left look appraisingly at each other to see how we have survived another summer, and then settle down to the best life in the world. The gulls and loons come back again; little sea-lions who have come into the harbor with the tide, bark in the night and frolic in the daytime sun. We sail and read and talk and go up onto the heights to watch sunset behind Santa Catalina. We make plans for a community theatre, and plans for yacht races, and plans for Kappa philanthropies (Pi Phi, Delta Gamma and Tri Delt projects, too). And of course there's work to do. Some days now the spangles are gone and all our world is gray water above and below, and the "surge and thunder on a western shore" sounds angry and menacing. But some of these days are the best of all.

And then one night across the watery darkness of the Bay comes the sound of carols and from our windows we greet again the Christmas-tree-on-a-boat, which every year makes a nightly cruise around the Harbor during Christmas week. All good things seem to come doubly so to us. Here we have one beautiful tree above, and another even more beautiful reflected from the water.

Winter brings the commercial fishing fleets as they rendezvous for fishing runs or hurry in for shelter in a storm. They give the Harbor another look, not so gay, but no less picturesque.

The Thursday nearest to "Cinco de Mayo" finds the ocean off Newport a-bob with sails as the 150 entries for the Newport Harbor-Ensenada Yacht Race endeavor to get behind the starting line before the big guns boom. This annual event is the largest ocean sailing race in the world and the spectacle of its start is not more wonderful than the sight of all these

Able Lawyer Becomes Missouri's Lieutenant Governor

A KAPPA brother and husband, 47 year old James T. Blair, Jr., Sigma Chi at the University of Missouri, is the new lieutenant governor of the State of Missouri. A Democrat, he ran without opposition in the primary election in President Truman's home state and was near the top of the ticket in the final balloting. Blair married Emilie Chorn, O-Missouri, in 1926 and has two sisters, Grace Mary Blair Turner, O-Missouri and Margaret Blair, former pledge at Missouri.

The Blair family long has been prominent in Missouri politics. Subsequently he served in the Missouri House of Representatives from 1928 to 1931, and was the youngest man ever to become majority floor leader of that body. His career was interrupted by World

Tennis Stars from East and West Win New Laurels

Movies Hold No Attraction for Net Star

By Mabelle Bennett McGuire,
Γ X-George Washington

WHEN Nancy came in the other night, just bursting with enthusiasm over the U.S.C.-Notre Dame tie score, she was the perfect example of our modern lovely Betty Coed. Her smile radiates her healthy charm and delightful personality. Not long ago her photo graced the cover of a nationally published magazine, This Week. After seeing it, a Hollywood executive wanted to screen test her, but such a life holds no interest for Nancy. Her chief avocation is tennis.

Nancy Anne Chaffee started to play game at the age of nine and a half when father, Harold S. Chaffee, a tennis professor of Ventura, California, began to instruct her. She played her first tournament in the Southern California Junior Tennis Championships in the 13 year class and reached the finals where she was defeated by Pat Stanton, Γ Z-UCLA. She defeated Miss Stanton three months later, however, in Pasadena. For the next two years Nancy played in tournaments, winning the Southern California 13 year title and also the 15 year championship, when she was 13. At 14 she won the 18 year class, and at 16, she won the United States Hardcourt Championship singles and doubles at Berkeley, California.

Then East to win more laurels at the net. First, she reached the semi-finals in the U. S. Grass Court Championships in Philadelphia. In 1947, she won the finals and that year, 1948, she won the Girls' National Sportsmanlike Trophy for outstanding court manners, tactics and appearance. At 18 she won the U. S. Grass Court singles and doubles.

Nancy is 19 now; so this year she played in the senior women's events at Forest Hills and Philadelphia. She reached the semi-finals and quarter-finals in several major tournaments, defeating such players as Magda Rurac, Roumanian champion, Dorothy Bunday, and was one of the only three women players to take a shot from Mrs. Margaret du Pont, present holder of the National Women's title. Recently Nancy defeated Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd, number 4 ranking player in the United States.

In October Nancy played in the Pan-American Championships in Mexico City, where she defeated Madame Nelly Landry, champion of France.

Plans for this year include tournaments in New York, Bermuda, Miami Beach, and Wimbledon, England. For this reason Nancy had to stay out of college for a year, but next year she will return to the University of Southern California where she will be a junior in the school of radio. She was a charter member of the Delta Tau chapter of Kappa on the U.S. campus.

Determination Conquers for Doris Hart

Some twenty years ago the young tennis champion Doris Hart was born in St. Louis, Missouri. About two years later, the young toddler at play in the back yard had a collision with what is supposed to be the iron part of a clothes-drying contraption causing an infection which almost necessitated amputation of one leg. An immediate operation by the family doctor, recalled from a vacation trip, saved the leg but for many months the child was immobile. Eight years later when Mr. Hart's business took his family to Florida, Doris was subjected to a second operation to help straighten the leg, although the doctor declared that she would always walk with a limp. This handicap has been much publicized and many stories have been incorrectly circulated about infantile paralysis and rickets.

It was during the period of recovery from this operation that Doris' first interest in tennis was aroused. Tennis courts envisioned from the hospital window served as a diversion for the child and as soon as she was able to be up and around her mother got her a tennis racket and she and her brother Bud teamed up for practice sessions daily.

At the age of 13 Doris first appeared in the National Junior Championships in Philadelphia. Twice in the next four years she won the title. From then on she has advanced in the tennis world and is now rated as one of the ranking players in this country. Last spring the star made her third trip abroad, playing in Paris and Brussels and at Wimbledon where she defended her doubles title playing with Patricia Todd. At the Wimbledon matches Doris played to the finals and also had the privilege of meeting the royal family.

This fall the traveler continued her conquests in Bermuda where she was a grand slam winner, taking all three events, the singles, the doubles, and the mixed doubles. Now our tennis queen is on a tour of Australia where she finished another grand slam at the South Vales tournament in Sidney. In Melbourne she won the mixed doubles championship in the Australian Championship playing with Frank Pigman. Before returning to this country in February she is playing in both Adelaide and Brisbane, Australia.

Doris' family consists of her mother and father, who is secretary and treasurer of the Jacksonville, Florida Kennel Club, as well as two brothers. Often all or part of the family are on hand when she plays in Forest Hills in the summer, lending moral support to their favorite star. While playing around the world, Doris has met most of the famous players of this generation in many countries. She has beaten Margaret Osborne du Pont and Louise Brough among others.

While in college at the University of Miami, Doris became a member of Delta Kappa chapter. She is the outstanding woman player in the State of Florida and that, coupled with her own personality, makes her a favorite in tennis, campus and social life. Her mother writes "Both her dad and I are indeed proud of her" and Kappa is indeed proud of this member who has overcome her handicap to get to the top of her profession.

Assists Director of Japanese Soldier Shows

June M. Harney, B N-Ohio State, is serving with the Eighth Army Special Services as a theatrical technician assigned to the 24th Division on Kyushu. It is June's responsibility to assist in the direction and coaching of soldier show productions in that area. She will work directly with the theatrical director assigned to the division and will assist him in all phases of soldier show productions, in addition to portraying feminine roles in some of the productions.

Prior to coming to Japan, June worked for nearly a year in Germany with headquarters at Weisbaden. Upon her return to the United States in December, 1946 she was employed by the National Theatre Conference Placement Group of Cleveland, Ohio and in 1948 she was awarded a Rockefeller Fellowship in acting and later taught at Indiana University. She has completed partial work for her master's degree at Indiana having received her bachelor's degree from Western Reserve University.

A Happy New Year Wish Sent from South Africa

SALLY CLASSEN SEVERINGHAUS, Ψ-Cornell, and her husband Jordan, now living in Heidelberg, Transvaal, Union of South Africa, send their new year's greetings in the following letter. "Our little town is a gem. Set close up in the foothills of the Suikerbos Rand (The Sugarbush Ridge), its red-roofed houses and white-washed walls are the charm and beauty of the 'dorp' set among the blue gums and the pines. But most important, as anywhere else in the world, are the people. While this community, being 90% Afrikaans, is apt to look askance at Englishmen, they have a warm spot for the Americans. They commonly think we won our revolution and they lost theirs. Out of this comes a common bond-in-spirit. But on the more ordinary level, these people are like most Americans, open and hearty. Sometimes this attitude is modified by religious reserve, and compounded by reserve (initial) toward strangers. They have been our teachers. They have helped us speak their language. In doing so they have gradually taught us about themselves.

"Shortly after the Christmas season we must leave this small highveld Boer town. But we shall miss Heidelberg.

"This year has been full. We have visited the gold mines (and saw $750,000 lying in bright gold bullion before our eyes); coal mines too. We have seen a bit of the Transvaal and took a quick trip to Durban on the South coast. We have seen Zululand, one of the Native reserves. And in July, winter season over here we joined a 'safari' and drove through Portuguese East Africa, up to Nyasaland and the Rhodesias.

"Next year we shall be in the Golden City of Johannesburg. We wonder what we will find. There is much to see and learn. It is a challenge to both of us. But always we think of home. It is a great heritage to be an American."

Washington Campus Typical of the Scenic Northwest

SITUATED in the heart of the scenic Evergreen State, is the University of Washington. Nearly a century ago in 1861, the University was established in Seattle by the territorial legislature. On November 4, of the same year, classes were opened in a general school building erected on the outskirts of the pioneer city. The first class was graduated in 1876.

By 1895 the institution was moved to its present location, situated between Lake Washington and Lake Union. The campus depicts well the theme of the Evergreen State, and, when one combines with this its striking Gothic architecture, it is easy to see why this campus is one of the most alluring and beautiful in the country. It includes more than 600 acres of beautifully landscaped country with over a mile and a quarter of shore line on the two lakes.

The faculty has increased from one man in 1861 to over 1,420. Many of the faculty members are well known throughout the country for distinguished work in their individual fields.

The student body has also shown a great increase from its original 37 students, to more than 16,000 today.

To meet the ever increasing demand for education, the University has been expanding in every field. The school is to have its traditional upper and lower campus united in the new Student Union building overlooking Frosch Pond. The lower campus students comprise

President of University Offers Word of Greeting

It is my pleasant privilege to add this word of greeting from the University of Washington campus.

As one of the eight largest institutions of higher education in the nation, the University of Washington is an important cultural center of the West. But size alone is not a criterion of a university's greatness. It must offer real opportunities for intellectual and personal development.

Student organizations play an important part in helping to fulfill the objectives of our over-all educational program at Washington. In this connection, I congratulate Beta Pi chapter for winning the Kappa Kappa Gamma national Standards Cup. It is well-deserved recognition of its achievements on our campus.

This honor reflects, in the finest sense, the contributions that can be made by sororities in furthering the potentials of scholarship, leadership and social adjustment that are such vital factors in accomplishing the goal of higher education.

RAYMOND B. ALLEN, *President

Director Student Affairs Shows Need of Individuals

It is a real privilege to congratulate Kappa Kappa Gamma nationally and locally on the one chapter active on the University of Washington campus. They have represented the sorority well and through cooperation with the administration and leadership in student activities have performed a real service to the University.

Beta Pi chapter has made such words as inspiration, friendship and sisterhood meaningful. They have a real concern for the individual member, and have created an atmosphere wherein each pledge and member may have an opportunity for personal growth.

In these times when nations are undergoing basic changes, we need to consider the meaning of the democratic process. Fundamental to democracy is the concept of respect for the right of the individual and faith in the ability of individuals collectively to make decisions. If we earnestly believe in these principles, we must make them a living part of every group in which we participate. There is no better place to apply such ideals than in our college social groups.

Beta Pi Strives to Uphold Standards Which Gained Recognition

ON FEBRUARY 4, 1905, eight girls saw their dreams come true when they were admitted to sisterhood as Beta Pi chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma. The chapter today has increased its membership until the number of actives and pledges now total 76.

The beautiful brick chapter house of the Norman-English type is located across the street from the campus and the chimes, which have gotten many a girl to her 8 o'clock class on time. The Sigma Chi's, brother fraternity to the Beta Pi Kappa's are next door neighbors.

Life at the University of Washington is a balanced proportion of studies, activities, and social life. As a result of increased stress on scholarship, the Beta Pi's have raised their standing about six places in the past two years. Beta Pi is well represented in the honoraries.

Heading the list of Kappas active on the campus is Velma Wasser, president of the Associated Women Students. She is a senior and this office is deserving recognition of her outstanding contributions on campus. The freshman class elected Marjorie Goff (pledge) as its treasurer. Several leading committees throughout the campus are headed by Beta Pi's. In addition to serving as chapter president, Nancy Lawton holds a Panhellenic office and last year served as president of the Washington chapter of  $\Sigma E \Sigma$ , national scholarship honorary.

College life would not be complete without the Saturday afternoon football games. The most colorful of the games at Washington is the annual Homecoming. For this event every house and organization opens its doors to welcome home the grads. Color and interest is heightened by the illuminated decorations erected by each house. These represent many hours of ingenious planning and much nail pounding, as a pregame highlight is the judging of the displays. The Kappas came through in a blaze of glory and won second prize for their display. As the game was to be against the California Bears, a skit depicting the invasion of the Golden Bear into mighty Washington Husky-land was presented. Before a background of fir trees, an igloo, and northern lights, the Bear took a great trouncing; but unfortunately for Washington the game the next day was different. Last year Beta Pi was well represented in the Homecoming festivities as Barbara Quinn was chosen 1947 Homecoming Queen.

Many activities are scheduled within the house. Several times a quarter the Kappas get together for a fireside in the living room. Also, the girls enjoy such things as roller skating parties or a brunch before football games. Of course there are dances. Each year there is the traditional winter dinner dance—the highlight of the social season. On the informal side is the spring costume dance, given by the pledge class. Last year the dance had a marine atmosphere, and many a sailor was present who had never been to sea.

Fraternity serenades are also an enjoyable part of campus life. However, the boys are not the only ones that can sing, as in 1947 the

Dallas Alumnae Contributes $500 Fellowship

THE Dallas alumnae association is the first group to contribute to the plan inaugurated at convention of individual associations sponsoring one fellowship award for a year. The money was raised by giving a Christmas Bazaar.

Much credit is due to the convention delegate and president Lou Little Barbeck,  $\Gamma \Phi$ -SMU, one of Kappa's young and capable leaders.

Fellowship applications for 1949-50 are filed in March. If other associations are considering such contributions, the fellowship chairman should be notified so that worthy applicants will not be turned down if funds are to be available.

Fellowship Winner Attends International Meeting

MIRIAM E. WALTHER,  $\Delta$ -Indiana, recently completed work for her doctorate in astronomy at Harvard and Radcliffe. This work was partially made possible by the Kappa fellowship awarded her for the year 1947-48. Her thesis "Adaptation of Two-Dimensional Classification to Objective Prism Spectra" was second among the 22 candidates for Honorable Mention.

This past summer Miss Walther went to Europe as a delegate from the United States to the meeting of the International Astronomical Union in Zurich. This tour was sponsored by the United States National Student Association, only student group to hold a seat on the U. S. National Commission for UNESCO. Ninety students chosen from over 300 applicants from 175 American colleges and universities were in the group. While abroad she had the opportunity also to travel in France, Belgium, Holland, and Czechoslovakia, and visited astronomical observatories.

At the present time Miss Walther is at Wellesley College where she holds the position of instructor and acting chairman in the Astronomy Department. Along with her teaching position she is attempting to continue the research project which formed the basis of her thesis. She writes that she had the good fortune of being granted money by the Office of Naval Research to continue this investigation. Next summer our fellowship winner plans to go either to Yerkes or McDonald (in Texas) Observatory to make a special study of anomalous A stars which she discovered in the first project.

Phi Kappa Psi's New President Has Many Kappa Connections

PHI PSI, this administration, elected its president from a family with many Kappa connections. Howard Hamilton, not only has a Kappa wife, but a daughter and a sister-in-law. His wife was the first treasurer to serve Beta Nu chapter at Ohio State under the present national finance system. Upon her graduation she continued as finance adviser and treasurer of the house board for many years. Ardis Mary started her fraternity life at Denison University and then transferred to Ohio State where she is following in her mother's footsteps as assistant chapter treasurer.

Howard himself has had an active fraternity career. He served as national scholarship chairman, vice-president and now president of his fraternity. A graduate of Ohio State, he is now secretary of the College of Arts and Sciences at the same institution. In his college days Howard was a member of the varsity football squad for three years. He is a trustee of the largest cooperative fraternity buying association in the country and has been admitted to the Ohio bar. In addition to the university activities the Hamiltons are active in the civic life of Worthington, a suburb of Columbus, Ohio.

During World War II, Commander Hamilton helped organize and establish the Navy pre-flight school at Chapel Hill, North Carolina. He still is active in the University branch of the Naval Reserve.

A Glance at Chapter Publications

By Florence Hutchinson Lonsford—ΓΔ-Purdue, Chapter Publications Chairman

HAVE you watched someone looking at a group picture for HER face? Or a departing guest sorting a pile of company coats for HER galoshes?

Either example is a visible reason for a new policy concerning Kappa publications.

As members of the same large and diversified organization, we have an interest in one another.

But in our local chapters, we have a home-grown loyalty that distance and time do not destroy. Our minds go back to the place where we made our first Kappa friends, the ones who shared our college days with us. Here in OUR particular house on OUR campus, new members experience much the same pleasures and disappointments that we did. It is a picture we never forget; we know the setting too well.

THE KEY will continue to be written and published for all of us. It will include national business, record accomplishments of Kappa as an organization and note major achievements of individual members.

The Fleur-de-Lis has been discontinued, and chapter publications are to assume a new importance. These must carry alumnæ news that THE KEY has not sufficient space to give in detail. These must serve the place of an annual "At Home" for those alumnæ who never return to the house, for those who do not live near Kappas from their own chapters.

THE REASONS WHY

There are good reasons for such a system of chapter publications. The editor-in-chief, her circulation manager, her associate editors, and any reporters she may have are actives. The editorial address for most publications is the chapter house. This insures the prompt reception of news, builds a continuing editorial office with a well-known permanent address, and enables the staff to gather campus news at its source.

IMPORTANCE OF EDITORS

The editor-in-chief solves, in a small way, the same problems as those faced by a big metropolitan daily. She is expected to combine the energies of editor, reporter, and make-up man. She may paste-up the dummy, read proof, and in some cases mimeograph her paper as well.

But there is a reward for her effort.

Probably never again in her life will she prepare printed words for so avid an audience. Whether her publication is a marvel of journalistic perfection or not, every word in it will be read. Probably, her paper will outlast more professional and ambitious forms of literature.

This is the material which goes into scrap books, letters home, and on bulletin boards. It may find its way into cellars and attics. But boxes put in cellars come out again. Personal news in printed form has a way of holding interest over a long period of years, with continuing vibrations of pleasure.

WHO GETS THE CENTER SPREAD?

An editor may feel at times that campus activities should have precedence and major space in her newspaper.

It is true that alumnæ look forward to even the smallest items concerning active chapter life and campus affairs. They experience a sincere delight in undergraduate honors, rushing parties, and news of the house.

Editors should remember, however, that their readers are in a vast proportion all alumnæ. An active—as every alumna knows—is someone too young to visualize being an alumna. An alumna—on the other hand—is what an active becomes before she knows it. If you don't come back to school next year, you'll be ONE!

Chapter publications must give detailed information about the university and the house. They must mention their own outstanding alumnæ, announce the birth of new babies, list changes of address. Chapter publications are designed to keep their members up to date and to take the place of voluminous letter-writing.

ADDRESSED TO CHAPTER EDITORS-IN-CHIEF

Papers have different policies, and no two editors have exactly the same methods. Originality is as refreshing a quality found in chapter publications as it is elsewhere in the world. But in general, all good papers have some things in common.

Their most important stories are on the first page.

They have variety as to story lengths, and reporting differs in style for different kinds of news.

Simple statements are made, and most sentences are short.

The best papers are those which follow the rules for good reporting: accuracy, correct spelling of all names, clear and memorable reporting of news.

If your budget allows for it, photographs are invaluable.

WOULDN'T IT BE POSSIBLE FOR A MUTUAL DATE FOR PUBLICATION?

The majority of papers are printed in the spring. This seems the best time of the year, as such issues have many more months to collect items and print them before the summer months make the news seem dated.

It will be found that a set schedule for publication will save time, and build confidence in your chapter's efficiency. Let your readers know that each year they may expect a publication on time. Promise your printer to have copy in his hands on a certain day. Do not fail him. The more dependable you are, the more he will do for you. Prompt editors get the best printing.

Although there is no rule as to when chapters should print their papers, it would be preferable if all could choose the spring of the year, anytime from the beginning of May to the middle of June. (Some chapters can afford to print twice yearly; large universities have enough material to do this.) Your alumnae correspondents, who number the actual names on your mailing list, should be notified when you go to press. If you print under your editorial box your copy deadline, you will be surprised to find more news coming in on time.

Every editor-in-chief should have an alumnae adviser. You, the editor, are the boss, but you need someone who can come to your rescue in case of some desperate eventuality. Also, some alumnae advisers proofread very well, and may be depended upon for all kinds of routine jobs for which you have so little time. No chapter editor should shoulder all the work alone.

Your publication may be as original as you have the ability and time to make it, but in one respect it should conform exactly to a precedent long established in newspaper publication.

Place your editor's name, the names of your staff, your editorial address, and the time of year you publish your paper at the top of your second page.

New Lodge Is Completed at University of Tulsa

By Dorothy LeMaster Carter, BA-Illinois

A SMALL modern lodge built on sorority row at the University of Tulsa, accommodates the activities of the Delta Pi chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma. The regulations of each school definitely determine the plans for such a lodge. Because the University set the amount to be spent by sororities, and the building costs of the times produced other limitations, the product fell into this particular pattern.

The Delta Pi lodge is open every day from ten until five and is used as a study hall, lounge and meeting place. The kitchen is equipped to serve lunches to the members. Teas, open houses, banquets and dances are the usual activities held in this lodge for the estimated chapter of 75.

The exterior of the building is Bandera limestone, which is also used in the interior for some of the trim. The fireplace nook and two large pillars are of the stone. The interior walls of the main room and kitchen are of shellacked hemlock paneling. The powder room and housemother's room do have painted walls. Indirect lighting ties in with the modern design. The interior was planned for a minimum of upkeep. The living room-dining room combination, plus a 20 by 30 foot concrete terrace make the lodge expandable to accommodate

Delta Rho's House Is Newest at Mississippi

By Grace Sanderson Agee

B Θ-Oklahoma

THE Delta Rho chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma moved into its new home at Oxford, Mississippi, on November 15. It is the latest addition to the growing chain of Kappa "hotels."

The house is a charming colonial that blends beautifully into the Southern atmosphere of "Ole Miss." It is outstanding on the campus, for it is the first house to accommodate 20 girls and has a dining room capacity of 48. The other houses have no dining rooms and house only 16 girls. Thanks for this improved housing goes to the national housing committee who petitioned the Board of Regents for the additional space.

By good fortune the site permitted lower levels and the architect took full advantage of it. The house has not only a large living room and library on the main floor but on the level beneath a large recreation room with picture windows and doors opening on to a delightful 35 foot terrace.

The problem in decorating the house involved obtaining the best furniture our budget would permit at a time when prices were high and scarcities still existed. Our decorator, because of his understanding of institutional planning and contract work, did a splendid job of combining the practical with the beautiful to make a liveable home.

Since the state flower of Mississippi is the magnolia blossom, a colonial magnolia patterned wall paper was used in the dining room. The living room, hall, library and house mother's room are all carpeted in soft jade green rugs with lighter matching walls. A gay English floral chintz was used in the living room with 18th century English furniture upholstered in muted colors, matching those of the chintz.

The library adjoining the living room has the same general coloring but variety was created by using French provincial furniture. The large recreation room on the lower level lent itself beautifully to contemporary furniture.

Grace Sanderson Agee, B Θ-Oklahoma, is the newest member of the national housing committee. She is the consultant on furnishings and decorations for the group and the pictures on the preceding page speak of her professional ability. Grace studied at the New York School of Interior Decoration and her first practical training came at Lord and Taylor's in New York.

When Beta Theta built their home ten years ago they called upon their own Grace Agee to help them with the decorating problems. For a time in the intervening years Grace served as a province officer. It was this summer when she joined the housing committee that Grace once more put her talents to Kappa use. Gamma Nu at the University of Arkansas also received her advice this summer when the house was redecorated.

It takes a great deal of work by a great many people to create such a lovely home. First, and all important, the national housing committee worked very closely with the architect to design and build the best possible house within local restrictions. Then in May, Clara O. Pierce and I met in Memphis with the local housing committee, Pauline Clark, chairman, and the local decorating committee, Clover Berry, chairman, to go over the problems still remaining. These two committees not only gave generously of their time but traveled the 80 miles to Oxford frequently during the hot summer months to check on the house.

Army Daughter Is Bride in Nanking

On October 9, 1948 Leilani Tryon Brink B H-Stanford, daughter of Brigadier General and Mrs. Francis Gerard Brink of Nanking, China, became the bride of William Wellington Wells, of Rochester, New York. Mr. Wells is a graduate of Yale University and is now with the Economic Cooperation Administration in Nanking.

Attired in a traditionally American bridal outfit, the bride and groom exchanged their vows in St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Nanking with the Reverend Charles Long, a classmate of the groom, performing the ceremony.

Associated Press Correspondent Weds in Athens

Helen Mamas,  $\Phi$ -Boston, author of the interesting article on Greece in the December issue of THE KEY, and a member of the Athens bureau of the Associated Press, became Mrs. Stephano Zotos, November 21, 1948, in Athens, Greece.

The couple met "behind the Iron Curtain" in Yugoslavia, in March, 1947, while covering the activities of the first United Nations Balkan Investigating Commission in Greece. Mr. Zotos was born in Constantinople, Turkey, and completed his classical studies in France. He is author of several books, including, Journey in France for which he was awarded the French Academy palms and made Officier of the Academy. He is also an Olympic champion of bridge and is now a staff writer of the Athens' Embros and correspondent in Greece of the Paris Figaro.

Mr. Zotos is a cousin of Princess Ellie Colonna of Italy, of the late Countess Anna de Nouailly, France's great woman poet; of the late Princess de Brancovan of Roumania, the late Prince Alexander of Karaman-Chamay, and the late Archbishop Alexander Zotos of Warsaw. His father, the late Dr. Xenophon D. Zotos, was one of Greece's leading pathologists.

The couple are making their home temporarily at 23 Ploutarchou Street, Athens, and invite Kappa sisters to write.

It Is Love of Little Things That Makes Us Grow

By Ruth Champlin VanZant, BΘ-Oklahoma

Lucyle Haskins, B Θ-Oklahoma, is well known for her outstanding work in the Enid Public Schools and as a social worker in various fields in Oklahoma. In her experiences in social work Miss Haskins was impressed by the unhappiness of maladjusted people who went through life without finding themselves in relation to others. She became convinced that most of our social ills are the products of things which happen to children before they are old enough for responsibility and has dedicated her life to the prevention of social ills through the training of the pre-school child.

personalities is stressed. The work consists of games, supervised play, story telling, dramatization, singing, rhythm band, clay molding and finger painting as well as dancing and acrobatics.

One of the first essentials of child training or group work is muscle and mental coordination. A second teaching; the kindergarten child is taught to share and to give and take. In this group a "Won't Share" receives the strongest disapproval and sharing becomes a normal part of living. These two traits develop the child into a useful citizen.

The school motto is "It is love of little things that makes us grow." Love is accented so strongly that there is no place for hate, and the word is tabu among these little people.

The only form of punishment used is to ostracize the offender, since in normal living those who offend against society forfeit approval.

The senior kindergarten is in the afternoon, the age group is five to six years.

A readiness program is taught. Manuscript writing and phonetic training is introduced at this time. As each new letter is taught in writ-

LUCYLE HASKINS' kindergarten was first inspired by Charles Buxton. His principle was "The first duty towards children is to make them happy. If you have not made them happy you have wronged them. No other good they may get can make up for that."

The first group of happy children were enrolled September 9, 1946. The school program is divided into two parts. The morning group ages are four to five years, inclusive. In this group the development of social integration of ing, the long and short sounds are presented.

This group learns to write their numbers to 100. Language games are introduced. Citizenship is taught in an objective way.

Leadership is developed. Each child is given the opportunity and training. One child is chosen each afternoon to be the leader. If several are chosen, Miss Haskins will say, "Well we will vote for our leader." The names are placed on the board, the children are given slips of paper on which to write their choice, then two counters are chosen to count the votes. In this way the children are taught the mechanics of democracy.

The majority of the children have their birthday parties in the school. No presents are allowed. The parents bring the refreshments and leave. The hostess, the child having the party, serves the refreshments. The children are taught the correct way in serving, thus obtaining poise and confidence in social graces. This project is one of the most popular features of the school not only with the children but with the parents.

The only outside employee is the dance instructor.

There are two annual features of the school. One is the Christmas program, an invitation affair given in the Episcopal parish house. The other, held in May is the art exhibit.

A Glance at Chapter Publications

NAMING NAMES AND PUSHING IN A FEW FACES

Two good publications which couldn't do any better in this respect are: Upsilon and Mu pictured with this article.

Of these two, Upsilon's is the better one, for it tells you exactly where to send news.

There are praiseworthy departments in many chapter publications. Betty Newman of Delta Kappa farmed out a feature in "The Padlock," which resulted in an interesting travel article by Mildred Lunaas, who spent a summer in Norway. It is always a good plan to ask good writers to write for you. If their copy disappoints you, reserve the right to use, discard, or re-work it. "The Padlock" ran an ad on the last page, which is a nice friendly note, "Delta Kappa chapter wishes the Miami association a happy and cool summer season." Unexpected items make distinctive papers.

Alice Loughborough,  $\Gamma \Phi$ -SMU, has an excellent paper with an unusually readable editorial. Editorial writing is a specialized field. Once in awhile, this is one of the best methods to use in handling an important topic.

Mary Ellen Moody's "Kappa Kolumns,"  $\beta$  B-Washington is one of the very good small papers. Sidney Steck,  $\beta$   $\Delta$ -Michigan, has another professional publication.

Marilyn Carman,  $\Gamma$  B-New Mexico, uses "Kappa Kapers" as a rush pamphlet, and slants her material in this direction, which is an idea other chapters may like to copy.

Lambda's "Kappa Khronikle" gives much news at a minimum cost.

Provide a Kappa Kampship for a French Child

By Beatrice S. Woodman, Φ-Boston

THE STORY of how last spring we realized a wish, long dreamed of by those interested in the Dorothy Canfield Fisher project, of sending some of the physically deficient and underprivileged children in our sponsored schools at Bas-Meudon to summer health colonies or camps must now be a familiar one to all Kappas. Through a $300 contribution from the small Tyler, Texas club and generous gifts from other associations, chapters and interested Kappa alumnae, it was possible to send 13 children to camp either in the mountains or at the seashore.

A two month "Kampship" provided each child with room and board for that period; transportation to and from the "colonie"; and the following outfit: 1 blanket, 2 towels, 2 wash cloths, 1 tumbler, 2 cakes of soap, 1 tube of tooth paste, 1 tooth brush, 1 comb, 2 pairs of socks, 1 pair leather sandals, 1 pair canvas shoes, 2 cotton shirts, 2 pairs of shorts, 2 pairs of undergarments, 1 light weight pull-over, 1 jacket, 1 pair pajamas, 1 cap, 1 bathing suit.

Letters of heartfelt gratitude from the children and their parents to the chairman so impressed us with the value and importance of last summer's program, that plans for the continuation and expansion of this work in the summer of 1949 have already been completed. Imagine two months of sun and air on the Brittany coast for a child who had never seen the ocean, or two months in the mountains near Switzerland for one who had never seen them—children whose short lives had been spent among bombed ruins and the hardships of war!

The plan for the coming season is to have as many Kappa alumnae groups as are interested send a child to a 'health colonie' for two months in the same way that other associations sponsor schools or adopt children. Due to the fluctuation of the franc, we cannot quote the exact cost of a "kampship" at this time—but all inclusive, subject to the value of the franc—a kampship will be somewhere between $80.00-$100.00. Two or more alumnae associations can combine on one kampship as they sometimes combine on a sponsorship or adoption—or the fund can help a group with its kampship. Several associations have already sent contributions, and will be given first preference in selecting the child they wish to help. Kappa groups sending children to camp will receive the correspondence from that child and its parents. It is hoped that the interest thus aroused and the contact established will be continued through the coming year on a basis of friendship, thus furthering the closer more personal bonds we are aiming for between Kappas and French families.

Thirty-four "case histories" of children at Bas-Meudon, who would benefit especially by Kappas sending them to camp have just arrived from France, a list carefully and sympathetically compiled by Madame Olga Lowman of Save the Children Federation and the social workers and teachers at Bas-Meudon. Some are children to whom Kappa gave a vacation last year pictured with this article, but who need to go again this summer; others are new cases. Every one of these children's little histories are so poignant, so heart-rending that no Kappa could fail to respond to their appeal if read in full, but the chairman cannot feel free to publish these case histories. However any Kappa or Kappa group who, after reading the brief notation upon any child, becomes interested in helping this particular child to health and happiness next summer, can write to the chairman for further details.

1. Christine and Josette, 6 and 8 year old daughters of a widow who works to support them and a younger child. Kappa sent both of them to camp last summer; one is delicate; they both needed to be built up and their mother needed the rest of having less care.

2. Marie-Thérèse. Seven years old and delicate. One of six motherless children who are cared for by the 19 year old eldest sister. "She had two months holiday last year thanks to K K Γ. She came back having gained weight and with splendid color. She is fast losing them now and will need another holiday next year.

3. Jackie. A thin nervous little boy of 9. An orphan living with his grandmother. "Another holiday from K K Γ next year would mean strength for Jackie—it would also mean rest for the old Grand Mama."

4. Suzanne. A delicate seven year old who needs the sun and good food Kappa could again give her next summer.

5. Pierrette. "A dear little girl of 12 years." She is not pretty; she always looks sad, seldom smiles, and has no mother. "The happiest days she has lived in her life are those she spent last summer in a Holiday camp, because Kappa Kappa Gamma had taken an interest in her." Pierrette needs to be sent to camp again this year, but she also needs some Kappa to take a more personal interest in her!

6. Angèle. Kappa sent this 11 year-old to camp last summer. "More than ever she will need to go next summer where she will have somebody but a 16 year old sister to take care of her."

7. Jacqueline. The oldest of four children. "She looks so pale and delicate, you can realize she has never had the proper care.—You would like to see Jacqueline away in the country for a few weeks, with plenty of fresh air and nourishing food."

8. Jacques. A nine year old, "brilliant in school and could go through a course of study, but is a delicate child and needs special care. He had to go without so many things during the war, when everything good that was obtainable was sent to prisoner in Germany." (His father)

9. Liliane. A delicate 11 year old, who has already had to spend three months in a pre-T.B. home. A very deserving family.

10. Four year old Monique is attending Kindergarten. "It would be good for her to be away from her sad home with two invalid women."

11. Nicole. A ten year old girl whose father was killed in the war. She needs to be built up and her delicate mother to have some rest.

12. Monique L. This little ten year old girl had pleurisy during the war due to the bad conditions in which the children had to live, and as a result has always had asthma ever since. The home was destroyed during the bombing, and the father was a prisoner in Germany for five years. Monique will need a vacation in the country next year, but the courageous parents are unable to meet the expenses."

13. Tanguy. One of eight children who are being lovingly cared for by a teen age sister.

14. Jacques B. Another case of a home destroyed by the bombing, and a prisoner of war parent. "Jacques is the first victim of the situation and has not received the attention his very deficient health needs."

15. Daniel. Four years old in a family of four children. A former happy family broken by the war and T.B.

16. Jacques. A child whose adopted parents are making every effort for him.

17. Albert. A five year old of very deficient health, who needs more care and nourishing food than his elderly grandmother is able to give him.

Christine

18. and 19. Claude, aged nine, and Liliane, aged eleven, come from a family of five children. The children and the mother are delicate from war conditions. A very touching case. "Claude and Liliane would benefit from a few weeks in the open air and the poor mother would have a little less work at home."

Marie Thérèse

20. and 21. Guy, aged 12, and Marie-Christine, eight. Two of the six children adopted by the maternal aunt and her husband. These two children are delicate and need a holiday in the country which their relatives cannot afford.

22. Marie Thérèse. A 12 year old being brought up by an aunt and uncle. She needs fresh air and sunshine.

23. Claudine. Four years old. Last April the father had to stop work on account of illness, and cannot work for another year. "Despite the efforts of her courageous mother" Claudine is of deficient health.

24. Roland. This ten year old's history reads: "Roland is a very attaching child, extremely sensitive but he is in very poor health; scoliosis disease which requires special food—and extra expenses, which the mother is unable to provide."

Then there are Lydie, aged 11; Denise, aged 12½; Monique R. aged 11; and still another Monique, aged nine; Jean Michel aged four; a brother and sister Ginette and Claude, aged 13 and 12; Genevieve, aged 12; and Marie-Francoise aged four, all with sad stories and a great need of a health-building program to bring the number to a close.

All Kappas who are interested in helping to send any of these children to camp, are urged to write to the chairman at as early a date as possible so that they may have their "first choice" of the child they select to send and in order that the chairman can complete the assignments and details. Remember many of the articles in the children's outfits have to be sent from America, and that takes time. For example, last year tracings of the children's feet had to be sent from France to New York to assure the correct sizes of shoes. If any Kappa has outgrown camp outfits in good condition, please, write to the chairman, giving full details of size and garments.

Panhellenic Notes

By Edith Reese Crabtree, Panhellenic Officer

THE CONSTANT change of personnel in college chapters is at once the inspiration and the despair of fraternity leaders. It is the inspiration because there is always the opportunity to try again, hoping that a new approach and greater effort may be more effective or that the new group of students may be more responsive and creative. It is the despair because a fraternity leader can never write "finis." Every year fundamentals must be stressed over and over. The press of the day by day duties leaves little time or energy for the development of new ideas or for the equally important constant evaluation of policies and procedures essential in any organization. The consequence is that often practices are continued beyond the time of their usefulness.

This continuance of outmoded practices seems especially apt to harass college Panhellenics. Perhaps this is because so many people are concerned. Generation after generation of students accept the traditions they find without question. Too often the practice has been started to meet a definite need, a need which no longer exists because campus conditions have changed. Frequently the practice is still essentially good but should have some adjustments to be of current value. To accomplish this adjustment it is necessary to know the origin of the practice, and to understand its purpose as well as to note all the factors involved.

A case in point is the widely used custom of asking incoming students interested in fraternity membership to declare this interest by registration and a fee. There has been some questioning of this custom here and there in recent years. Attention has really been focused on it since Dr. Smith, president of Willamette, speaking at both Kappa and Pi Phi conventions voiced severe criticism. He feels that this system is most unfair and unkind to the incoming student, who, having made public her desire to be a fraternity member, does not receive an invitation. He also deplores the fee although certainly the one quoted is far above the usual amount asked.

Dr. Smith is a good friend of the fraternity so it behooves us to heed him by careful study of registration of rushees. When and why was it started? What was its purpose? What has been accomplished? Why are there an increasing number of questions about its use now? Should it be discontinued or are some adjustments needed? If so how?

The registration of rushees was started in the 1930's as part of an effort to help Freshmen who wanted fraternity membership and the groups who were seeking pledges to find each other. It was as simple as that. As the number of students increased, many Freshmen felt they had no way of being found and the groups did not know whom to rush. With the introduction of this registration plan came the establishment of what is essentially a Panhellenic guidance office by whatever name it may be known. Here either a paid director or alumna further help the girl and the group to find each other. The fee at the beginning was very small and was used for helping to maintain this guidance office as a service to both girl and group. The plan really has rendered service as many could testify. What seems to be the nullifying factor now?

The crux of the matter primarily would seem to be this. Until relatively recently the sum of the quotas on a given campus was not too far from the number of those indicating a desire for membership. Therefore the percentage of those disappointed was very small. As student enrollment shot up, quotas could not keep pace. The percentage of those disappointed has increased with attending unhappiness. Also on some campuses the fees have been made larger and used for additional purposes which, while worthy in themselves, quite naturally, seem unfair to a disappointed rushee.

It would seem that the advantages to the rushee as well as to the group outweigh the disadvantages. Certainly it would be harder than ever for potential rushee and rusher to find each other on today's crowded campus. Some adjustments which will help to correct the weak spots in the plan suggest themselves

"Small Wonder" Is Broadway Hit

Lyrics by Phyllis McGinley, Δ H-Utah

dazzling lyrics in Small Wonder offer some of the most nimble word-juggling since Gilbert & Sullivan. Their mother is Phyllis McGinley, usually found versifying in the pages of The New Yorker.
Walter Winchell

Although the composers have nothing to say, Phyllis McGinley and Billings Brown have written some witty lyrics.
Brooks Atkinson, New York Times

The melodies of Baldwin Bergersen and Albert Selden are at best pleasant but scarcely deserving of the lyrics provided by Phyllis McGinley and Billings Brown.
John Chapman, Daily News

The lyrics, by Phyllis McGinley and Billings Brown, are more intelligent than those you're likely to hear in most revues.
Robert Coleman, Daily Mirror

PHYLLIS MCGINLEY, in private life Mrs. Charles Hayden, with Julie and Pat at their Larchmont, New York home.

Of Small Wonder Phyllis McGinley Hayden, Δ H-Utah, writes "About all I can add to that is that at current writing the revue is still running, that it made a star out of Mary McCarty, and that I am listed as chief lyricist although actually I did a little less than half the songs. It was my first crack at the theatre and I had a good time doing something out of my own name and found theater people the pleasantest folk possible. We opened in New Haven on the out-of-town circuit on August 26, the hottest day on record; and even the cast managed to be nice. Most of the critics were more than kind to my lyrics but I feel I have a great deal to learn yet about writing songs for shows. Someday I'd like to do all of them for a musical comedy, and since 'anything can happen in New York' it's possible I may."

Beta Pi Strives to Uphold Standards

Kappas won the annual Songfest.

Participation in intramural sports is also a very important part of the activities at the University of Washington. A year ago the Kappas won the Garhart Trophy, given to the group winning the most points in all sports. Such sports as tennis, volley ball, baseball, swimming and basketball are among the many in which Kappa participates.

The members of Beta Pi chapter of Kappa

Kappa Gamma feel deeply honored by the awarding of the Standards Cup to their chapter. The girls now in the active chapter are extremely grateful to all the Kappas, who by their work, brought this recognition to Beta Pi. The presence of the Standards Cup in the house serves constantly as a great incentive to strive to uphold and maintain the high standards established by the Beta Pi chapter during the past years.

1. Quotas should be studied with a view to increase where wise and possible. It is recognized that there are limits in chapter size beyond which no one can have a satisfactory experience; sometimes housing space sets an arbitrary limit; sometimes the administration does not wish increase. However to meet the present need many quotas have been raised and others could be. Certainly the quota should be reviewed each year at least.
2. New groups can be established.
There has been notable expansion during the past biennium. This should begin to ease the situation as, along with the increased number of chapters, the student enrollment steadies a bit.
3. Panhellenic guidance should be more effective.

It is the goal of a Panhellenic office to have the quota for every chapter filled. This insures that the percentage of disappointments is as small as possible.

This entails educating the rushee that groups offer a fine experience and she should not limit her choice.

4. Publicity should be discouraged in the suance of bids, the acceptance of pledges and all the procedues of rushing. Every consideration should be made for the disappointment of the rushee. She should not be carried until the last minute and then dropped. She should understand that registration does not guarantee an invitation. One wishes that it might but life is just that way as all find out soon or later.

So long as this practice is used in our college Panhellenics, it should be carried out in such a way that its values are the greatest good for the greatest number. If they are not, a new plan must supplant it.

New Lodge Completed at University of Tulsa

200 people for rush parties or dances. The asphalt tile floor of large black and white blocks makes a durable floor covering for heavy traffic.

The furnishings of the lodge are modern and were selected for durability and versatility. Permanent card tables in the dining area may be clamped together for tea or buffet tables. The benches by the fireplace are locked and hold initiation equipment. A large cabinet on rollers can be used as a coke bar inside or outside on the terrace, while it is concealing a dozen folding card tables, the archives and victrola records. Red and dark blue are the predominant colors used in the furnishings, augmenting the beauty of the blond wood. Two large brass plaques hang against the stone of the chimney, catching the gleam of the firelight and echoing the brass of the large lamp bases. The fireplace nook is completed with a large circular red leather coffee table.

In this ultra modern setting one of Kappa's newest chapters is bringing renewed enthusiasm to its alumnae sponsors and democratic fraternity idealism to the University of Tulsa campus.

those studying engineering, medicine, science, forestry and mathematics; while upper campus specializes in literature, drama and the arts. Well known Frosh Pond forms the hub from which paths lead to all sections of the campus.

The first thought of sorority life was brought to the University of Washington campus by Mrs. Frank Pierpont Graves, wife of the university president at that time. Mrs. Graves was a Kappa from Boston. She organized a local group, which in 1905 was admitted as Beta Pi chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma. In 1903 Delta Gamma and Gamma Phi Beta chapters were installed to start what is now the beautiful Greek Row.

Kappa-Pi Phi Battle in Powder Bowl

PERHAPS the most unusual tradition at the University of Texas is the six year old and now famous football game between the Kappa Kappa Gammas and Pi Beta Phis in the Powder Bowl. What began as a lark has now become a full-grown affair and one of the biggest things of the year. It has now enlarged into torchlight pep rallies the night before, a stupendous half-time including a real "toy" band, drill teams, and this year a large stuffed owl as mascot; plus a buffet supper given by one or the other sorority after the game. This year 4,000 spectators including Governor Beauford Jester, witnessed the game which unfortunately went to Pi Phi. The score is evened up now—three games for them and three for Kappa.

Drake Stages Model United Nations Meeting

A MODEL United Nations general assembly was held at Drake University October 22-23. Students from Iowa colleges were present, each group theoretically representing a country in the UN, acting and voting as nearly like that country as possible.

William Agar, chief of the UN speakers bureau, and Dr. Erling Christophersen, cultural attaché for the Norwegian embassy, gave the keynote speeches.

Panel groups were set up for the first day. The topics and speakers leading these discussions were: "What to Do about Palestine," Charles Ransom, editorial writer for the Des Moines Register and Tribune; "Making the UN More Effective," Hiram Hunn, Des Moines attorney; "Korea," Lauren K. Soth, editorial writer formerly with the U. S. military government in Korea; and "World Police Force," Bob Burlingame, news editor for radio station KIOA.

Conference delegates met at a General Assembly the second day to act on proposals submitted by the discussion groups. A resolution proposing to create a small UN military police force was passed, as was a proposal that United States and Russian troops be withdrawn from North and South Korea by January 1, 1949 under the jurisdiction of the United Nations, followed by a general election on May 1, 1949. Proposals to recognize the Jewish and Arab states were dropped.

The Gamma Thetas were particularly active in all committee work which planned both for and with the assembly. We in our chapter were proud that our concession booth took first place among all women's groups at a carnival to raise funds for the UN project.

MARILYN CARMAN

Two Kappas Place Among Finalists for "Miss America"

FOR HER fresh, youthful beauty, her friendly and unobtrusive personality, and her mastery of the piano, Carol Held, Γ O-Wyoming, sophomore student, not only was runner-up in the 1948 Miss America contest, but also won a $3,000 scholarship. With part of the award money Carol plans to take special organ lessons in addition to her piano and theory classes and save the rest of the money for advanced study at the Eastman School of Music. Carol has recently returned to college from a trip to New York where she made a 10 minute movie short for Twentieth Century Fox along with the four other finalists of the contest, Miss America, Miss Alabama, Miss Montana and Miss Oklahoma.

Hulda Miller Fields, Β Φ-Montana, former director of membership, was the official University of Montana chaperone for Miss Montana during the contest week in Atlantic City.

Marilyn Robinson, Δ H-Utah, represented the state of Utah at the contest and placed among the 15 finalists for the title. She was declared winner of the talent division by portraying the part of a mother and a dying son in a dramatic monologue and was granted a $1,000 scholarship. For her straight A average and her outstanding participation in campus activities Marilyn was elected to Mortar Board last spring.

CAROL HELD

DELTA RHO—Passing from pledge class to pledge class, a scholarship ring to be worn by the ledge holding the highest scholastic average.

DELTA PI—It is not a time for apple-polishing, but to become acquainted with the professors when the faculty dinner is held. Each quarter members of the faculty are invited to the house for dinner, and it is as much fun for them to come as it is for us to have them. Another custom in connection with scholastics is the scholarship banquet, also held once a quarter. This is an excellent time for all the girls to find out how well the house is represented in the honorary societies on the campus, and just how well the house as a whole is doing with its studies. Although this dinner has a light and gay atmosphere the implications are serious and it is given in hopes that it will stimulate and raise the scholastic standards of the house.

DELTA—Twice a year a scholarship banquet is held, at which time Delta's various awards are presented—a scholarship key to an upperclassman active; a scholarship key to a new initiate; an improvement key to the active whose grades have risen the most; an attitude key to an upperclassman active; an attitude key to a new initiate; and a lovely fleur-de-lis pin (contributed by Delta's housemother, Mrs. Helen Reid Keiser) to the most courteous, most sincere, best all around ledge.

It is also a custom to entertain the faculty of Indiana University at a buffet supper every spring. And beginning this year there will be on display in the chapter house two plaques, to be inscribed each year, one with the name of the most outstanding senior, the other with the name of the senior having the highest accumulative grade average for four years.

GAMMA LAMBDA—The advent of spring means the scholarship picnic for everyone, means the presentation of the scholarship ring to the girl who has raised her average the most, and means a vote to the girl in each class who has the lowest average because she will be one of the four chief-cooks and bottle washers for the spring.

GAMMA OMICRON—For those girls who raise their grades two-tenths of a point or better or have a 1.5 average or better, a scholarship party (complete with dates) is held late in the spring. The rest of the chapter who are below this standing, have a one night campus which we spend studying.

GAMMA GAMMA—To raise funds for Kappa scholarships is the purpose of our spring project. One of the leading department stores lets us sponsor a style show using their clothes. Many Kappas model, and to join us, we usually invite two girls from each of the other sororities. The style show has proven so popular with the Walla Walla crowd that each year we must make provisions for a larger attendance.

GAMMA CHI—Scholarship is stressed by awarding the scholarship key for the greatest improvement in grades each year. Awards for the best grades in each class are also given.

Betty Ensign Gordon Chosen Representative Iowa Mother

AT THE University of Iowa, a distinct honor was bestowed upon a Kappa alumna. Betty Ensign Gordon, B Z-Iowa was chosen as Representative Mother for the University of Iowa at the Mother's Day activities sponsored by Mortar Board. Mrs. Gordon spent the week-end at the Kappa House with her daughter Jean, a second year student. One of the activities of the weekend was the awarding of the trophy for the winner of the all University Sing to the Kappa Kappa Gamma girls. Mrs. Gordon, who was called upon to award the trophies to the winners, had the honor of presenting the cup to her home chapter.

She also gave the address of welcome to the visiting mothers at the special luncheon given in their honor at the Iowa Memorial Union.

the field of education and particularly for being the first woman president of Vassar College. Pictured with Miss Blanding are Betty Williams, president, pinning an orchid on the visitor, Joyce Haynes, pledge captain, and Sara Holmes, dean of women at the University of Kentucky.

WHEN it comes to the Hearthstone I hardly know where to begin and never when to stop! It is about 60 miles from the Ocean at Daytona Beach and about 100 miles from the Gulf at Clearwater or St. Petersburg, although as the crow flies the distance to the Gulf would be only 50 miles. Having large bodies of water so near on both sides results in a breeze whenever one steps into the shade.

Winter Park is, as you probably know, a college town. Rollins College is the oldest institution in the state, and the men's University Club here has more members in Who's Who than any city in the world. It is a pleasant community in which to live and would be even without its mild climate and lovely setting among lakes, orange groves and palm trees.

The Hearthstone is situated at the end of a 300 foot private drive, over which the orange trees almost meet and from these trees there is enough fruit for the guests to use all season. There is always a pitcher of juice in the ice-chest for them.

From the south terrace the lawn slopes down to Lake Osceola and at the easterly end of the lakefront is a sandy beach for bathing. The entire lot is 600 feet deep.

The house itself is spacious and we think very lovely. As you enter the hall French doors open into the dining room. To the left is the staircase, and turning right you pass the powder room and enter the living room, one of which opens a glassed-in sun porch. From the sun porch you may step out on the stone terrace with its lovely view across the lake which is bordered by a low hedge of Japanese yew.

On the other side of the dining room is a suite of two rooms and a bath, with a corridor to the new wing, just opened, which is two stories high with two rooms and two lavatories on each floor. On the second floor of the main house are two two-room suites, five single rooms, one private lavatory, and three bathrooms.

The rates vary according to location from

Former Province Officer and "Kappa Lady" Win Trophy

Theta Burns Her Mortgage

House board president, Elizabeth Reid Vandiver, Θ-Missouri, and Theta chapter president, Myra Remley, are pictured watching the notes for the chapter house go up in smoke on December 13. Every cent on this beautiful home in Columbia, Missouri has been paid up in full five years ahead of the duration of the mortgage.

What Kappa Means to Californian Now at Home in England

(A portion of a letter from Doris Brown Swanson,  $\Gamma\Xi$ -UCLA, now living in Crowborough, Sussex, England, is copied by THE KEY)

"I AM SITTING at my little desk in our drawing room and just now I looked out of the window in front of me over the 'Sussex Downs,' as they call the pretty rolling hills south of us, and tried to imagine what your Boston alumnæ association looked like. While I was in New Jersey, staying with my mother in Short Hills from 1939 until I left for England in July, 1943, I belonged to the Essex alumnæ association, one of the most interesting and active Kappa alumnæ associations in the world, I feel sure. I think of them often. I am sure that all the Kappas who have ever belonged to that group think of it with the admiration and affection that I do. It manages in an easy, spontaneous way to typify all that is best about a national fraternity and is a wonderful argument for the continuation of fraternities in colleges and universities. I think these alumnæ associations come closer to approximating the intimate, family feeling the early Christian congregations had than other groups of which I know today.

"The London alumnæ association revolves around the magnetic personality of our president, Nora Waln Osland-Hill. We are a pretty weak, scattered group by comparison to a group like the Essex association. But whenever we do gather together, there is kindled that wonderful Kappa 'family feeling'—which is common to all national fraternity alumnæ associations, I suppose, wherever in the world they happen to hold their meetings. It is such a good thing! I trust that fraternities in colleges will correct the faults that are criticised in them so that they will not be abolished. None of those faults are carried over into the alumnæ associations, but if cut off from the active chapters they would eventually die."

Mother of Famous Member Works for Foreign Relief

Mrs. Sarah Merritt Crawford, mother of Kappa's famous Dr. Molly Crawford,  $\Psi$ -Carnegie, is pictured with her daughter. Mrs. Crawford, 94 in April, and often bedridden, and with failing eyesight, for the past five years has contributed her handicraft to war destitute areas of Greece, England, Belgium, Great Britain, the Philippines, and France. Her sewing and crocheting has been sent through the Red Cross chapter, and through our own Nora Waln project.

Boyd Hearthstone Opens New Wing

$35 to $50 per week. This figure includes everything but personal laundry. A discount is allowed to guests who come early in the season and stay late.

The entrance to the property is only a step from the Winter Park Golf club, and it is about a 15 minute walk from the post office and business section of the town. The college is perhaps a quarter mile further on, but there always seems to be a friend with a car going your way if you yourself do not have one. What more can I say than that it is a place I'd love to live in if I did not already have a home 15 miles away!
